

Suzanne E. Spaulding

Suzanne Spaulding is a Principal with Bingham Consulting Group and Of Counsel to Bingham McCutchen, in Washington, DC., where she works with clients on issues related to national security, homeland security, and international affairs. She spent 20 years handling national security issues for Congress and the Executive Branch, including serving as Assistant General Counsel at CIA; Minority Staff Director for the US House of Representatives Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence; General Counsel for the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence; and as Legislative Director for US Senator Arlen Specter. Ms. Spaulding also was the Executive Director of two congressionally mandated commissions, the National Commission on Terrorism, which was chaired by Amb. L. Paul Bremer III, and the Commission to Assess the Organization of the Federal Government to Combat the Proliferation of Weapons of Mass Destruction, chaired by former CIA Director John Deutch. She served as a consultant to the Advisory Panel to Assess Domestic Response Capabilities for Terrorism Involving Weapons of Mass Destruction (Glimore Commission) and the Commission on the Intelligence Capabilities of the United States Regarding Weapons of Mass Destruction (Robb/Silberman Commission). In 2002, she was appointed by Virginia Governor Mark Warner to the Secure Virginia Panel, established after the attacks of September 11 to advise the Governor and the legislature regarding Commonwealth preparedness. She is also the Chair of the Advisory Committee of the American Bar Association's Standing Committee on Law and National Security, a Senior Fellow at George Washington University's Homeland Security Policy Institute, and a member of the University of Virginia's Critical Incident Analysis Group's Advisory Board.