[4] The district court also correctly determined that the overpass is not a designated public forum. The government does not create a public forum by inaction or by permitting limited discourse, but only by intentionally opening a nontraditional forum for public discourse. Cornelius, 473 U.S. at 802. To determine whether the government intended to open the forum for public discourse, the Court has looked to the policy and practice of the government, the nature of the property and its compatibility with expressive activity, and whether the forum was designed and dedicated to expressive activities . . . . Children of the Rosary, 154 F.3d at 976. As the district court recognized, overpass fences are not compatible with expressive activity because messages displayed invariably distract drivers, thereby posing safety risks. The policy and practice of CalTrans has been to prohibit all expressive banners except directional signs and American flags. Because CalTrans has not intentionally made highway overpasses available for public discourse, they are not designated public fora.

REV_00111856

[5] The highway overpasses are thus nonpublic fora. Restrictions on free expression in a nonpublic forum are constitutional only if the distinctions drawn are (1) reasonable in light of the purpose served by the forum and (2) viewpoint neutral. Cornelius, 473 U.S. at 806.

A. Reasonableness

[6] The 'reasonableness' analysis focuses on whether the limitation is consistent with preserving the property for the purpose to which it is dedicated. DiLoreto, 196 F.3d at 967. It is undisputed that the purpose of the highway is for transportation and CalTrans is charged with monitoring its maintenance and safety. The purpose of the highway overpass and its fence is for safe crossing over the highway, either by pedestrians or other vehicular traffic. CalTrans offers two reasons why its policy of allowing flags, but no other banners on the overpasses is reasonable: Its policy, it says, is designed to promote safety and conform to state law.

According to CalTrans, the posting of signs and banners poses a variety of significant safety risks, including the potential for falling signs and distracted motorists. CalTrans believes that flags, while still distracting, are less distracting than banners, and therefore considers it reasonable not to remove them.

[7] CalTrans's safety justifications for its policy of prohibiting or requiring permits for expressive banners, however, apply with equal force to flags. Allowing citizens to hang flags presents the same risk of falling objects that accompanies all other signs and banners. The record is devoid of evidence that flags are less prone to falling or are generally fastened more securely than other banners. Moreover, CalTrans's goal of reducing distractions to motorists is incompatible with the display of flags, which it concedes are also distracting. CalTrans offers no credible evidence for its supposition that flags are less distracting than other types of banners. Flags, particularly in a time of war, could evoke extremely distracting thoughts, including feelings of patriotism, remembrance of past wars and lost loved ones, fear, or impassioned dissent. On the other hand, depending on its content, a message on a homemade banner could evoke no reaction at all. CalTrans has not even studied the question of whether all flags are less distracting than any sign (even a blank one). While the inquiry into reasonableness is a deferential one, Int'l Soc'y for Krishna Consciousness, Inc. v. Lee, 505 U.S. 672, 683 (1992), CalTrans's proffered justification that the display of flags, which poses the dual safety risks of falling objects and motorist distraction, increases highway safety is patently unreasonable.

REV_00111857

CalTrans also contends that its policy is compelled by its obligation to comply with the 1953 California state statute governing the display of flags, which reads:

> The Flag of the United States of America and the Flag of the State of California may be displayed on a sidewalk located in or abutting on a state highway situated within a city, if the type of flag-holder and the method of its installation and maintenance are not in violation of the department's rules.

Cal. Sts. & High. Code 670.5. At oral argument, CalTrans abandoned its reliance on this statute, and for good reason. It simply does not apply to the facts of this case.

To determine whether a statute applies to a set of facts, we must begin with the text of the statute itself. Bay Area Addiction Research & Treatment, Inc. v. City of Antioch, 179 F.3d 725, 730 (9th Cir. 1999). The plain language of the statute, may be displayed, makes it discretionary, a fact that wholly undermines CalTrans's argument that the statute requires it to do anything with respect to the display of flags. In addition, the statute refers to a flag-holder placed on a sidewalk. The flags on Highway 17, however, were not contained in flag holders, but fastened to fences with zip-ties. Nor were they displayed on sidewalks, but hung from overpasses. Thus, it is evident that this statute has nothing to do with the CalTrans policy. Because CalTrans's policy of allowing citizens to hang flags but not banners from highway overpasses is not required by state law, and the safety concerns apply equally to both flags and expressive banners, the policy is not reasonable.

REV_00111858

B. Viewpoint Neutrality

[8] We next determine whether CalTrans's policy amounts to impermissible viewpoint discrimination. Cornelius, 473 U.S. at 806. Viewpoint discrimination is a form of content discrimination in which 'the government targets not subject matter, but particular views taken by speakers on a subject.' Children of the Rosary, 154 F.3d at 980 (quoting Rosenberger v. Rector & Visitors of Univ. of Va., 515 U.S. 819, 829 (1995)). CalTrans claims its policy does not favor or target any particular view because the flag does not represent a viewpoint. In the alternative, CalTrans argues that if the flag does represent a viewpoint, the government is entitled to espouse it.

[9] We first reject CalTrans's argument that the flag encompasses so many different views that it represents no viewpoint at all. The very purpose of a national flag is to serve as a symbol of our country; it is . . . the one visible manifestation of two hundred years of nationhood. Texas v. Johnson, 491 U.S. 397, 405 (1989). The reason the events of September 11th evoked such a spontaneous proliferation of flags is precisely because of its message. Americans sought solace in the symbol of a nation joined in the effort to combat terror in the face of tragedy. Indeed, it is the potency of the flag's message that makes CalTrans reluctant to remove it from California's highways. In light of recent world events, that reluctance is laudable; however, the policy derived from it is not.

REV_00111859

[10] After the events of September 11th, what the flag's powerful message does not encompass, for many, is exactly that which Courtney and Brown voice: dissent. When nations . . . knit the loyalty of their followings to a flag, id., those who seek not to follow but to chart a different course are unable to express their message through the flag. In a nation founded on the tolerance of dissent, [t]he way to preserve the flag's special role is not to punish those who feel differently about these matters. It is to persuade them that they are wrong. Id. at 419. Honoring the principles for which the flag stands extends beyond waving it in tribute. Those principles can survive only by allowing the voice of dissent to be heard.

Alternatively, CalTrans argues that if we find that the flag represents a viewpoint, its policy survives scrutiny because, as an arm of state government, it is entitled to endorse that view. CalTrans's reliance upon Rust v. Sullivan, 500 U.S. 173 (1991), to support this proposition is misplaced. In Rust, the Supreme Court held that Congress may prohibit physicians providing medical care in government-funded health care programs from discussing abortion with their patients. Id. at 200. The Court recognized that when the government appropriates public funds to promote a particular policy of its own it is entitled to say what it wishes. Rosenberger, 515 U.S. at 833 (citing Rust, 500 U.S. at 194). In so doing, the Government has not discriminated on the basis of viewpoint; it has merely chosen to fund one activity to the exclusion of the other. Rust, 500 U.S. at 193.

The Rust holding does not encompass the policy at issue. Here, the government neither hung the flag itself nor delegated that authority nor funded the project private citizens spontaneously expressed their message of patriotism by hanging their flags. Thus, the display of flags is not state-sponsored speech, unlike in Rust. Rust's holding has been limited to situations in which the government is itself the speaker, or instances . . . in which the government used private speakers to transmit [its own message]. Legal Servs. Corp. v. Velazquez, 531 U.S. 533, 541 (2001) (internal quotation marks and citations omitted).

REV_00111860

Second, Rust addresses only the government's ability to exclude from a government-funded program speech that is incompatible with the program's objectives. While CalTrans argues that it is entitled to advocate a patriotic message, such an entitlement does not comport with its objective of ensuring safe and efficient transport on California's highways. CalTrans is not executing a government-funded project to promote national unity or support the war effort. Such an undertaking must be implemented via elected policy-makers who are accountable to the public, not by transportation employees who permit, ad hoc, the display of certain banners and not others. See Downs v. L.A. Unified Sch. Dist., 228 F.3d 1003, 1016 (9th Cir. 2000) (In order for the speaker to have the opportunity to speak as the government, the speaker must gain favor with the populace and survive the electoral process.).

We decline to extend the government-funding cases to a situation in which the government has not appropriated any funds toward achieving a policy goal for which it is accountable to the electorate. To do so would deal a crippling blow to the First Amendment by removing an essential check on the government's ability to support one viewpoint to the exclusion of another. See Legal Servs. Corp., 531 U.S. at 541 (quoting Bd. of Regents of Univ. of Wis. Sys. v. Southworth, 529 U.S. 217, 235 (2000)) ([W]hen the government speaks, for instance to promote its own policies . . . it is, in the end, accountable to the electorate and the political process for its advocacy.).

IV. Irreparable Injury

[11] To establish irreparable injury in the First Amendment context, Courtney and Brown need only demonstrat[e] the existence of a colorable First Amendment claim. Sammartano v. First Judicial Court, 303 F.3d 959, 973 (9th Cir. 2002). Courtney and Brown have not only stated a colorable First Amendment claim, but one that is likely to prevail; they have thus established the potential for irreparable injury. See Associated Gen. Contractors, 950 F.2d at 1410.

REV_00111861

[12] CalTrans contends that because alternate vehicles of expression are available to Courtney and Brown, they fail to demonstrate a colorable First Amendment claim sufficient to support the district court's finding of irreparable injury. CalTrans first argues that Courtney and Brown had the option of applying for a permit in order to express their message. This assertion is disingenuous at best. Although CalTrans authorizes permits for the display of signs providing directional assistance to motorists attending special events, it is plain that Courtney and Brown's expressive banners are not directional or related to a special event. Even if the signs were to qualify for a permit, Courtney and Brown nevertheless have demonstrated a discriminatory burden on speech, for there is no equivalent requirement for a person desiring to hang an American flag on an overpass. In a nonpublic forum, the government must not make distinctions based on the speaker's viewpoint. Children of the Rosary, 154 F.3d at 978. A viewpoint-based permit restriction, and the delay it would necessarily entail, is particularly destructive in the realm of political debate. Timing is of the essence in politics . . . . When an event occurs, it is often necessary to have one's voice heard promptly, if it is to be considered at all. NAACP v. City of Richmond, 743 F.2d 1346, 1356 (9th Cir. 1984).

CalTrans also points to the availability of billboard advertising space as a mechanism for Courtney and Brown to voice their message and thus avoid injury. This argument fails for the same reason: Restrictions on the expression of ideas in a nonpublic forum must be viewpoint neutral. Imposing a financial burden on one viewpoint while permitting the expression of another free of charge runs afoul of this requirement. A city cannot enable one side of a debate to fight freestyle, while requiring the other to follow Marquis of Queensberry rules. R.A.V. v. City of St. Paul, 505 U.S. 377, 392 (1992). Moreover, the delay involved in obtaining advertising space deals the same blow as does the permit requirement. The loss of First Amendment freedoms, for even minimal periods of time, unquestionably constitutes irreparable injury. Elrod v. Burns, 427 U.S. 347, 373 (1976).

REV_00111862

[13] Courtney and Brown have stated a colorable First Amendment claim and, thus, the risk of irreparable injury. Sammartano, 303 F.3d at 973. We are not persuaded that the injury is alleviated by the spurious claim of alternate avenues for communication of their dissenting views.

V. Conclusion

In the wake of terror, the message expressed by the flags flying on California's highways has never held more meaning. America, shielded by her very freedom, can stand strong against regimes that dictate their citizenry's expression only by embracing her own sustaining liberty.

AFFIRMED and REMANDED for further proceedings.

BEEZER, Circuit Judge, concurring:

I concur in Parts I-IV of the opinion of the court, except for the first paragraph of Part I, the first sentence of the second paragraph of Part I, the sixth, seventh and eighth sentences of the third paragraph of Part IIIA and the last four sentences of the second paragraph of Part IIIB. I concur in the judgment of the court affirming and remanding for further proceedings.

REV_00111863

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/13/2003 2:16:44 PM
Subject:

The Ninth Circuit strikes again, according to How Appealing:

Today a three-judge panel of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit affirmed a federal trial court's preliminary injunction that prohibits the California Department of Transportation from following its policy of exempting American flags from permit requirements pertaining to highway overpasses but requiring permits for, or prohibiting altogether, the display of all other expressive signs and banners on such overpasses. The majority opinion, written by Circuit Judge Kim McLane Wardlaw, concludes: In the wake of terror, the message expressed by the flags flying on California's highways has never held more meaning. America, shielded by her very freedom, can stand strong against regimes that dictate their citizenry's expression only by embracing her own sustaining liberty. You can access the complete ruling at this link.

From: HFord@doc.gov [UNKNOWN]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: LRaad@doc.gov [UNKNOWN] <LRaad@doc.gov>;aWarren1@doc.gov [UNKNOWN] <aWarren1@doc.gov>
Sent: 3/13/2003 11:11:55 AM
Subject: : Clearance of political event for Secretary Don Evans

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:HFord@doc.gov (HFord@doc.gov [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:13-MAR-2003 16:11:55.00
SUBJECT:: Clearance of political event for Secretary Don Evans
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:LRaad@doc.gov (LRaad@doc.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:aWarren1@doc.gov (aWarren1@doc.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Mr. Kavanaugh:

I'm an ethics attorney at Commerce and understand that current White House policy requires your clearance for the participation of administration officials in political events. Accordingly, I'm submitting an invitation to an April 15 fundraiser that Secretary Evans received from the Kanawha County (West Virginia) Republican Executive Committee. The text of the invitation appears below. The language does not, in our opinion, present a problem under Hatch Act rules. The event will occur on a trip with both political and official components; the "hard-time" breakdown will be used to allocate costs between political and official sources. We are prepared to clear Secretary Evans' participation in the event provided you have no problem with it.

Please let me know if you need further information about this event. I can be reached by phone at(202)482-4044 or e-mail at hford@doc.gov.

Thank you for your assistance.

Harrison S. Ford
Office of the Assistant General Counsel for Administration
U.S. Department of Commerce

The Kanawha County Republican Executive Committee
Cordially invites you to spend an evening with

The Honorable Don Evans
at the

2003 Lincoln Day Dinner
Tuesday, April 15, 2003
Embassy Suites Hotel, Charleston
Dinner 6:30 p.m. $50.00

Reservations requested by April 12, 2003
Please make checks payable to KCREC and
Send to P. O. Box 8132, South Charleston, WV 25303

Yes I will be attending, please send me _____ ticket(s) @ $50. per ticket, enclosed $_____

Paid for by Kanawha County Republican Executive Committee, Danny Blair, Treasurer

Please disregard if you are an employee of the State of West Virginia

From: Bartolomucci, H. Christopher
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>;<Walker, Helgard C.>
Sent: 3/13/2003 4:10:51 PM
Subject: Bybee confirmed 75-18

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Benjamin A. Powell>;Kyle Sampson/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>;Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jennifer G. Newstead>;David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Noel J. Francisco>;H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <H. Christopher Bartolomucci>;Helgard C. Walker/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Helgard C. Walker>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 3/13/2003 1:17:11 PM
Subject: : NY Times story on today's events

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:13-MAR-2003 18:17:11.00
SUBJECT:: NY Times story on today's events
TO:Benjamin A. Powell ( CN=Benjamin A. Powell/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Kyle Sampson ( CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jennifer G. Newstead ( CN=Jennifer G. Newstead/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Noel J. Francisco ( CN=Noel J. Francisco/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:H. Christopher Bartolomucci ( CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Helgard C. Walker ( CN=Helgard C. Walker/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales ( CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

Partisan Struggle in Senate Over Bush Judicial Nominees
By NEIL A. LEWIS

ASHINGTON, March 13 * Priscilla R. Owen, the Texas Supreme Court Justice who was rejected by the Judiciary Committee last year when it was controlled by Democrats, got a rare second chance today as she appeared before the committee, which is now in Republican hands.

Justice Owen, who was turned down on a strict party-line vote last time, can almost certainly count on being approved on a strict party-line vote when it occurs in the next two weeks. Her renomination by President Bush and the expected approval comprise one element in the increasingly angry war between Republicans and Democrats over who will sit on the federal bench.

Today's hearing on Justice Owen was one of two events that demonstrated the chasm between both sides on the issue. In the other event, the Senate's Republicans, for the second time in as many weeks, failed to get enough votes to end a filibuster that has blocked a vote on President Bush's nomination of Miguel Estrada to a federal appeals court seat. Like last week, Republicans were able to get only 55 votes, five fewer than needed for cloture, the procedure needed to end the Democratic filibuster.

The Republicans have 51 Senate votes, enough to confirm Mr. Estrada, a 41-year-old Washington lawyer, to the seat on the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit. But the Democrats have used the filibuster to foil a straight up-or-down vote, by engaging in lengthy debate whenever Mr. Estrada's name is put forward.

As they did last week, four Democrats * Senators John B. Breaux of Louisiana, Zell Miller of Georgia, Ben Nelson of Nebraska and Bill Nelson of Florida * joined the Republicans for a total of 55 senators. The Republicans last week brought Hispanic recording artists to serenade the Capitol building to "demonstrate how the Estrada nomination resonates in the Hispanic community," held a special session Tuesday devoted solely to the Senate's role in confirming nominees, and have presented numerous letters deploring the situation from President Bush and his counsel Alberto R. Gonzales.

But today's vote showed that Republicans have made no progress in persuading any other Democrats to break ranks.

Democrats have asserted that Mr. Estrada is a stealth candidate, a staunch conservative who has not disclosed his views in speeches or writings and has thus been nominated as part of Mr. Bush's plan to pack the courts with right-wing idealogues. They have demanded memorandums he wrote as a Justice Department lawyer, memos that they say show the need to assess his philosophy. But Mr. Gonzales has resolutely refused, saying that doing so would discourage administration lawyers from providing candid legal advice if they knew their memos could be used someday in a confirmation hearing.

Six months ago, when Democrats still controlled the Senate, the Judiciary Committee turned back Justice Owen's nomination, with all 10 Democrats voting against it and all nine Republicans for it.

Now, the lineup on the committee is reversed, with 10 Republicans and nine Democrats. So it is highly likely that Justice Owen's nomination will be endorsed by the committee, only to be stalled by a filibuster in the full Senate.

Interviews with several senators and staff aides on both sides of the aisle show that there is no obvious immediate or easy way to resolve the situation. The only difference in today's vote from one taken last week was that Senator Bob Graham, a Florida Democrat who missed the last vote because he was recuperating from surgery, cast his ballot with his fellow Democrats.

The only way to break a filibuster is a parliamentary procedure requiring at least 60 votes, meaning the Republicans would need to persuade nine Democrats to join them.

"I will stand by Miguel Estrada's side until he is sworn in as a judge," President Bush said a week ago, after Republicans failed to break the filibuster.

Usually, the failure of a motion to invoke cloture means that the underlying issue or nomination is dead. But the Senate majority leader, Senator Bill Frist of Tennessee, and his fellow Republicans have said they will continue to seek cloture votes.

Mr. Frist's Democratic counterpart, Senator Tom Daschle of South Dakota, has expressed confidence that, no matter how many times the Republicans seek to break the filibuster, the Democrats can frustrate them.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Walker, Helgard C.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent: 3/13/2003 6:09:43 PM
Subject: good Grand Forks ND editorial . . . Dorgan running in '04

EDITORIAL: Call end to filibuster

OUR VIEW: Don't set a new constitutional standard of demanding a supermajority vote.

North Dakota's congressional delegation has to walk a political tightrope.

Sens. Kent Conrad and Byron Dorgan and Rep. Earl Pomeroy are Democrats, while North Dakota itself trends heavily Republican. The GOP's supermajorities in both houses of the state Legislature, plus the fact that voters chose Republicans for president in 1992, 1996 and 2000, illustrate this.

But the delegation not only has walked that tightrope, it has done handstands and even an occasional flip. All three members are masters of wrangling federal dollars for North Dakota projects. Furthermore, they've chosen their party-line issues with care, voting with the Democrats on the budget but showing more independence on some social and environmental issues.

The Miguel Estrada filibuster in the Senate, however, may change that perception.

Because the filibuster is as nakedly partisan as an issue gets.

Estrada is President Bush's candidate for the District of Columbia Circuit Court of Appeals. He's a Harvard Law School graduate who clerked for a Supreme Court justice, worked in the U.S. Solicitor General's office, argued cases in front of the Supreme Court, earned the top ranking of "well qualified" from the American Bar Association - and didn't speak English when he immigrated to the United States from Honduras, to boot.

Fifty-five senators (including four Democrats) support his nomination. But the other 45 Senators won't let it come to the floor for a vote. They've invoked a filibuster. They say they're doing it because Estrada hasn't answered enough questions, but that's patently false. Senators know as much or more about Estrada as they have about most nominees. Furthermore, when given the chance to ask Estrada more questions in writing, not one Democratic senator took the administration up on its offer.

No, the transparent reason for the filibuster is that Estrada's a conservative Hispanic lawyer who has a shot at being named to the U.S. Supreme Court.

And for the left wing of the Democratic party, that's do-or-die unacceptable.

Conrad and Dorgan should distance themselves from this scorched-earth tactic. The Constitution gives the president the power to appoint "with the Advice and Consent of the Senate ... Judges of the supreme Court and all other Officers of the United States." It does so in the same paragraph in which it lists a special power demanding a 2/3 majority Senate vote - namely, the power to ratify treaties.

The Founding Fathers could have held judicial confirmations to that higher standard. But they didn't. Clearly, they intended judges to be confirmed by a simple Senate majority. Just as clearly, 200 years of Senate practice call for the same thing.

The GOP won its Senate majority fair and square. The filibustering Democrats smack of being spoilers when they obstruct majority rule, especially because their objection in this case is not based on truth, justice or the American way, but on politics.

Fifty-five duly elected United States senators are willing to give Estrada the nod. That's enough.

Let his nomination come to the floor, and call the vote.

From: CN=Carolyn Nelson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>;Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Patrick J. Bumatay>;Charlotte L. Montiel/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Charlotte L. Montiel>
Sent: 3/14/2003 3:59:23 AM
Subject: : FW: Next Meeting with the President

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Carolyn Nelson ( CN=Carolyn Nelson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-MAR-2003 08:59:23.00
SUBJECT:: FW: Next Meeting with the President
TO:Kyle Sampson ( CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Patrick J. Bumatay ( CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Charlotte L. Montiel ( CN=Charlotte L. Montiel/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

reminder... times haven't changed (believe it or not):
-----Original Message-----
From: Nelson, Carolyn
Sent: Monday, March 10, 2003 8:39 AM
To: Bartolomucci, H. Christopher; Ullyot, Theodore W.; Leitch, David G.; Gonzales, Alberto R.; Kavanaugh, Brett M.; Newstead, Jennifer G.; Powell, Benjamin A.; Sampson, Kyle; Walker, Helgard C.
Cc: Bumatay, Patrick J.; Montiel, Charlotte L.
Subject: Next Meeting with the President

;
Meeting
with the President:;;Friday, March 14, 2:10-2:20pm, Oval Office
;
Prep:;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;;1:50-2:05pm, Judge's Office
;
;
```

From: Silverberg, Kristen
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Kirk, Matthew>
Sent: 3/14/2003 8:15:03 AM
Subject:

How did the frozen assets provision get added to terror insurance last year? I don't remember. Was it in the Chairman's mark in the Senate? Did the Oxley bill have it?

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Walker, Helgard C.>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Sampson, Kyle>
Sent: 3/14/2003 8:51:57 AM
Subject: fyi- Miguel Estrada and USHCC

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 03/14/2003 08:56 AM ----------

ABEL

GUERRA

03/14/2003 08:55:45 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc: Israel Hernandez/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP, Lezlee J. Westine/WHO/EOP@EOP, Ken Mehlman/WHO /EOP@EOP, Matthew E. Smith/WHO/EOP@EOP

Subject: fyi- Miguel Estrada and USHCC

BK,

At last night's US Hispanic Chamber of Commerce Legislative Dinner, attended by 600-700 guests, Miguel received a standing ovation from the audience when recognized by Secretary Chao during her keynote address. It was a much bigger ovation than Rep. Menendez received after his speech.

Abel

From: Guerra, Abel
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
CC: <Hernandez, Israel>;<Westine, Lezlee J.>;<Mehlman, Ken>;<Smith, Matthew E.>
Sent: 3/14/2003 8:52:32 AM
Subject: fyi- Miguel Estrada and USHCC

BK,

At last night's US Hispanic Chamber of Commerce Legislative Dinner, attended by 600-700 guests, Miguel received a standing ovation from the audience when recognized by Secretary Chao during her keynote address. It was a much bigger ovation than Rep. Menendez received after his speech.

Abel

From: Nelson, Carolyn
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
CC: <Montiel, Charlotte L.>;<Bumatay, Patrick J.>
Sent: 3/14/2003 8:59:17 AM
Subject: FW: Next Meeting with the President

reminder... times haven't changed (believe it or not):
-----Original Message-----
From: Nelson, Carolyn
Sent: Monday, March 10, 2003 8:39 AM
To: Bartolomucci, H. Christopher; Ullyot, Theodore W.; Leitch, David G.; Gonzales, Alberto R.; Kavanaugh, Brett M.; Newstead, Jennifer G.; Powell, Benjamin A.; Sampson, Kyle; Walker, Helgard C.
Cc: Bumatay, Patrick J.; Montiel, Charlotte L.
Subject: Next Meeting with the President

Meeting
with the President: Friday, March 14, 2:10-2:20pm, Oval Office

Prep: 1:50-2:05pm, Judge's Office

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 3/14/2003 5:01:45 AM
Subject: : Hispanic group faults Bayh on nomination

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-MAR-2003 10:01:45.00
SUBJECT:: Hispanic group faults Bayh on nomination
TO:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales (CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

related to/result from statement to us at last Friday's meeting.

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 03/14/2003 10:00 AM ----------

ABEL
GUERRA
03/14/2003 09:58:11 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Lezlee J. Westine/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
Subject: Hispanic group faults Bayh on nomination

Hispanic group faults Bayh on nomination
March 14, 2003

By Michael Puente / Post-Tribune staff writer

Sen. Evan Bayh is getting some heat from a local Hispanic group for blocking, along with other Senate Democrats, a vote on the nomination of a Miguel Estrada.

If confirmed, Estrada would become the first Hispanic appointed to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

Edward Peralta, president of Hispanic Voices of Northwest Indiana, sent a letter to Bayh that he and Senate Democrats allow the nomination of Estrada to proceed.

&We cannot understand why the members of the Democratic Party ... have chose to impede (Estrada,s) ascension to this court seat for what appears to be political reasons,8 Peralta said. &This is especially upsetting to us because Hispanic-Americans are under-represented in our judicial system at the higher levels.8

Peralta sent his letter to Bayh on Thursday, the same day Senate Democrats, including Bayh, refused to end the debate on President George W. Bush,s nomination of Estrada.

Peralta is a Republican who is running for Lake Station mayor. Peralta says Hispanic Voices is a non-partisan group with a membership that also includes Democrats.

A 55-42 vote fell short of the required 60 needed to end a filibuster, the second time Senate Democrats have voted against ending the debate.

U.S. Sen. Richard Lugar, R-Indiana, favors ending the debate and voting on the nomination.

The U.S. Court of Appeals for D.C. is considered the second most important in the nation and has served as a stepping stone to the Supreme Court.

Peralta says he hopes the letter will pressure Bayh to change his stance since Bayh now represents a growing number of Hispanics statewide, which totals more than 200,000.

Mark Kornblau, spokesman for Bayh, said Estrada,s ethnic background has nothing to do with the filibuster.

&(Estrada) needs to more fully answer questions posed by the judicial committee,8 Kornblau said.

Kornblau said Bayh has supported 104 of 105 judicial nominees made by Bush, which includes seven Hispanic judges.

Nick Weber, spokesman for Lugar, says Democrats should allow a vote on Estrada.

&Estrada has done everything that every other judge nominee has been asked to do,8 Weber said.

Estrada, a Harvard-educated immigrant from Honduras, arrived as a teen in the United States not knowing any English.

Message Copied
To:_____
Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Matthew E. Smith/WHO/EOP@EOP
Leonard B. Rodriguez/WHO/EOP@EOP
Mercedes M. Viana/WHO/EOP@EOP
Ruben S. Barrales/WHO/EOP@EOP

From: Cato Institute <kbrand@cato.org>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/14/2003 5:09:45 AM
Subject: : Cato Institute Book Forum 3/18/03 - Wild Bill: The Legend and Life of William O. Douglas

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Cato Institute <kbrand@cato.org> (Cato Institute <kbrand@cato.org> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-MAR-2003 10:09:45.00
SUBJECT:: Cato Institute Book Forum 3/18/03 - Wild Bill: The Legend and Life of William O. Douglas
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Wild Bill
The Legend and Life of William O. Douglas (Random House, 2003)

featuring the author
Bruce Allen Murphy

with comments by James L. Swanson
Editor in Chief,
Cato Supreme Court Review

Constitutional scholar Raoul Berger called him ?the oddest duck to ever serve on the United States Supreme Court.? The second youngest and the longest serving justice in American history, William O. Douglas never got the job he really wanted: president of the United States. The most liberal member of the Warren Court, he proclaimed a constitutional right to privacy, protected the environment, opposed the Vietnam War, and became a hero to the left. Reviled by his enemies, he survived three impeachment attempts. Blending fact and fiction, he mythologized himself as celebrated law professor, New Deal chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Supreme Court Justice, mountain man, and humanitarian. Join us for a lively discussion of the legend, life, and legacy of William O. Douglas as Pulitzer Prize nominee Bruce Allen Murphy answers three questions about him: Who did he say he was? Who was he really? And why the difference?

Tuesday, March 18, 2003
12:00 noon
(Luncheon to follow)

Cato Book Forums and luncheons are free of charge.

To register, visit www.cato.org, e-mail Krystal Brand at kbrand@cato.org, fax (202) 371-0841, or call (202) 789-5229 by 12:00 noon, Monday, March 17.

News media inquiries only (no registrations), please call (202) 789-5200.

If you can?t make it to the Cato Institute, watch this Forum live online at www.cato.org.

The Cato Institute is located at 1000 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Washington, D. C.

To unsubscribe, send an email to: unsubscribe-13906@uptilt.com with the address: brett_m._kavanaugh@who.eop.gov in the subject line.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Miers, Harriet>
CC: <Walters, Katherine M.>
Sent: 3/14/2003 9:17:15 AM
Subject: Re: FW: Outback

Harriet: I am informed that this is a weekend celebration for their annual conference and their 15th anniversary. We could make that clear in message.

From: Harriet Miers/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/13/2003 06:49:28 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: FW: Outback

Brett, I was concerned that this was addressed to a corporation and not a "landmark" event like some of those we have done messages for in the past. I assume it is permissible, but am a bit concerned that we then are buying into their accounting problems, their other positions, their labor disputes, etc. While not strictly legal, the usual vetting for a profit corporation is a pretty big task.

-----Original Message-----

From: Rawson, Kimberly D.

Sent: Thursday, March 13, 2003 5:26 PM

To: Miers, Harriet

Cc: Walters, Katherine M.

Subject: Outback

Hi Harriet -

FYI - Brett Kavanaugh gave the Outback letter an "okay" - if this helps in your decision making.

Also, the letter needs to be mailed out tomorrow for a Saturday event - per your approval.

Thank you so much for your time and help!

Kimberly

From: CN=Alan Gilbert/OU=OPD/O=EOP [OPD]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/14/2003 5:34:57 AM
Subject: : Re: Lindsey Graham action on medical liability bill

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Alan Gilbert ( CN=Alan Gilbert/OU=OPD/O=EOP [ OPD ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-MAR-2003 10:34:57.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Lindsey Graham action on medical liability bill
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

no. I'll ask OLA to find it...thanks....
```

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>
Sent: 3/14/2003 11:23:43 AM
Subject: for monday's Karl meeting

re formation of group to rival Congressional (Democrat) Hispanic Caucus

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 03/14/2003 11:28 AM ----------

ABEL

GUERRA

03/14/2003 11:27:26 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: for monday's Karl meeting

see below...i'm also have lunch with Mario D-B on Wednesday the 25th to discuss road map...

---------- Forwarded by Abel Guerra/WHO/EOP on 03/14/2003 11:26 AM ----------

ABEL

GUERRA

03/14/2003 09:53:14 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Lezlee J. Westine/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: for monday's Karl meeting

Lezlee,

Please let Karl know that next Wednesday, the Wall Street Journal will profile or better stated - will announce the formation of the Hispanic Republican Congressional Conference. The Conference is made up of the Five Hispanic Congressional members- L. Diaz-Balart, M. Diaz-Balart, I. Ros-Lehtinen, H. Bonilla and D. Nunez.

Its mission is to rival the Congressional Hispanic Caucus.

Abel

From: Smith, Matthew E.
To: <Nipper, Wendy L.>;<Cooper, Colby J.>;<Terpeluk, Meredith A.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Gross, Taylor S.>;<Vestewig, Lauren J.>;<Ryun, Catharine A.>
Sent: 3/14/2003 12:05:19 PM
Subject: Speaking Request

Date: Friday, March 21, 2003

Time: 10:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.

Location: EEOB Room 450

Audience: Salem Communications Annual Talk Show Conference Attendees

Rules: The guests are talk show hosts, supportive of the Bush Administration. The ground rules have been conveyed that the briefing is off the record and will serve to help them understand Administration policy.

Invited briefers: Jay Lefkowitz Topic: Social Policy Agenda items

Jim Towey Topic: Faith-based initiative

Tucker Eskew Topic: Office of Global Communications

NSC Rep. Topic: Current Events

Homeland Security Rep. Topic: Homeland Security

Judge Gonzales/Brett K. Topic: Judicial nominations

Taylor Gross Topic: Drop-by as WH Radio Director

As always, can strive to work around everyone's busy schedule. This is a great group of assets to advance the President's agenda.

Please call with any questions.

Thanks.

Matt Smith

X6-7702

Background on Annual Talk Show Conference:

Since 1997, Salem Communications has hosted an annual talk show conference for all their local and national hosts and producers. They also include their editorial board and commentators, Salem's senior management, key station mangers and corporate news and public affairs staff.

The Talk Show Conference is designed to provide direction and guidance to the many voices of our talk and news platform, and to provide a forum for discussion on the most relevant issues of the day. Past speakers have included John Ashcroft and Chuck Colson.

Background on Salem Communications:

Salem Communications is a publicly held corporation providing religious & family themes programming distributed through four different platforms - Salem Radio, Salem Radio Network, Salem Web Network, Salem Publishing.

Salem Radio owns and operates 89 radio stations, including 55 stations in the top 25 markets. Salem is the 3rd largest radio operator in top 25 markets. Salem's focus is on Christian teaching and talk, music and general market (conservative) talk which is our fastest growing format. In addition to its radio properties, Salem owns the Salem Radio Network (SRN), which syndicates talk, news and music programming to over 1,600 affiliated radio stations throughout the United States.

On the non-broadcast side, Salem owns OnePlace.com and Crosswalk.com, leading Internet providers of Christian focused content (over 3 million unique visitors per month); and Salem Publishing, a leading producer of contemporary Christian music trade and consumer publications such as Faith Talk magazine.

From: CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/14/2003 8:13:21 AM
Subject: : AG on Tuesday

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Ashley Snee ( CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-MAR-2003 13:13:21.00
SUBJECT:: AG on Tuesday
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Scott is aware of the speech - has been told by his guys in the DOJ;
communications shop.; Thanks!
```

From:	Bartolomucci, H. Christopher
To:	<Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>;<Walker, Helgard C.>
Sent:	3/14/2003 3:37:30 PM
Subject:	Sen. Byrd's remarks yesterday re: Bybee

The PRESIDING OFFICER.

The Senator from West Virginia.

Mr. BYRD.

Madam President, I thank the distinguished Senator for his statement. I, too, will support Professor Bybee. I have no problem with doing that at all.

May I say that Professor Bybee can be proud that Senator LARRY CRAIG has spoken on his behalf. Senator Craig is one of the most articulate Senators not only at this time in this body, but having been in this body for more than 44 years now, I can say that I have seen a lot of articulate speakers but Senator Craig is one among the foremost of those. I would treasure his support of my nomination if I were indeed a nominee for any position.

[proving yet again the danger of relying on legislative history]

From:	Skelly, Layton
To:	gretchen.taylor@ost.dot.gov <Dougherty, Elizabeth S.>;gretchen.taylor@ost.dot.gov <Sharp, Jess>;gretchen.taylor@ost.dot.gov <Spellings, Margaret M.>;gretchen.taylor@ost.dot.gov <Lefkowitz, Jay P.>;michael.jackson@ost.dot.gov <michael.jackson@ost.dot.gov>;read.vandewater@ost.dot.gov <read.vandewater@ost.dot.gov>;read.vandewater@ost.dot.gov <Hennessey, Keith>;read.vandewater@ost.dot.gov <Kroszner, Randall S.>;read.vandewater@ost.dot.gov <Collender, Robert N.>;read.vandewater@ost.dot.gov <Hobbs, David W.>;read.vandewater@ost.dot.gov <O'Hollaren, Sean B.>;read.vandewater@ost.dot.gov <Liang, Elan>;peter.fisher@do.treas.gov <peter.fisher@do.treas.gov>;Mark.Warshawsky@do.treas.gov <Mark.Warshawsky@do.treas.gov>;roger.kodat@do.treas.gov <roger.kodat@do.treas.gov>;roger.kodat@do.treas.gov <Kaplan, Joel>;roger.kodat@do.treas.gov <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;roger.kodat@do.treas.gov <Leitch, David G.>;kirk.vantine@ost.dot.gov <kirk.vantine@ost.dot.gov>;kirk.vantine@ost.dot.gov <Dorn, Nancy>
CC:	<Skelly, Layton>;<Gillmor, Eleanor L.>;<Vestewig, Lauren J.>;barbara.lucas@ost.dot.gov <barbara.lucas@ost.dot.gov>;judy.marshall@ost.dot.gov <judy.marshall@ost.dot.gov>;judy.marshall@ost.dot.gov <Allgood, Lauren K.>;judy.marshall@ost.dot.gov <Branch, Lisa D.>;judy.marshall@ost.dot.gov <Ingols, Adam B.>;anna.hart@do.treas.gov <anna.hart@do.treas.gov>;christine.devlin@do.treas.gov <christine.devlin@do.treas.gov>;gretchen.taylor@ost.dot.gov <gretchen.taylor@ost.dot.gov>;gretchen.taylor@ost.dot.gov <Weaver, Bessie M.>
Sent:	3/14/2003 4:31:36 PM
Subject:	Deputies Airline meeting MON at 3:00

There will be an important Deputies level policy meeting on the Airline Industry on Monday at 3:00 in room 476. Please make every effort to attend. Another email will follow shortly about a follow up meeting set for Tuesday afternoon.

Layton

456-5085

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: john f. wood/omb/eop@eop [OMB] <john f. wood>;paul.harris@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN] <paul.harris@usdoj.gov>;peter.d.keisler@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN] <peter.d.keisler@usdoj.gov>;philip j. perry/omb/eop@eop [OMB] <philip j. perry>;jody.hunt@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN] <jody.hunt@usdoj.gov>;robert.mccallum@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN] <robert.mccallum@usdoj.gov>;shannen.coffin@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN] <shannen.coffin@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 3/14/2003 1:34:16 PM
Subject: : victims comp fund brief

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-MAR-2003 18:34:16.00
SUBJECT:: victims comp fund brief
TO:john f. wood ( CN=john f. wood/OU=omb/O=eop@eop [ OMB ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:paul.harris@usdoj.gov ( paul.harris@usdoj.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:peter.d.keisler@usdoj.gov ( peter.d.keisler@usdoj.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:philip j. perry ( CN=philip j. perry/OU=omb/O=eop@eop [ OMB ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:jody.hunt@usdoj.gov ( jody.hunt@usdoj.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:robert.mccallum@usdoj.gov ( robert.mccallum@usdoj.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:shannen.coffin@usdoj.gov ( shannen.coffin@usdoj.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Thanks for everyone's very hard work on this. Reading this brief makes me remember fondly a Senator's assurance a little after midnight on Sept 20 (after rejecting our proposal for a flat dollar payment to each victim's family) that this system need not be complicated and could be designed to be a fair and efficient substitute for the overly cumbersome litigation process.
```

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 3/14/2003 1:49:55 PM
Subject: : White House Global Messenger - 03/15/03
Attachments: P_1CXOE003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-MAR-2003 18:49:55.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger - 03/15/03
TO:Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications (CN=Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 3-15-03 FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Saturday, March 15, 2003

KEY POINTS - MIDDLE EAST PEACE***

*President Bush is committed to achieving the vision of two states, Israel and Palestine, living side by side in peace and security, as he spelled out in his speech last June.

*All parties - the Israelis, the Palestinians, and the Arab states - have responsibilities to work to achieve this vision.

*Working with members of the Quartet last year - officials from the US, the EU, Russia, and the UN - we developed a Roadmap meant to set forth the steps needed to realize the President's vision.

*President Bush announced Friday that he is prepared to deliver the Roadmap to the parties, Israeli and Palestinian, as soon as the Palestinians create an empowered Prime Minister position and fill it with a credible person.

*This is an auspicious time for peace in the Middle East. A new Israeli government is in place. And the Palestinians may be on the verge of implementing important reforms.

*Aiding Palestinians reform will encourage the development of democratic institutions, modernization, and prosperity in the region.

U.S. SUNDAY SHOW SCHEDULE***
Subject to Change

Note: President Bush travels to The Azores on Sunday morning

NBC: Vice President Cheney
ABC: Secretary Powell
CBS: Vice President Cheney
FOX: Secretary Powell
CNN: Secretary Powell

In the President's Words: The Rights and Aspirations of the Peoples of the Middle East***

President Bush continues to highlight the non-negotiable demands of human dignity - for all people, everywhere. He makes that clear by working for peace and addressing the hopes of Israelis and Palestinians. As he said in his landmark Rose Garden speech last June, "This moment is both an opportunity and a test for all parties in the Middle East: an opportunity to lay the foundations for future peace."

For collection of the President's comments on his vision for the Middle East, go to:

http://www.whitehouse.gov/news/releases/2003/03/20030314-15.html

KEY QUOTES***

"We believe that people who live in freedom are more likely to reject bitterness, blind hatred and terror; and are far more likely to turn their energy toward reconciliation, reform and development.
there can be no peace for either side in the Middle East unless there is freedom for both. Reaching that destination will not be easy, but we can see the way forward. Now the parties must take that way, step by step, and America will be the active partner of every party that seeks true peace."
President Bush, Rose Garden speech, 3-14-03

"Publication of the Roadmap represents the will of the international community to resolve this issue....This will only be achieved through an end to violence and terrorism, with a Palestinian leadership that acts decisively against terror and builds democracy, and through Israel's readiness to do what is necessary for a democratic Palestinian state to be established."
British Prime Minister Blair, to reporters,3-14-03

"We think that the Roadmap...sets out a set of steps that if the parties an take them, leads naturally to a final outcome of a two-state solution...so that both Israelis and Palestinians can finally put aside their differences, put aside the violence....And then you can then have two states living side-by-side where people can live in peace and prosperity."
NSA Rice, to reporters, 3-14-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****

You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere.
- GM 3-15-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_1CXOE003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Saturday, March 15, 2003

U.S. SUNDAY SHOWS

Subject to Change

Note:	President Bush travels to The Azores on Sunday morning
NBC:	Vice President Cheney
ABC:	Secretary Powell
CBS:	Vice President Cheney
FOX:	Secretary Powell
CNN:	Secretary Powell

KEY QUOTES

"We believe that people who live in freedom are more likely to reject bitterness, blind hatred and terror; and are far more likely to turn their energy toward reconciliation, reform and development. There can be no peace for either side in the Middle East unless there is freedom for both. Reaching that destination will not be easy, but we can see the way forward. Now the parties must take that way, step by step, and America will be the active partner of every party that seeks true peace."
President Bush, Rose Garden speech, 3-14-03

"Publication of the Roadmap represents the will of the international community to resolve this issue….This will only be achieved through an end to violence and terrorism, with a Palestinian leadership that acts decisively against terror and builds democracy, and through Israel's readiness to do what is necessary for a democratic Palestinian state to be established."
British Prime Minister Blair, to reporters, 3-14-03

"We think that the Roadmap …sets out a set of steps that if the parties can take them, leads naturally to a final outcome of a two-state solution…so that both Israelis and Palestinians can finally put aside their differences, put aside the violence….And then you can then have two states living side-by-side where people can live in peace and prosperity."
NSA Rice, to reporters, 3-14-03

KEY POINTS
Middle East Peace

- President Bush is committed to achieving the vision of two states, Israel and Palestine, living side by side in peace and security, as he spelled out in his speech last June.
- All parties – the Israelis, the Palestinians, and the Arab states – have responsibilities to work to achieve this vision.
- Working with members of the Quartet last year – officials from the US, the EU, Russia, and the UN – we developed a Roadmap meant to set forth the steps needed to realize the President's vision.
- President Bush announced Friday that he is prepared to deliver the Roadmap to the parties, Israeli and Palestinian, as soon as the Palestinians create an empowered Prime Minister position and fill it with a credible person.
- This is an auspicious time for peace in the Middle East. A new Israeli government is in place. And the Palestinians may be on the verge of implementing important reforms.
- Aiding Palestinians reform will encourage the development of democratic institutions, modernization, and prosperity in the region.

In the President's Words:
The Rights and Aspirations of the Peoples of the Middle East

President Bush continues to highlight the non-negotiable demands of human dignity -- for all people, everywhere. He makes that clear by working for peace and addressing the hopes of Israelis and Palestinians. As he said in his landmark Rose Garden speech last June, "This moment is both an opportunity and a test for all parties in the Middle East: an opportunity to lay the foundations for future peace."

For collection of the President's comments on his vision for the Middle East, go to:
http://www.whitehouse.gov/news/releases/2003/03/20030314-15.html

From: CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/15/2003 6:40:37 AM
Subject: : classified document

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Patrick J. Bumatay ( CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-MAR-2003 11:40:37.00
SUBJECT:: classified document
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

The Judge wants you to look at a classified document.; I have it in the safe for you.
```

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 3/15/2003 6:54:23 AM
Subject: : IN CASE YOU MISSED IT: Good Commentary on North Korea Policy

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> ( Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-MAR-2003 11:54:23.00
SUBJECT:: IN CASE YOU MISSED IT: Good Commentary on North Korea Policy
TO:Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications ( CN=Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

Yes, Bush Has A North Korea Policy. It Might Even Work.
By Jonathan Rauch

National Journal Group Inc.

Friday, March 14, 2003

Is it possible that the Bush administration knows what it is doing (or, as its critics would say, not doing) with its policy (or, as the critics would add, its lack of a policy) on North Korea?

North Korea -- starving, desperate for cash, fearful of being next on President Bush's evil-axis hit list -- has a nuclear weapons program and seeks to leverage that program into security assurances and money from the United States. Having lost its former Chinese and Soviet patrons, North Korea has chosen to be adopted by Uncle Sam. To ensure that it will not be ignored, it has embarked on a series of escalating provocations. It says it will deal only with America, and only in direct, bilateral talks. "If the U.S. truly wants the peaceful settlement of the nuclear issue," North Korea announced recently, "it should drop its absurd assertions and immediately opt for direct talks."

The administration counters that bilateral U.S.-North Korean talks are out of the question. The problem must be solved multilaterally. Meanwhile, the administration's attention and military resources are focused on Iraq.. The administration's critics -- who by now include practically everyone, and his brother -- believe that Washington is haplessly stalling for time, hoping to have more options once Saddam Hussein is dispatched.

Time, they argue, is exactly what the administration does not have. Any day now, the North Koreans could restart their plutonium-reprocessing plant at Yongbyon. They could then manufacture enough weapons-grade plutonium from their stockpile of spent nuclear fuel rods to make six or more bombs within a matter of months.

Once that material was manufactured, hiding it or -- worse -- selling it to the likes of Al Qaeda would be child's play. And North Korea has proved it will sell anything to anybody.

The Clinton administration was prepared to bomb the Yongbyon facility rather than see it start up. But military action could trigger a war costing tens or hundreds of thousands of Korean and American lives. "So," writes Nicholas D.
Kristof in The New York Times, "if the military option is too scary to contemplate, and if allowing North Korea to proliferate is absolutely unacceptable, what's left? Precisely the option that every country in the region is pressing on us -- negotiating with North Korea."

"Bush cannot afford to ignore North Korea any longer; it's poised to cause
a catastrophe," says Newsday. "U.S. needs to open bilateral talks," says the Minneapolis Star Tribune (and "very soon," since Bush "has no other options").
"U.S. must engage North Korea in talks," says the San Jose Mercury News.
Thus say the critics.

Are they right? I asked a senior administration official -- that is as much identification as the ground rules allow -- to explain and defend the policy.

The official began by saying that the administration's goal is the irreversible and verifiable elimination of North Korea's nuclear weapons program. That includes North Korea's Yongbyon facility, its clandestine uranium-enrichment program, any nukes it may already have, and its stash of plutonium-rich fuel rods. "We are not interested in some sort of Agreed Framework Lite or some other temporizing arrangement which allows them to hold on to their nuclear weapons program."

Is force an option? "No president would rule out force as an option. The military option is a very low priority but on the table. The further they
[the North Koreans] go up the escalating chain, the higher the military option has to be on our list of options." The North Koreans probably already have two nukes,
the official said, and weaponizing plutonium takes time; so if the reprocessing plant goes online, the situation becomes steadily more serious, but it is not like going from virginity to pregnancy. There is still time for diplomacy
to work.

OK, so where's the diplomacy? Contrary to much of what is assumed, replied
the official, the administration's refusal to deal bilaterally with Pyongyang does not stem from Bush's dislike of President Kim Jong Il or from a dogmatic refusal to submit to blackmail. "It's really based more on our experience dealing with North Korea. We think that in a bilateral negotiation or dialogue with North Korea, we've learned that the other countries run for the hills. That's what happened in 1994."

(True, says Ivo Daalder, a Brookings Institution foreign-policy expert who worked on President Clinton's National Security Council staff -- and who is no fan of Bush's North Korea policy. Recalling the 1994 effort to cope with North Korea's nuclear threat, he said, "It was awful. Every time we got tough, they" -- other countries in the region -- "walked away, and every time we got weak, they got tough.")

The Bush official said, "We want this to be sort of like an alcoholic intervention, with everyone at the table saying, 'We can either hurt you or we can help you.' " By contrast, bilateralism may be a dangerous trap.

To make this clearer, I'll interpolate a little. (This is me, now, and not the Bush official.) Suppose the United States cut a bilateral deal with Pyongyang. Suppose Pyongyang then broke the deal -- not a big stretch, given that North Korea promptly broke the 1994 nuclear deal, and given that it clearly wants both to extort concessions for its nukes and to build the nukes anyway. Other countries in the region would immediately call for America to avert war by making yet another deal. Washington would have to either submit to never-ending nuclear blackmail or face the nightmarish prospect of taking military action, and quite possibly igniting a nuclear war, without its allies' support. Thus bilateral talks lead all too easily to precisely the catastrophe they are supposed to prevent.

To the extent that North Korea succeeds in bilateralizing its disagreement with the U.S., North Korea effectively succeeds in neutralizing America's allies, or even turning them. That should be obvious to anyone who has watched recent events pertaining to Iraq. At the end of the day, a bilateral confrontation with North Korea may be inevitable. It would be foolish, however, for America to volunteer for one now.

But -- back to the official -- aren't China and other countries in the region running for the hills anyway? Calling for diplomatic pressure is all well and good; but, as the Star Tribune (like many others) says, "That approach has failed."

No, it hasn't, replies the official. "China, South Korea, Japan, Russia, and the E.U. have all told North Korea that reprocessing is a red line," the official said. "I think that has caused the North Koreans some pause, because the Chinese never went in this hard before, and neither have the Japanese." The prospect of diplomatic isolation may be part of the reason the North Koreans have not taken the fateful step of firing up their reprocessing facility. "They're flailing in all directions. The important thing is that, as far as we know at this point, they have not crossed the Rubicon of reprocessing."

Publicly, China has said it prefers bilateral, U.S.-North Korea negotiations. "For China domestically," says the official, "this is incredibly tough. However, we're getting lots of movement from China. We're talking to the Chinese now not about bilateral versus multilateral but about the modalities of making a multilateral approach work."

Meanwhile, on March 7, the South Korean foreign ministry told reporters that North Korea should "accept the idea [of] multilateral dialogue and seek dialogue with the U.S. within such a multilateral framework." So the region is moving, however grudgingly, toward collective engagement. If the U.S. were to offer bilateral talks now, all of that progress could evaporate.

Regional talks, the official said, could be modeled on the so-called Contact Group, a multinational council that confronted Slobodan Milosevic's Serbia in the 1990s. Serbia began by snubbing the group but then, seeing no alternative, came to the table. A similar multilateral council could offer North Korea generous inducements to give up its nukes once and for all, while also credibly threatening North Korea with economic strangulation and diplomatic isolation should it refuse. Pyongyang, rather than Washington, would then be boxed in.

Neither America nor Japan can credibly convene a multilateral council, because U.S.-led talks would seem bilateral and because both Koreas mistrust Japan. That leaves China and South Korea -- preferably China. I did not succeed in pinning down the official as to when and how either country could be induced to stick its neck out. He preferred to emphasize gradual movement in the right direction.

Well, it might work. It might not. The official succeeded in convincing me that bilateral U.S.-North Korean talks are not a shortcut but an ambush. What is not so clear is whether the ambush can ultimately be avoided.

Jonathan Rauch is a senior writer for National Journal magazine, where "Social Studies" appears.

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Sampson, Kyle>
Sent: 3/15/2003 12:34:51 PM
Subject:

One of the blogs linked by How Appealing offers this:

Now this is not just a case of the 'me, too's.' The Senate Judiciary Committee held hearings yesterday on the nomination of former Pacific Legal Foundation lawyer Victor Wolski to the (this should scare every single one of you who knows what PLF is about) to the Court of Federal Claims. Read what Glen Sugameli at EarthJustice has to say here.

Interesting that the DOJ bio of Wolski refers to PLF only as "a California-based non-profit law foundation that represented clients pro bono." Yes, that's one way of describing the group that just put out an op-ed entitled Move Over Saddam: Overzealous Regulators Also Threaten Freedom.
posted by GB 10:28 PM

From: Mamo, Jeanie S.
To: <Snee, Ashley>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Viana, Mercedes M.>
Sent: 3/15/2003 6:00:37 PM
Subject: NY Times (3/15/03) Re: Battle over Judgeship test Congressman's Loyalties

Battle Over Judgeship Tests Congressman's Loyalties

By SHERYL GAY STOLBERG

March 15, 2003

rticles in this series will periodically observe two Congressional newcomers as they take on their new roles.

WASHINGTON, March 13 — During his years as a county supervisor in Tucson, Raúl M. Grijalva was sometimes accused of caring only about his fellow Hispanics. "I had to come to Washington," he said wryly, "to be called anti-Hispanic."

Mr. Grijalva, a freshman Democrat in the House of Representatives, represents a poor, largely Hispanic district whose people sent him to Congress, in part, to carry on his long-running fight to expand immigrants' rights. Now, as a member of the Congressional Hispanic Caucus, Mr. Grijalva is in the awkward position of fighting to block the nomination of a Hispanic man, Miguel Estrada, to the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, widely regarded as second in influence only to the Supreme Court.

As the Senate continues to hold up Mr. Estrada's nomination, Mr. Grijalva is getting a close-up lesson in the touchy politics of race in the Capitol, with some Republicans suggesting that the Democrats' opposition to Mr. Estrada is motivated by racism.

"To be accused of being anti-Hispanic, especially by such powerful white guys, I guess I find ironic," said Mr. Grijalva, one of two freshman lawmakers whose first year in Congress is being chronicled by The New York Times. The other is Candice S. Miller, a self-described "George W. Bush Republican" from Macomb County, Mich., outside Detroit, who recently took to the House floor to support Mr. Estrada.

The debate has landed each lawmaker in the middle of Senate business, an unusual place for freshmen.

When the Senate took its first vote on Mr. Estrada earlier this month, Senator Tom Daschle of South Dakota, the Democratic leader, invited members of the Hispanic Caucus — made up only of Democrats — to observe. Mr. Grijalva had set foot on the Senate floor just once, during the Capitol tour that is part of the freshman orientation. The image of the august Senate doing its work has stuck with him.

"I'm not jaded yet," Mr. Grijalva, 55, said, "so for me, it was pretty impressive. It's a different aura of power than there is in the House. You can sense it."

Mr. Grijalva sat in the rear of the chamber, on a red-cushioned bench behind a wooden balustrade, and watched as 44 of the Senate's 48 Democrats voted to uphold a filibuster that is preventing Mr. Estrada from joining the court. Later, Mr. Daschle asked the caucus to join him for a news conference. Mr. Grijalva, who is still working up his courage to give his first speech on the House floor, stood behind Mr. Daschle on the podium and did not speak.

"There was a little bit of feeling out of place," Mr. Grijalva said. "But I was glad to be part of the fight."

That fight is not really about putting a Hispanic on the bench. It is about the conservative views of Mr. Estrada, 42, a Washington lawyer who has argued frequently before the Supreme Court but published little that would hint at his judicial philosophy.

Republicans have accused Democrats of engaging in a double standard by not offering Mr. Estrada a vote, as they demanded for judicial nominees when President Bill Clinton was in the White House. Democrats have asked the Bush administration to provide them with legal memorandums Mr. Estrada wrote as a Justice Department official. They also accuse the president of trying to load the judiciary with conservatives, a contention that Mr. Grijalva supports.

"Bush is attempting to pack the federal court with his brand of politics, his ideas, his value systems, which goes against the progress that we want for our community," Mr. Grijalva said. "That he happens to be named Estrada does not give him a free ride."

Still, Mr. Estrada's ethnicity has percolated through the debate. With Republican and Democratic leaders each enlisting Hispanic lawmakers in their cause, Hispanics in Congress are being forced to take sides against one another.

Among them is Representative Mario Diaz-Balart, a Republican freshman from Florida, who recently sent letters to Democratic senators calling the filibuster "not only an injustice to the courts, but also to the advancement of well-qualified Hispanics."

Mr. Diaz-Balart said he had been asked by Senate Republicans to help lead the Estrada effort in the House. Recently, he managed an hour of "floor time," all of it devoted to Mr. Estrada. He asked Mrs. Miller, a former Michigan secretary of state who is quickly becoming one of the most influential freshmen in Congress, to speak. The two are among a small group of lawmakers who have been asked by party leaders to help promote the president's tax cut plan.

By now, Mrs. Miller, 48, is no stranger to the House floor; she has already logged time in the presiding officer's chair. But speaking about Senate matters in the House is tricky business; House rules prohibit even the use of the word "Senate." "You can call it `the other body,' " Mrs. Miller said.

In a simple six-paragraph speech lasting no more than one minute, she said Mr. Estrada, a native of Honduras, "is the American dream, and he represents mainstream American law and American values."

In an interview, Mrs. Miller said she was left "shaking my head" at the Hispanic Democrats' opposition.

"It does not speak well for them to be opposed to Estrada when they have an opportunity to get one of their own on the second-highest court in the land," Mrs. Miller said, adding, "It's almost like he's not Hispanic enough, or something."

Mr. Grijalva does not say it quite that way, but he does make clear that he believes that the Bush administration is using Mr. Estrada to dress up its record for the benefit of Hispanic voters. He said he was reminded of his deceased father, who came to the United States from Mexico to work as a ranch hand, and whose picture hangs behind Mr. Grijalva's desk. "My dad always used to say, `If you want window dressing, get new curtains.' "

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Patrick J. Bumatay>
Sent: 3/16/2003 9:24:11 AM
Subject: : Re: classified document

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:16-MAR-2003 14:24:11.00
SUBJECT:: Re: classified document
TO:Patrick J. Bumatay (CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

When?

From: Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/15/2003 11:40:30 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: classified document

The Judge wants you to look at a classified document.; I have it in the safe for you.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Bumatay, Patrick J.>
Sent: 3/16/2003 2:19:41 PM
Subject: Re: classified document

When?

From: Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/15/2003 11:40:30 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: classified document

The Judge wants you to look at a classified document. I have it in the safe for you.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Kaplan, Joel>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/16/2003 11:16:28 PM
Subject: Re: You mock me now

You should send to estes. I have been hammering this theme as well.

.

----- Original Message -----

From:Joel Kaplan/WHO/EOP@Exchange

To:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

Cc:

Date: 03/16/2003 06:32:03 PM

Subject: FW: You mock me now

-----Original Message-----

From: Kaplan, Joel

Sent: Sunday, March 16, 2003 6:09 PM

To: Bennett, Melissa S.; Litkenhaus, Colleen; Kyle, Ross M.; Silverberg, Kristen; Mallea, Jose; Reynolds, Tim

Subject: You mock me now

From today's NY Times, a stunning clue, unremarked upon by the gullible mainstream press that continues to peddle this nonsense about a kidnapping:

"When the police arrived, Elizabeth said her name was Augustine Marshall, that she was 18 and that she came from Miami. 'You think I'm that Elizabeth Smart girl WHO RAN AWAY and I'm not,' she said after the officers recognized her and challenged her story." (emphasis added)

That "ran away"??? Why would she say that? Could it be because it's true?

From: CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/17/2003 3:06:01 AM
Subject: : RE: classified document

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Patrick J. Bumatay (CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-MAR-2003 08:06:01.00
SUBJECT:: RE: classified document
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

No rush on it.

Patrick

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Sunday, March 16, 2003 2:20 PM
To: Bumatay, Patrick J.
Subject: Re: classified document

When?

From: Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/15/2003 11:40:30 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: classified document

The Judge wants you to look at a classified document. I have it in the safe for you.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>;Tim Goeglein/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Tim Goeglein>;Abel Guerra/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Abel Guerra>;Mercedes M. Viana/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Mercedes M. Viana>;Ken Mehlman/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Ken Mehlman>;Matthew E. Smith/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Matthew E. Smith>;Jeanie S. Mamo/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jeanie S. Mamo>;Leonard B. Rodriguez/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Leonard B. Rodriguez>;Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Snee>
Sent: 3/17/2003 3:46:00 AM
Subject: : WSJ op-ed by members of new Congressional Hispanic Conference

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-MAR-2003 08:46:00.00
SUBJECT:: WSJ op-ed by members of new Congressional Hispanic Conference
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs ( CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Tim Goeglein ( CN=Tim Goeglein/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Abel Guerra ( CN=Abel Guerra/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Mercedes M. Viana ( CN=Mercedes M. Viana/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Ken Mehlman ( CN=Ken Mehlman/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Matthew E. Smith ( CN=Matthew E. Smith/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jeanie S. Mamo ( CN=Jeanie S. Mamo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Leonard B. Rodriguez ( CN=Leonard B. Rodriguez/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Ashley Snee ( CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

We the (Hispanic) People . . .
By HENRY BONILLA, LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART, MARIO DIAZ-BALART, DEVIN NUNES, and ILEANA ROS-LEHTINEN

WASHINGTON -- The Democratic filibuster against federal appellate court nominee Miguel Estrada has been nothing less than a partisan assault on the goal of achieving diversity in our nation's highest public institutions. Fewer than 4% of federal judges are Hispanic, yet 44 Senate Democrats, who run on "diversity" platforms have so far employed parliamentary procedures to thwart diversity and obstruct the confirmation of an eminently well-qualified lawyer through the use of double standards -- standards they never applied to other nominees.

These Democrats, who credit themselves with helping advance minorities to high government positions, now prevent the first Hispanic from serving on our nation's second highest court by blocking the bipartisan majority that wants an honest up or down vote. The hypocrisy hurts America's largest minority group and strikes at the core of the American Dream.

One of the most offensive aspects of the opposition to the nomination of Mr. Estrada is the notion put forth by some Hispanic Democrats and leftist activist groups that he is "Hispanic in name only" -- that because he is a mainstream lawyer, he doesn't represent the Hispanic community. Are we truly willing to exclude our accomplished minorities on the grounds that they have not pigeonholed their careers by focusing on one racial community? The suggestion jeopardizes the future of other qualified Hispanics because of unacceptable ideological bars. But apparently Democrats believe that they alone should get to decide what a "Hispanic" should be.

We wish Mr. Estrada's plight were a novelty, but we are concerned that it is just one manifestation of a pervasive and troubling trend whereby the advancement of minorities is only applauded when it reinforces liberal politics. To counter this trend and to allow for the positive advancement of Hispanics in the U.S., the Hispanic Republican members of Congress are announcing with this article the formation of the Congressional Hispanic Conference.

The new Hispanic Conference will promote policy outcomes that serve the best interests of Americans of Hispanic and Portuguese descent and thereby all Americans. In this endeavor we are pledged to place principle above partisanship on issues directly affecting the betterment of the Hispanic and Portuguese communities. A key goal of the Hispanic Conference is to promote principles that are of real importance to Hispanics and Portuguese in the U.S. These include the Free Trade Agreement of the Americas, the emerging common market of this hemisphere's democracies; tax relief to American families by eliminating the death tax and marriage penalty and bringing relief to more than two million Hispanic-owned small businesses; the support of faith-based initiatives; and educational choice for all. In the case of judicial nominees, the Hispanic Conference is committed to ensuring that only the best qualified nominees are appointed to our federal courts.

As we enter another week of extra-constitutional procedural tactics aimed at blocking Mr. Estrada's confirmation, it is clear to us that there is a significant need for the formation of the new Hispanic Conference. We support the nomination of Mr. Estrada, not only because his superb credentials make him an ideal appointee, but also because -- for so many of us who are the sons and daughters of immigrants -- Mr. Estrada's story represents the American promise.

To block his confirmation is not only a dangerous constitutional precedent, but also one whose impact could forever alter that promise -- that there is no limit to the possibility of success in America. We must not put a ceiling on the American dream, and so we join our voices as the new Congressional Hispanic Conference. We can think of no more appropriate first act than to champion Mr. Estrada's confirmation and to defend the reason we all came here.

The authors are members of the U.S. Congress.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Noel J. Francisco>
Sent: 3/17/2003 3:39:55 AM
Subject: : Re: Did Clement give you the Michigan Q's?

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-MAR-2003 08:39:55.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Did Clement give you the Michigan Q's?
TO:Noel J. Francisco (CN=Noel J. Francisco/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

yes, Ganter is bringing to you.

Noel J. Francisco
03/17/2003 07:58:01 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Did Clement give you the Michigan Q's?

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Benjamin A. Powell>;Kyle Sampson/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>;Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jennifer G. Newstead>;David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Noel J. Francisco>;H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <H. Christopher Bartolomucci>;Helgard C. Walker/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Helgard C. Walker>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 3/17/2003 3:45:31 AM
Subject: : WSJ op-ed by members of new Congressional Hispanic Conference

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-MAR-2003 08:45:31.00
SUBJECT:: WSJ op-ed by members of new Congressional Hispanic Conference
TO:Benjamin A. Powell ( CN=Benjamin A. Powell/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Kyle Sampson ( CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jennifer G. Newstead ( CN=Jennifer G. Newstead/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Noel J. Francisco ( CN=Noel J. Francisco/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:H. Christopher Bartolomucci ( CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Helgard C. Walker ( CN=Helgard C. Walker/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales ( CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

We the (Hispanic) People . . .
By HENRY BONILLA, LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART, MARIO DIAZ-BALART, DEVIN NUNES, and ILEANA ROS-LEHTINEN

WASHINGTON -- The Democratic filibuster against federal appellate court nominee Miguel Estrada has been nothing less than a partisan assault on the goal of achieving diversity in our nation's highest public institutions. Fewer than 4% of federal judges are Hispanic, yet 44 Senate Democrats, who run on "diversity" platforms have so far employed parliamentary procedures to thwart diversity and obstruct the confirmation of an eminently well-qualified lawyer through the use of double standards -- standards they never applied to other nominees.

These Democrats, who credit themselves with helping advance minorities to high government positions, now prevent the first Hispanic from serving on our nation's second highest court by blocking the bipartisan majority that wants an honest up or down vote. The hypocrisy hurts America's largest minority group and strikes at the core of the American Dream.

One of the most offensive aspects of the opposition to the nomination of Mr. Estrada is the notion put forth by some Hispanic Democrats and leftist activist groups that he is "Hispanic in name only" -- that because he is a mainstream lawyer, he doesn't represent the Hispanic community. Are we truly willing to exclude our accomplished minorities on the grounds that they have not pigeonholed their careers by focusing on one racial community? The suggestion jeopardizes the future of other qualified Hispanics because of unacceptable ideological bars. But apparently Democrats believe that they alone should get to decide what a "Hispanic" should be.

We wish Mr. Estrada's plight were a novelty, but we are concerned that it is just one manifestation of a pervasive and troubling trend whereby the advancement of minorities is only applauded when it reinforces liberal politics. To counter this trend and to allow for the positive advancement of Hispanics in the U.S., the Hispanic Republican members of Congress are announcing with this article the formation of the Congressional Hispanic Conference.

The new Hispanic Conference will promote policy outcomes that serve the best interests of Americans of Hispanic and Portuguese descent and thereby all Americans. In this endeavor we are pledged to place principle above partisanship on issues directly affecting the betterment of the Hispanic and Portuguese communities. A key goal of the Hispanic Conference is to promote principles that are of real importance to Hispanics and Portuguese in the U.S. These include the Free Trade Agreement of the Americas, the emerging common market of this hemisphere's democracies; tax relief to American families by eliminating the death tax and marriage penalty and bringing relief to more than two million Hispanic-owned small businesses; the support of faith-based initiatives; and educational choice for all. In the case of judicial nominees, the Hispanic Conference is committed to ensuring that only the best qualified nominees are appointed to our federal courts.

As we enter another week of extra-constitutional procedural tactics aimed at blocking Mr. Estrada's confirmation, it is clear to us that there is a significant need for the formation of the new Hispanic Conference. We support the nomination of Mr. Estrada, not only because his superb credentials make him an ideal appointee, but also because -- for so many of us who are the sons and daughters of immigrants -- Mr. Estrada's story represents the American promise.

To block his confirmation is not only a dangerous constitutional precedent, but also one whose impact could forever alter that promise -- that there is no limit to the possibility of success in America. We must not put a ceiling on the American dream, and so we join our voices as the new Congressional Hispanic Conference. We can think of no more appropriate first act than to champion Mr. Estrada's confirmation and to defend the reason we all came here.

The authors are members of the U.S. Congress.

Updated March 17, 2003

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>;Tim Goeglein/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Tim Goeglein>;Abel Guerra/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Abel Guerra>;Mercedes M. Viana/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Mercedes M. Viana>;Matthew E. Smith/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Matthew E. Smith>;Jeanie S. Mamo/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jeanie S. Mamo>;Leonard B. Rodriguez/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Leonard B. Rodriguez>;Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Snee>
Sent: 3/17/2003 4:55:38 AM
Subject: : parody in NR Online

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-MAR-2003 09:55:38.00
SUBJECT:: parody in NR Online
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs (CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Tim Goeglein (CN=Tim Goeglein/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Abel Guerra (CN=Abel Guerra/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Mercedes M. Viana (CN=Mercedes M. Viana/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Matthew E. Smith (CN=Matthew E. Smith/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jeanie S. Mamo (CN=Jeanie S. Mamo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Leonard B. Rodriguez (CN=Leonard B. Rodriguez/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Ashley Snee (CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Strategy Revealed!
A parody.
By Robert Alt

here seems to be a lot of confusion surrounding the judicial confirmations imbroglio. As luck would have it, I happened to stumble across what appears to be a strategy memo, shedding some light on the opposition to these nominees.

To: Teddy & Tom
From: Your friend for the American way
Re: Talking Points
So far, so good with the filibuster. Here's a recap of points to emphasize:
We Don't Know Anything About Miguel Estrada Because He Won't Answer our Questions . . .
Sure, Mr. Estrada answered over 125 questions during his marathon confirmation hearing, but what does that really tell us? O.K., I know that some of the questions asked were intended to bait Mr. Estrada to ignore the judicial-canons prohibitions regarding announcing how you would decide future cases (for example, Senator Leahy's question asking whether considering race or gender in hiring or selection would meet the strict scrutiny standard of Adarand v. Pena, despite the fact that this is an open question before the D.C. Circuit), but it was all in good fun. And never mind the fact that despite multiple invitations, few of you have actually submitted written questions to Mr. Estrada. Senator Blanche Lincoln did [note to TD: make sure she loses her parking spot]. Boy, I hope no one ever asks what these "unanswered questions" are . . . that would be a tough one. If that happens, the key is to repeat phrases like "Estrada hasn't filled out his application."

If Only He Would Turn Over the Justice Department Memos . . .

Yes, we all know that the memos are probably about as revealing as a burka . . . but that's why it's brilliant. You see, the Justice Department knows that they can't turn them over. But I don't need to tell you that: you've seen the letter signed by every living solicitor general saying what a terrible idea this is. Just keep on citing to the Bork hearings as a precedent, and soon you may be able to call those hearings "fair" without snickering.

Estrada Is A Right-Wing Extremist . . .

Forget everything we said about not knowing anything about Estrada. We know that he's an extremist. "How?" you may ask. Well, his old boss at the DOJ, Paul Bender, told us so. Yes, this is the same Paul Bender who gave him outstanding reviews, praising his legal analysis, but we can ignore that. And yes, this is the same Paul Bender who was such a liberal lightening rod that career staffers complained to the press that he had a tendency to "impugn people's work and their motives and their integrity," but no one really remembers that. And yes, this is the same Paul Bender who was chief counsel to a committee that recommended the abolition of pornography laws, and is thought responsible for the Clinton DOJ's more liberal position on child pornography. Let's try not to mention that last one.

Teddy, you seemed concerned about the contradiction here between not knowing anything, and at the same time saying that we know Estrada is an extremist. Just follow TD's lead: After the last vote, he said both things in the course of the same article, and no one even blinked.

We're Not Anti-Hispanic or Anti-Woman

Of course we're not. Who could possibly get that impression? Sure, we call Estrada a "Hispanic Clarence Thomas" and hold press conferences denouncing him as "not really Hispanic," but that doesn't make us anti-Hispanic. We're very pro-Hispanic, so long as we're sure we can count on you to issue what we deem to be Hispanic decisions.

Some people are stating that we've subjected Estrada to a double standard. Whatever you do, don't let people figure out that you peppered Estrada with over 100 questions because the D.C. Circuit is sooo important, but then when you had another D.C. Circuit nominee before you (who happened to be White), you chose to all-but-ignore him and instead to direct virtually all your questions to a Sixth Circuit nominee. If that comes to light, just blame the fact that there were three nominees before the committee. That really forced you to ask questions only of the Sixth Circuit nominee, after all.

Then there are all those accusations that you treat women candidates differently. Sure, Michael McConnell wrote that Roe is illegitimate and he gets confirmed, while Justice Owen applies Supreme Court precedent and gets voted down in committee. But it serves her right. Doesn't she understand how she's supposed to rule? Whatever you do, make sure that people don't realize that she never actually ruled against Roe and has made it clear that she would uphold it.

Oh, and while we're on the subject of how the Senate is treating women nominees, could you make sure that Senator Feinstein stops calling Justice Cook "Mrs. Cook?" She did it three times on the floor the other day. Pretty soon, people might start noticing, and that would be embarrassing.

I really don't know how anyone could honestly accuse the Democrats of being insensitive to minorities. I mean, sure, you opposed the Civil Rights Act, and you are the only party with a former Klansman and three former segregationists in Congress, but that's all old news. Don't people realize that when you are the party of Cynthia McKinney and James Moran, sensitivity comes as easy to you as, well, spelling and foreign policy.

Keep up the good work. Soon we'll be able to fill the bench with people we can count on.

* Robert Alt is a fellow in constitutional studies and Jurisprudence at the Ashbrook Center.

From: CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/17/2003 9:24:12 AM
Subject: : Form Response Letter - Veterans Concerns

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Patrick J. Bumatay ( CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-MAR-2003 14:24:12.00
SUBJECT:: Form Response Letter - Veterans Concerns
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Brett,
;
;;; do you have any comments on the red tag re: Veterans concerns due 5 pm on Friday?
;
thanks
```

From: CN=Abel Guerra/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Matthew E. Smith/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Matthew E. Smith>;Lezlee J. Westine/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Lezlee J. Westine>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: Mercedes M. Viana/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Mercedes M. Viana>;Leonard B. Rodriguez/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Leonard B. Rodriguez>
Sent: 3/17/2003 6:33:35 AM
Subject: : HNBA Stands Behind Endorsement of Miguel Estrada for U.S. Circuit Court for the D.C. Circuit

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Abel Guerra ( CN=Abel Guerra/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-MAR-2003 11:33:35.00
SUBJECT:: HNBA Stands Behind Endorsement of Miguel Estrada for U.S. Circuit Court for the D.C. Circuit
TO:Matthew E. Smith ( CN=Matthew E. Smith/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Lezlee J. Westine ( CN=Lezlee J. Westine/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Mercedes M. Viana ( CN=Mercedes M. Viana/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Leonard B. Rodriguez ( CN=Leonard B. Rodriguez/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

http://story.news.yahoo.com/news?tmpl=story&u=/030314/180/3im10.html
```

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Holbrook, Ashley>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
CC: <Jones, Alison>
Sent: 3/17/2003 10:49:45 AM
Subject: Re: is mtg with pickering still occurring

Can we move to 12:20?

.

----- Original Message -----

From:Ashley Holbrook/WHO/EOP@Exchange

To:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

Cc:Alison Jones/WHO/EOP@Exchange

Date: 03/17/2003 10:00:02 AM

Subject: RE: is mtg with pickering still occurring

Yes.

-----Original Message-----

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.

Sent: Monday, March 17, 2003 9:53 AM

To: Holbrook, Ashley ; Jones, Alison

Subject: is mtg with pickering still occurring

From: Holbrook, Ashley
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
CC: <Jones, Alison>;<McCarthy, Daniel>
Sent: 3/17/2003 11:05:13 AM
Subject: RE: is mtg with pickering still occurring

That will be fine.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, March 17, 2003 10:50 AM
To: Holbrook, Ashley ; Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Cc: Jones, Alison
Subject: Re: is mtg with pickering still occurring

Can we move to 12:20?

.

----- Original Message -----
From:Ashley Holbrook/WHO/EOP@Exchange
To:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:Alison Jones/WHO/EOP@Exchange
Date: 03/17/2003 10:00:02 AM
Subject: RE: is mtg with pickering still occurring

Yes.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, March 17, 2003 9:53 AM
To: Holbrook, Ashley ; Jones, Alison
Subject: is mtg with pickering still occurring

From: CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/17/2003 11:41:31 AM
Subject: : Re: Was there an asbestos meeting around here last week?

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Wendy J. Grubbs (CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-MAR-2003 16:41:31.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Was there an asbestos meeting around here last week?
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

dunno...this was word of mouth not directly to me.

Brett M. Kavanaugh
03/17/2003 04:36:30 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: Was there an asbestos meeting around here last week?

what kind of one?

Wendy J. Grubbs
03/17/2003 04:40:20 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: Was there an asbestos meeting around here last week?

Senate staffer for Nickles heard that there was one...

Brett M. Kavanaugh
03/17/2003 04:29:57 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: kyle sampson/who/eop@eop
bcc:
Subject: Re: Was there an asbestos meeting around here last week?

There was a meeting where some company came in and gave its views (those have occurred before). I also talked to Margaret Pederlin. Why?

Wendy J. Grubbs
03/17/2003 04:32:55 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP, Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Was there an asbestos meeting around here last week?

From: Schwartz, Victor <VSCHWARTZ@shb.com>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/17/2003 9:45:42 AM
Subject: : RE: Op-ed authored by my colleague supporting Justice Owen

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Schwartz, Victor" <VSCHWARTZ@shb.com> ("Schwartz, Victor" <VSCHWARTZ@shb.com> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-MAR-2003 14:45:42.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Op-ed authored by my colleague supporting Justice Owen
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Thanks Brett. Rochelle's op-ed was her inspiration. I simply encouraged her to follow through. I shared you not with her.

Victor E. Schwartz
Shook, Hardy & Bacon L.L.P.
600 14th Street, N.W., Suite 800
Washington, D.C. 20005-2004
Telephone (202) 662-4886
Fax (202) 783-4211
vschwartz@shb.com

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett M. Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett M. Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Monday, March 17, 2003 11:21 AM
To: Schwartz, Victor
Subject: Re: Op-ed authored by my colleague supporting Justice Owen

Thanks, Victor, this was quite strong.

(Embedded image moved "Schwartz, Victor" <VSCHWARTZ@shb.com> to file: 03/17/2003 11:02:10 AM
pic30166.pcx)

Record Type: Record

To: "Karl Rove (E-mail)" <kr@georgewbush.com>

cc: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
Subject: Op-ed authored by my colleague supporting Justice Owen

Karl,
The op-ed by my young, twenty seven year-old colleague (and a superb lawyer), Rochelle Tedesco, about Justice Owen was just published. It is attached for your use and enjoyment. Rochelle is a first generation professional; her brother is a mechanic and her sister takes care of children.

She is an outstanding attorney, with a great feel for grassroots and public thinking on key issues.
Rochelle's op-ed makes a key point on credibility because it comes from her.
Ideologically left-wing women's groups, such as NOW, vehemently oppose Justice
Owen's nomination. If such opposition is mounted against other similar female nominees, it would curtail and muzzle many young female attorneys who aspire to the Bench in the future. These same groups often give male nominees a slight shove, but they dirty-tackle their sisters. Rochelle's message needs to be repeated elsewhere. She can help if you wish. I hope you will find it of value.
Kind regards, Victor

Hyperlink:
<http://www.nationalreview.com/comment/comment-tedesco031203.asp>
http://www.nationalreview.com/comment/comment-tedesco031203.asp

Attachment (full text)

Victor E. Schwartz
Shook, Hardy & Bacon L.L.P.
600 14th Street, N.W.
Suite 800
Washington, D.C. 20005-2004
Telephone 202-662-4886
Fax 202-783-4211
vschwartz@shb.com

"MMS <shb.com>" made the following annotations on 03/17/2003 10:02:12 AM

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE: This e-mail message including attachments, if any, is intended only for the person or entity to which it is addressed and may contain confidential and /or privileged material. Any unauthorized review, use, disclosure or distribution is prohibited. If you are not the intended recipient, please contact the sender by reply e-mail and destroy all copies of the original message. If you are the intended recipient but do not wish to receive communications through this medium, please so advise the sender immediately.

IN THE U.S., please contact:
Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
1200 Main Street
Kansas City, MO 64105-2118
816-474-6550

IN EUROPE, please contact:
Shook, Hardy & Bacon International LLP
25 Cannon Street
London EC4M 5SE
44-020-7332-4500

"MMS <shb.com>" made the following annotations on 03/17/2003 01:45:02 PM

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE: This e-mail message including attachments, if any, is intended only for the person or entity to which it is addressed and may contain confidential and /or privileged material. Any unauthorized review, use, disclosure or distribution is prohibited. If you are not the intended recipient, please contact the sender by reply e-mail and destroy all copies of the original message. If you are the intended recipient but do not wish to receive communications through this medium, please so advise the sender immediately.

IN THE U.S., please contact:
Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP
1200 Main Street
Kansas City, MO 64105-2118
816-474-6550

IN EUROPE, please contact:
Shook, Hardy & Bacon International LLP
25 Cannon Street
London EC4M 5SE
44-020-7332-4500

From: Grubbs, Wendy J.
To: <Kaplan, Joel>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/17/2003 2:20:50 PM
Subject: S.148 putting Ridge in presidential line of succession

Will someone look at this and let me know our thoughts....there is some interest in moving this through committee..Thanks.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Bumatay, Patrick J.>
Sent: 3/17/2003 2:21:18 PM
Subject: Re: Form Response Letter - Veterans Concerns

No concerns or objections.

From: Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/17/2003 02:24:11 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: Form Response Letter - Veterans Concerns

Brett,

do you have any comments on the red tag re: Veterans concerns due 5 pm on Friday?

thanks

From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/17/2003 2:24:11 PM
Subject: Form Response Letter - Veterans Concerns

Brett,

do you have any comments on the red tag re: Veterans concerns due 5 pm on Friday?

thanks

From: CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: kyle sampson/who/eop@eop [WHO] <kyle sampson>
Sent: 3/17/2003 10:48:39 AM
Subject: : Re: S.148 putting Ridge in presidential line of succession

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Wendy J. Grubbs (CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-MAR-2003 15:48:39.00
SUBJECT:: Re: S.148 putting Ridge in presidential line of succession
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:kyle sampson (CN=kyle sampson/OU=who/O=eop@eop [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Thanks....Kyle will you take a look and let me know your thoughts?

Brett M. Kavanaugh
03/17/2003 03:35:39 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP
Subject: S.148 putting Ridge in presidential line of succession

Wendy: Kyle is on this.

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 03/17/2003 03:38 PM ----------

Wendy J. Grubbs
03/17/2003 02:21:55 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Joel D. Kaplan/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: S.148 putting Ridge in presidential line of succession

Will someone look at this and let me know our thoughts....there is some interest in moving this through committee..Thanks.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP [OPD] <Jay P. Lefkowitz>
Sent: 3/17/2003 11:38:57 AM
Subject: : call me re Hew call

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-MAR-2003 16:38:57.00
SUBJECT:: call me re Hew call
TO:Jay P. Lefkowitz ( CN=Jay P. Lefkowitz/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Benjamin A. Powell>;Kyle Sampson/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>;Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jennifer G. Newstead>;David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Noel J. Francisco>;H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <H. Christopher Bartolomucci>;Helgard C. Walker/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Helgard C. Walker>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 3/17/2003 12:24:51 PM
Subject: : from Wash Times

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-MAR-2003 17:24:51.00
SUBJECT:: from Wash Times
TO:Benjamin A. Powell (CN=Benjamin A. Powell/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Kyle Sampson (CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jennifer G. Newstead (CN=Jennifer G. Newstead/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot (CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Noel J. Francisco (CN=Noel J. Francisco/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:H. Christopher Bartolomucci (CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Helgard C. Walker (CN=Helgard C. Walker/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales (CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Keeping 2004 in focus

Donald Lambro
ÿÿÿÿÿWhite House political adviser Karl Rove and Housing and Urban Development Secretary Mel Martinez met last week to discuss challenging Florida Sen. Bob Graham in the 2004 election.
ÿÿÿÿÿWhether Mr. Martinez could beat the popular former governor and three-term senator remains doubtful, but that may not be the chief reason Mr. Rove wants the HUD secretary on the Florida ballot.
ÿÿÿÿÿWhat this really boils down to are three things: the state's huge Hispanic vote, Mr. Graham's refusal to break with the Democrats' filibuster against Miguel Estrada's nomination to the D.C. Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals, and improving President Bush's chances of carrying a pivotal state he barely won in 2000.
ÿÿÿÿÿMounting evidence shows a Bush-guided GOP is making inroads into the Hispanic vote, especially in Florida. Republicans won 35 percent of the Hispanic vote nationally last November and President Bush's brother, Florida Gov. Jeb Bush, won 40 percent of that vote in his state. Cuban-born Mr. Martinez would be expected to do even better than that.
ÿÿÿÿÿDespite Florida's reputation as one of the nation's most Republican-leaning states, it remains a wild card in presidential politics. But the Democrats' opposition to Mr. Estrada, a Honduran immigrant who has become a Latino success story, could put the state firmly into George Bush's column.
ÿÿÿÿÿThe longer the Democrats block a majority vote on Mr. Estrada (he has at least 55 votes for confirmation), the angrier Hispanics and Latinos become. Mr. Rove knows that anger could mean votes for Mr. Martinez and for Mr. Bush.

ÿÿÿÿÿAdministration sources tell me Mr. Rove has promised Mr. Martinez the full support of the White House, including presidential fund-raising and campaign appearances.
ÿÿÿÿÿThe White House says it has clamped down on presidential politics while the country faces a war with Iraq. However, Mr. Rove is already working behind the scenes on next year's elections, recruiting Senate candidates in key states and preparing for Mr. Bush's campaign.
ÿÿÿÿÿIn an exclusive interview in his West Wing office, the president's chief campaign strategist refused to talk about what he is doing, but makes it clear presidential politics is never far from his mind.
ÿÿÿÿÿWhomever wins the Democratic presidential nomination is going to pose a serious challenge to Mr. Bush's re-election bid, he says. "I think at the end of the day, whoever emerges from the Democratic process of selecting a candidate for president will be strong."
ÿÿÿÿÿ"Nine times out of 10 the process of selecting the presidential candidate strengthens the eventual nominee, not weakens him," he says. In other words, for every George McGovern, there are many more Jimmy Carters and Bill Clintons.
ÿÿÿÿÿIt is a lesson Mr. Rove remembers very well, as does Mr. Bush, whose father was trounced by Mr. Clinton in 1992.
ÿÿÿÿÿYes, most of the presidential field is made up of liberal, Northeast candidates who are outside of the political mainstream, but Mr. Rove doesn't underestimate any of them. That is because winning the presidential nomination can turn a weakling into a muscular candidate. Add that to the harm a slumping economy is doing to Mr. Bush's popularity and the president could be in trouble.
ÿÿÿÿÿNeed proof? How about Michael Dukakis and Walter Mondale?
ÿÿÿÿÿMassachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis was a disastrous, left-wing Democrat who gave weekend furloughs to imprisoned criminals and went down to defeat.
ÿÿÿÿÿBut when Mr. Dukakis won the nomination in 1988, polls showed him in a dead heat with Mr. Bush's father.
ÿÿÿÿÿWalter Mondale, who lost 49 states to Ronald Reagan, was within striking distance of winning in the spring of 1984.
ÿÿÿÿÿMr. Rove believes that the country is shifting in favor of the Republicans. "For me, the most incredible number is the number of state legislative races we won last year. We should have lost an average of 350 seats that the White House parties have suffered in the first off-year elections. Instead we gained 195 seats."
ÿÿÿÿÿThis is the first time the GOP has had a majority of the state legislative seats since 1954, and the largest number since 1928.
ÿÿÿÿÿWinning the Senate and picking up House seats were important, but this can be "explained away" by good recruitment, the president's fund-raising and a strong national message.
ÿÿÿÿÿ"Something more substantial is going on in these state races," Mr. Rove says. "It's very hard to affect the outcome of those [races] on a national scale. To have this kind of result almost across the board, it's a pretty remarkable thing."
ÿÿÿÿÿMr. Rove resists any predictions this trend will continue, but he thinks there is a big reform movement going on in American politics. The once-solid black Democratic vote is becoming more diverse. Hispanics are voting for Republicans in larger numbers from New York to Texas. The "ownership class" feels threatened by the Democrats' zeal for taxation.
ÿÿÿÿÿMany other factors are at work here, but he thinks Mr. Bush is helping to make the Republican Party more inclusive and more palatable for people to vote for. "Only time will tell how permanent, how durable and how big this is."
ÿÿÿÿÿ
ÿÿÿÿÿDonald Lambro, chief political correspondent for The Washington Times, is a nationally syndicated columnist.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Lefkowitz, Jay P.>
Sent: 3/17/2003 4:34:15 PM
Subject: call me re Hew call

From: CN=Jeanie S. Mamo/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Snee>;Mercedes M. Viana/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Mercedes M. Viana>;H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <H. Christopher Bartolomucci>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Paul B. Dyck>
Sent: 3/17/2003 2:57:11 PM
Subject: : Orlando Sentinel (3/16/03) Op-Ed by Sen. Bob Graham re: Senate needs more information on Estrada

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Jeanie S. Mamo ( CN=Jeanie S. Mamo/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-MAR-2003 19:57:11.00
SUBJECT:: Orlando Sentinel (3/16/03) Op-Ed by Sen. Bob Graham re: Senate needs more information on Estrada
TO:Ashley Snee ( CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Mercedes M. Viana ( CN=Mercedes M. Viana/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:H. Christopher Bartolomucci ( CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Paul B. Dyck ( CN=Paul B. Dyck/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

Graham: Senate needs more information on Estrada

By Sen. Bob Graham | My Word
Posted March 16, 2003

There are many issues raised by the nomination of Miguel Estrada to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. I consider the most fundamental issue to be the independence of the judiciary, a matter of concern to thoughtful Americans from before our country was a country.

In the Pulitzer Prize-winning biography by David McCullough, John Adams is quoted: "Essential to the stability of government and to an able and impartial administration of justice, . . . there must be an Independent Judiciary, men of experience on the laws of exemplary morals, invincible patience, an unruffled calmness and indefatigable application, should be subservient to none and appointed for life."

Those words, written before the War of Independence, became the guiding star for the Constitutional Convention in 1787. To preserve the independence of judges, the Constitution provides that they shall serve a lifetime appointment. To protect from economic intimidation of the judiciary, Congress is prohibited from reducing the salary of judges.

But perhaps the most difficult issue that the Constitutional Convention faced was: How should judges secure their place on the bench?

Up until the very end of the convention, the idea was that this Senate would directly appoint federal judges. However, concern arose that the independence of the judiciary might be at risk if one branch were solely responsible for the appointment of judges, so a compromise was struck: The president would nominate federal judges, and the Senate would advise and consent through the confirmation process.

So the issue we are debating, the relative roles of the executive and legislative, is not a trivial issue. It goes to the heart, as John Adams said, of the stability of government, because it goes to the independence of the judiciary.

An article in the March 9 issue of the New York Times Magazine focused on the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals and quotes Judge J. Michael Luttig: "Judges are told, 'You're appointed by us to do these things,' so then judges start thinking, well, how do I interpret the law to get the result that the people who pushed for me to be here want me to get? I believe that there is a natural temptation to line up as political partisans that is reinforced by the political process, and it has to be resisted by the judiciary and by the politicians."

I believe we are being called on to resist an effort to inappropriately utilize executive power and to exclude the legislative role in the appointment of federal judges.

I consider myself to be a pragmatist. I find very few things in life that are black and white. I do not think this issue is black and white. I believe the standard for the kind of information that the Senate has a right and a need to have, in order to carry out its advice and consent function, is not an ideological or even a precedential standard but rather a pragmatic standard.

If a person has been, for instance, an academic and has written articles and books, there is some means by which you can get below the resume and get some feel for the person. Similarly, if a person has been a judge at the state level or at other levels within the federal judiciary, it is likely that they have written opinions or other statements of their feelings.

I do not serve on the Judiciary Committee. But colleagues whose judgment I respect have indicated that they do not believe that, as of today, we have the information on Mr. Estrada to, in an informed manner, provide that consent.

I believe this is an issue upon which honorable men and women can reach agreement. So I would urge those of my colleagues who have been particularly involved in this to not see today's vote as the last chapter, but rather as a call to find an honorable way to provide us with the information, given the dearth of information that might otherwise be available.

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 3/17/2003 3:57:08 PM
Subject: : White House Global Messenger - 03/18/03

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-MAR-2003 20:57:08.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger - 03/18/03
TO:Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications (CN=Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Tuesday, March 18, 2003

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS TO THE NATION***
"All the decades of deceit and cruelty have now reached an end."
-President George W. Bush, March 17, 2003

*Events in Iraq have now reached the final days of decision. The Iraqi regime has used diplomacy as a ploy. Peaceful efforts to disarm the Iraqi regime have failed because we are not dealing with peaceful men.

*The Iraqi regime continues to conceal some of the most lethal weapons ever devised. It has used weapons of mass destruction. It has a history of reckless aggression and a deep hatred for America and our friends. And it has aided terrorists, including al-Qaida. Using chemical, biological, or one day, nuclear weapons, obtained with the help of Iraq, terrorists could kill thousands, or more.

*The United States and other nations did nothing to deserve or invite this threat, but we will do everything to defeat it. Under UN Resolutions 678 and 687 - both still in effect - we are authorized to use force in ridding Iraq of weapons of mass destruction. This is not a question of authority; it is a question of will.

*On November 8th, the Security Council unanimously passed Resolution 1441, finding Iraq in material breach and vowing serious consequences if Iraq did not fully and immediately disarm. Today, no nation claims that Iraq has disarmed.

*Some permanent members of the Security Council announced they will veto any resolution that compels disarmament. The Security Council has not lived up to its responsibilities - so we will rise to ours.

*In recent days, some governments in the Middle East have delivered messages urging the dictator to leave Iraq, so that disarmament can proceed peacefully.

Saddam Hussein and his sons must leave Iraq within 48 hours. Their refusal to do so will result in military conflict.

*In a free Iraq, there will be no more wars of aggression against neighbors...no more poison factories...no more executions of dissidents...no more torture chambers and rape rooms.

*Iraqi military units will receive clear instructions on how they can avoid being attacked. I urge them: If war comes, do not fight for a dying regime that is not worth your own life. Do not destroy oil wells, a source of wealth that belongs to the Iraqi people. Do not obey use weapons of mass destruction.

*Should Saddam Hussein choose confrontation, the American people can know every measure has been taken to avoid war - and every measure will be taken to win it.

*If Saddam Hussein attempts to cling to power, he will remain a deadly foe until the end. In desperation, he and terrorist groups might try to conduct terrorist operations.

*We are acting to protect our homeland. Should enemies strike our country, they would be attempting to shift our attention with panic, and weaken our morale with fear. In this, they would fail. We are acting now because the risks of inaction would be far greater.

*The greatest power of freedom is to overcome hatred and violence, and turn the creative gifts of men and women to the pursuits of peace. Free nations have a duty to defend our people by uniting against the violent. America and our allies accept that responsibility.

Today's Schedule***
All Times Eastern Standard Time Unless Noted - Subject to Change

12:15 pm White House Briefing by Ari Fleischer

12:30 pm State Department Briefing by Richard Boucher

KEY QUOTES***

"The French have, for years, had difficulties with the inspection region....[W]hen UNMOVIC was being created after the collapse of the previous inspection regime, France worked actively for a number of months, in our judgment, to try to weaken that inspection regime....[R]ight after the passage of 1441, it was absolutely clear that [France] understood that Saddam Hussein and the Iraqi regime had weapons of mass destruction. It's not something just known to American intelligence. It's known to all of the major intelligence agencies in the world, and France acknowledged that."
Secretary Powell, to reporters, 3-17-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****

You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere.

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 3/17/2003 4:23:58 PM
Subject: : ATTACHMENT White House Global Messenger - 03/18/03
Attachments: P_3L8RE003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-MAR-2003 21:23:58.00
SUBJECT:: ATTACHMENT White House Global Messenger - 03/18/03
TO:Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications (CN=Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 3-18-03 FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Tuesday, March 18, 2003

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS TO THE NATION***
"All the decades of deceit and cruelty have now reached an end."
-President George W. Bush, March 17, 2003

*Events in Iraq have now reached the final days of decision. The Iraqi regime has used diplomacy as a ploy. Peaceful efforts to disarm the Iraqi regime have failed because we are not dealing with peaceful men.

*The Iraqi regime continues to conceal some of the most lethal weapons ever devised. It has used weapons of mass destruction. It has a history of reckless aggression and a deep hatred for America and our friends. And it has aided terrorists, including al-Qaida. Using chemical, biological, or one day, nuclear weapons, obtained with the help of Iraq, terrorists could kill thousands, or more.

*The United States and other nations did nothing to deserve or invite this threat, but we will do everything to defeat it. Under UN Resolutions 678 and 687 - both still in effect - we are authorized to use force in ridding Iraq of weapons of mass destruction. This is not a question of authority; it is a question of will.

*On November 8th, the Security Council unanimously passed Resolution 1441, finding Iraq in material breach and vowing serious consequences if Iraq did not fully and immediately disarm. Today, no nation claims that Iraq has disarmed.

*Some permanent members of the Security Council announced they will veto any resolution that compels disarmament. The Security Council has not lived up to its responsibilities - so we will rise to ours.

*In recent days, some governments in the Middle East have delivered messages urging the dictator to leave Iraq, so that disarmament can proceed peacefully.
Saddam Hussein and his sons must leave Iraq within 48 hours. Their refusal to do so will result in military conflict.

*In a free Iraq, there will be no more wars of aggression against neighbors...no more poison factories...no more executions of dissidents...no more torture chambers and rape rooms.

*Iraqi military units will receive clear instructions on how they can avoid being attacked. I urge them: If war comes, do not fight for a dying regime that is not worth your own life. Do not destroy oil wells, a source of wealth that belongs to the Iraqi people. Do not obey use weapons of mass destruction.

*Should Saddam Hussein choose confrontation, the American people can know every measure has been taken to avoid war - and every measure will be taken to win it.

*If Saddam Hussein attempts to cling to power, he will remain a deadly foe until the end. In desperation, he and terrorist groups might try to conduct terrorist operations.

*We are acting to protect our homeland. Should enemies strike our country, they would be attempting to shift our attention with panic, and weaken our morale with fear. In this, they would fail. We are acting now because the risks of inaction would be far greater.

*The greatest power of freedom is to overcome hatred and violence, and turn the creative gifts of men and women to the pursuits of peace. Free nations have a duty to defend our people by uniting against the violent. America and our allies accept that responsibility.

Today's Schedule***
All Times Eastern Standard Time Unless Noted - Subject to Change

12:15 pm White House Briefing by Ari Fleischer

12:30 pm State Department Briefing by Richard Boucher

KEY QUOTES***

"The French have, for years, had difficulties with the inspection region....[W]hen UNMOVIC was being created after the collapse of the previous inspection regime, France worked actively for a number of months, in our judgment, to try to weaken that inspection regime....[R]ight after the passage of 1441, it was absolutely clear that [France] understood that Saddam Hussein and the Iraqi regime had weapons of mass destruction. It's not something just known to American intelligence. It's known to all of the major intelligence agencies in the world, and France acknowledged that."

Secretary Powell, to reporters, 3-17-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****

You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere.
- GM 3-18-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_3L8RE003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Tuesday, March 18, 2003

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS TO THE NATION

"All the decades of deceit and cruelty have now reached an end."
-President George W. Bush, March 17, 2003

- Events in Iraq have now reached the final days of decision. The Iraqi regime has used diplomacy as a ploy. Peaceful efforts to disarm the Iraqi regime have failed because we are not dealing with peaceful men.
- The Iraqi regime continues to conceal some of the most lethal weapons ever devised. It has used weapons of mass destruction. It has a history of reckless aggression and a deep hatred for America and our friends. And it has aided terrorists, including al-Qaida. Using chemical, biological, or one day, nuclear weapons, obtained with the help of Iraq, terrorists could kill thousands, or more.
- The United States and other nations did nothing to deserve or invite this threat, but we will do everything to defeat it. Under UN Resolutions 678 and 687 – both still in effect – we are authorized to use force in ridding Iraq of weapons of mass destruction. This is not a question of authority; it is a question of will.
- On November 8th, the Security Council unanimously passed Resolution 1441, finding Iraq in material breach and vowing serious consequences if Iraq did not fully and immediately disarm. Today, no nation claims that Iraq has disarmed.
- Some permanent members of the Security Council announced they will veto any resolution that compels disarmament. The Security Council has not lived up to its responsibilities – so we will rise to ours.
- In recent days, some governments in the Middle East have delivered messages urging the dictator to leave Iraq, so that disarmament can proceed peacefully. Saddam Hussein and his sons must leave Iraq within 48 hours. Their refusal to do so will result in military conflict.
- In a free Iraq, there will be no more wars of aggression against neighbors … no more poison factories … no more executions of dissidents … no more torture chambers and rape rooms.
- Iraqi military units will receive clear instructions on how they can avoid being attacked. I urge them: If war comes, do not fight for a dying regime that is not worth your own life. Do not destroy oil wells, a source of wealth that belongs to the Iraqi people. Do not obey use weapons of mass destruction.
- Should Saddam Hussein choose confrontation, the American people can know every measure has been taken to avoid war – and every measure will be taken to win it.
- If Saddam Hussein attempts to cling to power, he will remain a deadly foe until the end. In desperation, he and terrorist groups might try to conduct terrorist operations.
- We are acting to protect our homeland. Should enemies strike our country, they would be attempting to shift our attention with panic, and weaken our morale with fear. In this, they would fail. We are acting now because the risks of inaction would be far greater.
- The greatest power of freedom is to overcome hatred and violence, and turn the creative gifts of men and women to the pursuits of peace. Free nations have a duty to defend our people by uniting against the violent. America and our allies accept that responsibility.

Today's Schedule

All Times Eastern Standard Time Unless Noted - Subject to Change

12:15 pm	White House Briefing by Ari Fleischer
12:30 pm	State Department Briefing by Richard Boucher

KEY QUOTES

"The French have, for years, had difficulties with the inspection region….[W]hen UNMOVIC was being created after the collapse of the previous inspection regime, France worked actively for a number of months, in our judgment, to try to weaken that inspection regime….[R]ight after the passage of 1441, it was absolutely clear that [France] understood that Saddam Hussein and the Iraqi regime had weapons of mass destruction. It's not something just known to American intelligence. It's known to all of the major intelligence agencies in the world, and France acknowledged that."
Secretary Powell, to reporters, 3-17-03

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Arthur B. Applegate/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Arthur B. Applegate>
Sent: 3/18/2003 4:57:56 AM
Subject: : we have not allowed use of cars for those purposes (even though we could)

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:18-MAR-2003 09:57:56.00
SUBJECT:: we have not allowed use of cars for those purposes (even though we could)
TO:Arthur B. Applegate ( CN=Arthur B. Applegate/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>
Sent: 3/18/2003 3:55:39 AM
Subject: : Re: will our 55 be present and voting today?

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:18-MAR-2003 08:55:39.00
SUBJECT:: Re: will our 55 be present and voting today?
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs (CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

thanks

Wendy J. Grubbs
03/18/2003 08:51:39 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Re: will our 55 be present and voting today?

I cannot guarantee attendance but the vote is now at noon before weekly lunches so that helps. I will check but there isn't much that can be done, but frist gets this so every effort is being made so our guys can be here.

.

From: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/18/2003 8:23:04 AM
Subject: Do you have Pate's memo?

.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Lefkowitz, Jay P.>;<Vestewig, Lauren J.>
Sent: 3/18/2003 8:35:53 AM
Subject: DOT Deference
Attachments: dotdeference.wpd

Jay: See attached.

Lauren: I think Jay, Hew Pate, Kirk Van Tine, and I want to confer on a conference call before 1:00. I am available except between 10 and 11.

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 03/18/2003 08:40 AM ----------

"Jenkins, Gloria"

03/17/2003 06:56:24 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: DOT Deference

Try #2

Attached is a document from Mr. Pate on "DOT Deference." Please confirm receipt of this email. Thanks.

Gloria Jenkins

Assistant to R. Hewitt Pate

gloria.jenkins@usdoj.gov

(202) 514-2401

- dotdeference.wpd << dotdeference.wpd >>

PROPOSAL

Absent consumer protection issues or a clear market failure that cannot effectively be redressed under the antitrust laws, DOT should defer to DOJ on all antitrust and market competition issues involving private agreements and conduct.

DISCUSSION

DOJ and DOT Authority

In the wake of airline deregulation, both DOJ and DOT have statutory authority over competition in the airline industry[1]. The Airline Deregulation Act of 1978 gradually ended regulation of airline pricing and entry decisions, dismantled the Civil Aeronautics Board at the end of 1984, and transferred residual regulatory responsibilities, including merger approval, to the DOT. On January 1, 1989, DOT merger review authority terminated, and airline mergers and acquisitions became subject to normal HSR filing rules and DOJ jurisdiction under Clayton §7.

DOT, however, continues to enforce § 411 of the Federal Aviation Act ("FAA"), whose key language is identical to §5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act, which prohibits "unfair methods of competition." The FTC has no jurisdiction over airlines. In 1998, Congress also enacted a "file-and-wait" requirement at DOT for domestic codeshare and frequent flier program (FFP) agreements. DOT is authorized to delay implementation of codeshare agreements for up to six months, and of FFP agreements for up to 60 days.

DOT traditionally has deferred to DOJ on antitrust issues. In its first post-1989 review of a certificate transfer pursuant to an HSR reportable merger, DOT announced a new, narrower inquiry it would conduct under its "public interest" standard, and that it would defer to DOJ on antitrust issues:

> [In our earlier Show Cause Order[2]] we stated our perception that the sunset of section 408 [DOT merger review authority] strongly suggested Congress' intent that we consider the

---

[1] DOJ: Anticompetitive mergers and acquisitions (Clayton Act §7); anticompetitive agreements among competitors (Sherman Act §1); and exclusionary conduct by dominant firms (Sherman Act §2).

DOT: Consumer protection and other "unfair methods of competition" (49 U.S.C. § 41712); approval of (and antitrust immunity for) agreements between foreign and domestic airlines, including codeshare alliances (49 U.S.C. §§41713, 15); review (but not approval) of domestic codeshare and frequent flyer agreements (49 U.S.C. §41720); fitness reviews and certification of airlines (49 U.S.C. §§41102, 05).

[2] "Congress' decision to deregulate the airline industry means that we should not delay market transactions involving the transfer of route authority unless necessary for important public policy reasons, and that we should not lightly impose restrictions or other conditions on such transactions." Show Cause Order, 3/10/89, at 7.

policy implication of proposed certificate transfers without respect to antitrust considerations, those matters now properly belonging to the Department of Justice.

Federal Express Corp. and The Flying Tiger Line, Inc., Docket 46025, Final Order, served May 2, 1989, at 2. In reaching this conclusion, DOT deferred to DOJ on antitrust issues not necessarily because it was required to, but because DOT concluded it was sound policy consistent with the intent of Congress.[3] Similarly, during DOJ's monopolization investigation of American Airlines, DOT deferred issuing final "Competition Guidelines" relating to predatory conduct by dominant hub carriers, eventually shelving them after the DOJ's lawsuit was filed. Recently, however, there are indications that DOT may seek to return to a broader regulatory role in antitrust and competition matters.

Reasons Why DOT Deference to DOJ is Appropriate

There are sound policy reasons for DOT to defer to DOJ on antitrust and competition issues:

Consistent Enforcement Standards - DOJ is more likely to take a consistent, and therefore predictable, enforcement approach that is defined by antitrust law precedent and sound economic analysis (e.g., the DOJ/FTC Merger Guidelines). In contrast, DOT's statute (FAA § 411), lacks the discipline of the body of antitrust precedent that has developed to preserve the critical balance between protection of competition and government intervention that will actually harm competition. This fact, together with DOT's historically greater focus on addressing the interests advanced by individual competitors rather than competition itself, makes its enforcement policies less predictable. In exclusionary conduct (Sherman Act § 2) situations, a broad interpretation of DOT's statute might not require a showing of "monopoly power" in a defined market. DOT might be tempted to conclude that it need not conduct a Brooke[4] analysis (below cost pricing and recoupment) in predatory pricing cases. In conspiracy cases, DOT might not conduct a Matsushita/Petroleum Products [5] analysis to distinguish conspiracy from conscious parallelism in an oligopoly. In the past, DOT has been both more lenient than the antitrust laws would require (approving overlapping hub mergers in the mid-80's, and granting immunity to competitors in concentrated markets over DOJ objections), and more restrictive (refusing to allow market-based

---

[3] There is legal precedent for the proposition that, under FAA §411, DOT "can forbid anticompetitive practices before they become serious enough to violate the Sherman Act." United Airlines v. Civil Aeronautics Board, 766 F.2d. 1107 (7th Cir. 1985). This does not mean, however, that it is sound policy to attempt broader regulation under §411. Indeed, past efforts by the FTC to broaden its interpretation of the identical language of §5 beyond the scope of DOJ's enforcement of its statutes have met with judicial hostility. See, e.g., E.I Du Pont de Nemours & Co. v. FTC, 729 F.2d 128 (2d Cir. 1984); Boise Cascade Corp. v. FTC, 637 F.2d 573 (9th Cir. 1980).

[4] Brooke Group Ltd. v. Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp., 509 U.S. 209 (1993).

[5] Matsushita Elec. Indus. Co. v. Zenith Radio Corp., 475 U.S. 574 (1986); In re Coordinated Pretrial Proceedings in Petroleum Products Antitrust Litigation, 906 F.2d 432 (9th Cir. 1990), cert. den. sub nom. Chevron Corp. v. Arizona, 500 U.S. 959 (1991).

divestitures in AA/BA II in favor of awarding Heathrow slots to administratively "preferred" recipients).

Insulation From Political Influence - As a pure law enforcement agency, DOJ is less susceptible to political pressure and lobbying than an agency with diverse responsibilities such as DOT. DOT has broad program and promotional responsibilities that are appropriately influenced by political considerations, including airport funding, international aviation treaty negotiations, the essential air service program and the allocation of certain service rights.

Superior Discovery Tools and Procedures - DOJ conducts confidential fact investigations using compulsory process for data, documents and testimony as needed. Information received is not made public (absent litigation), and customers and informants can provide information to DOJ in confidence without running afoul of ex parte rules. In contrast, DOT proceedings are conducted on a public record subject to ex parte rules, where "interested parties" voluntarily (and selectively) submit evidence and argument. The DOT process is not confidential and not well-suited for developing a complete and unbiased factual record.

Effective Use of Government Resources - DOJ is experienced and well-equipped to conduct antitrust investigations. It has the breadth of experience over all industries, many with some of the same structural characteristics of the airline industry. DOJ's Economic Analysis Group is recognized throughout the world as unsurpassed at its work. With its large and experienced legal and economic staffs, DOJ can more efficiently devote the necessary resources to competition issues in the airline industry.

Avoiding Duplicative Investigations - DOJ and FTC have overlapping jurisdiction, but have a "clearance agreement" that prevents overlapping investigations. There is no similar agreement with DOT, although the 1998 pre-filing amendments for codeshares directed the agencies to establish preclearance procedures to prevent unnecessary duplication, 49 U.S.C. § 41720 (f). One way to avoid overlapping investigations in the airline industry is for DOT to defer to DOJ on all matters that can be addressed under the antitrust laws, even if they could arguably be addressed under the more discretionary standards of the Federal Aviation Act.

Ensuring Appropriate Grants of Antitrust Immunity - DOT may grant antitrust immunity to certain agreements between airlines, including codesharing and marketing alliance agreements. DOJ and DOT have often agreed on when a grant of immunity would harm competition and should not be granted, but DOT has also frequently disregarded DOJ advice on withholding immunity, most recently by approving a domestic capacity reduction agreement between Aloha and Hawaiian Air, the only significant inter-island competitors in Hawaii, and by immunizing the American Airlines/Swiss Air alliance without "carving out" (withholding immunity) for certain routes where the parties were the only, or two of three, actual or potential nonstop competitors on the routes. Because antitrust immunity is itself a departure from the legal rules applicable to protect market competition in virtually every other industry, DOT should be reluctant to grant it in any situation. Recognizing that immunity grants to foreign carrier alliances can at times be a useful bargaining chip in open skies negotiations, DOT nonetheless should accord significant weight to a DOJ recommendation to limit, restrict or deny it.[6]

Avoiding Unintended Harm to Competition - Judicial limitations on antitrust liability — such as the requirements of proof in conspiracy and predation cases — should not be viewed as inconvenient impediments to be circumvented by resort to a more broadly worded statute. Rather, these limitations have been put in place by the courts to ensure that unfounded antitrust intervention does not itself chill procompetitive activity. For example, predatory pricing challenges by definition attack price cutting and discounting, which clearly benefit consumers in the short term. Such challenges should not be undertaken without rigorous proof that they are needed to protect competition in the long run. Deference to the DOJ would assure application of these legal standards. Open-ended regulation under a broad reading of §411, in contrast, runs the risk of decisionmaking based on individual competitors' lobbying for advantage rather than the objective application of law.

---

[6] Both the FCC and the STB are required by statute to give the views of DOJ "substantial weight" in reaching certain decisions affecting competition, 47 U.S.C. §271(d)(2)A (FCC); 49 U.S.C. §11324 (STB).

From: Powell, Benjamin A.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
CC: <McQuade, Vickie A.>
Sent: 3/18/2003 8:46:43 AM
Subject: Ari received an invite to lend his name to the Honorary Committee for the Ambassador's Ball.

Brett- do you know the policy on this?

---------- Forwarded by Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP on 03/18/2003 08:46 AM ----------

From: Vickie A. McQuade/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/18/2003 08:45:30 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: Ari received an invite to lend his name to the Honorary Committee for the Ambassador's Ball.

If I'm not mistaken he cannot do this. Is that correct?

From: CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <H. Christopher Bartolomucci>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/18/2003 5:03:06 AM
Subject: : Departing from the script

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:18-MAR-2003 10:03:06.00
SUBJECT:: Departing from the script
TO:H. Christopher Bartolomucci ( CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Kennedy just complained on the Senate floor about the Administration urging a tax cut while our troops are being sent to fight in Vietnam.;
```

From: CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/18/2003 9:31:27 AM
Subject: : RE: Where's the meeting?

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:18-MAR-2003 14:31:27.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Where's the meeting?
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Felt like I ought to make an appearance. 211 wasn't nearly so hot.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Tuesday, March 18, 2003 2:22 PM
To: Leitch, David G.
Subject: Re: Where's the meeting?

248, as you now know! nothing much new happened, although it took an hour and 15 minutes. will fill you in.

From: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/18/2003 01:45:36 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Where's the meeting?

.

From:	Vestewig, Lauren J.
To:	<Dougherty, Elizabeth S.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Sharp, Jess>
CC:	<Skelly, Layton>
Sent:	3/18/2003 10:29:04 AM
Subject:	FW: Antitrust call today at 11:30

Make this 11:20. Thanks.
-----Original Message-----
From: Vestewig, Lauren J.
Sent: Tuesday, March 18, 2003 10:22 AM
To: Sharp, Jess; Dougherty, Elizabeth S.; Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Cc: Skelly, Layton; Lefkowitz, Jay P.
Subject: Antitrust call today at 11:30

Provided Hew Pate can participate, there will be a conference call today at 11:30. (I'll shoot you another email to confirm around 11.) Kirk Van Tine will also join. Thanks.

From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
To: <Walker, Helgard C.>;<Addington, David S.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Bellinger, John B.>;<Brilliant, Hana F.>;<Bumatay, Patrick J.>;<Carroll, James W.>;<Everson, Nanette>;<Farrell, J. Elizabeth>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Ganter, Jonathan F.>;<Jucas, Tracy>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<McNally, Edward>;<Montiel, Charlotte L.>;<Nelson, Carolyn>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent: 3/18/2003 10:38:31 AM
Subject: FW: White House Opearting Procedures

FYI -

All White House tours cancelled as of Noon today.

---------- Forwarded by Douglas L. Hoelscher/WHO/EOP on 03/18/2003 10:36 AM ----------

From: Israel Hernandez/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/18/2003 10:26:48 AM
Record Type: Record

To: OPL - Public Liaison@EOP, OPA - Political Affairs@EOP, OSI - Strategic Initiatives@EOP, IGA Intergovernmental Affairs@EOP

cc:
Subject: White House Opearting Procedures

1) As you might have noticed this morning...the perimeter closest to the White House has been extended outside the already existing perimeter until further notice. The south side of Pennsylvania is now closed to pedestrians. The north side of E street is also closed to pedestrians. The sidewalk closest to EEOB on 17th Street and to Treasury on 15th Street is now also closed.

2) Effective Noon Today: The White House will be closed for White House State Floor tours and West Wing tours. Any already scheduled tours will have to be cancelled. I will alert you when the White House and the West Wing will open for tours again.

3) Briefings in EEOB should continue. The Eisenhower Executive Office Building will remain open for staff to conduct WH briefings. You may also want to consider using the White House Conference Center as an option.

I will keep you up to date on all the latest information we get relating to WH operating procedures.

Thanks

Iz

From: Vestewig, Lauren J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Sharp, Jess>;<Dougherty, Elizabeth S.>
CC: <Skelly, Layton>;<Lefkowitz, Jay P.>
Sent: 3/18/2003 11:13:04 AM
Subject: Conference call

Still no word from Hew Pate. If I hear from him, I will hook you all into a call at 11:20. If not, I'll be in contact to set something else up. Thanks.

From: Vestewig, Lauren J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/18/2003 11:16:37 AM
Subject: RE: Conference call

Or do you want Peggy Ward to sit in? She is Hew's counsel.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Tuesday, March 18, 2003 11:10 AM
To: Vestewig, Lauren J.
Cc: Sharp, Jess; Dougherty, Elizabeth S.; Skelly, Layton; Lefkowitz, Jay P.
Subject: Re: Conference call

He may be on a plane back from NY.

From: Lauren J. Vestewig/OPD/EOP@Exchange on 03/18/2003 11:13:04 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP, Jess Sharp/OPD/EOP@EOP, Elizabeth S. Dougherty/OPD/EOP@EOP
cc: Layton Skelly/OPD/EOP@EOP, Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange
Subject: Conference call

Still no word from Hew Pate. If I hear from him, I will hook you all into a call at 11:20. If not, I'll be in contact to set something else up. Thanks.

From:	CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To:	David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <H. Christopher Bartolomucci>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent:	3/18/2003 7:56:27 AM
Subject:	: Orlando Sentinel (3/18/03) OP-ED by Secretary Martinez re: Graham wrong to block vote on Estrada

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:18-MAR-2003 12:56:27.00
SUBJECT:: Orlando Sentinel (3/18/03) OP-ED by Secretary Martinez re: Graham wrong to block vote on Estrada
TO:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:H. Christopher Bartolomucci (CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales (CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 03/18/2003 12:56 PM ----------

Jeanie S. Mamo
03/18/2003 12:55:46 PM
Record Type: Record

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
cc:
Subject: Orlando Sentinel (3/18/03) OP-ED by Secretary Martinez re: Graham wrong to block vote on Estrada

Martinez: Graham wrong to block vote on Estrada

By Mel Martinez | Special to the Sentinel
Posted March 18, 2003

I am disappointed by Sen. Bob Graham's vote last week to impede the nomination of Miguel Estrada.

President Bush has twice nominated Estrada to become the first Hispanic on the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals, an honor for which he is eminently qualified. Unfortunately, the Democratic leadership has denied him a confirmation vote since the spring of 2001.

Graham's vote on Thursday to maintain the filibuster is not in keeping with his long tradition of supporting the interests of Hispanics, who represent a large portion of his constituency.

Graham and the 42 Democrats who joined him have a constitutional responsibility to hold an up-or-down vote on all judicial nominees within a reasonable time frame. For this obstructionist bloc, it seems, partisanship trumps responsibility.

I applaud Senate Majority Leader Bill Frist and the Republican leadership for holding their ground and scheduling repeated votes to break the filibuster. It is time for Graham and his colleagues to stand up and vote "yes" or "no" and then explain to their constituents why they voted the way that they did.

For Hispanics and other immigrants, the opportunity to serve this great nation in public office is part of their American Dream. I know. At the age of 15, I fled Castro's Cuba, seeking a better life in the United States. Soon, I was eager to give something back to my adopted country.

Estrada and I share a similar path in our quest for the American Dream. At the age of 17, and with minimal English-language skills, the young Estrada emigrated from his native Honduras, seeking a better life and opportunity in this country. Hard work and determination enabled him to graduate with highest honors from Columbia University and then earn a law degree, also with honors, from Harvard Law School.

After college, Estrada served as a clerk to U.S. Supreme Court Justice Anthony Kennedy and later worked for both Republican and Democratic administrations at the Department of Justice, including five years in the solicitor general's office. He has appeared 15 times before the Supreme Court, winning 10 of his cases. Recognizing his legal skills and experience, the American Bar Association unanimously gave Estrada its highest rating.

Despite these impressive credentials, many Senate Democrats have obstructed the confirmation process. Twice, they have voted to continue their filibuster and block an up-or-down vote on this outstanding nominee.

Denying Estrada a vote goes against the spirit of the Constitution's "advise and consent" clause and, I would add, against the spirit of America. Estrada, and millions of others like him, came to America because this is a land of opportunity. We should never stand in the way of qualified individuals willing to commit to public service.

I urge Sen. Graham to reconsider his actions and allow this great American success story to receive the vote that he deserves.

Mel Martinez, a lawyer in Orlando for 25 years and a former chairman of Orange County, is secretary of Housing and Urban Development. He wrote this commentary for the Orlando Sentinel.

Message Sent
To:_____
Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP@EOP
Mercedes M. Viana/WHO/EOP@EOP
Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP
Leonard B. Rodriguez/WHO/EOP@EOP

From:	Bumatay, Patrick J.
To:	<Walker, Helgard C.>;<Addington, David S.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Bellinger, John B.>;<Brilliant, Hana F.>;<Bumatay, Patrick J.>;<Carroll, James W.>;<Everson, Nanette>;<Farrell, J. Elizabeth>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Ganter, Jonathan F.>;<Jucas, Tracy>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<McNally, Edward>;<Montiel, Charlotte L.>;<Nelson, Carolyn>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent:	3/18/2003 12:38:09 PM
Subject:	FW: Appointment and Parking Issues

More WH operations information...

-----Original Message-----

From: Ganter, Jonathan F.

Sent: Tuesday, March 18, 2003 11:20 AM

To: Bumatay, Patrick J.

Subject: Appointment and Parking Issues

The following matters were discussed at this morning's Admin. Contact meeting:

Appointments-

Pedestrian traffic along Pennsylvania Avenue will be restricted until further notice is given. For the time being, appointments may only access Pennsylvania from the intersection of 15th and Penn. or from the intersection of 17th and Penn. (Pennsylvania cannot be accessed from the Lafayette Park side). Appointments will need to first check in with the guards posted at the 15th or 17th street barricades. The guards will then call inside to verify wave access prior to allowing anyone to continue on to the regular facility entrances.

Parking Matters-

Until the situation involving the tractor parked in the pond on the Mall has been resolved, Constitution Avenue will be closed from 15th Street to 23rd Street. In addition, 17th Street will remain closed from E Street to Constitution. As a result of these measures the only entrance to the the Ellipse, State Place, and West Exec. parking areas is located at the intersection of 15th and Pennsylvania. Those parking on State Place and the Ellipse will also need to exit at the same 15th Street location. The normal Pennsylvania exit to the West. Exec should remain open.

The East Exec. parking area is being reconfigured and thus will result in the loss of spaces as of Friday night. To account for this loss, new parking spaces will be established in front of and around the Visitor's Center on the Northeast side of the Ellipse parking area. These new spots will be clearly marked and are for overflow East Exec (H pass) parking only. If you normally park on the Ellipse, do not use these new spaces (the changes will not result in the loss of pre-existing Ellipse spaces).

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Snee>;David G. Leitch/WHO /EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 3/18/2003 10:05:30 AM
Subject: : DMN editorial on President's plan

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:18-MAR-2003 15:05:30.00
SUBJECT:: DMN editorial on President's plan
TO:Ashley Snee (CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs (CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales (CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Let's change rules that hang up nominees
Knight Ridder/Tribune News Service

(KRT) - The following editorial appeared in the Dallas Morning News on Sunday, March 16:
Senate rules are an important part of American political tradition, worthy of respect. Ditto for the constitutional process by which the Senate confirms federal judges. The abuse of one must not be allowed to undermine the other.
But that is precisely what is happening. No matter which party controls the Senate gavel, when it comes to confirming judges, those in power too often behave reprehensibly. Senators grandstand and play games. They distort nominees' records and views, misrepresent their positions, and malign them with words like "extremist." It is no wonder there is such a high number of judicial vacancies at the federal level.
It doesn't matter who runs the Senate or who the nominee happens to be. It's nothing personal. It's the system, a system that is flat broken. And, finally, last week, thank goodness, someone said so.
President Bush is justifiably upset at how Democrats have abused the filibuster to thwart the nomination of Miguel Estrada to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.
Now the president proposes something drastic: amend the Senate rulebook to require that, no matter which party controls the White House or Senate, all federal judicial nominees get an up-or-down vote. The practical application would be to eliminate the filibuster with regard to judicial nominees.
Wow. It's not every day the president of the United States wants to tinker with Senate tradition going back nearly a hundred years. Thank goodness. But the status quo is unacceptable. If Democrats have other ideas, let's hear them. If not, Americans should push the Senate to embrace Bush's suggestion. After all, at some point, the political tables will turn and an up-or-down vote will seem all the more palatable to many of those who currently oppose Bush's idea.
Most Senate traditions are grand, and when possible, they ought be preserved. But that's no excuse for letting politics turn the Federalist

Papers into the funny pages.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Leitch, David G.>
Sent: 3/18/2003 2:21:54 PM
Subject: Re: Where's the meeting?

248, as you now know! nothing much new happened, although it took an hour and 15 minutes. will fill you in.

From: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/18/2003 01:45:36 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: Where's the meeting?

.

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/18/2003 2:31:15 PM
Subject: RE: Where's the meeting?

Felt like I ought to make an appearance. 211 wasn't nearly so hot.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Tuesday, March 18, 2003 2:22 PM
To: Leitch, David G.
Subject: Re: Where's the meeting?

248, as you now know! nothing much new happened, although it took an hour and 15 minutes. will fill you in.

From: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/18/2003 01:45:36 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Where's the meeting?

.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Grubbs, Wendy J.>;<Snee, Ashley>
Sent: 3/18/2003 2:59:42 PM
Subject: DMN editorial on President's plan

Let's change rules that hang up nominees

Knight Ridder/Tribune News Service

(KRT) - The following editorial appeared in the Dallas Morning News on Sunday, March 16:

Senate rules are an important part of American political tradition, worthy of respect. Ditto for the constitutional process by which the Senate confirms federal judges. The abuse of one must not be allowed to undermine the other.

But that is precisely what is happening. No matter which party controls the Senate gavel, when it comes to confirming judges, those in power too often behave reprehensibly. Senators grandstand and play games. They distort nominees' records and views, misrepresent their positions, and malign them with words like "extremist." It is no wonder there is such a high number of judicial vacancies at the federal level.

It doesn't matter who runs the Senate or who the nominee happens to be. It's nothing personal. It's the system, a system that is flat broken. And, finally, last week, thank goodness, someone said so.

President Bush is justifiably upset at how Democrats have abused the filibuster to thwart the nomination of Miguel Estrada to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

Now the president proposes something drastic: amend the Senate rulebook to require that, no matter which party controls the White House or Senate, all federal judicial nominees get an up-or-down vote. The practical application would be to eliminate the filibuster with regard to judicial nominees.

Wow. It's not every day the president of the United States wants to tinker with Senate tradition going back nearly a hundred years. Thank goodness.

But the status quo is unacceptable. If Democrats have other ideas, let's hear them. If not, Americans should push the Senate to embrace Bush's suggestion. After all, at some point, the political tables will turn and an up-or-down vote will seem all the more palatable to many of those who currently oppose Bush's idea.

Most Senate traditions are grand, and when possible, they ought be preserved. But that's no excuse for letting politics turn the Federalist Papers into the funny pages.

From: Griffin, William T.
To: <Snee, Ashley>;<Stanzel, Scott>;<Mamo, Jeanie S.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/18/2003 5:23:12 PM
Subject: ESTRADA EDITORIAL FROM SIOUX FALLS ARGUS LEADER

ARGUS LEADER (Sioux Falls, SD)

Estrada deserves full Senate vote

Editorial Board

Argus Leader

published: 3/18/2003

It's time for a Senate vote on federal appeals court nominee Miguel Estrada.

Twice, the Senate has failed to stop a filibuster, which is preventing that vote and dividing our nation.

Both sides must compromise.

Democrats say they want to ask Estrada more questions and have access to his working papers from the time he was in the Justice Department.

Estrada already has been quizzed by the Senate Judiciary Committee, so there seems little need. But if that's what it takes to get a vote, then do it. Democrats must ask the specific questions - in writing, if that is how it must be done - and the Bush administration must turn over those papers.

Do that, and there no longer will be an excuse for the filibuster.

But let's not kid ourselves about what really is going on. Democrats don't want Estrada on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. They say that he's too conservative. Say that he opposes abortion. Say whatever you want - most Democrats in the Senate don't want him.

They also know that if the nomination goes to the floor, Estrada will win.

The filibuster is the only way to stall that and maybe force the Bush administration into sending over a different nominee.

We've had enough of that.

Get the questions out in the open and ask them. Estrada should answer them.

