Beginning tomorrow you will receive a document called "Presidential Action" which outlines the message of the day for the President. You will also receive first thing each morning a document called "In the News" which is a very short message document on the news in the morning papers,
TV shows, rapid response, etc. Attached is today's "Presidential Action." You will normally get the Presidential Action the night before.

Presidential Action – July 31

Federal Election Reform

- Today, President Bush will accept the report of the National Commission on Federal Election Reform. The President will also outline his key principles for election reform.

  - ✓ The President will be joined by members of the Commission, including former President Carter and former House Minority Leader Bob Michel (representing former President Ford), in a Rose Garden Ceremony.

  - ✓ President Bush commends the Commission for working on a bipartisan basis to recommend needed reforms to our elections system. The Commission had strong leadership and a thorough, deliberative process. The President looks forward to working with Congress to address this important issue in a responsible and nonpartisan way.

  - ✓ The Ford - Carter Commission report includes dozens of recommendations for improving the way we conduct elections. The Commission's report respects the primacy of state, county and local governments. It also envisions a limited and responsible role for the Federal government in federal elections. The Commission report is grounded in four fundamental principles, which the President endorses and recommends to the Congress. Federal election reform should:

    - Recognize the primacy of states and localities in election administration
    - Modernize voting equipment, techniques and ballot design
    - Protect the franchise of military and overseas voters
    - Enforce existing Federal civil rights and voting rights laws

Energy

- The President today will sign an Executive Order directing the federal government to lead a major conservation effort to bring American homes, government and industry to a new energy saving standard for "vampire" devices.
  - ✓ Vampires are standby power devices that draw excessive energy even when not in use.
  - ✓ Vampires can be found in almost every household appliance including televisions, telephones, fax machines, washers, and dryers. Some Vampires, such as cell phone chargers, draw energy when plugged in even if they are not connected to the device they normally charge. Approximately 26 power plants are needed just to power these energy vampires.

- The federal government is the largest single user of electricity in the U.S. and the President wants to take the lead on conservation.

- The Executive Order will order government procurement officers to purchase – whenever practicable and cost-effective --off-the-shelf appliances and devices that use energy-efficient standby power devices. These devices use small amounts of energy and could save billions of kilowatt-hours per year without sacrificing performance. In the aggregate, households across the nation would save from $1 to 2 billion on their energy bills if they adopted appliances that utilize vampire slayers.

End Original ARMS Header

Beginning tomorrow you will receive a document called "Presidential Action" which outlines the message of the day for the President. You will also receive first thing each morning a document called "In the News"
which is a very short message document on the news in the morning papers,
TV shows, rapid response, etc. Attached is today's "Presidential Action." You will normally get the Presidential Action the night before.

Presidential Action – July 31

Federal Election Reform

- Today, President Bush will accept the report of the National Commission on Federal Election Reform. The President will also outline his key principles for election reform.

  - ✓ The President will be joined by members of the Commission, including former President Carter and former House Minority Leader Bob Michel (representing former President Ford), in a Rose Garden Ceremony.

  - ✓ President Bush commends the Commission for working on a bipartisan basis to recommend needed reforms to our elections system. The Commission had strong leadership and a thorough, deliberative process. The President looks forward to working with Congress to address this important issue in a responsible and nonpartisan way.

  - ✓ The Ford - Carter Commission report includes dozens of recommendations for improving the way we conduct elections. The Commission's report respects the primacy of state, county and local governments. It also envisions a limited and responsible role for the Federal government in federal elections. The Commission report is grounded in four fundamental principles, which the President endorses and recommends to the Congress. Federal election reform should:

    - Recognize the primacy of states and localities in election administration
    - Modernize voting equipment, techniques and ballot design
    - Protect the franchise of military and overseas voters
    - Enforce existing Federal civil rights and voting rights laws

Energy

- The President today will sign an Executive Order directing the federal government to lead a major conservation effort to bring American homes, government and industry to a new energy saving standard for "vampire" devices.
  - ✓ Vampires are standby power devices that draw excessive energy even when not in use.
  - ✓ Vampires can be found in almost every household appliance including televisions, telephones, fax machines, washers, and dryers. Some Vampires, such as cell phone chargers, draw energy when plugged in even if they are not connected to the device they normally charge. Approximately 26 power plants are needed just to power these energy vampires.

- The federal government is the largest single user of electricity in the U.S. and the President wants to take the lead on conservation.

- The Executive Order will order government procurement officers to purchase – whenever practicable and cost-effective --off-the-shelf appliances and devices that use energy-efficient standby power devices. These devices use small amounts of energy and could save billions of kilowatt-hours per year without sacrificing performance. In the aggregate, households across the nation would save from $1 to 2 billion on their energy bills if they adopted appliances that utilize vampire slayers.

Beginning tomorrow you will receive a document called "Presidential Action" which outlines the message of the day for the President. You will also receive first thing each morning a document called "In the News"
which is a very short message document on the news in the morning papers,
TV shows, rapid response, etc. Attached is today's "Presidential Action." You will normally get the Presidential Action the night before.

Presidential Action – July 31

Federal Election Reform

- Today, President Bush will accept the report of the National Commission on Federal Election Reform. The President will also outline his key principles for election reform.

  - ✓ The President will be joined by members of the Commission, including former President Carter and former House Minority Leader Bob Michel (representing former President Ford), in a Rose Garden Ceremony.

  - ✓ President Bush commends the Commission for working on a bipartisan basis to recommend needed reforms to our elections system. The Commission had strong leadership and a thorough, deliberative process. The President looks forward to working with Congress to address this important issue in a responsible and nonpartisan way.

  - ✓ The Ford - Carter Commission report includes dozens of recommendations for improving the way we conduct elections. The Commission's report respects the primacy of state, county and local governments. It also envisions a limited and responsible role for the Federal government in federal elections. The Commission report is grounded in four fundamental principles, which the President endorses and recommends to the Congress. Federal election reform should:

    - Recognize the primacy of states and localities in election administration
    - Modernize voting equipment, techniques and ballot design
    - Protect the franchise of military and overseas voters
    - Enforce existing Federal civil rights and voting rights laws

Energy

- The President today will sign an Executive Order directing the federal government to lead a major conservation effort to bring American homes, government and industry to a new energy saving standard for "vampire" devices.
  - ✓ Vampires are standby power devices that draw excessive energy even when not in use.
  - ✓ Vampires can be found in almost every household appliance including televisions, telephones, fax machines, washers, and dryers. Some Vampires, such as cell phone chargers, draw energy when plugged in even if they are not connected to the device they normally charge. Approximately 26 power plants are needed just to power these energy vampires.

- The federal government is the largest single user of electricity in the U.S. and the President wants to take the lead on conservation.

- The Executive Order will order government procurement officers to purchase – whenever practicable and cost-effective --off-the-shelf appliances and devices that use energy-efficient standby power devices. These devices use small amounts of energy and could save billions of kilowatt-hours per year without sacrificing performance. In the aggregate, households across the nation would save from $1 to 2 billion on their energy bills if they adopted appliances that utilize vampire slayers.

Presidential Action – July 31

Federal Election Reform

- Today, President Bush will accept the report of the National Commission on Federal Election Reform. The President will also outline his key principles for election reform.

  - ✓ The President will be joined by members of the Commission, including former President Carter and former House Minority Leader Bob Michel (representing former President Ford), in a Rose Garden Ceremony.

  - ✓ President Bush commends the Commission for working on a bipartisan basis to recommend needed reforms to our elections system. The Commission had strong leadership and a thorough, deliberative process. The President looks forward to working with Congress to address this important issue in a responsible and nonpartisan way.

  - ✓ The Ford - Carter Commission report includes dozens of recommendations for improving the way we conduct elections. The Commission's report respects the primacy of state, county and local governments. It also envisions a limited and responsible role for the Federal government in federal elections. The Commission report is grounded in four fundamental principles, which the President endorses and recommends to the Congress. Federal election reform should:

    - Recognize the primacy of states and localities in election administration
    - Modernize voting equipment, techniques and ballot design
    - Protect the franchise of military and overseas voters
    - Enforce existing Federal civil rights and voting rights laws

Energy

- The President today will sign an Executive Order directing the federal government to lead a major conservation effort to bring American homes, government and industry to a new energy saving standard for "vampire" devices.
  - ✓ Vampires are standby power devices that draw excessive energy even when not in use.
  - ✓ Vampires can be found in almost every household appliance including televisions, telephones, fax machines, washers, and dryers. Some Vampires, such as cell phone chargers, draw energy when plugged in even if they are not connected to the device they normally charge. Approximately 26 power plants are needed just to power these energy vampires.

- The federal government is the largest single user of electricity in the U.S. and the President wants to take the lead on conservation.

- The Executive Order will order government procurement officers to purchase – whenever practicable and cost-effective --off-the-shelf appliances and devices that use energy-efficient standby power devices. These devices use small amounts of energy and could save billions of kilowatt-hours per year without sacrificing performance. In the aggregate, households across the nation would save from $1 to 2 billion on their energy bills if they adopted appliances that utilize vampire slayers.

Presidential Action – July 31

Federal Election Reform

- Today, President Bush will accept the report of the National Commission on Federal Election Reform. The President will also outline his key principles for election reform.

  - ✓ The President will be joined by members of the Commission, including former President Carter and former House Minority Leader Bob Michel (representing former President Ford), in a Rose Garden Ceremony.

  - ✓ President Bush commends the Commission for working on a bipartisan basis to recommend needed reforms to our elections system. The Commission had strong leadership and a thorough, deliberative process. The President looks forward to working with Congress to address this important issue in a responsible and nonpartisan way.

  - ✓ The Ford - Carter Commission report includes dozens of recommendations for improving the way we conduct elections. The Commission's report respects the primacy of state, county and local governments. It also envisions a limited and responsible role for the Federal government in federal elections. The Commission report is grounded in four fundamental principles, which the President endorses and recommends to the Congress. Federal election reform should:

    - Recognize the primacy of states and localities in election administration
    - Modernize voting equipment, techniques and ballot design
    - Protect the franchise of military and overseas voters
    - Enforce existing Federal civil rights and voting rights laws

Energy

- The President today will sign an Executive Order directing the federal government to lead a major conservation effort to bring American homes, government and industry to a new energy saving standard for "vampire" devices.
  - ✓ Vampires are standby power devices that draw excessive energy even when not in use.
  - ✓ Vampires can be found in almost every household appliance including televisions, telephones, fax machines, washers, and dryers. Some Vampires, such as cell phone chargers, draw energy when plugged in even if they are not connected to the device they normally charge. Approximately 26 power plants are needed just to power these energy vampires.

- The federal government is the largest single user of electricity in the U.S. and the President wants to take the lead on conservation.

- The Executive Order will order government procurement officers to purchase – whenever practicable and cost-effective --off-the-shelf appliances and devices that use energy-efficient standby power devices. These devices use small amounts of energy and could save billions of kilowatt-hours per year without sacrificing performance. In the aggregate, households across the nation would save from $1 to 2 billion on their energy bills if they adopted appliances that utilize vampire slayers.

Perspective on the New Reuters/Zogby Poll

To put in perspective the new Reuters/Zogby Poll that shows President Bush with his "first negative job performance rating," please consider the following...

SUMMARY

3 The Reuters article and Zogby press release completely mischaracterize the results of the survey. Zogby phrases its approval question "Overall, how would you rate the job performance of President George W. Bush - Excellent, Good, Fair or Poor?" The actual results were 17% Excellent, 30% Good, 34% Fair and 17% Poor. Instead of reporting these results, the article grouped "fair" and "poor" into one number and characterized it as Bush's "negative" rating. Defining "fair" as a negative word is a clear mischaracterization of the word's meaning. The Reuters article could have reported that "81% of Americans think President Bush is doing a fair to excellent job."

3 The latest Zogby Poll is completely out of sync with every other major survey taken in the last three weeks. There have been eight other polls conducted in the past three weeks. In those polls, the President's average job approval was 56% and average disapproval was 32%. Even with the Zogby Poll in that average, the President's average July ratings were 55% approve, 34% disapprove.

3 The Zogby Poll words its approval question differently from almost every major polling organization. The Zogby approval question is "Overall, how would you rate the job performance of President George W. Bush- Excellent, Good, Fair or Poor?" Most major surveys ask some form of "Overall, do you approve or disapprove of the way George W. Bush is doing his job as president?"

The Bottom Line

3 The President's job approval is strong and steady. The president's approval rating is in the mid to upper 50's in almost every major poll. Gallup's last eight Bush job approval ratings (since May) have been 53%, 56%, 56%, 55%, 55%, 52%, 57% and 56% – an average of 55%.

3 The President's job approval is solid compared to recent presidents. In the latest Gallup Poll, 56% approve of the way President Bush is doing his job. At the same time in their presidencies, Clinton and Reagan received ratings of 42% and 60%, respectively.

3 The President continues to make inroads with groups that are typically not Republican. A national Hispanic survey conducted for the Latino Coalition in mid-July showed that 47% of Hispanic adults have a favorable opinion of President Bush, versus only 29% who have an unfavorable opinion of him. This support is remarkable given that just 35% of Hispanics voted for the President on November 7.

The RNC is getting some notecards for ken to write thank you notes with.
Right now, they just say his name on the card and the envelope has the RNC address. Would it be possible to put his title on the notecard?

Attached is a flyer on recent enhancements to lexis.com. It includes such features as an easy way to "get & print" multiple full text documents and using "star pagination print" to print only the pages you need from long cases or documents.

If you have any questions about your LexisNexis account or service, please contact me (EEOB Library, x57000) or Maggie Huber at LexisNexis (202-857-8204, maggie.huber@lexisnexis.com).

The Lexis Corner August 2001

EXCITING ENHANCMENTS TO LexisNexis™:

Get & Print

Now it's fast and easy to print the full text of multiple documents. The powerful new feature, Get & Print, allows legal professionals to pull an unlimited number of full-text cases and Shepard's® reports in a fast, easy manner and save them as a document (.rtf, .pdf, .doc, .wpd or .html). There is no need to enter each citation separately. To access go to http://www.lexis.com/getandprint (or click on Get a Document tab).

Guided Search Forms

Each guided Search Form integrates easy-to-use search fields and a list of commonly used sources to make research faster. Guided Search Forms provide a simplified approach to searching the most commonly used sources on LexisNexis. They leverage the power of segment searching through a simple interface. These specialized search templates enable you to quickly and easily search specific information without having to navigate the customary source selection process. Search Forms are available for these categories:

Federal Legal	State Legal	Areas of Law
Cases	Codes	Law Reviews
News	Company	Public Records

Star Pagination Print

Star Pagination Print allows users to print only the pinpoint pages they need from a long case or document. Researchers now have the option to print a specific page or range of pages from the case law reporters, law review articles or public laws.

Explore Button

Enables you to quickly link to the sections of a document (i.e., case summary, disposition, opinion by, footnote, etc.). This feature applies to all documents and appears as a button in the lower left-hand corner of the screen. Explore works only in FULL view.

Floating Cite Assistant

Provides quick pinpoint cite information without performing any unnecessary scrolling within a document. All you have to do is rest the cursor anywhere in the text of the document and in a few seconds a pop up box will appear indicating the pinpoint cite. To activate this feature, click on Options (upper right corner) and check the box next to "Show floating pagination assistant."

Shepard's Table of Authorities

The Table of Authorities (TOA) provides an analysis of cited legal authorities upon which a citing case based or supported its opinion. When you Shepardize a case the TOA will give you a list of references (cases and law reviews) cited by your case.

If you have any questions about Lexis.com, contact Maggie Huber, your LexisNexis Research Consultant, at (202) 857-8204 or maggie.huber@lexisnexis.com.

Attached is a flyer on recent enhancements to lexis.com. It includes such features as an easy way to "get & print" multiple full text documents and using "star pagination print" to print only the pages you need from long cases or documents.