And then, let's get on with the vote.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Benjamin A. Powell>;Kyle Sampson/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>;Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jennifer G. Newstead>;David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Noel J. Francisco>;H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <H. Christopher Bartolomucci>;Helgard C. Walker/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Helgard C. Walker>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 3/18/2003 1:36:49 PM
Subject: : AP story on Judicial Conference request for new judgeships and support for judiciary element of President's plan

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:18-MAR-2003 18:36:49.00
SUBJECT:: AP story on Judicial Conference request for new judgeships and support for judiciary element of President's plan
TO:Benjamin A. Powell ( CN=Benjamin A. Powell/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Kyle Sampson ( CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jennifer G. Newstead ( CN=Jennifer G. Newstead/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Noel J. Francisco ( CN=Noel J. Francisco/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:H. Christopher Bartolomucci ( CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Helgard C. Walker ( CN=Helgard C. Walker/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales ( CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Congress Urged to Expand Federal Courts

The Associated Press
Tuesday, March 18, 2003; 4:43 PM
The governing body for the federal courts urged Congress Tuesday to create more judgeships to relieve crowded dockets.
The Judicial Conference of the United States recommended the addition of 11 appeals court judges and 46 district court judges, with California, Florida and New York picking up the most.
Congress voted last fall to create 15 new district judgeships, but the last time appeals courts were expanded was 1990. There are about 850 district and appeals court judges, and caseloads have increased more than 30 percent since 1990.
Also Tuesday, the Judicial Conference, which is headed by Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist, rejected a plan to require the stationing of officers in federal courtrooms for non-criminal hearings.
Judge Carolyn King, chief judge of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans, said concern about cost killed the plan.
The Judicial Conference also voted to urge district and appeals court judges to give advance notice of retirement. President Bush proposed last year that judges give at least a year's notice of retirement if possible, as one solution for the logjam over federal judicial nominees.
"Judges think it's a reasonable request," King said.
```

From:	Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To:	<Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Walker, Helgard C.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent:	3/18/2003 6:30:05 PM
Subject:	AP story on Judicial Conference request for new judgeships and support for judiciary element of President's plan

Congress Urged to Expand Federal Courts

The Associated Press

Tuesday, March 18, 2003; 4:43 PM

The governing body for the federal courts urged Congress Tuesday to create more judgeships to relieve crowded dockets.

The Judicial Conference of the United States recommended the addition of 11 appeals court judges and 46 district court judges, with California, Florida and New York picking up the most.

Congress voted last fall to create 15 new district judgeships, but the last time appeals courts were expanded was 1990. There are about 850 district and appeals court judges, and caseloads have increased more than 30 percent since 1990.

Also Tuesday, the Judicial Conference, which is headed by Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist, rejected a plan to require the stationing of officers in federal courtrooms for non-criminal hearings.

Judge Carolyn King, chief judge of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans, said concern about cost killed the plan.

The Judicial Conference also voted to urge district and appeals court judges to give advance notice of retirement. President Bush proposed last year that judges give at least a year's notice of retirement if possible, as one solution for the logjam over federal judicial nominees.

"Judges think it's a reasonable request," King said.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Snee, Ashley>
Sent: 3/18/2003 6:32:52 PM
Subject: should we have short Presidential written statement on their support for judiciary element of President's plan?

http://www.uscourts.gov/Press_Releases/303judconf.pdf

From: Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary) <Stephen_Higgins@Judiciary.senate.gov>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/18/2003 2:45:18 PM
Subject: : RE:

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary)" <Stephen_Higgins@Judiciary.senate.gov> ("Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary)" <Stephen_Higgins@Judiciary.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:18-MAR-2003 19:45:18.00
SUBJECT:: RE:
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

So so.

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Tuesday, March 18, 2003 7:35 PM
To: Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary)
Subject: Re:

how did it go?

(Embedded
image moved "Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary)" to file: <Stephen_Higgins@Judiciary.senate.gov> pic27109.pcx) 03/14/2003 04:31:22 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject:

Any word?

From: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
To: <Rooney, Annette E.>;<Dorn, Nancy>;<Cleveland, Robin>;<Perry, Philip J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Bellinger, John B.>
Sent: 3/18/2003 6:50:57 PM
Subject: Vestewig, Lauren J.RE: Compensation for Victims of Terrorism

Nancy -- given some of our recent discussions regarding frozen assets, I think we need to review and edit this draft with a view to having our own proposal pretty soon.

Last I looked the State proposal was too far leaning for us, but I agree we need to put something on paper that we can live with.

-----Original Message-----

From: Rooney, Annette E.

Sent: Tuesday, March 18, 2003 6:17 PM

To: Lefkowitz, Jay P.; Dorn, Nancy; Cleveland, Robin; Perry, Philip J.; Kavanaugh, Brett M.

Cc: Vestewig, Lauren J.; Carson, Karyn T.; Wood, John F.; Lobrano, Lauren C.; Jukes, James J.; Bent, Rodney G.; Kulikowski, James M.; Pipan, Joseph G.; Powell, Benjamin; Burnim, John D.; Green, Richard E.

Subject: Compensation for Victims of Terrorism

Attached is a copy of a letter from Secretary Powell to Director Daniels on State's legislative proposal to compensate US victims of international terrorism. The letter urges completion of interagency review of the proposal. This proposal was submitted as part of State's Foreign Relations Authorization bill. Per guidance within EXOP, we advised State that the proposal was on hold and that State's Legal Advisor should pursue with Jay Lefkowitz.

We are close to final clearance of State's Authorization bill in anticipation of a House International Relations Committee markup possibly next week.

<< File: Powell ltr -Victims Compensation.PDF >>

From: Benczkowski, Brian A <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/19/2003 6:08:33 AM
Subject: : RE: quick question

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Benczkowski, Brian A" <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> ("Benczkowski, Brian A"
<Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:19-MAR-2003 11:08:33.00
SUBJECT:: RE: quick question
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

we are adding Kleindeist. Should be done shortly.

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 10:59 AM
To: Benczkowski, Brian A
Subject: RE: quick question

have you completed that other doc from yesterday?

(Embedded image moved "Benczkowski, Brian A" to file: <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> pic07315.pcx) 03/19/2003 10:37:50 AM

Record Type: Record

To: "'Miranda, Manuel (Frist)'" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>, Brett
M.
Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject: RE: quick question

Looks like ours.

-----Original Message-----
From: Miranda, Manuel (Frist) [mailto:Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov]
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 10:36 AM
To: Benczkowski, Brian A; Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
Subject: quick question

Was the attached produced by DOJ or the Committee?

From: CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 3/19/2003 4:27:01 AM
Subject: : TRANSCRIPT - Secretary Ridge on Today Show) NBC 03/19/03

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brian Bravo (CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:19-MAR-2003 09:27:01.00
SUBJECT:: TRANSCRIPT - Secretary Ridge on Today Show) NBC 03/19/03
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Secretary Ridge on Today Show) NBC 03/19/03

;

COURIC: The impending war with Iraq has the nation bracing for a possible terrorist backlash. Homeland Security Secretary Tom Ridge and his team have raised the terror threat level to orange or high.

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; Mr. Secretary, good morning.

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; RIDGE: Good morning, Katie.

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; COURIC: Can you give us any specific information in terms of what prompted you to raise the terror level? And are you picking up increased intelligence regarding some kind of possible terrorist attack against the United States?

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; RIDGE: Katie, over the past several weeks there's been an increased level, a volume of terrorist threats from quite a few sources. And as you know, over the past couple of weeks we've also detained some additional individuals who have helped corroborate some of these threats. Now, there's nothing specific to the United States, but they talk again and again about targeting U.S. interests, both within the United States and around the world. So that is the reason. It was the collective, universal opinion of the intelligence community that we should go to a higher level of threat around the country, and work with the governors and local law enforcement to enhance security around the country.

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; COURIC: How does it compare, Secretary Ridge, with the level of intelligence U.S. officials were picking up prior to, say, September 11?

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; RIDGE: It's difficult, Katie, to make that assessment simply because, as we continue to prosecute the war and we continue to work with our allies, we do get more and more information. And whether or not the increased volume deals with different threats or we're just picking up more information about the same threats remain to be seen. But it is clear that our successful prosecution of the war, our ability to interview detainees, the contribution of our allies and their effort as well, has given us access to more information.

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; Unfortunately, while we can corroborate and say it's credible, we still don't have the kind of specificity in terms of time and place, method and means that we'd obviously like. But, again, it was the universal decision of the community, the intelligence community, now is the time we go up. Bin Laden has talked about using a military involvement, incursion into Iraq as a rallying cry, so to orange we went.

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; COURIC: When you say no specificity, Mr. Secretary, I'm just curious. I mean, are the conversations in general terms? They never talk about a particularly targeted area or even a country?

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; RIDGE: They do pick up some information about countries and they do pick up information about sectors, and you and I have had conversations about everything from transportation and energy to soft targets. But as we take a look around this wonderful country to see how diverse our economy is, how large we are, how open we are, I think if you went back over the past year and we took a look at the intelligence reports, in general terms there's probably not too much they haven't talked about with regard to the United States of America.

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; COURIC: Are you worried less about an orchestrated, well planned out effort and more about, perhaps, a lone suicide bomber going into a crowded area?

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; RIDGE: Katie, the concern that we have and one of the reasons we raised the threat level this time is, again, the principal agent of terror that we're concerned with is Al Qaida, but there are potentially Iraqi agents or surrogates. But I think in the back of our minds, as we witnessed around the world, the possibility of that lone wolf, that individual suicide bomber or that individual terrorist, certainly still lurks in the mind not just of those of us in Washington, but of local law enforcement as well.

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; COURIC: Meanwhile, Secretary Ridge, as you well know, you're getting a little push-back this time from states and cities who are saying, ``Listen, we just cannot afford the measures that you're suggesting.'' I know that New York City alone is spending an estimated $5 million every week to protect the city. You'll be meeting later with Mayor Bloomberg. What will you tell him because many state and local officials are saying, ``We need money. We need support from the federal government. And P.S.; that money was promised to us and never delivered.''

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; RIDGE: First of all, when I spoke with the governors a couple of nights ago, they all understood that we have to improve security and I think they've all undertaken a very robust and broad-ranging group of security precautions. Secondly, the president has said that he would ask for a supplemental. There will be a homeland security piece of that supplemental. And thirdly, we look forward to the opportunity to see Mayor Bloomberg. We're in constant communication with the mayor, Chief Kelly. We understand completely that during these very difficult times, financial times as well, for the mayors and the governors, we understand their predicament and...

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; COURIC: When do you think they'll get more money, Mr. Secretary?

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; RIDGE: Well, I think it really depends on when the decision is made to ask for the supplemental and it'll be forthcoming. But I must tell you, Katie, that we now have out applications for in excess of $1 billion to the states and the locals, for law enforcement and first-responders. We'll put another $1 billion out that was appropriated by the Congress. So in due time there will be about $3 billion available to the governors and the mayors to help them shore up their efforts to make America more secure.

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; COURIC: All right. Homeland Security Secretary Tom Ridge. Secretary Ridge, as always, thanks so much for your time.

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; RIDGE: Katie, nice joining you. Thank you very much.

;;;;;;;;;;; ;; END

;;;;;;;;;;;

;

From: Kate Walters <kate@georgewbush.com>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/19/2003 5:17:24 AM
Subject: : FW: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB
Attachments: P_IU6TE003_WHO.TXT_1.htm; P_IU6TE003_WHO.TXT_2.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Kate Walters <kate@georgewbush.com> (Kate Walters <kate@georgewbush.com> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:19-MAR-2003 10:17:24.00
SUBJECT:: FW: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

FW: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOBBrett- The RNC would like their crew to tape Sec. Evans' remarks to a group of Women in small Business in the EEOB today. Are you ok?

-----Original Message-----
From: Ken Mehlman [mailto:kmehlman@georgewbush.com]
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 10:05 AM
To: Kate Walters
Subject: FW: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB

Make sure that this is ok with Brett.

-----Original Message-----
From: Jim Dyke - Communications [mailto:JDyke@rnchq.org]
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 8:30 AM
To: Ken Mehlman
Subject: FW: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB

would like for goptv to tape evans remarks this afternoon to women small bus. are you ok with that? if so i will have them proceed through normal channels to get there, as they have in the past.

-----Original Message-----
From: TFrancis@doc.gov [mailto:TFrancis@doc.gov]
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 7:57 AM
To: Jim Dyke - Communications
Subject: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB

(See attached file: WBE Remarks 03-19-03.doc)

- att1.htm - WBE Remarks 03-19-03.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_IU6TE003_WHO.TXT_1>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_IU6TE003_WHO.TXT_2>

Brett- The RNC would like their crew to tape Sec . Evans' remarks to a group of Women in small Business in the EEOB today. Are you ok?

-----Original Message-----
From: Ken Mehlman [mailto:kmehlman@georgewbush.com]
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 10:05 AM
To: Kate Walters
Subject: FW: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB

Make sure that this is ok with Brett.

-----Original Message-----
From: Jim Dyke - Communications [mailto:JDyke@rnchq.org]
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 8:30 AM
To: Ken Mehlman
Subject: FW: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB

would like for goptv to tape evans remarks this afternoon to women small bus. are you ok with that? if s o i will have them proceed through normal channels to get there, as they have in the past.

-----Original Message-----
From: TFrancis@doc.gov [mailto:TFrancis@doc.gov]
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 7:57 AM
To: Jim Dyke - Communications
Subject: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB

(See attached file: WBE Remarks 03-19-03.doc)

Women's Business Enterprise National Council
Secretary of Commerce Don Evans
March 19, 2003

Thank you. I'm pleased to join Susan in welcoming you this afternoon.

This is a defining moment in our history. We're confronting grave challenges to our economic security, our homeland security, and our national security.

Dwight Eisenhower, for whom this building is named, once said, "The opportunist thinks of me and today. The statesman thinks of us and tomorrow."

As with President Eisenhower, we're blessed with a president who is also a statesman. I've known President Bush for many years.

I trust his judgment and his leadership. He's the right person to lead America at this time.

He's fully committed to doing whatever must be done to protect freedom and our way of life.

I want to thank Susan for that kind introduction. I've been serving President Bush for about two years now. Events like this are one of the great privileges of my job.

As Susan said, I spent 26 years in the private sector. I knew both the triumphs, and the trials, of meeting a payroll.

And there's nothing I like better than celebrating the successes of our free enterprise system.

So, to the millions of women who own and run companies I say thank you.

To the millions who've contributed over $3.6 trillion to our economy last year, you have our thanks. And to all of you who, together, employed more than 27 million workers my message is this: thank you for taking risks, following your hearts, and trusting in the American dream.

It's an optimism and belief that President Bush and I share with you.

The President and I met in Midland, Texas, where we worked and raised our families.

There's a sign on the way into Midland that reads, "Sky's the Limit." They're words to live by.

Setting our sights high is the American way. And we certainly see that when it comes to the role that women entrepreneurs play in strengthening our economy.

We know that the number of women-owned firms with 100 or more employees jumped 44 percent between 1997 and 2000.

The number with $1 million or more in revenues was up 32 percent.

And the number of women-owned businesses grew at twice the rate of all new U.S. firms.

So to the eight corporations being honored here for their leadership and for their astute buying habits, I say, way to go!!

You not only got a good deal and a highly competitive product or service you also put people to work. We thank you for that.

And I'm pleased to say that women-owned business also are very much on the radar screen at the Commerce Department.

Last year we awarded 10.5 percent of total procurement dollars to women-owned businesses.

This is double the government-wide goal of 5 percent and five times greater than the government-wide average of 2 percent.

The fact is we all have a responsibility to make sure the economy is strong so people can find work.

That's what the President's jobs and growth plan is all about. I've been spending a lot of time traveling across the country, talking to working people about the President's tax relief plan. I haven't had one person yet say, "Don't cut my taxes."

Small business owners are especially enthusiastic about the plan. As you know, many of them pay taxes at the highest marginal tax rates.

I visited Heavenly Cheesecakes in Georgia last month. A husband and wife own this small company. They told me that reducing tax rates will give them more money to invest or hire.

And tripling the capital equipment investment credit to $75,000 will provide greater incentives for them, and for other small businesses, to make investments on which our economy depends.

Somebody has to make the new equipment they will buy. And that means a company has work and people have jobs.

The President also is asking Congress to permanently end the death tax ... to phase out the marriage penalty ... to raise the child credit from $600 to $1,000 ... and to get rid of the double taxation of dividends.

In a column in the Washington Post last week, Charles Schwab, said that the impact of eliminating the double taxation of dividends would be enormous.

In the short term, he wrote, he'd expect to see the stock market rise 10 to 15 percent, sending an immediate bolt of confidence throughout the economy.

Over the long term, he said, corporations would again focus on returning money to their investors.

The President's proposal is a good plan, a bold plan. It's aimed directly at stimulating the economy and creating new American jobs.

We're hopeful that Congress will act soon so workers and entrepreneurs will have more of their own money to spend and to budget for this year and the next and the next.

I know in talking about legislation, I've gone against the advice of John Adams, whose biography I recently read.

In a letter to his wife Abigail, he said, "I must not write a word to you about politics, because you are a woman." I know she had something to say about that!

And I'm sure she'd be pleased, but not surprised, by the multiple roles women play today in the political and economic life of 21st century America.

This Administration is eager to work with you to ensure our economy is strong and growing, and that the dreams of every entrepreneur are nourished. That's what we're working on.

President Bush once noted that it's the collective dreams of American entrepreneurs that define our future. I want to thank all of you for living out the Midland motto: "Sky's the limit!"

We're facing grave threats to our national security. So, let me share a few thoughts about the President's leadership.

President Bush fully understands his responsibilities as Commander-in-Chief.

He takes comfort in Faith and the thoughtful prayers of millions of people.

He trusts his national security team.

He trusts those serving in uniform.

He trusts his instincts and the wisdom of those advising him.

He trusts and has unshakable confidence in the American people.

And, on the solid basis of the decades I've known our President, I tell each of you today that our country, under his leadership, will not only beat back any threats to our freedom and security but we'll transcend our present difficulties and, by building a stronger, fairer, more prosperous society we'll all write a bold new chapter in the American story.

Friends, make no mistake, whatever troubles this week, month, or year should bring, with God's help, our march forward continues and during an age of great dangers the triumph of American world leadership is assured.

Thank you and God bless you.

###

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: kate@georgewbush.com [OMB] <kate@georgewbush.com>
Sent: 3/19/2003 5:32:37 AM
Subject: : Re: FW: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB
Attachments: P_F98TE003_WHO.TXT_1.htm; P_F98TE003_WHO.TXT_2.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:19-MAR-2003 10:32:37.00
SUBJECT:: Re: FW: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB
TO:kate@georgewbush.com (kate@georgewbush.com [OMB])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Approved.

Kate Walters <kate@georgewbush.com>
03/19/2003 10:37:45 AM
Please respond to kate@georgewbush.com
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: FW: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB

FW: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOBBrett- The RNC would like their crew to tape Sec. Evans' remarks to a group of Women in small Business in the EEOB today. Are you ok?

-----Original Message-----
From: Ken Mehlman [mailto:kmehlman@georgewbush.com]
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 10:05 AM
To: Kate Walters
Subject: FW: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB

Make sure that this is ok with Brett.

-----Original Message-----
From: Jim Dyke - Communications [mailto:JDyke@rnchq.org]
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 8:30 AM
To: Ken Mehlman
Subject: FW: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB

would like for goptv to tape evans remarks this afternoon to women small bus. are you ok with that? if so i will have them proceed through normal channels to get there, as they have in the past.

-----Original Message-----
From: TFrancis@doc.gov [mailto:TFrancis@doc.gov]
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 7:57 AM
To: Jim Dyke - Communications
Subject: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB

(See attached file: WBE Remarks 03-19-03.doc)

- att1.htm
- WBE Remarks 03-19-03.doc

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_F98TE003_WHO.TXT_1>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_F98TE003_WHO.TXT_2>

Brett- The RNC would like their crew to tape Sec . Evans' remarks to a group of Women in small Business in the EEOB today. Are you ok?

-----Original Message-----
From: Ken Mehlman [mailto:kmehlman@georgewbush.com]
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 10:05 AM
To: Kate Walters
Subject: FW: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB

Make sure that this is ok with Brett.

-----Original Message-----
From: Jim Dyke - Communications [mailto:JDyke@rnchq.org]
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 8:30 AM
To: Ken Mehlman
Subject: FW: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB

would like for goptv to tape evans remarks this afternoon to women small bus. are you ok with that? if s o i will have them proceed through normal channels to get there, as they have in the past.

-----Original Message-----
From: TFrancis@doc.gov [mailto:TFrancis@doc.gov]
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 7:57 AM
To: Jim Dyke - Communications
Subject: Final remarks-delivered at 5:00 in OEOB

(See attached file: WBE Remarks 03-19-03.doc)

Women's Business Enterprise National Council
Secretary of Commerce Don Evans
March 19, 2003

Thank you. I'm pleased to join Susan in welcoming you this afternoon.

This is a defining moment in our history. We're confronting grave challenges to our economic security, our homeland security, and our national security.

Dwight Eisenhower, for whom this building is named, once said, "The opportunist thinks of me and today. The statesman thinks of us and tomorrow."

As with President Eisenhower, we're blessed with a president who is also a statesman. I've known President Bush for many years.

I trust his judgment and his leadership. He's the right person to lead America at this time.

He's fully committed to doing whatever must be done to protect freedom and our way of life.

I want to thank Susan for that kind introduction. I've been serving President Bush for about two years now. Events like this are one of the great privileges of my job.

As Susan said, I spent 26 years in the private sector. I knew both the triumphs, and the trials, of meeting a payroll.

And there's nothing I like better than celebrating the successes of our free enterprise system.

So, to the millions of women who own and run companies I say thank you.

To the millions who've contributed over $3.6 trillion to our economy last year, you have our thanks. And to all of you who, together, employed more than 27 million workers my message is this: thank you for taking risks, following your hearts, and trusting in the American dream.

It's an optimism and belief that President Bush and I share with you.

The President and I met in Midland, Texas, where we worked and raised our families.

There's a sign on the way into Midland that reads, "Sky's the Limit." They're words to live by.

Setting our sights high is the American way. And we certainly see that when it comes to the role that women entrepreneurs play in strengthening our economy.

We know that the number of women-owned firms with 100 or more employees jumped 44 percent between 1997 and 2000.

The number with $1 million or more in revenues was up 32 percent.

And the number of women-owned businesses grew at twice the rate of all new U.S. firms.

So to the eight corporations being honored here for their leadership and for their astute buying habits, I say, way to go!!

You not only got a good deal and a highly competitive product or service you also put people to work. We thank you for that.

And I'm pleased to say that women-owned business also are very much on the radar screen at the Commerce Department.

Last year we awarded 10.5 percent of total procurement dollars to women-owned businesses.

This is double the government-wide goal of 5 percent and five times greater than the government-wide average of 2 percent.

The fact is we all have a responsibility to make sure the economy is strong so people can find work.

That's what the President's jobs and growth plan is all about. I've been spending a lot of time traveling across the country, talking to working people about the President's tax relief plan. I haven't had one person yet say, "Don't cut my taxes."

Small business owners are especially enthusiastic about the plan. As you know, many of them pay taxes at the highest marginal tax rates.

I visited Heavenly Cheesecakes in Georgia last month. A husband and wife own this small company. They told me that reducing tax rates will give them more money to invest or hire.

And tripling the capital equipment investment credit to $75,000 will provide greater incentives for them, and for other small businesses, to make investments on which our economy depends.

Somebody has to make the new equipment they will buy. And that means a company has work and people have jobs.

The President also is asking Congress to permanently end the death tax ... to phase out the marriage penalty ... to raise the child credit from $600 to $1,000 ... and to get rid of the double taxation of dividends.

In a column in the Washington Post last week, Charles Schwab, said that the impact of eliminating the double taxation of dividends would be enormous.

In the short term, he wrote, he'd expect to see the stock market rise 10 to 15 percent, sending an immediate bolt of confidence throughout the economy.

Over the long term, he said, corporations would again focus on returning money to their investors.

The President's proposal is a good plan, a bold plan. It's aimed directly at stimulating the economy and creating new American jobs.

We're hopeful that Congress will act soon so workers and entrepreneurs will have more of their own money to spend and to budget for this year and the next and the next.

I know in talking about legislation, I've gone against the advice of John Adams, whose biography I recently read.

In a letter to his wife Abigail, he said, "I must not write a word to you about politics, because you are a woman." I know she had something to say about that!

And I'm sure she'd be pleased, but not surprised, by the multiple roles women play today in the political and economic life of 21st century America.

This Administration is eager to work with you to ensure our economy is strong and growing, and that the dreams of every entrepreneur are nourished. That's what we're working on.

President Bush once noted that it's the collective dreams of American entrepreneurs that define our future. I want to thank all of you for living out the Midland motto: "Sky's the limit!"

We're facing grave threats to our national security. So, let me share a few thoughts about the President's leadership.

President Bush fully understands his responsibilities as Commander-in-Chief.

He takes comfort in Faith and the thoughtful prayers of millions of people.

He trusts his national security team.

He trusts those serving in uniform.

He trusts his instincts and the wisdom of those advising him.

He trusts and has unshakable confidence in the American people.

And, on the solid basis of the decades I've known our President, I tell each of you today that our country, under his leadership, will not only beat back any threats to our freedom and security but we'll transcend our present difficulties and, by building a stronger, fairer, more prosperous society we'll all write a bold new chapter in the American story.

Friends, make no mistake, whatever troubles this week, month, or year should bring, with God's help, our march forward continues and during an age of great dangers the triumph of American world leadership is assured.

Thank you and God bless you.

###

From: CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/19/2003 9:43:23 AM
Subject: : RE:

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Ashley Snee (CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:19-MAR-2003 14:43:23.00
SUBJECT:: RE:
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Yeah, absolutely. I was working with the web guys on this - that is the goal. Let's talk soon. I'll give you a call.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 2:34 PM
To: Snee, Ashley
Subject:

Can we think about making the web site an all-purpose a-to-z resource on judges that could be used by media, supporters, and others. Let's discuss at your convenience.

http://www.whitehouse.gov/infocus/judicialnominees/
<http://www.whitehouse.gov/infocus/judicialnominees/>

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Bennett, Melissa S.>
Sent: 3/19/2003 11:05:20 AM
Subject: event

The event and invitation are approved so long as Main Street does not accept corporate or foreign contributions for the event, his title is not used in the invitation, and he does not personally solicit funds. Apologies for delay.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: kmiec, douglas <kmiec@law.edu>;lleo@fed-soc.org [UNKNOWN] <lleo@fed-soc.org>;gaziano, todd <todd.gaziano@heritage.org>;miranda, manuel (frist) <manuel_miranda@frist.senate.gov>
Sent: 3/19/2003 12:12:31 PM
Subject: : Lincoln (Neb) Journal-Star editorial

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:19-MAR-2003 17:12:31.00
SUBJECT:: Lincoln (Neb) Journal-Star editorial
TO:"kmiec, douglas" <kmiec@law.edu> ( "kmiec, douglas" <kmiec@law.edu> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:lleo@fed-soc.org ( lleo@fed-soc.org [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"gaziano, todd" <todd.gaziano@heritage.org> ( "gaziano, todd"
<todd.gaziano@heritage.org> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"miranda, manuel (frist)" <manuel_miranda@frist.senate.gov> ( "miranda, manuel (frist)"
<manuel_miranda@frist.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

Confirmation process needs to be reformed

The U.S. Senate should reform the process by which it confirms nominees to the federal judiciary.

The current impasse over the nomination of Miguel Estrada is evidence of the partisan bottleneck that too often blocks the filling of important positions in the federal judiciary.

On Tuesday, Democrats for the third time held off a Republican attempt to break the filibuster that prevents Estrada's nomination from moving to a final vote.

Sen. Chuck Hagel was a member of the unbroken Republican bloc that voted to end the filibuster. Sen. Ben Nelson was one of only four Democrats who joined the Republicans.

The case is unusual in several respects. Appointments to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals seldom generate this much heat. A lower court nomination has never been blocked by filibuster. Also atypical is the use of a filibuster to force a nominee to provide information.

Senate Democrats believe Estrada is a stealth candidate with dangerously conservative views, quite possibly anti-abortion and anti-affirmative action. But Estrada has never taken a public stand on either of those controversial issues.

So Democrats want access to confidential memos Estrada wrote while he worked in the U.S. Justice Department. Every living U.S. solicitor general, whether Democrat or Republican, has written in opposition to the demand on the grounds the office deliberations must remain confidential in order its ability to vigorously defend U.S. interests.

Estrada emigrated from Honduras to the United States as a 17-year-old. By all accounts a brilliant legal mind, Estrada carved out a stellar career including a stint as a clerk at the U.S. Supreme Court and 15 appearances before the court as an attorney.

To give the Democrats their due, suspicions that Estrada is pro-life and conservative must have some basis in fact. Estrada might not have left a paper trail, but over the years colleagues undoubtedly learned his views.

But in recent decades U.S. Senators have become too accustomed to creating gridlock on judicial nominations. Republicans did it in the Clinton administration and Democrats are doing it now. "It's payback on top of payback on top of payback," complained freshman Sen. Mark Pryor, D-Ark.

Currently the Judicial Conference of the United States, which oversees administration of the courts, has declared 29 of the 55 judicial vacancies have been open so long they are "judicial emergencies."

What's needed is a process that sets timelines for hearings, committee votes and a vote on the Senate floor no matter who is in the White House. That might benefit Republicans now, but it would benefit Democrats the next time the balance of power switches in Washington.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Bumatay, Patrick J.>
Sent: 3/19/2003 2:02:06 PM
Subject: staffing

I should get the draft executive orders on Iraqi assets and classified information when they come through staffing. Thx.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: lleo@fed-soc.org [UNKNOWN] <lleo@fed-soc.org>;Miranda, Manuel (Frist) <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
CC: kmiec, douglas <kmiec@law.edu>;gaziano, todd <todd.gaziano@heritage.org>
Sent: 3/19/2003 10:09:03 AM
Subject: : please pass along to others

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:19-MAR-2003 15:09:03.00
SUBJECT:: please pass along to others
TO:lleo@fed-soc.org ( lleo@fed-soc.org [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> ( "Miranda, Manuel (Frist)"
<Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:"kmiec, douglas" <kmiec@law.edu> ( "kmiec, douglas" <kmiec@law.edu> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:"gaziano, todd" <todd.gaziano@heritage.org> ( "gaziano, todd" <todd.gaziano@heritage.org> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

The Dallas Morning News March 16, 2003

EDITORIAL: Let's change rules that hang up nominees

Senate rules are an important part of American political tradition, worthy of respect. Ditto for the constitutional process by which the Senate confirms federal judges. The abuse of one must not be allowed to undermine the other.

But that is precisely what is happening. No matter which party controls the Senate gavel, when it comes to confirming judges, those in power too often behave reprehensibly. Senators grandstand and play games. They distort nominees' records and views, misrepresent their positions, and malign them with words like "extremist." It is no wonder there is such a high number of judicial vacancies at the federal level.

It doesn't matter who runs the Senate or who the nominee happens to be. It's nothing personal. It's the system, a system that is flat broken. And, finally, last week, thank goodness, someone said so.

President Bush is justifiably upset at how Democrats have abused the filibuster to thwart the nomination of Miguel Estrada to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

Now the president proposes something drastic: amend the Senate rulebook to require that, no matter which party controls the White House or Senate, all federal judicial nominees get an up-or-down vote. The practical application would be to eliminate the filibuster with regard to judicial nominees.

Wow. It's not every day the president of the United States wants to tinker with Senate tradition going back nearly a hundred years. Thank goodness.

But the status quo is unacceptable. If Democrats have other ideas, let's hear them. If not, Americans should push the Senate to embrace Bush's suggestion. After all, at some point, the political tables will turn and an up-or-down vote will seem all the more palatable to many of those who currently oppose Bush's idea.

Most Senate traditions are grand, and when possible, they ought be preserved. But that's no excuse for letting politics turn the Federalist

Papers into the funny pages.

From: Bennett, Melissa S.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/19/2003 2:12:28 PM
Subject: RE: event

No problem.
Thanks.
Melissa

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 11:05 AM
To: Bennett, Melissa S.
Subject: event

The event and invitation are approved so long as Main Street does not accept corporate or foreign contributions for the event, his title is not used in the invitation, and he does not personally solicit funds. Apologies for delay.

From: Snee, Ashley
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/19/2003 2:43:16 PM
Subject: RE:

Yeah, absolutely. I was working with the web guys on this - that is the goal. Let's talk soon. I'll give you a call.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Wednesday, March 19, 2003 2:34 PM
To: Snee, Ashley
Subject:

Can we think about making the web site an all-purpose a-to-z resource on judges that could be used by media, supporters, and others. Let's discuss at your convenience.

http://www.whitehouse.gov/infocus/judicialnominees/

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Ken Mehlman/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Ken Mehlman>;Alicia W. Davis/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Alicia W. Davis>
Sent: 3/19/2003 11:51:09 AM
Subject: : Ehrlich??

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:19-MAR-2003 16:51:09.00
SUBJECT:: Ehrlich??
TO:Ken Mehlman (CN=Ken Mehlman/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alicia W. Davis (CN=Alicia W. Davis/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Ehrlich's Agenda Quickly Crumbling
Legislators Fault Ill-Prepared Aides, Not Politics

By Jo Becker and Lori Montgomery
Washington Post Staff Writers
Wednesday, March 19, 2003; Page B01

Maryland Gov. Robert L. Ehrlich Jr. took office in January with a promise to shake up state government. But with just 19 days to go in his first legislative session, most of the Republican governor's major initiatives have stalled -- or been substantially rewritten by the Democrats who control the General Assembly.

His far-reaching proposal to revolutionize public education by bringing more charter schools to Maryland, for example, died last week in a Senate committee. Yesterday, the full Senate passed a watered-down version favored by Democrats.

His initiative to aggressively prosecute gun crimes -- Project Exile -- is stuck in committee. Yesterday, the state's attorney who handles the vast majority of shootings boycotted a Project Exile "summit," saying Ehrlich's budget makes a mockery of the program by forcing her to fire nine prosecutors.

Ehrlich's plan to improve juvenile justice programs, a major part of his campaign for governor, is languishing in yet another committee. And his plan to legalize slot machines has been rewritten by the Senate.

As a Republican governor facing a Democratic-controlled legislature, Ehrlich expected to face partisan opposition. He recently won praise for his newfound willingness to compromise on taxes to solve the state's budget shortfall. And in an interview yesterday, Ehrlich said he is confident that his administration will "win more than we lose."

"This is divided government," he said. "We obviously are going to have some wins. We also are going to come up short."

But State House leaders say the problem goes far beyond differences in philosophy. Instead, they say, the new administration has proven to be remarkably lackadaisical about selling its ideas to lawmakers. Officials often show up for hearings unprepared to answer questions about their bills and fail to follow up, according to key Democratic lawmakers. Even those who share Ehrlich's goals say they have found him distracted and difficult to work with.

"It's just total lack of attention on their part. This isn't a process where you just wave a magic wand and the bill appears on the floor," said Sen. Brian E. Frosh (D-Montgomery), chairman of the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee.

Frosh's committee is reviewing Ehrlich's Project Exile proposal, which would increase penalties for felons caught carrying a gun and repeal a state law that allows a three-judge panel to reduce mandatory sentences for certain gun crimes.

Frosh said he has repeatedly asked the administration how often the panels actually cut sentences but hasn't gotten the answer.

Frosh is now considering amending the proposal to include gun control measures that the administration opposes, a plan that could force Ehrlich to veto his own bill. Ehrlich said he "would find that kind of political deal-making unfortunate."

Ehrlich made those comments at a summit intended to highlight the most important component of his Project Exile plan: an agreement by federal prosecutors to try local gun cases in Baltimore and Prince George's County to secure longer federal sentences for serious offenders. "This type of cooperation has been missing in the past," he declared.

Also missing was Baltimore State's Attorney Patricia C. Jessamy, the lead prosecutor in Maryland's most violent jurisdiction.

In a letter to Ehrlich, Jessamy said she could not "in good conscience participate in further public dialogue about reducing historic levels of gun violence in Baltimore" because Ehrlich's budget fell far short of her request and will force her to fire nine prosecutors. Ehrlich called Jessamy's absence "unfortunate"; aides pointed out that Ehrlich found $1 million to help Jessamy prosecute gun crimes despite a historic state budget shortfall.

While Ehrlich was at the summit, the Senate approved a bill aimed at increasing the number of charter schools in Maryland.

Though the bill, sponsored by Sen. Roy P. Dyson (D-St. Mary's), would accomplish Ehrlich's primary goal of providing a mechanism for charter schools to flourish, Dyson said he was told that the governor is considering a veto. Dyson's bill would allow school boards to approve a charter school, with an appeal to the state.

Ehrlich wants independent authorities, such as state universities, to be able to charter the publicly funded, independently run schools. And he wants to bar charter school teachers from joining the state teachers union.

The measure now moves to the House, where it faces stiff opposition from House Ways and Means Chairman Sheila Ellis Hixson (D-Montgomery), who killed similar legislation last year.

Dyson said he doesn't know why the administration isn't working with him. "He's not going to get a better deal," Dyson said. "I really think it's a now-or-never situation."

House Minority Whip Kenneth D. Schisler (R-Talbot) said Democrats are playing their usual games with the governor's bills. "There's a great tradition in the General Assembly of playing brinksmanship with major administrative proposals. I see no difference this year," he said.

But Senate Finance Committee Chairman Thomas McLain Middleton (D-Charles), who is holding Ehrlich's juvenile justice proposal while he waits for more information, said the administration is mired in the battle for slot machines and unable to focus on anything else.

"The governor's legislative package is what measures his success," Middleton said. "I have no desire to see this governor fall flat on his face. But he just can't take it for granted that a committee is going to love his legislation to death."

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Benjamin A. Powell>;Kyle Sampson/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>;Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jennifer G. Newstead>;David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Noel J. Francisco>;H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <H. Christopher Bartolomucci>;Helgard C. Walker/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Helgard C. Walker>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 3/19/2003 12:08:08 PM
Subject: : Lincoln (Neb) Journal Star editorial

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:19-MAR-2003 17:08:08.00
SUBJECT:: Lincoln (Neb) Journal Star editorial
TO:Benjamin A. Powell (CN=Benjamin A. Powell/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Kyle Sampson (CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jennifer G. Newstead (CN=Jennifer G. Newstead/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot (CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Noel J. Francisco (CN=Noel J. Francisco/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:H. Christopher Bartolomucci (CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Helgard C. Walker (CN=Helgard C. Walker/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales (CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Confirmation process needs to be reformed
The U.S. Senate should reform the process by which it confirms nominees to the federal judiciary.
The current impasse over the nomination of Miguel Estrada is evidence of the partisan bottleneck that too often blocks the filling of important positions in the federal judiciary.
On Tuesday, Democrats for the third time held off a Republican attempt to break the filibuster that prevents Estrada's nomination from moving to a final vote.
Sen. Chuck Hagel was a member of the unbroken Republican bloc that voted to end the filibuster. Sen. Ben Nelson was one of only four Democrats who joined the Republicans.
The case is unusual in several respects. Appointments to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals seldom generate this much heat. A lower court nomination has never been blocked by filibuster. Also atypical is the use of a filibuster to force a nominee to provide information.
Senate Democrats believe Estrada is a stealth candidate with dangerously conservative views, quite possibly anti-abortion and anti-affirmative action. But Estrada has never taken a public stand on either of those controversial issues.
So Democrats want access to confidential memos Estrada wrote while he worked in the U.S. Justice Department. Every living U.S. solicitor general, whether Democrat or Republican, has written in opposition to the demand on the grounds the office deliberations must remain confidential in order its ability to vigorously defend U.S. interests.
Estrada emigrated from Honduras to the United States as a 17-year-old. By all accounts a brilliant legal mind, Estrada carved out a stellar career including a stint as a clerk at the U.S. Supreme Court and 15 appearances before the court as an attorney.

To give the Democrats their due, suspicions that Estrada is pro-life and conservative must have some basis in fact. Estrada might not have left a paper trail, but over the years colleagues undoubtedly learned his views.

But in recent decades U.S. Senators have become too accustomed to creating gridlock on judicial nominations. Republicans did it in the Clinton administration and Democrats are doing it now. "It's payback on top of payback on top of payback," complained freshman Sen. Mark Pryor, D-Ark. Currently the Judicial Conference of the United States, which oversees administration of the courts, has declared 29 of the 55 judicial vacancies have been open so long they are "judicial emergencies."

What's needed is a process that sets timelines for hearings, committee votes and a vote on the Senate floor no matter who is in the White House. That might benefit Republicans now, but it would benefit Democrats the next time the balance of power switches in Washington.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: kmiec, douglas <kmiec@law.edu>;lleo@fed-soc.org [UNKNOWN] <lleo@fed-soc.org>;gaziano, todd <todd.gaziano@heritage.org>;miranda, manuel (frist) <manuel_miranda@frist.senate.gov>
Sent: 3/19/2003 12:17:39 PM
Subject: : SE Missourian editorial

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:19-MAR-2003 17:17:39.00
SUBJECT:: SE Missourian editorial
TO:"kmiec, douglas" <kmiec@law.edu> ( "kmiec, douglas" <kmiec@law.edu> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:lleo@fed-soc.org ( lleo@fed-soc.org [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"gaziano, todd" <todd.gaziano@heritage.org> ( "gaziano, todd"
<todd.gaziano@heritage.org> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"miranda, manuel (frist)" <manuel_miranda@frist.senate.gov> ( "miranda, manuel (frist)"
<manuel_miranda@frist.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

Senate Shows Its Worst Side in Filibuster

In this day of partisan politics, when any issue can be used to stake out a political position, there continue to be disappointments as well as a few surprises.

The most apparent disappointment is the U.S. Senate's handling of federal judicial nominations. Disruptive stalling tactics are not new, and both Republicans and Democrats have used this ploy on a number of occasions. Essentially, playing politics trumps attending to the government's business when elected officials choose to delay -- and, occasionally, to thwart -- judicial nominations. The Constitution calls for the president to nominate qualified individuals to serve as federal judges, and it gives the Senate the right to question the nominees and the duty to confirm them.

No one is questioning this process. It makes sense for the Senate to provide the checks and balances against the unlikely event that any president would choose to put someone on the bench who is unfit. But if that were to occur -- and there certainly have been questionable appointments from time to time -- the proper course of action would be to reject the nominee in a vote on the floor of the Senate.

But this is where it gets sticky. If the U.S. Senate were to vote today on President Bush's nomination to make Miguel Estrada the first Hispanic to sit on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, there would be enough votes for confirmation.

However, the Senate split between Republicans and Democrats remains so close that a GOP majority can often be achieved only by having the vice president exercise his tie-breaking authority as president of the Senate. So the Democrats -- as Republicans have done in the past -- are utilizing other methods that rely on the complex rules legislative bodies impose on themselves. In the case of the Estrada nomination, Democrats are filibustering to prevent a floor vote. While the floor vote requires only a simple majority, ending a filibuster requires a super-majority of 60 votes. So far, Republicans have been able to muster only 55 votes to end the filibuster.

President Bush has called for the Senate to change its rules so judicial nominations can get be processed in a timely way by the Senate. Some senators over the years have suggested similar changes. But changing the Senate's rules is no easy task. Through more than two centuries of parliamentary maneuvering, such rules have become a labyrinth that at any time is seen to give certain advantages to both sides of any issue.

At the heart of the Democratic balk on the Estrada nomination, however, is a fallacy. The Democratic leadership says Estrada hasn't answered questions. In fact, the Democrats have passed up opportunities to ask those questions. Now the Democrats want the White House to release memorandums Estrada wrote while working in the solicitor general's office during the Clinton administration. The White House says these are privileged documents.

In the end, those who hide behind rules to avoid taking a clear position for or against judicial nominees are doing the country no favors.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Walker, Helgard C.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent: 3/19/2003 5:02:27 PM
Subject: Lincoln (Neb) Journal Star editorial

Confirmation process needs to be reformed

The U.S. Senate should reform the process by which it confirms nominees to the federal judiciary.

The current impasse over the nomination of Miguel Estrada is evidence of the partisan bottleneck that too often blocks the filling of important positions in the federal judiciary.

On Tuesday, Democrats for the third time held off a Republican attempt to break the filibuster that prevents Estrada's nomination from moving to a final vote.

Sen. Chuck Hagel was a member of the unbroken Republican bloc that voted to end the filibuster. Sen. Ben Nelson was one of only four Democrats who joined the Republicans.

The case is unusual in several respects. Appointments to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals seldom generate this much heat. A lower court nomination has never been blocked by filibuster. Also atypical is the use of a filibuster to force a nominee to provide information.

Senate Democrats believe Estrada is a stealth candidate with dangerously conservative views, quite possibly anti-abortion and anti-affirmative action. But Estrada has never taken a public stand on either of those controversial issues.

So Democrats want access to confidential memos Estrada wrote while he worked in the U.S. Justice Department. Every living U.S. solicitor general, whether Democrat or Republican, has written in opposition to the demand on the grounds the office deliberations must remain confidential in order its ability to vigorously defend U.S. interests.

Estrada emigrated from Honduras to the United States as a 17-year-old. By all accounts a brilliant legal mind, Estrada carved out a stellar career including a stint as a clerk at the U.S. Supreme Court and 15 appearances before the court as an attorney.

To give the Democrats their due, suspicions that Estrada is pro-life and conservative must have some basis in fact. Estrada might not have left a paper trail, but over the years colleagues undoubtedly learned his views.

But in recent decades U.S. Senators have become too accustomed to creating gridlock on judicial nominations. Republicans did it in the Clinton administration and Democrats are doing it now. "It's payback on top of payback on top of payback," complained freshman Sen. Mark Pryor, D-Ark. Currently the Judicial Conference of the United States, which oversees administration of the courts, has declared 29 of the 55 judicial vacancies have been open so long they are "judicial emergencies."

What's needed is a process that sets timelines for hearings, committee votes and a vote on the Senate floor no matter who is in the White House. That might benefit Republicans now, but it would benefit Democrats the next time the balance of power switches in Washington.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Grubbs, Wendy J.>;<Snee, Ashley>;<Mamo, Jeanie S.>
Sent: 3/19/2003 5:03:42 PM
Subject: Lincoln (Neb) Journal Star editorial

Confirmation process needs to be reformed

The U.S. Senate should reform the process by which it confirms nominees to the federal judiciary.

The current impasse over the nomination of Miguel Estrada is evidence of the partisan bottleneck that too often blocks the filling of important positions in the federal judiciary.

On Tuesday, Democrats for the third time held off a Republican attempt to break the filibuster that prevents Estrada's nomination from moving to a final vote.

Sen. Chuck Hagel was a member of the unbroken Republican bloc that voted to end the filibuster. Sen. Ben Nelson was one of only four Democrats who joined the Republicans.

The case is unusual in several respects. Appointments to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals seldom generate this much heat. A lower court nomination has never been blocked by filibuster. Also atypical is the use of a filibuster to force a nominee to provide information.

Senate Democrats believe Estrada is a stealth candidate with dangerously conservative views, quite possibly anti-abortion and anti-affirmative action. But Estrada has never taken a public stand on either of those controversial issues.

So Democrats want access to confidential memos Estrada wrote while he worked in the U.S. Justice Department. Every living U.S. solicitor general, whether Democrat or Republican, has written in opposition to the demand on the grounds the office deliberations must remain confidential in order its ability to vigorously defend U.S. interests.

Estrada emigrated from Honduras to the United States as a 17-year-old. By all accounts a brilliant legal mind, Estrada carved out a stellar career including a stint as a clerk at the U.S. Supreme Court and 15 appearances before the court as an attorney.

To give the Democrats their due, suspicions that Estrada is pro-life and conservative must have some basis in fact. Estrada might not have left a paper trail, but over the years colleagues undoubtedly learned his views.

But in recent decades U.S. Senators have become too accustomed to creating gridlock on judicial nominations. Republicans did it in the Clinton administration and Democrats are doing it now. "It's payback on top of payback on top of payback," complained freshman Sen. Mark Pryor, D-Ark. Currently the Judicial Conference of the United States, which oversees administration of the courts, has declared 29 of the 55 judicial vacancies have been open so long they are "judicial emergencies."

What's needed is a process that sets timelines for hearings, committee votes and a vote on the Senate floor no matter who is in the White House. That might benefit Republicans now, but it would benefit Democrats the next time the balance of power switches in Washington.

Message Sent To:

Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP

David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP

Helgard C. Walker/WHO/EOP@EOP

Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP

H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO/EOP@EOP

Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP

Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP

Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP

Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Grubbs, Wendy J.>;<Snee, Ashley>;<Mamo, Jeanie S.>
Sent: 3/19/2003 5:05:16 PM
Subject: RESEND: Lincoln (Neb) Journal Star editorial

Confirmation process needs to be reformed

The U.S. Senate should reform the process by which it confirms nominees to the federal judiciary.

The current impasse over the nomination of Miguel Estrada is evidence of the partisan bottleneck that too often blocks the filling of important positions in the federal judiciary.

On Tuesday, Democrats for the third time held off a Republican attempt to break the filibuster that prevents Estrada's nomination from moving to a final vote.

Sen. Chuck Hagel was a member of the unbroken Republican bloc that voted to end the filibuster. Sen. Ben Nelson was one of only four Democrats who joined the Republicans.

The case is unusual in several respects. Appointments to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals seldom generate this much heat. A lower court nomination has never been blocked by filibuster. Also atypical is the use of a filibuster to force a nominee to provide information.

Senate Democrats believe Estrada is a stealth candidate with dangerously conservative views, quite possibly anti-abortion and anti-affirmative action. But Estrada has never taken a public stand on either of those controversial issues.

So Democrats want access to confidential memos Estrada wrote while he worked in the U.S. Justice Department. Every living U.S. solicitor general, whether Democrat or Republican, has written in opposition to the demand on the grounds the office deliberations must remain confidential in order its ability to vigorously defend U.S. interests.

Estrada emigrated from Honduras to the United States as a 17-year-old. By all accounts a brilliant legal mind, Estrada carved out a stellar career including a stint as a clerk at the U.S. Supreme Court and 15 appearances before the court as an attorney.

To give the Democrats their due, suspicions that Estrada is pro-life and conservative must have some basis in fact. Estrada might not have left a paper trail, but over the years colleagues undoubtedly learned his views.

But in recent decades U.S. Senators have become too accustomed to creating gridlock on judicial nominations. Republicans did it in the Clinton administration and Democrats are doing it now. "It's payback on top of payback on top of payback," complained freshman Sen. Mark Pryor, D-Ark. Currently the Judicial Conference of the United States, which oversees administration of the courts, has declared 29 of the 55 judicial vacancies have been open so long they are "judicial emergencies."

What's needed is a process that sets timelines for hearings, committee votes and a vote on the Senate floor no matter who is in the White House. That might benefit Republicans now, but it would benefit Democrats the next time the balance of power switches in Washington.

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/19/2003 5:13:50 PM
Subject:

You and I should talk about this when you have a minute:

http://www2.wlu.edu/news/page/normal/383.html

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: kenneth_starr@dc.kirkland.com @ inet [UNKNOWN] <kenneth_starr@dc.kirkland.com @ inet>
Sent: 3/19/2003 3:40:10 PM
Subject: : from ABA

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:19-MAR-2003 20:40:10.00
SUBJECT:: from ABA
TO:kenneth_starr@dc.kirkland.com @ inet ( kenneth_starr@dc.kirkland.com @ inet [ UNKNOWN ]
)
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

An Independent Judiciary
Report of the ABA Commission on Separation of Powers and Judicial Independence

The nomination and confirmation process is the one point at which the political branches may exercise a check on the composition and quality of the federal bench. To these ends, it is appropriate and desirable for members of the Senate and the President to explore the qualifications, character and judicial philosophy of would-be judges. Problems arise, however, when legitimate inquiries into a nominee's judicial philosophy degenerate into thinly veiled efforts to preordain how the nominee will rule on specific issues in the future. Such "litmus test" questions cut to the quick of would-be judges' decisional independence and are properly resisted by the nominees.
```

From: CN=Blake Gottesman/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/20/2003 3:22:15 AM
Subject: : can you pls call me re: quick work-related question when you get a chance? x6-1886. thanks.

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Blake Gottesman ( CN=Blake Gottesman/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 08:22:15.00
SUBJECT:: can you pls call me re: quick work-related question when you get a chance?
x6-1886. thanks.
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

;
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Helgard C. Walker/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Helgard C. Walker>
Sent: 3/20/2003 4:38:20 AM
Subject: : Re: SAVE THE DATE

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 09:38:20.00
SUBJECT:: Re: SAVE THE DATE
TO:Helgard C. Walker (CN=Helgard C. Walker/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

ok, just wondering why there are multiple emails if we already know all the info

Helgard C. Walker
03/20/2003 09:32:25 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: SAVE THE DATE

cuz you don't need to know location in order to SAVE THE DATE, just the date (and time)...

Brett M. Kavanaugh
03/20/2003 09:30:29 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Helgard C. Walker/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: SAVE THE DATE

just wondering why the place was not included in the initial e-mail

Helgard C. Walker
03/20/2003 09:28:54 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: SAVE THE DATE

he SAID more info to follow shortly...

it's at hay adams, off the record bar. does that meet with your approval?

:)

Brett M. Kavanaugh
03/20/2003 09:27:05 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Helgard C. Walker/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: SAVE THE DATE

where is it
---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 03/20/2003 09:31 AM ----------

From: Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/20/2003 09:29:27 AM
Record Type: Record

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
cc:
Subject: SAVE THE DATE

Please save next Thursday, March 27th from 6 - 8 pm for Helgi's going away party.; More information to follow very shortly...
;
Thanks

Message Sent
To:_____
H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO/EOP@EOP
Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP
Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP
Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP
Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP@EOP
Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP
Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP
Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
James W. Carroll/WHO/EOP@EOP
David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange
Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange
Charlotte L. Montiel/WHO/EOP@Exchange
Carolyn Nelson/WHO/EOP@Exchange
Jonathan F. Ganter/WHO/EOP@EOP
J. Elizabeth Farrell/WHO/EOP@EOP
Hana F. Brilliant/WHO/EOP@EOP
Allison L. Riepenhoff/WHO/EOP@EOP
John B. Bellinger/NSC/EOP@EOP
Courtney S. Elwood/OVP/EOP@EOP
David S. Addington/OVP/EOP@EOP
Edward McNally/WHO/EOP@EOP

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Walker, Helgard C.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent: 3/20/2003 8:50:30 AM
Subject: RE: letter

as discussed

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 03/20/2003 08:55 AM ----------

"Cohen, Bruce (Judiciary)"

03/18/2003 05:10:12 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc: jamie.e.brown@usdoj.gov

Subject: RE: letter

Thanks.

This is the first communication I can remember ever getting from you.

Whole new worlds are opening. bac

-----Original Message-----

From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov

[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]

Sent: Tuesday, March 18, 2003 4:37 PM

To: Cohen, Bruce (Judiciary)

Cc: jamie.e.brown@usdoj.gov

Subject: letter

Bruce:

I understand that you were seeking a copy of this 2/24 letter from

Judge

Gonzales, particularly the sentence at the end of the third paragraph.

Thanks

very much.

Brett

(See attached file: Gonzales letter to Sen. Schumer 2 24 03.pdf)

From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
To: <Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Everson, Nanette>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Carroll, James W.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Montiel, Charlotte L.>;<Nelson, Carolyn>;<Ganter, Jonathan F.>;<Farrell, J. Elizabeth>;<Brilliant, Hana F.>;<Riepenhoff, Allison L.>;<Bellinger, John B.>;<Elwood, Courtney S.>;<Addington, David S.>;<McNally, Edward>
Sent: 3/20/2003 9:29:27 AM
Subject: SAVE THE DATE

Please save next Thursday, March 27th from 6 - 8 pm for Helgi's going away party. More information to follow very shortly...

Thanks

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: patrick.philbin@usdoj.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <patrick.philbin@usdoj.gov @ inet>
Sent: 3/20/2003 6:13:41 AM
Subject: :
Attachments: P_7U2VE003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 11:13:41.00
SUBJECT::
TO:patrick.philbin@usdoj.gov @ inet ( patrick.philbin@usdoj.gov @ inet [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_7U2VE003_WHO.TXT_1>
```

TITLE II--TREATMENT OF TERRORIST ASSETS

SEC. 201. SATISFACTION OF JUDGMENTS FROM BLOCKED ASSETS OF TERRORISTS, TERRORIST ORGANIZATIONS, AND STATE SPONSORS OF TERRORISM.

(a) IN GENERAL- Notwithstanding any other provision of law, and except as provided in subsection (b), in every case in which a person has obtained a judgment against a terrorist party on a claim based upon an act of terrorism, or for which a terrorist party is not immune under section 1605(a)(7) of title 28, United States Code, the blocked assets of that terrorist party (including the blocked assets of any agency or instrumentality of that terrorist party) shall be subject to execution or attachment in aid of execution in order to satisfy such judgment to the extent of any compensatory damages for which such terrorist party has been adjudged liable.

(b) PRESIDENTIAL WAIVER-

(1) IN GENERAL- Subject to paragraph (2), upon determining on an asset-by-asset basis that a waiver is necessary in the national security interest, the President may waive the requirements of subsection (a) in connection with (and prior to the enforcement of) any judicial order directing attachment in aid of execution or execution against any property subject to the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations or the Vienna Convention on Consular Relations.

(2) EXCEPTION- A waiver under this subsection shall not apply to--

(A) property subject to the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations or the Vienna Convention on Consular Relations that has been used by the United States for any nondiplomatic purpose (including use as rental property), or the proceeds of such use; or

(B) the proceeds of any sale or transfer for value to a third party of any asset subject to the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations or the Vienna Convention on Consular Relations.

(c) SPECIAL RULE FOR CASES AGAINST IRAN- Section 2002 of the Victims of Trafficking and Violence Protection Act of 2000 (Public Law 106-386; 114 Stat. 1542), as amended by section 686 of Public Law 107-228, is further amended--

(1) in subsection (a)(2)(A)(ii), by striking `July 27, 2000, or January 16, 2002' and inserting `July 27, 2000, any other date before October 28, 2000, or January 16, 2002';

(2) in subsection (b)(2)(B), by inserting after `the date of enactment of this Act' the following: `(less amounts therein as to which the United States has an interest in subrogation pursuant to subsection (c) arising prior to the date of entry of the judgment or judgments to be satisfied in whole or in part hereunder)';

(3) by redesignating subsections (d), (e), and (f) as subsections (e), (f), and (g), respectively; and

(4) by inserting after subsection (c) the following new subsection (d):

`(d) DISTRIBUTION OF ACCOUNT BALANCES AND PROCEEDS INADEQUATE TO SATISFY FULL AMOUNT OF COMPENSATORY AWARDS AGAINST IRAN-

`(1) PRIOR JUDGMENTS-

`(A) IN GENERAL- In the event that the Secretary determines that 90 percent of the amounts available to be paid under subsection (b)(2) are inadequate to pay the total amount of compensatory damages awarded in judgments issued as of the date of the enactment of this subsection in cases identified in subsection (a)(2)(A) with respect to Iran, the Secretary shall, not later than 60 days after such date, make payment from such amounts available to be paid under subsection (b)(2) to each party to which such a judgment has been issued in an amount equal to a share, calculated under subparagraph (B), of 90 percent of the amounts available to be paid under subsection (b)(2) that have not been subrogated to the United States under this Act as of the date of enactment of this subsection.

`(B) CALCULATION OF PAYMENTS- The share that is payable to a person under subparagraph (A), including any person issued a final judgment as of the date of enactment of this subsection in a suit filed on a date added by the amendment made by section 686 of Public Law 107-228, shall be equal to the proportion that the amount of unpaid compensatory damages awarded in a final judgment issued to that person bears to the total amount of all unpaid compensatory damages awarded to all persons to whom such judgments have been issued as of the date of enactment of this subsection in cases identified in subsection (a)(2)(A) with respect to Iran.

`(2) SUBSEQUENT JUDGMENT-

`(A) IN GENERAL- The Secretary shall pay to any person awarded a final judgment after the date of enactment of this subsection, in the case filed on January 16, 2002, and identified in subsection (a)(2)(A) with respect to Iran, an amount equal to a share, calculated under subparagraph (B), of the balance of the amounts available to be paid under subsection (b)(2) that remain following the disbursement of all payments as provided by paragraph (1). The Secretary shall make such payment not later than 30 days after such judgment is awarded.

`(B) CALCULATION OF PAYMENTS- To the extent that funds are available, the amount paid under subparagraph (A) to such person shall be the amount the person would have been paid under paragraph (1) if the person had been awarded the judgment prior to the date of enactment of this subsection.

`(3) ADDITIONAL PAYMENTS-

`(A) IN GENERAL- Not later than 30 days after the disbursement of all payments under paragraphs (1) and (2), the Secretary shall make an additional payment to each person who received a payment under paragraph (1) or (2) in an amount equal to a share, calculated under subparagraph (B), of the balance of the amounts available to be paid under subsection (b)(2) that remain following the disbursement of all payments as provided by paragraphs (1) and (2).

`(B) CALCULATION OF PAYMENTS- The share payable under subparagraph (A) to each such person shall be equal to the proportion that the amount of compensatory damages awarded that person bears to the total amount of all compensatory damages awarded to all persons who received a payment under paragraph (1) or (2).

`(4) STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION- Nothing in this subsection shall bar, or require delay in, enforcement of any judgment to which this subsection applies under any procedure or against assets otherwise available under this section or under any other provision of law.

`(5) CERTAIN RIGHTS AND CLAIMS NOT RELINQUISHED- Any person receiving less than the full amount of compensatory damages awarded to that party in a judgment to which this subsection applies shall not be required to make the election set forth in subsection (a)(2)(B) or, with respect to subsection (a)(2)(D), the election relating to relinquishment of any right to execute or attach property that is subject to section 1610(f)(1)(A) of title 28, United States Code, except that such person shall be required to relinquish rights set forth--

`(A) in subsection (a)(2)(C); and

`(B) in subsection (a)(2)(D) with respect to enforcement against property that is at issue in claims against the United States before an international tribunal or that is the subject of awards by such tribunal.

`(6) GUIDELINES FOR ESTABLISHING CLAIMS OF A RIGHT TO PAYMENT- The Secretary may promulgate reasonable guidelines through which any person claiming a right to payment under this section may inform the Secretary of the basis for such claim, including by submitting a certified copy of the final judgment under which such right is claimed and by providing commercially reasonable payment instructions. The Secretary shall take all reasonable steps necessary to ensure, to the maximum extent practicable, that such guidelines shall not operate to delay or interfere with payment under this section.'.

(d) DEFINITIONS- In this section, the following definitions shall apply:

(1) ACT OF TERRORISM- The term `act of terrorism' means--

(A) any act or event certified under section 102(1); or

(B) to the extent not covered by subparagraph (A), any terrorist activity (as defined in section 212(a)(3)(B)(iii) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1182(a)(3)(B)(iii))).

(2) BLOCKED ASSET- The term `blocked asset' means--

(A) any asset seized or frozen by the United States under section 5(b) of the Trading With the Enemy Act (50 U.S.C. App. 5(b)) or under sections 202 and 203 of the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (50 U.S.C. 1701; 1702); and

(B) does not include property that--

(i) is subject to a license issued by the United States Government for final payment, transfer, or disposition by or to a person subject to the jurisdiction of the United States in connection with a transaction for which the issuance of such license has been specifically required by statute other than the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (50 U.S.C. 1701 et seq.) or the United Nations Participation Act of 1945 (22 U.S.C. 287 et seq.); or

(ii) in the case of property subject to the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations or the Vienna Convention on Consular Relations, or that enjoys equivalent privileges and immunities under the law of the United States, is being used exclusively for diplomatic or consular purposes.

(3) CERTAIN PROPERTY- The term `property subject to the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations or the Vienna Convention on Consular Relations' and the term `asset subject to the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations or the Vienna Convention on Consular Relations' mean any property or asset, respectively, the attachment in aid of execution or execution of which would result in a violation of an obligation of the United States under the Vienna Convention on Diplomatic Relations or the Vienna Convention on Consular Relations, as the case may be.

(4) TERRORIST PARTY- The term `terrorist party' means a terrorist, a terrorist organization (as defined in section 212(a)(3)(B)(vi) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1182(a)(3)(B)(vi))), or a foreign state designated as a state sponsor of terrorism under section 6(j) of the Export Administration Act of 1979 (50 U.S.C. App. 2405(j)) or section 620A of the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C. 2371).

From: Benczkowski, Brian A <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/20/2003 7:12:50 AM
Subject: : RE: will send draft letter to Sen. Boxer shortly

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Benczkowski, Brian A" <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> ( "Benczkowski, Brian A"
<Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 12:12:50.00
SUBJECT:: RE: will send draft letter to Sen. Boxer shortly
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

thanks. I'm sure it ill be most respectful.

I have asked our staff, per Ted's viocemail last night, to look for any Stabenow quotes which might be helpful.

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Thursday, March 20, 2003 12:03 PM
To: Charnes, Adam; Benczkowski, Brian A; Dinh, Viet Subject: will send draft letter to Sen. Boxer shortly
```

From: CN=Philip J. Perry/OU=OMB/O=EOP [OMB]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD /EOP@Exchange@EOP [OPD] <Jay P. Lefkowitz>
Sent: 3/20/2003 7:17:20 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Philip J. Perry ( CN=Philip J. Perry/OU=OMB/O=EOP [ OMB ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 12:17:20.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jay P. Lefkowitz ( CN=Jay P. Lefkowitz/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Nancy asked me to convey her continued opposition to mentioning anything about a compensation plan in tps re. the iraqi eo. She has also negotiated a slight change to the eo with Hadley to soften the relevant language a little bit.
```

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Bumatay, Patrick J.>;<Walker, Helgard C.>
Sent: 3/20/2003 11:40:27 AM
Subject: RE: docket

I know it will pain you so to give up HUD.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Thursday, March 20, 2003 10:24 AM
To: Bumatay, Patrick J.; Walker, Helgard C.; Leitch, David G.
Subject: docket

Consistent with the grand traditions of this office, I would like to trade HUD for Transportation with Ms. Walker's departure. This make some sense in any event because I have had involvement at times in various aviation and insurance issues.

From: CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Jamie.E.Brown@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN] <Jamie.E.Brown@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 3/20/2003 8:34:19 AM
Subject: : Re: Congressional Hispanic Caucus

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Wendy J. Grubbs ( CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 13:34:19.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Congressional Hispanic Caucus
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jamie.E.Brown@usdoj.gov ( Jamie.E.Brown@usdoj.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Should I see if mario db will set up a joint meeting after the heariing?

.
```

From: CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/20/2003 8:38:31 AM
Subject: : FW: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Patrick J. Bumatay (CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 13:38:31.00
SUBJECT:: FW: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

-----Original Message-----
From: Lobrano, Lauren C.
Sent: Thursday, March 20, 2003 1:24 PM
To: Pelletier, Eric C.; Smythe, Augustine T.; Foster, James D.; Silverberg, Kristen; Swagel, Phillip L.; Hennessey, Keith; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Burks, Jonathan W.
Cc: Douglas, Penny G.; Trinh, Catherine V.; Pannell, Anna K.; Allgood, Lauren K.; Lobrano, Lauren C.
Subject: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment
Importance: High

Attached is a letter from Sec. Snow and Steve Friedman to Senator Kyl supporting Kyl's Amendment which would repeal the death tax. Please let me know as soon as possible if you and your office are ok with the letter.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Lauren
(5-4790)

The Honorable Jon Kyl
 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, DC ****

Dear Senator Kyl:

We are writing to express the Administration,s support for your efforts to repeal the death tax permanently. As you know, the President,s budget has also called for the permanent repeal of this onerous tax.

The President,s top priority to get the economy moving is to see his Jobs and Growth proposal enacted. According to the Council of Economic Advisers, this plan would help create 1.4 million new jobs by the end of 2004 while encouraging more investment and economic growth in the long term. Over time, his plan will result in higher levels of investment here in America, with more jobs and higher wages for American workers.

Once the Jobs and Growth proposal is enacted, we must then turn our attention to other policies that can further strengthen our economy. As the President has traveled around the country promoting his tax policies to encourage job creation and economic growth, repeal of the death tax has always been a focus of his comments. By taxing away capital and imposing excessive compliance costs on America,s small businesses and farms, the death tax is a small business job killer. The sooner we eliminate it, the sooner small business men and women across this country can refocus their attention and resources toward investing in their community and the country.

Thank you for your tireless efforts to permanently repeal this unfair tax. Please be assured the President joins you in working to eliminate this tax once and for all.

Sincerely,

John Snow
Secretary of the Treasury

Steve Friedman
Assistant to the President for Economic Policy

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Patrick J. Bumatay>
Sent: 3/20/2003 8:44:38 AM
Subject: : Re: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 13:44:38.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Patrick J. Bumatay (CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

No objection but thought the phrase small business job killer should be rephrased. N

.

----- Original Message -----
From:Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange
To:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:
Date: 03/20/2003 01:38:16 PM
Subject: FW: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment

-----Original Message-----
From: Lobrano, Lauren C.
Sent: Thursday, March 20, 2003 1:24 PM
To: Pelletier, Eric C.; Smythe, Augustine T.; Foster, James D.; Silverberg, Kristen; Swagel, Phillip L.; Hennessey, Keith; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Burks, Jonathan W.
Cc: Douglas, Penny G.; Trinh, Catherine V.; Pannell, Anna K.; Allgood, Lauren K.; Lobrano, Lauren C.
Subject: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment
Importance: High

Attached is a letter from Sec. Snow and Steve Friedman to Senator Kyl supporting Kyl's Amendment which would repeal the death tax. Please let me know as soon as possible if you and your office are ok with the letter.
Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Lauren
(5-4790)

The Honorable Jon Kyl
 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, DC ****

Dear Senator Kyl:

We are writing to express the Administration,s support for your efforts to repeal the death tax permanently. As you know, the President,s budget has also called for the permanent repeal of this onerous tax.

The President,s top priority to get the economy moving is to see his Jobs and Growth proposal enacted. According to the Council of Economic Advisers, this plan would help create 1.4 million new jobs by the end of 2004 while encouraging more investment and economic growth in the long term. Over time, his plan will result in higher levels of investment here in America, with more jobs and higher wages for American workers.

Once the Jobs and Growth proposal is enacted, we must then turn our attention to other policies that can further strengthen our economy. As the President has traveled around the country promoting his tax policies to encourage job creation and economic growth, repeal of the death tax has always been a focus of his comments. By taxing away capital and imposing excessive compliance costs on America,s small businesses and farms, the death tax is a small business job killer. The sooner we eliminate it, the sooner small business men and women across this country can refocus their attention and resources toward investing in their community and the country.

Thank you for your tireless efforts to permanently repeal this unfair tax. Please be assured the President joins you in working to eliminate this tax once and for all.

Sincerely,

John Snow Steve Friedman
Secretary of the Treasury Assistant to the President for Economic Policy

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Lauren C. Lobrano/OMB/EOP@EOP [OMB] <Lauren C. Lobrano>
Sent: 3/20/2003 8:45:40 AM
Subject: : Re: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 13:45:40.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment
TO:Lauren C. Lobrano (CN=Lauren C. Lobrano/OU=OMB/O=EOP@EOP [OMB])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 03/20/2003 01:45 PM ----------

Brett M. Kavanaugh
03/20/2003 01:42:18 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@EOP, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Re: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment

No objection but thought the phrase small business job killer should be rephrased. N

.

----- Original Message -----
From:Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange
To:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:
Date: 03/20/2003 01:38:16 PM
Subject: FW: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment

-----Original Message-----
From: Lobrano, Lauren C.
Sent: Thursday, March 20, 2003 1:24 PM
To: Pelletier, Eric C.; Smythe, Augustine T.; Foster, James D.; Silverberg, Kristen; Swagel, Phillip L.; Hennessey, Keith; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Burks, Jonathan W.
Cc: Douglas, Penny G.; Trinh, Catherine V.; Pannell, Anna K.; Allgood, Lauren K.; Lobrano, Lauren C.
Subject: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment
Importance: High

Attached is a letter from Sec. Snow and Steve Friedman to Senator Kyl supporting Kyl's Amendment which would repeal the death tax. Please let me know as soon as possible if you and your office are ok with the letter.
Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Lauren
(5-4790)

The Honorable Jon Kyl
 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, DC ****

Dear Senator Kyl:

We are writing to express the Administration,s support for your efforts to repeal the death tax permanently. As you know, the President,s budget has also called for the permanent repeal of this onerous tax.

The President,s top priority to get the economy moving is to see his Jobs and Growth proposal enacted. According to the Council of Economic Advisers, this plan would help create 1.4 million new jobs by the end of 2004 while encouraging more investment and economic growth in the long term. Over time, his plan will result in higher levels of investment here in America, with more jobs and higher wages for American workers.

Once the Jobs and Growth proposal is enacted, we must then turn our attention to other policies that can further strengthen our economy. As the President has traveled around the country promoting his tax policies to encourage job creation and economic growth, repeal of the death tax has always been a focus of his comments. By taxing away capital and imposing excessive compliance costs on America,s small businesses and farms, the death tax is a small business job killer. The sooner we eliminate it, the sooner small business men and women across this country can refocus their attention and resources toward investing in their community and the country.

Thank you for your tireless efforts to permanently repeal this unfair tax. Please be assured the President joins you in working to eliminate this tax once and for all.

Sincerely,

John Snow
Secretary of the Treasury

Steve Friedman
Assistant to the President for Economic Policy

From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/20/2003 1:38:16 PM
Subject: FW: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment

-----Original Message-----
From: Lobrano, Lauren C.
Sent: Thursday, March 20, 2003 1:24 PM
To: Pelletier, Eric C.; Smythe, Augustine T.; Foster, James D.; Silverberg, Kristen; Swagel, Phillip L.; Hennessey, Keith; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Burks, Jonathan W.

Cc: Douglas, Penny G.; Trinh, Catherine V.; Pannell, Anna K.; Allgood, Lauren K.; Lobrano, Lauren C.
Subject: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment
Importance: High

Attached is a letter from Sec. Snow and Steve Friedman to Senator Kyl supporting Kyl's Amendment which would repeal the death tax. Please let me know as soon as possible if you and your office are ok with the letter.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Lauren
(5-4790)

The Honorable Jon Kyl
 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, DC ****

Dear Senator Kyl:

We are writing to express the Administration's support for your efforts to repeal the death tax permanently. As you know, the President's budget has also called for the permanent repeal of this onerous tax.

The President's top priority to get the economy moving is to see his Jobs and Growth proposal enacted. According to the Council of Economic Advisers, this plan would help create 1.4 million new jobs by the end of 2004 while encouraging more investment and economic growth in the long term. Over time, his plan will result in higher levels of investment here in America, with more jobs and higher wages for American workers.

Once the Jobs and Growth proposal is enacted, we must then turn our attention to other policies that can further strengthen our economy. As the President has traveled around the country promoting his tax policies to encourage job creation and economic growth, repeal of the death tax has always been a focus of his comments. By taxing away capital and imposing excessive compliance costs on America's small businesses and farms, the death tax is a small business job killer. The sooner we eliminate it, the sooner small business men and women across this country can refocus their attention and resources toward investing in their community and the country.

Thank you for your tireless efforts to permanently repeal this unfair tax. Please be assured the President joins you in working to eliminate this tax once and for all.

Sincerely,

John Snow
Secretary of the Treasury

Steve Friedman
Assistant to the President for Economic Policy

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Bumatay, Patrick J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/20/2003 1:42:16 PM
Subject: Re: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment

No objection but thought the phrase small business job killer should be rephrased. N

.

----- Original Message -----

From:Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange

To:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

Cc:

Date: 03/20/2003 01:38:16 PM

Subject: FW: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment

-----Original Message-----

From: Lobrano, Lauren C.

Sent: Thursday, March 20, 2003 1:24 PM

To: Pelletier, Eric C.; Smythe, Augustine T.; Foster, James D.; Silverberg, Kristen; Swagel, Phillip L.; Hennessey, Keith; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Burks, Jonathan W.

Cc: Douglas, Penny G.; Trinh, Catherine V.; Pannell, Anna K.; Allgood, Lauren K.; Lobrano, Lauren C.

Subject: Targeted Clearance: Snow/Friedman letter supporting Kyl Amendment

Importance: High

Attached is a letter from Sec. Snow and Steve Friedman to Senator Kyl supporting Kyl's Amendment which would repeal the death tax. Please let me know as soon as possible if you and your office are ok with the letter.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,

Lauren

(5-4790)

The Honorable Jon Kyl

 Hart Senate Office Building

Washington, DC ****

Dear Senator Kyl:

We are writing to express the Administration's support for your efforts to repeal the death tax permanently. As you know, the President's budget has also called for the permanent repeal of this onerous tax.

The President's top priority to get the economy moving is to see his Jobs and Growth proposal enacted. According to the Council of Economic Advisers, this plan would help create 1.4 million new jobs by the end of 2004 while encouraging more investment and economic growth in the long term. Over time, his plan will result in higher levels of investment here in America, with more jobs and higher wages for American workers.

Once the Jobs and Growth proposal is enacted, we must then turn our attention to other policies that can further strengthen our economy. As the President has traveled around the country promoting his tax policies to encourage job creation and economic growth, repeal of the death tax has always been a focus of his comments. By taxing away capital and imposing excessive compliance costs on America's small businesses and farms, the death tax is a small business job killer. The sooner we eliminate it, the sooner small business men and women across this country can refocus their attention and resources toward investing in their community and the country.

Thank you for your tireless efforts to permanently repeal this unfair tax. Please be assured the President joins you in working to eliminate this tax once and for all.

Sincerely,

John Snow — Secretary of the Treasury

Steve Friedman — Assistant to the President for Economic Policy

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Edward McNally/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Edward McNally>
Sent: 3/20/2003 11:17:50 AM
Subject: : Re: BK, any comments/edits re: final draft Gov. Ridge declaration?
Attachments: P_2QQVE003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 16:17:50.00
SUBJECT:: Re: BK, any comments/edits re: final draft Gov. Ridge declaration?
TO:Edward McNally (CN=Edward McNally/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Good, but should he make some express point that his role was similar to Condi's but on a different subject matter? may help.

From: Edward McNally on 03/20/2003 03:51:59 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: BK, any comments/edits re: final draft Gov. Ridge declaration?

---------- Forwarded by Edward McNally/WHO/EOP on 03/20/2003 03:51 PM ----------

From: Edward McNally on 03/20/2003 01:40:11 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Tony.Coppolino@usdoj.gov @ inet, Jody.Hunt@usdoj.gov @ inet, Elizabeth.Shapiro@usdoj.gov @ inet, Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov @ inet
cc: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP, Faisal M. Gill/WHO/EOP@EOP
Subject: DOJ comments re: final draft Gov. Ridge declaration

Tony -- Here's the draft you requested, as edited following the conf call you, Shannen and I had last week.
Does it give DoJ what you need to have in the record (whether in Dist Ct or on appeal)?

---------- Forwarded by Edward McNally/WHO/EOP on 03/20/2003 01:38 PM ----------

Gayle S. Worthy
03/20/2003 01:10:57 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Edward McNally/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject:

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_2QQVE003_WHO.TXT_1>

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ELECTRONIC PRIVACY INFORMATION CENTER, Plaintiff, v. OFFICE OF HOMELAND SECURITY et al. Defendants.	)	02-CV-620 (CKK) (Judge Colleen Kollar-Kotelly)

DECLARATION OF SECRETARY TOM RIDGE

I, TOM RIDGE do hereby state and declare as follows:

1. I serve in the United States government as Secretary of Homeland Security, and have served in that position since January 24, 2003. Prior to that, I served as Assistant to the President for Homeland Security (also referred to as Homeland Security Advisor), and served in that position from October 8, 2001 through January 23, 2003. During my service as Homeland Security Advisor, I was named in my official capacity as a defendant in this action along with the Office of Homeland Security (OHS) at the White House.

2. I have been advised that the Court in this case is seeking to determine whether the Office of Homeland Security solely advises and assists the President of the United States, or whether it exercises legal authority that is independent of the President. My views are based on my experience and perspective as the first head of the Office of Homeland Security, as the official who led, designed, recruited, managed and was responsible for OHS. My views are also based on the experience and knowledge obtained during my 12 years of service in the Congress of the United States, on my nearly seven years experience in sovereign executive leadership as Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and in particular, today as the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security in the Cabinet of the President of the United States.

3. As Assistant to the President for Homeland Security, I was the President's chief advisor within the White House on homeland security matters and head of the Office of Homeland Security. My roles were to advise and assist the President directly on homeland security policies and activities in the wake of the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks, to assist the President in the vital task of organizing and coordinating the numerous Executive branch departments and agencies that had some role in homeland security matters. In fact I did not have any authority independent of the President to issue directives and mandates to agencies, nor did anyone else in OHS.

4. I carried out my duties as Homeland Security Advisor in several different ways. First, I gave the President advice on issues, and received his views and direction on homeland security policies. Second, at the direction of the President, I helped develop specific homeland security initiatives. For example, at the President's direction and working with the assistance of the staff at the Office of Homeland Security and others, I developed the proposal for the Department of Homeland Security for the President, which was then transmitted to Congress. I also assisted the President in developing and drafting for his authority and signature specific Homeland Security Presidential Directives (HSPDs), including one establishing a homeland security advisory system (HSPD-3), and one coordinating U.S. immigration and border security policies in order to track foreign terrorists who seek to enter the United States (HSPD-2).

REV_00112416

Third, on the President's behalf and at his direction, I brought together Executive branch departments and agencies that had involvement in homeland security matters in order to help coordinate Executive branch policy and actions, as well as the flow of information. I also helped coordinate with State and local governments, again at the President's direction, to better prepare for and respond to terrorist attacks in the United States. Finally, I was directed by the President to offer my opinion and advice, in the form of a certification, on the adequacy of the homeland security budget, and provided recommendations on the budget directly to the Office of Management and Budget. In each of these activities my role was to assist the President in discharging his authority as Chief Executive, not to exercise authority independent of the President.

5. The staff of the Office of Homeland Security assisted me in carrying out my duties and responsibilities as Homeland Security Advisor, and it performed the same functions I did on the President's behalf on an even more specialized basis. OHS staff did not exercise authority or take actions independent of me or the President. Rather, OHS staff gathered information for me, assisted me in briefing the President, helped prepare specific Presidential initiatives (such as the proposal to create the Department of Homeland Security and HSPD 2 and 3), and assisted me in coordinating Executive branch departments and agencies on homeland security activities.

6. The specific mechanism that I and the OHS staff used to coordinate policy was the President's Homeland Security Council (HSC), which was established in Executive Order 13228. The President issued Homeland Security Presidential Directive 1, which established a three-tiered committee system for interagency coordination. I chaired the Principals Committee, which brought together agency heads such as the Attorney General and Treasury Secretary, to address homeland policies. The Deputy Assistant for Homeland Security chaired the HSC Deputies Committee, and he worked with officials in the departments and agencies at the deputy secretary level.

REV_00112417

7. Through the HSC committee process, I and the OHS staff brought officials from operational agencies together, literally in the same room, through the Policy Coordination Committee process to identify and discuss issues, such as threat detection and intelligence, border security, bio-terrorism, and public health preparedness. The staff would then seek consensus, develop recommendations, and provide information "up-the chain" to me, my deputy, or the President. Whatever policy was at issue, the HSC process is the President's instrument for bringing agencies together to ensure that his policy objectives are properly coordinated before being implemented by the responsible agency. Directives on homeland security policies are issued by the President, and Executive departments and agencies are responsible to the President, not the Homeland Security Advisor. I and my staff at OHS were very much aware that the actual operational responsibility to implement policy resided with agencies, which is why we spent so much time working with them to ensure that homeland security was being effectively pursued.

8. As a one-time Governor, Assistant to the President and now as a Cabinet Secretary, I understand the difference between serving as an advisor with no independent or operational legal authority (as I did at OHS) and serving in a position that does have independent and operational legal authority (such as while Governor of Pennsylvania). Understanding that difference, the bottom line is this: From the day the Office of Homeland Security was created when I took office as the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security, through my final hours in that position in January of this year, I did not have any legal authority independent of the President, nor did OHS staff.

REV_00112418

9. While I continue to serve the President as Secretary of Homeland Security, I do so from a cabinet level position with operational authority over several specific homeland security programs, including for border and transportation security, emergency preparedness and response, State and local government coordination, and information analysis. Ultimately, twenty-two (22) agencies with over 170,000 employees and a budget of over $36 billion in FY04 are being brought together under me as a single agency head. In contrast to my role as Homeland Security Advisor to the President, I not only seek to "coordinate" homeland security policy informally on the President's behalf, but now exercise the statutory operational authority enacted by Congress to direct these entities in implementing a homeland security policy.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

_____
TOM RIDGE
Secretary of Homeland Security

DATE: _____

REV_00112419

From: Judge Carolyn Kuhl <CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/20/2003 11:26:30 AM
Subject: : Re: draft letter
Attachments: P_EORVE003_WHO.TXT_1.htm

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Judge Carolyn Kuhl <CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org> ( Judge Carolyn Kuhl <CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 16:26:30.00
SUBJECT:: Re: draft letter
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Thanks for all your wonderful work, Brett. Great letter. Stay safe.

>>> <Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov> 03/20/03 01:02PM >>>
(See attached file: judges letter kuhl 3 18 03 102 FINAL SIG.pdf)
- att1.htm
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_EORVE003_WHO.TXT_1>
```

Thanks for all your wonderful work, Brett. Great letter. Sta y safe.

>>> <Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov> 03/20/0 3 01:02PM >>>
(See attached file: judges letter kuhl 3 18 03 102 FINA L SIG.pdf)

From: CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: theodore w. ullyot/who/eop@eop [WHO] <theodore w. ullyot>;noel j. francisco/who/eop@eop [WHO] <noel j. francisco>;jennifer g. newstead/who/eop@eop [WHO] <jennifer g. newstead>;david g. leitch/who/eop@exchange@eop [WHO] <david g. leitch>;benjamin a. powell/who/eop@eop [WHO] <benjamin a. powell>;h. christopher bartolomucci/who/eop@eop [WHO] <h. christopher bartolomucci>;helgard c. walker/who/eop@eop [WHO] <helgard c. walker>;alberto r. gonzales/who/eop@exchange@eop [WHO] <alberto r. gonzales>
Sent: 3/20/2003 12:12:34 PM
Subject: : Re: Reinhardt finds federalism

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Kyle Sampson ( CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 17:12:34.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Reinhardt finds federalism
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:theodore w. ullyot ( CN=theodore w. ullyot/OU=who/O=eop@eop [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:noel j. francisco ( CN=noel j. francisco/OU=who/O=eop@eop [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:jennifer g. newstead ( CN=jennifer g. newstead/OU=who/O=eop@eop [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:david g. leitch ( CN=david g. leitch/OU=who/O=eop@exchange@eop [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:benjamin a. powell ( CN=benjamin a. powell/OU=who/O=eop@eop [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:h. christopher bartolomucci ( CN=h. christopher bartolomucci/OU=who/O=eop@eop [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:helgard c. walker ( CN=helgard c. walker/OU=who/O=eop@eop [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:alberto r. gonzales ( CN=alberto r. gonzales/OU=who/O=eop@exchange@eop [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Wonder if Reinhardt would come out the same way if it was 922(g) that was being challenged on Commerce Clause grounds?

Brett M. Kavanaugh
03/20/2003 03:30:14 PM
Record Type: Record

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
cc:
Subject: Reinhardt finds federalism

Sharply divided Ninth Circuit panel holds that Congress may not outlaw simple intrastate possession of child pornography that hasn't traveled interstate: Today a three-judge panel of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit issued a majority opinion, written by Circuit Judge Stephen Reinhardt and joined in by Circuit Judge A. Wallace Tashima. Judge Stephen Trott dissented.
```

Message Sent
To:_____
Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP
David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP
Helgard C. Walker/WHO/EOP@EOP
Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP
H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO/EOP@EOP
Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP
Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP
Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP
Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP

From: CN=Carrie B. Loy/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Sarah Pfeifer/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Sarah Pfeifer>;Brian D. Montgomery/WHO /EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Brian D. Montgomery>;Christie Parell/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Christie Parell>;Ali H. Tulbah/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Ali H. Tulbah>;Edward Ingle/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Edward Ingle>;Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Taylor A. Hughes/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Taylor A. Hughes>;Carmen M. Ingwell/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Carmen M. Ingwell>;MKoch@who.eop.gov [WHO] <MKoch@who.eop.gov>;Laura S. Lawlor/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Laura S. Lawlor>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/20/2003 12:16:48 PM
Subject: : Agency FOIA Requests
Attachments: P_OFVVE003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Carrie B. Loy ( CN=Carrie B. Loy/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 17:16:48.00
SUBJECT:: Agency FOIA Requests
TO:Sarah Pfeifer ( CN=Sarah Pfeifer/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brian D. Montgomery ( CN=Brian D. Montgomery/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Christie Parell ( CN=Christie Parell/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Ali H. Tulbah ( CN=Ali H. Tulbah/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Edward Ingle ( CN=Edward Ingle/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Taylor A. Hughes ( CN=Taylor A. Hughes/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Carmen M. Ingwell ( CN=Carmen M. Ingwell/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:MKoch@who.eop.gov ( MKoch@who.eop.gov [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Laura S. Lawlor ( CN=Laura S. Lawlor/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_OFVVE003_WHO.TXT_1>
```

3/20/03

AGENCY FOIA REQUESTS

DOL

Aoife McCarthy is seeking:

correspondence and other information requested by or provided to U.S. Senator Peter Fitzgerald from 1/1/99 to the present. Ms. McCarthy is seeking all direct correspondence between the listed member or his staff and the Department of Labor, not limited to letters, reports, requests and other relevant material.

DOJ

Connor Raso, in his personal capacity, has requested Attorney General Ashcroft's schedules from January 1, 2002 to February 4, 2003, and all cost information associated with the Attorney General's domestic travel from January 1, 2002 to January 1, 2003.

EPA

During the week of March 10-14, 2003, the Agency received 284 FOIA requests. Of the total, 61 were received in Headquarters. Year-to-date totals are 1099 for Headquarters and 5718 Agency-wide. Significant FOIA requests received this week include:

(1) Alison Young of Knight Ridder Washington Bureau has requested studies submitted by 3rd parties that involve tests of pesticides or chemicals on human subjects;

(4) John Farrell of *The Boston Globe has requested all correspondence, or records of communications, with or concerning Senator John F. Kerry of Massachusetts and/or any member of his staff;

(5) Benjamin Jones of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee has requested correspondence and other information requested by or provided to the following Members of Congress: Jim Bunning, Ben Nighthorse Campbell, Mike Crapo, Lisa Murkowski, Don Nickles, George Voinovich;

(6) Anita Huslin of *The Washington Post has requested information regarding EPA enforcement actions in Maryland, both civil and criminal, from 1991 to today;

(7) Sara Clemence of *The Anniston Star has requested recordings or transcripts of public meetings regarding the Stauffer Superfund site in Tarpon Springs, Florida. The requester is gathering information on the Superfund process.

(8) Sara Clemence of *The Anniston Star has requested meeting notes, memos, records of attendance and summaries regarding a January 25, 2001, meeting in Washington, DC between EPA and Monsanto, Solutia and Pharmacia. The requester is gathering information on the Anniston, Alabama PCB consent decree.

DOE

Andy Revkin, New York Times: Request copies of communication between the Department of Energy, Energy Information Agency and the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change. Currently a review of U.S. activities under the treaty is under way and the DOE EIA provided analysis of American greenhouse-gas emissions trends.

Peter Elkind, Fortune: Requests copies of all correspondence between Enron and then-Secretary of Energy Richardson on the subject of deregulating the retail electricity and gas markets. Specifically, he is requesting a copy of a letter from Enron to Sec. Richardson proposing that he issue an executive order requiring states to deregulate their energy markets.

From: Loy, Carrie B.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Ingle, Edward>;<Lawlor, Laura S.>;<Tulbah, Ali H.>;<Koch, Matthew>; <Parell, Christie>;<Ingwell, Carmen M.>;<Montgomery, Brian D.>;<Hughes, Taylor A.>;<Pfeifer, Sarah>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent: 3/20/2003 5:16:20 PM
Subject: Agency FOIA Requests
Attachments: FOIA 3-20-03.doc

<< FOIA 3-20-03.doc >>

3/20/03

AGENCY FOIA REQUESTS

DOL

Aoife McCarthy is seeking:

correspondence and other information requested by or provided to U.S. Senator Peter Fitzgerald from 1/1/99 to the present. Ms. McCarthy is seeking all direct correspondence between the listed member or his staff and the Department of Labor, not limited to letters, reports, requests and other relevant material.

DOJ

Connor Raso, in his personal capacity, has requested Attorney General Ashcroft's schedules from January 1, 2002 to February 4, 2003, and all cost information associated with the Attorney General's domestic travel from January 1, 2002 to January 1, 2003.

EPA

During the week of March 10-14, 2003, the Agency received 284 FOIA requests. Of the total, 61 were received in Headquarters. Year-to-date totals are 1099 for Headquarters and 5718 Agency-wide. Significant FOIA requests received this week include:

(1) Alison Young of Knight Ridder Washington Bureau has requested studies submitted by 3rd parties that involve tests of pesticides or chemicals on human subjects;

(4) John Farrell of *The Boston Globe has requested all correspondence, or records of communications, with or concerning Senator John F. Kerry of Massachusetts and/or any member of his staff;

(5) Benjamin Jones of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee has requested correspondence and other information requested by or provided to the following Members of Congress: Jim Bunning, Ben Nighthorse Campbell, Mike Crapo, Lisa Murkowski, Don Nickles, George Voinovich;

(6) Anita Huslin of *The Washington Post has requested information regarding EPA enforcement actions in Maryland, both civil and criminal, from 1991 to today;

(7) Sara Clemence of *The Anniston Star has requested recordings or transcripts of public meetings regarding the Stauffer Superfund site in Tarpon Springs, Florida. The requester is gathering information on the Superfund process.

(8) Sara Clemence of *The Anniston Star has requested meeting notes, memos, records of attendance and summaries regarding a January 25, 2001, meeting in Washington, DC between EPA and Monsanto, Solutia and Pharmacia. The requester is gathering information on the Anniston, Alabama PCB consent decree.

DOE

Andy Revkin, New York Times: Request copies of communication between the Department of Energy, Energy Information Agency and the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change. Currently a review of U.S. activities under the treaty is under way and the DOE EIA provided analysis of American greenhouse-gas emissions trends.

Peter Elkind, Fortune: Requests copies of all correspondence between Enron and then-Secretary of Energy Richardson on the subject of deregulating the retail electricity and gas markets. Specifically, he is requesting a copy of a letter from Enron to Sec. Richardson proposing that he issue an executive order requiring states to deregulate their energy markets.

From: Delrahim, Makan \(Judiciary\) <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov>
To: goodling, monica <monica.goodling@usdoj.gov>;Comstock, Barbara <Barbara.Comstock@usdoj.gov>;<Snee, Ashley>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Leitch, David G.>;Vogel, Alex \(Frist\) <Alex_Vogel@frist.senate.gov>;Duffield, Steven \(RPC\) <Steven_Duffield@rpc.senate.gov>;Miranda, Manuel \(Frist\) <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>;Comisac, RenaJohnson \(Judiciary\) <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Dahl, Alex \(Judiciary\) <Alex_Dahl@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Higginbotham, Ryan \(Judiciary\) <Ryan_Higginbotham@Judiciary.senate.gov>;LeBon, Cherylyn \(Judiciary\) <Cherylyn_LeBon@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Leonard A. Leo <lleo@fed-soc.org>
Sent: 3/20/2003 5:24:34 PM
Subject: FW: FYI - York piece on 6th Circuit

Good to get this out as broadly (in MIChigan and other 6th circuit States) as possible. Perhaps the committees (RNC/NRSC /NRCC) can help.

-----Original Message-----
From: Tapia, Margarita (Judiciary)
Sent: Thursday, March 20, 2003 1:40 PM
To: Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary); Dahl, Alex (Judiciary)
Subject: FYI - York piece on 6th Circuit

Author Archive
E-mail Author
Send to a Friend
<% dim printurl printurl = Request.ServerVariables("URL")%>Print Version

Byron York
NR White House Correspondent
March 20, 2003 9:45 a.m.

Much More Democratic Obstruction

Democrats move to kill an entire slate of Bush nominees.

Although it was overshadowed by the beginning of war, on Capitol Hill Wednesday there was a major escalation in the conflict between Senate Democrats and the White House over the president's judicial nominees.

The escalation had nothing to do with the ongoing Democratic filibuster over appeals-court candidate Miguel Estrada. Instead, it involved a Democratic decision to block, and, at least for the moment, kill a total of four Bush nominees to the federal courts of appeals.

Acting in concert, Michigan Democratic Sens. Carl Levin and Debbie Stabenow told the Judiciary Committee they will block the nominations of Richard Griffin, David McKeague, Susan Bieke Neilson, and Henry Saad to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals. In addition, Levin and Stabenow said they will block the nomination of Thomas Ludington to a seat on the U.S. District Court. That means the two senators are attempting to kill every Bush nominee from the state of Michigan.

Levin and Stabenow stopped the nominations by returning negative blue slips, which are the documents in which senators indicate approval or disapproval of judicial nominees from their home states.

Blue slips are a Senate custom with a long and controversial history, but both parties concede it is nearly impossible for a nominee of either party to win confirmation over the objections of both of his or her home-state senators. That means the nominations of Griffin, McKeague, Neilson, Saad, and Ludington are effectively dead.

It was an extraordinary move on the part of Levin and Stabenow, a kind of Wednesday-night massacre that sent Republicans scrambling to research whether such wholesale obstruction had any precedent in Senate history, and what a GOP response might be.

The move is all the more remarkable because much of the Sixth Circuit is in what the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts calls a "judicial emergency." The court normally has 16 members, but half of those seats are now empty.

The Levin/Stabenow maneuver is the culmination of a conflict that has been years in the making and involves Democratic accusations that Republicans mistreated appeals court nominees selected by President Clinton.

When President Bush took office, Levin and Stabenow demanded that he renominate two Clinton appeals court nominees from Michigan, Helene White and Kathleen McCree Lewis, whose nominations had not been acted on by the GOP-controlled Senate. White is married to Sen. Levin's cousin.

In a letter sent yesterday to White House counsel Alberto Gonzales, Levin, and Stabenow wrote, "On more than one occasion, the White House counsel has stated that some nominees during the previous administration were wrongly treated....We have said repeatedly that it would be wrong for the president to seek confirmation of his nominees to the Michigan seats on the Sixth Circuit before the acknowledged wrong was corrected."

The White House has refused the demand, saying that it would be an unprecedented surrender of the president's constitutional authority to nominate federal judges.

The story if Levin's and Stabenow's demands and the White House's response are extensively documented in two letters written by Gonzales more than a year ago. One was to the Senate Judiciary Committee's then-chairman Patrick Leahy on August 17, 2001, and the other was to Levin and Stabenow on November 2, 2001.

"Although I understand [Levin's and Stabenow's] desire to have the president renominate two of President Clinton's candidates for the court of appeals...we believe it would be unfair to expect the president to do so," Gonzales wrote to Leahy that August. "The net result of our discussions is an apparent standoff in which the two Michigan senators are attempting (inappropriately, in my view) to use the threat of negative blue slips against President Bush's Michigan circuit nominees to compel the president to renominate Clinton nominees based on grievances in which President Bush played no part."

Despite the Democrats' threats, the White House stood firm. Gonzales continued: "To my knowledge, before President Bush renominated Roger Gregory to the Fourth Circuit, no president had ever nominated to a court of appeals an individual previously nominated to the court of appeals by his predecessor from a different party. For any senator to insist that this extraordinary and historic act be repeated is simply not fair. Appointments to the federal courts of appeals are uniquely matters of presidential prerogative."

Finally, Gonzales gave Leahy a bit of history. "More than 50 nominations to the federal courts lapsed without Senate action at the end of the previous Bush administration in 1992," Gonzales wrote, "including a nominee to the Sixth Circuit from Michigan, John Smietanka, who had waited almost a year for a hearing and never received one. No one ever attempted to claim that fairness or any other consideration obliged President Clinton to resubmit these names, and he did not."

Although Gonzales suggested there was room for compromise in the standoff, there was no solution. In fact, Levin and Stabenow significantly ratcheted up their demands, threatening to block not only nominees from their own state, but also for the entire Sixth Circuit, which includes Ohio, Kentucky, and Tennessee in addition to Michigan. The White House still refused to budge, calling the threat a distortion of the Senate's constitutional advise and consent role.

Negotiations between the two sides continued in the fall of 2001. Levin and Stabenow wanted the president to set up a bipartisan commission to select judicial candidates from Michigan (something Bush had done in California, but only to select lower, district court nominees; the president pointedly said that circuit court nominees would be chosen by the White House alone.) The White House again refused, and in November 2001, Gonzales laid out the administration's argument at length, this time directly to Levin and Stabenow.

"I would hope that you would...acknowledge and respect the powers of appointment that rightfully belong to President Bush under the Constitution and would not continue to insist on unprecedented devices that would trench upon those powers," Gonzales wrote. "Circuit court appointments are uniquely matters of presidential prerogative, and nowhere in the nation has the president surrendered his power to select circuit court nominees to a commission, bipartisan or otherwise."

Gonzales expanded on the theme of fairness that he had begun in his earlier letter to Leahy. "We note that the record of unfair treatment of Michigan judicial nominees may not be as one-sided as your letter suggests," Gonzales wrote. "At the end of President George H.W. Bush's administration, two Michigan nominees to the federal courts, John Smietanka and Henry Saad, were denied hearings by the Democratic Senate and failed to attain confirmation. Neither man ever claimed a right to be renominated by the new administration, and all participants in the process accepted and adhered to the time-honored understanding that the accumulated inventory of judicial vacancies at the start of a new presidential term was the new president's to fill."

Gonzales said the White House had offered to consider the two failed Clinton circuit court nominees, White and Lewis, for nomination to lower federal courts. "In our view, this was a proposal that reflected exceptional generosity, good faith, and respectful bipartisanship," Gonzales wrote. "Indeed, no similar generosity was ever shown to John Smietanka or Henry Saad during the previous administration."

In the end, none of the talking did any good, and yesterday, Levin and Stabenow blocked every nominee from Michigan.

The move suggests that the Democratic strategy to block Bush judges extends far beyond selected targets like Miguel Estrada and Priscilla Owen. Indeed, it appears that Democrats may plan to use a variety of techniques to try to block every, or nearly every, Bush nominee to the federal appeals courts.

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTE:

The information contained in this e-mail is legally privileged and confidential information intended only for the use of the individuals or entities named as addressees. If you, the reader of this message, are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution, publication, or copying of this message is strictly prohibited. If you have received this message in error, please forgive the inconvenience, immediately notify the sender, and delete the original message without keeping a copy.

From: CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/20/2003 1:25:52 PM
Subject: : U.S. Tax Court

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Kyle Sampson ( CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 18:25:52.00
SUBJECT:: U.S. Tax Court
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Do you want to participate in another round of interviews?
```

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/20/2003 6:17:12 PM
Subject: RE: did Cohen show?

Nope. He drove here, and was surprised when they wouldn't let his car in, so he went back. What a knucklehead.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Thursday, March 20, 2003 6:11 PM
To: Leitch, David G.
Subject: did Cohen show?

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 3/20/2003 2:37:05 PM
Subject: : White House Global Messenger, 03/21/03
Attachments: P_PT1WE003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 19:37:05.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger, 03/21/03
TO:Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications (CN=Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 3-21-03 FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Thursday, March 20, 2003

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS TO THE NATION, 3-19-03***

*American and coalition forces are in the early stages of military operations to disarm Iraq, free its people, and to defend the world from grave danger.

*In this conflict, America faces an enemy who has no regard for conventions of war or rules of morality. Saddam Hussein has placed Iraqi troops and equipment in civilian areas, and is attempting to use innocent men, women and children as shields for his military - a final atrocity against his people.

*American and coalition forces will make every effort to spare innocent civilians from harm. We come to Iraq with respect for its citizens, their great civilization, and the religious faiths they practice. We have no ambition in Iraq, except to remove a threat and restore control of the country to its own people.

*Our nation enters this conflict reluctantly, yet our purpose is sure. The people of the US and our friends and allies will not live at the mercy of an outlaw regime that threatens the peace with weapons of mass murder.

*Now that conflict has come, the only way to limit its duration is to apply decisive force. This will not be a campaign of half measures, and we will accept no outcome but victory.

*The dangers to our country and the world will be overcome. We will pass through this time of peril and carry on the work of peace. We will defend our freedom. We will bring freedom to others and we will prevail.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE***
All Times Eastern Standard Time. Subject to Change

12:15 pm White House Briefing by Ari Fleischer

1:00 pm State Department Briefing by Richard Boucher

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS***

*Today, President Bush vested more than $1 billion in non-diplomatic Iraqi accounts currently frozen in US banks. The purpose of this action is to enable these Iraqi funds to be used to help the Iraqi people and assist in the reconstruction of Iraq. The assets being vested were frozen after Iraq's invasion of Kuwait in 1990. Once vested, the assets will be administered by the Treasury Department, until they can be returned to Iraq.

*The President also directed Secretaries Snow and Powell to work with other countries to identify other Iraqi state assets, including the ill-gotten gains of Saddam Hussein and his regime, held in accounts around the world, and to return them for the benefit of the people of Iraq.

COALITION OF THE WILLING***

President Bush is assembling a Coalition to disarm Iraq of its weapons of mass destruction. As of March 20, 2003, more than 44 countries were publicly committed, including:

Afghanistan, Angola, Albania, Australia, Azerbaijan, Bulgaria, Colombia, Czech Republic, Denmark, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Eritrea, Estonia, Ethiopia, Georgia, Honduras, Hungary, Iceland, Italy, Japan, Kuwait, Latvia, Lithuania, Macedonia, Marshall Islands, Micronesia, Mongolia, Netherlands, Nicaragua, Philippines, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Rwanda, Singapore, Slovakia, Solomon Islands, South Korea, Spain, Turkey, Uganda, United Kingdom, United States, Uzbekistan.

This number is still growing. All Coalition member nations understand the threat Saddam Hussein's weapons pose to the world and the devastation his regime has wreaked on the Iraqi people.

For updated information, go to:
http://www.whitehouse.gov/coalition

KEY QUOTES***

"Iraq belongs to the Iraqi people. And once Saddam Hussein's regime is removed, we intend to see that functional and political authority is placed in the hands of Iraqis as quickly as possible. Coalition forces will stay only as long as necessary to finish the job, and not a day longer."
Secretary Rumsfeld, in press briefing, 3-20-03

"[Coalition forces] changed their entire strategy, the shock and awe as we know of it, in order to take what was a risky venture in order to shorten the war. I think that is indicative of the President's commitment to try to end this conflict as quickly as possible and minimize any civilian casualties...to try to avoid as many innocents being killed or injured as possible."
Senator John McCain, interview on NBC's Today Show, 3-20-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****
You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere.

- GM 3-21-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_PT1WE003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Friday, March 21, 2003

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

All Times Eastern Standard Time
Subject to Change

12:15 pm	White House Briefing by Ari Fleischer
1:00 pm	State Department Briefing by Richard Boucher

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

- Today, President Bush vested more than $1 billion in non-diplomatic Iraqi accounts currently frozen in US banks. The purpose of this action is to enable these Iraqi funds to be used to help the Iraqi people and assist in the reconstruction of Iraq. The assets being vested were frozen after Iraq's invasion of Kuwait in 1990. Once vested, the assets will be administered by the Treasury Department, until they can be returned to Iraq.
- The President also directed Secretaries Snow and Powell to work with other countries to identify other Iraqi state assets, including the ill-gotten gains of Saddam Hussein and his regime, held in accounts around the world, and to return them for the benefit of the people of Iraq.

KEY POINTS

The President's Address to the Nation, 3-19-03

- American and coalition forces are in the early stages of military operations to disarm Iraq, free its people, and to defend the world from grave danger.
- In this conflict, America faces an enemy who has no regard for conventions of war or rules of morality. Saddam Hussein has placed Iraqi troops and equipment in civilian areas, and is attempting to use innocent men, women and children as shields for his military – a final atrocity against his people.
- American and coalition forces will make every effort to spare innocent civilians from harm. We come to Iraq with respect for its citizens, their great civilization, and the religious faiths they practice. We have no ambition in Iraq, except to remove a threat and restore control of the country to its own people.
- Our nation enters this conflict reluctantly, yet our purpose is sure. The people of the US and our friends and allies will not live at the mercy of an outlaw regime that threatens the peace with weapons of mass murder.
- Now that conflict has come, the only way to limit its duration is to apply decisive force. This will not be a campaign of half measures, and we will accept no outcome but victory.
- The dangers to our country and the world will be overcome. We will pass through this time of peril and carry on the work of peace. We will defend our freedom. We will bring freedom to others and we will prevail.

KEY QUOTES

"Iraq belongs to the Iraqi people. And once Saddam Hussein's regime is removed, we intend to see that functional and political authority is placed in the hands of Iraqis as quickly as possible. Coalition forces will stay only as long as necessary to finish the job, and not a day longer."
Secretary Rumsfeld, in press briefing, 3-20-03

"[Coalition forces] changed their entire strategy, the shock and awe as we know of it, in order to take what was a risky venture in order to shorten the war. I think that is indicative of the President's commitment to try to end this conflict as quickly as possible and minimize any civilian casualties… to try to avoid as many innocents being killed or injured as possible."
Senator John McCain, interview on NBC's Today Show, 3-20-03

COALITION OF THE WILLING

President Bush is assembling a Coalition to disarm Iraq of its weapons of mass destruction. As of March 20, 2003, more than 44 countries were publicly committed, including:

Afghanistan, Angola, Albania, Australia, Azerbaijan, Bulgaria, Colombia, Czech Republic, Denmark, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Eritrea, Estonia, Ethiopia, Georgia, Honduras, Hungary, Iceland, Italy, Japan, Kuwait, Latvia, Lithuania, Macedonia, Marshall Islands, Micronesia, Mongolia, Netherlands, Nicaragua, Philippines, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Rwanda, Singapore, Slovakia, Solomon Islands, South Korea, Spain, Turkey, Uganda, United Kingdom, United States, Uzbekistan.

This number is still growing. All Coalition member nations understand the threat Saddam Hussein's weapons pose to the world and the devastation his regime has wreaked on the Iraqi people. For updated information, go to:
http://www.whitehouse.gov/coalition

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications
For more information log on to www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

From: Miranda, Manuel (Frist) <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
To: lleo@fed-soc.org [UNKNOWN] <lleo@fed-soc.org>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Sean Rushton <SRushton@CommitteeforJustice.org>
Sent: 3/20/2003 3:55:10 PM
Subject: : A&C project
Attachments: P_XT2WE003_WHO.TXT_1.html

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> ( "Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:20-MAR-2003 20:55:10.00
SUBJECT:: A&C project
TO:lleo@fed-soc.org ( lleo@fed-soc.org [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Sean Rushton <SRushton@CommitteeforJustice.org> ( Sean Rushton <SRushton@CommitteeforJustice.org> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

We should give special attention in the A&C Project to Maine and Rhode Island.
- att1.htm
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_XT2WE003_WHO.TXT_1>
```

We should give special attention in the A&C Project to < /span>Maine and Rhode Isla nd.

From: CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 3/21/2003 3:23:16 AM
Subject: : TRANSCRIPT - PRESS CONFERENCE WITH BRITISH PRIME MINISTER TONY BLAIR AT THE EUROPEAN UNION SUMMIT 03/21/03

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brian Bravo (CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-MAR-2003 08:23:16.00
SUBJECT:: TRANSCRIPT - PRESS CONFERENCE WITH BRITISH PRIME MINISTER TONY BLAIR AT THE EUROPEAN UNION SUMMIT 03/21/03
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

PRESS CONFERENCE WITH BRITISH PRIME MINISTER TONY BLAIR AT THE EUROPEAN UNION SUMMIT

BRUSSELS, BELGIUM
APPROX. 6:30 A.M. EST, FRIDAY, MARCH 21, 2003

;

PRIME MINISTER TONY BLAIR: (In progress) -- as they carry out their mission to bring down Saddam Hussein's regime and disarm Iraq of weapons of mass destruction.

;;;;;; The Ministry of Defense are continuing to establish exactly what happened and to contact the families of those that have died. These were brave men, who in order to make us safer and more secure, knew the risks, faced the risks, and had the courage to serve their country and the wider world. We owe them immense debt of gratitude, and our thoughts and prayers are with their families.

;;;;;; Geoff Hoon in the House of Commons, and the U.K. commanders in the field, have been giving details of the continuing military campaign, which, this tragedy not withstanding, appears to be going well. We have already taken the Al-Four (ph) Peninsula. Our forces have been involved in securing oil installations to prevent the threat of deliberate ecological disaster, and this evening, as last night, all three of our services will be involved as the military action continues.

;;;;;; There are signs of continuing Iraqi desertions, and disagreement and division at all levels of the regime. But I should warn that our forces will face resistance, and that the campaign necessarily will not achieve all its objectives overnight. It's important to emphasize that. Let me repeat, however, that I believe that the course of action that we are taking is the right one, and we must see this mission through to the end.

;;;;;; Insofar as our discussions here have been concerned, of course the divisions on this issue, the disagreements are well known to you. But I emphasize once again, there is considerable support, political and practical, within the European Union, and among countries set to join the European Union, for the position that we have taken, and that has been very evident here. And I was pleased that whatever differences there have been during the diplomatic crisis leading up to military action, we were able to agree here that Europe will play a continuing and important role in helping rebuild Iraq in the post- Saddam era. There is a real understanding that the Iraqi humanitarian disaster is here and now, and that the international community will have to come together to repair Iraq from the ravishes of Saddam's rule, which has reduced his people to such poverty and fear.

;;;;;; We agreed that the United Nations, again despite recent difficulties, should be centrally involved in the post-Saddam reconstruction of Iraq. We continue to press the case for fresh Security Council resolutions, first on the continuation of the Oil- for-Food program, as a trust fund so that Iraqi oil benefits the Iraqi people, and second on the establishment of the post-Saddam administration.

;;;;;; I welcome too the fresh emphasis and commitment we gave here to the Middle East peace process, which is as important as any of the issues that confront us.

;;;;;; Finally, I think it is important and right that the European Union leaders restated emphatically our commitment to strengthening the Trans-Atlantic Alliance. I have long argued, and will continue to do so, that Europe should be the friend and partner of America, not its rival. It's an article of faith for me, for I believe that if Europe and America stand together, work together, we can help deliver and maintain the order and stability that I talked of in my broadcast to the British people last night.

;;;;;; I should also say how much I welcome the continuing steps we agreed this morning on the economic reform agenda that's vital to our future prosperity in Europe. I would draw your attention particularly to the measures we are taking, and have agreed now on energy liberalization, on the community patent, on the single European sky. And those of you familiar with these economic reform summits will know these have all been issues that have held us up for a considerable period of time. There's agreement on all those things. It's immensely important. And there's been the acceptance here at the summit of the proposal for an employment task for to review Europe's labor markets, identify reasons for the slow-down in job creation, and identify the key measures that could be put into effect fast. And I am sure the president of the European Union, Prime Minister Costas Simitis, will give you further details of that later.

;;;;;; This, along with the proposals agreed on deregulation, the cutting down of national state aids, the action plan for small businesses, and fresh impetus on research and development, shows, I believe, that despite why for very obvious reasons there will not be the same focus on economic reform at this summit, I think the economic reform agenda is getting back on track. It's not there yet, but it is getting back on track. And I think there have been some important developments in that area too.

;;;;;; (Break in Feed by Network.)

;;;;;; Q (In progress) -- expressed personal condolences to you this morning for the casualties that you've talked about, and now, as you say you want the U.N. at the center of post-war Iraq, but is there not a very severe disagreement between Britain and France, and indeed with American involved, as to whether there should be a U.N. mandate for the government of post-war Iraq, so relations really are at an all- time low, aren't they?

;;;;;; PRIME MINISTER BLAIR: Well, first of all, I think everyone knows what the differences are. And there's no point to repeating them because they're well known, but there's no point in dwelling on them either.

;;;;;; Secondly, France has indeed expressed its condolences to us in respect to those people that tragically lost their lives overnight. And indeed, President Chirac wrote me a personal note about it. So, I think that is fair and right to say. And whatever the differences are, I know we can all come together in the spirit of sympathy at a time like this.

;;;;;; And the third thing is that what is interesting is that whatever the differences -- and as I say, they're evident and there's no point to pretending they don't exist -- there is a very strong view that Europe should have a role in the humanitarian situation in Iraq, which is necessary not because of the military conflict but because of the problems that Saddam's rule in Iraq has caused, and also there is a strong desire on behalf of all the European Union for that central U.N. role. And I know that is shared by the United States as well.

;;;;;; So, as I say, there is no point in minimizing the differences, but on the other hand, I think the text that you will see on reconstruction in Iraq, helping Iraq and the Iraqi people after the conflict is over, is a good deal more positive than might have been expected.

;;;;;; Q Nic Robertson, ITV News. Just pursuing Adam's question, if I may. The declaration once again states the desire for a common foreign and defense policy. And there will be many who say this war, this liberation as you believe it will be of Iraq, simply would not happen if there was a common European foreign and defense policy, so why do you remain committed to it?

;;;;;; And can I ask you also a question that many people at home are asking, which is a simple one -- they're surprised to see you here, Prime Minister, at a time that troops are in action, and perhaps you could explain why you felt it proper and right to be in Brussels.

;;;;;; PRIME MINISTER BLAIR: Well, I'm actually surprised you asked that latter part of your question since given that we are discussing the Iraqi issue and the reconstruction of Iraq, I think it's extremely important that Britain's voice is heard.

;;;;;; In respect of the first point, there are differences, and those differences are very evident in that the -- at the end of this, I think it will be right to have a period of reflection as to why those differences exist and how we overcome them. But, any European foreign and defense policy will remain a matter for the governments and it is important that Europe tries to reach agreement on these issues. And I think there is a longer term strategic question, which is about Europe's relationship with America, that we need to have an honest and open and frank debate about, because that is what is being exposed, in a sense, as a problem, as a fault line during the course of the last few weeks.

;;;;;; And my view of this is and always will be -- I mean, sometimes people say to me "Well, does -- have the differences in Europe meant that I am less enthusiastic about British participation in Europe?" And the answer to that is unhesitatingly "No, I am not less enthusiastic." It is precisely because it is important that Britain's voice is heard that we do participate in Europe. And we have allies for the position that we have adopted in Europe, and where there are disagreements, the right way to handle these disagreements is not to turn our back on our other partners but to engage with them and try and overcome the differences. And that is the best way, I think, to make progress -- not just for Europe, but most importantly in the British national interest.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible Name). Just wondering what you make so far of the response of the Iraqi regime? And to what extent would you urge them and individual Iraqi soldiers even at this stage to actually surrender rather than fight?

;;;;;; PRIME MINISTER BLAIR: Well, I hope that the Iraqi people realize that our quarrel is not with them, it is with Saddam. The Iraqi people have been the victims of Saddam. Many of those who are soldiers and conscripts will be people who have been terrorized into military service. And, of course, we want to try and make sure that that military conflict occurs with a minimum of casualties. But that is something that is being handled and dealt with by the commanders out in the field. And I think it's important to leave them to do that.

;;;;;; Yes.

;;;;;; Q Yes, Prime Minister, Steven Sacket (sp) from the BBC, I'd just like you, if you could, to give us a little bit more information about precisely what you want to happen the day that the shooting stops, the war is over. Are you saying that you and your fellow leaders in Europe want to see the decisions about the future for Iraq to be handed over to a U.N. mandate as soon as possible? And is that something you've already discussed the President George Bush?

;;;;;; PRIME MINISTER BLAIR: Well, of course we've been discussing these issues with the Americans, with the United Nations, with our allies. And I think there is a general agreement about the central involvement of the United Nations. Now, exactly how that process takes place is precisely the issues that we discussed. But there is a common view now, not just among the Europeans but also with the United States, that it's important that we have a new United Nations resolution that authorizes that, and that governs not merely the humanitarian situation but also the post-Saddam civil authority in Iraq.

;;;;;; And the vision that we have set out for Iraq is one in which we help the people, one, move towards greater democracy and human rights -- something they've been deprived of for years; two greater prosperity, in particular marking sure that the oil money is there in a U.N. trust fund for the Iraqi people and no one else; and thirdly, to make sure that their territorial integrity in Iraq is preserved. And there is complete agreement, I think, on all these points. Now, of course there will be detailed discussions as to exactly how we make the transition from military conflict to the post-conflict situation, but those are differences that I'm sure we can find a way through.

;;;;;; Q Prime Minister, Andy Bell, Channel Five News. You talked about the condolences that have been expressed, but now that British troops are in action, do you get any sense that those countries, such as France and Germany, actively support what you are doing, or at best do they still remain neutral and shall we say indifferent to British forces in the field?

;;;;;; PRIME MINISTER BLAIR: Well, I do not believe that anyone is indifferent to the fate of the individual men and women that are serving, but, you know, the differences are there are about the military action. I think you're going to have to ask them about that. But I think we would be -- we would be wrong if we thought that people couldn't, even if they disagreed with the action, express their sympathy, and have done for those people that have lost their lives.

;;;;;; Q Robin Oakley (sp), CNN. You're putting the emphasis on reconstruction in Iraq. Are you confident that all 15 EU members are prepared to make a financial contribution to that reconstruction? And what would you think of any of those members who didn't?

;;;;;; PRIME MINISTER BLAIR: I think it is important that everyone comes together on the basis of the text that we have agreed now, and I'm sure people will because it's agreed by all 15. And the exact arrangements for that are something, as I say, that will continue to be discussed. But everybody understands, even if people disagree with the military action, people are agreed on two things. First of all, that as a result of Saddam's rule, the Iraqi people have been impoverished, their country has been plundered and requires immense reconstruction over time. And secondly, that it would be wrong if Europe did not take a strategic role in that reconstruction. So, as I say, obviously the details of this is a matter for discussion, but that basic principle I think is very clear and is accepted.

;;;;;; Now, I'm going to take just one more question. Here.

;;;;;; Q James Coker (sp), Bloomberg News. You said earlier that the war is going reasonably well. Jack Straw this morning suggested that it might not be necessary to move to the "shock and awe" phase. Does that mean that you're achieving your objectives more quickly than expected? And are you saying that the war might finish ahead of your timetable?

;;;;;; PRIME MINISTER BLAIR: No, I don't think you can speculate on this at all at the moment. I think what is important is that we continue with the plans that we have set out. And our objective is, obviously, to secure as swift and successful a conclusion to the military conflict as we can the a minimum of casualties, but to make sure that we attain our objectives, which are the removal of Saddam Hussein's regime from Iraq, and the disarming of Iraq of weapons of mass destruction. And at this stage, I don't think it would be sensible for me to speculate any further on the nature of the military action that we're taking or will take.

;;;;;; All right. Thank you all very much.

END.

;

From: CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/21/2003 4:50:41 AM
Subject: : EO

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Ashley Snee ( CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-MAR-2003 09:50:41.00
SUBJECT:: EO
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Are you the guy to talk to about the EO on document classification?;
Please give me a call.; Thank you!
```

From: Kmiec, Douglas <KMIEC@law.edu>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/21/2003 5:27:30 AM
Subject: : FW: organizing resolution

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Kmiec, Douglas" <KMIEC@law.edu> ( "Kmiec, Douglas" <KMIEC@law.edu> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-MAR-2003 10:27:30.00
SUBJECT:: FW: organizing resolution
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Brett

I have been after my librarian to find the exact wording of the Senate "organizing resolution." So far we are out of luck -- see messages below. If what has been reported to us is correct, then I believe the constitutional argument against the "continuing" language in Rule V is even more forceful. If you have better intelligence on an organizing resolution than the librarians of the Senate, I would be delighted to have a copy. Thanks.

Best,
Doug

> -----Original Message-----
> From: Young, Stephen E.
> Sent: Friday, March 21, 2003 10:10 AM
> To: Kmiec, Douglas
> Subject: RE: organizing resolution
>
> Dean Kmiec:
> Although I was able to find a comparable resolution for the House I > did not find one for the Senate for this Congress. I therefore > contacted the Senate Library who indicated that since the Senate is a > continuing body they do not re-adopt the rules with every new > Congress. Please let me know if this does not answer your question.
> Steve
>
> -----Original Message-----
> From: Kmiec, Douglas
> Sent: Thursday, March 20, 2003 7:59 PM
> To: Young, Stephen E.
> Subject: organizing resolution
>
> Steve
>
> I am told that when a new senate convenes, it adopts an organizing > resolution to abide by the standing rules of the senate. That's what > I am trying to find.
>
> Thanks
> Doug
>
> Douglas W. Kmiec
> Dean & St. Thomas More Professor
> The Catholic University of America School of Law
> Cardinal Station
> Washington, D.C. 20064-8005
> voice: (202) 319-5139
> fax: (202) 319 5473
> email: Kmiec@cua.edu
```

>

From: Kaplan, Joel
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/21/2003 11:08:14 AM
Subject: FW: Reuters - Marines Briefly Raise U.S. Flag Over Iraqi Port

Check out my jarheads. As always, very aggressive move, but probably not the guys you want to take your diplomatic advice from.
-----Original Message-----
From: Bravo, Brian
Sent: Friday, March 21, 2003 11:04 AM
Subject: Reuters - Marines Briefly Raise U.S. Flag Over Iraqi Port

Marines Briefly Raise U.S. Flag Over Iraqi Port

By Adrian Croft

UMM QASR, Iraq (Reuters) - U.S. Marines briefly raised the Stars and Stripes flag over the new port area of Umm Qasr on Friday after facing tougher than expected resistance in and around the southern Iraq port.

Reuters correspondent Adrian Croft, traveling with the Marines, saw troops lower an Iraqi flag soon after they arrived at the port complex, replacing it with the U.S. flag.

Some time later, Marines returned and removed the Stars and Stripes. No reason was given for the decision, but Washington has consistently stressed that invading U.S. forces want to liberate Iraq, not occupy it.

U.S. troops moved into the huge port area to hunt for Iraqi soldiers who might be hidden in the site. A dozen Marine helicopters landed on a massive parking lot inside the perimeter fence to bring in reinforcements.

"The (new) port is about 40 percent secure. There is still shooting going on," said Marine Captain Rick Crevier from Placerville, California, one of the operation's commanders.

He added the old port, one mile away, was still under observation.

U.S. Marines poured over the Kuwaiti border just after dawn heading for Umm Qasr, but were almost immediately pinned down in a two-hour firefight with Iraqi soldiers armed with machineguns and anti-tank rockets.

The Marines called in tanks and artillery fire to clear their path.

STIFF RESISTANCE

Asked if the resistance was stiffer than expected, Crevier said: "Yes, a lot more. We had some dug in troops and we were starting to receive some mortar fire."

He added one Marine was slightly injured by broken glass.

He had no information about Iraqi casualties, but the bodies of two men in civilian clothes were seen lying in the streets as a U.S. armored convoy moved to the port area.

A third man sat in the road bleeding heavily. Nearby, two cars were ablaze.

U.S. commanders said they were keen to secure Umm Qasr, Iraq's largest commercial port, because they wanted to use it to bring in humanitarian aid.

When Marines arrived at the port they were met by a huge portrait of Saddam Hussein, showing a younger version of the Iraqi President wearing a Western suit, which was hung next to the main entrance.

Hours later, the picture had been cut out of its frame and spirited away, allegedly by a Marine looking for a war trophy.

From: CN=Carolyn Nelson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/21/2003 7:10:58 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Carolyn Nelson ( CN=Carolyn Nelson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-MAR-2003 12:10:58.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Snee is trying to track you down.
;
Also, I have a sensitive document to pass to you from ARG. Let me know when you're back and I'll bring it over.
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: G. Timothy Saunders/WHO/EOP [WHO] <G. Timothy Saunders>
Sent: 3/21/2003 7:19:25 AM
Subject: RECEIVED: RE: classification EO

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES READ RECEIPT)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-MAR-2003 12:19:25.00
SUBJECT:RECEIVED: RE: classification EO
TO:G. Timothy Saunders (CN=G. Timothy Saunders/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

RETURN RECEIPT

Your Document:
RE: classification EO
was successfully received by:
CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP
at:
03/21/2003 12:19:24 PM

From: Miranda, Manuel (Frist) <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>

To: Mercedes M. Viana/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Mercedes M. Viana>;Abel Guerra/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Abel Guerra>;Goodling, Monica <Monica.Goodling@usdoj.gov>;Snell, BethAnn (Judiciary) <BethAnn_Snell@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Ueland, Eric (Frist) <Eric_Ueland@frist.senate.gov>;Rodgers, Mark (Republican-Conf) <Mark_Rodgers@src.senate.gov>;Gumerson, Katie (RPC) <Katie_Gumerson@RPC.Senate.Gov>;Ho, James (Judiciary) <James_Ho@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary) <Stephen_Higgins@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Dahl, Alex (Judiciary) <Alex_Dahl@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Gold, Martin (Frist) <Martin_Gold@frist.senate.gov>;Leonard B. Rodriguez/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Leonard B. Rodriguez>;Stevenson, Bob (Frist) <Bob_Stevenson@frist.senate.gov>;Benczkowski, Brian A <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov>;Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>;Wichterman, Bill (Frist) <Bill_Wichterman@frist.senate.gov>;Vogel, Alex (Frist) <Alex_Vogel@frist.senate.gov>;Ledeen, Barbara (Republican-Conf) <Barbara_Ledeen@src.senate.gov>;Abegg, John (McConnell) <John_Abegg@mcconnell.senate.gov>;Smith, William (Judiciary) <William_Smith@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary) <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary) <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov>

Sent: 3/21/2003 10:49:21 AM

Subject: : Members Mtg Prep

Attachments: P_DS9XE003_WHO.TXT_1.html

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> ( "Miranda, Manuel
(Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-MAR-2003 15:49:21.00
SUBJECT:: Members Mtg Prep
TO:Mercedes M. Viana ( CN=Mercedes M. Viana/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Abel Guerra ( CN=Abel Guerra/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Goodling, Monica" <Monica.Goodling@usdoj.gov> ( "Goodling, Monica" <Monica.Goodling@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Snell, BethAnn (Judiciary)" <BethAnn_Snell@Judiciary.senate.gov> ( "Snell, BethAnn (Judiciary)" <BethAnn_Snell@Judiciary.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Ueland, Eric (Frist)" <Eric_Ueland@frist.senate.gov> ( "Ueland, Eric (Frist)" <Eric_Ueland@frist.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Rodgers, Mark (Republican-Conf)" <Mark_Rodgers@src.senate.gov> ( "Rodgers, Mark (Republican-Conf)" <Mark_Rodgers@src.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Gumerson, Katie (RPC)" <Katie_Gumerson@RPC.Senate.Gov> ( "Gumerson, Katie (RPC)" <Katie_Gumerson@RPC.Senate.Gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Ho, James (Judiciary)" <James_Ho@Judiciary.senate.gov> ( "Ho, James (Judiciary)" <James_Ho@Judiciary.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary)" <Stephen_Higgins@Judiciary.senate.gov> ( "Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary)" <Stephen_Higgins@Judiciary.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Dahl, Alex (Judiciary)" <Alex_Dahl@Judiciary.senate.gov> ( "Dahl, Alex (Judiciary)" <Alex_Dahl@Judiciary.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Gold, Martin (Frist)" <Martin_Gold@frist.senate.gov> ( "Gold, Martin (Frist)" <Martin_Gold@frist.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
```

READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Leonard B. Rodriguez (CN=Leonard B. Rodriguez/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Stevenson, Bob (Frist)" <Bob_Stevenson@frist.senate.gov> ("Stevenson, Bob (Frist)" <Bob_Stevenson@frist.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Benczkowski, Brian A" <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> ("Benczkowski, Brian A" <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs (CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Wichterman, Bill (Frist)" <Bill_Wichterman@frist.senate.gov> ("Wichterman, Bill (Frist)" <Bill_Wichterman@frist.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Vogel, Alex (Frist)" <Alex_Vogel@frist.senate.gov> ("Vogel, Alex (Frist)" <Alex_Vogel@frist.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Ledeen, Barbara (Republican-Conf)" <Barbara_Ledeen@src.senate.gov> ("Ledeen, Barbara (Republican-Conf)" <Barbara_Ledeen@src.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Abegg, John (McConnell)" <John_Abegg@mcconnell.senate.gov> ("Abegg, John (McConnell)"
<John_Abegg@mcconnell.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Smith, William (Judiciary)" <William_Smith@Judiciary.senate.gov> ("Smith, William (Judiciary)" <William_Smith@Judiciary.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary)" <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov> (
"Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary)" <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN]
)
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary)" <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov> ("Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary)" <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

In preparation for a Members' Meeting on Judicial Nomination to be held sometime next week, we would like to meet on Monday at 3 pm to discuss the agenda.

Place in the Capitol TBA.

- att1.htm
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_DS9XE003_WHO.TXT_1>

In preparation for a Members' Meeting on Judicial Nomination to be held sometime next week, we would like to meet on Monday at 3 pm to discuss the agenda.

Place in the Capitol TBA.

From: Nelson, Carolyn
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/21/2003 4:03:19 PM
Subject: RE: Members Mtg Prep

Tuesday looks better.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Friday, March 21, 2003 3:55 PM
To: Nelson, Carolyn
Subject: Members Mtg Prep

can Judge do a Senators' meeting on judges either Tuesday at 4 or Thursday at 4?

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 03/21/2003 03:59 PM ----------

"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)"
03/21/2003 03:48:27 PM

Record Type: Record

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
cc:
Subject: Members Mtg Prep

In preparation for a Members' Meeting on Judicial Nomination to be held sometime next week, we would like to meet on Monday at 3 pm to discuss the agenda.

Place in the Capitol TBA.

 - att1.htm << File: att1.htm >>

Message Sent To:

"Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary)"
"Dahl, Alex (Judiciary)"
"Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary)"
"Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary)"
"Smith, William (Judiciary)"

"Ho, James (Judiciary)"
"Abegg, John (McConnell)"
"Gumerson, Katie (RPC)"
"Ledeen, Barbara (Republican-Conf)"
"Rodgers, Mark (Republican-Conf)"
"Vogel, Alex (Frist)"
"Ueland, Eric (Frist)"
"Wichterman, Bill (Frist)"
Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP
"Snell, BethAnn (Judiciary)"
"Benczkowski, Brian A"
"Goodling, Monica"
"Stevenson, Bob (Frist)"
Abel Guerra/WHO/EOP@EOP
Leonard B. Rodriguez/WHO/EOP@EOP
Mercedes M. Viana/WHO/EOP@EOP
"Gold, Martin (Frist)"

From: CN=Matthew E. Smith/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/21/2003 12:10:49 PM
Subject: : Washington Update - March 21, 2003

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Matthew E. Smith (CN=Matthew E. Smith/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-MAR-2003 17:10:49.00
SUBJECT:: Washington Update - March 21, 2003
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

---------- Forwarded by Matthew E. Smith/WHO/EOP on 03/21/2003 05:10 PM ----------

Family Research Council <frcpub@frc.org>
03/21/2003 04:48:33 PM
Please respond to frcpub@frc.org
Record Type: Record

To: Matthew E. Smith/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Washington Update - March 21, 2003

From: Ken Connor, President
Date: March 21, 2003 - Friday
To: Friends of Family Research Council

It's War! Senate Democrats Block More Bush Judges

Wednesday night, as the nation's attention was fixed on the start of the war in Iraq, Michigan's two Democratic senators slapped holds on four more of President Bush's appeals court nominees. Even though the Sixth Circuit Court has declared an official judicial crisis because eight of its 16 seats are vacant, Sens. Carl Levin and Debbie Stabenow placed holds on four nominees, refusing to let the Senate confirm them until Mr. Bush re-nominates two Clinton judges. This is unprecedented. The Senate has never demanded that a new president re-appoint his predecessor's unconfirmed nominees. When President Bush's father left office, two Sixth Circuit Court nominees remained unconfirmed. The Republicans did not demand that Mr. Clinton re-submit those nominations. This latest outrage is yet another indication that the Democrats intend to deny Mr. Bush his constitutional authority to appoint judges, especially appeals court judges. Republicans appear utterly baffled by the Democrats' fierce obstruction tactics and have no apparent strategy to break out of the impasse.

What are the president's options? First, Mr. Bush should immediately consider recess appointments. The Constitution allows the president to make such appointments when the Senate is in recess. In the face of the Democrats' unrelenting intransigence, Mr. Bush should wield this constitutional power to break the gridlock. Bill Clinton made frequent use of the recess appointment option, following the example of John F. Kennedy, who put fully 20 percent of his judges on the bench through recess appointments. Second, the Democrats' filibuster of Miguel Estrada, and threatened filibuster of other appeals court nominees, is unconstitutional. The Constitution lists five specific instances in which a supermajority of the Senate is required: veto override, constitutional amendments, impeachment, treaty ratification, and expelling a member. Judicial confirmation is not one of these specified instances. The Senate rule requiring 60 votes for confirmation, therefore, is unconstitutional under the "advice and consent" clause. A parliamentary point of order challenging the rule as unconstitutional should be invoked, or a lawsuit could be filed to test the rule's constitutionality. In the absence of such strategies, the Democrats show no signs they are willing to abandon their scorched earth tactics and confirm any of President Bush's appeals court judges.

Freedom Isn't Free

The defense of liberty has always required sacrifice. The loss of 12 British Royal Marines and four Americans in a helicopter crash in Kuwait, and the death of a U.S. Marine officer from enemy fire in southern Iraq, painfully underscores this hard truth. No matter how successfully this war is prosecuted, and despite the high level of professionalism among the men and women of our armed forces, some will be called upon to make the supreme sacrifice. Thus has it always been and thus will it ever be. In the words of the Korean War Memorial here in Washington: "Freedom Isn't Free." From Concord Bridge where the Minute Men stood, to Gettysburg, Normandy, Iwo Jima, Viet Nam, and now the sands of Iraq, the defense of liberty has meant that some will give, in Abraham Lincoln's words, "the last full measure of devotion." For the rest of us, we can only offer our humble thanks to our parted countrymen, keep their families in our prayers, and extend the comfort of a grateful nation. They did not die in vain.

You are currently subscribed to washingtonupdate as:
matthew_e._smith@who.eop.gov
To remove the above address from this list, please reply to this message or call our order line at 1-800-225-4008.
Family Research Council is located at 801 G Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20001
Phone: 202-393-2100
Fax: 202-393-2134
http://www.frc.org
To donate, go to: https://secure.frc.org/gifts.cfm

From: Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
To: <Silverberg, Kristen>;<Schacht, Diana L.>;<Warsh, Kevin>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/21/2003 4:19:51 PM
Subject: Asbestos Myths and Facts
Attachments: mythsandfacts.doc

American Insurance Association

MYTHS AND FACTS ABOUT ASBESTOS LITIGATION

Myth: Asbestos lawyers represent people who are sick from asbestos.

FACT: Today, over 600,000 individuals have filed asbestos claims. Each claimant sues on average 20 defendants. Of the 200,000 claims currently pending in our courts, the majority are filed by people who are not sick. The New York Times recently reported that the latest surge in asbestos claims includes many healthy plaintiffs: "[v]ery few new plaintiffs have serious injuries."[i]

Both the RAND Institute (2002) and Tillinghast-Towers (2001) accepted estimates that about 90 percent of claims are filed by plaintiffs who do not have cancer.

U.S. Supreme Court Justice Breyer acknowledged in the 1990s that many modern asbestos cases do not involve claimants who are impaired, quoting one source who estimated that "up to one-half of asbestos claims are now being filed by people who have little or no physical impairment."[ii]

In a recent Mississippi asbestos case, which resulted in one of the largest asbestos awards ever, a jury awarded six plaintiffs $25 million each in compensatory damages alone. None of the plaintiffs in this case claimed to have missed a day of work due to an alleged asbestos-related disease.[iii] Not one claimed any prior medical expenses due to asbestos exposure.[iv] None of the claimants had cancer.

Myth: Congress does not need to reform the asbestos litigation system.

FACT: For more than a decade, the U.S. Supreme Court and lower courts have urged Congress to pass laws to curb the absurdity of asbestos litigation. More than 10 years ago, Chief Justice Rehnquist appointed a United States Judicial Conference Ad Hoc Committee on Asbestos Litigation, which drafted a report that forecast the crisis we now face. The Committee "concluded that the situation has reached critical dimensions and is getting worse. What has been a frustrating problem is becoming a disaster of major proportions to both the victims and the producers of asbestos products, which the courts are ill-equipped to meet effectively."[v]

In 1999, eight years later, Chief Justice Rehnquist again noted that the crisis had worsened in the absence of Congressional action, writing that asbestos-related claims were having a "massive impact" on the court system.[vi] In early 2003, the Court again specifically called on Congress to resolve the asbestos litigation crisis.

REV_00112533

Myth: Our economy can handle the flood of asbestos claims filed in our courts.

FACT: Asbestos litigation has already bankrupted nearly 70 companies, and the pace of asbestos-related bankruptcies is accelerating. Some experts estimate that the total economic toll of asbestos liability on businesses will reach $275 billion, more than cost estimates for all Superfund cleanup sites combined, Hurricane Andrew or the September 11 terrorist attacks.[vii]

The bankruptcies to date have led to the loss of about 60,000 jobs, and workers at those bankrupt firms have seen their 401(k) plans dwindle by an average of 25 percent, according to a study done by Nobel Prize-winning economist Joseph E. Stiglitz.[viii]

Today, at least 8,400 companies are named in lawsuits, most of which never manufactured asbestos and had only some peripheral involvement with the substance.[ix]

Myth: Asbestos claims are proliferating because the rate of asbestos-related disease is rising.

FACT: Asbestos was phased out of most non-essential uses by the late 1970s and early 1980s. Contrary to medicine and common sense, the number of claimants is expanding exponentially. At the current rate, the total number of claims could top 2.5 million. This confounds the experts, who—going by the actuarial tables—expected that by now we would see the number of cases stabilizing.

These new asbestos cases are driven largely by mass X-ray screenings, actually sponsored by trial lawyers but often advertised as free medical exams. Medical audits by independent experts have shown that high percentages of asbestos claimants have little or no impairment. For example, in one notorious case, only 16 out of the 439 tire workers who had filed lawsuits, or 3.6 percent, exhibited chest abnormalities that could have resulted from asbestos.

While mass X-ray screenings serve no real medical purpose, they do, however, serve their intended purpose. They swell the asbestos plaintiff class with thousands of people, many of whom either are unimpaired and quite healthy or are suffering from medical conditions not caused by exposure to asbestos.

Myth: Juries decide if asbestos claims deserve compensation.

FACT: If the cases of unimpaired people were handled one by one, they would not get far in most courtrooms in this country. But that is not the way the system currently works. The asbestos lawyers who bring these mass cases lump them all together in large quantities, mixing in a few very sick claimants with hundreds of non-sick ones. Most of these cases never go to a jury, because trying them is too expensive for the defendants. This leads to big settlements.

REV_00112534

Myth: The defendants in the asbestos lawsuits should be held accountable because they caused people to be exposed to a harmful substance.

FACT: Asbestos litigation defendants are more than just a "few asbestos manufacturers." In fact, many of the miners and sellers of asbestos are already out of business. Asbestos lawyers are turning to new defendants under the doctrine of "joint and several liability." The litigation has begun to involve small businesses that were only peripherally connected to asbestos. One report estimated that asbestos cases had hit eighty-five percent of U.S. industries. Today, it has become commonplace to hear household names involved in asbestos suits. In April 2000, a jury rendered a $34 million dollar verdict against a division of Royal Dutch/Shell Oil Company. Shell never manufactured an asbestos-containing product, but like other oil companies, used such a product in its refineries.[x]

Other companies like Campbell's Soup and Procter & Gamble are viewed as deep pockets as well. Both were added to a pending complaint in California Superior Court in San Francisco, alleging that asbestos was found at company factory sites.[xi] In another San Francisco court, a former insulator has sued Dow Jones & Company, publisher of The Wall Street Journal, claiming asbestos exposure at a Journal printing plant.[xii]

RAND estimates that at least one company in every U.S. industry is involved in asbestos litigation. By 1998, according to RAND more than 60 percent of asbestos defendants were in "non-traditional" industries, including food and beverage, paper, textiles and glass.[xiii]

For more information, contact Julie Rochman at jrochman@.aiadc.org (202) 828-8497, or visit AIA's Website at www.aiadc.org.

March 2003

---

[i] Alex Berenson, "A Surge in Asbestos Suits, Many by Healthy Plaintiffs", New York Times, April 10, 2002, at A1.
[ii] Amchem Prods., Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 631 (1997) (Breyer, J., concurring in part and dissenting in part) (quoting Christopher F. Edley, Jr. & Paul C. Weiler, Asbestos: A Multi-Billion Dollar Crisis, 30 Harv. J. on Legis. 383, 384, 393 (1993)).
[iii] See Parloff, supra note 15; Trial Tr., Simeon Johnson v. AC&S, Civ. No. 2000-181 (Cir. Ct. Holmes, Miss. 2001).
[iv] Id.
[v] Summary of the Report of the Judicial Conference Ad Hoc Committee on Asbestos Litigation, at 2 (Mar. 1991).
[vi] Ortiz, 527 U.S. at 865.
[vii] See Raji Bhagavatula, et al., "Asbestos: A Moving Target,"102 No. 5 Best's Review 85 (Sept. 1, 2001) (estimating $270 billion in cumulative asbestos liability); see also Michael Angelina, Jennifer Biggs, "Sizing Up Asbestos Exposure," 16 No. 20 Mealey's Litigation Report: Asbestos 32-38 (Nov. 26, 2001) (estimating $200 billion); "Tillinghast-Towers Perrin Estimates Claims Associated with U.S. Asbestos Exposure Will Ultimately Cost $200 Billion," Business Wire (June 12, 2001); Lisa Girion, "Firms Hit Hard as Asbestos Claims Rise," Los Angeles

REV_00112535

Times, December 17, 2001, at A1 (noting that $200 billion in estimated asbestos liability exceeds costs associated with Superfund, Hurricane Andrew and September 11 terrorist attacks).

[viii] The Impact of Asbestos Liabilities on Workers in Bankrupt Firms, Joseph E. Stiglitz, Jonathan M. Orszag, Peter R. Orszag, December 2002.

[ix] Facts and Figures About Asbestos Litigation, RAND Institute, Stephen Carroll and Debra Hensler, January 2003

[x] See F.T. McCarthey, "Still Killing: Asbestos Claims: Asbestos Strike[s] Again," The Economist, August 19, 2000.

[xi] See Richard Schmitt, "Burning Issue: How Plaintiffs' Lawyers Have Turned Asbestos Into a Court Perennial," Wall Street Journal, March 5, 2001.

[xii] Id.

[xiii] Facts and Figures About Asbestos Litigation, RAND

REV_00112536

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Litkenhaus, Colleen>
Sent: 3/21/2003 5:15:13 PM
Subject:

were you kidding (maybe not??). I thought the only issue that was outstanding was OHS budget, which I understood was still being discussed as policy issue with many folks after I discussed with Ed McNally?? but please let me know!

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Edward McNally/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Edward McNally>
Sent: 3/21/2003 1:33:01 PM
Subject: : Re: HSC non-concur Re: Timing on the proposed executive order amending EO 12958

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-MAR-2003 18:33:01.00
SUBJECT:: Re: HSC non-concur Re: Timing on the proposed executive order amending EO 12958
TO:Edward McNally (CN=Edward McNally/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Does the new order restrict the scope of what is classifiable as of today? Or is that HSC wants to broaden the scope of what is classifiable as of today? I assume the latter. If so, why was the need to classify such info not recognized over last several decades? (Do not assume I am skeptical; rather, these are questions we would need to be able to answer to boss and public.)

From: Edward McNally on 03/21/2003 06:29:07 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Re: HSC non-concur Re: Timing on the proposed executive order amending EO 12958

E.g., critical infrastructure info under Sec. 1.4(g) that does NOT "relate to" the fairly limited Sec. 6.1(y) definition of "national security".

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Kaplan, Joel>
Sent: 3/21/2003 5:41:00 PM
Subject: Re: FW: Reuters - Marines Briefly Raise U.S. Flag Over Iraqi Port

sweet

From: Joel Kaplan/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/21/2003 11:08:14 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: FW: Reuters - Marines Briefly Raise U.S. Flag Over Iraqi Port

Check out my jarheads. As always, very aggressive move, but probably not the guys you want to take your diplomatic advice from.

-----Original Message-----

From: Bravo, Brian

Sent: Friday, March 21, 2003 11:04 AM

Subject: Reuters - Marines Briefly Raise U.S. Flag Over Iraqi Port

Marines Briefly Raise U.S. Flag Over Iraqi Port

By Adrian Croft

UMM QASR, Iraq (Reuters) - U.S. Marines briefly raised the Stars and Stripes flag over the new port area of Umm Qasr on Friday after facing tougher than expected resistance in and around the southern Iraq port.

Reuters correspondent Adrian Croft, traveling with the Marines, saw troops lower an Iraqi flag soon after they arrived at the port complex, replacing it with the U.S. flag.

Some time later, Marines returned and removed the Stars and Stripes. No reason was given for the decision, but Washington has consistently stressed that invading U.S. forces want to liberate Iraq, not occupy it.

U.S. troops moved into the huge port area to hunt for Iraqi soldiers who might be hidden in the site. A dozen Marine helicopters landed on a massive parking lot inside the perimeter fence to bring in reinforcements.

"The (new) port is about 40 percent secure. There is still shooting going on," said Marine Captain Rick Crevier from Placerville, California, one of the operation's commanders.

He added the old port, one mile away, was still under observation.

U.S. Marines poured over the Kuwaiti border just after dawn heading for Umm Qasr, but were almost immediately pinned down in a two-hour firefight with Iraqi soldiers armed with machineguns and anti-tank rockets.

The Marines called in tanks and artillery fire to clear their path.

STIFF RESISTANCE

Asked if the resistance was stiffer than expected, Crevier said: "Yes, a lot more. We had some dug in troops and we were starting to receive some mortar fire."

He added one Marine was slightly injured by broken glass.

He had no information about Iraqi casualties, but the bodies of two men in civilian clothes were seen lying in the streets as a U.S. armored convoy moved to the port area.

A third man sat in the road bleeding heavily. Nearby, two cars were ablaze.

U.S. commanders said they were keen to secure Umm Qasr, Iraq's largest commercial port, because they wanted to use it to bring in humanitarian aid.

When Marines arrived at the port they were met by a huge portrait of Saddam Hussein, showing a younger version of the Iraqi President wearing a Western suit, which was hung next to the main entrance.

Hours later, the picture had been cut out of its frame and spirited away, allegedly by a Marine looking for a war trophy.

From:	Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To:	Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications>
BCC:	Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent:	3/21/2003 3:05:09 PM
Subject:	: SPECIAL 'LIBERATION UPDATE' EDITION: WHITE HOUSE GLOBAL MESSENGER 3/22/03
Attachments:	P_G7LXE003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-MAR-2003 20:05:09.00
SUBJECT:: SPECIAL 'LIBERATION UPDATE' EDITION: WHITE HOUSE GLOBAL MESSENGER 3/22/03
TO:Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications (CN=Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 3-22-03 Liberation FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Saturday, March 22, 2003

SPECIAL EDITION***

LIBERATION UPDATE***
The voices of freedom, heard now inside Iraq and around the world

News accounts today paint a vivid picture of joy and relief inside Iraq. American and coalition troops are being welcomed by smiling Iraqis. Their voices have been silenced for too long, but now they are heard inside Iraq and around the world.

For a regularly updated collection of these reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at:

http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

VOICES OF FREEDOM***

"One little boy, who had chocolate melted all over his face after a soldier gave him some treats from his ration kit, kept pointing at the sky, saying 'Ameriki, Ameriki.'"
Associated Press, 3-21-03

***
"Milling crowds of men and boys watched as the Marines attached ropes on the front of their Jeeps to one portrait and then backed up, peeling the Iraqi leader's black-and-white metal image off a frame. Some locals briefly joined Maj. David 'Bull' Gurfein in a new cheer. 'Iraqis! Iraqis! Iraqis!' Gurfein yelled, pumping his fist in the air...

"....A few men and boys ventured out, putting makeshift white flags on their pickup trucks or waving white T-shirts out truck windows....'Americans very good,' Ali Khemy said.
'Iraq wants to be free. Some chanted, 'Ameriki! Ameriki!'

"Gurfein playfully traded pats with a disabled man and turned down a dinner invitation from townspeople. 'Friend, friend,' he told them in Arabic learned in the first Gulf War.

"'No Saddam Hussein!' one young man in headscarf told Gurfein. 'Bush!'"
Associated Press, 3-21-03

***
"Iraqi citizens were shown 'tearing down a poster of Saddam Hussein' and Dexter Filkins of The New York Times was interviewed, saying that Iraqis he had seen were 'hugging and kissing every American they could find.'"
NBC Nightly News, 3-21-03

***
"Here was a chance to stop and I clambered down, eager to get a first word from an Iraqi of what he thought of this whole affair. 'As salaam alekum,' I said in the traditional greeting, then ran out of Arabic and quickly added, 'Do you speak English?' No go. But with a fumbled exchange of gestures we slowly managed to communicate. Thumbs up for the American tanks, thumbs down for Saddam Hussein. Then he pointed north into the distance and said 'Baghdad.'"
Reuters, 3-21-03
***
"A line of dancing Kurdish men, staring directly into the mouth of the Iraqi guns less than a mile away, defiantly burned tires, sang traditional new years songs and chanted, 'Topple Saddam.'

"March 21 is the Kurdish New Year....And bonfires have long been a symbol of liberation in this part of the world. 'We're celebrating [Nawroz] a national holiday,' said Samad Abdulla Rahim, 22. 'But today we also celebrate the attack on Saddam.'

"Many expressed hope that deadly fire would light the night sky over Baghdad in the days ahead, bringing an end to the Kurd's epic 30-year struggle against Hussein and his Baath Party. 'I can't wait for the U.S. planes to come and liberate Kirkuk,' said Shahab Ahmed Sherif, a 33-year-old Kurd who had fled the oil-rich city four days earlier."
Copley News Service, 3-21-03

***
Unidentified Iraqi man: "Help us live better than this life. Let us have freedom."
ABC World News Tonight, 3-21-03

TODAY'S SCHEDULE***

10:06am The President
's Weekly Radio Address

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****
You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere. - GM 3-22-03 Liberation FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_G7LXE003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Saturday, March 22, 2003
SPECIAL EDITION

LIBERATION UPDATE

The voices of freedom, heard now inside Iraq and around the world

News accounts today paint a vivid picture of joy and relief inside Iraq. American and coalition troops are being welcomed by smiling Iraqis. Their voices have been silenced for too long, but now they are heard inside Iraq and around the world.

For a regularly updated collection of these reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at:
http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

VOICES OF FREEDOM

"One little boy, who had chocolate melted all over his face after a soldier gave him some treats from his ration kit, kept pointing at the sky, saying 'Ameriki, Ameriki.'"
Associated Press, 3-21-03

***

"Milling crowds of men and boys watched as the Marines attached ropes on the front of their Jeeps to one portrait and then backed up, peeling the Iraqi leader's black-and-white metal image off a frame. Some locals briefly joined Maj. David 'Bull' Gurfein in a new cheer. 'Iraqis! Iraqis! Iraqis!' Gurfein yelled, pumping his fist in the air…

"….A few men and boys ventured out, putting makeshift white flags on their pickup trucks or waving white T-shirts out truck windows…. 'Americans very good,' Ali Khemy said. 'Iraq wants to be free. Some chanted, 'Ameriki! Ameriki!'

"Gurfein playfully traded pats with a disabled man and turned down a dinner invitation from townspeople. 'Friend, friend,' he told them in Arabic learned in the first Gulf War.
"'No Saddam Hussein!' one young man in headscarf told Gurfein. 'Bush!'"
Associated Press, 3-21-03

***

"Iraqi citizens were shown 'tearing down a poster of Saddam Hussein' and Dexter Filkins of The New York Times was interviewed, saying that Iraqis he had seen were 'hugging and kissing every American they could find.'"
NBC Nightly News, 3-21-03

VOICES OF FREEDOM

"Here was a chance to stop and I clambered down, eager to get a first word from an Iraqi of what he thought of this whole affair. 'As salaam alekum,' I said in the traditional greeting, then ran out of Arabic and quickly added, 'Do you speak English?' No go. But with a fumbled exchange of gestures we slowly managed to communicate. Thumbs up for the American tanks, thumbs down for Saddam Hussein. Then he pointed north into the distance and said 'Baghdad.'"
Reuters, 3-21-03

***

"A line of dancing Kurdish men, staring directly into the mouth of the Iraqi guns less than a mile away, defiantly burned tires, sang traditional new years songs and chanted, 'Topple Saddam.'

"March 21 is the Kurdish New Year….And bonfires have long been a symbol of liberation in this part of the world. 'We're celebrating [Nawroz] a national holiday,' said Samad Abdulla Rahim, 22. 'But today we also celebrate the attack on Saddam.'

"Many expressed hope that deadly fire would light the night sky over Baghdad in the days ahead, bringing an end to the Kurd's epic 30-year struggle against Hussein and his Baath Party. 'I can't wait for the U.S. planes to come and liberate Kirkuk,' said Shahab Ahmed Sherif, a 33-year-old Kurd who had fled the oil-rich city four days earlier."
Copley News Service, 3-21-03

***

Unidentified Iraqi man: "Help us live better than this life. Let us have freedom."
ABC World News Tonight, 3-21-03

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

10:06 am	President's Weekly Radio Address

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

REV_00112562

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 3/22/2003 8:17:13 AM
Subject: : White House Global Messenger - 03-23-03
Attachments: P_WZRXE003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:22-MAR-2003 13:17:13.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger - 03-23-03
TO:Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications (CN=Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 3-23-03 FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Sunday, March 23, 2003

LIBERATION UPDATE***
The voices of freedom, heard now inside Iraq and around the world

News accounts continue to report the joy of Iraqis as American and coalition troops help liberate their country. Several examples follow. For an updated collection of reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update"
at:

http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

VOICES OF FREEDOM***

"As hundreds of coalition troops swept in just after dawn, the heartache of a town that felt the hardest edges of Saddam Hussein's rule seemed to burst forth, with villagers running into the streets to celebrate in a kind of grim ecstasy, laughing and weeping in long guttural cries.

"'Oooooo, peace be upon you, peace be upon you, peace you, oooooo,'Zahra Khafi, a 68-year-old mother of five, cried to a group of American and British visitors who came to the town shortly after Mr. Hussein's army appeared to melt away. 'I'm not afraid of Saddam anymore.'"
New York Times, 3-22-03

***

"We've been driving since dawn today in southern Iraq, and so far we've come across scores of Bedouin herdsmen. We've been greeted by friendly greetings of 'inshallah' and 'salaam aleikum'...we've seen both women and men waving greetings and shouting greeting to the U.S. troops."
Radio Free Europe correspondent Ron Synovitz, 3-21-03

***

"'They told me that Saddam Hussein is not allowing anyone to leave Baghdad,' [an Iraqi man] says. I don't fear the Americans. I was in Baghdad in the war in 1991 and I saw how surgical an operation it was.

Saddam Hussein has persecuted everyone except his own family. Kurds, Arab Shiites, Turkoman - everybody has suffered. But our country was a rich country and we can be rich again.'"
Financial Times Information, 3-21-03

***

"These are U.S. Marines being greeted if not with garlands, with hand shakes by residents of the town in the deep-south corner of Iraq."
CBS News, 3-21-03

U.S SUNDAY SHOW SCHEDULE***
Subject to Change

NBC: Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld

ABC: Chairman of the Joint Chiefs Myers

CBS: Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld

CNN: Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld

FOX: Chairman of the Joint Chiefs Myers

AFGHANISTAN SPRING***
Excerpt of a letter from President Bush to President Karzai on the Afghanistan holiday of Naw Ruz, 3-20-03

"Afghan Spring commemorates the reemergence of a rich and vital Afghan culture and the recovery of optimism for the Afghan people. We celebrate your successes with you, including: three million children - 30 percent of them girls - have started back to school; more than two million refugees have returned home; and commerce and other economic activities are taking root in Kabul and other cities."

KEY QUOTES***

"A campaign on harsh terrain, in a vast country, could be longer and more difficult than some have predicted. And helping Iraqis achieve a united, stable, and free country will require our sustained commitment. Yet whatever is required of us, we will carry out all of the duties we have accepted."
President Bush, in weekly radio address, 3-22-03

"What we have seen is that the Iraqis are welcoming [allied forces]. And so once again this is about liberation, not occupation."
Central Command General Franks, in press conference, 3-22-03

"America is the only country in the world that exports freedom. It brought freedom and democracy to Japan and Germany after defeating both in World War II. It rebuilt their societies and taught them about liberty....That is why we wholeheartedly support the American-led effort to free the people of Iraq."
Albanian Prime Minister Nano, in remarks, 3-20-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****

You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere. - GM 3-23-03 FINAL.doc

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_WZRXE003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Sunday, March 23, 2003

U.S SUNDAY SHOW SCHEDULE

Subject to Change

NBC:	Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld
ABC:	Chairman of the Joint Chiefs Myers
CBS:	Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld
CNN:	Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld
FOX:	Chairman of the Joint Chiefs Myers

AFGHANISTAN SPRING

Excerpt of a letter from President Bush to President Karzai on the Afghanistan holiday of Naw Ruz, 3-20-03

"Afghan Spring commemorates the reemergence of a rich and vital Afghan culture and the recovery of optimism for the Afghan people. We celebrate your successes with you, including: three million children – 30 percent of them girls – have started back to school; more than two million refugees have returned home; and commerce and other economic activities are taking root in Kabul and other cities."

KEY QUOTES

"A campaign on harsh terrain, in a vast country, could be longer and more difficult than some have predicted. And helping Iraqis achieve a united, stable, and free country will require our sustained commitment. Yet whatever is required of us, we will carry out all of the duties we have accepted."
President Bush, in weekly radio address, 3-22-03

"What we have seen is that the Iraqis are welcoming [allied forces]. And so once again this is about liberation, not occupation."
Central Command General Franks, in press conference, 3-22-03

"America is the only country in the world that exports freedom. It brought freedom and democracy to Japan and Germany after defeating both in World War II. It rebuilt their societies and taught them about liberty…. That is why we wholeheartedly support the American-led effort to free the people of Iraq."
Albanian Prime Minister Nano, in remarks, 3-20-03

LIBERATION UPDATE

The voices of freedom, heard now inside Iraq and around the world

News accounts continue to report the joy of Iraqis as American and coalition troops help liberate their country. Several examples follow. For an updated collection of reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at:

http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

***

VOICES OF FREEDOM

"As hundreds of coalition troops swept in just after dawn, the heartache of a town that felt the hardest edges of Saddam Hussein's rule seemed to burst forth, with villagers running into the streets to celebrate in a kind of grim ecstasy, laughing and weeping in long guttural cries.

"'Oooooo, peace be upon you, peace be upon you, peace you, oooooo,' Zahra Khafi, a 68-year-old mother of five, cried to a group of American and British visitors who came to the town shortly after Mr. Hussein's army appeared to melt away. 'I'm not afraid of Saddam anymore.'"
New York Times, 3-22-03

***

"We've been driving since dawn today in southern Iraq, and so far we've come across scores of Bedouin herdsmen. We've been greeted by friendly greetings of 'inshallah' and 'salaam aleikum'…we've seen both women and men waving greetings and shouting greeting to the U.S. troops."
Radio Free Europe correspondent Ron Synovitz, 3-21-03

***

"'They told me that Saddam Hussein is not allowing anyone to leave Baghdad,' he says. I don't fear the Americans. I was in Baghdad in the war in 1991 and I saw how surgical an operation it was. Saddam Hussein has persecuted everyone except his own family. Kurds, Arab Shiites, Turkoman - everybody has suffered. But our country was a rich country and we can be rich again.'"
Financial Times Information, 3-21-03

***

"These are US Marines being greeted if not with garlands, with hand shakes by residents of the town in the deep-south corner of Iraq."
CBS News, 3-21-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

REV_00112567

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: daniel_bartlett@who.eop.gov [UNKNOWN] <daniel_bartlett@who.eop.gov>
Sent: 3/22/2003 1:28:37 PM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:22-MAR-2003 18:28:37.00
SUBJECT::
TO:daniel_bartlett@who.eop.gov ( daniel_bartlett@who.eop.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

We can do home and home. No need to pay for fees. Thx and see you monday.