If you have any questions about your LexisNexis account or service, please contact me (EEOB Library, x57000) or Maggie Huber at LexisNexis (202-857-8204, maggie.huber@lexisnexis.com).

The Lexis Corner August 2001

EXCITING ENHANCMENTS TO LexisNexis™:

Get & Print

Now it's fast and easy to print the full text of multiple documents. The powerful new feature, Get & Print, allows legal professionals to pull an unlimited number of full-text cases and Shepard's® reports in a fast, easy manner and save them as a document (.rtf, .pdf, .doc, .wpd or .html). There is no need to enter each citation separately. To access go to http://www.lexis.com/getandprint (or click on Get a Document tab).

Guided Search Forms

Each guided Search Form integrates easy-to-use search fields and a list of commonly used sources to make research faster. Guided Search Forms provide a simplified approach to searching the most commonly used sources on LexisNexis. They leverage the power of segment searching through a simple interface. These specialized search templates enable you to quickly and easily search specific information without having to navigate the customary source selection process. Search Forms are available for these categories:

Federal Legal	State Legal	Areas of Law
Cases	Codes	Law Reviews
News	Company	Public Records

Star Pagination Print

Star Pagination Print allows users to print only the pinpoint pages they need from a long case or document. Researchers now have the option to print a specific page or range of pages from the case law reporters, law review articles or public laws.

Explore Button

Enables you to quickly link to the sections of a document (i.e., case summary, disposition, opinion by, footnote, etc.). This feature applies to all documents and appears as a button in the lower left-hand corner of the screen. Explore works only in FULL view.

Floating Cite Assistant

Provides quick pinpoint cite information without performing any unnecessary scrolling within a document. All you have to do is rest the cursor anywhere in the text of the document and in a few seconds a pop up box will appear indicating the pinpoint cite. To activate this feature, click on Options (upper right corner) and check the box next to "Show floating pagination assistant."

Shepard's Table of Authorities

The Table of Authorities (TOA) provides an analysis of cited legal authorities upon which a citing case based or supported its opinion. When you Shepardize a case the TOA will give you a list of references (cases and law reviews) cited by your case.

New York Group to Appeal Bush Abortion Law Ruling
NEW YORK (Reuters) - A reproductive rights group said on Wednesday it would appeal a judge's decision to dismiss its lawsuit challenging President Bush's policy of barring U.S. aid to groups that advocate abortion rights overseas.
The Center for Reproductive Law and Policy (CRLP) sued Bush in June over what abortion rights activists call the ``global gag rule,'' arguing the policy censored people who advocate abortion rights but not those who are opposed to abortion.
On Tuesday, U.S. District Court Judge Loretta Preska in Manhattan threw out the suit, saying the New York-based nonprofit group's claims on free speech violations ``are not concrete and imminent but are conjectural, and are not caused by the conduct they challenge but instead by the foreign organizations' independent decision to accept U.S. aid money.''
A spokeswoman for the rights group said it had served notice of appeal on the ruling to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 2nd Circuit in New York. ``We remain convinced that censorship of Americans is unconstitutional,'' said legal counsel Simon Heller. ``We hope that this pro-censorship ruling will be quickly overturned.''
The CRLP said the Republican president's executive order, one of his first after taking office in January, prevents the group's partners around the world from speaking on the subject of abortion rights. It accused the president of censoring free speech with the order, which was first instated by then-President Ronald Reagan in 1984 and rescinded by former President Bill Clinton as soon as he took office in 1993.
Bush's order stops recipients of U.S. aid from providing assistance for family planning to any foreign nongovernmental organization ``that performs or actively promotes abortion as a method of family planning'' in U.S. Agency for International Development countries or provides money for such counseling and activities.
It also prevents groups from providing advice that abortion is an available option, bars lobbying a foreign government to legalize abortion and prohibits publicity campaigns on the availability of abortion in countries that receive U.S. government aid.

Leadership on Protecting Patients

- 6 months into office the President ended 6 years of gridlock on patient protection legislation.

- For years Washington gridlock has tied up legislation to give Americans the important patient protections they deserve. That gridlock ended today. Under the new solution:

  - ✓ Every patient in all 50 states will have new federal protections when they are denied the health care they deserve.

  - ✓ All patients will be afforded comprehensive patient protections and the right to independent medical review for denials of medical care by their health plan.

  - ✓ Patients will be guaranteed new federal remedies to hold their health plans accountable when they have been injured by a wrongful denial or delay of medical care. Cases against HMOs will be heard in state court, subject to the new federal law.

  - ✓ Patients must exhaust the independent medical review process before seeking expanded damages in court.

  - ✓ Economic damages would be unlimited. Non-economic damages would be capped at $1.5 million. Punitive damages would be capped at $1.5 million, and would be available only where the designated decisionmaker failed to comply with the independent medical reviewer's decision that the claim for benefits should be granted.

- The compromise reflects the President's key principles for patients' protections:

  - ✓ Patient protections should apply to all Americans.

  - ✓ Patient protections should be comprehensive.

  - ✓ Patients should have a rapid medical review process for denials of care.

  - ✓ The patient review process should ensure that doctors are allowed to make medical decisions and patients receive care in a timely manner.

  - ✓ Federal remedies should be expanded to hold health plans accountable.

  - ✓ Patient protection legislation should encourage, not discourage, employers to offer health care.

Leadership on Protecting Patients

- 6 months into office the President ended 6 years of gridlock on patient protection legislation.

- For years Washington gridlock has tied up legislation to give Americans the important patient protections they deserve. That gridlock ended today. Under the new solution:

  - ✓ Every patient in all 50 states will have new federal protections when they are denied the health care they deserve.

  - ✓ All patients will be afforded comprehensive patient protections and the right to independent medical review for denials of medical care by their health plan.

  - ✓ Patients will be guaranteed new federal remedies to hold their health plans accountable when they have been injured by a wrongful denial or delay of medical care. Cases against HMOs will be heard in state court, subject to the new federal law.

  - ✓ Patients must exhaust the independent medical review process before seeking expanded damages in court.

  - ✓ Economic damages would be unlimited. Non-economic damages would be capped at $1.5 million. Punitive damages would be capped at $1.5 million, and would be available only where the designated decisionmaker failed to comply with the independent medical reviewer's decision that the claim for benefits should be granted.

- The compromise reflects the President's key principles for patients' protections:

  - ✓ Patient protections should apply to all Americans.

  - ✓ Patient protections should be comprehensive.

  - ✓ Patients should have a rapid medical review process for denials of care.

  - ✓ The patient review process should ensure that doctors are allowed to make medical decisions and patients receive care in a timely manner.

  - ✓ Federal remedies should be expanded to hold health plans accountable.

  - ✓ Patient protection legislation should encourage, not discourage, employers to offer health care.

Leadership on Protecting Patients

- 6 months into office the President ended 6 years of gridlock on patient protection legislation.

- For years Washington gridlock has tied up legislation to give Americans the important patient protections they deserve. That gridlock ended today. Under the new solution:

  - ✓ Every patient in all 50 states will have new federal protections when they are denied the health care they deserve.

  - ✓ All patients will be afforded comprehensive patient protections and the right to independent medical review for denials of medical care by their health plan.

  - ✓ Patients will be guaranteed new federal remedies to hold their health plans accountable when they have been injured by a wrongful denial or delay of medical care. Cases against HMOs will be heard in state court, subject to the new federal law.

  - ✓ Patients must exhaust the independent medical review process before seeking expanded damages in court.

  - ✓ Economic damages would be unlimited. Non-economic damages would be capped at $1.5 million. Punitive damages would be capped at $1.5 million, and would be available only where the designated decisionmaker failed to comply with the independent medical reviewer's decision that the claim for benefits should be granted.

- The compromise reflects the President's key principles for patients' protections:

  - ✓ Patient protections should apply to all Americans.

  - ✓ Patient protections should be comprehensive.

  - ✓ Patients should have a rapid medical review process for denials of care.

  - ✓ The patient review process should ensure that doctors are allowed to make medical decisions and patients receive care in a timely manner.

  - ✓ Federal remedies should be expanded to hold health plans accountable.

  - ✓ Patient protection legislation should encourage, not discourage, employers to offer health care.

Leadership on Protecting Patients

- 6 months into office the President ended 6 years of gridlock on patient protection legislation.

- For years Washington gridlock has tied up legislation to give Americans the important patient protections they deserve. That gridlock ended today. Under the new solution:

  - ✓ Every patient in all 50 states will have new federal protections when they are denied the health care they deserve.

  - ✓ All patients will be afforded comprehensive patient protections and the right to independent medical review for denials of medical care by their health plan.

  - ✓ Patients will be guaranteed new federal remedies to hold their health plans accountable when they have been injured by a wrongful denial or delay of medical care. Cases against HMOs will be heard in state court, subject to the new federal law.

  - ✓ Patients must exhaust the independent medical review process before seeking expanded damages in court.

  - ✓ Economic damages would be unlimited. Non-economic damages would be capped at $1.5 million. Punitive damages would be capped at $1.5 million, and would be available only where the designated decisionmaker failed to comply with the independent medical reviewer's decision that the claim for benefits should be granted.

- The compromise reflects the President's key principles for patients' protections:

  - ✓ Patient protections should apply to all Americans.

  - ✓ Patient protections should be comprehensive.

  - ✓ Patients should have a rapid medical review process for denials of care.

  - ✓ The patient review process should ensure that doctors are allowed to make medical decisions and patients receive care in a timely manner.

  - ✓ Federal remedies should be expanded to hold health plans accountable.

  - ✓ Patient protection legislation should encourage, not discourage, employers to offer health care.

Leadership on Protecting Patients

- 6 months into office the President ended 6 years of gridlock on patient protection legislation.

- For years Washington gridlock has tied up legislation to give Americans the important patient protections they deserve. That gridlock ended today. Under the new solution:

  - ✓ Every patient in all 50 states will have new federal protections when they are denied the health care they deserve.

  - ✓ All patients will be afforded comprehensive patient protections and the right to independent medical review for denials of medical care by their health plan.

  - ✓ Patients will be guaranteed new federal remedies to hold their health plans accountable when they have been injured by a wrongful denial or delay of medical care. Cases against HMOs will be heard in state court, subject to the new federal law.

  - ✓ Patients must exhaust the independent medical review process before seeking expanded damages in court.

  - ✓ Economic damages would be unlimited. Non-economic damages would be capped at $1.5 million. Punitive damages would be capped at $1.5 million, and would be available only where the designated decisionmaker failed to comply with the independent medical reviewer's decision that the claim for benefits should be granted.

- The compromise reflects the President's key principles for patients' protections:

  - ✓ Patient protections should apply to all Americans.

  - ✓ Patient protections should be comprehensive.

  - ✓ Patients should have a rapid medical review process for denials of care.

  - ✓ The patient review process should ensure that doctors are allowed to make medical decisions and patients receive care in a timely manner.

  - ✓ Federal remedies should be expanded to hold health plans accountable.

  - ✓ Patient protection legislation should encourage, not discourage, employers to offer health care.

Leadership on Protecting Patients

- 6 months into office the President ended 6 years of gridlock on patient protection legislation.

- For years Washington gridlock has tied up legislation to give Americans the important patient protections they deserve. That gridlock ended today. Under the new solution:

  - ✓ Every patient in all 50 states will have new federal protections when they are denied the health care they deserve.

  - ✓ All patients will be afforded comprehensive patient protections and the right to independent medical review for denials of medical care by their health plan.

  - ✓ Patients will be guaranteed new federal remedies to hold their health plans accountable when they have been injured by a wrongful denial or delay of medical care. Cases against HMOs will be heard in state court, subject to the new federal law.

  - ✓ Patients must exhaust the independent medical review process before seeking expanded damages in court.

  - ✓ Economic damages would be unlimited. Non-economic damages would be capped at $1.5 million. Punitive damages would be capped at $1.5 million, and would be available only where the designated decisionmaker failed to comply with the independent medical reviewer's decision that the claim for benefits should be granted.

- The compromise reflects the President's key principles for patients' protections:

  - ✓ Patient protections should apply to all Americans.

  - ✓ Patient protections should be comprehensive.

  - ✓ Patients should have a rapid medical review process for denials of care.

  - ✓ The patient review process should ensure that doctors are allowed to make medical decisions and patients receive care in a timely manner.

  - ✓ Federal remedies should be expanded to hold health plans accountable.

  - ✓ Patient protection legislation should encourage, not discourage, employers to offer health care.

Leadership on Protecting Patients

- 6 months into office the President ended 6 years of gridlock on patient protection legislation.

- For years Washington gridlock has tied up legislation to give Americans the important patient protections they deserve. That gridlock ended today. Under the new solution:

  - ✓ Every patient in all 50 states will have new federal protections when they are denied the health care they deserve.

  - ✓ All patients will be afforded comprehensive patient protections and the right to independent medical review for denials of medical care by their health plan.

  - ✓ Patients will be guaranteed new federal remedies to hold their health plans accountable when they have been injured by a wrongful denial or delay of medical care. Cases against HMOs will be heard in state court, subject to the new federal law.

  - ✓ Patients must exhaust the independent medical review process before seeking expanded damages in court.

  - ✓ Economic damages would be unlimited. Non-economic damages would be capped at $1.5 million. Punitive damages would be capped at $1.5 million, and would be available only where the designated decisionmaker failed to comply with the independent medical reviewer's decision that the claim for benefits should be granted.

- The compromise reflects the President's key principles for patients' protections:

  - ✓ Patient protections should apply to all Americans.

  - ✓ Patient protections should be comprehensive.

  - ✓ Patients should have a rapid medical review process for denials of care.

  - ✓ The patient review process should ensure that doctors are allowed to make medical decisions and patients receive care in a timely manner.

  - ✓ Federal remedies should be expanded to hold health plans accountable.

  - ✓ Patient protection legislation should encourage, not discourage, employers to offer health care.

Leadership on Protecting Patients

- 6 months into office the President ended 6 years of gridlock on patient protection legislation.

- For years Washington gridlock has tied up legislation to give Americans the important patient protections they deserve. That gridlock ended today. Under the new solution:

  - ✓ Every patient in all 50 states will have new federal protections when they are denied the health care they deserve.

  - ✓ All patients will be afforded comprehensive patient protections and the right to independent medical review for denials of medical care by their health plan.

  - ✓ Patients will be guaranteed new federal remedies to hold their health plans accountable when they have been injured by a wrongful denial or delay of medical care. Cases against HMOs will be heard in state court, subject to the new federal law.

  - ✓ Patients must exhaust the independent medical review process before seeking expanded damages in court.

  - ✓ Economic damages would be unlimited. Non-economic damages would be capped at $1.5 million. Punitive damages would be capped at $1.5 million, and would be available only where the designated decisionmaker failed to comply with the independent medical reviewer's decision that the claim for benefits should be granted.

- The compromise reflects the President's key principles for patients' protections:

  - ✓ Patient protections should apply to all Americans.

  - ✓ Patient protections should be comprehensive.

  - ✓ Patients should have a rapid medical review process for denials of care.

  - ✓ The patient review process should ensure that doctors are allowed to make medical decisions and patients receive care in a timely manner.

  - ✓ Federal remedies should be expanded to hold health plans accountable.

  - ✓ Patient protection legislation should encourage, not discourage, employers to offer health care.

Leadership on Protecting Patients

- 6 months into office the President ended 6 years of gridlock on patient protection legislation.

- For years Washington gridlock has tied up legislation to give Americans the important patient protections they deserve. That gridlock ended today. Under the new solution:

  - ✓ Every patient in all 50 states will have new federal protections when they are denied the health care they deserve.

  - ✓ All patients will be afforded comprehensive patient protections and the right to independent medical review for denials of medical care by their health plan.

  - ✓ Patients will be guaranteed new federal remedies to hold their health plans accountable when they have been injured by a wrongful denial or delay of medical care. Cases against HMOs will be heard in state court, subject to the new federal law.

  - ✓ Patients must exhaust the independent medical review process before seeking expanded damages in court.