.
```

From: Miranda, Manuel (Frist) <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>
Sent: 3/23/2003 9:48:55 AM
Subject: : case you missed it
Attachments: P_W80YE003_WHO.TXT_1.html

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> ("Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:23-MAR-2003 14:48:55.00
SUBJECT:: case you missed it
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs (CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Orlando Sentinel (Florida)

March 16, 2003 Sunday, FINAL

SECTION: EDITORIAL; Pg. G3

LENGTH: 650 words

HEADLINE: GRAHAM: SENATE NEEDS MORE INFORMATION ON ESTRADA

BYLINE: Sen. Bob Graham, Special to the Sentinel

BODY:
There are many issues raised by the nomination of Miguel Estrada to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. I consider the most fundamental issue to be the independence of the judiciary, a matter of concern to thoughtful Americans from before our country was a country.

In the Pulitzer Prize-winning biography by David McCullough, John Adams is quoted: "Essential to the stability of government and to an able and impartial administration of justice, . . . there must be an Independent Judiciary, men of experience on the laws of exemplary morals, invincible patience, an unruffled calmness and indefatigable application, should be subservient to none and appointed for life."

Those words, written before the War of Independence, became the guiding star for the Constitutional Convention in 1787. To preserve the independence of judges, the Constitution provides that they shall serve a lifetime appointment. To protect from economic intimidation of the judiciary, Congress is prohibited from reducing the salary of judges.

But perhaps the most difficult issue that the Constitutional Convention faced was: How should judges secure their place on the bench?

Up until the very end of the convention, the idea was that this Senate would directly appoint federal judges. However, concern arose that the independence of the judiciary might be at risk if one branch were solely responsible for the appointment of judges, so a compromise was struck: The president would nominate federal judges, and the Senate would advise and consent through the confirmation process.

So the issue we are debating, the relative roles of the executive and legislative, is not a trivial issue. It goes to the heart, as John Adams said, of the stability of government, because it goes to the independence of the judiciary.

An article in the March 9 issue of the New York Times Magazine focused on the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals and quotes Judge J. Michael Luttig: "Judges are told, 'You're appointed by us to do these things,' so then judges start thinking, well, how do I interpret the law to get the result that the people who pushed for me to be here want me to get? I believe that there is a natural temptation to line up as political partisans that is reinforced by the political process, and it has to be resisted by the judiciary and by the politicians."

I believe we are being called on to resist an effort to inappropriately utilize executive power and to exclude the legislative role in the appointment of federal judges.

I consider myself to be a pragmatist. I find very few things in life that are black and white. I do not think this issue is black and white. I believe the standard for the kind of information that the Senate has a right and a need to have, in order to carry out its advice and consent function, is not an ideological or even a precedential standard but rather a pragmatic standard.

If a person has been, for instance, an academic and has written articles and books, there is some means by which you can get below the resume and get some feel for the person. Similarly, if a person has been a judge at the state level or at other levels within the federal judiciary, it is likely that they have written opinions or other statements of their feelings.

I do not serve on the Judiciary Committee. But colleagues whose judgment I respect have indicated that they do not believe that, as of today, we have the information on Mr. Estrada to, in an informed manner, provide that consent.

I believe this is an issue upon which honorable men and women can reach agreement. So I would urge those of my colleagues who have been particularly involved in this to not see today's vote as the last chapter, but rather as a call to find an honorable way to provide us with the information, given the dearth of information that might otherwise be available.

GRAPHIC: PHOTO: Miguel Estrada
PHOTO: Bob Graham

COLUMN: OTHER VIEWS

LOAD-DATE: March 16, 2003

- att1.htm
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_W80YE003_WHO.TXT_1>

Orlando Sentinel (Florida)

March 16, 2003 Sunday, FINAL

SECTION: EDITORIAL; Pg. G3

LENGTH: 650 words

HEADLINE: GRAHAM: SENATE NEEDS MORE INFORMATION ON ESTRADA

BYLINE: Sen. Bob Graham, Special to the Sentinel

BODY:

There are many issues raised by the nomination of Miguel Estrada to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the D istrict of Columbia. I consider the most fundamental issue to be the independence of the judiciary, a matter of concern to thoughtful Americans from before our country was a country.

In the Pulitzer Prize-winning biography by David McCullough, John Adams is quoted: "Essential to the stability of government and to an able and impartial administration of justice, . . . there must be an Independent Judiciary, men of experience on the laws of exemplary morals, invincible patience, an unruffled calmness and indefatigable application, should be subservient to none and appointed for life."

Those words, written before the War of Independence, became the guiding star for the Constitutional Convention in 1787. To preserve the independence of judges, the Constitution provides that they shall serve a lifetime appointment. To protect from economic intimidation of the judiciary, Congress is prohibited from reducing the salary of judges.

But perhaps the most difficult issue that the Constitutional Convention faced was: How should judges secure their place on the bench?

Up until the very end of the convention, the idea was that this Senate would directly appoint federal judges. However, concern arose that the independence of the judiciary might be at risk if one branch were solely responsible for the appointment of judges, so a compromise was struck: The president would nominate federal judges, and the Senate would advise and consent through the confirmation process.

So the issue we are debating, the relative roles of the executive and legislative, is not a trivial issue. It goes to the heart, as John Adams said, of the stability of government, because it goes to the independence of the judiciary.

An article in the March 9 issue of the New York Times Magazine focused on the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals and quotes Judge J. Michael Luttig: "Judges are told, 'You're appointed by us to do these things,' so then judges start thinking, well, how do I interpret the law to get the result that the people who pushed for me to be here want me to get? I believe that there is a natural temptation to line up as political partisans that is reinforced by the political process, and it has to be resisted by the judiciary and by the politicians."

I believe we are being called on to resist an effort to inappropriately utilize executive power and to exclude the legislative role in the appointment of federal judges.

I consider myself to be a pragmatist. I find very few things in life that are black and white. I do not think this issue is black and white. I believe the standard for the kind of information that the Senate has a right and a need to have, in order to carry out its advice and consent function, is not an ideological or even a precedential standard but rather a pragmatic standard.

If a person has been, for instance, an academic and has written articles and books, there is some means by which you can get below the resume and get some feel for the person. Similarly, if a person has been a judge at the state level or at other levels within the federal judiciary, it is likely that they have written opinions or other statements of their feelings.

I do not serve on the Judiciary Committee. But colleagues whose judgment I respect have indicated that they do not believe that, as of today, we have the information on Mr. Estrada to, in an informed manner, provide that consent.

I believe this is an issue upon which honorable men and women can reach agreement. So I would urge those of my colleagues who have been particularly involved in this to not see today's vote as the last chapter, but rather as a call to find an honorable way to provide us with the information, given the dearth of information that might otherwise be available.

GRAPHIC: PHOTO: Miguel Estrada
PHOTO: Bob Graham

COLUMN: OTHER VIEWS

LOAD-DATE: March 16, 2003

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<McNally, Edward>;<Powell, Benjamin>
Sent: 3/24/2003 7:07:44 AM
Subject:

FYI

Bill Would Make Ridge Fifth In Line For Presidency.

Roll Call (3/24, Bresnahan) reports, "The Homeland Security Department has been open for business for two months, but Tom Ridge is still the only Cabinet secretary without a spot in the line of presidential succession. Now, if a handful of Members of Congress have their way, he'll vault past the majority of his peers in the line to the Oval Office." Roll Call continues, "Sen. Mike DeWine (R-Ohio) introduced a proposal in January to rectify the situation, and House Government Reform Chairman Tom Davis (R-Va.) has gotten into the act as well. Under the identical proposals offered by DeWine and Davis, the Presidential Succession Act would be altered to put the secretary of Homeland Security in the fifth spot among potential successors in the Cabinet if the president and other top leaders die or are otherwise incapacitated. ... Homeland Security would rank after the Secretaries of State, Treasury, Defense and the Attorney General in the Cabinet, and would be eighth overall among all potential successors to the presidency. Interior would be next in line after Homeland Security, followed by Agriculture, Commerce, Labor, Health and Human Services, Housing and Urban Development, Transportation, Energy, Education and finally Veterans Affairs." Roll Call adds, "Norman Ornstein, a constitutional scholar at the American Enterprise Institute who has studied the issue of presidential succession, said the Davis-DeWine proposal needs to be enacted."

From: CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Nanette Everson/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Nanette Everson>
CC: Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 3/24/2003 3:41:15 AM
Subject: :

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:24-MAR-2003 08:41:15.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Nanette Everson (CN=Nanette Everson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Alberto R. Gonzales (CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

FYI.; This matter has started to get a fair amount of attention, most of it from the New York Times.;;Brett, I know you worked on Global Crossing issue so you may be interested as well.
;
NYTimes Decries Conflict Of Interest In Perle's Roles.; The New York Times <http://www.nytimes.com/2003/03/24/opinion/24MON3.html> (3/24) editorializes, "As chairman of the Defense Policy Board, Richard Perle has been an influential architect of the Bush administration's Iraq policy and war plans.; At the same time, it turns out, he has signed on to represent a major telecommunications company that has a strong financial interest in lobbying the Defense Department.; This is a conflict pure and simple, and Mr. Perle should immediately drop one of his two roles."; The Times continues, "Mr. Perle, who served as an assistant defense secretary under President Reagan, is indisputably an important part of the current Defense Department. ... Global Crossing, the telecommunications giant, is now in bankruptcy.; It has retained Mr. Perle to help persuade the Defense Department to drop its objections to a proposed sale to foreign buyers in Hong Kong and Singapore.; The deal has been opposed by the Defense Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation as a threat to national security because it would put Global Crossing's fiber optics network, which is used by the United States government, under foreign control.; Mr. Perle stands to make up to $725,000 from his work for Global Crossing."; The Times concludes, "Mr. Perle insists that there is no conflict in his case because the Defense Policy Board is not involved in approving the Global Crossing deal.; But that is not the right test.; Global Crossing's fee is clearly payment, at least in part, for the influence Mr. Perle exerts through his Defense Department post, and federal ethics rules prohibit using public office for private gain.; To remove the conflict, Mr. Perle will have to choose between the gain and the office."

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: m.edward.whelan@usdoj.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <m.edward.whelan@usdoj.gov @ inet>
Sent: 3/24/2003 5:11:55 AM
Subject: :
Attachments: P_GDFYE003_WHO.TXT_1.wpd

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:24-MAR-2003 10:11:55.00
SUBJECT::
TO:m.edward.whelan@usdoj.gov @ inet (m.edward.whelan@usdoj.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

please call me re attached

- dotdeference.wpd

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_GDFYE003_WHO.TXT_1>

PROPOSAL

Absent consumer protection issues or a clear market failure that cannot effectively be redressed under the antitrust laws, DOT should defer to DOJ on all antitrust and market competition issues involving private agreements and conduct.

DISCUSSION

DOJ and DOT Authority

In the wake of airline deregulation, both DOJ and DOT have statutory authority over competition in the airline industry[1]. The Airline Deregulation Act of 1978 gradually ended regulation of airline pricing and entry decisions, dismantled the Civil Aeronautics Board at the end of 1984, and transferred residual regulatory responsibilities, including merger approval, to the DOT. On January 1, 1989, DOT merger review authority terminated, and airline mergers and acquisitions became subject to normal HSR filing rules and DOJ jurisdiction under Clayton §7.

DOT, however, continues to enforce § 411 of the Federal Aviation Act ("FAA"), whose key language is identical to §5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act, which prohibits "unfair methods of competition." The FTC has no jurisdiction over airlines. In 1998, Congress also enacted a "file-and-wait" requirement at DOT for domestic codeshare and frequent flier program (FFP) agreements. DOT is authorized to delay implementation of codeshare agreements for up to six months, and of FFP agreements for up to 60 days.

DOT traditionally has deferred to DOJ on antitrust issues. In its first post-1989 review of a certificate transfer pursuant to an HSR reportable merger, DOT announced a new, narrower inquiry it would conduct under its "public interest" standard, and that it would defer to DOJ on antitrust issues:

> [In our earlier Show Cause Order[2]] we stated our perception that the sunset of section 408 [DOT merger review authority] strongly suggested Congress' intent that we consider the

---

[1] DOJ: Anticompetitive mergers and acquisitions (Clayton Act §7); anticompetitive agreements among competitors (Sherman Act §1); and exclusionary conduct by dominant firms (Sherman Act §2).

DOT: Consumer protection and other "unfair methods of competition" (49 U.S.C. § 41712); approval of (and antitrust immunity for) agreements between foreign and domestic airlines, including codeshare alliances (49 U.S.C. §§41713, 15); review (but not approval) of domestic codeshare and frequent flyer agreements (49 U.S.C. §41720); fitness reviews and certification of airlines (49 U.S.C. §§41102, 05).

[2] "Congress' decision to deregulate the airline industry means that we should not delay market transactions involving the transfer of route authority unless necessary for important public policy reasons, and that we should not lightly impose restrictions or other conditions on such transactions." Show Cause Order, 3/10/89, at 7.

policy implication of proposed certificate transfers without respect to antitrust considerations, those matters now properly belonging to the Department of Justice.

Federal Express Corp. and The Flying Tiger Line, Inc., Docket 46025, Final Order, served May 2, 1989, at 2. In reaching this conclusion, DOT deferred to DOJ on antitrust issues not necessarily because it was required to, but because DOT concluded it was sound policy consistent with the intent of Congress.[3] Similarly, during DOJ's monopolization investigation of American Airlines, DOT deferred issuing final "Competition Guidelines" relating to predatory conduct by dominant hub carriers, eventually shelving them after the DOJ's lawsuit was filed. Recently, however, there are indications that DOT may seek to return to a broader regulatory role in antitrust and competition matters.

Reasons Why DOT Deference to DOJ is Appropriate

There are sound policy reasons for DOT to defer to DOJ on antitrust and competition issues:

Consistent Enforcement Standards - DOJ is more likely to take a consistent, and therefore predictable, enforcement approach that is defined by antitrust law precedent and sound economic analysis (e.g., the DOJ/FTC Merger Guidelines). In contrast, DOT's statute (FAA § 411), lacks the discipline of the body of antitrust precedent that has developed to preserve the critical balance between protection of competition and government intervention that will actually harm competition. This fact, together with DOT's historically greater focus on addressing the interests advanced by individual competitors rather than competition itself, makes its enforcement policies less predictable. In exclusionary conduct (Sherman Act § 2) situations, a broad interpretation of DOT's statute might not require a showing of "monopoly power" in a defined market. DOT might be tempted to conclude that it need not conduct a Brooke[4] analysis (below cost pricing and recoupment) in predatory pricing cases. In conspiracy cases, DOT might not conduct a Matsushita/Petroleum Products [5] analysis to distinguish conspiracy from conscious parallelism in an oligopoly. In the past, DOT has been both more lenient than the antitrust laws would require (approving overlapping hub mergers in the mid-80's, and granting immunity to competitors in concentrated markets over DOJ objections), and more restrictive (refusing to allow market-based

---

[3] There is legal precedent for the proposition that, under FAA §411, DOT "can forbid anticompetitive practices before they become serious enough to violate the Sherman Act." United Airlines v. Civil Aeronautics Board, 766 F.2d. 1107 (7th Cir. 1985). This does not mean, however, that it is sound policy to attempt broader regulation under §411. Indeed, past efforts by the FTC to broaden its interpretation of the identical language of §5 beyond the scope of DOJ's enforcement of its statutes have met with judicial hostility. See, e.g., E.I Du Pont de Nemours & Co. v. FTC, 729 F.2d 128 (2d Cir. 1984); Boise Cascade Corp. v. FTC, 637 F.2d 573 (9th Cir. 1980).

[4] Brooke Group Ltd. v. Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp., 509 U.S. 209 (1993).

[5] Matsushita Elec. Indus. Co. v. Zenith Radio Corp., 475 U.S. 574 (1986); In re Coordinated Pretrial Proceedings in Petroleum Products Antitrust Litigation, 906 F.2d 432 (9th Cir. 1990), cert. den. sub nom. Chevron Corp. v. Arizona, 500 U.S. 959 (1991).

divestitures in AA/BA II in favor of awarding Heathrow slots to administratively "preferred" recipients).

Insulation From Political Influence - As a pure law enforcement agency, DOJ is less susceptible to political pressure and lobbying than an agency with diverse responsibilities such as DOT. DOT has broad program and promotional responsibilities that are appropriately influenced by political considerations, including airport funding, international aviation treaty negotiations, the essential air service program and the allocation of certain service rights.

Superior Discovery Tools and Procedures - DOJ conducts confidential fact investigations using compulsory process for data, documents and testimony as needed. Information received is not made public (absent litigation), and customers and informants can provide information to DOJ in confidence without running afoul of ex parte rules. In contrast, DOT proceedings are conducted on a public record subject to ex parte rules, where "interested parties" voluntarily (and selectively) submit evidence and argument. The DOT process is not confidential and not well-suited for developing a complete and unbiased factual record.

Effective Use of Government Resources - DOJ is experienced and well-equipped to conduct antitrust investigations. It has the breadth of experience over all industries, many with some of the same structural characteristics of the airline industry. DOJ's Economic Analysis Group is recognized throughout the world as unsurpassed at its work. With its large and experienced legal and economic staffs, DOJ can more efficiently devote the necessary resources to competition issues in the airline industry.

Avoiding Duplicative Investigations - DOJ and FTC have overlapping jurisdiction, but have a "clearance agreement" that prevents overlapping investigations. There is no similar agreement with DOT, although the 1998 pre-filing amendments for codeshares directed the agencies to establish preclearance procedures to prevent unnecessary duplication, 49 U.S.C. § 41720 (f). One way to avoid overlapping investigations in the airline industry is for DOT to defer to DOJ on all matters that can be addressed under the antitrust laws, even if they could arguably be addressed under the more discretionary standards of the Federal Aviation Act.

Ensuring Appropriate Grants of Antitrust Immunity - DOT may grant antitrust immunity to certain agreements between airlines, including codesharing and marketing alliance agreements. DOJ and DOT have often agreed on when a grant of immunity would harm competition and should not be granted, but DOT has also frequently disregarded DOJ advice on withholding immunity, most recently by approving a domestic capacity reduction agreement between Aloha and Hawaiian Air, the only significant inter-island competitors in Hawaii, and by immunizing the American Airlines/Swiss Air alliance without "carving out" (withholding immunity) for certain routes where the parties were the only, or two of three, actual or potential nonstop competitors on the routes. Because antitrust immunity is itself a departure from the legal rules applicable to protect market competition in virtually every other industry, DOT should be reluctant to grant it in any situation. Recognizing that immunity grants to foreign carrier alliances can at times be a useful bargaining chip in open skies negotiations, DOT nonetheless should accord significant weight to a DOJ recommendation to limit, restrict or deny it.[6]

Avoiding Unintended Harm to Competition - Judicial limitations on antitrust liability — such as the requirements of proof in conspiracy and predation cases — should not be viewed as inconvenient impediments to be circumvented by resort to a more broadly worded statute. Rather, these limitations have been put in place by the courts to ensure that unfounded antitrust intervention does not itself chill procompetitive activity. For example, predatory pricing challenges by definition attack price cutting and discounting, which clearly benefit consumers in the short term. Such challenges should not be undertaken without rigorous proof that they are needed to protect competition in the long run. Deference to the DOJ would assure application of these legal standards. Open-ended regulation under a broad reading of §411, in contrast, runs the risk of decisionmaking based on individual competitors' lobbying for advantage rather than the objective application of law.

---

[6] Both the FCC and the STB are required by statute to give the views of DOJ "substantial weight" in reaching certain decisions affecting competition, 47 U.S.C. §271(d)(2)A (FCC); 49 U.S.C. §11324 (STB).

From: CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/24/2003 7:33:21 AM
Subject: : FW: AP - U.S. Wins Appeal on Domestic Spy Powers

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Ashley Snee (CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:24-MAR-2003 12:33:21.00
SUBJECT:: FW: AP - U.S. Wins Appeal on Domestic Spy Powers
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

U.S. Wins Appeal on Domestic Spy Powers

WASHINGTON - The Supreme Court rejected a civil liberties challenge to post-Sept. 11 law enforcement spying on Monday, refusing to be drawn into a dispute over the boundaries of a law that gave the government broader surveillance authority after the terrorist attacks.

The American Civil Liberties Union and other organizations wanted the justices to consider when the government should be allowed to monitor someone's telephone conversations and e-mail, then use the information to prosecute them.

The Bush administration has argued that the surveillance, and a special court that oversees sensitive domestic espionage tactics, are indispensable tools in the war on terror.

The ACLU used an unusual maneuver to get the case to the Supreme Court, filing an appeal on behalf of people who don't even know they're being monitored. The justices would have had to give special permission to allow it. They refused, without comment.

The action was not a ruling on the merits of the ACLU's challenge, and the issue is expected to return to the high court later.

The administration has aggressively defended its use of wiretaps approved by the super-secret Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Court, or "spy court," which deals with intelligence requests involving suspected spies, terrorists or foreign agents.

Even the spy court had reservations about that aggressiveness. Last May, the court ruled that the USA Patriot Act did not justify the use of certain investigative techniques proposed by the administration. Attorney General John Ashcroft appealed to a review court which had never met, or issued a decision, during the spy court's 25-year existence.

That review court sided with the administration and said government officials did not have to limit their monitoring to foreign intelligence. That means law enforcement officers can use the information to build cases for prosecution.

The review court decision "opens the door to surveillance abuses that seriously threatened our democracy in the past," justices were told in the filing by the ACLU, the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers, the American-Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee and the Arab Community Center for Economic and Social Services.

To get a warrant from the spy court, the government must show that a suspect probably is a "foreign power or agent of a foreign power." Law enforcement must meet a higher standard - probable cause that a crime was committed - to get an ordinary criminal warrant for wiretapping or other electronic intrusion.

The administration did not respond to the ACLU's appeal. Any of the nine justices could have demanded a response, but none did.

The spy court has approved thousands of warrants since it was established by Congress in 1978, and it only rarely turns down the government.

The case is one of two at the Supreme Court involving issues related to the terrorist attacks. The other challenges the government's holding of closed deportation hearings after the attacks.

The ACLU had filed challenges in Michigan and New Jersey, on behalf of media organizations seeking access to hearings involving foreigners swept up in the terrorism probes.

The 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia ruled that the attorney general has the right to close the hearings for reasons of national security. The ACLU appealed the decision. The government has until next month to appeal an appeals court decision that went the other way.

"The courts continue to have a critical role in ensuring that the government's efforts to protect national security are done in a manner that is consistent with protecting civil liberties," said Steven Shapiro, the ACLU's legal director.

From: Snee, Ashley
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/24/2003 12:33:03 PM
Subject: FW: AP - U.S. Wins Appeal on Domestic Spy Powers

U.S. Wins Appeal on Domestic Spy Powers

WASHINGTON - The Supreme Court rejected a civil liberties challenge to post-Sept. 11 law enforcement spying on Monday, refusing to be drawn into a dispute over the boundaries of a law that gave the government broader surveillance authority after the terrorist attacks.

The American Civil Liberties Union and other organizations wanted the justices to consider when the government should be allowed to monitor someone's telephone conversations and e-mail, then use the information to prosecute them.

The Bush administration has argued that the surveillance, and a special court that oversees sensitive domestic espionage tactics, are indispensable tools in the war on terror.

The ACLU used an unusual maneuver to get the case to the Supreme Court, filing an appeal on behalf of people who don't even know they're being monitored. The justices would have had to give special permission to allow it. They refused, without comment.

The action was not a ruling on the merits of the ACLU's challenge, and the issue is expected to return to the high court later.

The administration has aggressively defended its use of wiretaps approved by the super-secret Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Court, or "spy court," which deals with intelligence requests involving suspected spies, terrorists or foreign agents.

Even the spy court had reservations about that aggressiveness. Last May, the court ruled that the USA Patriot Act did not justify the use of certain investigative techniques proposed by the administration. Attorney General John Ashcroft appealed to a review court which had never met, or issued a decision, during the spy court's 25-year existence.

That review court sided with the administration and said government officials did not have to limit their monitoring to foreign intelligence. That means law enforcement officers can use the information to build cases for prosecution.

The review court decision "opens the door to surveillance abuses that seriously threatened our democracy in the past," justices were told in the filing by the ACLU, the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers, the American-Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee and the Arab Community Center for Economic and Social Services.

To get a warrant from the spy court, the government must show that a suspect probably is a "foreign power or agent of a foreign power." Law enforcement must meet a higher standard - probable cause that a crime was committed - to get an ordinary criminal warrant for wiretapping or other electronic intrusion.

The administration did not respond to the ACLU's appeal. Any of the nine justices could have demanded a response, but none did.

The spy court has approved thousands of warrants since it was established by Congress in 1978, and it only rarely turns down the government.

The case is one of two at the Supreme Court involving issues related to the terrorist attacks. The other challenges the government's holding of closed deportation hearings after the attacks.

The ACLU had filed challenges in Michigan and New Jersey, on behalf of media organizations seeking access to hearings involving foreigners swept up in the terrorism probes.

The 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia ruled that the attorney general has the right to close the hearings for reasons of national security. The ACLU appealed the decision. The government has until next month to appeal an appeals court decision that went the other way.

"The courts continue to have a critical role in ensuring that the government's efforts to protect national security are done in a manner that is consistent with protecting civil liberties," said Steven Shapiro, the ACLU's legal director.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 3/24/2003 10:21:33 AM
Subject: : ideas

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:24-MAR-2003 15:21:33.00
SUBJECT:: ideas
TO:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales ( CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Perhaps you should go meet with Daschle and Reid (and I assume they also will want Leahy) on the President's 3/11 letter re judges plan and just get a sense of where they are. I am under no illusions that this will be imemdiately productive but might be good nonetheless to get the ball slowly rolling.
```

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>
Sent: 3/24/2003 3:14:23 PM
Subject: ideas

Perhaps you should go meet with Daschle and Reid (and I assume they also will want Leahy) on the President's 3/11 letter re judges plan and just get a sense of where they are. I am under no illusions that this will be imemdiately productive but might be good nonetheless to get the ball slowly rolling.

From: CN=Kimberly A. Douglass/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/24/2003 11:27:52 AM
Subject: : memo

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Kimberly A. Douglass ( CN=Kimberly A. Douglass/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:24-MAR-2003 16:27:52.00
SUBJECT:: memo
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

hi!; Did you ever have a chance to update the First Lady airfare memo?;
AirOps is nudging me for it once again.
;
Thanks!
```

From: CN=Helgard C. Walker/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/24/2003 3:19:18 PM
Subject: : Re: Proclamations --

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Helgard C. Walker (CN=Helgard C. Walker/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:24-MAR-2003 20:19:18.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Proclamations --
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Are you working n it?

.

----- Original Message -----
From:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP
To:Helgard C. Walker/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:
Date: 03/24/2003 06:17:24 PM
Subject: Re: Proclamations --

What kind of inquiry. From whom. I think it will mesh with last year's and the one the year before. I am not sure where original 2001 version came from.

.

----- Original Message -----
From:Helgard C. Walker/WHO/EOP
To:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP,
H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO/EOP@EOP,
Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP,
Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP,
Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP@EOP,
Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP,
Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP,
Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP,
Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:
Date: 03/24/2003 05:30:12 PM
Subject: Proclamations --

Does anybody know in which office these originate? I've gotten an inquiry re the Law Day proclamation...

HCW

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Snee>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO /EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>;Jeanie S. Mamo/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jeanie S. Mamo>;David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>
Sent: 3/25/2003 5:57:18 AM
Subject: : Bloomington IL Pantagraph editorial

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:25-MAR-2003 10:57:18.00
SUBJECT:: Bloomington IL Pantagraph editorial
TO:Ashley Snee (CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales (CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jeanie S. Mamo (CN=Jeanie S. Mamo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs (CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Pantagraph Editorial
Monday, March 24, 2003
Stop abuse of filibuster to block court nominees
When Senate traditions and self-proclaimed "institutional responsibilities" clash with the public interest and the intent of the U.S. Constitution, it should be clear that the Constitution should prevail.
But apparently it's not clear to Senate Minority Leader Tom Daschle, D-S.D.
Daschle shrugged off a request from President Bush for a change in Senate rules so filibusters could not be used to block judicial nominees. "I doubt very much that we'll ever permanently change the rules to deny the Senate its institutional responsibilities," Daschle said.
What about the Senate's constitutional responsibilities?
Among those responsibilities is providing "advice and consent" to the president on judicial appointments. Such appointments require only a simple majority. However, it takes 60 votes to break a filibuster -- thereby allowing a minority to thwart the will of a majority of the Senate as well as the president.
Meanwhile, vacancies remain on the federal bench while a Senate minority makes its power play.
It doesn't matter whether Republicans have done to Democratic presidents what the Democrats are doing to Republican Bush. What matters is whether the intent of the Constitution and democracy are being undermined through abuse of the filibuster. They are.
A yes-no vote is being held up on Miguel Estrada, Bush's nominee for the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. Five other federal appellate court nominees also are being blocked from speedy consideration by Senate Democrats.
Even if the Estrada case is resolved and a vote is eventually taken, Bush should continue to press for the Senate to abandon the use of the filibuster to block action on judicial nominees.

From: Edward Kavanaugh <kavanaughe@ctfa.org>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/25/2003 2:52:08 AM
Subject: : White House

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Edward Kavanaugh <kavanaughe@ctfa.org> ( Edward Kavanaugh <kavanaughe@ctfa.org> [
UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:25-MAR-2003 07:52:08.00
SUBJECT:: White House
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

If there is a helicopter take-off or landing where you can have a guest,
let me know.
```

From: Nelson, Carolyn
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/25/2003 8:02:12 AM
Subject: Mtg time change

The Karl/Ken Mtg has been moved to 2:05 in ARG's Office.

From: Estes, Ashley
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/25/2003 8:47:22 AM
Subject: FW: briefings tomorrow

bob is a model!
-----Original Message-----
From: Figg, Kara G.
Sent: Tuesday, March 25, 2003 8:40 AM
To: Estes, Ashley
Subject: RE: briefings tomorrow

did you know that he's a model in the new Neiman Marcus "The Book" (men's)?

-----Original Message-----
From: Estes, Ashley
Sent: Tuesday, March 25, 2003 8:36 AM
To: Figg, Kara G.
Subject: RE: briefings tomorrow

yes, porque?
-----Original Message-----
From: Figg, Kara G.
Sent: Tuesday, March 25, 2003 8:25 AM
To: Estes, Ashley
Subject: RE: briefings tomorrow

isn't your cousin the golfer?

-----Original Message-----
From: Estes, Ashley
Sent: Tuesday, March 25, 2003 8:23 AM
To: Figg, Kara G.; Gottesman, Blake
Subject: RE: briefings tomorrow

i think that's the best plan!
-----Original Message-----
From: Figg, Kara G.
Sent: Tuesday, March 25, 2003 8:18 AM
To: Estes, Ashley; Gottesman, Blake
Subject: briefings tomorrow

Right now - the president will depart at 8:10am.
We could do Intel & FBI before he departs:

7:30am Intell
(20 min)
7:50am FBI
(20 min)

Please let us know what he would prefer.
Thanks!

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>
Sent: 3/25/2003 6:06:37 AM
Subject: : Specter article

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:25-MAR-2003 11:06:37.00
SUBJECT:: Specter article
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs (CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

HEADLINE: Let's Agree on a Timely Basis
To break the judicial nominations gridlock, the Senate needs to vote on schedule.

July 8, 2002

BYLINE: By Arlen Specter

BODY:
Our constitutional system for choosing federal judges has hit an impasse. Public confidence in the Senate confirmation process has declined, while the inordinate number of judicial vacancies has caused corresponding delays in federal court dockets. For the benefit of those seeking legal redress and for citizens generally, we in the Senate can and must act to remedy this unacceptable situation. The solution lies in something as straightforward-and nonpartisan-as a series of scheduled steps leading to a full Senate vote on each and every nominee.

It was another series of steps that led to the current gridlock in confirming federal judicial nominees: President George W. Bush failed to win the popular vote in the 2000 presidential election, with the contest essentially decided in the Supreme Court. The president nominated for the federal bench several prominent individuals with judicial philosophies similar to the president's views. Sen. James Jeffords of Vermont left the Republican Party, ceding control of the Senate to the Democratic Party.

Now the Democrats directing the Senate have refused to appropriately act on Bush judicial nominations-in several cases, for more than a year-in much the same way that Clinton judicial nominees were treated for six years by a Republican-controlled Senate. This reciprocal partisan treatment has in turn created an even deeper division in a Senate already deeply divided in light of the disputed 2000 election and the Jeffords defection. Advocacy groups with vested interests in the makeup of the judiciary have continued to wage negative campaigns against nominees, prompting at various times the invocation-and sometimes abuse-of the time-honored tradition of senatorial courtesy to delay or defeat nominations.

Article II, Section 2, of the Constitution tells us that the president "shall nominate, and, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint . . . Judges of the Supreme Court, and all other officers of the United States." The Senate is thus a critical part of the process for naming federal judges. Unfortunately, the advice-and-consent power is applied in an arcane and ad hoc practice that lacks any set time lines-and therefore is subject to abuse.

All too often of late, where a president of one political party has submitted a judicial nomination to a Senate controlled by the opposite party, that nomination has been subjected to partisan treatment not focused solely on the nominee's qualifications for the federal bench. This has been the case regardless of which party controlled the White House and which party controlled the Senate.

Individual senators and committee chairmen have taken advantage of the ad hoc process to cause excessive delays in considering nominees. Some nominees have not even received a hearing. At other times, the Committee on the Judiciary-acting along party lines-has prevented the full Senate from exercising its constitutional duty to vote on all judicial nominations. While confirmation disputes have often been resolved by back-room arrangements among the Senate leadership, these deals themselves have tended to undermine the legitimacy of the confirmation process in the public's eyes.

I have suggested a simple Senate rule change-a nominations protocol-that would establish a timetable for confirmations.

My nominations protocol provides that the chair of the Senate Judiciary Committee, in consultation with the ranking member, set a specific timetable for committee action on each nominee. A certain number of days after a nomination is submitted by the president, a hearing would be held, and within a certain number of additional days there would be a vote by the Judiciary Committee on whether to report the nominee to the full Senate for its consideration. Then, the majority leader of the Senate, in consultation with the minority leader, would agree upon a timetable for floor action so that, within another specified period of time, there would be a vote by the full Senate.

Additionally, my protocol requires that a nomination would proceed to the Senate floor if the nominee were rejected in committee on a party-line vote. The recent nomination to elevate U.S. District Judge Charles Pickering Sr. of Mississippi to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 5th Circuit is an instance where a nomination, rejected by the Judiciary Committee on a 10-9 party-line vote, was not reported to the full Senate for consideration. It is likely that Judge Pickering would have been confirmed by the full Senate. Thus the Democrats' refusal to allow the full Senate to consider his nomination did not conform to the Constitution, which calls for the Senate-not simply a committee-to make the decision to accept or reject federal judicial nominees.

I believe that any president, notwithstanding his political persuasion, should be accorded a certain degree of deference in his judicial nominations. Neither the text of the Constitution nor any contemporaneous or subsequent history says anything about the ability of one senator or one committee to defeat a judicial nomination by the president. To the contrary, in Federalist 76, Alexander Hamilton made clear that this constitutional function was to be exercised by the Senate as a whole, which would serve as a check upon unwise appointments. Each and every senator should participate in bringing the collective wisdom of the Senate to bear on judicial nominations. If one senator or one committee has the de facto power to block a nomination, then the advice-and-consent clause of the Constitution is rendered virtually meaningless.

Reporting a nomination to the full Senate even absent a majority vote in committee also has historical support under Senate practice. Since 1950, six lower court nominees have been sent to the full Senate even though they did not receive an affirmative vote in the Judiciary Committee.

Similarly, under my protocol, any Supreme Court nominee would be reported to the full Senate irrespective of the committee vote. This conforms with recent Senate practice: In 1991, the nomination of Judge Clarence Thomas to be an associate justice failed to receive a majority vote (7-7) in the Judiciary Committee, yet was reported to the full Senate, which confirmed him, 52-48. Another Supreme Court nominee, Judge Robert Bork, received a negative vote (9-5) in the Judiciary Committee, but his nomination was still sent to the Senate floor-and was ultimately defeated, 58-42.

To ensure that ample discretion is retained at the committee level, the timetables under my protocol could always be extended for cause, such as the need for more investigation or additional hearings. While it is presumed that the White House will adequately consult with senators from the judicial nominee's home state, a failure to consult-in and of itself-should not be considered sufficient cause to indefinitely delay a judicial nomination.

Besides the constitutional concern, a vital pragmatic consideration underlies the need for my protocol. According to both sitting federal judges and their court executives, filling vacancies is the most pressing issue facing our lower courts-due to the correlation between judicial vacancies and delays in processing cases.

For example, look at the 6th Circuit. The court's 50 percent vacancy rate has left a death penalty appeal pending for more than eight years, while a plaintiff in a civil case died after having waited more than 15 months just to have oral arguments in a job discrimination suit.

Egregious delays can also be found in the 4th Circuit, where more than a quarter of the seats are unfilled despite four declared judicial emergencies and one seat being vacant for eight years. Meanwhile, simple appeals languish. A municipality in South Carolina has been waiting 39 months for clarification of the constitutionality of its ban on the docking of longline fishing vessels at the local marina. A routine Longshoreman's Act claim has been pending for 38 months. It is difficult to conceive of a fully occupied court that could not dispose of such mundane cases in more than three years.

These anecdotal examples are representative of a much broader and most disturbing pattern of easily avoidable judicial vacancies and emergencies. The situation is unacceptable, and the Senate has a constitutional responsibility to act. My proposed protocol would provide a nonpartisan way to fill judicial vacancies with due care but without undue political influence.

Arlen Specter is the senior U.S. senator from Pennsylvania, a Republican, and a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

From: Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
To: <Schacht, Diana L.>;<Silverberg, Kristen>;<Warsh, Kevin>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/25/2003 10:44:54 AM
Subject: CD AM on Dooley/Cannon - Both bills will be Med Criteria Based

JUDICIARY
Tort Reform Splits House Asbestos Fix
A rift over tort reform between two House members working to craft a bipartisan asbestos litigation bill could be a harbinger of things to come in the closely divided Senate, where negotiations on similar legislation continue to percolate.
Much of the recent focus regarding asbestos reform has been on the Senate, where Judiciary Committee leaders are attempting to forge a legislative consensus, and where Senate Budget Chairman Nickles already has introduced legislation.
However, legislation to address the asbestos litigation crisis gained its earliest traction in the House, where the Asbestos Alliance last year found its legislative champions in Reps. Chris Cannon, R-Utah, and Calvin Dooley, D-Calif.
The Alliance, which is being led by the National Association of Manufacturers, includes the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, a cross-section of America's leading insurance companies and industry groups, as well as some prominent plaintiffs' attorneys.
Cannon and Dooley advocated the Alliance's proposal for a bill that uses medical criteria to restrict the right of plaintiffs that are ill from asbestos exposure to sue, and, up until several weeks ago, the two were expected to introduce a unified, bipartisan bill in the House.
They also had agreed conceptually that the bill should prevent the consolidation of cases and the practice of court shopping -- both elements backed by the Alliance, NAM Executive Vice President Michael Baroody said in an interview Monday.
More recently, however, Cannon and Dooley have been pursuing separate legislative tracks over a split in opinion about "how far" to take the bill in the area of tort reform.
So while the two legislative offices are still working and communicating with one another, "right now, we're looking at a two-bill approach in the House," one source said.
While Dooley's preference is to keep the bill as clean as possible, sources said that Cannon, after consultation with GOP leadership both in the House and Senate, is exploring whether to include provisions dealing with such hot buttons as damage awards and the doctrine of joint and several liability.
Cannon chairs the House Judiciary Commercial and Administrative Subcommittee, which has been the venue for other tort reforms that have come through the committee. Tinkering with tort reforms is a perennial favorite of conservative Republicans and often used as a goad in their negotiations with Democrats on any issue that touches on legal reform.

Conventional wisdom is that it makes for a better bargaining position for the GOP, which knows Democrats are loathe to give on those areas so closely watched by their constituents in the trial bar.

However, the strategy sometimes has backfired, as in the case of the 107th Congress' debate over terrorism reinsurance, which pitted Senate Democrats against House and Senate Republicans over the GOP's ultimately unsuccessful and self-wounding drive to limit punitive damages for businesses.

In last year's informal conference on terrorism insurance, Democrats ultimately succeeded in blocking more Draconian tort reforms, primarily because the Bush administration reneged on an earlier pledge to stick by congressional Republicans in the fight.

However, House Majority Leader DeLay at the time was said to have secured a commitment that the president would champion certain tort reform legislation this year.

"We're staying in very close contact with Mr. Cannon -- but we made it very clear, too, that I and the Democrats I'm working with are going to be very reluctant to be support for a bill that encompass broader tort reform issues," Dooley said in an interview last week.

Dooley and Cannon also have not yet reached agreement on the specific language dealing with venue and mass-consolidated trials, which defendants believe facilitate a litigation system that awards the unimpaired at the expense of the truly ill.

Democrats in the past have sought to preserve the right of asbestos trial courts to consolidate cases for judicial economy.

"I think we're in the same ballpark," Dooley said. "We're fine with addressing venue and consolidation in a responsible manner, but we'd be reluctant to deal with anything to do with joint and several and any caps on fees and damages."

He added, "We're continuing to work with Chris Cannon in the hopes that we can introduce a bill together." But, "at this point, its also clear that if that bill goes beyond dealing with asbestos litigation reform, Democratic support will be significantly reduced."

House Judiciary Committee sources said Cannon has made no definitive decisions, but noted that he has submitted legislative language for review by legislative counsel.

The sort of proposal Cannon is envisioning -- which adopts medical criteria for claims, but also seeks to eliminate joint and several liability for asbestos claims and cap non-economic damages -- has been dubbed "Alliance-plus" by insiders.

Although those tort reforms are not formal goals of the Alliance, they are said to be priorities of its insurance contingent.

A spokeswoman for the American Insurance Association, a key Alliance member, declined to say whether the insurance industry is pushing for these reforms in the context of the asbestos litigation bill.

"Insurers are for as much reform in terms of certainty and finality -- and fixing the system as can be achieved this year," she said.

NAM's Baroody said he believes that the diverse legislative goals within the business community have been over-hyped.

"To the extent there is a disagreement -- I have always believed that it is less over policy than it is over the political question of how much is achievable," he said.

Baroody, also chairman of the Asbestos Alliance added, "Finally, that's going to be decided by people who have the votes."

Nevertheless, the breach between Cannon and Dooley signals that the asbestos debate will go beyond asbestos claims to a broader political fight over tort reform, which could foreshadow a partisan standoff in a House-Senate conference committee setting.

It is a debate that also is likely to surface in the Senate even before the bill goes to conference, sources said.

Nickles, who was the first lawmaker this year to unveil a bill on asbestos litigation reform, did include provisions to curb forum shopping and effectively bar consolidations.

However, Nickles, no fan of the trial bar, did not include any of the other more-loaded tort reforms -- something that critics dubious of the 'Alliance-plus' strategy said should be a red flag for proponents of the plan.

Other sources who favor the track Cannon is pursuing noted that labor and the trial bar rejected Nickles' bill, which was supposed to represent a compromise in their direction, causing the industry to rethink whether an even tougher approach is warranted.

Baroody insisted he is not concerned about the split between Cannon and Dooley, or about the looming legal reform debate.

"What it will demonstrate -- is that there is, on both sides of the aisle, a willingness to move on this issue this year," he said.

Moreover, the starting place for both bills will be "from the Alliance perspective of medical criteria and some litigation reform," Baroody asserted.

Chief executives for companies represented by the Alliance, the Asbestos Study Group and the AIA, were planning to meet privately with Senate Judiciary Chairman Hatch this week in what could prove a pivotal gathering, sources said.

A more-inclusive asbestos "summit" hosted by the Senate Judiciary panel is in the works, but has not yet been scheduled. By Pamela Barnett

From: Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
To: <Silverberg, Kristen>;<Schacht, Diana L.>;<Warsh, Kevin>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/25/2003 11:17:11 AM
Subject: Senate Democrat letter on Asbestos
Attachments: dem letter.pdf

These three would lean med-criteria approach. Letter was sent as a place holder to include them in the process as it proceeds.

United States Senate
WASHINGTON, DC 20510

March 20, 2003

The Honorable Orrin Hatch
Chairman
Committee on the Judiciary
United States Senate
Washington, DC 20510

The Honorable Patrick Leahy
Ranking Member
Committee on the Judiciary
United States Senate
Washington, DC 10510

Dear Orrin and Pat:

Thank you both very much for your continued interest in the asbestos litigation crisis. We appreciate that the Committee held a second hearing on the issue last week.

As much of the testimony indicated, there is an urgent and compelling need to develop a legislative solution to address this crisis. We understand that Chairman Hatch instructed all parties to work as actively as possible over the next two weeks to try to reach a consensus. We are pleased that the Chairman is moving so expeditiously, especially given the significant health, medical and economic costs associated with this issue.

As members who have been, and remain, very interested in this subject, we would like to participate in the process as much as possible. We have a deep understanding of the issues presented and would welcome the opportunity to be constructive. We look forward to speaking further about how we can be most helpful.

Again, our thanks to both of you for your continued interest in resolving this difficult, but extremely important, problem.

Sincerely,

Thomas Carper

E. Benjamin Nelson

Blanche L. Lincoln

REV_00112726

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Miranda, Manuel (Frist) <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
Sent: 3/25/2003 7:51:53 AM
Subject: : Re: quick question
Attachments: P_UHB0F003_WHO.TXT_1.html

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:25-MAR-2003 12:51:53.00
SUBJECT:: Re: quick question
TO:"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> ("Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

No legal issue, but as an appearance matter, we do not want to engage in anything that could be interpreted as solicitation.

"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
03/25/2003 12:33:12 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: quick question

Any legal limitation on addressing the issue of limited funds of outside organizations on White House grounds?

- att1.htm

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_UHB0F003_WHO.TXT_1>

Any legal limitation on addressing the issue of limited funds of outside organizations on White House grounds?

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Miranda, Manuel (Frist) <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
Sent: 3/25/2003 8:04:26 AM
Subject: : RE: quick question

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:25-MAR-2003 13:04:26.00
SUBJECT:: RE: quick question
TO:"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> ("Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

ok to mention, but we should not get into any details of that in this meeting.

"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
03/25/2003 12:54:30 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: quick question

No that's fine. I just want to speak at today's meeting at the WH about the need to raise money for noms fights to come.

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov [mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Tuesday, March 25, 2003 12:47 PM
To: Miranda, Manuel (Frist)
Subject: Re: quick question

No legal issue, but as an appearance matter, we do not want to engage in anything that could be interpreted as solicitation.

(Embedded image moved "Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" to file: <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> pic30751.pcx) 03/25/2003 12:33:12 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject: quick question

Any legal limitation on addressing the issue of limited funds of outside organizations on White House grounds?

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Jonathan F. Ganter/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jonathan F. Ganter>
Sent: 3/25/2003 8:36:19 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:25-MAR-2003 13:36:19.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Jonathan F. Ganter ( CN=Jonathan F. Ganter/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Did I ask you re project for Dc Circuit caseload in 1978, 1984, and today?
```

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Nelson, Carolyn>
Sent: 3/25/2003 2:19:53 PM
Subject:

reminder that he should call Sens. Cornyn and Sessions.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Nelson, Carolyn>
Sent: 3/25/2003 3:42:25 PM
Subject: Re:

Please call wendy grubbs asap and tell her we are in 472 eeob.

.

From: CN=Paul Perkins/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/25/2003 11:46:05 AM
Subject: : Meeting with Tim Goeglein

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Paul Perkins ( CN=Paul Perkins/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:25-MAR-2003 16:46:05.00
SUBJECT:: Meeting with Tim Goeglein
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Brett,
Tim and Matt would like to meet as soon as possible, off campus, with Leonard Leo. Let me know what works for your schedule.
Thanks,
Paul Perkins.
```

From: Snee, Ashley
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/25/2003 6:36:27 PM
Subject: FW: NOT TO GO OUT....

you dial the host number

-----Original Message-----
From: Godfrey, Georgia D.
Sent: Tuesday, March 25, 2003 5:44 PM
To: Donnan, Elizabeth H.
Cc: Snee, Ashley; Godfrey, Georgia D.
Subject: NOT TO GO OUT....

Conference Call Tonight 6:45 pm

Dial in Number for PRESS 1-800-473-8692

Dial in Number for HOSTS (Ashley, Brett, Etc.) 1-800-473-8694

Confirmation Number 16187728

Liz - Wait for Ashley's okay to Announce

Ashley - Please let us know when to announce!!!!

Georgia Godfrey
White House Press Office
202-456-2580

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Snee, Ashley>
Sent: 3/25/2003 9:19:28 PM
Subject: fyi that allen sent me draft article, which is predictably bad; i called him and made a few corrections, which he accepted cheerfully

From: Edward Kavanaugh <kavanaughe@ctfa.org>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/26/2003 4:49:09 AM
Subject: : Call me today--meeting w/ Mark McClellan tomorrow early a.m.

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Edward Kavanaugh <kavanaughe@ctfa.org> ( Edward Kavanaugh <kavanaughe@ctfa.org> [
UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:26-MAR-2003 09:49:09.00
SUBJECT:: Call me today--meeting w/ Mark McClellan tomorrow early a.m.
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: William Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
To: <Schacht, Diana L.>;<Warsh, Kevin>;<Silverberg, Kristen>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/26/2003 9:07:33 AM
Subject: Fw: Congress Daily blurb about Hatch meeting

See CD story at bottom, will let you know how it goes.
-----Original Message-----
From: "Rochman, Julie"
Date: Wed, 26 Mar 2003 07:32:25
To:"'Mark Isakowitz'" , kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com
Subject: FW: Congress Daily blurb about Hatch meeting

Sorry, meant to include you the first time...

> -----Original Message-----
> From: Rochman, Julie
> Sent: Wednesday, March 26, 2003 7:32 AM
> To: Asbestos Group
> Cc: Karr, Gary; 'mike heimowitz'
> Subject: Congress Daily blurb about Hatch meeting
>
> Hatch To Meet With Executives Seeking Asbestos Litigation Reform
> Senate Judiciary Chairman Hatch is scheduled to meet for two hours > today with executives from various industries seeking asbestos litigation > reform legislation this year.
> The executives and some of their policy and political operatives will > meet privately with Hatch at the Capitol. The meeting is part of Hatch's > efforts to derive a consensus among the various business interests and > defendant companies -- whose unity is seen as a necessary first step to > legislation.
> Representatives from the Asbestos Study Group, the Asbestos Alliance > and the American Insurance Association have been invited, and several > chief executives were scheduled to attend.
> Senate Judiciary ranking member Patrick Leahy, D-Vt., and his staff > were not slated to be a part of today's meeting, although a spokesman > Tuesday said Leahy will participate next week in a more inclusive "summit" > being organized by Sen. Christopher Dodd, D-Conn.
> That forum is expected to include other stakeholders in the debate, > including labor, consumer and legal interests.
> Hatch has indicated he wants to mark up asbestos reform legislation by > the April recess, and sources said they suspect Hatch at today's meeting > could announce a more definitive timeline for drafting a bill.
> -=-=-=-=-=-=-=-
>
> Julie A. Rochman
> SVP, Public Affairs
> American Insurance Association
>

From: William Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Kristen Silverberg/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kristen Silverberg>;Diana L. Schacht/OPD/EOP@EOP [OPD] <Diana L. Schacht>;Kevin Warsh/OPD/EOP@EOP [OPD] <Kevin Warsh>
Sent: 3/26/2003 5:13:12 AM
Subject: : Fw: Op Ed Text

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:William Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com> ( William Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:26-MAR-2003 10:13:12.00
SUBJECT:: Fw: Op Ed Text
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Kristen Silverberg ( CN=Kristen Silverberg/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Diana L. Schacht ( CN=Diana L. Schacht/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Kevin Warsh ( CN=Kevin Warsh/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

-----Original Message-----
From: "Taylor, Bob (Budget)"
<Bob_Taylor@budget.senate.gov>
Date: Wed, 26 Mar 2003 09:49:54

To:<kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
Subject: Op Ed Text

Removing the Shackles of Asbestos Litigation

By Sen. Don Nickles

For many years, Congress has relied on economic incentives and tax savings to encourage investment, create jobs and stimulate growth in the economy.
Such measures will, appropriately, become the centerpiece of proposed legislation to revive our dormant economy.

But first, we must face the economic realities of 2003. While traditional stimulus solutions offer fertile ground for future growth, they are faced with a plethora of negative influences that tend to drive the economy in the opposite direction. That is why we must be prepared to go beyond merely finding effective stimuli for growth to eliminating those factors that obstruct economic recovery.

One major inhibitor of economic recovery is the phenomenon of ever-expanding asbestos litigation, which threatens to siphon away much of the impact of any stimulus measures Congress might pass. Spawned in our courtrooms, the explosion of asbestos litigation is rapidly becoming an out-of-control stampede of civil suits that threatens to bankrupt scores of companies, displace thousands of workers and erode-away sizable chunks of employee retirement plans.

An estimated
8,400 companies have already been named as defendants in asbestos suits, many of which have never been involved in the production ofasbestos. Over 200,000 asbestos claims are pending in federal and state courts, with estimates that it could reach as high as a million. Companies have already paid-out over $54 billion in claims and costs, and future payments could easily reach over $200 billion. The increasing burden of litigation costs and settlement pay-outs has already pushed at least 60 companies into filing for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection, with many more likely to follow.
```

But the costs of litigation and eventual bankruptcy do not begin to reflect the true impact on a business, its investors and its employees. Aside from direct costs associated with litigation and bankruptcy, defendant companies, not surprisingly, suffer from significant declines in stock value, shortages of capital necessary for growth, reductions in long-term revenue and, ultimately, loss of jobs.

It is estimated that almost 60,000 workers have lost their jobs as a direct result of asbestos litigation and resulting bankruptcies. A recently published study co-authored by Joseph Stiglitz, a 2001 Nobel Prize winning economist, stimates that each displaced worker will lose, on average, $25,000 to $50,000 in lost wages. Furthermore, affected employees, many of them union members, are often shareholders and participate in the company 401(k) plan. It is estimated that workers of companies declaring asbestos-related bankruptcy will, on average, lose 25 percent of their plan value.

What makes all these developments so offensive is the fact that a majority of the asbestos plaintiffs have no medical injury. In essence, the courts are becoming log-jammed with cases involving claims of prior asbestos exposure that "may" someday develop into the symptoms of a true disease. In some cases, even exposure to asbestos is doubtful.

What has become clear is that asbestos litigation has become extremely lucrative for trial lawyers. A typical legal strategy involves finding one or two plaintiffs who have developed an asbestos-related malignancy, then add hundreds of plaintiffs to the suit that may have no medical impairments. Faced with having to settle, or endure lengthy and even more costly litigation to sort-out who is sick and who is not, defendant companies often settle, or consider bankruptcy.

Sadly, one group that may suffer the most from this tidal wave of suits are claimants who are actually afflicted with asbestos-related malignancies such as mesothelioma, which is often fatal within two years of diagnosis. As hundreds of thousands of non-injured claimants continue to file questionable claims, and more companies file for bankruptcy, there may soon not be sufficient funds for those who deserve and need compensation.

Though this problem sprang up through the courts, the solution must be found in Congress. The U.S. Supreme Court has already made several pleas for Congress to step-in and resolve this problem. Chief Justice William Rehnquist wrote that the asbestos problem "cries out for a legislative solution." And a growing number of trial lawyers have called for Congressional reform primarily those representing claimants with malignant diseases.

Congress cannot ignore this problem any longer. It must act and not let itself become mired in a time-consuming search for the "perfect" solution. Some form of relief < even if it is interim relief < must be passed this year. At a minimum, federal law must establish clear medical criteria and compliance standards to be used immediately by courts in determining whether a claimant actually has an "injury" and, thus, may file a civil suit.

Second,
because some asbestos-related illnesses will not develop until decades after exposure, federal law must suspend the running of statutes-of-limitations until a person discovers an injury or should have discovered the illness. Temporarily suspending, or ütolling,ý the statute-of-limitations eliminates the need for thousands of unimpaired claimants to file premature lawsuits but preserves their legal rights if an injury should develop later. Other corrective measures could include steps to limit abusive venue shopping.

If Congress is to play a meaningful role in restoring our economy, it must address the problem of out-of-control asbestos litigation. Merely identifying stimuli for economic growth is not enough. We must also begin to cleanse our economy of the gremlins that thwart such growth. A good place to begin is with asbestos litigation reform.

Sen. Don Nickles (R-Okla.) is chairman of the Budget Committee who recently introduced the Asbestos Claims Criteria and Compensation Act of 2003.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Snee>
Sent: 3/26/2003 5:27:50 AM
Subject: : Re: EO 12958 and the Post

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:26-MAR-2003 10:27:50.00
SUBJECT:: Re: EO 12958 and the Post
TO:Ashley Snee (CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

LA Times story

HEADLINE: The Nation;
Secret Papers' Release Delayed;
Bush extends review of classified documents, scheduled to expire in April, through 2006.

BYLINE: Maura Reynolds, Times Staff Writer

DATELINE: WASHINGTON

BODY:
President Bush on Tuesday delayed the release of millions of classified government documents, signing an order to extend by more than three years a review process intended to protect national security.

Under a 1995 executive order signed by President Clinton, all secret documents 25 years old or older were to be automatically released starting April 17. A senior administration official said Bush amended that order to extend the review process until Dec. 31, 2006.

"It's important to understand that documents will continue to be released," the official said, speaking on condition of anonymity. "It will just give agencies more time to complete their reviews."

Bush's action had raised concerns among scholars and researchers; they feared it would roll back reforms intended to make the declassification process easier and less arbitrary.

In response to such concerns, the administration did remove one clause stating that when there is "substantial doubt" over whether a document should be declassified, it should be kept secret. The Clinton policy had said that in those circumstances, the document should be released.

"This says nothing about 'substantial doubt.' It was the judgment ... that language in either direction was vague and didn't assist the process," the official said.

The official said that under the 1995 policy, more than 1 billion secret documents have been declassified, compared with 200 million in the previous 15 years.

The order -- released after business hours Tuesday -- does expand the government's ability to keep certain documents classified. For instance, it says information obtained from a foreign government should be presumed to damage national security and should not be declassified. It also gives the head of the CIA the right to veto a decision by an interagency appeals committee to release a document.

The Bush order "does not eliminate all constraints on official secrecy, as some had feared, but neither does it move beyond the parameters of the Cold War secrecy system into a truly 21st century information policy," the Federation of American Scientists said in a statement.

Jeffrey Richelson, a senior fellow with the independent National Security Archive, which collects and publishes declassified documents, said it was important that the Bush policy retains the principle of automatic declassification. The other changes are probably of marginal importance, depending on how they are implemented.

"You've always had cases where you've had unreasonable secrecy no matter what the order says," Richelson said. "It's clear the Bush administration is more inclined to secrecy than the Clinton administration."

The senior administration official dismissed suggestions that the Bush team may be seeking to keep certain documents classified because they relate to current national security issues or to the first Bush administration. The most recent documents that could be released under the 25-year rule would date to the Carter administration.

The biggest problem with the Bush policy is that it retains loopholes allowing for arbitrary decisions, critics said.

"The [policy] does not touch the roots of dysfunction in the classification system, which allow agencies to make extravagantly false classification claims," the Federation of American Scientists statement said. "Strengthening and expanding the [interagency] review process, rather than curtailing it, might have been one way to improve the correction of classification errors and abuses."

From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
To: <Walker, Helgard C.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
CC: <Leitch, David G.>
Sent: 3/26/2003 10:01:30 AM
Subject: Portfolio changes

As is tradition in this office, whenever an Associate Counsel leaves, everyone tries to ditch the bad parts of their portfolio on the incoming Counsel. We already have some trading going on, but we will entertain any other requests - subject to David Leitch's approval, of course.

Please let me know if you had any requests.

Thanks,
Patrick

From: William Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
To: <Warsh, Kevin>;<Silverberg, Kristen>;<Schacht, Diana L.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/26/2003 10:09:38 AM
Subject: Fw: Op Ed Text

-----Original Message-----
From: "Taylor, Bob (Budget)"
Date: Wed, 26 Mar 2003 09:49:54
To:
Subject: Op Ed Text

Removing the Shackles of Asbestos Litigation

By Sen. Don Nickles

For many years, Congress has relied on economic incentives and tax savings to encourage investment, create jobs and stimulate growth in the economy. Such measures will, appropriately, become the centerpiece of proposed legislation to revive our dormant economy.

But first, we must face the economic realities of 2003. While traditional stimulus solutions offer fertile ground for future growth, they are faced with a plethora of negative influences that tend to drive the economy in the opposite direction. That is why we must be prepared to go beyond merely finding effective stimuli for growth to eliminating those factors that obstruct economic recovery.

One major inhibitor of economic recovery is the phenomenon of ever-expanding asbestos litigation, which threatens to siphon away much of the impact of any stimulus measures Congress might pass. Spawned in our courtrooms, the explosion of asbestos litigation is rapidly becoming an out-of-control stampede of civil suits that threatens to bankrupt scores of companies, displace thousands of workers and erode-away sizable chunks of employee retirement plans.

An estimated 8,400 companies have already been named as defendants in asbestos suits, many of which have never been involved in the production ofasbestos. Over 200,000 asbestos claims are pending in federal and state courts, with estimates that it could reach as high as a million. Companies have already paid-out over $54 billion in claims and costs, and future payments could easily reach over $200 billion. The increasing burden of litigation costs and settlement pay-outs has already pushed at least 60 companies into filing for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection, with many more likely to follow.

But the costs of litigation and eventual bankruptcy do not begin to reflect the true impact on a business, its investors and its employees. Aside from direct costs associated with litigation and bankruptcy, defendant companies, not surprisingly, suffer from significant declines in stock value, shortages of capital necessary for growth, reductions in long-term revenue and, ultimately, loss of jobs.

It is estimated that almost 60,000 workers have lost their jobs as a direct result of asbestos litigation and resulting bankruptcies. A recently published study co-authored by Joseph Stiglitz, a 2001 Nobel Prize winning economist, stimates that each displaced worker will lose, on average, $25,000 to $50,000 in lost wages. Furthermore, affected employees, many of them union members, are often shareholders and participate in the company 401(k) plan. It is estimated that workers of companies declaring asbestos-related bankruptcy will, on average, lose 25 percent of their plan value.

What makes all these developments so offensive is the fact that a majority of the asbestos plaintiffs have no medical injury. In essence, the courts are becoming log-jammed with cases involving claims of prior asbestos exposure that "may" someday develop into the symptoms of a true disease. In some cases, even exposure to asbestos is doubtful.

What has become clear is that asbestos litigation has become extremely lucrative for trial lawyers. A typical legal strategy involves finding one or two plaintiffs who have developed an asbestos-related malignancy, then add hundreds of plaintiffs to the suit that may have no medical impairments. Faced with having to settle, or endure lengthy and even more costly litigation to sort-out who is sick and who is not, defendant companies often settle, or consider bankruptcy.

Sadly, one group that may suffer the most from this tidal wave of suits are claimants who are actually afflicted with asbestos-related malignancies such as mesothelioma, which is often fatal within two years of diagnosis. As hundreds of thousands of non-injured claimants continue to file questionable claims, and more companies file for bankruptcy, there may soon not be sufficient funds for those who deserve and need compensation.

Though this problem sprang up through the courts, the solution must be found in Congress. The U.S. Supreme Court has already made several pleas for Congress to step-in and resolve this problem. Chief Justice William Rehnquist wrote that the asbestos problem "cries out for a legislative solution." And a growing number of trial lawyers have called for Congressional reform primarily those representing claimants with malignant diseases.

Congress cannot ignore this problem any longer. It must act and not let itself become mired in a time-consuming search for the "perfect" solution. Some form of relief < even if it is interim relief < must be passed this year. At a minimum, federal law must establish clear medical criteria and compliance standards to be used immediately by courts in determining whether a claimant actually has an "injury" and, thus, may file a civil suit.

Second, because some asbestos-related illnesses will not develop until decades after exposure, federal law must suspend the running of statutes-of-limitations until a person discovers an injury or should have discovered the illness. Temporarily suspending, or [3]tolling,[2] the statute-of-limitations eliminates the need for thousands of unimpaired claimants to file premature lawsuits but preserves their legal rights if an injury should develop later. Other corrective measures could include steps to limit abusive venue shopping.

If Congress is to play a meaningful role in restoring our economy, it must address the problem of out-of-control asbestos litigation. Merely identifying stimuli for economic growth is not enough. We must also begin to cleanse our economy of the gremlins that thwart such growth. A good place to begin is with asbestos litigation reform.

Sen. Don Nickles (R-Okla.) is chairman of the Budget Committee who recently introduced the Asbestos Claims Criteria and Compensation Act of 2003.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Snee, Ashley>
Sent: 3/26/2003 10:22:47 AM
Subject: Re: EO 12958 and the Post

LA Times story

HEADLINE: The Nation;

Secret Papers' Release Delayed;

Bush extends review of classified documents, scheduled to expire in April, through 2006.

BYLINE: Maura Reynolds, Times Staff Writer

DATELINE: WASHINGTON

BODY:

President Bush on Tuesday delayed the release of millions of classified government documents, signing an order to extend by more than three years a review process intended to protect national security.

Under a 1995 executive order signed by President Clinton, all secret documents 25 years old or older were to be automatically released starting April 17. A senior administration official said Bush amended that order to extend the review process until Dec. 31, 2006.

"It's important to understand that documents will continue to be released," the official said, speaking on condition of anonymity. "It will just give agencies more time to complete their reviews."

Bush's action had raised concerns among scholars and researchers; they feared it would roll back reforms intended to make the declassification process easier and less arbitrary.

In response to such concerns, the administration did remove one clause stating that when there is "substantial doubt" over whether a document should be declassified, it should be kept secret. The Clinton policy had said that in those circumstances, the document should be released.

"This says nothing about 'substantial doubt.' It was the judgment ... that language in either direction was vague and didn't assist the process," the official said.

The official said that under the 1995 policy, more than 1 billion secret documents have been declassified, compared with 200 million in the previous 15 years.

The order -- released after business hours Tuesday -- does expand the government's ability to keep certain documents classified. For instance, it says information obtained from a foreign government should be presumed to damage national security and should not be declassified. It also gives the head of the CIA the right to veto a decision by an interagency appeals committee to release a document.

The Bush order "does not eliminate all constraints on official secrecy, as some had feared, but neither does it move beyond the parameters of the Cold War secrecy system into a truly 21st century information policy," the Federation of American Scientists said in a statement.

Jeffrey Richelson, a senior fellow with the independent National Security Archive, which collects and publishes declassified documents, said it was important that the Bush policy retains the principle of automatic declassification. The other changes are probably of marginal importance, depending on how they are implemented.

"You've always had cases where you've had unreasonable secrecy no matter what the order says," Richelson said. "It's clear the Bush administration is more inclined to secrecy than the Clinton administration."

The senior administration official dismissed suggestions that the Bush team may be seeking to keep certain documents classified because they relate to current national security issues or to the first Bush administration. The most recent documents that could be released under the 25-year rule would date to the Carter administration.

The biggest problem with the Bush policy is that it retains loopholes allowing for arbitrary decisions, critics said.

"The [policy] does not touch the roots of dysfunction in the classification system, which allow agencies to make extravagantly false classification claims," the Federation of American Scientists statement said. "Strengthening and expanding the [interagency] review process, rather than curtailing it, might have been one way to improve the correction of classification errors and abuses."

From:	Leitch, David G.
To:	<Bumatay, Patrick J.>;<Walker, Helgard C.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>; <Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent:	3/26/2003 10:34:20 AM
Subject:	RE: Portfolio changes

I will need to balance your interests in dumping barking dogs with our interest in having our new associate counsel come back after the first day.

-----Original Message-----
From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
Sent: Wednesday, March 26, 2003 10:02 AM
To: Walker, Helgard C.; Bartolomucci, H. Christopher; Francisco, Noel J.; Kavanaugh, Brett M.; Newstead, Jennifer G.; Powell, Benjamin A.; Sampson, Kyle; Ullyot, Theodore W.
Cc: Leitch, David G.
Subject: Portfolio changes

As is tradition in this office, whenever an Associate Counsel leaves, everyone tries to ditch the bad parts of their portfolio on the incoming Counsel. We already have some trading going on, but we will entertain any other requests - subject to David Leitch's approval, of course.

Please let me know if you had any requests.

Thanks,
Patrick

From: Joy, Sheila <Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov>
To: Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Noel J. Francisco>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/26/2003 7:17:09 AM
Subject: : FW: hearing uncertainty FYI
Attachments: P_TVQ1F003_WHO.TXT_1.html

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Joy, Sheila" <Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov> ("Joy, Sheila" <Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:26-MAR-2003 12:17:09.00
SUBJECT:: FW: hearing uncertainty FYI
TO:Noel J. Francisco (CN=Noel J. Francisco/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

-----Original Message-----
From: Scottfinan, Nancy
Sent: Wednesday, March 26, 2003 10:49 AM
To: Joy, Sheila
Subject: Fw: hearing uncertainty FYI

Nancy Scott-Finan

-----Original Message-----
From: Dahl, Alex (Judiciary) <Alex_Dahl@Judiciary.senate.gov>
To: Scottfinan, Nancy <Nancy.Scottfinan@USDOJ.gov>; Benczkowski, Brian A <Brian.A.Benczkowski@USDOJ.gov>
CC: Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary) <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov>; Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary) <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov>
Sent: Wed Mar 26 10:34:11 2003
Subject: hearing uncertainty FYI

This is a heads-up that there is some uncertainty about today's hearing. Apparently the vote-a-rama will continue until 4 p.m., and there is a Members briefing by Sec. Rumsfeld at 5:30. We have not made any decisions, but there is a chance that we will change the room, the time, and/or the day for this. Of course we'll let you know asap if there are to be any such changes. For now, we're planning on 2 p.m. as noticed.

Deputy Staff Director & Senior Counsel

Committee on the Judiciary

United States Senate

224 Dirksen Building

Washington, DC 20510

phone: (202) 224-5225

fax: (202) 228-1115

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTE:

The information contained in this e-mail is legally privileged and confidential information intended only for the use of the individuals or entities named as addressees. If you, the reader of this message, are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution, publication, or copying of this message is strictly prohibited. If you have received this message in error, please forgive the inconvenience, immediately notify the sender, and delete the original message without keeping a copy.

- tmp.htm
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_TVQ1F003_WHO.TXT_1>

This is a heads-up that there is some uncertainty about today's hearing. Apparently the vote-a-rama will continue until 4 p.m., and there is a Members briefing by Sec. Rumsfeld at 5:30 . We have not made any decisions, but there is a chance that we will change the room, the time, and/or the day for this. Of course we'll let you know asap if there are to be any such changes. For now, we're planning on 2 p.m. as noticed.

Deputy Staff Director & Senior Counsel
Committee on the Judiciary
United States Senate
224 Dirksen Building
Washington, DC 20510
phone: (202) 224-5225
fax: (202) 228-1115

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTE:

The information contained in this e-mail is legally privileged and confidential information intended only for the use of the individuals or entities named as addressees. If you, the reader of this message, are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution, publication, or copying of this message is strictly prohibited. If you have received this message in error, please forgive the inconvenience, immediately notify the sender, and delete the original message without keeping a copy.

From:	Leitch, David G.
To:	<Walker, Helgard C.>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>;<Addington, David S.>;<McNally, Edward>
Sent:	3/26/2003 11:44:42 AM
Subject:	The Walker Mess

Helgard and I will be heading to the staff table around noon to enjoy one of her few remaining mess lunches. Please join us if you're free.

From:	Bumatay, Patrick J.
To:	<Walker, Helgard C.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent:	3/26/2003 11:54:35 AM
Subject:	RE: Portfolio changes

Also, this applies to any state assignment changes.
-----Original Message-----
From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
Sent: Wednesday, March 26, 2003 10:02 AM
To: Walker, Helgard C.; Bartolomucci, H. Christopher; Francisco, Noel J.; Kavanaugh, Brett M.; Newstead, Jennifer G.; Powell, Benjamin A.; Sampson, Kyle; Ullyot, Ted
Cc: Leitch, David G.
Subject: Portfolio changes

As is tradition in this office, whenever an Associate Counsel leaves, everyone tries to ditch the bad parts of their portfolio on the incoming Counsel. We already have some trading going on, but we will entertain any other requests - subject to David Leitch's approval, of course.

Please let me know if you had any requests.

Thanks,
Patrick

From:	Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To:	Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications>
BCC:	Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent:	3/26/2003 1:15:14 PM
Subject:	: White House Global Messenger - 03/27/03
Attachments:	P_A8D2F003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:26-MAR-2003 18:15:14.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger - 03/27/03
TO:Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications (CN=Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 3-27-03 FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Thursday, March 27, 2003

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS IN FLORIDA, 3-26-03***

*48 nations have joined America in Operation Iraqi Freedom - nations that understand the terrible threat we face from weapons of mass destruction and refuse to live in a future of fear, at the mercy of terrorists and tyrants.

*Our military is making good progress in Iraq; yet this war is far from over. As they approach Baghdad, our fighting units are facing the most desperate elements of a doomed regime.

*Day by day, Saddam Hussein is losing his grip on Iraq; day by day, the Iraqi people are closer to freedom. We cannot predict the final day of the Iraqi regime, but the day of reckoning for the Iraqi regime is drawing near.

*The world is getting a clearer view of the Iraqi regime and the evil at its heart. In the ranks of that regime are men whose idea of courage is to brutalize unarmed prisoners. They wage attacks while posing as civilians. They use real civilians as human shields. They pretend to surrender, then fire upon those who show them mercy. This band of war criminals has been put on notice: the day of Iraq's liberation will also be a day of justice.

*Our enemy in this war is the Iraqi regime, not the people who have suffered under it. As we bring justice to a dictator, today we started bringing humanitarian aid in large amounts to an oppressed land.

*Protecting innocent civilians is a central commitment of our war plan. We are treating Iraqi prisoners of war according the highest standards of law and decency. Doctors are working to save the lives of the wounded, including Iraqi soldiers.

*Iraqis are a good and gifted people. They deserve better than a life spent bowing before a dictator. The people of Iraq deserve to stand on their feet as free men and women - the citizens of a free country.

*The goal of a free and peaceful Iraq unites our Coalition. We have no ambition in Iraq except the liberation of its people. We ask no reward except a durable peace. And we will accept no outcome short of complete and final success.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE***
All Times Eastern Standard. Subject to Change

7:00 am CENTCOM Operations Update

11:00 am President Bush and Prime Minister Blair hold press conference
? Camp David

12:30 pm State Department Briefing

COALITION VOICES OF SUPPORT***

Denmark
"It is time to stop Saddam Hussein's dangerous game against the world society before it is too late. Only the Americans have the military strength to disarm Saddam and liberate Iraq. But we have an obligation to help. We cannot just sail under a flag of convenience and let others fight for freedom and peace...we should also be ready to make a small contribution to the international coalition."
Prime Minister Rasmussen, 3-26-03

Hungary
"I am confident that peace will soon be reinstated in Iraq, the weapons of mass destruction will be destroyed and on the basis of this we shall be able to live in a more peaceful and tranquil world in future. I would also like to add that Hungary would be pleased to participate in the reconstruction of Iraq."
Prime Minister Medgyessy, 3-20-03

KEY QUOTES***

"All the nations in our coalition are contributing to our steady progress. British ground forces have seized strategic towns and ports....The Australian military is providing naval gunfire support....Polish military forces have secured an Iraqi oil platform in the Persian Gulf. A Danish submarine is monitoring Iraqi intelligence providing early warning. Czech, Slovak, Polish, and Romanian forces, soon to be joined by Ukrainian and Bulgarian forces, are forward deployed in the region....Spain is providing important logistical and humanitarian support. Coalition forces are skilled and courageous, and we are honored to have them by our side."
President Bush, in remarks, 3-26-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****
You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere. - GM 3-27-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_A8D2F003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Thursday, March 27, 2003

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

All Times Eastern Standard. Subject to Change

7:00 am	CENTCOM Operations Update
11:00 am	President Bush and Prime Minister Blair hold press conference – Camp David
12:30 pm	State Department Briefing

COALITION VOICES OF SUPPORT

Denmark

"It is time to stop Saddam Hussein's dangerous game against the world society before it is too late. Only the Americans have the military strength to disarm Saddam and liberate Iraq. But we have an obligation to help. We cannot just sail under a flag of convenience and let others fight for freedom and peace…we should also be ready to make a small contribution to the international coalition."
Prime Minister Rasmussen, 3-26-03

Hungary

"I am confident that peace will soon be reinstated in Iraq, the weapons of mass destruction will be destroyed and on the basis of this we shall be able to live in a more peaceful and tranquil world in future. I would also like to add that Hungary would be pleased to participate in the reconstruction of Iraq."
Prime Minister Medgyessy, 3-20-03

KEY QUOTES

"All the nations in our coalition are contributing to our steady progress. British ground forces have seized strategic towns and ports….The Australian military is providing naval gunfire support….Polish military forces have secured an Iraqi oil platform in the Persian Gulf. A Danish submarine is monitoring Iraqi intelligence providing early warning. Czech, Slovak, Polish, and Romanian forces, soon to be joined by Ukrainian and Bulgarian forces, are forward deployed in the region….Spain is providing important logistical and humanitarian support. Coalition forces are skilled and courageous, and we are honored to have them by our side."
President Bush, in remarks, 3-26-03

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS IN FLORIDA, 3-26-03

- 48 nations have joined America in Operation Iraqi Freedom – nations that understand the terrible threat we face from weapons of mass destruction and refuse to live in a future of fear, at the mercy of terrorists and tyrants.
- Our military is making good progress in Iraq; yet this war is far from over. As they approach Baghdad, our fighting units are facing the most desperate elements of a doomed regime.
- Day by day, Saddam Hussein is losing his grip on Iraq; day by day, the Iraqi people are closer to freedom. We cannot predict the final day of the Iraqi regime, but the day of reckoning for the Iraqi regime is drawing near.
- The world is getting a clearer view of the Iraqi regime and the evil at its heart. In the ranks of that regime are men whose idea of courage is to brutalize unarmed prisoners. They wage attacks while posing as civilians. They use real civilians as human shields. They pretend to surrender, then fire upon those who show them mercy. This band of war criminals has been put on notice: the day of Iraq's liberation will also be a day of justice.
- Our enemy in this war is the Iraqi regime, not the people who have suffered under it. As we bring justice to a dictator, today we started bringing humanitarian aid in large amounts to an oppressed land.
- Protecting innocent civilians is a central commitment of our war plan. We are treating Iraqi prisoners of war according the highest standards of law and decency. Doctors are working to save the lives of the wounded, including Iraqi soldiers.
- Iraqis are a good and gifted people. They deserve better than a life spent bowing before a dictator. The people of Iraq deserve to stand on their feet as free men and women -- the citizens of a free country.
- The goal of a free and peaceful Iraq unites our Coalition. We have no ambition in Iraq except the liberation of its people. We ask no reward except a durable peace. And we will accept no outcome short of complete and final success.

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications
For more information log on to www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

From: CN=Kimberly A. Douglass/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/26/2003 11:38:59 AM
Subject: : blue sheets

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Kimberly A. Douglass ( CN=Kimberly A. Douglass/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:26-MAR-2003 16:38:59.00
SUBJECT:: blue sheets
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Thanks for signing so quickly!!!; I appreciate it.
;
```

From: MailRouter [SYS]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/26/2003 2:06:45 PM
Subject: DELIVERY FAILURE: Address Service: address error; <PREVIOUS REASON ALSO APPLIES TO: >; adam" <adam.charnes@usdoj.gov/O=(receipt notification requested) (ipm return requested), "benedi

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES NONDELIVERY RECEIPT )
CREATOR:MailRouter ( MailRouter [ SYS ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:26-MAR-2003 19:06:45.00
SUBJECT:DELIVERY FAILURE: Address Service: address error; <PREVIOUS REASON ALSO APPLIES TO:
>; adam" <adam.charnes@usdoj.gov/O=(receipt notification requested) (ipm return requested),
"benedi
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

DELIVERY FAILURE REPORT

Your Document:
Re: Kuhl binder
could not be delivered to:
"CN=brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov/OU=(receipt notification requested) (ipm return requested), "charnes;adam" <adam.charnes@usdoj.gov/O=(receipt notification requested) (ipm return requested), "benedi
because:
Address Service: address error;<PREVIOUS REASON ALSO APPLIES TO: >;adam" <adam.charnes@usdoj.gov/O=(receipt notification requested) (ipm return requested), "benedi
Routing Path:
CN=Mail2/O=EOP;CN=SGEOP03/O=EOP;CN=SGEOP03/O=EOP%sgeop03.eop.gov(SMTP/MIME MTA);CN=SGEOP03/O=EOP;CN=Mail2/O=EOP
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>
Sent: 3/27/2003 5:42:51 AM
Subject: : how is markup going?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:27-MAR-2003 10:42:51.00
SUBJECT:: how is markup going?
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs ( CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Benjamin A. Powell>;Kyle Sampson/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>;Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jennifer G. Newstead>;David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Noel J. Francisco>;H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <H. Christopher Bartolomucci>;Helgard C. Walker/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Helgard C. Walker>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 3/27/2003 6:15:14 AM
Subject: : Richmond Times Dispatch editorial

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:27-MAR-2003 11:15:14.00
SUBJECT:: Richmond Times Dispatch editorial
TO:Benjamin A. Powell (CN=Benjamin A. Powell/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Kyle Sampson (CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jennifer G. Newstead (CN=Jennifer G. Newstead/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot (CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Noel J. Francisco (CN=Noel J. Francisco/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:H. Christopher Bartolomucci (CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Helgard C. Walker (CN=Helgard C. Walker/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales (CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Mend It

The President is right: The judicial confirmation process is broken. During the 2000 campaign George W. Bush realized this - knowing full well Senate Republicans abused their advise-and-consent role during the Clinton years - and proposed that the Senate deal with judicial nominations in a timely fashion. He noted then that the process "does not empower anyone to turn the process into a protracted ordeal of unreasonable delay and unrelenting investigation." Bush knew his history, too, citing the "unacceptably high" number of bench vacancies left by partisan sniping in both the presidencies of his father and Bill Clinton.
He has announced plans for changing the way the Senate acts on judicial nominations no fewer than three times. In a recent letter to Senators Bill Frist and Tom Daschle, the President again called for the charade to end: I ask Senators of both parties to come together to end the escalating cycle of blame and bitterness and to restore fairness, predictability, and dignity to the process. I ask that the Senate take action, including adoption of a permanent rule, to ensure timely up-or-down votes on judicial nominations both now and in the future, no matter who is President or which party controls the Senate. This is the only way to ensure that our judiciary works and that good people remain willing to be nominated to the federal bench.

All Senators should have a chance to have their voices heard and their votes counted. All Presidents should have their judicial nominees considered and voted upon in a reasonable time. All nominees should have the certainty of an up-or-down Senate vote within a reasonable time. All judges should have the assurance that vacancies on their courts will not persist for years. And all Americans should have the assurance that the federal courts will remain open and fully staffed to resolve their disputes and protect their rights and liberties.

In the ideal world, Senators would agree to Bush's proposals - and now. Yet in the real world inhabited by cynics and skeptics, it is hard to believe the Senate would give so much ground to its antagonist in the Executive Branch. Never mind that the Judiciary Committee chairman (Orrin Hatch) and the ranking minority member (Patrick Leahy) have, at different times, expressed their support for such reforms.
The game of one-upmanship and spite has gone on far too long. The long knives have cut both ways.
President Bush wants to end the hemorrhaging brought about by petty politicking on judges. Give judges hearings, then vote them up or vote them down - and make such rules permanent so that they would remain for a Democratic Senate or a Republican one, for a Republican President or a Democratic one. It's not too much to ask.
The Senate should adhere to the President's request. Not doing so would be the unkindest cut of all.

From: CN=Paul Perkins/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/27/2003 5:40:05 AM
Subject: : Re:

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Paul Perkins (CN=Paul Perkins/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:27-MAR-2003 10:40:05.00
SUBJECT:: Re:
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Tim will not be here Monday afternoon. He would love to have breakfast with you, or meet with you before 9:30.
Thanks,
Paul.

Brett M. Kavanaugh
03/27/2003 10:26:23 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Paul Perkins/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject:

can you set up time for me to meet with Tim G. on Monday afternoon re Supreme Court.

From: Snee, Ashley
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Grubbs, Wendy J.>;<Lisaius, Kenneth A.>
Sent: 3/27/2003 10:11:15 AM
Subject: FW: AP - Owen to Get Rare Second Chance in Senate

-----Original Message-----
From: Bravo, Brian
Sent: Thursday, March 27, 2003 10:03 AM
Subject: AP - Owen to Get Rare Second Chance in Senate

Owen to Get Rare Second Chance in Senate

By JESSE J. HOLLAND, Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON - Texas judge Priscilla Owen is getting a rare second chance for a federal appeals court seat, with the Senate Judiciary Committee's new Republican majority poised to overturn last year's rejection.

Owen, a Texas Supreme Court justice, was to receive another vote Thursday from the committee that rejected her nomination on a party-line vote last year when it was controlled by the Democrats.

She is likely to win committee recommendation for a seat on the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans this year on a similar, but opposite, party-line vote because Republicans now control the committee with a one-vote margin.

The GOP won control of the Senate in last year's election.

"This committee will now begin setting straight the mistake it made by halting this nomination in committee last fall," Senate Judiciary Chairman Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, said two weeks ago.

Democrats contend Owen is an anti-abortion and pro-business judicial activist whose opinions and rulings are overly influenced by her personal beliefs. Owen says she would be a fair and impartial judge if confirmed by the Senate.

"I judge cases by what is right," said Owen, who appeared at her second Judiciary committee hearing two weeks ago, a replay of one she had when Democrats ran the panel. "I do not judge cases by what is politically correct. I apply the law, and the law has to be predictable and it has to be fair and that's what I do."

Liberal groups said Owens still poses a danger.

"Owen is a far-right judicial activist who tries to remake the law to reach an outcome that is often hostile to the rights and interests of individuals," said Ralph Neas, president of the liberal People For the American Way.

Republicans say Democrats have distorted Owen's record and decisions as a judge.

"Not once did I ever see her try to insert her own political preferences or beliefs into her job as a judge," said Sen. John Cornyn, R-Texas, who served with Owen on the court for three years.

The Democrats have tried to hold up Senate floor votes or committee action on a number of other nominees they consider objectionable.

The filibuster of Miguel Estrada's nomination to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit on the Senate floor hit its 50th day on Wednesday, and nominations have been stacking up behind his.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Duffield, Steven (RPC) <Steven_Duffield@rpc.senate.gov>
Sent: 3/27/2003 6:50:10 AM
Subject: : RE: Richmond Times Dispatch editorial

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:27-MAR-2003 11:50:10.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Richmond Times Dispatch editorial
TO:"Duffield, Steven (RPC)" <Steven_Duffield@rpc.senate.gov> ("Duffield, Steven (RPC)" <Steven_Duffield@rpc.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

will do so. thanks.

"Duffield, Steven (RPC)" <Steven_Duffield@rpc.senate.gov>
03/27/2003 11:48:33 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: Richmond Times Dispatch editorial

Senator Allen's LD says the Senator sees all of these and loves them.

The OC Register is also a solid piece. Did you know that not one California newspaper has supported the filibuster? We really need a Calif. congressman to start hammering Feinstein/Boxer. I've talked to Issa's people in the past but they haven't run with it. Seems like Ose or Radanovich, each of whom want to run against Boxer, or even Cox or Rohrbacher, should throw this into their regular message. I've talked to Neil Bradley in the House Study Group, so they're aware, but if somebody in the WH wanted to make those overtures for help it couldn't hurt.

Steven

_____
Steven J. Duffield
Judiciary Policy Analyst & Counsel
Senate Republican Policy Committee
347 Russell Senate Office Building
(202) 224-3463 Fax (202) 224-1235

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Thursday, March 27, 2003 11:17 AM
To: Duffield, Steven (RPC); Miranda, Manuel (Frist); makan_delraheim@judiciary.senate.gov; Ledeen, Barbara (Republican-Conf)
Cc: Wendy_J._Grubbs@who.eop.gov
Subject: Richmond Times Dispatch editorial

Mend It

The President is right: The judicial confirmation process is broken.

During the 2000 campaign George W. Bush realized this - knowing full well Senate Republicans abused their advise-and-consent role during the Clinton years - and proposed that the Senate deal with judicial nominations in a timely fashion. He noted then that the process "does not empower anyone to turn the process into a protracted ordeal of unreasonable delay and unrelenting investigation." Bush knew his history, too, citing the "unacceptably high" number of bench vacancies left by partisan sniping in both the presidencies of his father and Bill Clinton.

He has announced plans for changing the way the Senate acts on judicial nominations no fewer than three times. In a recent letter to Senators Bill Frist and Tom Daschle, the President again called for the charade to end:

I ask Senators of both parties to come together to end the escalating cycle of blame and bitterness and to restore fairness, predictability, and dignity to the process. I ask that the Senate take action, including adoption of a permanent rule, to ensure timely up-or-down votes on judicial nominations both now and in the future, no matter who is President or which party controls the Senate. This is the only way to ensure that our judiciary works and that good people remain willing to be nominated to the federal bench.

All Senators should have a chance to have their voices heard and their votes counted. All Presidents should have their judicial nominees considered and voted upon in a reasonable time. All nominees should have the certainty of an up-or-down Senate vote within a reasonable time. All judges should have the assurance that vacancies on their courts will not persist for years. And all Americans should have the assurance that the federal courts will remain open and fully staffed to resolve their disputes and protect their rights and liberties.

In the ideal world, Senators would agree to Bush's proposals - and now. Yet in the real world inhabited by cynics and skeptics, it is hard to believe the Senate would give so much ground to its antagonist in the Executive Branch. Never mind that the Judiciary Committee chairman (Orrin Hatch) and the ranking minority member (Patrick Leahy) have, at different times, expressed their support for such reforms.

The game of one-upmanship and spite has gone on far too long. The long knives have cut both ways.

President Bush wants to end the hemorrhaging brought about by petty politicking on judges. Give judges hearings, then vote them up or vote them down - and make such rules permanent so that they would remain for a Democratic Senate or a Republican one, for a Republican President or a Democratic one. It's not too much to ask.

The Senate should adhere to the President's request. Not doing so would be the unkindest cut of all.

From: Holbrook, Ashley
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/27/2003 12:06:11 PM
Subject: RE: Do we know if Senate will come back from recess on Monday April 28th or Tuesday April 29th?

Cloak Room is guessing that they wouldn't go in until in the afternoon. All Senators are invited to the Moynihan funeral Mon at 10:00. They're planning the first vote for 5:30, so they're thinking they'll go in around 2:00.

-----Original Message-----

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.

Sent: Thursday, March 27, 2003 11:55 AM

To: Jones, Alison ; Holbrook, Ashley

Subject: Do we know if Senate will come back from recess on Monday April 28th or Tuesday April 29th?

From: Holbrook, Ashley
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/27/2003 12:14:26 PM
Subject: RE: Do we know if Senate will come back from recess on Monday April 28th or Tuesday April 29th?

SO SORRY! Who plans ahead??? Certainly not the Senate side!
I have no idea, but I bet Alison will. She's not around right now, but I'll yell at her when I see her...

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Thursday, March 27, 2003 12:07 PM
To: Holbrook, Ashley
Subject: RE: Do we know if Senate will come back from recess on Monday April 28th or Tuesday April 29th?

Note that I was referring to the return from the Easter recess at end of April. (Planning ahead for something!)

From: Ashley Holbrook/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/27/2003 12:06:11 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: Do we know if Senate will come back from recess on Monday April 28th or Tuesday April 29th?

Cloak Room is guessing that they wouldn't go in until in the afternoon. All Senators are invited to the Moynihan funeral Mon at 10:00. They're planning the first vote for 5:30, so they're thinking they'll go in around 2:00.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Thursday, March 27, 2003 11:55 AM
To: Jones, Alison ; Holbrook, Ashley
Subject: Do we know if Senate will come back from recess on Monday April 28th or Tuesday April 29th?

From: MacEcevic, Lisa J.
To: <Bumatay, Patrick J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Warsh, Kevin>;<Allgood, Lauren K.>
CC: <Green, Richard E.>
Sent: 3/27/2003 12:36:22 PM
Subject: NEC and WHC contacts on civil justice issues

Hi. Lately, there have been several developments concerning asbestos and class action legislation. In the past WHC and NEC have been interested in related issues, but I no longer have info on who I should be contacting for either. For instance, a class action bill (S. 274) is scheduled to be marked up possibly early next week and I am trying to solidify at least a preliminary position on the legislation. Also, Sen. Hatch has announced he is planning to introduce and markup asbestos related legislation at the end of April. Could you please let me know if any of you in particular should receive information on these two specific issues or any other issues in general? Thank you! Lisa

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <MacEcevic, Lisa J.>
CC: <Bumatay, Patrick J.>
Sent: 3/27/2003 12:46:43 PM
Subject: Re: NEC and WHC contacts on civil justice issues

I have class action, asbestos, and medical liability.

From: Lisa J. Macecevic on 03/27/2003 12:45:54 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP, Kevin Warsh/OPD /EOP@EOP, Lauren K. Allgood/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP

cc: Richard E. Green/OMB/EOP@EOP

Subject: NEC and WHC contacts on civil justice issues

Hi. Lately, there have been several developments concerning asbestos and class action legislation. In the past WHC and NEC have been interested in related issues, but I no longer have info on who I should be contacting for either. For instance, a class action bill (S. 274) is scheduled to be marked up possibly early next week and I am trying to solidify at least a preliminary position on the legislation. Also, Sen. Hatch has announced he is planning to introduce and markup asbestos related legislation at the end of April. Could you please let me know if any of you in particular should receive information on these two specific issues or any other issues in general? Thank you! Lisa

From: CN=Alison Jones/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Ashley Holbrook/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Ashley Holbrook>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/27/2003 9:08:25 AM
Subject: : RE: Do we know if Senate will come back from recess on Monday April 28th or Tuesday April 29th?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Alison Jones ( CN=Alison Jones/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:27-MAR-2003 14:08:25.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Do we know if Senate will come back from recess on Monday April 28th or Tuesday April 29th?
TO:Ashley Holbrook ( CN=Ashley Holbrook/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Don't know for sure yet, but typical schedule coming off of a recess is they would be in session on Monday, with no votes, or at least votes starting after 5pm.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Thursday, March 27, 2003 11:55 AM
To: Jones, Alison ; Holbrook, Ashley
Subject: Do we know if Senate will come back from recess on Monday April 28th or Tuesday April 29th?
```

From: Dahl, Alex (Judiciary) <Alex_Dahl@Judiciary.senate.gov>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Benczkowski, Brian A <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov>
CC: Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary) <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary) <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov>
Sent: 3/27/2003 2:03:20 PM
Subject: : letter to Edwards
Attachments: P_8QU3F003_WHO.TXT_1.html

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Dahl, Alex (Judiciary)" <Alex_Dahl@Judiciary.senate.gov> ("Dahl, Alex (Judiciary)" <Alex_Dahl@Judiciary.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:27-MAR-2003 19:03:20.00
SUBJECT:: letter to Edwards
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Benczkowski, Brian A" <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> ("Benczkowski, Brian A" <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:"Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary)" <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov> ("Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary)" <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:"Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary)" <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov> ("Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary)" <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

FYI, we have just sent a letter to Sen. Edwards notifying him that we're planning to set the Boyle hearing on April 8th.

Deputy Staff Director & Senior Counsel

Committee on the Judiciary

United States Senate

224 Dirksen Building

Washington, DC 20510

phone: (202) 224-5225

fax: (202) 228-1115

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTE:

The information contained in this e-mail is legally privileged and confidential information intended only for the use of the individuals or entities named as addressees. If you, the reader of this message, are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution, publication, or copying of this message is strictly prohibited. If you have received this message in error, please forgive the inconvenience, immediately notify the sender, and delete the original message without keeping a copy.

- att1.htm
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_8QU3F003_WHO.TXT_1>

FYI, we have just sent a letter to Sen. Edwards notifying him that we're planning to set the Boyle hearing on April 8th.

Deputy Staff Director & Senior Counsel
Committee on the Judiciary
United States Senate
224 Dirksen Building
Washington, DC 20510
phone: (202) 224-5225
fax: (202) 228-1115

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTE:

The information contained in this e-mail is legally privileged and confidential information intended only for the use of the individuals or entities named as addressees. If you, the reader of this message, are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution, publication, or copying of this message is strictly prohibited. If you have received this message in error, please forgive the inconvenience, immediately notify the sender, and delete the original message without keeping a copy.

From: Jones, Alison
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Holbrook, Ashley>
Sent: 3/27/2003 2:07:51 PM
Subject: RE: Do we know if Senate will come back from recess on Monday April 28th or Tuesday April 29th?

Don't know for sure yet, but typical schedule coming off of a recess is they would be in session on Monday, with no votes, or at least votes starting after 5pm.

-----Original Message-----

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.

Sent: Thursday, March 27, 2003 11:55 AM

To: Jones, Alison ; Holbrook, Ashley

Subject: Do we know if Senate will come back from recess on Monday April 28th or Tuesday April 29th?

From: Schilling, Andrew <Andrew.Schilling@usdoj.gov>
To: John F. Wood/OMB/EOP@EOP [OMB] <John F. Wood>;'Phil Perry (E-mail)' </S=Philip#u#J.#u#Perry#064#omb.eop.gov/JCON/P=GOV+DOJ/A=TELEMAIL /C=US/"@intmail.usdoj.gov>;'kfeinberg@thefeinberggroup.com' <kfeinberg#064#thefeinberggroup.com%JCON@intmail.usdoj.gov>;Boudreaux, Chad <Chad.Boudreaux@usdoj.gov>;Letter, Douglas <Douglas.Letter@usdoj.gov>;Hunt, Jody <Jody.Hunt@usdoj.gov>;McCallum, Robert <Robert.McCallum@usdoj.gov>;Coffin, Shannen <Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Jordan, Bill <Bill.Jordan@usdoj.gov>;'Deborah@thefeinberggroup.com' <Deborah#064#thefeinberggroup.com%JCON@intmail.usdoj.gov>;Bloemendal, Katherine <Katherine.Bloemendal@usdoj.gov>;Swingle, Sharon <Sharon.Swingle@usdoj.gov>;Garvey, Vincent <Vincent.Garvey@usdoj.gov>;Harris, Paul (SMO) <Paul.Harris@usdoj.gov>;Keisler, Peter D <Peter.D.Keisler@usdoj.gov>;Blackwell, Craig <Craig.Blackwell@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 3/27/2003 11:39:04 AM
Subject: : PWC Subpoena

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Schilling, Andrew" <Andrew.Schilling@usdoj.gov> ( "Schilling, Andrew" <Andrew.Schilling@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:27-MAR-2003 16:39:04.00
SUBJECT:: PWC Subpoena
TO:John F. Wood ( CN=John F. Wood/OU=OMB/O=EOP@EOP [ OMB ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"'Phil Perry (E-mail)'" <"/S=Philip#u#J.#u#Perry#064#omb.eop.gov/O=JCON/P=GOV+DOJ
/A=TELEMAIL/C=US/"@intmail.usdoj.gov> ( "'Phil Perry (E-mail)'"
<"/S=Philip#u#J.#u#Perry#064#omb.eop.gov/O=JCON/P=GOV+DOJ/A=TELEMAIL
/C=US/"@intmail.usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"'kfeinberg@thefeinberggroup.com'" <kfeinberg#064#thefeinberggroup.com%JCON@intmail.usdoj.gov> (
"'kfeinberg@thefeinberggroup.com'"
<kfeinberg#064#thefeinberggroup.com%JCON@intmail.usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Boudreaux, Chad" <Chad.Boudreaux@usdoj.gov> ( "Boudreaux, Chad" <Chad.Boudreaux@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Letter, Douglas" <Douglas.Letter@usdoj.gov> ( "Letter, Douglas" <Douglas.Letter@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Hunt, Jody" <Jody.Hunt@usdoj.gov> ( "Hunt, Jody" <Jody.Hunt@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"McCallum, Robert" <Robert.McCallum@usdoj.gov> ( "McCallum, Robert" <Robert.McCallum@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Coffin, Shannen" <Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov> ( "Coffin, Shannen" <Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Jordan, Bill" <Bill.Jordan@usdoj.gov> ( "Jordan, Bill" <Bill.Jordan@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"'Deborah@thefeinberggroup.com'" <Deborah#064#thefeinberggroup.com%JCON@intmail.usdoj.gov> (
"'Deborah@thefeinberggroup.com'" <Deborah#064#thefeinberggroup.com%JCON@intmail.usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Bloemendal, Katherine" <Katherine.Bloemendal@usdoj.gov> ( "Bloemendal, Katherine" <Katherine.Bloemendal@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
```

READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Swingle, Sharon" <Sharon.Swingle@usdoj.gov> ("Swingle, Sharon" <Sharon.Swingle@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Garvey, Vincent" <Vincent.Garvey@usdoj.gov> ("Garvey, Vincent" <Vincent.Garvey@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Harris, Paul (SMO)" <Paul.Harris@usdoj.gov> ("Harris, Paul (SMO)" <Paul.Harris@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Keisler, Peter D" <Peter.D.Keisler@usdoj.gov> ("Keisler, Peter D" <Peter.D.Keisler@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Blackwell, Craig" <Craig.Blackwell@usdoj.gov> ("Blackwell, Craig" <Craig.Blackwell@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

On the PWC subpoena dispute (i.e., our letter motion to quash the subpoena and for a stay of discovery), Judge Hellerstein issued the following order by memorandum endorsement to our letter:

"I will hear counsel on April 1, 2003, at 3:30 p.m. in Courtroom 14D, 500 Pearl Street, NYC, 10007. No requested discovery pending determination. PWC shall attend and bring a copy of its report for in camera inspection, if so ordered."

Andrew

From: CN=Carrie B. Loy/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Edward Ingle/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Edward Ingle>;Sarah Pfeifer/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Sarah Pfeifer>;Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Brian D. Montgomery/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Brian D. Montgomery>;Matthew Koch/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Matthew Koch>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/27/2003 11:58:09 AM
Subject: : Agency FOIA Requests
Attachments: P_1CO3F003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Carrie B. Loy ( CN=Carrie B. Loy/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:27-MAR-2003 16:58:09.00
SUBJECT:: Agency FOIA Requests
TO:Edward Ingle ( CN=Edward Ingle/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Sarah Pfeifer ( CN=Sarah Pfeifer/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brian D. Montgomery ( CN=Brian D. Montgomery/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Matthew Koch ( CN=Matthew Koch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_1CO3F003_WHO.TXT_1>
```

3/27/03

AGENCY FOIA REQUESTS

DOL

Robert Devlin, President, Retired Employees Protective Association, River Cage, NJ, is seeking:
A copy of the briefing materials on union corrpution.

Keith Plylar, Safety Committeeman for Jim Walter Resources #7 Mine, United Mine Workers of America, Local #2397, Dora, AL, is seeking:
a copy of MSHA inspection procedures manual or book and a copy of all of the MSHA inspection notes that would verify that the proper fan and electrical installations were conducted during January 30, 2003 in Jim Walter Resources #7 Mine.

Timothy Baker, Deputy Safety Representative, Department of Occupational Health and Safety, United Mine Workers of America, Fairfax, VA, is seeking:
access to citations and orders issued by MSHA Representatives for fiscal and calendar years 2001 and 2002. Specifically, he asked for the totals of serious and substantial violations and minor violations, orders by type, and total violations issued. He also asked for summaries of serious and substantial violations and minor violations issued by regulations and orders issued by type. This request seeks records from all MSHA offices.

Benjamin Jones, Research Director, Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, Washington, D.C., is seeking:
correspondence and other information requested by the following current and former Members of the House of Representatives and U.S. Senate between the dates

- Robert Bennett: Sen: 1-1-93 – Present
- Christopher Bond: Sen: 1-1-87 – Present
- Sam Brownback: Sen: 1-1-97 – Present
- Judd Gregg: Rep. 1-1-82 – 12-31-89; Sen: 1-1-93 – Present

DOC

$ Received 3/17/03 from John A. Farrell, *The Boston Globe, requesting all correspondence or records of communications with Senator John F. Kerry (or any member of his staff from January 1985 to the present.)

$ Received 3/17/03 from Pete Yost, The Associated Press, requesting copies of briefing papers and any other documents, drafts, handwritten notes, e-mails, or other information created in connection with the September 19, 2001, meeting involving Nancy Victory and Kelly Levy of DOC and Steve Burns and Larry Decker of Enron Corporation.

$ Received 3/17/03 from Peter Harris, Thomson Research Service, requesting: (1) the

six most recent formal or informal decisions made by DOC in reliance on or interpretation of the Bayh-Dole Act; (2) the text of the six most recent instances of congressional testimony and answers to congressional inquiries regarding the Bayh-Dole Act; (3) the six most recent court cases involving the Department, e.g., affidavits, motions, complaints, answers, depositions; (4) the six most recent articles, lectures, published letters, remarks or talks by Department officials on the Bayh-Dole Act; (5) the six most recent policy statements, rules, or guidelines involving the Bayh-Dole Act; and (6) all information on the November 1984 amendments to the Bayh-Dole Act.

$ Received 3/18/03 from Randy R. Herschaft, The Associated Press, requesting a copy of all records from the last two years that mention Autotrack, a database service that locates people and public records.

$ Received 3/18/03 from Felicia I. Silber, Science Applications International Corporation, requesting any and all documents relating to any request made by Raytheon Company, Thales, or Thales-Raytheon Systems to any person in the Immediate Office of the Secretary or the International Trade Administration from January 1, 2001, to the present.

$ Received 3/20/03 from Robert Bryce requesting any and all documents: (1) involving oil and gas activities in Yemen and Peru; (2) sent between DOC and employees of the law firms of Baker & Botts and Vinson & Elkins since 1998; (3) sent between DOC and Hunt Oil, Halliburton Company, Kellogg Brown & Root, and Brown & Root Services since 1995; (4) sent between DOC and Robert Jordan, U.S. Ambassador to Saudi Arabia; and (5) sent between DOC and lawyers representing Prince Sultan bin Abdulaziz Al-Saud and Prince Bandar.

$ Received 3/20/03, from Harry L. Clark, Dewey Ballantine, LLP, requesting copies of all requests from private parties for documents regarding the U.S.-Canada Softwood Lumber trade dispute to the extent of requests received by DOC since 4/1/2001 and responses to such requests.

EPA

During the week of March 17-21, 2003, the Agency received 287 FOIA requests. Of the total, 52 were received in Headquarters. Year-to-date totals are 1,144 for Headquarters and 5,970 agency-wide. Significant FOIA requests received this week include:

(1) Glen Milner has requested all documents on file concerning consultations with the EPA for the Phalanx Close-In Weapons System (CIWS) and for all other weapons systems used by the U.S. Navy to fire depleted uranium munitions;

(4) Mark Grossi of *The Fresno Bee has requested all documents concerning EPA contacts with agricultural industry representatives concerning the regulation of agricultural sources of air pollution in California;

(5) James Pew of Earthjustice has requested records of communications between the Assistant Administrator (AA) of OSWER, the AA=s Senior Program Advisor, and any other employee both within and outside the executive branch relating to EPA=s regulation or potential regulation of hazardous waste combustors. Mr. Pew also requested the calendars of the AA and the Senior Program Advisor;

(6) Lauren Dunn of WJLA ABC 7/News Channel 8 has requested information regarding the Mirant facility, Potomac River Generating Station, in Alexandria, VA, including but not limited to actions undertaken in connection with Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA), the Clean Water Act (CWA), and the Clean Air Act (CAA). This information is being sought because of concerns that pollution from the plant could be causing disease;

(7) Kirsten Tobey of Earthjustice has requested information regarding the California San Joaquin Valley Unified Air Pollution Control District Regulation VIII- Fugitive PM-10 Prohibition. They are concerned that EPA=s conditional approval for the Areasonably available control measures@ may be unsubstantiated or unwarranted;

(8) Geoff Koss of Inside Washington Publishers has requested correspondence between EPA and the Canadian government regarding a possible cleanup of Lake Roosevelt that was mentioned in a March 15, 2003 Associated Press story (ACanada denies EPA request to sample water@). Specifically he is requesting an EPA letter requesting sampling in Lower Arrow Lake in Canada, and the response rejecting the request;

(9) Dean Radford of the *King County Journal has requested all staff notes, preliminary and final reports on EPA inspections of Japanese Auto Wrecking in Kent, Washington;

(10) John Lindsay-Poland of the Fellowship of Reconciliation (a domestic interfaith peace organization) has requested the document titled AMemorandum of Agreement@ presented by the Department of Interior to the Department of the Navy on February 26, 2003, regarding the terms and conditions for the transfer of jurisdiction over lands in eastern Vieques, Puerto Rico.

DOE

John Farrell, The Boston Globe: Requests copies of all correspondence and records of communication between the Department of Energy and Senator John Kerry and/or his staff.

DOJ

DOJ has received the following significant FOIA request:

Erin McCann, an individual, has requested all documents including email, schedules, and calendars "reflecting any communication between the Office of Attorney General John Ashcroft and/or the U.S. Department of Justice and Governor Jeb Bush of Florida, his Chief of Staff Kathleen Shanahan or any other staff or representative of the Florida Governor's office between January 21, 2001 and January 31, 2003."

From: Loy, Carrie B.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>;<Koch, Matthew>;<Pfeifer, Sarah>;<Montgomery, Brian D.>;<Ingle, Edward>
Sent: 3/27/2003 4:57:43 PM
Subject: Agency FOIA Requests
Attachments: FOIA 3-27-03.doc

<< FOIA 3-27-03.doc >>

3/27/03

AGENCY FOIA REQUESTS

DOL

Robert Devlin, President, Retired Employees Protective Association, River Cage, NJ, is seeking:
A copy of the briefing materials on union corrpution.

Keith Plylar, Safety Committeeman for Jim Walter Resources #7 Mine, United Mine Workers of America, Local #2397, Dora, AL, is seeking:
a copy of MSHA inspection procedures manual or book and a copy of all of the MSHA inspection notes that would verify that the proper fan and electrical installations were conducted during January 30, 2003 in Jim Walter Resources #7 Mine.

Timothy Baker, Deputy Safety Representative, Department of Occupational Health and Safety, United Mine Workers of America, Fairfax, VA, is seeking:
access to citations and orders issued by MSHA Representatives for fiscal and calendar years 2001 and 2002. Specifically, he asked for the totals of serious and substantial violations and minor violations, orders by type, and total violations issued. He also asked for summaries of serious and substantial violations and minor violations issued by regulations and orders issued by type. This request seeks records from all MSHA offices.

Benjamin Jones, Research Director, Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, Washington, D.C., is seeking:
correspondence and other information requested by the following current and former Members of the House of Representatives and U.S. Senate between the dates

- Robert Bennett: Sen: 1-1-93 – Present
- Christopher Bond: Sen: 1-1-87 – Present
- Sam Brownback: Sen: 1-1-97 – Present
- Judd Gregg: Rep. 1-1-82 – 12-31-89; Sen: 1-1-93 – Present

DOC

$ Received 3/17/03 from John A. Farrell, *The Boston Globe, requesting all correspondence or records of communications with Senator John F. Kerry (or any member of his staff from January 1985 to the present.)

$ Received 3/17/03 from Pete Yost, The Associated Press, requesting copies of briefing papers and any other documents, drafts, handwritten notes, e-mails, or other information created in connection with the September 19, 2001, meeting involving Nancy Victory and Kelly Levy of DOC and Steve Burns and Larry Decker of Enron Corporation.

$ Received 3/17/03 from Peter Harris, Thomson Research Service, requesting: (1) the

six most recent formal or informal decisions made by DOC in reliance on or interpretation of the Bayh-Dole Act; (2) the text of the six most recent instances of congressional testimony and answers to congressional inquiries regarding the Bayh-Dole Act; (3) the six most recent court cases involving the Department, e.g., affidavits, motions, complaints, answers, depositions; (4) the six most recent articles, lectures, published letters, remarks or talks by Department officials on the Bayh-Dole Act; (5) the six most recent policy statements, rules, or guidelines involving the Bayh-Dole Act; and (6) all information on the November 1984 amendments to the Bayh-Dole Act.

$ Received 3/18/03 from Randy R. Herschaft, The Associated Press, requesting a copy of all records from the last two years that mention Autotrack, a database service that locates people and public records.

$ Received 3/18/03 from Felicia I. Silber, Science Applications International Corporation, requesting any and all documents relating to any request made by Raytheon Company, Thales, or Thales-Raytheon Systems to any person in the Immediate Office of the Secretary or the International Trade Administration from January 1, 2001, to the present.

$ Received 3/20/03 from Robert Bryce requesting any and all documents: (1) involving oil and gas activities in Yemen and Peru; (2) sent between DOC and employees of the law firms of Baker & Botts and Vinson & Elkins since 1998; (3) sent between DOC and Hunt Oil, Halliburton Company, Kellogg Brown & Root, and Brown & Root Services since 1995; (4) sent between DOC and Robert Jordan, U.S. Ambassador to Saudi Arabia; and (5) sent between DOC and lawyers representing Prince Sultan bin Abdulaziz Al-Saud and Prince Bandar.

$ Received 3/20/03, from Harry L. Clark, Dewey Ballantine, LLP, requesting copies of all requests from private parties for documents regarding the U.S.-Canada Softwood Lumber trade dispute to the extent of requests received by DOC since 4/1/2001 and responses to such requests.

EPA

During the week of March 17-21, 2003, the Agency received 287 FOIA requests. Of the total, 52 were received in Headquarters. Year-to-date totals are 1,144 for Headquarters and 5,970 agency-wide. Significant FOIA requests received this week include:

(1) Glen Milner has requested all documents on file concerning consultations with the EPA for the Phalanx Close-In Weapons System (CIWS) and for all other weapons systems used by the U.S. Navy to fire depleted uranium munitions;

(4) Mark Grossi of *The Fresno Bee has requested all documents concerning EPA contacts with agricultural industry representatives concerning the regulation of agricultural sources of air pollution in California;

(5) James Pew of Earthjustice has requested records of communications between the Assistant Administrator (AA) of OSWER, the AA=s Senior Program Advisor, and any other employee both within and outside the executive branch relating to EPA=s regulation or potential regulation of hazardous waste combustors. Mr. Pew also requested the calendars of the AA and the Senior Program Advisor;

(6) Lauren Dunn of WJLA ABC 7/News Channel 8 has requested information regarding the Mirant facility, Potomac River Generating Station, in Alexandria, VA, including but not limited to actions undertaken in connection with Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA), the Clean Water Act (CWA), and the Clean Air Act (CAA). This information is being sought because of concerns that pollution from the plant could be causing disease;

(7) Kirsten Tobey of Earthjustice has requested information regarding the California San Joaquin Valley Unified Air Pollution Control District Regulation VIII- Fugitive PM-10 Prohibition. They are concerned that EPA=s conditional approval for the Areasonably available control measures@ may be unsubstantiated or unwarranted;

(8) Geoff Koss of Inside Washington Publishers has requested correspondence between EPA and the Canadian government regarding a possible cleanup of Lake Roosevelt that was mentioned in a March 15, 2003 Associated Press story (ACanada denies EPA request to sample water@). Specifically he is requesting an EPA letter requesting sampling in Lower Arrow Lake in Canada, and the response rejecting the request;

(9) Dean Radford of the *King County Journal has requested all staff notes, preliminary and final reports on EPA inspections of Japanese Auto Wrecking in Kent, Washington;

(10) John Lindsay-Poland of the Fellowship of Reconciliation (a domestic interfaith peace organization) has requested the document titled AMemorandum of Agreement@ presented by the Department of Interior to the Department of the Navy on February 26, 2003, regarding the terms and conditions for the transfer of jurisdiction over lands in eastern Vieques, Puerto Rico.

DOE

John Farrell, The Boston Globe: Requests copies of all correspondence and records of communication between the Department of Energy and Senator John Kerry and/or his staff.

DOJ

DOJ has received the following significant FOIA request:

Erin McCann, an individual, has requested all documents including email, schedules, and calendars "reflecting any communication between the Office of Attorney General John Ashcroft and/or the U.S. Department of Justice and Governor Jeb Bush of Florida, his Chief of Staff Kathleen Shanahan or any other staff or representative of the Florida Governor's office between January 21, 2001 and January 31, 2003."

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 3/27/2003 2:51:07 PM
Subject: : RESEND: White House Global Messenger - 3/28/03
Attachments: P_XMV3F003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:27-MAR-2003 19:51:07.00
SUBJECT:: RESEND: White House Global Messenger - 3/28/03
TO:Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications (CN=Carolene Langie Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 3-28-03 FINAL.doc)
THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Friday, March 28, 2003

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S PRESS AVAILABILITY WITH PRIME MINISTER BLAIR, 3-27-03***

* The United States, the United Kingdom and our Coalition partners are acting together in a noble purpose to make the world more peaceful, to make all free nations of the world more secure, and to free the Iraqi people.

* Coalition troops are sharing the duties and the sacrifices of this war. Together, Coalition forces are advancing in steady progress against the enemy. Slowly, but surely, the grip of terror around the throats of the Iraqi people is being loosened.

* We're now engaging the dictator's most hardened and most desperate units. The campaign ahead will demand further courage and require further sacrifice. Yet we know the outcome: Iraq will be disarmed; the Iraqi regime will be ended; and the long-suffering Iraqi people will be free.

* Our coalition will stand with the citizens of Iraq in the challenges ahead.
We are prepared to deliver humanitarian aid on a large scale. As we address the immediate suffering of the Iraqi people, we're also committed to helping them over the long-term. Iraq's greatest long-term need is a representative government that protects the rights of all Iraqis - chosen by the Iraqi people, not imposed by outsiders.

* History requires more of our coalition than a defeat of a terrible danger.
There is opportunity to bring renewed hope and progress to the entire Middle East. Last June, the United States outlined a vision of two states, Israel and Palestine living side-by-side in peace and security. Soon, we will release the road map designed to help turn that vision into reality.

* In decades of oppression, the Iraqi regime has sought to instill the habits of fear in the daily lives of millions. Soon, the Iraqis will have the confidence of a free people. Coalition members are combining the power of our nations to the cause of justice. Our alliance is strong, our resolve is firm, and our mission will be achieved.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE***
7:00am CENTCOM Operations Update
12:30pm White House Briefing
1:15pm Defense Department Briefing
2:25pm President Bush Delivers Remarks, Rose Garden

COALITION VOICES OF SUPPORT***

Lithuania

"Lithuania's possible contribution to the settlement of the Iraq crisis will be not military but humanitarian participation, aimed at dealing with adverse consequences, by sending doctors, servicing staff and other specialists, as well as by participating in international programs aimed at helping the Iraqi people, including food aid."
President Rolandas Paksas, Letter to President Bush, 3-19-03

Philippines
"The Philippines is part of the coalition of the willing.... We are giving political and moral support for actions to rid Iraq of weapons of mass destruction. We are part of a long-standing security alliance. We are part of the global coalition against terrorism."
President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo, 03-19-03

KEY QUOTES***

"Day by day, we have seen the reality of Saddam's regime -- his thugs prepared to kill their own people; the parading of prisoners of war; and now, the release of those pictures of executed British soldiers. If anyone needed any further evidence of the depravity of Saddam's regime, this atrocity provides it.... [I]t is beyond the comprehension of anyone with an ounce of humanity in their souls."
British Prime Minister Blair, in joint press availability with President Bush, 3-27-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****
You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere.
- GM 3-28-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_XMV3F003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Friday, March 28, 2003

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

All Times Eastern Standard. Subject to Change

7:00 am	CENTCOM Operations Update
12:30 pm	White House Briefing
1:15 pm	Defense Department Briefing
2:25 pm	President Bush Delivers Remarks, Rose Garden

COALITION VOICES OF SUPPORT

Lithuania

"Lithuania's possible contribution to the settlement of the Iraq crisis will be not military but humanitarian participation, aimed at dealing with adverse consequences, by sending doctors, servicing staff and other specialists, as well as by participating in international programs aimed at helping the Iraqi people, including food aid."
President Rolandas Paksas, Letter to President Bush, 3-19-03

Philippines

"The Philippines is part of the coalition of the willing.... We are giving political and moral support for actions to rid Iraq of weapons of mass destruction. We are part of a long-standing security alliance. We are part of the global coalition against terrorism."
President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo, 03-19-03

KEY QUOTES

"Day by day, we have seen the reality of Saddam's regime -- his thugs prepared to kill their own people; the parading of prisoners of war; and now, the release of those pictures of executed British soldiers. If anyone needed any further evidence of the depravity of Saddam's regime, this atrocity provides it.... [I]t is beyond the comprehension of anyone with an ounce of humanity in their souls."
British Prime Minister Blair, in joint press availability with President Bush, 3-27-03

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S PRESS AVAILABILITY WITH PRIME MINISTER BLAIR, 3-27-03

- The United States, the United Kingdom and our Coalition partners are acting together in a noble purpose to make the world more peaceful, to make all free nations of the world more secure, and to free the Iraqi people.
- Coalition troops are sharing the duties and the sacrifices of this war. Together, Coalition forces are advancing in steady progress against the enemy. Slowly, but surely, the grip of terror around the throats of the Iraqi people is being loosened.
- We're now engaging the dictator's most hardened and most desperate units. The campaign ahead will demand further courage and require further sacrifice. Yet we know the outcome: Iraq will be disarmed; the Iraqi regime will be ended; and the long-suffering Iraqi people will be free.
- Our coalition will stand with the citizens of Iraq in the challenges ahead. We are prepared to deliver humanitarian aid on a large scale. As we address the immediate suffering of the Iraqi people, we're also committed to helping them over the long-term. Iraq's greatest long-term need is a representative government that protects the rights of all Iraqis - chosen by the Iraqi people, not imposed by outsiders.
- History requires more of our coalition than a defeat of a terrible danger. There is opportunity to bring renewed hope and progress to the entire Middle East. Last June, the United States outlined a vision of two states, Israel and Palestine living side-by-side in peace and security. Soon, we will release the road map designed to help turn that vision into reality.
- In decades of oppression, the Iraqi regime has sought to instill the habits of fear in the daily lives of millions. Soon, the Iraqis will have the confidence of a free people. Coalition members are combining the power of our nations to the cause of justice. Our alliance is strong, our resolve is firm, and our mission will be achieved.

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications
For more information log on to www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

From: CN=Tim Goeglein/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO /EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Susan B. Ralston/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Susan B. Ralston>
CC: Matthew E. Smith/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Matthew E. Smith>;Lezlee J. Westine/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Lezlee J. Westine>
Sent: 3/28/2003 2:35:43 AM
Subject: : Daily Update - March 27, 2003

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Tim Goeglein ( CN=Tim Goeglein/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:28-MAR-2003 07:35:43.00
SUBJECT:: Daily Update - March 27, 2003
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs ( CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales ( CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Susan B. Ralston ( CN=Susan B. Ralston/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Matthew E. Smith ( CN=Matthew E. Smith/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Lezlee J. Westine ( CN=Lezlee J. Westine/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

fyi

tsg

CITIZENLINK
March 27, 2003

WILL PRISCILLA OWEN BE THE NEXT ESTRADA?
The nomination of Priscilla Owen heads to Senate floor. Will she share the fate of Miguel Estrada?
(Please See "CitizenLink Extra" Below)

CITIZENLINK EXTRA:
----------------------------------------------------------------
Will Priscilla Owen Be the Next Estrada?
By Pete Winn and Trish Amason

SUMMARY: The nomination of Priscilla Owen heads to Senate floor. Will she share the fate of Miguel Estrada?

Texas Supreme Court Justice Priscilla Owen gained approval by the Senate Judiciary Committee on Thursday by a 10-9 party-line vote. Last year, when Democrats controlled the Senate, Owen was voted down by the same margin. Democrats still maintain Owen is a pro-life judicial "activist" whose rulings have been influenced by her personal beliefs. In a second Judiciary Committee hearing held recently, however, Owen stated her positions plainly.

"I judge cases by what is right," Owen said. "I do not judge cases by what is politically correct. I apply the law, and the law has to be predictable and it has to be fair and that's what I do."

CitizenLink Associate Editor Pete Winn talked with John
```

Nowacki, director of legal policy at the Free Congress Foundation, about the Owen nomination - and the future of the president's judicial appointments.

Q: John, the Owen vote is a good sign but we expected it, didn't we?

A: We did. There was a wide spread sentiment amongst the Republicans -- and a lot of conservatives -- that Owen did not get fair treatment the last time around.

Certainly, the justifications used by the Senate Democrats to block her nomination in committee last year, ignored completely the answer she gave during her hearings and just kept following the talking points given to them by some of these outside liberal interest groups. But she's gotten the chance finally to get the Senate to act on her nomination on the Senate floor, and this could present a real choice for the Democrats. Will they allow Justice Owen to have an up-or-down vote or will they add her to the list of nominees they're filibustering? They certainly can't claim that they need more information or special documents this time and, in fact, there is really no excuse for blocking the senate from doing its constitutional duty at all in this case.

I would also note that a majority of the Senate supported (Owen), back when the Democrats were in control -- and that was a bipartisan majority. That number has only increased in the time since then. If she is filibustered, it will only be because Senate Democrats have failed to make a case against her and they're desperate to keep a well-qualified consensus nominee with bipartisan support off the bench for what amounts to purely political reasons.

Q: Are liberals, specifically Senate Democrats, really trying to steal the president's ability to appoint judges?

A: Absolutely! We are seeing this across a wide range of nominees, and this effort is being done in a number of different ways. (We're seeing it) in their filibuster of Miguel Estrada -- keeping his nomination from a vote on the Senate floor; and blocking nominees in committee -- as they tried with John Roberts and Deborah Cook; and killing nominations in committee -- as they did with Charles Pickering and Priscilla Owen. There is even the effort that's being done right now by the two senators from Michigan to kill the nominations of every single nominee from the state of Michigan. It's a widespread effort to deny Bush the opportunity that was given to every single predecessor, including Clinton -- and that is to appoint circuit judges who share his judicial philosophy.

Q: How are they able to get away this? Why is there not public outrage?

A: Part of the problem is getting the public to pay attention and part of it is, I think, conservatives need to understand that even if it is not a Supreme Court nomination, circuit court (appeals court) nominees are just as important and they deserve just as much consideration from conservative activists in pressing the senators to allow them to vote and so on.

I mean, if you look at it, the U.S. Circuit Courts of Appeals are just one step below the Supreme Court, and these are the final courts of appeal for many cases. The Supreme Court only takes a very small number of cases, so most federal cases that come up end up stopping at the court of appeals level. The liberals certainly know this, and that is one reason they are all energized about (blocking nominations). Conservatives need to understand that. . . they should be getting involved and they still need to be concerned about getting judges who are fair and who are qualified and who are committed to really following the law, not their personal beliefs.

Q: Obviously the war in Iraq has stolen some thunder with regard to this issue, but doesn't it just underscore the need to have judges right now for our national security?

A: Absolutely! And that argument was made after Sept. 11; the need (grows) when there are more criminal cases coming forward and they are pushing civil cases off to the side a little bit.

There is a great need to have judges who can handle cases, whether (they are) criminal cases related to terrorism or whether it's the civil cases that end up pending for a very long time because some courts are operating at one-third their strength, or are even half-empty -- as the 6th Circuit was. . . over the past two years.

Q: What do we do now; what direction do we take?

A: Well, conservatives need to be phoning their senators asking them politely, but firmly, to allow these nominees to have up-or-down votes whether it's Priscilla Owen or Miguel Estrada or anyone else.

They need to write letters to the editor, they need to get involved, basically. They need to understand also that the other side, the left, has made this an issue of great importance and that if conservatives are going to win on this, they're going to need to get involved and . . . act.

There are senators who need to be hearing from people, especially in regard to the Estrada nomination -- especially Sen. Bob Graham of Florida, and the two senators from Arkansas, Pryor and Lincoln. We also need to. . . be encouraging Republican senators to stand firm and to take action, where it's appropriate.

I would add, too, there are four Democrats who have come out and supported Miguel Estrada -- who've said he deserves to have an up-or-down vote -- and those are Sens. Bill Nelson, of Fla., Ben Nelson, of Nebr., John Breaux, of La., and Zell Miller, of Ga.

In addition to that there are other Democratic senators who indicated last year that they would probably support Charles Pickering and that they probably would support Priscilla Owen. So it's not a party-line thing, even though in large part, most Democrats are a part of this obstruction, but I think that senators on both sides need to be hearing from conservatives about the importance of giving nominees and up-or-down vote and treating them fairly.

TAKE ACTION: Please contact your senators and politely ask them to support the nomination of Priscilla Owen when it comes up and to put an end to the filibuster of Miguel Estrada (another cloture vote is expected early next week). Urge them to: 1) reject any attempt to filibuster Priscilla Owen; and 2) allow all future nominees out of the Senate Judiciary Committee to have a straight up-and-down vote.

Call the Capitol switchboard at 202-224-3121. For help in contacting your senators, or to send an e-mail, please see our Legislative Action Center:
http://capwiz.com/fof/home/

Also, please consider writing a letter to the editor of one of your local papers expressing your point of view regarding the current state of judicial nominations. For help in locating contact information for your newspapers, please see the Media Guide section of our Legislative Action Center:
http://capwiz.com/fof/dbq/media

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Lefkowitz, Jay P.>
Sent: 3/28/2003 8:32:17 AM
Subject: Michigan oral argument audiotape

Court announced that it plans to make audiotape of oral argument available shortly after argument (ala Bush v. Gore) next Tuesday.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Sara Taylor <Staylor@georgewbush.com>
CC: cspies@rnchq.org [UNKNOWN] <cspies@rnchq.org>
Sent: 3/28/2003 4:42:30 AM
Subject: : Re: Don Evans invite for The Republican Party of Iowa
Attachments: P_3Q94F003_WHO.TXT_1.htm; P_3Q94F003_WHO.TXT_2.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:28-MAR-2003 09:42:30.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Don Evans invite for The Republican Party of Iowa
TO:Sara Taylor <Staylor@georgewbush.com> (Sara Taylor <Staylor@georgewbush.com> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:cspies@rnchq.org (cspies@rnchq.org [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Approved from here.

Sara Taylor <Staylor@georgewbush.com>
03/27/2003 09:30:08 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP, cspies@rnchq.org
cc:
Subject: Don Evans invite for The Republican Party of Iowa

FW: draft of invitation languageAttached is an invitation from the Republican Party of Iowa. Can you please look at the copy and let me know what changes need to be made. Thanks.
-----Original Message-----
From: Beach, Becky [mailto:becky.beach@legis.state.ia.us]
Sent: Monday, March 24, 2003 11:47 AM
To: Sara Taylor
Subject: FW: draft of invitation language
Importance: High

I want to get your okay before we go with the invite. Thanks.

-----Original Message-----
From: LRaad@DOC.GOV [mailto:LRaad@DOC.GOV]
Sent: Monday, March 24, 2003 8:05 AM
To: Beach, Becky
Subject: RE: draft of invitation language

You are all clear on the second version. Print at your leisure. Please send us the final version for his briefing material. My fax is 202-482-5924.

Any other thoughts on our POSSIBLE Cedar Rapids visit? Travis or Brad Hester will be contacting you on this shortly. I am transitioning to my new position at the WH this week and start over there next week....

"Beach, Becky"

<becky.beach@legis.s To:
<LRaad@DOC.GOV>
tate.ia.us> cc:

Subject: RE: draft of invitation language
03/18/2003 07:18 PM

Here's the updated version. The gal at the state party thinks the disclaimer is correct. Do you know what's missing?

-----Original Message-----
From: LRaad@DOC.GOV [mailto:LRaad@DOC.GOV]
Sent: Tuesday, March 18, 2003 5:44 PM
To: Beach, Becky
Subject: RE: draft of invitation language

we haven't done much leg work yet. We usually go through Maria's office (Commercial Service). Let me see what's been done but a contact would be good. Don't kill yourself on it until I see what's been done here.

"Beach, Becky"

<becky.beach@legis.s To:
<LRaad@DOC.GOV>
tate.ia.us> cc:

Subject: RE: draft of invitation language
03/18/2003 06:38 PM

Is anyone in Iowa helping you?

-----Original Message-----
From: LRaad@DOC.GOV [mailto:LRaad@DOC.GOV]
Sent: Tuesday, March 18, 2003 5:33 PM
To: Beach, Becky
Subject: RE: draft of invitation language

Now final plans for CR yet. We have been doing events related to the economic growth package at businesses that will benefit from the tax cuts... we're looking at possibilities now. we're open to ideas if you have any. We like to go to small businesses where he can do a tour, talk to workers and then have a media availability.....

We're waiting to hear if he's going to be OK with a 2 hour drive....

"Beach, Becky"

<becky.beach@legis.s To:
<LRaad@DOC.GOV>
tate.ia.us> cc:

Subject: RE: draft of invitation language
03/18/2003 06:17 PM

That would be great--4pm at the earliest, maybe we can give him even more down time. What's the event in CR. I think I told you it's a 2 hour drive. They're reworking the invite now.

-----Original Message-----
From: LRaad@DOC.GOV [mailto:LRaad@DOC.GOV]
Sent: Tuesday, March 18, 2003 4:59 PM
To: Beach, Becky
Subject: Re: draft of invitation language

one other thing... I know I owe you an answer on this - It looks like we can get him there for an earlier event. You mentioned that you might like him there around 4pm and it looks probable that we could do that.

What do you think.

We're hoping now to get him to fly in to Cedar Rapids - do a quick event - drive to Des Moines for an hour or so of down time and then hit a 4/4:30 event and then on to the reception and dinner.

I am close to having final sign off on that idea but we have some leg work to do on fleshing out the possible events in Cedar Rapids.

But even if we come straight to Des Moines, I think we can get him there in time to do a 4ish event.

Let me know.

"Beach, Becky"

<becky.beach@legis.s To: "Sara Taylor" <Staylor@georgewbush.com>, tate.ia.us> <LRaad@DOC.GOV>

cc:

03/18/2003 02:25 PM Subject: draft of invitation language

what do you think of this attachment
(See attached file: Invitation copy1.doc)

(See attached file: Invitation copy2.doc)

- att1.htm
- Invitation copy2.doc

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_3Q94F003_WHO.TXT_1>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_3Q94F003_WHO.TXT_2>

Attached is an invitation from the Republican Party of Iowa. Can you please look at the copy and let me know what changes need to be made. Thanks.
-----Original Message-----
From: Beach, Becky [mailto:becky.beach@legis.state.ia.us]
Sent: Monday, March 24, 2003 11:47 AM
To: Sara Taylor
Subject: FW: draft of invitation language
Importance: High

I want to get your okay before we go with the invite. Thanks.

-----Original Message-----
From: LRaad@DOC.GOV [mailto:LRaad@DOC.GOV]
Sent: Monday, March 24, 2003 8:05 AM
To: Beach, Becky
Subject: RE: draft of invitatio n language

You are all clear on the second version. Print at your leisure. Please send us the final version for his briefing material. My fax is 202-482-5924.

Any other thoughts on our POSSIBLE Cedar Rapids visit? Travis or Brad Hester will be contacting you on this shortly. I am transitioning to my new position at the WH this week and start over there next week....

"Beach, Becky"

<becky.beach@legis.s tate.ia.us> ; cc:

To: <LRaad@DOC.GOV> &nb sp; &nbs p; & nbsp; &n bsp; Subject: RE: draft of invitation language ;

03/18/2003 07:18 PM

Here's the updated version. The gal at the state party thinks the disclaimer is correct. Do you know what's missing?

-----Original Message-----
From: LRaad@DOC.GOV [mailto:LRaad@DOC.GOV]
Sent: Tuesday, March 18, 2003 5:44 PM
To: Beach, Becky
Subject: RE: draft of invitatio n language

we haven't done much leg work yet. We usually go through Maria' s office (Commercial Service). Let me see what's been done but a contact would be good. Don't kill yourself on it until I see what's been done here.

"Beach, Becky" <becky.beach@legis.state.ia.us> To: <LRaad@DOC.GOV> ; cc: & nbsp; &n bsp; Subject: RE: draft of invitation language 03/18/2003 06:38 PM

Is anyone in Iowa helping you?

-----Original Message-----
From: LRaad@DOC.GOV [mailto:LRaad@DOC.GOV]
Sent: Tuesday, March 18, 2003 5:33 PM
To: Beach, Becky
Subject: RE: draft of invitatio n language

Now final plans for CR yet. We have been doing events related to the economic growth package at businesses that will benefit from the tax cuts... we're looking at possibilities now. we're open to ideas if you have any. We like to go to small businesses where he can do a tour, talk to workers and then have a media availability.....

We're waiting to hear if he's going to be OK with a 2 hour drive....

"Beach, Becky"

<becky.beach@legis.s tate.ia.us> ; cc:

To: <LRaad@DOC.GOV>

& nbsp; &n bsp; Subject: RE: draft of invitation language

03/18/2003 06:17 PM

That would be great--4pm at the earliest, maybe we can give him even more down time. What's the event in CR. ; I think I told you it's a 2 hour drive. They're reworking the invite now.

-----Original Message-----
From: LRaad@DOC.GOV [mailto:LRaad@DOC.GOV]
Sent: Tuesday, March 18, 2003 4:59 PM
To: Beach, Becky
Subject: Re: draft of invitatio n language

one other thing... I know I owe you an answer on this - I t looks like we can get him there for an earlier event. You mentioned that you might like him there around 4pm and it looks probable that we could do that.

What do you think.

We're hoping now to get him to fly in to Cedar Rapids - do a quick event - drive to Des Moines for an hour or so of down time and then hit a 4/4:30 event and then on to th e reception and dinner.

I am close to having final sign off on that idea but we have some leg work to do on fleshing out the possible events in Cedar Rapids.

But even if we come straight to Des Moines, I think we can get him there in time to do a 4ish event.

Let me know.

"Beach, Becky"

<becky.beach@legis.s tate.ia.us> To: "Sara Taylor" < Staylor@georgewbush.com>, ; < LRaad@DOC.GOV>

& nbsp; &n bsp; cc:

03/18/2003 02:25 PM Subject: draft of invitation language

what do you think of this attachment
(See attached file: Invitation copy1.doc)

(See attached file: Invitation copy2.doc)

You are cordially invited to join

Abraham Lincoln Dinner Chairman
Diane Crookham-Johnson

Republican Party of Iowa Finance Chairman
William A. Van Orsdel

Republican Party of Iowa 3rd District Finance Chairman
Stanley J. Thompson

And

Republican Party of Iowa Chairman
Charles W. Larson, Jr.

For the Annual Abraham Lincoln Dinner

Featuring

The Honorable Don Evans

Friday, May 16
6 p.m. Private Host Reception
6 p.m. General Reception
7 p.m. Dinner and Program

Holiday Inn
University Park
1800 50th Street
West Des Moines, Iowa

$100 per person
$1,000 per host – includes a table of 10 and 2 passes to the private reception
Complimentary for 2003 Package Plan Members

For more information, please call Darrell Kearney at (515) 282-8105.

Republican Party of Iowa
Abraham Lincoln Dinner
May 16, 2003

Reply

___ Yes, I/we will attend the Abraham Lincoln Dinner on May 16 featuring The Honorable Don Evans.

___ Enclosed is my/our check for $1,000 as a host for this event.
Please send me #___ of my 10 tickets.

___ Enclosed is my/our check of $100 per person.
Please send me #___ tickets.

___ I/we are 2003 Package Plan members.
Please send me #___ of my complimentary tickets.

___ Sorry, I/we cannot attend. However, we understand the importance of supporting the Republican Party of Iowa at this critical time. Enclosed is my/our contribution of $____

Please make checks payable to: The Republican Party of Iowa

Contributions are not tax deductible for federal income tax purposes
Contributions from corporations and foreign nationals are prohibited.

Name _____

Address _____

_____

Phone _____Email _____
Please see reverse side for important Federal Election Commission information or to make your contribution via credit card.

Paid for by the Republican Party of Iowa.
Not authorized by any candidate or any candidate committee.
621 East 9th Street * Des Moines, Iowa 50309
(515) 282-8105

Back of reply form

You may make your contribution to the Republican Party of Iowa using your Visa or Mastercard by completing the information below:
Please charge my contribution of $___ to my ___ Visa ___ Mastercard
Account Number _____ Exp date ____

Federal Election Law requires the Republican Party of Iowa to report the name, mailing address, occupation and name of employer for each individual whose contributions aggregate in excess of $200 in a calendar year.

Occupation _____
Employer/business name _____
Are you self employed? __ Yes __ No

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gilbert, Alan>;<Grubbs, Wendy J.>;<Silverberg, Kristen>;<Schacht, Diana L.>
Sent: 3/28/2003 8:44:57 AM
Subject: CATASTROPHIC INJURY EXCEPTION

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 03/28/2003 08:45 AM ----------

"Schwartz, Victor"

03/26/2003 03:17:14 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc: "Karl Rove (E-mail)"

Subject: CATASTROPHIC INJURY EXCEPTION

Dear Brett,

We would appreciate your making a judgment on sending this on to appropriate recipients in the White House. Please don't hesitate to call if you have any questions or comments.

Kind regards, Victor

Victor E. Schwartz

Shook, Hardy & Bacon L.L.P.

600 14th Street, N.W.

Suite 800

Washington, D.C. 20005-2004

Telephone 202-662-4886

Fax 202-783-4211

vschwartz@shb.com

> <<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<<,

>

> We understand that you are considering language that might be used for a "catastrophic injury" exception to health care liability reforms. Based on our general knowledge of American tort law and years in practice, we would make the following suggestions for three alternatives:

>

> Alternative #1: Focus on the egregiousness of the defendant's misconduct. This is our preferred alternative.

>

> As a practical matter, the cases that lead to public outcry about "unfairness" are not those that focus on the extent of the injury. Where injury is severe, there are large economic damages awards to compensate the plaintiff. In most catastrophic injury cases, economic damages are very high -- $3 million, $4 million, $5 million, $10 million. Instead, the cases that upset the public are the ones where doctors appear to have engaged in egregious misconduct -- i.e., failing to check the blood type of organs for transplant or performing an unnecessary double mastectomy -- and the economic damages are small.

>

> In such cases, the courts could be given the opportunity to set aside the cap and increase the available damages for pain and suffering (assuming the jury renders a noneconomic damages award that is in excess of the statutory cap). Note that under this approach, the power of a judge to raise the award would be based more on the wrongfulness of the defendant> '> s conduct than the catastrophic nature of the plaintiff> '> s injury. (This would not blur the line between the purposes of noneconomic and punitive damages, because the decision would be made by a judge, not a jury, based on the expressed public policy decisionmaking of Congress.)

>

> The wording of the exception must be very precise, otherwise it too will become an escape hatch. It is still less likely to become a broad avenue of escape than the general catastrophic approach.

>

> Alternative #2: Focus on the injury, but create the exception to apply only in cases where economic losses are less than $1 million.

>

> Again, in serious injury cases where economic losses are great, there is no need for an exception to the cap on noneconomic damages. In cases where economic losses are less than $1 million, you may wish to create a catastrophic loss exception in the cases of death or severe permanent physical impairment, defined as "the permanent loss of the normal use of a body system necessary for daily life." If a catastrophic exception is created for "disfigurement" or a less stringent definition of "serious injury," courts in judicial hellholes will be able to evade the limits on noneconomic damages by playing fast and loose with the language.

>

> Alternative #3: If a catastrophic injury exception must include "disfigurement," draw a narrow definition.

>

> The definition of disfigurement should include both the concept of a permanent and very serious disfigurement. We recommend the following definition, based on New Jersey case law: > "Permanent significant disfigurement" shall be defined as follows: A disfigurement is that which impairs or injures the beauty, symmetry or appearance of a person or thing. A significant disfigurement is one which attracts immediate attention and materially detracts from the person's appearance. A facial scar must mar the natural expression so as to attract attention and be materially disfiguring to be a "significant disfigurement." The factors to be considered in determining whether a mark is a permanent significant disfigurement are the appearance, coloration, shape, existence and size of the scar, characteristics of the surrounding skin, remnants of the h> ealing process, and other cosmetically important matters.

>

>

>

>

>

>

>

>

>

"MMS " made the following

annotations on 03/26/2003 02:17:18 PM

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTICE: This e-mail message including attachments, if any, is intended only for the person or entity to which it is addressed and may contain confidential and /or privileged material. Any unauthorized review, use, disclosure or distribution is prohibited. If you are not the intended recipient, please contact the sender by reply e-mail and destroy all copies of the original message. If you are the intended recipient but do not wish to receive communications through this medium, please so advise the sender immediately.

IN THE U.S., please contact:

Shook, Hardy & Bacon LLP

1200 Main Street

Kansas City, MO 64105-2118

816-474-6550

IN EUROPE, please contact:

Shook, Hardy & Bacon International LLP

25 Cannon Street

London EC4M 5SE

44-020-7332-4500

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Nelson, Carolyn>;<Montiel, Charlotte L.>
Sent: 3/28/2003 8:59:41 AM
Subject: can you book time at 4:30 for me, Judge, and David

From: Litkenhaus, Colleen
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/28/2003 9:46:39 AM
Subject: RE:

Yes! Thanks!

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Friday, March 28, 2003 8:58 AM
To: Litkenhaus, Colleen
Subject:

are you squared away on CFO reporting issue?

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Bennett, Melissa S.>
CC: <Mallea, Jose>
Sent: 3/28/2003 9:56:28 AM
Subject: RE: game

yes.

From: Melissa S. Bennett/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/28/2003 09:58:53 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc: Jose Mallea/WHO/EOP@Exchange

Subject: RE: game

They have decided just to sit in regular seats in the stadium. Assume the same applies.

-----Original Message-----

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.

Sent: Friday, March 28, 2003 9:44 AM

To: Bennett, Melissa S.

Subject: game

Under the circumstances as described, he should pay fair market value for all tickets for Secretary Card and family members.

From: Walker, Helgard C.

To: <Addington, David S.>;<Aitken, Steven D.>;<Babin, Chad>;<Bartlett, Daniel J.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Bellinger, John B.>;<Bennett, Melissa S.>;<Besanceney, Brian R.>;<Beynon, Rebecca A.>;<Bolten, Joshua B.>;<Bridgeland, John M.>;<Brilliant, Hana F.>;<Buchan, Claire>; <Bumatay, Patrick J.>;<Bullock, Katja>;<Cabral, Raquel>;<Christie, Ronald I.>;<Clark, Alicia P.>;<Cloud, John A.>;<Connaughton, James>;<Cruson, Karen D.>;<Daniels, Mitchell>; <Delahunty, Robert J.>;<Devenish, Nicolle>;<Dougherty, Elizabeth S.>;<Elwood, Courtney S.>;<Estes, Ashley>;<Everson, Nanette>;<Falkenrath, Richard>;<Farrell, J. Elizabeth>; <Francisco, Noel J.>;<Garrison, Stephen M.>;<Gilbert, Alan>;<Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Graham, John>;<Grant, Britt>;<Gray, Ann>;<Hagin, Joseph W>;<Hennessey, Keith>;<Higbee, David>; <Holliday, Stuart>;<Jeffery, Reuben>;<Johnson, Collister W.>;<Joseffer, Daryl L.>;<Kaplan, Joel>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Kirk, Matthew>;<Knutson, Karen Y.>;<Kozberg, Lindsey C.>;<Lefkowitz, Jay P.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Litkenhaus, Colleen>;<Loper, Ginger G.>;<Malphrus, Garry>;<Mamo, Jeanie S.>;<Marsh, Robert>;<Martin, Catherine J.>;<McConnell, John P.>;<McCathran, William W.>;<McMillin, Stephen S.>;<McNally, Edward>; <Mehlman, Ken>;<Messenger, P. Thaddeus>;<Middlemas, A. Morgan>;<Miers, Harriet>; <Montiel, Charlotte L.>;<Moy, Edmund C.>;<Mynster, Kathleen>;<Nelson, Carolyn>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<O'Donnell, Claire M.>;<Ojakli, Ziad>;<Patel, Neil S.>;<Perry, Philip J.>;<Pfeifer, Sarah>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Powell, Dina>;<Reed, McGavock D.>;<Riepenhoff, Allison L.>;<Rodriguez, Leonard B.>;<Rove, Karl C.>;<Russell, Richard M.>;<Sampson, Kyle>; <Saunders, G. Timo>;<Schacht, Diana L.>;<Schlapp, Matthew A.>;<Scully, Matthew>;<Sharp, Jess>;<Shull, David A.>;<Silverberg, Kristen>;<Skelly, Layton>;<Smythe, Augustine T.>;<Spellings, Margaret M.>;<Suarez, Aquiles F.>;<Thompson, Carol J.>;<Troy, Tevi>;<Tulbah, Ali H.>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>;<Vestewig, Lauren J.>;<Viana, Mercedes M.>;<Warsh, Kevin>; <Wood, John F.>;<Wood, John F.>

Sent: 3/28/2003 10:42:40 AM

Subject: Farewell!

On this my last day at the White House, I would like to say farewell to the finest group of colleagues that a person could ever hope for. My time at the White House has been a wonderful experience, and each of you has helped to make it so. Thank you so much for being such a pleasure to work with, and simply to know.

All the best,

Helgi Walker

From: CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 3/28/2003 10:49:32 AM
Subject: : TRANSCRIPT - Secretary Rumsfeld/Gen. Myers briefing 03/28/03

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brian Bravo (CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:28-MAR-2003 15:49:32.00
SUBJECT:: TRANSCRIPT - Secretary Rumsfeld/Gen. Myers briefing 03/28/03
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

DEFENSE DEPARTMENT OPERATIONAL UPDATE BRIEFING
BRIEFER: SECRETARY OF DEFENSE DONALD RUMSFELD AND GENERAL RICHARD MYERS, USAF, CHAIRMAN OF THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF

PENTAGON BRIEFING ROOM, ARLINGTON, VIRGINIA
1:18 P.M. EST, FRIDAY, MARCH 28, 2003

;

SEC. RUMSFELD: Good afternoon.

;;;;;; One week and a few minutes ago, the air war began in Iraq. So Operation Iraqi Freedom is now just a little over one week old. In that brief period of time, the coalition forces have made solid progress. And interestingly, in that short period of a week, we have seen mood swings in the media from highs to lows to highs and back again, sometimes in a single 24-hour period.

;;;;;; For some, the massive TV -- the massive volume of television -- and it is massive -- and the breathless reports can seem to be somewhat disorienting. Fortunately, my sense is that the American people have a very good center of gravity and can absorb and balance what they see and hear. Often when General Myers and I go from the building up to the Hill to brief, by the we get there, questions are posed about columns of things flying down someplace and something having happened, which is reported by a person who saw it on the ground, which has not even been reported back yet to the Pentagon. So it's -- it is a very different kind of a circumstance.

;;;;;; In less than a week, despite high wind gusts and sandstorms that can turn day into night, coalition forces have moved across more than 200 miles of Iraqi territory and are now just some 50 miles south of Baghdad. They've secured Iraq's southern oil fields, we believe successfully, and have completed the de-mining of the port. The British ship Sir Galahad docked there this morning and began off- loading some 200-plus tons of humanitarian aid. I'm told that in the southern oil fields they found a number of wells with wires and timers, the explosives having not yet been put in place, nor triggered off. Fortunately, the wells seem to have been protected.

;;;;;; The 173rd Airborne has been deploying into the North, and coalition forces have launched successful attacks on terrorist targets. In the West, they have had good success dealing with the regime's ability to threaten neighboring countries from that part of Iraq. Each day more coalition forces flow into the country. Each day more Iraqi forces surrender. The regime knows this. Already they have deployed death squads into Iraqi cities to terrorize civilians and to try to prevent them from welcoming coalition forces, to try to compel the regular army to fight by putting guns to their head, because they know that -- the only way to force them to fight for Saddam Hussein.

;;;;;; I urge the Iraqi people being threatened in the cities to try to remember the faces and the names of the death squad enforcers. Their time will come, and we will need your help and your testimony.

;;;;;; These death squads report to the Hussein family directly. Their ranks are populated with criminals released from Iraq prisons. They dress in civilian clothes and operate from private homes, confiscated from innocent people, and try to blend in with the civilian population. They conduct sadistic executions on sidewalks and public squares, cutting the tongues out of those accused of disloyalty and beheading people with swords. They put on American and British uniforms to try to fool regular Iraqi soldiers into surrendering to them, and then execute them as an example for others who might contemplate defection or capitulation.

;;;;;; Their name, Fedayeen Saddam, is a lie, because their purpose is certainly not to make martyrs of themselves, but to make martyrs of innocent Iraqis opposed to Saddam's rule. But we will take them at their word, and if there wish is to die for Saddam Hussein, they will be accommodated.

;;;;;; As the regime deploys death squads to slaughter its own citizens, coalition forces are working to save Iraqi lives. We do this because, unlike Saddam Hussein's regime, our nation and our people value human life. We want the Iraqi people to live in freedom so they can build a future where Iraq's leaders answer to the Iraqi people instead of killing the Iraqi people.

;;;;;; There are some who suggest that the U.S. and its coalition partners are not destroying Iraqi cities and are not destroying the Iraqi people, and that this somehow could reflect a lack of will or a lack of determination on the part of the coalition. The opposite is true. It is precisely because of our overwhelming power and our certainty of victory that we believe we can win this war and remove the regime while still striving to spare innocent lives. Our military capabilities are so devastating and precise that we can destroy an Iraqi tank under a bridge without damaging the bridge. We do not need to kill thousands of innocent Iraqis to remove Saddam Hussein from power. At least that's our belief. We believe we can destroy his institutions of power and oppression in an orderly manner.

;;;;;; The tactics employed by the Iraqi regime, by contrast, hiding behind women and children, murdering civilians, these are not signs of strength. They're sign of weakness and of desperation.

;;;;;; The outcome of this conflict is not in doubt. The regime will be removed. But for our coalition of free people, we believe it is important not just to win, but to win justly.

;;;;;; The power of our coalition derives not simply from the vast overwhelming force at our disposal, but from the manner in which we employ that force. The Iraqi people will see how we employ our force and know that we are coming not to occupy their country, not to oppress them, but to liberate their country.

;;;;;; Finally, before I turn to General Myers, a few words of caution.

;;;;;; First, to the officials of the Iraqi regime: The defeat -- your defeat is inevitable and you will be held accountable for your conduct in this war. The coalition POWs that you are holding must be treated according to the Geneva Conventions. And any Iraqi officials involved in their mistreatment, humiliation or execution will pay a severe price.

;;;;;; And to Iraq's neighbor, Syria: We have information that shipments of military supplies have been crossing the border from Syria into Iraq, including night-vision goggles. These deliveries pose a direct threat to the lives of coalition forces. We consider such trafficking as hostile acts and will hold the Syrian government accountable for such shipments.

;;;;;; Last, the entrance into Iraq by military forces, intelligence personnel, or proxies not under the direct operational control of General Franks will be taken as a potential threat to coalition forces. This includes the Badr corps, the military wing of the Supreme Council on Islamic Revolution in Iraq. The Badr corps is trained, equipped and directed by Iran's Islamic Revolutionary Guard, and we will hold the Iranian government responsible for their actions, and will view Badr corps activity inside Iraq as unhelpful. Armed Badr corps members found in Iraq will have to be treated as combatants.

;;;;;; General Myers.

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Thank you, Mr. Secretary.

;;;;;; Operation Iraqi Freedom continues. More than 270,000 coalition forces are deployed in support of combat operations, with approximately one-third of those already inside Iraq.

;;;;;; Our ground operations are continuing to push north with Marine, armored, and infantry forces poised near Baghdad.

;;;;;; The slide on the screen shows the now approximately 35 to 40 percent of Iraq, Iraqi territory, where Saddam's regime has lost control. In just eight days of operations, coalition forces are located throughout that entire shaded area that you see there on the screen. And while there will continue to be sporadic, even serious engagements in those areas, the regime does not control them. And they're, again, annotated by the highlighted color there.

;;;;;; The air campaign continues as well. We flew almost a thousand sorties over Iraq yesterday, mostly against Iraqi regime leadership and command and control targets, ballistic missile threats and major communication nodes.

;;;;;; As you'll see on the slide now, we have air supremacy over approximately 95 percent of Iraq. The area over Baghdad and just north we are not yet calling our skies. While we've been flying freely over Baghdad, we have some surface-to-air missiles system -- missile systems currently unlocated in that area.

;;;;;; That said, since the beginning of operations, our forces have fired more than 650 Tomahawk missiles and dropped more than 5,000 precision-guided munitions.

;;;;;; Overall, our plans are on track. We are degrading Iraqi forces, particularly the Republican Guard, by air, and that's fixed wing and rotary wing. And we will engage them with the full weight of our combat power at a time and place of our choosing.

;;;;;; As we've said before from up here, we're going to be engage in a difficult fight ahead, but the outcome is certain. We will disarm Iraq and remove the current regime from power.

;;;;;; And finally today, I have three videos and one more picture slide.

;;;;;; The first video is of an F-16 delivering precision-guided munitions against enemy troops in western Iraq that were firing mortars at Special Operations forces.

;;;;;; The second video is of an AV-8B Harrier dropping a precision-guided weapon on a tank in the open, south of al-Amarah.

;;;;;; And the last video is of a Predator firing a Hellfire missile at an Iraqi communication dish outside the Ministry of Information yesterday in Baghdad. As you'll see when the tape ends and freezes, you'll see that the dish is in a parking lot actually some distance from the ministry building. The ministry building's there at the edge, off to the right, right lower edge.

;;;;;; Also in our last picture slide here, the image depicts military equipment dispersed in residential areas. The red dots indicate location of military equipment in this neighborhood, and we've highlighted just four of them in the yellow boxes. This neighborhood is located approximately 30 miles south of Baghdad, in the proximity of the Medina Republican Guard division.

;;;;;; This image up here is a tank on a transporter that's in the middle of a neighborhood. They have some armored personnel carriers here that are in neighborhood streets. We have handouts, so you can see these better, probably when we give you the handouts. The upper right is a tank on a residential street. In the lower right are armored vehicles in trees.

;;;;;; And with that, we'll take your questions.

;;;;;; Q General Myers, I'd like to ask about reports that the Republican Guard divisions, Medina south of Baghdad and the Hammurabi west of Baghdad, are perhaps physically realigning themselves for defensive or other reasons. And do you have any sign at all that these people are beginning to actually don chemical weapons suits? There's been a report to that effect.

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: The only thing that I have on the chemical suits are the over 3,000 or 3,000 suits, new suits that were found, I think, in An Nasiriyah, I think is where they were found by the Marines when they went in the Ba'ath Party headquarters. And that was also where they found weapons, and they found people, of course, I think 170 of them they rounded up, and they also found uniforms, Iraqi uniforms they had taken off. That's the only suits that I'm aware of at this time.

;;;;;; And we do have some indications that some of the Republican Guard divisions are relocating. And exactly where, we're just going to wait and see.

;;;;;; Q Does it appear that it's because they have been hit too hard. Is this a defensive thing, or are they moving -- are they moving the Hammurabi down to support the Medina?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: The Republican Guard has not gone on the offense yet. They are dug in, disbursed. That's quite possibly Republican Guard there in that neighborhood. I've got to be careful if I confirm that or not, but in that neighborhood. So they could be consolidating to make a defense. It doesn't make any difference. The outcome is going to be certain, as I said. They'll make -- we're making plans right now, and we'll attack when we're ready.

;;;;;; Yes.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, I'd like to ask you about your statement about military supplies moving across the border from Syria. You described those as hostile acts. Are they subject to military action in response if that continues?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: There's no question but that to the extent military supplies or equipment or people move across borders between Iraq and Syria, that it vastly complicates our situation. And that is why I said what I said.

;;;;;; Q But so are you threatening military action against Syria?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I'm saying exactly what I said. It was carefully phrased.

;;;;;; Yes?

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, General Wallace was predominantly quoted today, saying that this may be a longer war than the commanders had thought and that this was not the enemy that we war-gamed against. It seems to contradict some of the statements that have been made from the podium here and the podium in Doha. Can you reconcile the two views?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Well, I didn't read the article; I saw the headline. And I've seen a lot of headlines that don't fit articles. Someone coming down here told me that he also said that we're about where we expected to be, which is generally what General Franks is saying. I suppose everyone can have their own view.

;;;;;; Q Well, I wasn't there, of course, but the article quotes him as saying that this is going to be a longer war than had been anticipated.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Does it have quotes saying that?

;;;;;; Q Yes. It says the enemy we're fighting is not the enemy we war-gamed -- "the enemy we're fighting is different from the one we war-gamed against."

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Yeah, well, as far as I'm concerned, it seems to me a careful reading of Amnesty International or the record of Saddam Hussein, having used chemical weapons on his own people as well as his neighbors, and the viciousness of that regime, which is well known and documented by human rights organizations, ought not to be surprised.

;;;;;; Q Can I follow up on that, sir?

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, as you know, there has been some criticism, some by retired senior officers, some by officers on background in this building, who claim that the war plan that is in effect is flawed and our number of troops on the ground is too light, supply lines are too long and stretched too thin. Would you give us a definitive statement, if you would, to the effect that you agree that the war plan is sound and that this criticism is unfounded, or that there's some substance to it?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Well, we're one week into this, and it seems to me it's a bit early for history to be written, one would think. The war plan is Tom Franks' war plan. It was carefully prepared over many months. It was washed through the tank with the chiefs on at least four or five occasions.

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Exactly -- more, more.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: It has been through the combatant commanders. It has been through the National Security Council process. General Myers and General Pace and others, including this individual, have seen it in a variety of different iterations. When asked by the president or by me, the military officers who've reviewed it have all said they thought it was an excellent plan.

;;;;;; Indeed, adjectives that go beyond that have been used, quite complimentary.

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Ivan --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Go ahead.

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Ivan, you know, there's that old adage that you probably know as well, that no plan, no matter how perfect, survives first contact with the enemy. I think some of that was shown in the way we orchestrated the opening moments of this conflict. I don't think anybody expected it to come out -- be laid out the way it was. And that wasn't exactly according to the plan, but it had the flexibility inherent.

;;;;;; So I stand by this plan. I think General Franks put together a good plan. I'll give you a definitive statement: I think it's a brilliant plan. And there will be -- there's branches and sequels to everything that might possibly happen, but the plan is sound, it's being executed and it's on track. And that's essentially what General Wallace said, too. He said we're about where we expected to be. That's one of his quotes as well. So.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary?

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: (Off mike) -- the people that you're talking to haven't seen the plan, for the most part.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary?

;;;;;; Q General Myers?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Pam?

;;;;;; Q Could you, General Myers, on that same subject, maybe narrate for us what we've seen in the last week from your perspective, particularly on the ground: with the fast punch up north, what the purpose of that was, and if it's shaken out the way you thought it would; stringing the Marines out behind to protect the lines of communication, how that's going; and then the effects-based air targeting. So if you could -- the problem I think we're all running up against is we talk to a lot of retired officers, who may be Gulf War focused or Kosovo focused, and this is very different. And can you explain to us why it's different and how it's different and how that's stacking up against what you expected to see at this point?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: I guess I can try, and the secretary, please help me on this as we go through it. But in 36 hours, we're on the outskirts of Baghdad. You know, it took 38 days of air war before for the 100 hours of the ground war to take place last time. So it's a much different objective, much different way of addressing a much different problem.

;;;;;; Q And why do you want to be on the outskirts of Baghdad so quickly?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Because we could. There has been -- (laughter). Well, and I don't mean that to sound flippant. Because we could, and it was necessary to try to bring down this regime as quickly as possible. I didn't say quick, I said as quickly as possible. You've heard us both stand up here and say this is going to take some time and the tough part is yet ahead of us.

;;;;;; Obviously, we can measure the miles between the Kuwaiti border and where the Medina division is right now and where the 1st Marine Division is. We know that's a long way. We know those lines of communication are important to our well-being and that they have to be protected. There has not been a militarily significant assault on those lines of communication since we began.

;;;;;; We knew we were going to bypass Basra. We were not going to stop there and work the Basra problem; that was going to be for the British forces, who are in there now working with some of our SOF and some of our close air support, to work the Basra problem.

;;;;;; The air plan has gone as we thought it would, concentrating on regime command and control targets, and other targets that allow them to communicate either propaganda or with their military. And that continues in beating down the Republican Guard divisions.

;;;;;; Q Are you able to give us a little bit more of the whys -- why you did it that way?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Well, not yet. I think some of that would give away the whole plan, and it just gets into the operational detail, I'd like to avoid.

;;;;;; Q Did the intelligence revealed at the U.N. about the Iraqi weapons of mass destruction program, did that at all hinder the military operations now? Did that reveal sources and methods of intelligence that would have been useful in this campaign? Did it make it more difficult?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I don't think that I've seen specific pieces of information that would allow someone to come to that conclusion, although I can't say that it's not true.

;;;;;; Yes?

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, last time we met with you, you were asked if the supply lines were stretched or vulnerable, and actually you both said no. And you also said the Fedayeen Saddam were onesies and twosies. Do you still stand by both those statements?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: I just said that I think the attacks on the lines of communication with our -- inside our forces have not been militarily significant, and we're dealing with the death squad attacks on those lines of communication. There have not been regular army forces, I don't think, attacking those lines, unless it's been close to one of the major population hubs. But they're being dealt with. There have been some battles that have been bravely fought by our folks, and they have dispatched the enemy, in many cases quite quickly.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I'd have to go back and see what we actually said, but --

;;;;;; Q You said onesies and twosies --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Let me respond. I'd have to go back and see what we said and what the context was. But my recollection is, we said that -- not that there were only onesies and twosies in terms of the Fedayeen Saddam. We know the numbers there; there's somewhere between 5,000 and 25,000 in the country, depending on how you characterize them. But what we said was the attacks outside of cities have been relatively small, as the general said. And I suspect that's what we actually said.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, you've said that the military outcome of this is certain, and I'm sure that not too many people doubt that. But what does seem uncertain at the moment are the mood of the Iraqi people and whether or not -- despite whatever dislike they have for Saddam Hussein, whether they will welcome American and British forces as liberators.

;;;;;; Is it possible that you've miscalculated the desire of the Iraqi people to be liberated by an outside force and that because of their patriotism or nationalism, that they'll continue to resist the Americans, even after you prevail militarily?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Jamie, don't you think it's a little premature -- the question? We'll know the answer to that. As portions of the country are liberated, we'll have people on the ground, embedded with our forces, who will have a chance to see what happens and see how they feel about it. Why do we want to guess?

;;;;;; What we do know is that people behave fairly rationally, and if they have a gun to their head, and they're told, "Don't surrender," and they're told, "Don't assist the coalition forces coming in, or we will kill you," and then they go and kill somebody and execute him in front of everybody else to make sure everyone really got the message, it's not surprising that people's behavior is one of caution.

;;;;;; Now the other part of the answer to your question, it seems to me, is also self-evident. And that is, there is not "an Iraqi people." There are Iraqi individual people, and they're going to be all across the spectrum! The ones who were close to Saddam Hussein and been getting the Mercedes cars and all the good food -- they're going to be unhappy, and they're not going to prefer that we're there. The people that he's repressed and threatened to kill and whose children have been killed by him -- they'll probably have a somewhat different view. Will there be people in the middle who are ambivalent? Sure. They'll be all across the spectrum. But we've -- we don't need to try to answer those questions. We have time. We'll see what happens.

;;;;;; (Cross talk.)

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, can I ask you a question about the Fedayeen Saddam? You mentioned that they were in touch with Saddam's family. Can you give us what the sense is of the Iraqi leadership. Is Saddam alive? Is Saddam's family giving orders to these irregulars?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I don't know. We do know that historically they've reported up through one of the sons. That is what I had reference to. Yes.

;;;;;; Q And how about the status of Saddam? Do you know what --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Everyone has a different opinion.

;;;;;; (Cross talk.)

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, I wanted to clear up what you said earlier about the Syrian -- or the NBGs coming in through Syria. Are you suggesting or is there information that this in fact state-sponsored, these are state-sponsored shipments of military goods?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I don't think I want to get into it. It's an intelligence issue. They control their border, and we're hopeful that that type of thing doesn't happen. (Cross talk.)

;;;;;; Q And I had one follow-up, sir. The casualty figures currently officially released by the U.S. military show 28 dead and 40 wounded. Now the proportion of wounded and dead would be -- would seem to be historically way out of skew, because the number of wounded is usually far more than the number killed in action. Is there -- can you explain why that would be, or -- and is there any effort to either unreport or underreport casualties from the battlefield?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Oh, my goodness! Now, you know that wouldn't be the case. There's no -- no one in this government, here or on the ground, is going to underreport what's happening. That's just terrible to think that. Even to suggest it is outrageous. Most certainly not! The facts are reported. (Pounds fist.) When people are killed, they're killed and we face it. When people are wounded, we say so. When people are missing and we know they're missing, we say so. And when we're wrong and they wander back into camp, as several have recently, having been lost or with other units, we say so. Absolutely not!

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: The only thing I would add to that is that there can be reporting lags. And with embedded media, you know, you can hear reports, but before the families are notified of either wounded or killed in action or missing, we don't release the figures. So, there could be some lag time. But we never -- we're never going to hide those numbers.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary -- (inaudible) -- was there a conversation with General Wallace between any of the high command or elsewhere to tell him that what he had said was not helpful? Or do you encourage your major combatant commanders to speak their mind as they see the tactical battlefield, even though it may be slightly different than perhaps it is seen in Washington as a more strategic battlefield?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I know of no one in Washington who's said anything to General Wallace.

;;;;;; Q Or General Franks?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: The other question, I don't have any idea what kind of guidance they get in terms of what they say, do you?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: I don't know that they get any guidance, not from you or from --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Not from us. They may get guidance from Tom Franks, or -- (inaudible) -- the land component commander or somebody, but --

;;;;;; Q So is this an endorsement of plain-spoken assessment of your battlefield commanders, when it may not necessarily agree with the perception that the administration has --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Look, the administration does not have a perception. I have a perception, General Myers has a perception, and we say what we think. There's not some coordinated perception that's being peddled. This is a -- people see what they see and say what they say. My personal view is that their tasks are to do what they've been asked by General Franks to do. And it's to fight a land war in Iraq. And to the extent that included meeting with the media and saying things, then that's General Franks' and General Wallace's concern.

;;;;;; Q So there's no problem with General Wallace as far as you're concerned?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I have not read the article. I don't know how I can be any clearer. I saw the headline, and I tend over the years to have developed a certain hesitancy about believing that headlines tell the whole story.

;;;;;; Q General Myers?

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, you have not actually mentioned the humanitarian effort so far. Could you outline how that is going? There are reports of Iraqi civilians inside Iraq really beginning to get hungry. And what the latest is on the movement of the massive supply? And are you anxious to get that moving quicker?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: We have not seen any accurate reports or intelligence that suggests there's a humanitarian crisis in Iraq. We have seen some reporters, and pictures of people hoping to get water or hoping to get food as food has been brought in. Whether that's anecdotal or representative of something is unclear. I suspect it's more anecdotal. There's no question there are people who are hungry and want water.

;;;;;; We do know that water mains were broken and that there was some fraction of the people down south who did not have good water for a period. We also know that the Brits have got a water line going in and people are bringing truckloads of water in. And one would hope that the people who are under our areas of responsibility are in fact receiving what they should receive.

;;;;;; We have said repeatedly that the forces going in brought food with them, they brought medicine and they brought water. So the people in those areas, presumably, are okay. We also know that the Iraqi people overall, we were told and estimated, have something like anywhere from two to six weeks of food that had been predistributed in doubled-up rations for the period preceding maybe couple of months, and that therefore the likelihood that they would run out is -- it seems not to be great. But I did mention the Galahad, Sir Galahad, had arrived and it had, I don't know, what, 2(00) or 300 tons of -- 200 tons of food or something.

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: (Cross talk) -- 300.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: And there are other major efforts that are coming forward.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: The World Food Program -- I'm sorry?

;;;;;; Q Did you want to add to that?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: The World Food Program as of two days ago, on the 26th of March, says that the food distribution system that had been running there, the oil-for-food, is still partially intact in southern Iraq, and while some of the rations being delivered are incomplete, they're still delivering rations to those folks that aren't in -- not affected by the fighting. And they said it's going to be close -- be the end of April before anybody runs out of food. By that time -- we're already providing some of that food, particularly in the areas where they're struggling.

;;;;;; Q Sir, when you came out here last Friday, you described activity that was taking place almost as a psychological operation, in terms of the point being to impress on the Iraqis a certain idea or attitude, and that perhaps, thereby, the regime would tip.

;;;;;; Yesterday, when you described the activity, it was in a much more traditional military sense, about the rings around Baghdad and the need to penetrate those. Have you shifted your thinking in the past week from emphasizing more of a psychological operation to more of a traditional military operation?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I don't think so. From the outset, our preference would have been that the diplomacy would work. Second preference would have been that the ultimatum would have worked and he would have left the country. When we came out at the beginning of the ground and the air war, our preference would have been that the Iraqi forces would have thrown in the towel and said, "Fair enough," or that Saddam Hussein would have left. That remains the case. The conflict has to be pursued. It's going to end, and it's going to end with Saddam Hussein losing. And my hope, from then and today, remains that it will be done with the least loss of life that's possible.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I don't know that there's any -- I don't feel that there's any change in my perspective.

;;;;;; Yes?

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, for someone who's always advocating private channels of diplomacy, I'd like to go back to your statement about Syria and Iran. Be very precise. What message are you sending the governments of Syria and Iran from this podium? If the rules -- are the rules of the road for this conflict to other countries the same as they are for the war on terrorism: You are with or against us, which is the president's message? Is that what you are saying here, your message?

;;;;;; And -- (inaudible) -- if you don't know the mood of the Iraqi people yet, and you don't deem it important to know the mood of the Iraqi people, what are the military challenges of operating in the city of Baghdad of 5 million if you don't think it's important to know the mood of the people before you get there?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: With respect to the first questions, the message is that General Franks has forces in that country. Some are losing their lives, coalition forces are. We don't like having our forces lose their lives. We don't want the conflict prolonged. And we don't want neighboring countries or anyone else for that matter to be in there assisting the Iraqi forces.

;;;;;; And specifically, with respect to Syria, I pointed out that we have seen military supplies and materials and equipment crossing the border, and we'd like it to stop. And to the extent it keeps on, we have to consider it a hostile act. We have seen Badr Corps people moving into Iraq, and they report up thorough the Revolutionary Guard, and they're armed, and there are some additional ones that are close to the border.

And my statement, I believe and I hope, said something like this: that to the extent they interfere with General Franks' activities, they would have to be considered combatants, and therefore we're suggesting they not interfere.

;;;;;; We'll make this the last question. (Cross talk.) Oh, I'm sorry. I'm sorry. I forgot you had a triple.

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Barbara, did I say we didn't care about the mood?

;;;;;; Q I believe that Secretary -- well, either one of that cares to answer it -- the secretary said it wasn't important at this point to know the issue of the mood of the people, that it was something that we could wait to figure out.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: You mean in answer to Jamie?

;;;;;; Q That is correct, sir.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: No, I didn't say it wasn't important to know. I said it wasn't knowable. I said -- my goodness! We will know. We will find out. That real estate will end up being occupied by the coalition forces --

;;;;;; Q Here's what's confusing me --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Just a minute.

;;;;;; Q I'm sorry.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Let me finish my thought. It seems to me that I said there are people all across the spectrum. You probably can find somebody who believes or feels or senses or prefers almost any place on a 360-degree curve.

;;;;;; Now why do we need to try to figure it out now? We'll know. We have people right in there, embedded, and as they go into a town, we'll find out what they think. And my guess is, they'll think things a lot more positive after they see that we have no intention to occupy their country, we have no intention to stay there for long periods, that we are bringing in food and water, that the sanctions will be lifted, that this is not a war against a country or a people or a religion, and in fact they might even feel a little different if the death squads are not standing next to them with guns to their heads. But why should I try to speculate as to what it will be, since we will soon know?

;;;;;; Q General Myers --

;;;;;; Q How does that complicate your effort to deal with Baghdad, though, cut off the head of the regime, if you don't have a good sense that there are any significant number of Iraqi people --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: We do have a sense. We have people inside talking to people, dealing with people, arranging things. We have a good sense, not of everybody, because we don't have Gallup polls going on in there. (Laughter.) But in terms of the limited amount of contact we have with people inside that -- various cities -- and my guess is, it'll vary from city to city -- we're seeing some Muslim leaders issuing fatwas against the Saddam Hussein regime. Now we've seen some doing the opposite. So it's going to vary from city to city. Doesn't mean we're not interested. It just means it's not knowable.

;;;;;; Q Do you have a sense of Baghdad?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I betcha that if I did, it wouldn't be very useful a day, a week or a month from now, because I suspect it tends to change the closer our forces get to Baghdad.

;;;;;; Q General Myers --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: This is the last question.

;;;;;; Q Secretary, can you characterize how extensive the forces with allegiance to the Iranian government are inside Iraq, and whether it's affecting the battlefield?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Say that again.

;;;;;; Q The Badr corps members --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Start with a full sentence. I'm sorry, I'm --

;;;;;; Q Can you characterize how extensive the forces with allegiance to the Iranian government may be inside Iraq and how it's affecting the battlefield?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: How extensive the numbers?

;;;;;; Q Yeah. And if --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: We know the numbers.

;;;;;; Q What are they?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: You know.

;;;;;; Q No, we don't. (Laughter.)

;;;;;; Q No, we don't. Tens or --

;;;;;; THE PRESS: (In unison) Hundreds, thousands?

;;;;;; Q How many?

;;;;;; Q Non-trivial? (Laughter.)

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Hundreds.

;;;;;; Q Hundreds armed. And what do you believe their motivation to be?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: They are Iraqis. I am sure that they have been hostile to the regime of Saddam Hussein. They have been housed in Iran, they've been funded by Iran, they've been armed by Iran, and sponsored by Iran, and they report up through the Revolutionary Guard.

;;;;;; Again, I don't know each one of them -- nor do I know any of them. But how they would behave with a different regime is unclear. But the issue is not that. It seems to me the issue is that General Franks and the coalition countries are busy, they've got a complicated task. We would prefer it not be made more difficult by any of the neighbors.

;;;;;; Q My point is, have they been hostile to coalition forces?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: No, not yet.

;;;;;; Q Which is the greater threat, Syria or Iran?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I thought that was the last question. (Laughter.)

;;;;;; Thanks.

;;;;;; Q Well, it was the last answer, anyway. (Laughter.)

END.

;

From: McNally, Edward
To: <Kaplan, Joel>;<Silverberg, Kristen>;<Martin, Catherine J.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
CC: <Dougherty, Elizabeth S.>;<Walker, Helgard C.>
Sent: 3/28/2003 11:04:46 AM
Subject: Helgifest 2003 continues -- 12 noon sharp

As you know from our calls Miss Walker has requested the pleasure of your company at the Staff Table at the Mess for this her last lunch as Associate Counsel to the President. Due to the utter lack of reserved seating or any other form of responsible, Helgi-like advance planning, precision as to timing is encouraged. Eliz. Dougherty will be dining nearby and do a drop by w/ brief remarks. Stills at the top.

From: Nelson, Carolyn
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/28/2003 11:44:11 AM
Subject:

he's back and wants to talk to you!

From:	Dougherty, Elizabeth S.
To:	judy.haugh@ost.dot.gov <Kaplan, Joel>;judy.haugh@ost.dot.gov <Kroszner, Randall S.>;judy.haugh@ost.dot.gov <McMillin, Stephen S.>;read.vandewater@ost.dot.gov <read.vandewater@ost.dot.gov>;read.vandewater@ost.dot.gov <Hennessey, Keith>;peter.fisher@do.treas.gov <peter.fisher@do.treas.gov>;peter.fisher@do.treas.gov <MacHida, Ado A.>;hew.pate@usdoj.gov <hew.pate@usdoj.gov>;hew.pate@usdoj.gov <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;kathleen.cooper@mail.doc.gov <kathleen.cooper@mail.doc.gov>;mark.warshawsky@do.treas.gov <mark.warshawsky@do.treas.gov>;jeff.shane@ost.dot.gov <jeff.shane@ost.dot.gov>
CC:	<Vestewig, Lauren J.>;<Gillmor, Eleanor L.>;barbara.lucas@ost.dot.gov <barbara.lucas@ost.dot.gov>;judy.marshall@ost.dot.gov <judy.marshall@ost.dot.gov>;judy.marshall@ost.dot.gov <Allgood, Lauren K.>;judy.marshall@ost.dot.gov <Branch, Lisa D.>;anna.hart@do.treas.gov <anna.hart@do.treas.gov>;carla.langjahr@mail.doc.gov <carla.langjahr@mail.doc.gov>;peggy.ward@usdoj.gov <peggy.ward@usdoj.gov>;peggy.ward@usdoj.gov <Sharp, Jess>;judy.haugh@ost.dot.gov <judy.haugh@ost.dot.gov>;judy.haugh@ost.dot.gov <Skelly, Layton>
Sent:	3/28/2003 12:24:32 PM
Subject:	Airlines Working Group Meeting

I would like to have an Airlines Working Group meeting Tuesday April 1 at 2:00 pm. Please let me know by email ASAP if you are unable to make this time. An alternative time would be Tuesday at 4:00 pm so it would also be helpful to know whether you are able to make this time. Layton will send a confirming email on Monday with the exact time and location. I may not have copied everyone's assistants on this email, so please forward it if I didn't.

The purpose of the meeting is to follow-up on the meeting with the President last week and discuss competition issues in the industry. I would like to ask you to bring to the meeting your best and boldest ideas about:

1. What, if anything, the Administration could do to improve competition in the industry; and

2. What, if anything the government could/should stop doing to improve competition in the industry.

When you think about competition, you should think not only about the consumer, but also about barriers to new carriers entering the market generally or specific markets.

I do not expect fully formed, vetted proposals, just rough ideas.

Thanks,

Liz Dougherty

From: Taylor, Sara M.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
CC: <Ralston, Susan B.>
Sent: 3/28/2003 2:36:13 PM
Subject: Plane for Karl

Karl Hascall, who is active in the Kent County GOP politics, owns a plane with his brother. It is a King Air B-100, 8 passenger plane. He has offered to fly Karl out and back to the Kent County Lincoln Day Dinner next Friday, April 4. Karl is a Special Guest of the event and will be making remarks. Is this acceptable and is there other information you need?

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Francisco, Noel J.>
Sent: 3/28/2003 4:53:27 PM
Subject: Supreme Court press release on audiotape

In light of the public interest in Grutter v. Bollinger and Gratz v. Bollinger, scheduled to be heard by the Court at 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. respectively on Tuesday, April 1, 2003, an audiotape of the U. S. Supreme Court oral arguments will be made available by the Court that day on an expedited basis shortly after the conclusion of both arguments at noon.

Sources for the oral argument audiotape will be as follows:

> An audiotape will be provided to the Network pool, which will in turn provide an offsite, simultaneous feed to member news organizations.
>
> The audio will be made available in the House and Senate Radio and Television Galleries at the U. S. Capitol on Capitol Hill DA #9. Only press holding proper Congressional credentials will be allowed in the Galleries.
>
> An on-site feed (mult-box) will be available on Maryland Avenue next to the Supreme Court. News organizations that are not part of the radio/TV pool systems may plug in at that location. Please note that on-site parking is not available.

Playback of the tapes will be provided as soon as possible following the conclusion of oral arguments, scheduled to end at noon. The audiotapes of both arguments will be played in their entirety one time only. Contact Rusty Lutz at ABC News at 202-222-7600 for more information.

From:	Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To:	Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications>
BCC:	Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent:	3/28/2003 1:46:53 PM
Subject:	: White House Global Messenger - SPECIAL HUMANITARIAN EDITION - 3 -29-03
Attachments:	P_O7A5F003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:28-MAR-2003 18:46:53.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger - SPECIAL HUMANITARIAN EDITION - 3 -29-03
TO:Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications (CN=Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 3-29-03 FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Saturday, March 29, 2003

SPECIAL HUMANITARIAN EDITION***

KEY POINTS***

*Our enemy in this war is the Iraqi regime, not the people who have suffered under it. As we bring justice to a dictator, we are bringing humanitarian aid in large amounts to an oppressed land.

*The current humanitarian situation in Iraq is difficult, because of the policies and actions of the Iraqi regime over the last two decades. The situation varies from place to place within Iraq.

*To date, however, there have been only limited humanitarian consequences of the war itself because, to the extent possible, we have gone to great lengths to identify, locate and protect humanitarian and key infrastructure sites.

*The United States is currently providing $140 million to international aid agencies to help the Iraqi people with relief and post-conflict rehabilitation and 610,000 metric tons of food, worth $300 million.

*To assess needs and coordinate efforts, the United States has deployed a 62-person civilian disaster assistance response team (DART), the largest of its kind ever. Among the DART's roles is to facilitate the work of non-governmental organizations, which will deliver significant aid in Iraq.

*On March 28, the UN Security Council unanimously passed a resolution modifying the Oil-for-Food program to help jump-start resumption of food shipments and launched its largest appeal ever for humanitarian aid to the Iraqi people.

*The regime has a history of creating humanitarian crises that increase the suffering of Iraq's people and make the provision of relief much more difficult, and there is evidence they are doing such things now.

*There are a number of other destructive steps Saddam Hussein's regime may take, including laying mines to prevent ships from providing humanitarian relief to Iraq; co-locating military assets and civilians;

deliberately targeting civilians; encouraging ethnic violence; destroying Iraq's infrastructure; and using chemical or biological weapons against Iraqi civilians and Coalition forces.

*The Iraqi people are beginning to see the great compassion of not only the United States, but other nations around the world who care deeply about the human condition inside that country. Our coalition will stand with the citizens of Iraq in the challenges ahead.

COALITION HUMANITARIAN UPDATE***

*The Australian Government committed $83 million to buy and ship 100,000 tons of wheat.

*Coalition forces have seized and continue to secure the strategic southern port of Umm Qasr, a gateway for food and other relief items.

*A British Ship, the Sir Galahad, arrived in Umm Qasr on March 28, and delivered more than 300 tons of humanitarian supplies. More ships will use the port soon.

*The Kuwaiti government is providing food rations and other aid in southern Iraq.

*The Red Crescent Society carried out urgent maintenance work at several water plants in the Baghdad area and transport of supplementary drinking water to poorly served areas of town, health centers and hospitals continued. They are also in the process of procuring spare parts needed to start up three back-up generators at a pumping station north of Basra.

U.S. SUNDAY SHOW SCHEDULE***
Subject to Change

ABC: Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld

NBC: Joint Chiefs Chairman Myers

CBS: Joint Chiefs Chairman Myers

FOX: Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld

CNN: Joint Chiefs Chairman Myers

KEY QUOTE***

"We care about the human condition of the people who have suffered under Saddam Hussein.... In every possible way, Coalition forces are showing kindness and respect to the Iraqi people. They're going to extraordinary lengths to spare the lives of the innocent. We treat wounded Iraqi soldiers. The contrast could not be greater between the honorable conduct of our forces and the criminal acts of the enemy."
President Bush, in remarks, 3-28-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****

You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere.

- GM 3-29-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_O7A5F003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

SPECIAL HUMANITARIAN EDITION

Saturday, March 29, 2003

U.S. SUNDAY SHOWS

Subject to Change

ABC:	Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld
NBC:	Joint Chiefs Chairman Myers
CBS:	Joint Chiefs Chairman Myers
FOX:	Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld
CNN:	Joint Chiefs Chairman Myers

COALITION HUMANITARIAN UPDATE

- The Australian Government committed $83 million to buy and ship 100,000 tons of wheat.
- Coalition forces have seized and continue to secure the strategic southern port of Umm Qasr, a gateway for food and other relief items.
- A British Ship, the Sir Galahad, arrived in Umm Qasr on March 28, and delivered more than 300 tons of humanitarian supplies. More ships will use the port soon.
- The Kuwaiti government is providing food rations and other aid in southern Iraq.
- The Red Crescent Society carried out urgent maintenance work at several water plants in the Baghdad area and transport of supplementary drinking water to poorly served areas of town, health centers and hospitals continued. They are also in the process of procuring spare parts needed to start up three back-up generators at a pumping station north of Basra.

KEY QUOTE

"We care about the human condition of the people who have suffered under Saddam Hussein….In every possible way, Coalition forces are showing kindness and respect to the Iraqi people. They're going to extraordinary lengths to spare the lives of the innocent. We treat wounded Iraqi soldiers. The contrast could not be greater between the honorable conduct of our forces and the criminal acts of the enemy."

President Bush, in remarks, 3-28-03

KEY POINTS

- Our enemy in this war is the Iraqi regime, not the people who have suffered under it. As we bring justice to a dictator, we are bringing humanitarian aid in large amounts to an oppressed land.
- The current humanitarian situation in Iraq is difficult, because of the policies and actions of the Iraqi regime over the last two decades. The situation varies from place to place within Iraq.
- To date, however, there have been only limited humanitarian consequences of the war itself because, to the extent possible, we have gone to great lengths to identify, locate and protect humanitarian and key infrastructure sites.
- The United States is currently providing $140 million to international aid agencies to help the Iraqi people with relief and post-conflict rehabilitation and 610,000 metric tons of food, worth $300 million.
- To assess needs and coordinate efforts, the United States has deployed a 62-person civilian disaster assistance response team (DART), the largest of its kind ever. Among the DART's roles is to facilitate the work of non-governmental organizations, which will deliver significant aid in Iraq.
- On March 28, 2003, the UN Security Council unanimously passed a resolution modifying the Oil-for-Food program to help jump-start resumption of food and medicine shipments and launched its largest appeal ever for humanitarian aid to the Iraqi people.
- The regime has a history of creating humanitarian crises that increase the suffering of Iraq's people and make the provision of relief much more difficult, and there is evidence they are doing such things now.
- There are a number of other destructive steps Saddam Hussein's regime may take, including laying mines to prevent ships from providing humanitarian relief to Iraq; co-locating military assets and civilians; deliberately targeting civilians; encouraging ethnic violence; destroying Iraq's infrastructure; and using chemical or biological weapons against Iraqi civilians and Coalition forces.
- The Iraqi people are beginning to see the great compassion of not only the United States, but other nations around the world who care deeply about the human condition inside that country. Our coalition will stand with the citizens of Iraq in the challenges ahead.

THE WHITE HOUSE

Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

From: MacEcevic, Lisa J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Schacht, Diana L.>;<Warsh, Kevin>;<Silverberg, Kristen>
CC: <Green, Richard E.>
Sent: 3/28/2003 5:50:17 PM
Subject: DoJ Comment on S274 - Class Action Fairness Act of 2003

Please see DoJ's comment on the subject bill.

---------- Forwarded by Lisa J. Macecevic/OMB/EOP on 03/28/2003 05:50 PM ----------

We have one observation about S. 274, Class Action Fairness Act of 2003. The bill apparently governs both plaintiff and defendant class actions (since it defines "class action" and "plaintiff class action" as distinct terms), but at various points, it seems to contemplate only plaintiff class actions without so specifying. For example, by their terms, proposed new sections 1713, 1717(b), and 1717(e) of title 28 appear to apply to defendant class actions as well as plaintiff class actions. Is this the intent?

From:	Nelson, Carolyn
To:	<Addington, David S.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Bellinger, John B.>;<Brilliant, Hana F.>;<Bumatay, Patrick J.>;<Carroll, James W.>;<Everson, Nanette>;<Farrell, J. Elizabeth>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Ganter, Jonathan F.>;<Jucas, Tracy>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<McNally, Edward>;<Montiel, Charlotte L.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>;<Brosnahan, Jennifer R.>
Sent:	3/29/2003 12:00:15 PM
Subject:	Note about the Judge's schedule

The Judge will depart for Lexington, Virginia tomorrow afternoon to deliver a speech at Washington and Lee Law School on Monday morning. He'll be back in the office late Monday afternoon.

David Leitch will lead staff meeting in his absence.

Thanks!
Carrie

From: CN=Ken Mehlman/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Kendall, Quintin <Quintin.Kendall@ost.dot.gov>
CC: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/30/2003 10:42:33 AM
Subject: : Re: FYI

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Ken Mehlman (CN=Ken Mehlman/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:30-MAR-2003 15:42:33.00
SUBJECT:: Re: FYI
TO:"Kendall, Quintin" <Quintin.Kendall@ost.dot.gov> ("Kendall, Quintin" <Quintin.Kendall@ost.dot.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

What are you doing about this contract? Very interesting information.
Make sure you check with counsel on whatever you do in order to comply with the law.

"Kendall, Quintin" <Quintin.Kendall@ost.dot.gov>
03/28/2003 10:10:29 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Adrian G. Gray/WHO/EOP@EOP, Ken Mehlman/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: FYI

Ken & Adrian--

It was brought to my attention that DOT's National Highway Transportation Safety Administration has a contract with the consulting/media firm of Greer
& Margolis (GMMB) http://www.gmmb.com/home.html. While reviewing this, I have found out that GMMB also claims to have contracts with the following government entities:

AmeriCorps
Department of Labor
Department of Justice/ADA
FEMA
National Park Service
USPS

I do not know if these reflect current or past clients. As you can see from
the whole client list, GMMB represents an interesting client base.

AARP
Air Bag & Seat Belt Safety Campaign
Amalgamated Bank
American Academy of Family Physicians
American Association of Health Plans American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees
American Federation of Teachers
Americans for a Fair Chance

AmeriCorps/Corporation for National Service
California Children & Families Commission
California HealthCare Foundation
Campaign for Tobacco Free Kids
Carnegie Corporation of New York
Children's Action Network
Child Welfare League of America
Cisco Systems
The Coalition to Reduce Nuclear Dangers
Communications Workers of America
The Corporation for National Service
Corporation for Public Broadcasting
Council for a Livable World
DaimlerChrysler Corporation
Defenders of Wildlife
Department of Labor
Department of Justice/Americans with Disabilities Act
The Disney Channel
Entertainment Software Rating Board/ Interactive Digital Software Association
Families USA
Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA)
Harrah's
Henry J. Kaiser Family Foundation
I Am Your Child Campaign
Insurance Institute for Highway Safety
Johnson & Johnson
Kaiser Permanente
League of Conservation Voters Education Fund
League of Women Voters
National Abortion and Reproductive Rights Action League
National Highway Traffic Safety Administration
National Park Service
National SAFE KIDS Campaign
National Safety Council
Natural Resources Defense Council
NetAid
Oberlin College
Onvia
People for the American Way
Planned Parenthood
Robert Wood Johnson Foundation
Ross Laboratories
Service Employees International Union
Share Our Strength
Sierra Club
Union of Needletrades, Industrial and Textile Employees (UNITE)
U.S. Committee on Civil Rights
U.S. Conference of Mayors
U.S. Postal Service
Voters for Choice
Washington Conservation Voters and Conservation Strategies
White House Conference on Small Business
Wired Magazine

Quintin C. Kendall
White House Liaison
U. S. Department of Transportation
400 Seventh Street, S.W.
Washington, DC 20590
(202) 366-1322

(202) 366-3506--fax

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 3/30/2003 3:32:00 PM
Subject: : White House Global Messenger -- 03/31/2003
Attachments: P_BGQ5F003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> ( Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:30-MAR-2003 20:32:00.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger -- 03/31/2003
TO:Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications ( CN=Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Monday, March 31, 2003

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT
'S RADIO ADDRESS***
- In the last week, the world has seen the nature of the young men and women who fight on behalf of our coalition. They are showing kindness and respect to
the
Iraqi people and are going to extraordinary lengths to spare the lives of the innocent.
- Our forces are delivering food and water to grateful Iraqi citizens. The contrast could not be greater between the honorable conduct of our liberating force and the criminal acts of the enemy.
- The world has also seen firsthand the cruel nature of a dying regime. In areas still under its control, Saddam's regime continues its rule by terror.
Prisoners of war have been brutalized and executed. Iraqis who refuse to fight for
the regime are being murdered. Some in the Iraqi military have pretended to surrender, then opened fire on coalition forces that showed them mercy.
- We have prevented Saddam Hussein from launching missiles from key sites in western Iraq. We are now fighting the most desperate units of the dictator's army. The fighting is fierce and we do not know its duration, yet we know
the outcome of this battle: The Iraqi regime will be disarmed and removed from power. Iraq will be free.
- Given the nature of this regime, we expect such war crimes, but we will not excuse them. War criminals will be hunted relentlessly and judged severely.
- Every atrocity confirms the justice and urgency of our cause. Against this enemy, we will accept no outcome but complete and final victory. To meet this objective, we must give our armed services the support and resources they require.

- We have asked Congress for a nearly $75 billion wartime supplementalappropriations bill to provide supplies for our troops, new high-tech munitions to replace the ones we have used in the war, and assistance for the reconstruction of Iraq and for the protection of the American homeland in this
```

time of high alert.
- The people who serve in the military are giving their best to this country. We have the responsibility to give them our full support as they fight for the liberty of an oppressed people, for the security of the United States, and for the peace of the world.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE***

All Times Eastern Standard. Subject to Change.

7:00 am CENTCOM General Brooks briefs
1:30 pm State Dept. Spokesman Boucher briefs
2:50 pm The President delivers remarks on Homeland Security, Philadelphia
TBD Sec. of Defense Rumsfeld and General Myers brief

IN THE PRESIDENT'S WORDS***

From the Radio Address by the President to the Nation, 03-29-03

"[T]he regime that once terrorized all of Iraq now controls a small portion of that country. American and Coalition troops have continued a steady advance, and are now less than 50 miles from Baghdad.

"In recent days, we have cleared mines from the water and taken control of a key port city, to allow humanitarian aid to begin flowing into the country. We have secured more than 600 oil wells and have begun putting out the few oil well fires set by the enemy. Our efforts to protect the wealth that belongs to the Iraqi people are paying off."

KEY QUOTES***

"[I]t seems to me to be a very noble thing to fight the war in that way, to minimize civilian casualties, to keep in the back of your mind the fact that you've not only got to win the war, which ...no one questions... We are going to win this war. But you also have to win the peace. So they're fighting the war in a way that will best enable them to win the peace. And I think that's very praiseworthy." --Former Secretary of State Baker, on ABC's This Week, 03-30-03

"I think what we're seeing right now ... is a population afraid to come forward, afraid to say, 'Yeah, we're on your side, coalition,' because there are still elements of these very fanatical groups that align themselves with Saddam's regime, [whose] whole legitimacy is tied to that regime being in power. Once it's clear the regime is gone forever, these folks are either going to fade or they're going to be treated appropriately by the population that they've been torturing and oppressing for all these years." -- General Myers, on CBS's Face the Nation, 03-30-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****

You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from
the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere.

(See attached file: GM 3-31-03 FINAL.doc) - GM 3-31-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_BGQ5F003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Monday, March 31, 2003

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

All Times Eastern Standard. Subject to Change

7:00 am	CENTCOM General Brooks briefs
1:30 pm	State Dept. Spokesman Boucher briefs
2:50 pm	The President delivers remarks on Homeland Security, Philadelphia
TBD	Sec. of Defense Rumsfeld and General Myers brief

IN THE PRESIDENT'S WORDS

From the Radio Address by the President to the Nation, 03-29-03

"[T]he regime that once terrorized all of Iraq now controls a small portion of that country. American and Coalition troops have continued a steady advance, and are now less than 50 miles from Baghdad.

"In recent days, we have cleared mines from the water and taken control of a key port city, to allow humanitarian aid to begin flowing into the country. We have secured more than 600 oil wells and have begun putting out the few oil well fires set by the enemy. Our efforts to protect the wealth that belongs to the Iraqi people are paying off."

KEY QUOTES

"[I]t seems to me to be a very noble thing to fight the war in that way, to minimize civilian casualties, to keep in the back of your mind the fact that you've not only got to win the war, which …no one questions…. We are going to win this war. But you also have to win the peace. So they're fighting the war in a way that will best enable them to win the peace. And I think that's very praiseworthy." --Former Secretary of State Baker, on ABC's This Week, 03-30-03

"I think what we're seeing right now … is a population afraid to come forward, afraid to say, 'Yeah, we're on your side, coalition,' because there are still elements of these very fanatical groups that align themselves with Saddam's regime, [whose] whole legitimacy is tied to that regime being in power. Once it's clear the regime is gone forever, these folks are either going to fade or they're going to be treated appropriately by the population that they've been torturing and oppressing for all these years." -- General Myers, on CBS's Face the Nation, 03-30-03

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S RADIO ADDRESS

- In the last week, the world has seen the nature of the young men and women who fight on behalf of our coalition. They are showing kindness and respect to the Iraqi people and are going to extraordinary lengths to spare the lives of the innocent.
- Our forces are delivering food and water to grateful Iraqi citizens. The contrast could not be greater between the honorable conduct of our liberating force and the criminal acts of the enemy.
- The world has also seen firsthand the cruel nature of a dying regime. In areas still under its control, Saddam's regime continues its rule by terror. Prisoners of war have been brutalized and executed. Iraqis who refuse to fight for the regime are being murdered. Some in the Iraqi military have pretended to surrender, then opened fire on coalition forces that showed them mercy.
- We have prevented Saddam Hussein from launching missiles from key sites in western Iraq. We are now fighting the most desperate units of the dictator's army. The fighting is fierce and we do not know its duration, yet we know the outcome of this battle: The Iraqi regime will be disarmed and removed from power. Iraq will be free.
- Given the nature of this regime, we expect such war crimes, but we will not excuse them. War criminals will be hunted relentlessly and judged severely.
- Every atrocity confirms the justice and urgency of our cause. Against this enemy, we will accept no outcome but complete and final victory. To meet this objective, we must give our armed services the support and resources they require.
- We have asked Congress for a nearly $75 billion wartime supplemental appropriations bill to provide supplies for our troops, new high-tech munitions to replace the ones we have used in the war, and assistance for the reconstruction of Iraq and for the protection of the American homeland in this time of high alert.
- The people who serve in the military are giving their best to this country. We have the responsibility to give them our full support as they fight for the liberty of an oppressed people, for the security of the United States, and for the peace of the world.

THE WHITE HOUSE

Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

From: Kate Walters <kate@georgewbush.com>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: Matt Schlapp (E-mail) <mschlapp@georgewbush.com>;David McMaster (E-mail) <dmcmaster@georgewbush.com>
Sent: 3/31/2003 5:00:58 AM
Subject: : NRA Letter- again
Attachments: P_YG36F003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Kate Walters <kate@georgewbush.com> (Kate Walters <kate@georgewbush.com> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 10:00:58.00
SUBJECT:: NRA Letter- again
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:"Matt Schlapp (E-mail)" <mschlapp@georgewbush.com> ("Matt Schlapp (E-mail)" <mschlapp@georgewbush.com> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:"David McMaster (E-mail)" <dmcmaster@georgewbush.com> ("David McMaster (E-mail)" <dmcmaster@georgewbush.com> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Karl has made changes to this letter yet again. Can you please review before I send it back to the RNC? Thanks.

Dear Mr. Prezocki,

Thank you for your postcard concerning your Second Amendment rights. I appreciate you sharing your thoughts with me on this important issue.

The Republican Party proudly defends our Bill of Rights including the Second Amendment. Our platform also specifically endorses a law-abiding individual ?s right to own firearms.

In the national debate over gun control, Americans are increasingly coming to understand the focus needs to be on prosecuting those who commit crimes with guns, not on trying to infringe upon the Constitutional rights of law-abiding citizens.

I would welcome any further comments you may have on this or any other issue.

Sincerely,

Marc Racicot
Chairman
-----Original Message-----From: Dave McMaster [mailto:dmcmaster@georgewbush.com]
Sent: Tuesday, March 11, 2003 5:47 PM
To: Kate Walters
Subject:
- RNC response.nra.postcard.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_YG36F003_WHO.TXT_1>

Dear Mr. Prezocki,

Thank you for your postcard concerning your Second Amendment rights. I appreciate you sharing your thoughts with me on this important issue.

The Republican Party proudly defends our Bill of Rights including the Second Amendment. Our platform also specifically endorses a law-abiding individual's right to own firearms.

In the national debate over gun control, Americans are increasingly coming to understand the focus needs to be on prosecuting those who commit crimes with guns, not on trying to infringe upon the Constitutional rights of law-abiding citizens.

I would welcome any further comments you may have on this or any other issue.

Sincerely,

Marc Racicot
Chairman

From: CN=Adrian G. Gray/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Paul B. Dyck>
CC: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;catherine j. martin/ovp /eop@eop [OVP] <catherine j. martin>
Sent: 3/31/2003 6:57:10 AM
Subject: : Re: Harding University Commencement

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Adrian G. Gray (CN=Adrian G. Gray/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 11:57:10.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Harding University Commencement
TO:Paul B. Dyck (CN=Paul B. Dyck/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:catherine j. martin (CN=catherine j. martin/OU=ovp/O=eop@eop [OVP])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

I believe the corporate plan issue may be different here since it is an official event and not political. Brett - could you help clarify?

AG

Paul B. Dyck
03/31/2003 10:09:27 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Adrian G. Gray/WHO/EOP@EOP, Catherine J. Martin/OVP/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Harding University Commencement

The school president is not able to get enough funding to cover a charter for Mrs. Cheney. So the only way that we will be able to make it work is:

1) if the school can split the costs with the AR GOP and the party can raise the funds with a quick fundraiser while she is there;
2) the school is willing to arrange a private plane for Mrs. Cheney through one of the school's backers. I believe that we are not allowing this, but since it isn't a political trip, is it a possibility?

What do y'all think?

From: Montiel, Charlotte L.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/31/2003 9:03:47 AM
Subject: FW: MESSAGE MEETING REMINDER - NOTE ROOM CHANGE FOR TODAY ONLY

-----Original Message-----
From: Ritacco, Krista L.
Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 9:03 AM
To: Yunker, Jacob H.; Allgood, Lauren K.; Ball, Andrea G.; Barrales, Ruben S.; Bennett, Melissa S.; Besanceney, Brian R.; Buchan, Claire ; Burkhart, Shannon; Campbell, Anne E.; Christie, Ronald I.; Ciafardini, Andrew D.; Conde, Roberta L.; Cooper, Rory S.; DeFrancis, Suzy; Devenish, Nicolle; Duffy, Trent D.; Ellison, Kimberly; Eskew, Tucker A.; Figg, Kara G.; Gerdelman, Sue H.; Gillmor, Eleanor L.; Grant, Britt; Gray, Adrian G.; Gray, Ann ; Hamilton, Parker B.; Healy, Erin E.; Hennessey, Keith; Hernandez, Israel; Hughes, A. Merrill; Ingle, Edward; Jackson, Barry S.; Kaplan, Joel; Kozberg, Lindsey C.; Kyle, Ross M.; Lefkowitz, Jay P.; Lineberry, Stephen M.; Litkenhaus, Colleen; Lockart, Sarah K.; Mallea, Jose; Martin, Catherine J.; McClellan, Scott ; McDonald, Rebekah; McQuade, Vickie A.; Mehlman, Ken; Middlemas, A. Morgan; Millerwise, Jennifer; Montiel, Charlotte L.; Nelson, Carolyn; Nipper, Wendy L.; Parell, Christie; Pelletier, Eric C.; Perez, Anna M.; Ralston, Susan B.; Reese, Shelley; Riecke, January M.; Rodriguez, Noelia ; Rogers, Edwina C.; Rust, Kathryn E.; Ryun, Catharine A.; Sforza, Scott N.; Silverberg, Kristen; Smith, Heidi M.; Snee, Ashley; Spagnoli, Deborah A.; Towey, Jim; Vestewig, Lauren J.; Walters, Katherine M.; Wehner, Peter H.; Westine, Lezlee J.; Williams, Mary C.; Wozniak, Natalie S.
Subject: MESSAGE MEETING REMINDER - NOTE ROOM CHANGE FOR TODAY ONLY

There will be a message meeting today at noon in EEOB 180.

From: CN=Jose Mallea/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/31/2003 5:55:23 AM
Subject: : RE: game

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Jose Mallea (CN=Jose Mallea/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 10:55:23.00
SUBJECT:: RE: game
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Brett,

One more question on this...

How do you recommend we figure out "fair market value" if Secretary Card decides to attend the game and view it from a suite? The folks with the Capitals mentioned that in the past, they've recommended paying the price of a "regular" ticket. Currently, ticket prices for the game range from $37 - $97.

Thanks again for your help with this.

Jose

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Friday, March 28, 2003 9:56 AM
To: Bennett, Melissa S.
Cc: Mallea, Jose
Subject: RE: game

yes.

From: Melissa S. Bennett/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/28/2003 09:58:53 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Jose Mallea/WHO/EOP@Exchange
Subject: RE: game

They have decided just to sit in regular seats in the stadium. Assume the same applies.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Friday, March 28, 2003 9:44 AM
To: Bennett, Melissa S.
Subject: game

Under the circumstances as described, he should pay fair market value for all tickets for Secretary Card and family members.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Mercedes M. Viana/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Mercedes M. Viana>;Tim Goeglein/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Tim Goeglein>;Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>;Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Snee>
Sent: 3/31/2003 6:01:22 AM
Subject: : ABA President's statement -- for circulation as appropriate

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 11:01:22.00
SUBJECT:: ABA President's statement -- for circulation as appropriate
TO:Mercedes M. Viana (CN=Mercedes M. Viana/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Tim Goeglein (CN=Tim Goeglein/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs (CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Ashley Snee (CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

From April 2003 ABA Journal:

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE
MORE AND FASTER*NOW
The Crisis in the Federal Judiciary

BY ALFRED P. CARLTON JR.

Over the years, several partners and friends of mine have been considered for the federal bench. Some became federal judges, and some did not. All faced a conscious decision to limit their income for life and put their practices on hold during almost always protracted and invasive nomination and confirmation proceedings. All had to consider the reality of donning a somewhat monastic lifestyle along with judicial robes.

All had to consider the likelihood of a public life, punctuated by controversy and &no win8 judicial decision-making opportunities. As I have matured as a lawyer, the decision-making has gotten closer and closer to home, and I often find myself thinking, &If it were me, what would I do?8

I never really have answered the question but, instead, find myself admiring those who say yes to the sacrifice. And admiring those who say no to the toughest career decision they will ever make. What would you do?

The decision isn,t getting any easier. And for those who say yes, life is not getting any easier. In fact, it has become a life that starts with a searing political process, followed by a lifetime of hard work for less pay.

DANGER TO DEMOCRACY

As Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist has said in no uncertain terms to the last three Congresses: There is a crisis in our federal judiciary, constituting a clear and present danger to the uniquely American foundation of our tripartite democracy*an independent judiciary.

The crisis has a dual modality to it, and as the chief has noted in very explicit language, it can only be remedied if the accountable parties*the other two branches *cooperatively and responsibly respond to twin imperatives: expeditious nomination and confirmation, and adequate judicial pay.

As this page is being written, the spectacle of the Miguel Estrada & filibuster8 grinds on*a living testament to the inability of both sides to cooperatively fulfill the grave constitutional duty entrusted to them. But it is illustrative of what can happen to a judicial nominee who gets caught in bare-knuckled partisan kickboxing. This is to say nothing of the secondary effect current intramural disputes will have on a legion of other nominees*all awaiting hearings or confirmation, many for months or even years at a time, having all put professional careers and private lives on hold.

For those who have made it through the process*who put on their robes every day, and go competently and quietly about the business of dispensing American justice*paydays provide a constant reminder of an empty promise made by the American people in Article III, Section 1 of the Constitution: That their pay &shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.8 cf: Williams v. U.S., 240 F.3d 1019 (D.C. 2001), petition for cert. denied, 535 U.S. 911 (2002) (Breyer, J., dissenting).

THE FACTS ARE PLAIN

It is a fact that the purchasing power of judicial pay has diminished by 25 percent during the past three decades. It is a fact that more federal judges have quit the bench before qualifying for retirement in the last decade than in the preceding 40 years. It is a fact that the National Commission on the Public Service, headed by former Federal Reserve Chairman Paul Volcker, cited federal judicial pay as &the most egregious example of the failure of federal compensation policies.8 The facts are that the members of the new national accounting industry oversight board will be paid $450,000 per year*and that U.S. district judges make $154,700 a year. Facts aside, it is an outrage.

I have great admiration and sympathy for my friends, each of whom I am sure made the right decision in saying yes or no. But under similar circumstances, I am almost sure that I would have said to myself, &All of that*for what?8

We have told Chief Justice Rehnquist that, at the very least, we at the ABA are listening to him and will do everything we can to rectify this outrageous state of affairs. We lawyers must speak up for our brothers and sisters at the bar who have accepted the challenge. They sacrifice daily to make our third branch the envy of the world. They earn our respect and admiration every day. They deserve our unswerving loyalty and support.

They need to be nominated and confirmed faster. They need to be paid more. And they need more and they need faster*now.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Jose Mallea/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Jose Mallea>
Sent: 3/31/2003 6:02:05 AM
Subject: : RE: game

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 11:02:05.00
SUBJECT:: RE: game
TO:Jose Mallea (CN=Jose Mallea/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

He should pay the equivalent of the highest priced "regular" ticket.

From: Jose Mallea/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/31/2003 10:55:43 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: game

Brett,

One more question on this...

How do you recommend we figure out "fair market value" if Secretary Card decides to attend the game and view it from a suite? The folks with the Capitals mentioned that in the past, they've recommended paying the price of a "regular" ticket. Currently, ticket prices for the game range from $37 - $97.

Thanks again for your help with this.

Jose

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Friday, March 28, 2003 9:56 AM
To: Bennett, Melissa S.
Cc: Mallea, Jose
Subject: RE: game

yes.

From: Melissa S. Bennett/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/28/2003 09:58:53 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Jose Mallea/WHO/EOP@Exchange
Subject: RE: game

They have decided just to sit in regular seats in the stadium. Assume the same applies.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Friday, March 28, 2003 9:44 AM
To: Bennett, Melissa S.
Subject: game

Under the circumstances as described, he should pay fair market value for all tickets for Secretary Card and family members.

From: CN=Jose Mallea/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/31/2003 6:03:28 AM
Subject: : RE: game

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Jose Mallea (CN=Jose Mallea/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 11:03:28.00
SUBJECT:: RE: game
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Thanks.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 11:02 AM
To: Mallea, Jose
Subject: RE: game

He should pay the equivalent of the highest priced "regular" ticket.

From: Jose Mallea/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/31/2003 10:55:43 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: game

Brett,

One more question on this...

How do you recommend we figure out "fair market value" if Secretary Card decides to attend the game and view it from a suite? The folks with the Capitals mentioned that in the past, they've recommended paying the price of a "regular" ticket. Currently, ticket prices for the game range from $37 - $97.

Thanks again for your help with this.

Jose

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Friday, March 28, 2003 9:56 AM
To: Bennett, Melissa S.
Cc: Mallea, Jose
Subject: RE: game

yes.

From: Melissa S. Bennett/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/28/2003 09:58:53 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Jose Mallea/WHO/EOP@Exchange
Subject: RE: game

They have decided just to sit in regular seats in the stadium. Assume the same applies.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Friday, March 28, 2003 9:44 AM
To: Bennett, Melissa S.
Subject: game

Under the circumstances as described, he should pay fair market value for all tickets for Secretary Card and family members.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Benjamin A. Powell>;Kyle Sampson/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>;Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jennifer G. Newstead>;David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Noel J. Francisco>;H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <H. Christopher Bartolomucci>;Jennifer R. Brosnahan/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jennifer R. Brosnahan>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 3/31/2003 6:05:26 AM
Subject: : ABA President's statement

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 11:05:26.00
SUBJECT:: ABA President's statement
TO:Benjamin A. Powell ( CN=Benjamin A. Powell/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Kyle Sampson ( CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jennifer G. Newstead ( CN=Jennifer G. Newstead/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Noel J. Francisco ( CN=Noel J. Francisco/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:H. Christopher Bartolomucci ( CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jennifer R. Brosnahan ( CN=Jennifer R. Brosnahan/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales ( CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

From April 2003 ABA Journal:

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE
MORE AND FASTER*NOW
The Crisis in the Federal Judiciary

BY ALFRED P. CARLTON JR.

Over the years, several partners and friends of mine have been considered for the federal bench. Some became federal judges, and some did not. All faced a conscious decision to limit their income for life and put their practices on hold during almost always protracted and invasive nomination and confirmation proceedings. All had to consider the reality of donning a somewhat monastic lifestyle along with judicial robes.

All had to consider the likelihood of a public life, punctuated by controversy and &no win8 judicial decision-making opportunities. As I have matured as a lawyer, the decision-making has gotten closer and closer to home, and I often find myself thinking, &If it were me, what would I do?8

I never really have answered the question but, instead, find myself admiring those who say yes to the sacrifice. And admiring those who say no to the toughest career decision they will ever make. What would you do?
```

The decision isn,t getting any easier. And for those who say yes, life is not getting any easier. In fact, it has become a life that starts with a searing political process, followed by a lifetime of hard work for less pay.

DANGER TO DEMOCRACY

As Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist has said in no uncertain terms to the last three Congresses: There is a crisis in our federal judiciary, constituting a clear and present danger to the uniquely American foundation of our tripartite democracy*an independent judiciary.

The crisis has a dual modality to it, and as the chief has noted in very explicit language, it can only be remedied if the accountable parties*the other two branches *cooperatively and responsibly respond to twin imperatives: expeditious nomination and confirmation, and adequate judicial pay.

As this page is being written, the spectacle of the Miguel Estrada & filibuster8 grinds on*a living testament to the inability of both sides to cooperatively fulfill the grave constitutional duty entrusted to them. But it is illustrative of what can happen to a judicial nominee who gets caught in bare-knuckled partisan kickboxing. This is to say nothing of the secondary effect current intramural disputes will have on a legion of other nominees*all awaiting hearings or confirmation, many for months or even years at a time, having all put professional careers and private lives on hold.

For those who have made it through the process*who put on their robes every day, and go competently and quietly about the business of dispensing American justice*paydays provide a constant reminder of an empty promise made by the American people in Article III, Section 1 of the Constitution: That their pay &shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.8 cf: Williams v. U.S., 240 F.3d 1019 (D.C. 2001), petition for cert. denied, 535 U.S. 911 (2002) (Breyer, J., dissenting).

THE FACTS ARE PLAIN

It is a fact that the purchasing power of judicial pay has diminished by 25 percent during the past three decades. It is a fact that more federal judges have quit the bench before qualifying for retirement in the last decade than in the preceding 40 years. It is a fact that the National Commission on the Public Service, headed by former Federal Reserve Chairman Paul Volcker, cited federal judicial pay as &the most egregious example of the failure of federal compensation policies.8 The facts are that the members of the new national accounting industry oversight board will be paid $450,000 per year*and that U.S. district judges make $154,700 a year. Facts aside, it is an outrage.

I have great admiration and sympathy for my friends, each of whom I am sure made the right decision in saying yes or no. But under similar circumstances, I am almost sure that I would have said to myself, &All of that*for what?8

We have told Chief Justice Rehnquist that, at the very least, we at the ABA are listening to him and will do everything we can to rectify this outrageous state of affairs. We lawyers must speak up for our brothers and sisters at the bar who have accepted the challenge. They sacrifice daily to make our third branch the envy of the world. They earn our respect and admiration every day. They deserve our unswerving loyalty and support.

They need to be nominated and confirmed faster. They need to be paid more. And they need more and they need faster*now.

From:	Bumatay, Patrick J.
To:	<Walker, Helgard C.>;<Addington, David S.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Bellinger, John B.>;<Brilliant, Hana F.>;<Brosnahan, Jennifer R.>;<Bumatay, Patrick J.>;<Carroll, James W.>;<Everson, Nanette>;<Farrell, J. Elizabeth>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Ganter, Jonathan F.>;<Jucas, Tracy>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<McNally, Edward>;<Montiel, Charlotte L.>;<Nelson, Carolyn>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent:	3/31/2003 10:50:18 AM
Subject:	Updated Counsel assignments
Attachments:	Counsel Assigments - Apr 2003.xls

Attached is a new updated Counsel assignments sheet. Sorry for any confusion.

Patrick

Document Produced Natively

From: Mallea, Jose
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/31/2003 10:55:43 AM
Subject: RE: game

Brett,

One more question on this...

How do you recommend we figure out "fair market value" if Secretary Card decides to attend the game and view it from a suite? The folks with the Capitals mentioned that in the past, they've recommended paying the price of a "regular" ticket. Currently, ticket prices for the game range from $37 - $97.

Thanks again for your help with this.

Jose

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Friday, March 28, 2003 9:56 AM
To: Bennett, Melissa S.
Cc: Mallea, Jose
Subject: RE: game

yes.

From: Melissa S. Bennett/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/28/2003 09:58:53 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Jose Mallea/WHO/EOP@Exchange
Subject: RE: game

They have decided just to sit in regular seats in the stadium. Assume the same applies.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Friday, March 28, 2003 9:44 AM
To: Bennett, Melissa S.
Subject: game

Under the circumstances as described, he should pay fair market value for all tickets for Secretary Card and family members.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Snee, Ashley>;<Goeglein, Tim>;<Grubbs, Wendy J.>;<Viana, Mercedes M.>
Sent: 3/31/2003 10:58:30 AM
Subject: ABA President's statement -- for circulation as appropriate

From April 2003 ABA Journal:

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

MORE AND FASTER—NOW

The Crisis in the Federal Judiciary

BY ALFRED P. CARLTON JR.

Over the years, several partners and friends of mine have been considered for the federal bench. Some became federal judges, and some did not. All faced a conscious decision to limit their income for life and put their practices on hold during almost always protracted and invasive nomination and confirmation proceedings. All had to consider the reality of donning a somewhat monastic lifestyle along with judicial robes.

All had to consider the likelihood of a public life, punctuated by controversy and "no win" judicial decision-making opportunities. As I have matured as a lawyer, the decision-making has gotten closer and closer to home, and I often find myself thinking, "If it were me, what would I do?"

I never really have answered the question but, instead, find myself admiring those who say yes to the sacrifice. And admiring those who say no to the toughest career decision they will ever make. What would you do?

The decision isn't getting any easier. And for those who say yes, life is not getting any easier. In fact, it has become a life that starts with a searing political process, followed by a lifetime of hard work for less pay.

DANGER TO DEMOCRACY

As Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist has said in no uncertain terms to the last three Congresses: There is a crisis in our federal judiciary, constituting a clear and present danger to the uniquely American foundation of our tripartite democracy—an independent judiciary.

The crisis has a dual modality to it, and as the chief has noted in very explicit language, it can only be remedied if the accountable parties—the other two branches —cooperatively and responsibly respond to twin imperatives: expeditious nomination and confirmation, and adequate judicial pay.

As this page is being written, the spectacle of the Miguel Estrada "filibuster" grinds on—a living testament to the inability of both sides to cooperatively fulfill the grave constitutional duty entrusted to them. But it is illustrative of what can happen to a judicial nominee who gets caught in bare-knuckled partisan kickboxing. This is to say nothing of the secondary effect current intramural disputes will have on a legion of other nominees—all awaiting hearings or confirmation, many for months or even years at a time, having all put professional careers and private lives on hold.

For those who have made it through the process—who put on their robes every day, and go competently and quietly about the business of dispensing American justice—paydays provide a constant reminder of an empty promise made by the American people in Article III, Section 1 of the Constitution: That their pay "shall not be diminished during their continuance in office." cf: Williams v. U.S., 240 F.3d 1019 (D.C. 2001), petition for cert. denied, 535 U.S. 911 (2002) (Breyer, J., dissenting).

THE FACTS ARE PLAIN

It is a fact that the purchasing power of judicial pay has diminished by 25 percent during the past three decades. It is a fact that more federal judges have quit the bench before qualifying for retirement in the last decade than in the preceding 40 years. It is a fact that the National Commission on the Public Service, headed by former Federal Reserve Chairman Paul Volcker, cited federal judicial pay as "the most egregious example of the failure of federal compensation policies." The facts are that the members of the new national accounting industry oversight board will be paid $450,000 per year—and that U.S. district judges make $154,700 a year. Facts aside, it is an outrage.

I have great admiration and sympathy for my friends, each of whom I am sure made the right decision in saying yes or no. But under similar circumstances, I am almost sure that I would have said to myself, "All of that—for what?"

We have told Chief Justice Rehnquist that, at the very least, we at the ABA are listening to him and will do everything we can to rectify this outrageous state of affairs. We lawyers must speak up for our brothers and sisters at the bar who have accepted the challenge. They sacrifice daily to make our third branch the envy of the world. They earn our respect and admiration every day. They deserve our unswerving loyalty and support.

They need to be nominated and confirmed faster. They need to be paid more. And they need more and they need faster—now.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Mallea, Jose>
Sent: 3/31/2003 11:02:00 AM
Subject: RE: game

He should pay the equivalent of the highest priced "regular" ticket.

From: Jose Mallea/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/31/2003 10:55:43 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: RE: game

Brett,

One more question on this...

How do you recommend we figure out "fair market value" if Secretary Card decides to attend the game and view it from a suite? The folks with the Capitals mentioned that in the past, they've recommended paying the price of a "regular" ticket. Currently, ticket prices for the game range from $37 - $97.

Thanks again for your help with this.

Jose

-----Original Message-----

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.

Sent: Friday, March 28, 2003 9:56 AM

To: Bennett, Melissa S.

Cc: Mallea, Jose

Subject: RE: game

yes.

From: Melissa S. Bennett/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/28/2003 09:58:53 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc: Jose Mallea/WHO/EOP@Exchange

Subject: RE: game

They have decided just to sit in regular seats in the stadium. Assume the same applies.

-----Original Message-----

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.

Sent: Friday, March 28, 2003 9:44 AM

To: Bennett, Melissa S.

Subject: game

Under the circumstances as described, he should pay fair market value for all tickets for Secretary Card and family members.

From: Mallea, Jose
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/31/2003 11:03:39 AM
Subject: RE: game

Thanks.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 11:02 AM
To: Mallea, Jose
Subject: RE: game

He should pay the equivalent of the highest priced "regular" ticket.

From: Jose Mallea/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/31/2003 10:55:43 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: game

Brett,

One more question on this...

How do you recommend we figure out "fair market value" if Secretary Card decides to attend the game and view it from a suite? The folks with the Capitals mentioned that in the past, they've recommended paying the price of a "regular" ticket. Currently, ticket prices for the game range from $37 - $97.

Thanks again for your help with this.

Jose

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Friday, March 28, 2003 9:56 AM
To: Bennett, Melissa S.
Cc: Mallea, Jose
Subject: RE: game

yes.

From: Melissa S. Bennett/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/28/2003 09:58:53 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Jose Mallea/WHO/EOP@Exchange
Subject: RE: game

They have decided just to sit in regular seats in the stadium. Assume the same applies.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Friday, March 28, 2003 9:44 AM
To: Bennett, Melissa S.
Subject: game

Under the circumstances as described, he should pay fair market value for all tickets for Secretary Card and family members.

From: Ledeen, Barbara (Republican-Conf) <Barbara_Ledeen@src.senate.gov>
To: Gold, Martin (Frist) <Martin_Gold@frist.senate.gov>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;barbara. comstock@usdoj. gov (E-mail) <barbara.comstock@usdoj.gov>;scastillo@rnchq. org (E-mail) <scastillo@rnchq.org>;Miranda, Manuel (Frist) <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>;brian. a. benczkowski@usdoj. gov (E-mail) <brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov>;Ashley Snee (E-mail) <Ashley_M._Snee@who.eop.gov>;Tim Goeglein/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Tim Goeglein>
Sent: 3/31/2003 12:10:22 PM
Subject: : People for the American Way
Attachments: P_51Z6F003_WHO.TXT_1.htm

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Ledeen, Barbara (Republican-Conf)" <Barbara_Ledeen@src.senate.gov> ("Ledeen, Barbara (Republican-Conf)" <Barbara_Ledeen@src.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 17:10:22.00
SUBJECT:: People for the American Way
TO:"Gold, Martin (Frist)" <Martin_Gold@frist.senate.gov> ("Gold, Martin (Frist)" <Martin_Gold@frist.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"barbara. comstock@usdoj. gov (E-mail)" <barbara.comstock@usdoj.gov> ("barbara. comstock@usdoj. gov (E-mail)" <barbara.comstock@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"scastillo@rnchq. org (E-mail)" <scastillo@rnchq.org> ("scastillo@rnchq. org (E-mail)" <scastillo@rnchq.org> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> ("Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"brian. a. benczkowski@usdoj. gov (E-mail)" <brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov> ("brian. a. benczkowski@usdoj. gov (E-mail)" <brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Ashley Snee (E-mail)" <Ashley_M._Snee@who.eop.gov> ("Ashley Snee (E-mail)" <Ashley_M._Snee@who.eop.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Tim Goeglein (CN=Tim Goeglein/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

JUST THIS PARA TELLS YOU WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW:
Until now, the largest organization behind the movement to derail America???s war in Iraq has been "International ANSWER," which has been revealed as a front for a Marxist-Leninist party with ties to the Communist regime in North Korea. According to a comprehensive (but partisan and sympathetic) report in The New York Times, some factions of the left became disturbed that the overtly radical slogans of the International ANSWER protests were "counter-productive." Last fall, they met in the offices of People For The American Way to create a new umbrella organization called United for Peace and Justice that would present a more palatable face to the American public.
Subject: People for the American Way

Moment of Truth (For the Anti-American Left)
By David Horowitz
FrontPageMagazine.com | March 31, 2003

Every movement has its moment of truth. At an "anti-war" teach-in at Columbia last week, Anthropology professor Nicholas De Genova told 3,000 students and faculty, "Peace is not patriotic. Peace is subversive, because peace anticipates a very different world than the one in which we live--a world where the U.S. would have no place."

De Genova continued: "The only true heroes are those who find ways that help defeat the U.S. military. I personally would like to see a million Mogadishus."1 This was a reference to the ambush of U.S. forces by an al-Qaeda warlord in Somalia in 1993. The Americans were there on a humanitarian mission to feed starving Somali Muslims. The al-Qaeda warlord was stealing the food and selling it on the black market. His forces killed 18 American soldiers and dragged their bodies through the streets in an act designed to humiliate their country. In short, America can do no good, and nothing that is done to America can be worse than it deserves.

The best that could be said of the crowd of Columbia faculty and students is that they did not react to Mogadishu remark (perhaps they did not know what "Mogadishu" referred to). But they "applauded loudly," when the same professor said, "If we really [believe] that this war is criminal ... then we have to believe in the victory of the Iraqi people and the defeat of the U.S. war machine."2

In other words, the American left as represented by faculty and students at one of the nation???s most elite universities wants America to lose the war with the terrorist and fascist regime in Baghdad. In shorts, the crowd might just have well applauded the professor???s first statement as well.

The phrase "a million Mogadishus," has a resonance for those of us who participated in an earlier leftist "peace" movement, during the war in Indochina. In 1967, at the height of the conflict, the Cuban Communist leader, Che Guevara (still an icon among radicals today) called on revolutionaries all over the world "to create???two, three, many Vietnams," to defeat the American enemy. It was the Sixties version of a call for jihad.

In the late Sixties, I was the editor of Ramparts, the largest magazine of the New Left and I edited a book of anti-American essays with the same title, Two, Three, Many Vietnams. Tom Hayden a leader of the New Left (later a Democratic State Senator and activist against the war in Iraq) used the same slogan as he called for armed uprisings inside the United States. In 1962, as a Marxist radical, I myself had helped to organize the first protest against the war in Vietnam at the University of California, Berkeley. At the time, America had only 300 "advisers" in Vietnam, who were seeking to prevent the Communist gulag that was to come. John F. Kennedy was President and had been invited to speak on the campus. We picketed his appearance. Our slogan was, "Kennedy???s Three R???s: Radiation, Reaction and Repression." We didn???t want peace in Vietnam. We wanted a revolution in America.

But we were clever. Or rather, we got smarter. We realized we couldn???t attract large numbers of people by revealing our deranged fantasies about America (although that of course is not how we would have looked at them).
We realized that we needed the support of a lot of Americans who would never agree with our real agendas if we were going to influence the course of the war. So we changed our slogan to "Bring the Troops Home." That seemed to express care for Americans while accomplishing the same goal. If America brought her troops home in the middle of the war, the Communists would win.
Which is exactly what happened.

The nature of the movement that revealed itself at Columbia is the same. When the Mogadishu remark was made, it was as if the devil had inadvertently exposed his horns, and someone needed to put a hat over them before others realized it. That someone was the demonstration organizer, Professor Eric Foner, the prestigious head of Columbia???s history department. Actually, when Foner spoke after De Genova at the teach-in, he failed to find the Mogadishu remark offensive. Instead Foner dissociated himself from another De Genova comment to the effect that all Americans who described themselves as "patriotic," were actually "white supremacists."

But the next day when a reporter from New York NewsDay called Foner, the professor realized that the Mogadishu remark had caused some trouble. When asked now about the statement he said it was "idiotic." He told the reporter, "I thought that was completely uncalled for. We do not desire the deaths of American soldiers." Foner did not say (and was not asked) how he thought organizing an anti-American demonstration to protest America???s war in Iraq and express the hope that we lose would not encourage the enemy and possibly lead to American deaths.

Eric Foner is the scion of a family of American Communists (and American Communist leaders) at that. In the Sixties he was an anti-American Stalinist. After the terrorist attacks of 9/11, he wrote a piece in the London Review of Books saying, "I???m not sure which is more frightening: the horror that engulfed New York City or the apocalyptic rhetoric emanating daily from the White House." After receiving much adverse reaction, he wrote a self-exculpatory piece for The New York Times explaining that his uncertainty was actually patriotic.

Eric Foner???s cover-up reflects a powerful tactical current in the movement to derail America???s war in Iraq. Until now, the largest organization behind this movement has been "International ANSWER," which thanks in part to the efforts of the War Room and www.frontpagemag.com has been revealed as front for a Marxist-Leninist party with ties to the Communist regime in North Korea. According to a comprehensive (but partisan and sympathetic) report in The New York Times,3 some factions of the left became disturbed that the overtly radical slogans of the International ANSWER protests were "counter-productive." Last fall, they met in the offices of People For The American Way to create a new umbrella organization called United for Peace and Justice that would present a more palatable face to the American public.

As it happens, the name of the new organization was similar to that of one of the two main groups behind the national protests of the anti-Vietnam movement. It was called the People???s Coalition for Peace and Justice and it was a run by the American Communist Party. (As it happens, the other organizer of the national demonstrations was the MOBE, which was run by the Trotskyist Communist Party.)

The groups that People for the American Way assembled to create the new Iraq protest organization picked Leslie Cagan to be its leader. Cagan is a veteran of the old Vietnam left -- a pro-Castro radical who was still a member of the Communist Party after the fall of the Berlin Wall. Ms. Cagan???s politics were no less radical and anti-American than International ANSWER's.

But Leslie Cagan understood the problem of too much candor. "If we???re going to be a force that needs to be listened to by our elected officials, by the media," Ms. Cagan told the Times, "our movement needs to reflect the population." In other words, we have to keep our horns hidden. According to the Times, since that meeting, the left has been hiring Madison Avenue firms to shape its messages and has been putting up billboards with the slogan "Peace Is Patriotic" to make its point.

At the Columbia teach-in, Professor Foner had this to say about patriotism. "I refuse to cede the definition of American patriotism to George W. Bush," Foner said, drawing a cheer from the audience. "I have a different definition of patriotism, which comes from Paul Robeson: The patriot is the person who is never satisfied with his country." It???s true that Paul Robeson was never satisfied with his country. He was an icon (and member) of the American Communist Party, who received a Stalin Peace Prize from the dictato r himself. 4

Plus ca change,???plus c???est la meme chose.

The war in America???s streets is not about "peace" or "more time for inspections." It is about which side should lose the war we are now in. The left has made crystal clear its desire that the loser should be us. Even if the left had not made this explicit, a "peace" movement directed at one side makes sense only as an effort to force that side to retreat from the battle and lose the war. Which is exactly what the Columbia professor said. If this is patriotism, what is treason?

Endnotes:

1. Ron Howell, "Radicals Speak Out At Columbia ???Teach-In,???" NewsDay, March 27, 2003.

2. Ibid.

3. Kate Zernike and Dean E. Murphy, "Antiwar Movement Morphs From Wild-Eyed to Civil," NYT, March 29, 2003, B1.

4. Columbis Spectator article.

- att1.htm
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_51Z6F003_WHO.TXT_1>

JUST THIS PARA TELLS YOU WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW:
Until now, the largest organization behind the movemen t to derail Americas war in Iraq has been "International ANSWER," which has been revealed as a front for a Marxist-Leninist party with ties to the Communist regime in North Korea. Accordin g to a comprehensive (but partisan and sympathetic) report in The New York Times, some factions of the left became disturbed that the overtly radical slogans of the International ANSWER protests were "counter-productive." Last fall, they met in the offices of People For The American Way to create a new umbrella organization called United for Peace and Justice that would present a more palatabl e face to the American public.
Subject: People for the American Way

Moment o f Truth (For the Anti-American Left)
By David Horowitz
FrontPageMagazine.co m | March 31, 2003

Every movement has its moment of truth. At an "anti-war" teach-in at Columbia last week, Anthropology professor Nicholas D e Genova told 3,000 students and faculty, "Peace is not patriotic. Peace is subversive, because peace anticipates a very different world than the one in which we live--a world where the U.S. would have no place."

De Genova continued: "The only true heroes are those who find ways that help defeat th e U.S. military. I personally would like to see a million Mogadishus."1 This was a reference to the ambush of U.S. forces by an al-Qaeda warlord in Somalia in 1993. The Americans were there on a humanitarian mission to feed starving Somali Muslims. The al-Qaeda warlord was stealing the food and selling it on the black market. His forces killed 18 American soldiers and dragged their bodies through the streets in an act designed to humiliate their country. In short, America can do no good, and nothing that is done to America can be worse than it deserves.

The best that could be said o f the crowd of Columbia faculty and students is that they did not react to Mogadishu remark (perhaps they did not know what "Mogadishu" referred to). But they "applauded loudly," when the same professor said, "If we really [believe] that this war is criminal ... then we have to believe in the victory of the Iraqi people and the defeat of the U.S. war machine."2

In other words, the American left as represented by faculty and students at one of the nations most elite universities wants America to lose the war with the terrorist and fascist regime in Baghdad. In shorts, the crowd might just have well applauded the professors first statement as well.

The phrase "a million Mogadishus," has a resonanc e for those of us who participated in an earlier leftist "peace" movement, during the war in Indochina. In 1967, at the height of the conflict, the Cuban Communist leader, Che Guevara (still an icon among radicals today) called on revolutionaries all over the world "to createtwo, three, many Vietnams," to defeat the American enemy. It was the Sixties version of a cal l for jihad.

In the late Sixties, I was the editor of Ramparts, the largest magazine of the New Left and I edited a book of anti-American essays with the same title, Two, Three, Many Vietnams. Tom Hayden a leader of the New Left (later a Democratic State Senator and activist against the war in Iraq) used the same slogan as he called for armed uprisings inside the Unite d States. In 1962, as a Marxist radical, I myself had helped to organize the first protest against the war in Vietnam at the University of California, Berkeley. At the time, America had only 300 "advisers" in Vietnam, who were seeking to prevent the Communist gulag that was to come. John F. Kennedy was President and had been invited to speak on the campus. W e picketed his appearance. Our slogan was, "Kennedys Three Rs: Radiation, Reaction and Repression." We didnt want peace in Vietnam. We wanted a revolution in America.

But we were clever. Or rather, we got smarter. We realized we couldnt attract large numbers of people by revealing our deranged fantasies about America (although that of course is not how we would have looked at them). We realized that we needed the support of a lot of Americans who would never agree with our real agendas if we were going to influence the course of the war. So we changed our slogan to "Bring the Troops Home." That seemed to express care for Americans while accomplishing the same goal. If America brought her troops home in the middle of the war, the Communists would win. Which is exactly what happened.

The nature of the movement that revealed itself at Columbia is the same. When th e Mogadishu remark was made, it was as if the devil had inadvertently exposed his horns, and someone needed to put a hat over them before others realized it. That someone was the demonstration organizer, Professor Eric Foner, the prestigious head of Columbias history department. Actually, when Foner spoke after De Genova at the teach-in, he failed to find the Mogadishu remark offensive. Instead Foner dissociated himself from another De Genova comment to the effect that all Americans who described themselves as "patriotic," were actually "white supremacists."

But the next day when a reporter from New York NewsDay called Foner, the professor realized that the Mogadish u remark had caused some trouble. When asked now about the statement he said i t was "idiotic." He told the reporter, "I thought that was completely uncalled for. We do not desire the deaths of American soldiers." Foner did not say (and was not asked) how he thought organizing an anti-American demonstration to protest Americas war in Iraq and express the hope that we lose would not encourage the enemy and possibly lead to American deaths.

Eric Foner is the scion of a family of American Communists (and American Communis t leaders) at that. In the Sixties he was an anti-American Stalinist. After th e terrorist attacks of 9/11, he wrote a piece in the London Review of Books saying, "Im not sure which is more frightening: the horror that engulfed New York City or the apocalyptic rhetoric emanating daily from the White House." After receiving much adverse reaction, he wrote a self-exculpatory piece for The New York Times explaining that his uncertainty was actually patriotic.

Eric Foners cover-up reflects a powerful tactical current in the movement to derail Americas war in Iraq. Until now, the largest organization behind this movement has been "International ANSWER," which thanks in part to the efforts of the War Room and www.frontpagemag.com has been revealed as front for a Marxist-Leninist party with ties to the Communist regime in North Korea. According to a comprehensive (but partisan and sympathetic) report in The New York Times,3 some factions of the left became disturbed that the overtly radical slogans of the International ANSWE R protests were "counter-productive." Last fall, they met in the offices of People For The American Way to create a new umbrella organization called United for Peace and Justice that would present a more palatable face to the American public.

As it happens, the name of the new organization was similar to that of one of the two main groups behind the national protests o f the anti-Vietnam movement. It was called the Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice and it was a run by the American Communist Party. (As it happens, th e other organizer of the national demonstrations was the MOBE, which was run b y the Trotskyist Communist Party.)

The groups that People for the American Way assembled to create the new Iraq protest organization picked Leslie Cagan to be its leader. Cagan is a veteran of the old Vietnam left -- a pro-Castro radical who was still a member of the Communist Party after the fall of the Berlin Wall. Ms. Cagans politics were no less radical and anti-American than International ANSWER's. But Leslie Cagan understood the problem of too much candor. "If were going to be a force that needs to be listened to by our elected officials, by the media," Ms. Cagan told the Times, "our movement needs to reflect the population." In other words, we have to keep our horns hidden. According to the Times, since that meeting, the left has been hiring Madison Avenue firms to shape its messages and has been putting up billboards with the slogan "Peace Is Patriotic" to make its point.

At the Columbia teach-in, Professor Foner had this to say about patriotism. "I refuse to cede the definition of American patriotism to George W. Bush," Foner said, drawing a cheer from the audience. "I have a different definition of patriotism, which comes from Paul Robeson: The patriot is the person who is never satisfied with his country." Its true that Paul Robeson was never satisfied with his country. He was an icon (and member) of the American Communist Party, who received a Stalin Peace Prize from the dictato r himself. 4

Plus ca change,plus cest la meme chose.

The war in Americas streets is not about "peace" or "more time for inspections." It is about which side should lose the war we are now in. The left has made crystal clear its desire that the loser should be us. Even if the left had not made this explicit, a "peace" movement directed at one side makes sense only as an effort to force that side to retreat from th e battle and lose the war. Which is exactly what the Columbia professor said. If this is patriotism, what is treason?

Endnotes:

1. Ron Howell, "Radicals Speak Out At Columbia Teach-In," NewsDay, March 27, 2003.

2. Ibid.

3. Kate Zernike and Dean E. Murphy, "Antiwar Movement Morphs From Wild-Eyed to Civil," NYT, March 29, 2003, B1.

4. Columbis Spectator article.

From: CN=Carolyn Nelson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/31/2003 12:39:08 PM
Subject: : RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Carolyn Nelson (CN=Carolyn Nelson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 17:39:08.00
SUBJECT:: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Can we do it on the 9th? He has a lunch on the 10th.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 5:32 PM
To: Nelson, Carolyn
Subject: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Bumatay, Patrick J.>
Sent: 3/31/2003 1:01:07 PM
Subject: ok on letters to West and Tubby Smith

From: Mamo, Jeanie S.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Snee, Ashley>
Sent: 3/31/2003 1:12:48 PM
Subject: Jacksonville Times Union (3/31/03) re: Judiciary: Same old tune

Monday, March 31, 2003

Last modified at 8:15 p.m. on Sunday, March 30, 2003

Jacksonville (FL) Times Union

JUDICIARY: Same old tune

Senate Democrats appear to be bent on booby-trapping President Bush's nominees for federal judgeships.

They continue to block a confirmation vote on Miguel Estrada, a highly qualified nominee to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

In the latest example, Michigan's Democratic senators, Carl Levin and Debbie Stabenow, have essentially killed the chances of all five Bush nominees to the federal courts from their state.

Without official comment or explanation, the senators registered objections to 6th Circuit Court of Appeals nominees Richard Griffin, David McKeague, Susan Bieke Neilson and Henry Saad. They also objected to Thomas Ludington to the U.S. District Court.

If Levin or Stabenow have legitimate reasons why every nominee from their state fails to rate a hearing and a vote, they should share it. But they, like other Democrat colleagues in the Senate, seem to be more intent on playing obstructionist politics than seeing important court vacancies filled.

The nation's judicial system -- and the people it serves -- de- serves better.

From: Charles Spies - Legal <CSpies@rnchq.org>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/31/2003 9:12:23 AM
Subject: : In case you're not regular NPR listeners...

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Charles Spies - Legal <CSpies@rnchq.org> (Charles Spies - Legal <CSpies@rnchq.org>
[UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 14:12:23.00
SUBJECT:: In case you're not regular NPR listeners...
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Fascinating Speculation on What is Holding Up the BCRA Opinion

Weekend All Things Considered
National Public Radio
Saturday, March 29 2003
Copyright, National Public Radio

John Ydstie: With the war dominating the headlines, politicians don`t like to talk about it, but they can`t afford to stop raising campaign money, and they`re doing it this year under the provisions of the new McCain-Feingold campaign finance law. The law is only in place tentatively because many questions are being raised in the courts about its constitutionality. Indeed, within minutes of President Bush signing the act into law, its opponents filed a legal challenge. It was expected that by now, the case would be pending in the Supreme Court. It`s not. NPR`s Nina Totenberg is here to tell us why.

Nina, the law has a process for resolving these legal issues. What is it?

Nina Totenberg: Well, it`s an expedited process. It provides for a three-judge court composed of one appeals court judge and two district court judges to look at the law initially, and then it goes directly to the Supreme Court. Now this case was heard in early December--on, I think, the 3rd and 4th of December--and at that time, the chief judge of the three-judge panel, Judge Karen Henderson, who`s a court of appeals judge, indicated, volunteered in fact, that she expected a decision out of her court by the end of January. That obviously hasn`t happened. Now this is a very complicated case. Still, to have it almost April and unresolved is quite extraordinary.

Ydstie: Mm-hmm. And why haven`t we gotten a ruling?

Totenberg: Well, initially, there was a lot of thought that this is just a very hard case. There`s a record that`s more than 50,000 pages long, more than two dozen provisions, but as the months have dragged on, my sources tell me it`s become clear that part of the problem is, indeed, the collegiality, or lack of collegiality, between Judge Henderson, the court of appeals judge, and the two district court judges. Judge Henderson, I`m told, began drafting an opinion on her own before the case was argued, in fact before all the briefs were filed. And very important in these cases is what the lower court, that court, says is the statement of facts. That`s what the Supreme Court`s going to base its decision on factually.
Well, when the two district court judges got a look at her statement of facts, my sources say, they were appalled. And even though they are very different ideologically--one of them is relatively liberal, one of them relatively conservative--they began working together feverishly to try to make a statement of facts that they could agree on because they found Judge Henderson`s unacceptable and much of what Judge

Henderson wrote unacceptable.
Relations between the district court judges and Judge Henderson are said to be pretty frosty at this point. The decision, when it comes out, I`m told will be almost a thousand pages long, when and if it comes out. And so we`re in a bit of a legal mess here with the Supreme Court waiting.

Ydstie: Mm-hmm. I don`t want you to reveal your sources, but I presume it`s not the judges that are talking about this.

Totenberg: No, let me make this very clear: None of the judges on this panel talked to me, but when there is this kind of holdup, there starts to be a leak in the normally sealed sieve at these courts. And I`ve talked to a lot of people about this who are very knowledgeable and I`m confident that this is a story at this point worth getting on the air.

Ydstie: Mm-hmm. And time is of the essence because people want to raise campaign money.

Totenberg: Political Washington is getting pretty desperate because they don`t know the rules of the game. Over at the Supreme Court, I think it`s fair to say there is apparently even some annoyance because the court`s coming to the end of the term. They`re going to have to schedule this late in the term. This is, as I said, an extremely complex case. There are at least suspicions that one or more justices might want to retire this summer. So this is getting ugly.

Ydstie: Thanks, Nina.

Totenberg: Thank you, John.

Ydstie: NPR`s Nina Totenberg.

Copyright, National Public Radio

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Taylor, Sara M.>
CC: <Ralston, Susan B.>
Sent: 3/31/2003 1:40:20 PM
Subject: Re: Plane for Karl

Approved, per our discussions and e-mails.

Sara M. Taylor

03/28/2003 03:01:32 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc: Susan B. Ralston/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP

Subject: Plane for Karl

Karl Hascall, who is active in the Kent County GOP politics, owns a plane with his brother. It is a King Air B-100, 8 passenger plane. He has offered to fly Karl out and back to the Kent County Lincoln Day Dinner next Friday, April 4. Karl is a Special Guest of the event and will be making remarks. Is this acceptable and is there other information you need?

From: CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>
CC: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/31/2003 10:41:09 AM
Subject: : Re: Sentencing Commission
Attachments: P_J2R6F003_WHO.TXT_1.html

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Kyle Sampson (CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 15:41:09.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Sentencing Commission
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs (CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

I bumped into Jeff Berman the other day and told him the same thing.

---------- Forwarded by Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP on 03/31/2003 03:40 PM ----------

Kyle Sampson
03/31/2003 03:40:03 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: brett m. kavanaugh/who/eop@eop
bcc: Records Management@EOP
Subject: Re: Sentencing Commission

Sure. There is no dispute. Bruce is ginning this up. It's an R slot.

Wendy J. Grubbs
03/31/2003 03:28:36 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Sentencing Commission

Kyle, may I answer the sentencing commission question? Knowing of course, that it will be passed around to other Dem committee staff? Bruce is misrepresenting the picture and my friend, David will try to clear it up informally if I just answer this....ok?
---------- Forwarded by Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP on 03/31/2003 03:26 PM ----------

"Hantman, David (Judiciary)" <David_Hantman@Judiciary.senate.gov>
03/31/2003 03:22:45 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Sentencing Commission

Wendy -

This is to confirm that Senator Feinstein did change her vote from "YES" to "PRESENT" on the two Sentencing Commission nominees, as per out earlier phone conversation. She did NOT change any of her other votes, and I believe she is therefore still on record as "YES" on Wolski.

While we are on the subject, has the Sentencing Commission issue been resolved yet? Does the White House consider the Horowitz nomination to be for a Democratic slot or a Republican slot? I keep hearing that there is a dispute about whether the Democratic Leader is going to maintain control over the Democratic slots. What's the deal?

Thanks,

David

David S. Hantman

Minority Chief Counsel and Staff Director

Subcommittee on Terrorism, Technology and Homeland Security

Dianne Feinstein, Ranking Member

United States Senate Judiciary Committee

Hart Senate Office Building, Room 815

Washington, D.C. 20510

(ph) 202-224-4933

(fax) 202-228-2258

- att1.htm

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00

File attachment <P_J2R6F003_WHO.TXT_1>

Wendy –

This is to confirm that Senator Feinstein did change her vote from "YES" to "PRESENT" on the two Sentencing Commission nominees, as per out earlier phone conversation. She did NOT change any of her other votes, and I believe she is therefore still on record as "YES" on Wolski.

While we are on the subject, has the Sentencing Commission issue been resolved yet? Does the White House consider the Horowitz nomination to be for a Democratic slot or a Republican slot? I keep hearing that there is a dispute about whether the Democratic Leader is going to maintain control over the Democratic slots. What' ;s the deal?

Thanks,

David

David S. Hantman
Minority Chief Counsel and Staff Director
Subcommittee on Terrorism, Technology and Homeland Security
Dianne Feinstein, Ranking Member
United States Senate Judiciary Committee
Hart Senate Office Building, Room 815 < /font>
Washington, D.C. 20510
(ph) 202-224-4933
(fax) 202-228-2258

From: Nelson, Carolyn
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/31/2003 3:22:28 PM
Subject: Please call me when you are free

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Bennett, Melissa S.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/31/2003 4:03:46 PM
Subject: Re: another question -- different topic (sort of)

Correct.

.

----- Original Message -----

From:Melissa S. Bennett/WHO/EOP@Exchange

To:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

Cc:

Date: 03/31/2003 03:57:57 PM

Subject: another question -- different topic (sort of)

Sec. Rumsfeld offered Sec. Card 2 tickets to the Wizards game on Wednesday night. I think it is permissible to accept gifts from one govt employee to another, correct???

Thanks.

Melissa

From: Bennett, Melissa S.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/31/2003 4:08:12 PM
Subject: RE: another question -- different topic (sort of)

Thanks.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 4:04 PM
To: Bennett, Melissa S.; Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Subject: Re: another question -- different topic (sort of)

Correct.

.

----- Original Message -----
From:Melissa S. Bennett/WHO/EOP@Exchange
To:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:
Date: 03/31/2003 03:57:57 PM
Subject: another question -- different topic (sort of)

Sec. Rumsfeld offered Sec. Card 2 tickets to the Wizards game on Wednesday night. I think it is permissible to accept gifts from one govt employee to another, correct???

Thanks.
Melissa

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Carolyn Nelson/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Carolyn Nelson>
Sent: 3/31/2003 12:41:39 PM
Subject: : RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 17:41:39.00
SUBJECT:: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others
TO:Carolyn Nelson (CN=Carolyn Nelson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

I think it was set without him and they want to invite him now; how serious would it be to move the other lunch to the 9th?

From: Carolyn Nelson/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/31/2003 05:38:50 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

Can we do it on the 9th? He has a lunch on the 10th.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 5:32 PM
To: Nelson, Carolyn
Subject: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

From: CN=Carolyn Nelson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/31/2003 12:44:04 PM
Subject: : RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Carolyn Nelson (CN=Carolyn Nelson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 17:44:04.00
SUBJECT:: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 5:42 PM
To: Nelson, Carolyn
Subject: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

I think it was set without him and they want to invite him now; how serious would it be to move the other lunch to the 9th?

From: Carolyn Nelson/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/31/2003 05:38:50 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

Can we do it on the 9th? He has a lunch on the 10th.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 5:32 PM
To: Nelson, Carolyn
Subject: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

From: CN=Carolyn Nelson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 3/31/2003 12:44:54 PM
Subject: : RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Carolyn Nelson (CN=Carolyn Nelson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 17:44:54.00
SUBJECT:: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

It's a personal lunch which he could probably skip. I'll check on it and let you know.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 5:42 PM
To: Nelson, Carolyn
Subject: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

I think it was set without him and they want to invite him now; how serious would it be to move the other lunch to the 9th?

From: Carolyn Nelson/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/31/2003 05:38:50 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

Can we do it on the 9th? He has a lunch on the 10th.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 5:32 PM
To: Nelson, Carolyn
Subject: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Nelson, Carolyn>
Sent: 3/31/2003 5:41:34 PM
Subject: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

I think it was set without him and they want to invite him now; how serious would it be to move the other lunch to the 9th?

From: Carolyn Nelson/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/31/2003 05:38:50 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

Can we do it on the 9th? He has a lunch on the 10th.

-----Original Message-----

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.

Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 5:32 PM

To: Nelson, Carolyn

Subject: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

From: Nelson, Carolyn
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/31/2003 5:44:20 PM
Subject: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 5:42 PM
To: Nelson, Carolyn
Subject: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

I think it was set without him and they want to invite him now; how serious would it be to move the other lunch to the 9th?

From: Carolyn Nelson/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/31/2003 05:38:50 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

Can we do it on the 9th? He has a lunch on the 10th.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 5:32 PM
To: Nelson, Carolyn
Subject: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

From: Nelson, Carolyn
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 3/31/2003 5:45:08 PM
Subject: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

It's a personal lunch which he could probably skip. I'll check on it and let you know.

-----Original Message-----

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.

Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 5:42 PM

To: Nelson, Carolyn

Subject: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

I think it was set without him and they want to invite him now; how serious would it be to move the other lunch to the 9th?

From: Carolyn Nelson/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/31/2003 05:38:50 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

Can we do it on the 9th? He has a lunch on the 10th.

-----Original Message-----

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.

Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 5:32 PM

To: Nelson, Carolyn

Subject: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 3/31/2003 2:31:04 PM
Subject: : White House Global Messenger - 4/01/03
Attachments: P_Q157F003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 19:31:04.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger - 4/01/03
TO:Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications (CN=Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 4-1-03 FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Monday, April 1, 2003

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS IN PHILADELPHIA, 3-31-03***

*It has been 12 days since the major ground war began. In this short time, Coalition troops have preformed brilliantly, with skill and with bravery.

*Coalition forces have taken control of most of western and southern Iraq, seized key bridges, opened a northern front, achieved complete air superiority, and we are delivering tons of humanitarian aid.

*By quick and decisive action, our troops are preventing Saddam Hussein from destroying the Iraqi people's oil fields. Our forces moved into Iraqi missile launch areas that threatened neighboring countries. Many dangers lie ahead, but day by day, we are moving closer to Baghdad and closer to victory.

*Our victory will mean the end of a tyrant who rules by fear and torture and remove a sponsor of terror, armed with weapons of terror. Our victory will uphold the just demands of the United Nations and the civilized world. And when victory comes, it will be shared by the long-suffering people of Iraq, who deserve freedom and dignity.

*The Iraqi regime has ruled with fear as a tool of domination to the end. Many Iraqis have been ordered to fight or die by Saddam's death squads. Others are pressed into service by threats against their children. Civilians attempting to flee to liberated areas have been shot from behind by Saddam's thugs.

*Our enemies are desperate and dangerous. The dying regime in Iraq and other parts of the global terror network may try to bring terror to American shores. The United States and allied troops are shattering the al Qaeda network, meeting threats and acting to prevent dangers.

*The people of Iraq have lived in this nightmare world for more than two decades. Fear and distrust run deep.

*We give this pledge to the citizens of Iraq: We're coming with a mighty force to end the reign of your oppressors. We are coming to bring you food and medicine and a better life, and we will not relent until your country is free.

NEW PERSPECTIVES***
Reflections of individuals who traveled to Iraq to act as human shields

"Those living in Iraq, the common, regular people are in a living nightmare. From the terror that would come across the faces of my family at an unknown visitor, telephone call, knock at the door I began to realize the horror they lived with every day. Over and over I questioned them, 'Why could you want war? Why could any human being desire war?' Their answer was quiet and measured. 'Look at our lives! We are living like animals. No food, no car, no telephone, no job and most of all no hope....You can not imagine what it is to live with war for 20, 30 years. We have to keep up our routine or we would lose our minds.'"
Kenneth Joseph, anti-war demonstrator who traveled to Iraq as a human shield volunteer, Assyrian Christian News online, 3-30-03

TODAY'S SCHEDULE***
All Times Eastern Standard. Subject to Change

Note: Secretary Powell travels to Turkey and Belgium

7:00 am CENTCOM Operations Update

1:30 pm Defense Department Briefing

2:15 pm White House Briefing

IRAQI VOICES OF FREEDOM***

"'Saddam has given us nothing, only suffering,' said Khalid Juwad, with his cousin, Raad, nodding in assent. Mr. Juwad said he had four uncles who were in Hussein's jails, and he said he had deserted from the Iraqi Army three times in recent years. 'If the Americans want to get rid of Saddam, that's O.K. with me,' he said. 'The only thing that would bother me is if they don't finish the job. Then Saddam will come back, like he did in 1991.'"
New York Times, 3-31-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****

You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere.
- GM 4-1-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_Q157F003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Tuesday, April 1, 2003

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

All Times Eastern Standard. Subject to Change

Note:	Secretary Powell travels to Turkey and Belgium
7:00 am	CENTCOM Operations Update
1:30 pm	Defense Department Briefing
2:15 pm	White House Briefing

NEW PERSPECTIVES

Reflections of individuals who traveled to Iraq to act as human shields

"Those living in Iraq, the common, regular people are in a living nightmare. From the terror that would come across the faces of my family at an unknown visitor, telephone call, knock at the door I began to realize the horror they lived with every day. Over and over I questioned them, 'Why could you want war? Why could any human being desire war?' Their answer was quiet and measured. 'Look at our lives! We are living like animals. No food, no car, no telephone, no job and most of all no hope….You can not imagine what it is to live with war for 20, 30 years. We have to keep up our routine or we would lose our minds.'"
Kenneth Joseph, anti-war demonstrator who traveled to Iraq as a human shield volunteer, Assyrian Christian News online, 3-30-03

IRAQI VOICES OF FREEDOM

"'Saddam has given us nothing, only suffering,' said Khalid Juwad, with his cousin, Raad, nodding in assent. Mr. Juwad said he had four uncles who were in Hussein's jails, and he said he had deserted from the Iraqi Army three times in recent years. 'If the Americans want to get rid of Saddam, that's O.K. with me,' he said. 'The only thing that would bother me is if they don't finish the job. Then Saddam will come back, like he did in 1991.'"
New York Times*, 3-31-03

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS IN PHILADELPHIA, 3-31-03

- It has been 12 days since the major ground war began. In this short time, Coalition troops have preformed brilliantly, with skill and with bravery.
- Coalition forces have taken control of most of western and southern Iraq, seized key bridges, opened a northern front, achieved complete air superiority, and we are delivering tons of humanitarian aid.
- By quick and decisive action, our troops are preventing Saddam Hussein from destroying the Iraqi people's oil fields. Our forces moved into Iraqi missile launch areas that threatened neighboring countries. Many dangers lie ahead, but day by day, we are moving closer to Baghdad and closer to victory.
- Our victory will mean the end of a tyrant who rules by fear and torture and will remove a sponsor of terror, armed with weapons of terror. Our victory will uphold the just demands of the United Nations and the civilized world. And when victory comes, it will be shared by the long-suffering people of Iraq, who deserve freedom and dignity.
- The Iraqi regime has ruled with fear as a tool of domination to the end. Many Iraqis have been ordered to fight or die by Saddam's death squads. Others are pressed into service by threats against their children. Civilians attempting to flee to liberated areas have been shot from behind by Saddam's thugs.
- Our enemies are desperate and dangerous. The dying regime in Iraq and other parts of the global terror network may try to bring terror to American shores. The United States and allied troops are shattering the al Qaeda network, meeting threats and acting to prevent dangers.
- The people of Iraq have lived in this nightmare world for more than two decades. Fear and distrust run deep.
- We give this pledge to the citizens of Iraq: We're coming with a mighty force to end the reign of your oppressors. We are coming to bring you food and medicine and a better life, and we will not relent until your country is free.

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications
For more information log on to www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: CSpies@rnchq.org [UNKNOWN] <CSpies@rnchq.org>
Sent: 3/31/2003 5:26:19 PM
Subject: : Re: In case you're not regular NPR listeners...

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:31-MAR-2003 22:26:19.00
SUBJECT:: Re: In case you're not regular NPR listeners...
TO:CSpies@rnchq.org (CSpies@rnchq.org [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

How ugly is that. Wow.

.

----- Original Message -----
From:CSpies@rnchq.org
To:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:
Date: 03/31/2003 02:11:39 PM
Subject: In case you're not regular NPR listeners...

Fascinating Speculation on What is Holding Up the BCRA Opinion

Weekend All Things Considered
National Public Radio
Saturday, March 29 2003
Copyright, National Public Radio

John Ydstie: With the war dominating the headlines, politicians don`t like to talk about it, but they can`t afford to stop raising campaign money, and they`re doing it this year under the provisions of the new McCain-Feingold campaign finance law. The law is only in place tentatively because many questions are being raised in the courts about its constitutionality. Indeed, within minutes of President Bush signing the act into law, its opponents filed a legal challenge. It was expected that by now, the case would be pending in the Supreme Court. It`s not. NPR`s Nina Totenberg is here to tell us why.

Nina, the law has a process for resolving these legal issues. What is it?

Nina Totenberg: Well, it`s an expedited process. It provides for a three-judge court composed of one appeals court judge and two district court judges to look at the law initially, and then it goes directly to the Supreme Court. Now this case was heard in early December--on, I think, the 3rd and 4th of December--and at that time, the chief judge of the three-judge panel, Judge Karen Henderson, who`s a court of appeals judge, indicated, volunteered in fact, that she expected a decision out of her court by the end of January. That obviously hasn`t happened. Now this is a very complicated case. Still, to have it almost April and unresolved is quite extraordinary.

Ydstie: Mm-hmm. And why haven`t we gotten a ruling?

Totenberg: Well, initially, there was a lot of thought that this is just a very hard case. There`s a record that`s more than 50,000 pages long, more than two dozen provisions, but as the months have dragged on, my sources tell me it`s become clear that part of the problem is, indeed, the collegiality, or lack of collegiality, between Judge Henderson, the court of appeals judge, and the two district court judges. Judge Henderson, I`m told, began drafting an opinion on her own before the case was argued, in fact before all the briefs were filed. And very important in these cases is what the lower court, that court, says is the statement of facts. That`s what the Supreme Court`s going to base its decision on factually.

Well, when the two district court judges got a look at her statement of facts, my sources say, they were appalled. And even though they are very different ideologically--one of them is relatively liberal, one of them relatively conservative--they began working together feverishly to try to make a statement of facts that they could agree on because they found Judge Henderson`s unacceptable and much of what Judge Henderson wrote unacceptable.
Relations between the district court judges and Judge Henderson are said to be pretty frosty at this point. The decision, when it comes out, I`m told will be almost a thousand pages long, when and if it comes out. And so we`re in a bit of a legal mess here with the Supreme Court waiting.

Ydstie: Mm-hmm. I don`t want you to reveal your sources, but I presume it`s not the judges that are talking about this.

Totenberg: No, let me make this very clear: None of the judges on this panel talked to me, but when there is this kind of holdup, there starts to be a leak in the normally sealed sieve at these courts. And I`ve talked to a lot of people about this who are very knowledgeable and I`m confident that this is a story at this point worth getting on the air.

Ydstie: Mm-hmm. And time is of the essence because people want to raise campaign money.

Totenberg: Political Washington is getting pretty desperate because they don`t know the rules of the game. Over at the Supreme Court, I think it`s fair to say there is apparently even some annoyance because the court`s coming to the end of the term. They`re going to have to schedule this late in the term. This is, as I said, an extremely complex case. There are at least suspicions that one or more justices might want to retire this summer. So this is getting ugly.

Ydstie: Thanks, Nina.

Totenberg: Thank you, John.

Ydstie: NPR`s Nina Totenberg.

Copyright, National Public Radio

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Nelson, Carolyn>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/1/2003 9:19:37 AM
Subject: Re:

No to karl.

.

----- Original Message -----

From:Carolyn Nelson/WHO/EOP@Exchange

To:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

Cc:

Date: 04/01/2003 09:06:57 AM

Subject:

Miguel is now coming over at 3pm. Did Judge say if he wanted Karl to attend?

From: CN=Kristen Silverberg/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brian Reardon/OPD/EOP@EOP [OPD] <Brian Reardon>
CC: Keith Hennessey/OPD/EOP@Exchange [OPD] <Keith Hennessey>;jt.young@do.treas.gov@SMTP@Exchange [UNKNOWN] <jt.young@do.treas.gov@SMTP@Exchange>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/1/2003 5:27:54 AM
Subject: : RE: debt ceiling question

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Kristen Silverberg (CN=Kristen Silverberg/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 1-APR-2003 10:27:54.00
SUBJECT:: RE: debt ceiling question
TO:Brian Reardon (CN=Brian Reardon/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [OPD])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Keith Hennessey (CN=Keith Hennessey/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange [OPD])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:jt.young@do.treas.gov@SMTP@Exchange (jt.young@do.treas.gov@SMTP@Exchange [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Good.;

How much time would a declaration through the end of the session buy us?

;-----Original Message-----
From: ; Reardon, Brian;
Sent:;; Tuesday, April 01, 2003 9:57 AM
To:;;;; Silverberg, Kristen
Cc:;;;; Kavanaugh, Brett M.; Hennessey, Keith; jt.young@do.treas.gov
Subject:;;;;;;;; Re: debt ceiling question

Frist will talk to Stevens today or tomorrow about putting a "place holder" in the supplemental so a debt ceiling increase can be added in conference.;

Meanwhile, Treasury has the following draft prepared to declare a three month debt suspension period at the end of the week.; This would provide enough room to get us into late May or early June.; If Congress fails to act, Treasury GC is prepared to make a second declaration through the end of the session.

April 3, 2003

;

The Honorable J. Dennis Hastert

Speaker of the House

U.S.House of Representatives

Washington, D.C.20515

;

Dear Mr. Speaker:

;

;;;;;;;;;;; I am notifying you, as required under 5 U.S.C. õ;8348
(l)(2) that by reason of the public debt limit, it is my determination that I will be unable to invest fully the portion of the Civil Service Retirement and Disability Fund (CSRDF) not immediately required to pay beneficiaries.; For purposes of this statute, I have determined that a "debt issuance suspension period" will begin as early as April 3, 2003; but no later than April 11, 2003and will last until July 11, 2003.; Therefore, during the debt issuance suspension period, the Treasury Department will suspend additional investments of amounts credited to the CSRDF and redeem a portion of the investments held by the CSRDF, as authorized by law.; Beneficiaries will be fully protected and will suffer no adverse consequences.; The governing statute requires that the Treasury restore all due interest and principal to these funds as soon as this can be done without exceeding the public debt limit.

;

;;;;;;;;;;; Even though the debt issuance suspension period will last until July 11th, the investment suspensions and redemptions may only provide debt issuance capacity under the statutory debt limit until the latter half of May or early June.; I know that you share the President's and my commitment to maintaining the full faith and credit of the U.S.government. Together we must continue working to enact an increase in the statutory debt limit as quickly as possible to avoid any negative repercussions at home or abroad during this critical time.

;

;;;
;;;; Sincerely,

;

;

;

;;;
;;;; John W. Snow

From:;; Kristen Silverberg/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/01/2003 08:24:05 AM
Record Type:;;; Record

To:;;;; Brian Reardon/OPD/EOP@EOP, Keith Hennessey/OPD/EOP@Exchange
cc:;;;;
Subject:;;;;;;; debt ceiling question

Are we in good shape on the debt ceiling?; Is leadership preparing to put it on the supp and, if so, in what amount?

From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
To: <Newstead, Jennifer G.>
CC: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/1/2003 11:15:37 AM
Subject: Please call

Jen - you are probably the best to return this call b/c it is Missouri.

Judge Pasco Bowman
8th Circuit Judge (MO)
o: 816-512-5800

Please call re: about his seat

From: Nelson, Carolyn
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/1/2003 11:51:08 AM
Subject:

do we still need to have that hobbs, bartlettt etc. meeting tomorrow?

From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
To: <Walker, Helgard C.>;<Addington, David S.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Bellinger, John B.>;<Brilliant, Hana F.>;<Brosnahan, Jennifer R.>;<Bumatay, Patrick J.>;<Carroll, James W.>;<Everson, Nanette>;<Farrell, J. Elizabeth>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Ganter, Jonathan F.>;<Jucas, Tracy>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<McNally, Edward>;<Montiel, Charlotte L.>;<Nelson, Carolyn>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent: 4/1/2003 1:14:26 PM
Subject: Affirmative Action arguments

-----Original Message-----
From: Snee, Ashley
Sent: Tuesday, April 01, 2003 1:13 PM
To: Bumatay, Patrick J.
Cc: Leitch, David G.; McClellan, Scott Subject: RE: transcripts

arguments on channel 18 right now
-----Original Message-----
From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
Sent: Tuesday, April 01, 2003 1:10 PM
To: Snee, Ashley
Subject: transcripts

Ashley,

Noel says that chances are slim that transcripts will be ready by 2 pm. We should have them by tomorrow though.

Patrick

From:	Vestewig, Lauren J.
To:	hatamj@ms.state.gov <hatamj@ms.state.gov>;hatamj@ms.state.gov <Bellinger, John B.>;hatamj@ms.state.gov <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;hatamj@ms.state.gov <Silverberg, Kristen>;hatamj@ms.state.gov <Perry, Philip J.>;hatamj@ms.state.gov <Schacht, Diana L.>;paul.harris@usdoj.gov <paul.harris@usdoj.gov>;george.wolfe@do.treas.gov <george.wolfe@do.treas.gov>;koffskyp@osdgc.osd.mil <koffskyp@osdgc.osd.mil>;koffskyp@osdgc.osd.mil <Moore, Holly T.>
CC:	<Stone, Carla B.>;<Winland, Emily>;<Lefkowitz, Jay P.>;<Hunerwadel, Joan>;elizabeth.vannoy@do.treas.gov <elizabeth.vannoy@do.treas.gov>;marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov <marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov>
Sent:	4/1/2003 3:53:42 PM
Subject:	FW: Compensation for Victims of Terrorism Meeting - Wed

This meeting has been rescheduled for THURS, April 4 at 10:30 in Room 211. Sorry for any inconvenience and thanks very much.

-----Original Message-----

From: Vestewig, Lauren J.

Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 9:49 AM

To: 'hatamj@ms.state.gov'; Bellinger, John B.; Kavanaugh, Brett M.; Silverberg, Kristen; Perry, Philip J.; Schacht, Diana L.; 'paul.harris@usdoj.gov'; 'david.aufhauser@do.treas.gov'

Cc: Stone, Carla B.; Winland, Emily; Lefkowitz, Jay P.; Hunerwadel, Joan; 'elizabeth.vannoy@do.treas.gov'; 'marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov'

Subject: Compensation for Victims of Terrorism Meeting - Wed

There will be a meeting this Wednesday, April 2nd in EEOB room 211 at 3:30pm. Please let me know if you can attend. If you are coming from outside of the complex and need to be cleared in, please email me your dob and ssn. Thanks!

From:	Vestewig, Lauren J.
To:	hatamj@ms.state.gov <hatamj@ms.state.gov>;hatamj@ms.state.gov <Bellinger, John B.>;hatamj@ms.state.gov <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;hatamj@ms.state.gov <Silverberg, Kristen>;hatamj@ms.state.gov <Perry, Philip J.>;hatamj@ms.state.gov <Schacht, Diana L.>;paul.harris@usdoj.gov <paul.harris@usdoj.gov>;george.wolfe@do.treas.gov <george.wolfe@do.treas.gov>;koffskyp@osdgc.osd.mil <koffskyp@osdgc.osd.mil>;koffskyp@osdgc.osd.mil <Moore, Holly T.>
CC:	<Stone, Carla B.>;<Winland, Emily>;<Lefkowitz, Jay P.>;<Hunerwadel, Joan>;elizabeth.vannoy@do.treas.gov <elizabeth.vannoy@do.treas.gov>;marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov <marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov>
Sent:	4/1/2003 4:05:05 PM
Subject:	FW: Compensation for Victims of Terrorism Meeting - Wed

Sorry--I meant Thurs, April 3. Thanks.
-----Original Message-----
From: Vestewig, Lauren J.
Sent: Tuesday, April 01, 2003 3:54 PM
To: 'hatamj@ms.state.gov'; Bellinger, John B.; Kavanaugh, Brett M.; Silverberg, Kristen; Perry, Philip J.; Schacht, Diana L.; 'paul.harris@usdoj.gov'; 'george.wolfe@do.treas.gov'; 'koffskyp@osdgc.osd.mil'; Moore, Holly T.
Cc: Stone, Carla B.; Winland, Emily; Lefkowitz, Jay P.; Hunerwadel, Joan; 'elizabeth.vannoy@do.treas.gov'; 'marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov'
Subject: FW: Compensation for Victims of Terrorism Meeting - Wed

This meeting has been rescheduled for THURS, April 4 at 10:30 in Room 211. Sorry for any inconvenience and thanks very much.
-----Original Message-----
From: Vestewig, Lauren J.
Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 9:49 AM
To: 'hatamj@ms.state.gov'; Bellinger, John B.; Kavanaugh, Brett M.; Silverberg, Kristen; Perry, Philip J.; Schacht, Diana L.; 'paul.harris@usdoj.gov'; 'david.aufhauser@do.treas.gov'
Cc: Stone, Carla B.; Winland, Emily; Lefkowitz, Jay P.; Hunerwadel, Joan; 'elizabeth.vannoy@do.treas.gov'; 'marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov'
Subject: Compensation for Victims of Terrorism Meeting - Wed

There will be a meeting this Wednesday, April 2nd in EEOB room 211 at 3:30pm. Please let me know if you can attend. If you are coming from outside of the complex and need to be cleared in, please email me your dob and ssn. Thanks!

From: Roger.Kodat@do.treas.gov [UNKNOWN]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: Randall.Lewis@do.treas.gov [UNKNOWN] <Randall.Lewis@do.treas.gov>
Sent: 4/1/2003 12:36:09 PM
Subject: : FW: President's Commission on US Postal Service: records
Attachments: P_GPG8F003_WHO.TXT_1.html

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Roger.Kodat@do.treas.gov ( Roger.Kodat@do.treas.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 1-APR-2003 17:36:09.00
SUBJECT:: FW: President's Commission on US Postal Service: records
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Randall.Lewis@do.treas.gov ( Randall.Lewis@do.treas.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Brett,