  - ✓ Economic damages would be unlimited. Non-economic damages would be capped at $1.5 million. Punitive damages would be capped at $1.5 million, and would be available only where the designated decisionmaker failed to comply with the independent medical reviewer's decision that the claim for benefits should be granted.

- The compromise reflects the President's key principles for patients' protections:

  - ✓ Patient protections should apply to all Americans.

  - ✓ Patient protections should be comprehensive.

  - ✓ Patients should have a rapid medical review process for denials of care.

  - ✓ The patient review process should ensure that doctors are allowed to make medical decisions and patients receive care in a timely manner.

  - ✓ Federal remedies should be expanded to hold health plans accountable.

  - ✓ Patient protection legislation should encourage, not discourage, employers to offer health care.

Leadership on Protecting Patients

- 6 months into office the President ended 6 years of gridlock on patient protection legislation.

- For years Washington gridlock has tied up legislation to give Americans the important patient protections they deserve. That gridlock ended today. Under the new solution:

  - ✓ Every patient in all 50 states will have new federal protections when they are denied the health care they deserve.

  - ✓ All patients will be afforded comprehensive patient protections and the right to independent medical review for denials of medical care by their health plan.

  - ✓ Patients will be guaranteed new federal remedies to hold their health plans accountable when they have been injured by a wrongful denial or delay of medical care. Cases against HMOs will be heard in state court, subject to the new federal law.

  - ✓ Patients must exhaust the independent medical review process before seeking expanded damages in court.

  - ✓ Economic damages would be unlimited. Non-economic damages would be capped at $1.5 million. Punitive damages would be capped at $1.5 million, and would be available only where the designated decisionmaker failed to comply with the independent medical reviewer's decision that the claim for benefits should be granted.

- The compromise reflects the President's key principles for patients' protections:

  - ✓ Patient protections should apply to all Americans.

  - ✓ Patient protections should be comprehensive.

  - ✓ Patients should have a rapid medical review process for denials of care.

  - ✓ The patient review process should ensure that doctors are allowed to make medical decisions and patients receive care in a timely manner.

  - ✓ Federal remedies should be expanded to hold health plans accountable.

  - ✓ Patient protection legislation should encourage, not discourage, employers to offer health care.

Domestic Policy has crafted the attached talking points on the new NAEP test scores which were released at 10:30 this morning. Also attached are more detailed talking points on the President's education initiative and yesterday's Urban League address.

LATEST NATIONAL MATH SCORES HIGHLIGHT IMPORTANCE OF PRESIDENT'S EDUCATON REFORM AGENDA

Today's News:

- Today, we have even more evidence that the President's program for reforming America's education system and leaving no child behind is the right approach. The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) math scores released today show that only a quarter of fourth- and eighth-graders are proficient in math.

- These results also confirmed that the President's education reform plan is the right approach to improve our nation's schools. The NAEP results show that students in Texas and North Carolina – the states on which the President's education reform agenda is most closely based – led the nation in mathematics achievement and improvement.

- The performance of states like Texas and North Carolina show us that a system with standards, testing, and accountability helps all children to succeed. Their strong scores also show the continued importance of measuring progress among kids of all backgrounds and holding schools accountable for helping all kids.

Background on the NAEP Math Results:

- Over the last decade, national math scores among 4th and 8th graders have risen modestly, while 12th graders lost ground over the last five years. Scores are still too low, and racial achievement gaps remain wide.

- The percentage of students scoring at or above the "proficient" level nationally was higher in 2000 than in 1990 but still very low: 26% of 4th graders (up from 13%), 27% of 8th graders (up from 15%), and 17% of 12th graders (up from 12%).

- The achievement gap between children of different racial and ethnic groups remains unacceptably wide. In fact, the last decade saw no progress in reducing the national achievement gap.

    - The achievement gap between white and African-American students was 31 points in 4th grade, 39 points in 8th grade, and 34 points in 12th grade.
    - The gap between white students and Hispanic students was 24 points in 4th grade, 33 points in 8th grade, and 26 points in 12th grade.

The NAEP Math Results and Education Reform:

- The state-by-state results provide more evidence that states with serious testing and accountability systems are making the most progress. Texas and North Carolina posted especially impressive results across all student categories.

- In 4th grade math, North Carolina and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1992 to 2000;
- In 8th grade math, North Carolina, Ohio and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1990 to 2000;
- In 4th grade math, every racial/ethnic group in Texas performed better than their racial/ethnic peers in other states;
- Anglo students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Anglo peers in other states (tied with Connecticut);
- African-American students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their African-American peers in other states;
- Hispanic students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Hispanic peers in other states; and
- Asian students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Asian peers in other states (tied with New York).

- States that implemented systems of standards, assessment and accountability are making progress in closing the achievement gap. In 4th grade math, North Carolina, Texas and Georgia made progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and African-American students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- In 8th grade math, Texas and Maryland made statistically significant progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and Hispanic students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- These scores demonstrate that the President's education reform agenda is the right agenda for America's children, particularly minority and disadvantaged students who have too often been left behind. The President is pleased that the House and Senate education bills broadly reflect his education reform goals, and he will continue to work with Congress to pass a final bill that reflects these proven principles.

President Bush Presses for Action on Education Reform

Today's Presidential Action

- In a speech to the National Urban League, President Bush called on Congress to move forward and finish its work on education reform. Nearly two-thirds of African-American fourth graders (63 percent) cannot read at a basic level, and the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) reading scores released in April found a troubling and growing performance gap between minority and disadvantaged children and their peers.

- The President urged members of the House-Senate conference committee to focus their efforts on reaching agreements on: (1) measuring the progress that schools are making in improving student performance across racial and socio-economic groups; (2) ensuring that states have testing systems in place that can really measure progress from year to year and district to district; and (3) providing an independent way to prove that state assessment and accountability systems are working.

- Completing work on the President's education reforms is critical to ensuring that no child in American is left behind. As Governor of Texas, President Bush led the effort to implement strong school accountability measures. The results, especially for minority students, have been remarkable. Only 56 percent of African-American fourth graders could pass the Texas state reading test when it was first introduced. Today, 83 percent of African-American fourth graders pass the test. And, according to the NAEP, African-American eighth graders in Texas have the highest writing scores in the nation.

Background on the President's Education Reform Plan

- Education reform legislation based on the President's principles passed the House of Representatives on May 24 with a 384-45 vote, and passed the Senate June 14 on a 91-8 vote. A joint House-Senate conference committee is currently meeting to resolve differences between the two bills.

- The President is pleased with the bipartisan consensus behind the reforms in both the House and Senate versions of the bill. These bills reflect the core principles of the President's education reform agenda:

    - Accountability: Measuring progress in reading and math for every child in grades 3-8. Holding states accountable to ensure that schools are making adequate academic progress for all students. Giving failing schools needed help to turn around, but establishing serious consequences for persistent failure.
    - Flexibility and Local Control: Ensuring that states and local schools have maximum flexibility and reducing the burdens of federal red tape and paperwork. Streamlining the number of duplicative federal education programs and focusing resources on results in critical areas.
    - Funding Programs That Work: Bridging the gap between educational research and the classroom to implement proven, scientifically-based approaches to provide kids with basic skills, including new initiatives such as Reading First and Early Childhood Reading Instruction.

- Expanding Parental Options: Providing every parent, for the first time, detailed school-by-school Report Cards to measure the performance of their schools. Giving parents of children in persistently failing or unsafe public schools the right to choose to transfer their children to a more effective public school with transportation provided, or the ability to redirect their child's share of federal funds toward tutoring or after-school academic services.

- The House and Senate bills reflect these goals, but work remains to be done to ensure that the final education reform bill lives up to the promise of the President's education reform principles. For example, the President's education reform plan calls for more effectively focusing education federal dollars where they can do the most good – in part by streamlining the overall number of federal education programs and in better targeting funds to low-income students. According to the Department of Education, while the House-passed bill reduced the number of separate federal education programs by 33, the Senate-passed bill adds 19 federal education programs to the total. Consolidating federal education programs and targeting resources on what really works are just some of the important issues remaining for Congress.

Here is the latest, close-to-final draft of the letter to Waxman responding to his most recent missive on Karl. Please review it one more time for final suggestions and forward any to me as soon as possible.
We're shooting to send this out tomorrow. I have added Dan Bartlett to the circulation this time so that he can weigh in before it's finalized.
I will also get any final thoughts from TO'D.

DRAFT #3: 8/2/01

_____, 2001

The Honorable Henry A. Waxman
Ranking Minority Member
House of Representatives
Committee on Government Reform
2157 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20515-6143

Dear Congressman Waxman:

I write in response to your letter of July 17, 2001. I was disappointed with both the tone and content of that letter, which appeared to escalate rather than moderate your demands and did so based upon a series of clear factual and legal inaccuracies. The following are just a few examples:

- You assert that "discussing federal policies with senior executives of companies in which [a public official] had substantial investments" is "exactly the type of conflict of interest that the ethics laws are designed to prevent." (p. 1) No conflict of interest law or regulation contains such a sweeping prohibition. The "exact[] type of financial conflict of interest that the ethics laws are designed to prevent" is the type they expressly proscribe: the personal and substantial participation by a government official in a particular matter that will have a direct and predictable effect upon his financial interests. 5 C.F.R. § 2635.402(a). Conversations in which a government official speaks to a business executive about his company's perspective on aspects of federal policy are simply not prohibited. Only if the official were thereafter to participate personally and substantially in a particular matter that would have a direct and predictable effect on his financial interests would a prohibited conflict of interest exist. Your further suggestions that waivers are required when government officials (1) are given outside recommendations on personnel matters (p. 3); or (2) are given the names of persons within the environmentalist community with information or perspectives on global warming (p. 3); or (3) are merely copied on correspondence to others (p. 4) are wholly unsupported and erroneous. Were the law as you suggest, the ethics regulations would be transformed from an important safeguard of the substantive integrity of governmental decisionmaking into a needless and intrusive straitjacket that hinders beneficial communication between the government and the public.

- You assert that "[a]ccording to 5 C.F.R. § 2635.502(d), an employee must seek a waiver when the employee's conduct 'would raise a question in the mind of a reasonable person about his impartiality.'" (p. 6) This seriously misstates the regulation. Subsection (d) of Section 502 says nothing about the circumstances under which an employee should seek a waiver (or, more precisely, an authorization). That subject is governed by an entirely different subsection of the same regulation, subsection (a). Subsection (a) contains a separate and additional requirement – which you do not cite or quote – making clear that vague and subjective questions about an employee's impartiality are not alone sufficient to trigger application of this regulation. Rather, it is only "[w]here an employee knows that a particular matter involving specific parties is likely to have a direct and predictable effect on the financial interest of a member of his household, or knows that a person with whom he has a covered relationship is or represents a party to such matter, and where the employee determines that the circumstances would cause a reasonable person with knowledge of the relevant facts to question his impartiality in the matter" that the regulation applies. 5 C.F.R. § 2635.502(a) (emphasis added). Thus, your generalization that waiver is required "when the employee's conduct 'would raise a question in the mind of a reasonable person about his partiality'" (p. 6) does not account for certain specific and indispensable elements of the rule, i.e., that there be both a particular matter involving specific parties and a likelihood of direct and predictable effect on a financial interest.[1]

- You assert that "Mr. Rove's stature within the White House" in itself "trigger[s] the conflict of interest regulations." (p. 7) In my initial letter, I explained that that the National Energy Policy could not have had a "direct and predictable" impact on the value of Mr. Rove's Enron shares because, among other reasons, the Policy merely set forth a variety of proposals whose ultimate shaping and enactment into law depended on further consideration and action by other governmental actors and whose likely effect on Enron was therefore uncertain. You attempt to contradict that explanation by citing "Mr. Rove's stature within the White House" and asserting that Mr. Rove is an important and influential adviser. This is a non-sequitur. That press accounts describe Mr. Rove as influential cannot transform a general policy discussion of the sort that occurred with respect to the National Energy Policy into personal and substantial involvement by Mr. Rove in particular matter that would have a direct and predictable effect on his financial interests.

- You assert that "it is difficult to imagine a more clear-cut example of government policy affecting the value of a company's stock" than the impact of the announcement of the National Energy Policy on Enron stock. (p. 7) As I explained in my previous letter, the conflict of interest laws are not addressed to the potential impact of broad governmental policies upon individual companies. In any event, Enron stock had been declining steadily long before the announcement of the National Energy Policy and continued to decline in the subsequent weeks. Enron shares traded within a narrow range both before and after the announcement and showed no obvious reaction to it. The company did not even see fit to issue a press release based upon the announcement of the National Energy Policy.

[1] I note that this is only one example in a distressing pattern of misrepresentation of legal materials in your letter. To cite another example, Section 502 does not state, as you claim, that the employee "must" seek an authorization; instead, it says only that the employee "should" seek an authorization before participating in a matter. 5 C.F.R. § 2635.502(a). Your letter also claims that "[t]he regulations specifically state that a 'health care bill limiting the amount that can be charged for prescription drugs is sufficiently focused on the interest of pharmaceutical companies that it would be a particular matter' for purposes of the regulations." (p. 6) (citing 5 C.F.R. § 2640.103(a)(1) (example 8)). In fact, the actual text of the regulation provides that "consideration and implementation, through regulations, of a section of a health care bill limiting the amount that can be charged for prescription drugs is sufficiently focused on the interest of pharmaceutical companies that it would be a particular matter." Id. (emphasis added). The language you omitted is obviously quite significant.

The approach reflected in your letter strongly suggests that my communications are unlikely to receive fair-minded and balanced consideration on their merits. It would therefore be unproductive to furnish you with detailed responses to all of the erroneous factual and legal assertions in your letter. Instead, I will limit my response to your two principal requests.

First, I must deny your request for information responding to the numerous questions posed in Part I(D) of your letter. You have asked for details relating to any "meetings, discussions, and phone conversations" Mr. Rove may have had with an extremely large potential universe of individuals, including dates, participants, and specific views expressed at the meeting. Providing such information would be inconsistent with the longstanding executive branch policy of furnishing non-public information in an oversight context only in response to an authorized request of either House of Congress or of one of either House's authorized committees. Even in this situation, of course, various protections continue to apply to certain categories of information. Moreover, to the extent that your request would appear to call for a comprehensive audit of the hundreds of meetings and thousands of "discussions or phone conversations" that Mr. Rove undoubtedly participated in since the beginning of the Administration, preparing a response would be extraordinarily burdensome, if not impossible.

Second, I must decline to comment on your request that a referral be made to the Department of Justice pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 535(b). As a matter of policy, the executive branch generally will not disclose information relating to law enforcement matters, which would include investigative referrals to the Department of Justice. Notwithstanding your letter's public disclosure of the heretofore confidential investigation of a named former White House staffer, I am sure you understand the importance of, and share the executive branch's commitment to, protecting the privacy and reputation of individuals who may become the subject of an official investigation but are later determined to have done nothing wrong.

Without commenting on Mr. Rove's situation, I can, however, assure you that I will not hesitate in appropriate circumstances to make referrals to the Department of Justice. In that regard, please note that, even assuming that 28 U.S.C. § 535(b) applies to the White House,[2] your understanding of that statute would appear to require referrals to the Department of Justice of a wide variety of frivolous complaints or irresponsible or poorly-informed accusations. This understanding is not supported by either the text of Section 535(b), by interpretations of that provision during the past 25 years, or by the sound considerations of public policy that underlie Section 535(b). In any event, as I am sure you are aware, a referral is not required in order for the Department of Justice to initiate an investigation where it concludes such an investigation is warranted by publicly-reported facts.