Any chance that a verdict can be rendered? Thanks for your support. Roger

> -----Original Message-----
> From: Kodat, Roger
> Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 11:19 AM
> To: 'Brett.kavanaugh@who.eop.gov'
> Cc: Lewis, Randall
> Subject: President's Commission on US Postal Service: records
>
> Brett,
>
> Further to our telecon this morning, kindly advise whether records created > by the newly established President's Commission on the US Postal Service, > established by Executive Order 13278, are federal or Presidential records.
> Pls let me know if you need any more information.
>
> Thanks, Roger
>
>
- att1.htm
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_GPG8F003_WHO.TXT_1>
```

Brett,

Any chance that a verdict can be r endered? Thanks for your support. Roger

-----Original Mes sage-----

From: Kodat, Roger

Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 11:19 AM

To: 'Brett.kavanaugh@who.eop.gov'

Cc: Lewis, Randall

Subject: & nbsp; President's Commission on US Postal Service: records

Brett,

Further to our telecon this morning, kindly advise whether records created by the newly establis hed President's Commission on the US Postal Service, established by Executive Order 13278, a re federal or Presidential records. Pls let me know if you need any more information.

Thanks, Roger

From: Greenstone, Adam F.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/1/2003 5:24:41 PM
Subject: FW: Mail Question

Brett--Can you speak for CEA on this request (and if not would you like us to obtain the view of any particular person on their behalf), and would you like us to follow any particular direction from the WHO perspective?
-----Original Message-----
From: Hill, Bartholomew G.
Sent: Tuesday, March 25, 2003 9:33 AM
To: Greenstone, Adam F.
Subject: Mail Question

Adam,
We have a person who is moving from CEA to WHO and wants to take their mail with them. CEA does not have a General Counsel. Do one of the other Counsels act for them? Can we let this person take their mail to WHO? CEA Chief of Staff acts as CEA's ethics officer. Would that person be able to make the determination? Thanks. Bart

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>
Sent: 4/2/2003 4:03:47 AM
Subject: : Raleigh News & Observer (4/2/03) re: Boyle battle brewing anew

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 2-APR-2003 09:03:47.00
SUBJECT:: Raleigh News & Observer (4/2/03) re: Boyle battle brewing anew
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot (CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/02/2003 09:03 AM ----------

Jeanie S. Mamo
04/02/2003 08:08:14 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP, Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP
cc:
Subject: Raleigh News & Observer (4/2/03) re: Boyle battle brewing anew

Wednesday, April 2, 2003 12:00AM EST

Boyle battle brewing anew
Edwards and Senate Judiciary Committee chairman at odds over nominee to 4th Circuit

By JOHN WAGNER, Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON -- After repeated delays, the Republican-led Senate might be on the verge of holding a hearing on the nomination of Terrence Boyle, a North Carolina judge whom President Bush wants to promote to the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.
In a letter last week, Sen. Orrin Hatch, the Judiciary Committee chairman, informed Sen. John Edwards that he planned to move ahead with consideration of Boyle's nomination despite objections from Edwards, a North Carolina Democrat.
The Judiciary Committee generally has not granted hearings on judicial nominees without the consent of both home-state senators. In his letter, Hatch said that while views of home-state senators should receive great weight, a single senator should not exercise a "veto based merely on political ideology." Hatch, a Utah Republican, said he would convene a hearing next Tuesday.
In a letter Monday, Edwards offered a spirited objection. "As a member of your committee, as a senator from North Carolina, as the senator most familiar with Judge Boyle's record, and as your colleague, I ask that you not proceed with the nomination and instead work with me to confirm consensus nominees," he wrote.
The status of the hearing was unclear Tuesday evening.
Hatch spokeswoman Margarita Tapia said her boss remained convinced that Boyle deserves a hearing but it could be delayed. Edwards spokesman Mike Briggs said the senators spoke and a Tuesday hearing was unlikely.
Boyle's nomination has languished since May 2001 as part of a feud that has kept North Carolina from having a full-time judge on the 4th Circuit since 1999. The 15-member court hears appeals from five Southeastern states. It is the last stop for federal cases from that part of the country before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Boyle, a former aide to U.S. Sen. Jesse Helms, is chief judge on the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of North Carolina.

In his letter, Edwards notes that Boyle's decisions have been reversed or vacated more than 100 times and says that Boyle's "record on civil rights is particularly troubling."

As a district court judge during the past 19 years, Boyle has handled more than 12,000 cases.

Briggs would not elaborate on Edwards' concerns about Boyle's civil-rights record. Groups opposed to Boyle's nomination have zeroed in on rulings on two congressional redistricting cases.

Both the White House and U.S. Sen. Elizabeth Dole, a North Carolina Republican, voiced renewed support Tuesday for Boyle. "The Judiciary Committee should give each and every one of the president's nominees a fair hearing, in the order of their nominations, and based on how long they've been waiting," said Mary Brown Brewer, Dole's spokeswoman.

Edwards on Tuesday repeated his call for the White House to move forward with the 4th Circuit nomination of Allyson Duncan, a Raleigh lawyer who is a black Republican. The White House sent Edwards a letter on Dec. 19 notifying him it intended to recommend Duncan for the 4th Circuit, pending a background check.

Both Edwards and Dole publicly indicated support for Duncan's nomination in January.

Boyle was first nominated for the 4th Circuit more than a decade ago by the elder President Bush. After Senate Democrats denied Boyle a hearing, Helms blocked a string of nominees during the Clinton administration, including candidates recommended by Edwards after his arrival in the Senate in 1999.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>
Sent: 4/2/2003 4:03:53 AM
Subject: : Charlotte Observer (4/2/03) re: Confirmation hearing for judge put on hold

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 2-APR-2003 09:03:53.00
SUBJECT:: Charlotte Observer (4/2/03) re: Confirmation hearing for judge put on hold
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot (CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/02/2003 09:03 AM ----------

Jeanie S. Mamo
04/02/2003 08:10:50 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP, Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP
cc:
Subject: Charlotte Observer (4/2/03) re: Confirmation hearing for judge put on hold

Posted on Wed, Apr. 02, 2003

Confirmation hearing for judge put on hold
Sen. Edwards opposed to nomination of N.C. conservative Boyle
TIM FUNK
Observer Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON - The Republican chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee has backed off -- for now -- on scheduling a confirmation hearing for a conservative N.C. judge whose nomination to the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals is opposed by Sen. John Edwards.
Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, had notified the N.C. Democrat in a March 27 letter that he planned to set a hearing Tuesday for Chief U.S. District Judge Terrence Boyle.
Boyle was nominated by now-retired Sen. Jesse Helms and is strongly backed by the White House.
But top Democrats charged that Hatch was abandoning a tradition that required both home-state senators to OK a judicial nominee. On Tuesday, Hatch told Edwards -- a member of the Judiciary Committee -- that the hearing would not happen next week.
"Sen. Hatch and Sen. Edwards had a conversation on the Senate floor (late Tuesday afternoon)," said Mike Briggs, Edwards' Senate spokesman. "Both senators are going to try to work together on this issue."

It was unclear Tuesday night whether that meant Hatch would give up on or merely delay Boyle's nomination. There were also mixed signals about whether Hatch would challenge the so-called "blue slip" tradition that many say has allowed senators to effectively veto judicial nominees from their state.
The practice is named for the blue slip a senator doesn't return or marks negatively when opposing a nomination. The tactic has stalled nominations of several N.C. jurists in recent years. Even though North Carolina is the largest state in the circuit, no North Carolinians sit on its bench. Helms vetoed Tar Heel judges nominated by President Clinton and Edwards has blocked Boyle of Edenton.
Tuesday night, Hatch spokesperson Margarita Tapia acknowledged there would be no hearing for Boyle next week. But she said Hatch has "never allowed the blue slip to work as a single-senator veto based merely on political ideology."
Edwards, in a March 31 response to Hatch's letter, charged that Boyle "has inaccurately interpreted the law in a way that undercuts basic civil rights protections."
Edwards said the White House should make good on a promise to him to nominate Allyson Duncan, a black Republican woman who was a judge of the N.C. Court of Appeals.
Duncan would be a "consensus North Carolina appointment" and one, Edwards said, who both he and Sen. Elizabeth Dole, R-N.C. supported.
Dole's office declined Tuesday to say whether she would support Duncan, of Raleigh, or Boyle or the blue slip tradition. Said spokesperson Mary Brown Brewer: "She favors every nominee having a hearing and a vote. As she's not on the Judiciary Committee, you'd need to talk to Senator Hatch about committee process and procedures."
The White House, meanwhile, stuck with Boyle. "The blue slip is not a veto but a device to ensure adequate consultation," said spokesperson Jeanie Mamo. "And we consulted extensively with Sen. Edwards."

From: CN=Jeanie S. Mamo/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Snee>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/2/2003 3:08:21 AM
Subject: : Raleigh News & Observer (4/2/03) re: Boyle battle brewing anew

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Jeanie S. Mamo (CN=Jeanie S. Mamo/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 2-APR-2003 08:08:21.00
SUBJECT:: Raleigh News & Observer (4/2/03) re: Boyle battle brewing anew
TO:Ashley Snee (CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Wednesday, April 2, 2003 12:00AM EST

Boyle battle brewing anew
Edwards and Senate Judiciary Committee chairman at odds over nominee to 4th Circuit

By JOHN WAGNER, Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON -- After repeated delays, the Republican-led Senate might be on the verge of holding a hearing on the nomination of Terrence Boyle, a North Carolina judge whom President Bush wants to promote to the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.
In a letter last week, Sen. Orrin Hatch, the Judiciary Committee chairman, informed Sen. John Edwards that he planned to move ahead with consideration of Boyle's nomination despite objections from Edwards, a North Carolina Democrat.
The Judiciary Committee generally has not granted hearings on judicial nominees without the consent of both home-state senators. In his letter, Hatch said that while views of home-state senators should receive great weight, a single senator should not exercise a "veto based merely on political ideology." Hatch, a Utah Republican, said he would convene a hearing next Tuesday.
In a letter Monday, Edwards offered a spirited objection. "As a member of your committee, as a senator from North Carolina, as the senator most familiar with Judge Boyle's record, and as your colleague, I ask that you not proceed with the nomination and instead work with me to confirm consensus nominees," he wrote.
The status of the hearing was unclear Tuesday evening.
Hatch spokeswoman Margarita Tapia said her boss remained convinced that Boyle deserves a hearing but it could be delayed. Edwards spokesman Mike Briggs said the senators spoke and a Tuesday hearing was unlikely.
Boyle's nomination has languished since May 2001 as part of a feud that has kept North Carolina from having a full-time judge on the 4th Circuit since 1999. The 15-member court hears appeals from five Southeastern states. It is the last stop for federal cases from that part of the country before the U.S. Supreme Court.
Boyle, a former aide to U.S. Sen. Jesse Helms, is chief judge on the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of North Carolina.
In his letter, Edwards notes that Boyle's decisions have been reversed or vacated more than 100 times and says that Boyle's "record on civil rights is particularly troubling."
As a district court judge during the past 19 years, Boyle has handled more than 12,000 cases.
Briggs would not elaborate on Edwards' concerns about Boyle's civil-rights record. Groups opposed to Boyle's nomination have zeroed in on rulings on two congressional redistricting cases.
Both the White House and U.S. Sen. Elizabeth Dole, a North Carolina Republican, voiced renewed support Tuesday for Boyle. "The Judiciary Committee should give each and every one of the president's nominees a fair hearing, in the order of their nominations, and based on how long they've been waiting," said Mary Brown Brewer, Dole's spokeswoman.

Edwards on Tuesday repeated his call for the White House to move forward with the 4th Circuit nomination of Allyson Duncan, a Raleigh lawyer who is a black Republican. The White House sent Edwards a letter on Dec. 19 notifying him it intended to recommend Duncan for the 4th Circuit, pending a background check.
Both Edwards and Dole publicly indicated support for Duncan's nomination in January.
Boyle was first nominated for the 4th Circuit more than a decade ago by the elder President Bush. After Senate Democrats denied Boyle a hearing, Helms blocked a string of nominees during the Clinton administration, including candidates recommended by Edwards after his arrival in the Senate in 1999.

From: Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/2/2003 3:09:50 AM
Subject: : AF&PA General Counsels Meeting
Attachments: P_9UV8F003_WHO.TXT_1.html

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com> ( Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 2-APR-2003 08:09:50.00
SUBJECT:: AF&PA General Counsels Meeting
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

The American Forest and Paper Association will hold its annual meeting next week, April 9-11, in DC. They would like to invite someone from the WH Counsels office to come to their dinner on Thursday, April 10th to give an overview of judicial nominations and legal reform efforts currently underway in this Congress. I obviously thought of you.

The dinner is at Galileos from 6-9 pm and the General Counsels who will attend are from:

Longview Fibre Company

The Newark Group

Nexfor Fraser Papers

Simpson Investment Company

Hancock Lumber Company

Chesapeake Corporation

Glatfelter

Potlatch Corporation

Weyerhaeuser Company

Sierra Pacific Industries

Louisiana Pacific

Bowater

Temple-Inland

Georgia-Pacific

Plum Creek Timber

Anthony Forest Products

Sappi Fine Paper - North America

Simpson Resource Company

Stora Enso North America

MeadWestvaco

Would you be willing to drop by this dinner and give a few remarks and take a few questions?

- att1.htm
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_9UV8F003_WHO.TXT_1>

The American Forest and Paper Association will hold its annual meeting next week, April 9-11, in DC. They would like to invite someone from the WH Counsels office to come to their dinner on Thursday, April 10th to give an overview of judicial nominations and legal reform efforts currently underway in this Congress. I obviously thought of you.

The dinner is at Galileos from 6-9 pm and the General Counsels who will attend are from:

Longview Fibre Company
The Newark Group
Nexfor Fraser Papers
Simpson Investment Company
Hancock Lumber Company
Chesapeake Corporation
Glatfelter
Potlatch Corporation
Weyerhaeuser Company
Sierra Pacific Industries
Louisiana Pacific
Bowater
Temple-Inland
Georgia-Pacific
Plum Creek Timber
Anthony Forest Products
Sappi Fine Paper – North America
Simpson Resource Company
Stora Enso North America
MeadWestvaco

Would you be willing to drop by this dinner and give a few remarks and take a few questions?

From: CN=Jeanie S. Mamo/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Snee>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/2/2003 3:26:10 AM
Subject: : Charlotte Observer (4/2/03) re: Confirmation hearing for judge put on hold

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Jeanie S. Mamo (CN=Jeanie S. Mamo/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 2-APR-2003 08:26:10.00
SUBJECT:: Charlotte Observer (4/2/03) re: Confirmation hearing for judge put on hold
TO:Ashley Snee (CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Posted on Wed, Apr. 02, 2003

Confirmation hearing for judge put on hold

Sen. Edwards opposed to nomination of N.C. conservative Boyle

TIM FUNK
Observer Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON - The Republican chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee has backed off -- for now -- on scheduling a confirmation hearing for a conservative N.C. judge whose nomination to the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals is opposed by Sen. John Edwards.

Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, had notified the N.C. Democrat in a March 27 letter that he planned to set a hearing Tuesday for Chief U.S. District Judge Terrence Boyle.

Boyle was nominated by now-retired Sen. Jesse Helms and is strongly backed by the White House.

But top Democrats charged that Hatch was abandoning a tradition that required both home-state senators to OK a judicial nominee. On Tuesday, Hatch told Edwards -- a member of the Judiciary Committee -- that the hearing would not happen next week.

"Sen. Hatch and Sen. Edwards had a conversation on the Senate floor (late Tuesday afternoon)," said Mike Briggs, Edwards' Senate spokesman. "Both senators are going to try to work together on this issue."

It was unclear Tuesday night whether that meant Hatch would give up on or merely delay Boyle's nomination. There were also mixed signals about whether Hatch would challenge the so-called "blue slip" tradition that many say has allowed senators to effectively veto judicial nominees from their state.

The practice is named for the blue slip a senator doesn't return or marks negatively when opposing a nomination. The tactic has stalled nominations of several N.C. jurists in recent years. Even though North Carolina is the largest state in the circuit, no North Carolinians sit on its bench. Helms vetoed Tar Heel judges nominated by President Clinton and Edwards has blocked Boyle of Edenton.

Tuesday night, Hatch spokesperson Margarita Tapia acknowledged there would be no hearing for Boyle next week. But she said Hatch has "never allowed the blue slip to work as a single-senator veto based merely on political ideology."

Edwards, in a March 31 response to Hatch's letter, charged that Boyle "has inaccurately interpreted the law in a way that undercuts basic civil rights protections."

Edwards said the White House should make good on a promise to him to nominate Allyson Duncan, a black Republican woman who was a judge of the N.C. Court of Appeals.

Duncan would be a "consensus North Carolina appointment" and one, Edwards said, who both he and Sen. Elizabeth Dole, R-N.C. supported.

Dole's office declined Tuesday to say whether she would support Duncan, of Raleigh, or Boyle or the blue slip tradition. Said spokesperson Mary Brown Brewer: "She favors every nominee having a hearing and a vote. As she's not on the Judiciary Committee, you'd need to talk to Senator Hatch about committee process and procedures."

The White House, meanwhile, stuck with Boyle. "The blue slip is not a veto but a device to ensure adequate consultation," said spokesperson Jeanie Mamo. "And we consulted extensively with Sen. Edwards."

From: CN=Scott Stanzel/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Alicia W. Davis/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Alicia W. Davis>;Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Snee>
CC: Nicolle Devenish/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Nicolle Devenish>
Sent: 4/2/2003 3:59:32 AM
Subject: : Pittsburgh Post-Gazette

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Scott Stanzel (CN=Scott Stanzel/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 2-APR-2003 08:59:32.00
SUBJECT:: Pittsburgh Post-Gazette
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alicia W. Davis (CN=Alicia W. Davis/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Ashley Snee (CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Nicolle Devenish (CN=Nicolle Devenish/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Fisher may fill vacancy in U.S. District Court
Wednesday, April 02, 2003
By Johnna A. Pro, Post-Gazette Staff Writer
President Bush is expected to nominate Pennsylvania Attorney General Mike Fisher to a federal judgeship.
Fisher, who was defeated in the 2002 governor's race by Ed Rendell, is among the most visible Republicans in the state because of his position and recent candidacy. Bush campaigned for him in both the primary and general elections last year.
Because he is in his second term as state attorney general, Fisher is prohibited from running for the office again. He has said publicly that he would welcome an appointment to the federal bench.
Fisher said yesterday that he often discusses future opportunities, in both the public and private sectors, but would not be more specific.
"I don't know if there's anything definitive that I can tell you," he said. "The only person who can comment on that is the president."
U.S. Sens. Arlen Specter and Rick Santorum, who have considerable influence over the nomination of federal judges in Pennsylvania, also had nothing to say. Appointees to the federal bench must be confirmed by the U.S. Senate.
"All announcements on federal judgeships come from the White House," Specter said.
"We don't discuss who may be under consideration," said White House spokesman Scott Stanzel. "We make announcements when they are ready to be made."
Fisher will most likely be nominated to fill a vacancy in U.S. District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania, which includes Pittsburgh, Erie and Johnstown, although there is also an opening on the 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which encompasses Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey and the Virgin Islands.
A vacancy opened in Pittsburgh when U.S. District Judge William L. Standish moved to senior status last year. The Johnstown seat also is open.
On the 3rd Circuit bench, a vacancy opened in March 2002 when Judge Carol Los Mansmann of Sewickley died.
Fisher, of Upper St. Clair, is a graduate of Georgetown University. He was elected attorney general in 1996. Before that he served in the General Assembly for 22 years, first as a member of the House and later as a state senator representing South Hills communities.
Fisher's second term as attorney general ends in January 2005. If he leaves office early, First Deputy Attorney General Jerry Pappert would become acting attorney general. Rendell could nominate someone to fill out the term, subject to confirmation by the state Senate.

From: Mamo, Jeanie S.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Snee, Ashley>
Sent: 4/2/2003 8:07:34 AM
Subject: Raleigh News & Observer (4/2/03) re: Boyle battle brewing anew

Wednesday, April 2, 2003 12:00AM EST

Boyle battle brewing anew

Edwards and Senate Judiciary Committee chairman at odds over nominee to 4th Circuit

By JOHN WAGNER, Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON -- After repeated delays, the Republican-led Senate might be on the verge of holding a hearing on the nomination of Terrence Boyle, a North Carolina judge whom President Bush wants to promote to the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

In a letter last week, Sen. Orrin Hatch, the Judiciary Committee chairman, informed Sen. John Edwards that he planned to move ahead with consideration of Boyle's nomination despite objections from Edwards, a North Carolina Democrat.

The Judiciary Committee generally has not granted hearings on judicial nominees without the consent of both home-state senators. In his letter, Hatch said that while views of home-state senators should receive great weight, a single senator should not exercise a "veto based merely on political ideology." Hatch, a Utah Republican, said he would convene a hearing next Tuesday.

In a letter Monday, Edwards offered a spirited objection. "As a member of your committee, as a senator from North Carolina, as the senator most familiar with Judge Boyle's record, and as your colleague, I ask that you not proceed with the nomination and instead work with me to confirm consensus nominees," he wrote.

The status of the hearing was unclear Tuesday evening.

Hatch spokeswoman Margarita Tapia said her boss remained convinced that Boyle deserves a hearing but it could be delayed. Edwards spokesman Mike Briggs said the senators spoke and a Tuesday hearing was unlikely.

Boyle's nomination has languished since May 2001 as part of a feud that has kept North Carolina from having a full-time judge on the 4th Circuit since 1999. The 15-member court hears appeals from five Southeastern states. It is the last stop for federal cases from that part of the country before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Boyle, a former aide to U.S. Sen. Jesse Helms, is chief judge on the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of North Carolina.

In his letter, Edwards notes that Boyle's decisions have been reversed or vacated more than 100 times and says that Boyle's "record on civil rights is particularly troubling."

As a district court judge during the past 19 years, Boyle has handled more than 12,000 cases.

Briggs would not elaborate on Edwards' concerns about Boyle's civil-rights record. Groups opposed to Boyle's nomination have zeroed in on rulings on two congressional redistricting cases.

Both the White House and U.S. Sen. Elizabeth Dole, a North Carolina Republican, voiced renewed support Tuesday for Boyle. "The Judiciary Committee should give each and every one of the president's nominees a fair hearing, in the order of their nominations, and based on how long they've been waiting," said Mary Brown Brewer, Dole's spokeswoman.

Edwards on Tuesday repeated his call for the White House to move forward with the 4th Circuit nomination of Allyson Duncan, a Raleigh lawyer who is a black Republican. The White House sent Edwards a letter on Dec. 19 notifying him it intended to recommend Duncan for the 4th Circuit, pending a background check.

Both Edwards and Dole publicly indicated support for Duncan's nomination in January.

Boyle was first nominated for the 4th Circuit more than a decade ago by the elder President Bush. After Senate Democrats denied Boyle a hearing, Helms blocked a string of nominees during the Clinton administration, including candidates recommended by Edwards after his arrival in the Senate in 1999.

From: Mamo, Jeanie S.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Snee, Ashley>
Sent: 4/2/2003 8:10:18 AM
Subject: Charlotte Observer (4/2/03) re: Confirmation hearing for judge put on hold

Posted on Wed, Apr. 02, 2003

Confirmation hearing for judge put on hold

Sen. Edwards opposed to nomination of N.C. conservative Boyle

TIM FUNK

Observer Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON - The Republican chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee has backed off -- for now -- on scheduling a confirmation hearing for a conservative N.C. judge whose nomination to the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals is opposed by Sen. John Edwards.

Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, had notified the N.C. Democrat in a March 27 letter that he planned to set a hearing Tuesday for Chief U.S. District Judge Terrence Boyle.

Boyle was nominated by now-retired Sen. Jesse Helms and is strongly backed by the White House.

But top Democrats charged that Hatch was abandoning a tradition that required both home-state senators to OK a judicial nominee. On Tuesday, Hatch told Edwards -- a member of the Judiciary Committee -- that the hearing would not happen next week.

"Sen. Hatch and Sen. Edwards had a conversation on the Senate floor (late Tuesday afternoon)," said Mike Briggs, Edwards' Senate spokesman. "Both senators are going to try to work together on this issue."

It was unclear Tuesday night whether that meant Hatch would give up on or merely delay Boyle's nomination. There were also mixed signals about whether Hatch would challenge the so-called "blue slip" tradition that many say has allowed senators to effectively veto judicial nominees from their state.

The practice is named for the blue slip a senator doesn't return or marks negatively when opposing a nomination. The tactic has stalled nominations of several N.C. jurists in recent years. Even though North Carolina is the largest state in the circuit, no North Carolinians sit on its bench. Helms vetoed Tar Heel judges nominated by President Clinton and Edwards has blocked Boyle of Edenton.

Tuesday night, Hatch spokesperson Margarita Tapia acknowledged there would be no hearing for Boyle next week. But she said Hatch has "never allowed the blue slip to work as a single-senator veto based merely on political ideology."

Edwards, in a March 31 response to Hatch's letter, charged that Boyle "has inaccurately interpreted the law in a way that undercuts basic civil rights protections."

Edwards said the White House should make good on a promise to him to nominate Allyson Duncan, a black Republican woman who was a judge of the N.C. Court of Appeals.

Duncan would be a "consensus North Carolina appointment" and one, Edwards said, who both he and Sen. Elizabeth Dole, R-N.C. supported.

Dole's office declined Tuesday to say whether she would support Duncan, of Raleigh, or Boyle or the blue slip tradition. Said spokesperson Mary Brown Brewer: "She favors every nominee having a hearing and a vote. As she's not on the Judiciary Committee, you'd need to talk to Senator Hatch about committee process and procedures."

The White House, meanwhile, stuck with Boyle. "The blue slip is not a veto but a device to ensure adequate consultation," said spokesperson Jeanie Mamo. "And we consulted extensively with Sen. Edwards."

From: Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
To: <Schacht, Diana L.>;<Warsh, Kevin>;<Silverberg, Kristen>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/2/2003 8:17:42 AM
Subject: Cannon and Dooley Update - Asbestos

Cong. Cannon is sending out a dear colleague today asking folks to co-sponsor his enhanced medical criteria asbestos bill. Its basically medical criteria, full venue and anti-consolidation, lung-cancer criteria (higher bar to weed out smokers who claim asbestos related disease), and joint-and-several. He will likely introduce the bill on Thursday. This bill is supported by the Insurance Companies.

Cong. Dooley is going to likely introduce his bill on April 8th. His bill is very similar to the Nickles medical criteria bill, but uses the ABA medical criteria instead of the AMA medical criteria. This bill does not have full venue provisions, carves out the cancer cases. This bill will be supported by the National Association of Manufacturers' Asbestos Alliance and the Insurance Companies will applaud its direction, etc.

From:	Bumatay, Patrick J.
To:	<Nelson, Carolyn>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Montiel, Charlotte L.>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent:	4/2/2003 8:28:22 AM
Subject:	ARG article on affirmative action

From Washington & Lee

Copyright 2003 Richmond Newspapers, Inc.
Richmond Times Dispatch (Virginia)

April 1, 2003 Tuesday City Edition

SECTION: AREA/STATE; Pg. B-2

LENGTH: 346 words

HEADLINE: RACE-NEUTRAL ADMISSIONS;
BUSH AIDE URGES SEEKING DIVERSITY WITHOUT QUOTAS

BYLINE: Calvin R. Trice, Times-Dispatch Staff Writer, * Contact Calvin R. Trice at (540) 574-9977 or ctrice@timesdispatch.com,

DATELINE: LEXINGTON

BODY:
Colleges and universities should try to maintain diverse student bodies with race-neutral admissions, President Bush's counsel said yesterday.

On the eve of the U.S. Supreme Court taking up the controversial affirmative-action cases out of the University of Michigan, Alberto R. Gonzales addressed the topic at Washington and Lee University's School of Law.

Gonzales said Bush believes in diversity in admissions and hiring, but that institutions should use race-neutral methods first.

"It allows the court to avoid the difficult and divisive question of whether race can ever be a factor in university admissions," he said.

He cited as race-neutral models the admissions policies of Texas, Florida and California.

Gonzales gave the lecture for the Washington and Lee law school's first Powell Lecture, created to bring pre-eminent legal scholars to the school for a public address.

The entirely student-run lecture program is named in honor of Lewis F. Powell Jr., a Washington and Lee alumnus who served as a Supreme Court justice for 15 years.

Powell graduated from Washington and Lee's undergraduate college in 1929 and its law school in 1931. Appointed to the Supreme Court in 1972, he ren- dered opinions in key cases involving abortion, the death penalty and affirmative action.

One of the key cases in Powell's career marked the last time affirmative action came before the high court. While the court ruled 5-4 against racial quotas in the case of California medical-school candidate Allan Bakke, Powell wrote an opinion saying that admissions policies could take race into consideration - endorsing a form of affirmative action.

Before working in the White House, Gonzales served as a justice of the Texas Supreme Court and as Texas' secretary of state under then-Gov. George W. Bush.

As a personal adviser to Bush on legal matters, Gonzales works with lawyers in the Department of Justice, the CIA and the State Department, among others.

His name has also been mentioned in connection with possible future U.S. Supreme Court vacancies.

GRAPHIC: PHOTO

From: Stanzel, Scott
To: <Snee, Ashley>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Davis, Alicia W.>
CC: <Devenish, Nicolle>
Sent: 4/2/2003 8:58:27 AM
Subject: Pittsburgh Post-Gazette

Fisher may fill vacancy in U.S. District Court

Wednesday, April 02, 2003

By Johnna A. Pro, Post-Gazette Staff Writer

President Bush is expected to nominate Pennsylvania Attorney General Mike Fisher to a federal judgeship.

Fisher, who was defeated in the 2002 governor's race by Ed Rendell, is among the most visible Republicans in the state because of his position and recent candidacy. Bush campaigned for him in both the primary and general elections last year.

Because he is in his second term as state attorney general, Fisher is prohibited from running for the office again. He has said publicly that he would welcome an appointment to the federal bench.

Fisher said yesterday that he often discusses future opportunities, in both the public and private sectors, but would not be more specific.

"I don't know if there's anything definitive that I can tell you," he said. "The only person who can comment on that is the president."

U.S. Sens. Arlen Specter and Rick Santorum, who have considerable influence over the nomination of federal judges in Pennsylvania, also had nothing to say. Appointees to the federal bench must be confirmed by the U.S. Senate.

"All announcements on federal judgeships come from the White House," Specter said.

"We don't discuss who may be under consideration," said White House spokesman Scott Stanzel. "We make announcements when they are ready to be made."

Fisher will most likely be nominated to fill a vacancy in U.S. District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania, which includes Pittsburgh, Erie and Johnstown, although there is also an opening on the 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which encompasses Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey and the Virgin Islands.

A vacancy opened in Pittsburgh when U.S. District Judge William L. Standish moved to senior status last year. The Johnstown seat also is open.

On the 3rd Circuit bench, a vacancy opened in March 2002 when Judge Carol Los Mansmann of Sewickley died.

Fisher, of Upper St. Clair, is a graduate of Georgetown University.

He was elected attorney general in 1996. Before that he served in the General Assembly for 22 years, first as a member of the House and later as a state senator representing South Hills communities.

Fisher's second term as attorney general ends in January 2005. If he leaves office early, First Deputy Attorney General Jerry Pappert would become acting attorney general. Rendell could nominate someone to fill out the term, subject to confirmation by the state Senate.

From: CN=Nanette Everson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: Penny G. Douglas/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Penny G. Douglas>
Sent: 4/2/2003 10:48:46 AM
Subject: : DID YOU SEE THIS AND SEND ON?

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Nanette Everson (CN=Nanette Everson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 2-APR-2003 15:48:46.00
SUBJECT:: DID YOU SEE THIS AND SEND ON?
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Penny G. Douglas (CN=Penny G. Douglas/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

What are your thoughts? Attached below are the thoughts of our shop.
---------- Forwarded by Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP on 04/02/2003 03:40 PM ----------

Emory Rounds
04/02/2003 03:37:42 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: DID YOU SEE THIS AND SEND ON?

---------- Forwarded by Emory Rounds/WHO/EOP on 04/02/2003 03:36 PM ----------

Emory Rounds
03/25/2003 03:13:45 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: VOLPAC Invitation

This responds to your e-mail request for advice, below. In addition, is this a matter for consideration also by Brett Kavanaugh, given the Hatch Act issues?

Penny Douglas is an Executive Assistant in the Office of Legislative Affairs, and is not a commissioned officer. She plans to participate in VOLPAC events scheduled for April 25 to 27, 2003, in Nashville, Tennessee, and asks whether she may accept VOLPAC,s offer to pay her airfare to and from Nashville, so that she may attend the event.

Ms. Douglas explains that VOLPAC is the political action committee of Senator Bill Frist. She also advises that she has, in the past, volunteered to assist VOLPAC with the logistics of its annual Spring weekend event.

The Office of Special Counsel,s web-site notes that an employee may attend and be active at political rallies and meetings; join and be an active member of a political party or club; and, hold office in political clubs or parties.

If this event is a fundraiser, the Office of Special Counsel,s web-site also notes that, among other permissible activities, an employee may attend political fundraising functions and is allowed to organize a fundraiser, as long as she does not personally solicit, accept, or receive contributions. She may even give a speech or keynote address at a political fundraiser, as long as she is not on duty, and does not solicit political contributions. However, her name may not be shown on an invitation to such a fundraiser as a sponsor or point of contact.

Regarding the VOLPAC offer of travel expenses, ethics regulations provide that an employee who may take an active part in political management or in political campaigns under the Hatch Act, may accept meals, lodgings, transportation and other benefits, including free attendance at events, when provided, in connection with such active participation, by a political organization described in 26 U.S.C. 527(e). See 5 C.F.R. õ 2635.204(f).

ú The term ''political organization'' in 26 U.S.C. 527(e) means &a party, committee, association, fund, or other organization (whether or not incorporated) organized and operated primarily for the purpose of directly or indirectly accepting contributions or making expenditures, or both, for an exempt function.8

ú The term ''exempt function'' in 26 U.S.C. 527(e) means &the function of influencing or attempting to influence the selection, nomination, election, or appointment of any individual to any Federal, State, or local public office or office in a political organization, or the election of Presidential or Vice-Presidential electors, whether or not such individual or electors are selected, nominated, elected, or appointed. Such term includes the making of expenditures relating to an office described in the preceding sentence which, if incurred by the individual, would be allowable as a deduction under section 162(a).8

ú The term &political management8 is not otherwise defined.

It is not precisely clear from its web-site (http://www.volpac.com/index.html) whether VOLPAC is actually a &527(e)8 organization, although that most likely is the case considering its mission and purpose statements.

If Ms. Douglas ascertains that VOLPAC is such an organization, then she may accept the gift of free airfare, as well as any meals, lodgings, other transportation, and other benefits, from that group in connection with her participation in the event. However, the event apparently begins on a Friday and, if she travels to or attends the event during her normal duty hours, she should be in a leave status during those hours.

****
---------- Forwarded by Emory Rounds/WHO/EOP on 03/25/2003 03:05 PM ----------

Nanette Everson
03/25/2003 12:09:51 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Emory Rounds/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: VOLPAC Invitation

please advise
---------- Forwarded by Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP on 03/25/2003 12:14 PM ----------

From: Penny G. Douglas/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/25/2003 11:37:37 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: VOLPAC Invitation

Hi Nanette -
;
Last week, I spoke to you briefly at the New Employees' Ethics;Briefing regarding my invitation to participate in the VOLPAC events on April 25-27,;2003.; VOLPAC is the political;action committee of Senator Bill Frist of TN.; Each year VOLPAC hosts a Spring Meeting in Nashville, TN for its members.; In the past, I have volunteered to assist with the logistics of each event i.e transportation.; ;
;
VOLPAC has offered to pay my airfare to/from Nashville.; Do you see any problem with accepting this?; Please let me know if I need to provide you with more information.
;
Thank you -
;
Penny Douglas
Office of Legislative Affairs
6-2230

From: Montiel, Charlotte L.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/2/2003 12:11:49 PM
Subject: phone message (apparently your VM is full)

Jordan Cherrick
314-552-6416

re: imp news about 8th circuit

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Bumatay, Patrick J.>
Sent: 4/2/2003 12:34:29 PM
Subject: no comments on eitgher

From: CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <H. Christopher Bartolomucci>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/2/2003 9:27:29 AM
Subject: : Fisher

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Kyle Sampson (CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 2-APR-2003 14:27:29.00
SUBJECT:: Fisher
TO:H. Christopher Bartolomucci (CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Fisher may fill vacancy in U.S. District Court
Wednesday, April 02, 2003
By Johnna A. Pro, Post-Gazette Staff Writer
President Bush is expected to nominate Pennsylvania Attorney General Mike Fisher to a federal judgeship.
Fisher, who was defeated in the 2002 governor's race by Ed Rendell, is among the most visible Republicans in the state because of his position and recent candidacy. Bush campaigned for him in both the primary and general elections last year.
Because he is in his second term as state attorney general, Fisher is prohibited from running for the office again. He has said publicly that he would welcome an appointment to the federal bench.
Fisher said yesterday that he often discusses future opportunities, in both the public and private sectors, but would not be more specific.
"I don't know if there's anything definitive that I can tell you," he said. "The only person who can comment on that is the president."
U.S. Sens. Arlen Specter and Rick Santorum, who have considerable influence over the nomination of federal judges in Pennsylvania, also had nothing to say. Appointees to the federal bench must be confirmed by the U.S. Senate.
"All announcements on federal judgeships come from the White House," Specter said.
"We don't discuss who may be under consideration," said White House spokesman Scott Stanzel. "We make announcements when they are ready to be made."
Fisher will most likely be nominated to fill a vacancy in U.S. District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania, which includes Pittsburgh, Erie and Johnstown, although there is also an opening on the 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which encompasses Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey and the Virgin Islands.
A vacancy opened in Pittsburgh when U.S. District Judge William L. Standish moved to senior status last year. The Johnstown seat also is open.
On the 3rd Circuit bench, a vacancy opened in March 2002 when Judge Carol Los Mansmann of Sewickley died.
Fisher, of Upper St. Clair, is a graduate of Georgetown University. He was elected attorney general in 1996. Before that he served in the General Assembly for 22 years, first as a member of the House and later as a state senator representing South Hills communities.
Fisher's second term as attorney general ends in January 2005. If he leaves office early, First Deputy Attorney General Jerry Pappert would become acting attorney general. Rendell could nominate someone to fill out the term, subject to confirmation by the state Senate.

From: Everson, Nanette
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
CC: <Douglas, Penny G.>
Sent: 4/2/2003 3:40:11 PM
Subject: DID YOU SEE THIS AND SEND ON?

What are your thoughts? Attached below are the thoughts of our shop.

---------- Forwarded by Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP on 04/02/2003 03:40 PM ----------

Emory Rounds

04/02/2003 03:37:42 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: DID YOU SEE THIS AND SEND ON?

---------- Forwarded by Emory Rounds/WHO/EOP on 04/02/2003 03:36 PM ----------

Emory Rounds

03/25/2003 03:13:45 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: VOLPAC Invitation

This responds to your e-mail request for advice, below. In addition, is this a matter for consideration also by Brett Kavanaugh, given the Hatch Act issues?

Penny Douglas is an Executive Assistant in the Office of Legislative Affairs, and is not a commissioned officer. She plans to participate in VOLPAC events scheduled for April 25 to 27, 2003, in Nashville, Tennessee, and asks whether she may accept VOLPAC's offer to pay her airfare to and from Nashville, so that she may attend the event.

Ms. Douglas explains that VOLPAC is the political action committee of Senator Bill Frist. She also advises that she has, in the past, volunteered to assist VOLPAC with the logistics of its annual Spring weekend event.

The Office of Special Counsel's web-site notes that an employee may attend and be active at political rallies and meetings; join and be an active member of a political party or club; and, hold office in political clubs or parties.

If this event is a fundraiser, the Office of Special Counsel's web-site also notes that, among other permissible activities, an employee may attend political fundraising functions and is allowed to organize a fundraiser, as long as she does not personally solicit, accept, or receive contributions. She may even give a speech or keynote address at a political fundraiser, as long as she is not on duty, and does not solicit political contributions. However, her name may not be shown on an invitation to such a fundraiser as a sponsor or point of contact.

Regarding the VOLPAC offer of travel expenses, ethics regulations provide that an employee who may take an active part in political management or in political campaigns under the Hatch Act, may accept meals, lodgings, transportation and other benefits, including free attendance at events, when provided, in connection with such active participation, by a political organization described in 26 U.S.C. 527(e). See 5 C.F.R. § 2635.204(f).

- The term "political organization" in 26 U.S.C. 527(e) means "a party, committee, association, fund, or other organization (whether or not incorporated) organized and operated primarily for the purpose of directly or indirectly accepting contributions or making expenditures, or both, for an exempt function."

- The term "exempt function" in 26 U.S.C. 527(e) means "the function of influencing or attempting to influence the selection, nomination, election, or appointment of any individual to any Federal, State, or local public office or office in a political organization, or the election of Presidential or Vice-Presidential electors, whether or not such individual or electors are selected, nominated, elected, or appointed. Such term includes the making of expenditures relating to an office described in the preceding sentence which, if incurred by the individual, would be allowable as a deduction under section 162(a)."

- The term "political management" is not otherwise defined.

It is not precisely clear from its web-site (http://www.volpac.com/index.html) whether VOLPAC is actually a "527(e)" organization, although that most likely is the case considering its mission and purpose statements.

If Ms. Douglas ascertains that VOLPAC is such an organization, then she may accept the gift of free airfare, as well as any meals, lodgings, other transportation, and other benefits, from that group in connection with her participation in the event. However, the event apparently begins on a Friday and, if she travels to or attends the event during her normal duty hours, she should be in a leave status during those hours.

****

---------- Forwarded by Emory Rounds/WHO/EOP on 03/25/2003 03:05 PM ----------

Nanette Everson

03/25/2003 12:09:51 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Emory Rounds/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: VOLPAC Invitation

please advise

---------- Forwarded by Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP on 03/25/2003 12:14 PM ----------

From: Penny G. Douglas/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/25/2003 11:37:37 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: VOLPAC Invitation

Hi Nanette -

Last week, I spoke to you briefly at the New Employees' Ethics Briefing regarding my invitation to participate in the VOLPAC events on April 25-27, 2003. VOLPAC is the political action committee of Senator Bill Frist of TN. Each year VOLPAC hosts a Spring Meeting in Nashville, TN for its members. In the past, I have volunteered to assist with the logistics of each event i.e transportation.

VOLPAC has offered to pay my airfare to/from Nashville. Do you see any problem with accepting this? Please let me know if I need to provide you with more information.

Thank you -

Penny Douglas

Office of Legislative Affairs

6-2230

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Paul B. Dyck>
CC: susan b. ralston/who/eop@exchange@eop [WHO] <susan b. ralston>
Sent: 4/2/2003 11:53:19 AM
Subject: : Re: FW: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
Attachments: P_VAX9F003_WHO.TXT_1.htm; P_VAX9F003_WHO.TXT_2.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 2-APR-2003 16:53:19.00
SUBJECT:: Re: FW: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
TO:Paul B. Dyck (CN=Paul B. Dyck/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:susan b. ralston (CN=susan b. ralston/OU=who/O=eop@exchange@eop [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Approved.

Paul B. Dyck
04/02/2003 04:48:19 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Susan B. Ralston/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP, Brett M.
Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: FW: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th

This is a draft fax for Karl's political update breakfast next week for approval. Brett - this is not a fundraiser, just an update to some of the key RNC folks.

---------- Forwarded by Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP on 04/02/2003 04:45 PM ----------

Paul Dyck <pdyck@georgewbush.com>
04/02/2003 04:45:26 PM
Please respond to pdyck@georgewbush.com
Record Type: Record

To: Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: FW: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th

Karl in New Orleans on the 11th

-----Original Message-----
From: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100 [mailto:DLancaster@rnchq.org]
Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 3:22 PM
To: Paul Dyck
Subject: RE: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th

Paul,
is this okay to fax out? it will be on RNC letterhead. it is only going

to the preapproved list of 20 or so.This is the rnc legally approved version.
thanks.

Dee Dee

- att1.htm
- New Orleans invite.doc

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_VAX9F003_WHO.TXT_1>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_VAX9F003_WHO.TXT_2>

-----Original Message-----
From: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100 [mailto:DLancaster@rnchq.org]
Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 3:22 PM
To: Paul Dyck
Subject: RE: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th

Paul,

This is the rnc legally approved version. thanks.

Dee Dee

> -----Original Message-----
> From: Paul Dyck
> Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 11:28 AM
> To: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100
> Subject: RE: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
>
> sounds good - thanks
>
> > -----Original Message-----
> > From: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100 [mailto:DLancaster@rnchq.org]
> > Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 11:14 AM
> > To: Paul Dyck
> > Subject: RE: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
> >
> > great. I will do a fact sheet and timeline. I will updat e you with rsvps as well. thanks.
> >
> > > -----Original Message-----
> > > From: Paul Dyck
> > > Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 11:14 AM
> > > To: Kate Walters
> > > Cc: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100
> > > Subject: RE: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
> > >
> > > Dee Dee - 8am works for Karl
> > >
> > > > -----Original Message-----
> > > > From: Kate Walters [mailto:kate@georgewbush.com]
> > > > Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 10:46 AM
> > > > To: Paul Dyck
> > > > Cc: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100
> > > > Subject: FW: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
> > > >
> > > > -----Original Message-----
> > > > From: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100 [mailto:DLancaster@rnchq.org]
> > > > Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 10:13 AM
> > > > To: Kate Walters
> > > > Subject: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
> > > >
> > > > Kate,

I understand from Jack that we are moving forward with a political update breakfast with Karl on the 11th at Joe canizaro's office. Can you tell me what time Karl wants the breakfast to begin? Is 8 a.m. appropriate?

thanks,

Dee Dee

Joe Canizaro
and Boysie Bollinger

Invite you
to a political update breakfast with

Special Guest
Karl Rove

Friday, Aril 11, 2003

8:00 a.m.

909 Poydras Street
Suite 1700
New Orleans, Louisiana

Please RSVP to Dee Dee Lancaster at the Republican National Committee at 202-863-8730.

Paid for by the Republican National Committee
310 First Street, SE, Washington, DC 20003
Not authorized by any candidate or candidate committee

From:	Vestewig, Lauren J.
To:	marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov <Schacht, Diana L.>;marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov <Perry, Philip J.>;marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov <Silverberg, Kristen>;marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov <Bellinger, John B.>;marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov <Moore, Holly T.>;george.wolfe@do.treas.gov <george.wolfe@do.treas.gov>;hatamj@ms.state.gov <hatamj@ms.state.gov>;paul.harris@usdoj.gov <paul.harris@usdoj.gov>;koffskyp@osdgc.osd.mil <koffskyp@osdgc.osd.mil>
CC:	elizabeth.vannoy@do.treas.gov <elizabeth.vannoy@do.treas.gov>;marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov <marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov>;marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov <Hunerwadel, Joan>;marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov <Winland, Emily>;marlene.s.boysel@usdoj.gov <Stone, Carla B.>
Sent:	4/2/2003 4:24:26 PM
Subject:	Documents for tomorrow's meeting re. Victims of Terrorism Compensation
Attachments:	Compensation for Victims of International Terrorism Act-OMB Draft.doc; Victims of Terror Questions.doc

Attached please find two documents for the meeting tomorrow at 10:30. Thanks.

<< Compensation for Victims of International Terrorism Act-OMB Draft.doc >> << Victims of Terror Questions.doc >>

A BILL

To establish a comprehensive federal program to ~~compensate~~ provide benefits to U.S. victims of international terrorism.

Be it enacted by the Senate and the House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SEC. 101 SHORT TITLE

This Act may be cited as the "~~Compensation~~ Benefits for Victims of International Terrorism Act of 2003."

SEC. 102 ESTABLISHMENT OF PROGRAM

There is established the ~~Compensation~~ Benefits for Victims of International Terrorism Program ("Program") under which monetary awards shall be made in accordance with this Act to eligible individuals who are physically injured, killed, or held hostage as a result of an act of international terrorism.

SEC. 103 DEFINITIONS

In this Act, the following definitions apply:

(a) Act of International Terrorism. - The term "act of international terrorism" means an activity that constitutes terrorism within the definition provided in Section 2(15) of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 and that was committed by foreign nationals or foreign governments (or the agents thereof) ~~against a national of the United States~~ and directed, in whole or in part, at the United States or at an individual because of his status as a national or employee of the United States.

(b) Claimant. - The term "claimant" means an individual filing a claim for ~~compensation~~ benefits under this Act. In the case of an individual who died as the direct result of the act of international terrorism, any individual who is eligible to recover under section 107(a) may be a claimant. In the case of an individual who suffered physical injury or was held hostage as the direct result of an act of international terrorism, the claimant shall be the individual who suffered the physical injury or was held hostage, except that a parent or legal guardian may file a claim on behalf of an individual who is less than 18 years of age, incompetent or incapacitated.

(c) ~~Office of International Claims~~Department. - The term "~~Office of International Claims~~Department" means the ~~Office of International Claims and Investment Disputes in the Office of the Legal Adviser,~~ Department of State.

(d) National of the United States. - The term "national of the United States" has the meaning given in section 101(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1101(a)).

(e) Physical injury. -The term "physical injury" means a physical injury to the body that caused, either temporarily or permanently, partial or total physical disability, incapacity, or disfigurement.

(f) United States. - The term "United States" means the States, the District of Colombia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Commonwealth of the Mariana Islands, the territories and possessions of the United States, the territorial sea of the United States, and the airspace above them.

SEC. 104 ADMINISTRATION

(a) Threshold Determination. -

(1) Upon the occurrence of a terrorist incident, the Secretary of State, after consultation with the Secretary of Homeland Security and the Attorney General, shall promptly determine in writing whether an act of international terrorism as defined in section 103(a) of this Act has taken place. Any such determination shall be published in the Federal Register.

(2) The Secretary of State's determination under this section shall be final and conclusive, and it shall not be subject to review in any judicial, administrative or other proceeding.

~~(3) If the Secretary determines that an act of international terrorism as defined in section 103(a) has taken place, the Secretary shall publish such a determination in the Federal Register and transmit a copy of it to the Office of International Claims.~~

(b) ~~Office of International Claims~~Department. -

(1) ~~Upon receipt of the~~When a threshold determination set forth in subsection (a) is made, the ~~Office of International Claims~~Department shall have jurisdiction to receive, examine, adjudicate, and render final decisions with respect to claims filed under section 105 in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

(2) When a final decision of the ~~Office of International Claims~~Department makes an award of benefits, the transmittal of the final decision shall be accompanied by the ~~Office of International Claims~~Department' certification of that award to the Secretary of the Treasury for payment.

(c) Payment of Awards. – The Secretary of the Treasury shall pay awards that are certified to him for payment under subsection (b)(2) from the Fund established under section 110(a).

SEC. 105 FILING OF CLAIMS

(a) In General. -- Claims for ~~compensation~~ benefits under the Program shall be filed with the ~~Office of International Claims~~Department on the form developed under subsection (b) and shall state the factual basis for eligibility for compensation and for the amount of compensation sought.

(b) Claim Form. –

(1) The ~~Office of International Claims~~Department shall develop a form that claimants shall use when submitting claims under subsection (a).

(2) The claim form at a minimum shall request -

(A) in the case of a claim filed with respect to a decedent, information demonstrating the decedent's death as a direct result of the act of international terrorism and information demonstrating that the claimant is eligible to recover under the Act;

(B) in the case of a claim not involving a death, information demonstrating the physical harm that the claimant suffered as a direct result of the act of international terrorism; and

(C) in the case of a claim filed by a parent or legal guardian, information demonstrating the claimant's status as a parent or legal guardian.

(c) The claim form shall state clearly and conspicuously the information contained in section 112 of this Act.

SEC. 106 ELIGIBILITY

(a) In General. - The ~~Office of International Claims~~Department shall review each claim filed under this Program and determine whether the claimant is an eligible individual under subsection (b) of this section.

(b) Eligible Individuals. -- An eligible individual is a victim who, as of the date on which the act of international terrorism occurred, (A) was a national of the United States or any person hired pursuant to section 2669(c) or section 3943 of title 22 of the United States Code; and (B)(i) died as the direct result of the act of international terrorism, (ii) suffered physical injury as the direct result of the act of international terrorism, or (iii) was held hostage as a direct result of an act of international terrorism and not solely for ransom.

(c) A participant or conspirator in any act of international terrorism, or a representative of such individual, shall not be eligible to receive ~~compensation~~ benefits under the Program.

(d) Exclusion for Armed Conflict. - This Program does not apply to any claim arising out of injury or death sustained while engaged in armed conflict by a member of the U.S. Armed Forces serving on active duty. The Secretary of Defense shall determine promptly upon request of the Secretary of State whether the incident giving rise to the claims shall be deemed an armed conflict for the purposes of the preceding sentence. The Secretary of Defense's determination under this subsection shall be final and conclusive, and it shall not be subject to review in any judicial, administrative or other proceeding.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision in this Act, no individual who is or was eligible to recover under the September 11th Victim Compensation Fund of 2001 shall be eligible to recover under this Act.

SEC. 107 NATURE OF AWARDS

(a) In any case in which the ~~Office of International Claims~~Department determines, under regulations issued pursuant to this Act, that an eligible individual has died as the direct and proximate result of an act of international terrorism, the ~~Office of International Claims~~Department shall ~~pay~~ award a benefit equal to that amount payable as a death benefit to public safety officers pursuant to section 3796 of title 42, United States Code, as amended, as follows:

(1) if there is no surviving child of the victim, to the surviving spouse of such victim;

(2) if there is a surviving child or children and a surviving spouse, one-half to the surviving child or children of such victim in equal shares and one-half to the surviving spouse;

(3) if there is a surviving child or children and no surviving spouse, to the child or children of such victim in equal shares; or

(4) if none of the above conditions apply and there is a surviving parent or parents, to the parent or parents of such victim in equal share.

(b) In the event the claimant was physically injured or held hostage as a direct result of an act of international terrorism, the ~~Office of International Claims~~Department shall ~~pay~~ award a benefit to the claimant in an amount determined by the ~~Office of International Claims~~Department up to, but not to exceed, the amount provided for under the preceding subsection. The Secretary of State may issue regulations regarding the amount of ~~compensation~~ benefits to be provided under this subsection for categories of injuries or for durations of time as a hostage.

(c) Awards shall be made without regard to the negligence or any other theory of liability of the claimant or of the individual on whose behalf the claimant is filing a claim.

~~(d) Whenever the Office of International Claims determines upon a showing of need and prior to final action that the claimant is likely to recover under this Act, the Office of International Claims may make an interim benefit payment not to exceed $3,000 to the individual entitled to receive a benefit under this Act. The amount of an interim payment under this paragraph shall be deducted from the amount of any final benefit paid to such individual. Where~~

~~there is no final benefit paid to such individual, the recipient of any interim payment shall be liable for repayment of such amount. The Office of International Claims may waive all or part of such repayment, considering for this purpose the hardship which would result from such repayment.~~

SEC. 108 LIMITATIONS ON CLAIMS

(a) No benefit is payable under this Act with respect to the death of a victim if a benefit is paid under this Act with respect to such victim having been injured or held hostage.

(b) No benefit is payable under this Act with respect to a victim having been injured or held hostage if a benefit is payable under this Act with respect to the death of such victim.

(c) Time Limitation for Filing. -- No claim may be filed on the basis of an act of international terrorism after the date that is 2 years after the date of publication in the Federal Register of the relevant determination under section 104(a)(3) of this Act.

SEC. 109 INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM BEFORE EFFECTIVE DATE

(a) Benefits may be awarded under this Act, subject to the provisions of subsection (b) of this section, to eligible individuals for acts of international terrorism that took place before the effective date of this Act and which occurred on or after November 1, 1979.

(b) The Secretary of State, ~~in~~ after consultation with the Secretary of Homeland Security and the Attorney General, shall issue, promptly upon the request of a claimant potentially covered under subsection (a), a determination whether an incident that occurred on or after November 1, 1979, and before the date of enactment of this Act was an act of international terrorism. Such requests will be considered only if made within one year after the date of enactment of this Act. Any such determination shall be published in the Federal Register. ~~If the Secretary determines that an act of international terrorism as defined in section 103(a) has taken place, the Secretary shall publish such a determination in the Federal Register and transmit a copy of it to the Office of International Claims in accordance with section 104(a)(3).~~

SEC. 110 AUTHORIZATION.

(a) There is established for the purpose of providing benefits under this Act a Victims of International Terrorism Benefits Fund ("Fund").

(1) There are authorized to be appropriated to the Department of State for deposit into the Fund such sums as may be necessary to pay awards under this Act.

(2) Amounts in the Fund shall be available until expended.

(3) Contributions. -- The Secretary of State is authorized to accept such amounts as may be contributed by individuals, business concerns, foreign governments, or other entities for the payment of awards certified under this Act and such amounts may be deposited directly into the Fund.

(4) Unexpended balances of expired appropriations available to the Department of State may be transferred directly into the Fund for the payment of awards under this Act.

(b) In addition to amounts otherwise authorized to be appropriated for the Department of State, there are authorized to be appropriated to the Department of State such sums as may be necessary to administer this Program. ~~The Secretary of State is authorized to spend such sums as are necessary to carrying out this Act.~~

SEC. 111 SUBROGRATION AND WAIVER

(a) The United States shall be subrogated, to the extent of the payments, to any recovery in litigation or settlement of litigation related to an injury or death of an individual paid under the Program.

(b) ~~Nothing in this Act shall limit or otherwise affect any right of the United States, including any right of recovery from a foreign state or instrumentality thereof, under any applicable law.~~By filing a claim under this Act, the claimant, or the individual on whose behalf the claimant is filing, waives any right to file, be a party to, or continue to pursue any claim, or execution upon a judgment, against the United States, its agencies or instrumentalities, or any foreign government or state, or its agencies or instrumentalities, in any judicial, administrative or other proceeding for damages sustained as a result of the act of international terrorism or where jurisdiction is based upon section 1605(a)(7) of title 28 of the United States Code: provided, however, that nothing in this Act shall limit or otherwise affect any right of recovery against individuals or entities who were participants or conspirators in the act of international terrorism.

(c) Any amounts recovered under subsections (a) or (b) shall be ~~used for subsequent awards under this Act~~shall be deposited into the Fund established by section 110(a).

SEC. 112 ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

The Secretary of State is authorized to establish such rules, regulations, and procedures as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act. Such rules, regulations, and procedures will be determinative of conflict of laws issues arising under this subchapter. Rules, regulations, and procedures issued under this subchapter may include regulations governing the recognition of agents or other persons representing claimants under this Act before the ~~Office of International Claims~~Department. The rules, regulations, and procedures may prescribe the maximum fees that may be charged for services performed in connection with any claim under this Act before the ~~Office of International Claims~~Department, and any agreement in violation of such rules and regulations shall be void.

SEC. 113 NO JUDICIAL REVIEW

Actions taken under this Act shall not be subject to review in any judicial, administrative or other proceeding.

SEC. 114 CONFORMING AMENDMENTS

(a) Section 201 of the Terrorism Risk Insurance Act of 2002 (Public Law 107-297) is amended by adding the following as new subsection (e):

"(e) Subsection (a) shall not apply to any judgment obtained pursuant to a complaint filed after [the date of submission of the Benefits for Victims of International Terrorism Act of 2003]."

(b) Section 1610(f) of Title 28, United States Code (28 U.S.C. 1610(f)), is amended by adding the following at the end as new subparagraph (4):

"(4) Subsection (f) shall not apply to any judgment obtained pursuant to a complaint filed after [the date of submission of the Benefits for Victims of International Terrorism Act of 2003]."

Questions

1. The State Department draft would require anyone opting into the program to waive the right to sue anyone other than a terrorist or conspirator. There does not appear to be a policy dispute on this, but there may be a legislative strategy question regarding whether Congress will be willing to require a waiver of the right to sue if the payment levels are based on the PSOB program (which does not require a waiver).
2. There appear to be three general options regarding the treatment of military personnel: (a) include them under the same circumstances as civilians, (b) exclude them only for terrorist acts that occur while they are engaged in "armed conflict," or (c) exclude them for all terrorist acts that occur while they are on active duty or d) don't exclude them but make them choose between this and existing DOD compensation. I don't know how this would work, but we could ask. Each of these options presents problems. I think that we may need to resolve similar questions w/r/t other federal personnel that have pre-existing compensation programs. For example, should we be excluding foreign service personnel? Also, what about police and other people who are eligible under PSOB?
3. Whether the Administration should affirmatively propose a compensation program or instead hold it for use as an alternative to proposals that are inconsistent with the Administration's principles.
4. Do we agree that we need to cover all pre-existing acts of terrorism? What do we do with people who already received compensation or may soon (like the families suing Libya)?
5. Whether the Secretary of State must obtain the "concurrence" of the Secretary of Homeland Security and the Attorney General before certifying that an act of international terrorism has occurred or only must "consult" with them.
6. Whether to include the repeal of TRIA's provision allowing access to frozen assets to satisfy judgments.

From: Dyck, Paul B.
To: <Ralston, Susan B.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/2/2003 4:45:41 PM
Subject: FW: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
Attachments: att1.htm; New Orleans invite.doc

This is a draft fax for Karl's political update breakfast next week for approval. Brett - this is not a fundraiser, just an update to some of the key RNC folks.

---------- Forwarded by Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP on 04/02/2003 04:45 PM ----------

Paul Dyck

04/02/2003 04:45:26 PM

Please respond to pdyck@georgewbush.com

Record Type: Record

To: Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: FW: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th

Karl in New Orleans on the 11th

-----Original Message-----

From: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100 [mailto:DLancaster@rnchq.org]

Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 3:22 PM

To: Paul Dyck

Subject: RE: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th

Paul,

is this okay to fax out? it will be on RNC letterhead. it is only going to the preapproved list of 20 or so.This is the rnc legally approved version. thanks.

Dee Dee

- att1.htm << att1.htm >>

- New Orleans invite.doc << New Orleans invite.doc >>

-----Original Message-----
From: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100 [mailto:DLancaster@rnchq.org]
Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 3:22 PM
To: Paul Dyck
Subject: RE: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th

Paul,

This is the rnc legally approved version. thanks.

Dee Dee

> -----Original Message-----
> From: Paul Dyck
> Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 11:28 AM
> To: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100
> Subject: RE: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
>
> sounds good - thanks
>
> > -----Original Message-----
> > From: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100 [mailto:DLancaster@rnchq.org]
> > Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 11:14 AM
> > To: Paul Dyck
> > Subject: RE: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
> >
> > great. I will do a fact sheet and timeline. I will update you with rsvps as well. thanks.
> >
> > > -----Original Message-----
> > > From: Paul Dyck
> > > Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 11:14 AM
> > > To: Kate Walters
> > > Cc: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100
> > > Subject: RE: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
> > >
> > > Dee Dee - 8am works for Karl
> > >
> > > > -----Original Message-----
> > > > From: Kate Walters [mailto:kate@georgewbush.com]
> > > > Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 10:46 AM
> > > > To: Paul Dyck
> > > > Cc: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100
> > > > Subject: FW: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
> > > >
> > > > -----Original Message-----
> > > > From: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100 [mailto:DLancaster@rnchq.org]
> > > > Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 10:13 AM
> > > > To: Kate Walters
> > > > Subject: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
> > > >
> > > > Kate,

I understand from Jack that we are moving forward with a political update breakfast with Karl on the 11th at Joe canizaro's office. Can you tell me what time Karl wants the breakfast to begin? Is 8 a.m. appropriate?

thanks,

Dee Dee

Joe Canizaro
and Boysie Bollinger

Invite you
to a political update breakfast with

Special Guest
Karl Rove

Friday, Aril 11, 2003

8:00 a.m.

909 Poydras Street
Suite 1700
New Orleans, Louisiana

Please RSVP to Dee Dee Lancaster at the Republican National Committee at 202-863-8730.

Paid for by the Republican National Committee
310 First Street, SE, Washington, DC 20003
Not authorized by any candidate or candidate committee

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Dyck, Paul B.>
CC: <Ralston, Susan B.>
Sent: 4/2/2003 4:53:12 PM
Subject: Re: FW: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
Attachments: att1.htm; New Orleans invite.doc

Approved.

Paul B. Dyck

04/02/2003 04:48:19 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Susan B. Ralston/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: FW: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th

This is a draft fax for Karl's political update breakfast next week for approval. Brett - this is not a fundraiser, just an update to some of the key RNC folks.

---------- Forwarded by Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP on 04/02/2003 04:45 PM ----------

Paul Dyck

04/02/2003 04:45:26 PM

Please respond to pdyck@georgewbush.com

Record Type: Record

To: Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: FW: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th

Karl in New Orleans on the 11th

-----Original Message-----

From: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100 [mailto:DLancaster@rnchq.org]

Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 3:22 PM

To: Paul Dyck

Subject: RE: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th

Paul,

is this okay to fax out? it will be on RNC letterhead. it is only going to the preapproved list of 20 or so.This is the rnc legally approved version. thanks.

Dee Dee

- att1.htm << att1.htm >>

- New Orleans invite.doc << New Orleans invite.doc >>

-----Original Message-----
From: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100 [mailto:DLancaster@rnchq.org]
Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 3:22 PM
To: Paul Dyck
Subject: RE: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th

Paul,

This is the rnc legally approved version. thanks.

Dee Dee

> -----Original Message-----
> From: Paul Dyck
> Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 11:28 AM
> To: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100
> Subject: RE: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
>
> sounds good - thanks
>
> > -----Original Message-----
> > From: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100 [mailto:DLancaster@rnchq.org]
> > Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 11:14 AM
> > To: Paul Dyck
> > Subject: RE: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
> >
> > great. I will do a fact sheet and timeline. I will update you with rsvps as well. thanks.
> >
> > > -----Original Message-----
> > > From: Paul Dyck
> > > Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 11:14 AM
> > > To: Kate Walters
> > > Cc: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100
> > > Subject: RE: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
> > >
> > > Dee Dee - 8am works for Karl
> > >
> > > > -----Original Message-----
> > > > From: Kate Walters [mailto:kate@georgewbush.com]
> > > > Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 10:46 AM
> > > > To: Paul Dyck
> > > > Cc: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100
> > > > Subject: FW: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
> > > >
> > > > -----Original Message-----
> > > > From: Dee Dee Lancaster - Team 100 [mailto:DLancaster@rnchq.org]
> > > > Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 10:13 AM
> > > > To: Kate Walters
> > > > Subject: Karl in New Orleans on the 11th
> > > >
> > > > Kate,

I understand from Jack that we are moving forward with a political update breakfast with Karl on the 11th at Joe canizaro's office. Can you tell me what time Karl wants the breakfast to begin? Is 8 a.m. appropriate?

thanks,

Dee Dee

Joe Canizaro
and Boysie Bollinger

Invite you
to a political update breakfast with

Special Guest
Karl Rove

Friday, Aril 11, 2003

8:00 a.m.

909 Poydras Street
Suite 1700
New Orleans, Louisiana

Please RSVP to Dee Dee Lancaster at the Republican National Committee at 202-863-8730.

Paid for by the Republican National Committee
310 First Street, SE, Washington, DC 20003
Not authorized by any candidate or candidate committee

From: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/2/2003 9:19:22 PM
Subject: Michigan

Did you mean to suggest that you think Mich programs are upheld?
.

From: Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary) <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/2/2003 7:48:35 PM
Subject: : Class Action deal
Attachments: P_087AF003_WHO.TXT_1.html

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary)" <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov> ("Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary)" <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 3-APR-2003 00:48:35.00
SUBJECT:: Class Action deal
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

FYI, we just cut a deal to get Feinstein on board. We are marking it up tomorrow and expect to finish it tomorrow. 9 Amendments besides Feinstein's, most of which we have seen before and can easily defeat. Leahy will also offer his First Responders bill and a Crim Penalties for Doc Destruction amendment. Should be an interesting markup.

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTE:

The information contained in this e-mail is legally privileged and confidential information intended only for the use of the individuals or entities named as addressees. If you, the reader of this message, are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution, publication, or copying of this message is strictly prohibited. If you have received this message in error, please forgive the inconvenience, immediately notify the sender, and delete the original message without keeping a copy.

- att1.htm
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_087AF003_WHO.TXT_1>

FYI, we just cut a deal to get Feinstein on board. We are marking it up tomorrow and expect to finish it tomorrow. 9 Amendments bes ides Feinstein's, most of which we have seen before and can easily defeat.&nbs p; Leahy will also offer his First Responders bill and a Crim Penalties for Doc De struction amendment. Should be an interesting markup.

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTE:

The information contained in this e-mail is legally privileged and confidential information intended only for the use of the individuals or entities named as addressees. If you, the reader of this message, are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution, publication, or copying of this message is strictly prohibited. If you have received this message in error, please forgive the inconvenience, immediately notify the sender, and delete the original message without keeping a copy.

From: CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/3/2003 7:54:34 AM
Subject: : TRANSCRIPT - Secretary Powell Media Availability 04/03/03

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brian Bravo (CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 3-APR-2003 12:54:34.00
SUBJECT:: TRANSCRIPT - Secretary Powell Media Availability 04/03/03
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

MEDIA AVAILABILITY WITH SECRETARY OF STATE COLIN POWELL FOLLOWING MEETING WITH NATO MINISTERS AND EUROPEAN UNION OFFICIALS

NATO HEADQUARTERS, BRUSSELS, BELGIUM
9:41 A.M. EST, THURSDAY, APRIL 3, 2003

;

SEC. POWELL: Well, good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen. It's a pleasure to be back at NATO, and I'd like to express my thanks and appreciation to the secretary-general and to the presidency of the European Union for making it possible for me to meet here today with both the NAC and with all of the representatives of the European Union in two different sessions. I also had a series of very productive bilateral discussions.

;;;;;; I came to Brussels today because I wanted to take this opportunity to discuss with our European colleagues the progress of our campaign in Iraq, Operation Iraqi Freedom. But beyond just talking about a military campaign, I wanted to talk about the future.

;;;;;; The military campaign is going well. Two weeks into Operation Iraqi Freedom, coalition forces are slowly but surely reducing the capability of the Iraqi armed forces; are on the outskirts of Baghdad approaching Saddam Hussein International Airport; slowly reducing the remaining pockets of resistance in the south. Humanitarian aid is starting to flow. We've been able to declare the southern most part of the country a secure area so that U.N. organizations can begin their work. And with each passing day, Iraqi forces become weaker, coalition forces become stronger. A very skilled campaign is being waged, and we all hope that it will come to an end soon, and it is an end that will certainly be successful.

;;;;;; I briefed my colleagues on that campaign, but as I said, we really came here to talk about a future, a future for the people of Iraq; a future that will be based on a new Iraq, an Iraq that is living in peace and freedom with a government that is representative of all the people, that is responsive to the needs of the people; a government that will no longer be developing weapons of mass destruction or dealing in terrorism activities or brutalizing its own people; a government that will use its oil wealth for the benefit of its people and not for preparing to invade its neighbors or to develop weapons of mass destruction.

;;;;;; I indicated to my colleagues that the work of reconstruction and rebuilding will require the entire international community to join together. We will be going through a phase process, obviously, in the post-hostilities period. Initially, military commanders, the coalition commanders, will be responsible for stabilizing the situation; for securing the country and the people; for making sure that we find all the weapons of mass destruction and identify them, destroy them, pull out the infrastructure and capability; making sure that we have disarmed any remaining remnants of the Iraqi army that might be a threat to their own people or to coalition forces.

;;;;;; But at the same time that the military commander is performing that job, which is his responsibility as the commander of the liberating force, we will quickly want to bring in individuals who can establish an interim Iraqi authority so that the people of Iraq can very quickly see that their own representatives are moving into positions of authority. And as the interim authority develops capability, responsibility will be passed to them to make decisions about the future of Iraq and how Iraq will be governed and how it will be led and how it will be administered.

;;;;;; We also expect that during this post-hostility period, international organizations will have an important role to play. As President Bush and Prime Minister Blair and Prime Minister Aznar said at the Azores summit a few weeks ago, the U.N. has a role to play as a partner in this effort. The specific role to be played by the United Nations was discussed quite extensively here among my colleagues. And these are discussions that will continue and continue in New York. And I'll be having conversations with the secretary-general about what I heard here as we work on what resolutions might be appropriate as we move forward.

;;;;;; I think this has been a very successful day, from my perspective. It shows that notwithstanding the disagreements we have had within the transatlantic communities, serious disagreements, heated disagreements where we came to opposite conclusions on a very important issue of the day, we now must move forward and align ourselves again, with the need to serve the Iraqi people. The people of Iraq deserve a government that is responsive to its needs, that reflects all of the dreams and hopes and aspirations of the Iraqi people. And it is our obligation, the obligation of the coalition, the obligation of the international community, the obligation of all of us, to make sure that that hope is not deferred or not defeated.

;;;;;; Thank you very much, and I'd be delighted to take your questions.

;;;;;; RICHARD BOUCHER (State Department spokesman): Start down here with Mr. Schweid.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, that military job that you envision once Saddam Hussein is gone -- will that benefit -- would that benefit by the participation of NATO peacekeepers? And are you more optimistic that there will be a consensus on a U.N. role? Have you made some movements in that direction today?

;;;;;; SEC. POWELL: With respect to the second part of the question, there will definitely be a U.N. role, but what the exact nature of that role will be remains to be seen. We are hopeful that the secretary-general will in the very near future appoint a coordinator who can work with the coalition and work with the interim authority when it is created, and to supervise the flow of humanitarian aid coming from U.N. organizations and also serve as the eyes and ears of the U.N. in the area. And so I'll be talking to the secretary-general about that again.

;;;;;; Oh, the second part of your question --

;;;;;; Q (Off mike) -- was, in that immense military task, will NATO be involved?

;;;;;; SEC. POWELL: Yeah. I would -- I would not want to answer that yet because I think this will be a judgment that would have to be made by the coalition military leaders. At some point, the combat operation that is under way will transition into stability and security operations, and ultimately into other kinds of operations, and we will have to make an assessment at that time of what the needs are.

;;;;;; What I am pleased about today is that all of my NATO colleague saw that as a possibility and were willing to consider it. We placed no request before NATO today. Deputy Secretary of Defense Paul Wolfowitz, when he was here in December, laid out some suggestions that NATO could consider, and they were tabled, and they go to the usual activities such as peacekeeping, things of that nature. And I'm pleased that there was at least a receptive attitude here today; that NATO, as a group, is willing to consider a NATO military role, if one is appropriate, and that's a judgment that will have to be made at some time in the future. So we've begun a discussion within NATO. The important thing is that nobody raised any objection to that possibility.

;;;;;; MR. BOUCHER: Okay, go to the woman with the glasses in the third row.

;;;;;; Q My name is Fabia Nirak (ph). My husband is missing since your forces shot on his car. I sent you a personal letter this morning asking you for information, and I would like to know if you are going to give me this information?

;;;;;; SEC. POWELL: Yes, ma'am. I received an e-mail from you yesterday. And when I received the information and realized there was a possibility that we might have some information about your husband, I immediately contacted our military authorities. For the last almost 18 hours now, they've been hard at work trying to find out whatever they could about your husband.

;;;;;; So far, we have not received any information back concerning your husband's situation. But I want you to know that it is being looked at with all the intensity we can bring to the case, and we'll be back in touch with you as soon as we find out any information whatsoever.

;;;;;; Q Will you make me a personal promise that you will check and give me back the information?

;;;;;; SEC. POWELL: Yes, ma'am.

;;;;;; Q Thank you.

;;;;;; MR. BOUCHER: Okay, let's go down here.

;;;;;; SEC. POWELL: I'm very sensitive to this. I know -- I understand your feelings. And as soon as we heard of it yesterday, from my plane we immediately contacted our military authorities in the region and asked them to look into it, and they have been looking for the last 18 -- 18 hours. But so far, we have not received any information that is -- that would be useful to you. But I give you my personal promise we will do everything we can to find out what happened.

;;;;;; MR. BOUCHER: Let's go down here.

;;;;;; Q Secretary Powell.

;;;;;; SEC. POWELL: Where?

;;;;;; Q In the front row.

;;;;;; SEC. POWELL: Oh. I'm sorry.

;;;;;; Q Robert van de Roer of NRC Handelsblad, from the Netherlands. When you came into office, you were a sort of diplomatic star in the view of many Europeans, but in the last few months you have, in the view of many Europeans but also Americans, you have become sort of a symbol of failing U.S. diplomacy. Do you regret that?

;;;;;; SEC. POWELL: Well, I don't believe I am a symbol of failing U.S. diplomacy. So I don't accept your premise. U.S. diplomacy --

;;;;;; Q (Off mike) -- premise -- (off mike) -- question.

;;;;;; SEC. POWELL: No, it was a question with a premise.

;;;;;; Q Many Europeans, many Americans --

;;;;;; MR. BOUCHER: Let's go to the end.

;;;;;; SEC. POWELL: Well, we won't go to polls and ratings, but maybe another time.

;;;;;; The issue is, I think, U.S. diplomacy is alive and well. That's why I'm here today. That's why I'm here today to speak to all of my European Union colleagues and NATO colleagues about a way forward. The United States took a bold diplomatic step last September when President Bush went to the United Nations and presented a problem to the United Nations that one particular dictator and one particular regime that has been brutalizing its people and been developing weapons of mass destruction for 12 years had ignored the will of the international community. And we didn't go off unilaterally; we multilaterally brought it to the U.N. Seven weeks later, as a result of, I think, a lot of effective diplomatic work on the part of the United States and the other members of the Security Council, we produced a resolution, 1441, which was voted on unanimously 15 to zero, that said Saddam Hussein and his regime is guilty, remains guilty, is being given one last chance to come into compliance, and if it does not come into compliance, serious consequences would flow.

;;;;;; And after several months and listening to the report of the inspectors, the United States and a number of other nations on the Security Council and elsewhere in the world felt it was important that we take action. There were other countries that felt strongly that no action was appropriate, and we understand that public opinion in Europe was opposed to such action, as well. Nevertheless, the United States would not step back from its responsibilities and the responsibilities it felt the Security Council had, as well.

;;;;;; Some people suggested that we should get a second resolution. We didn't believe one was needed because there was sufficient authority in 1441, which was passed unanimously. Nevertheless, we made an effort to get a second resolution. We were not successful, so we pulled back because it was clear that some members of the council were going to veto it no matter what it said. And so we decided let's not go with the resolution; we have enough authority.

;;;;;; And now we have a coalition of willing nations -- close to 50 now -- it might be 50 today -- that have engaged in this operation. And in a period of two weeks time, through a very successful military campaign that has been conducted with great skill -- and a lot of commentary -- but with great skill, is close to achieving its objective.

;;;;;; And so, we used skillful diplomacy to get to the point of 1441. But diplomacy must be backed by force. And diplomacy is useless if one is not willing to use force to impose the will of the international community on a nation such as Iraq, which violated the will of the international community for 12 years.

;;;;;; MR. BOUCHER: Okay, let's go in the aisle down here.

;;;;;; Q Yes, Mr. Secretary. There's -- it's apparent that there's not yet a consensus within Washington as to what the role of the U.N. should be in the post-conflict period.

;;;;;; But it's very clear in NATO, and among the European leaders, that there is a strong feeling that the U.N. should have a very central role, a central political role, as the French foreign minister described it.

;;;;;; What kind of report are you going to bring back to Washington as to what you've heard here and how that should shape U.S. policy? And just secondly, do you think there should be some sort of conference along the lines of the Bonn conference to set up an interim authority?

;;;;;; SEC. POWELL: What I will report back to the president and my colleagues in the National Security Council is what I have heard here today. This was a -- this was a series of meetings of a consultative nature, and when you're consulting, you listen as well as speak. And I will report back what I heard.

;;;;;; We are still examining the proper role for the United Nations. I'm not surprised that there is not consensus yet because the debate and the discussion has just begun. And so we had a very healthy dialogue. We all understand that the U.N. must play a role. The president has said so; he said it clearly. The nature of that role and how it is to be played remains to be seen.

;;;;;; But one also has to remember that it was the coalition that came together and took on this difficult mission at political expense, at the expense of the treasure, the money that it costs, but at the expense of lives as well. And when we have succeeded, and when we look down the road to create this better life for the Iraqi people to rebuild this society, to rebuild this country after these decades of devastation wrought by Saddam Hussein, I think the coalition has to play the leading role in determining the way forward. This is not to say that we have to shut others out, and not to say that we will not work in partnership with the international community, and especially with the United Nations.

;;;;;; And so the resolutions that will be required, what will be in those resolutions and how responsibilities will be set up between different parties remains to be seen, just as it is in every instance, just as it has been done in Afghanistan.

;;;;;; How an interim authority will be developed is the subject of discussion, and I got some good ideas here today, which I will be sharing with my colleagues when I get home.

;;;;;; MR. BOUCHER: Okay. Let's go to the gentleman in the gray shirt here.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Powell, today has been said plenty words about the reconstruction of Iraq, but can you say about the reconstruction of -- political reconstruction of Iraq? Who will come instead of regime of Saddam? And do you -- are you sure that the opposition of Saddam is a democratic opposition?

;;;;;; SEC. POWELL: We want to put in place a government -- initially put in place an interim authority, so that a government can be raised up from that interim authority. Ultimately, the Iraqis themselves have to create their own government. It has to be a government that will preserve the territorial integrity of Iraq and will be representative of all the people of Iraq. The opposition leaders we have been working with are committed to that end.

;;;;;; And I believe that the kind of interim authority that we want to create and the kind of government we want to see rise up would be a government that would contain individuals who have fought long and hard for many years outside of the country for the liberation of Iraq, as well as individuals within the country who recognize the damage that Saddam Hussein has done to the country and who are willing to participate in a new form of government to provide a new life for Iraq and who will be committed to the values that we believe are important and which we believe the Iraqi people are deserving of. And so it will be a combination of those who have struggled from the outside, as well as those in the inside. But above all, it will be representative.

;;;;;; MR. BOUCHER: We've got time for one or two more. The gentleman in the red tie had a question.

;;;;;; Q Greg Burke from Fox News. Mr. Secretary, I'd like to ask -- the Europeans seem to be pushing quite a bit for the road map, and I'd like to know the status of that and also if you can deliver.

;;;;;; SEC. POWELL: The road map is ready to be delivered. And as we have said and the president has said, we are anxious to present it to the new Palestinian prime minister. We are waiting for him to be confirmed as prime minister. We expect this will happen in the next week or two. Once he forms a Cabinet and receives the vote of confirmation or confidence in that Cabinet, then he will be confirmed. The road map will be delivered at that time, delivered to both parties and presented to the world.

;;;;;; And the United States will remain deeply engaged in working with both parties and other nations in the region and interested nations throughout the world to assist both sides in taking the steps necessary to move down that road map and to move toward peace.

;;;;;; We have been waiting for new Palestinian leadership to come forward, and we are now seeing that happen. We know that that new leadership, in order for there to be success, must be committed to the end of violence, the end of terror and to responsible government. And we know that there will be obligations on the Israeli side, as well. And so, once the road map has been delivered to both sides, they'll have an opportunity to comment on it and talk to each other about it, what the mutual obligations are. And we are ready to engage in a very, very -- very, very comprehensive and forceful way.

;;;;;; MR. BOUCHER: Okay. Last one over here.

;;;;;; Q Mack Huser (ph), Mein (ph) News. Mr. Colin Powell, do you still believe it was the reasons that you gave to justify the war, after two weeks with a very strong resistance from the Iraqi people and no evidence of the weapons you are looking for?

;;;;;; And second, do you have an idea what will happen, what they're going to do with the Iraqi regime after the war?

;;;;;; SEC. POWELL: With respect to what we've been doing for the last two weeks, we've been fighting a battle, fighting a series of battles, fighting a campaign. And that's been our priority. We have not yet started our search for weapons of mass destruction, which we know are well hidden throughout the country and within the Iraqi industrial infrastructure, but we will certainly be doing that. We have uncovered quite a bit of protective gear that the Iraqis have, which certainly suggested that they were prepared to fight in chemical environments -- so are we, but everybody knows and the Iraqis knew that we didn't have any chemical weapons to be used in a conflict.

;;;;;; And so that's at least an indication that they were aware that they might be fighting in a chemical environment produced by themselves. And so we will continue to search and look for the weapons of mass destruction. I'm quite confident they will be found.

;;;;;; And, I'm sorry?

;;;;;; Q Second, do you have any idea what they're going to do with the Iraqi regime after the war?

;;;;;; SEC. POWELL: Well, we're going to -- not speaking about personalities yet, but this regime will be removed. Those who are guilty of crimes against their own people or crimes against humanity will be brought to justice.

;;;;;; Thank you very much.

;;;;;; MR. BOUCHER: Thank you very much, ladies and gentlemen.

END.

;

From: CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/3/2003 3:58:05 AM
Subject: : FW: Letter to Paul McCullough
Attachments: P_LCFAF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Patrick J. Bumatay (CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 3-APR-2003 08:58:05.00
SUBJECT:: FW: Letter to Paul McCullough
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Please let me know if you have any problems with the draft and if it should go under ARG's signature.; FYI - Jay L. drafted it.
;
-----Original Message-----
From: Burks, Jonathan W.
Sent: Thursday, April 03, 2003 7:19 AM
To: Gillmor, Eleanor L.; Ritacco, Krista L.; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Ralston, Susan B.; Hernandez, Israel
Subject: Letter to Paul McCullough

Harriet emailed your principals (and sometimes you too) yesterday with her suggested revisions to the Jay's draft response to Paul McCullough. Please let me know if your principal is OK with her revisions. (I've attached a copy for easy reference.)
;
(Patrick, also please check to see if you guys concur this should come from someone in the counsel's office.)
;
Thanks,
Jon
;
;
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_LCFAF003_WHO.TXT_1>

March 28, 2003

Mr. Paul McCulloch
440 Louisiana, 16th Floor
Houston, TX 77002

Dear Mr. McCulloch,

On behalf of President Bush, thank you for your letter about the President's proposals on medical liability reform and for the information regarding Javier DeLuna. The President appreciates hearing your views and welcomes your suggestions about this important issue. President Bush supports recovery of all medical costs and economic damages where the facts justify an award. He also supports awarding reasonable non-economic damages and punitive damages in cases where the facts justify recovery of such an award. However, the medical liability crisis is threatening access to health care in many states and must be addressed.

Excessive jury awards are driving up costs, encouraging frivolous lawsuits, and promoting long, drawn-out legal proceedings. The fear of lawsuits forces many good doctors to practice defensive medicine, ordering excessive tests, procedures, and treatments. These unnecessary practices increase costs for patients, while decreasing quality and availability of care. In addition, many insurers have dropped medical liability coverage for doctors, particularly in the fields of neurosurgery, and obstetrics and gynecology, or raised premiums dramatically, forcing some doctors out of medicine.

The President has proposed a national solution that will make quality health care more affordable, more available, and safer for all Americans, while protecting the injured patient's right to hold accountable doctors who practice bad medicine. These reforms include ensuring that injured patients have the right to obtain appropriate compensation for economic losses while preventing excessive non-economic and punitive damage awards that drive up costs and encourage unnecessary lawsuits and lengthy legal proceedings.

These changes will ensure that quality of care improves as patients gain greater access to physicians. Experience in many states has demonstrated that these medical liability reforms can reduce Federal government costs by $30 billion per year or more, freeing up funds that can make health care more affordable. In addition, these standards can reduce health care costs for all Americans by $60 billion or more, and make our system more fair, predictable, and timely.

The President has called for reserving punitive damages for cases where they are justified, but not limiting economic damages incurred by patients like Javier in any way. The President has also called for the payment of judgments over time rather than in a single lump sum, to ensure that appropriate payments are there when patients like Javier may need them. Under the President's plan, even excluding any potential non-economic or punitive damages, Javier would be able to receive full compensation for all medical costs and all economic damages, including both lost and potential wages.

The President believes that these reforms allow injured parties to recover justifiable damages, but they will significantly improve our medical liability system and help our health care system remain the best in the world. Thank you again for writing.

Sincerely,

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Bellinger, John B.>;<Addington, David S.>
Sent: 4/3/2003 8:09:20 AM
Subject:

See the item on page A2 of today's WSJ re seizure of Iraqi assets.
.

From: CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/3/2003 4:12:05 AM
Subject: : RE: FW: Letter to Paul McCullough

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Patrick J. Bumatay (CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 3-APR-2003 09:12:05.00
SUBJECT:: RE: FW: Letter to Paul McCullough
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Harriet recommended that our office sign it.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Thursday, April 03, 2003 9:03 AM
To: Bumatay, Patrick J.
Subject: Re: FW: Letter to Paul McCullough

What doesn't Jay send it if he drafted it?

From: Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/03/2003 08:57:31 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: FW: Letter to Paul McCullough

Please let me know if you have any problems with the draft and if it should go under ARG's signature. FYI - Jay L. drafted it.

-----Original Message-----
From: Burks, Jonathan W.
Sent: Thursday, April 03, 2003 7:19 AM
To: Gillmor, Eleanor L.; Ritacco, Krista L.; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Ralston, Susan B.; Hernandez, Israel
Subject: Letter to Paul McCullough

Harriet emailed your principals (and sometimes you too) yesterday with her suggested revisions to the Jay's draft response to Paul McCullough. Please let me know if your principal is OK with her revisions. (I've attached a copy for easy reference.)

(Patrick, also please check to see if you guys concur this should come from someone in the counsel's office.)

Thanks,
Jon

<< File: McCulloch 3-27-03.doc >>

From: Conference Department <kbrand@cato.org>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/3/2003 8:28:20 AM
Subject: : Space: The Free-Market Frontier 4/16/03 a Cato Institute Book Forum

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Conference Department <kbrand@cato.org> (Conference Department <kbrand@cato.org> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 3-APR-2003 13:28:20.00
SUBJECT:: Space: The Free-Market Frontier 4/16/03 a Cato Institute Book Forum
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

The Cato Institute
invites you to a Book Forum

Space: The Free-Market Frontier

featuring

Edward L. Hudgins
The Objectivist Center
Editor, Space: The Free-Market Frontier (Cato Institute 2003)

Buzz Aldrin
SpaceShare
Apollo XI Astronaut

James Muncy
PoliSpace

As questions are raised about the future of the American space program, it may be an opportune time to reconsider the role of the private sector. Just as private entrepreneurs made personal computers and the Internet accessible to everyone, private enterprise should be given the chance to make space accessible for commerce, science, and recreation. Come hear Cato guest speakers discuss the need for Congress to remove barriers to private space efforts; suggest free-market ways for NASA to spend its funds; and lay out a vision for how to make America a space-faring society as outlined in the Cato Institute book, Space: The Free-Market Frontier.

Wednesday, April 16, 2003
12:00 noon
(Luncheon to follow)

Cato Book Forums and luncheons are free of charge.
To register, visit www.cato.org, e-mail Krystal Brand at kbrand@cato.org, fax (202) 371-0841, or call (202) 789-5229 by 12:00 noon, Tuesday, April 15.
News media inquiries only (no registrations), please call (202) 789-5200.
The Cato Institute is located at 1000 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Washington, D. C.

Cato Institute ? 1000 Massachusetts Ave., N.W. ? Washington, D.C. 20001 ? www.cato.org

To unsubscribe, send an email to: unsubscribe-14391@uptilt.com with the address: dginsburg@cadc.uscourts.gov in the subject line.

From: Douglas, Penny G.
To: <Everson, Nanette>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/3/2003 8:59:41 AM
Subject: RE: DID YOU SEE THIS AND SEND ON?

I called VOLPAC to see if they are a 527(e) organization. I'll let you know as soon as I hear back from them.

-----Original Message-----
From: Everson, Nanette
Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 3:40 PM
To: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Cc: Douglas, Penny G.
Subject: DID YOU SEE THIS AND SEND ON?

What are your thoughts? Attached below are the thoughts of our shop.
---------- Forwarded by Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP on 04/02/2003 03:40 PM ----------

Emory Rounds
04/02/2003 03:37:42 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: DID YOU SEE THIS AND SEND ON?

---------- Forwarded by Emory Rounds/WHO/EOP on 04/02/2003 03:36 PM ----------

Emory Rounds
03/25/2003 03:13:45 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: VOLPAC Invitation

This responds to your e-mail request for advice, below. In addition, is this a matter for consideration also by Brett Kavanaugh, given the Hatch Act issues?

Penny Douglas is an Executive Assistant in the Office of Legislative Affairs, and is not a commissioned officer. She plans to participate in VOLPAC events scheduled for April 25 to 27, 2003, in Nashville, Tennessee, and asks whether she may accept VOLPAC's offer to pay her airfare to and from Nashville, so that she may attend the event.

Ms. Douglas explains that VOLPAC is the political action committee of Senator Bill Frist. She also advises that she has, in the past, volunteered to assist VOLPAC with the logistics of its annual Spring weekend event.

The Office of Special Counsel's web-site notes that an employee may attend and be active at political rallies and meetings; join and be an active member of a political party or club; and, hold office in political clubs or parties.

If this event is a fundraiser, the Office of Special Counsel's web-site also notes that, among other permissible activities, an employee may attend political fundraising functions and is allowed to organize a fundraiser, as long as she does not personally solicit, accept, or receive contributions. She may even give a speech or keynote address at a political fundraiser, as long as she is not on duty, and does not solicit political contributions. However, her name may not be shown on an invitation to such a fundraiser as a sponsor or point of contact.

Regarding the VOLPAC offer of travel expenses, ethics regulations provide that an employee who may take an active part in political management or in political campaigns under the Hatch Act, may accept meals, lodgings, transportation and other benefits, including free attendance at events, when provided, in connection with such active participation, by a political organization described in 26 U.S.C. 527(e). See 5 C.F.R. § 2635.204(f).

· The term "political organization" in 26 U.S.C. 527(e) means "a party, committee, association, fund, or other organization (whether or not incorporated) organized and operated primarily for the purpose of directly or indirectly accepting contributions or making expenditures, or both, for an exempt function."

· The term "exempt function" in 26 U.S.C. 527(e) means "the function of influencing or attempting to influence the selection, nomination, election, or appointment of any individual to any Federal, State, or local public office or office in a political organization, or the election of Presidential or Vice-Presidential electors, whether or not such individual or electors are selected, nominated, elected, or appointed. Such term includes the making of expenditures relating to an office described in the preceding sentence which, if incurred by the individual, would be allowable as a deduction under section 162(a)."

· The term "political management" is not otherwise defined.

It is not precisely clear from its web-site (http://www.volpac.com/index.html) whether VOLPAC is actually a "527(e)" organization, although that most likely is the case considering its mission and purpose statements.

If Ms. Douglas ascertains that VOLPAC is such an organization, then she may accept the gift of free airfare, as well as any meals, lodgings, other transportation, and other benefits, from that group in connection with her participation in the event. However, the event apparently begins on a Friday and, if she travels to or attends the event during her normal duty hours, she should be in a leave status during those hours.

****

---------- Forwarded by Emory Rounds/WHO/EOP on 03/25/2003 03:05 PM ----------

Nanette Everson
03/25/2003 12:09:51 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Emory Rounds/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: VOLPAC Invitation

please advise

---------- Forwarded by Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP on 03/25/2003 12:14 PM ----------

From: Penny G. Douglas/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/25/2003 11:37:37 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: VOLPAC Invitation

Hi Nanette -

Last week, I spoke to you briefly at the New Employees' Ethics Briefing regarding my invitation to participate in the VOLPAC events on April 25-27, 2003. VOLPAC is the political action committee of Senator Bill Frist of TN. Each year VOLPAC hosts a Spring Meeting in Nashville, TN for its members. In the past, I have volunteered to assist with the logistics of each event i.e transportation.

VOLPAC has offered to pay my airfare to/from Nashville. Do you see any problem with accepting this? Please let me know if I need to provide you with more information.

Thank you -

Penny Douglas
Office of Legislative Affairs
6-2230

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Bumatay, Patrick J.>
Sent: 4/3/2003 9:02:52 AM
Subject: Re: FW: Letter to Paul McCullough
Attachments: McCulloch 3-27-03.doc

What doesn't Jay send it if he drafted it?

From: Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/03/2003 08:57:31 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: FW: Letter to Paul McCullough

Please let me know if you have any problems with the draft and if it should go under ARG's signature. FYI - Jay L. drafted it.

-----Original Message-----

From: Burks, Jonathan W.

Sent: Thursday, April 03, 2003 7:19 AM

To: Gillmor, Eleanor L.; Ritacco, Krista L.; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Ralston, Susan B.; Hernandez, Israel

Subject: Letter to Paul McCullough

Harriet emailed your principals (and sometimes you too) yesterday with her suggested revisions to the Jay's draft response to Paul McCullough. Please let me know if your principal is OK with her revisions. (I've attached a copy for easy reference.)

(Patrick, also please check to see if you guys concur this should come from someone in the counsel's office.)

Thanks,

Jon

<< McCulloch 3-27-03.doc >>

March 28, 2003

Mr. Paul McCulloch
440 Louisiana, 16th Floor
Houston, TX 77002

Dear Mr. McCulloch,

On behalf of President Bush, thank you for your letter about the President's proposals on medical liability reform and for the information regarding Javier DeLuna. The President appreciates hearing your views and welcomes your suggestions about this important issue. President Bush supports recovery of all medical costs and economic damages where the facts justify an award. He also supports awarding reasonable non-economic damages and punitive damages in cases where the facts justify recovery of such an award. However, the medical liability crisis is threatening access to health care in many states and must be addressed.

Excessive jury awards are driving up costs, encouraging frivolous lawsuits, and promoting long, drawn-out legal proceedings. The fear of lawsuits forces many good doctors to practice defensive medicine, ordering excessive tests, procedures, and treatments. These unnecessary practices increase costs for patients, while decreasing quality and availability of care. In addition, many insurers have dropped medical liability coverage for doctors, particularly in the fields of neurosurgery, and obstetrics and gynecology, or raised premiums dramatically, forcing some doctors out of medicine.

The President has proposed a national solution that will make quality health care more affordable, more available, and safer for all Americans, while protecting the injured patient's right to hold accountable doctors who practice bad medicine. These reforms include ensuring that injured patients have the right to obtain appropriate compensation for economic losses while preventing excessive non-economic and punitive damage awards that drive up costs and encourage unnecessary lawsuits and lengthy legal proceedings.

These changes will ensure that quality of care improves as patients gain greater access to physicians. Experience in many states has demonstrated that these medical liability reforms can reduce Federal government costs by $30 billion per year or more, freeing up funds that can make health care more affordable. In addition, these standards can reduce health care costs for all Americans by $60 billion or more, and make our system more fair, predictable, and timely.

The President has called for reserving punitive damages for cases where they are justified, but not limiting economic damages incurred by patients like Javier in any way. The President has also called for the payment of judgments over time rather than in a single lump sum, to ensure that appropriate payments are there when patients like Javier may need them. Under the President's plan, even excluding any potential non-economic or punitive damages, Javier would be able to receive full compensation for all medical costs and all economic damages, including both lost and potential wages.

The President believes that these reforms allow injured parties to recover justifiable damages, but they will significantly improve our medical liability system and help our health care system remain the best in the world. Thank you again for writing.

Sincerely,

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 4/3/2003 5:20:53 AM
Subject: :

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 3-APR-2003 10:20:53.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales (CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

American Bar Association Standard for Evaluation of Nominees:
The ABA evaluation &is directed solely to professional qualifications:
integrity, professional competence and judicial temperament. Integrity is self-defining. The nominee's character and general reputation in the legal community are investigated, as are his or her industry and diligence.
Professional competence encompasses such qualities as intellectual capacity, judgment, writing and analytical ability, knowledge of the law and breadth of professional experience. . . . In investigating judicial temperament, the Committee considers the nominee,s compassion, decisiveness, open-mindedness, courtesy, patience, freedom from bias and commitment to equal justice under the law.8 ABA Web Site.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Roger.Kodat@do.treas.gov [UNKNOWN] <Roger.Kodat@do.treas.gov>
CC: graym.stern@nara.gov [UNKNOWN] <graym.stern@nara.gov>;randall.lewis@do.treas.gov [UNKNOWN] <randall.lewis@do.treas.gov>
Sent: 4/3/2003 10:08:33 AM
Subject: : Re: FW: President's Commission on US Postal Service: records
Attachments: P_2K6BF003_WHO.TXT_1.html

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 3-APR-2003 15:08:33.00
SUBJECT:: Re: FW: President's Commission on US Postal Service: records
TO:Roger.Kodat@do.treas.gov (Roger.Kodat@do.treas.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:graym.stern@nara.gov (graym.stern@nara.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:randall.lewis@do.treas.gov (randall.lewis@do.treas.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Presidential records.

Roger.Kodat@do.treas.gov
04/01/2003 05:34:15 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Randall.Lewis@do.treas.gov
Subject: FW: President's Commission on US Postal Service: records

Brett,

Any chance that a verdict can be rendered? Thanks for your support. Roger

> -----Original Message-----
> From: Kodat, Roger
> Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 11:19 AM
> To: 'Brett.kavanaugh@who.eop.gov'
> Cc: Lewis, Randall
> Subject: President's Commission on US Postal Service: records
>
> Brett,
>
> Further to our telecon this morning, kindly advise whether records
created > by the newly established President's Commission on the US Postal Service, > established by Executive Order 13278, are federal or Presidential records.
> Pls let me know if you need any more information.
>
> Thanks, Roger
>
>

- att1.htm

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_2K6BF003_WHO.TXT_1>

Brett,

Any chance that a verdict can be r endered? Thanks for your support. Roger

-----Original Mes sage-----

From: Kodat, Roger

Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 11:19 AM

To: 'Brett.kavanaugh@who.eop.gov'

Cc: Lewis, Randall

Subject: & nbsp; President's Commission on US Postal Service: records

Brett,

Further to our telecon this morning, kindly advise whether records created by the newly establis hed President's Commission on the US Postal Service, established by Executive Order 13278, a re federal or Presidential records. Pls let me know if you need any more information.

Thanks, Roger

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Vestewig, Lauren J.>
Sent: 4/3/2003 10:24:29 AM
Subject: Re: Msg from Brett

Did you send this to Jay?

From: Lauren J. Vestewig/OPD/EOP@Exchange on 04/03/2003 10:24:14 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: Msg from Brett

He will be a little late to the Victims meeting because he has to do an OPL briefing at 10:30. He said to start without him.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 4/3/2003 6:56:48 AM
Subject: : MD has had 3 judges on circuit only since 1994

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 3-APR-2003 11:56:48.00
SUBJECT:: MD has had 3 judges on circuit only since 1994
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales ( CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/3/2003 12:22:05 PM
Subject: : U of C

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 3-APR-2003 17:22:05.00
SUBJECT:: U of C
TO:Kyle Sampson ( CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

I had a very agitated law student ask me today (or rather make a speech) about ... Victor Wolski.
.
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Roger.Kodat@do.treas.gov [UNKNOWN] <Roger.Kodat@do.treas.gov>
CC: garym.stern@nara.gov [UNKNOWN] <garym.stern@nara.gov>;randall.lewis@do.treas.gov [UNKNOWN] <randall.lewis@do.treas.gov>
Sent: 4/3/2003 10:11:45 AM
Subject: : Re: FW: President's Commission on US Postal Service: records
Attachments: P_DR6BF003_WHO.TXT_1.html

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 3-APR-2003 15:11:45.00
SUBJECT:: Re: FW: President's Commission on US Postal Service: records
TO:Roger.Kodat@do.treas.gov ( Roger.Kodat@do.treas.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:garym.stern@nara.gov ( garym.stern@nara.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:randall.lewis@do.treas.gov ( randall.lewis@do.treas.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Roger: You should treat them as Presidential records, which means that FOIA does not apply.

Roger.Kodat@do.treas.gov
04/01/2003 05:34:15 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Randall.Lewis@do.treas.gov
Subject: FW: President's Commission on US Postal Service: records

Brett,

Any chance that a verdict can be rendered? Thanks for your support. Roger

> -----Original Message-----
> From: Kodat, Roger
> Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 11:19 AM
> To: 'Brett.kavanaugh@who.eop.gov'
> Cc: Lewis, Randall
> Subject: President's Commission on US Postal Service: records
>
> Brett,
>
> Further to our telecon this morning, kindly advise whether records
created > by the newly established President's Commission on the US Postal Service, > established by Executive Order 13278, are federal or Presidential records.
> Pls let me know if you need any more information.
>
> Thanks, Roger
>
>

- att1.htm
```

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_DR6BF003_WHO.TXT_1>

Brett,

Any chance that a verdict can be r endered? Thanks for your support. Roger

-----Original Mes sage-----

From: Kodat, Roger

Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 11:19 AM

To: 'Brett.kavanaugh@who.eop.gov'

Cc: Lewis, Randall

Subject: & nbsp; President's Commission on US Postal Service: records

Brett,

Further to our telecon this morning, kindly advise whether records created by the newly establis hed President's Commission on the US Postal Service, established by Executive Order 13278, a re federal or Presidential records. Pls let me know if you need any more information.

Thanks, Roger

From: CN=Ashley Estes/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/3/2003 10:17:14 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Ashley Estes ( CN=Ashley Estes/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 3-APR-2003 15:17:14.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

did you;call?
```

From: Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary) <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/3/2003 2:24:25 PM
Subject: : RE: Class Action deal

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary)" <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov> ("Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary)" <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 3-APR-2003 19:24:25.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Class Action deal
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Very interesting markup today. Started class action, then held over because Leahy & Durbin claimed they hadn't been given enough time to review Feinstein's amendment (there were a little more fireworks and back and forth between Hatch and Leahy than I am conveying - always makes markups interesting)
So the agreement is we go forward with the markup next week, no new amendments except if they relate to Feinstein's amendment (so you can be sure we will get 20 second degrees) but they have to be circulated 24 hours in advance fortunately. And it continues.
OGH is determined to finish it next week and not let it hang over the recess.

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTE:

The information contained in this e-mail is legally privileged and confidential information intended only for the use of the individuals or entities named as addressees.; If you, the reader of this message, are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution, publication, or copying of this message is strictly prohibited.; If you have received this message in error, please forgive the inconvenience, immediately notify the sender, and delete the original message without keeping a copy.

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Thursday, April 03, 2003 7:47 AM
To: Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary); Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
Subject: Re: Class Action deal

Thx for info.

..

----- Original Message -----
From:<Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov>
To:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:
Date: 04/03/2003 12:43:01 AM
Subject: Class Action deal

FYI, we just cut a deal to get Feinstein on board. We are marking it up tomorrow and expect to finish it tomorrow. 9 Amendments besides Feinstein's, most of which we have seen before and can easily defeat.

Leahy will also offer his First Responders bill and a Crim Penalties for Doc Destruction amendment. Should be an interesting markup.

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTE:

The information contained in this e-mail is legally privileged and confidential information intended only for the use of the individuals or entities named as addressees. If you, the reader of this message, are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution, publication, or copying of this message is strictly prohibited. If you have received this message in error, please forgive the inconvenience, immediately notify the sender, and delete the original message without keeping a copy.

- att1.htm

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>
Sent: 4/3/2003 11:44:59 AM
Subject: : Re: Michigan 4

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 3-APR-2003 16:44:59.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Michigan 4
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs (CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

judges; manny asked if judge gonzales was available tuesday at 3:45 for the meeting with members (remember, the one we all discussed last week but was postponed)

Wendy J. Grubbs
04/03/2003 04:41:42 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Re: Michigan 4

About what?

.

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/3/2003 5:13:48 PM
Subject: Re: being a stalled circuit nominee is not always the end of the world . . .

May we both get life tenure or something equal to Kagan's consolation prize.

.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: Gonzales, Alberto R. ; Leitch, David G. ; Brosnahan, Jennifer R. ; Newstead, Jennifer G. ; Bartolomucci, H. Christopher ; Sampson, Kyle ; Francisco, Noel J. ; Powell, Benjamin A. ; Ullyot, Theodore W.

Sent: Thu Apr 03 14:45:43 2003
Subject: being a stalled circuit nominee is not always the end of the world . . .

Elena Kagan named next dean of Harvard Law School

From: Nelson, Carolyn
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/3/2003 5:20:33 PM
Subject: Feinstein

They report that she is still on the floor and is not reachable. I left another message.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Matthew Kirk/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Matthew Kirk>
Sent: 4/3/2003 1:44:54 PM
Subject: : any update?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 3-APR-2003 18:44:54.00
SUBJECT:: any update?
TO:Matthew Kirk ( CN=Matthew Kirk/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/3/2003 2:00:56 PM
Subject: : White House Global Messenger - 04-04-03
Attachments: P_18KBF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 3-APR-2003 19:00:56.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger - 04-04-03
TO:Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications (CN=Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 4-4-03 FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Friday, April 4, 2003

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS AT CAMP LEJEUNE, 4-03-03***

*The U.S. and our allies pledged to act if Saddam did not disarm. The regime in Iraq is now learning that we keep our word. No scheme of this enemy, no crime of a dying regime will divert us from our mission. A vice is closing, and the days of a brutal regime are coming to an end.

*At this hour, Coalition forces are clearing southern cities and towns of the dictator's death squads and enforcers. We have opened a northern front against the enemy, and other divisions are advancing to the outskirts of Baghdad.

*Some servants of the regime have chosen to fill their final days with acts of cowardice and murder. In combat, Saddam's thugs shield themselves with women and children. They have killed Iraqi citizens who welcome Coalition troops, and force other Iraqis into battle by threatening to torture or kill their families.

*They've executed prisoners of war. They've waged attacks under the white flag of truce, and concealed combat forces in civilian neighborhoods,schools, hospitals and mosques.

*The Iraqi regime is attempting to maximize Iraqi civilian casualties, and then exploiting the deaths they've caused for propaganda. These are war criminals and they will be treated like war criminals.

*In stark contrast, the citizens of Iraq are coming to know what kind of people we have sent to liberate them. Coalition forces are treating civilians with kindness, and showing proper respect to soldiers who surrender.

*Coalition victories are bringing food, water and medicine to the Iraqi people. We're delivering emergency rations to the hungry, and we're also bringing hope.

*The Iraqi people deserve to live in peace under leaders they have chosen. They deserve a government that respects the rights of every citizen and ethnic group. They deserve a country that is united, independent, and released from years of sanctions and sorrow.

*Building a free and prosperous Iraq after the regime is gone will be the work of the Iraqi people for years to come. And they will have our help.

*There is work ahead for our Coalition, and the course is set. We're on the advance. Our destination is Baghdad, and we will accept nothing less than complete and final victory.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE***
All Times Eastern Standard. Subject to Change

7:00 am CENTCOM Operations Update

12:15 pm White House Briefing

1:30 pm Department of Defense Briefing

TBD State Department Briefing

LIBERATION UPDATE***
The voices of freedom, now heard in parts of Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at: http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

***
"As dusk fell yesterday evening, only a small girl dressed in rags could be seen on the streets of Jazirah al-Hari. She approached a [British] tank standing guard at one end of the village, and said: 'My parents will not come, but we need water.' The tank driver leant down and gave her a bottle of water. 'This is why we've come, isn't it?' he said."
The Daily Telegraph (UK), 4-1-03

***
"U.S. troops [are] getting a very warm welcome from the local Shia population. Now naturally, the Shiites...have no love lost for the Iraqi leader President Saddam Hussein. They have been very repressed by him in the past. And obviously...what they believe to be a continuous presence that they can count on, interest from the U.S. troops is something that they are quite happy to see."
Ryan Chilcote, CNN correspondent, 4-2-03

***
"Hundreds of Iraqis shouting 'Welcome to Iraq' greeted U.S. Marines who entered the town of Shatra....'There's no problem here. We are happy to see Americans,' one young man shouted. The welcome was a tonic for soldiers who have not always received a warm reception despite the confidence of U.S. and British leaders that the Iraqi people were waiting to be freed from Saddam Hussein's repression. 'It's not every day you get to liberate people,' said one delighted Marine."
The Independent (UK), 4-1-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****

You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere.

- GM 4-4-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_18KBF003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Friday, April 4, 2003

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

All Times Eastern Standard. Subject to Change

7:00 am	CENTCOM Operations Update
12:15 pm	White House Briefing
1:30 pm	Department of Defense Briefing
TBD	State Department Briefing

LIBERATION UPDATE

The voices of freedom, now heard in parts of Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at:
http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

***

"As dusk fell yesterday evening, only a small girl dressed in rags could be seen on the streets of Jazirah al-Hari. She approached a [British] tank standing guard at one end of the village, and said: 'My parents will not come, but we need water.' The tank driver leant down and gave her a bottle of water. 'This is why we've come, isn't it?' he said."
The Daily Telegraph (UK), 4-1-03

***

"U.S. troops [are] getting a very warm welcome from the local Shia population. Now naturally, the Shiites… have no love lost for the Iraqi leader President Saddam Hussein. They have been very repressed by him in the past. And obviously…what they believe to be a continuous presence that they can count on, interest from the U.S. troops is something that they are quite happy to see."
Ryan Chilcote, CNN correspondent, 4-2-03

***

"Hundreds of Iraqis shouting 'Welcome to Iraq' greeted U.S. Marines who entered the town of Shatra…. 'There's no problem here. We are happy to see Americans,' one young man shouted. The welcome was a tonic for soldiers who have not always received a warm reception despite the confidence of U.S. and British leaders that the Iraqi people were waiting to be freed from Saddam Hussein's repression. 'It's not every day you get to liberate people,' said one delighted Marine."
The Independent (UK), 4-1-03

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS AT CAMP LEJEUNE, 4-03-03

- The U.S. and our allies pledged to act if Saddam did not disarm. The regime in Iraq is now learning that we keep our word. No scheme of this enemy, no crime of a dying regime will divert us from our mission. A vice is closing, and the days of a brutal regime are coming to an end.
- At this hour, Coalition forces are clearing southern cities and towns of the dictator's death squads and enforcers. We have opened a northern front against the enemy, and other divisions are advancing to the outskirts of Baghdad.
- Some servants of the regime have chosen to fill their final days with acts of cowardice and murder. In combat, Saddam's thugs shield themselves with women and children. They have killed Iraqi citizens who welcome Coalition troops, and force other Iraqis into battle by threatening to torture or kill their families.
- They've executed prisoners of war. They've waged attacks under the white flag of truce, and concealed combat forces in civilian neighborhoods, schools, hospitals and mosques.
- The Iraqi regime is attempting to maximize Iraqi civilian casualties, and then exploiting the deaths they've caused for propaganda. These are war criminals and they will be treated like war criminals.
- In stark contrast, the citizens of Iraq are coming to know what kind of people we have sent to liberate them. Coalition forces are treating civilians with kindness, and showing proper respect to soldiers who surrender.
- Coalition victories are bringing food, water and medicine to the Iraqi people. We're delivering emergency rations to the hungry, and we're also bringing hope.
- The Iraqi people deserve to live in peace under leaders they have chosen. They deserve a government that respects the rights of every citizen and ethnic group. They deserve a country that is united, independent, and released from years of sanctions and sorrow.
- Building a free and prosperous Iraq after the regime is gone will be the work of the Iraqi people for years to come. And they will have our help.
- There is work ahead for our Coalition, and the course is set. We're on the advance. Our destination is Baghdad, and we will accept nothing less than complete and final victory.

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications
For more information log on to www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Kirk, Matthew>
Sent: 4/3/2003 6:44:35 PM
Subject: any update?

From: Kirk, Matthew
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/3/2003 6:48:40 PM
Subject: Re: any update?

No, everyone is trying to reports from the cloakroom, they are fairly scattered. As it relates to State, they are aware but I don't believe their big shots have talked to Allen, it would probably require Armitage to have any impact.

From: Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
To: <Schacht, Diana L.>;<Warsh, Kevin>;<Silverberg, Kristen>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/4/2003 8:20:43 AM
Subject: Asbestos article from Congress Daily

JUDICIARY
Fresh Efforts Launched To Reach Asbestos Litigation Agreement

Disparate industry stakeholders in the asbestos litigation debate were poised to meet privately today to try and reach consensus on the ceiling for liability to be borne by defendant companies and insurers under a reform bill being contemplated in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The meeting was to take place at the headquarters of the National Association of Manufacturers, which leads the Asbestos Alliance of defendant companies.

Although there is currently basic unanimity among senators and key stakeholders in the debate -- including labor, industry and insurers -- that the bill will be based on a trust fund concept, the Alliance has distinguished itself as an advocate for a pure medical criteria bill, which would screen sick from non-sick litigants out of the court system.

Representatives for the trial bar said this week they would not oppose a compensation fund that is "adequately and fairly" funded.

Meanwhile, House Judiciary Commercial and Administrative Law Subcommittee Chairman Chris Cannon, R-Utah, who has been working closely with the Alliance, late Thursday introduced asbestos reform legislation that relies on medical criteria to screen sick from non-sick litigants.

Cannon's bill also contains certain tort reforms, designed to provide the "certainty and finality" that advocates for a private trust argue cannot be had while keeping asbestos claims entrenched in the litigation system.

"Tort reform needs to have a significant place in the discussions," Cannon declared.
"It does not make sense to bankrupt every company in America because somebody might get sick from asbestos," he added.

In an interview Thursday, Cannon said his bill also would contain venue changes designed to cut down on so-called forum shopping. Cannon said he is not seeking to cap damages, however.

Cannon had been working since last year with Rep. Calvin Dooley, D-Calif., on a bipartisan asbestos litigation reform bill, but the two lawmakers recently parted ways over the inclusion of those tort reforms.

Cannon now is working with fellow Utahan, Senate Judiciary Chairman Hatch, on the legislation, and the two have been keeping each other closely apprised of their efforts, Cannon said.

Dooley intends to offer his own reform proposal, Cannon added.
Asked if he thought his more narrow medical criteria bill had been overtaken by the Senate's new focus on a trust fund, Cannon was confident: "Whatever happens, we want to have some pretty clear medical criteria," he said.

Cannon reiterated House Republican leaders' admonition that they will need to see evidence of progress in the Senate before they agree to take up the asbestos legislation.

With respect to a private trust fund, settling on the allocation formula for paying claims, as was expected, has proven to be a challenge for the business community, where defendant companies number in the thousands.

Today's industry meeting was supposed to serve, in part, as a kind of briefing for Alliance members, many of whom were not present at a series of intensive meetings hosted this week in New York City by the Asbestos Study Group, which consist of peripheral defendant companies who have long championed the trust fund concept.

Attendees at those meetings, which included defendant company, insurance and reinsurance representatives, had settled on an upper-most figure for the industry's overall liability, according to sources. It is an amount that labor officials have rejected as insufficient, however.

Sources said the forum also will give officials not represented at earlier meetings a chance to offer input on an allocation formula before it is nailed down and offered up to Hatch, who has said he wants to begin formally drafting a bill beginning mid-April.

One source described the meeting as being part of the industry's response to Hatch's stern directive that "everybody should be talking to everybody. It's an ever-expanding meeting," this source added.

Sen. Christopher Dodd, D-Conn., one of the point men the industry is looking to help shepherd the complex legislation through the Senate, Thursday said the ball was in the industry's court at this point and said he understood they would be reaching some decision this week.

And he emphasized the need for the legislation to be wrapped this year, before the 2004 election season gets under way. Not just this year, but "in the next several months," he said. By Pamela Barnett

From: MacEcevic, Lisa J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Warsh, Kevin>;<Schacht, Diana L.>;<Silverberg, Kristen>;<Bloomquist, Lauren E.>;<Boden, James>;<Schwartz, Kenneth L.>;<Green, Richard E.>;<Jukes, James J.>;<Lobrano, Lauren C.>;<Call, Amy L.>
Sent: 4/4/2003 8:57:58 AM
Subject: CongressDaily on class action - markup delayed from yesterday's CongressDaily - describes Hatch-Feinstein amendment that will be debated by committee next week:

Hatch, Feinstein Agree On Class Action, Other Dems Balk

Senate Judiciary Chairman Hatch and Sen. Dianne Feinstein , D-Calif., reached a deal Wednesday night to modify proposed legislation that would shift more class action lawsuits to federal court, among other changes. But Democrats today balked at considering the amendment at a Judiciary Committee markup, complaining they had not had time to review it. Hatch then agreed to delay the markup until next week. Sens. Charles Grassley, R-Iowa, and Herb Kohl , D-Wis., will cosponsor the Hatch-Feinstein amendment, a Feinstein aide said. Although the pending class action measure already has the support of a majority of committee members, bill supporters believe an affirmative vote from Feinstein means other like-minded Democrats in the full Senate will follow suit -- thus buoying the bill's chances of weathering an expected Democratic filibuster on the floor.

A similar class action bill cleared the Senate Judiciary Committee on an 11-7 vote in 2000, with only Kohl crossing party lines to support it. It was never scheduled for floor action. Proponents of this year's version are eager to see it brought before the full Senate for a vote. They assert that cases are becoming increasingly concentrated in state courts -- which, they contend, permit class actions to proceed with little or no scrutiny. Feinstein's concerns with the underlying measure, also sponsored by Kohl, Hatch and Grassley, went largely to the scope of the corporate-backed bill's criteria dictating when multistate class actions can be removed from federal court.

Feinstein's amendment would raise to $5 million the threshold on class actions that would be eligible for federal court, up from the $2 million threshold in the current bill. It would also mandate that class actions where more than two-thirds of plaintiffs are from the same state as the primary defendant would stay in state court. If fewer than one-third of plaintiffs are from the same state as the defendant, it can be moved automatically to federal court if either party requests the move. If one-third to two-thirds of plaintiffs are from the same state as the defendant, a judge could decide the matter, within certain guidelines.

Currently, class action lawyers can avoid removal to federal court if individual claims are for less than $75,000, or if just one class member is from the same state as a defendant. Hatch today argued that the underlying bill would rein in abuses of class actions by profit-hungry attorneys. Sen. Joseph Biden, D-Del., countered that the bill would make it harder for wronged citizens to pursue just remedies and would remove a valuable deterrent to corporate wrongdoing. -- by Pamela Barnett and Margo MacFarland

From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
To: <Ullyot, Theodore W.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Brosnahan, Jennifer R.>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>
Sent: 4/4/2003 9:17:06 AM
Subject: FW: Radar Update for Week of April 7
Attachments: Radar Update 4-7.doc

This information used to be sent to Helgi. Does anyone have any interest in "Rules-Regulations" stuff from OMB? Or should I continue just forwarding it to the Counsel whose agency is affected.

thanks
Patrick

-----Original Message-----

From: Vargas, Veronica

Sent: Friday, April 04, 2003 9:12 AM

To: Graham, John; Noe, Paul R.; Anderson, David R.; Besanceney, Brian R.; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Clark, Alicia P.; Conda, Cesar; Cooney, Phil; Daniels, Mitchell; DeFrancis, Suzy; Dorn, Nancy; Dove, Stephen W.; Duffy, Trent D.; Goldman, Adam B.; Hennessey, Keith; Ingle, Edward; Joseffer, Daryl L.; Kaplan, Joel; Lawlor, Laura S.; Luczynski, Kimberley S.; Lundberg, Stephanie J.; MacHida, Ado A.; Murphy, Daniel J.; Oxford, John; Parell, Christie; Pelletier, Eric C.; Perry, Philip J.; Rossman, Elizabeth L.; Schlapp, Matthew A.; Silverberg, Kristen; Stolpe, Elizabeth A.; Toth, Michael C.; Troy, Tevi; Waters, James A.; Wood, John F.; Weaver, Bessie M.

Cc: Arbuckle, Donald R.; Allen, Bryon P.

Subject: Radar Update for Week of April 7

<< Radar Update 4-7.doc >>

Rules Likely to be Cleared, Withdrawn or Returned during the Week of April 7

USDA-APHIS	PROPOSED RULE. Importation of Solid Wood Packing Material
USDA-FNS	FINAL RULE. FSP Standards for Approval and Operation of Food Stamp Electronic Benefit Transfer Systems
DOD-OASHA	PROPOSED RULE. TRICARE Program: Several Changes Included in the NDAA-FY02 and a Technical Correction Included in the NDAA-FY03
*HHS-CMS	INTERIM FINAL RULE. Civil Monetary Penalties; HIPAA Enforcement Rule
HHS-ACF	FINAL RULE. Child Support Enforcement Program; State Plan Approval and Grant Procedures, State Plan Requirements, Standards for Program Operations
HHS-CMS	NOTICE. Notice of Ambulance Fee Schedule
HHS-CMS	PROPOSED RULE. Medicare Program: Requirements for Establishing and Maintaining Medicare Billing Privileges
HHS-CMS	PROPOSED RULE. Skilled Nursing Facility Prospective Payment System
*DHS-OS	PROPOSED RULE. Critical Infrastructure Information Procedures
*DHS-TSA	INTERIM FINAL RULE. Security Threat Assessment for Individuals Applying for a Hazardous materials Endorsement for a Commercial Drivers License
HUD-OA	INTERIM FINAL RULE. HUD Acquisition Regulations, Miscellaneous Revisions
HUD-PIH	FINAL RULE. Deregulation for Small Public Housing Agencies
HUD-PIH	NOTICE. Public Housing Assessment System (PHAS); Changes to PHAS; Introduction to Grading
HUD-PIH	NOTICE. Public Housing Assessment System (PHAS); Financial Condition Grading Process

*Probable Media Interest

HUD-PIH	NOTICE. Public Housing Assessment System (PHAS); Management Operation Grading Process
HUD-PIH	NOTICE. Public Housing Assessment System (PHAS); Resident Service and Satisfaction Grading Process
HUD-PIH	NOTICE. Public Housing Assessment System (PHAS); Physical Condition Grading Process
DOL-OSHA	NOTICE. Walking and Working Surfces; Personal Equipment (Fall Protection System); Notice of Reopening of the Record
*TREAS- DO	INTERIM FINAL RULE. Terrorism Risk Insurance Program
*TREAS-DO	PROPOSED RULE. Terrorism Risk Insurance Program
*DOT-FMCSA	INTERIM FINAL RULE. Limitation on the Issuance of Commercial Driver's Licenses with a Hazardous Materials Endorsement
DOT-FAA	FINAL RULE. Improved Flammability Standards for Thermal/Acoustic Insulation Materials Used in Transport Category Airplanes
VA	PROPOSED RULE. National Cemetery Administration; State Cemetery Grants Program
CSOSA	FINAL RULE. Disclosure of Records
CSOSA	FINAL RULE. District of Columbia Sex Offender Registration
FMCS	PROPOSED RULE. Access to Neutrals

REV_00113700

From: CN=Katherine M. Walters/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/4/2003 9:18:46 AM
Subject: : meeting request for Ken

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Katherine M. Walters (CN=Katherine M. Walters/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 4-APR-2003 14:18:46.00
SUBJECT:: meeting request for Ken
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

hi Brett. These folks keep calling. Should Ken decline? thanks
---------- Forwarded by Katherine M. Walters/WHO/EOP on
04/04/2003 02:17 PM ----------

Katherine M. Walters
03/28/2003 10:50:21 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Leonard B. Rodriguez/WHO/EOP@EOP
Subject: meeting request for Ken

Jeff Eisenach and Jim Miller of Howrey & Simon law firm have requested a meeting with Ken to discuss Garcia vs. Veneman. I believe it is a group of Hispanic farmers who are suing USDA due to discrimination. They believe it has political reprecussions. My guess is that Ken should not meet with them, but I wanted to go ahead and send to you.

thanks

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <David G. Leitch>
CC: alberto r. gonzales/who/eop@exchange [WHO] <alberto r. gonzales>
Sent: 4/4/2003 6:53:37 AM
Subject: : Re: Michael Kelly

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 4-APR-2003 11:53:37.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Michael Kelly
TO:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:alberto r. gonzales (CN=alberto r. gonzales/OU=who/O=eop@exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Indeed. He was amazing on the impeachment and Iraq, among other issues.
Very sad.

From: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/04/2003 11:51:45 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange, Brett M.
Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Michael Kelly

He was killed today in Iraq.; He wrote two withering columns during the Lewinsky matter that still stick in my mind.; Links are below:
;
http://www.usactuary.com/I_Believe.html <
http://www.usactuary.com/I_Believe.html>
;
http://www.usactuary.com/I_Still_Believe.html <
http://www.usactuary.com/I_Still_Believe.html>

From: CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/4/2003 7:10:07 AM
Subject: : TRANSCRIPT - Special Defense Department Briefing 04/04/03

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brian Bravo (CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 4-APR-2003 12:10:07.00
SUBJECT:: TRANSCRIPT - Special Defense Department Briefing 04/04/03
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

SPECIAL DEFENSE DEPARTMENT BRIEFING
TOPICS: ACTIVITIES OF THE FREE IRAQI FORCES, HUMANITARIAN AID OUT OF UMM QASR
BRIEFER: COLONEL DAVID BLACKLEDGE, U.S. ARMY, COMMANDER, 354TH CIVIL AFFAIRS BRIGADE

;

(Note: This briefing was broadcast by remote to the briefing room at the Pentagon, Arlington, Virginia.)

;;;;;; STAFF: (From Arlington.) Let's go ahead and get started. It is 10:00, and I know that there are a lot of you that are listening in your booths. But let's get this under way.

;;;;;; Today we have Army Colonel David Blackledge, who is here joining us, via the miracles of modern technology, from Umm Qasr. Colonel Blackledge is the commander of the 354th Civil Affairs Brigade, and he is the one that has been heading the efforts of the Free Iraqi Forces there in Iraq. He's going to take us through some of the things that they have been doing and how they're really making a difference in theater.

;;;;;; As we do this, keep in mind that there is about a five-second delay in the connection, and as you ask the questions, Lieutenant Colonel Stoneking will hand you a microphone so that they can hear you on the other end. Okay?

;;;;;; And with that, Colonel Blackledge, do you want to say a few things before we get into the questions?

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: Yes. Again, I'm Colonel Dave Blackledge, commander of the 354th Civil Affairs Brigade, responsible for coordinating and developing the distributions systems from Umm Qasr throughout the rest of Iraq. To do that, my unit coordinates with the international organizations, the governmental organizations and the nongovernmental organizations, as well as the military units, to get supplies forward. And the bottom line is that we're the link between the military and the civilian organizations to redevelop distribution.

;;;;;; We've done some really neat things here. We've been here a little less than two weeks but have made some significant progress in that time. And I can open up it up for questions on specifics.

;;;;;; STAFF: Charlie?

;;;;;; Q Colonel, Charlie Aldinger with Reuters. Aside from getting in humanitarian aid, we understand you're in charge of the Free Iraqi Forces. There are reports here in Washington that the United States may be preparing to set up an interim Iraqi government in the south, even before Saddam or the government fall. Have you anything on that? And are you preparing to do that, to use the Free Iraqi Forces to do that?

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: Well, I'm not in charge of the Free Iraqi Forces, although I do have a few Free Iraqi Force soldiers that are working with me to assist in reestablishing the distribution network. As far as establishing an interim government, that is not in my lane and not something that I'm doing.

;;;;;; Q Well then -- I'm sorry, this is Charlie Aldinger again. Could you give us maybe a quick breakdown of the kind of aid that's starting to flow and how much of it's beginning to flow?

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: Well, the most significant thing that we've been able to do is get potable water distributed initially right here in Umm Qasr through a pipeline that the government of Kuwait brought through the border. And we've established a distribution system for distributing that with tanker trucks through Umm Qasr and starting to push that north.

;;;;;; Also, in relationship to assisting the international organizations -- non-governmental organizations, just today the ICRC made delivery of medical supplies to Basra.

;;;;;; Q Sir, this is Pam Hess with United Press International. Can you give us your assessment of what the humanitarian situation is there; how great is the need for food and water and medicine?

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: Well, I can tell you what we've seen here in Umm Qasr. The exciting thing was that food was not that big of an issue. Our assessment of the folks here is that they've got at least six to eight weeks of food stockpiled. So the focus has been initially to get potable water distributed. The people in Umm Qasr, prior to the war, relied on distribution to come down from Basra for potable water. Obviously, that was not the case more recently, so we had to get that coming in. And so that's been the focus. But water was the big need. That need's been met. And we're now resurrecting the distribution program so that we can start getting food out.

;;;;;; Q This is Pam again. Could you tell us how much water you're delivering on a daily basis or per person?

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: We've got seven tanker trucks that are distributing on a continuous basis from the water pipe that comes from Kuwait. There is more than enough water from (sic) Umm Qasr. They can't drink all the water that's flowing and coming in. In fact, we've got enough water to start distributing up north, which was the original intent, to do that.

;;;;;; Q This is Vince Crawley with the Army Times papers. Could you give us a sense of the security? Do you need armed escorts for your water trucks? That has been one of the concerns, is getting the aid distributed in relative freedom.

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: We feel that it's a very permissive environment here in Umm Qasr; however, we do provide escorts with the tanker trucks. The first couple of days of the distribution, the people weren't sure how long that was going to last and wanted to get as much as they could, and we found that to maintain control of the crowds, it's been helpful to keep the security force with the tanker trucks; and expect that as people see that the distribution is more and more routine, we'll be able to back off on that.

;;;;;; Q Colonel, this is Jim Mannion from Agence France-Presse. Can you talk a little bit about whether you've made contact with any civilians in other places outside of Umm Qasr, further north; I don't know, I'm thinking maybe Nasiriyah or An Najaf; or is that completely out of your area?

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: My focus right now has been to get Umm Qasr up and going. We do have tactical civil affairs teams that are with the maneuver forces making those initial contacts with civilians as they enter those areas, and some of that has been done. I don't have the specific details on those contacts, though.

;;;;;; Q Good afternoon, sir. It's Meredith Buel from Voice of America. Can you tell us what sort of food distribution you anticipate? Where is this food coming from? How much is available? And how many people do you think you'll be able to feed, and in what time frame?

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: The goal has been to resurrect the oil-for-food distribution system that's been in place. It's been a very efficient and effective system in Iraq, and with numerous food distribution agents. For example, right here in Umm Qasr, there are over 40 food distribution agents.

;;;;;; The local people knew who their distributor was to go get food, and we want to put that back in place, since there was a functioning system, and then develop it from there. The food will be coming from numerous sources. Ultimately, the -- probably the biggest source will be through the World Food Program, who just today did an initial assessment here at Umm Qasr to begin moving that in. So, we're looking forward to the food they'll be bringing in. Meanwhile, we've been bringing in food from both military sources and U.S. governmental sources through USAID.

;;;;;; Q Just to follow up, please, could you give us a time frame on when the United Nations and World Food Program might begin to be able to operate in an effective way there?

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: Well, I can't really speak for the United Nations. They have to make those assessments based on their own rules. But it was encouraging that the U.N. did declare this particular area of Umm Qasr as permissive for their people to come in and they declared that yesterday. And the World Food Program sent their assessment team today. So they're leaning forward and coming in quickly. I just had a meeting with a representative from World Food Program this morning, offering any assistance that we could provide as far as information that we've through the assessments to assist them in getting the food out to the people that need it.

;;;;;; Q Colonel, good morning. This is Thomas Duffy with the newsletter Inside the Pentagon. Do you have plans to set up distribution centers in other areas of the country outside of Umm Qasr? And also, what type of food are you distributing?

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: Yes. Each major population center had food distribution agents as part of the oil-for-food program's distribution network, and those are the systems that we're looking to use and to keep in place, because the people are used to going to those individuals and they had a very good system. So each population center, each town, village and city had that distribution network in place, and that's what we're looking to use to get the food through.

;;;;;; The food that's been coming in runs the gamut. We're preferring not to get perishable food at this point, but we have had some come in. The government of Kuwait was very generous, sent in 30 truck loads of food of various types.

;;;;;; We also had food come in from -- as I said, through U.S. governmental sources. A lot of bulk water initially to bridge the gap until we had the pipeline flowing from Kuwait. And then general foodstuffs such as lentils. One of the items that we found through our assessment, that we knew before coming in, was that protein was a concern, lack of protein in the diet. So we've been trying to focus on that through things like lentils. Other items include rice, cooking oil, tea, sugar, as well has hygiene items, non-food items.

;;;;;; Q Could you tell us -- the United States has suspended the Free Iraqi Force training program. How useful have those folks been to you, and do you see a problem with not having more coming in the pipeline? I gather there's just somewhere in the 70s of those folks that are available.

;;;;;; And could you also describe for us how you worked the security angle? We saw some footage that looked really crazy when you guys first started handing stuff out. And so what lessons did you learn about sort of crowd control and getting it to the point where it's now orderly?

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: In reference to the Free Iraqi Forces, their contribution has just been invaluable. In my case, the folks that are with me are from this area; they have family, they know the people, and have really been critical in establishing the trust with the local people that we really were here to help them, and to identify the people that we needed to work with to get distribution back up and going. So I can't stress enough.

;;;;;; As far as my mission, I don't see a problem with the termination of additional folks coming. I have what I need to work with, and the other civil affairs units have that also.

;;;;;; And I can't remember what the second question was.

;;;;;; Q That was how you all -- we saw footage of the first distribution of food in Umm Qasr and it looked like a really crazy scene. But you were eventually able to get it under control. Was that a function of the fact that the people were so excited to finally get it, or was it more of a function you guys didn't quite have a handle on exactly how to be distributing that? What lessons did you learn in crowd control, and have you seen any of this similar kind of melee situations that you then have to come in and handle?

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: Yeah, the footage that you saw I believe was from the Safwan area where it was basically an uncontrolled distribution -- it was a distribution made with good intent, but it was not done through the military.

;;;;;; What we've worked very hard to do here in Umm Qasr is to coordinate the distribution with the local leaders, such that the word was brought out in advance that -- what the distribution was going to be, how it was going to be conducted, where it would be conducted, and do that in a controlled fashion.

;;;;;; And frankly, we've been very pleased with the response from the local people here in Umm Qasr.

;;;;;; Q Chris Wright with Fox News Channel. This might be outside of your lane, but what do you think the prospects are for returning Iraq to a real economy, a country that can actually feed itself? I understand in recent years it's basically a command economy where the government distributes food, but it really can't produce enough to feed itself.

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: Wow, that's a big question. It is outside of my lane. My focus is to ensure that we get the distribution system going now, and I really wouldn't want to try to speculate on the bigger picture there.

;;;;;; Q Yeah. Could you tell us what the Free Iraqi Forces working with you are actually doing, and also the water trucks -- is that U.S. troops driving them, or are those -- yeah, how much do they carry? And is that U.S. troops driving them? And are they in armed convoys? Just trying to get a picture of what you're doing there. And I do have a follow-up.

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: Sure. To answer the question on the water distribution first, the goal all along here is to reemploy the Iraqi people and the systems run by the Iraqi people to do their own distribution. So the water's a good example.

;;;;;; The drivers of the trucks are local drivers that we have hired to distribute the water. And so they are paid by -- in this case, in Umm Qasr, they're paid by the British forces to distribute the water.

;;;;;; They do have an escort with the trucks to their distribution points, who then monitor the situation to make sure nothing gets out of control during the distribution. But the actual contracts are with local Iraqi drivers, with their tanker trucks, and they are paid for their services to provide that water to the people.

;;;;;; As far as what the Free Iraqi Force soldiers are doing, these -- again, I'd said that they -- in my case, they're from this area, Umm Qasr, and surrounding area, so they're very familiar with the local people, have family here. They've assisted us as we've gathered documents, particularly in the port facility, because we wanted -- we've been working to get port workers back in place. And as those individuals have been rehired to work at the port, our Free Iraqi Forces have helped verify that these are the actual individuals that are documented as previous workers, they do have the skills necessary to work at the port.

;;;;;; They've also obviously been a great help in serving as translators and interpreters. And frankly, they've helped us build the relationships with the community that have made the successes here so critical and so successful.

;;;;;; The other piece that's been very helpful -- as you can imagine, the local populace was somewhat nervous and scared. And as we've reached out to try to find key workers for the port, our Free Iraqi Force soldiers have been instrumental in locating those key workers and bringing them in and assuring them that we do want to rehire them and put them back to work.

;;;;;; Q Okay. And I had a follow-up.

;;;;;; Before this, before the war began, the White House had a briefing that there would be about three crack teams of 20 or so nongovernmental as well as U.S. government aid experts rushing into the battle zone to assist. Are you working with them? Have you seen them? These would be like USAID and State Department and some Defense Department personnel.

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: What we've been working with so far -- and again, it's very early. The Umm Qasr area has just been declared permissive by the U.N., and that is typically the key for the nongovernmental organizations also. Once the U.N. declares it a permissive environment, that's typically the signal for them to come in. Prior to that, we've been working with the USAID DART team individuals primarily, who declared it permissive for their purposes several days ago. So that's been the primary thing.

;;;;;; Again, I was in Kuwait just this morning at the Humanitarian Operations Center meeting, where we have all the NGOs and other international organizations and governmental organizations meeting to coordinate humanitarian assistance efforts and coordinating their movement because, again, they want to come in quickly and just need the assurances of what the environment is here and what the needs are here.

;;;;;; And I think that's probably the last question I've got time for.

;;;;;; Q No, one more. How many Iraqis have you employed, and how are you paying them? Is it U.S. dollars? Iraqi money? Or food and water?

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: We've employed over 200 Iraqis already, and we're hiring every day. We are paying them in dollars at this point. And again, that was a decision made above my level.

;;;;;; And I really have to cut it off there. So thanks very much.

;;;;;; STAFF: Colonel Blackledge, thank you for joining us this morning, and we look forward to having a follow-on discussion with you later on down the road.

;;;;;; COL. BLACKLEDGE: Thank you.

;;;;;; STAFF: As a reminder, our briefing today is at 1:30.

;;;;;; Q Is that Torie?

;;;;;; STAFF: And we will see you -- yes, General McChrystal and Victoria Clarke.

END.

;

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Leitch, David G.>
CC: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>
Sent: 4/4/2003 11:53:27 AM
Subject: Re: Michael Kelly

Indeed. He was amazing on the impeachment and Iraq, among other issues. Very sad.

From: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/04/2003 11:51:45 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: Michael Kelly

He was killed today in Iraq. He wrote two withering columns during the Lewinsky matter that still stick in my mind. Links are below:

http://www.usactuary.com/I_Believe.html <http://www.usactuary.com/I_Believe.html>

http://www.usactuary.com/I_Still_Believe.html <http://www.usactuary.com/I_Still_Believe.html>

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <H. Christopher Bartolomucci>
Sent: 4/4/2003 8:28:05 AM
Subject: : are waldman and fisher papers in?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 4-APR-2003 13:28:05.00
SUBJECT:: are waldman and fisher papers in?
TO:H. Christopher Bartolomucci ( CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/4/2003 9:13:30 AM
Subject: : RE: AF&PA General Counsels Meeting

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com> (Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 4-APR-2003 14:13:30.00
SUBJECT:: RE: AF&PA General Counsels Meeting
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

GREAT! I will have a AF&PA staffer reach out to you on details.

Hope all is well with you.

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Friday, April 04, 2003 2:10 PM
To: kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com
Subject: Re: AF&PA General Counsels Meeting

I can do it. Thanks for invite.

(Embedded
image moved Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
to file: 04/02/2003 08:07:32 AM
pic03442.pcx)

Please respond to kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject: AF&PA General Counsels Meeting

The American Forest and Paper Association will hold its annual meeting next week, April 9-11, in DC. They would like to invite someone from the WH Counsels office to come to their dinner on Thursday, April 10th to give an overview of judicial nominations and legal reform efforts currently underway in this Congress. I obviously thought of you.

The dinner is at Galileos from 6-9 pm and the General Counsels who will attend are from:

Longview Fibre Company

The Newark Group

Nexfor Fraser Papers

Simpson Investment Company

Hancock Lumber Company

Chesapeake Corporation

Glatfelter

Potlatch Corporation

Weyerhaeuser Company

Sierra Pacific Industries

Louisiana Pacific

Bowater

Temple-Inland

Georgia-Pacific

Plum Creek Timber

Anthony Forest Products

Sappi Fine Paper - North America

Simpson Resource Company

Stora Enso North America

MeadWestvaco

Would you be willing to drop by this dinner and give a few remarks and take a few questions?

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com [UNKNOWN] <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
Sent: 4/4/2003 9:17:35 AM
Subject: : Re: AF&PA General Counsels Meeting
Attachments: P_R9ICF003_WHO.TXT_1.html

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 4-APR-2003 14:17:35.00
SUBJECT:: Re: AF&PA General Counsels Meeting
TO:kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com (kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

I can do it. Thanks for invite.

Kirk Blalock <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
04/02/2003 08:07:32 AM
Please respond to kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: AF&PA General Counsels Meeting

The American Forest and Paper Association will hold its annual meeting next week, April 9-11, in DC. They would like to invite someone from the WH Counsels office to come to their dinner on Thursday, April 10th to give an overview of judicial nominations and legal reform efforts currently underway in this Congress. I obviously thought of you.

The dinner is at Galileos from 6-9 pm and the General Counsels who will attend are from:

Longview Fibre Company

The Newark Group

Nexfor Fraser Papers

Simpson Investment Company

Hancock Lumber Company

Chesapeake Corporation

Glatfelter

Potlatch Corporation

Weyerhaeuser Company

Sierra Pacific Industries

Louisiana Pacific

Bowater

Temple-Inland

Georgia-Pacific

Plum Creek Timber

Anthony Forest Products

Sappi Fine Paper - North America

Simpson Resource Company

Stora Enso North America

MeadWestvaco

Would you be willing to drop by this dinner and give a few remarks and take a few questions?

- att1.htm

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_R9ICF003_WHO.TXT_1>

The American Forest and Paper Association will hold its annual meeting next week, April 9-11, in DC. They would like to invite someone from the WH Counsels office to come to their dinner on Thursday, April 10th to give an overview of judicial nominations and legal reform efforts currently underway in this Congress. I obviously thought of you.

The dinner is at Galileos from 6-9 pm and the General Counsels who will attend are from:

Longview Fibre Company
The Newark Group
Nexfor Fraser Papers
Simpson Investment Company
Hancock Lumber Company
Chesapeake Corporation
Glatfelter
Potlatch Corporation
Weyerhaeuser Company
Sierra Pacific Industries
Louisiana Pacific
Bowater
Temple-Inland
Georgia-Pacific
Plum Creek Timber
Anthony Forest Products
Sappi Fine Paper – North America
Simpson Resource Company
Stora Enso North America
MeadWestvaco

Would you be willing to drop by this dinner and give a few remarks and take a few questions?

From: Ledeen, Barbara (Republican-Conf) <Barbara_Ledeen@src.senate.gov>
To: Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary) <Stephen_Higgins@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary) <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Miranda, Manuel (Frist) <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Abegg, John (McConnell) <John_Abegg@mcconnell.senate.gov>;brian. a. benczkowski@usdoj. gov (E-mail) <brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov>;Duffield, Steven (RPC) <Steven_Duffield@RPC.Senate.Gov>
Sent: 4/4/2003 11:25:41 AM
Subject: : Polling
Attachments: P_KMQCF003_WHO.TXT_1.htm; P_KMQCF003_WHO.TXT_2.doc

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Ledeen, Barbara (Republican-Conf)" <Barbara_Ledeen@src.senate.gov> ( "Ledeen, Barbara (Republican-Conf)" <Barbara_Ledeen@src.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 4-APR-2003 16:25:41.00
SUBJECT:: Polling
TO:"Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary)" <Stephen_Higgins@Judiciary.senate.gov> ( "Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary)" <Stephen_Higgins@Judiciary.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary)" <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov> ( "Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary)" <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> ( "Miranda, Manuel (Frist)"
<Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Abegg, John (McConnell)" <John_Abegg@mcconnell.senate.gov> ( "Abegg, John (McConnell)"
<John_Abegg@mcconnell.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"brian. a. benczkowski@usdoj. gov (E-mail)" <brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov> ( "brian. a. benczkowski@usdoj. gov (E-mail)" <brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Duffield, Steven (RPC)" <Steven_Duffield@RPC.Senate.Gov> ( "Duffield, Steven (RPC)" <Steven_Duffield@RPC.Senate.Gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

THIS IS SENSITIVE DO NOT DISTRIBUTE PLEASE
Observations: Senate Democrats are struggling under growing negative perceptions of their tactics and agenda. The Senate Republican "brand" (Fav-Unfav) is +21 while the Democrat "brand" is only +9 dropping from +15 in February--THIS IS DURING THE ESTRADA FIGHT. Even more importantly, whereas the public has seen/heard more of the Senate Republican message than the Democrat message, what they have seen and heard from the Democrats is largely negative. Of the top five messages/impressions, the public has about Democrats, four are net negative--criticizing the war, obstructing judges, arguing/partisanship and Daschle's comments. Their only positive message was on the tax cuts. Of the top five issues for Republicans, all but one are net positive.

1. In the last couple of weeks have you seen, heard or read anything that U.S. Senate Democrats were doing?

1. Yes 36
2. No 61

2. What was it?

Foreign Affairs/Iraq 49
Taxes
25
```

Democrat Opposition to Judicial Nominees 12
Arguing/Fighting/Partisanship 10
Tom Daschle Mention 10

3. Did it make you more favorable or less favorable to U.S. Senate Democratic candidates?

1. More Favorable 33
2. Less Favorable 45
3. No Difference (DO NOT READ) 22

- att1.htm - Public Aggregates.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_KMQCF003_WHO.TXT_1>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_KMQCF003_WHO.TXT_2>

THIS IS SENSITIVE DO NOT DISTRIBUTE PLEASE

Observations: Senate Democrats are struggling under growing negative perceptions of their tactics and agenda. The Senate Republican "brand" (Fav-Unfav) is +21 whil e the Democrat "brand" is only +9 dropping from +15 in February--THIS IS DURING THE ESTRADA FIGHT. Even more importantly, whereas the publi c has seen/heard more of the Senate Republican message than the Democrat message, what they have seen and heard from the Democrats is largely negative. Of the to p five messages/impressions, the public has about Democrats, four are net negative--criticizing the war, obstructing judges, arguing/partisanship and Daschle's comments. Their only positive message was on the tax cuts. Of the top five issues for Republicans, all but one are net positive.

< SPAN style="FONT-SIZE: 10pt; FONT-FAMILY: Arial; mso-bidi-font-size: 12.0pt"> & nbsp;

1. In the last couple of weeks have you seen, heard or read anything that U.S. Senate Democrats were doing?

< SPAN style="FONT-SIZE: 10pt; FONT-FAMILY: Arial; mso-bidi-font-size: 12.0pt"> < o:p>

1. Yes 36
2. No 61

2. What wa s it?

< SPAN style="FONT-SIZE: 10pt; FONT-FAMILY: Arial; mso-bidi-font-size: 12.0pt"> < o:p>

Foreign Affairs/Iraq 49
Taxes 25
Democra t Opposition to Judicial Nominees 12
Arguing /Fighting/Partisanship 10
Tom Daschle Mention 10

< SPAN style="FONT-SIZE: 10pt; FONT-FAMILY: Arial; mso-bidi-font-size: 12.0pt"> < o:p>

3. Did it make you more favorable or less favorable to U.S. Senate Democratic candidates?

< SPAN style="FONT-SIZE: 10pt; FONT-FAMILY: Arial; mso-bidi-font-size: 12.0pt"> < o:p>

1. More Favorable 33
2. Less Favorable 45
3. No Difference (DO NOT READ) 22

< SPAN style="FONT-SIZE: 10pt; FONT-FAMILY: Arial; mso-bidi-font-size: 12.0pt"> < o:p>

THE WINSTON GROUP

NEW MODELS SENATE MARCH NATIONAL BRAND SURVEY
March 26-27, 2003
N=1000 RV

1. Generally speaking, would you say things in the country are headed in the right direction, or are things seriously headed off on the wrong track?

1. Right Direction	57
2. Don't Know/Refused (DO NOT READ)	12
3. Wrong Track	32

2. Overall would you say that you approve or disapprove of the job George Bush is doing as President?

1. Approve	63
2. Don't Know/Refused (DO NOT READ)	5
3. Disapprove	32

Please tell me for each of the following whether you have a favorable or an unfavorable impression of that group or person.

	Favorable	Unfavorable
3. Republicans in the US Senate	56	32
4. Democrats in the US Senate	48	39

5. Which of the following issues would you say is the most important to you in deciding how to vote for Congress? (ROTATE)

Economy/Jobs	29
Defense/Terrorism/Foreign Affairs	17
Education	13
Health Care/Prescription Drugs	11
Social Security/Retirement/Investments	8

Which party do you have more confidence in to handle the issue of (ROTATE LIST BELOW), (ROTATE) the Republican Party or the Democratic Party?

	Republican	Democrat
6. Education	37	47
7. Social Security	36	48
8. Retirement and Investments	41	40
9. Health Care/Prescription Drugs	35	49
10. The economy	44	41
11. Jobs	39	46
12. Taxes	45	42
13. National Defense/Foreign Affairs/Terrorism	58	27

14. In the last couple of weeks, have you seen, heard or read anything that U.S. Senate Republicans were doing?

1. Yes	39
2. No	57

15. What was it?

Defense/Foreign Affairs/Iraq	53
Taxes/Reform/Cuts/Bill	37
Economy/Employment/Budget	20
Bush Mention	11
Support the President	7

16. Did it make you more favorable or less favorable to U.S. Senate Republican candidates?

1. More Favorable	50
2. Less Favorable	35
3. No Difference (DO NOT READ)	15

17. In the last couple of weeks have you seen, heard or read anything that U.S. Senate Democrats were doing?

1. Yes	36
2. No	61

18. What was it?

Foreign Affairs/Iraq	49
Taxes	25
Democrat Opposition to Judicial Nominees	12
Arguing/Fighting/Partisanship	10
Tom Daschle Mention	10

19. Did it make you more favorable or less favorable to U.S. Senate Democratic candidates?

1. More Favorable	33
2. Less Favorable	45
3. No Difference (DO NOT READ)	22

20. If the elections were held today for US Senate in your state, would you be more likely to vote for (ROTATE) the Republican candidate or the Democrat candidate? (IF UNDECIDED ASK:) would you be leaning toward (ROTATE) the Republican candidate or the Democratic candidate?

1.	Republican	41
2.	Undecided	13
3.	Democrat	42
4.	DK/Refused (DO NOT READ)	4

21. In terms of an economic growth tax cut package to stimulate the economy, which of the following do you prefer? (ROTATE)

1.	A tax cut package costing $726 billion that creates 1.4 million jobs	47
2.	A tax cut package costing $350 billion that creates 700,000 jobs	30

22. What is the most important health care crisis at the moment? (ROTATE)

1.	Covering the 41 million uninsured in America	26
2.	Lack of a prescription drug benefit for seniors	15
3.	Patients being denied access to health care because doctors are forced out of business due to high liability costs	17
4.	Lack of funding for hospitals	4
5.	Increasing cost of health insurance	22
6.	Reforming the Medicare system	9
7.	Other (SPECIFY)	3
8.	DK/Refused (DO NOT READ)	4

23. Do you think that (ROTATE) Senate Democrats have deliberately blocked proposals that Senate Republicans and the President have offered, or do you think that Senate Democrats oppose Republican proposals because Democrats truly have better solutions of their own to bring to the table?

1.	Deliberately blocked Republican proposals	45
2.	Democrats have better solutions	33
3.	DK/Refused (DO NOT READ)	22

24. Over the past several years, there has been an increasing number of medical malpractice lawsuits against doctors. Do you think this is making your health care better, worse, or is it having no impact?

1. Better	6
2. Worse	73
3. No Impact	16
4. DK/Refused (DO NOT READ)	5

25. If you knew that, as a result of increasing medical malpractice lawsuits, doctors were reducing their services they provide to patients, such as delivering babies and trauma care, because they couldn't afford liability insurance, now would you say that increasing medical lawsuits are making your health care better, worse, or having no impact?

1. Better	4
2. Worse	75
3. No Impact	15
4. DK/Refused (DO NOT READ)	7

26. Congress is considering a bill that would limit judgments in medical malpractice suits. Which statement do you agree with more? (ROTATE)

Statement A - We must ensure that patients have access to quality health care. Doctors are being forced to limit services they provide, such as delivering babies, because they can no longer afford the rates for liability insurance. We have to do something now to cap damage awards so that doctors can provide services again to patients.

or

Statement B - Capping punitive damages in malpractice lawsuits would be an enormous boost to big insurance companies that abuse the legal system with their bottomless bank accounts, allowing them to drag out litigation until it bankrupts ordinary Americans. This would do little to prevent frivolous lawsuits, and is just another reward for insurance companies.

1. Statement A	61
2. Statement B	27

27. If you knew that, by capping punitive damage awards, it would allow doctors to continue to provide services and they could re-instate services that they had been forced to cut because of high liability, would you favor or oppose capping punitive damages?

1. Favor	74
2. Oppose	16
3. DK/Refused (DO NOT READ)	10

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 4/4/2003 11:28:37 AM
Subject: :
Attachments: P_2SQCF003_WHO.TXT_1.htm; P_2SQCF003_WHO.TXT_2.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 4-APR-2003 16:28:37.00
SUBJECT::
TO:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales (CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

fyi
---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/04/2003 04:28 PM ----------

"Ledeen, Barbara (Republican-Conf)" <Barbara_Ledeen@src.senate.gov>
04/04/2003 04:22:58 PM
Record Type: Record

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
cc:
Subject: Polling

THIS IS SENSITIVE DO NOT DISTRIBUTE PLEASE
Observations: Senate Democrats are struggling under growing negative perceptions of their tactics and agenda. The Senate Republican "brand" (Fav-Unfav) is +21 while the Democrat "brand" is only +9 dropping from +15 in February--THIS IS DURING THE ESTRADA FIGHT. Even more importantly, whereas the public has seen/heard more of the Senate Republican message than the Democrat message, what they have seen and heard from the Democrats is largely negative. Of the top five messages/impressions, the public has about Democrats, four are net negative--criticizing the war, obstructing judges, arguing/partisanship and Daschle's comments. Their only positive message was on the tax cuts. Of the top five issues for Republicans, all but one are net positive.

1. In the last couple of weeks have you seen, heard or read anything that U.S. Senate Democrats were doing?

1. Yes 36
2. No 61

2. What was it?

Foreign Affairs/Iraq 49
Taxes 25
Democrat Opposition to Judicial Nominees 12
Arguing/Fighting/Partisanship 10
Tom Daschle Mention 10

3. Did it make you more favorable or less favorable to U.S. Senate Democratic candidates?

1. More Favorable 33
2. Less Favorable 45
3. No Difference (DO NOT READ) 22

- att1.htm
- Public Aggregates.doc

Message Sent
To:_____
"Duffield, Steven (RPC)" <Steven_Duffield@RPC.Senate.Gov>
"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
"brian. a. benczkowski@usdoj. gov (E-mail)" <brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov>
"Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary)" <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov>
"Abegg, John (McConnell)" <John_Abegg@mcconnell.senate.gov>
"Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary)" <Stephen_Higgins@Judiciary.senate.gov>
Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_2SQCF003_WHO.TXT_1>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_2SQCF003_WHO.TXT_2>

THIS IS SENSITIVE DO NOT DISTRIBUTE PLEASE

Observations: Senate Democrats are struggling under growing negative perceptions of their tactics and agenda. The Senate Republican "brand" (Fav-Unfav) is +21 whil e the Democrat "brand" is only +9 dropping from +15 in February--THIS IS DURING THE ESTRADA FIGHT. Even more importantly, whereas the publi c has seen/heard more of the Senate Republican message than the Democrat message, what they have seen and heard from the Democrats is largely negative. Of the to p five messages/impressions, the public has about Democrats, four are net negative--criticizing the war, obstructing judges, arguing/partisanship and Daschle's comments. Their only positive message was on the tax cuts. Of the top five issues for Republicans, all but one are net positive.

< SPAN style="FONT-SIZE: 10pt; FONT-FAMILY: Arial; mso-bidi-font-size: 12.0pt"> & nbsp;

1. In the last couple of weeks have you seen, heard or read anything that U.S. Senate Democrats were doing?

< SPAN style="FONT-SIZE: 10pt; FONT-FAMILY: Arial; mso-bidi-font-size: 12.0pt"> < o:p>

1. Yes 36
2. No 61

2. What wa s it?

< SPAN style="FONT-SIZE: 10pt; FONT-FAMILY: Arial; mso-bidi-font-size: 12.0pt"> < o:p>

Foreign Affairs/Iraq 49
Taxes 25
Democra t Opposition to Judicial Nominees 12
Arguing /Fighting/Partisanship 10
Tom Daschle Mention 10

< SPAN style="FONT-SIZE: 10pt; FONT-FAMILY: Arial; mso-bidi-font-size: 12.0pt"> < o:p>

3. Did it make you more favorable or less favorable to U.S. Senate Democratic candidates?

< SPAN style="FONT-SIZE: 10pt; FONT-FAMILY: Arial; mso-bidi-font-size: 12.0pt"> < o:p>

1. More Favorable 33
2. Less Favorable 45
3. No Difference (DO NOT READ) 22

< SPAN style="FONT-SIZE: 10pt; FONT-FAMILY: Arial; mso-bidi-font-size: 12.0pt"> < o:p>

THE WINSTON GROUP

NEW MODELS SENATE MARCH NATIONAL BRAND SURVEY
March 26-27, 2003
N=1000 RV

1. Generally speaking, would you say things in the country are headed in the right direction, or are things seriously headed off on the wrong track?

1.	Right Direction	57
2.	Don't Know/Refused (DO NOT READ)	12
3.	Wrong Track	32

2. Overall would you say that you approve or disapprove of the job George Bush is doing as President?

1.	Approve	63
2.	Don't Know/Refused (DO NOT READ)	5
3.	Disapprove	32

Please tell me for each of the following whether you have a favorable or an unfavorable impression of that group or person.

		Favorable	Unfavorable
3.	Republicans in the US Senate	56	32
4.	Democrats in the US Senate	48	39

5. Which of the following issues would you say is the most important to you in deciding how to vote for Congress? (ROTATE)

Economy/Jobs	29
Defense/Terrorism/Foreign Affairs	17
Education	13
Health Care/Prescription Drugs	11
Social Security/Retirement/Investments	8

Which party do you have more confidence in to handle the issue of (ROTATE LIST BELOW), (ROTATE) the Republican Party or the Democratic Party?

	Republican	Democrat
6. Education	37	47
7. Social Security	36	48
8. Retirement and Investments	41	40
9. Health Care/Prescription Drugs	35	49
10. The economy	44	41
11. Jobs	39	46
12. Taxes	45	42
13. National Defense/Foreign Affairs/Terrorism	58	27

14. In the last couple of weeks, have you seen, heard or read anything that U.S. Senate Republicans were doing?

1. Yes	39
2. No	57

15. What was it?

Defense/Foreign Affairs/Iraq	53
Taxes/Reform/Cuts/Bill	37
Economy/Employment/Budget	20
Bush Mention	11
Support the President	7

16. Did it make you more favorable or less favorable to U.S. Senate Republican candidates?

1. More Favorable	50
2. Less Favorable	35
3. No Difference (DO NOT READ)	15

17. In the last couple of weeks have you seen, heard or read anything that U.S. Senate Democrats were doing?

1. Yes	36
2. No	61

18. What was it?

Foreign Affairs/Iraq	49
Taxes	25
Democrat Opposition to Judicial Nominees	12
Arguing/Fighting/Partisanship	10
Tom Daschle Mention	10

19. Did it make you more favorable or less favorable to U.S. Senate Democratic candidates?

1. More Favorable	33
2. Less Favorable	45
3. No Difference (DO NOT READ)	22

20. If the elections were held today for US Senate in your state, would you be more likely to vote for (ROTATE) the Republican candidate or the Democrat candidate? (IF UNDECIDED ASK:) would you be leaning toward (ROTATE) the Republican candidate or the Democratic candidate?

1.	Republican	41
2.	Undecided	13
3.	Democrat	42
4.	DK/Refused (DO NOT READ)	4

21. In terms of an economic growth tax cut package to stimulate the economy, which of the following do you prefer? (ROTATE)

1.	A tax cut package costing $726 billion that creates 1.4 million jobs	47
2.	A tax cut package costing $350 billion that creates 700,000 jobs	30

22. What is the most important health care crisis at the moment? (ROTATE)

1.	Covering the 41 million uninsured in America	26
2.	Lack of a prescription drug benefit for seniors	15
3.	Patients being denied access to health care because doctors are forced out of business due to high liability costs	17
4.	Lack of funding for hospitals	4
5.	Increasing cost of health insurance	22
6.	Reforming the Medicare system	9
7.	Other (SPECIFY)	3
8.	DK/Refused (DO NOT READ)	4

23. Do you think that (ROTATE) Senate Democrats have deliberately blocked proposals that Senate Republicans and the President have offered, or do you think that Senate Democrats oppose Republican proposals because Democrats truly have better solutions of their own to bring to the table?

1.	Deliberately blocked Republican proposals	45
2.	Democrats have better solutions	33
3.	DK/Refused (DO NOT READ)	22

24. Over the past several years, there has been an increasing number of medical malpractice lawsuits against doctors. Do you think this is making your health care better, worse, or is it having no impact?

1. Better	6
2. Worse	73
3. No Impact	16
4. DK/Refused (DO NOT READ)	5

25. If you knew that, as a result of increasing medical malpractice lawsuits, doctors were reducing their services they provide to patients, such as delivering babies and trauma care, because they couldn't afford liability insurance, now would you say that increasing medical lawsuits are making your health care better, worse, or having no impact?

1. Better	4
2. Worse	75
3. No Impact	15
4. DK/Refused (DO NOT READ)	7

26. Congress is considering a bill that would limit judgments in medical malpractice suits. Which statement do you agree with more? (ROTATE)

Statement A - We must ensure that patients have access to quality health care. Doctors are being forced to limit services they provide, such as delivering babies, because they can no longer afford the rates for liability insurance. We have to do something now to cap damage awards so that doctors can provide services again to patients.

or

Statement B - Capping punitive damages in malpractice lawsuits would be an enormous boost to big insurance companies that abuse the legal system with their bottomless bank accounts, allowing them to drag out litigation until it bankrupts ordinary Americans. This would do little to prevent frivolous lawsuits, and is just another reward for insurance companies.

1. Statement A	61
2. Statement B	27

27. If you knew that, by capping punitive damage awards, it would allow doctors to continue to provide services and they could re-instate services that they had been forced to cut because of high liability, would you favor or oppose capping punitive damages?

1. Favor	74
2. Oppose	16
3. DK/Refused (DO NOT READ)	10

From: Douglas, Penny G.
To: <Everson, Nanette>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/4/2003 3:29:46 PM
Subject: RE: DID YOU SEE THIS AND SEND ON?

I just received a call from Dawn Perkerson at VOLPAC. She confirmed that it is a 527 (e) organization.

-----Original Message-----
From: Douglas, Penny G.
Sent: Thursday, April 03, 2003 9:00 AM
To: Everson, Nanette; Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Subject: RE: DID YOU SEE THIS AND SEND ON?

I called VOLPAC to see if they are a 527(e) organization. I'll let you know as soon as I hear back from them.

-----Original Message-----
From: Everson, Nanette
Sent: Wednesday, April 02, 2003 3:40 PM
To: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Cc: Douglas, Penny G.
Subject: DID YOU SEE THIS AND SEND ON?

What are your thoughts? Attached below are the thoughts of our shop.
---------- Forwarded by Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP on 04/02/2003 03:40 PM ----------

<< OLE Object: Picture (Device Independent Bitmap) >>
Emory Rounds
04/02/2003 03:37:42 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: DID YOU SEE THIS AND SEND ON?

---------- Forwarded by Emory Rounds/WHO/EOP on 04/02/2003 03:36 PM ----------

<< OLE Object: Picture (Device Independent Bitmap) >>
Emory Rounds
03/25/2003 03:13:45 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: VOLPAC Invitation

This responds to your e-mail request for advice, below. In addition, is this a matter for consideration also by Brett Kavanaugh, given the Hatch Act issues?

Penny Douglas is an Executive Assistant in the Office of Legislative Affairs, and is not a commissioned officer. She plans to participate in VOLPAC events scheduled for April 25 to 27, 2003, in Nashville, Tennessee, and asks whether she may accept VOLPAC's offer to pay her airfare to and from Nashville, so that she may attend the event.

Ms. Douglas explains that VOLPAC is the political action committee of Senator Bill Frist. She also advises that she has, in the past, volunteered to assist VOLPAC with the logistics of its annual Spring weekend event.

The Office of Special Counsel's web-site notes that an employee may attend and be active at political rallies and meetings; join and be an active member of a political party or club; and, hold office in political clubs or parties.

If this event is a fundraiser, the Office of Special Counsel's web-site also notes that, among other permissible activities, an employee may attend political fundraising functions and is allowed to organize a fundraiser, as long as she does not personally solicit, accept, or receive contributions. She may even give a speech or keynote address at a political fundraiser, as long as she is not on duty, and does not solicit political contributions. However, her name may not be shown on an invitation to such a fundraiser as a sponsor or point of contact.

Regarding the VOLPAC offer of travel expenses, ethics regulations provide that an employee who may take an active part in political management or in political campaigns under the Hatch Act, may accept meals, lodgings, transportation and other benefits, including free attendance at events, when provided, in connection with such active participation, by a political organization described in 26 U.S.C. 527(e). See 5 C.F.R. § 2635.204(f).

· The term "political organization" in 26 U.S.C. 527(e) means "a party, committee, association, fund, or other organization (whether or not incorporated) organized and operated primarily for the purpose of directly or indirectly accepting contributions or making expenditures, or both, for an exempt function."

· The term "exempt function" in 26 U.S.C. 527(e) means "the function of influencing or attempting to influence the selection, nomination, election, or appointment of any individual to any Federal, State, or local public office or office in a political organization, or the election of Presidential or Vice-Presidential electors, whether or not such individual or electors are selected, nominated, elected, or appointed. Such term includes the making of expenditures relating to an office described in the preceding sentence which, if incurred by the individual, would be allowable as a deduction under section 162(a)."

· The term "political management" is not otherwise defined.

It is not precisely clear from its web-site (http://www.volpac.com/index.html) whether VOLPAC is actually a "527(e)" organization, although that most likely is the case considering its mission and purpose statements.

If Ms. Douglas ascertains that VOLPAC is such an organization, then she may accept the gift of free airfare, as well as any meals, lodgings, other transportation, and other benefits, from that group in connection with her participation in the event. However, the event apparently begins on a Friday and, if she travels to or attends the event during her normal duty hours, she should be in a leave status during those hours.

****

---------- Forwarded by Emory Rounds/WHO/EOP on 03/25/2003 03:05 PM ----------

<< OLE Object: Picture (Device Independent Bitmap) >>
Nanette Everson
03/25/2003 12:09:51 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Emory Rounds/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: VOLPAC Invitation

please advise
---------- Forwarded by Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP on 03/25/2003 12:14 PM ----------

From: Penny G. Douglas/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 03/25/2003 11:37:37 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: VOLPAC Invitation

Hi Nanette -

Last week, I spoke to you briefly at the New Employees' Ethics Briefing regarding my invitation to participate in the VOLPAC events on April 25-27, 2003. VOLPAC is the political action committee of Senator Bill Frist of TN. Each year VOLPAC hosts a Spring Meeting in Nashville, TN for its members. In the past, I have volunteered to assist with the logistics of each event i.e transportation.

VOLPAC has offered to pay my airfare to/from Nashville. Do you see any problem with accepting this? Please let me know if I need to provide you with more information.

Thank you -

Penny Douglas
Office of Legislative Affairs
6-2230

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/6/2003 2:21:55 PM
Subject: : White House Global Messenger - 4-07-03
Attachments: P_11DDF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 6-APR-2003 18:21:55.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger - 4-07-03
TO:Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications (CN=Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 4-7-03 FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Monday, April 7, 2003

KEY POINTS***

Update on the Liberation of Iraq

*We are very pleased with the progress of Coalition forces in Iraq, but much of the toughest work is still to come. Saddam Hussein's regime is doomed. Iraqis should not fight for a dying regime that is not worth their lives.

*Something better for all Iraqis lies ahead, and we urge Iraqis to work constructively for the future of their country.

*Coalition forces continue to work hard to avoid civilian casualties and protect religious, cultural and historical sites.

Post-Saddam Iraq

*Just as we've planned for military victory, we're planning to win the peace.
The Coalition is committed to helping Iraqis create a broad-based, representative government, based on democratic principles, that serves their interests and is worthy of their hopes.

*For the first time in more than two decades the Iraqi people will truly benefit from their nation
's resources and the fruits of their own labor.

President Bush's Trip to the United Kingdom

*President Bush and British Prime Minister Blair will discuss the progress in the war in Iraq, the status of the ongoing military operation, and the humanitarian relief efforts.

*They will also discuss the planning to help Iraqis build a post-war Iraq

that is whole, free, and at peace within itself and with its neighbors.

*They will discuss the role of the United Nations and other international organizations.

*The President and the Prime Minister will also talk about the peace process in Northern Ireland, and discuss efforts to bring peace to the Middle East..

TODAY'S SCHEDULE***
All Times Eastern Daylight. Subject to Change

Note: President Bush and British Prime Minister Blair meet in Northern Ireland

7:00 am CENTCOM Operations Update

TBD Defense Department Briefing

TBD State Department Briefing

IRAQ HUMANITARIAN UPDATE***

*The M/V Yellow Rose, loaded with 28,500 tons of U.S. wheat, left Galveston, Texas on April 1 for Iraq. The M/V Free Atlas, which will carry an additional 28,000 tons, is leaving Galveston soon.

*On April 4, a 13-person UN assessment team - including representatives from the UN's security office, World Food Program, and the International Organization for Migration - conducted a second assessment of the port of Umm Qasr.

*On April 1, International Medical Corps became the first NGO to enter Umm Qasr.
They assessed the hospital, and plan to bring supplies in soon.

*UNICEF is bringing trucks with 35,000 liters of potable water to Safwan, Umm Kail, and Az Zubayr in Southern Iraq.

*On April 1-2, British forces distributed 112,000 liters of potable water to residents of Az Zubayr.

KEY QUOTES***

"I think it is very important to dismantle [Saddam's] whole structure of fear....Iraqis are afraid, and they've had the experience in the past of thinking this regime might be on its way out, and it keeps surviving. The regime needs to be dismantled, and not just Saddam Hussein, but the structures of terror."
Deputy Defense Secretary Wolfowitz, interview on NBC's Meet the Press, 4-6-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****

You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from
the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere. - GM 4-7-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_11DDF003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Monday, April 7, 2003

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

All Times Eastern Daylight. Subject to Change

Note:	President Bush and British Prime Minister Blair meet in Northern Ireland
7:00 am	CENTCOM Operations Update
TBD	Defense Department Briefing
TBD	State Department Briefing

Iraq Humanitarian Update

- The M/V Yellow Rose, loaded with 28,500 tons of U.S. wheat, left Galveston, Texas on April 1 for Iraq. The M/V Free Atlas, which will carry an additional 28,000 tons, is leaving Galveston soon.
- On April 4, a 13-person UN assessment team--including representatives from the UN's security office, World Food Program, and the International Organization for Migration--conducted a second assessment of the port of Umm Qasr.
- On April 1, International Medical Corps became the first NGO to enter Umm Qasr. They assessed the hospital, and plan to bring supplies in soon.
- UNICEF is bringing trucks with 35,000 liters of potable water to Safwan, Umm Kail, and Az Zubayr in Southern Iraq.
- On April 1-2, British forces distributed 112,000 liters of potable water to residents of Az Zubayr.

KEY QUOTES

"I think it is very important to dismantle [Saddam's] whole structure of fear….Iraqis are afraid, and they've had the experience in the past of thinking this regime might be on its way out, and it keeps surviving. The regime needs to be dismantled, and not just Saddam Hussein, but the structures of terror."

Deputy Defense Secretary Wolfowitz, interview on NBC's Meet the Press, 4-6-03

KEY POINTS

Update on the Liberation of Iraq

- We are very pleased with the progress of Coalition forces in Iraq, but much of the toughest work is still to come. Saddam Hussein's regime is doomed. Iraqis should not fight for a dying regime that is not worth their lives.
- Something better for all Iraqis lies ahead, and we urge Iraqis to work constructively for the future of their country.
- Coalition forces continue to work hard to avoid civilian casualties and protect religious, cultural and historical sites.

Post-Saddam Iraq

- Just as we've planned for military victory, we're planning to win the peace. The Coalition is committed to helping Iraqis create a broad-based, representative government, based on democratic principles, that serves their interests and is worthy of their hopes.
- For the first time in more than two decades the Iraqi people will truly benefit from their nation's resources and the fruits of their own labor.

President Bush's Trip to the United Kingdom

- President Bush and British Prime Minister Blair will discuss the progress in the war in Iraq, the status of the ongoing military operation, and the humanitarian relief efforts.
- They will also discuss the planning to help Iraqis build a post-war Iraq that is whole, free, and at peace within itself and with its neighbors.
- They will discuss the role of the United Nations and other international organizations.
- The President and the Prime Minister will also talk about the peace process in Northern Ireland, and discuss efforts to bring peace to the Middle East.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Benjamin A. Powell>
Sent: 4/7/2003 6:51:20 AM
Subject: : any word on ED Oklahoma?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 7-APR-2003 10:51:20.00
SUBJECT:: any word on ED Oklahoma?
TO:Benjamin A. Powell ( CN=Benjamin A. Powell/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Miranda, Manuel (Frist) <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
Sent: 4/7/2003 4:32:27 AM
Subject: : Re: rate?
Attachments: P_AZKDF003_WHO.TXT_1.html

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 7-APR-2003 08:32:27.00
SUBJECT:: Re: rate?
TO:"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> ("Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

14 % in regional appeals courts (that is, excluding the Federal Circuit, which handles patent and trademark appeals)

"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
04/07/2003 08:30:17 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: rate?

What is the current vacancy rate for Circuits? I know Districts is 5.9%

- att1.htm

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_AZKDF003_WHO.TXT_1>

What is the current vacancy rate for Circuits? I know Districts is 5.9%

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Miranda, Manuel (Frist) <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
Sent: 4/7/2003 4:46:17 AM
Subject: : RE: rate?

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 7-APR-2003 08:46:17.00
SUBJECT:: RE: rate?
TO:"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> ("Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

4 -- Owen, Prado, Sutton, and Cook.

"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
04/07/2003 08:44:30 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: rate?

How many of the 6 circuits pending on the floor are judicial emergencies?

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Monday, April 07, 2003 8:32 AM
To: Miranda, Manuel (Frist)
Subject: Re: rate?

14 % in regional appeals courts (that is, excluding the Federal Circuit, which handles patent and trademark appeals)

(Embedded image moved "Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" to file: <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
pic29475.pcx) 04/07/2003 08:30:17 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject: rate?

What is the current vacancy rate for Circuits? I know Districts is 5.9%

From: CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/7/2003 5:33:08 AM
Subject: : US CentCom Briefing 04/07/03

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brian Bravo (CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 7-APR-2003 09:33:08.00
SUBJECT:: US CentCom Briefing 04/07/03
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

UNITED STATES CENTRAL COMMAND DAILY PRESS BRIEFING
BRIEFER: GEN. VINCE BROOKS, DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS

DOHA, QATAR
7:04 A.M. EDT, MONDAY, APRIL 7, 2003

;

BRIG. GEN. VINCENT BROOKS: (In progress) -- since the entry of coalition forces into Iraq has been one of continued progress towards the objectives of removing the regime from power and bringing liberation to the Iraqi people.

;;;;;; The plan remains sound and effective, and there's also more work to be done. Our coalition troops continue to impress us all daily with their tenacity and with their disciplined compassion. They are setting the conditions for a future Iraq, and we remember those who have fallen in this cause.

;;;;;; The operation continues. Let me provide you a short update on some of the activities that occurred in the last 24 hours.

;;;;;; Even though the coalition has disrupted much of the regime's ability to wage war and its command and control systems, the regime retains some capability. The coalition continues attacks from air and ground to further erode the command and control of forces and to eliminate threats to coalition forces, Iraq's neighbors, and the Iraqi people.

;;;;;; I have two weapons systems videos of recent engagements against military assets that the regime could use to deliver chemical weapons. The first video is an attack on a surface-to-surface missile at Abu Risha (sp). This is near Aramadi (sp), west of Baghdad. And this attack occurred on the 5th of April.

;;;;;; The next video is also against a surface-to-surface missile, this one located northeast of Baghdad, and the attack also occurred on the 5th of April. And we remain focused on any assets that could potential deliver chemical weapons. That includes aircraft, surface- to-surface missiles.

;;;;;; Our coalition's special operations forces continued with unconventional warfare in northern Iraq, southern Iraq and central Iraq. These efforts are key to facilitating operations by the air component in the north and in the west, and by the land component in the center and in the south of Iraq. More significantly, they represent the mechanism that also makes it possible for Iraqis to join in the fight against the regime.

;;;;;; Coalition special operations forces are also conducting direct action missions to secure the Hadithah Dam, to deny the regime the use of ballistic missiles, and to destroy regime headquarters locations whenever they are identified. Another directed action example is a raid last night to seize a training camp near Hadithah.

;;;;;; The combined arms efforts of the land component remain deliberate, focused, and successful. In Basra, coalition forces led by the U.K. enjoyed success in reducing some of the remaining concentrations of the Ba'ath Party, party officials and also regime forces. There are still some pockets, but they are far fewer. And as military actions continue against the regime, power, water and food are increasingly available to the population. Of course, there is still work to be done in getting those distributed.

;;;;;; The towns of As-Samawa, Diwaniyah, and Najaf are all becoming more stable as time goes on with coalition efforts against the -- against the regime. In Najaf, for example, religious clerics are contributing significantly to the stability in the wake of the regime's departure. They're organizing assemblies within the towns and they're maintaining order, and the coalition very much appreciates their efforts. In Karbala, coalition forces destroyed a Ba'ath Party headquarters and fought against regime death squads to further reduce the regime influence in this very important city.

;;;;;; As coalition forces eliminate regime pockets of resistance, we continue to discover more and more weapons and ammunition stores. The images I'll show you know are weapons and ammunition removed from another school, this time in Karbala. Each time the coalition defeats the regime forces, this practice of taking schools away from students and turning them into magazines for the weapons of war comes to an end, and a future free of such practices begins.

;;;;;; The main focus of the operation continued in and around Baghdad. The Two Corps attack continued with 1st Marine Expeditionary Force isolating Baghdad from the east along the Biala (sp) River, and with the 5th Corps operating in the west, northwest, and into the town of Baghdad itself, the city of Baghdad. To the northwest, the attack prevented reinforcement by Iraqi forces north of the city, and resulted in the destruction of an Iraqi unit that was composed of tanks, armored personnel carriers, other armored vehicles, artillery systems, and infantry.

;;;;;; Our efforts to secure Baghdad International Airport continued from within the complex, where tunnels were found beneath it -- some of these tunnels were large enough to accommodate automobiles -- and from without, where artillery systems able to range the airport were attacked, and the forward observer, in this case an Iraqi colonel, was taken into coalition control. It's important to note here also that there are still Iraqi workers in and around the airport, and many of those have assisted coalition forces, providing blueprints of the airport structure itself, and also helping to turn back on electrical power and other services and utilities at the airport. And this is a very important step as we continue to progress towards getting the airport back into operation for the Iraqi people when the conflict is ended.

;;;;;; Finally, a second heart into the heart of Baghdad, to key regime locations, destroying any defending forces while protecting the civilian population and the city's infrastructure, reinforces the reality that the regime is not in control of all of the major city.

;;;;;; Our maritime component has been very effective in maintaining open sea lines of communication, to make possible the flow of humanitarian assistance and supplies, and also the continued arrival of coalition forces. The maritime component has conducted strike operations from over 33 different naval combatants, air operations from one of the largest carrier forces ever assembled, and conducted counter-ballistic missile operations as well. All of these have been key enables to the coalition's successes to date.

;;;;;; Thus far, the coalition has distributed over 40 million leaflets, and the count continues to increase every day. The information we are providing to the population remains focused on keeping the Iraqi people and their resources safe and ready for a new future.

;;;;;; One example is a recent leaflet that was distributed warning the Iraqi people, or advising them, really, to not carry weapons so they are not perceived as forces defending the regime. And of course, we show you here in English as well as in Arabic as the actual leaflets are.

;;;;;; Broadcasts do continue on radio and television, and we continue to change our messages as required to ensure that we are providing the right information and recent information to the Iraqi population.

;;;;;; As we continue dismantling the regime, we find the regime continues to disregard protecting religious and cultural treasures of the Iraqi people. In this image, you can see where the regime has placed military weaponry near an important mosque in Baghdad. Each one of these call-out boxes -- first the mosque is to the right, this is the mosque area, and there are pieces of military equipment at each one of these arrows. This is a zoom out, and yet another of these. And of course with closer inspection we can identify the types of equipment there are, but rest assured that they are military equipment, the types that would be targeted in other places. The coalition is well aware of this practice, and remains nevertheless committed to protecting sites like this mosque, while also conducting precision attacks as necessary.

;;;;;; Our efforts to facilitate humanitarian assistance in Iraq have increased in importance. There are still very important needs to be met, many of them resulting from years of oppression, and some resulting from the ongoing combat actions. Fortunately, there have not been any humanitarian emergencies on the scale of recent conflicts in this region or in other parts of the world in recent years.

;;;;;; Among our most pressing short-term requirements are returning power and running water to the cities of Najaf, Samawa, Nasiriyah, and Basra. And in most cases, power has to come first in order to get self-sustaining water supplies in there. So, we continue our efforts to push water in bulk wherever we can by way of water pipelines and water trucks, but there's also an ongoing effort to get power up in each one of those locations to have self-sustaining water.

;;;;;; These efforts are ongoing, and in one recently liberated town, we even saw some local citizens washing cars -- something that we certainly would not have expected to see before.

;;;;;; Yesterday I showed you some supplies being distributed to a school, and those supplies, as I mentioned, had come from a warehouse that the regime had chosen not to distribute out to the people. In this case, I have another image to show you. What it reflects is that our forces continue to do whatever they can to provide support to liberated Iraqi people. In this particular photo, you see U.S. Marines and free Iraqi forces members distributing food, and there's also medical suppliers that they are delivering, to locals in the Nasiriyah area. And these supplies were captured from Iraqi military forces.

;;;;;; We have one additional good news story to report today, and that is that the ongoing efforts to extinguish the two oil wells, one has been successfully extinguished, and there now remains one burning oil well in the southern oil fields. We've been able also to exercise a degree of control over now 940 -- I'm sorry -- 900 of the 940 wells that are in the oil fields south of Baghdad. And so that effort continues and is going very well.

;;;;;; Ladies and gentlemen, with that, I'll take your questions. Yes, ma'am.

;;;;;; Q General, Cammie (sp) McCormack (sp) with CBS News. There are a couple of reports today that some bridges near Baghdad, possibly to the east or the south, there was some fierce fighting and marine casualties, and an American quoted as saying they're fighting back, they seem to be fighting a bit more. Also, to the south of Baghdad, a report that a column of American armored personnel carriers was hit. Can you elaborate on either one of those?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Cammie (sp), what I can tell you is, first, we are continuing combat operations. We're not finished, and we have no illusions about the fact that there's still work ahead, and that there will continue to be combat action. As I mentioned, the marines, the 1st Marine Expeditionary Force, are conducting operations on the eastern side of the city of Baghdad. There are bridges across the Biala (sp) River. We know that one of those bridges was destroyed by Iraqi forces, and they also have positioned artillery on the other side of the river. So, there is combat action that occurs in that area. I don't want to characterize any more specifically since operations are ongoing as to what will happen next, or where we currently are located.

;;;;;; Similarly, there are places and pockets of resistance in the surrounding Baghdad areas, and in some of the towns we've already passed through, as a -- Karbala as an example -- where we still have combat action occurring. And as I mentioned up front, the regime does still have some military capability. It also has some limited command and control capability over small units in certain areas. What we're not seeing is an overarching structure of control. We believe that's been significantly degraded, but that doesn't mean that there is an elimination completely of all threats. And so we continue with our efforts to find those, remove those, and proceed to a condition where the regime is gone and there's no longer any threats to us or to the Iraqi people.

;;;;;; Yes. Let me go to this side, please. Hasan (sp).

;;;;;; Q Hasan (sp) Bashidi (sp) from Al-Jazeera. General, what is the situation now in the Mosul, and what's your target in this city -- in this city?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: We are continuing operations in the north near Mosul. Our efforts are right now to isolate regime forces in and around Mosul. We believe at this point we've had some success in causing some paramilitaries to leave that area, and that leaves some Ba'ath Party -- enforcers is probably the best way to describe them -- in that area. So, it is not yet complete stable. We have not conducted significant combat operations into that area, but we continue to focus targeting on forces that are in the Mosul region as well as other places along what has been described at the green line. Those operations continue at this time.

;;;;;; Tom.

;;;;;; Q Tom Mintier with CNN. I'd like to go back to the videos you showed us this afternoon -- two missile launcher sites. I guess it's my turn to ask the usual daily question about weapons of mass destruction. We've had unconfirmed reports the last couple of days of finding locations that are cemented over, either in school yards or elsewhere, where you've had to dig underground looking for these things. What has been found in those? And the second question -- normally I only ask one -- British reports of the death of Chemical Ali in Basra, if you could talk to us about that.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: We continue to find information that leads us to different sites, and we also, as we continue to advance, uncover areas where there is suspected activity. With each one of these reports that there might be some potential presence of weapons of mass destruction, or some potential means of using weapons of mass destruction, we do a thorough search. We've organized part of the force to be able to specifically go to sites, either ones that we have planned up front to examine as we arrive on them, or ones that can be done on an ad hoc basis when we find some piece of information we didn't previously have. And frankly, we expect there will be a lot of that since there was a deliberate campaign of denial, deception, hiding things, burying things.

;;;;;; I don't have any specific updates on the locations you're talking about where the concrete was found. There are some other areas as well that we think that we have to excavate sites to find out what in fact was buried there. As more information becomes available, then we'll certainly report that, but we don't have any extraordinary finds at this point while we're still looking.

;;;;;; As to the reports, I don't have any confirmed reports on the condition of the man referred to as Chemical Ali.

;;;;;; Continue on the right, here. Please, Jeff.

;;;;;; Q General, Jeff Meade (sp) from Sky News. Can you give us a sense of your emotion, how you felt when you saw that footage of tanks right into Baghdad, right by the river in the parade ground? What does that -- what sense does that give you? And also, how do you -- militarily, how do you assess that operation, its character, and how do you plan to develop on it?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, first, from here we also get to experience things at a distance. And the great value of embedded reporters is that you can see things that are happening the same way as they are in the eyes of the soldiers that are out there. I think most of the story was told by the soldiers who were involved in that.

;;;;;; The term I used a few days ago was "cautious optimism." And so while that increases the optimism and reinforces the reality of our ability to conduct operations even into the heart of the regime, where the regime does not have control, it also reminds us that there's still a great deal of hazard out there.

;;;;;; These are personal friends of mine that conducted that operation, people that I've served with, and I was delighted for their success. And we certainly wish them continued success and protection in the coming days.

;;;;;; What we do with them militarily, though, is that's where the cautious part of the cautious optimism comes back in. Opportunities are created by operations, and then new operations come as a result of those opportunities. So there will be things that come as a result of what you saw today. We're not going to specify what those are. We'll see them as they unfold.

;;;;;; Many of them are tactical decisions made by commanders down on the ground, where they see another opportunity to put the regime at greater risk, take away its ability to control, and remove the mechanisms by which the regime either oppresses people or conducts military operations. And so that's what we think we'll see here over the coming days, not just in Baghdad but all of the areas throughout the country.

;;;;;; On the left side. Yes, sir, please.

;;;;;; Q General, Paul Adams, BBC. Last time I checked, just as we were coming into the briefings this afternoon, it seemed as though American forces were still at some of the presidential palaces and didn't show any signs of moving out. Is it your intention that some of those forces will remain where they are through the day and perhaps beyond?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, I think these are tactical decisions that we made out there, Paul. Again, there's opportunities that come from each action that's taken, and then the commanders on the ground will decide whether there's something new that needs to happen.

;;;;;; So they'll make the decisions on what parts of Baghdad they wish to retain control of, where they want to conduct operations out of, whether they want to move to a different location, exert greater authority in different places, or simply go directly to where they happen to have intelligence on where any regime forces might be located. And so I can't characterize exactly what the intentions are for the tactical commanders on the ground.

;;;;;; The most important thing for us at this level is it reinforces, again, the reality that we will and will continue to conduct operations at a time and place of our choosing and that the regime does not have the means of preventing that.

;;;;;; While we will encounter fights, and some of the fights have been fights that are worthy of respect for forces that unfortunately may be dying for a regime that does not have a future, and we take that into account, we don't take for granted that there still will be some actions in a variety of places.

;;;;;; Our efforts will be continuous in trying to find out where the additional forces are located, and in many cases we'll take the battle directly to those forces. That's how I'll characterize it.

;;;;;; Please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible.) I'd like to ask you, what, to your mind, constitutes victory? And second, I know you've said day after day that this is a fight against more than one man, but as far as the search for Saddam Hussein goes, can you claim victory while Saddam eludes you? And how concerned are you that he will, in fact, elude you?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, Jeff, let me recharacterize a part of what you asked in the question. We have at no time said there is a hunt for any particular individual. An so, because of that, he can't be eluded. So what I will tell you is this. We continue to focus not on individuals but on the regime and its capabilities.

;;;;;; The characterization of victory will not occur from here. We're going to conduct operations until we accomplish the objectives that have been set out for us. And if you review those objectives that were laid out at the very beginning of the operation, it's very clear to all who consider it that we haven't finished our work yet.

;;;;;; And so we're a long way from being able to celebrate victory. We certainly continue to say that the outcome is not in doubt. But there is still work for us to do at this point, and that's where we remain focused.

;;;;;; Second row, please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- Russian State Television. General, do you have any new information about the incident with the Russian convoy, apart from what has been released yesterday? What would you say to the reports that bullets from M-16 rifles used by the U.S. Army were extracted from the vehicles who had been shot upon, and also during the surgery, and also to the information that the convoy was prevented from moving by the U.S. forces? Thank you.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: What we know is that we had reports that the embassy personnel were going to be moving out to the west and departing Iraq. We had awareness of that. We have received reports, as many of you have heard, that there was some sort of exchange of gunfire that hit part of the convoy as it moved.

;;;;;; What we don't have is anything that would confirm the role of U.S. forces in that. We do know that it went through a contested area and an area that certainly had Iraqi forces present, and we fought those forces later in the day.

;;;;;; There are any number of reports out there at this point in time, and none of them are factual. So I can't provide you an update until we've had the opportunity to continue our interaction, which we already have, with the Russian embassies through our embassies, some of the direct contacts that have occurred. And when this group has completely gotten to safety, as well as has the opportunity to make their own examination, we may have more to say. Right now we don't have anything else we can (talk about?).

;;;;;; Second row, please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- USA Today. There have been some reports this morning that in an agricultural warehouse near Baghdad, there were some G-series nerve agents found. Several people had to be decontaminated. Can you tell us a little bit about what was found there and how it was found and what this indicates to you?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Donna, I honestly don't know. I have not seen that report and I have not seen that as what we call a significant act that gets immediately posted. So it's not within my awareness at this point in time.

;;;;;; What I can tell you in general terms is, first, we have always expected that this regime has chemical weapons and also possesses the will and the means to use it. As we continue to advance, we've taken away some of those means and we've taken away some of the will by our leaflet drops, by our messages, and by our military action.

;;;;;; We continue to remain focused on the potential of encountering it, either by being delivered or going into places where it might be stored. And so I don't know anything specific about this case. I'm sure that whoever encountered that took the appropriate actions.

;;;;;; We have, inside of our tactical formations, right at the front of the formations, we have things like chemical-agent monitors, chemical detectors, chemical reconnaissance vehicles that specifically look for things.

;;;;;; So when there's an anticipation that there might be some agents nearby, commanders will make a determination, push those assets to where they can see if there's a hazard or not. And if there is, they take appropriate actions. And so that's all I know about that. It's more a matter of our approach than that specific report.

;;;;;; Let me go to the second row, please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- Newsday. There are some reports that the United States military flew the head of the Iraqi National Congress into southern Iraq, into Nasiriyah. Three questions: Can you confirm if that's true? Can you tell us, if it is true, they also brought 700 soldiers and what role you see for them? And thirdly, what does this tell us about how the Pentagon views the Iraqi National Congress as a possible starting point for an Iraqi interim authority or the future of the Iraqi government?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, it should come as no surprise, Craig, that our government has done work with the Iraqi National Congress and we've taken their interests and concerns seriously.

;;;;;; At this point I don't want to characterize exactly what work has been done in recent days with the Iraqi National Congress, but there is ongoing work. Suffice it to say that there are Iraqis outside of Iraq who are interested in helping to liberate their country, and we are interested in having them contribute to that effort, and also the Iraqis that are inside of Iraq. There are many who want to help in liberating their country and have already assisted coalition. And we anticipate there will be even more in the days ahead.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible.) As the coalition military actions in Baghdad increase over time, certainly more regime leaders and other Baath Party officials are going to attempt to flee from Baghdad. Where do you stand on the issue of checkpoints around the city of Baghdad? There was a report today that there were checkpoints established at all of the main artilleries (sic/means arteries) leading from Baghdad. Thank you, sir.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, since we have ongoing operations, it wouldn't be appropriate for me to characterize exactly where we have established varying degrees of control.

;;;;;; Suffice it to say that we focus on places where regime leaders or regime assets, be they military, paramilitary or others, might want to move. And we want to deny freedom of action, just as we have out in the western desert against weapons of mass destruction, just as we have in other parts of Iraq.

;;;;;; We remain focused on that as it relates to Baghdad so that we know who's moving in and out. There may be some who can move and there may be some areas where we exercise a high degree of control. There may be other areas where we simply maintain surveillance. In some cases we may target certain things.

;;;;;; So, again, these are all very tactical decisions that are made by commanders on the ground who seek to achieve a particular effect, with the ultimate objective of having a degree of control over movement inside and out of Baghdad. That's how we're orienting ourselves right now.

;;;;;; Let me go a little bit further back. Yes, sir, please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- the Minneapolis Star-Tribune. We've got troops in Baghdad. It seems like we've got the whole regime on the run. If ever there was a time that this regime would resort to weapons of mass destruction or chemical warfare, wouldn't it have happened by now? And since it hasn't happened, wouldn't it be reasonable for some people to conclude that they didn't have them or weren't willing to use them?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, some might come to that conclusion. We don't come to that conclusion. We look more at not what the actual decisions are; we don't speculate on what decisions are actually going through the minds of those regime leaders that remain or those that might have some influence.

;;;;;; Rather, we look at is there a capability still to use weapons of mass destruction? Is there still potentially a set of chemicals that's stored somewhere that can be put into use? Is there still a mechanism to deliver that? Is there a mechanism to issue orders to deliver that? If so, then the threat is not gone.

;;;;;; As to when the best time to use it might have been, there have already been a number of places where it could have been used and it was not used. And I think that's not just because of decisions made. It's also because of influence against decision-makers.

;;;;;; We believe that our operations have been effective in convincing, first -- you saw some leaflets early on that we delivered to units that had the capability. We said, "No one benefits from the use of weapons of mass destruction." And we also reminded them of what happened at Halabja. That was on the leaflet.

;;;;;; We also did deliberate work against things like Astros (sp) missiles, free rockets over ground, Al-Samoud missiles, Ababil-100s, the missiles that could deliver these types of chemicals. Where we saw them, we destroyed them. And we also moved into areas where they had been launched in the early days, particularly toward Kuwait, to take away the opportunity for them to actually deliver those.

;;;;;; That work continues. But there's also still capability. While it hasn't been found, we're reminded that because we haven't found it, it's still there. That's the approach we take.

;;;;;; Yes, sir, please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible.) With so many Iraqi POWs (in custody?), has the coalition been able to identify criminals of war?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: What we've seen, Alan, is the behaviors of a regime that resorts to criminal activity. And we've seen actions by people who can only be categorized as criminals. How we will deal with that will unfold over time. It's still a bit early to say what actions will be taken.

;;;;;; But the president and our other national leaders have been very clear that there will be a day of accounting for those that have committed war crimes in this operation, in plain view of most of the world.

;;;;;; So it's not just the coalition forces that are seeing these types of behaviors, and unfortunately we see them continuing. And we want to drive that regime to an end so that it doesn't continue -- (inaudible).

;;;;;; Yes, sir, please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- Daily Telegraph in London. Can you just give me a bit more of the sense of how the Iraqi regime in the center of Baghdad is functioning? When you say that it's largely dismembered in terms of communications terms, is there still a body of senior Iraqi government figures who, to some extent, are communicating, directing? And maybe give us some idea of what kind of organized resistance -- (inaudible).

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: There are parts of Baghdad that we've not been through, obviously. There are parts that the regime still has control over, particularly the population. Saddam City is an example, a Shi'a concentrated neighborhood just on the opposite side of the Saddam Canal in the northeast corner of town.

;;;;;; A considerable amount of energy has been committed by the regime at making sure that that population does not turn against the regime. We see intelligence services that are on the ground. We see special security members on the ground. And that's the best information we have about the circumstance there.

;;;;;; We do also see that there are places where the regime can exercise control over military forces and capability. Some of it is positioned inside the town. I showed you some military equipment near a mosque in Baghdad.

;;;;;; Those decisions are, for the most part, low-level decisions. Commanders that have control of actual forces can order those forces into action. There is a small amount of communication that joins different parts of remnants of the forces that are out there, without getting too specific about that. But what we don't see is an overarching structure that can order action from north to south and east to west throughout the country. Only the coalition has that capability right now.

;;;;;; And as each day passes, there is less and less that the regime can do to order action by their forces. Either the capability is destroyed, as in the context that I described during the night on the northwest corner of Baghdad or actions that occurred on the southeast, actions that are ongoing right now, where that capability is completely taken away so there is no one to order.

;;;;;; We did -- we know that we encountered some division commanders, and some of them did not survive the combat from some of the Republican Guard forces. That takes away capability. And we also know that there are degraded mechanisms by which remaining regime leaders would issue their instructions. And those also we are able to degrade in some more cases beyond that.

;;;;;; So that's where our efforts are, and they will continue to go in that direction, to take away all capability of the regime, make it clear the regime no longer has control at all in Baghdad or any other area; with the assistance of the population, take those regime members into our custody or out of control some way or another, so that the future can begin in all areas of the country.

;;;;;; Let me come center on the right side, please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible.) Has the Iraqi air force been operational in the course of this war? And does it still have an operational capability?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: We've seen some very limited movement by Iraqi helicopters that had not yet been attacked. We found a number of aircraft locations, some of which I've shown you over days. As you've seen, some of the aircraft were moved into places to hide them or to disperse them away from airfields themselves.

;;;;;; One example where we saw all of that was near Al-Asad Air Base. In some cases they're moved near cemeteries. In some cases they're moved -- in some cases we've seen aircraft actually being buried to try to protect them.

;;;;;; So the Iraqi air force is not functioning in terms of a force that brings a direct threat. All assets, however, have not been accounted for or eliminated. And so, again, as with other things, there is still a capability that has to be addressed, and we can't ignore that capability in our considerations on a daily basis.

;;;;;; Let me go in the back, please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible.) And as the coalition forces are advancing to the center of Baghdad and there are possibilities of urban fighting, how could you spare the civilian casualties or minimize the civilian casualties? And question two is that last night the Iraqis, for the first time, imposed a nighttime travel ban. What (effect had that?) for your military operations? Thank you.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: We can never guarantee that civilians will not be injured as a result of combat. And you're right in assessing that the potential increases as we go into more closed spaces common to an urban area. And that's not just in Baghdad; that's in other areas.

;;;;;; But I think our track record to date shows that as we enter into an urban area, we do it in a very deliberate way. Our fires are discriminating. We don't randomly shoot throughout town. Our fires are focused on specific military targets or against specific threats that are identified, military or non-military.

;;;;;; That will continue. That's already been the case. We've had very large formations with significant combat power entering into the heart of Baghdad, down to the Tigris River in some cases, or in other parts of town, as you saw earlier today.

;;;;;; And while there may have been civilian casualties we don't know about, we know that our fires were focused in such a way that they were oriented against regime elements, regime forces. That will continue to be the case. And so we'll remain focused on doing all we can to protect the Iraqi people from the hazards of combat. You saw the leaflet that I showed today. Those types of communications also contribute to protecting the Iraqi population.

;;;;;; We still have great concern, though, because this regime has demonstrated a willingness on a number of occasions to hide behind the civilian population, deliberately putting them between coalition forces and regime forces.

;;;;;; And that's happened even in the last two days -- reports of moving civilians out in front, firing over the top of their heads to cause a response by coalition forces, with the intent of causing the coalition to create what has been referred to in some cases as collateral damage, actions against civilians that we don't intend to hit or against structures that we don't intend to hit.

;;;;;; We're disciplined, we're trained, and we're also very accurate. And so that's not been a problem. And we believe we'll continue to take an approach that prevents it from becoming a problem.

;;;;;; Yes, ma'am, please.

;;;;;; Q (Off mike) -- of Reuters. I wanted to ask you about the various palaces that your coalition forces have been into (from now ?) There's been -- (inaudible) -- there's a Basra one; there's several in Baghdad now. What were you expecting find there? Have you actually found documents, leaders, weapons, those sort of things?

;;;;;; The other question, quickly. You mentioned the arrival of new coalition forces when you were talking about maritime ops. Can you give us an idea of the scale of that?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: The different places that we go into sometimes have value because they might have intelligence inside of them. And so we'll enter them for those purposes and see if we can find papers or other information that might give us greater insight into the regime or into regime leaders. We've not found a lot of weapons inside of palaces. Those are more commonly reserved to schools and hospitals, where we have found lots of weapons and lots of ammunition. In some cases, we find regime leaders inside of their homes or palaces. In the ones you saw today, that was not the case.

;;;;;; Some of these had already been attacked. Some portions of palaces complexes had been attacked, particularly the parts that are associated with command and control systems.

;;;;;; Our efforts are not about individuals; our efforts are about the regime and its capability. And so while some of these attacks that you saw today did not turn up individuals, they may well turn up information. They certainly show clearly that the regime does not control those areas, that the coalition can control those areas whenever it chooses to. They also show the great juxtaposition between conditions you see in Umm Qasr and conditions you see inside of the palace in Baghdad. It says an awful low, in my view, about the regime and its approach to the great riches of Iraq.

;;;;;; As to the continuing buildup of forces, as I mentioned, we do have forces that are flowing in. They've always been part of the plan. We remain on-plan. And without being too specific about how much force has come in, where they're going to do, how we'll use them, suffice it to say that this has always been considered from the start, and that process continues. It will increase the combat capability of the coalition. It's not just U.S. forces that are still arriving. And we believe the coalition continues to gain strength with every day that passes.

;;;;;; Please, in the back.

;;;;;; Q Yeah, General, thank you. Jonathan Marcus (ph), BBC. Just clarify please. I think you just said that in some cases, we find regime leaders in the palaces that are attacked. Could you expand on that please? Could you also tell us whether -- if you special forces or aircraft have attacked any long-range Scud missiles to the west of Iraq? Would you have shown us pictures of those attacks of those particular weapons systems?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: I made reference to finding regime leaders in their homes. And we certainly have had some evidence of that in the last few days. We believe that Ali Hassan Al-Majid, "Chemical Ali," may have been in a home. And so sometimes we do see them returning to homes, and sometimes we see them going into other places. Where we have the opportunity, we may direct an attack against that. Sometimes we can; sometimes we cannot. But we continue to monitor for that.

;;;;;; The second part of your question?

;;;;;; Q Yeah, you've told us a lot about operations by special operations forces and aircraft against alleged Scud sites, launch sites and installations. There was actually an article in Aviation Week this week describing one of those missions, and it seems to suggest that targets were hit. So my question was, if you had hit or found indeed long-range Scud missile systems, would you have been able to show us pictures of those attacks? Have you attacked such systems?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: What we have seen is, first we conducted some operations in places that have been traditionally used to hide long- range surface-to-surface missiles, particularly in the western desert, in areas that would threaten neighbors of Iraq. Those areas have been denied. In some cases, we've found missile-assembly locations, and those were attacked. And I've shown you some of those images. In other cases, we've found missiles themselves. The Scud family -- I don't recall exactly how many of those we've encountered. We have found some. Mostly what we've seen in the Al Samoud/Ababil family of missiles, and those also can range neighboring countries, as we've certainly seen in a number of cases fired against Kuwait. All of these are capable of carrying chemical munitions and potentially biological munitions as well.

;;;;;; So our operations do continue, looking at places where they might hide, where they might move, denying their free movement. We've seen evidence of missile launcher concentrations between the lakes near Al Rimadi (ph), as an example, and closer to Baghdad. And it seems logical, as we know that there has been some missile development over the last several years in secret that extended-range would mean that the western areas don't have to necessarily be used. Areas closer to Baghdad might be used and still range the same target areas.

;;;;;; And so we look at a number of places to find these types of things. And I can't characterize a number for you at this point in time, but our work continues.

;;;;;; Q Could you name a few locations -- (inaudible.)

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Al Rimadi (ph) is one area where we see that concentrated, I say between the lakes on the west of Baghdad.

;;;;;; Yes, sir, please.

;;;;;; Q General, thank you. (Inaudible) -- BBC. I think a lot of us in this room have been fascinated, would be one word, by the various pronouncements of the Iraqi Information minister. I think it reached its most surreal when he was on television saying he saw no Americans. And this it was two minutes later, followed by one of your commanders, saying he was across the road, so he though he might go across and say hello. It begs the question, why don't you go and say hello, tap him on the shoulder and bring him in?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, in a number of occasions, we've said that this is not about individuals. And we've also said that we report facts, and we've certainly seen some misrepresentation of facts in other places, some of them glaringly obvious. Our operations are focused for purposes that are conceived by commanders on the ground, and those operations have been very effective. So it's not so much about individuals at all.

;;;;;; Q (Off mike.)

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Perhaps, but we have a regime that's engaged in this type of disinformation to its people for a long time. Right now, many of the broadcasts are not being seen by the Iraqi people. They're being seen internationally on satellite. What's being shown to the Iraqi people is something very different than that. And I'll just leave it at that point.

;;;;;; Off to this side, please.

;;;;;; Q I was wondering if you could tell us -- Nick Spicer (ph),

National Public Radio. We have a report that some American troops outside of Baghdad are being told that they don't have to wear their chemical protection suits anymore? Could you confirm that? And would their actions be speaking louder than your words about the potential threat in Baghdad in terms of chemical or biological weapons?

;;;;;; Thank you.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, I don't know if those decisions have in fact been made. What I can tell you is that they use of the chemical protective overgarments or chemical protective suits is a protective posture, and the decisions for putting it on or taking it off are made by tactical commanders. They make their assessments based on what they see, what they sense, and it's a judgment call. In some cases, they may make a decision at their own time. In some cases, it may be a higher commander that issues that order. That kind of an order will not come from this command at this headquarters. It'll be delegated down to a much lower level.

;;;;;; So if that's true, then that's a tactical commander's decision, and that's certainly their call to make.

;;;;;; Right behind, please.

;;;;;; Q Sir, Peter Lloyd (ph) from ABC. I'm just confused about your response to the definition of victory. You've got a timeline which you talk about. Where on your timeline is the milestone and what is it that signifies victory not just to you, but to the Iraqi people. And if you haven't got one or can't tell us what it is, how can you convince the Iraqi what it's over that it is over?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, what we have is a plan. And the timeline is really not the appropriate term. Timeline says things are going to unfold in time, a specific time having been preconceived. Rather, we see a related series of actions and objectives to be attained. And we remain on that plan.

;;;;;; There is still work to be done. We know that. All of our objectives have not bee attained. But I think the Iraqi people are already beginning to realize that life has changed in areas where the coalition has passed through. They're beginning to enjoy the freedom of choice on a number of things. They're enjoying life without a regime that orders them to do certain things, and if they don't, they murder members of the family. That's been moved away from a number of areas. So for the population, victory is already occurring in some places. And we rapidly move into the things that are necessary to begin the start point for the future.

;;;;;; In other areas, combat action is still going on, and we're not finished with that. We remain focused on achieving the combat-related objectives.

;;;;;; Rather than stating time -- we've stated on a number of occasions that this will go on as long as it needs to go, and we'll be here as long as it takes to accomplish what it is that is required. We're not going to abandon this mission. We're going to see it all the way through. And that is ongoing.

;;;;;; I have time for one more question. George.

;;;;;; Q Yes, thank you, General. I'm George Curry (ph), editor in chief to the National Newspaper Publishers Association's news service, the Black Press of the United States. I wanted to follow up on an earlier question regarding the Iraqi National Congress. There was a very public report today on page one of the Washington Post that said that exiles were being airlifted back into southern Iraq. Can you at least confirm that they are now part of the mission to help overthrow the regime?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: I don't want to be too specific about that, George. We do have ongoing operations; some of them are very dangerous in their nature. Again, there should be no surprise that Iraqi National Congress wants to see a different Iraq than that which existed a few months ago. And that is ongoing. They're participating, working closely with the coalition. There are some who are willing and ready to fight for the liberation of Iraq. As that develops, there will be more information to talk about it, but it's too early for us to be specific at this point in time.

;;;;;; Thanks very much, ladies and gentlemen. See you again.

END.

;

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>
Sent: 4/7/2003 9:37:43 AM
Subject: :

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 7-APR-2003 13:37:43.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot (CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/07/2003 01:37 PM ----------

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/03/2003 10:20:46 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP
cc:
Subject:

American Bar Association Standard for Evaluation of Nominees:
The ABA evaluation &is directed solely to professional qualifications: integrity, professional competence and judicial temperament. Integrity is self-defining. The nominee's character and general reputation in the legal community are investigated, as are his or her industry and diligence. Professional competence encompasses such qualities as intellectual capacity, judgment, writing and analytical ability, knowledge of the law and breadth of professional experience. . . . In investigating judicial temperament, the Committee considers the nominee,s compassion, decisiveness, open-mindedness, courtesy, patience, freedom from bias and commitment to equal justice under the law.8 ABA Web Site.

From: CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/7/2003 6:38:19 AM
Subject: : Re: Kuhl specter

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Wendy J. Grubbs ( CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 7-APR-2003 10:38:19.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Kuhl specter
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Checking on it....
.
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>
Sent: 4/7/2003 6:49:56 AM
Subject: : any update on Ralph Boyd?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 7-APR-2003 10:49:56.00
SUBJECT:: any update on Ralph Boyd?
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Linda M. Gambatesa/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: Colleen Litkenhaus/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Colleen Litkenhaus>
Sent: 4/7/2003 6:51:27 AM
Subject: : Easter Egg Roll Reception

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Linda M. Gambatesa ( CN=Linda M. Gambatesa/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 7-APR-2003 10:51:27.00
SUBJECT:: Easter Egg Roll Reception
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Colleen Litkenhaus ( CN=Colleen Litkenhaus/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

If the President and/or Mrs. Bush's schedules preclude them from being here to host the Easter Egg Roll Breakfast;Reception on the State;Floor;
for the sponsors of the event, and if Mrs. Cheney has been asked to do so in their stead and is able to, is there any reason why the breakfast cannot be paid for out of the Residence budget as would be the case if the President and/or Mrs. Bush were in attendance?
;
Thanks.
;
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jennifer G. Newstead>;Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>
Sent: 4/7/2003 6:52:18 AM
Subject: : Easter Egg Roll Reception

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 7-APR-2003 10:52:18.00
SUBJECT:: Easter Egg Roll Reception
TO:Jennifer G. Newstead (CN=Jennifer G. Newstead/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot (CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

I think this is still in Jen's bailiwick as this was a Courtney area??

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/07/2003 10:51 AM ----------

From: Linda M. Gambatesa/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/07/2003 10:51:43 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP, Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Colleen Litkenhaus/WHO/EOP@Exchange
Subject: Easter Egg Roll Reception

If the President and/or Mrs. Bush's schedules preclude them from being here to host the Easter Egg Roll Breakfast;Reception on the State;Floor; for the sponsors of the event, and if Mrs. Cheney has been asked to do so in their stead and is able to, is there any reason why the breakfast cannot be paid for out of the Residence budget as would be the case if the President and/or Mrs. Bush were in attendance?
;
Thanks.
;

From: CN=Jennifer G. Newstead/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: theodore w. ullyot/who/eop@eop [WHO] <theodore w. ullyot>
Sent: 4/7/2003 7:05:04 AM
Subject: : Re: Easter Egg Roll Reception

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Jennifer G. Newstead (CN=Jennifer G. Newstead/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 7-APR-2003 11:05:04.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Easter Egg Roll Reception
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:theodore w. ullyot (CN=theodore w. ullyot/OU=who/O=eop@eop [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Sure. I'll reply.

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/07/2003 10:52:08 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP, Jennifer G.
Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Easter Egg Roll Reception

I think this is still in Jen's bailiwick as this was a Courtney area??

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on
04/07/2003 10:51 AM ----------

From: Linda M. Gambatesa/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/07/2003 10:51:43 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP, Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Colleen Litkenhaus/WHO/EOP@Exchange
Subject: Easter Egg Roll Reception

If the President and/or Mrs. Bush's schedules preclude them from being here to host the Easter Egg Roll Breakfast;Reception on the State;Floor;
for the sponsors of the event, and if Mrs. Cheney has been asked to do so in their stead and is able to, is there any reason why the breakfast cannot be paid for out of the Residence budget as would be the case if the President and/or Mrs. Bush were in attendance?
;
Thanks.
;

From: Nelson, Carolyn
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/7/2003 11:08:01 AM
Subject: FW: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

Do you have details (or a contact #) about this lunch?

-----Original Message-----

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.

Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 5:32 PM

To: Nelson, Carolyn

Subject: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

From: CN=Carolyn Nelson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/7/2003 7:08:05 AM
Subject: : FW: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Carolyn Nelson (CN=Carolyn Nelson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 7-APR-2003 11:08:05.00
SUBJECT:: FW: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Do you have details (or a contact #) about this lunch?
-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, March 31, 2003 5:32 PM
To: Nelson, Carolyn
Subject: please schedule lunch for Judge Gonzales on April 10 at noon with Boyden Gray, General Meese, and some others

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Brosnahan, Jennifer R.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent: 4/7/2003 12:51:40 PM
Subject: punitive damages opinion today

Supreme Court reiterated constl limits on size of punis awards today. Justices Scalia, Thomas, and RB Ginsburg dissented.

http://www.supremecourtus.gov/opinions/02pdf/01-1289.pdf

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Nelson, Carolyn>
Sent: 4/7/2003 1:10:30 PM
Subject: do you have direct number for hew pate

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/07/2003 01:10 PM ----------

Brett M. Kavanaugh

04/07/2003 10:25:54 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP

cc:

Subject: do you have direct number for hew pate

From: Nelson, Carolyn
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/7/2003 1:27:56 PM
Subject: RE: do you have direct number for hew pate

514-3994

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, April 07, 2003 1:11 PM
To: Nelson, Carolyn
Subject: do you have direct number for hew pate

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/07/2003 01:10 PM ----------

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/07/2003 10:25:54 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP
cc:
Subject: do you have direct number for hew pate

From:	MacEcevic, Lisa J.
To:	<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Warsh, Kevin>;<Schacht, Diana L.>;<Silverberg, Kristen>;<Bloomquist, Lauren E.>;<Boden, James>;<Schwartz, Kenneth L.>;<Green, Richard E.>;<Jukes, James J.>;<McMillin, Stephen S.>
Sent:	4/7/2003 3:22:41 PM
Subject:	04/07 CongressDaily: "White House 'Not Opposed' To Class Action Compromise"

White House 'Not Opposed' To Class Action Compromise

The White House is signaling its support for a class action reform legislative compromise reached last week between Senate Judiciary Chairman Hatch and Sen. Dianne Feinstein , D-Calif., supporters of the bill said today. Specifically, these sources said the Bush administration last week conveyed the message that it is "not opposed" to the compromise -- which is being viewed by the business community as a somewhat imperfect, but overall a balanced and fair bill and probably the best they will get in the closely divided Senate this year. Industry lobbyists kept the White House abreast of the flurry of negotiations that took place last week, ahead of a scheduled markup. That markup was postponed after Democrats complained they needed more time to review the Feinstein language. Sen. Herb Kohl, D-Wis., who was integral in brokering the deal between Hatch and Feinstein, also is a cosponsor of the amendment. Even before that deal was reached, however, sources said a meeting took place last Monday between several of the bill's industry supporters and White House senior adviser Karl Rove, the president's top political strategist. Rove said he was pleased with the legislation's direction and appeared confident that the bill would be the first legal reform to reach President Bush's desk this session. A White House spokesman was unavailable for confirmation on these points.

Meanwhile, supporters of the compromise bill are viewing with trepidation a markup scheduled for Thursday, anticipating tough Democratic and Republican amendments. There is ample support for moving the bill out of committee, but lobbyists are continuing to try to nail down potential Democratic supporters on the committee, or at least neutralize potential Democratic opponents. Lobbyists also expect Feinstein will stand firmly behind the compromise. "Based on all conversations that folks have had with her, we're aware that she's pretty solid on this, and we don't expect her to go for second degree amendments or anything," said Matt Webb, director of legal reform policy for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce's Institute for Legal Reform. Said a Feinstein spokesman, "Sen. Feinstein believes the amendment she proposed is a good amendment and a good way to move forward with class action reform."

Jeff Peck, a Democratic consultant working with the U.S. Chamber, said the bill's supporters are convinced that Feinstein's continuing support will give impetus to off-committee Democratic moderates, who are considering becoming cosponsors. "Assuming we get out of committee on Thursday, with Sen. Feinstein's and Sen. Kohl's support, we will be in an extremely excellent position for Senate passage," added Mark Gitenstein of Mayer, Brown & Platt, a leading strategist for the bill. Supporters said they believe Senate Majority Leader Frist is eyeing a May timeline for bringing the class action bill to the floor, although a Frist spokesman did not provide comment by presstime. -- by Pamela Barnett

From: Grubbs, Wendy J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/7/2003 3:39:14 PM
Subject: Tech service switched my email

and I cannot retrieve old docs (for the moment) so please resend Leahy letter. I have to return Bruce's charming call.

From: Grubbs, Wendy J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/7/2003 3:43:06 PM
Subject: RE: Tech service switched my email

Latest one on consults on CFC and sentencing commission.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, April 07, 2003 3:40 PM
To: Grubbs, Wendy J.
Subject: Re: Tech service switched my email

which one, on what subject?

From: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/07/2003 03:39:14 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Tech service switched my email

and I cannot retrieve old docs (for the moment) so please resend Leahy letter. I have to return Bruce's charming call.

From: Skelly, Layton

To: paula.stannard@hhs.gov <paula.stannard@hhs.gov>;peter.urbanowicz@hhs.gov <peter.urbanowicz@hhs.gov>;viet.dinh@usdoj.gov <viet.dinh@usdoj.gov>;alex.azar@hhs.gov <alex.azar@hhs.gov>;john.hoff@hhs.gov <john.hoff@hhs.gov>;jennifer.young@hhs.gov <jennifer.young@hhs.gov>;jennifer.young@hhs.gov <Schacht, Diana L.>;jennifer.young@hhs.gov <Badger, William D.>;jennifer.young@hhs.gov <Jensen, Amy>;jennifer.young@hhs.gov <Loper, Ginger G.>;jennifer.young@hhs.gov <Perry, Philip J.>;jennifer.young@hhs.gov <Silverberg, Kristen>;jennifer.young@hhs.gov <Deleire, Thomas C.>;jennifer.young@hhs.gov <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;zurawski-paul@dol.gov <zurawski-paul@dol.gov>;zurawski-paul@dol.gov <Young, Tracy>;zurawski-paul@dol.gov <Besanceney, Brian R.>;marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov <marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov>;marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov <Ackerly, Dana>;jafar.karim@hhs.gov <jafar.karim@hhs.gov>;jafar.karim@hhs.gov <Lefkowitz, Jay P.>;jafar.karim@hhs.gov <Gilbert, Alan>;jafar.karim@hhs.gov <Hall, Philo D.>;jafar.karim@hhs.gov <Grubbs, Wendy J.>

CC: pamela.roller@hhs.gov <pamela.roller@hhs.gov>;joyce.b-moore@hhs.gov <joyce.b-moore@hhs.gov>;marie.belt@hhs.gov <marie.belt@hhs.gov>;marie.belt@hhs.gov <Winland, Emily>;marie.belt@hhs.gov <Smith, Marty P.>;marie.belt@hhs.gov <Vestewig, Lauren J.>;marie.belt@hhs.gov <Lineberry, Stephen M.>;dana.ceasar@hhs.gov <dana.ceasar@hhs.gov>;india.luckett@hhs.gov <india.luckett@hhs.gov>;scriver-langford-lat@dol.gov <scriver-langford-lat@dol.gov>;heather.mcnaught@usdoj.gov <heather.mcnaught@usdoj.gov>;stephanie.wilson@hhs.gov <stephanie.wilson@hhs.gov>;stephanie.wilson@hhs.gov <Stone, Carla B.>;stephanie.wilson@hhs.gov <Skelly, Layton>

Sent: 4/7/2003 4:04:36 PM

Subject: Weekly Medical Liability CC tomorrow at 11:15

This call has been moved to 11:15 tomorrow. The call-in information is below. Thank you.

Call in: 395-6392

CODE: 935179

From:	Bartolomucci, H. Christopher
To:	<Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Brosnahan, Jennifer R.>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>; <Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent:	4/7/2003 6:30:50 PM
Subject:	AP Story on Justice O'Connor: "I have no current plans" to retire

Today: April 07, 2003 at 15:25:16 PDT

Justice O'Connor Says Diverse Court Helps

By ANNE GEARAN

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) - Having women and minorities on the Supreme Court has helped the public accept the court's rulings, the first woman named a justice said Monday.

Should diversity on the court be a goal? "It's not for me to say," Justice Sandra Day O'Connor said in an interview with The Associated Press. "But I think it's been desirable from the standpoint of public perceptions of fairness to see a court that includes women and minorities."

O'Connor is widely expected to be the deciding vote when the court rules later this year on the constitutionality of affirmative action in college admissions, but her remarks were not made in the context of any specific case.

The high court currently has six white men, one black man and two white women.

O'Connor, 73, has served on the court for 22 years. She is one of the oldest and longest-serving justices, and has been the subject of speculation that she may be ready to step down this year.

"I have no current plans" to retire, O'Connor said.

The court has heard numerous cases over the past two years exploring the way the death penalty is carried out, but O'Connor said people should not conclude that the court is systematically working toward some broader reckoning with capital punishment.

"We aren't here trying to develop something in the sense of where the country should go with this issue. We're a reactive institution," O'Connor said. "We proceed case by case as they come to us, and not with any overarching objective that the court itself" has developed.

O'Connor's latest book, "The Majesty of the Law; Reflections of a Supreme Court Justice," is dedicated to her law clerks, "past, present and future."

It is partly a personal account of her experiences as a woman lawyer and judge and partly a historical look at the development of U.S. law.

Published this month by Random House, the book is not a sequel to last year's best-selling account of O'Connor's girlhood on a cattle ranch along the Arizona-New Mexico border, although O'Connor said she may write such a book one day.

O'Connor was a politician and a state trial judge in Arizona before Ronald Reagan chose her for the court in 1981. She drew on her experience as a judge for the section of the book dealing with juries.

Jurors ought to be free to take notes during a trial, and even pose some written questions, O'Connor said. Only some states and courts allow such departures from custom.

O'Connor tried to instruct her juries about the law at the beginning of the case rather than at the end, she said.

"It seems to me when I listen to complicated things it helps me to know ahead of time what I'm supposed to decide," O'Connor said. "I can hear the arguments to better effect, and I think jurors can hear the facts more effectively if they know ahead of time what specifically they have to decide."

Her book contains some strong criticism of the way juries are now chosen, including the reliance on outside jury consultants that some believe "can virtually guarantee a verdict by stacking the jury with people who fit the ideal demographic profile."

Even so, O'Connor said in the interview, she does not blame defense lawyers for using whatever tools are available to them.

"Yet people who can't afford it are not going to have that benefit, and you get a little nervous about how that might play out in terms of fairness," O'Connor said.

One of the court's two swing votes, O'Connor often sides with more conservative justices as she did in the Bush v. Gore ruling in 2000. Although some lawyers and Republicans have said that ruling did not really decide the election, O'Connor does not mince words in a brief reference to the case in her book.

Bush v. Gore, she said, "held unconstitutional Florida's presidential election recount procedures, and thereby determined the outcome of the election."

O'Connor said her tenure on the high court probably has not hastened the day when America will elect a woman president. But that day is inevitable, she said.

From: Mike Allen <allenm@washpost.com>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/7/2003 2:46:49 PM
Subject: : justice o'connor gives an interview

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Mike Allen <allenm@washpost.com> (Mike Allen <allenm@washpost.com> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 7-APR-2003 18:46:49.00
SUBJECT:: justice o'connor gives an interview
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

BC-Scotus-O'Connor, 1st Ld-Writethru,700
Justice O'Connor says diverse court helps public perception of fairness
Eds: RECASTS lead; PICKS UP 2nd graf pvs, Should diversity
AP Photo WX107
By ANNE GEARAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) ? The first woman named to the Supreme Court said Monday that having women and minorities on the court helps the public accept its rulings.
Should diversity on the court be a goal? "It's not for me to say," Justice Sandra Day O'Connor said in an interview with The Associated Press. "But I think it's been desirable from the standpoint of public perceptions of fairness to see a court that includes women and minorities."
O'Connor is widely expected to be the deciding vote when the court rules later this year on the constitutionality of affirmative action in college admissions, but her remarks were not made in the context of any specific case.
The high court currently has six white men, one black man and two white women.
O'Connor, 73, has served on the court for 22 years. She is one of the oldest and longest-serving justices, and has been the subject of speculation that she may be ready to step down this year.
"I have no current plans" to retire, O'Connor said.
The court has heard numerous cases over the past two years exploring the way the death penalty is carried out, but O'Connor said people should not conclude that the court is systematically working toward some broader reckoning with capital punishment.
"We aren't here trying to develop something in the sense of where the country should go with this issue. We're a reactive institution," O'Connor said. "We proceed case by case as they come to us, and not with any overarching objective that the court itself" has developed.
O'Connor's latest book, "The Majesty of the Law; Reflections of a Supreme Court Justice," is dedicated to her law clerks, "past, present and future."
It is partly a personal account of her experiences as a woman lawyer and judge and partly a historical look at the development of U.S. law. Published this month by Random House, the book is not a sequel to last year's best-selling account of O'Connor's girlhood on a cattle ranch along the Arizona-New Mexico border, although O'Connor said she may write such a book one day.
O'Connor was a politician and a state trial judge in Arizona before Ronald Reagan chose her for the court in 1981. She drew on her experience as a judge for a section of the book dealing with juries.
Jurors ought to be free to take notes during a trial, and even pose some written questions, O'Connor said. Only some states and courts allow such departures from custom.

O'Connor tried to instruct her juries about the law at the beginning of the case rather than at the end, she said.

"It seems to me when I listen to complicated things it helps me to know ahead of time what I'm supposed to decide," O'Connor said. "I can hear the arguments to better effect, and I think jurors can hear the facts more effectively if they know ahead of time what specifically they have to decide."

Her book contains some strong criticism of the way juries are now chosen, including the reliance on outside jury consultants that some believe "can virtually guarantee a verdict by stacking the jury with people who fit the ideal demographic profile."

Even so, O'Connor said in the interview, she does not blame defense lawyers for using whatever tools are available to them.

"Yet people who can't afford it are not going to have that benefit, and you get a little nervous about how that might play out in terms of fairness," O'Connor said.

One of the court's two swing votes, O'Connor often sides with more conservative justices as she did in the Bush v. Gore ruling in 2000. Although some lawyers and Republicans have said that ruling did not really decide the election, O'Connor does not mince words in a brief reference to the case in her book.

Bush v. Gore, she said, "held unconstitutional Florida's presidential election recount procedures, and thereby determined the outcome of the election."

O'Connor said her tenure on the high court probably has not hastened the day when America will elect a woman president. But that day is inevitable, she said.

AP-ES-04-07-03 1835EDT

From: Grubbs, Wendy J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/7/2003 7:25:54 PM
Subject: Pls send leahy letter on CFC and sentencing

From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/8/2003 8:42:10 AM
Subject: FW: Letter to Paul McCullough
Attachments: McCulloch 3-27-03.doc

What's the word on this?
-----Original Message-----
From: Burks, Jonathan W.
Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 8:41 AM
To: Gillmor, Eleanor L.; Ritacco, Krista L.; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Ralston, Susan B.; Hernandez, Israel
Subject: FW: Letter to Paul McCullough

Any word from your principals?

-----Original Message-----
From: Burks, Jonathan W.
Sent: Thursday, April 03, 2003 7:19 AM
To: Gillmor, Eleanor L.; Ritacco, Krista L.; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Ralston, Susan B.; Hernandez, Israel
Subject: Letter to Paul McCullough

Harriet emailed your principals (and sometimes you too) yesterday with her suggested revisions to the Jay's draft response to Paul McCullough. Please let me know if your principal is OK with her revisions. (I've attached a copy for easy reference.)

(Patrick, also please check to see if you guys concur this should come from someone in the counsel's office.)

Thanks,
Jon

March 28, 2003

Mr. Paul McCulloch
440 Louisiana, 16th Floor
Houston, TX 77002

Dear Mr. McCulloch,

On behalf of President Bush, thank you for your letter about the President's proposals on medical liability reform and for the information regarding Javier DeLuna. The President appreciates hearing your views and welcomes your suggestions about this important issue. President Bush supports recovery of all medical costs and economic damages where the facts justify an award. He also supports awarding reasonable non-economic damages and punitive damages in cases where the facts justify recovery of such an award. However, the medical liability crisis is threatening access to health care in many states and must be addressed.

Excessive jury awards are driving up costs, encouraging frivolous lawsuits, and promoting long, drawn-out legal proceedings. The fear of lawsuits forces many good doctors to practice defensive medicine, ordering excessive tests, procedures, and treatments. These unnecessary practices increase costs for patients, while decreasing quality and availability of care. In addition, many insurers have dropped medical liability coverage for doctors, particularly in the fields of neurosurgery, and obstetrics and gynecology, or raised premiums dramatically, forcing some doctors out of medicine.

The President has proposed a national solution that will make quality health care more affordable, more available, and safer for all Americans, while protecting the injured patient's right to hold accountable doctors who practice bad medicine. These reforms include ensuring that injured patients have the right to obtain appropriate compensation for economic losses while preventing excessive non-economic and punitive damage awards that drive up costs and encourage unnecessary lawsuits and lengthy legal proceedings.

These changes will ensure that quality of care improves as patients gain greater access to physicians. Experience in many states has demonstrated that these medical liability reforms can reduce Federal government costs by $30 billion per year or more, freeing up funds that can make health care more affordable. In addition, these standards can reduce health care costs for all Americans by $60 billion or more, and make our system more fair, predictable, and timely.

The President has called for reserving punitive damages for cases where they are justified, but not limiting economic damages incurred by patients like Javier in any way. The President has also called for the payment of judgments over time rather than in a single lump sum, to ensure that appropriate payments are there when patients like Javier may need them. Under the President's plan, even excluding any potential non-economic or punitive damages, Javier would be able to receive full compensation for all medical costs and all economic damages, including both lost and potential wages.

The President believes that these reforms allow injured parties to recover justifiable damages, but they will significantly improve our medical liability system and help our health care system remain the best in the world. Thank you again for writing.

Sincerely,

From: Nelson, Carolyn
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/8/2003 8:48:52 AM
Subject:

any word on the Boyden Gray mtg? Judge now has to attend a P.C. on Thurs afternoon.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Nelson, Carolyn>
Sent: 4/8/2003 8:53:02 AM
Subject: Re:

still at 12

From: Carolyn Nelson/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/08/2003 08:48:52 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject:

any word on the Boyden Gray mtg? Judge now has to attend a P.C. on Thurs afternoon.

From: Allgood, Lauren K.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/8/2003 10:22:19 AM
Subject: Mtg w/ Steve Friedman and Keith Hennessey

Steve would like this meeting to happen today if possible. Please let me know when you are available. Thanks.
-----Original Message-----
From: Allgood, Lauren K.
Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 8:07 AM
To: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Subject: Mtg w/ Steve Friedman and Keith Hennessey

Steve and Keith would like to meet with you sometime today if that's possible regarding airline anti-trust issues.

They are both free between noon and 2pm. What works for you?

Let me know. Thanks!

Lauren

From: Grubbs, Wendy J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/8/2003 10:34:20 AM
Subject: owen is now at 10am with Ben nelson tomorrow

From: Allgood, Lauren K.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/8/2003 10:39:03 AM
Subject: RE: Mtg w/ Steve Friedman and Keith Hennessey

Perfect. Thanks.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 10:34 AM
To: Allgood, Lauren K.
Subject: Re: Mtg w/ Steve Friedman and Keith Hennessey

Can we do 1:45?

From: Lauren K. Allgood/OPD/EOP@Exchange on 04/08/2003 10:22:19 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Mtg w/ Steve Friedman and Keith Hennessey

Steve would like this meeting to happen today if possible. Please let me know when you are available. Thanks.
-----Original Message-----
From: Allgood, Lauren K.
Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 8:07 AM
To: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Subject: Mtg w/ Steve Friedman and Keith Hennessey

Steve and Keith would like to meet with you sometime today if that's possible regarding airline anti-trust issues.

They are both free between noon and 2pm. What works for you?

Let me know. Thanks!

Lauren

From: Allgood, Lauren K.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/8/2003 11:43:07 AM
Subject: RE: Mtg w/ Steve Friedman and Keith Hennessey

Sorry for the change, but Steve wanted to see if you could come at 2pm?

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 10:34 AM
To: Allgood, Lauren K.
Subject: Re: Mtg w/ Steve Friedman and Keith Hennessey

Can we do 1:45?

From: Lauren K. Allgood/OPD/EOP@Exchange on 04/08/2003 10:22:19 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Mtg w/ Steve Friedman and Keith Hennessey

Steve would like this meeting to happen today if possible. Please let me know when you are available. Thanks.
-----Original Message-----
From: Allgood, Lauren K.
Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 8:07 AM
To: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Subject: Mtg w/ Steve Friedman and Keith Hennessey

Steve and Keith would like to meet with you sometime today if that's possible regarding airline anti-trust issues.

They are both free between noon and 2pm. What works for you?

Let me know. Thanks!

Lauren

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Lefkowitz, Jay P.>
Sent: 4/8/2003 12:17:28 PM
Subject:
Attachments: b.gif; page_2002_comment.gif; spacer.gif; spacer_5x8_transparent.gif

Interesting commentary on the generals' brief in Michigan case:

E-mail Author
Send to a Friend
<% dim printurl printurl = Request.ServerVariables("URL")%>Print Version

April 8, 2003, 9:40 a.m.

The Generals' Brief

The most powerful argument in the Michigan case.

By Peter N. Kirsanow

By far the most persuasive brief in the University of Michigan preference cases is the so-called "green brief" or "generals' amicus brief."

A constellation of military figures have signed onto a brief in support of the University of Michigan's preferential admissions program — including such admired figures as retired generals Norman Schwartzkopf, Hugh Shelton, and Anthony Zinni.

The generals' brief has captured more attention than perhaps any other except the one filed by the Bush administration, and it's the one that most troubles conservatives. After all, it contains arguments supported by serious men in the most serious occupation.

During last Tuesday's oral arguments before the Supreme Court, Justices Ginsburg, Stevens, and Souter especially were fascinated by the arguments set forth in the brief, and peppered advocates with numerous questions about the points made therein. Rarely has a non-administration amicus had such an impact.

Liberals have seized upon the brief, according the military a strange new respect. Ellen Goodman of the Boston Globe, for example, asserts that the brief makes the most effective case in support of preferences in admissions.

Goodman is dead wrong. The generals' brief so persuasively makes the point for striking down preferences at the University of Michigan (and, by extension, elsewhere) that a conspiracy theorist might well be excused for concluding that the brief was actually a malevolent attempt to undermine UM's argument.

The generals' brief effectively outlines the fundamental differences between service academies and other institutions of higher learning and emphatically demonstrates why UM's preference program fails to satisfy either the compelling state interest or the narrow-tailoring prong of strict scrutiny.

Since racial classifications are based upon an immutable physical characteristic, and because of the nation's baleful history with respect to race, the Supreme Court has declared racial classifications pernicious and "odious to a free people whose institutions are founded upon a doctrine of equality." Consequently, post-Bakke jurisprudence requires that racial classifications must further a compelling governmental interest and be narrowly tailored to serve that interest.

Compelling governmental interests supporting the use of racial classifications or preferences are extremely rare. Indeed, except for the criminological benefits of using race in the selection of law-enforcement officers and in the hiring of corrections officers, courts have not looked favorably upon purported the "compelling interests" proffered in support of racial preferences.

The generals' brief argues that a racially diverse officer corps trained to command the nation's racially diverse enlisted ranks is essential to accomplishing the military's mission — protecting national security. There is no more compelling governmental interest. The generals note that today's officer corps is 81 percent white, 8.8 percent black, 4 percent Hispanic, 3.2 percent Asian-American, and .6 percent Native American, whereas the enlisted ranks are 61.7 percent white, 21.7 percent black, 9.6 percent Hispanic, 4 percent Asian-American, and 1.2 percent Native American. In contrast, during the Vietnam War, the ranks of black enlisted men in the Army swelled to between 15 percent and 20 percent, while only 3 percent of Army officers were black. This disparity contributed to low morale, racial polarization, disciplinary problems, and racial violence. Unit cohesion and effectiveness were compromised — at times severely.

The military performs the most important work with which the government is charged; obviously it is a serious matter for its capabilities to be compromised. Racial polarization is not only problematic in the armed forces of a democratic republic, it can cause racial schisms in overall domestic support for military enterprises. This is especially true in today's force, which relies solely on volunteers.

But the above considerations nevertheless clearly demonstrate why the preference programs employed by UM and other non-military colleges fail the compelling governmental interest test. The respective missions of UM and West Point are manifestly light years apart. Producing a well-rounded Theatre Arts graduate may be a laudable mission, but it is hardly on the same level as preventing another 9/11.

The generals try, however, to elevate the importance of non-military preference programs by arguing that since the officer corps also draws from ROTC programs at elite schools, the preference programs at those schools must be preserved to maintain sufficient minority enrollment. This is both a peculiar and attenuated argument. It presumes that ROTC programs at elite schools cannot achieve diversity with a more narrowly tailored, race-neutral program. The Texas and Florida percentage plans refute that notion (we can debate the merits and constitutionality of those at a later time). Further, sizable numbers of officers come from so-called second-tier schools (e.g., Colin Powell, ROTC CUNY) and HBCUs, whereas ROTC participation at elite schools is often abysmal (and, at Harvard, non-existent).

The generals' brief also shows that the means by which the service academies further the (arguably) compelling governmental interest is far more narrowly tailored than that employed by the University of Michigan, et al. In fact, the academies' admissions programs more closely resemble affirmative action as it was originally conceived — i.e., aggressive recruitment and outreach to expand the pool of minority applicants, before it metastasized into a racial spoils system.

To be sure, the academies do consider race in admissions. But the degree to which race is a factor is tiny at these institutions, compared to UM. As Rich Lowry has noted, a Center for Equal Opportunity analysis shows that whereas a black West Point applicant is twice as likely to be admitted as a similarly situated white applicant, that same black applicant is 174 times more likely to be admitted to UM than his white counterpart. At other schools, this ratio rises to as much as 700 to 1. By any measure, a program that yields such an astonishing differential can hardly be narrowly tailored.

Whether the admissions programs at service academies pass constitutional muster is an inquiry for another day. Because of the distinctions noted above, a Supreme Court decision that struck down UM's programs would not necessarily invalidate those of West Point and Annapolis. But, those same distinctions in effect render the unconstitutionality of UM's programs nearly incontrovertible. Let's see if the Supremes agree.

— Peter N. Kirsanow is a member of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights.

From: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/8/2003 1:11:58 PM
Subject: RE: Algiers Accord

How strongly do we care if Congress repudiates the Accord?

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 11:34 AM
To: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
Cc: Silverberg, Kristen; Keniry, Daniel
Subject: Re: Algiers Accord

I would be ok with advancing a proposal that strictly hews to the principles outlined in the Armitage letter. OMB has been concerned about doing so, but we have no problem -- again, so long as we stick to those principles.

From: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange on 04/08/2003 11:32:36 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP, Kristen Silverberg/WHO/EOP@Exchange, Daniel Keniry/WHO/EOP@Exchange
cc:
Subject: Algiers Accord

State is convinced that without supporting a compensation program in the State reauth bill, we cannot get the Senate to reverse the abrogation of the Algiers Accord.

Do you think we should take a more forward leaning role?

From: Montiel, Charlotte L.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/8/2003 3:15:31 PM
Subject:

When you talked to the Federalist Society, how did you get them to pay for your airport parking? Did you just have the White House pay for it since it was official travel?

From: Grubbs, Wendy J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/8/2003 3:16:57 PM
Subject: Re: important

I can check, but not sure I trust that he will keep under wraps.

.

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/8/2003 3:30:51 PM
Subject: : White House Global Messenger - 4-09-03
Attachments: P_O1VFF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 8-APR-2003 19:30:51.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger - 4-09-03
TO:Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications (CN=Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 4-9-03 FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Wednesday, April 9, 2003

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS IN NORTHERN IRELAND***

Update on the Liberation of Iraq

*America and Britain are joined in large tasks because we share fundamental convictions. We believe that free nations have the responsibility to confront terrorism, oppose the spread of WMD, advance human rights across the world, and enforce the just demands of the international community.

*The world has witnessed the brutal desperation and true character of the Iraqi regime. The world is also witnessing the liberation and humanitarian aid our Coalition is bringing.

*In fighting this war, we're taking every precaution to protect innocent life. We're showing respect for the Iraqi people and for their culture. There will be difficult fighting ahead, yet the outcome is not in doubt: Iraq will be free.

Iraq Interim Authority

*After the current regime is removed, our Coalition will work to restore electricity and water supplies, medical care, and other essential services in Iraq. We'll move as quickly as possible to place governmental responsibilities under the control of an interim authority composed of Iraqis from both inside and outside the country.

*The interim authority will serve until a permanent government can be chosen by the Iraqi people.

The rebuilding of Iraq will require the support and expertise of the international community.
We're committed to working with international institutions, including the United Nations, which will have a vital role to play in this task.

*This work will not be easy, but we're going to see it through. A free Iraq will be ruled by laws, not by a dictator. A free Iraq will be peaceful, and not a friend to terrorists or a menace to its neighbors. A free Iraq will give up its weapons of mass destruction, and set itself on the path to democracy.

Middle East

The end of Saddam's regime will also remove a source of violence and instability
in the Middle East. Our governments are working to help bring about a settlement that protects the rights of Israelis and Palestinians, and promotes peace, security, and promotes human dignity.

Northern Ireland

We are committed to helping the parties take the final steps toward a lasting peace. America supports the remaining actions that must be taken to realize the promise of the Good Friday Agreement.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE***
All Times Eastern Daylight. Subject to Change

7:00 am CENTCOM Operations Update

10:45 am President Bush meets with the President of the Slovak Republic

2:30 pm White House Briefing

TBD Defense Department Briefing

TBD State Department Briefing

LIBERATION UPDATE***
The voices of freedom, now heard in parts of Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit:
"Liberation Update" at http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

***
"'Ameericaah?' a little girl asked a Marine who had entered her village and taken a defensive position as others began to search homes. The streets were deserted. People peered around their gates. The Marine smiled, wiggled his fingers in the girl's direction and her fear - and that of the rest of the townspeople - melted. Within minutes people had left their houses and began to shake hands with the Marines. Liberation from the strictures of the regime of...Saddam Hussein had come for a nameless village just a few miles from downtown Baghdad."

United Press International, 4-7-03

KEY QUOTES FROM THE PRESS CONFERENCE IN BELFAST***

"We have said all along there needs to be a role for the United Nations....[E]vidently there's some skepticism here in Europe about whether or not I mean what I say.
Saddam
Hussein clearly knows I mean what I say. And...people in Iraq will know we mean what we say when we talk about freedom. And a vital role for the United Nations means a vital role for the United Nations."
President Bush, 4-8-03

"I think anyone who has seen the joy on the faces of people in Basra, as they realize that the regime that they detest is finally collapsing, knows very well that this was,
indeed, a war of liberation and not of conquest."
British Prime Minister Blair, 4-8-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****

You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information
from
the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about
the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share
with freedom-loving people everywhere.
- GM 4-9-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_01VFF003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Wednesday, April 9, 2003

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

All Times Eastern Daylight. Subject to Change

7:00 am	CENTCOM Operations Update
10:45 am	President Bush meets with the President of the Slovak Republic
2:30 pm	White House Briefing
TBD	Defense Department Briefing
TBD	State Department Briefing

LIBERATION UPDATE

The voices of freedom, now heard in parts of Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at:
http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

***

"'Ameericaah?' a little girl asked a Marine who had entered her village and taken a defensive position as others began to search homes. The streets were deserted. People peered around their gates. The Marine smiled, wiggled his fingers in the girl's direction and her fear – and that of the rest of the townspeople – melted. Within minutes people had left their houses and began to shake hands with the Marines. Liberation from the strictures of the regime of…Saddam Hussein had come for a nameless village just a few miles from downtown Baghdad."
United Press International, 4-7-03

KEY QUOTES FROM THE PRESS CONFERENCE IN BELFAST

"We have said all along there needs to be a role for the United Nations….[E]vidently there's some skepticism here in Europe about whether or not I mean what I say. Saddam Hussein clearly knows I mean what I say. And…people in Iraq will know we mean what we say when we talk about freedom. And a vital role for the United Nations means a vital role for the United Nations."
President Bush, 4-8-03

"I think anyone who has seen the joy on the faces of people in Basra, as they realize that the regime that they detest is finally collapsing, knows very well that this was, indeed, a war of liberation and not of conquest."
British Prime Minister Blair, 4-8-03

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS IN NORTHERN IRELAND

Update on the Liberation of Iraq

- America and Britain are joined in large tasks because we share fundamental convictions. We believe that free nations have the responsibility to confront terrorism, oppose the spread of WMD, advance human rights across the world, and enforce the just demands of the international community.
- The world has witnessed the brutal desperation and true character of the Iraqi regime. The world is also witnessing the liberation and humanitarian aid our Coalition is bringing.
- In fighting this war, we're taking every precaution to protect innocent life. We're showing respect for the Iraqi people and for their culture. There will be difficult fighting ahead, yet the outcome is not in doubt: Iraq will be free.

Iraq Interim Authority

- After the current regime is removed, our Coalition will work to restore electricity and water supplies, medical care, and other essential services in Iraq. We'll move as quickly as possible to place governmental responsibilities under the control of an interim authority composed of Iraqis from both inside and outside the country.
- The interim authority will serve until a permanent government can be chosen by the Iraqi people. The rebuilding of Iraq will require the support and expertise of the international community. We're committed to working with international institutions, including the United Nations, which will have a vital role to play in this task.
- This work will not be easy, but we're going to see it through. A free Iraq will be ruled by laws, not by a dictator. A free Iraq will be peaceful, and not a friend to terrorists or a menace to its neighbors. A free Iraq will give up its weapons of mass destruction, and set itself on the path to democracy.

Middle East

- The end of Saddam's regime will also remove a source of violence and instability in the Middle East. Our governments are working to help bring about a settlement that protects the rights of Israelis and Palestinians, and promotes peace, security, and promotes human dignity.

Northern Ireland

- We are committed to helping the parties take the final steps toward a lasting peace. America supports the remaining actions that must be taken to realize the promise of the Good Friday Agreement.

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications
For more information log on to www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

From: Montiel, Charlotte L.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/8/2003 4:01:55 PM
Subject: FW: Meeting re. Algiers Accords

Never mind, David is not going. Can you cover the meeting for our shop?

Charlotte

-----Original Message-----
From: Vestewig, Lauren J.
Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 3:53 PM
To: Perry, Philip J.; Wood, John F.; Leitch, David G.; Kavanaugh, Brett M.; Keniry, Daniel ; Kirk, Matthew ; Cox, Christopher C.; Silverberg, Kristen
Cc: Lefkowitz, Jay P.; Stone, Carla B.; Montiel, Charlotte L.
Subject: Meeting re. Algiers Accords

There will be a meeting tomorrow at 8:00 in Jay's office re. the Algiers Accords issue. Will Taft will also join. I'm sorry for any inconvenience the early time may cause, but it was the only time we could get everyone together in the morning. Please let me know if you can make it. Thanks very much.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>
Sent: 4/8/2003 4:33:37 PM
Subject: need to talk re specter and kuhl

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Grubbs, Wendy J.>
Sent: 4/8/2003 4:34:23 PM
Subject: owen is now at 10am with Ben nelson tomorrow

Is it 10 or 11?

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/08/2003 04:34 PM ----------

From: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/08/2003 10:34:20 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: owen is now at 10am with Ben nelson tomorrow

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Silverberg, Kristen>
Sent: 4/8/2003 5:36:02 PM
Subject: Re: FW: Iraqi amdt
Attachments: att1.eml

calling Treasury

From: Kristen Silverberg/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/08/2003 05:21:57 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: FW: Iraqi amdt

-----Original Message-----

From: Pelletier, Eric C.

Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 4:59 PM

To: Silverberg, Kristen; Bellinger, John B.; Dorn, Nancy

Cc: Keniry, Daniel ; Cox, Christopher C.; Rossman, Elizabeth L.

Subject: FW: Iraqi amdt

Below you will see a request to put a provision in dealing with Iraqi assets in the supp. This is coming from the House possibly in response to the Iranian related provision in the Senate version of the bill. Policy counsel on how to proceed to answer the Speaker's question is necessary. I presume that we would oppose this, but want to be certain of the degree. This needs to be answered in real time.

Thanks.

-----Original Message-----

From: Cox, Christopher C.

Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 3:01 PM

To: Pelletier, Eric C.

Subject: Fw: Iraqi amdt

Eric, can you help me with a read on this for the Speaker? It is being considered for inclusion in the supp.

-----Original Message-----

From: "Peterlin, Margaret" @EOP [NOTES:"Peterlin, Margaret" @EOP]

To: Cox, Christopher C.

Sent: Tue Apr 08 12:54:03 2003

Subject: Iraqi amdt

Chris,

Here is the language that we are being asked to support to help out the 200 Iraqi human shields that are affected by the E.O. Can you have someone look at it and let me know his opinion of the legal effect.

Thanks,

M

> -----Original Message-----

>

> Section 201 of the Terrorism Risk Insurance Act of 2002, Pub. L. ____, > is amended by inserting in subparagraph (d)(2)(A) after "(50 U.S.C.

> 1701; 1702)" the following phrase:

>

> ", or with respect to which financial transactions are in any respect

> prohibited, restricted, regulated or licensed pursuant to Chapter V of > Title 31 of the Code of Federal Regulations (including but not limited > to Parts 515, 535, 550, 560, 575, 595, 596 and 597 of Title 31 of the > Code fo Federal Regulations);"

>

>

>

- att1.eml <> <>

From: Peterlin, Margaret <Margaret.Peterlin@mail.house.gov>
To: Chris Cox (E-mail)
Sent: 4/8/2003 12:54:03 PM
Subject: Iraqi amdt
Importance: High

Chris,

Here is the language that we are being asked to support to help out the 200 Iraqi human shields that are affected by the E.O. Can you have someone look at it and let me know his opinion of the legal effect.

Thanks,
M

> -----Original Message-----
>
> Section 201 of the Terrorism Risk Insurance Act of 2002, Pub. L. ____, is > amended by inserting in subparagraph (d)(2)(A) after "(50 U.S.C. 1701; > 1702)" the following phrase:
>
> ", or with respect to which financial transactions are in any respect
> prohibited, restricted, regulated or licensed pursuant to Chapter V of > Title 31 of the Code of Federal Regulations (including but not limited to > Parts 515, 535, 550, 560, 575, 595, 596 and 597 of Title 31 of the Code fo
> Federal Regulations);"
>
>
>

_____

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Kristen Silverberg/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Kristen Silverberg>
Sent: 4/8/2003 1:36:15 PM
Subject: : Re: FW: Iraqi amdt
Attachments: P_FVQFF003_WHO.TXT_1.txt

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 8-APR-2003 17:36:15.00
SUBJECT:: Re: FW: Iraqi amdt
TO:Kristen Silverberg (CN=Kristen Silverberg/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

calling Treasury

From: Kristen Silverberg/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/08/2003 05:21:57 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange, Brett M.
Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: FW: Iraqi amdt

-----Original Message-----
From: Pelletier, Eric C.
Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 4:59 PM
To: Silverberg, Kristen; Bellinger, John B.; Dorn, Nancy
Cc: Keniry, Daniel ; Cox, Christopher C.; Rossman, Elizabeth L.
Subject: FW: Iraqi amdt

Below you will see a request to put a provision in dealing with Iraqi assets in the supp. This is coming from the House possibly in response to the Iranian related provision in the Senate version of the bill. Policy counsel on how to proceed to answer the Speaker's question is necessary. I presume that we would oppose this, but want to be certain of the degree. This needs to be answered in real time.

Thanks.

-----Original Message-----
From: Cox, Christopher C.
Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 3:01 PM
To: Pelletier, Eric C.
Subject: Fw: Iraqi amdt

Eric, can you help me with a read on this for the Speaker? It is being considered for inclusion in the supp.

-----Original Message-----
From: "Peterlin, Margaret" <Margaret.Peterlin@mail.house.gov>@EOP
[NOTES:"Peterlin, Margaret" <Margaret.Peterlin@mail.house.gov>@EOP]
To: Cox, Christopher C. <Christopher_C._Cox@who.eop.gov>
Sent: Tue Apr 08 12:54:03 2003

Subject: Iraqi amdt

Chris,

Here is the language that we are being asked to support to help out the 200 Iraqi human shields that are affected by the E.O. Can you have someone look at it and let me know his opinion of the legal effect.

Thanks,
M

> -----Original Message-----
>
> Section 201 of the Terrorism Risk Insurance Act of 2002, Pub. L. ____, > is amended by inserting in subparagraph (d)(2)(A) after "(50 U.S.C.
> 1701; 1702)" the following phrase:
>
> ", or with respect to which financial transactions are in any respect
> prohibited, restricted, regulated or licensed pursuant to Chapter V of > Title 31 of the Code of Federal Regulations (including but not limited > to Parts 515, 535, 550, 560, 575, 595, 596 and 597 of Title 31 of the > Code fo Federal Regulations);"
>
>
>

- att1.eml <<att1.eml>>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_FVQFF003_WHO.TXT_1>

Received: from mhub1.eop.gov ([165.119.1.23]) by sgeop03.eop.gov (Lotus SMTP MT
A v4.6.7 (934.1 12-30-1999)) with SMTP id 85256D02.005CDBBD; Tue, 8 Apr 2003 1
2:54:15 -0400
Received: from sseop03.eop.gov ([165.119.55.23])
by mhub.eop.gov (PMDF V6.1-1 #41014) with ESMTP id <01KUHHKUFJ1KANCVUO@mhub.eop.gov> for Christopher_C._Cox@who.eop.gov; Tue, 08 Apr 2003 12:54:06 -0500 (EST)
Received: (from root@localhost) by sseop03.eop.gov (8.11.7/8.11.6) id h38Gs6N25215 for <Christopher_C._Cox@who.eop.gov>; Tue, 08 Apr 2003 12:54:06 -0400 (EDT)
Received: from nodnsquery(198.137.241.53) by sseop03.eop.gov via csmap (V6.0)
id srcAAAEKaWpX; Tue, 08 Apr 2003 12:54:06 -0400
Received: from CONVERSION-DAEMON by EOP.GOV (PMDF V5.2-33 #41062)
id <01KUHHKUAZE8A8XM8X@EOP.GOV> for Christopher_C._Cox@who.eop.gov; Tue, 08 Apr 2003 12:54:06 -0500 (EST)
Received: from ap04.house.gov ([143.231.86.12])
by EOP.GOV (PMDF V5.2-33 #41062) with ESMTP id <01KUHHKTVNG6AB0VIY@EOP.GOV> for Christopher_C._Cox@who.eop.gov; Tue, 08 Apr 2003 12:54:05 -0500 (EST)
Received: from aries.house.gov by ap04.house.gov via smtpd
(for mailhub-eop.eop.gov [198.137.241.55]) with ESMTP; Tue,
08 Apr 2003 12:53:50 -0400
Received: from ims02.house.gov (ims02.house.gov [143.231.32.178])
by aries.house.gov (Switch-2.1.6/Switch-2.1.0) with ESMTP id h38Gs5k16361 for

<Christopher_C._Cox@who.eop.gov>; Tue, 08 Apr 2003 12:54:05 -0400
Received: by ims02.house.gov with Internet Mail Service (5.5.2656.59)
id <GQH43TA2>; Tue, 08 Apr 2003 12:54:05 -0400
Date: Tue, 08 Apr 2003 12:54:03 -0400
From: "Peterlin, Margaret" <Margaret.Peterlin@mail.house.gov>
Subject: Iraqi amdt
To: "Chris Cox (E-mail)" <Christopher_C._Cox@who.eop.gov>
Message-id: <435A5CEEACA6D211BEEA0008C75DA88518A2D023@hrm12.house.gov>
MIME-version: 1.0
X-Mailer: Internet Mail Service (5.5.2656.59)
Content-type: text/plain; charset=iso-8859-1
Content-transfer-encoding: 7BIT
Importance: high
X-Priority: 1

Chris,

Here is the language that we are being asked to support to help out the 200 Iraqi human shields that are affected by the E.O. Can you have someone look at it and let me know his opinion of the legal effect.

Thanks,
M

> -----Original Message-----
>
> Section 201 of the Terrorism Risk Insurance Act of 2002, Pub. L. ____, is > amended by inserting in subparagraph (d)(2)(A) after "(50 U.S.C. 1701; > 1702)" the following phrase:
>
> ", or with respect to which financial transactions are in any respect
> prohibited, restricted, regulated or licensed pursuant to Chapter V of > Title 31 of the Code of Federal Regulations (including but not limited to > Parts 515, 535, 550, 560, 575, 595, 596 and 597 of Title 31 of the Code fo

> Federal Regulations);"
>
>
>

From: CN=John F. Wood/OU=OMB/O=EOP [OMB]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/9/2003 5:13:46 AM
Subject: : victims of terror
Attachments: P_C3DGF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:John F. Wood ( CN=John F. Wood/OU=OMB/O=EOP [ OMB ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 9-APR-2003 09:13:46.00
SUBJECT:: victims of terror
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_C3DGF003_WHO.TXT_1>
```

A BILL

To establish a comprehensive federal program to provide benefits to U.S. victims of international terrorism.

Be it enacted by the Senate and the House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SEC. 101 SHORT TITLE

This Act may be cited as the "Benefits for Victims of International Terrorism Act of 2003."

SEC. 102 ESTABLISHMENT OF PROGRAM

There is established the Benefits for Victims of International Terrorism Program ("Program") under which monetary awards shall be made in accordance with this Act to eligible individuals who are physically injured, killed, or held hostage as a result of an act of international terrorism.

SEC. 103 DEFINITIONS

In this Act, the following definitions apply:

(a) Act of International Terrorism. - The term "act of international terrorism" means an activity that constitutes terrorism within the definition provided in Section 2(15) of the Homeland Security Act of 2002 and that was committed by foreign nationals or foreign governments (or the agents thereof) and directed, in whole or in part, at the United States or at an individual because of his status as a national or employee of the United States.

(b) Claimant. - The term "claimant" means an individual filing a claim for benefits under this Act. In the case of an individual who died as the direct result of the act of international terrorism, any individual who is eligible to recover under section 107(a) may be a claimant. In the case of an individual who suffered physical injury or was held hostage as the direct result of an act of international terrorism, the claimant shall be the individual who suffered the physical injury or was held hostage, except that a parent or legal guardian may file a claim on behalf of an individual who is less than 18 years of age, incompetent or incapacitated.

(c) Department. - The term " Department" means the Department of State.

(d) National of the United States. - The term "national of the United States" has the meaning given in section 101(a) of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1101(a)).

(e) Physical injury. -The term "physical injury" means a physical injury to the body that caused, either temporarily or permanently, partial or total physical disability, incapacity, or disfigurement.

(f) United States. - The term "United States" means the States, the District of Colombia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Commonwealth of the Mariana Islands, the territories and possessions of the United States, the territorial sea of the United States, and the airspace above them.

SEC. 104 ADMINISTRATION

(a) Threshold Determination. -

(1) Upon the occurrence of a terrorist incident, the Secretary of State, in consultation with the Secretary of Homeland Security and the Attorney General, shall promptly determine in writing whether an act of international terrorism as defined in section 103(a) of this Act has taken place. Any such determination shall be published in the Federal Register.

(2) The Secretary of State's determination under this section shall be final and conclusive, and it shall not be subject to review in any judicial, administrative or other proceeding.

(b) Department. -

(1) When a threshold determination set forth in subsection (a) is made, the Department shall have jurisdiction to receive, examine, adjudicate, and render final decisions with respect to claims filed under section 105 in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

(2) When a final decision of the Department makes an award of benefits, the transmittal of the final decision shall be accompanied by the Department's certification of that award to the Secretary of the Treasury for payment.

(c) Payment of Awards. – The Secretary of the Treasury shall pay awards that are certified to him for payment under subsection (b)(2) from the Fund established under section 110(a).

SEC. 105 FILING OF CLAIMS

(a) In General. -- Claims for benefits under the Program shall be filed with the Department on the form developed under subsection (b).

(b) Claim Form. –

(1) The Department shall develop a form that claimants shall use when submitting claims under subsection (a).

(2) The claim form at a minimum shall request -

(A) in the case of a claim filed with respect to a decedent, information demonstrating the decedent's death as a direct result of the act of international terrorism and information demonstrating that the claimant is eligible to recover under the Act;

(B) in the case of a claim not involving a death, information demonstrating the physical harm that the claimant suffered as a direct result of the act of international terrorism; and

(C) in the case of a claim filed by a parent or legal guardian, information demonstrating the claimant's status as a parent or legal guardian.

(c) The claim form shall state clearly and conspicuously the information contained in section 112 of this Act.

SEC. 106 ELIGIBILITY

(a) In General. - The Department shall review each claim filed under this Program and determine whether the claimant is an eligible individual under subsection (b) of this section.

(b) Eligible Individuals. -- An eligible individual is a victim who, as of the date on which the act of international terrorism occurred, (A) was a national of the United States or any person hired pursuant to section 2669(c) or section 3943 of title 22 of the United States Code; and (B)(i) died as the direct result of the act of international terrorism, (ii) suffered physical injury as the direct result of the act of international terrorism, or (iii) was held hostage as a direct result of an act of international terrorism and not solely for ransom.

(c) A participant or conspirator in any act of international terrorism, or a representative of such individual, shall not be eligible to receive benefits under the Program.

(d) Exclusion for Military Personnel Covered by Other Compensation Programs. B This Program does not apply to any claim arising out of injury, death, or period as a hostage sustained by a member of the U.S. Armed Forces serving on active duty in the event that such member of the Armed Forces is eligible for benefits from the Department of Defense as a result of the injury, death, or period as a hostage.

(e) Notwithstanding any other provision in this Act, no individual who is or was eligible to recover under the September 11th Victim Compensation Fund of 2001 shall be eligible to recover under this Act.

SEC. 107 NATURE OF AWARDS

(a) In any case in which the Department determines, under regulations issued pursuant to this Act, that an eligible individual has died as the direct and proximate result of an act of international terrorism, the Department shall award a benefit equal to that amount payable as a death benefit to public safety officers pursuant to section 3796 of title 42, United States Code, as amended, as follows:

(1) if there is no surviving child of the victim, to the surviving spouse of such victim;

(2) if there is a surviving child or children and a surviving spouse, one-half to the surviving child or children of such victim in equal shares and one-half to the surviving spouse;

(3) if there is a surviving child or children and no surviving spouse, to the child or children of such victim in equal shares; or

(4) if none of the above conditions apply and there is a surviving parent or parents, to the parent or parents of such victim in equal share.

(b) In the event the claimant was physically injured or held hostage as a direct result of an act of international terrorism, the Department shall award a benefit to the claimant in an amount determined by the Department up to, but not to exceed, the amount provided for under the preceding subsection. The Secretary of State may issue regulations regarding the amount of benefits to be provided under this subsection for categories of injuries or for durations of time as a hostage.

(c) Awards shall be made without regard to the negligence or any other theory of liability of the claimant or of the individual on whose behalf the claimant is filing a claim.

SEC. 108 LIMITATIONS ON CLAIMS

(a) No benefit is payable under this Act with respect to the death of a victim if a benefit is paid under this Act with respect to such victim having been injured or held hostage.

(b) No benefit is payable under this Act with respect to a victim having been injured or held hostage if a benefit is payable under this Act with respect to the death of such victim.

(c) Time Limitation for Filing. -- No claim may be filed on the basis of an act of international terrorism after the date that is 2 years after the date of publication in the Federal Register of the relevant determination under section 104(a) of this Act.

SEC. 109 INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM BEFORE EFFECTIVE DATE

(a) Benefits may be awarded under this Act, subject to the provisions of subsection (b) of this section, to eligible individuals for acts of international terrorism that took place before the effective date of this Act and which occurred on or after November 1, 1979.

(b) The Secretary of State, in consultation with the Secretary of Homeland Security and the Attorney General, shall issue, promptly upon the request of a claimant potentially covered under subsection (a), a determination whether an incident that occurred on or after November 1, 1979, and before the date of enactment of this Act was an act of international terrorism. Such requests will be considered only if made within one year after the date of enactment of this Act. Any such determination shall be published in the Federal Register.

SEC. 110 AUTHORIZATION.

(a) There is established for the purpose of providing benefits under this Act a Victims of International Terrorism Benefits Fund ("Fund").

(1) There are authorized to be appropriated to the Department of State for deposit into the Fund such sums as may be necessary to pay awards under this Act.

(2) Amounts in the Fund shall be available until expended.

(3) Contributions. -- The Secretary of State is authorized to accept such amounts as may be contributed by individuals, business concerns, foreign governments, or other entities for the payment of awards certified under this Act and such amounts may be deposited directly into the Fund.

(4) Unexpended balances of expired appropriations available to the Department of State may be transferred directly into the Fund for the payment of awards under this Act.

(b) In addition to amounts otherwise authorized to be appropriated for the Department of State, there are authorized to be appropriated to the Department of State such sums as may be necessary to administer this Program.

SEC. 111 SUBROGRATION AND WAIVER

(a) The United States shall be subrogated, to the extent of the payments, to any recovery in litigation or settlement of litigation related to an injury or death of an individual paid under the Program.

(b) Any amounts recovered under subsection (a) shall be deposited into the Fund established by section 110(a).

SEC. 112 ADMINISTRATIVE PROVISIONS

The Secretary of State is authorized to establish such rules, regulations, and procedures as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act. Such rules, regulations, and procedures will be determinative of conflict of laws issues arising under this subchapter. Rules, regulations, and procedures issued under this subchapter may include regulations governing the recognition of agents or other persons representing claimants under this Act before the Department. The rules, regulations, and procedures may prescribe the maximum fees that may be charged for services performed in connection with any claim under this Act before the Department, and any agreement in violation of such rules and regulations shall be void.

SEC. 113 NO JUDICIAL REVIEW

Actions taken under this Act shall not be subject to review in any judicial, administrative or other proceeding.

SEC. 114 CONFORMING AMENDMENTS

(a) Section 201 of the Terrorism Risk Insurance Act of 2002 (Public Law 107-297) is amended by adding the following as new subsection (e):

"(e) Subsection (a) shall not apply to any judgment obtained pursuant to a complaint filed after [the date of submission of the Benefits for Victims of International Terrorism Act of 2003]."

(b) Section 1610(f) of Title 28, United States Code (28 U.S.C. 1610(f)), is amended by adding the following at the end as new subparagraph (4):

"(4) Subsection (f) shall not apply to any judgment obtained pursuant to a complaint filed after [the date of submission of the Benefits for Victims of International Terrorism Act of 2003]."

From: CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/9/2003 5:39:53 AM
Subject: : US CentCom Briefing 04/09/03

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brian Bravo (CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 9-APR-2003 09:39:53.00
SUBJECT:: US CentCom Briefing 04/09/03
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

UNITED STATES CENTRAL COMMAND DAILY PRESS BRIEFING
BRIEFER: GEN. VINCE BROOKS, DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS

DOHA, QATAR
7:03 A.M. EDT, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 2003

;

BRIG. GEN. VINCENT BROOKS: Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen. It has now been 20 days since coalition forces entered Iraq with clear objectives. Today the regime is disarray and much of Iraq is free from years of oppression. Televisions across the world today are filled with images of jubilant Iraqis who know the regime is coming to and end. There is still work to be done, and the coalition remains confident of the outcome.

;;;;;; In the course of the campaign, young men and women have sacrificed their lives for this cause, and we continue to remember them and their families.

;;;;;; The nations that are contributing to this effort are doing so with unity of purpose and resolve. The coalition remains strong and committed to seeing the job through.

;;;;;; Let me update you now on some of the latest occurrences of the operation.

;;;;;; With every day that passes, we break more of the grip of the regime. We do this by reducing the regime's options for operating or hiding. Recently, coalition attacked aircraft on five different airfields north of Baghdad, and also targeted regime leadership complexes and capabilities.

;;;;;; The following image is one example. This photo is a facility near Tikrit used for assembly and coordination by regime leaders. The coalition attacked this target on the 6th of April. The target was destroyed. And a comparison.

;;;;;; Efforts by our coalition special operations forces are deliberate and they're also very effective throughout all of Iraq. Our coalition special operations forces coordinated a strike mission against a Ba'ath Party headquarters near the city of Al Qa'im, off in the western corner of Iraq. In the north, special operations forces, in conjunction with Kurdish forces, seized a small town, approximately 25 kilometers north of Mosul, right here, and captured 25 -- oh, I'm sorry, over 200 enemy personnel. There were also attacks along the green line and just south of the green line against Iraqi positions along a ridge 36 kilometers south of Irbil. And in this case, these special operations forces, supported by coalition aircraft, were effective in destroying a number of tanks, carbo (ph) trucks and enemy forces.

;;;;;; The coalition's operational maneuver consolidated gains in the areas south of Baghdad while also continuing relentless pressure against the regime and its remaining forces. Beginning in Basra, coalition forces transitioned to security and stability efforts. Coalition forces also continued expanding their area of influence north of Basra, along the road that leads between Basra and Al Amarah, this area in the east. Their efforts there are focused against any remaining regime elements, and also transitioning to humanitarian assistance.

;;;;;; Fifth Corps also continued operations in Baghdad, and increased security areas beyond Baghdad to the west of the rivers, and they also transitioned to humanitarian assistance. The image here shows a patrol conducted as a part of an armed reconnaissance by the 101st Airborne Division near the town of Karbala. The reconnaissance discovered weapons caches of varying sizes. As you see here, these items, they were found inside of schools inside of Karbala. The armed reconnaissance also found an underground storage facility containing an abundance of food and also Roland-type air defense missiles. That's a specific air defense missile system.

;;;;;; The 1st Marine Expeditionary Force continued its attack near Al Amarah, and also in Baghdad. Near Al Amarah, the marines there met minimal resistance from two of the divisions that had originally been deployed on the eastern flank. Those were the 10th and the 14th divisions. The divisions had already abandoned their weapons and departed the battlefield, after a period of air attacks, leaflet drops, and also following the liberation of Basra. Coalition forces at this point now occupy the 10th Armored Division headquarters, and will transition into humanitarian assistance and civil military operations in the Al Amarah area.

;;;;;; As regime security forces are eliminated from populated areas, more information is provided by the liberated Iraqis. In one example, marines received information about a truckload of missiles, and you see that image here. They found this particular truckload of surface- to-air missile southeast of Baghdad. We assess these SA-6 surface-to- air missiles, and in this case they have been technologically altered to have an infrared seeker added to the nose of the missile. And the truck bed was full of those missiles, as you saw in the preceding image.

;;;;;; In the metropolitan area of Baghdad, the II Corps attack to remove the regime from power continued. The 1st Marine Expeditionary Force continued its attacks across the Diyala River, into the southeast corner of Baghdad, and also proceeded along the west edge of the river into the northeast corner of Baghdad -- beyond the area that I show on this map, to block the roads that lead into or out of Baghdad. After entering in the southeast corner, the marines continued their attacks into the heart of Baghdad, near key government facilities. Their encounters with the Iraqi population have been positive and receptive, and this is particularly in Shia areas that had been most suppressed by the regime's security organizations. And there are even messages of support being broadcast from mosques from the area of Saddam City on the northeast corner of Baghdad.

;;;;;; Fifth Corps forces continue to converge from multiple directions towards the center of Baghdad. If we can go back to the Baghdad image, please. The areas of convergence, as I mentioned yesterday, began in the north, towards the center of town, also already in position in the center of town, and from the south. Baghdad Airport remains underneath coalition control, and we find at this point that we're able to conduct operations with good freedom of action in each one of those areas. The white circles actually represent places where we've had a continuous presence or conducted continuous operations over the last 24 hours.

;;;;;; The operations remain opportunistic and focused, and there have been some sporadic engagements in different areas, particularly in the vicinity of the bridges in downtown Baghdad, right down in the center -- here.

;;;;;; As I mentioned, the Baghdad International Airport -- there our efforts continue to increase both security and restore function. We have ongoing air operations, as this image -- this secured image shows a Bradley beside an aircraft near a terminal. They are conducting security work. We also have air operations that have begun for military purposes, and we're also increasing the coalition's capability to conduct operations from within the center of Iraq.

;;;;;; The continued success by our maritime component made possible the arrival of ships carrying humanitarian supplies from the U.K., from Australia, and also Spain. And there are large volumes of humanitarian supplies that are beginning to flow now for the Iraqi people.

;;;;;; We do continue to communicate with the Iraqis on a variety of levels. I showed you yesterday a video of some service members who were distributing leaflets by hand out on the street, and our efforts and options communicating with the Iraqi people grow with each day that passes, as we have more and more freedom of action to move throughout the communities.

;;;;;; I have a video to show you here of a tactical loudspeaker team using loudspeakers yesterday to broadcast a variety of information to residents of As Zubair, near Basra.

;;;;;; Broadcasts are given in Arabic, and they communicate that the coalition is present, and there are other pieces of information that come as well, like how to draw water and rations. They also passed on an address yesterday from coalition national leaders stressing that coalition forces would indeed rid Iraq of this regime, and that the actions of the coalition were not directed against the Iraqi people. Similar messages are broadcast in a variety of places with these tactical loudspeaker teams.

;;;;;; As our forces move across the battlefield, we often encounter Iraqis in need of medical attention and care. There are coalition medical teams imbedded with all of our units, and as they move through the battlefield, they provide medical care whenever they can, and they also provide medical check for Iraqi citizens in liberated areas. This is just one image of that. This is a medical officer providing a check to a child. We do these in a variety of areas deliberately. It's not just children, it's all citizens of a particular area to come and get medical check-ups.

;;;;;; I want to show you a video here also of some medical care provided from a military medical facility normally used for tactical military purposes. There is space available in it, and so as we encounter civilians, we provide care there.

;;;;;; This is a tactical field hospital. Coalition military medical personnel providing assistance wherever possible to Iraqis that were found on the battlefield.

;;;;;; A determined effort is also underway in the liberated areas of Iraq to restore function to existing civilian medical facilities. Re-establishing medical care in communities comes with some degree of challenge, such as immediately identifying some useable supplies and also useable facilities. This is a hospital in Nasiriyah as of the 5th of April. The forces that supported the regime staged operations from this hospital, as they did in many areas, and left it in this state. The coalition is now working to try to get it functional again. This is an image of a medical officer searching through the same hospital to try to find in the abandoned materials where there is -- there are records that are useful for information, or also any medical supplies that might be useful.

;;;;;; During our battles to gain a degree of security control in southern Iraq, forces supporting the regime also used educational buildings -- we've seen that example on a number of occasions -- and also health buildings in most of the cities. They used these as fighting positions and weapons caches, ammunition storage areas, and the majority of these facilities sustained some degree of structural damage. However, many of them have been returned to use. Recently, hospitals in An Najaf and Karbala became operational, as did a medical facility in Safwan. A hospital in As Zubair is in minimal working condition, and we have service members of the coalition working to facilitate the repairs.

;;;;;; We expect some time later today the arrival of a Spanish field hospital from the Spanish ship Gallacia (sp), which is inbound to Umm Qasr, and that will also significantly increase the medical support that's available in southern Iraq.

;;;;;; With that, ladies and gentlemen, I'm ready to take your questions. Yes ma'am, please.

;;;;;; Q General, Cammie McCormack (sp), CBS News. Can you tell us what you expect the resistance to be like in Tikrit, how well trained those fighters are, if you have any estimates of the number of Iraqi fighters there?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Cammie, we've seen that there have been some forces deployed in and around the Tikrit area. Many of them have moved as we were having more and more success on the southwestern side of Baghdad and the southeastern side of Baghdad. There have been some repositionings to try to reinforce those initial defenses. The amount of force that remains in Tikrit we are still making assessments of. We anticipate that any fighting that would occur there, if we happen to go to Tikrit, would be similar to what we've seen in other parts of the country. So, a combination of conventional military forces, those that may be remaining at that point in time, irregular forces that may be involved with them, some loyal to the Ba'ath regime still, and others, other circumstances like we've seen before.

;;;;;; I'm not going to predispose as to when we might go in that direction and what we would do. We certainly are focused on Tikrit, as I showed with the weapons system video, to prevent the regime from being able to use it as a place to command and control, to restore command and control, or to hide.

;;;;;; Yes sir, please.

;;;;;; Q Hi. James Forlong (sp) from Sky News. There are many Kurds now saying, having seen these pictures from Baghdad, who are now saying that they believe the time has come to move down towards Kirkuk, to joint up with Peshmerga fighters there. Is that a development you would welcome or view with alarm?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: I think the way we look at our operations in the north is on a consistent view of what we've had already. We do have coalition special operations forces working closely with Peshmerga in northern Iraq. There have been some limited advances that have occurred, as I described earlier, by coalition forces, supported with security by Peshmerga, and we think that's the circumstance that needs to continue at this point. There are still Iraqi forces in the north, and we continue to maintain pressure against those forces, first to prevent them from reinforcing toward Tikrit or Baghdad, and secondly, to prevent their use in further operations, and ideally convincing them that they should lay down their arms. And so those operations will continue at this point. We don't anticipate a change in the dynamics of the north, even though there certainly is good news to be seen throughout the country.

;;;;;; Yes ma'am, please.

;;;;;; Q Thanks, General. We've seen a lot of pictures today of looting in Baghdad. We'd seen it earlier in Basra. How are you prepared to deal with that? And does that pose any new issues of threat or concern?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, I think we always have concern when there's any degree of disorder, civil disorder that occurs. I think in this case we're seeing a lot of jubilation, and people who have long been oppressed for years and years having choices. We believe that this will settle down in due time. It has already begun to settle down in Basra. Some of this occurs as a result of a vacuum that's created in the interim period between the departure of the regime or the perception of the departure of the regime and the establishment of conditions that move on a path of normalcy. So, I think that we'll see some of this in other areas that have been liberated.

;;;;;; This is a lot of pent up energy that's been part of the lives of many of these people for their entire lives, and some of it can be anticipated. We will deal with this though, obviously, as we try to establish more and more security in different areas as we move through, and work more and more closely with the Iraqi population itself, we think that these things will settle down.

;;;;;; Yes, please.

;;;;;; Q Thank you. Jonathan Marcus, BBC. Can I push you a little further on the north, because it seems to me that one of the keynotes of your strategy has been to try to destroy as few Iraqi units as possible. We've seen the situation over to the east, down at Amarah and that area, where you appear to be taking the surrender pretty well of formed units.

;;;;;; In the north, you're not really in control; the Kurdish fighters are in control. What is to convince Iraqi units that might want to surrender that doing so wouldn't leave them at the mercy of people who clearly have a very long -- go back a long way and have scores to settle?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, Jonathan, I don't agree with your characterization. There are U.S. Special Operations forces, other coalition special operations forces, conducting operations in the north. The fact that it has been as stable as it is and as controlled as it is to date indicates really what the circumstance is.

;;;;;; We remain comfortable that that is a good operation. It's ongoing well. There still are certainly decisions that some of the military commanders, the Iraqi military commanders, have the opportunity to make. And we think that there will be some new decisions made by them in the coming days, particularly with the news of what's occurred in Baghdad and Basra.

;;;;;; We remain optimistic. We certainly don't want to destroy any more human life than is necessary to accomplish our objectives. But, nevertheless, combat operations do continue in the north.

;;;;;; Tom, please.

;;;;;; Q Tom Mintier, CNN. The force size in Baghdad is being increased. What will their role be? I saw that you mentioned on a couple of occasions that you're switching over to a humanitarian role for some of these troops that did come to Baghdad as combat troops; they're now working in the humanitarian field. And any update on possible location of prisoners of war that are being held by the regime in and around Baghdad?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Tom, first, the forces that are in Baghdad still have combat work to do. That is not complete at this point. We certainly have seen areas where the population knows that the regime is gone and will never return again in the way that it has been in the past. There are still pockets. We haven't located every leader of the regime. We haven't found every instrument of the regime. And so those operations continue.

;;;;;; What I would describe to you is throughout the country, wherever we can begin to establish the conditions for life going on, that occurs as soon as we can. And so there may be some things -- certainly the line of where we're doing humanitarian assistance and civil support has moved much further north. We have some of those things happening in Karbala, for example, right now. We're not to the point where we're ready to do that in the same kind of concentration in Baghdad.

;;;;;; Having said that, nevertheless, we provide medical assistance to injured Iraqis that we encounter on the battlefield. Where there's not a need for combat action and life can go on, we'll try to provide whatever assistance we can. But we're not quite at the same point at the front end of the spear as we are on the long handle of the spear that leads back down to the Kuwaiti border.

;;;;;; As to the question of prisoners of war, we continue to remain concerned about the condition of those that we have unaccounted for at this point, and, frankly, for those that are unaccounted for from previous conflicts.

;;;;;; We know that even from the Iran-Iraq war and the Gulf War of '90 and '91, there are still some unaccounted-for people. We have not found them at this point. We still expect whatever remains of the regime and whoever might have them in possession to follow the Geneva Convention and be responsible for their care. And in the meantime, we continue our efforts to try to find them if we can.

;;;;;; Second row, please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- USA Today. You've said that hostility will continue until the regime is no longer in power. But if the leadership is wiped out, how will you know and when will you be able to declare victory and an end to hostilities?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: I think we'll continue to get indications of less and less control by the regime and more and more information from the population about where any remnants of the regime might be. That then helps us focus our operations in a very deliberate way.

;;;;;; We have been as deliberate and focused as we can be to date. That will continue. And certainly with the type of jubilation you see in the streets and the recognition that the regime does not have the same grip that it once had, we certainly anticipate there will be more information coming.

;;;;;; As that information comes and we do our work in a deliberate way, we think we'll have more and more indications of what remains of the regime, if anything, and what additional work must be conducted. That's how our focus will continue.

;;;;;; Let me go back here, please. Yes, sir.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- Irish Television in Dublin. You talk about the jubilation in the streets of Baghdad, but the television pictures are just coming from maybe one or two areas. Now, you have troops all over the ground in five or six areas in Baghdad. What are they seeing in the other parts of the capital?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: They're seeing a number of things in a variety of places. For the most part, it's well-received. But there are still pockets. And so what we see, when there are examples that the regime may still have influence, either physically or by just lingering senses of intimidation or potential retribution, that behavior is more subdued.

;;;;;; But we're not finding hostile behavior from the population. We believe that the population recognizes that the end is near for this regime, if it has not already occurred. And they certainly are supporting the actions of the coalition throughout.

;;;;;; We're seeing cooperation in the areas where we're delivering humanitarian assistance and support. You've seen some of those images yourself. But it's a fair observation that the camera's only in one particular place.

;;;;;; The image, though, that's occurring is much broader, and the places where we're having our encounters bear that out; much jubilation certainly in certain parts of Baghdad. And I think that corresponds more to how much oppression actually occurred in those areas. But there's certainly a willingness to support the continuing efforts of the coalition throughout the country as we're operating.

;;;;;; Yes, sir. Over here, please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible.) Given that the fighting seems very one-sided at the moment, why don't you consider some sort of cease-fire or halting operations so that those Iraqis who are still opposing you can either surrender or go home without being killed?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, without going to a cease-fire, they have the option to surrender. We have not been at a cease-fire yet, and we've taken many surrenders. At this point we have over 7,000 Iraqi prisoners of war. And so there's no need for a cease-fire at this point to achieve that purpose.

;;;;;; At the same time, we remain discriminating in our targeting. We're fighting those who choose to fight for the regime. And that must continue, because those are appendages of the regime. And our objective is clear: The regime must be removed.

;;;;;; The things that support the regime are part of that, and our efforts will continue in that direction. Those that choose to lay down their arms will be welcome to do so and will have made a very wise choice indeed for their own future and the future of Iraq.

;;;;;; Let me go to the side. Please, sir.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible.) Shelling against Baghdad from the air has been reduced during the past two days. What does this indicate?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Our efforts in and around Baghdad, whether they are efforts that are conducted by rockets or efforts conducted by weapon systems delivered by aircraft or even our actions in surface-to- surface fires, remain focused on targets that have been identified.

;;;;;; That hasn't changed throughout the operation. We continue to remain focused on being deliberate, calculating in our application of military force, minimizing wherever possible the effect on civilians or other infrastructure that we don't intend to damage.

;;;;;; I think, when it's all said and done and people can move freely throughout Baghdad and see for themselves, there will be some scenes of destruction, particularly on regime complexes. There may be some evidence of places where fights occurred where there's damage to some buildings that cannot be avoided in close contact.

;;;;;; But there will not be the scenes that have been historical reminders of movements by military force into capital cities in other countries throughout military history. There will not be any image like that at all.

;;;;;; In fact, much of Baghdad, most of Baghdad, continues unaffected physically. The bridges are still up, with the exception of some that have been dropped for tactical purposes by the regime in some cases, or one that was dropped by coalition forces outside of Baghdad. Traffic can still move on the streets.

;;;;;; Now that the curfews will be lifted, as the regime moves away, I think we'll see the resumption of a lot of normal activity there. And we remain convinced that that's the right way to approach this. There is still work to go, though. And while we are satisfied with our efforts to date, we still know that there's a lot of tough work to be done to make sure that we continue in the same direction.

;;;;;; Back here, please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- representing the Committee to Protect Journalists. General, my committee sent a letter yesterday to Secretary Rumsfeld requesting an investigation of the events yesterday regarding the journalists in Baghdad, and we hope that'll be undertaken.

;;;;;; I wanted to ask you about the future and ways of possibly averting similar incidents. You mentioned in yesterday's briefing how the military takes particular care with sites such as schools, hospitals and mosques. I wonder if a system could be arranged where similar care could be taken with sites where it's known that journalists are operating.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, first, let me say that sites where journalists or any other civilians or non-combatants are operating are already a focus for us to ensure that we have knowledge and that we're careful about our targeting. But we should be very clear that, first, Baghdad remains a very dangerous place. We've always said that.

;;;;;; And we've also informed that those who choose to stay in that location are putting themselves at risk by their own decisions. The circumstances of yesterday revealed that there was fire occurring inside of Baghdad and fire was returned.

;;;;;; It's important to note at this point that the regime will also use any civilians that are available to provide a degree of protection. Civilians may be located in places where the regime conducts other work.

And when the two join together, they move into a targetable area that increases the danger.

;;;;;; So what we'd encourage is decisions to be made -- now that the danger is well-known, even more known than it has been throughout time, that new decisions would be made. And we'd certainly like to see all non-combatants that are close to regime facilities or regime leaders to move away from those areas before they increase the danger any further.

;;;;;; Yes, please, Otti (ph).

;;;;;; Q Otti Ravel (ph) ABC News. You spoke a moment ago about unaccounted-for POWs from previous conflicts. Are you saying you have no new information regarding the status of Scott Speicher from the first Gulf War? And a second question I have is, regarding the enemy POWs that you currently have and foreign forces who are fighting in Iraq, are you surprised by the number of Egyptians and others who have come into Iraq to fight against coalition forces? Thank you.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: I don't have any new information about any specific coalition or other prisoners of war that might be in the possession of the Iraqis at this point. But we remain concerned about it and we remain also focused on it.

;;;;;; We have identified a number of what we think are foreign fighters that are not Iraqis that have been identified in different places on the battlefield. We certainly heard that there was a call for that, and there was certainly adequate time before hostilities began for those who had an interest in protecting the regime to come and fight with the regime. As we continue to see those, we simply collect them up as well and they're treated like all other prisoners of war that are taken into our custody, with proper respect, in accordance with the Geneva Convention. They're afforded medical care if need be. In some cases, they were wounded in action, and they received medical care from the coalition to stabilize them. That's our approach and that continues to be our approach. We may find more on the battlefield. If so, then that certainly is just a condition of the battle as we go on.

;;;;;; (Name inaudible) -- please.

;;;;;; Q (Off mike) -- with BBC Foreign Service. General, can you tell us about collateral damage in Baghdad? Have you been using inert bombs? And which quantity? And have they been efficient? The second part of the question is regarding these foreign fighters. Are you concerned that they are mixing up with the civilian population in Baghdad?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: We use a variety of munitions. In areas where we need to have precise work, we use precision munitions. I don't want to get too specific about exactly what weapon combination we use inside of built-up areas, but suffice it to say that our work to date has been precision-guided munitions in the target areas inside of Baghdad. I'm not aware of any exceptions to that out of my own knowledge. I can tell you our approach would always be the same, as it has been from the start: discriminating on a particular target, positive identification, and then decisions on exactly what weapon system should be used to achieve the desired effect on that target while also minimizing the effect on things not intended to be targeted. That's a consistent approach, continues throughout.

;;;;;; Since we've been in close air support missions, additional types of weapon systems have been introduced into the Baghdad area. Close air support aircraft carry different types of things -- cannon, for example, that fire at a high rate of speed, in a very precise way but at a high rate of speed, multiple rounds. That causes a different effect than a precision-guided munition. And so there may be some different dynamics on the battlefield that have occurred out there, but I can certainly tell you that the efforts remain precise, deliberate, focused, and we believe that we have been successful to date in minimizing secondary effects on the population or other structures.

;;;;;; Let me come back to the left, please. Right here.

;;;;;; Q David Lee Miller (sp), Fox News. General, there was a report that American uniforms were found at the Rasheed airstrip at what was described as a military prison. Could you elaborate on that and tell us what was found? And might this indicate that POWs had recently been there? And secondly, have coalition forces secured the area where you believe the leadership was meeting a few days ago and there was an airstrike possibly targeting Saddam Hussein and his sons? Thanks.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: We were certainly aware that the Rasheed prison near the Rasheed Airport had a history of being used to hold military prisoners. Part of our operational design in going through Rasheed airfield was to secure it and also to proceed on to the Rasheed prison. We did not find any prisoners of war or any human remains in that location. There are some reports of having found some uniforms. They were U.S. uniforms. And there were names on some. I'm not going to describe those names at this point.

;;;;;; What that tells us is that the uniforms were there. It cannot tell us anything else at this point. We remain concerned about those who are remaining unaccounted for, and we hold the regime, whatever remains of it or whoever might have our prisoners of war in possession, accountable and responsible for anything that happens to them at this point.

;;;;;; Your second question, about the location that was struck a few days ago, I don't know that we've moved onto that location at this point in time. The focus of our action is broader than just that location. There are a number of regime locations throughout the city. Some we are physically located at; others we're preventing movement to; others we have not arrived at yet.

;;;;;; And that's really where we stand on that one.

;;;;;; Let me go back here, please, sir.

;;;;;; Q Ricardo -- (off mike) -- News. If Saddam is not found, then who would have to surrender for the cease-fire? How would you know?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, cease-fire doesn't have to come by way of a surrender. A cease-fire is a decision, and the decision will occur when we believe conditions have been set on the battlefield and also when we have political instructions from our leaders. Right now our operations remain focused as they are on any remaining portions of this regime, and that includes the forces that support it. And at the same time, our efforts increase daily on providing humanitarian assistance to the places that have been liberated, and tending to the need of the Iraqi people and beginning to move forward into the future.

;;;;;; So there's still work to be done, without a doubt, and we remain focused on that work. We believe we will ultimately achieve a point where hostilities can cease, but we're not at that point yet.

;;;;;; Yes, please, sir, fourth row.

;;;;;; Q Yes. (Off mike) -- from SBS (?) TV, South Korea. General, I believe one of the few variables left at this stage of the war is that lots of Iraqi soldiers took off their uniforms and got dressed with civilian clothes. I believe this might be some trouble to you, especially you get to face more and more -- (inaudible) -- situation. So you have to -- you want to find and attack your enemies, but also you need to minimize civilian casualties at the same time. So how would you cope with these dilemmas?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, it's a tough challenge, no doubt about that, and it has been a challenge throughout this operation because of the tactics used by forces loyal to the regime. Our young men and women, though, out there fighting are great professionals and they've dealt with this in as complete and competent a way as possibly can be done. We know that there are some soldiers who took off their uniforms and went home. They're living as civilians now. And some of them did so in an honorable fashion. We know that there are some who took their uniforms off and fought in civilian clothes. Some were pressed back into service.

;;;;;; I think when it's all said and done, with the help of the Iraqi population we'll have a clearer view of who's fighting really in support of the regime, who perpetrated war crimes and fought as criminals, violating all the laws of land combat, and who did not. That will take some time to sort all that out, and it can only be done with the help of the Iraqi population. And what we're seeing right now is we believe we will have that support from the Iraqi population as time goes on.

;;;;;; Yes, sir, please?

;;;;;; Q General, the dancing in the streets hat we've seen, is it because they love you or is it because they fear you? And if it's because they love you, how do you make sure that the love remains? (Laughter.)

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, I'm feeling a lot of love in here right now, so I appreciate the question. (Laughter.)

;;;;;; I think the reality is it's not about us, it's about the regime. What you're seeing as celebration in the streets is a recognition that the regime is gone and will not return again. It can never be returned to what was. That's what they're seeing. What it tells us is, thus far our efforts have been successful in those areas. It also tells us that we have more work to do to ensure that's the scene throughout the country.

;;;;;; Yes, ma'am, please.

;;;;;; Q Thanks, General. Noor Aqabi (ph) from Abu Dhabi TV. As you well know, General, a mayday call has been made by our reporter in Abu Dhabi, and the group of journalists has been -- you know, they are still caught in that building with Abu Dhabi -- Abu Dhabi TV reporters and Al Jazeera staff. And they are for more than 24 hours caught there, and they are calling for help. Could you tell us, General, is there any measures has been taken to help these reporters to get out of there?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: I think there are a number of people, as I said earlier, who are still inside of Baghdad in a variety of areas. And as long as they're moving away from where the regime is conducting its operations, they shouldn't be at any risk. Now, they need to move out of that area, move through our lines, identify themselves as reporters, identify themselves ins such a way that they have no appearance of hostility and we would anticipate they should be able to move out of the area. And there are some other folks that might want to make the same sorts of decisions. At this point, that's a responsibility of the people in the station to make that decision to leave.

;;;;;; Q They're trying to get out this morning, but still the fire is coming out of the door. They cannot get out unless some people has to locate them and say they are the reporters, they are not the enemy or they just want to get out of there.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, we certainly have concern for their safety and their welfare, and we would want them to move away from any combat area, particularly where regime forces might still be located.

;;;;;; Yes, sir, please?

;;;;;; Q Paul Penter (ph) from (Daily ?) Broadcasting Corporation. Just back to what you're seeing on the streets of Baghdad today. Could you further characterize how the coalition interprets what's going on? Are you suggesting this is like some kind of turning point? I don't think you've ever walked out here before and said today the regime is in disarray. I mean, is it in much more disarray than it was yesterday? How do you fully characterize what we're seeing today in Baghdad?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, with every day that passes throughout the entirety of this operation, the regime has had less and less control over top of its people, over top of its forces, over top of this country of Iraq. It is more out of control today than it has been before. I think we are at a degree of a tipping point where, for the population, there's a broader recognition that this regime is coming to an end and will not return in the way that it has been in the past. That's a very important point in the operation.

;;;;;; Militariily, however, we proceed on a plan that says that there's more to follow. All of the regime is not gone. There are still regime appendages in a variety of places, There's still capability. There's still also potentially the intent to use weapons of mass destruction. All of these hazards have not been eliminated completely from the battlefield.

;;;;;; And so we certainly stand on the position -- and we have said it before -- that the regime is in disarray, the regime is losing control, the regime no longer has control over certain areas. The capital city now is one of those areas that's been added to the list of places that the regime has lost control. And we'll still focus on pockets inside of the capital city, but their efforts to maintain control, we believe, have come to an end at that location.

;;;;;; Yes, please?

;;;;;; Q (Name and affiliation off-mike.) You showed us a picture earlier with some white circles on it. Are you telling us those are areas you believe you actually control, or that's merely where fighting is going on? Can you give us sort of a percentage of what amount of the capital city you do believe you control? And it does feel like you're going a little farther today in your comments about the regime losing control. I mean, you've said it several times here, the regime may have ended, it may no longer exert control over its own capital city. How close are we to then -- I mean, the goal of this operation is regime change. You are talking today as though the regime has changed or is about to change. How do we know what a victory looks like, what a surrender looks like, what a cease-fire looks like?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, first on the circles on the Baghdad map. Those represent areas where we've had a continuous presence over the last 24 hours. In other words, we didn't come in and leave, we stayed in those areas, with a force that was able to maintain security and control in and around its area and prevent action by any Iraqi forces that were inside of the city. So it represents areas where we've had freedom of action.

"Control" is not a term that would apply very well in describing the circumstances here; it's more a matter of being able to maintain security of our force, conduct operations in a manner that we choose, at times and places of our choosing.

;;;;;; What I think is instructive is how many different places of the town, of the western part of Baghdad particularly and on the east and northeast corners of Baghdad, we're able to conduct those operations in times and places of our choosing. That really is a point to be made by that.

;;;;;; As time goes on, the physical places where we are free of Iraqi regime influence and are able to conduct operations, begin to provide the humanitarian assistance that was asked earlier about Baghdad, those will expand beyond the areas that we have right now, and we believe that in due time, there will be an end of hostilities.

;;;;;; I want to be clear that we know there is still work to be done in this operation. That is absolutely certain. There are still places where the regime does have control. There are places where clearly the regime no longer does have control. Whatever remaining portions of the regime there may be, fragmented as they are now, there still is capability, there's still intent. So it's not over; we still have work to be done in that regard, and we'll stay focused on that work as the coming days approach.

;;;;;; Yes, please? Back here.

;;;;;; Q (Name and affiliation off mike.) I'd like to insist (sic) on the investigation of what happened at the Palestine Hotel. You probably don't have yet a full picture of the investigation, but according to the footage from the French TV crew, there were -- there were no shots coming from the hotel at least 30 seconds before the Abrams tank fired back. Could you tell us what did the crew inform their superiors before firing, please? Thank you, General.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: I don't have any reports of what the crew specifically said before engaging or what decisions were made in that moment of time. What we know at this point is that the reports that have come up to us from the force involved in the fight was they received fire and returned fire. Everything else beyond there is speculative and must be investigated much more thoroughly, and I certainly am not in a position to describe anything further at this point in time.

;;;;;; Yes, sir, please? Here we go.

;;;;;; Q Jerry Dimakato (ph) of Citizen Canada. Thanks for taking my question, general. The Canadian commodore in charge of Multinational Naval Task Force, that's the Task Force 151 -- its mandate is to hunt al Qaeda terrorist in the Gulf -- he said yesterday that the Canadian federal government has expressly forbid him from handing over suspected Iraqi terrorists, Iraqi war criminals, or even fleeing members of Saddam Hussein's inner circle. I'm just wondering -- as well, he said that the government does not want to be put in the embarrassing position of having to relinquish Iraqis to the United States military, given Canada's neutral policy in the war.

;;;;;; As a former policy man for binational politico-military affairs with Canada, what's your personal reaction to this very public refusal to hand over Iraqi criminals, if found, fleeing to your forces? And why would this key task force remain under Canadian command?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: What you are describing is really a contribution by a coalition partner, and a coalition involved in a different operation than this. And as with all coalition operations we involve ourselves in, we respect the prerogatives of the countries that are involved. So that's really different than our Operation Iraqi Freedom and is not related to it at all.

;;;;;; Yes?

;;;;;; Q (Off mike)?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: That's the answer: It's a different coalition and a different operation, and we always respect the prerogatives of countries involved, whether it's this coalition, Iraqi Freedom, or different coalition operations that preceded this operation as it goes right now.

;;;;;; Yes, please?

;;;;;; Q General, Pete Smalowitz (ph) from Knight Ridder. We were told that the American strategy in Baghdad would be similar to the British strategy in Basra. But in Baghdad, where the regime has a firmer grip on power and more formidable defenses, we have seen some of the celebrating and some of the looting much quicker. Can you explain what's been different from a military standpoint or from the citizen standpoint?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, I think what we are seeing, first, is the similarities are we are very discriminating in where we conduct operations. We are deliberate and patient. We do our operations based on information that comes to us where opportunities may be, and then we take advantage of those opportunities in some tactical military way.

;;;;;; Cameras are in places where our military forces are not, and there is jubilation that's occurring in places where we haven't necessarily entered yet. I think we also saw some images in Basra, and we saw some images in other places, and there have been other cases where there were no images where initially in a vacuum there's jubilation that sometimes goes beyond into looting. Many of these looting incidents are reported to be against Baath Party locations that still existed there. That doesn't change it in terms of the activity that is going on, but that certainly is -- it's instructive in terms of what really you may be seeing. Don't know that to be factual, but that's certainly the report that we are having at this point in time.

;;;;;; What we know is that we want to cause order and stability to occur in all areas, as quickly as that can be done. We'll remain focused on that as we transition away from combat operations in areas that have been liberated that we physically have entered.

;;;;;; Q (Off mike) -- done it so much faster than in Basra?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: It's a different place, different circumstances. And so every place on the battlefield unfolds a little bit differently, and creates different opportunities, different forces are used. They arrived a different way. The regime's condition is different. It's just a different situation, and so we -- the timing becomes different as a result.

;;;;;; Q (Off mike)?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, those are some of the examples -- different size, different composition of the town, different introduction of forces, any number of other things that could be taken into account that just make this operation, and every other city operation different from other ones that are out there.

;;;;;; Please?

;;;;;; Q (Off mike) -- Irish Times. General, could you just clarify in relation to the Palestine Hotel is it possible that there could be future attacks by coalition forces on the Palestine Hotel? Or has it been now designated as having the same status as a heritage site or a mosque?

;;;;;; Secondly, there was footage on the BBC last night of Iraqi prisoners with their hands tied behind their backs in their underwear standing and facing a wall, for what period I don't know. Is that -- I am not an expert on the Geneva Convention, but that doesn't seem to be in line with the Geneva Convention that I would expect. Have the Red Cross been able to visit prisoners in all areas where they are held by the coalition? Thank you.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: As we've said a number of times, downtown Baghdad remains a dangerous place. There's still potential for combat action. The area in and around the bridges last night we reported there was some contact. Our efforts remain focused on the regime and regime targets that present themselves. We retain the inherent right of self-defense. There are still choices that can be made by those that are inside of Baghdad as to whether they believe themselves to be in a safe position or not. Our approach remains the same and consistent.

;;;;;; Prisoners of war for the coalition, prisoners that are taken into our possession, are treated in a way that's consistent with the Geneva Convention. When we find there's any deviation from that, commanders have the opportunity to deal with that. I have not seen the images, I have not seen the report, and so at this point I remain convinced that our commands are doing what's necessary and appropriate under law and under convention to do what's necessary to take control of prisoners of war, move them to the proper areas, ensure they don't remain a threat to themselves or to others, and then put them in a condition where they are safe and protected, yet under control.

;;;;;; Yes, ma'am, please?

;;;;;; Q (Off mike) -- Carsons (ph), Reuters. In your presentation you talked a lot about hospitals in other towns. Are you doing anything in particular to make sure that hospitals in Baghdad, where there are a lot of civilians, including journalists now, are not going to be targeted, especially now that you seem to be -- you know, the difference in force -- the Americans are really running away with it -- the threat back might not be that big. So can you tell me what you are going to do to protect those hospitals?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: The first thing we do to protect hospitals is we recognize that they are hospitals, and we treat them as such first, and we expect them to be hospitals. We've certainly seen a pattern in a number of towns that the regime does not see it that way. The regime sees hospitals as fighting positions. The regime sees hospitals as storage locations. The regime does not see a hospital as a hospital. We know there are hospitals in and around Baghdad, and we certainly have reports of large numbers of wounded inside of those hospitals -- people who have been injured by combat action of some sort of another. We remain concerned about that, and where we can provide relief, I am sure we will in due time.

;;;;;; Our focus right now is against the remaining portions of the regime. As we encounter civilians in need, we will provide whatever assistance we can within our capability at that point in time. If we find there is an increased need, we may deliver additional things, just as we have in other parts of the country. But we are not quite at that stage yet.

;;;;;; I think I have time for one last question. Yes, ma'am, please?

;;;;;; Q (Off mike) -- Brant (ph) with Newsweek magazine. I'm trying to understand what coalition policy is in the case of civilian deaths. Do you investigate all of them, or are they considered collateral damage of war, inevitable? Is it only when they are controversial that you'll look into them? And the case may be of al Jazeera might be illustrative. If it was an airstrike, will the pilot be interviewed? Will Predator video be reviewed? What will happen in that particular case?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: As you can imagine, the number of combat engagements that have occurred over the last 20 days, down to the lowest level, where someone makes a decision to deliver a weapons system against some target, whether it's a physical target or human being, is a number that we cannot begin to count. And so every engagement that occurs is certainly not investigated. Where there is an indication there may have been something that didn't go the right way, commanders have the opportunity to investigate. We regret the loss of any civilians on the battlefield, and we have done all that we can reasonably do to prevent that from happening either from air or on the ground. But we know for certain that there have been civilians killed in this operation, because of the decisions taken by the regime to put them out in front, to hide behind them, to use pregnant women to blow up cars at checkpoints. We have seen this happen on the battlefield. Those are not being investigated by us at this point in time. If we think we have some involvement in other cases where we need to look deeper, we do, and we look very closely at ourselves to see what procedures need to be changed; and, if there is accountability, then that accountability is taken care.

;;;;;; Q So are you saying in the case, in this particular case, you would look into it because it's controversial? And has that process started?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: What I am saying in this case and all cases is when we believe we have something to look into, we do look into it in greater detail. I'm not going to specify this particular one.

;;;;;; Thanks very much, ladies and gentlemen. Have a good day.

END.

;

From: Gonzales, Alberto R.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Addington, David S.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 6:30:33 AM
Subject: RE: Algiers

We should try to talk before then about this.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 5:39 PM
To: Gonzales, Alberto R.; Leitch, David G.; Addington, David S.
Subject: Algiers

Leg Affairs, Jay, Phil, Kristen, Taft, myself, and crew are talking again about this (and victims comp) at 8 in morning. Leg folks want to underscore to everyone (again) that we will lose.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Lefkowitz, Jay P.>;<Silverberg, Kristen>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 8:03:39 AM
Subject: Re: Mtg this am

Sure. I am in 211. No one here yet.

.

----- Original Message -----

From:Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange

To:Kristen Silverberg/WHO/EOP@Exchange,

Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

Cc:

Date: 04/09/2003 07:53:47 AM

Subject: Mtg this am

Can you start mtg.

I will be there as soon as staff mtg breaks. Thx

.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Leitch, David G.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 9:07:30 AM
Subject: fyi

I have put into a call to Philbin about abrogation of Algiers Accord issue as well.

From: Cox, Christopher C.
To: <Vestewig, Lauren J.>;<Silverberg, Kristen>;<Kirk, Matthew>;<Keniry, Daniel>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Wood, John F.>;<Perry, Philip J.>
CC: <Stone, Carla B.>;<Lefkowitz, Jay P.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 11:32:29 AM
Subject: Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords

Can anyone offer a status update on the one-pager we discussed?

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Dorn, Nancy>
CC: <Lefkowitz, Jay P.>;<Wood, John F.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 11:35:58 AM
Subject: Re:

I am not working on any language. Not sure what John was referring to.

Nancy Dorn

04/09/2003 11:33:25 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject:

John Wood filled me in on the discussion this am on victims of terrorism. We are strongly objecting to inclusion of the Allen or other asset lang in the supp (as well as any other extraneous stuff). We do not want "second degree " type language breathing any additional life into these provisions. Also, whatever lang brett is working on needs to be circulated for review.

Thanks.

From: Warsh, Kevin
To: <Cooper, Jean>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 12:02:27 PM
Subject: CRS

from tim muris for steve.

---------- Forwarded by Kevin Warsh/OPD/EOP on 04/09/2003 12:02 PM ----------

"Timothy J. Muris"

04/09/2003 10:44:18 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Kevin Warsh/OPD/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: CRS

-----Original Message-----

From: Timothy J. Muris

Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 5:19 PM

To: 'Jay P. Lefkowitz (jlefkowi@opd.eop.gov)'

Subject: CRS (Revised Version)

Section 411 of the Federal Aviation Act, currently codified as 49 U.S.C. Section 41712, authorizes the Department of Transportation (DOT) to prohibit unfair and deceptive practices and unfair methods of competition by airlines and ticket agents in air transportation and the sale of air transportation. This provision's key language is identical to Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act, 15 U.S.C. Section 45, which proscribes "[u]nfair methods of competition . . . and unfair or deceptive acts or practices."

The Supreme Court long has recognized that the ban on "unfair methods of competition" in Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act permits the FTC to proscribe behavior not already condemned by cases interpreting the Sherman Act or the Clayton Act. See Federal Trade Commission v. Sperry & Hutchinson Co., 405 U.S. 233, 239 (1972); Federal Trade Commission v. Motion Picture Advertising Services Co., 344 U.S. 392, 394-95 (1953); Federal Trade Commission v. Cement Institute, 333 U.S. 683, 708 (1948); see also ABA Section of Antitrust Law, Antitrust Law Developments 608-15 (5th ed. 2002) (describing efforts by FTC to apply Section 5 to practices that do not violate the other antitrust laws). Since 1981, however, there have been few instances in which the Commission has premised a competition case upon the capacity of Section 5 to reach beyond prevailing judicial interpretations of the other antitrust statutes. The agency's modern enforcement practice routinely has been to anchor its antitrust complaints in theories grounded in Sherman Act or Clayton Act case law. See, e.g., Toys "R" Us, 126 F.T.C. 415 (1998), aff'd, 221 F.3d 928 (7th Cir. 2000).

Two factors account for this development. The first is the growing awareness among academics and practitioners that the Sherman Act and Clayton Act are sufficiently flexible to redress conduct that poses genuine danger to consumer welfare. Given the adaptability inherent in the Sherman and Clayton Acts, there has been little perceived urgency to invoke Section 5 as a separate basis for establishing liability.

The second reason is the broad consensus inside and outside the Commission that FTC efforts to apply the distinctive authority of Section 5 seldom have succeeded. Experience with FTC antitrust cases initiated in the 1970s played a key role in shaping this perspective. In the 1970s, the FTC frequently relied on Section 5 to attack behavior and industry structure outside the scope of existing Sherman Act and Clayton Act jurisprudence. Representative matters included challenges to the "maintenance of a noncompetitive market structure," see Kellogg

Co., 99 F.T.C. 8 (1982), Exxon Corp., 98 F.T.C. 453 (1981); a refusal to deal in which the alleged anticompetitive effects of the challenged behavior fell outside the market in which the defendant competed, see Reuben H. Donnelley Corp., 95 F.T.C. 1 (1980), enforcement denied sub nom. Official Airline Guides, Inc. v. Federal Trade Commission, 630 F.2d 920 (2d Cir. 1980); and the parallel, noncollusive adoption of various facilitating practices, see Ethyl Corp., 101 F.T.C. 425 (1983), enforcement denied sub nom. E.I. DuPont de Nemours & Co. v. Federal Trade Commission, 729 F.2d 128 (2d Cir. 1984). In some instances, such as the Exxon and Kellogg shared monopoly prosecutions, the Commission declined to find liability and dismissed its complaint. When respondents sought review of FTC decisions finding liability under Section 5 theories, the courts of appeals typically refused to endorse the Commission's position (e.g., Official Airline Guides and Ethyl) and often raised questions about the FTC's ability to articulate principles that properly would delimit the application of Section 5.

As a group, the matters described immediately above have induced caution within the Commission about using Section 5 to address business phenomena standing outside the ambit of Sherman Act or Clayton Act jurisprudence. As its antitrust enforcement policy has evolved over the past two decades, the Commission has relied upon the distinctive powers of Section 5 only when the conduct at issue involves demonstrable, direct injury to consumers or poses a high likelihood of imposing such harm to consumers. This authority has been used very sparingly. In any event, it bears no relation to the competitor-protection theories that DOT uses under its "unfair methods" jurisprudence.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Friedman, Stephen>
CC: <Allgood, Lauren K.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 12:16:46 PM
Subject: follow-up to two questions

You asked two questions yesterday that I have followed up on.

First, you asked whether DOJ, after having cleared a deal or proposal, can subsequently claim an antitrust violation in the future regarding the same issues that were reviewed in clearing the deal or proposal. The technical answer is yes, but the practical answer is no, in that this virtually never happens according to DOJ.

Second, you asked how long FTC has been applying a standard under Section 5 in a manner consistent with settled antitrust principles, notwithstanding that the FTC (like DOT) has the legal authority to act more broadly. As Tim Muris has informed us, the answer is that FTC, by and large, has been following this approach for the past two decades.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Kirshner, Robert <Robert_Kirshner@afandpa.org>
CC: 'kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com' <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
Sent: 4/9/2003 1:22:35 PM
Subject: : Re: Speaking on Thursday 4/10
Attachments: P_ZLEHF003_WHO.TXT_1.htm; P_ZLEHF003_WHO.TXT_2.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 9-APR-2003 17:22:35.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Speaking on Thursday 4/10
TO:"Kirshner, Robert" <Robert_Kirshner@afandpa.org> ("Kirshner, Robert" <Robert_Kirshner@afandpa.org> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:"'kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com'" <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com> ("'kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com'" <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

I will be there at about 6:15. How long do you want me to speak for? And how long will the question period be? Question time tends to be most interesting part of these from my experience as listener and speaker.

"Kirshner, Robert" <Robert_Kirshner@afandpa.org>
04/09/2003 02:25:56 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: "'kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com'" <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
Subject: Speaking on Thursday 4/10

Mr. Kavanaugh:

Thank you for speaking to the General Counsels Committee of the American Forest & Paper Assosciation tomorrow evening. We are gathering at Galileo's at 1110 21st Street (near L). We will start with cocktails at 6:00 pm and have dinner around 6:30 pm. You can speak at anytime you wish. We'd love to have you join us for the entire dinner and speak just after dessert is served. There is no business or other speaker at dinner.

We will have approximately 20 General Counsels of companies in the industy (list attached). Many of them have government affairs responsibilities under them. Judicial appointments, tort reform, and class action reform are all good topics, but anything on the public policy schene would be fine. They will hear from our CEO Henson Moore tonight about double taxation and energy. You will be in good company, past speakers to this group include: Several FTC Commissioners, Newt Gingrich, and Ted Olson (currently Solicitor General).

Will any one be accompanying you? Will you be able to join us for dinner? Do you have any other questions?

I understand that I will have some mail for you . . . . .Ann Western (now Bittman) noted your name on the agenda and said she has some mail for you .

.. . and sends her regards.

bob kirshner

- att1.htm
- attendees 4-03.doc

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_ZLEHF003_WHO.TXT_1>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_ZLEHF003_WHO.TXT_2>

Mr. Kavanaugh:

Thank you for speaking to the General Counsels Committee of the American Forest & Paper Assosciation tomorrow evening. We are gathering at Galileo's at 1110 21st Street (near L). We will start with cocktails at 6:00 pm and have dinner around 6:30 pm. You can speak at anytime you wish. We'd love to have you join us for the entire dinner and speak just after dessert is served. There is n o business or other speaker at dinner.
< /DIV>
We will have approximately 20 General Counsels of companies in the industy (list attached). Many of them have government affairs responsibilities under them. Judicial appointments, tort reform, and class action reform are all good topics, but anything on the public policy schene would be fine. They will hear from our CEO Henson Moore tonight about double taxation and energy. You will b e in good company, past speakers to this group include: Several FTC Commissioners, Newt Gingrich, and Ted Olson (currently Solicitor General).

Will any one be accompanying you? Will you be able to join us for dinner? Do you have any other questions?

I understand that I will have some mail for you . . . . .Ann Western (now Bittman) noted your name on the agenda and said she has some mail for you . . . and sends her regards.

bob kirshner

AF&PA GENERAL COUNSELS COMMITTEE MEETING
American Forest & Paper Association – Washington, DC
April 9 - 11, 2003

Attendees List

Committee Members:
Wendell Willkie - Chairman	MeadWestvaco
David Ascher	The Newark Group
John & Joyce Borgwardt	Nexfor Fraser Papers
J.P. Causey	Chesapeake Corporation
Morris Cheston	Glatfelter
Ralph Davisson	Potlatch Corporation
Bob Dowdy	Weyerhaeuser Company
David Dun	Sierra Pacific Industries
Mark Fuchs	Louisiana Pacific
Harry Geair	Bowater
Brad Johnston	Temple-Inland
Jim Kelley	Georgia-Pacific
Jim Kraft	Plum Creek Timber
Roger Landes	Anthony Forest Products
Sarah Manchester	Sappi Fine Paper -- North America
Betsy Stauffer	Simpson Resource Company
Carl Wartman	Stora Enso North America
AF&PA Representatives:
Cas Hobbs	Morgan, Lewis & Bockius
Bob Kirshner	American Forest & Paper Association
Guests:
Claude Imbeau	Tembec Inc.
John Rigas	Armstrong World Industries, Inc.
Speakers:
Stephen Crimmins	Pepper & Hamilton LLP
Jay Dorsch	Cozen and O'Connor
Donna Harman	American Forest & Paper Association
Gary Horlick	Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering
Brett Kavanaugh	Special Asst. to the President
Sharon Kneiss	American Forest & Paper Association
Edward Madeira	Pepper Hamilton LLP
Bart Mongoven	Mongoven, Biscoe & Dutchin, Inc.
Rees Morrison	Hildebrandt International
Chip Murray	American Forest & Paper Association
Jeff Van	Mongoven, Biscoe & Dutchin, Inc.
Rich Wasserstrom	American Forest & Paper Association
Carolyn Whisenhunt	American Forest & Paper Association

4/7/2003 1:39 PM
FILENAME p

From: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 2:17:23 PM
Subject: Re: are you hearing anything from hill on Algiers?

No.
.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
Sent: Wed Apr 09 13:25:33 2003
Subject: are you hearing anything from hill on Algiers?

From: Kirshner, Robert <Robert_Kirshner@afandpa.org>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: 'kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com' <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com>
Sent: 4/9/2003 10:27:42 AM
Subject: : Speaking on Thursday 4/10
Attachments: P_7T0HF003_WHO.TXT_1.htm; P_7T0HF003_WHO.TXT_2.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Kirshner, Robert" <Robert_Kirshner@afandpa.org> ("Kirshner, Robert" <Robert_Kirshner@afandpa.org> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 9-APR-2003 14:27:42.00
SUBJECT:: Speaking on Thursday 4/10
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:"'kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com'" <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com> ("'kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com'" <kblalock@fierce-isakowitz.com> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Mr. Kavanaugh:

Thank you for speaking to the General Counsels Committee of the American Forest & Paper Assosciation tomorrow evening. We are gathering at Galileo's at 1110 21st Street (near L). We will start with cocktails at 6:00 pm and have dinner around 6:30 pm. You can speak at anytime you wish. We'd love to have you join us for the entire dinner and speak just after dessert is served. There is no business or other speaker at dinner.

We will have approximately 20 General Counsels of companies in the industy (list attached). Many of them have government affairs responsibilities under them. Judicial appointments, tort reform, and class action reform are all good topics, but anything on the public policy schene would be fine. They will hear from our CEO Henson Moore tonight about double taxation and energy. You will be in good company, past speakers to this group include: Several FTC Commissioners, Newt Gingrich, and Ted Olson (currently Solicitor General).

Will any one be accompanying you? Will you be able to join us for dinner? Do you have any other questions?

I understand that I will have some mail for you . . . . .Ann Western (now Bittman) noted your name on the agenda and said she has some mail for you . .. . and sends her regards.

bob kirshner

- att1.htm - attendees 4-03.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_7T0HF003_WHO.TXT_1>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_7T0HF003_WHO.TXT_2>

Mr. Kavanaugh:

Thank you for speaking to the General Counsels Committee of the American Forest & Paper Assosciation tomorrow evening. We are gathering at Galileo's at 1110 21st Street (near L). We will start with cocktails at 6:00 pm and have dinner around 6:30 pm. You can speak at anytime you wish. We'd love to have you join us for the entire dinner and speak just after dessert is served. There is n o business or other speaker at dinner.
< /DIV>
We will have approximately 20 General Counsels of companies in the industy (list attached). Many of them have government affairs responsibilities under them. Judicial appointments, tort reform, and class action reform are all good topics, but anything on the public policy schene would be fine. They will hear from our CEO Henson Moore tonight about double taxation and energy. You will b e in good company, past speakers to this group include: Several FTC Commissioners, Newt Gingrich, and Ted Olson (currently Solicitor General).

Will any one be accompanying you? Will you be able to join us for dinner? Do you have any other questions?

I understand that I will have some mail for you . . . . .Ann Western (now Bittman) noted your name on the agenda and said she has some mail for you . . . and sends her regards.

bob kirshner

AF&PA GENERAL COUNSELS COMMITTEE MEETING
American Forest & Paper Association – Washington, DC
April 9 - 11, 2003

Attendees List

Committee Members:

Wendell Willkie - Chairman	MeadWestvaco
David Ascher	The Newark Group
John & Joyce Borgwardt	Nexfor Fraser Papers
J.P. Causey	Chesapeake Corporation
Morris Cheston	Glatfelter
Ralph Davisson	Potlatch Corporation
Bob Dowdy	Weyerhaeuser Company
David Dun	Sierra Pacific Industries
Mark Fuchs	Louisiana Pacific
Harry Geair	Bowater
Brad Johnston	Temple-Inland
Jim Kelley	Georgia-Pacific
Jim Kraft	Plum Creek Timber
Roger Landes	Anthony Forest Products
Sarah Manchester	Sappi Fine Paper -- North America
Betsy Stauffer	Simpson Resource Company
Carl Wartman	Stora Enso North America

AF&PA Representatives:

Cas Hobbs	Morgan, Lewis & Bockius
Bob Kirshner	American Forest & Paper Association

Guests:

Claude Imbeau	Tembec Inc.
John Rigas	Armstrong World Industries, Inc.

Speakers:

Stephen Crimmins	Pepper & Hamilton LLP
Jay Dorsch	Cozen and O'Connor
Donna Harman	American Forest & Paper Association
Gary Horlick	Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering
Brett Kavanaugh	Special Asst. to the President
Sharon Kneiss	American Forest & Paper Association
Edward Madeira	Pepper Hamilton LLP
Bart Mongoven	Mongoven, Biscoe & Dutchin, Inc.
Rees Morrison	Hildebrandt International
Chip Murray	American Forest & Paper Association
Jeff Van	Mongoven, Biscoe & Dutchin, Inc.
Rich Wasserstrom	American Forest & Paper Association
Carolyn Whisenhunt	American Forest & Paper Association

4/7/2003 1:39 PM
FILENAME p

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Cooper, Jean>
Sent: 4/9/2003 3:56:45 PM
Subject: follow-up to two questions

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/09/2003 03:56 PM ----------

Brett M. Kavanaugh

04/09/2003 12:54:27 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Stephen Friedman/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP

cc: Lauren K. Allgood/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP

Subject: follow-up to two questions

You asked two questions yesterday that I have followed up on.

First, you asked whether DOJ, after having cleared a deal or proposal, can subsequently claim an antitrust violation in the future regarding the same issues that were reviewed in clearing the deal or proposal. The technical answer is yes, but the practical answer is no, in that this virtually never happens according to DOJ.

Second, you asked how long FTC has been applying a standard under Section 5 in a manner consistent with settled antitrust principles, notwithstanding that the FTC (like DOT) has the legal authority to act more broadly. As Tim Muris has informed us, the answer is that FTC, by and large, has been following this approach for the past two decades.

From: Cooper, Jean
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 4:00:36 PM
Subject: RE: follow-up to two questions

Hey Brett,
I printed this e-mail out for Steve, so if he hasn't seen it he will soon! Thanks so much.
Jean

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Wednesday, April 09, 2003 3:57 PM
To: Cooper, Jean
Subject: follow-up to two questions

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/09/2003 03:56 PM ----------

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/09/2003 12:54:27 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Stephen Friedman/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP
cc: Lauren K. Allgood/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP
Subject: follow-up to two questions

You asked two questions yesterday that I have followed up on.

First, you asked whether DOJ, after having cleared a deal or proposal, can subsequently claim an antitrust violation in the future regarding the same issues that were reviewed in clearing the deal or proposal. The technical answer is yes, but the practical answer is no, in that this virtually never happens according to DOJ.

Second, you asked how long FTC has been applying a standard under Section 5 in a manner consistent with settled antitrust principles, notwithstanding that the FTC (like DOT) has the legal authority to act more broadly. As Tim Muris has informed us, the answer is that FTC, by and large, has been following this approach for the past two decades.

From: Cox, Christopher C.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
CC: <Lefkowitz, Jay P.>;<Vestewig, Lauren J.>;<Silverberg, Kristen>;<Kirk, Matthew>;<Keniry, Daniel>;<Wood, John F.>;<Perry, Philip J.>;<Dorn, Nancy>
Sent: 4/9/2003 4:11:05 PM
Subject: Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords

Thanks Brett. We could probably accomplish this with a conf call. Who else, if anyone, would need to participate?

From: CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/9/2003 12:38:48 PM
Subject: : TRANSCRIPT - Defense Department Briefing 04/09/03

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brian Bravo (CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 9-APR-2003 16:38:48.00
SUBJECT:: TRANSCRIPT - Defense Department Briefing 04/09/03
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

DEFENSE DEPARTMENT OPERATIONAL UPDATE BRIEFING
BRIEFERS: SECRETARY OF DEFENSE DONALD RUMSFELD; CHAIRMAN OF THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF GENERAL RICHARD MYERS

PENTAGON BRIEFING ROOM, ARLINGTON, VIRGINIA
1:30 P.M. EDT, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 2003

;

SEC. RUMSFELD: Good afternoon.

;;;;;; This is a good day for the Iraqi people. There are -- is no question but that there are difficult and very dangerous days ahead and that the fighting will continue for some period. But certainly anyone seeing the faces of the liberated Iraqis, the free Iraqis, has to say that this is a very good day.

;;;;;; Tomorrow will mark three weeks since Operation Iraqi Freedom began, and the progress of the men and women in uniform who make up the coalition forces has been nothing short of spectacular. They drove through the south up, braving dust storms and death squads, to reach Baghdad in record time. They secured Iraq's southern oil fields for the Iraqi people. Took out terrorist camps in the north and the south. Secured large sections of western Iraq, preventing the regime from attacking its neighbors with Scud missiles. They've liberated cities and towns and are now in the Iraqi capital removing the regime from its seat of power and center of gravity.

;;;;;; As Iraqis see the coalition progress, they are losing their fear of this vicious regime. And I think it's safe to say that the mood in the country is, in fact, tipping, at least in Baghdad.

;;;;;; The scenes of free Iraqis celebrating in the streets, riding American tanks, tearing down the statues of Saddam Hussein in the center of Baghdad are breathtaking. Watching them, one cannot help but think of the fall of the Berlin Wall and the collapse of the Iron Curtain. We are seeing history unfold, events that will shape the course of a country, the fate of a people, and potentially the future of the region. Saddam Hussein is now taking his rightful place alongside Hitler, Stalin, Lenin, Ceausescu in the pantheon of failed, brutal dictators, and the Iraqi people are well on their way to freedom.

;;;;;; The general who led our war of liberation, George Washington, once said, "My anxious recollection, my sympathetic feeling and my best wishes are irresistibly excited whensoever in any country I see an oppressed nation unfurl the banners of freedom," unquote. As we watch Iraqis unfurl the banners of freedom today, all Americans share in their joy and celebrate with them, particularly those from Michigan that we've seen on television, who are seeing their country, their friends and often their relatives liberated.

;;;;;; Let me say a word to the families of those who have given their lives in this war. As you watch these historic things unfold, take enormous pride in the service of your loved ones. They made this possible. Their sacrifice is permitting the liberation of a people and the end of a regime that, thanks to them, will never again threaten the world with its weapons.

;;;;;; And to those Iraqi people who are not yet free, let me assure you that you will be free. I've seen President Bush almost every day since this conflict began. And I can assure you that he is, like the American people, committed to your freedom and to your future and to seeing this effort through. We will not stop until Saddam Hussein's regime has been removed from every corner of that country.

;;;;;; The Iraqi people are understandably elated at the prospect of life without Saddam Hussein. We said from the beginning that he was finished. Now they are daring to believe it. But there is still a great deal of work to do and many unfinished missions to complete before victory can be declared. Baghdad is in the process of being liberated, although battles continue in and around the city. And the regime has been run out of a number of Iraqi cities and towns. But other Iraqi cities are still being contested, and there will still be tough fighting and difficult tasks ahead.

;;;;;; We still much capture, account for, or otherwise deal with Saddam Hussein and his sons and the senior Iraqi leadership.

;;;;;; We still must find and ensure the safe return of prisoners of war, those captured in this war as well as any still held from the last Gulf War: Americans and other nationals.

;;;;;; We still must secure the northern oil fields, which have probably been wired for destruction, as was the case with the southern fields.

;;;;;; We still need to find and secure Iraq's weapons of mass destruction facilities and secure Iraq's borders so we can prevent the flow of weapons of mass destruction materials and senior regime officials out of the country. We still must find out everything we can about how the Iraqi regime acquired its capabilities and the proliferation that took place by countries in the industrialized world. We need to locate Iraqi scientists with knowledge of these programs. And we're asking people to come forward and help in this effort. Rewards are available to those who help us prevent the disappearance of personnel, documentation and materials. Good lives and a better future are possible for those who turn themselves in and choose to cooperate with coalition forces.

;;;;;; We must also capture or kill the terrorists still operating in Iraq and prevent them from gaining access to weapons of mass destruction.

;;;;;; We must locate Ba'ath Party members, records and weapon caches. We must locate the records of the Iraqi Intelligence Service, the Special Security Organization, the Fedayeen Saddam death squads and the Special Republican Guards. We must locate the wealth of the Iraqi regime inside of Iraq and outside of the country so it can be returned to the rightful owners, the Iraqi people.

;;;;;; And we must begin the process of working with free Iraqis, those liberated from portions of the country and those returning home from exile, to establish an Iraqi interim authority and help to pave the way for a new Iraqi government, a government to be chosen not by the coalition, not by the United States, but by the Iraqi people, based on democratic principles of political freedom, individual liberty and the rule of law.

;;;;;; Much work remains, but this we can say with certainty: The tide is turning, the regime has been dealt a serious blow, but coalition forces will not stop until they have finished the job, the regime is removed and the -- all of the Iraqi people are liberated.

;;;;;; And finally, to the Iraqi people, let me say this. There are a lot of reporters embedded with coalition forces in your country. The reporters should be interested and willing to listen. This is your opportunity to tell them your stories so that history properly records the viciousness, the brutality of that regime and so that history is not repeated.

;;;;;; To the free reporters and journalists in Iraq, this is your opportunity to listen and report. It is an historic opportunity for journalists. This is also true for Iraqis here in America, who can now speak freely to the press without concern about their families and friends still in Iraq.

;;;;;; General Myers?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Thank you, Mr. Secretary.

;;;;;; The chart shows that, in fact, we have made great strides in the last three weeks. And it also shows that while Iraqis are beginning to celebrate in parts of Baghdad and several other areas, there are portions of Iraq still in the grip of fear. Out west, small numbers of regime death squads still exist and are harassing travelers and citizens. The coalition may also have to remove regime forces from cities and areas in northern Iraq and to eliminate small pockets of resistance in other areas. And we're currently doing just that. U.S. Special Forces have seized a small town north of Mosul and key positions south of Irbil, destroying tanks and trucks and taking several hundred enemy prisoners of war. More must be done in Baghdad, as well. Fighting inside the capital presents a substantial risk to coalition forces, and we cannot and must not become overconfident.

;;;;;; Now we'd like to send specific messages to two very different groups.

;;;;;; First, in Iraq. To those who may be holding any coalition prisoners of war, permit the International Red Cross to visit them. The Geneva Convention requires you to ensure their health and well- being. When the hostilities end, we fully expect to find these young men and women in good health and well cared for.

;;;;;; Now to another group in Afghanistan. To the families of the Afghan citizens accidentally killed in a bombing in Afghanistan yesterday, we send our sincere condolences. The incident occurred after U.S. troops pursued enemy forces in the vicinity of Shkin. Close air support was called in, and guided munitions accidentally landed on a house, killing 11 Afghan civilians. We sincerely regret the incident.

;;;;;; And with that, we'll take your questions.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, you mentioned the momentous pictures and what's going on in Baghdad and parts of Iraq now. You also mentioned the need to set up an interim authority. It seems as the shooting wanes in coming days, that the humanitarian need will grow drastically. When do you plan to send General Garner and his civil affairs team in from Kuwait to begin doing this?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Why -- I can't see why the humanitarian situation would grow drastically. Quite the contrary. The humanitarian --

;;;;;; Q (Off mike.)

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: The humanitarian problem occurred under the Saddam Hussein regime for a decade. The circumstance of those people has been terrible. They had been denied all kinds of things because he was unwilling to cooperate with the United Nations.

;;;;;; Now, what's happening now is that humanitarian assistance is coming in. That doesn't mean the situation is worse, it means that it's better. And it is better.

;;;;;; And let me just give you an example, just -- just -- I keep -- I'll tell you what's going to happen is, the more people who go into that country and see how serious the situation is, the needs of those people, and they're real needs, they're going to report there's a humanitarian crisis, the implication that it just occurred. It didn't just occur. When they say some city's been -- one-third of the city doesn't have sufficient water, compare that with six months ago when maybe half of the city didn't have sufficient water.

;;;;;; Here's just one, in Umm Qasr. It's generally a permissive environment, flourishing somewhat due to increase of aid and border activity.

;;;;;; The population has increased from 15,000 to 40,000, due to the availability of supplies and employment. Water supply is above prewar levels -- combination of U.K. pipeline and trucking. Electricity has been restored by U.K. engineers. Sufficient food is readily available. Medical facilities are sufficient and operating. UNICEF is providing supplies. The port's cleared of mines and open to limited operations. The channel needs dredging. Railway station is cleared by explosive ordnance detachment. Rail line is intact from there to Nasiriyah, and they intend to open a line within seven days, which will allow movement of bulk water up the Euphrates Valley.

;;;;;; So, I mean, there's just one city. I could say the same thing on Basra or Nasiriyah. So the assumption in your question is false.

;;;;;; Q I didn't mean to assume that. Nonetheless, you have said yourself that government service is going to need to be set up, now that there's a vacuum. What I meant to ask is when General -- when are General Garner and his team going to begin to go in to begin setting up these government services?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: General Garner and his team were working here for weeks. They then went to the -- I guess Kuwait, and have been there for some weeks. I can remember seeing them off right here in the parking lot on a Sunday morning, early. They've -- they're -- they have put together teams of people to help deal with this problem.

;;;;;; The choice is, do you move them once and then have to move them again to the Baghdad Airport area, or do you just wait a day or two and see if in fact the Baghdad area is sufficiently secure that they can move in there? And the answer is, they're going to move to the Baghdad area at that point where the Baghdad Airport is in fact sufficiently secure to take a number of civilians who are not in a combat situation, and so that they can continue -- not begin but continue the process of attempting to move towards a more normal circumstance, as the war and the kinetics decline.

;;;;;; There's a lot more fighting that's going to be done. There are -- more people are going to be killed; let there be no doubt. This is not over, despite all the celebrations on the street. They're going to go in at exactly the right moment and do a very good job.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary --

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, regarding further fighting --

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Charlie, I would just -- just to kind of emphasize what the secretary just said, it really doesn't matter where General Garner or his group is, because they are in fact acting now. The restoration of water supplies in several southern towns, the restoration of electrical power grids -- he's the one that is overseeing that, that work, and it doesn't matter if he's in Baghdad or if he's in Kuwait or wherever he is. He's the one charged with those responsibilities. And so, just to emphasize what the secretary said, that's being done.

;;;;;; So, his location is -- shouldn't be of great interest.

;;;;;; Q The main reason I asked was General Blount said today that he expected --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Who's he?

;;;;;; Q The head of the 3rd.

;;;;;; Q Third Infantry Division.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: That General Blount! (Laughter.)

;;;;;; Q He said in Baghdad today that he expected the humanitarian aid flights would begin flying into Baghdad, as he put it, within days.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Planes are already landing in the Baghdad airport.

;;;;;; Q But that's why I'm --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: C-130s? They're already going in.

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: C-17s.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: No, it's -- the planes are already going into Baghdad airport. That isn't the question. The question is, do you want to take a large cell of people and put them in there and then provide force protection in addition to all the other things that are taking place in that particular --

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Under combat conditions --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Yeah.

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: -- when you could have them working effectively from where they are. So they'll --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: So he's exactly correct.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary? Mr. Secretary, when peace finally comes to Iran (sic), or at least there is some stability --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Iraq, maybe?

;;;;;; Q Iraq. (Laughter.) I'm thinking ahead of myself. I'd done this faster than my brain. Let me start again. When peace finally comes to Iraq, at least stability, what's next in the Middle East? You have thrown down the gauntlet to Syria. Are they in the sights for military action? What about Iraq, which to many is the 800-pound gorilla in the Middle East? What's next for us in the Middle East?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: No one's thrown down the gauntlet. I've accurately observed that they would be well advised to not provide military capabilities of Iraq. They seem to have made a conscious to decision to ignore that. Senior regime people are moving out of Iraq into Syria, and Syria is continuing to send things into Iraq. We find it notably unhelpful.

;;;;;; The question you ask, however, is not a question I can answer. It depends on people's behavior. And certainly I have nothing to announce. We're still dealing with Iraq.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Yes.

;;;;;; Q You said in the list still left to do that the U.S. military must still capture or otherwise deal with Saddam Hussein and his sons. Do you believe that Saddam Hussein is still alive?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Don't know.

;;;;;; Q Do you believe that he was in that building before it was taken out?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Don't know.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary?

;;;;;; Q General Myers?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Yes.

;;;;;; Q Could you characterize --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: No, no. That's two.

;;;;;; Q No, hold on.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Nope, that's all. No hold on. (Laughter.)

;;;;;; Q There was -- (inaudible.)

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: No! Yes, there was. (Laughter.) You just don't like one-word answers. (Laughter.)

;;;;;; Yes.

;;;;;; Q I wondered -- I wondered if I could ask General Myers if you would describe what sort of Iraqi forces are left to contend with in the north. Are they Republican Guards? Are they regular army? Do you have an idea of how many?

;;;;;; And Mr. Secretary, in light of the criticisms of the supply line and the pause that was reported a week or two ago, are you feeling vindicated today?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: As far as the forces left to deal with, in Baghdad city itself, still the special security organization, Special Republican Guard, the death squads who are probably there and of course in other major cities and probably even some of the smaller cities, Ba'athist Party members who use force and fear and intimidation to coerce the population.

;;;;;; In terms of regular army, there are about 10-plus regular army divisions left in the north, and perhaps as much as one brigade of a Republican Guards division up there, an infantry division, that we think is still left in the north.

;;;;;; Now, they have been subjected to bombing by air power and will continue to be dealt with in that way for some time.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: You're right, there have been a lot of people who've suggested that the force was undersized and that they went too fast and they should have had a long air war first. I happen to think that -- it's not a matter for me to be vindicated. I happen to think that General Franks and his team have done an absolutely superb job. And the young folks in uniform who have marched to Baghdad and done such superb work in the air and at sea, and the leadership they have had with General McKiernan and Admiral Keating and General Moseley, working with General Franks, has been excellent. I think the outcome is in the process of speaking for itself and it's not for me to draw conclusions about it.

;;;;;; Q But Mr. Secretary --

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary? I'd like to address this to General Myers. You particularly mentioned -- addressed your comments to the POW families.

Undoubtedly, the families of those POWSs are looking at the pictures of jubilation with some mixed feeling. What else can the U.S. military do to help rescue those POWs or to do more than just warn the Iraqi regime, the remnants of it, against doing anything to harm these people?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Well, the reason for my remarks and the way I phrased them today was to not let the Iraqi regime off the hook for doing what is the right thing to do, not only by international conventions that they've signed up to, but what any decent -- decent folks would do, the honorable thing to do. Clearly there are -- clearly, the U.S. military is very concerned about the whereabouts of these people, and I'm not going to get into any more operational details than that.

;;;;;; Q But you could assure them that the military is taking some sort of step to rescue them.

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: It's always -- sure. It's always one of the first priorities, is to rescue our people and bring our people back. Absolutely.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, you had used the term "tipping point," said the tide is turning. You've said that you're not going to announce victory prematurely, but it almost sounds as if you're announcing the defeat, with Tikrit still ahead, of the Iraqi army. Is that --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: No, I don't mean to be. I think that it's important to recognize how exhilarated the Iraqi people who have been liberated must feel.

;;;;;; And when one looks at their faces and sees their joy, you have to feel it in your heart that the entire country is not free. There are a number of cities that are still hotly contested, and will be for some time. There are some cities that are now under coalition control. There are also some that are partly under coalition control.

;;;;;; So there's a lot of work left to do. And I do believe that we're seeing, in the case of Baghdad, it is tipping. I mean, I think that that's a fair comment. It doesn't mean that it's over, and again, it most assuredly is not over, which is why I tried to properly balance my comment the way I did, saying that there's going to be some very tough days ahead.

;;;;;; Q Is this a matter of weeks or months, and to what extent is Tikrit --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: You know I don't do time tables. We don't have to. You can't know that. It's not knowable. We didn't know how long it was going to last when it started.

;;;;;; Q How about Tikrit --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: A lot experts thought they knew how long it was going to last, but we didn't.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary?

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Pam?

;;;;;; Q A couple questions. Could you give us a little bit more detail about what you're seeing with senior regime leaders going into Syria: how many, and over what time period, and if you know any names? Plus tell us a little bit more about the rewards that you mentioned for Iraqi people that help the American soldiers?

;;;;;; And General Myers, could you tell us what happened to the hundreds or thousands of regime loyalists that seem to have disappeared overnight from Baghdad? Did you track them on the roads, or did they sort of melt into the city itself?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: We are getting scraps of intelligence saying that Syria has been cooperative in facilitating the movement of people out of Iraq into Syria. And then in some cases they stay there and then -- and -- finding safe keeping there; in other cases they're moving from Syria to still other places. We also have seen in a number of instances people from Syria moving into Iraq, unhelpfully, as well as, as I mentioned the other day, night vision goggles and that type of thing.

;;;;;; Rewards. There are several reward programs. I'm not supposed to mention one department that has one. But the -- there are at least two other departments besides the Department of Defense who have reward programs. They are very important, just as the opportunity for people to improve their lives and get off a black list is important. And there are rewards, and carrots and sticks. And we need help. We need people to come forward who know where we can find the people who have information on these records, so that the Ba'ath Party membership names can be known, and so that the Iraqi Intelligence Service's people's names can be known, and so that the names and faces of the Fedayeen Saddam can be known, and so we can find documentation that they've been spreading around the countryside on their weapons of mass destruction program.

;;;;;; We need help. We need people to come forward and volunteer that information. And we're at a point now where they need not fear -- if they're in one of the liberated areas, they need not fear this regime, because this regime is not going to come back and occupy that country.

;;;;;; Yes?

;;;;;; Q How much money --

;;;;;; Q Speaking of weapons of mass destruction, how important --

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- General Myers --

;;;;;; Q I'm sorry, did you want to follow that?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: I had a -- yeah --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Oh, I'm sorry.

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: She -- Pam asked what has happened to the folks that were defending -- the loyalists that were defending Baghdad. And I suspect that many were killed in the defense; I suspect some are still fighting in Baghdad. It's also possible that they have tried to leave or blend in if they've lost their enthusiasm for supporting this regime. And we're taking steps to deal with that in terms of interdicting the roads out of Baghdad.

;;;;;; Q Speaking of weapons of mass destruction, how important is it, given the original rationale for the war of the disarming Saddam of those weapons, that we find significant caches of weapons of mass destruction? And secondly, are you concerned at all that --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Why don't we start doing one question at a time? There's so many people here and we're doing two and three -- everybody seems to want to do two --

;;;;;; Q This is related. Are you concerned that --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Well, let me get this one -- write this one down. How important is it that we find a lot, I think you said, of weapons --

;;;;;; Q Significant caches of weapons of mass destruction.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Okay, what's the next one?

;;;;;; Q And are you concerned that those weapons might have been shipped out of the country -- (inaudible) --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: You bet. On the latter portion, you bet we're concerned about it. And one of the reasons it's important is because the nexus between terrorist states with weapons of mass destruction -- in this case, chemical and biological and nuclear technologies and knowledge -- and terrorist groups, networks, is a critical link. And the thought that as part of this process, some of that -- those materials could leave the country and in the hands of terrorist networks would be a very unhappy prospect. So it is important to us to see that that doesn't happen.

;;;;;; Q I'm sorry, what about the rationale for the war? Is it important in that sense that we find them?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Look, the -- we are in the process of trying to liberate that country. And at the moment where the war ends and the coalition forces occupy the areas where those capabilities, chemical and biological weapons, are likely to be, to the extent they haven't been moved out of the country -- it obviously is important to find them.

;;;;;; But that is -- I don't quite get the thrust of the question. (Cross talk.)

;;;;;; Q Has the rather sudden collapse of defenses in Baghdad -- are you seeing evidence yet that that's energizing the Kurdish -- either -- forces in the North, that could lead to an acceleration of the success in the North as well?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: We've not seen anything that indicates that yet. Does it probably help? To the extent it's known -- and communications are imperfect in that country at the present time, purposely so -- but it probably does help some that they -- people in Baghdad saw that Basra had changed hands and that the people in the North see that Baghdad is in the process of changing hands. It probably helps some. We haven't seen any evidence of it yet.

;;;;;; (Cross talk.)

;;;;;; Q Could I follow that, Mr. Secretary?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Yeah?

;;;;;; Q I just wanted a clarification on your WMD answer. Are you worried that WMD material or documentation was moved out of Iraq, or do you actually have intelligence that leads you to believe it has moved? Is it a concern, or has it happened?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: No, it's a concern. It clearly would be unhelpful if terrorists got their hands on some of Iraq's chemical or biological capabilities.

;;;;;; Yes?

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, here's a single question that hopefully doesn't lend itself to a one-word answer. (Scattered laughter.) What about Saddam Hussein? (Scattered laughter.)

;;;;;; Q Yeah.

;;;;;; Q Ooh. (Laughter, cross talk.)

;;;;;; Q It's a trick question.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: (Sighs.)

;;;;;; Q This side of the room -- (off mike).

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Exactly what is it about him that you're interested in? (Laughter.)

;;;;;; Q I was asking -- (off mike) --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: His health?

;;;;;; Q Where is he? Do you know where he is? Are you trying to get him? Do -- is he likely to get away? Does it --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: There's no question but that a -- it is hard to find a single person. It is hard to find them when they're alive and mobile, it's hard to find them when they're not well, and it's hard to find them if they're buried under rubble. We don't know.

;;;;;; And he's not been around. He's not active. Therefore, he's either dead or he's incapacitated, or he's healthy and cowering in some tunnel some place, trying to avoid being caught. What else can one say?

;;;;;; Q Will you get him?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Who knows? Who knows? Time will tell.

;;;;;; The important things that needed to happen will happen. The regime will change, and the country will no longer have weapons of mass destruction. It will no longer threaten its neighbors.

;;;;;; It will have an opportunity for the people of Iraq to participate in determining what kind of a government they want. And liberated people will be able to be free to say what they want and do what they want. They might even have a free press eventually there.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary?

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Bill?

;;;;;; Q Yeah, what's the state of the command and control with Baghdad collapsed and these forces in the north, are they communicating, are they able to conduct operations in the north or is that collapsing too?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: I think the command and control, as we've talked about over the days, has been degrading. We don't see any organized resistance from the Republican Guard inside Baghdad. There is sporadic resistance. How well organized, it's hard to tell because it's sporadic.

;;;;;; In the north, the forces there have essentially not moved. I mean, elements of the Republican Guard divisions did move south; that was some time ago now. But the rest of them are pretty much in static positions, falling back a little bit from the green line, if you will, but no movement. And we have not -- their communications are diminished.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, as the powerful images of the last three weeks have been broadcast out to the world, is it your sense, especially in the Arab-speaking world, that they have become convinced of the rightness of the cause that you are fighting this war for, or do you feel that this three-week campaign thus far has created many more people who want to come after Americans -- (pauses) -- well, I'll just stop there.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: We have no evidence that the latter is happening. There's no question but that there are a number of, particularly television stations, as well as print, in that part of the world that have carried a message that was false. They've carried a message that tried to lead people in that part of the world to believe that we were fighting Iraq and the Iraqi people, as opposed to a vicious dictator; that we were anti a religion, which is totally untrue.

;;;;;; But that's going to be counterbalanced with the faces of people who are free. And the test is in the tasting. The United States is not going to stay in that country and occupy it. We have plenty of other things that our people like to do with their lives, and we don't make it a practice of going out and seeking someone else's wealth or real estate.

;;;;;; So, we'll do our job, we'll do it well. And we'll leave as that country is set on a path to guide its own future.

;;;;;; We'll try to be helpful from a humanitarian standpoint, which we're already doing. And, you know, in the last -- in -- it --

;;;;;; Truth ultimately finds it way to people's ears and eyes and hearts. And I don't worry about that over the long term. Does it make me sad to see television saying things that are flat not true, and people printing things in that part of the world that's flat not true, children being taught things that are flat not true? Yes, it bothers me. But what can one do except to tell the truth, behave in a way that's consistent with our values? And this country and the coalition has done that in this case. And there is, I am certain, among the Iraqi people a respect for the care and the precision that went into that bombing campaign. It was not a long air campaign. It didn't last for weeks. And there was minimal collateral damage, unintended damage. And the preciseness of the targeting was respected such that people could go out on the streets of those towns during bombing raids, and -- unless they were connected to a military regime facility, unless they were -- except for those that -- they -- if you think about it, that regime took a lot of care to put their weapons and their command and control in schools, mosques and hospitals, and they ought to be held accountable for it. And that's something that journalists embedded out there ought to be asking people, because it went on day after day.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary --

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: To follow on that, I mean, that's -- I think -- I think the thing that the folks ought to notice out in the region, that it was the United States and our coalition partners who wanted to put our blood and treasure on the line for a couple of large Muslim populations: one in Afghanistan, and now in Iraq. Objectives in the places a little bit different, initially, but the end objective never in doubt. And that is provide an environment for security and stability, a chance for self-governance, a better future for themselves and their families than they've ever had before. I hope that was noticed, because it was our blood and treasure that we put on the line to do this, and as the secretary said, with no desire to be there one moment longer than required to give them that kind of future.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: One other thing. The reporters that have been embedded with the young men and women in uniform, ours and the Brits and others, have got to have seen wonderful young people conducting themselves professionally in a well-trained and professional manner. And they'll come back and tell people that truth. And that's a good thing.

;;;;;; Thank you very much.

END.

;

From: CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/9/2003 4:54:02 PM
Subject: : Re:

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Alberto R. Gonzales ( CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 9-APR-2003 20:54:02.00
SUBJECT:: Re:
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

I think this is not going to work.
```

From: Cox, Christopher C.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 5:07:36 PM
Subject: Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords

I can't. I have another 515 call. Can I try at 540 or so?