Your citation of the Sandy Berger and Tony Lake cases are not inconsistent with these principles, nor are they analogous to Mr. Rove's situation. Neither Mr. Berger nor Mr. Lake was charged with anything so amorphous (or innocuous) as performing "duties [that] affected federal energy policy" (p. 6).[3] In the Factual Stipulations filed with their Settlement Agreements, both Mr. Berger and Mr. Lake formally admitted that they had in fact personally and substantially participated in one or more particular matters that may have had a direct and predictable effect on the companies in which they held an interest. This, of course, is precisely what I have previously advised you Mr. Rove did not do.[4] In addition, both Mr. Berger and Mr. Lake violated express instructions from the White House Counsel to sell their stockholdings. In Mr. Berger's case, he retained his shares for more than 15 months after the Counsel's Office had instructed him to divest. In Mr. Lake's case, he retained his shares for more than 20 months after receiving such an instruction. By contrast, Mr. Rove followed the advice he received from transition counsel and sold his shares promptly on the first day after he received his certificates of divestiture.

[2] This is, of course, far from clear. See In re Lindsey, 148 F.3d 1100, 1110 (D.C. Cir. 1998) ("The statute does not clearly apply to the Office of the President.").

In closing, it is important to note that no one has suggested that any of Mr. Rove's conduct actually undermined executive branch policymaking or personally enriched Mr. Rove. Indeed, Mr. Rove actually suffered considerable losses because of his inability to sell his stockholdings at the beginning of the Administration, as he had wished. In my judgment, the partisan pursuit of individual public servants such as Mr. Rove under these circumstances ill serves the public interest. Please join the President in working to change the tone in our nation's capital.

Sincerely,

Alberto R. Gonzales
Counsel to the President

cc: The Honorable Dan Burton

[3] Each was charged with having "knowingly participated personally and substantially as a government officer or employee in a particular matter in which he had a financial interest." Complaint, United States v. Berger, No. 97 CV02679 (filed D.D.C. 11/10/97); Complaint, United States v. Lake, No. 97 CV 00268 (filed D.D.C. 2/7/97).

[4] As for the Clinton staffer named in your letter, since that matter had not, to my knowledge, been made public before your letter and I have no knowledge of the facts, I cannot comment. From your description of that matter, however, it appears that the Department of Justice determined that there was no basis on which to proceed and that the staffer's conduct had not violated the financial conflict of interest statute or regulation.

Domestic Policy has crafted the attached talking points on the new NAEP test scores which were released at 10:30 this morning. Also attached are more detailed talking points on the President's education initiative and yesterday's Urban League address.

LATEST NATIONAL MATH SCORES HIGHLIGHT IMPORTANCE OF PRESIDENT'S EDUCATON REFORM AGENDA

Today's News:

- Today, we have even more evidence that the President's program for reforming America's education system and leaving no child behind is the right approach. The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) math scores released today show that only a quarter of fourth- and eighth-graders are proficient in math.

- These results also confirmed that the President's education reform plan is the right approach to improve our nation's schools. The NAEP results show that students in Texas and North Carolina – the states on which the President's education reform agenda is most closely based – led the nation in mathematics achievement and improvement.

- The performance of states like Texas and North Carolina show us that a system with standards, testing, and accountability helps all children to succeed. Their strong scores also show the continued importance of measuring progress among kids of all backgrounds and holding schools accountable for helping all kids.

Background on the NAEP Math Results:

- Over the last decade, national math scores among 4th and 8th graders have risen modestly, while 12th graders lost ground over the last five years. Scores are still too low, and racial achievement gaps remain wide.

- The percentage of students scoring at or above the "proficient" level nationally was higher in 2000 than in 1990 but still very low: 26% of 4th graders (up from 13%), 27% of 8th graders (up from 15%), and 17% of 12th graders (up from 12%).

- The achievement gap between children of different racial and ethnic groups remains unacceptably wide. In fact, the last decade saw no progress in reducing the national achievement gap.

    - The achievement gap between white and African-American students was 31 points in 4th grade, 39 points in 8th grade, and 34 points in 12th grade.
    - The gap between white students and Hispanic students was 24 points in 4th grade, 33 points in 8th grade, and 26 points in 12th grade.

The NAEP Math Results and Education Reform:

- The state-by-state results provide more evidence that states with serious testing and accountability systems are making the most progress. Texas and North Carolina posted especially impressive results across all student categories.

- In 4th grade math, North Carolina and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1992 to 2000;
- In 8th grade math, North Carolina, Ohio and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1990 to 2000;
- In 4th grade math, every racial/ethnic group in Texas performed better than their racial/ethnic peers in other states;
- Anglo students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Anglo peers in other states (tied with Connecticut);
- African-American students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their African-American peers in other states;
- Hispanic students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Hispanic peers in other states; and
- Asian students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Asian peers in other states (tied with New York).

- States that implemented systems of standards, assessment and accountability are making progress in closing the achievement gap. In 4th grade math, North Carolina, Texas and Georgia made progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and African-American students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- In 8th grade math, Texas and Maryland made statistically significant progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and Hispanic students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- These scores demonstrate that the President's education reform agenda is the right agenda for America's children, particularly minority and disadvantaged students who have too often been left behind. The President is pleased that the House and Senate education bills broadly reflect his education reform goals, and he will continue to work with Congress to pass a final bill that reflects these proven principles.

President Bush Presses for Action on Education Reform

Today's Presidential Action

- In a speech to the National Urban League, President Bush called on Congress to move forward and finish its work on education reform. Nearly two-thirds of African-American fourth graders (63 percent) cannot read at a basic level, and the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) reading scores released in April found a troubling and growing performance gap between minority and disadvantaged children and their peers.

- The President urged members of the House-Senate conference committee to focus their efforts on reaching agreements on: (1) measuring the progress that schools are making in improving student performance across racial and socio-economic groups; (2) ensuring that states have testing systems in place that can really measure progress from year to year and district to district; and (3) providing an independent way to prove that state assessment and accountability systems are working.

- Completing work on the President's education reforms is critical to ensuring that no child in American is left behind. As Governor of Texas, President Bush led the effort to implement strong school accountability measures. The results, especially for minority students, have been remarkable. Only 56 percent of African-American fourth graders could pass the Texas state reading test when it was first introduced. Today, 83 percent of African-American fourth graders pass the test. And, according to the NAEP, African-American eighth graders in Texas have the highest writing scores in the nation.

Background on the President's Education Reform Plan

- Education reform legislation based on the President's principles passed the House of Representatives on May 24 with a 384-45 vote, and passed the Senate June 14 on a 91-8 vote. A joint House-Senate conference committee is currently meeting to resolve differences between the two bills.

- The President is pleased with the bipartisan consensus behind the reforms in both the House and Senate versions of the bill. These bills reflect the core principles of the President's education reform agenda:

    - Accountability: Measuring progress in reading and math for every child in grades 3-8. Holding states accountable to ensure that schools are making adequate academic progress for all students. Giving failing schools needed help to turn around, but establishing serious consequences for persistent failure.
    - Flexibility and Local Control: Ensuring that states and local schools have maximum flexibility and reducing the burdens of federal red tape and paperwork. Streamlining the number of duplicative federal education programs and focusing resources on results in critical areas.
    - Funding Programs That Work: Bridging the gap between educational research and the classroom to implement proven, scientifically-based approaches to provide kids with basic skills, including new initiatives such as Reading First and Early Childhood Reading Instruction.

- Expanding Parental Options: Providing every parent, for the first time, detailed school-by-school Report Cards to measure the performance of their schools. Giving parents of children in persistently failing or unsafe public schools the right to choose to transfer their children to a more effective public school with transportation provided, or the ability to redirect their child's share of federal funds toward tutoring or after-school academic services.

- The House and Senate bills reflect these goals, but work remains to be done to ensure that the final education reform bill lives up to the promise of the President's education reform principles. For example, the President's education reform plan calls for more effectively focusing education federal dollars where they can do the most good – in part by streamlining the overall number of federal education programs and in better targeting funds to low-income students. According to the Department of Education, while the House-passed bill reduced the number of separate federal education programs by 33, the Senate-passed bill adds 19 federal education programs to the total. Consolidating federal education programs and targeting resources on what really works are just some of the important issues remaining for Congress.

Domestic Policy has crafted the attached talking points on the new NAEP test scores which were released at 10:30 this morning. Also attached are more detailed talking points on the President's education initiative and yesterday's Urban League address.

LATEST NATIONAL MATH SCORES HIGHLIGHT IMPORTANCE OF PRESIDENT'S EDUCATON REFORM AGENDA

Today's News:

- Today, we have even more evidence that the President's program for reforming America's education system and leaving no child behind is the right approach. The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) math scores released today show that only a quarter of fourth- and eighth-graders are proficient in math.

- These results also confirmed that the President's education reform plan is the right approach to improve our nation's schools. The NAEP results show that students in Texas and North Carolina – the states on which the President's education reform agenda is most closely based – led the nation in mathematics achievement and improvement.

- The performance of states like Texas and North Carolina show us that a system with standards, testing, and accountability helps all children to succeed. Their strong scores also show the continued importance of measuring progress among kids of all backgrounds and holding schools accountable for helping all kids.

Background on the NAEP Math Results:

- Over the last decade, national math scores among 4th and 8th graders have risen modestly, while 12th graders lost ground over the last five years. Scores are still too low, and racial achievement gaps remain wide.

- The percentage of students scoring at or above the "proficient" level nationally was higher in 2000 than in 1990 but still very low: 26% of 4th graders (up from 13%), 27% of 8th graders (up from 15%), and 17% of 12th graders (up from 12%).

- The achievement gap between children of different racial and ethnic groups remains unacceptably wide. In fact, the last decade saw no progress in reducing the national achievement gap.

    - The achievement gap between white and African-American students was 31 points in 4th grade, 39 points in 8th grade, and 34 points in 12th grade.
    - The gap between white students and Hispanic students was 24 points in 4th grade, 33 points in 8th grade, and 26 points in 12th grade.

The NAEP Math Results and Education Reform:

- The state-by-state results provide more evidence that states with serious testing and accountability systems are making the most progress. Texas and North Carolina posted especially impressive results across all student categories.

- In 4th grade math, North Carolina and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1992 to 2000;
- In 8th grade math, North Carolina, Ohio and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1990 to 2000;
- In 4th grade math, every racial/ethnic group in Texas performed better than their racial/ethnic peers in other states;
- Anglo students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Anglo peers in other states (tied with Connecticut);
- African-American students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their African-American peers in other states;
- Hispanic students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Hispanic peers in other states; and
- Asian students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Asian peers in other states (tied with New York).

- States that implemented systems of standards, assessment and accountability are making progress in closing the achievement gap. In 4th grade math, North Carolina, Texas and Georgia made progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and African-American students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- In 8th grade math, Texas and Maryland made statistically significant progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and Hispanic students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- These scores demonstrate that the President's education reform agenda is the right agenda for America's children, particularly minority and disadvantaged students who have too often been left behind. The President is pleased that the House and Senate education bills broadly reflect his education reform goals, and he will continue to work with Congress to pass a final bill that reflects these proven principles.

President Bush Presses for Action on Education Reform

Today's Presidential Action

- In a speech to the National Urban League, President Bush called on Congress to move forward and finish its work on education reform. Nearly two-thirds of African-American fourth graders (63 percent) cannot read at a basic level, and the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) reading scores released in April found a troubling and growing performance gap between minority and disadvantaged children and their peers.

- The President urged members of the House-Senate conference committee to focus their efforts on reaching agreements on: (1) measuring the progress that schools are making in improving student performance across racial and socio-economic groups; (2) ensuring that states have testing systems in place that can really measure progress from year to year and district to district; and (3) providing an independent way to prove that state assessment and accountability systems are working.

- Completing work on the President's education reforms is critical to ensuring that no child in American is left behind. As Governor of Texas, President Bush led the effort to implement strong school accountability measures. The results, especially for minority students, have been remarkable. Only 56 percent of African-American fourth graders could pass the Texas state reading test when it was first introduced. Today, 83 percent of African-American fourth graders pass the test. And, according to the NAEP, African-American eighth graders in Texas have the highest writing scores in the nation.

Background on the President's Education Reform Plan

- Education reform legislation based on the President's principles passed the House of Representatives on May 24 with a 384-45 vote, and passed the Senate June 14 on a 91-8 vote. A joint House-Senate conference committee is currently meeting to resolve differences between the two bills.

- The President is pleased with the bipartisan consensus behind the reforms in both the House and Senate versions of the bill. These bills reflect the core principles of the President's education reform agenda:

    - Accountability: Measuring progress in reading and math for every child in grades 3-8. Holding states accountable to ensure that schools are making adequate academic progress for all students. Giving failing schools needed help to turn around, but establishing serious consequences for persistent failure.
    - Flexibility and Local Control: Ensuring that states and local schools have maximum flexibility and reducing the burdens of federal red tape and paperwork. Streamlining the number of duplicative federal education programs and focusing resources on results in critical areas.
    - Funding Programs That Work: Bridging the gap between educational research and the classroom to implement proven, scientifically-based approaches to provide kids with basic skills, including new initiatives such as Reading First and Early Childhood Reading Instruction.

- Expanding Parental Options: Providing every parent, for the first time, detailed school-by-school Report Cards to measure the performance of their schools. Giving parents of children in persistently failing or unsafe public schools the right to choose to transfer their children to a more effective public school with transportation provided, or the ability to redirect their child's share of federal funds toward tutoring or after-school academic services.

- The House and Senate bills reflect these goals, but work remains to be done to ensure that the final education reform bill lives up to the promise of the President's education reform principles. For example, the President's education reform plan calls for more effectively focusing education federal dollars where they can do the most good – in part by streamlining the overall number of federal education programs and in better targeting funds to low-income students. According to the Department of Education, while the House-passed bill reduced the number of separate federal education programs by 33, the Senate-passed bill adds 19 federal education programs to the total. Consolidating federal education programs and targeting resources on what really works are just some of the important issues remaining for Congress.

Domestic Policy has crafted the attached talking points on the new NAEP test scores which were released at 10:30 this morning. Also attached are more detailed talking points on the President's education initiative and yesterday's Urban League address.

LATEST NATIONAL MATH SCORES HIGHLIGHT IMPORTANCE OF PRESIDENT'S EDUCATON REFORM AGENDA

Today's News:

- Today, we have even more evidence that the President's program for reforming America's education system and leaving no child behind is the right approach. The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) math scores released today show that only a quarter of fourth- and eighth-graders are proficient in math.

- These results also confirmed that the President's education reform plan is the right approach to improve our nation's schools. The NAEP results show that students in Texas and North Carolina – the states on which the President's education reform agenda is most closely based – led the nation in mathematics achievement and improvement.

- The performance of states like Texas and North Carolina show us that a system with standards, testing, and accountability helps all children to succeed. Their strong scores also show the continued importance of measuring progress among kids of all backgrounds and holding schools accountable for helping all kids.

Background on the NAEP Math Results:

- Over the last decade, national math scores among 4th and 8th graders have risen modestly, while 12th graders lost ground over the last five years. Scores are still too low, and racial achievement gaps remain wide.

- The percentage of students scoring at or above the "proficient" level nationally was higher in 2000 than in 1990 but still very low: 26% of 4th graders (up from 13%), 27% of 8th graders (up from 15%), and 17% of 12th graders (up from 12%).

- The achievement gap between children of different racial and ethnic groups remains unacceptably wide. In fact, the last decade saw no progress in reducing the national achievement gap.

    - The achievement gap between white and African-American students was 31 points in 4th grade, 39 points in 8th grade, and 34 points in 12th grade.
    - The gap between white students and Hispanic students was 24 points in 4th grade, 33 points in 8th grade, and 26 points in 12th grade.

The NAEP Math Results and Education Reform:

- The state-by-state results provide more evidence that states with serious testing and accountability systems are making the most progress. Texas and North Carolina posted especially impressive results across all student categories.

- In 4th grade math, North Carolina and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1992 to 2000;
- In 8th grade math, North Carolina, Ohio and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1990 to 2000;
- In 4th grade math, every racial/ethnic group in Texas performed better than their racial/ethnic peers in other states;
- Anglo students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Anglo peers in other states (tied with Connecticut);
- African-American students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their African-American peers in other states;
- Hispanic students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Hispanic peers in other states; and
- Asian students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Asian peers in other states (tied with New York).