From: Cox, Christopher C.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 5:09:24 PM
Subject: Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords

Yes

From: CN=Christopher C. Cox/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/9/2003 1:09:03 PM
Subject: : Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Christopher C. Cox ( CN=Christopher C. Cox/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 9-APR-2003 17:09:03.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Yes
```

From: Cox, Christopher C.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 5:18:35 PM
Subject: Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords

Yes. Just on the treasury exposure issue.

From: CN=Christopher C. Cox/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/9/2003 1:59:57 PM
Subject: : Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Christopher C. Cox ( CN=Christopher C. Cox/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 9-APR-2003 17:59:57.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

One other question: how much has the US paid out in past suits that we have honored?
```

From: CN=Christopher C. Cox/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/9/2003 2:07:36 PM
Subject: : Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Christopher C. Cox ( CN=Christopher C. Cox/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 9-APR-2003 18:07:36.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Between us, I think she wants to help and agrees this is a bad idea. This is a political issue. We need to arm her with solid info. We got em turned on the TRIA issue.

Thanks for the help.
```

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Addington, David S.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 7:22:55 PM
Subject: Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords

I am making some good progress with Margaret Pederlin, the Hastert staffer on this. She says there is a lot of hostility up there, however. Mitch is calling Delay. Others are working Senate side. To be continued . . .

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/09/2003 07:22 PM ----------

From: Christopher C. Cox/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/09/2003 06:04:22 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords

Between us, I think she wants to help and agrees this is a bad idea. This is a political issue. We need to arm her with solid info. We got em turned on the TRIA issue.

Thanks for the help.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;David S. Addington/OVP/EOP@EOP [OVP] <David S. Addington>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO /EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 4/9/2003 3:25:08 PM
Subject: : Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 9-APR-2003 19:25:08.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords
TO:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:David S. Addington (CN=David S. Addington/OU=OVP/O=EOP@EOP [OVP])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales (CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

I am making some good progress with Margaret Pederlin, the Hastert staffer on this. She says there is a lot of hostility up there, however. Mitch is calling Delay. Others are working Senate side. To be continued
. . .

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/09/2003 07:22 PM ----------

From: Christopher C. Cox/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/09/2003 06:04:22 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Re: Meeting re. Algiers Accords

Between us, I think she wants to help and agrees this is a bad idea. This is a political issue. We need to arm her with solid info. We got em turned on the TRIA issue.

Thanks for the help.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Snee, Ashley>;<Orr, Christopher J.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 7:55:02 PM
Subject: NARAL website devoted to Owen

NARAL has set up a website devoted to fighting Owen.

http://www.prochoiceamerica.org/owen/

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Christopher J. Orr/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Christopher J. Orr>;Ashley Snee/WHO /EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Snee>
Sent: 4/9/2003 3:56:46 PM
Subject: : NARAL website devoted to Owen

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 9-APR-2003 19:56:46.00
SUBJECT:: NARAL website devoted to Owen
TO:Christopher J. Orr ( CN=Christopher J. Orr/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Ashley Snee ( CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

NARAL has set up a website devoted to fighting Owen.

http://www.prochoiceamerica.org/owen/
```

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Addington, David S.>
CC: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 7:57:55 PM
Subject: Re:

Who is arguing?

David S. Addington

04/09/2003 03:06:23 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@EOP, David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject:

Al, David and Brett:

For your next-week list of things to watch--

On Thurs., April 17th at 9:30, the DC Cir will hear the oral arguments in Judicial Watch v. NEPDG (the VP appeal/mandamus in the Klayman effort to get NEPDG documents).

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: David S. Addington/OVP/EOP@EOP [OVP] <David S. Addington>
CC: david g. leitch/who/eop@exchange@eop [WHO] <david g. leitch>;alberto r. gonzales/who /eop@eop [WHO] <alberto r. gonzales>
Sent: 4/9/2003 3:58:08 PM
Subject: : Re:

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 9-APR-2003 19:58:08.00
SUBJECT:: Re:
TO:David S. Addington (CN=David S. Addington/OU=OVP/O=EOP@EOP [OVP])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:david g. leitch (CN=david g. leitch/OU=who/O=eop@exchange@eop [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:alberto r. gonzales (CN=alberto r. gonzales/OU=who/O=eop@eop [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Who is arguing?

David S. Addington
04/09/2003 03:06:23 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@EOP, David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject:

Al, David and Brett:

For your next-week list of things to watch--

On Thurs., April 17th at 9:30, the DC Cir will hear the oral arguments in Judicial Watch v. NEPDG (the VP appeal/mandamus in the Klayman effort to get NEPDG documents).

From: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 8:49:48 PM
Subject: Any news on Algiers?

.

From: Gonzales, Alberto R.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/9/2003 8:54:25 PM
Subject: Re:

I think this is not going to work.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange [OPD] <Jay P. Lefkowitz>
Sent: 4/9/2003 4:55:35 PM
Subject: : Re: Any news on Algiers?

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 9-APR-2003 20:55:35.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Any news on Algiers?
TO:Jay P. Lefkowitz (CN=Jay P. Lefkowitz/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange [OPD])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

have heard nothing since last discussion with Margaret Pederlin a few hours ago.

From: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange on 04/09/2003 08:49:48 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Any news on Algiers?

.

From: CN=Christopher J. Orr/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Ashley Snee/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Snee>
Sent: 4/9/2003 5:51:33 PM
Subject: : Re: NARAL website devoted to Owen

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Christopher J. Orr ( CN=Christopher J. Orr/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME: 9-APR-2003 21:51:33.00
SUBJECT:: Re: NARAL website devoted to Owen
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Ashley Snee ( CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Hey, that was my plan SNEE

----- Original Message -----
From:Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange
To:Christopher J. Orr/WHO/EOP@EOP,
Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:
Date: 04/09/2003 09:43:07 PM
Subject: Re: NARAL website devoted to Owen

And hack it
.
```

From: Miranda, Manuel (Frist) <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN] <brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 4/9/2003 6:07:22 PM
Subject: : RE: 2:30 call??

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> ("Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME: 9-APR-2003 22:07:22.00
SUBJECT:: RE: 2:30 call??
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov (brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

IT's ok, his has been at 10:30 and irregular, so it will work if he decides to have one.

Sent from my BlackBerry Wireless Handheld (www.BlackBerry.net)

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>
Sent: 4/10/2003 7:26:59 AM
Subject:
Attachments: spacer.gif

PFAW on Pryor:

Pryor Appeals Court Nomination Continues Pattern of Divisive Far-Right Judicial Nominees

Nominee for 11th Circuit Has 'Extremely Troubling' Record

President Bush today announced the nomination of Alabama Attorney General William Pryor to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 11th Circuit. People For the American Way President Ralph G. Neas called Pryor's nomination "extremely troubling" and said it was "an unfortunate continuation of this administration's efforts to pack the appeals courts with divisive far-right nominees."

Neas noted that Pryor is one of the nation's most aggressive advocates for a states' rights approach to the Constitution. As Attorney General and as a leader in the Federalist Society, Pryor has successfully urged the Supreme Court to roll back the clock on federal protections against age discrimination and discrimination against people with disabilities. In another case, he urged the Court to limit disparate impact analysis, a foundation of civil rights enforcement, in order to defend Alabama's refusal to offer drivers license exams in any language other than English. Pryor has recently filed an amicus brief in a pending case before the Supreme Court involving the state of Nevada that would leave state employees with no real recourse for violations of the Family & Medical Leave Act.

In a March 2001 speech, Pryor praised the recent series of Supreme Court states' rights rulings as "a breakthrough in the restoration of dual sovereignty and enumerated powers." And he has called for the Court to expand its states' rights rulings in other areas.

Pryor hopes that Bush administration Supreme Court appointments will further the states' rights cause. "Most of the important federalism decisions of the last decade were reached by a 5 to 4 vote," Pryor says. "A single appointment to the Court by the Bush administration could decide the fate of federalism. If all goes well, that future will be bright."

Pryor is a fervent opponent of reproductive rights for women. "I will never forget Jan. 22, 1973, the day seven members of our highest court ripped the Constitution and ripped out the life of millions of unborn children," he told a rally in 1997.

Pryor considers much of the Supreme Court case law preserving the separation of church and state to be "errors." At a public rally on behalf of a judge who was sued for praying and displaying the 10 Commandments in court, Pryor announced, "God has chosen, through his son Jesus Christ, this time and this place for all Christians...to save our country and save our courts." In 1997 Pryor stated, "The matters about life and death and freedom and religion are not being decided in our country anymore by the people and their elected representatives. They are being decided in court, and I think there is something wrong with that."

Neas said the Bush administration's efforts to pack the federal appeals courts with far-right ideologues would have a devastating impact on civil rights, reproductive rights, religious liberty, environmental protection, consumer and worker rights, and much more. He called on Senators to fulfill their constitutional obligation to review judicial nominees carefully and to reject those who are not committed to preserving Americans' rights, liberties, and legal protections.

From: CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jennifer G. Newstead>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Jennifer R. Brosnahan/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jennifer R. Brosnahan>;Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Benjamin A. Powell>;Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>;Noel J. Francisco/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Noel J. Francisco>
Sent: 4/10/2003 7:46:33 AM
Subject: : mark up

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:H. Christopher Bartolomucci ( CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:10-APR-2003 11:46:33.00
SUBJECT:: mark up
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jennifer G. Newstead ( CN=Jennifer G. Newstead/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jennifer R. Brosnahan ( CN=Jennifer R. Brosnahan/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Benjamin A. Powell ( CN=Benjamin A. Powell/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Kyle Sampson ( CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Noel J. Francisco ( CN=Noel J. Francisco/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

is anyone at the mark up right now?
```

From: Nelson, Carolyn
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/10/2003 8:00:20 AM
Subject: FW: Invitation and Return Card
Attachments: 55237 Invitation 4panel2.pdf; 55237 Invite.pdf

How does this look?
-----Original Message-----
From: Alan Sager [mailto:sager@tcrp.org]
Sent: Wednesday, April 09, 2003 10:57 PM
To: Nelson, Carolyn
Subject: Invitation and Return Card

Here is the invitation and return card. We will also be sending this around by e-mail after a couple of typos are fixed like my phone number.

I can also send you the mailing and return envelope if you wish. They say the same things the invitation does as to title of the event.

55237 Invitation 4panel 4/3/03 10:47 AM Page 1

Political Ad paid for by the Travis County Republican Party.

Alan M. Sager, J.D., Ph.D. Chairman
Carla Eldred, J.D., Vice-Chairman
Roland Greenwade, J.D., Secretary
Lance Hay, C.P.A., Treasurer

TRAVIS COUNTY LINCOLN-REAGAN DAY DINNER 2003

A Salute To The Honorable Alberto Gonzales

Special Honorees Barbara and Norman Newton, Claudette and David Hartman

REV_00114147

55237 Invitation 4panel 4/3/03 10:47 AM Page 2

Diamond

Michael Dell
Susan and Alan Sager

Platinum

Stacy and Oliver Bell
Joanie and Ben Bentzin
Dyana and Bob Thomas
Vinson and Elkins

Gold

Kerry Cammack
Maria and Andrew Dillon
Susie and Kent Hance
Albert D. Huddleston/Hyperion Energy
Linebarger, Groggan, Blain and Simpson
Vala and Doug Harbison
Andra and Dean Mc Williams
Pat Oles
Pam and Todd Olsen
Julie and Lee Parsley
Verne and Lavon Philips
Bitsy and Bill Rice
Pat Tedrow
Heather and Kevin Shuvalov
Jennifer J. Solter

Silver

Dr. Bob Bernstein
Mary Ellen and Roger Borgelt
Bob Honts
Charlyn and Gerald Daugherty
Louise Epstein and John Henry MacDonald
Forrest Roan
Betty and Jim Skaggs
Lynn and Richard Box
Melissa and Grant Goodwin
Billie Passmore
Courtney and Todd Baxter

Partial listing at time of printing

Your Are Invited To Attend

TRAVIS COUNTY LINCOLN-REAGAN DAY DINNER 2003

A Salute To The Honorable Alberto Gonzales

Honorable Alberto Gonzales

Keynote Speaker and
Lifetime Achievement Award

Special Honors to

Barbara and Norman Newton
Claudette and David Hartman

Honorary Hosts

Senator Kip Averitt
Senator Bob Duell
Senator Kyle Janik
Senator Steve Ogden
Senator Florence Shapiro
Senator Todd Staples
Senator Jeff Wentworth

Lincoln-Reagan Remembrance
Congressman John Carter

Friday, April 25, 2003
Four Seasons Hotel
Austin, Texas

V.I.P. Reception
6:00 p.m.

General Reception
6:30 p.m.

Dinner and Program
7:15-9:30 p.m.

Please Reply by April 21st
Seating according to date reservation received.
Inquiries: sager@tcrp.org or 751-0720

Business Attire
Valet Parking Available

Stacy Bell, Ben Bentzin, Hector DeLeon, Pam Willeford Co-Chairs

REV_00114148

55231 Invite 4/1/03 11:02 AM Page 1

TRAVIS COUNTY LINCOLN-REAGAN DAY DINNER

A Salute To The Honorable Alberto Gonzales

FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 2003
V.I.P. RECEPTION 6:00 P.M.
GENERAL RECEPTION 6:30 P.M.
DINNER AND PROGRAM 7:15-9:30 P.M.

Yes, I WOULD LIKE TO BE A PART OF THIS EVENT ACKNOWLEDGING THESE GREAT TEXANS.

A. PLEASE LIST ME AS AN EVENT SPONSOR AT THE FOLLOWING LEVEL (SEE REVERSE FOR SPONSORSHIP DETAILS)

- ❑ DIAMOND
- ❑ PLATINUM
- ❑ GOLD
- ❑ SILVER

B. PLEASE RESERVE _____ INDIVIDUAL TICKETS AT $100 EACH.

C. I/WE CANNOT ATTEND, BUT ENCLOSED IS A CONTRIBUTION OF $_____.

NAME

ADDRESS

CITY STATE ZIP

PHONE

E-MAIL OCCUPATION

(Over, please)

REV_00114149

LEVELS OF SPONSORSHIP

	DIAMOND	PLATINUM	GOLD	SILVER
COST	$5,000	$2,500	$1,000	$500
ON AWARD PLAQUE	YES	YES	-	-
PHOTO	YES	YES	YES	NO
PRIVATE RECEPTION	6:00	6:00	6:00	6:30
TICKETS	8	4	2	2
LISTING ON EVENT PROGRAM AND WEBSITE	YES	YES	YES	YES

IF A SPONSOR, PLEASE LIST YOUR NAME AS IT SHOULD APPEAR IN THE PROGRAM.

NAME OF GUEST:

1. _____ 5. _____
2. _____ 6. _____
3. _____ 7. _____
4. _____ 8. _____

(ALL SEATING WILL BE RESERVED.)

MY CHECK FOR $_____ PAYABLE TO TCRP IS ENCLOSED.

PLEASE CHARGE MY: ☐ VISA ☐ MASTERCARD

CARD NUMBER: _____

EXP. DATE: _____

NAME/SIGNATURE: _____

Corporate checks made out to Travis County Republican Party Administrative Account accepted.

REV_00114150

From: CN=Carolyn Nelson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/10/2003 4:00:13 AM
Subject: : FW: Invitation and Return Card
Attachments: P_21SHF003_WHO.TXT_1.pdf; P_21SHF003_WHO.TXT_2.pdf

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Carolyn Nelson (CN=Carolyn Nelson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:10-APR-2003 08:00:13.00
SUBJECT:: FW: Invitation and Return Card
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

How does this look?
-----Original Message-----
From: Alan Sager [mailto:sager@tcrp.org]
Sent: Wednesday, April 09, 2003 10:57 PM
To: Nelson, Carolyn
Subject: Invitation and Return Card

Here is the invitation and return card. We will also be sending this around by e-mail after a couple of typos are fixed like my phone number.

I can also send you the mailing and return envelope if you wish. They say the same things the invitation does as to title of the event.
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_21SHF003_WHO.TXT_1>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_21SHF003_WHO.TXT_2>

55237 Invitation 4panel 4/3/03 10:47 AM Page 1

Political Ad paid for by the Travis County Republican Party.

Alan M. Sager, J.D., Ph.D. Chairman
Carla Eldred, J.D., Vice-Chairman
Roland Greenwade, J.D., Secretary
Lance Hay, C.P.A., Treasurer

TRAVIS COUNTY LINCOLN-REAGAN DAY DINNER 2003

A Salute To The Honorable Alberto Gonzales

Special Honorees Barbara and Norman Newton, Claudette and David Hartman

REV_00114152

55237 Invitation 4panel 4/3/03 10:47 AM Page 2

Diamond

Michael Dell
Susan and Alan Sager

Platinum

Stacy and Oliver Bell
Joanie and Ben Bentzin
Dyana and Bob Thomas
Vinson and Elkins

Gold

Kerry Cammack
Maria and Andrew Dillon
Susie and Kent Hance
Albert D. Huddleston/Hyperion Energy
Linebarger, Groggan, Blain and Simpson
Vala and Doug Harbison
Andra and Dean Mc Williams
Pat Oles
Pam and Todd Olsen
Julie and Lee Parsley
Verne and Lavon Philips
Bitsy and Bill Rice
Pat Tedrow
Heather and Kevin Shuvalov
Jennifer J. Solter

Silver

Dr. Bob Bernstein
Mary Ellen and Roger Borgelt
Bob Honts
Charlyn and Gerald Daugherty
Louise Epstein and John Henry MacDonald
Forrest Roan
Betty and Jim Skaggs
Lynn and Richard Box
Melissa and Grant Goodwin
Billie Passmore
Courtney and Todd Baxter

Partial listing at time of printing

Your Are Invited To Attend

TRAVIS COUNTY LINCOLN-REAGAN DAY DINNER 2003

A Salute To The Honorable Alberto Gonzales

Honorable Alberto Gonzales

Keynote Speaker and
Lifetime Achievement Award

Special Honors to

Barbara and Norman Newton
Claudette and David Hartman

Honorary Hosts

Senator Kip Averitt
Senator Bob Duell
Senator Kyle Janik
Senator Steve Ogden
Senator Florence Shapiro
Senator Todd Staples
Senator Jeff Wentworth

Lincoln-Reagan Remembrance
Congressman John Carter

Friday, April 25, 2003
Four Seasons Hotel
Austin, Texas

V.I.P. Reception	General Reception	Dinner and Program
6:00 p.m.	6:30 p.m.	7:15-9:30 p.m.

Please Reply by April 21st
Seating according to date reservation received.
Inquiries: sager@tcrp.org or 751-0720

Business Attire
Valet Parking Available

Stacy Bell, Ben Bentzin, Hector DeLeon, Pam Willeford Co-Chairs

REV_00114153

55231 Invite 4/1/03 11:02 AM Page 1

TRAVIS COUNTY LINCOLN-REAGAN DAY DINNER

A Salute To The Honorable Alberto Gonzales

FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 2003
V.I.P. RECEPTION 6:00 P.M.
GENERAL RECEPTION 6:30 P.M.
DINNER AND PROGRAM 7:15-9:30 P.M.

Yes, I WOULD LIKE TO BE A PART OF THIS EVENT ACKNOWLEDGING THESE GREAT TEXANS.

A. PLEASE LIST ME AS AN EVENT SPONSOR AT THE FOLLOWING LEVEL (SEE REVERSE FOR SPONSORSHIP DETAILS)

- ❑ DIAMOND
- ❑ PLATINUM
- ❑ GOLD
- ❑ SILVER

B. PLEASE RESERVE _____ INDIVIDUAL TICKETS AT $100 EACH.

C. I/WE CANNOT ATTEND, BUT ENCLOSED IS A CONTRIBUTION OF $_____.

NAME

ADDRESS

CITY STATE ZIP

PHONE

E-MAIL OCCUPATION

(Over, please)

REV_00114154

LEVELS OF SPONSORSHIP

	DIAMOND	PLATINUM	GOLD	SILVER
COST	$5,000	$2,500	$1,000	$500
ON AWARD PLAQUE	YES	YES	-	-
PHOTO	YES	YES	YES	NO
PRIVATE RECEPTION	6:00	6:00	6:00	6:30
TICKETS	8	4	2	2
LISTING ON EVENT PROGRAM AND WEBSITE	YES	YES	YES	YES

IF A SPONSOR, PLEASE LIST YOUR NAME AS IT SHOULD APPEAR IN THE PROGRAM.

NAME OF GUEST:

1. _____ 5. _____
2. _____ 6. _____
3. _____ 7. _____
4. _____ 8. _____

(ALL SEATING WILL BE RESERVED.)

MY CHECK FOR $_____ PAYABLE TO TCRP IS ENCLOSED.

PLEASE CHARGE MY: ☐ VISA ☐ MASTERCARD

CARD NUMBER: _____

EXP. DATE: _____

NAME/SIGNATURE: _____

Corporate checks made out to Travis County Republican Party Administrative Account accepted.

REV_00114155

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: CSpies@rnchq.org @ inet [UNKNOWN] <CSpies@rnchq.org @ inet>
Sent: 4/10/2003 4:40:22 AM
Subject: : FW: Invitation and Return Card
Attachments: P_9STHF003_WHO.TXT_1.pdf; P_9STHF003_WHO.TXT_2.pdf

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:10-APR-2003 08:40:22.00
SUBJECT:: FW: Invitation and Return Card
TO:CSpies@rnchq.org @ inet ( CSpies@rnchq.org @ inet [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_9STHF003_WHO.TXT_1>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_9STHF003_WHO.TXT_2>
```

55237 Invitation 4panel 4/3/03 10:47 AM Page 1

Political Ad paid for by the Travis County Republican Party.

Alan M. Sager, J.D., Ph.D. Chairman
Carla Eldred, J.D., Vice-Chairman
Roland Greenwade, J.D., Secretary
Lance Hay, C.P.A., Treasurer

TRAVIS COUNTY LINCOLN-REAGAN DAY DINNER 2003

A Salute To The Honorable Alberto Gonzales

Special Honorees Barbara and Norman Newton, Claudette and David Hartman

REV_00114160

55237 Invitation 4panel 4/3/03 10:47 AM Page 2

Diamond

Michael Dell
Susan and Alan Sager

Platinum

Stacy and Oliver Bell
Joanie and Ben Bentzin
Dyana and Bob Thomas
Vinson and Elkins

Gold

Kerry Cammack
Maria and Andrew Dillon
Susie and Kent Hance
Albert D. Huddleston/Hyperion Energy
Linebarger, Groggan, Blain and Simpson
Vala and Doug Harbison
Andra and Dean Mc Williams
Pat Oles
Pam and Todd Olsen
Julie and Lee Parsley
Verne and Lavon Philips
Bitsy and Bill Rice
Pat Tedrow
Heather and Kevin Shuvalov
Jennifer J. Solter

Silver

Dr. Bob Bernstein
Mary Ellen and Roger Borgelt
Bob Honts
Charlyn and Gerald Daugherty
Louise Epstein and John Henry MacDonald
Forrest Roan
Betty and Jim Skaggs
Lynn and Richard Box
Melissa and Grant Goodwin
Billie Passmore
Courtney and Todd Baxter

Partial listing at time of printing

Your Are Invited To Attend

TRAVIS COUNTY LINCOLN-REAGAN DAY DINNER 2003

A Salute To The Honorable Alberto Gonzales

Honorable Alberto Gonzales

Keynote Speaker and
Lifetime Achievement Award

Special Honors to

Barbara and Norman Newton
Claudette and David Hartman

Honorary Hosts

Senator Kip Averitt
Senator Bob Duell
Senator Kyle Janik
Senator Steve Ogden
Senator Florence Shapiro
Senator Todd Staples
Senator Jeff Wentworth

Lincoln-Reagan Remembrance
Congressman John Carter

Friday, April 25, 2003
Four Seasons Hotel
Austin, Texas

V.I.P. Reception
6:00 p.m.

General Reception
6:30 p.m.

Dinner and Program
7:15-9:30 p.m.

Please Reply by April 21st
Seating according to date reservation received.
Inquiries: sager@tcrp.org or 751-0720

Business Attire
Valet Parking Available

Stacy Bell, Ben Bentzin, Hector DeLeon, Pam Willeford Co-Chairs

REV_00114161

55231 Invite 4/1/03 11:02 AM Page 1

TRAVIS COUNTY LINCOLN-REAGAN DAY DINNER

A Salute To The Honorable Alberto Gonzales

FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 2003
V.I.P. RECEPTION 6:00 P.M.
GENERAL RECEPTION 6:30 P.M.
DINNER AND PROGRAM 7:15-9:30 P.M.

Yes, I WOULD LIKE TO BE A PART OF THIS EVENT ACKNOWLEDGING THESE GREAT TEXANS.

A. PLEASE LIST ME AS AN EVENT SPONSOR AT THE FOLLOWING LEVEL (SEE REVERSE FOR SPONSORSHIP DETAILS)

- ❑ DIAMOND
- ❑ PLATINUM
- ❑ GOLD
- ❑ SILVER

B. PLEASE RESERVE _____ INDIVIDUAL TICKETS AT $100 EACH.

C. I/WE CANNOT ATTEND, BUT ENCLOSED IS A CONTRIBUTION OF $_____.

NAME

ADDRESS

CITY STATE ZIP

PHONE

E-MAIL OCCUPATION

(Over, please)

REV_00114162

LEVELS OF SPONSORSHIP

	DIAMOND	PLATINUM	GOLD	SILVER
COST	$5,000	$2,500	$1,000	$500
ON AWARD PLAQUE	YES	YES	-	-
PHOTO	YES	YES	YES	NO
PRIVATE RECEPTION	6:00	6:00	6:00	6:30
TICKETS	8	4	2	2
LISTING ON EVENT PROGRAM AND WEBSITE	YES	YES	YES	YES

IF A SPONSOR, PLEASE LIST YOUR NAME AS IT SHOULD APPEAR IN THE PROGRAM.

NAME OF GUEST:

1. _____ 5. _____
2. _____ 6. _____
3. _____ 7. _____
4. _____ 8. _____

(ALL SEATING WILL BE RESERVED.)

MY CHECK FOR $_____ PAYABLE TO TCRP IS ENCLOSED.

PLEASE CHARGE MY: ☐ VISA ☐ MASTERCARD

CARD NUMBER: _____

EXP. DATE: _____

NAME/SIGNATURE: _____

Corporate checks made out to Travis County Republican Party Administrative Account accepted.

REV_00114163

From: Snee, Ashley
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/10/2003 9:03:32 AM
Subject: 445 today to talk about the website, right?

From:	Nelson, Carolyn
To:	<Addington, David S.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Bellinger, John B.>;<Brilliant, Hana F.>;<Bumatay, Patrick J.>;<Carroll, James W.>;<Everson, Nanette>;<Farrell, J. Elizabeth>; <Francisco, Noel J.>;<Ganter, Jonathan F.>;<Jucas, Tracy>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<McNally, Edward>;<Montiel, Charlotte L.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>;<Brosnahan, Jennifer R.>
CC:	<Leitch, David G.>
Sent:	4/10/2003 9:58:07 AM
Subject:	Note about the Judge's schedule

The Judge will out of the office tomorrow, Friday, April 11. If you have issues to discuss with him before his departure this evening, please let me know.

Thanks!
Carrie

From: Nelson, Carolyn
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/10/2003 10:03:14 AM
Subject:

Brett, do you need to talk to him about today's lunch? His 11:30 mtg. was cancelled, so he'll be at Morton's by 12.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Nelson, Carolyn>
Sent: 4/10/2003 10:08:58 AM
Subject:

the Travis County event is ok so long as he does not solicit money at the event. thanks and sorry for false alarm.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: m.edward.whelan@usdoj.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <m.edward.whelan@usdoj.gov @ inet>
Sent: 4/10/2003 6:17:30 AM
Subject: : another Koffsky Q

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:10-APR-2003 10:17:30.00
SUBJECT:: another Koffsky Q
TO:m.edward.whelan@usdoj.gov @ inet ( m.edward.whelan@usdoj.gov @ inet [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Do you read law to bar contributions by executive branch employees to President's reelection campaign?
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Britt Grant/OPD/EOP@EOP [OPD] <Britt Grant>
Sent: 4/10/2003 6:21:52 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:10-APR-2003 10:21:52.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Britt Grant ( CN=Britt Grant/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

confirming that Bridge will not be identified as a host at that fundraiser?
```

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>
Sent: 4/10/2003 10:29:19 AM
Subject: FW: Agreement

roberts and cook agreement.

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/10/2003 10:29 AM ----------

From: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/10/2003 10:27:19 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: FW: Agreement

-----Original Message-----

From: Jamie.E.Brown@usdoj.gov [mailto:Jamie.E.Brown@usdoj.gov]

Sent: Thursday, April 10, 2003 10:22 AM

To: Grubbs, Wendy J.

Subject: Fw: Agreement

-----Original Message-----

From: Scottfinan, Nancy

To: Brown, Jamie E (OLA) ; Dinh, Viet ; Benczkowski, Brian A ; Charnes, Adam ; 'kristi.remington@usdoj.gov' ; Joy, Sheila

Sent: Thu Apr 10 10:19:42 2003

Subject: Agreement

To bring Roberts back for one day of hearings with a vote at the next mark up and Cook tobe called up on the floor the day after the Roberts hearing. Nancy Scott-Finan

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>
Sent: 4/10/2003 11:03:26 AM
Subject: Leon Holmes

Makan reports that Leon Holmes is "in trouble."

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Leitch, David G.>
Sent: 4/10/2003 11:12:34 AM
Subject: did you talk to FBI about need for speed on certain files?

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Ganter, Jonathan F.>
CC: <Bumatay, Patrick J.>
Sent: 4/10/2003 11:32:49 AM
Subject:

need phone numbers for Justice Deborah Cook and Jeff Sutton.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Jonathan F. Ganter/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jonathan F. Ganter>
CC: Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Patrick J. Bumatay>
Sent: 4/10/2003 7:33:26 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:10-APR-2003 11:33:26.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Jonathan F. Ganter ( CN=Jonathan F. Ganter/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Patrick J. Bumatay ( CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

need phone numbers for Justice Deborah Cook and Jeff Sutton.
```

From: CN=Katherine M. Walters/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/10/2003 8:35:26 AM
Subject: : Lincoln Day Dinner

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Katherine M. Walters (CN=Katherine M. Walters/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:10-APR-2003 12:35:26.00
SUBJECT:: Lincoln Day Dinner
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

sorry- this event is tomorrow.
---------- Forwarded by Katherine M. Walters/WHO/EOP on
04/10/2003 12:35 PM ----------

Katherine M. Walters
04/09/2003 03:52:22 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Lincoln Day Dinner

Can they print Ken's bio in the program of a Lincoln Day Dinner? thanks

From: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/10/2003 1:45:28 PM
Subject: pls call re: Algiers

From: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/10/2003 2:13:15 PM
Subject: algiers

if you have any substantive edits to the talking points based on your learning last night, can you pls update them so we have a final set in case the VP or others need it?

thanks

From: Paul.P.Colborn@usdoj.gov
To: David S. Addington/OVP/EOP@EOP [OVP] <David S. Addington>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/10/2003 10:38:46 AM
Subject: : FW: NEPDG Moot Court

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Paul.P.Colborn@usdoj.gov" <Paul.P.Colborn@usdoj.gov> ("Paul.P.Colborn@usdoj.gov" <Paul.P.Colborn@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:10-APR-2003 14:38:46.00
SUBJECT:: FW: NEPDG Moot Court
TO:David S. Addington (CN=David S. Addington/OU=OVP/O=EOP@EOP [OVP])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Didn't look to me like they got your addresses right.

-----Original Message-----
From: Williams, Angela
Sent: Thursday, April 10, 2003 2:21 PM
To: Clement, Paul D; Kneedler, Edwin S; Salmons, David B; Roberts, Matthew D; Colborn, Paul P; Whelan, M Edward III; McCallum, Robert; Coffin, Shannen; Jordan, Bill; Millet, Thomas; Hunt, Jody; Blackwell, Craig; Paisner, Jennifer; 'Addington@oup.eop.gov'; 'Kauanaugh@who.eop.gov'
Subject: NEPDG Moot Court

You are invited to attend the NEPDG moot court. That is schedule for Tuesday, April 15th at 3:00 in the Civil Divison Conference Room 3143. Please let me know if you need copies of the briefs.

Thanks
Angela Williams

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Katherine M. Walters/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Katherine M. Walters>
Sent: 4/10/2003 12:18:22 PM
Subject: : Re: Lincoln Day Dinner

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:10-APR-2003 16:18:22.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Lincoln Day Dinner
TO:Katherine M. Walters (CN=Katherine M. Walters/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

yes

Katherine M. Walters
04/10/2003 12:35:15 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Lincoln Day Dinner

sorry- this event is tomorrow.
---------- Forwarded by Katherine M. Walters/WHO/EOP on
04/10/2003 12:35 PM ----------

Katherine M. Walters
04/09/2003 03:52:22 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Lincoln Day Dinner

Can they print Ken's bio in the program of a Lincoln Day Dinner? thanks

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Katherine M. Walters/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Katherine M. Walters>
Sent: 4/10/2003 12:19:45 PM
Subject: : Re: GOPAC

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:10-APR-2003 16:19:45.00
SUBJECT:: Re: GOPAC
TO:Katherine M. Walters (CN=Katherine M. Walters/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

have put in a few calls on this; will let you know when I know

Katherine M. Walters
04/08/2003 10:09:17 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: GOPAC

JC Watts has invited Ken to speak to the GOPAC Conference on April 28th. I have tentatively scheduled a time, but wanted to make sure that they were not the same situation as the RGA. Ken thought they might be. They would also like our help in finding a speaker for the keynote dinner. They have asked for Karl or Karen.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>
CC: <Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Brosnahan, Jennifer R.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent: 4/10/2003 4:22:27 PM
Subject:

bad news

Rep. Dunn Won't Challenge Sen. Murray

From: Warsh, Kevin
To: <Schacht, Diana L.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Silverberg, Kristen>
CC: <Hennessey, Keith>
Sent: 4/10/2003 5:27:15 PM
Subject: Asbestos

At the President's meeting with CEOs today, the CEO of an insurance company said to the President something like: "We really need your help and the Administration's involvement on asbestos reform over the next 10 days. Senator Hatch and others say if we can't drive to a conclusion in this period, we will not get reform this year." And the President said something like "Thanks, and we'll look into in."

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Colleen Litkenhaus/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Colleen Litkenhaus>
Sent: 4/10/2003 5:27:10 PM
Subject: : Re: can we do it at 9:15 am with Joe Hagin tomorrow?

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:10-APR-2003 21:27:10.00
SUBJECT:: Re: can we do it at 9:15 am with Joe Hagin tomorrow?
TO:Colleen Litkenhaus (CN=Colleen Litkenhaus/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

yes

From: Colleen Litkenhaus/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/10/2003 09:15:05 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: can we do it at 9:15 am with Joe Hagin tomorrow?

;

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/10/2003 3:24:14 PM
Subject: : White House Global Messenger - 04-11-03
Attachments: P_7V0JF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:10-APR-2003 19:24:14.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger - 04-11-03
TO:Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications (CN=Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 4-11-03 FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Friday, April 11, 2003

KEY POINTS***

*The regime of Saddam Hussein is being removed from power, and a long era of fear and cruelty is ending. Coalition forces are now operating inside Baghdad - and we will not stop until Saddam's corrupt gang is gone. The government of Iraq, and the future of your country, will soon belong to you.

*The goals of our Coalition are clear and limited. Coalition forces will help maintain law and order. We will respect your great religious traditions, whose principles of equality and compassion are essential to Iraq 's future. We will help you build a peaceful and representative government that protects the rights of all citizens. And then our military forces will leave. Iraq will go forward as a unified and sovereign nation that has regained a respected place in the world.

*The United States and its Coalition partners respect the people of Iraq. We are taking unprecedented measures to spare the lives of innocent Iraqis, and are beginning to deliver food, water and medicine to those in need. Our only enemy is Saddam's brutal regime.

*In the new era that is coming to Iraq, you will be free to build a better life, and all the people who make up your country - Kurds, Shi'a, Turkomans, Sunnis, and others - will be free of the terrible persecution so many have endured.

*Iraqis are a good and gifted people - the heirs of a great civilization

that contributes to all humanity. You deserve better than tyranny and corruption and torture chambers. You deserve to live as free people.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE***
All Times Eastern Daylight. Subject to Change

7:00 am CENTCOM Operations Update

12:15 pm White House Briefing

12:30 pm State Department Briefing

TBD Defense Department Briefing

LIBERATION UPDATE***
The voices of freedom, now heard in many parts of Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at
http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

***
"You are owed a favor from the Iraqis. We dedicate our loyalty to the Americans
and the British. We are friends."
Iraqi Ibrahim Shouqyk to Marines, New York Times, 4-8-03

***
"For years we have lived oppressed lives here. Sunday was a day we had prayed for and now we are free of Saddam's rule."
Qusay Rawah, a student in Basra, Daily Mirror, 4-8-03

EXCERPTS FROM PRIME MINISTER BLAIR'S MESSAGE TO THE IRAQI PEOPLE

"I know that some of you feared a repeat of 1991, when you thought Saddam's rule was being ended, but he stayed, and you suffered. That will not happen
this time. This regime will be gone. And then, we will work with you to build
the peaceful, prosperous Iraq that you want, and you deserve. This Iraq will not be run by Britain, or by the US, or by the UN. It will be run by you, the people of Iraq.

"...Saddam Hussein and his regime plundered your nation's wealth. While many of you live in poverty, they have lived lives of luxury. He became one of the richest men in the world; his money stolen from you, the Iraqi people. The money from Iraqi oil will be yours; to be used to build prosperity for you and your families."

ARAB VOICES***

"Saddam Hussein didn't fall alone yesterday. Along with him, more important things fell. The big lies that accompanied him and glorified him and cheered him fell. The minds that refused to refer to today's truths and yesterday's history

and spoke for the Iraqi people falsely fell as well. In front of the whole world, the Iraqis clinched the truth themselves in their own capital Baghdad about which it was said that if Basra was a passing city that cheered for
the
American and British soldiers, the capital would be the stronghold of the invincible regime."
Abdul Rahman Al-Rashid, Editor-in-Chief, Asharq Al-Awsat (UK), 4-10-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****

You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information
from
the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information
about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere. - GM 4-11-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_7V0JF003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Friday, April 11, 2003

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

All Times Eastern Daylight. Subject to Change

7:00 am	CENTCOM Operations Update
12:15 pm	White House Briefing
12:30 pm	State Department Briefing
TBD	Defense Department Briefing

EXCERPTS FROM PRIME MINISTER BLAIR'S MESSAGE TO THE IRAQI PEOPLE

"I know that some of you feared a repeat of 1991, when you thought Saddam's rule was being ended, but he stayed, and you suffered. That will not happen this time. This regime will be gone. And then, we will work with you to build the peaceful, prosperous Iraq that you want, and you deserve. This Iraq will not be run by Britain, or by the US, or by the UN. It will be run by you, the people of Iraq.

"…Saddam Hussein and his regime plundered your nation's wealth. While many of you live in poverty, they have lived lives of luxury. He became one of the richest men in the world; his money stolen from you, the Iraqi people. The money from Iraqi oil will be yours; to be used to build prosperity for you and your families."

ARABIC VOICES

"Saddam Hussein didn't fall alone yesterday. Along with him, more important things fell. The big lies that accompanied him and glorified him and cheered him fell. The minds that refused to refer to today's truths and yesterday's history and spoke for the Iraqi people falsely fell as well. In front of the whole world, the Iraqis clinched the truth themselves in their own capital Baghdad about which it was said that if Basra was a passing city that cheered for the American and British soldiers, the capital would be the stronghold of the invincible regime."
Abdul Rahman Al-Rashid, Editor-in-Chief, Asharq Al-Awsat (UK), 4-10-03

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO THE IRAQI PEOPLE

- The regime of Saddam Hussein is being removed from power, and a long era of fear and cruelty is ending. Coalition forces are now operating inside Baghdad – and we will not stop until Saddam's corrupt gang is gone. The government of Iraq, and the future of your country, will soon belong to you.
- The goals of our Coalition are clear and limited. Coalition forces will help maintain law and order. We will respect your great religious traditions, whose principles of equality and compassion are essential to Iraq's future. We will help you build a peaceful and representative government that protects the rights of all citizens. And then our military forces will leave. Iraq will go forward as a unified and sovereign nation that has regained a respected place in the world.
- The United States and its Coalition partners respect the people of Iraq. We are taking unprecedented measures to spare the lives of innocent Iraqis, and are beginning to deliver food, water and medicine to those in need. Our only enemy is Saddam's brutal regime.
- In the new era that is coming to Iraq, you will be free to build a better life, and all the people who make up your country – Kurds, Shi'a, Turkomans, Sunnis, and others – will be free of the terrible persecution so many have endured.
- Iraqis are a good and gifted people – the heirs of a great civilization that contributes to all humanity. You deserve better than tyranny and corruption and torture chambers. You deserve to live as free people.

LIBERATION UPDATE

The voices of freedom, now heard in many parts of Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at:
http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

***

"You are owed a favor from the Iraqis. We dedicate our loyalty to the Americans and the British. We are friends."
Iraqi Ibrahim Shouqyk to Marines, New York Times, 4-8-03

***

"For years we have lived oppressed lives here. Sunday was a day we had prayed for and now we are free of Saddam's rule."
Qusay Rawah, a student in Basra, Daily Mirror, 4-8-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

REV_00114246

From: CN=Colleen Litkenhaus/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/10/2003 5:14:44 PM
Subject: : can we do it at 9:15 am with Joe Hagin tomorrow?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Colleen Litkenhaus ( CN=Colleen Litkenhaus/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:10-APR-2003 21:14:44.00
SUBJECT:: can we do it at 9:15 am with Joe Hagin tomorrow?
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

;
```

From: Litkenhaus, Colleen
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/10/2003 9:15:05 PM
Subject: can we do it at 9:15 am with Joe Hagin tomorrow?

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Grubbs, Wendy J.>
Sent: 4/10/2003 10:07:45 PM
Subject: what's going on with cook vote?

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Lefkowitz, Jay P.>
Sent: 4/10/2003 10:10:11 PM
Subject: what's happening with algiers

From: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/10/2003 10:21:32 PM
Subject: Re: what's happening with algiers

Mitch and our Leg folks, who are handling supp, are working the issue.

talked to Mitch tonight and he said he made clear that of all the extra stuff they want to throw on the supp, this is one we will never accept.

Not clear if VP will need to weigh in or whether it will end tonight.
.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
Sent: Thu Apr 10 22:10:11 2003
Subject: what's happening with algiers

From: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/10/2003 10:27:01 PM
Subject: Re: what's happening with algiers

Where can I reach you now?
.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Matthew A. Schlapp/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Matthew A. Schlapp>
Sent: 4/10/2003 6:54:15 PM
Subject: : owe you a call on tymkovich

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:10-APR-2003 22:54:15.00
SUBJECT:: owe you a call on tymkovich
TO:Matthew A. Schlapp ( CN=Matthew A. Schlapp/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: Gumerson, Katie \(RPC\) <Katie_Gumerson@RPC.Senate.Gov>
To: Alex Dahl \(E-mail\) <IMCEACCMAIL-Alex+20Dahl+20at+20Judiciary@routing.senate.gov>;Barbara Ledeen \(E-mail\) <barbara_ledeen@src.senate.gov>;Brett Kavanaugh \(E-mail\) <brett_kavanaugh@who.eop.gov>;Brown, Jamie E \(E-mail\) <jamie.e.brown@usdoj.gov>;Delrahim, Makan \(Judiciary\) <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Gary Andres \(E-mail\) <gary.andres@dutkogroup.com>;Heather Wingate \(E-mail\) <heather_wingate@who.eop.gov>;Jason Lundell \(E-mail\) <IMCEACCMAIL-Jason+20Lundell+20at+20Judiciary@routing.senate.gov>;John Abegg \(E-mail\) <IMCEACCMAIL-John+20Abegg+20at+20McConnell-DC@routing.senate.gov>;<Kirk, Matthew>;Matt Letourneau <matthew_letourneau@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Miranda, Manuel \(Frist\) <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>;Pat. O'Brien@usdoj. gov \(E-mail\) <Pat.O'Brien@usdoj.gov>;Rena Johnson \(E-mail\) <IMCEACCMAIL-Rena+20Johnson+20at+20Judiciary@routing.senate.gov>;Stephen Higgins \(E-mail\) <IMCEACCMAIL-Stephen+20Higgins+20at+20Judiciary@routing.senate.gov>;Bini Zomer \(E-mail\) <Bini_Zomer@nickles.senate.gov>;Bret Bernhardt \(E-mail\) <bret_bernhardt@nickles.senate.gov>;Brook Simmons \(E-mail\) <Brook_Simmons@nickles.senate.gov>;Bynum, G.T. \(Nickles\) <G.T._Bynum@nickles.senate.gov>;Chan Kingensmith \(E-mail\) <Chan_Klingensmith@nickles.senate.gov>;Chapman, Tim \(Nickles\) <Tim_Chapman@nickles.senate.gov>;Cynthia Singleton \(E-mail\) <Cynthia_Singleton@nickles.senate.gov>;Derek Albro \(E-mail\) <derek_albro@nickles.senate.gov>;Gayle Osterberg \(E-mail\) <Gayle_Osterberg@nickles.senate.gov>;Heather Reilly \(E-mail\) <Heather_Reilly@nickles.senate.gov>;Jennifer Quinlan \(E-mail\) <Jennifer_Quinlan@nickles.senate.gov>;Lee Morris \(E-mail\) <Lee_Morris@nickles.senate.gov>;Marlo Meuli \(E-mail\) <marlo_meuli@nickles.senate.gov>;McLane Layton \(E-mail\) <McLane_Layton@nickles.senate.gov>;Oliphant, Rachel \(Nickles\) <Rachel_Oliphant@nickles.senate.gov>;Pamela Fleming \(E-mail\) <Pamela_Fleming@nickles.senate.gov>;Stacey Lowder \(E-mail\) <Stacey_Lowder@nickles.senate.gov>;Steve Moffitt \(E-mail\) <Steve_Moffitt@nickles.senate.gov>;Suzanne Schaffrath \(E-mail\) <Suzanne_Schaffrath@nickles.senate.gov>;Zev Teichman \(E-mail\) <Zev_Teichman@nickles.senate.gov>
Sent: 4/11/2003 7:53:30 AM
Subject: FW: Senate Schedule for Friday, April 11th

> RPC Legislative Hotline
>
> Call 1-202-224-6888 for the
> Daily Senate Schedule for Friday, April 11, 2003

>
> 9:30 a.m. Morning Business for Senators to speak on the troops in Iraq.
>
> Pending:
>
> The Senate will next convene at 9:30 a.m. Friday, April 11, after adjourning at 7:50 p.m. Thursday, April 10.
>
> At 9:30 a.m., the Senate will be in a period of Morning Business until 10:00 a.m., with the time equally divided between Senator Hutchison and the Minority Leader or his designee, in order for Members to speak on the nation's Armed Forces.
>
> Thereafter, the Senate may resume consideration of Executive Calendar #86, the nomination of Priscilla Owen to be a U.S. Circuit Judge for the Fifth Circuit. The Senate may also consider Executive Calendar #32, the nomination of Jeffrey S. Sutton to be a U.S. Circuit Judge for the Sixth Circuit; S. 196, the Digital Technology bill; FISA; the Project BioShield Bill; or the Conference Reports for the Budget and the Supplemental.

>
> NOTE: Pursuant to a Unanimous Consent agreement, at a time to be determined the Senate will take up S. 196, the Digital Technology bill. There will be one hour of debate, equally divided, between Senator Allen and the minority. The only amendments in order will be the committee-reported amendments and an Allen amendment making technical corrections to the bill. Following the use or yielding back of time, the Senate will VOTE on passage of the bill.
>
> NOTE: Until further notice, there will be Members-only briefings on Iraq daily (Monday-Friday) from 9:00 a.m.-10:00 a.m. in S-407.
>
> Thursday, April 10's Business:
>
> During Thursday's session of the Senate, 2 roll call votes were conducted:
>
>
> Agreed, 98-0: Conference Report to accompany S. 151, the Protect Act;
>
> Confirmed, 72-24: Executive Calendar #60, Ross Owen Swimmer, of Oklahoma, to be Special Trustee, Office of the Special Trustee for American Indians, Department of the Interior;
>
>
> Passed by Unanimous Consent:
>
> H.R. 1584, implementing effective measures to stop trade in conflict diamonds;
>
> H.R. 1505, designating the facility of the United States Postal Service located at 2127 Beatties Ford Road in Charlotte, North Carolina, as the "Jim Richardson Post Office,"
>
> S. 538, the Lifespan Respite Care Act of 2003, amending the Public Health Service Act to establish a program to assist family caregivers in accessing affordable and high-quality respite care;
>
> S. 783, as amended by a Chambliss amendment, expediting the granting of posthumous citizenship to members of the United States Armed Forces;
>
> S. 870, amending the Richard B. Russell School Lunch Program;
>
> Executive Calendar #116, Lino Gutierrez, of Florida, a Career Member of the Senior Foreign Service, Class of Minister-Counselor, to be Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to Argentina;
>
> Executive Calendar #117, Roland W. Bullen, of Virginia, a Career Member of the Senior Foreign Service, Class of Minister-Counselor, to be Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to the Co-operative Republic of Guyana;
>
> Executive Calendar #118, Eric M. Javits, of New York, for the rank of Ambassador during his tenure of service as United States Representative to the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons;
>
> Executive Calendar #119> , John W. Snow, of Virginia, to be United States Governor of the International Monetary Fund for a term of five years; United States Governor of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development for a term of five years; United States Governor of the Inter-American Development Bank for a term of five years; United States Governor of the African Development Bank for a term of five years; United States Governor of the Asian Development Bank; United States > Governor of the African Development Fund; United States Governor of the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development;
>
> Executive Calendar #121, Ricky Dale James, of Missouri, to be a Member of the Mississippi River Commission for a term of nine years;
>
> Executive Calendar #122, Rear Admiral Nicholas Augustus Prahl, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, to be a Member of the Mississippi River Commission;
>
> Executive Calendar #123, Herbert Guenther, of Arizona, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udall Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;
>
> Executive Calendar #124, Bradley Udell, of Colorado, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;
>
> Executive Calendar #125, Malcolm B. Bowekaty, of New Mexico, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;

>
> Executive Calendar #126, Richard Narcia, of Arizona, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation:
>
> Executive Calendar #127, Robert Boldrey, of Michigan, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation:
>
> All of the nominations on the Secretary's desk.
>
>
>

From: Gumerson, Katie (RPC) <Katie_Gumerson@RPC.Senate.Gov>

To: Suzanne Schaffrath (E-mail) <Suzanne_Schaffrath@nickles.senate.gov>;Stacey Lowder (E-mail) <Stacey_Lowder@nickles.senate.gov>;Oliphant, Rachel (Nickles) <Rachel_Oliphant@nickles.senate.gov>;Marlo Meuli (E-mail) <marlo_meuli@nickles.senate.gov>;Jennifer Quinlan (E-mail) <Jennifer_Quinlan@nickles.senate.gov>;Gayle Osterberg (E-mail) <Gayle_Osterberg@nickles.senate.gov>;Cynthia Singleton (E-mail) <Cynthia_Singleton@nickles.senate.gov>;Chan Kingensmith (E-mail) <Chan_Klingensmith@nickles.senate.gov>;Brook Simmons (E-mail) <Brook_Simmons@nickles.senate.gov>;Bini Zomer (E-mail) <Bini_Zomer@nickles.senate.gov>;Rena Johnson (E-mail) <IMCEACCMAIL-Rena+20Johnson+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov>;Miranda, Manuel (Frist) <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>;Matthew Kirk/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Matthew Kirk>;Jason Lundell (E-mail) <IMCEACCMAIL-Jason+20Lundell+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov>;Gary Andres (E-mail) <gary.andres@dutkogroup.com>;Brown, Jamie E (E-mail) <jamie.e.brown@usdoj.gov>;Barbara Ledeen (E-mail) <barbara_ledeen@src.senate.gov>;Zev Teichman (E-mail) <Zev_Teichman@nickles.senate.gov>;Steve Moffitt (E-mail) <Steve_Moffitt@nickles.senate.gov>;Pamela Fleming (E-mail) <Pamela_Fleming@nickles.senate.gov>;McLane Layton (E-mail) <McLane_Layton@nickles.senate.gov>;Lee Morris (E-mail) <Lee_Morris@nickles.senate.gov>;Heather Reilly (E-mail) <Heather_Reilly@nickles.senate.gov>;Derek Albro (E-mail) <derek_albro@nickles.senate.gov>;Chapman, Tim (Nickles) <Tim_Chapman@nickles.senate.gov>;Bynum, G.T. (Nickles) <G.T._Bynum@nickles.senate.gov>;Bret Bernhardt (E-mail) <bret_bernhardt@nickles.senate.gov>;Stephen Higgins (E-mail) <IMCEACCMAIL-Stephen+20Higgins+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov>;Pat. O'Brien@usdoj. gov (E-mail) <Pat.O'Brien@usdoj.gov>;Matt Letourneau <matthew_letourneau@Judiciary.senate.gov>;John Abegg (E-mail) <IMCEACCMAIL-John+20Abegg+20at+20McConnell-DC"@routing.senate.gov>;Heather Wingate (E-mail) <heather_wingate@who.eop.gov>;Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary) <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Alex Dahl (E-mail) <IMCEACCMAIL-Alex+20Dahl+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov>

Sent: 4/11/2003 3:54:24 AM

Subject: : FW: Senate Schedule for Friday, April 11th

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Gumerson, Katie (RPC)" <Katie_Gumerson@RPC.Senate.Gov> ( "Gumerson, Katie (RPC)"
<Katie_Gumerson@RPC.Senate.Gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 07:54:24.00
SUBJECT:: FW: Senate Schedule for Friday, April 11th
TO:"Suzanne Schaffrath (E-mail)" <Suzanne_Schaffrath@nickles.senate.gov> ( "Suzanne Schaffrath (E-mail)" <Suzanne_Schaffrath@nickles.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Stacey Lowder (E-mail)" <Stacey_Lowder@nickles.senate.gov> ( "Stacey Lowder (E-mail)" <Stacey_Lowder@nickles.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Oliphant, Rachel (Nickles)" <Rachel_Oliphant@nickles.senate.gov> ( "Oliphant, Rachel (Nickles)" <Rachel_Oliphant@nickles.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Marlo Meuli (E-mail)" <marlo_meuli@nickles.senate.gov> ( "Marlo Meuli (E-mail)" <marlo_meuli@nickles.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Jennifer Quinlan (E-mail)" <Jennifer_Quinlan@nickles.senate.gov> ( "Jennifer Quinlan (E-mail)" <Jennifer_Quinlan@nickles.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Gayle Osterberg (E-mail)" <Gayle_Osterberg@nickles.senate.gov> ( "Gayle Osterberg (E-mail)" <Gayle_Osterberg@nickles.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Cynthia Singleton (E-mail)" <Cynthia_Singleton@nickles.senate.gov> ( "Cynthia Singleton
```

(E-mail)" <Cynthia_Singleton@nickles.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Chan Kingensmith (E-mail)" <Chan_Klingensmith@nickles.senate.gov> ("Chan Kingensmith (E-mail)" <Chan_Klingensmith@nickles.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Brook Simmons (E-mail)" <Brook_Simmons@nickles.senate.gov> ("Brook Simmons (E-mail)" <Brook_Simmons@nickles.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Bini Zomer (E-mail)" <Bini_Zomer@nickles.senate.gov> ("Bini Zomer (E-mail)" <Bini_Zomer@nickles.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Rena Johnson (E-mail)" <"IMCEACCMAIL-Rena+20Johnson+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov> ("Rena Johnson (E-mail)" <"IMCEACCMAIL-Rena+20Johnson+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> ("Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Matthew Kirk (CN=Matthew Kirk/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Jason Lundell (E-mail)" <"IMCEACCMAIL-Jason+20Lundell+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov> ("Jason Lundell (E-mail)" <"IMCEACCMAIL-Jason+20Lundell+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Gary Andres (E-mail)" <gary.andres@dutkogroup.com> ("Gary Andres (E-mail)" <gary.andres@dutkogroup.com> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Brown, Jamie E (E-mail)" <jamie.e.brown@usdoj.gov> ("Brown, Jamie E (E-mail)" <jamie.e.brown@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Barbara Ledeen (E-mail)" <barbara_ledeen@src.senate.gov> ("Barbara Ledeen (E-mail)" <barbara_ledeen@src.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Zev Teichman (E-mail)" <Zev_Teichman@nickles.senate.gov> ("Zev Teichman (E-mail)" <Zev_Teichman@nickles.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Steve Moffitt (E-mail)" <Steve_Moffitt@nickles.senate.gov> ("Steve Moffitt (E-mail)" <Steve_Moffitt@nickles.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Pamela Fleming (E-mail)" <Pamela_Fleming@nickles.senate.gov> ("Pamela Fleming (E-mail)" <Pamela_Fleming@nickles.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"McLane Layton (E-mail)" <McLane_Layton@nickles.senate.gov> ("McLane Layton (E-mail)" <McLane_Layton@nickles.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Lee Morris (E-mail)" <Lee_Morris@nickles.senate.gov> ("Lee Morris (E-mail)" <Lee_Morris@nickles.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Heather Reilly (E-mail)" <Heather_Reilly@nickles.senate.gov> ("Heather Reilly (E-mail)" <Heather_Reilly@nickles.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Derek Albro (E-mail)" <derek_albro@nickles.senate.gov> ("Derek Albro (E-mail)" <derek_albro@nickles.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Chapman, Tim (Nickles)" <Tim_Chapman@nickles.senate.gov> ("Chapman, Tim (Nickles)" <Tim_Chapman@nickles.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Bynum, G.T. (Nickles)" <G.T._Bynum@nickles.senate.gov> ("Bynum, G.T. (Nickles)" <G.T._Bynum@nickles.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Bret Bernhardt (E-mail)" <bret_bernhardt@nickles.senate.gov> ("Bret Bernhardt (E-mail)" <bret_bernhardt@nickles.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Stephen Higgins (E-mail)" <"IMCEACCMAIL-Stephen+20Higgins+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov> ("Stephen Higgins (E-mail)" <"IMCEACCMAIL-Stephen+20Higgins+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Pat. O'Brien@usdoj. gov (E-mail)" <Pat.O'Brien@usdoj.gov> ("Pat. O'Brien@usdoj. gov

(E-mail)" <Pat.O'Brien@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Matt Letourneau <matthew_letourneau@Judiciary.senate.gov> (Matt Letourneau <matthew_letourneau@Judiciary.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"John Abegg (E-mail)" <"IMCEACCMAIL-John+20Abegg+20at+20McConnell-DC"@routing.senate.gov> ("John Abegg (E-mail)" <"IMCEACCMAIL-John+20Abegg+20at+20McConnell-DC"@routing.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Heather Wingate (E-mail)" <heather_wingate@who.eop.gov> ("Heather Wingate (E-mail)" <heather_wingate@who.eop.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary)" <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov> ("Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary)" <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Alex Dahl (E-mail)" <"IMCEACCMAIL-Alex+20Dahl+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov> (
"Alex Dahl (E-mail)" <"IMCEACCMAIL-Alex+20Dahl+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov> [
UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

> RPC Legislative Hotline
>
> Call 1-202-224-6888 for the
> Daily Senate Schedule for Friday, April 11, 2003

_____
_____
>
> 9:30 a.m. Morning Business for Senators to speak on the troops in Iraq.
>
> Pending:
>
> The Senate will next convene at 9:30 a.m. Friday, April 11, after adjourning at 7:50 p.m. Thursday, April 10.
>
> At 9:30 a.m., the Senate will be in a period of Morning Business until 10:00 a.m., with the time equally divided between Senator Hutchison and the Minority Leader or his designee, in order for Members to speak on the nation's Armed Forces.
>
> Thereafter, the Senate may resume consideration of Executive Calendar #86, the nomination of Priscilla Owen to be a U.S. Circuit Judge for the Fifth Circuit. The Senate may also consider Executive Calendar #32, the nomination of Jeffrey S. Sutton to be a U.S. Circuit Judge for the Sixth Circuit; S. 196, the Digital Technology bill; FISA; the Project BioShield Bill; or the Conference Reports for the Budget and the Supplemental.
>
> NOTE: Pursuant to a Unanimous Consent agreement, at a time to be determined the Senate will take up S. 196, the Digital Technology bill.
There will be one hour of debate, equally divided, between Senator Allen and the minority. The only amendments in order will be the committee-reported amendments and an Allen amendment making technical corrections to the bill. Following the use or yielding back of time, the Senate will VOTE on passage of the bill.
>
> NOTE: Until further notice, there will be Members-only briefings on Iraq daily (Monday-Friday) from 9:00 a.m.-10:00 a.m. in S-407.
>
> Thursday, April 10's Business:
>
> During Thursday's session of the Senate, 2 roll call votes were conducted:
>

>
> Agreed, 98-0: Conference Report to accompany S. 151, the Protect Act;
>
> Confirmed, 72-24: Executive Calendar #60, Ross Owen Swimmer, of Oklahoma, to be Special Trustee, Office of the Special Trustee for American Indians, Department of the Interior;
>
>
> Passed by Unanimous Consent:
>
> H.R. 1584, implementing effective measures to stop trade in conflict diamonds;
>
> H.R. 1505, designating the facility of the United States Postal Service located at 2127 Beatties Ford Road in Charlotte, North Carolina, as the "Jim Richardson Post Office,"
>
> S. 538, the Lifespan Respite Care Act of 2003, amending the Public Health Service Act to establish a program to assist family caregivers in accessing affordable and high-quality respite care;
>
> S. 783, as amended by a Chambliss amendment, expediting the granting of posthumous citizenship to members of the United States Armed Forces;
>
> S. 870, amending the Richard B. Russell School Lunch Program;
>
> Executive Calendar #116, Lino Gutierrez, of Florida, a Career Member of the Senior Foreign Service, Class of Minister-Counselor, to be Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to Argentina;
>
> Executive Calendar #117, Roland W. Bullen, of Virginia, a Career Member of the Senior Foreign Service, Class of Minister-Counselor, to be Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to the Co-operative Republic of Guyana;
>
> Executive Calendar #118, Eric M. Javits, of New York, for the rank of Ambassador during his tenure of service as United States Representative to the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons;
>
> Executive Calendar #119> , John W. Snow, of Virginia, to be United States Governor of the International Monetary Fund for a term of five years; United States Governor of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development for a term of five years; United States Governor of the Inter-American Development Bank for a term of five years; United States Governor of the African Development Bank for a term of five years; United States Governor of the Asian Development Bank; United States > Governor of the African Development Fund; United States Governor of the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development;
>
> Executive Calendar #121, Ricky Dale James, of Missouri, to be a Member of the Mississippi River Commission for a term of nine years;
>
> Executive Calendar #122, Rear Admiral Nicholas Augustus Prahl, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, to be a Member of the Mississippi River Commission;
>
> Executive Calendar #123, Herbert Guenther, of Arizona, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udall Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;
>
> Executive Calendar #124, Bradley Udell, of Colorado, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;
>
> Executive Calendar #125, Malcolm B. Bowekaty, of New Mexico, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;

>
> Executive Calendar #126, Richard Narcia, of Arizona, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;
>
> Executive Calendar #127, Robert Boldrey, of Michigan, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;
>
> All of the nominations on the Secretary's desk.
>
>
>

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>
Sent: 4/11/2003 4:17:45 AM
Subject: : we are meeting with Colleen and Hagin at 9:15

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 08:17:45.00
SUBJECT:: we are meeting with Colleen and Hagin at 9:15
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Gumerson, Katie (RPC) <Katie_Gumerson@RPC.Senate.Gov>
Sent: 4/11/2003 4:17:44 AM
Subject: : Re: FW: Senate Schedule for Friday, April 11th

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 08:17:44.00
SUBJECT:: Re: FW: Senate Schedule for Friday, April 11th
TO:"Gumerson, Katie (RPC)" <Katie_Gumerson@RPC.Senate.Gov> ("Gumerson, Katie (RPC)" <Katie_Gumerson@RPC.Senate.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

what time is Senate likely to go out Friday?

"Gumerson, Katie (RPC)" <Katie_Gumerson@RPC.Senate.Gov>
04/11/2003 07:53:30 AM
Record Type: Record

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
cc:
Subject: FW: Senate Schedule for Friday, April 11th

> RPC Legislative Hotline
>
> Call 1-202-224-6888 for the
> Daily Senate Schedule for Friday, April 11, 2003
_____
>
> 9:30 a.m. Morning Business for Senators to speak on the troops in Iraq.
>
> Pending:
>
> The Senate will next convene at 9:30 a.m. Friday, April 11, after adjourning at 7:50 p.m. Thursday, April 10.
>
> At 9:30 a.m., the Senate will be in a period of Morning Business until 10:00 a.m., with the time equally divided between Senator Hutchison and the Minority Leader or his designee, in order for Members to speak on the nation's Armed Forces.
>
> Thereafter, the Senate may resume consideration of Executive Calendar
#86, the nomination of Priscilla Owen to be a U.S. Circuit Judge for the Fifth Circuit. The Senate may also consider Executive Calendar #32, the nomination of Jeffrey S. Sutton to be a U.S. Circuit Judge for the Sixth Circuit; S. 196, the Digital Technology bill; FISA; the Project BioShield Bill; or the Conference Reports for the Budget and the Supplemental.

>
> NOTE: Pursuant to a Unanimous Consent agreement, at a time to be determined the Senate will take up S. 196, the Digital Technology bill. There will be one hour of debate, equally divided, between Senator Allen and the minority. The only amendments in order will be the committee-reported amendments and an Allen amendment making technical corrections to the bill. Following the use or yielding back of time, the Senate will VOTE on passage of the bill.
>
> NOTE: Until further notice, there will be Members-only briefings on Iraq daily (Monday-Friday) from 9:00 a.m.-10:00 a.m. in S-407.
>
> Thursday, April 10's Business:
>
> During Thursday's session of the Senate, 2 roll call votes were conducted:
>
>
> Agreed, 98-0: Conference Report to accompany S. 151, the Protect Act;
>
> Confirmed, 72-24: Executive Calendar #60, Ross Owen Swimmer, of Oklahoma, to be Special Trustee, Office of the Special Trustee for American Indians, Department of the Interior;
>
>
> Passed by Unanimous Consent:
>
> H.R. 1584, implementing effective measures to stop trade in conflict diamonds;
>
> H.R. 1505, designating the facility of the United States Postal Service located at 2127 Beatties Ford Road in Charlotte, North Carolina, as the "Jim Richardson Post Office,"
>
> S. 538, the Lifespan Respite Care Act of 2003, amending the Public Health Service Act to establish a program to assist family caregivers in accessing affordable and high-quality respite care;
>
> S. 783, as amended by a Chambliss amendment, expediting the granting of posthumous citizenship to members of the United States Armed Forces;
>
> S. 870, amending the Richard B. Russell School Lunch Program;
>
> Executive Calendar #116, Lino Gutierrez, of Florida, a Career Member of the Senior Foreign Service, Class of Minister-Counselor, to be Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to Argentina;
>
> Executive Calendar #117, Roland W. Bullen, of Virginia, a Career Member of the Senior Foreign Service, Class of Minister-Counselor, to be Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to the Co-operative Republic of Guyana;
>
> Executive Calendar #118, Eric M. Javits, of New York, for the rank of Ambassador during his tenure of service as United States Representative to the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons;
>
> Executive Calendar #119> , John W. Snow, of Virginia, to be United States Governor of the International Monetary Fund for a term of five years; United States Governor of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development for a term of five years; United States Governor of the Inter-American Development Bank for a term of five years; United States

Governor of the African Development Bank for a term of five years; United States Governor of the Asian Development Bank; United States > Governor of the African Development Fund; United States Governor of the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development;
>
> Executive Calendar #121, Ricky Dale James, of Missouri, to be a Member of the Mississippi River Commission for a term of nine years;
>
> Executive Calendar #122, Rear Admiral Nicholas Augustus Prahl, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, to be a Member of the Mississippi River Commission;
>
> Executive Calendar #123, Herbert Guenther, of Arizona, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udall Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;
>
> Executive Calendar #124, Bradley Udell, of Colorado, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;
>
> Executive Calendar #125, Malcolm B. Bowekaty, of New Mexico, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;
>
> Executive Calendar #126, Richard Narcia, of Arizona, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;
>
> Executive Calendar #127, Robert Boldrey, of Michigan, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;
>
> All of the nominations on the Secretary's desk.
>
>
>

Message Sent
To:_____
"Alex Dahl (E-mail)"
<"IMCEACCMAIL-Alex+20Dahl+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov>
"Barbara Ledeen (E-mail)" <barbara_ledeen@src.senate.gov>
Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
"Brown, Jamie E (E-mail)" <jamie.e.brown@usdoj.gov>
"Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary)" <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov>
"Gary Andres (E-mail)" <gary.andres@dutkogroup.com>
"Heather Wingate (E-mail)" <heather_wingate@who.eop.gov>
"Jason Lundell (E-mail)"
<"IMCEACCMAIL-Jason+20Lundell+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov>
"John Abegg (E-mail)"
<"IMCEACCMAIL-John+20Abegg+20at+20McConnell-DC"@routing.senate.gov>
Matthew Kirk/WHO/EOP@EOP
Matt Letourneau <matthew_letourneau@Judiciary.senate.gov>
"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
"Pat. O'Brien@usdoj. gov (E-mail)" <Pat.O'Brien@usdoj.gov>
"Rena Johnson (E-mail)"
<"IMCEACCMAIL-Rena+20Johnson+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov>
"Stephen Higgins (E-mail)"
<"IMCEACCMAIL-Stephen+20Higgins+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov>
"Bini Zomer (E-mail)" <Bini_Zomer@nickles.senate.gov>
"Bret Bernhardt (E-mail)" <bret_bernhardt@nickles.senate.gov>

"Brook Simmons (E-mail)" <Brook_Simmons@nickles.senate.gov>
"Bynum, G.T. (Nickles)" <G.T._Bynum@nickles.senate.gov>
"Chan Kingensmith (E-mail)" <Chan_Klingensmith@nickles.senate.gov>
"Chapman, Tim (Nickles)" <Tim_Chapman@nickles.senate.gov>
"Cynthia Singleton (E-mail)" <Cynthia_Singleton@nickles.senate.gov>
"Derek Albro (E-mail)" <derek_albro@nickles.senate.gov>
"Gayle Osterberg (E-mail)" <Gayle_Osterberg@nickles.senate.gov>
"Heather Reilly (E-mail)" <Heather_Reilly@nickles.senate.gov>
"Jennifer Quinlan (E-mail)" <Jennifer_Quinlan@nickles.senate.gov>
"Lee Morris (E-mail)" <Lee_Morris@nickles.senate.gov>
"Marlo Meuli (E-mail)" <marlo_meuli@nickles.senate.gov>
"McLane Layton (E-mail)" <McLane_Layton@nickles.senate.gov>
"Oliphant, Rachel (Nickles)" <Rachel_Oliphant@nickles.senate.gov>
"Pamela Fleming (E-mail)" <Pamela_Fleming@nickles.senate.gov>
"Stacey Lowder (E-mail)" <Stacey_Lowder@nickles.senate.gov>
"Steve Moffitt (E-mail)" <Steve_Moffitt@nickles.senate.gov>
"Suzanne Schaffrath (E-mail)" <Suzanne_Schaffrath@nickles.senate.gov>
"Zev Teichman (E-mail)" <Zev_Teichman@nickles.senate.gov>

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Jonathan F. Ganter/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jonathan F. Ganter>
Sent: 4/11/2003 4:17:45 AM
Subject: : I need car for 10:10 to Senate Dirksen

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 08:17:45.00
SUBJECT:: I need car for 10:10 to Senate Dirksen
TO:Jonathan F. Ganter ( CN=Jonathan F. Ganter/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: Gumerson, Katie (RPC) <Katie_Gumerson@RPC.Senate.Gov>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/11/2003 4:18:29 AM
Subject: : RE: FW: Senate Schedule for Friday, April 11th

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Gumerson, Katie (RPC)" <Katie_Gumerson@RPC.Senate.Gov> ("Gumerson, Katie (RPC)" <Katie_Gumerson@RPC.Senate.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 08:18:29.00
SUBJECT:: RE: FW: Senate Schedule for Friday, April 11th
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

We hope to go to the Budget Res. this morning - but there are ten hours of debate, hopefully we will not use all of the time. The goal is to be out by 5:00 pm - but it is truly an unknown.

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Friday, April 11, 2003 8:04 AM
To: Gumerson, Katie (RPC)
Subject: Re: FW: Senate Schedule for Friday, April 11th

what time is Senate likely to go out Friday?

(Embedded image moved "Gumerson, Katie (RPC)" to file: <Katie_Gumerson@RPC.Senate.Gov>
pic20417.pcx) 04/11/2003 07:53:30 AM

Record Type: Record

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message

cc:
Subject: FW: Senate Schedule for Friday, April 11th

> RPC Legislative Hotline
>
> Call 1-202-224-6888 for the
> Daily Senate Schedule for Friday, April 11, 2003
_____
_____

>
> 9:30 a.m. Morning Business for Senators to speak on the troops in Iraq.

>
> Pending:
>
> The Senate will next convene at 9:30 a.m. Friday, April 11, after adjourning at 7:50 p.m. Thursday, April 10.
>
> At 9:30 a.m., the Senate will be in a period of Morning Business until 10:00 a.m., with the time equally divided between Senator Hutchison and the Minority Leader or his designee, in order for Members to speak on the nation's Armed Forces.
>
> Thereafter, the Senate may resume consideration of Executive Calendar #86, the nomination of Priscilla Owen to be a U.S. Circuit Judge for the Fifth Circuit. The Senate may also consider Executive Calendar #32, the nomination of Jeffrey S. Sutton to be a U.S. Circuit Judge for the Sixth Circuit; S. 196, the Digital Technology bill; FISA; the Project BioShield Bill; or the Conference Reports for the Budget and the Supplemental.
>
> NOTE: Pursuant to a Unanimous Consent agreement, at a time to be determined the Senate will take up S. 196, the Digital Technology bill. There will be one hour of debate, equally divided, between Senator Allen and the minority. The only amendments in order will be the committee-reported amendments and an Allen amendment making technical corrections to the bill. Following the use or yielding back of time, the Senate will VOTE on passage of the bill.
>
> NOTE: Until further notice, there will be Members-only briefings on Iraq daily (Monday-Friday) from 9:00 a.m.-10:00 a.m. in S-407.
>
> Thursday, April 10's Business:
>
> During Thursday's session of the Senate, 2 roll call votes were conducted:
>
>
> Agreed, 98-0: Conference Report to accompany S. 151, the Protect Act;
>
> Confirmed, 72-24: Executive Calendar #60, Ross Owen Swimmer, of Oklahoma, to be Special Trustee, Office of the Special Trustee for American Indians, Department of the Interior;
>
>
> Passed by Unanimous Consent:
>
> H.R. 1584, implementing effective measures to stop trade in conflict diamonds;
>
> H.R. 1505, designating the facility of the United States Postal Service located at 2127 Beatties Ford Road in Charlotte, North Carolina, as the "Jim Richardson Post Office,"
>
> S. 538, the Lifespan Respite Care Act of 2003, amending the Public Health Service Act to establish a program to assist family caregivers in accessing affordable and high-quality respite care;
>

> S. 783, as amended by a Chambliss amendment, expediting the granting of posthumous citizenship to members of the United States Armed Forces;
>
> S. 870, amending the Richard B. Russell School Lunch Program;
>
> Executive Calendar #116, Lino Gutierrez, of Florida, a Career Member of the Senior Foreign Service, Class of Minister-Counselor, to be Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to Argentina;
>
> Executive Calendar #117, Roland W. Bullen, of Virginia, a Career Member of the Senior Foreign Service, Class of Minister-Counselor, to be Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the United States of America to the Co-operative Republic of Guyana;
>
> Executive Calendar #118, Eric M. Javits, of New York, for the rank of Ambassador during his tenure of service as United States Representative to the Organization for the Prohibition of Chemical Weapons;
>
> Executive Calendar #119> , John W. Snow, of Virginia, to be United States Governor of the International Monetary Fund for a term of five years; United States Governor of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development for a term of five years; United States Governor of the Inter-American Development Bank for a term of five years; United States Governor of the African Development Bank for a term of five years; United States Governor of the Asian Development Bank; United States > Governor of the African Development Fund; United States Governor of the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development;
>
> Executive Calendar #121, Ricky Dale James, of Missouri, to be a Member of the Mississippi River Commission for a term of nine years;
>
> Executive Calendar #122, Rear Admiral Nicholas Augustus Prahl, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, to be a Member of the Mississippi River Commission;
>
> Executive Calendar #123, Herbert Guenther, of Arizona, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udall Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;
>
> Executive Calendar #124, Bradley Udell, of Colorado, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;
>
> Executive Calendar #125, Malcolm B. Bowekaty, of New Mexico, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;
>
> Executive Calendar #126, Richard Narcia, of Arizona, to be a Member of the Board of Trustees of the Morris K Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;

>
> Executive Calendar #127, Robert Boldrey, of Michigan, to be a Member of
the Board of Trustees of the Morris K. Udell Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation;
>
> All of the nominations on the Secretary's desk.
>
>
>

Message Sent
To:_____

"Alex Dahl (E-mail)"
<"IMCEACCMAIL-Alex+20Dahl+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov>
"Barbara Ledeen (E-mail)" <barbara_ledeen@src.senate.gov>
Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
"Brown, Jamie E (E-mail)" <jamie.e.brown@usdoj.gov>
"Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary)"
<Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov>
"Gary Andres (E-mail)" <gary.andres@dutkogroup.com>
"Heather Wingate (E-mail)" <heather_wingate@who.eop.gov>
"Jason Lundell (E-mail)"

<"IMCEACCMAIL-Jason+20Lundell+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov>
"John Abegg (E-mail)"

<"IMCEACCMAIL-John+20Abegg+20at+20McConnell-DC"@routing.senate.gov>
Matthew Kirk/WHO/EOP@EOP
Matt Letourneau <matthew_letourneau@Judiciary.senate.gov>
"Miranda, Manuel (Frist)" <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>
"Pat. O'Brien@usdoj. gov (E-mail)" <Pat.O'Brien@usdoj.gov>
"Rena Johnson (E-mail)"

<"IMCEACCMAIL-Rena+20Johnson+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov>
"Stephen Higgins (E-mail)"

<"IMCEACCMAIL-Stephen+20Higgins+20at+20Judiciary"@routing.senate.gov>
"Bini Zomer (E-mail)" <Bini_Zomer@nickles.senate.gov>
"Bret Bernhardt (E-mail)" <bret_bernhardt@nickles.senate.gov>
"Brook Simmons (E-mail)" <Brook_Simmons@nickles.senate.gov>
"Bynum, G.T. (Nickles)" <G.T._Bynum@nickles.senate.gov>
"Chan Kingensmith (E-mail)"
<Chan_Klingensmith@nickles.senate.gov>
"Chapman, Tim (Nickles)" <Tim_Chapman@nickles.senate.gov>
"Cynthia Singleton (E-mail)"
<Cynthia_Singleton@nickles.senate.gov>
"Derek Albro (E-mail)" <derek_albro@nickles.senate.gov>
"Gayle Osterberg (E-mail)" <Gayle_Osterberg@nickles.senate.gov>
"Heather Reilly (E-mail)" <Heather_Reilly@nickles.senate.gov>
"Jennifer Quinlan (E-mail)" <Jennifer_Quinlan@nickles.senate.gov>
"Lee Morris (E-mail)" <Lee_Morris@nickles.senate.gov>
"Marlo Meuli (E-mail)" <marlo_meuli@nickles.senate.gov>
"McLane Layton (E-mail)" <McLane_Layton@nickles.senate.gov>
"Oliphant, Rachel (Nickles)" <Rachel_Oliphant@nickles.senate.gov>
"Pamela Fleming (E-mail)" <Pamela_Fleming@nickles.senate.gov>
"Stacey Lowder (E-mail)" <Stacey_Lowder@nickles.senate.gov>
"Steve Moffitt (E-mail)" <Steve_Moffitt@nickles.senate.gov>
"Suzanne Schaffrath (E-mail)"
<Suzanne_Schaffrath@nickles.senate.gov>
"Zev Teichman (E-mail)" <Zev_Teichman@nickles.senate.gov>

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>
Sent: 4/11/2003 8:47:02 AM
Subject: : Re: ConfCall, Fri 11:30 am

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 12:47:02.00
SUBJECT:: Re: ConfCall, Fri 11:30 am
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs (CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

right, just want to be careful about opening that all up

From: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/11/2003 12:46:53 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Re: ConfCall, Fri 11:30 am

I know that one, but prob sensitive.
.

From: CN=Matthew A. Schlapp/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/11/2003 4:55:39 AM
Subject: : Re: owe you a call on tymkovich

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Matthew A. Schlapp (CN=Matthew A. Schlapp/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 08:55:39.00
SUBJECT:: Re: owe you a call on tymkovich
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

yes you do sir

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/10/2003 10:53:59 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Matthew A. Schlapp/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: owe you a call on tymkovich

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Colleen Litkenhaus/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Colleen Litkenhaus>
Sent: 4/11/2003 5:01:55 AM
Subject: : Joe's office at 9:15?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 09:01:55.00
SUBJECT:: Joe's office at 9:15?
TO:Colleen Litkenhaus ( CN=Colleen Litkenhaus/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Jonathan F. Ganter/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/11/2003 5:46:39 AM
Subject: : Re: I need car for 10:10 to Senate Dirksen

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Jonathan F. Ganter ( CN=Jonathan F. Ganter/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 09:46:39.00
SUBJECT:: Re: I need car for 10:10 to Senate Dirksen
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

What time do you need to be there? Things are a little unpredictable for them because of the protestors, but they can have a car for sure at 10:15. Is that too late?

Jon
```

From: Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov
To: Peter.D.Keisler@usdoj.gov <Peter.D.Keisler@usdoj.gov>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Bill.Jordan@usdoj.gov <Bill.Jordan@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 4/11/2003 6:10:57 AM
Subject: : RE: Calif. holocaust case
Attachments: P_6EFJF003_WHO.TXT_1.pdf

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov" <Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov> ("Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov" <Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 10:10:57.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Calif. holocaust case
TO:"Peter.D.Keisler@usdoj.gov" <Peter.D.Keisler@usdoj.gov> (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested) ("Peter.D.Keisler@usdoj.gov" <Peter.D.Keisler@usdoj.gov> (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested) [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Bill.Jordan@usdoj.gov" <Bill.Jordan@usdoj.gov> (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested) ("Bill.Jordan@usdoj.gov" <Bill.Jordan@usdoj.gov> (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested) [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Brett, Attached is the amicus brief filed in the Supreme Court in this case, which challenges a California state statute require any insurer doing business in the state to disclose policies issued during Nazi era Germany/Europe in a purported effort to assist holocaust victims with getting money they are due. Apparently, we filed in support of the petitioning insurers, who challenge the statute on foreign affairs and commerce clause grounds.

-----Original Message-----
From: Jordan, Bill
Sent: Friday, April 11, 2003 9:45 AM
To: Keisler, Peter D
Cc: Coffin, Shannen
Subject: Calif. holocaust case

Appellate had no heard of it and Fed Programs is still looking. Shannen will call Brett as soon as we get something.
- 2002-0722.pet.ami[1].pdf
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_6EFJF003_WHO.TXT_1>

No. 02-722

In the Supreme Court of the United States

AMERICAN INSURANCE ASSOCIATION, ET AL.,
PETITIONERS

v.

JOHN GARAMENDI, INSURANCE COMMISSIONER,
STATE OF CALIFORNIA

ON WRIT OF CERTIORARI
TO THE UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS
FOR THE NINTH CIRCUIT

BRIEF FOR THE UNITED STATES AS AMICUS CURIAE SUPPORTING PETITIONERS

PAUL D. CLEMENT
Acting Solicitor General
Counsel of Record

ROBERT D. MCCALLUM, JR.
Assistant Attorney General

EDWIN S. KNEEDLER
Deputy Solicitor General

BARBARA MCDOWELL
Assistant to the Solicitor General

MARK B. STERN
DOUGLAS HALLWARD-DRIEMEIER
Attorneys

Department of Justice
Washington, D.C. 20530-0001
(202) 514–2217

WILLIAM H. TAFT, IV
Legal Adviser
Department of State
Washington, D.C. 20520

REV_00114301

QUESTION PRESENTED

Whether a California statute that requires an insurance company doing business in the State to retrieve, compile, and disclose information about each insurance policy issued by that company or an affiliate in Europe that was in effect between 1920 and 1945 (1) impermissibly intrudes upon the national government's exclusive power over foreign affairs and foreign commerce or (2) regulates extraterritorially in violation of the Commerce Clause, the Due Process Clause, or both.

REV_00114302

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Page
Interest of the United States	1
Statement	1
Summary of argument	8
Argument:
I. HVIRA impermissibly intrudes into matters of foreign relations and foreign commerce reserved to the national government	10
A. Under our constitutional system, the President and Congress exercise exclusive authority over foreign relations and foreign commerce	10
B. HVIRA regulates in an area exclusively reserved to the national government	12
II. HVIRA violates constitutional prohibitions on extraterritorial state regulation	21
A. The Commerce Clause and the Due Process Cause prohibit States from regulating transactions outside their borders	21
B. HVIRA, by imposing disclosure requirements exclusively with respect to foreign transactions between foreign parties, is an impermissible extraterritorial regulation	24
Conclusion	30

TABLE OF AUTHORITIES

Cases:	Page
BMW of N. Am., Inc. v. Gore, 517 U.S. 559 (1996)	22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27
Barclays Bank PLC v. Franchise Tax Bd., 512 U.S. 298 (1994)	19
Brown-Forman Distillers Corp. v. New York State Liquor Auth., 476 U.S. 573 (1986)	22

REV_00114303

Cases—Continued: Page

Chy Lung v. Freeman, 92 U.S. 275 (1875) 12
Crosby v. National Foreign Trade Council, 530 U.S. 363 (2000) 12, 13, 15-16, 18, 19
Dames & Moore v. Regan, 453 U.S. 654 (1981) 9, 11, 12
Deutsch v. Turner Corp., 317 F.3d 1005 (9th Cir. 2003) 7, 11
Dole v. United Steelworkers of Am., 494 U.S. 26 (1990) 26
EEOC v. Arabian Am. Oil Co., 499 U.S. 244 (1991) 23
FTC v. Travelers Health Ass'n, 362 U.S. 293 (1960) 29
Gerling Global Reinsurance Corp. of Am. v. Gallagher, 267 F.3d 1228 (11th Cir. 2001) 21, 26
Healy v. Beer Inst., Inc., 491 U.S. 324 (1989) 9, 22, 24, 25, 27
Hines v. Davidowitz, 312 U.S. 52 (1941) 10, 12
Home Ins. Co. v. Dick, 281 U.S. 397 (1930) 9, 23, 24, 30
Japan Line, Ltd. v County of Los Angeles, 441 U.S. 434 (1979) 10, 12, 23, 25
Oldfield v. Marriott, 51 U.S. (10 How.) 146 (1850) 10
Phillips Petroleum Co. v. Shutts, 472 U.S. 797 (1985) 23, 24
Quill Corp. v. North Dakota, 504 U.S. 298 (1992) 30
Societe Internationale Pour Participations Industrielles Et Commerciales v. Rogers, 357 U.S. 197 (1958) 17
Societe Nationale Industrielle Aerospatiale v. United States District Court, 482 U.S. 522 (1987) 17
Taiheiyo Cement Corp. v. Superior Court, 105 Cal. App. 4th 498 (2003) 7
United States Dep't of the Treas. v. Fabe, 508 U.S. 491 (1993) 28, 29
United States v. Curtiss-Wright Export Corp., 299 U.S. 304 (1936) 14-15
United States v. Pink, 315 U.S. 203 (1942) 10, 11

REV_00114304

Cases—Continued: Page

United States v. South-Eastern Underwriters Ass'n, 322 U.S. 533 (1944) 28
Ware v. Hylton, 3 U.S. (3 Dall.) 199 (1796) 11
Zschernig v. Miller, 389 U.S. 429 (1968) 12, 14, 18

Constitution and statutes:

U.S. Const.:
Art. I 11
§ 8 11
Cl. 1 11
Cl. 3 11
Cl. 10 11
Cl. 11 11
§ 10 11
Art. II 11
§ 2 11
§ 3 11
Amend. XIV:
Commerce Clause ..... passim
Due Process Clause 8, 9, 21, 23, 24, 26, 30
McCarran-Ferguson Act, 15 U.S.C. 1011 et seq. 28
15 U.S.C. 1012(a) 7, 29
15 U.S.C. 1012(b) 29
U.S. Holocaust Assets Commission Act of 1998, Pub. L. No. 105-186, 112 Stat. 611 19
§ 2(a), 112 Stat. 611 19
§ 3(a)(1), 112 Stat. 612 19
§ 3(a)(4)(A), 112 Stat. 613 20
§ 3(a)(4)(B), 112 Stat. 613 20
§ 3(d)(1), 112 Stat. 614 20
Holocaust Victim Insurance Relief Act of 1999, Cal. Ins. Code §§ 13800 et seq. (West Supp. 2003) 4-5
§ 13801 14
§ 13801(d) 27
§ 13801(e) 27
§ 13801(f) 5

REV_00114305

Statutes—Continued: Page

§ 13802(c) 5
§ 13803 5
§ 13804 ..... 5, 14
§ 13804(a) 5
§ 13804(a)(1) 5
§ 13804(b) 5
§ 13806 5
Cal. Civ. Pro. Code (West Supp. 2003):
§ 354.3 7
§ 354.5(a) 6
§ 354.5(b) 6
§ 354.5(c) 6
§ 354.6 7
Cal. Ins. Code (West 1993):
§ 717(h) 28
§ 733 28
§ 791.13 25
§ 1215.6 28
Cal. Ins. Code (West Supp. 2003):
§ 790.15(a) 7
§ 790.15(b)(1) 7
§ 12967(a)(1) 6
§ 12967(a)(2) 6
Assembly Bill No. 1334, 1998 Cal. Stat. ch. 43 6
Senate Bill No. 1530, 1998 Cal. Stat. ch. 963 6
10 Barclays Cal. Code Reg. § 2278.1(a) 14

Miscellaneous:

Agreement Between the International Comm'n on Holocaust Era Insurance Claims, the Foundation "Remembrance, Responsibility, and the Future" and the German Ins. Ass'n (Oct. 16, 2000) <http://www.icheic.org/eng/press.html> 4
David Bender, Privacy Law, 717 PLI/PAT 563 (2002) ... 17
Exchange of Notes (Jan. 23, 2001) <http://www.usembassy.at/en/policy/annexa.htm> 4

REV_00114306

Miscellaneous—Continued: Page

The Federalist No. 80 (Alexander Hamilton) (J. Cook ed., 1961) 19

Governor's Veto Message, A.B. 1715 (Sept. 17, 1998) <http://www.leginfo.ca.gov/pub/97-98/bill/asm/ab_1701-1705/ab_1715_vt_19980927.html> 6

H.R. Rep. No. 143, 79th Cong., 1st Sess. (1945) 28-29

Joint Statement Between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Swiss Confederation (Jan. 29, 2000) <http://www.us.embassy.ch/NEWS/jointstatement.htm> 4, 16

Tracie B. Loring, An Analysis of the Informational Privacy Protection Afforded by the European Union and the United States, 37 Tex. Int'l L.J. 421 (2002) 16

Office of the Spokesman, U.S. Dep't of State, Holocaust Insurance Agreement Signed (Oct. 17, 2002) 2, 17

Office of the Spokesman, U.S. Dep't of State, International Commission on Holocaust Era Insurance Claims Begins World-Wide Effort to Identify Unpaid Claims (Feb. 15, 2000) 2-3

Presidential Advisory Commission on Holocaust Assets in the United States, Plunder and Restitution: The U.S. and Holocaust Victims' Assests (Dec. 2000) 20

REV_00114307

In the Supreme Court of the United States

No. 02-722

AMERICAN INSURANCE ASSOCIATION, ET AL.,
PETITIONERS

v.

JOHN GARAMENDI, INSURANCE COMMISSIONER,
STATE OF CALIFORNIA

ON WRIT OF CERTIORARI
TO THE UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS
FOR THE NINTH CIRCUIT

BRIEF FOR THE UNITED STATES AS AMICUS CURIAE SUPPORTING PETITIONERS

INTEREST OF THE UNITED STATES

The United States has engaged in extensive diplomatic efforts to assure that the nations and enterprises responsible for the Holocaust provide some measure of justice to their victims. In so doing, the United States has consistently encouraged the use of voluntary, non-adversarial mechanisms for resolving Holocaust victims' claims. California has adopted a different approach. The State has enacted a series of related statutes, including the one challenged here, to provide a separate means of resolving those claims. Such state laws directly interfere with the national government's authority over foreign affairs and foreign commerce.

STATEMENT

1. a. Since the end of World War II, the United States has committed substantial diplomatic resources to achieving

REV_00114308

some measure of justice for the victims of Nazism. The United States and its allies entered into treaties with the post-War governments of Germany and Austria that required them to pay compensation to such persons. See Pet. App. 97a-98a. More recently, the United States has engaged in extensive international discussions concerning claims of Holocaust victims and their heirs. As a result of those discussions, the United States has entered into executive agreements with Germany and Austria and has issued a joint statement with Switzerland.

As with Holocaust-related claims generally, the United States has sought to encourage the resolution of insurance claims of Holocaust victims and their heirs "through cooperative means outside of litigation." Office of the Spokesman, U.S. Dep't of State, Holocaust Insurance Agreement Signed (Oct. 17, 2002). The United States has promoted the expeditious disposition of such claims in accordance with the procedures established by the International Commission on Holocaust Era Insurance Claims (ICHEIC).

ICHEIC is a voluntary organization formed by five European insurance companies, the State of Israel, Jewish organizations, and the National Association of Insurance Commissioners. The United States has observer status in ICHEIC, as do several European countries, including Germany, France, Italy, Poland, and the Czech Republic. ICHEIC is chaired by former Secretary of State Lawrence S. Eagleburger. Through ICHEIC, Holocaust victims' insurance claims are processed and checked against European insurers' records in a manner consistent with participating insurers' concerns that they not violate European data privacy laws.

The United States has repeatedly stated that ICHEIC "should be recognized as the exclusive remedy for all insurance claims that date to the Nazi era" and has "encourag[ed] all insurance companies that wrote policies during the Nazi era to join the ICHEIC." Office of the Spokesman, U.S.

REV_00114309

Dep't of State, International Commission on Holocaust Era Insurance Claims Begins World-Wide Effort to Identify Unpaid Claims (Feb. 15, 2000); see Pet. App. 177a (statement of Ambassador Randolph M. Bell, Special Envoy for Holocaust Issues) (reiterating United States' position that ICHEIC should be viewed as "the exclusive remedy for unresolved insurance claims from the National Socialist era and World War II").

b. The United States' approach to resolving Holocaust victims' claims, including insurance claims, is reflected in the executive agreement entered into between the United States and Germany in 2000. See Pet. App. 153a-168a. That agreement recognizes the creation of a foundation in Germany, funded with $5 billion from public and private sources, to address Holocaust-era claims against German companies that were not addressed by earlier measures. The German government agreed to supervise the activities of the foundation. Id. at 155a-156a. The United States, in turn, agreed to inform its courts that "it would be in [its] foreign policy interests * * * for the Foundation to be the exclusive remedy and forum for resolving [Holocaust-era] claims asserted against German companies." Id. at 156a. The United States also agreed to "use its best efforts" to promote the objectives of the agreement, including the achievement of an "all-embracing and enduring legal peace" with respect to such claims. Ibid.

The agreement specifically endorses ICHEIC as the proper vehicle for resolving Holocaust-era insurance claims. Germany agreed that all claims by or on behalf of Holocaust victims against German insurance companies would be processed based on ICHEIC procedures and additional procedures to be agreed upon among ICHEIC, the foundation, and the German Insurance Association. Pet. App. 156a.[1]

REV_00114310

The additional procedures recently established by ICHEIC and the German entities provide, among other things, for potential claims to be checked against insurance companies' records in a manner consistent with German privacy law. ICHEIC publishes a list that includes only the names of policyholders who are believed to have been Holocaust victims (based on information from various sources such as German census records) and those policyholders' years of birth. See Agreement between the International Comm'n on Holocaust Era Insurance Claims, the Foundation "Remembrance, Responsibility, and the Future" and the German Ins. Ass'n Annex H, Para. IV (Oct. 16, 2002) <http://www.icheic.org/eng/press.html>.

2. The State of California has taken a different approach to securing compensation for Holocaust victims and their families. In a series of closely related statutes, including the one challenged in this case, the State has sought to use its regulatory authority to compel resolution of Holocaust-era insurance claims.

a. The statute at issue here, the Holocaust Victim Insurance Relief Act of 1999 (HVIRA), Cal. Ins. Code §§ 13800 et

---

[1] The executive agreement between the United States and Austria, which consists of an exchange of diplomatic notes and annexes, contains nearly identical undertakings. See Exchange of Notes Annex A, Para. 14 (Jan. 23, 2001) <http://www.usembassy.at/en/policy/annex_a.htm>. The joint statement of the United States and Switzerland similarly endorses ICHEIC and notes the "potentially disruptive and counterproductive effects of investigative initiatives or the threat or actual use of sanctions on a sub-federal level against insurers, including those that are * * * participants in [ICHEIC]." Joint Statement Between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Swiss Confederation (Jan. 29, 2000) <http://www.us-embassy.ch/NEWS/ jointstatement. htm>.

REV_00114311

seq. (West Supp. 2003), requires each insurance company doing business in the State to disclose for publication detailed information concerning policies issued by the company or its affiliates in Europe decades ago. See id. §§ 13803, 13804. HVIRA requires disclosure of information concerning "life, property, liability, health, annuities, dowry, educational, or casualty insurance policies" that were sold "directly or through a related company, to persons in Europe, which were in effect between 1920 and 1945." Id. § 13804(a). As to each policy, the insurer must disclose "[t]he holder, beneficiary, and current status," the policyholder's "city of origin, domicile, or address," id.§ 13804(a)(1), whether the policy proceeds have been paid, id. § 13804(b), and, if not, the policy's value, id. §§ 13802(c), 13804(b). A domestic insurer is required to disclose such information about any such policies sold by its European affiliates, "whether the sale occurred before or after the insurer and the related company became related." Id. § 13804(a). The information is to be entered in a Holocaust Era Insurance Registry that is accessible to the public. Id. § 13803. The Commissioner of Insurance must suspend the license of any insurer that fails to provide the information. Id. § 13806.

HVIRA declares that its requirements are "necessary to protect the claims and interests of California residents," including some 5600 Holocaust survivors living in the State, and "to encourage the development of a resolution to these issues through the international process or through direct action by the State." Cal. Ins. Code § 13801(f) (West Supp. 2003). HVIRA's requirements apply to every insurance policy issued in Europe during the relevant period, however, without regard to whether the policyholder or the beneficiary ever resided in California.

b. In 1998, the California Legislature approved not only HVIRA, which was initially vetoed by the Governor and did not become law until the following year,[2] but also two related measures that did become law. See Assembly Bill No. 1334, 1998 Cal. Stat. ch. 43; Senate Bill No. 1530, 1998 Cal. Stat. ch. 963.

REV_00114312

Assembly Bill No. 1334, which was designed "to provide just compensation to aging Holocaust victims," 1998 Cal. Stat., ch. 43, § 3, authorizes suits on Holocaust-era insurance policies in California courts, Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 354.5(b) (West Supp. 2003). It permits suits to be brought against any insurer that is "related" to the insurer that issued the policy. Id. § 354.5(a) and (b). It also abolishes any statute-of-limitations defense if the suit is brought by 2010, id. § 354.5(b) and (c), declares that forum-selection provisions in Holocaust-era policies are unenforceable, 1998 Cal. Stat., ch. 43, § 1(b), and provides that the policies, although issued in Europe, are "subject to California law," ibid.

Senate Bill No. 1530, in turn, directs the Commissioner of Insurance to "work to recover information and records that will strengthen the claims of California residents" with respect Holocaust-era policies by undertaking "a coordinated approach to gather, review, and analyze the archives of insurers and other archives and records." Cal. Ins. Code § 12967(a)(1) and (2) (West Supp. 2003). That measure also requires the Commissioner to suspend the license of any California insurer if it "or any affiliate * * * has failed to pay any valid claim" of Holocaust victims or their heirs,

---

[2] Governor Pete Wilson vetoed the original HVIRA as unnecessary and unduly broad. Governor's Veto Message, A.B. 1715 (Sept. 27, 1998). HVIRA was reintroduced and passed in 1999 with only minor modifications. The accompanying committee report explained that HVIRA was a necessary supplement to existing laws because it provides for dissemination of policy information to potential claimants, so that they "can take direct action on their own behalf." Gerling Appellees' C.A. Reh'g Pet., Exh. J.

REV_00114313

whether or not the claimant is a resident of the State. Id. § 790.15(a) and (b)(1).[3]

3. a. Petitioners, insurers that do business in California and that have European affiliates, brought suit to challenge the constitutionality of HVIRA. The district court entered a preliminary injunction against enforcement of the statute. The court held that petitioners had shown a probability of succeeding on their claims that HVIRA impermissibly "interferes with the national government's exclusive power over external affairs," Pet. App. 95a-105a, and regulates extraterritorially in violation of the Commerce Clause, id. at 106a-110a.

b. The court of appeals rejected each of the constitutional grounds on which the preliminary injunction was based. Pet. App. 34a-60a. The court held that HVIRA, as an insurance regulation, is exempted from Commerce Clause scrutiny by the McCarran-Ferguson Act, 15 U.S.C. 1012(b). See Pet. App. 41a-45a. The court also suggested that HVIRA does not, in any event, regulate extraterritorially because HVIRA "requires California companies only to provide

---

[3] California has enacted other laws to assist private individuals' claims arising out of events that occurred abroad during World War II. In 1999, California enacted a statute that creates a cause of action, with uniquely favorable substantive and procedural rules, for "any Second World War slave labor victim" or "Second World War forced labor victim," or the heirs of such victim, against "any entity or successor in interest thereof for whom that labor was performed, either directly or through a subsidiary or affiliate." Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 354.6 (West Supp. 2003). The Ninth Circuit recently struck down that statute as an impermissible intrusion into matters of international relations reserved to the national government. Deutsch v. Turner Corp., 317 F.3d 1005 (2003); but see Taiheiyo Cement Corp. v. Superior Court, 105 Cal. App. 4th 398 (2003) (upholding statute). In 2002, California enacted a further statute that permits Holocaust victims to bring suit in California to recover looted artwork, regardless of whether the property is located in the State. See Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 354.3.

REV_00114314

information about" Holocaust-era policies. Id. at 43a. The court also held that HVIRA does not impermissibly interfere with the national government's authority over foreign affairs. Id. at 58a-59a. The court remanded the case for consideration of petitioners' due process claim.

4. a. On remand, the district court permanently enjoined the enforcement of HVIRA. The court held that HVIRA violates the Due Process Clause by suspending insurers' licenses for not making the required disclosures without enabling them to raise defenses such as a foreign-law prohibition on disclosure. Pet. App. 78a-83a.

b. The court of appeals reversed. Pet. App. 1a-33a. The court held that HVIRA does not violate due process constraints on state legislative jurisdiction because HVIRA merely regulates the insurance industry within California. Pet. App. 9a. The court also held that HVIRA does not violate due process by denying insurers an opportunity to defend against the suspension of their licenses. Id. at 20a-29a. The court reiterated its earlier holdings rejecting challenges to HVIRA under the Commerce Clause and the foreign affairs power. Id. at 29a.

SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT

This case arises out of an attempt by a single State to extend its regulatory authority into other nations, thereby undermining the foreign policy of the United States. California, in HVIRA, has sought to compel the disclosure of vast amounts of information contained in foreign archives concerning foreign transactions among foreign parties. It has done so for the express purpose of enabling victims of Nazi Germany to pursue claims with respect to insurance policies issued in Europe before and during the Second World War. HVIRA exceeds several distinct, but complementary, constraints that the Constitution imposes on a State's regulatory authority, all of which serve to avoid unseemly conflict with the national government, with other States, and with other nations acting within the sphere of their own authority.

REV_00114315

I. HVIRA impermissibly intrudes into a field—the conduct of the United States' diplomatic and commercial relations with other nations—that is exclusively reserved to the President and Congress. The national government's authority over external relations includes the authority to resolve claims arising out of, or in connection with, international conflicts. See, e.g., Dames & Moore v. Regan, 453 U.S. 654, 679-680 (1981).

California has sought in HVIRA to establish its own separate mechanisms for resolving such claims. HVIRA is specifically concerned with gathering information concerning European insurance transaction in order to facilitate claims by and on behalf of victims of Nazi Germany. Moreover, HVIRA threatens to impair the United States government's own approach to the resolution of Holocaust victims' claims —an approach that encourages the use of voluntary non-adversarial mechanisms, in contrast to coercive regulation and litigation. The United States' ability to persuade foreign governments and foreign enterprises to participate in voluntary mechanisms is undermined by state regulations such as HVIRA, which impose additional obligations on foreign enterprises, through their domestic affiliates, for the purpose of aiding the assertion of claims against those foreign enterprises in California judicial proceedings or elsewhere. Indeed, HVIRA has generated the very tension with our European allies that the United States has sought to avoid.

II. HVIRA also regulates extraterritorially in violation of both the Commerce Clause and the Due Process Clause. Those Clauses impose similar constraints on a State's ability to regulate activity that occurs outside its borders. See, e.g., Healy v. Beer Inst., Inc., 491 U.S. 324, 336 (1989); Home Ins. Co. v. Dick, 281 U.S. 397, 407-408 (1930). HVIRA compels the retrieval, compilation, and public disclosure of information located outside the State, concerning transactions that occurred outside the State, between parties who were not residents of the State. Accordingly, even if the statute applied to policies issued in New York to New York residents, rather than to policies issued in Europe to Europeans, it would exceed the State's authority.

REV_00114316

ARGUMENT

I. HVIRA IMPERMISSIBLY INTRUDES INTO MATTERS OF FOREIGN RELATIONS AND FOREIGN COMMERCE RESERVED TO THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT

A. Under Our Constitutional System, The President And Congress Exercise Exclusive Authority Over Foreign Relations And Foreign Commerce

As the Court has emphasized, "[i]n international relations and with respect to foreign intercourse and trade the people of the United States act through a single government with unified and adequate national power." Japan Line, Ltd. v. County of Los Angeles, 441 U.S. 434, 448 (1979); see, e.g., Hines v. Davidowitz, 312 U.S. 52, 63 (1941) ("The Federal Government * * * is entrusted with full and exclusive responsibility for the conduct of affairs with foreign sovereignties."). It necessarily follows that "[p]ower over external affairs is not shared by the States," but instead "is vested in the national government exclusively." United States v. Pink, 315 U.S. 203, 233 (1942).

The national government's preeminent role in acting for the United States in the international arena was forged out of the experience under the Articles of Confederation, when the States had undermined the national government's efforts to engage in political and commercial relations with other nations. See, e.g., Oldfield v. Marriott, 51 U.S. (10 How.) 146, 163-165 (1850). The Constitution's reservation of such powers exclusively to the national government is reflected in its express grants of power to Congress,[4] and to the President,[5] and in its express restrictions on the States.[6] Those provisions serve to set matters of foreign commerce, foreign relations, and war in a field apart. It is a field that the States may not enter.

REV_00114317

The national government has traditionally exercised its foreign relations and war powers with respect to the resolution of private parties' claims arising out of international conflicts. See, e.g., Dames & Moore, 453 U.S. at 679 ("[T]he United States has repeatedly exercised its sovereign authority to settle the claims of its nationals against foreign countries."); Pink, 315 U.S. at 240 (Frankfurter, J., concurring) ("That the President's control of foreign relations includes the settlement of claims is indisputable."); Ware v. Hylton, 3 U.S. (3 Dall.) 199, 230 (1796); Deutsch v. Turner Corp., 317 F.3d 1005, 1025 (9th Cir. 2003) ("[T]he Constitution allocates the power over foreign affairs to the federal government exclusively, and the power to make and resolve war, including

---

[4] Those include Congress's powers to "provide for the common Defence," "regulate Commerce with foreign Nations," "define and punish Piracies and Felonies committed on the high Seas, and Offenses against the Law of Nations," and "declare War, grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal, and make Rules concerning Captures on Land and Water." U.S. Const. Art. I, § 8, Cls. 1, 3, 10, 11.

[5] Those include the President's powers to serve as "Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy," "make Treaties" and "appoint Ambassadors [and] other public Ministers and Consuls" with the advice and consent of the Senate, and "receive Ambassadors." U.S. Const. Art. II, §§ 2, 3.

[6] Those include restrictions on the States' "enter[ing] into any Treaty, Alliance, or Confederation," "grant[ing] Letters of Marque and Reprisal," "lay[ing] any Imposts or Duties on Imports or Exports," "enter[ing] into any Agreement or Compact * * * with a foreign Power," and "engag[ing] in War." U.S. Const. Art. I, § 10.

REV_00114318

the authority to resolve war claims, is central to the foreign affairs power in the constitutional design.").

In light of the "imperative[] * * * that federal power in the field affecting foreign relations be left entirely free from local interference," Hines, 312 U.S. at 63, state "regulations must give way if they impair the effective exercise of the Nation's foreign policy," Zschernig v. Miller, 389 U.S. 429, 440 (1968), or prevent the United States from "speak[ing] with one voice when regulating commercial relations with foreign governments," Japan Line, 441 U.S. at 449. This Court has struck down state laws that engaged a State in matters affecting the Nation's external affairs "even in [the] absence of a treaty" or an Act of Congress, Zschernig, 389 U.S. at 441, as inconsistent with the Constitution's assignment to the national government of the authority to conduct foreign relations or, in the commercial area, as inconsistent with the Foreign Commerce Clause. See, e.g., Japan Line, 441 U.S. at 452-453; Zschernig, 389 U.S. at 436; Chy Lung v. Freeman, 92 U.S. 275, 279-281 (1875); cf. Crosby v. National Foreign Trade Council, 530 U.S. 363, 381-382 n.16 (2000) (noting such cases).

B. HVIRA Regulates In An Area Exclusively Reserved To The National Government

HVIRA intrudes into the field of foreign relations reserved exclusively to the national government. This Court has repeatedly recognized that the President and Congress have the sole authority to resolve, or to establish the mechanisms to resolve, the claims of United States nationals arising out of international conflicts. See, e.g., Dames & Moore, 453 U.S. at 679. It follows a fortiori that the resolution of claims of foreign nationals arising out of, or in connection with, an international conflict is also a matter reserved exclusively to the President and Congress. A State is without authority to pursue its own independent approach to such claims, even if the United States and the State "share the same goals," because "[t]he fact of a common end hardly neutralizes conflicting means." Crosby, 530 U.S. at 379. The conflict between the means chosen by the United States and by California to resolve Holocaust victims' insurance claims is quite evident.

REV_00114319

1. As explained above (at 1-4), with respect to still-unresolved claims against foreign enterprises arising out of the Holocaust, the United States has determined that those claims should be pursued through voluntary, non-adversarial processes rather than through coercive regulation and litigation. The United States has concluded that such an approach serves the interests of Holocaust victims and their families throughout the world, including the interests of elderly survivors of the Holocaust in obtaining some measure of justice within their lifetimes. The United States has also concluded that a non-adversarial approach serves important interests of the Nation in cooperative relations with its European allies.

More particularly, the United States, in its executive agreements with Germany and Austria and its other recent diplomatic efforts, has encouraged the use of ICHEIC as the exclusive mechanism for resolving Holocaust-era insurance claims. Those agreements do not, of their own force, extinguish any claims that Holocaust victims or their families might assert in court against foreign insurance companies.[7] They do make clear, however, that United States policy disfavors the imposition of further obligations on companies

[7] Because the claims almost exclusively concern persons and transactions that had no relation to the United States at the time of the conduct at issue, it is understandable that the United States government did not seek to extinguish or resolve the claims under the laws or international agreements of this Nation or by coercive processes under our laws, and instead sought to promote resolution by other means.

REV_00114320

subject to the agreements, whether through regulation or litigation, beyond the obligations contemplated by the agreements themselves. Thus, the executive agreement between the United States and Germany recognizes that it is "in the[] interests" of the two governments for the designated claims process "to be the exclusive remedy and forum for the resolution of all claims that have been or may be asserted against German companies arising from the National Socialist era and World War II." Pet. App. 155a.

HVIRA poses a direct threat to "the effective exercise," Zschernig, 389 U.S. at 440, of United States policy with respect to Holocaust victims' insurance claims. HVIRA is not a law of general applicability with only an incidental effect on matters outside the State or the United States, or on the national government's ongoing efforts in the international arena. To the contrary, HVIRA imposes disclosure requirements that are applicable only to insurance policies issued "to persons in Europe" during the period leading up to and including the Second World War. Cal. Ins. Code § 13804 (West Supp. 2003); see 10 Barclays Cal. Code Regs. § 2278.1(a) (defining term "Europe" in HVIRA as those parts of Europe "occupied or controlled by Nazi Germany, its allies or sympathizers"). HVIRA imposes those requirements for the express purpose of assisting Holocaust victims and their families in pursuing claims with respect to those policies, whether through "international process" or through judicial proceedings or enforcement actions by the State. See Cal. Ins. Code § 13801(b) (HVIRA is intended "to encourage the development of a resolution to these issues through the international process or through direct action by the State"). California has thereby thrust itself into the field of foreign relations and foreign commerce that is reserved exclusively to Congress and the President, who "is the sole organ of the nation in its external relations, and its sole representative with foreign nations." United States v.

REV_00114321

Curtiss-Wright Export Corp., 299 U.S. 304, 319 (1936) (quoting statement of John Marshall).

California has proceeded, moreover, in a manner that conflicts with the approach that the national government has elected to pursue. HVIRA not only requires the disclosure of Holocaust-era policy information to an entity in addition to ICHEIC, but also requires the disclosure of information substantially in addition to that required by ICHEIC. And HVIRA imposes a significant economic penalty—suspension of a license to do business—on California affiliates of insurers that fail to make those disclosures. HVIRA thus establishes "a different, state system of economic pressure," Crosby, 530 U.S. at 376, that conflicts with the ICHEIC system endorsed by the United States, and that threatens to impede its implementation and operation.

At a minimum, such state laws "compromise the very capacity of the President to speak for the Nation with one voice in dealing with other governments." Crosby, 530 U.S. at 381. The United States has stated that participation in the voluntary processes that it has endorsed should "give[] those companies cooperating with [ICHEIC] 'safe haven' from sanctions, subpoenas, and hearings relative to the Holocaust period." Testimony of Stuart E. Eizenstat, Deputy Secretary of the Treasury, before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee (Apr. 5, 2000) (Pet. App. 136a); see Pet. App. 156a (United States undertakes in its agreement with Germany to "use its best efforts * * * with state and local governments" to achieve an "all-embracing and enduring legal peace"). HVIRA, however, makes no exception even for companies that participate in ICHEIC or similar organizations. Indeed, HVIRA and the related California statutes appear designed to facilitate continuing litigation. HVIRA thereby undermines the United States' ability to persuade foreign governments and foreign companies to participate voluntarily in organizations such as ICHEIC. See Crosby,

REV_00114322

530 U.S. at 377 (recognizing that the President's "economic and diplomatic leverage" is reduced by state laws that seek to penalize foreign governments or foreign commerce); see also Joint Statement Between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Swiss Confederation (Jan. 29, 2000) (noting the "potentially disruptive and counterproductive effects" of laws such as HVIRA); Letter from Stuart E. Eizenstat, Deputy Secretary of the Treasury, to Gray Davis, Governor (Nov. 30, 1999) (Pet. App. 123a-125a) (observing that HVIRA could "undermine" the ICHEIC claims resolution process and "de[r]ail" negotiations between the United States and Germany concerning claims of Nazi slave and forced laborers).

The potential for HVIRA to complicate the United States' diplomatic efforts is illustrated by contrasting the information that insurers are required to disclose under the ICHEIC procedures endorsed by the United States with the information that insurers are required to disclose under HVIRA. As contemplated by the United States and Germany in their executive agreement, ICHEIC, the German foundation, and the German Insurance Association developed rules to govern what information about Holocaust-era insurance policies must be made available in order to provide adequate notice to potential claimants while safeguarding the privacy interests of other persons under German (or other European) law.[8] Those rules require the disclosure

---

[8] Many European countries, like California and other States, limit the disclosure of personal information obtained through commercial transactions, including insurance transactions. See, e.g., Tracie B. Loring, An Analysis of the Informational Privacy Protection Afforded by the European Union and the United States, 37 Tex. Int'l L.J. 421, 423-425, 434-439 (2002) (describing the development of laws protecting personal information in the nations comprising the European Union). European laws have been described as more comprehensive in their protection of personal data than are laws in the United States. See id. at 425 ("Unlike the European

REV_00114323

only of the name of any policyholder who is believed to have been a Holocaust victim and that person's year of birth. See p. 4, supra. Insurers are not required to provide other information, such as the value of a policy or the named beneficiary, with respect to policies issued to Holocaust victims, and are not required to provide any information about policies issued to other persons. HVIRA is not so limited. See p. 5, supra (information that must be disclosed under HVIRA). Thus, whereas the United States' diplomatic efforts have sought to resolve Holocaust victims' claims while accommodating the interests of Germany and other nations to minimize conflict with European privacy laws, HVIRA strikes a different balance that fails to account for those interests.[9]

Union's omnibus, centralized approach to informational privacy, which reflects the notion that data protection must be ensured by comprehensive legislation, data protection regulation in the United States is decentralized, fragmented, ad hoc, and narrowly tailored to target specific sectors."); David Bender, Privacy Law, 717 PLI/Pat 563, 579 (2002) ("In contrast to the piecemeal U.S. approach that relies largely on self-regulation, the European Union in 1995 adopted a data protection directive * * * that required each of the 15 member states to enact comprehensive data protection legislation.").

[9] As this Court has recognized, when information is sought in the United States from a foreign individual or entity, the data privacy statutes of the foreign party's own government are not controlling. See Societe Nationale Industrielle Aerospatiale v. United States District Court, 482 U.S. 522, 544-545 n.29 (1987); Societe Internationale Pour Participations Industrielles Et Commerciales v. Rogers, 357 U.S. 197, 204-206 (1958). Thus, for example, a foreign "blocking" statute does "not deprive an American court of the power to order a party subject to its jurisdiction to produce evidence even though the act of production may violate that statute." Aerospatiale, 482 U.S. at 544 n.29. Here, in contrast, the constitutional deficiency in HVIRA is not merely that it imposes disclosure obligations on foreign insurers that may conflict with their own governments' privacy laws, but rather that it conflicts with the United States government's approach to the resolution of Holocaust victims'

REV_00114324

HVIRA has generated the very tensions in international relations that the United States has sought to avoid, prompting protests from the governments of Germany and Switzerland concerning HVIRA's application to insurance policies written in those countries. See Zschernig, 389 U.S. at 437 n.7 (relying on similar protests to conclude that state statute impermissibly interfered with national government's authority over foreign affairs); cf. Crosby, 530 U.S. at 382-384. It is not for respondents to trivialize the potential implications of those protests for United States foreign policy (see Supp. Br. in Opp. 2), especially at a time of international tension when relations between this Nation and its European allies are at their most sensitive. State government officials, who are not part of the process through which the Nation formulates and conducts its international relations, are not well positioned to evaluate what adverse impact their actions may have for those relations. They cannot, for example, be expected to make an informed assessment of whether, or how, or when a foreign government might respond to provocative state legislation, or how detrimental the response might be to various important interests of the United States as a whole. "Experience has shown that international controversies of the gravest moment, sometimes even leading to war, may arise from real or imagined wrongs to another's subjects inflicted, or permitted, by a government." Zschernig, 389 U.S. at 441.

The proliferation of laws in California and other States that seek to facilitate claims against the United States' current allies or their citizens arising out of past international conflicts (see, e.g., note 3, supra) demonstrates the danger of allowing States, which are not simultaneously dealing with foreign governments on many other important initiatives, to claims against those insurers, an approach that is itself more deferential to European privacy concerns.

---

REV_00114325

pursue their own foreign policies. As the Court recently reaffirmed, the Framers were determined that, because "[t]he union will undoubtedly be answerable to foreign powers for the conduct of its members," "the peace of the WHOLE ought not to be left at the disposal of a PART." Crosby, 530 U.S. at 381-382 n.16 (quoting The Federalist No. 80, at 535-536 (Alexander Hamilton) (J. Cooke ed., 1961)).

2. The court of appeals erred in refusing, based on a misunderstanding of Barclays Bank PLC v. Franchise Tax Board, 512 U.S. 298 (1994), to consider the Executive Branch's views regarding HVIRA's foreign policy ramifications. See Pet. App. 55a. As this Court has explained, Barclays addressed an unusual situation in which Congress and the Executive had taken divergent positions. See Crosby, 530 U.S. at 385-386; Barclays, 512 U.S. at 324-330. Crosby reaffirms the central importance in other situations of the President's views in exercising his constitutional responsibility "to speak for the Nation with one voice in dealing with other governments." 530 U.S. at 381, 385-386.

Contrary to the view of the court of appeals (see Pet. App. 47a-50a), the U.S. Holocaust Assets Commission Act of 1998, Pub. L. No. 105-186, 112 Stat. 611, does not authorize States to enact statutes such as HVIRA. That Act, in fact, confirms that California has departed from the course charted by the United States. As relevant here, the Act established a "Presidential Advisory Commission on Holocaust Assets in the United States" to investigate the disposition of certain Holocaust-era assets that "came into the possession or control of the Federal Government" after January 30, 1933. Id. §§ 2(a) and 3(a)(1), 112 Stat. 611, 612. The Act, among other things, directed the Commission to "encourage the National Association of Insurance Commissioners to prepare a report on the Holocaust-related claims practices of all insurance companies, both domestic and foreign, doing business in the United States at any time after January 30, 1933," that issued an insurance policy to "any individual on any list of Holocaust victims." Id. § 3(a)(4)(A), 112 Stat. 613.

REV_00114326

Nothing in the federal Act imposes disclosure obligations on insurers under threat of sanctions. Nor does the Act confer any authority on the States to do so. To the contrary, the Act contemplates the gathering of information only "to the degree [it] is available." Pub. L. No. 105-186, § 3(a)(4)(B), 112 Stat. 613, 614. Moreover, unlike HVIRA, which is explicitly directed at facilitating individual claims against European insurers, the federal Act is concerned, among other things, with collecting information on "the Holocaust-related claims practices" of insurers "doing business in the United States," to assist the Commission in preparing a report to the President containing "recommendations for such legislative, administrative, or other action as it deems necessary or appropriate." Id. § 3(a)(4)(A) and 3(d)(1), 112 Stat. 613, 614 (emphasis added). And, whereas HVIRA seeks specific information about each policy issued by each European insurer during the relevant period, the federal Act seeks more general information, such as "[t]he number of policies issued by each company" to Holocaust victims. Id. § 3(a)(4)(B), 112 Stat. 613. Although the federal Act does seek information on the value of each such policy, it does not require the policyholder or beneficiary to be identified. It thus does not present the same privacy concerns as does HVIRA.[10]

---

[10] The federal Commission's final report does not disclose any private information regarding the insurance policies issued by European insurers to Holocaust victims. To the contrary, the report discusses such policies only in general terms, such as by describing the ways in which Nazi regimes confiscated the insurance assets of Holocaust victims. See Presidential Advisory Comm'n on Holocaust Assets in the United States, Plunder and Restitution: The U.S. and Holocaust Victims' Assets SR-15 (Dec. 2000) (Nazis "confiscat[ed] insurance monies" of "Jews fleeing Germany"); id. at SR-17 (Nazis "confiscat[ed] payments from insurers that

REV_00114327

Thus, the federal Act takes a deliberately cautious approach, seeking to gather available information and to produce recommendations for the President as to what further measures might be appropriate. It provides no authority for California to pursue its own foreign policy, inconsistent with that pursued by the President, with respect to the resolution of claims under insurance policies issued by European companies to European individuals who became victims of the Holocaust.

II. HVIRA VIOLATES CONSTITUTIONAL PROHIBITIONS ON EXTRATERRITORIAL STATE REGULATION

Both the Commerce Clause and the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment prohibit a State from regulating activity outside its borders. HVIRA is such an extraterritorial regulation. HVIRA focuses exclusively on transactions that occurred in Europe between Europeans many decades ago. It compels the disclosure of extensive private information about those transactions, even though they have "no jurisdictionally-significant relationship to [the State]." Gerling Global Reinsurance Corp. of Am. v. Gallagher, 267 F.3d 1228, 1238 (11th Cir. 2001). A State may not project its regulatory authority into other Nations in this fashion.

A. The Commerce Clause And The Due Process Clause Prohibit States From Regulating Transactions Outside Their Borders

1. Under familiar Commerce Clause principles, California may not require corporations to adhere to its standards in other States or nations as a condition of doing business in California. The Commerce Clause "precludes the application were intended to compensate property owners for their damages" from the Kristallnacht pogrom). Nor does the report recommend any legislative or administrative action with respect to such insurance policies.

---

REV_00114328

of a state statute to commerce that takes place wholly outside of the State's borders, whether or not the commerce has effects within the State." Healy v. Beer Inst., Inc., 491 U.S. 324, 336 (1989); see BMW of N. Am., Inc. v. Gore, 517 U.S. 559, 572 (1996) ("[I]t follows from the[] principles of state sovereignty and comity" reflected in, inter alia, the Commerce Clause that "a State may not impose economic sanctions on violators of its laws with the intent of changing the [violator's] lawful conduct in other States."). A state law does not cease to be impermissibly "extraterritorial" under the Commerce Clause merely because it has some nexus to domestic persons or activities. "The critical inquiry is whether the practical effect of the regulation is to control conduct beyond the boundaries of the State." Healy, 491 U.S. at 336; accord, e.g., Brown-Forman Distillers Corp. v. New York State Liquor Auth., 476 U.S. 573, 583 (1986).

The Court's decision in Healy is illustrative. There, the Court struck down a Connecticut statute that required beer distributors, as a condition of doing business in the State, to file monthly statements with state authorities affirming that their prices in Connecticut did not exceed their prices in any neighboring State. 491 U.S. at 328 & n.5. The statute did not, by its terms, require or prohibit any conduct outside Connecticut. The Court nonetheless recognized that the "practical effect" of the statute was to constrain the distributors' ability to adjust their prices in other States in response to local market conditions. See id. at 337-339. Accordingly, the Court held that the statute was an impermissible extraterritorial regulation of commerce. Id. at 340.

The Commerce Clause's prohibition on a State's regulation of conduct beyond its borders protects against "inconsistent legislation arising from the projection of one state regulatory regime into the jurisdiction of another State." Healy, 491 U.S. at 336-337. When, as here, a State seeks to project its regulatory regime not merely beyond its own borders, but into the jurisdiction of another nation, the potential is particularly great for inconsistent legislation and resulting conflict, as well as for interference with United States foreign policy. Cf. Japan Line, 441 U.S. at 447-449 (noting that a state tax on instrumentalities of foreign commerce poses special concerns under the Commerce Clause because, unlike in the domestic context, no authoritative tribunal exists to assure that such instrumentalities are not subject to double taxation). Indeed, even Acts of Congress are presumed not to apply extraterritorially, unless Congress clearly indicates otherwise, to "protect against unintended clashes between our laws and those of other nations which could result in international discord." EEOC v. Arabian Am. Oil Co., 499 U.S. 244, 248 (1991).

REV_00114329

2. A State is also constrained by the Due Process Clause from regulating transactions that do not have a significant relationship to its legitimate interests. See, e.g., BMW, 517 U.S. at 568-574; Phillips Petroleum Co. v. Shutts, 472 U.S. 797, 818-819 (1985); Home Ins. Co. v. Dick, 281 U.S. 397, 407-408 (1930).

In Dick, for example, the Court held that a Texas insurance statute could not, consistent with due process, be applied to invalidate a provision contained in a policy that had been issued in Mexico and was to be performed there. See 281 U.S. at 408. The Court explained that, because all acts relating to the making and performance of the policy occurred outside the State, "Texas was therefore without power to affect the terms of contracts so made." Ibid.; see id. at 408 n.5 ("[A] State is without power to impose either public or private obligations on contracts made outside of the state and not to be performed there."); see also Shutts, 472 U.S. at 821 (a State cannot apply its own law to "a transaction with little or no relationship to the [State]"). Similarly, in BMW, the Court held that a state court could not, consistent with due process, impose punitive damages designed to punish conduct that occurred in other States. The Court explained that a State "would be infringing on the policy choices of other States" by penalizing "conduct that was lawful where it occurred and that had no impact on [the State] or its residents." 517 U.S. at 572-573.

REV_00114330

Those cases make clear a State cannot apply its law to an out-of-state transaction simply because a party to the transaction resides within the State. Indeed, the policyholder in Dick was a citizen and permanent resident of Texas, although all conduct relevant to the policy had occurred in Mexico. The Court held that Texas did not have a sufficient relationship to the policy to permit the State to regulate it. See 281 U.S. at 408. And, in Shutts, the Court held that Kansas could not apply its law to out-of-state plaintiffs' claims with respect to out-of-state leases, even though the defendant did business in the State. See 472 U.S. at 818-819.

B. HVIRA, By Imposing Disclosure Requirements Exclusively With Respect To Foreign Transactions Between Foreign Parties, Is An Impermissible Extraterritorial Regulation

1. Whether analyzed under the Commerce Clause or the Due Process Clause, HVIRA is an impermissible extraterritorial regulation. Its "practical effect" is to compel "conduct beyond the boundaries of the State," Healy, 491 U.S. at 336—specifically, to compel the retrieval, compilation, and public disclosure of detailed information, presumably located in Europe, concerning transactions that occurred many decades ago in Europe between European parties. There is no nexus between those transactions and any legitimate interest of California that would permit the State to exercise regulatory authority over them.

As noted above (at 14), HVIRA is not a generally applicable law that focuses on domestic matters and simply happens to have an extraterritorial effect in certain applications. Cf.