- States that implemented systems of standards, assessment and accountability are making progress in closing the achievement gap. In 4th grade math, North Carolina, Texas and Georgia made progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and African-American students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- In 8th grade math, Texas and Maryland made statistically significant progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and Hispanic students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- These scores demonstrate that the President's education reform agenda is the right agenda for America's children, particularly minority and disadvantaged students who have too often been left behind. The President is pleased that the House and Senate education bills broadly reflect his education reform goals, and he will continue to work with Congress to pass a final bill that reflects these proven principles.

President Bush Presses for Action on Education Reform

Today's Presidential Action

- In a speech to the National Urban League, President Bush called on Congress to move forward and finish its work on education reform. Nearly two-thirds of African-American fourth graders (63 percent) cannot read at a basic level, and the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) reading scores released in April found a troubling and growing performance gap between minority and disadvantaged children and their peers.

- The President urged members of the House-Senate conference committee to focus their efforts on reaching agreements on: (1) measuring the progress that schools are making in improving student performance across racial and socio-economic groups; (2) ensuring that states have testing systems in place that can really measure progress from year to year and district to district; and (3) providing an independent way to prove that state assessment and accountability systems are working.

- Completing work on the President's education reforms is critical to ensuring that no child in American is left behind. As Governor of Texas, President Bush led the effort to implement strong school accountability measures. The results, especially for minority students, have been remarkable. Only 56 percent of African-American fourth graders could pass the Texas state reading test when it was first introduced. Today, 83 percent of African-American fourth graders pass the test. And, according to the NAEP, African-American eighth graders in Texas have the highest writing scores in the nation.

Background on the President's Education Reform Plan

- Education reform legislation based on the President's principles passed the House of Representatives on May 24 with a 384-45 vote, and passed the Senate June 14 on a 91-8 vote. A joint House-Senate conference committee is currently meeting to resolve differences between the two bills.

- The President is pleased with the bipartisan consensus behind the reforms in both the House and Senate versions of the bill. These bills reflect the core principles of the President's education reform agenda:

    - Accountability: Measuring progress in reading and math for every child in grades 3-8. Holding states accountable to ensure that schools are making adequate academic progress for all students. Giving failing schools needed help to turn around, but establishing serious consequences for persistent failure.
    - Flexibility and Local Control: Ensuring that states and local schools have maximum flexibility and reducing the burdens of federal red tape and paperwork. Streamlining the number of duplicative federal education programs and focusing resources on results in critical areas.
    - Funding Programs That Work: Bridging the gap between educational research and the classroom to implement proven, scientifically-based approaches to provide kids with basic skills, including new initiatives such as Reading First and Early Childhood Reading Instruction.

- Expanding Parental Options: Providing every parent, for the first time, detailed school-by-school Report Cards to measure the performance of their schools. Giving parents of children in persistently failing or unsafe public schools the right to choose to transfer their children to a more effective public school with transportation provided, or the ability to redirect their child's share of federal funds toward tutoring or after-school academic services.

- The House and Senate bills reflect these goals, but work remains to be done to ensure that the final education reform bill lives up to the promise of the President's education reform principles. For example, the President's education reform plan calls for more effectively focusing education federal dollars where they can do the most good – in part by streamlining the overall number of federal education programs and in better targeting funds to low-income students. According to the Department of Education, while the House-passed bill reduced the number of separate federal education programs by 33, the Senate-passed bill adds 19 federal education programs to the total. Consolidating federal education programs and targeting resources on what really works are just some of the important issues remaining for Congress.

Domestic Policy has crafted the attached talking points on the new NAEP test scores which were released at 10:30 this morning. Also attached are more detailed talking points on the President's education initiative and yesterday's Urban League address.

LATEST NATIONAL MATH SCORES HIGHLIGHT IMPORTANCE OF PRESIDENT'S EDUCATON REFORM AGENDA

Today's News:

- Today, we have even more evidence that the President's program for reforming America's education system and leaving no child behind is the right approach. The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) math scores released today show that only a quarter of fourth- and eighth-graders are proficient in math.

- These results also confirmed that the President's education reform plan is the right approach to improve our nation's schools. The NAEP results show that students in Texas and North Carolina – the states on which the President's education reform agenda is most closely based – led the nation in mathematics achievement and improvement.

- The performance of states like Texas and North Carolina show us that a system with standards, testing, and accountability helps all children to succeed. Their strong scores also show the continued importance of measuring progress among kids of all backgrounds and holding schools accountable for helping all kids.

Background on the NAEP Math Results:

- Over the last decade, national math scores among 4th and 8th graders have risen modestly, while 12th graders lost ground over the last five years. Scores are still too low, and racial achievement gaps remain wide.

- The percentage of students scoring at or above the "proficient" level nationally was higher in 2000 than in 1990 but still very low: 26% of 4th graders (up from 13%), 27% of 8th graders (up from 15%), and 17% of 12th graders (up from 12%).

- The achievement gap between children of different racial and ethnic groups remains unacceptably wide. In fact, the last decade saw no progress in reducing the national achievement gap.

    - The achievement gap between white and African-American students was 31 points in 4th grade, 39 points in 8th grade, and 34 points in 12th grade.
    - The gap between white students and Hispanic students was 24 points in 4th grade, 33 points in 8th grade, and 26 points in 12th grade.

The NAEP Math Results and Education Reform:

- The state-by-state results provide more evidence that states with serious testing and accountability systems are making the most progress. Texas and North Carolina posted especially impressive results across all student categories.

- In 4th grade math, North Carolina and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1992 to 2000;
- In 8th grade math, North Carolina, Ohio and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1990 to 2000;
- In 4th grade math, every racial/ethnic group in Texas performed better than their racial/ethnic peers in other states;
- Anglo students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Anglo peers in other states (tied with Connecticut);
- African-American students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their African-American peers in other states;
- Hispanic students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Hispanic peers in other states; and
- Asian students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Asian peers in other states (tied with New York).

- States that implemented systems of standards, assessment and accountability are making progress in closing the achievement gap. In 4th grade math, North Carolina, Texas and Georgia made progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and African-American students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- In 8th grade math, Texas and Maryland made statistically significant progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and Hispanic students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- These scores demonstrate that the President's education reform agenda is the right agenda for America's children, particularly minority and disadvantaged students who have too often been left behind. The President is pleased that the House and Senate education bills broadly reflect his education reform goals, and he will continue to work with Congress to pass a final bill that reflects these proven principles.

President Bush Presses for Action on Education Reform

Today's Presidential Action

- In a speech to the National Urban League, President Bush called on Congress to move forward and finish its work on education reform. Nearly two-thirds of African-American fourth graders (63 percent) cannot read at a basic level, and the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) reading scores released in April found a troubling and growing performance gap between minority and disadvantaged children and their peers.

- The President urged members of the House-Senate conference committee to focus their efforts on reaching agreements on: (1) measuring the progress that schools are making in improving student performance across racial and socio-economic groups; (2) ensuring that states have testing systems in place that can really measure progress from year to year and district to district; and (3) providing an independent way to prove that state assessment and accountability systems are working.

- Completing work on the President's education reforms is critical to ensuring that no child in American is left behind. As Governor of Texas, President Bush led the effort to implement strong school accountability measures. The results, especially for minority students, have been remarkable. Only 56 percent of African-American fourth graders could pass the Texas state reading test when it was first introduced. Today, 83 percent of African-American fourth graders pass the test. And, according to the NAEP, African-American eighth graders in Texas have the highest writing scores in the nation.

Background on the President's Education Reform Plan

- Education reform legislation based on the President's principles passed the House of Representatives on May 24 with a 384-45 vote, and passed the Senate June 14 on a 91-8 vote. A joint House-Senate conference committee is currently meeting to resolve differences between the two bills.

- The President is pleased with the bipartisan consensus behind the reforms in both the House and Senate versions of the bill. These bills reflect the core principles of the President's education reform agenda:

    - Accountability: Measuring progress in reading and math for every child in grades 3-8. Holding states accountable to ensure that schools are making adequate academic progress for all students. Giving failing schools needed help to turn around, but establishing serious consequences for persistent failure.
    - Flexibility and Local Control: Ensuring that states and local schools have maximum flexibility and reducing the burdens of federal red tape and paperwork. Streamlining the number of duplicative federal education programs and focusing resources on results in critical areas.
    - Funding Programs That Work: Bridging the gap between educational research and the classroom to implement proven, scientifically-based approaches to provide kids with basic skills, including new initiatives such as Reading First and Early Childhood Reading Instruction.

- Expanding Parental Options: Providing every parent, for the first time, detailed school-by-school Report Cards to measure the performance of their schools. Giving parents of children in persistently failing or unsafe public schools the right to choose to transfer their children to a more effective public school with transportation provided, or the ability to redirect their child's share of federal funds toward tutoring or after-school academic services.

- The House and Senate bills reflect these goals, but work remains to be done to ensure that the final education reform bill lives up to the promise of the President's education reform principles. For example, the President's education reform plan calls for more effectively focusing education federal dollars where they can do the most good – in part by streamlining the overall number of federal education programs and in better targeting funds to low-income students. According to the Department of Education, while the House-passed bill reduced the number of separate federal education programs by 33, the Senate-passed bill adds 19 federal education programs to the total. Consolidating federal education programs and targeting resources on what really works are just some of the important issues remaining for Congress.

Domestic Policy has crafted the attached talking points on the new NAEP test scores which were released at 10:30 this morning. Also attached are more detailed talking points on the President's education initiative and yesterday's Urban League address.

LATEST NATIONAL MATH SCORES HIGHLIGHT IMPORTANCE OF PRESIDENT'S EDUCATON REFORM AGENDA

Today's News:

- Today, we have even more evidence that the President's program for reforming America's education system and leaving no child behind is the right approach. The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) math scores released today show that only a quarter of fourth- and eighth-graders are proficient in math.

- These results also confirmed that the President's education reform plan is the right approach to improve our nation's schools. The NAEP results show that students in Texas and North Carolina – the states on which the President's education reform agenda is most closely based – led the nation in mathematics achievement and improvement.

- The performance of states like Texas and North Carolina show us that a system with standards, testing, and accountability helps all children to succeed. Their strong scores also show the continued importance of measuring progress among kids of all backgrounds and holding schools accountable for helping all kids.

Background on the NAEP Math Results:

- Over the last decade, national math scores among 4th and 8th graders have risen modestly, while 12th graders lost ground over the last five years. Scores are still too low, and racial achievement gaps remain wide.

- The percentage of students scoring at or above the "proficient" level nationally was higher in 2000 than in 1990 but still very low: 26% of 4th graders (up from 13%), 27% of 8th graders (up from 15%), and 17% of 12th graders (up from 12%).

- The achievement gap between children of different racial and ethnic groups remains unacceptably wide. In fact, the last decade saw no progress in reducing the national achievement gap.

    - The achievement gap between white and African-American students was 31 points in 4th grade, 39 points in 8th grade, and 34 points in 12th grade.
    - The gap between white students and Hispanic students was 24 points in 4th grade, 33 points in 8th grade, and 26 points in 12th grade.

The NAEP Math Results and Education Reform:

- The state-by-state results provide more evidence that states with serious testing and accountability systems are making the most progress. Texas and North Carolina posted especially impressive results across all student categories.

- In 4th grade math, North Carolina and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1992 to 2000;
- In 8th grade math, North Carolina, Ohio and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1990 to 2000;
- In 4th grade math, every racial/ethnic group in Texas performed better than their racial/ethnic peers in other states;
- Anglo students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Anglo peers in other states (tied with Connecticut);
- African-American students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their African-American peers in other states;
- Hispanic students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Hispanic peers in other states; and
- Asian students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Asian peers in other states (tied with New York).

- States that implemented systems of standards, assessment and accountability are making progress in closing the achievement gap. In 4th grade math, North Carolina, Texas and Georgia made progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and African-American students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- In 8th grade math, Texas and Maryland made statistically significant progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and Hispanic students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- These scores demonstrate that the President's education reform agenda is the right agenda for America's children, particularly minority and disadvantaged students who have too often been left behind. The President is pleased that the House and Senate education bills broadly reflect his education reform goals, and he will continue to work with Congress to pass a final bill that reflects these proven principles.

President Bush Presses for Action on Education Reform

Today's Presidential Action

- In a speech to the National Urban League, President Bush called on Congress to move forward and finish its work on education reform. Nearly two-thirds of African-American fourth graders (63 percent) cannot read at a basic level, and the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) reading scores released in April found a troubling and growing performance gap between minority and disadvantaged children and their peers.

- The President urged members of the House-Senate conference committee to focus their efforts on reaching agreements on: (1) measuring the progress that schools are making in improving student performance across racial and socio-economic groups; (2) ensuring that states have testing systems in place that can really measure progress from year to year and district to district; and (3) providing an independent way to prove that state assessment and accountability systems are working.

- Completing work on the President's education reforms is critical to ensuring that no child in American is left behind. As Governor of Texas, President Bush led the effort to implement strong school accountability measures. The results, especially for minority students, have been remarkable. Only 56 percent of African-American fourth graders could pass the Texas state reading test when it was first introduced. Today, 83 percent of African-American fourth graders pass the test. And, according to the NAEP, African-American eighth graders in Texas have the highest writing scores in the nation.

Background on the President's Education Reform Plan

- Education reform legislation based on the President's principles passed the House of Representatives on May 24 with a 384-45 vote, and passed the Senate June 14 on a 91-8 vote. A joint House-Senate conference committee is currently meeting to resolve differences between the two bills.

- The President is pleased with the bipartisan consensus behind the reforms in both the House and Senate versions of the bill. These bills reflect the core principles of the President's education reform agenda:

    - Accountability: Measuring progress in reading and math for every child in grades 3-8. Holding states accountable to ensure that schools are making adequate academic progress for all students. Giving failing schools needed help to turn around, but establishing serious consequences for persistent failure.
    - Flexibility and Local Control: Ensuring that states and local schools have maximum flexibility and reducing the burdens of federal red tape and paperwork. Streamlining the number of duplicative federal education programs and focusing resources on results in critical areas.
    - Funding Programs That Work: Bridging the gap between educational research and the classroom to implement proven, scientifically-based approaches to provide kids with basic skills, including new initiatives such as Reading First and Early Childhood Reading Instruction.

- Expanding Parental Options: Providing every parent, for the first time, detailed school-by-school Report Cards to measure the performance of their schools. Giving parents of children in persistently failing or unsafe public schools the right to choose to transfer their children to a more effective public school with transportation provided, or the ability to redirect their child's share of federal funds toward tutoring or after-school academic services.

- The House and Senate bills reflect these goals, but work remains to be done to ensure that the final education reform bill lives up to the promise of the President's education reform principles. For example, the President's education reform plan calls for more effectively focusing education federal dollars where they can do the most good – in part by streamlining the overall number of federal education programs and in better targeting funds to low-income students. According to the Department of Education, while the House-passed bill reduced the number of separate federal education programs by 33, the Senate-passed bill adds 19 federal education programs to the total. Consolidating federal education programs and targeting resources on what really works are just some of the important issues remaining for Congress.

Domestic Policy has crafted the attached talking points on the new NAEP test scores which were released at 10:30 this morning. Also attached are more detailed talking points on the President's education initiative and yesterday's Urban League address.

LATEST NATIONAL MATH SCORES HIGHLIGHT IMPORTANCE OF PRESIDENT'S EDUCATON REFORM AGENDA

Today's News:

- Today, we have even more evidence that the President's program for reforming America's education system and leaving no child behind is the right approach. The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) math scores released today show that only a quarter of fourth- and eighth-graders are proficient in math.

- These results also confirmed that the President's education reform plan is the right approach to improve our nation's schools. The NAEP results show that students in Texas and North Carolina – the states on which the President's education reform agenda is most closely based – led the nation in mathematics achievement and improvement.

- The performance of states like Texas and North Carolina show us that a system with standards, testing, and accountability helps all children to succeed. Their strong scores also show the continued importance of measuring progress among kids of all backgrounds and holding schools accountable for helping all kids.

Background on the NAEP Math Results:

- Over the last decade, national math scores among 4th and 8th graders have risen modestly, while 12th graders lost ground over the last five years. Scores are still too low, and racial achievement gaps remain wide.

- The percentage of students scoring at or above the "proficient" level nationally was higher in 2000 than in 1990 but still very low: 26% of 4th graders (up from 13%), 27% of 8th graders (up from 15%), and 17% of 12th graders (up from 12%).

- The achievement gap between children of different racial and ethnic groups remains unacceptably wide. In fact, the last decade saw no progress in reducing the national achievement gap.

    - The achievement gap between white and African-American students was 31 points in 4th grade, 39 points in 8th grade, and 34 points in 12th grade.
    - The gap between white students and Hispanic students was 24 points in 4th grade, 33 points in 8th grade, and 26 points in 12th grade.

The NAEP Math Results and Education Reform:

- The state-by-state results provide more evidence that states with serious testing and accountability systems are making the most progress. Texas and North Carolina posted especially impressive results across all student categories.

- In 4th grade math, North Carolina and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1992 to 2000;
- In 8th grade math, North Carolina, Ohio and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1990 to 2000;
- In 4th grade math, every racial/ethnic group in Texas performed better than their racial/ethnic peers in other states;
- Anglo students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Anglo peers in other states (tied with Connecticut);
- African-American students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their African-American peers in other states;
- Hispanic students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Hispanic peers in other states; and
- Asian students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Asian peers in other states (tied with New York).

- States that implemented systems of standards, assessment and accountability are making progress in closing the achievement gap. In 4th grade math, North Carolina, Texas and Georgia made progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and African-American students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- In 8th grade math, Texas and Maryland made statistically significant progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and Hispanic students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- These scores demonstrate that the President's education reform agenda is the right agenda for America's children, particularly minority and disadvantaged students who have too often been left behind. The President is pleased that the House and Senate education bills broadly reflect his education reform goals, and he will continue to work with Congress to pass a final bill that reflects these proven principles.

President Bush Presses for Action on Education Reform

Today's Presidential Action

- In a speech to the National Urban League, President Bush called on Congress to move forward and finish its work on education reform. Nearly two-thirds of African-American fourth graders (63 percent) cannot read at a basic level, and the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) reading scores released in April found a troubling and growing performance gap between minority and disadvantaged children and their peers.

- The President urged members of the House-Senate conference committee to focus their efforts on reaching agreements on: (1) measuring the progress that schools are making in improving student performance across racial and socio-economic groups; (2) ensuring that states have testing systems in place that can really measure progress from year to year and district to district; and (3) providing an independent way to prove that state assessment and accountability systems are working.

- Completing work on the President's education reforms is critical to ensuring that no child in American is left behind. As Governor of Texas, President Bush led the effort to implement strong school accountability measures. The results, especially for minority students, have been remarkable. Only 56 percent of African-American fourth graders could pass the Texas state reading test when it was first introduced. Today, 83 percent of African-American fourth graders pass the test. And, according to the NAEP, African-American eighth graders in Texas have the highest writing scores in the nation.

Background on the President's Education Reform Plan

- Education reform legislation based on the President's principles passed the House of Representatives on May 24 with a 384-45 vote, and passed the Senate June 14 on a 91-8 vote. A joint House-Senate conference committee is currently meeting to resolve differences between the two bills.

- The President is pleased with the bipartisan consensus behind the reforms in both the House and Senate versions of the bill. These bills reflect the core principles of the President's education reform agenda:

    - Accountability: Measuring progress in reading and math for every child in grades 3-8. Holding states accountable to ensure that schools are making adequate academic progress for all students. Giving failing schools needed help to turn around, but establishing serious consequences for persistent failure.
    - Flexibility and Local Control: Ensuring that states and local schools have maximum flexibility and reducing the burdens of federal red tape and paperwork. Streamlining the number of duplicative federal education programs and focusing resources on results in critical areas.
    - Funding Programs That Work: Bridging the gap between educational research and the classroom to implement proven, scientifically-based approaches to provide kids with basic skills, including new initiatives such as Reading First and Early Childhood Reading Instruction.

- Expanding Parental Options: Providing every parent, for the first time, detailed school-by-school Report Cards to measure the performance of their schools. Giving parents of children in persistently failing or unsafe public schools the right to choose to transfer their children to a more effective public school with transportation provided, or the ability to redirect their child's share of federal funds toward tutoring or after-school academic services.

- The House and Senate bills reflect these goals, but work remains to be done to ensure that the final education reform bill lives up to the promise of the President's education reform principles. For example, the President's education reform plan calls for more effectively focusing education federal dollars where they can do the most good – in part by streamlining the overall number of federal education programs and in better targeting funds to low-income students. According to the Department of Education, while the House-passed bill reduced the number of separate federal education programs by 33, the Senate-passed bill adds 19 federal education programs to the total. Consolidating federal education programs and targeting resources on what really works are just some of the important issues remaining for Congress.

LATEST NATIONAL MATH SCORES HIGHLIGHT IMPORTANCE OF PRESIDENT'S EDUCATON REFORM AGENDA

Today's News:

- Today, we have even more evidence that the President's program for reforming America's education system and leaving no child behind is the right approach. The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) math scores released today show that only a quarter of fourth- and eighth-graders are proficient in math.

- These results also confirmed that the President's education reform plan is the right approach to improve our nation's schools. The NAEP results show that students in Texas and North Carolina – the states on which the President's education reform agenda is most closely based – led the nation in mathematics achievement and improvement.

- The performance of states like Texas and North Carolina show us that a system with standards, testing, and accountability helps all children to succeed. Their strong scores also show the continued importance of measuring progress among kids of all backgrounds and holding schools accountable for helping all kids.

Background on the NAEP Math Results:

- Over the last decade, national math scores among 4th and 8th graders have risen modestly, while 12th graders lost ground over the last five years. Scores are still too low, and racial achievement gaps remain wide.

- The percentage of students scoring at or above the "proficient" level nationally was higher in 2000 than in 1990 but still very low: 26% of 4th graders (up from 13%), 27% of 8th graders (up from 15%), and 17% of 12th graders (up from 12%).

- The achievement gap between children of different racial and ethnic groups remains unacceptably wide. In fact, the last decade saw no progress in reducing the national achievement gap.

    - The achievement gap between white and African-American students was 31 points in 4th grade, 39 points in 8th grade, and 34 points in 12th grade.
    - The gap between white students and Hispanic students was 24 points in 4th grade, 33 points in 8th grade, and 26 points in 12th grade.

The NAEP Math Results and Education Reform:

- The state-by-state results provide more evidence that states with serious testing and accountability systems are making the most progress. Texas and North Carolina posted especially impressive results across all student categories.

- In 4th grade math, North Carolina and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1992 to 2000;
- In 8th grade math, North Carolina, Ohio and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1990 to 2000;
- In 4th grade math, every racial/ethnic group in Texas performed better than their racial/ethnic peers in other states;
- Anglo students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Anglo peers in other states (tied with Connecticut);
- African-American students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their African-American peers in other states;
- Hispanic students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Hispanic peers in other states; and
- Asian students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Asian peers in other states (tied with New York).

- States that implemented systems of standards, assessment and accountability are making progress in closing the achievement gap. In 4th grade math, North Carolina, Texas and Georgia made progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and African-American students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- In 8th grade math, Texas and Maryland made statistically significant progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and Hispanic students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- These scores demonstrate that the President's education reform agenda is the right agenda for America's children, particularly minority and disadvantaged students who have too often been left behind. The President is pleased that the House and Senate education bills broadly reflect his education reform goals, and he will continue to work with Congress to pass a final bill that reflects these proven principles.

President Bush Presses for Action on Education Reform

Today's Presidential Action

- In a speech to the National Urban League, President Bush called on Congress to move forward and finish its work on education reform. Nearly two-thirds of African-American fourth graders (63 percent) cannot read at a basic level, and the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) reading scores released in April found a troubling and growing performance gap between minority and disadvantaged children and their peers.

- The President urged members of the House-Senate conference committee to focus their efforts on reaching agreements on: (1) measuring the progress that schools are making in improving student performance across racial and socio-economic groups; (2) ensuring that states have testing systems in place that can really measure progress from year to year and district to district; and (3) providing an independent way to prove that state assessment and accountability systems are working.

- Completing work on the President's education reforms is critical to ensuring that no child in American is left behind. As Governor of Texas, President Bush led the effort to implement strong school accountability measures. The results, especially for minority students, have been remarkable. Only 56 percent of African-American fourth graders could pass the Texas state reading test when it was first introduced. Today, 83 percent of African-American fourth graders pass the test. And, according to the NAEP, African-American eighth graders in Texas have the highest writing scores in the nation.

Background on the President's Education Reform Plan

- Education reform legislation based on the President's principles passed the House of Representatives on May 24 with a 384-45 vote, and passed the Senate June 14 on a 91-8 vote. A joint House-Senate conference committee is currently meeting to resolve differences between the two bills.

- The President is pleased with the bipartisan consensus behind the reforms in both the House and Senate versions of the bill. These bills reflect the core principles of the President's education reform agenda:

    - Accountability: Measuring progress in reading and math for every child in grades 3-8. Holding states accountable to ensure that schools are making adequate academic progress for all students. Giving failing schools needed help to turn around, but establishing serious consequences for persistent failure.
    - Flexibility and Local Control: Ensuring that states and local schools have maximum flexibility and reducing the burdens of federal red tape and paperwork. Streamlining the number of duplicative federal education programs and focusing resources on results in critical areas.
    - Funding Programs That Work: Bridging the gap between educational research and the classroom to implement proven, scientifically-based approaches to provide kids with basic skills, including new initiatives such as Reading First and Early Childhood Reading Instruction.

- Expanding Parental Options: Providing every parent, for the first time, detailed school-by-school Report Cards to measure the performance of their schools. Giving parents of children in persistently failing or unsafe public schools the right to choose to transfer their children to a more effective public school with transportation provided, or the ability to redirect their child's share of federal funds toward tutoring or after-school academic services.

- The House and Senate bills reflect these goals, but work remains to be done to ensure that the final education reform bill lives up to the promise of the President's education reform principles. For example, the President's education reform plan calls for more effectively focusing education federal dollars where they can do the most good – in part by streamlining the overall number of federal education programs and in better targeting funds to low-income students. According to the Department of Education, while the House-passed bill reduced the number of separate federal education programs by 33, the Senate-passed bill adds 19 federal education programs to the total. Consolidating federal education programs and targeting resources on what really works are just some of the important issues remaining for Congress.

Domestic Policy has crafted the attached talking points on the new NAEP test scores which were released at 10:30 this morning. Also attached are more detailed talking points on the President's education initiative and yesterday's Urban League address.

LATEST NATIONAL MATH SCORES HIGHLIGHT IMPORTANCE OF PRESIDENT'S EDUCATON REFORM AGENDA

Today's News:

- Today, we have even more evidence that the President's program for reforming America's education system and leaving no child behind is the right approach. The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) math scores released today show that only a quarter of fourth- and eighth-graders are proficient in math.

- These results also confirmed that the President's education reform plan is the right approach to improve our nation's schools. The NAEP results show that students in Texas and North Carolina – the states on which the President's education reform agenda is most closely based – led the nation in mathematics achievement and improvement.

- The performance of states like Texas and North Carolina show us that a system with standards, testing, and accountability helps all children to succeed. Their strong scores also show the continued importance of measuring progress among kids of all backgrounds and holding schools accountable for helping all kids.

Background on the NAEP Math Results:

- Over the last decade, national math scores among 4th and 8th graders have risen modestly, while 12th graders lost ground over the last five years. Scores are still too low, and racial achievement gaps remain wide.

- The percentage of students scoring at or above the "proficient" level nationally was higher in 2000 than in 1990 but still very low: 26% of 4th graders (up from 13%), 27% of 8th graders (up from 15%), and 17% of 12th graders (up from 12%).

- The achievement gap between children of different racial and ethnic groups remains unacceptably wide. In fact, the last decade saw no progress in reducing the national achievement gap.

    - The achievement gap between white and African-American students was 31 points in 4th grade, 39 points in 8th grade, and 34 points in 12th grade.
    - The gap between white students and Hispanic students was 24 points in 4th grade, 33 points in 8th grade, and 26 points in 12th grade.

The NAEP Math Results and Education Reform:

- The state-by-state results provide more evidence that states with serious testing and accountability systems are making the most progress. Texas and North Carolina posted especially impressive results across all student categories.

- In 4th grade math, North Carolina and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1992 to 2000;
- In 8th grade math, North Carolina, Ohio and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1990 to 2000;
- In 4th grade math, every racial/ethnic group in Texas performed better than their racial/ethnic peers in other states;
- Anglo students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Anglo peers in other states (tied with Connecticut);
- African-American students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their African-American peers in other states;
- Hispanic students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Hispanic peers in other states; and
- Asian students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Asian peers in other states (tied with New York).

- States that implemented systems of standards, assessment and accountability are making progress in closing the achievement gap. In 4th grade math, North Carolina, Texas and Georgia made progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and African-American students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- In 8th grade math, Texas and Maryland made statistically significant progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and Hispanic students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- These scores demonstrate that the President's education reform agenda is the right agenda for America's children, particularly minority and disadvantaged students who have too often been left behind. The President is pleased that the House and Senate education bills broadly reflect his education reform goals, and he will continue to work with Congress to pass a final bill that reflects these proven principles.

President Bush Presses for Action on Education Reform

Today's Presidential Action

- In a speech to the National Urban League, President Bush called on Congress to move forward and finish its work on education reform. Nearly two-thirds of African-American fourth graders (63 percent) cannot read at a basic level, and the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) reading scores released in April found a troubling and growing performance gap between minority and disadvantaged children and their peers.

- The President urged members of the House-Senate conference committee to focus their efforts on reaching agreements on: (1) measuring the progress that schools are making in improving student performance across racial and socio-economic groups; (2) ensuring that states have testing systems in place that can really measure progress from year to year and district to district; and (3) providing an independent way to prove that state assessment and accountability systems are working.

- Completing work on the President's education reforms is critical to ensuring that no child in American is left behind. As Governor of Texas, President Bush led the effort to implement strong school accountability measures. The results, especially for minority students, have been remarkable. Only 56 percent of African-American fourth graders could pass the Texas state reading test when it was first introduced. Today, 83 percent of African-American fourth graders pass the test. And, according to the NAEP, African-American eighth graders in Texas have the highest writing scores in the nation.

Background on the President's Education Reform Plan

- Education reform legislation based on the President's principles passed the House of Representatives on May 24 with a 384-45 vote, and passed the Senate June 14 on a 91-8 vote. A joint House-Senate conference committee is currently meeting to resolve differences between the two bills.

- The President is pleased with the bipartisan consensus behind the reforms in both the House and Senate versions of the bill. These bills reflect the core principles of the President's education reform agenda:

    - Accountability: Measuring progress in reading and math for every child in grades 3-8. Holding states accountable to ensure that schools are making adequate academic progress for all students. Giving failing schools needed help to turn around, but establishing serious consequences for persistent failure.
    - Flexibility and Local Control: Ensuring that states and local schools have maximum flexibility and reducing the burdens of federal red tape and paperwork. Streamlining the number of duplicative federal education programs and focusing resources on results in critical areas.
    - Funding Programs That Work: Bridging the gap between educational research and the classroom to implement proven, scientifically-based approaches to provide kids with basic skills, including new initiatives such as Reading First and Early Childhood Reading Instruction.

- Expanding Parental Options: Providing every parent, for the first time, detailed school-by-school Report Cards to measure the performance of their schools. Giving parents of children in persistently failing or unsafe public schools the right to choose to transfer their children to a more effective public school with transportation provided, or the ability to redirect their child's share of federal funds toward tutoring or after-school academic services.

- The House and Senate bills reflect these goals, but work remains to be done to ensure that the final education reform bill lives up to the promise of the President's education reform principles. For example, the President's education reform plan calls for more effectively focusing education federal dollars where they can do the most good – in part by streamlining the overall number of federal education programs and in better targeting funds to low-income students. According to the Department of Education, while the House-passed bill reduced the number of separate federal education programs by 33, the Senate-passed bill adds 19 federal education programs to the total. Consolidating federal education programs and targeting resources on what really works are just some of the important issues remaining for Congress.

Domestic Policy has crafted the attached talking points on the new NAEP test scores which were released at 10:30 this morning. Also attached are more detailed talking points on the President's education initiative and yesterday's Urban League address.

LATEST NATIONAL MATH SCORES HIGHLIGHT IMPORTANCE OF PRESIDENT'S EDUCATON REFORM AGENDA

Today's News:

- Today, we have even more evidence that the President's program for reforming America's education system and leaving no child behind is the right approach. The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) math scores released today show that only a quarter of fourth- and eighth-graders are proficient in math.

- These results also confirmed that the President's education reform plan is the right approach to improve our nation's schools. The NAEP results show that students in Texas and North Carolina – the states on which the President's education reform agenda is most closely based – led the nation in mathematics achievement and improvement.

- The performance of states like Texas and North Carolina show us that a system with standards, testing, and accountability helps all children to succeed. Their strong scores also show the continued importance of measuring progress among kids of all backgrounds and holding schools accountable for helping all kids.

Background on the NAEP Math Results:

- Over the last decade, national math scores among 4th and 8th graders have risen modestly, while 12th graders lost ground over the last five years. Scores are still too low, and racial achievement gaps remain wide.

- The percentage of students scoring at or above the "proficient" level nationally was higher in 2000 than in 1990 but still very low: 26% of 4th graders (up from 13%), 27% of 8th graders (up from 15%), and 17% of 12th graders (up from 12%).

- The achievement gap between children of different racial and ethnic groups remains unacceptably wide. In fact, the last decade saw no progress in reducing the national achievement gap.

    - The achievement gap between white and African-American students was 31 points in 4th grade, 39 points in 8th grade, and 34 points in 12th grade.
    - The gap between white students and Hispanic students was 24 points in 4th grade, 33 points in 8th grade, and 26 points in 12th grade.

The NAEP Math Results and Education Reform:

- The state-by-state results provide more evidence that states with serious testing and accountability systems are making the most progress. Texas and North Carolina posted especially impressive results across all student categories.

- In 4th grade math, North Carolina and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1992 to 2000;
- In 8th grade math, North Carolina, Ohio and Texas made the greatest achievement gains from 1990 to 2000;
- In 4th grade math, every racial/ethnic group in Texas performed better than their racial/ethnic peers in other states;
- Anglo students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Anglo peers in other states (tied with Connecticut);
- African-American students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their African-American peers in other states;
- Hispanic students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Hispanic peers in other states; and
- Asian students from Texas posted the highest average scale scores as compared to their Asian peers in other states (tied with New York).

- States that implemented systems of standards, assessment and accountability are making progress in closing the achievement gap. In 4th grade math, North Carolina, Texas and Georgia made progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and African-American students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- In 8th grade math, Texas and Maryland made statistically significant progress in closing the gap between Anglo- and Hispanic students in the percentage of children at or above the "basic" level.

- These scores demonstrate that the President's education reform agenda is the right agenda for America's children, particularly minority and disadvantaged students who have too often been left behind. The President is pleased that the House and Senate education bills broadly reflect his education reform goals, and he will continue to work with Congress to pass a final bill that reflects these proven principles.

President Bush Presses for Action on Education Reform

Today's Presidential Action

- In a speech to the National Urban League, President Bush called on Congress to move forward and finish its work on education reform. Nearly two-thirds of African-American fourth graders (63 percent) cannot read at a basic level, and the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) reading scores released in April found a troubling and growing performance gap between minority and disadvantaged children and their peers.

- The President urged members of the House-Senate conference committee to focus their efforts on reaching agreements on: (1) measuring the progress that schools are making in improving student performance across racial and socio-economic groups; (2) ensuring that states have testing systems in place that can really measure progress from year to year and district to district; and (3) providing an independent way to prove that state assessment and accountability systems are working.

- Completing work on the President's education reforms is critical to ensuring that no child in American is left behind. As Governor of Texas, President Bush led the effort to implement strong school accountability measures. The results, especially for minority students, have been remarkable. Only 56 percent of African-American fourth graders could pass the Texas state reading test when it was first introduced. Today, 83 percent of African-American fourth graders pass the test. And, according to the NAEP, African-American eighth graders in Texas have the highest writing scores in the nation.

Background on the President's Education Reform Plan

- Education reform legislation based on the President's principles passed the House of Representatives on May 24 with a 384-45 vote, and passed the Senate June 14 on a 91-8 vote. A joint House-Senate conference committee is currently meeting to resolve differences between the two bills.

- The President is pleased with the bipartisan consensus behind the reforms in both the House and Senate versions of the bill. These bills reflect the core principles of the President's education reform agenda:

    - Accountability: Measuring progress in reading and math for every child in grades 3-8. Holding states accountable to ensure that schools are making adequate academic progress for all students. Giving failing schools needed help to turn around, but establishing serious consequences for persistent failure.
    - Flexibility and Local Control: Ensuring that states and local schools have maximum flexibility and reducing the burdens of federal red tape and paperwork. Streamlining the number of duplicative federal education programs and focusing resources on results in critical areas.
    - Funding Programs That Work: Bridging the gap between educational research and the classroom to implement proven, scientifically-based approaches to provide kids with basic skills, including new initiatives such as Reading First and Early Childhood Reading Instruction.

- Expanding Parental Options: Providing every parent, for the first time, detailed school-by-school Report Cards to measure the performance of their schools. Giving parents of children in persistently failing or unsafe public schools the right to choose to transfer their children to a more effective public school with transportation provided, or the ability to redirect their child's share of federal funds toward tutoring or after-school academic services.

- The House and Senate bills reflect these goals, but work remains to be done to ensure that the final education reform bill lives up to the promise of the President's education reform principles. For example, the President's education reform plan calls for more effectively focusing education federal dollars where they can do the most good – in part by streamlining the overall number of federal education programs and in better targeting funds to low-income students. According to the Department of Education, while the House-passed bill reduced the number of separate federal education programs by 33, the Senate-passed bill adds 19 federal education programs to the total. Consolidating federal education programs and targeting resources on what really works are just some of the important issues remaining for Congress.

Presidential Action – August 3

Prepared by the White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like education reform, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and he will protect Medicare, he will protect Social Security, he will protect our armed forces, and he will protect the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

The President has changed the tone in Washington and is leading with a steady and measured hand. He is focused on his compassionate conservative agenda and is looking ahead to the next six months of bipartisan accomplishments.

Breaking Gridlock – The President's 6-Month Scorecard

The President's Priorities:

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Patient Protections	Forged bipartisan solution on August 1; Passed House August 2
☑	Energy	Unveiled comprehensive national strategy; House passed August 1 (240-189)
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief, paying off historic levels of government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35)
☑	New Freedom Initiative	President submitted to Congress February 1; key components implemented
☑	Defense	Signed quality of life increases for housing, pay and training on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review
☑	Debt Reduction	Budget provided the fastest, largest debt reduction in history
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress principles for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Accepted Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform and announced principles for election reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Ordered Attorney General to review federal policies
☑	Foreign Policy	Met personally with more than 60 world leaders. Visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Judicial Nominations	Made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess

The President accomplished all this – and more – despite having a razor-thin majority in the House and a Senate that is now controlled by the opposition party. By comparison, President Clinton in 1993 enjoyed large majorities (82 seats in the House and 14 seats in the Senate) yet still wasn't able to deliver on his key campaign priorities.

By the Numbers:

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

Presidential Action – August 3

Prepared by the White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like education reform, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and he will protect Medicare, he will protect Social Security, he will protect our armed forces, and he will protect the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

The President has changed the tone in Washington and is leading with a steady and measured hand. He is focused on his compassionate conservative agenda and is looking ahead to the next six months of bipartisan accomplishments.

Breaking Gridlock – The President's 6-Month Scorecard

The President's Priorities:

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Patient Protections	Forged bipartisan solution on August 1; Passed House August 2
☑	Energy	Unveiled comprehensive national strategy; House passed August 1 (240-189)
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief, paying off historic levels of government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35)
☑	New Freedom Initiative	President submitted to Congress February 1; key components implemented
☑	Defense	Signed quality of life increases for housing, pay and training on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review
☑	Debt Reduction	Budget provided the fastest, largest debt reduction in history
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress principles for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Accepted Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform and announced principles for election reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Ordered Attorney General to review federal policies
☑	Foreign Policy	Met personally with more than 60 world leaders. Visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Judicial Nominations	Made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess

The President accomplished all this – and more – despite having a razor-thin majority in the House and a Senate that is now controlled by the opposition party. By comparison, President Clinton in 1993 enjoyed large majorities (82 seats in the House and 14 seats in the Senate) yet still wasn't able to deliver on his key campaign priorities.

By the Numbers:

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

Presidential Action – August 3

Prepared by the White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like education reform, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and he will protect Medicare, he will protect Social Security, he will protect our armed forces, and he will protect the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

The President has changed the tone in Washington and is leading with a steady and measured hand. He is focused on his compassionate conservative agenda and is looking ahead to the next six months of bipartisan accomplishments.

Breaking Gridlock – The President's 6-Month Scorecard

The President's Priorities:

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Patient Protections	Forged bipartisan solution on August 1; Passed House August 2
☑	Energy	Unveiled comprehensive national strategy; House passed August 1 (240-189)
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief, paying off historic levels of government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35)
☑	New Freedom Initiative	President submitted to Congress February 1; key components implemented
☑	Defense	Signed quality of life increases for housing, pay and training on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review
☑	Debt Reduction	Budget provided the fastest, largest debt reduction in history
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress principles for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Accepted Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform and announced principles for election reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Ordered Attorney General to review federal policies
☑	Foreign Policy	Met personally with more than 60 world leaders. Visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Judicial Nominations	Made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess

The President accomplished all this – and more – despite having a razor-thin majority in the House and a Senate that is now controlled by the opposition party. By comparison, President Clinton in 1993 enjoyed large majorities (82 seats in the House and 14 seats in the Senate) yet still wasn't able to deliver on his key campaign priorities.

By the Numbers:

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

Presidential Action – August 3

White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months, the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like reforming education, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Is changing the tone in Washington;
- Made education reform our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on key priorities like education reform, patient protections, tax relief, defense, energy, debt reduction and his agenda to help those most in need;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and will protect Medicare, Social Security, our armed forces, and the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

Six Months of Accomplishment

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Patient Protections	House passed August 2; forged bipartisan solution on August 1
☑	Energy	House passed August 1 (240-189); unveiled comprehensive national strategy
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35); clean supplemental signed
☑	Defense	Congress passed President's quality of life increases for housing, pay and training; President signed on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review.
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief paying off more than $100 billion in government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services
☑	New Freedom Initiative	Sent Congress plan to help Americans with disabilities on February 1
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress plan for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Embraced Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Directed Attorney General to review federal policies – report due this fall
☑	Foreign Policy	Forged important working relationships with Russian President Vladimir Putin and Mexican President Vicente Fox, fostered warm relations with Latin America, and used skillful diplomacy to solve EP-3 accident with China. Met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Nominations	Made more nominations to the Senate before the August recess than any previous administration; made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess.

By the Numbers

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

Prepared by the White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

Presidential Action – August 3

White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months, the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like reforming education, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Is changing the tone in Washington;
- Made education reform our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on key priorities like education reform, patient protections, tax relief, defense, energy, debt reduction and his agenda to help those most in need;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and will protect Medicare, Social Security, our armed forces, and the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

Six Months of Accomplishment

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Patient Protections	House passed August 2; forged bipartisan solution on August 1
☑	Energy	House passed August 1 (240-189); unveiled comprehensive national strategy
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35); clean supplemental signed
☑	Defense	Congress passed President's quality of life increases for housing, pay and training; President signed on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review.
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief paying off more than $100 billion in government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services
☑	New Freedom Initiative	Sent Congress plan to help Americans with disabilities on February 1
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress plan for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Embraced Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Directed Attorney General to review federal policies – report due this fall
☑	Foreign Policy	Forged important working relationships with Russian President Vladimir Putin and Mexican President Vicente Fox, fostered warm relations with Latin America, and used skillful diplomacy to solve EP-3 accident with China. Met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Nominations	Made more nominations to the Senate before the August recess than any previous administration; made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess.

By the Numbers

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

Presidential Action – August 3

Prepared by the White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like education reform, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and he will protect Medicare, he will protect Social Security, he will protect our armed forces, and he will protect the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

The President has changed the tone in Washington and is leading with a steady and measured hand. He is focused on his compassionate conservative agenda and is looking ahead to the next six months of bipartisan accomplishments.

Breaking Gridlock – The President's 6-Month Scorecard

The President's Priorities:

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Patient Protections	Forged bipartisan solution on August 1; Passed House August 2
☑	Energy	Unveiled comprehensive national strategy; House passed August 1 (240-189)
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief, paying off historic levels of government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35)
☑	New Freedom Initiative	President submitted to Congress February 1; key components implemented
☑	Defense	Signed quality of life increases for housing, pay and training on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review
☑	Debt Reduction	Budget provided the fastest, largest debt reduction in history
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress principles for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Accepted Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform and announced principles for election reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Ordered Attorney General to review federal policies
☑	Foreign Policy	Met personally with more than 60 world leaders. Visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Judicial Nominations	Made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess

The President accomplished all this – and more – despite having a razor-thin majority in the House and a Senate that is now controlled by the opposition party. By comparison, President Clinton in 1993 enjoyed large majorities (82 seats in the House and 14 seats in the Senate) yet still wasn't able to deliver on his key campaign priorities.

By the Numbers:

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

Presidential Action – August 3

Prepared by the White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like education reform, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and he will protect Medicare, he will protect Social Security, he will protect our armed forces, and he will protect the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

The President has changed the tone in Washington and is leading with a steady and measured hand. He is focused on his compassionate conservative agenda and is looking ahead to the next six months of bipartisan accomplishments.

Breaking Gridlock – The President's 6-Month Scorecard

The President's Priorities:

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Patient Protections	Forged bipartisan solution on August 1; Passed House August 2
☑	Energy	Unveiled comprehensive national strategy; House passed August 1 (240-189)
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief, paying off historic levels of government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35)
☑	New Freedom Initiative	President submitted to Congress February 1; key components implemented
☑	Defense	Signed quality of life increases for housing, pay and training on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review
☑	Debt Reduction	Budget provided the fastest, largest debt reduction in history
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress principles for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Accepted Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform and announced principles for election reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Ordered Attorney General to review federal policies
☑	Foreign Policy	Met personally with more than 60 world leaders. Visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Judicial Nominations	Made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess

The President accomplished all this – and more – despite having a razor-thin majority in the House and a Senate that is now controlled by the opposition party. By comparison, President Clinton in 1993 enjoyed large majorities (82 seats in the House and 14 seats in the Senate) yet still wasn't able to deliver on his key campaign priorities.

By the Numbers:

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

Presidential Action – August 3

Prepared by the White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like education reform, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and he will protect Medicare, he will protect Social Security, he will protect our armed forces, and he will protect the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

The President has changed the tone in Washington and is leading with a steady and measured hand. He is focused on his compassionate conservative agenda and is looking ahead to the next six months of bipartisan accomplishments.

Breaking Gridlock – The President's 6-Month Scorecard

The President's Priorities:

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Patient Protections	Forged bipartisan solution on August 1; Passed House August 2
☑	Energy	Unveiled comprehensive national strategy; House passed August 1 (240-189)
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief, paying off historic levels of government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35)
☑	New Freedom Initiative	President submitted to Congress February 1; key components implemented
☑	Defense	Signed quality of life increases for housing, pay and training on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review
☑	Debt Reduction	Budget provided the fastest, largest debt reduction in history
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress principles for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Accepted Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform and announced principles for election reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Ordered Attorney General to review federal policies
☑	Foreign Policy	Met personally with more than 60 world leaders. Visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Judicial Nominations	Made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess

The President accomplished all this – and more – despite having a razor-thin majority in the House and a Senate that is now controlled by the opposition party. By comparison, President Clinton in 1993 enjoyed large majorities (82 seats in the House and 14 seats in the Senate) yet still wasn't able to deliver on his key campaign priorities.

By the Numbers:

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

Presidential Action – August 3

Prepared by the White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like education reform, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and he will protect Medicare, he will protect Social Security, he will protect our armed forces, and he will protect the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

The President has changed the tone in Washington and is leading with a steady and measured hand. He is focused on his compassionate conservative agenda and is looking ahead to the next six months of bipartisan accomplishments.

Breaking Gridlock – The President's 6-Month Scorecard

The President's Priorities:

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Patient Protections	Forged bipartisan solution on August 1; Passed House August 2
☑	Energy	Unveiled comprehensive national strategy; House passed August 1 (240-189)
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief, paying off historic levels of government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35)
☑	New Freedom Initiative	President submitted to Congress February 1; key components implemented
☑	Defense	Signed quality of life increases for housing, pay and training on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review
☑	Debt Reduction	Budget provided the fastest, largest debt reduction in history
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress principles for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Accepted Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform and announced principles for election reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Ordered Attorney General to review federal policies
☑	Foreign Policy	Met personally with more than 60 world leaders. Visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Judicial Nominations	Made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess

The President accomplished all this – and more – despite having a razor-thin majority in the House and a Senate that is now controlled by the opposition party. By comparison, President Clinton in 1993 enjoyed large majorities (82 seats in the House and 14 seats in the Senate) yet still wasn't able to deliver on his key campaign priorities.

By the Numbers:

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

Presidential Action – August 3

Prepared by the White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like education reform, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and he will protect Medicare, he will protect Social Security, he will protect our armed forces, and he will protect the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

The President has changed the tone in Washington and is leading with a steady and measured hand. He is focused on his compassionate conservative agenda and is looking ahead to the next six months of bipartisan accomplishments.

Breaking Gridlock – The President's 6-Month Scorecard

The President's Priorities:

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Patient Protections	Forged bipartisan solution on August 1; Passed House August 2
☑	Energy	Unveiled comprehensive national strategy; House passed August 1 (240-189)
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief, paying off historic levels of government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35)
☑	New Freedom Initiative	President submitted to Congress February 1; key components implemented
☑	Defense	Signed quality of life increases for housing, pay and training on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review
☑	Debt Reduction	Budget provided the fastest, largest debt reduction in history
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress principles for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Accepted Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform and announced principles for election reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Ordered Attorney General to review federal policies
☑	Foreign Policy	Met personally with more than 60 world leaders. Visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Judicial Nominations	Made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess

The President accomplished all this – and more – despite having a razor-thin majority in the House and a Senate that is now controlled by the opposition party. By comparison, President Clinton in 1993 enjoyed large majorities (82 seats in the House and 14 seats in the Senate) yet still wasn't able to deliver on his key campaign priorities.

By the Numbers:

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

Presidential Action – August 3

Prepared by the White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like education reform, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and he will protect Medicare, he will protect Social Security, he will protect our armed forces, and he will protect the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

The President has changed the tone in Washington and is leading with a steady and measured hand. He is focused on his compassionate conservative agenda and is looking ahead to the next six months of bipartisan accomplishments.

Breaking Gridlock – The President's 6-Month Scorecard

The President's Priorities:

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Patient Protections	Forged bipartisan solution on August 1; Passed House August 2
☑	Energy	Unveiled comprehensive national strategy; House passed August 1 (240-189)
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief, paying off historic levels of government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35)
☑	New Freedom Initiative	President submitted to Congress February 1; key components implemented
☑	Defense	Signed quality of life increases for housing, pay and training on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review
☑	Debt Reduction	Budget provided the fastest, largest debt reduction in history
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress principles for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Accepted Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform and announced principles for election reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Ordered Attorney General to review federal policies
☑	Foreign Policy	Met personally with more than 60 world leaders. Visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Judicial Nominations	Made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess

The President accomplished all this – and more – despite having a razor-thin majority in the House and a Senate that is now controlled by the opposition party. By comparison, President Clinton in 1993 enjoyed large majorities (82 seats in the House and 14 seats in the Senate) yet still wasn't able to deliver on his key campaign priorities.

By the Numbers:

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

Presidential Action – August 3

Prepared by the White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like education reform, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and he will protect Medicare, he will protect Social Security, he will protect our armed forces, and he will protect the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

The President has changed the tone in Washington and is leading with a steady and measured hand. He is focused on his compassionate conservative agenda and is looking ahead to the next six months of bipartisan accomplishments.

Breaking Gridlock – The President's 6-Month Scorecard

The President's Priorities:

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Patient Protections	Forged bipartisan solution on August 1; Passed House August 2
☑	Energy	Unveiled comprehensive national strategy; House passed August 1 (240-189)
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief, paying off historic levels of government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35)
☑	New Freedom Initiative	President submitted to Congress February 1; key components implemented
☑	Defense	Signed quality of life increases for housing, pay and training on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review
☑	Debt Reduction	Budget provided the fastest, largest debt reduction in history
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress principles for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Accepted Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform and announced principles for election reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Ordered Attorney General to review federal policies
☑	Foreign Policy	Met personally with more than 60 world leaders. Visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Judicial Nominations	Made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess

By the Numbers:

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

Presidential Action – August 3

White House Office of Communications

Message

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Is changing the tone in Washington;
- Made education reform our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on key priorities like education reform, patient protections, tax relief, defense, energy, debt reduction and his agenda to help those most in need;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and will protect Medicare, Social Security, our armed forces, and the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

Six Months of Accomplishment

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Patient Protections	House passed August 2; forged bipartisan solution on August 1
☑	Energy	House passed August 1 (240-189); unveiled comprehensive national strategy
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35); clean supplemental signed
☑	Defense	Congress passed President's quality of life increases for housing, pay and training; President signed on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review.
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief paying off more than $100 billion in government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services
☑	New Freedom Initiative	Sent Congress plan to help Americans with disabilities on February 1
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress plan for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Embraced Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Directed Attorney General to review federal policies – report due this fall
☑	Foreign Policy	Forged important working relationships with Russian President Vladimir Putin and Mexican President Vicente Fox, fostered warm relations with Latin America, and used skillful diplomacy to solve EP-3 accident with China. Met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Nominations	Made more nominations to the Senate before the August recess than any previous administration; made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess.

By the Numbers

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

Presidential Action – August 3

White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months, the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like reforming education, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Is changing the tone in Washington;
- Made education reform our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on key priorities like education reform, patient protections, tax relief, defense, energy, debt reduction and his agenda to help those most in need;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and will protect Medicare, Social Security, our armed forces, and the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

Six Months of Accomplishment

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Patient Protections	House passed August 2; forged bipartisan solution on August 1
☑	Energy	House passed August 1 (240-189); unveiled comprehensive national strategy
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35); clean supplemental signed
☑	Defense	Congress passed President's quality of life increases for housing, pay and training; President signed on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review.
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief paying off more than $100 billion in government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services
☑	New Freedom Initiative	Sent Congress plan to help Americans with disabilities on February 1
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress plan for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Embraced Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Directed Attorney General to review federal policies – report due this fall
☑	Foreign Policy	Forged important working relationships with Russian President Vladimir Putin and Mexican President Vicente Fox, fostered warm relations with Latin America, and used skillful diplomacy to solve EP-3 accident with China. Met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Nominations	Made more nominations to the Senate before the August recess than any previous administration; made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess.

By the Numbers

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

Presidential Action – August 3

White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months, the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like reforming education, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Is changing the tone in Washington;
- Made education reform our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on key priorities like education reform, patient protections, tax relief, defense, energy, debt reduction and his agenda to help those most in need;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and will protect Medicare, Social Security, our armed forces, and the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

Six Months of Accomplishment

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Patient Protections	House passed August 2; forged bipartisan solution on August 1
☑	Energy	House passed August 1 (240-189); unveiled comprehensive national strategy
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35); clean supplemental signed
☑	Defense	Congress passed President's quality of life increases for housing, pay and training; President signed on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review.
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief paying off more than $100 billion in government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services
☑	New Freedom Initiative	Sent Congress plan to help Americans with disabilities on February 1
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress plan for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Embraced Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Directed Attorney General to review federal policies – report due this fall
☑	Foreign Policy	Forged important working relationships with Russian President Vladimir Putin and Mexican President Vicente Fox, fostered warm relations with Latin America, and used skillful diplomacy to solve EP-3 accident with China. Met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Nominations	Made more nominations to the Senate before the August recess than any previous administration; made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess.

By the Numbers

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

Presidential Action – August 3

White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months, the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like reforming education, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Is changing the tone in Washington;
- Made education reform our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on key priorities like education reform, patient protections, tax relief, defense, energy, debt reduction and his agenda to help those most in need;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and will protect Medicare, Social Security, our armed forces, and the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

Six Months of Accomplishment

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Patient Protections	House passed August 2; forged bipartisan solution on August 1
☑	Energy	House passed August 1 (240-189); unveiled comprehensive national strategy
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35); clean supplemental signed
☑	Defense	Congress passed President's quality of life increases for housing, pay and training; President signed on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review.
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief paying off more than $100 billion in government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services
☑	New Freedom Initiative	Sent Congress plan to help Americans with disabilities on February 1
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress plan for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Embraced Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Directed Attorney General to review federal policies – report due this fall
☑	Foreign Policy	Forged important working relationships with Russian President Vladimir Putin and Mexican President Vicente Fox, fostered warm relations with Latin America, and used skillful diplomacy to solve EP-3 accident with China. Met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Nominations	Made more nominations to the Senate before the August recess than any previous administration; made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess.

By the Numbers

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

Presidential Action – August 3

White House Office of Communications

Message

In his first six months, the President achieved success on each of his key priorities. The President is now looking ahead to his fall agenda of important priorities like reforming education, protecting Social Security and Medicare, helping the disadvantaged, protecting our men and women in uniform, and controlling irresponsible spending.

The First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Is changing the tone in Washington;
- Made education reform our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers when they need it most;
- Won bipartisan legislative victories on key priorities like education reform, patient protections, tax relief, defense, energy, debt reduction and his agenda to help those most in need;
- Broke six years of gridlock on patient protection legislation;
- Restored honest budgeting to Washington; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

Looking Ahead to a Productive Fall

- Congress needs to finish the President's education reform package as soon as they return. The package holds schools accountable, increases flexibility, expands parental options and funds programs that work.

- The President will hold Congress accountable for living within the generous limits of the responsible budget they passed earlier this year. The President will oppose irresponsible spending, and will protect Medicare, Social Security, our armed forces, and the American taxpayer.

- The Senate should act soon after they return on the President's agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.

- The President will propose creative new policies to tackle some of society's toughest problems to help parents and lift up disadvantaged Americans.

Six Months of Accomplishment

☑	Education	House passed May 23 (384-45); Senate passed June 14 (91-8)
☑	Tax Relief	House passed May 26 (240-154); Senate passed May 26 (58-33); Signed June 7
☑	Community & Faith-Based Agenda	House passed July 19; bipartisan bill introduced in Senate
☑	Patient Protections	House passed August 2; forged bipartisan solution on August 1
☑	Energy	House passed August 1 (240-189); unveiled comprehensive national strategy
☑	Budget	House passed March 28; Senate passed April 6 (65-35); clean supplemental signed
☑	Defense	Congress passed President's quality of life increases for housing, pay and training; President signed on July 24; directed Secretary Rumsfeld to conduct comprehensive defense review.
☑	Prescription Drugs	Unveiled new drug discount card for seniors on July 12; sent Congress Immediate Helping Hand proposal on January 29
☑	Medicare	Unveiled principles for improving Medicare on July 12
☑	Social Security	Appointed bipartisan Commission to Strengthen Social Security on May 2
☑	Trade	Sent Congress international trade agenda on May 10
☑	Economy	Took immediate action to boost our lagging economy by enacting tax relief paying off more than $100 billion in government debt, and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services
☑	New Freedom Initiative	Sent Congress plan to help Americans with disabilities on February 1
☑	Environment	Budget includes historic levels of funding for environmental conservation and protection; ordered Cabinet-level review of climate change and reported initial plans on June 11.
☑	Campaign Finance Reform	Sent Congress plan for reform on March 15
☑	Election Reform	Embraced Ford/Carter National Commission on Federal Election Reform with President Carter on July 31
☑	Racial Profiling	Directed Attorney General to review federal policies – report due this fall
☑	Foreign Policy	Forged important working relationships with Russian President Vladimir Putin and Mexican President Vicente Fox, fostered warm relations with Latin America, and used skillful diplomacy to solve EP-3 accident with China. Met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited Mexico, Canada, Spain, Belgium, Sweden, Poland, Slovenia, Kosovo, Italy and England.
☑	Nominations	Made more nominations to the Senate before the August recess than any previous administration; made 44 judicial nominations before the Senate's August recess.

By the Numbers

The President's approval rating has been consistently in the upper 50s since Inauguration. An ABC News/Washington Post poll taken at the end of the first six months shows:

- The President's approval rating is 59%.
- Americans say the President is taking a stronger leadership role than congressional Democrats by 51-38.
- 68% say the President has strong personal character.
- 67% say the President is a strong commander-in-chief.
- 67% say the President has a vision for the future.
- On the issue of education, 63% approve of the President's performance.

Prepared by the White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777

The President's First Six Months

The President's leadership is replacing a culture of gridlock and cynicism with a constructive spirit of bipartisan respect and results. In his first six months, the President:

- Changed the tone in Washington;
- Made education our nation's top priority;
- Took immediate action to jump-start our economy by signing tax relief that sends money to consumers right now when they need it most;
- Won key legislative victories on several of his priorities; and
- Implemented a visionary foreign policy.

The President wants the next six months to be even better. The President will soon head home to the heartland to listen to the American people and to talk about the values that unite and sustain America. When the President and Congress return in September, the President wants to achieve bipartisan accomplishments on important priorities like education, helping the disadvantaged, and protecting Social Security and Medicare.

6-Month Review -- Replacing the Culture of Gridlock with Bipartisan Respect & Results

- ☑ Made education America's number one priority.
- ☑ Signed into law the largest tax cut in 20 years, sending refund checks to Americans to help give our economy a boost.
- ☑ Won bipartisan legislative victories on several key priorities, including education, patient protections, debt reduction, tax relief, defense, energy, and his agenda to rally America's armies of compassion to help those most in need.
- ☑ Restored responsible budgeting to Washington.
- ☑ Took immediate action to jumpstart our lagging economy by enacting immediate tax relief, paying down debt and pursuing policies to open world markets to American goods and services.
- ☑ Tackled tough issues like energy, racial profiling, and improving Social Security and Medicare.
- ☑ Helped seniors get needed relief from costly prescription drug bills by unveiling a new prescription drug discount card.
- ☑ Enacted immediate help for our men and women in uniform by sending them money to boost their pay, improve their housing and improve their training.
- ☑ Implemented a visionary foreign policy, gained the return of our crew after the accident with China, met personally with more than 60 world leaders, and visited 10 foreign countries to help strengthen our alliances and spread freedom throughout the world.

White House Office of Communications (202) 456-2777