REV_00114331

Japan Line, supra (invalidating local taxing laws even in that situation when they interfered with the Nation's ability to speak with one voice). Rather, HVIRA is specifically and exclusively directed at transactions that occurred in Europe. It is thus especially evident that HVIRA exceeds the proper legislative jurisdiction of the State. Indeed, HVIRA is inconsistent with California's own general privacy rules, which prohibit, with respect to insurance policies issued in California, the same sorts of disclosures that HVIRA mandates with respect to European policies. See Cal. Ins. Code § 791.13 (West 1993).

The conclusion that HVIRA is an unconstitutional exterritorial regulation is confirmed by "considering how [such laws] may interact with the legitimate regulatory regimes of other States" and nations. Healy, 491 U.S. at 336 (noting relevance of such an inquiry); cf. BMW, 517 U.S. at 572 (a State cannot "attempt[] to alter [a business's] nationwide policy" in a manner that "infring[es] on the policy choices of other States"). It is plain that HVIRA has the potential to interfere with other jurisdictions' laws limiting the disclosure of personal information gathered in connection with the issuance of insurance policies. See note 8, supra (discussing European data privacy laws). German officials have, in fact, opined that a German insurer would violate German privacy laws by complying with HVIRA, at least with respect to the disclosure of information about policyholders who are not believed to be Holocaust victims. See Gerling Appellees' C.A. Reh'g Pet., Exh. C. Yet, as the court of appeals recognized, an insurer that fails to disclose the information required by HVIRA will have its California license suspended, even if "disclosure pursuant to HVIRA [would] violate[] European data protection laws." Pet. App. 25a.

2. a. The court of appeals suggested that HVIRA does not regulate extraterritorially because it does "not seek to regulate the substance of out-of-state transactions." Pet. App. 15a (addressing due process challenge); accord id. at 43a (addressing Commerce Clause challenge). In the court's view, HVIRA is constitutional because it "requires California insurers only to disclose information about their foreign transactions or those of their affiliates." Id. at 16a.

REV_00114332

The court of appeals' reasoning rests on the erroneous premise that "[a] request for information is simply not equivalent" to a regulation. Pet. App. 16a. A requirement that a person disclose, or refrain from disclosing, confidential information is regulatory in nature. It imposes a substantive obligation, the violation of which carries adverse consequences, in order to advance a government policy objective. See Dole v. United Steelworkers of Am., 494 U.S. 26, 28 (1990) (describing "rules which require regulated entities to disclose information" as "[a]mong the regulatory tools available to [the] Government"); see also BMW, 517 U.S. at 571 n.15 ("Federal disclosure requirements are, of course, a familiar part of our law.") (citing examples). Indeed, when the Court explained in BMW that "no single State could * * * impose its own policy choice on neighboring States," the Court was referring to a State's policy choice "requiring full disclosure of every presale repair to a car." 517 U.S. at 570-571 (emphasis added); see Gallagher, 267 F.3d at 1238 (observing that the disclosure provisions of Florida's version of HVIRA "pertain to, and as a practical matter unquestionably seek to regulate," Holocaust-era policies). Indeed, the regulatory nature of HVIRA's disclosure requirements is underscored by the substantive and regulatory nature of the converse interest in protecting privacy. The existence of data privacy laws, such as the European laws invoked by petitioners here, belies any claim that laws governing disclosure or non-disclosure of information do not regulate or implicate the Commerce Clause and the Due Process Clause.

REV_00114333

b. The court of appeals also suggested that HVIRA is constitutionally justified by the State's purpose to "protect[] its residents from insurance companies that have not paid valid claims." Pet. App. 16a. A State cannot evade constitutional limits on extraterritorial legislation merely by deeming a corporation's conduct outside the State relevant to its ability to perform within the State. See BMW, 517 U.S. at 573-574 (State cannot base punitive damages award on conduct that is lawful in other jurisdictions); see generally Healy, 491 U.S. at 336 ("[A] statute that directly controls commerce occurring wholly outside the boundaries of a State * * * is invalid regardless of whether the statute's extraterritorial reach was intended by the legislature."); id. at 337 n.14 (noting that only a statute that "regulates evenhandedly" and "has only indirect effects on interstate commerce" may be justified by a sufficiently important state interest).

In any event, the express purpose of HVIRA is to facilitate the resolution of claims on policies issued in Europe more than 50 years ago rather than to assess the fitness of insurers to do business in California today. See Cal. Ins. Code § 13801(d) and (e) (West Supp. 2003) (HVIRA is designed "to ensure the rapid resolution of * * * questions" concerning "insurance policies held by Holocaust victims and survivors," so as to "eliminat[e] the further victimization of these policyholders and their families"). By contrast, HVIRA makes no mention of the purpose that the court posited. Nor do any other features of HVIRA suggest that its purpose or primary operative effect is to enable the Commissioner of Insurance to ascertain whether an insurance company will deal fairly with California consumers. See BMW, 517 U.S. at 572 (state regulation "must be supported by the State's interest in protecting its own consumers and its own economy"). The information that HVIRA requires insurers to disclose is too remote, too dated, and, at the same time, too detailed to support the court of appeals' posited purpose. The disclosure obligation is tailored to enable individuals—only a small fraction of whom may even now have any connection at all to California—to pursue claims under policies issued in Europe many decades ago. It is not tailored to assessing insurers' current performance in the State.

REV_00114334

Indeed, state statutes in effect at the time of HVIRA's enactment already provided the Commissioner of Insurance with all of the tools necessary to investigate insurers' business practices. Cal. Ins. Code § 717(h) (West 1993) (providing Commissioner with the authority to gather information to assess the "fairness and honesty of methods of doing business" of any insurer seeking to do business in the State); id. § 733 (authority to examine "all [the insurer's] affairs"); id. § 1215.6 (authority to obtain documents in possession of "the insurer or its affiliates"). HVIRA was described by its supporters not as a means of obtaining information needed by the Commissioner, but as a means of obtaining information needed by individual claimants. See note 2 supra.

c. Contrary to the court of appeals' holding, the McCarran-Ferguson Act, 15 U.S.C. 1011 et seq., does not immunize HVIRA from scrutiny under the Commerce Clause. The McCarran-Ferguson Act provides no authority for a State to extend its regulation of insurance into other States or nations.

The McCarran-Ferguson Act was enacted in response to this Court's decision in United States v. South-Eastern Underwriters Ass'n, 322 U.S. 533 (1944), which held that insurance is "commerce," with the consequence that the States' ability to regulate insurance was circumscribed by the Commerce Clause. See United States Dep't of the Treasury v. Fabe, 508 U.S. 491, 499-500 (1993). Congress, however, viewed insurance as "a local matter, to be subject to and regulated by the laws of the several States." H.R. Rep. No.

REV_00114335

143, 79th Cong., 1st Sess. 2 (1945). Thus, Congress enacted the McCarran-Ferguson Act to ensure that the States would continue to have primary responsibility for regulating insurance and that state laws regulating and taxing insurance would be preempted only when Congress stated a clear intent to do so. See Fabe, 508 U.S. at 500, 507.

The McCarran-Ferguson Act removes Commerce Clause limitations only with respect to a State's regulation and taxation of the insurance business within its own borders. This Court held in FTC v. Travelers Health Ass'n, 362 U.S. 293, 301 (1960), that the Act was not intended to authorize state regulation of extraterritorial activities. The Court explained that Congress "viewed state regulation of insurance solely in terms of regulation by the law of the State where occurred the activity sought to be regulated." Id. at 300. The Court reasoned that a contrary construction of the Act would raise serious constitutional questions, id. at 302, and undermine Congress's "basic motivating policy" of leaving the regulation of insurance to those "in close proximity to" the people and policies regulated, id. at 301-302.[11]

---

[11] The Court was specifically concerned in Travelers with an exception to the McCarran-Ferguson Act that, among other things, allows the Federal Trade Commission to regulate insurance to the extent that it is not regulated by state law. See 15 U.S.C. 1012(b). The Court's reasoning applies equally, however, to the Act's general rule that authorizes state regulation of insurance. See 15 U.S.C. 1012(a). The two provisions are complementary. The general rule is that "[t]he business of insurance" is "subject to the laws of the * * * States which relate to the regulation * * * of such business." 15 U.S.C. 1012(a). The exception provides that the Federal Trade Commission Act, among other Acts, "shall be applicable to the business of insurance to the extent that such business is not regulated by State law." 15 U.S.C. 1012(b). Under Section 1012(b), the Federal Trade Commission Act applies unless the aspect of the insurance business at issue is already regulated by the State as contemplated in Section 1012(a). As Travelers makes clear, extraterritorial state regulation is not within the authority delegated to the States by Section 1012(a).

REV_00114336

Finally, whatever the extent to which the McCarran-Ferguson Act immunizes state insurance regulations from scrutiny under the Commerce Clause, the Act provides no immunity from other constitutional provisions, including the Due Process Clause. See Quill Corp. v. North Dakota, 504 U.S. 298, 305 (1992). Accordingly, even if the Act were understood to provide a Commerce Clause immunity for extraterritorial state regulation of insurance, HVIRA would nonetheless be invalid as exceeding the Due Process Clause's independent limitations on a State's authority "to impose * * * obligations on contracts made outside of the State and not to be performed there." Dick, 281 U.S. at 408 n.5.

CONCLUSION

The judgment of the court of appeals should be reversed.

Respectfully submitted.

PAUL D. CLEMENT*
Acting Solicitor General
ROBERT D. MCCALLUM, JR.
Assistant Attorney General
EDWIN S. KNEEDLER
Deputy Solicitor General
BARBARA MCDOWELL
Assistant to the Solicitor General
MARK B. STERN
DOUGLAS HALLWARD-DRIEMEIER
Attorneys

WILLIAM H. TAFT, IV
Legal Adviser
Department of State

FEBRUARY 2003

* The Solicitor General is recused in this case.

REV_00114337

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Ken Mehlman/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Ken Mehlman>
Sent: 4/11/2003 6:17:57 AM
Subject: : RE: Calif. holocaust case
Attachments: P_CCGJF003_WHO.TXT_1.pdf

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 10:17:57.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Calif. holocaust case
TO:Ken Mehlman (CN=Ken Mehlman/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

I will give pithy summary of this for you. Just got it.

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/11/2003 10:04 AM ----------

"Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov" <Shannen.Coffin
04/11/2003 10:02:02 AM
Record Type: Record

To: "Bill.Jordan@usdoj.gov" <Bill.Jordan@usdoj.gov> (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested), "Peter.D.Keisler@usdoj.gov" <Peter.D.Keisler@usdoj.gov> (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested), Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: Calif. holocaust case

Brett, Attached is the amicus brief filed in the Supreme Court in this case, which challenges a California state statute require any insurer doing business in the state to disclose policies issued during Nazi era Germany/Europe in a purported effort to assist holocaust victims with getting money they are due. Apparently, we filed in support of the petitioning insurers, who challenge the statute on foreign affairs and commerce clause grounds.

-----Original Message-----
From: Jordan, Bill
Sent: Friday, April 11, 2003 9:45 AM
To: Keisler, Peter D
Cc: Coffin, Shannen
Subject: Calif. holocaust case

Appellate had no heard of it and Fed Programs is still looking. Shannen will call Brett as soon as we get something.

- 2002-0722.pet.ami[1].pdf

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_CCGJF003_WHO.TXT_1>

No. 02-722

In the Supreme Court of the United States

AMERICAN INSURANCE ASSOCIATION, ET AL.,
PETITIONERS

v.

JOHN GARAMENDI, INSURANCE COMMISSIONER,
STATE OF CALIFORNIA

ON WRIT OF CERTIORARI
TO THE UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS
FOR THE NINTH CIRCUIT

BRIEF FOR THE UNITED STATES AS AMICUS CURIAE SUPPORTING PETITIONERS

PAUL D. CLEMENT
Acting Solicitor General
Counsel of Record

ROBERT D. MCCALLUM, JR.
Assistant Attorney General

EDWIN S. KNEEDLER
Deputy Solicitor General

BARBARA MCDOWELL
Assistant to the Solicitor General

MARK B. STERN
DOUGLAS HALLWARD-DRIEMEIER
Attorneys

Department of Justice
Washington, D.C. 20530-0001
(202) 514–2217

WILLIAM H. TAFT, IV
Legal Adviser
Department of State
Washington, D.C. 20520

REV_00114339

QUESTION PRESENTED

Whether a California statute that requires an insurance company doing business in the State to retrieve, compile, and disclose information about each insurance policy issued by that company or an affiliate in Europe that was in effect between 1920 and 1945 (1) impermissibly intrudes upon the national government's exclusive power over foreign affairs and foreign commerce or (2) regulates extraterritorially in violation of the Commerce Clause, the Due Process Clause, or both.

REV_00114340

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Page
Interest of the United States	1
Statement	1
Summary of argument	8
Argument:
I. HVIRA impermissibly intrudes into matters of foreign relations and foreign commerce reserved to the national government	10
A. Under our constitutional system, the President and Congress exercise exclusive authority over foreign relations and foreign commerce	10
B. HVIRA regulates in an area exclusively reserved to the national government	12
II. HVIRA violates constitutional prohibitions on extraterritorial state regulation	21
A. The Commerce Clause and the Due Process Cause prohibit States from regulating transactions outside their borders	21
B. HVIRA, by imposing disclosure requirements exclusively with respect to foreign transactions between foreign parties, is an impermissible extraterritorial regulation	24
Conclusion	30

TABLE OF AUTHORITIES

Cases:	Page
BMW of N. Am., Inc. v. Gore, 517 U.S. 559 (1996)	22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27
Barclays Bank PLC v. Franchise Tax Bd., 512 U.S. 298 (1994)	19
Brown-Forman Distillers Corp. v. New York State Liquor Auth., 476 U.S. 573 (1986)	22

REV_00114341

Cases—Continued: Page

Chy Lung v. Freeman, 92 U.S. 275 (1875) 12
Crosby v. National Foreign Trade Council, 530 U.S. 363 (2000) 12, 13, 15-16, 18, 19
Dames & Moore v. Regan, 453 U.S. 654 (1981) 9, 11, 12
Deutsch v. Turner Corp., 317 F.3d 1005 (9th Cir. 2003) 7, 11
Dole v. United Steelworkers of Am., 494 U.S. 26 (1990) 26
EEOC v. Arabian Am. Oil Co., 499 U.S. 244 (1991) 23
FTC v. Travelers Health Ass'n, 362 U.S. 293 (1960) 29
Gerling Global Reinsurance Corp. of Am. v. Gallagher, 267 F.3d 1228 (11th Cir. 2001) 21, 26
Healy v. Beer Inst., Inc., 491 U.S. 324 (1989) 9, 22, 24, 25, 27
Hines v. Davidowitz, 312 U.S. 52 (1941) 10, 12
Home Ins. Co. v. Dick, 281 U.S. 397 (1930) 9, 23, 24, 30
Japan Line, Ltd. v County of Los Angeles, 441 U.S. 434 (1979) 10, 12, 23, 25
Oldfield v. Marriott, 51 U.S. (10 How.) 146 (1850) 10
Phillips Petroleum Co. v. Shutts, 472 U.S. 797 (1985) 23, 24
Quill Corp. v. North Dakota, 504 U.S. 298 (1992) 30
Societe Internationale Pour Participations Industrielles Et Commerciales v. Rogers, 357 U.S. 197 (1958) 17
Societe Nationale Industrielle Aerospatiale v. United States District Court, 482 U.S. 522 (1987) 17
Taiheiyo Cement Corp. v. Superior Court, 105 Cal. App. 4th 498 (2003) 7
United States Dep't of the Treas. v. Fabe, 508 U.S. 491 (1993) 28, 29
United States v. Curtiss-Wright Export Corp., 299 U.S. 304 (1936) 14-15
United States v. Pink, 315 U.S. 203 (1942) 10, 11

REV_00114342

Cases—Continued: Page

United States v. South-Eastern Underwriters Ass'n, 322 U.S. 533 (1944) 28
Ware v. Hylton, 3 U.S. (3 Dall.) 199 (1796) 11
Zschernig v. Miller, 389 U.S. 429 (1968) 12, 14, 18

Constitution and statutes:

U.S. Const.:
Art. I 11
§ 8 11
Cl. 1 11
Cl. 3 11
Cl. 10 11
Cl. 11 11
§ 10 11
Art. II 11
§ 2 11
§ 3 11
Amend. XIV:
Commerce Clause ..... passim
Due Process Clause 8, 9, 21, 23, 24, 26, 30
McCarran-Ferguson Act, 15 U.S.C. 1011 et seq. 28
15 U.S.C. 1012(a) 7, 29
15 U.S.C. 1012(b) 29
U.S. Holocaust Assets Commission Act of 1998, Pub. L. No. 105-186, 112 Stat. 611 19
§ 2(a), 112 Stat. 611 19
§ 3(a)(1), 112 Stat. 612 19
§ 3(a)(4)(A), 112 Stat. 613 20
§ 3(a)(4)(B), 112 Stat. 613 20
§ 3(d)(1), 112 Stat. 614 20
Holocaust Victim Insurance Relief Act of 1999, Cal. Ins. Code §§ 13800 et seq. (West Supp. 2003) 4-5
§ 13801 14
§ 13801(d) 27
§ 13801(e) 27
§ 13801(f) 5

REV_00114343

Statutes—Continued: Page

§ 13802(c) 5
§ 13803 5
§ 13804 ..... 5, 14
§ 13804(a) 5
§ 13804(a)(1) 5
§ 13804(b) 5
§ 13806 5
Cal. Civ. Pro. Code (West Supp. 2003):
§ 354.3 7
§ 354.5(a) 6
§ 354.5(b) 6
§ 354.5(c) 6
§ 354.6 7
Cal. Ins. Code (West 1993):
§ 717(h) 28
§ 733 28
§ 791.13 25
§ 1215.6 28
Cal. Ins. Code (West Supp. 2003):
§ 790.15(a) 7
§ 790.15(b)(1) 7
§ 12967(a)(1) 6
§ 12967(a)(2) 6
Assembly Bill No. 1334, 1998 Cal. Stat. ch. 43 6
Senate Bill No. 1530, 1998 Cal. Stat. ch. 963 6
10 Barclays Cal. Code Reg. § 2278.1(a) 14

Miscellaneous:

Agreement Between the International Comm'n on Holocaust Era Insurance Claims, the Foundation "Remembrance, Responsibility, and the Future" and the German Ins. Ass'n (Oct. 16, 2000) <http://www.icheic.org/eng/press.html> 4
David Bender, Privacy Law, 717 PLI/PAT 563 (2002) ... 17
Exchange of Notes (Jan. 23, 2001) <http://www.usembassy.at/en/policy/annexa.htm> 4

REV_00114344

Miscellaneous—Continued: Page

The Federalist No. 80 (Alexander Hamilton) (J. Cook ed., 1961) 19

Governor's Veto Message, A.B. 1715 (Sept. 17, 1998) <http://www.leginfo.ca.gov/pub/97-98/bill/asm/ab_1701-1705/ab_1715_vt_19980927.html> 6

H.R. Rep. No. 143, 79th Cong., 1st Sess. (1945) 28-29

Joint Statement Between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Swiss Confederation (Jan. 29, 2000) <http://www.us.embassy.ch/NEWS/jointstatement.htm> 4, 16

Tracie B. Loring, An Analysis of the Informational Privacy Protection Afforded by the European Union and the United States, 37 Tex. Int'l L.J. 421 (2002) 16

Office of the Spokesman, U.S. Dep't of State, Holocaust Insurance Agreement Signed (Oct. 17, 2002) 2, 17

Office of the Spokesman, U.S. Dep't of State, International Commission on Holocaust Era Insurance Claims Begins World-Wide Effort to Identify Unpaid Claims (Feb. 15, 2000) 2-3

Presidential Advisory Commission on Holocaust Assets in the United States, Plunder and Restitution: The U.S. and Holocaust Victims' Assests (Dec. 2000) 20

REV_00114345

In the Supreme Court of the United States

No. 02-722

AMERICAN INSURANCE ASSOCIATION, ET AL.,
PETITIONERS

v.

JOHN GARAMENDI, INSURANCE COMMISSIONER,
STATE OF CALIFORNIA

ON WRIT OF CERTIORARI
TO THE UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS
FOR THE NINTH CIRCUIT

BRIEF FOR THE UNITED STATES AS AMICUS CURIAE SUPPORTING PETITIONERS

INTEREST OF THE UNITED STATES

The United States has engaged in extensive diplomatic efforts to assure that the nations and enterprises responsible for the Holocaust provide some measure of justice to their victims. In so doing, the United States has consistently encouraged the use of voluntary, non-adversarial mechanisms for resolving Holocaust victims' claims. California has adopted a different approach. The State has enacted a series of related statutes, including the one challenged here, to provide a separate means of resolving those claims. Such state laws directly interfere with the national government's authority over foreign affairs and foreign commerce.

STATEMENT

1. a. Since the end of World War II, the United States has committed substantial diplomatic resources to achieving

REV_00114346

some measure of justice for the victims of Nazism. The United States and its allies entered into treaties with the post-War governments of Germany and Austria that required them to pay compensation to such persons. See Pet. App. 97a-98a. More recently, the United States has engaged in extensive international discussions concerning claims of Holocaust victims and their heirs. As a result of those discussions, the United States has entered into executive agreements with Germany and Austria and has issued a joint statement with Switzerland.

As with Holocaust-related claims generally, the United States has sought to encourage the resolution of insurance claims of Holocaust victims and their heirs "through cooperative means outside of litigation." Office of the Spokesman, U.S. Dep't of State, Holocaust Insurance Agreement Signed (Oct. 17, 2002). The United States has promoted the expeditious disposition of such claims in accordance with the procedures established by the International Commission on Holocaust Era Insurance Claims (ICHEIC).

ICHEIC is a voluntary organization formed by five European insurance companies, the State of Israel, Jewish organizations, and the National Association of Insurance Commissioners. The United States has observer status in ICHEIC, as do several European countries, including Germany, France, Italy, Poland, and the Czech Republic. ICHEIC is chaired by former Secretary of State Lawrence S. Eagleburger. Through ICHEIC, Holocaust victims' insurance claims are processed and checked against European insurers' records in a manner consistent with participating insurers' concerns that they not violate European data privacy laws.

The United States has repeatedly stated that ICHEIC "should be recognized as the exclusive remedy for all insurance claims that date to the Nazi era" and has "encourag[ed] all insurance companies that wrote policies during the Nazi era to join the ICHEIC." Office of the Spokesman, U.S.

REV_00114347

Dep't of State, International Commission on Holocaust Era Insurance Claims Begins World-Wide Effort to Identify Unpaid Claims (Feb. 15, 2000); see Pet. App. 177a (statement of Ambassador Randolph M. Bell, Special Envoy for Holocaust Issues) (reiterating United States' position that ICHEIC should be viewed as "the exclusive remedy for unresolved insurance claims from the National Socialist era and World War II").

b. The United States' approach to resolving Holocaust victims' claims, including insurance claims, is reflected in the executive agreement entered into between the United States and Germany in 2000. See Pet. App. 153a-168a. That agreement recognizes the creation of a foundation in Germany, funded with $5 billion from public and private sources, to address Holocaust-era claims against German companies that were not addressed by earlier measures. The German government agreed to supervise the activities of the foundation. Id. at 155a-156a. The United States, in turn, agreed to inform its courts that "it would be in [its] foreign policy interests * * * for the Foundation to be the exclusive remedy and forum for resolving [Holocaust-era] claims asserted against German companies." Id. at 156a. The United States also agreed to "use its best efforts" to promote the objectives of the agreement, including the achievement of an "all-embracing and enduring legal peace" with respect to such claims. Ibid.

The agreement specifically endorses ICHEIC as the proper vehicle for resolving Holocaust-era insurance claims. Germany agreed that all claims by or on behalf of Holocaust victims against German insurance companies would be processed based on ICHEIC procedures and additional procedures to be agreed upon among ICHEIC, the foundation, and the German Insurance Association. Pet. App. 156a.[1]

REV_00114348

The additional procedures recently established by ICHEIC and the German entities provide, among other things, for potential claims to be checked against insurance companies' records in a manner consistent with German privacy law. ICHEIC publishes a list that includes only the names of policyholders who are believed to have been Holocaust victims (based on information from various sources such as German census records) and those policyholders' years of birth. See Agreement between the International Comm'n on Holocaust Era Insurance Claims, the Foundation "Remembrance, Responsibility, and the Future" and the German Ins. Ass'n Annex H, Para. IV (Oct. 16, 2002) <http://www.icheic.org/eng/press.html>.

2. The State of California has taken a different approach to securing compensation for Holocaust victims and their families. In a series of closely related statutes, including the one challenged in this case, the State has sought to use its regulatory authority to compel resolution of Holocaust-era insurance claims.

a. The statute at issue here, the Holocaust Victim Insurance Relief Act of 1999 (HVIRA), Cal. Ins. Code §§ 13800 et

---

[1] The executive agreement between the United States and Austria, which consists of an exchange of diplomatic notes and annexes, contains nearly identical undertakings. See Exchange of Notes Annex A, Para. 14 (Jan. 23, 2001) <http://www.usembassy.at/en/policy/annex_a.htm>. The joint statement of the United States and Switzerland similarly endorses ICHEIC and notes the "potentially disruptive and counterproductive effects of investigative initiatives or the threat or actual use of sanctions on a sub-federal level against insurers, including those that are * * * participants in [ICHEIC]." Joint Statement Between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Swiss Confederation (Jan. 29, 2000) <http://www.us-embassy.ch/NEWS/ jointstatement. htm>.

REV_00114349

seq. (West Supp. 2003), requires each insurance company doing business in the State to disclose for publication detailed information concerning policies issued by the company or its affiliates in Europe decades ago. See id. §§ 13803, 13804. HVIRA requires disclosure of information concerning "life, property, liability, health, annuities, dowry, educational, or casualty insurance policies" that were sold "directly or through a related company, to persons in Europe, which were in effect between 1920 and 1945." Id. § 13804(a). As to each policy, the insurer must disclose "[t]he holder, beneficiary, and current status," the policyholder's "city of origin, domicile, or address," id.§ 13804(a)(1), whether the policy proceeds have been paid, id. § 13804(b), and, if not, the policy's value, id. §§ 13802(c), 13804(b). A domestic insurer is required to disclose such information about any such policies sold by its European affiliates, "whether the sale occurred before or after the insurer and the related company became related." Id. § 13804(a). The information is to be entered in a Holocaust Era Insurance Registry that is accessible to the public. Id. § 13803. The Commissioner of Insurance must suspend the license of any insurer that fails to provide the information. Id. § 13806.

HVIRA declares that its requirements are "necessary to protect the claims and interests of California residents," including some 5600 Holocaust survivors living in the State, and "to encourage the development of a resolution to these issues through the international process or through direct action by the State." Cal. Ins. Code § 13801(f) (West Supp. 2003). HVIRA's requirements apply to every insurance policy issued in Europe during the relevant period, however, without regard to whether the policyholder or the beneficiary ever resided in California.

b. In 1998, the California Legislature approved not only HVIRA, which was initially vetoed by the Governor and did not become law until the following year,[2] but also two related measures that did become law. See Assembly Bill No. 1334, 1998 Cal. Stat. ch. 43; Senate Bill No. 1530, 1998 Cal. Stat. ch. 963.

REV_00114350

Assembly Bill No. 1334, which was designed "to provide just compensation to aging Holocaust victims," 1998 Cal. Stat., ch. 43, § 3, authorizes suits on Holocaust-era insurance policies in California courts, Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 354.5(b) (West Supp. 2003). It permits suits to be brought against any insurer that is "related" to the insurer that issued the policy. Id. § 354.5(a) and (b). It also abolishes any statute-of-limitations defense if the suit is brought by 2010, id. § 354.5(b) and (c), declares that forum-selection provisions in Holocaust-era policies are unenforceable, 1998 Cal. Stat., ch. 43, § 1(b), and provides that the policies, although issued in Europe, are "subject to California law," ibid.

Senate Bill No. 1530, in turn, directs the Commissioner of Insurance to "work to recover information and records that will strengthen the claims of California residents" with respect Holocaust-era policies by undertaking "a coordinated approach to gather, review, and analyze the archives of insurers and other archives and records." Cal. Ins. Code § 12967(a)(1) and (2) (West Supp. 2003). That measure also requires the Commissioner to suspend the license of any California insurer if it "or any affiliate * * * has failed to pay any valid claim" of Holocaust victims or their heirs,

---

[2] Governor Pete Wilson vetoed the original HVIRA as unnecessary and unduly broad. Governor's Veto Message, A.B. 1715 (Sept. 27, 1998). HVIRA was reintroduced and passed in 1999 with only minor modifications. The accompanying committee report explained that HVIRA was a necessary supplement to existing laws because it provides for dissemination of policy information to potential claimants, so that they "can take direct action on their own behalf." Gerling Appellees' C.A. Reh'g Pet., Exh. J.

REV_00114351

whether or not the claimant is a resident of the State. Id. § 790.15(a) and (b)(1).[3]

3. a. Petitioners, insurers that do business in California and that have European affiliates, brought suit to challenge the constitutionality of HVIRA. The district court entered a preliminary injunction against enforcement of the statute. The court held that petitioners had shown a probability of succeeding on their claims that HVIRA impermissibly "interferes with the national government's exclusive power over external affairs," Pet. App. 95a-105a, and regulates extraterritorially in violation of the Commerce Clause, id. at 106a-110a.

b. The court of appeals rejected each of the constitutional grounds on which the preliminary injunction was based. Pet. App. 34a-60a. The court held that HVIRA, as an insurance regulation, is exempted from Commerce Clause scrutiny by the McCarran-Ferguson Act, 15 U.S.C. 1012(b). See Pet. App. 41a-45a. The court also suggested that HVIRA does not, in any event, regulate extraterritorially because HVIRA "requires California companies only to provide

---

[3] California has enacted other laws to assist private individuals' claims arising out of events that occurred abroad during World War II. In 1999, California enacted a statute that creates a cause of action, with uniquely favorable substantive and procedural rules, for "any Second World War slave labor victim" or "Second World War forced labor victim," or the heirs of such victim, against "any entity or successor in interest thereof for whom that labor was performed, either directly or through a subsidiary or affiliate." Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 354.6 (West Supp. 2003). The Ninth Circuit recently struck down that statute as an impermissible intrusion into matters of international relations reserved to the national government. Deutsch v. Turner Corp., 317 F.3d 1005 (2003); but see Taiheiyo Cement Corp. v. Superior Court, 105 Cal. App. 4th 398 (2003) (upholding statute). In 2002, California enacted a further statute that permits Holocaust victims to bring suit in California to recover looted artwork, regardless of whether the property is located in the State. See Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 354.3.

REV_00114352

information about" Holocaust-era policies. Id. at 43a. The court also held that HVIRA does not impermissibly interfere with the national government's authority over foreign affairs. Id. at 58a-59a. The court remanded the case for consideration of petitioners' due process claim.

4. a. On remand, the district court permanently enjoined the enforcement of HVIRA. The court held that HVIRA violates the Due Process Clause by suspending insurers' licenses for not making the required disclosures without enabling them to raise defenses such as a foreign-law prohibition on disclosure. Pet. App. 78a-83a.

b. The court of appeals reversed. Pet. App. 1a-33a. The court held that HVIRA does not violate due process constraints on state legislative jurisdiction because HVIRA merely regulates the insurance industry within California. Pet. App. 9a. The court also held that HVIRA does not violate due process by denying insurers an opportunity to defend against the suspension of their licenses. Id. at 20a-29a. The court reiterated its earlier holdings rejecting challenges to HVIRA under the Commerce Clause and the foreign affairs power. Id. at 29a.

SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT

This case arises out of an attempt by a single State to extend its regulatory authority into other nations, thereby undermining the foreign policy of the United States. California, in HVIRA, has sought to compel the disclosure of vast amounts of information contained in foreign archives concerning foreign transactions among foreign parties. It has done so for the express purpose of enabling victims of Nazi Germany to pursue claims with respect to insurance policies issued in Europe before and during the Second World War. HVIRA exceeds several distinct, but complementary, constraints that the Constitution imposes on a State's regulatory authority, all of which serve to avoid unseemly conflict with the national government, with other States, and with other nations acting within the sphere of their own authority.

REV_00114353

I. HVIRA impermissibly intrudes into a field—the conduct of the United States' diplomatic and commercial relations with other nations—that is exclusively reserved to the President and Congress. The national government's authority over external relations includes the authority to resolve claims arising out of, or in connection with, international conflicts. See, e.g., Dames & Moore v. Regan, 453 U.S. 654, 679-680 (1981).

California has sought in HVIRA to establish its own separate mechanisms for resolving such claims. HVIRA is specifically concerned with gathering information concerning European insurance transaction in order to facilitate claims by and on behalf of victims of Nazi Germany. Moreover, HVIRA threatens to impair the United States government's own approach to the resolution of Holocaust victims' claims —an approach that encourages the use of voluntary non-adversarial mechanisms, in contrast to coercive regulation and litigation. The United States' ability to persuade foreign governments and foreign enterprises to participate in voluntary mechanisms is undermined by state regulations such as HVIRA, which impose additional obligations on foreign enterprises, through their domestic affiliates, for the purpose of aiding the assertion of claims against those foreign enterprises in California judicial proceedings or elsewhere. Indeed, HVIRA has generated the very tension with our European allies that the United States has sought to avoid.

II. HVIRA also regulates extraterritorially in violation of both the Commerce Clause and the Due Process Clause. Those Clauses impose similar constraints on a State's ability to regulate activity that occurs outside its borders. See, e.g., Healy v. Beer Inst., Inc., 491 U.S. 324, 336 (1989); Home Ins. Co. v. Dick, 281 U.S. 397, 407-408 (1930). HVIRA compels the retrieval, compilation, and public disclosure of information located outside the State, concerning transactions that occurred outside the State, between parties who were not residents of the State. Accordingly, even if the statute applied to policies issued in New York to New York residents, rather than to policies issued in Europe to Europeans, it would exceed the State's authority.

REV_00114354

ARGUMENT

I. HVIRA IMPERMISSIBLY INTRUDES INTO MATTERS OF FOREIGN RELATIONS AND FOREIGN COMMERCE RESERVED TO THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT

A. Under Our Constitutional System, The President And Congress Exercise Exclusive Authority Over Foreign Relations And Foreign Commerce

As the Court has emphasized, "[i]n international relations and with respect to foreign intercourse and trade the people of the United States act through a single government with unified and adequate national power." Japan Line, Ltd. v. County of Los Angeles, 441 U.S. 434, 448 (1979); see, e.g., Hines v. Davidowitz, 312 U.S. 52, 63 (1941) ("The Federal Government * * * is entrusted with full and exclusive responsibility for the conduct of affairs with foreign sovereignties."). It necessarily follows that "[p]ower over external affairs is not shared by the States," but instead "is vested in the national government exclusively." United States v. Pink, 315 U.S. 203, 233 (1942).

The national government's preeminent role in acting for the United States in the international arena was forged out of the experience under the Articles of Confederation, when the States had undermined the national government's efforts to engage in political and commercial relations with other nations. See, e.g., Oldfield v. Marriott, 51 U.S. (10 How.) 146, 163-165 (1850). The Constitution's reservation of such powers exclusively to the national government is reflected in its express grants of power to Congress,[4] and to the President,[5] and in its express restrictions on the States.[6] Those provisions serve to set matters of foreign commerce, foreign relations, and war in a field apart. It is a field that the States may not enter.

REV_00114355

The national government has traditionally exercised its foreign relations and war powers with respect to the resolution of private parties' claims arising out of international conflicts. See, e.g., Dames & Moore, 453 U.S. at 679 ("[T]he United States has repeatedly exercised its sovereign authority to settle the claims of its nationals against foreign countries."); Pink, 315 U.S. at 240 (Frankfurter, J., concurring) ("That the President's control of foreign relations includes the settlement of claims is indisputable."); Ware v. Hylton, 3 U.S. (3 Dall.) 199, 230 (1796); Deutsch v. Turner Corp., 317 F.3d 1005, 1025 (9th Cir. 2003) ("[T]he Constitution allocates the power over foreign affairs to the federal government exclusively, and the power to make and resolve war, including

---

[4] Those include Congress's powers to "provide for the common Defence," "regulate Commerce with foreign Nations," "define and punish Piracies and Felonies committed on the high Seas, and Offenses against the Law of Nations," and "declare War, grant Letters of Marque and Reprisal, and make Rules concerning Captures on Land and Water." U.S. Const. Art. I, § 8, Cls. 1, 3, 10, 11.

[5] Those include the President's powers to serve as "Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy," "make Treaties" and "appoint Ambassadors [and] other public Ministers and Consuls" with the advice and consent of the Senate, and "receive Ambassadors." U.S. Const. Art. II, §§ 2, 3.

[6] Those include restrictions on the States' "enter[ing] into any Treaty, Alliance, or Confederation," "grant[ing] Letters of Marque and Reprisal," "lay[ing] any Imposts or Duties on Imports or Exports," "enter[ing] into any Agreement or Compact * * * with a foreign Power," and "engag[ing] in War." U.S. Const. Art. I, § 10.

REV_00114356

the authority to resolve war claims, is central to the foreign affairs power in the constitutional design.").

In light of the "imperative[] * * * that federal power in the field affecting foreign relations be left entirely free from local interference," Hines, 312 U.S. at 63, state "regulations must give way if they impair the effective exercise of the Nation's foreign policy," Zschernig v. Miller, 389 U.S. 429, 440 (1968), or prevent the United States from "speak[ing] with one voice when regulating commercial relations with foreign governments," Japan Line, 441 U.S. at 449. This Court has struck down state laws that engaged a State in matters affecting the Nation's external affairs "even in [the] absence of a treaty" or an Act of Congress, Zschernig, 389 U.S. at 441, as inconsistent with the Constitution's assignment to the national government of the authority to conduct foreign relations or, in the commercial area, as inconsistent with the Foreign Commerce Clause. See, e.g., Japan Line, 441 U.S. at 452-453; Zschernig, 389 U.S. at 436; Chy Lung v. Freeman, 92 U.S. 275, 279-281 (1875); cf. Crosby v. National Foreign Trade Council, 530 U.S. 363, 381-382 n.16 (2000) (noting such cases).

B. HVIRA Regulates In An Area Exclusively Reserved To The National Government

HVIRA intrudes into the field of foreign relations reserved exclusively to the national government. This Court has repeatedly recognized that the President and Congress have the sole authority to resolve, or to establish the mechanisms to resolve, the claims of United States nationals arising out of international conflicts. See, e.g., Dames & Moore, 453 U.S. at 679. It follows a fortiori that the resolution of claims of foreign nationals arising out of, or in connection with, an international conflict is also a matter reserved exclusively to the President and Congress. A State is without authority to pursue its own independent approach to such claims, even if the United States and the State "share the same goals," because "[t]he fact of a common end hardly neutralizes conflicting means." Crosby, 530 U.S. at 379. The conflict between the means chosen by the United States and by California to resolve Holocaust victims' insurance claims is quite evident.

REV_00114357

1. As explained above (at 1-4), with respect to still-unresolved claims against foreign enterprises arising out of the Holocaust, the United States has determined that those claims should be pursued through voluntary, non-adversarial processes rather than through coercive regulation and litigation. The United States has concluded that such an approach serves the interests of Holocaust victims and their families throughout the world, including the interests of elderly survivors of the Holocaust in obtaining some measure of justice within their lifetimes. The United States has also concluded that a non-adversarial approach serves important interests of the Nation in cooperative relations with its European allies.

More particularly, the United States, in its executive agreements with Germany and Austria and its other recent diplomatic efforts, has encouraged the use of ICHEIC as the exclusive mechanism for resolving Holocaust-era insurance claims. Those agreements do not, of their own force, extinguish any claims that Holocaust victims or their families might assert in court against foreign insurance companies.[7] They do make clear, however, that United States policy disfavors the imposition of further obligations on companies

[7] Because the claims almost exclusively concern persons and transactions that had no relation to the United States at the time of the conduct at issue, it is understandable that the United States government did not seek to extinguish or resolve the claims under the laws or international agreements of this Nation or by coercive processes under our laws, and instead sought to promote resolution by other means.

REV_00114358

subject to the agreements, whether through regulation or litigation, beyond the obligations contemplated by the agreements themselves. Thus, the executive agreement between the United States and Germany recognizes that it is "in the[] interests" of the two governments for the designated claims process "to be the exclusive remedy and forum for the resolution of all claims that have been or may be asserted against German companies arising from the National Socialist era and World War II." Pet. App. 155a.

HVIRA poses a direct threat to "the effective exercise," Zschernig, 389 U.S. at 440, of United States policy with respect to Holocaust victims' insurance claims. HVIRA is not a law of general applicability with only an incidental effect on matters outside the State or the United States, or on the national government's ongoing efforts in the international arena. To the contrary, HVIRA imposes disclosure requirements that are applicable only to insurance policies issued "to persons in Europe" during the period leading up to and including the Second World War. Cal. Ins. Code § 13804 (West Supp. 2003); see 10 Barclays Cal. Code Regs. § 2278.1(a) (defining term "Europe" in HVIRA as those parts of Europe "occupied or controlled by Nazi Germany, its allies or sympathizers"). HVIRA imposes those requirements for the express purpose of assisting Holocaust victims and their families in pursuing claims with respect to those policies, whether through "international process" or through judicial proceedings or enforcement actions by the State. See Cal. Ins. Code § 13801(b) (HVIRA is intended "to encourage the development of a resolution to these issues through the international process or through direct action by the State"). California has thereby thrust itself into the field of foreign relations and foreign commerce that is reserved exclusively to Congress and the President, who "is the sole organ of the nation in its external relations, and its sole representative with foreign nations." United States v.

REV_00114359

Curtiss-Wright Export Corp., 299 U.S. 304, 319 (1936) (quoting statement of John Marshall).

California has proceeded, moreover, in a manner that conflicts with the approach that the national government has elected to pursue. HVIRA not only requires the disclosure of Holocaust-era policy information to an entity in addition to ICHEIC, but also requires the disclosure of information substantially in addition to that required by ICHEIC. And HVIRA imposes a significant economic penalty—suspension of a license to do business—on California affiliates of insurers that fail to make those disclosures. HVIRA thus establishes "a different, state system of economic pressure," Crosby, 530 U.S. at 376, that conflicts with the ICHEIC system endorsed by the United States, and that threatens to impede its implementation and operation.

At a minimum, such state laws "compromise the very capacity of the President to speak for the Nation with one voice in dealing with other governments." Crosby, 530 U.S. at 381. The United States has stated that participation in the voluntary processes that it has endorsed should "give[] those companies cooperating with [ICHEIC] 'safe haven' from sanctions, subpoenas, and hearings relative to the Holocaust period." Testimony of Stuart E. Eizenstat, Deputy Secretary of the Treasury, before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee (Apr. 5, 2000) (Pet. App. 136a); see Pet. App. 156a (United States undertakes in its agreement with Germany to "use its best efforts * * * with state and local governments" to achieve an "all-embracing and enduring legal peace"). HVIRA, however, makes no exception even for companies that participate in ICHEIC or similar organizations. Indeed, HVIRA and the related California statutes appear designed to facilitate continuing litigation. HVIRA thereby undermines the United States' ability to persuade foreign governments and foreign companies to participate voluntarily in organizations such as ICHEIC. See Crosby,

REV_00114360

530 U.S. at 377 (recognizing that the President's "economic and diplomatic leverage" is reduced by state laws that seek to penalize foreign governments or foreign commerce); see also Joint Statement Between the Government of the United States of America and the Government of the Swiss Confederation (Jan. 29, 2000) (noting the "potentially disruptive and counterproductive effects" of laws such as HVIRA); Letter from Stuart E. Eizenstat, Deputy Secretary of the Treasury, to Gray Davis, Governor (Nov. 30, 1999) (Pet. App. 123a-125a) (observing that HVIRA could "undermine" the ICHEIC claims resolution process and "de[r]ail" negotiations between the United States and Germany concerning claims of Nazi slave and forced laborers).

The potential for HVIRA to complicate the United States' diplomatic efforts is illustrated by contrasting the information that insurers are required to disclose under the ICHEIC procedures endorsed by the United States with the information that insurers are required to disclose under HVIRA. As contemplated by the United States and Germany in their executive agreement, ICHEIC, the German foundation, and the German Insurance Association developed rules to govern what information about Holocaust-era insurance policies must be made available in order to provide adequate notice to potential claimants while safeguarding the privacy interests of other persons under German (or other European) law.[8] Those rules require the disclosure

---

[8] Many European countries, like California and other States, limit the disclosure of personal information obtained through commercial transactions, including insurance transactions. See, e.g., Tracie B. Loring, An Analysis of the Informational Privacy Protection Afforded by the European Union and the United States, 37 Tex. Int'l L.J. 421, 423-425, 434-439 (2002) (describing the development of laws protecting personal information in the nations comprising the European Union). European laws have been described as more comprehensive in their protection of personal data than are laws in the United States. See id. at 425 ("Unlike the European

REV_00114361

only of the name of any policyholder who is believed to have been a Holocaust victim and that person's year of birth. See p. 4, supra. Insurers are not required to provide other information, such as the value of a policy or the named beneficiary, with respect to policies issued to Holocaust victims, and are not required to provide any information about policies issued to other persons. HVIRA is not so limited. See p. 5, supra (information that must be disclosed under HVIRA). Thus, whereas the United States' diplomatic efforts have sought to resolve Holocaust victims' claims while accommodating the interests of Germany and other nations to minimize conflict with European privacy laws, HVIRA strikes a different balance that fails to account for those interests.[9]

Union's omnibus, centralized approach to informational privacy, which reflects the notion that data protection must be ensured by comprehensive legislation, data protection regulation in the United States is decentralized, fragmented, ad hoc, and narrowly tailored to target specific sectors."); David Bender, Privacy Law, 717 PLI/Pat 563, 579 (2002) ("In contrast to the piecemeal U.S. approach that relies largely on self-regulation, the European Union in 1995 adopted a data protection directive * * * that required each of the 15 member states to enact comprehensive data protection legislation.").

[9] As this Court has recognized, when information is sought in the United States from a foreign individual or entity, the data privacy statutes of the foreign party's own government are not controlling. See Societe Nationale Industrielle Aerospatiale v. United States District Court, 482 U.S. 522, 544-545 n.29 (1987); Societe Internationale Pour Participations Industrielles Et Commerciales v. Rogers, 357 U.S. 197, 204-206 (1958). Thus, for example, a foreign "blocking" statute does "not deprive an American court of the power to order a party subject to its jurisdiction to produce evidence even though the act of production may violate that statute." Aerospatiale, 482 U.S. at 544 n.29. Here, in contrast, the constitutional deficiency in HVIRA is not merely that it imposes disclosure obligations on foreign insurers that may conflict with their own governments' privacy laws, but rather that it conflicts with the United States government's approach to the resolution of Holocaust victims'

REV_00114362

HVIRA has generated the very tensions in international relations that the United States has sought to avoid, prompting protests from the governments of Germany and Switzerland concerning HVIRA's application to insurance policies written in those countries. See Zschernig, 389 U.S. at 437 n.7 (relying on similar protests to conclude that state statute impermissibly interfered with national government's authority over foreign affairs); cf. Crosby, 530 U.S. at 382-384. It is not for respondents to trivialize the potential implications of those protests for United States foreign policy (see Supp. Br. in Opp. 2), especially at a time of international tension when relations between this Nation and its European allies are at their most sensitive. State government officials, who are not part of the process through which the Nation formulates and conducts its international relations, are not well positioned to evaluate what adverse impact their actions may have for those relations. They cannot, for example, be expected to make an informed assessment of whether, or how, or when a foreign government might respond to provocative state legislation, or how detrimental the response might be to various important interests of the United States as a whole. "Experience has shown that international controversies of the gravest moment, sometimes even leading to war, may arise from real or imagined wrongs to another's subjects inflicted, or permitted, by a government." Zschernig, 389 U.S. at 441.

The proliferation of laws in California and other States that seek to facilitate claims against the United States' current allies or their citizens arising out of past international conflicts (see, e.g., note 3, supra) demonstrates the danger of allowing States, which are not simultaneously dealing with foreign governments on many other important initiatives, to claims against those insurers, an approach that is itself more deferential to European privacy concerns.

---

REV_00114363

pursue their own foreign policies. As the Court recently reaffirmed, the Framers were determined that, because "[t]he union will undoubtedly be answerable to foreign powers for the conduct of its members," "the peace of the WHOLE ought not to be left at the disposal of a PART." Crosby, 530 U.S. at 381-382 n.16 (quoting The Federalist No. 80, at 535-536 (Alexander Hamilton) (J. Cooke ed., 1961)).

2. The court of appeals erred in refusing, based on a misunderstanding of Barclays Bank PLC v. Franchise Tax Board, 512 U.S. 298 (1994), to consider the Executive Branch's views regarding HVIRA's foreign policy ramifications. See Pet. App. 55a. As this Court has explained, Barclays addressed an unusual situation in which Congress and the Executive had taken divergent positions. See Crosby, 530 U.S. at 385-386; Barclays, 512 U.S. at 324-330. Crosby reaffirms the central importance in other situations of the President's views in exercising his constitutional responsibility "to speak for the Nation with one voice in dealing with other governments." 530 U.S. at 381, 385-386.

Contrary to the view of the court of appeals (see Pet. App. 47a-50a), the U.S. Holocaust Assets Commission Act of 1998, Pub. L. No. 105-186, 112 Stat. 611, does not authorize States to enact statutes such as HVIRA. That Act, in fact, confirms that California has departed from the course charted by the United States. As relevant here, the Act established a "Presidential Advisory Commission on Holocaust Assets in the United States" to investigate the disposition of certain Holocaust-era assets that "came into the possession or control of the Federal Government" after January 30, 1933. Id. §§ 2(a) and 3(a)(1), 112 Stat. 611, 612. The Act, among other things, directed the Commission to "encourage the National Association of Insurance Commissioners to prepare a report on the Holocaust-related claims practices of all insurance companies, both domestic and foreign, doing business in the United States at any time after January 30, 1933," that issued an insurance policy to "any individual on any list of Holocaust victims." Id. § 3(a)(4)(A), 112 Stat. 613.

REV_00114364

Nothing in the federal Act imposes disclosure obligations on insurers under threat of sanctions. Nor does the Act confer any authority on the States to do so. To the contrary, the Act contemplates the gathering of information only "to the degree [it] is available." Pub. L. No. 105-186, § 3(a)(4)(B), 112 Stat. 613, 614. Moreover, unlike HVIRA, which is explicitly directed at facilitating individual claims against European insurers, the federal Act is concerned, among other things, with collecting information on "the Holocaust-related claims practices" of insurers "doing business in the United States," to assist the Commission in preparing a report to the President containing "recommendations for such legislative, administrative, or other action as it deems necessary or appropriate." Id. § 3(a)(4)(A) and 3(d)(1), 112 Stat. 613, 614 (emphasis added). And, whereas HVIRA seeks specific information about each policy issued by each European insurer during the relevant period, the federal Act seeks more general information, such as "[t]he number of policies issued by each company" to Holocaust victims. Id. § 3(a)(4)(B), 112 Stat. 613. Although the federal Act does seek information on the value of each such policy, it does not require the policyholder or beneficiary to be identified. It thus does not present the same privacy concerns as does HVIRA.[10]

---

[10] The federal Commission's final report does not disclose any private information regarding the insurance policies issued by European insurers to Holocaust victims. To the contrary, the report discusses such policies only in general terms, such as by describing the ways in which Nazi regimes confiscated the insurance assets of Holocaust victims. See Presidential Advisory Comm'n on Holocaust Assets in the United States, Plunder and Restitution: The U.S. and Holocaust Victims' Assets SR-15 (Dec. 2000) (Nazis "confiscat[ed] insurance monies" of "Jews fleeing Germany"); id. at SR-17 (Nazis "confiscat[ed] payments from insurers that

REV_00114365

Thus, the federal Act takes a deliberately cautious approach, seeking to gather available information and to produce recommendations for the President as to what further measures might be appropriate. It provides no authority for California to pursue its own foreign policy, inconsistent with that pursued by the President, with respect to the resolution of claims under insurance policies issued by European companies to European individuals who became victims of the Holocaust.

II. HVIRA VIOLATES CONSTITUTIONAL PROHIBITIONS ON EXTRATERRITORIAL STATE REGULATION

Both the Commerce Clause and the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment prohibit a State from regulating activity outside its borders. HVIRA is such an extraterritorial regulation. HVIRA focuses exclusively on transactions that occurred in Europe between Europeans many decades ago. It compels the disclosure of extensive private information about those transactions, even though they have "no jurisdictionally-significant relationship to [the State]." Gerling Global Reinsurance Corp. of Am. v. Gallagher, 267 F.3d 1228, 1238 (11th Cir. 2001). A State may not project its regulatory authority into other Nations in this fashion.

A. The Commerce Clause And The Due Process Clause Prohibit States From Regulating Transactions Outside Their Borders

1. Under familiar Commerce Clause principles, California may not require corporations to adhere to its standards in other States or nations as a condition of doing business in California. The Commerce Clause "precludes the application were intended to compensate property owners for their damages" from the Kristallnacht pogrom). Nor does the report recommend any legislative or administrative action with respect to such insurance policies.

---

REV_00114366

of a state statute to commerce that takes place wholly outside of the State's borders, whether or not the commerce has effects within the State." Healy v. Beer Inst., Inc., 491 U.S. 324, 336 (1989); see BMW of N. Am., Inc. v. Gore, 517 U.S. 559, 572 (1996) ("[I]t follows from the[] principles of state sovereignty and comity" reflected in, inter alia, the Commerce Clause that "a State may not impose economic sanctions on violators of its laws with the intent of changing the [violator's] lawful conduct in other States."). A state law does not cease to be impermissibly "extraterritorial" under the Commerce Clause merely because it has some nexus to domestic persons or activities. "The critical inquiry is whether the practical effect of the regulation is to control conduct beyond the boundaries of the State." Healy, 491 U.S. at 336; accord, e.g., Brown-Forman Distillers Corp. v. New York State Liquor Auth., 476 U.S. 573, 583 (1986).

The Court's decision in Healy is illustrative. There, the Court struck down a Connecticut statute that required beer distributors, as a condition of doing business in the State, to file monthly statements with state authorities affirming that their prices in Connecticut did not exceed their prices in any neighboring State. 491 U.S. at 328 & n.5. The statute did not, by its terms, require or prohibit any conduct outside Connecticut. The Court nonetheless recognized that the "practical effect" of the statute was to constrain the distributors' ability to adjust their prices in other States in response to local market conditions. See id. at 337-339. Accordingly, the Court held that the statute was an impermissible extraterritorial regulation of commerce. Id. at 340.

The Commerce Clause's prohibition on a State's regulation of conduct beyond its borders protects against "inconsistent legislation arising from the projection of one state regulatory regime into the jurisdiction of another State." Healy, 491 U.S. at 336-337. When, as here, a State seeks to project its regulatory regime not merely beyond its own borders, but into the jurisdiction of another nation, the potential is particularly great for inconsistent legislation and resulting conflict, as well as for interference with United States foreign policy. Cf. Japan Line, 441 U.S. at 447-449 (noting that a state tax on instrumentalities of foreign commerce poses special concerns under the Commerce Clause because, unlike in the domestic context, no authoritative tribunal exists to assure that such instrumentalities are not subject to double taxation). Indeed, even Acts of Congress are presumed not to apply extraterritorially, unless Congress clearly indicates otherwise, to "protect against unintended clashes between our laws and those of other nations which could result in international discord." EEOC v. Arabian Am. Oil Co., 499 U.S. 244, 248 (1991).

REV_00114367

2. A State is also constrained by the Due Process Clause from regulating transactions that do not have a significant relationship to its legitimate interests. See, e.g., BMW, 517 U.S. at 568-574; Phillips Petroleum Co. v. Shutts, 472 U.S. 797, 818-819 (1985); Home Ins. Co. v. Dick, 281 U.S. 397, 407-408 (1930).

In Dick, for example, the Court held that a Texas insurance statute could not, consistent with due process, be applied to invalidate a provision contained in a policy that had been issued in Mexico and was to be performed there. See 281 U.S. at 408. The Court explained that, because all acts relating to the making and performance of the policy occurred outside the State, "Texas was therefore without power to affect the terms of contracts so made." Ibid.; see id. at 408 n.5 ("[A] State is without power to impose either public or private obligations on contracts made outside of the state and not to be performed there."); see also Shutts, 472 U.S. at 821 (a State cannot apply its own law to "a transaction with little or no relationship to the [State]"). Similarly, in BMW, the Court held that a state court could not, consistent with due process, impose punitive damages designed to punish conduct that occurred in other States. The Court explained that a State "would be infringing on the policy choices of other States" by penalizing "conduct that was lawful where it occurred and that had no impact on [the State] or its residents." 517 U.S. at 572-573.

REV_00114368

Those cases make clear a State cannot apply its law to an out-of-state transaction simply because a party to the transaction resides within the State. Indeed, the policyholder in Dick was a citizen and permanent resident of Texas, although all conduct relevant to the policy had occurred in Mexico. The Court held that Texas did not have a sufficient relationship to the policy to permit the State to regulate it. See 281 U.S. at 408. And, in Shutts, the Court held that Kansas could not apply its law to out-of-state plaintiffs' claims with respect to out-of-state leases, even though the defendant did business in the State. See 472 U.S. at 818-819.

B. HVIRA, By Imposing Disclosure Requirements Exclusively With Respect To Foreign Transactions Between Foreign Parties, Is An Impermissible Extraterritorial Regulation

1. Whether analyzed under the Commerce Clause or the Due Process Clause, HVIRA is an impermissible extraterritorial regulation. Its "practical effect" is to compel "conduct beyond the boundaries of the State," Healy, 491 U.S. at 336—specifically, to compel the retrieval, compilation, and public disclosure of detailed information, presumably located in Europe, concerning transactions that occurred many decades ago in Europe between European parties. There is no nexus between those transactions and any legitimate interest of California that would permit the State to exercise regulatory authority over them.

As noted above (at 14), HVIRA is not a generally applicable law that focuses on domestic matters and simply happens to have an extraterritorial effect in certain applications. Cf.

REV_00114369

Japan Line, supra (invalidating local taxing laws even in that situation when they interfered with the Nation's ability to speak with one voice). Rather, HVIRA is specifically and exclusively directed at transactions that occurred in Europe. It is thus especially evident that HVIRA exceeds the proper legislative jurisdiction of the State. Indeed, HVIRA is inconsistent with California's own general privacy rules, which prohibit, with respect to insurance policies issued in California, the same sorts of disclosures that HVIRA mandates with respect to European policies. See Cal. Ins. Code § 791.13 (West 1993).

The conclusion that HVIRA is an unconstitutional exterritorial regulation is confirmed by "considering how [such laws] may interact with the legitimate regulatory regimes of other States" and nations. Healy, 491 U.S. at 336 (noting relevance of such an inquiry); cf. BMW, 517 U.S. at 572 (a State cannot "attempt[] to alter [a business's] nationwide policy" in a manner that "infring[es] on the policy choices of other States"). It is plain that HVIRA has the potential to interfere with other jurisdictions' laws limiting the disclosure of personal information gathered in connection with the issuance of insurance policies. See note 8, supra (discussing European data privacy laws). German officials have, in fact, opined that a German insurer would violate German privacy laws by complying with HVIRA, at least with respect to the disclosure of information about policyholders who are not believed to be Holocaust victims. See Gerling Appellees' C.A. Reh'g Pet., Exh. C. Yet, as the court of appeals recognized, an insurer that fails to disclose the information required by HVIRA will have its California license suspended, even if "disclosure pursuant to HVIRA [would] violate[] European data protection laws." Pet. App. 25a.

2. a. The court of appeals suggested that HVIRA does not regulate extraterritorially because it does "not seek to regulate the substance of out-of-state transactions." Pet. App. 15a (addressing due process challenge); accord id. at 43a (addressing Commerce Clause challenge). In the court's view, HVIRA is constitutional because it "requires California insurers only to disclose information about their foreign transactions or those of their affiliates." Id. at 16a.

REV_00114370

The court of appeals' reasoning rests on the erroneous premise that "[a] request for information is simply not equivalent" to a regulation. Pet. App. 16a. A requirement that a person disclose, or refrain from disclosing, confidential information is regulatory in nature. It imposes a substantive obligation, the violation of which carries adverse consequences, in order to advance a government policy objective. See Dole v. United Steelworkers of Am., 494 U.S. 26, 28 (1990) (describing "rules which require regulated entities to disclose information" as "[a]mong the regulatory tools available to [the] Government"); see also BMW, 517 U.S. at 571 n.15 ("Federal disclosure requirements are, of course, a familiar part of our law.") (citing examples). Indeed, when the Court explained in BMW that "no single State could * * * impose its own policy choice on neighboring States," the Court was referring to a State's policy choice "requiring full disclosure of every presale repair to a car." 517 U.S. at 570-571 (emphasis added); see Gallagher, 267 F.3d at 1238 (observing that the disclosure provisions of Florida's version of HVIRA "pertain to, and as a practical matter unquestionably seek to regulate," Holocaust-era policies). Indeed, the regulatory nature of HVIRA's disclosure requirements is underscored by the substantive and regulatory nature of the converse interest in protecting privacy. The existence of data privacy laws, such as the European laws invoked by petitioners here, belies any claim that laws governing disclosure or non-disclosure of information do not regulate or implicate the Commerce Clause and the Due Process Clause.

REV_00114371

b. The court of appeals also suggested that HVIRA is constitutionally justified by the State's purpose to "protect[] its residents from insurance companies that have not paid valid claims." Pet. App. 16a. A State cannot evade constitutional limits on extraterritorial legislation merely by deeming a corporation's conduct outside the State relevant to its ability to perform within the State. See BMW, 517 U.S. at 573-574 (State cannot base punitive damages award on conduct that is lawful in other jurisdictions); see generally Healy, 491 U.S. at 336 ("[A] statute that directly controls commerce occurring wholly outside the boundaries of a State * * * is invalid regardless of whether the statute's extraterritorial reach was intended by the legislature."); id. at 337 n.14 (noting that only a statute that "regulates evenhandedly" and "has only indirect effects on interstate commerce" may be justified by a sufficiently important state interest).

In any event, the express purpose of HVIRA is to facilitate the resolution of claims on policies issued in Europe more than 50 years ago rather than to assess the fitness of insurers to do business in California today. See Cal. Ins. Code § 13801(d) and (e) (West Supp. 2003) (HVIRA is designed "to ensure the rapid resolution of * * * questions" concerning "insurance policies held by Holocaust victims and survivors," so as to "eliminat[e] the further victimization of these policyholders and their families"). By contrast, HVIRA makes no mention of the purpose that the court posited. Nor do any other features of HVIRA suggest that its purpose or primary operative effect is to enable the Commissioner of Insurance to ascertain whether an insurance company will deal fairly with California consumers. See BMW, 517 U.S. at 572 (state regulation "must be supported by the State's interest in protecting its own consumers and its own economy"). The information that HVIRA requires insurers to disclose is too remote, too dated, and, at the same time, too detailed to support the court of appeals' posited purpose. The disclosure obligation is tailored to enable individuals—only a small fraction of whom may even now have any connection at all to California—to pursue claims under policies issued in Europe many decades ago. It is not tailored to assessing insurers' current performance in the State.

REV_00114372

Indeed, state statutes in effect at the time of HVIRA's enactment already provided the Commissioner of Insurance with all of the tools necessary to investigate insurers' business practices. Cal. Ins. Code § 717(h) (West 1993) (providing Commissioner with the authority to gather information to assess the "fairness and honesty of methods of doing business" of any insurer seeking to do business in the State); id. § 733 (authority to examine "all [the insurer's] affairs"); id. § 1215.6 (authority to obtain documents in possession of "the insurer or its affiliates"). HVIRA was described by its supporters not as a means of obtaining information needed by the Commissioner, but as a means of obtaining information needed by individual claimants. See note 2 supra.

c. Contrary to the court of appeals' holding, the McCarran-Ferguson Act, 15 U.S.C. 1011 et seq., does not immunize HVIRA from scrutiny under the Commerce Clause. The McCarran-Ferguson Act provides no authority for a State to extend its regulation of insurance into other States or nations.

The McCarran-Ferguson Act was enacted in response to this Court's decision in United States v. South-Eastern Underwriters Ass'n, 322 U.S. 533 (1944), which held that insurance is "commerce," with the consequence that the States' ability to regulate insurance was circumscribed by the Commerce Clause. See United States Dep't of the Treasury v. Fabe, 508 U.S. 491, 499-500 (1993). Congress, however, viewed insurance as "a local matter, to be subject to and regulated by the laws of the several States." H.R. Rep. No.

REV_00114373

143, 79th Cong., 1st Sess. 2 (1945). Thus, Congress enacted the McCarran-Ferguson Act to ensure that the States would continue to have primary responsibility for regulating insurance and that state laws regulating and taxing insurance would be preempted only when Congress stated a clear intent to do so. See Fabe, 508 U.S. at 500, 507.

The McCarran-Ferguson Act removes Commerce Clause limitations only with respect to a State's regulation and taxation of the insurance business within its own borders. This Court held in FTC v. Travelers Health Ass'n, 362 U.S. 293, 301 (1960), that the Act was not intended to authorize state regulation of extraterritorial activities. The Court explained that Congress "viewed state regulation of insurance solely in terms of regulation by the law of the State where occurred the activity sought to be regulated." Id. at 300. The Court reasoned that a contrary construction of the Act would raise serious constitutional questions, id. at 302, and undermine Congress's "basic motivating policy" of leaving the regulation of insurance to those "in close proximity to" the people and policies regulated, id. at 301-302.[11]

---

[11] The Court was specifically concerned in Travelers with an exception to the McCarran-Ferguson Act that, among other things, allows the Federal Trade Commission to regulate insurance to the extent that it is not regulated by state law. See 15 U.S.C. 1012(b). The Court's reasoning applies equally, however, to the Act's general rule that authorizes state regulation of insurance. See 15 U.S.C. 1012(a). The two provisions are complementary. The general rule is that "[t]he business of insurance" is "subject to the laws of the * * * States which relate to the regulation * * * of such business." 15 U.S.C. 1012(a). The exception provides that the Federal Trade Commission Act, among other Acts, "shall be applicable to the business of insurance to the extent that such business is not regulated by State law." 15 U.S.C. 1012(b). Under Section 1012(b), the Federal Trade Commission Act applies unless the aspect of the insurance business at issue is already regulated by the State as contemplated in Section 1012(a). As Travelers makes clear, extraterritorial state regulation is not within the authority delegated to the States by Section 1012(a).

REV_00114374

Finally, whatever the extent to which the McCarran-Ferguson Act immunizes state insurance regulations from scrutiny under the Commerce Clause, the Act provides no immunity from other constitutional provisions, including the Due Process Clause. See Quill Corp. v. North Dakota, 504 U.S. 298, 305 (1992). Accordingly, even if the Act were understood to provide a Commerce Clause immunity for extraterritorial state regulation of insurance, HVIRA would nonetheless be invalid as exceeding the Due Process Clause's independent limitations on a State's authority "to impose * * * obligations on contracts made outside of the State and not to be performed there." Dick, 281 U.S. at 408 n.5.

CONCLUSION

The judgment of the court of appeals should be reversed.

Respectfully submitted.

PAUL D. CLEMENT*
Acting Solicitor General
ROBERT D. MCCALLUM, JR.
Assistant Attorney General
EDWIN S. KNEEDLER
Deputy Solicitor General
BARBARA MCDOWELL
Assistant to the Solicitor General
MARK B. STERN
DOUGLAS HALLWARD-DRIEMEIER
Attorneys

WILLIAM H. TAFT, IV
Legal Adviser
Department of State

FEBRUARY 2003

* The Solicitor General is recused in this case.

REV_00114375

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Jonathan F. Ganter/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jonathan F. Ganter>
Sent: 4/11/2003 6:34:07 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 10:34:07.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Jonathan F. Ganter ( CN=Jonathan F. Ganter/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

change car to 11:45
```

From: CN=Jay P. Lefkowitz/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange [OPD]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/11/2003 7:13:44 AM
Subject: : you looking for me?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Jay P. Lefkowitz ( CN=Jay P. Lefkowitz/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange [ OPD ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 11:13:44.00
SUBJECT:: you looking for me?
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

;
```

From: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/11/2003 11:20:11 AM
Subject: RE: you looking for me?

Waiting for Hobbs to report in.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Friday, April 11, 2003 11:13 AM
To: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
Subject: Re: you looking for me?

just wondering if there is any algiers update?

From: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange on 04/11/2003 11:13:16 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: you looking for me?

From: CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jennifer G. Newstead>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Jennifer R. Brosnahan/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jennifer R. Brosnahan>;Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Benjamin A. Powell>;Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>;Noel J. Francisco/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Noel J. Francisco>
Sent: 4/11/2003 7:25:28 AM
Subject: : good website

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:H. Christopher Bartolomucci ( CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 11:25:28.00
SUBJECT:: good website
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jennifer G. Newstead ( CN=Jennifer G. Newstead/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jennifer R. Brosnahan ( CN=Jennifer R. Brosnahan/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Benjamin A. Powell ( CN=Benjamin A. Powell/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Kyle Sampson ( CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Noel J. Francisco ( CN=Noel J. Francisco/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

www.welovetheiraqiinformationminister.com
```

From: CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/11/2003 7:40:36 AM
Subject: : what's Dabney's e-mail?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:H. Christopher Bartolomucci ( CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 11:40:36.00
SUBJECT:: what's Dabney's e-mail?
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Leonard B. Rodriguez/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Leonard B. Rodriguez>
Sent: 4/11/2003 7:58:52 AM
Subject: : let's talk about New America Alliance

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 11:58:52.00
SUBJECT:: let's talk about New America Alliance
TO:Leonard B. Rodriguez ( CN=Leonard B. Rodriguez/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Ashley Estes/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Estes>
Sent: 4/11/2003 8:34:38 AM
Subject: : on call; will call back

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 12:34:38.00
SUBJECT:: on call; will call back
TO:Ashley Estes ( CN=Ashley Estes/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: Grubbs, Wendy J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/11/2003 12:42:19 PM
Subject: Re: ConfCall, Fri 11:30 am

I love manny.
.

From: CN=Ashley Estes/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/11/2003 8:42:00 AM
Subject: : RE: on call; will call back

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Ashley Estes ( CN=Ashley Estes/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 12:42:00.00
SUBJECT:: RE: on call; will call back
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

I'll check back after 1pm if that's ok.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Friday, April 11, 2003 12:34 PM
To: Estes, Ashley
Subject: on call; will call back
```

From: CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/11/2003 8:42:02 AM
Subject: : Re: ConfCall, Fri 11:30 am

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Wendy J. Grubbs ( CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 12:42:02.00
SUBJECT:: Re: ConfCall, Fri 11:30 am
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

I love manny.
.
```

From: Grubbs, Wendy J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/11/2003 12:46:53 PM
Subject: Re: ConfCall, Fri 11:30 am

I know that one, but prob sensitive.
.

From: CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/11/2003 8:46:30 AM
Subject: : Re: ConfCall, Fri 11:30 am

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Wendy J. Grubbs ( CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 12:46:30.00
SUBJECT:: Re: ConfCall, Fri 11:30 am
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

I know that one, but prob sensitive.
.
```

From: CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: David S. Addington/OVP/EOP@EOP [OVP] <David S. Addington>
CC: Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/11/2003 1:16:36 PM
Subject: : FW: Orders re: Att C
Attachments: P_H17KF003_WHO.TXT_1.pdf; P_H17KF003_WHO.TXT_2.pdf

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Theodore W. Ullyot (CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 17:16:36.00
SUBJECT:: FW: Orders re: Att C
TO:David S. Addington (CN=David S. Addington/OU=OVP/O=EOP@EOP [OVP])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Kyle Sampson (CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Some rare (and minor) good news from Judge Lamberth on the Cobell front.

At issue was whether the plaintiffs could have access to the draft testimony of Thomas Slonaker, the former Special Trustee (resigned last summer). DOI claimed it was subject to deliberative process privilege. Special Master-Monitor agreed, but found that plaintiffs' need for the document outweighed the need for confidentiality. In the attached, Lamberth finds that (1) the document is subject to deliberative process privilege, and (2) plaintiffs have not established that they are entitled to the document. So the govt's doc stays privileged. Just another brick in the wall of secrecy . . . .
---------- Forwarded by Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP on 04/11/2003 05:07 PM ----------

"Bill.Jordan@usdoj.gov" <Bill.Jordan
04/11/2003 05:02:18 PM
Record Type: Record

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
cc:
Subject: FW: Orders re: Att C

Good news: The district court in Cobell issued an order finding that "attachment C" (Slonaker's draft testimony) was subject to the deliberative process privilege (as the Special Master-Monitor found), but that it should not be released as the SM-M recommended based upon plaintiffs' showing of "need". He ordered all references to the filing made by plaintiffs in publicly available pleadings be stricken from the record.

Bill

William H. Jordan
Senior Counsel to the Assistant Attorney General
Civil Division
Department of Justice
950 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20530
202-514-5421
202-514-8071 (fax)

- 04-11-03 Order re Att C.pdf
- 04-11-03 Memorandum Opinion re Att C.pdf

Message Sent
To:_____
"Peter.D.Keisler@usdoj.gov" <Peter.D.Keisler@usdoj.gov> (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested)
"Jason.Klitenic@usdoj.gov" <Jason.Klitenic@usdoj.gov> (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested)
"Robert.McCallum@usdoj.gov" <Robert.McCallum@usdoj.gov> (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested)
Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP
Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_H17KF003_WHO.TXT_1>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_H17KF003_WHO.TXT_2>

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ELOUISE PEPION COBELL, et al.,

Plaintiffs,

v.

GALE NORTON, Secretary of the Interior, et al.,

Defendants.

Civil Action Number 96-1285 (RCL)

FILED
APR 11 2003
CLERK, U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ORDER

For the reasons set forth in the Court's memorandum opinion issued this date, it is hereby

ORDERED that the Report and Recommendation of the Special Master-Monitor on Plaintiffs' Motion to Unseal Document Filed Under Seal by Court Monitor ("the March 17 Report") be adopted with respect to its conclusion that the contents of Attachment C are protected by the deliberative process privilege. It is further ORDERED that the March 17 Report be rejected as to all other conclusions of law contained therein. It is further ORDERED that defendant's unopposed motion to file under seal Interior defendants' response regarding the disposition of the Attachment C sealed document [1576-1] be, and hereby is, GRANTED. It is further ORDERED that plaintiffs' unopposed motion to file under seal plaintiffs' reply in support of the public disclosure of Attachment C [1577-1] be, and hereby is, GRANTED. It is further ORDERED that defendants' unopposed motion to file under seal Interior defendants'

REV_00114408

further response regarding the disposition of the Attachment C sealed document [1598-1] be, and hereby is, GRANTED. It is further

ORDERED that defendants' unopposed motion to file under seal Interior defendants' motion and memorandum to strike plaintiffs' counsel's references to the contents of the Attachment C sealed document during the November 5, 2002 hearing [1599-1] be, and hereby is, GRANTED. It is further ORDERED that defendants' sealed motion to strike plaintiffs' counsel's references to the contents of the Attachment C sealed document during the November 5, 2002 hearing be, and hereby is, GRANTED. It is further ORDERED that the references by plaintiffs' counsel Dennis Gingold to the contents of Attachment C be stricken from the record of the November 5, 2002 hearing in the present case. It is further

ORDERED that defendants' unopposed motion to file under seal Interior defendants' motion and memorandum to strike references to the contents of the Attachment C sealed document in plaintiffs' second reply in support of the public disclosure of Attachment C [1609-1] be, and hereby is, GRANTED. It is further ORDERED that defendants' sealed motion and memorandum to strike references to the contents of the Attachment C sealed document in plaintiffs' second reply in support of the public disclosure of Attachment C be, and hereby is, GRANTED. It is further ORDERED that references to the contents of Attachment C in plaintiffs' second reply in support of the public disclosure of Attachment C shall be stricken from the record of this case. It is further

REV_00114409

ORDERED that defendants' motion to file under seal Interior defendants' declaration of David Longly Bernhardt in support of Interior defendants' motion for a protective order concerning Attachment C [1810-1] be, and hereby is, GRANTED. It is further ORDERED that defendants' motion to file under seal Interior defendants' reply to plaintiffs' statement of need regarding Attachment C [1870-1] be, and hereby is, GRANTED. It is further

ORDERED that defendants' unopposed motion to file under seal Interior defendants' motion and memorandum to strike plaintiffs' statement of need due to unsealed references to the content of Attachment C [1894-1] be, and hereby is, GRANTED. It is further ORDERED that defendants' unopposed motion and memorandum to strike plaintiffs' statement of need due to unsealed references to the content of Attachment C be, and hereby is, GRANTED. It is further ORDERED that plaintiffs' statement of need regarding Attachment C, which was filed on February 26, 2003, be stricken from the record in this case. It is further ORDERED that defendants' motion to file under seal defendants' motion and memorandum [1933-1] be, and hereby is, GRANTED. It is further ORDERED that defendants' sealed motion to strike plaintiffs' references to and quotation of the content of Attachment C in plaintiffs' motion for order to show cause why Interior defendants and Bert T. Edwards should not be held in civil and criminal contempt and in plaintiffs' response to defendants' historical accounting plan for individual Indian money accounts be, and hereby is, GRANTED. It is further

ORDERED that section IV(5) of plaintiffs' response to defendants' historical accounting plan for individual Indian money accounts and section IV.E of plaintiffs' motion for order to show cause why Interior defendants and Bert T. Edwards should not be held in civil and criminal contempt shall be stricken from the record in this case. It is further ORDERED that defendants' motion to file under seal Interior defendants' objections to the report and recommendation of the Special Master-Monitor [1938-1] be, and hereby is, GRANTED.

REV_00114410

SO ORDERED.

Date: 4-10-03

Royce C. Lamberth
United States District Judge

REV_00114411

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ELOUISE PEPION COBELL, et al.,

Plaintiffs,

v.

GALE NORTON, Secretary of the Interior, et al.,

Defendants.

Civil Action Number 96-1285 (RCL)

FILED
APR 11 2003
CLERK, U.S. DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

MEMORANDUM OPINION

This matter comes before the Court on a series of motions relating to the disposition of the sealed document included at Attachment C of the August 8, 2002 special report of the Court Monitor (now Special Master-Monitor) ("the Monitor"). On March 17, 2003, the Monitor filed a report finding that although this document fell under the protection of the deliberative process privilege, it should nevertheless be unsealed because plaintiffs had established that their need for the document outweighed the government's interest in maintaining the seal on the document. Having reviewed the Monitor's report, the objections submitted thereto, the parties' motions, the opposition and reply briefs submitted thereto, and the applicable law in this case, the Court hereby adopts the undisputed conclusions of law contained in the Monitor's report and rejects the disputed conclusions of law contained therein.

I. BACKGROUND

REV_00114412

On August 8, 2002, the Monitor filed a special report with this Court.[1] Submitted with the Special Report was a document located at Attachment C that was filed with the Court under seal ("Attachment C"). On October 18, 2002, in response to motions filed by both parties, the Court directed the Monitor to provide counsel for the parties with copies of Attachment C under seal. The Court also ordered counsel to honor the seal on the document, limiting access to Attachment C and any communications about it only to personnel in their offices who would be required to view or discuss the document in order to prepare submissions by counsel. Finally, the Court ordered the parties to file any portion of their future submissions to the Monitor that referred to the content of Attachment C under seal.

In a letter dated October 21, 2002, the Monitor directed the parties to file briefs addressing the further disposition of copies of Attachment C. Defendants filed their brief under seal on October 24, asserting that Attachment C fell within the scope of the deliberative process privilege. The next day, plaintiffs filed a reply brief under seal requesting that the Court unseal Attachment C. On November 9, defendants filed a further response in support of their request that Attachment C remain sealed. Defendants filed two further motions requesting that the Court strike references to the content of Attachment C that were made by plaintiffs' counsel during a November 5, 2002 hearing, and in plaintiffs' second reply brief in support of their request that Attachment C be unsealed.

Each of these motions turned on whether the contents of Attachment C fell under the protection of the deliberative process privilege. The application of that privilege to the present case was not resolved, however, until the Court issued a memorandum opinion on February 5, 2003, explaining the manner in which the privilege applied to the present case. In that opinion, the Court explained that it would defer any ruling on the disposition of Attachment C until defendants had filed with the Monitor an affidavit conforming with the requirements for proper invocation of the deliberative process privilege with respect to Attachment C. The Court also explained that plaintiffs would be afforded an opportunity to submit to the Monitor a statement setting forth the reasons that plaintiffs needed the information contained in Attachment C, and that defendants would be given an opportunity to file a brief in reply to plaintiffs' statement.

[1] The full title of the August 8 report was "Special Report of the Court Monitor on Potential Evidence Regarding the Alleged Suppression by White House and Department of Justice Attorneys of the Written Testimony of the Special Trustee Prepared for the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs' July 25, 2002 Hearing Regarding the Department of the Interior's Historical Accounting." The Court will refer to this document as "the Special Report."

REV_00114413

On February 14, defendants submitted an affidavit purporting to conform to the requirements for the proper invocation of the deliberative process privilege with respect to Attachment C, and requested that the affidavit be filed under seal. On February 26, plaintiffs filed the statement of need requested by the Court in its February 5 opinion. Defendants submitted a reply brief on March 6, again requesting that it be filed under seal.

On March 10, defendants submitted a motion to strike plaintiffs' statement of need because the statement allegedly contained references to the content of Attachment C, and requested that the motion be filed under seal. On March 17, the Monitor submitted a report recommending that Attachment C be unsealed ("the March 17 Report"). Defendants submitted their objections to the Monitor's report on March 31, and asked that the objections be submitted under seal. Additionally, on March 27, defendants moved to strike two filings by plaintiffs that allegedly contained references to the content of Attachment C, and requested that their motion be filed under seal.

REV_00114414

II. ANALYSIS

The March 17 Report submitted by the Monitor found that Attachment C was both predecisional and deliberative, and that defendants had submitted an affidavit conforming with the requirements for the proper invocation of the deliberative process privilege with respect to Attachment C. The Monitor therefore concluded that Attachment C fell under the protection of the privilege, and proceeded to examine whether plaintiffs had demonstrated that their need for the information in Attachment C outweighed defendants' interest in preventing the disclosure of that information. Applying the five-factor test derived from Schreiber v. Society for Savings Bancorp, Inc., 11 F.3d 217 (D.C. Cir. 1993), the Monitor balanced the interests and determined that plaintiffs' need for the information outweighed defendants' interest in preventing disclosure. Accordingly, the Monitor concluded that Attachment C should be unsealed.

The Court reviews conclusions of law made by the Monitor de novo. D.M.W. Contracting Co. v. Stolz, 158 F.2d 405, 407 (D.C. Cir. 1947); In re Vitamins Antitrust Litig., 211 F.R.D. 1, 3 (D.D.C. 2002). Because neither party has objected to the conclusions of the Monitor that Attachment C is predecisional and deliberative, that defendants submitted an affidavit conforming with the requirements for the proper invocation of the deliberative process privilege with respect to Attachment C, and that Attachment C is protected under the deliberative process privilege, the Court may adopt those conclusions without holding a hearing. Having reviewed the Monitor's conclusions de novo, the Court finds that they should be adopted as the law in this case.

However, defendants have objected to the Monitor's conclusions that plaintiffs' need for the information in Attachment C outweighs defendants' interest in preventing the disclosure of that information, and that Attachment C should therefore be unsealed. Because these are conclusions of law, the Court is required by Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 53(e)(2) to hold a hearing before the Court may adopt them as the law of this case. However, the Court has decided not to adopt either of these conclusions, obviating the need for a hearing on this matter.

REV_00114415

Given that the Court has elected to maintain the seal on Attachment C, the explication of its decision must necessarily refrain from discussing the content of that document. Fortunately, the legal standards governing its decision have already been explained in the Court's February 5, 2003 memorandum opinion. In that opinion, the Court explained that > once the elements of the [deliberative process] privilege have been met, the burden shifts to the party opposing the privilege to establish that its need for the information outweighs the interest of the government in preventing disclosure of the information. In this Circuit, courts balance the interests by using a five-factor test derived from Schreiber v. Society for Savings Bancorp, Inc., 11 F.3d 217 (D.C. Cir. 1993), in which the D.C. Circuit explained that "[a]t a minimum, the court must consider: (i) the relevance of the evidence sought to be protected; (ii) the availability of other evidence, (iii) the 'seriousness' of the litigation, (iv) the role of the government in the litigation, and (v) the possibility of future timidity by government employees who will be forced to recognize that their secrets are violable."

Mem. Op. dated February 5, 2003, at 5 (internal citations omitted). In their statement of need, plaintiffs set forth only two reasons why they need the information contained in Attachment C for the Phase 1.5 trial. Because an analysis of the first reason would necessarily entail a discussion of the content of Attachment C, the Court will say only that plaintiffs have failed to establish that they would not be able, without undue hardship, to obtain the same information by means of deposition testimony or the calling of live witnesses at trial. The second reason set forth by plaintiffs is that the information would furnish important evidence of defendants' bad faith. Without making any determination as to whether the information would provide any such evidence, the Court will simply note that plaintiffs have failed to establish that they would not be able to provide evidence of the bad faith of defendants through some other means. Having balanced plaintiffs' statements as to their need for the information with defendants' affidavit and reply brief, the Court finds that plaintiffs have failed to demonstrate that their need for the information outweighs the interest of defendants in preventing disclosure of the information. Therefore, the Court will not adopt the conclusions of the Monitor that plaintiffs' interest in disclosure outweighs defendants' interest in preventing disclosure, and that Attachment C should be unsealed.

REV_00114416

III. CONCLUSION

The Court has determined that the document included as Attachment C to the August 8, 2002 special report of the Monitor shall remain under seal. This determination necessarily requires that all references to the content of Attachment C in the filings in this case should either be sealed or stricken from the record in this case. Accordingly, the Court will grant all pending motions to file under seal any motions that discuss the content of Attachment C, and strike from the record in this case any references to that content in any other filings in this case.

A separate order consistent with the foregoing opinion shall be issued this date.

Date: 4-10-03

Royce C. Lamberth
United States District Judge

REV_00114417

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Jonathan F. Ganter/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jonathan F. Ganter>
Sent: 4/11/2003 10:23:14 AM
Subject: : Jen: Do you have Orlofsky letter addressed to President?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 14:23:14.00
SUBJECT:: Jen: Do you have Orlofsky letter addressed to President?
TO:Jonathan F. Ganter ( CN=Jonathan F. Ganter/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 4/11/2003 10:34:03 AM
Subject: : demographics

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 14:34:03.00
SUBJECT:: demographics
TO:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales (CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Note that after the April 28 circuit nominations, 4 of the President's 42 circuit nominees will have been Hispanic (9.5%) and 5 of 42 will have been African-American (12%). Historically speaking, those numbers are very high and very significant.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>
Sent: 4/11/2003 11:30:23 AM
Subject: : sue robinson will be the comp

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 15:30:23.00
SUBJECT:: sue robinson will be the comp
TO:Kyle Sampson ( CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Bumatay, Patrick J.>
Sent: 4/11/2003 4:41:56 PM
Subject: Re: FW: Letter to Paul McCullough
Attachments: McCulloch 3-27-03.doc

did we send this out. still a bit irritated about the process, but FAX me a copy of final.

From: Patrick J. Bumatay/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/08/2003 08:42:10 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: FW: Letter to Paul McCullough

What's the word on this?

-----Original Message-----

From: Burks, Jonathan W.

Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 8:41 AM

To: Gillmor, Eleanor L.; Ritacco, Krista L.; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Ralston, Susan B.; Hernandez, Israel

Subject: FW: Letter to Paul McCullough

Any word from your principals?

-----Original Message-----

From: Burks, Jonathan W.

Sent: Thursday, April 03, 2003 7:19 AM

To: Gillmor, Eleanor L.; Ritacco, Krista L.; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Ralston, Susan B.; Hernandez, Israel

Subject: Letter to Paul McCullough

Harriet emailed your principals (and sometimes you too) yesterday with her suggested revisions to the Jay's draft response to Paul McCullough. Please let me know if your principal is OK with her revisions. (I've attached a copy for easy reference.)

(Patrick, also please check to see if you guys concur this should come from someone in the counsel's office.)

Thanks,

Jon

<>

March 28, 2003

Mr. Paul McCulloch
440 Louisiana, 16th Floor
Houston, TX 77002

Dear Mr. McCulloch,

On behalf of President Bush, thank you for your letter about the President's proposals on medical liability reform and for the information regarding Javier DeLuna. The President appreciates hearing your views and welcomes your suggestions about this important issue. President Bush supports recovery of all medical costs and economic damages where the facts justify an award. He also supports awarding reasonable non-economic damages and punitive damages in cases where the facts justify recovery of such an award. However, the medical liability crisis is threatening access to health care in many states and must be addressed.

Excessive jury awards are driving up costs, encouraging frivolous lawsuits, and promoting long, drawn-out legal proceedings. The fear of lawsuits forces many good doctors to practice defensive medicine, ordering excessive tests, procedures, and treatments. These unnecessary practices increase costs for patients, while decreasing quality and availability of care. In addition, many insurers have dropped medical liability coverage for doctors, particularly in the fields of neurosurgery, and obstetrics and gynecology, or raised premiums dramatically, forcing some doctors out of medicine.

The President has proposed a national solution that will make quality health care more affordable, more available, and safer for all Americans, while protecting the injured patient's right to hold accountable doctors who practice bad medicine. These reforms include ensuring that injured patients have the right to obtain appropriate compensation for economic losses while preventing excessive non-economic and punitive damage awards that drive up costs and encourage unnecessary lawsuits and lengthy legal proceedings.

These changes will ensure that quality of care improves as patients gain greater access to physicians. Experience in many states has demonstrated that these medical liability reforms can reduce Federal government costs by $30 billion per year or more, freeing up funds that can make health care more affordable. In addition, these standards can reduce health care costs for all Americans by $60 billion or more, and make our system more fair, predictable, and timely.

The President has called for reserving punitive damages for cases where they are justified, but not limiting economic damages incurred by patients like Javier in any way. The President has also called for the payment of judgments over time rather than in a single lump sum, to ensure that appropriate payments are there when patients like Javier may need them. Under the President's plan, even excluding any potential non-economic or punitive damages, Javier would be able to receive full compensation for all medical costs and all economic damages, including both lost and potential wages.

The President believes that these reforms allow injured parties to recover justifiable damages, but they will significantly improve our medical liability system and help our health care system remain the best in the world. Thank you again for writing.

Sincerely,

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Lefkowitz, Jay P.>
Sent: 4/11/2003 4:51:42 PM
Subject: any word on algiers

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP [OPD] <Jay P. Lefkowitz>
Sent: 4/11/2003 12:52:09 PM
Subject: : any word on algiers

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 16:52:09.00
SUBJECT:: any word on algiers
TO:Jay P. Lefkowitz ( CN=Jay P. Lefkowitz/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Diana L. Schacht/OU=OPD/O=EOP [OPD]
To: Kristen Silverberg/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Kristen Silverberg>;Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP [OPD] <Jay P. Lefkowitz>;Kevin Warsh/OPD /EOP@EOP [OPD] <Kevin Warsh>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Margaret M. Spellings/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP [OPD] <Margaret M. Spellings>
Sent: 4/11/2003 12:53:56 PM
Subject: : class action

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Diana L. Schacht ( CN=Diana L. Schacht/OU=OPD/O=EOP [ OPD ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 16:53:56.00
SUBJECT:: class action
TO:Kristen Silverberg ( CN=Kristen Silverberg/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jay P. Lefkowitz ( CN=Jay P. Lefkowitz/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Kevin Warsh ( CN=Kevin Warsh/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Margaret M. Spellings ( CN=Margaret M. Spellings/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Senate Judiciary reported out the class action bill today by vote of 12-7. The Feintein amendment was adopted.
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 4/11/2003 12:54:43 PM
Subject: : class action

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 16:54:43.00
SUBJECT:: class action
TO:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales (CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

good news and a long time in coming over last several years . . .

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/11/2003 04:54 PM ----------

Diana L. Schacht
04/11/2003 04:53:39 PM
Record Type: Record

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
cc:
Subject: class action

Senate Judiciary reported out the class action bill today by vote of 12-7. The Feintein amendment was adopted.

Message Sent
To:_____
Margaret M. Spellings/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP
Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP
Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Kristen Silverberg/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP
Kevin Warsh/OPD/EOP@EOP

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary) <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov>
Sent: 4/11/2003 1:00:45 PM
Subject: : RE: Class Action deal

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 17:00:45.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Class Action deal
TO:"Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary)" <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov> ("Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary)" <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

congrats.

"Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary)" <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov>
04/03/2003 07:20:50 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: Class Action deal

Very interesting markup today. Started class action, then held over because Leahy & Durbin claimed they hadn't been given enough time to review Feinstein's amendment (there were a little more fireworks and back and forth between Hatch and Leahy than I am conveying - always makes markups interesting)
So the agreement is we go forward with the markup next week, no new amendments except if they relate to Feinstein's amendment (so you can be sure we will get 20 second degrees) but they have to be circulated 24 hours in advance fortunately. And it continues.
OGH is determined to finish it next week and not let it hang over the recess.

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTE:

The information contained in this e-mail is legally privileged and confidential information intended only for the use of the individuals or entities named as addressees.; If you, the reader of this message, are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution, publication, or copying of this message is strictly prohibited.; If you have received this message in error, please forgive the inconvenience, immediately notify the sender, and delete the original message without keeping a copy.

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Thursday, April 03, 2003 7:47 AM
To: Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary); Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
Subject: Re: Class Action deal

Thx for info.

..

----- Original Message -----
From:<Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov>
To:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:
Date: 04/03/2003 12:43:01 AM
Subject: Class Action deal

FYI, we just cut a deal to get Feinstein on board. We are marking it up tomorrow and expect to finish it tomorrow. 9 Amendments besides Feinstein's, most of which we have seen before and can easily defeat. Leahy will also offer his First Responders bill and a Crim Penalties for Doc Destruction amendment. Should be an interesting markup.

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTE:

The information contained in this e-mail is legally privileged and confidential information intended only for the use of the individuals or entities named as addressees. If you, the reader of this message, are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution, publication, or copying of this message is strictly prohibited. If you have received this message in error, please forgive the inconvenience, immediately notify the sender, and delete the original message without keeping a copy.

- att1.htm

From: CN=Katherine M. Walters/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: Adrian G. Gray/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Adrian G. Gray>
Sent: 4/11/2003 1:42:40 PM
Subject: : Re: GOPAC

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Katherine M. Walters (CN=Katherine M. Walters/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 17:42:40.00
SUBJECT:: Re: GOPAC
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Adrian G. Gray (CN=Adrian G. Gray/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

What about Cabinet?

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/11/2003 03:59:17 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Katherine M. Walters/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: GOPAC

No one from WH should be guest speaker at GOPAC. Karen is a different story since she is not a government employee. Thanks.

Katherine M. Walters
04/08/2003 10:09:17 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: GOPAC

JC Watts has invited Ken to speak to the GOPAC Conference on April 28th. I have tentatively scheduled a time, but wanted to make sure that they were not the same situation as the RGA. Ken thought they might be. They would also like our help in finding a speaker for the keynote dinner. They have asked for Karl or Karen.

From: Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary) <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov>
To: brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN] <brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov>;Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>;Remington, Kristi L <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;jamie.e.brown@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN] <jamie.e.brown@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 4/11/2003 1:42:56 PM
Subject: : RE: Transcript of Yesterday's Markup
Attachments: P_QA8KF003_WHO.TXT_1.htm

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary)" <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov> (
"Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary)" <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ]
)
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 17:42:56.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Transcript of Yesterday's Markup
TO:brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov ( brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs ( CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Remington, Kristi L" <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov> ( "Remington, Kristi L" <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:jamie.e.brown@usdoj.gov ( jamie.e.brown@usdoj.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Just a reminder that this is a draft copy, so please do not forward this to anyone, especially the press and outside groups. Thanks.

-----Original Message-----
From: Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary)
Sent: Friday, April 11, 2003 5:24 PM
To: jamie.e.brown@usdoj.gov; Wendy_J._Grubbs@who.eop.gov;
'Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov'; brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov;
'Remington, Kristi L'
Subject: Transcript of Yesterday's Markup

- att1.htm
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_QA8KF003_WHO.TXT_1>
```

Just a reminder that this is a draft copy, so please do not forward this to anyone, especially the press and outside groups. Thanks.

-----Original Message-----
From: Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary)
Sent: Friday, April 11, 2003 5:24 PM
To: jamie.e.brown@usdoj.gov; Wendy_J._Grubbs@who.eop.gov; 'Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov'; brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov; 'Remington, Kristi L'
Subject: Transcript of Yesterday's Markup

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Paul B. Dyck/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Paul B. Dyck>
Sent: 4/11/2003 6:43:26 PM
Subject: : Re: Haley Barbour

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:11-APR-2003 22:43:26.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Haley Barbour
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Paul B. Dyck (CN=Paul B. Dyck/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Should be no reason admin officials cannot appear as guest speakers at fundraisers for him so long as the amounts being raised are within fed limits.

.

----- Original Message -----
From:Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP
To:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:
Date: 04/11/2003 11:29:13 AM
Subject: Haley Barbour

Brett - Ken and I are meeting with Haley Barbour on Monday to discuss his '03 gubernatorial race. He obviously wants as much administration support as possible, and we are inclined to help as much as possible. That said, with CFR, etc., can we provide the same type of support for his race as we did in the '02 races? Specifically, he has requested political events and fundraisers with the president and vice president, senior WH staff and Cabinet.

Thanks for any guidance. pbd

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/12/2003 6:46:12 AM
Subject: : White House Global Messenger - 4/12-13/2003
Attachments: P_V4HKF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:12-APR-2003 10:46:12.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger - 4/12-13/2003
TO:Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications (CN=Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 4-12-03 FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Saturday/Sunday, April 12/13, 2003

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S WEEKLY RADIO ADDRESS***

- The world has watched as the regime of Saddam Hussein began passing into history. The conflict continues in Iraq, and our military may still face hard fighting. Yet the statues of the dictator, and all the works of his terror regime, are falling away, never to return.

- American and Coalition forces have conducted themselves with all the skill and honor we expect of them. Our enemies have seen their valor. The people of Iraq are seeing their compassion, as our military provides food, water, and medical treatment to all in need, even captured Iraqi soldiers.

- As Saddam's reign of fear is brought to an end, the people of Iraq are revealing the true hopes they have always held. It should surprise no on that Iraqis, like all people, resent oppression and welcome their own freedom. In every nation, and every culture, the human heart desires the same good things - dignity, liberty, and a chance to build a better life.

- As people throughout Iraq celebrate the arrival of freedom, America celebrates with them. We know that freedom is the gift of God to all mankind, and we rejoice when others can share it.

- The nightmare of Saddam's rule in Iraq is ending. Soon the good and gifted people of Iraq will be free to choose leaders who respect their rights and reflect their character. In all that is to come, they will have the good will of the entire world. And they will have the friendship of the people of the United States.

SUNDAY SHOWS SCHEDULE***
Subject to Change

ABC: Centcom General Franks

CBS: Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld

CNN: Centcom General Franks

FOX: Centcom General Franks

NBC: Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld

LIBERATION UPDATE***
The voices of freedom, now heard in many parts of Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at
http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

***
"Now my son can have a chance in life."
Bushra Abed, Washington Times, 4-10-03

***
"I saw it with my own eyes. People in Baghdad were dancing in the streets
and burning Saddam's pictures and no one was firing at them. That was proof to me that Saddam is over."
Taher Hassan, Sulaimaniyeh shopkeeper, Wall Street Journal, 4-10-03

CLIMATE OF FEAR

Brief accounts of the pain inflicted by Saddam's regime on the people of Iraq

***
"Yousef was tortured for three months in a Basra jail from 5 a.m. till 8
a.m., he said. He received electric shocks and blows from machetes. He sometimes
was confined for two days straight in a cell so small that he had to sleep kneeling,
he said. The torture had a rhythm to it. After brutalizing him, they gave him an hour to recuperate. Then they would start again."
Knight-Ridder Newspapers, April 7, 2003

***
"Perhaps saddest were two rooms, each hardly bigger than a normal bedroom, reserved for children; they had been crammed with scores of kids from 12
to 16 years old, say the former inmates. Ali Nasr, 13 at the time...spent six months
in the juvenile wing of Unit Four, sleeping on his feet when the cell was too crowded to lie down, or taking turns on the floor with other prisoners.
The boy was still too scared to talk about it, even now."
Newsweek Online, April 8, 2003

***
"'I was tortured for the first time in 1993, after the Iraqi national team lost
2-0 to Jordan,' [Iraqi soccer player Sharar] Haydar told ESPN.com. ... A few months later, when Haydar suggested he might not be able to play because of a bleeding ulcer, he was arrested at his home at 2:30 a.m. and sent to prison...'He took me right to the Olympic prison, where the guards whipped my feet 20 times a day for three days,' he said. 'They gave me nothing to eat or drink other than a daily glass of water and slice of bread. Then they sent me to al-Radwaniya for four more days of punishment, and this time, I got the full treatment.'"

The Miami Herald, April 6, 2003

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****

You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information
from
the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information
about
the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international
topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the
ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share
with freedom-loving people everywhere.
- GM 4-12-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_V4HKF003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Saturday-Sunday, April 12-13, 2003

U.S. SUNDAY SHOWS

Subject to Change

ABC:	Centcom General Franks
CBS:	Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld
CNN:	Centcom General Franks
FOX:	Centcom General Franks
NBC:	Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld

CLIMATE OF FEAR

Brief accounts of the pain inflicted by Saddam's regime on the people of Iraq

"Yousef was tortured for three months in a Basra jail from 5 a.m. till 8 a.m., he said. He received electric shocks and blows from machetes. He sometimes was confined for two days straight in a cell so small that he had to sleep kneeling, he said. The torture had a rhythm to it. After brutalizing him, they gave him an hour to recuperate. Then they would start again."
Knight-Ridder Newspapers, April 7, 2003

***

"Perhaps saddest were two rooms, each hardly bigger than a normal bedroom, reserved for children; they had been crammed with scores of kids from 12 to 16 years old, say the former inmates. Ali Nasr, 13 at the time…spent six months in the juvenile wing of Unit Four, sleeping on his feet when the cell was too crowded to lie down, or taking turns on the floor with other prisoners. The boy was still too scared to talk about it, even now."
Newsweek Online, April 8, 2003

***

"'I was tortured for the first time in 1993, after the Iraqi national team lost 2-0 to Jordan,' [Iraqi soccer player Sharar] Haydar told ESPN.com. … A few months later, when Haydar suggested he might not be able to play because of a bleeding ulcer, he was arrested at his home at 2:30 a.m. and sent to prison.…'He took me right to the Olympic prison, where the guards whipped my feet 20 times a day for three days,' he said. 'They gave me nothing to eat or drink other than a daily glass of water and slice of bread. Then they sent me to al-Radwaniya for four more days of punishment, and this time, I got the full treatment.'"
The Miami Herald, April 6, 2003

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S WEEKLY RADIO ADDRESS

- The world has watched as the regime of Saddam Hussein began passing into history. The conflict continues in Iraq, and our military may still face hard fighting. Yet the statues of the dictator, and all the works of his terror regime, are falling away, never to return.
- American and Coalition forces have conducted themselves with all the skill and honor we expect of them. Our enemies have seen their valor. The people of Iraq are seeing their compassion, as our military provides food, water, and medical treatment to all in need, even captured Iraqi soldiers.
- As Saddam's reign of fear is brought to an end, the people of Iraq are revealing the true hopes they have always held. It should surprise no on that Iraqis, like all people, resent oppression and welcome their own freedom. In every nation, and every culture, the human heart desires the same good things – dignity, liberty, and a chance to build a better life.
- As people throughout Iraq celebrate the arrival of freedom, America celebrates with them. We know that freedom is the gift of God to all mankind, and we rejoice when others can share it.
- The nightmare of Saddam's rule in Iraq is ending. Soon the good and gifted people of Iraq will be free to choose leaders who respect their rights and reflect their character. In all that is to come, they will have the good will of the entire world. And they will have the friendship of the people of the United States.

LIBERATION UPDATE

The voices of freedom, now heard in many parts of Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at:
http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

***

"Now my son can have a chance in life."
Bushra Abed, Washington Times, 4-10-03

***

"I saw it with my own eyes. People in Baghdad were dancing in the streets and burning Saddam's pictures and no one was firing at them. That was proof to me that Saddam is over."
Taher Hassan, Sulaimaniyeh shopkeeper, Wall Street Journal, 4-10-03

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/13/2003 1:19:24 PM
Subject: : White House Global Messenger - 4/14/03
Attachments: P_OLRKF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:13-APR-2003 17:19:24.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger - 4/14/03
TO:Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications (CN=Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 4-14-03 FINAL.doc)
THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Monday, April 14, 2003

KEY POINTS***

Military Update

*The war is not over, and much work remains to be done.

*Coalition forces have completely surrounded Baghdad, and are continuing to secure large sections of the city.

*U.S. forces are in Kirkuk and securing northern oilfields.

*Coalition forces continue to engage pockets of resistance, Baath Party irregulars, and regime death squads.

Humanitarian Update

*The World Food Program has purchased 500,000 tons of food for delivery into Iraq. In addition to the estimated 675,000 tons of food identified by the UN under the Oil-for-Food program, these commodities can feed the entire population of Iraq for several months.

*This week the first of two ships carrying 50,000 tons of Australian wheat will finish offloading in Kuwait. The food, which will be used as part of the OFF program, can feed 1.7 million Iraqis in need.

*The World Health Organization is flying 50 surgical kits to Jordan. Each kit contains anesthetics, surgical equipment, and medical disposables, such as bandages and syringes, for 100 surgeries and several days of post-operative recovery.

*On April 8, UNICEF sent 11 trucks with relief supplies - mostly water and supplies to transport water - to Um Qail, southern Basra, Safwan, and Az Zubayr. UNICEF has sent a total of 87 trucks into southern Iraq since the conflict began.

*There are pockets of need, but no humanitarian crisis. Shortages of water and food are not new, and not a result of Coalition action, but of the deliberate policy of Saddam's regime to deny goods and services from the Iraqi people.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE***
All Times Eastern Daylight. Subject to Change

7:00am CENTCOM Operations Update

12:30pm White House Briefing

TBD Defense Department Briefing

TBD State Department Briefing

LIBERATION UPDATE***
The voices of freedom, now heard in many parts of Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

***
"Smiling citizens crowded every street around the American positions. There was a constant stream of people willing to give information and loudly condemn Saddam. American soldiers who a day before had been in close combat were now basking in the cheers and applause, their arms tired from returning friendly waves."
Time Magazine, 4-14-03

KEY QUOTES FROM THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS TO THE PRESS, 4-13-03***

"Today is a great day for the families, comrades, loved ones of the seven missing in action who are free. I'm really pleased, for all those who have been praying for their safety, that they are safe. We still have missing in action in Iraq; we will continue to look for them. We pray that they, too, will be safe and free one of these days."

***
"[The Iraqi people are] free. And freedom is beautiful. And, you know, it'll take time to restore...order out of chaos. But we will."

CLIMATE OF FEAR***
Brief accounts of the pain inflicted by Saddam's regime on the people of Iraq

***
"[S]ecret police thugs brutalized even senior officials of the Information Ministry, just to keep them in line (one such official has long been missing all his fingernails). One Foreign Ministry officer told me of a colleague who, finding out his brother had been executed by the regime, was forced, as a test of loyalty, to write a letter of congratulations on the act to Saddam Hussein. An aide to Uday once told me why he had no front teeth: henchmen had ripped them out with pliers and told him never to wear dentures, so he would always remember the price to be paid for upsetting his boss."
Eason Jordan, CNN chief news executive, New York Times, 4-11-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****

You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere.

- GM 4-14-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_OLRKF003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Monday, April 14, 2003

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

All Times Eastern Daylight. Subject to Change

7:00 am	CENTCOM Operations Update
12:30 pm	White House Briefing
TBD	Defense Department Briefing
TBD	State Department Briefing

LIBERATION UPDATE

The voices of freedom, now heard in many parts of Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at: http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

***

"Smiling citizens crowded every street around the American positions. There was a constant stream of people willing to give information and loudly condemn Saddam. American soldiers who a day before had been in close combat were now basking in the cheers and applause, their arms tired from returning friendly waves."
Time Magazine*, 4-14-03

KEY QUOTES FROM THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS TO THE PRESS, 4-13-03

"Today is a great day for the families, comrades, loved ones of the seven missing in action who are free. I'm really pleased, for all those who have been praying for their safety, that they are safe. We still have missing in action in Iraq; we will continue to look for them. We pray that they, too, will be safe and free one of these days."

***

"[The Iraqi people are] free. And freedom is beautiful. And, you know, it'll take time to restore…order out of chaos. But we will."

KEY POINTS

Military Update

- The war is not over, and much work remains to be done.
- Coalition forces have completely surrounded Baghdad, and are continuing to secure large sections of the city.
- U.S. forces are in Kirkuk and securing northern oilfields.
- Coalition forces continue to engage pockets of resistance, Baath Party irregulars, and regime death squads.

Humanitarian Update

- The World Food Program has purchased 500,000 tons of food for delivery into Iraq. In addition to the estimated 675,000 tons of food identified by the UN under the Oil-for-Food program, these commodities can feed the entire population of Iraq for several months.
- This week the first of two ships carrying 50,000 tons of Australian wheat will finish offloading in Kuwait. The food, which will be used as part of the OFF program, can feed 1.7 million Iraqis in need.
- The World Health Organization is flying 50 surgical kits to Jordan. Each kit contains anesthetics, surgical equipment, and medical disposables, such as bandages and syringes, for 100 surgeries and several days of post-operative recovery.
- On April 8, UNICEF sent 11 trucks with relief supplies - mostly water and supplies to transport water - to Um Qail, southern Basra, Safwan, and Az Zubayr. UNICEF has sent a total of 87 trucks into southern Iraq since the conflict began.
- There are pockets of need, but no humanitarian crisis. Shortages of water and food are not new, and not a result of Coalition action, but of the deliberate policy of Saddam's regime to deny goods and services from the Iraqi people.

CLIMATE OF FEAR

Brief accounts of the pain inflicted by Saddam's regime on the people of Iraq

"[S]ecret police thugs brutalized even senior officials of the Information Ministry, just to keep them in line (one such official has long been missing all his fingernails). One Foreign Ministry officer told me of a colleague who, finding out his brother had been executed by the regime, was forced, as a test of loyalty, to write a letter of congratulations on the act to Saddam Hussein. An aide to Uday once told me why he had no front teeth: henchmen had ripped them out with pliers and told him never to wear dentures, so he would always remember the price to be paid for upsetting his boss."
Eason Jordan, CNN chief news executive, New York Times, 4-11-03

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Adrian G. Gray/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Adrian G. Gray>
Sent: 4/14/2003 6:39:42 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 10:39:42.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Adrian G. Gray ( CN=Adrian G. Gray/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

I do not think Claude Allen should do the Cleveland event. Please call if you want to discuss.
```

From: CN=Hana F. Brilliant/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/14/2003 7:49:29 AM
Subject: : Re: Usage of website picture

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Hana F. Brilliant (CN=Hana F. Brilliant/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 11:49:29.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Usage of website picture
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Do you want me to draft a letter to that effect? I could simply state that the photo has not been released for public use, which is probably the case. The Photo Office usually just releases the President's official portrait.
-Hana

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/14/2003 11:38:29 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Hana F. Brilliant/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: paul b. dyck/who/eop@eop
bcc:
Subject: Re: Usage of website picture

I do not think we should authorize them to use a photo of President with military in a political way such as this at this time. They can use a separate photo of President.

Hana F. Brilliant
04/14/2003 11:33:48 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
bcc:
Subject: Re: Usage of website picture

I work with Noel Francisco on all non-political requests. Noel said that Brett Kavanaugh would handle this one.
Hana

Paul B. Dyck
04/14/2003 11:04:33 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Hana F. Brilliant/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Joseph W. Fricks III/WHO/EOP@EOP
Subject: Usage of website picture

Hana - I believe that you had answered a similar question for me previously, so I hope that you are the correct person or can point me in the right direction to the inquiry below. Is this permissable? Thanks.
Paul

Paul Dyck
Political Affairs
x6-6528

---------- Forwarded by Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP on 04/14/2003 11:02 AM ----------

Joseph W. Fricks III
04/14/2003 10:29:54 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Usage of website picture

Dina Psic of the Cherokee County Republican Party in Georgia is requesting permission to use a picture from the website in their newsletter. The newsletter is going to have a support our troops theme. The picture requested is at the link below:

http://www.whitehouse.gov/president/forthosewhoserve/05.html

From: CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/14/2003 4:09:29 AM
Subject: : FW: Heads-Up on DOT's Final Rule on Hours of Service of Truck Drivers
Attachments: P_9IWKF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Patrick J. Bumatay (CN=Patrick J. Bumatay/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 08:09:29.00
SUBJECT:: FW: Heads-Up on DOT's Final Rule on Hours of Service of Truck Drivers
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

-----Original Message-----
From: Chuckerel, Mary M.
Sent: Thursday, April 10, 2003 10:25 AM
To: Arbuckle, Donald R.; Bartlett, Daniel J.; Besanceney, Brian R.; Bolten, Joshua B.; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Call, Amy L.; Conda, Cesar; DeFrancis, Suzy; Dorn, Nancy; Dougherty, Elizabeth S.; Dove, Stephen W.; Duffy, Trent D.; Fleischer, Lawrence A.; Friedman, Stephen; Goldman, Adam B.; Greene, William; Hennessey, Keith; Hobbs, David W.; Ingle, Edward; Joseffer, Daryl L.; Kaplan, Joel; Lefkowitz, Jay P.; Libby, Lewis; MacHida, Ado A.; Mankiw, Nicholas G.; McMillin, Stephen S.; Murphy, Daniel J.; Oxford, John; Pelletier, Eric C.; Perino, Dana M.; Perry, Philip J.; Rossman, Elizabeth L.; Schlapp, Matthew A.; Schwartz, Kenneth L.; Silverberg, Kristen; Troy, Tevi; Weaver, Bessie M.; Wood, John F.
Cc: Jones, Lisa M.; Ritacco, Krista L.; Thompson, Carol J.; McQuade, Vickie A.; Williams, Alice H.; Ingwell, Carmen M.; Vestewig, Lauren J.; Mayfield, Jennifer H.; Bennett, Melissa S.; Garvin, Dorothy C; Allgood, Lauren K.; Silverman, Garrette; Roberson, Halley M.
Subject: Heads-Up on DOT's Final Rule on Hours of Service of Truck Drivers

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_9IWKF003_WHO.TXT_1>

April 10, 2003

MEMORANDUM FOR ANDREW CARD

THROUGH: Mitchell E. Daniels, Jr.

FROM: John D. Graham

SUBJECT: Heads-Up on DOT's Final Rule on Hours of Service of Truck Drivers

We have concluded review of a Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration (FMCSA) final rule governing the hours of service of commercial motor vehicle drivers. The current rules, which have been in place since 1962, allow drivers in interstate commerce to be on duty for a maximum of 15 hours, including a maximum of 10 hours driving. Almost all interstate CMV drivers are currently required to prepare and file a paper logbook.

Under the current rules, after driving 10 hours or being on duty 15 hours, a driver must take eight consecutive hours off duty. Thus, the next work "day" could begin between 18 and 23 hours after the start of the previous day. FMCSA's final rule would replace this work cycle with a 24-hour cycle that coincides with a more regular circadian rhythm. Specifically, the rules would limit on-duty time for drivers to 14 hours, of which 11 could be devoted to driving, and would increase minimum off-duty time to 10 hours to provide drivers with the opportunity to obtain eight hours of sleep. A new provision would provide for a "restart" after 34 consecutive hours off-duty (to allow for two sleep periods), after which drivers could begin a new work "week."

Unlike FMCSA's controversial 2000 proposal, the final rule will not apply different limits on different types of operations or require electronic on-board recorders (EOBRs). FMCSA is also maintaining all existing exemptions (e.g., oil field hauling, water well drilling, agriculture). The motor coach industry would not be affected.

Compared to full compliance with existing rules, the final rule would yield $228 million in safety benefits while reducing compliance costs by $905 million annually. The savings to truckers outweigh the costs to truckers.

Although industry will be disappointed that FMCSA is setting the daily driving limit at 11 hours—the option proposed by the American Trucking Associations provided for a 14 hour on-duty limit with no restriction on driving—the final rule is far less costly than the 2000 proposal, and will be viewed as a significant improvement. Safety advocates will strongly object to FMCSA's decision to not mandate the use of EOBRs on long-haul trucks. We asked that FMCSA commit to considering ways to encourage motor carriers to install EOBRs voluntarily. Safety advocates may also object to allowing more than 10 hours of daily driving.

Let me know if you have any questions.

cc: Don Arbuckle
Dan Bartlett
Brian Besanceney
Josh Bolten
Patrick Bumatay
Amy Call
Cesar Conda
Suzy DeFrancis
Nancy Dorn
Liz Dougherty
Steve Dove
Trent Duffy
Ari Fleischer
Stephen Friedman
Adam Goldman
Bill Greene
Keith Hennessey
David Hobbs
Ed Ingle
Clay Johnson
Daryl Joseffer
Joel Kaplan
Jay Lefkowitz
Lewis Libby
Ado Machida
Gregory Mankiw
Steve McMillin
Dan Murphy
John Oxford
Eric Pelletier
Dana Perino
Phil Perry
Beth Rossman
Matt Schlapp
Ken Schwartz
Kristen Silverberg
Tevi Troy
Bess Weaver
John Wood

From: Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/14/2003 8:48:30 AM
Subject: : RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflectrecent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov" <Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov> ( "Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov"
<Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 12:48:30.00
SUBJECT:: RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

I can ask - anyones guess as to what they will do

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 12:29 PM
To: Joy, Sheila
Subject: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.
```

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Snee, Ashley>;<Grubbs, Wendy J.>
Sent: 4/14/2003 9:03:56 AM
Subject: story on Carlos Bea in SF Recorder

Bush Nominates Bea for Ninth Circuit Judgeship

As expected, President Bush on Friday nominated San Francisco Superior Court Judge Carlos Bea to the Ninth Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals.

Bea, 68, joins Third District Court of Appeal Justice Consuelo Callahan as Bush's latest picks to the nation's largest -- and most liberal -- appellate court. Both are Hispanic.

"I'm honored by the nomination," Bea said.

Bea has been a Superior Court judge since 1990, hearing mostly civil cases. He was nominated to the Ninth Circuit during the latter days of former President Bush's presidency, more than a decade ago, but the nomination died when the administrations changed.

Bea is a graduate of Stanford University and played on the 1952 Cuban Olympic basketball team. One of his four sons medalled in the 2000 Olympics as well.

"He has a great intellect and it's coupled with a remarkable aptitude for legal reasoning," said Superior Court Judge Ernest Goldsmith, who was taken under Bea's wing when he first came on the bench. "He's not satisfied with a quick or expedient answer. He's looking for the right answer."

Because of his scholarly approach to the law, lawyers and judges say Bea could make the transition from trial to appellate judge easily.

"I think he's from central casting," Goldsmith said. "I think he's perfect for the appellate bench."

Lawrence Callaghan, a partner at Arter & Hadden, said Bea's experience as a trial court judge will help him on the appellate bench. "I think he's an excellent appointment," Callaghan said.

Judge Anne Bouliane said she often seeks out Bea to discuss cases and praises his collegiality.

"He's just really nice to work with," Bouliane said. "It's not his way or the highway. He's very flexible."

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>;David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Snee>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 4/14/2003 5:06:04 AM
Subject: : story on Carlos Bea in SF Recorder

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 09:06:04.00
SUBJECT:: story on Carlos Bea in SF Recorder
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs ( CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Ashley Snee ( CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales ( CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

Bush Nominates Bea for Ninth Circuit Judgeship

As expected, President Bush on Friday nominated San Francisco Superior Court Judge Carlos Bea to the Ninth Circuit U.S. Court of Appeals.

Bea, 68, joins Third District Court of Appeal Justice Consuelo Callahan as Bush's latest picks to the nation's largest -- and most liberal -- appellate court. Both are Hispanic.

"I'm honored by the nomination," Bea said.

Bea has been a Superior Court judge since 1990, hearing mostly civil cases. He was nominated to the Ninth Circuit during the latter days of former President Bush's presidency, more than a decade ago, but the nomination died when the administrations changed.

Bea is a graduate of Stanford University and played on the 1952 Cuban Olympic basketball team. One of his four sons medalled in the 2000 Olympics as well.

"He has a great intellect and it's coupled with a remarkable aptitude for legal reasoning," said Superior Court Judge Ernest Goldsmith, who was taken under Bea's wing when he first came on the bench. "He's not satisfied with a quick or expedient answer. He's looking for the right answer."

Because of his scholarly approach to the law, lawyers and judges say Bea could make the transition from trial to appellate judge easily.

"I think he's from central casting," Goldsmith said. "I think he's perfect for the appellate bench."

Lawrence Callaghan, a partner at Arter & Hadden, said Bea's experience as a trial court judge will help him on the appellate bench. "I think he's an excellent appointment," Callaghan said.

Judge Anne Bouliane said she often seeks out Bea to discuss cases and praises his collegiality.

"He's just really nice to work with," Bouliane said. "It's not his way or the highway. He's very flexible."

From: CN=Charlotte L. Montiel/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/14/2003 5:18:47 AM
Subject: : FW: MESSAGE MEETING REMINDER

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Charlotte L. Montiel (CN=Charlotte L. Montiel/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 09:18:47.00
SUBJECT:: FW: MESSAGE MEETING REMINDER
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

;
-----Original Message-----
From: Ritacco, Krista L.
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 9:13 AM
To: Yunker, Jacob H.; Allgood, Lauren K.; Ball, Andrea G.; Barrales, Ruben S.; Bennett, Melissa S.; Besanceney, Brian R.; Buchan, Claire ; Burkhart, Shannon; Campbell, Anne E.; Christie, Ronald I.; Ciafardini, Andrew D.; Conde, Roberta L.; Cooper, Rory S.; DeFrancis, Suzy; Devenish, Nicolle; Douglas, Penny G.; Duffy, Trent D.; Ellison, Kimberly; Eskew, Tucker A.; Figg, Kara G.; Gerdelman, Sue H.; Gillmor, Eleanor L.; Grant, Britt; Gray, Adrian G.; Gray, Ann ; Healy, Erin E.; Hennessey, Keith; Hernandez, Israel; Hughes, A. Merrill; Hughes, Taylor A.; Ingle, Edward; Jackson, Barry S.; Kaplan, Joel; Kozberg, Lindsey C.; Kyle, Ross M.; Lefkowitz, Jay P.; Lineberry, Stephen M.; Litkenhaus, Colleen; Mallea, Jose; Martin, Catherine J.; McClellan, Scott ; McDonald, Rebekah; McQuade, Vickie A.; Mehlman, Ken; Middlemas, A. Morgan; Millerwise, Jennifer; Montiel, Charlotte L.; Nelson, Carolyn; Nipper, Wendy L.; Parell, Christie; Pelletier, Eric C.; Perez, Anna M.; Ralston, Susan B.; Reese, Shelley; Riecke, January M.; Riepenhoff, Allison L.; Rodriguez, Noelia ; Rogers, Edwina C.; Rust, Kathryn E.; Ryun, Catharine A.; Sforza, Scott N.; Silverberg, Kristen; Smith, Heidi M.; Snee, Ashley; Spagnoli, Deborah A.; Torgerson, Karin B.; Towey, Jim; Vestewig, Lauren J.; Walters, Katherine M.; Wehner, Peter H.; Westine, Lezlee J.; Williams, Mary C.; Wozniak, Natalie S.
Subject: MESSAGE MEETING REMINDER

There will be a message meeting today at noon in;the Roosevelt Room.

From: CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/14/2003 5:18:45 AM
Subject: : US CentCom Briefing 04/14/03

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brian Bravo (CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 09:18:45.00
SUBJECT:: US CentCom Briefing 04/14/03
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

UNITED STATES CENTRAL COMMAND DAILY PRESS BRIEFING
BRIEFER: BRIG. GEN. VINCE BROOKS, DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS

DOHA, QATAR
7:06 A.M. EDT, MONDAY, APRIL 14, 2003

;

GEN. BROOKS: ;Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen. We're in the 25th day since coalition forces entered Iraq to initiate Operation Iraqi freedom. The coalition is expanding areas of influence throughout the country and concentrating efforts on security and stability.

Gradually, the indications of every-day life are returning in Iraq, and the Iraqis are adjusting to the freedom from the tyranny of the regime. Today, the coalition is operating throughout Iraq to remove the final remnants of the regime from any areas of influence. The free Iraqi people are making their voices heard in seeking an end to bloodshed and the removal of foreign fighters, who put the population at risk.

;;;;;; Concurrently, the coalition is focused on creating conditions for long-term stability throughout the country and establishing systemic and infrastructural bases for in a free and democratic Iraq.

;;;;;; Even as hope shines brightly, we continue to remember those who gave their lives in Operation Iraqi Freedom and we remember their families.

;;;;;; Our special operations forces are creating ever-expanding contacts with local leaders throughout the country, but particularly in the north and in the west. The presence in the northern areas of Mosul, Irbil and Kirkuk were reinforced yesterday by the increasing commitment of the 173rd Airborne Brigade, and also by the arrival of the 26th Marine Expeditionary Unit. Operations remain focused on locating regime leaders and searching key regime facilities.

;;;;;; Special operations forces and conventional forces expanded throughout the northern oil fields and have now secured all of the northern oil fields. Assessments continue with the active cooperation of Iraqi oil workers.

;;;;;; Recently, special operations forces near Hadithah Dam, an area that we've spoken about on a number of occasions, the location of intense combat in recent weeks, met with oil workers and fire fighters to organize an effort to extinguish and oil stabilization plant fire that was triggered by the regime over a week. Close cooperation between the coalition and Iraqis resulted in the fire being extinguished, as the following video shows.

;;;;;; (Video is shown.)

;;;;;; Even on the same hose, coalition forces and Iraqis are getting the job done, as they are throughout the country.

;;;;;; There are many similar examples throughout the country of coalition forces and Iraqis interacting to repair damage to the infrastructure or to simply restore capability to different parts of the country. And I would add that at this point the remaining fire that was in the southern oil field has been extinguished and that all oil fields within Iraq now fall within areas secured by the coalition. There is one well we've discovered in recent days in the north, a well fire that is still burning, and that will be addressed as soon as we can do so.

;;;;;; Special operations forces in the Baghdad area are supporting the efforts of the land component as they continue their work. And as with all military outfits throughout Iraq, these special operations forces in Baghdad also provide any assistance they can to the Iraqi people.

;;;;;; Recently, two Iraqi brothers approached a special operations medical team on the outskirts of Baghdad. In this case, the brothers asked the medical team if there was anything that the medics could do for their sister, who is suffering from cancer and had no medication. The special forces medics gave what medicines they could to try to provide some relief, and they earned the respect and thanks for the brothers for at least making an attempt to provide some relief for their sister. And as I've said before, scenes like these are repeated everywhere throughout places where the coalition is conducting its work.

;;;;;; Our maneuver operations are similarly focused on eliminating any potential remnants of the regime leadership or forces within Baghdad and the area north of Baghdad.

;;;;;; The land component sent a marine task force to attack from Baghdad to Tikrit within the last 24 hours. In this attack toward Tikrit, the force met little resistance in the towns of Ba'qubah on the east side of the Tigris River, and Samarra -- and I'll just point those again -- Ba'qubah on the eastern side of the Tigris River along the Biyala, and Samarra, along the Tigris River further to the west.

;;;;;; The attack continued yesterday, and its first efforts were to isolate Tikrit from the south, from the west, and also from the north, as well as a key bridge in the center of town that crosses the Tigris River. This morning the attack entered Tikrit, securing the presidential palace there and also beginning the search for any remaining regime supporters. And this is really the only significant combat action that occurred within the last 24 hours.

;;;;;; Elsewhere, coalition land forces are actively engaged in setting the conditions for a stable Iraq. Among the challenges are disposing of all the materiel of war purchased and stored by the regime for use in the defense of Baghdad. As coalition forces move to secure more power stations, water facilities and hospitals in several zones of the city, they often uncover or are guided to significant amounts of ammunition, weapons, aircraft, and vehicles used by the regime.

;;;;;; In one example, coalition forces found 12 surface-to-air missiles and six VIP helicopters near a Ba'ath Party headquarters building. Other examples include 51 Iraqi trucks that were loaded with ammunition, several buildings and bunkers also loaded with ammunition, with many more truckloads worth that need to be moved and disposed of. And this is artillery ammunition, tank ammunition and missiles.

;;;;;; Despite these challenges, the coalition is working diligently and is contributing significant assets to restore function and to distribute aid in Baghdad. We've contributed considerable assistance in helping Iraqis restore the power and water service that ended when Baghdad was still under regime control, and that was destroyed by the regime forces as they fought our coalition. The land component has organized several engineer teams to assess and facilitate restoration of services throughout the country.

;;;;;; In Baghdad, two very important locations are the power plant that services all of western and southern Baghdad, and also the water treatment plant in the south of Baghdad that provides safe water to the communities, and those are highlighted to the west and just south of the bend in the Tigris River.

;;;;;; In the following photos that I'll show you, coalition military engineers have met with senior Iraqi power industry officials and electrical engineers to find the best way to restore power to the city. Again, these are military engineers as they do their work. And meetings like this one are happening at lower levels as well, with military civil affairs teams or even operational commanders throughout the country in places where the lack of power undermines the supply of water and puts the population at risk.

;;;;;; The citizens are becoming active throughout all areas of Iraq in helping to restore order and to start free Iraq on a path toward a positive future. And I have just a few examples.

;;;;;; First, joint patrols have been initiated, and roughly 200 police volunteers joined with coalition forces to start patrolling Basra. And this is an effort to assist in quelling any looting or any other civil unrest. In other areas, tribal leaders are establishing coalitions of multiple tribes, and this is the foundation for local governance in cities in the north and in the west. In Karbala, as an example, town leaders have established a local police force with, again, over 200 volunteers, provided them with uniforms. They have 10 vehicles that are marked as police vehicles, and they are taking efforts to try to get some degree of control and stability established themselves, and we applaud their efforts. And these efforts continue to multiply throughout the country.

;;;;;; Electric power and water power remain the key needs, however, and during the repair period, coalition forces continue to provide military support wherever possible. I have some recent photos of coordination done between marines and the water purification experts near the town of An-Nasiriyah. In this case, marines and sailors worked with the local Iraqis to try to repair this generation plant. In areas where we can't immediately repair the water infrastructure, we continue to use military assets and resources to provide a substitute. And this is a short video of some more water purification operations, in this case near Talill airfield.

;;;;;; (VIDEO.) Virtually any water source can be used to generate pure water. It's a pretty well developed system. We have operators who are skilled at how to make that happen. And it gets pumped freshly (?) into water trucks for transport.

;;;;;; We continue our efforts to reestablish reliable medical care throughout Iraq. First, several hospitals have been secured by coalition operations recently, and as we go to those locations and we find patients that require care that cannot be adequately provided at some of these facilities, the patients are either transferred to other Iraqi hospitals, or moved to military medical facilities. The U.S. naval ship Comfort, for example, now has over 100 non-combatants aboard receiving medical care in the most modern medical facility we have available to us.

;;;;;; While medical supplies are flowing in from a variety of countries and organizations, the coalition is also pushing medical supplies. In some cases, these supplies come from stocks planned for use in caring for coalition casualties, but at this point they are no longer required in the same number. The next video is of coalition members using existing military resources to push medical assets into Iraq.

;;;;;; (VIDEO) They inventoried what they had, realized they had some excess capacity, began to load them into boxes. The boxes were then taken to helicopters aboard ship offshore, flown to a place to be transported onto trucks, moved by trucks to aircraft, and then flown in by C-130s at night into Baghdad International to be pushed into hospitals that have needs, and that have been assessed as having those needs.

;;;;;; In addition to moving supplies, we are also facilitating repair to the existing health care system. I've got several images to show you here of some meetings that occurred between civil affairs soldiers working with medical staffs, this -- in this case in Ad Diwaniyah. They're making assessments to improve the hospital and the medical care system there.

;;;;;; In addition to medical resupply and repair to the infrastructure, the coalition still provides immediate medical care when it's required. This immediate care is only a part of the coalition's daily interaction with the people of free Iraq, and it contributes greatly to establishing conditions of stability and security for the people of Iraq.

;;;;;; And with that, ladies and gentlemen, I'll take your questions. Please -- Omar, let me go to you first.

;;;;;; Q Omar Alsawi (ph), Al Jazeera Channel. Sir, I'd like to ask a question about the volunteers who have come into Iraq, who have been attacking your forces in various places, especially in and around Baghdad. Do you have an estimate of how many there are, how long they might be able to continue operations? And how are you going to seek them out? Or is it just a case of waiting to come under attack and then trying to find out more about them and how much of a threat it is? Thank you.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, we find that these volunteers claim that they are here in Iraq to protect the Iraqi people. But the Iraqi people continue to inform us that they don't require such protection.

;;;;;; And so the first method of eliminating this existing threat is with the assistance of the Iraqi people. And in many cases they notify us where they think there may be pockets, where weapons may be stored, where there may be some untoward activity, or where disruption and threats may occur.

;;;;;; We don't have a good number as to how many there are, but we do know that they don't have a place in the future of Iraq. And we rely first and most importantly on the Iraqi people to help us rid Iraq of such violent young men. In this case we're finding that they're all men.

;;;;;; Where we do find them, they're well-armed. We think that some of the explosive vests were meant for them. And in the over 300 vests we found, there were indications that some had already been removed. Up to 80 were not accounted for.

;;;;;; And so we certainly recognize that there are still threats. Even though there's not organized regime resistance, there are individuals who may be willing to carry on acts of violence and acts of terrorism without regard to any ideology or any national cause. And so we'd like to see that gotten rid of.

;;;;;; We're not just waiting to be attacked, by any means, as we continue our efforts through different zones of Baghdad. With the assistance of the Iraqi population, we're looking for people just like this, as well as any remnants of the regime that might still be present.

;;;;;; Tom, please.

;;;;;; Q Tom Mintier with CNN. First, how many cards do you still have in your deck? And secondly, we're getting reports that 18 Kuwaitis may have been found by coalition forces inside Iraq from the '91 Gulf War. Do you have any information on that or your deck of cards?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: The card deck is still full. However, we do continue to identify people who are no longer in play. So in this case that will continue to go on. There are a number of cases where we have unconfirmed information on some of the 55 that were identified as key regime figures that we're seeking.

;;;;;; We don't have confirmation on who's alive or dead in some cases. And as time goes on and we're able to do detailed examinations of locations and get more information from the Iraqi population, we think that the number of cards that are in the deck for play will continue to reduce.

;;;;;; There are certainly reports that a number of prisoners are still somewhere in Iraq from previous conflicts, not only the '90-'91 Gulf War but also the Iran-Iraq War before that. We don't have any information to confirm at this point, although we do still hear of reports that remain unconfirmed.

;;;;;; We have an interest in their liberation as well and their repatriation, and we certainly know that their governments have an interest in that also. And our efforts continue to follow leads that come up on anyone that is still missing or unaccounted for.

;;;;;; Q But have you located any?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: I'm not aware that we have located any at this point. I don't have any reports that would indicate that.

;;;;;; Yes, please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- Associated Press. You said you'd secured the presidential palace in Tikrit as well as a bridge. Can you give us any details on what you found there? Were there Republican Guards holed up in the palace trying to keep it from you? So more details on the resistance in Tikrit.

;;;;;; And also just a technical question regarding Geneva Conventions and your operations. In the area where coalition troops are operating, do you consider yourselves to be, in the legal term, the occupying power and thus bound by certain obligations under Geneva?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: First, the operations in the Tikrit area, there was less resistance than we anticipated. We certainly knew that that was an area that was very important to the regime leadership, and we also had indications that there might still be a presence of military force there, Special Republican Guard, and potentially mixed with some other formations.

;;;;;; There is equipment in the area, but there was not much resistance. And so as the forces began to move in, they were successful in isolating. And I should add that this came after a period of focused operational fires over the last several weeks.

;;;;;; As I've mentioned, we were not ignoring Tikrit by any means. In fact, we had a number of air operations that occurred in and around Tikrit with great effect. We also had information on operations ongoing, and there was also a Special Operations raid about 48 hours ago that included an armored formation, the very same one that I showed you crossing the Hadithah Dam a few days ago. So they crossed Hadithah Dam. A day later they (attacked to?) an airfield just west of Tikrit.

;;;;;; The primary force, though, is the one that just arrived within the last 24 hours. And so much of the shaping of the battle has been successful and it occurred over time. We did not find any forces that were defending the presidential palace. At least no reports that I've seen have indicated there was any significant at the palace.

;;;;;; And we're now beginning to interact with people inside of the community to see exactly what the conditions are. If there are any regime leaders, we think they may help us find them. And we can also get Tikrit now on the path toward whatever the future is going to be.

;;;;;; On the Geneva responsibilities, it's still a bit premature for me to declare what our status is. I think that will come here in coming days. What we do know is that we have responsibilities as a force that has entered. The specific references to occupying power are very precise and very legalistic, and I'm not really in the best position to be able to give you information on that. We'll give you some more as time goes on as it relates to that specific concern.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- occupying power, even though some people might --

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: There is a view toward that. Right now we're still a liberating force, and that's how we're approaching our operations. Much of what we're doing is collaborative with the Iraqi population, as I've described.

;;;;;; And while there may be a number of similarities to what the Geneva Convention describes, that's not a category that we have stated publicly at this point. Whether that changes over time needs to be seen. And what the final legalistic declarations we make will be forthcoming in the next several days.

;;;;;; Please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- Fox News. You just mentioned a moment ago the presence or the belief that some long-term prisoners of war are present in Iraq. Do you have any reason to be hopeful that Michael Speicher would be among them? And on the subject of the prisoners of war who were recently rescued, how did they get separated, with PFC Lynch being found further south than the group of seven?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: We remain hopeful that we can recover our missing warrior who's been gone since the Gulf War. We don't have any additional information. Any leads that would be available we will certainly follow and try to restore him back to U.S. control.

;;;;;; The indications of others from previous battles as well -- there's indications and information out there. The governments that are associated with this are also looking for their people and have expressed an interest in their return if we certainly find them. And we would expect to repatriate them if we do encounter them. We don't have anything that leads us to anything concrete at this point, but we remain open to additional information.

;;;;;; As to the recovery of POWs, we really don't know at this point how the separation may have occurred and why PFC Lynch was kept in Nasiriyah and the others moved to different areas. That we have to find by asking questions. And that kind of questioning is ongoing right now to get more information about the circumstances under which they were captured and how they were treated, where they were moved, anything else we can find.

;;;;;; That's why it's one of the very important steps, after we get a good medical assessment of the conditions of anyone that's been returned to U.S. military control, that we also find out what they know. These are warriors out there and they have information that will be of value to us. And all that's ongoing right now.

;;;;;; Kelly, please.

;;;;;; Q Thank you, General. Since General Franks indicated that the U.S. possesses the DNA of Saddam Hussein, has any testing of remains begun? Have any remains been recovered from the restaurant site? And does DNA also exist for his sons? Or is the testing such, because he's the father, might they be able to extrapolate if they were able to find remains of the sons?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: I think we have the forensic ability to confirm any number of members of the family that are related by blood. At this point we are doing examinations of a variety of sites. That is deliberate work that has to happen. We refer to it as site exploitation. But what we're talking about is doing detailed examination and searches.

;;;;;; That work is ongoing. We don't have any confirmations at this point to report on any of the family members. But if we are able to confirm any of them, I think that we will be able to connect the dots to other pieces of information through different sites.

;;;;;; This is something that will be an ongoing action. There will be others as well that we want to confirm. In some cases it joins that piece of information that's forensic with other information that is provided by either intelligence or provided by Iraqi population and citizens. And so all of it gets put together to tell us whether or not we're effective and exactly who may be remaining alive or not. We don't have anything to report at this point.

;;;;;; There was a second half of your question on that.

;;;;;; Q Well, I asked about being able to identify the sons, which you answered. But have you, in fact, recovered any remains from any sites that you believed were targets of regime leaders? Do you have remains upon which to use this DNA?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: I don't have any reports of that at this point, Kelly, whether or not we recovered it. I know that work is ongoing. And unless there's some significant find that we corroborate right away, I wouldn't hear about that until the sensitive site is completely examined and explored.

;;;;;; There are a number of other things we look for there as well. There's documents we look for. There are computer hard drives we might be looking for; anything that might give us a deeper insight into the regime, not just into the regime leaders themselves.

;;;;;; Let me go back here. Third row, please.

;;;;;; Q Richard McGregor (sp), Financial Times. General, if, as you say, you're trying to remove all the symbols of the regime, what steps are you taking to give Iraq a new currency and remove the notes from circulation that have Saddam Hussein's picture on them?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: That's a great question. And this is one of the things that will develop over time also. We certainly know that the notes have images of the previous regime. Right now there is not a new currency in use, and so there's a need for paying people that are returned back to work. There's a need for some sort of currency that provides exchange.

;;;;;; And I think in due time, as more active work occurs with the Office of Reconstruction and Humanitarian Assistance, and as the Iraqis themselves organize themselves for an interim government, we'll see many of these questions start to get answered. Right now it's not going to be imposed by Central Command, but we'll certainly play a role as it gets introduced.

;;;;;; Yes, please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- Univision News. Talking about Tikrit, if it is falling as (steadily?) as you have just described, how far are you from telling us that, at least militarily, this is over?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, it remains a difficult thing to say, Ricardo. And I would tell you that we know that there are still some places where we have not accounted for all military activity. There are also places inside of the country we've not physically gone to yet. And that has to be done.

;;;;;; But clearly we're at a point where the decisive military operations that were focused on removing the regime, destroying its capability, removing its ability to threaten neighboring countries, our coalition forces or our own countries, that work is coming to a close.

;;;;;; But military work is not at a close, and even potential for combat action is not yet over. It'll be much more localized when it occurs. It will not be on a widespread scale. And it certainly won't be in response to any organized regime effort. And so it's a transition point that we're in right now.

;;;;;; As we've said before, there are a number of objectives to this campaign, and all of those objectives have to be attained before we say the mission is accomplished, the victory is complete, and we can proceed on with other responsibilities we have.

;;;;;; It's been said a number of times also that we'll stay as long as it takes to get the job done and no longer. And so we're on the path to that right now. It's an important transition point that we're at, but we still have much more work to do.

;;;;;; Behind there, please.

;;;;;; Q Thank you, General. As you know, there has been a significant gap in coverage of this war between the Arab and western media. At this point in the war, do you have any thoughts on the implications of this? And what have you done to bridge this gap? Thank you.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Sometimes what you present depends on what your perspective is. And we certainly have done a number of things, not the least of which is kept an open forum like this and other places for all of the world's media. That's the first and most important step. We didn't restrict that at all. We kept it open and continue to do so even now.

;;;;;; But every organization represented inside of here has a different perspective. And so I don't know that it's really a disconnect between the western media and Arab media. I think it may be a perspective difference on how you look at the same picture.

;;;;;; In due time, I think that as the influences of the regime, having now been removed, there's an opportunity for free press, truly free press, inside of Iraq, at least. And we hold out a great deal of hope that that, in fact, will be what occurs from here.

;;;;;; We've seen a number of things that indicate that there's a chance, a bright chance, for the future on this. We also know that we've also communicated facts as we know them throughout. And that's our first and most important responsibility to do so, and we'll continue to do so as time goes on.

;;;;;; Yes, sir, please, in the back.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- Kuwait TV. General, would you tell us if American Army find any Kuwaiti prisoners of war from the first Gulf War or any information about them?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, sir, unfortunately I cannot report that we have found any at this point.

;;;;;; We certainly remain very interested in accounting for anyone that has been left unaccounted in previous wars, and we know the Kuwaiti government would like to have them returned, and that's something that has been important to this command -- not the coalition, but this command -- since that time. We remain focused on trying to accomplish that, if we can, with whatever information we gain. But right now I don't have any positive news to provide you on that.

;;;;;; Yes, please?

;;;;;; Q Richard Klug (ph), German Television, ARD. The Republican Guard didn't even put up a fight in Tikrit. What is your military assessment of that, and is it perhaps because you have cut a deal with some of their leaders?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, the first military assessment is that we were effective in our operations. We intended to remove a capability, the command and control, so those that would issue orders could not do so, and they did not do so. We made efforts to isolate units, so that they could not be linked to other operations, and might not even know what was going on in other operations. We were successful in doing that. We attacked their capabilities directly, and physically destroyed some of their assets that might be used in combat operations. We were effective in doing that. We also attacked their will through a number of means. First, all of the items that I just laid out, that has an impact on the will of those who might choose to fight. We also communicated with them directly by leaflets, telling them that it was in their best interests to not fight for a dying regime. We were effective in that. Any one of these I could go to. And then we also, as we had access to leaders, we spoke with them and said, You need to make a choice here, because we are going to continue the combat operations until the capability is destroyed, the regime is destroyed -- and we were very clear about that and very forthright. And so there were no deals that were cut, but there was clear communication that occurred between commanders that had choices -- those that made the choices will have an opportunity to live another day. Those who did not did not survive the operations. That's my assessment.

;;;;;; Yes, ma'am, please?

;;;;;; Q (Off mike.) On that subject, where have they all disappeared to, these Republican Guard, and how will these tens of thousands of people who were the heart of Saddam's army going to be sort of integrated back in -- what role are they going to have in the future? You know, where have they gone? What are they going to do?

;;;;;; Second question, on the oil, especially in the north, it seems it could be back in operation very soon. How -- can you give us some kind of estimate on the time scale of when you think Iraq might be able to begin exporting oil again?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, we saw a number of people walk off the battlefield, from the earliest days of the war until the very last days. The fall of the formations in the north were perhaps the most recent example of that. But in other places we didn't see, places we didn't have a camera, it happened there as well. So where are they now? In some cases, there may be some leaders who are in hiding, and I believe that in due time they will be retrieved, and if there is a need to bring them to justice -- for example, if they were involved in gassing their fellow citizens some years back, then they will be held accountable for that. If they were involved in mistreatment of prisoners of war who are in their possession, they will be held accountable.

;;;;;; But many others were simply part of a regime that they didn't believe in, and we've seen that type of jubilation as the regime disappeared throughout the country. So their role is whatever they choose to be their role in the future. We've set the conditions for the Iraqis to determine what their destination and their destiny is going to be throughout the future. Former soldiers are a part of that. And I think that as time goes on we will get more information about those that were tainted and require more attention, and perhaps those that can make a useful contribution to the free Iraq of the future.

;;;;;; Now, the second half of your question?

;;;;;; Q (Off mike)?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Yes, was about oil. And you mentioned the north. We should be under no misconceptions that while we kept things successfully intact without a lot of destruction that there's still -- it's not going to happen right away -- let me put it like that. What must first happen is an assessment in each one of these areas. As we found in the south, once we had access to the oil fields, we found that there were some things that were damaged that we couldn't see from a distance. We also then looked to see how well can the facilities run when they are brought back up? What work might be required? Any repair work? Are there any breaks in the line? Can things run to their normal capacity? And we found that there's some work that needs to be done there. And the good news is Kuwaiti oil workers -- I'm sorry, Iraqi oil workers, as well as Kuwaiti workers for that matter, help us make the assessment and have been active in helping us get the fields restored.

;;;;;; In the north we find that the conditions that the fields and some of the key structures of the oil fields are under, was better than in the south. They were put into safe modes, for example, in a way that is closer to standards we would expect. And so there may indeed be less repair or less work that has to be done in the north, but that assessment is ongoing.

;;;;;; Even in the best cases we think it's weeks before we're back there getting into the business of running oil. Everything has to be put into a safe mode, evaluated, cleared of any potential ordnance or explosives that might still be out there, assessed as part of a whole system, and then assessed item by item before we can go on. And if there is modernization that needs to happen, then there probably will be, because frankly the oil system has been neglected by the regime for a number of years. The potential of the oil fields and the oil structure in Iraq is much greater than the reality of how it's been operating for decades, and we think that that can be restored over time, but it will take time to do that.

;;;;;; Please, Adi (ph).

;;;;;; Q Adi Raval (ph), ABC News. Sir, in your encounters with Syrian fighters, are you noticing that they are operating amongst themselves, one or two-men groups, or are they part of larger components of remnants of the Republican Guard units? And how -- in your encounters with them, are they engaging in a specific kind of attack against coalition forces?

;;;;;; And my second question is, sir, if you were a resident of Israel, almost a month now into this war, would you still bring a gas mask to work every day?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, first, the foreign fighters we are seeing -- and some of them are Syrians, some are, as I indicated, from other countries, as we have seen throughout the conflict. We've seen the whole gamut. Early on they were mixed in and amongst the regime death squads that might have been joined with regular army forces, that might have been joined with Republican Guard, and there were some foreign fighters present in some of those early engagements. Many of them were soundly defeated and had severe losses inflicted on their formations. In other places we have seen them in groups of 10 to 20, as the last hold-outs on areas, ambush points. In other cases we have seen what appear to be just foreign fighters, as in the Imam al-Adham Mosque incident a few days ago -- a lot of foreign fighters there. Several hundred were killed. Some were captured. And this is where we get some of our information.

;;;;;; We also see individuals who are willing to attack the coalition as individuals, wearing either the explosive vests or the unfortunate shooting we had a few days ago at a checkpoint at point-blank range, where someone walked up and literally fired on a Marine. Foreign papers -- in this case we suspect Syrian. And so as we see these different circumstances out there, the full range of tactics are being applied. The best way to describe it right now though is the tactics are tactics of terrorists, and the people perpetrating them are at the very best mercenaries who have been paid to come into Iraq. And they are not contributing to stability. They are not protecting the Iraqi people at all. In fact, they put the people at risk and contribute to instability, and there's no role for them in the future of Iraq.

;;;;;; The second part of your question -- I can't completely project myself into that. We certainly know there have been some statements made, and changes of threat conditions within Israel. Those are decisions for governments and members of the civil society to decide for themselves.

;;;;;; What we know is we were effective in preventing firing on that country or other neighboring countries. We did have firings on Kuwait. We weren't completely successful in that regard, but our operations eventually moved that threat away. There were a total of 18 missile firings that we know of throughout this operation, all of them directed toward Kuwait or toward coalition forces as they moved through the southern desert, and we were successful at destroying many of those, preventing them from firing again, moved back the line where they could fire, and in a very short period of time, we got Kuwait out of range and then eventually got our forcees out of range as well.

;;;;;; So the best I can assess is that we were successful in that objective of not letting the regime expand the conflict by threatening its neighbors. And that's a good-news story, we believe.

;;;;;; Please.

;;;;;; Q James Forlong from Sky News. There's been evidence of a number of foreign fighters from a variety of different countries; from Morocco, some from Libya, some even from Malaysia, a whole host of countries. Why do you only talk about Syrians?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: I think because we're seeing them in the greatest density. And certainly in recent days we've seen people with papers from Syria as well, identification documents and what have you. We have seen a number of countries, as you stated, and there may well still be representatives from additional countries that are out there.

;;;;;; We also know that there were attempts to enter from Syria and some recruiting occurred in Syria. While we suspect that may well have been Iraqi intelligence service doing that work, it still came from that direction. That's why we keep referring to Syria. It's just the role that Syria has been involved in in this case.

;;;;;; Now, whether it's something done by government, we don't know. And that's really for our government to determine. There have certainly been communications at governmental level from capital to capital, and that's not something I need to comment on at this point from this command.

;;;;;; Yes, ma'am, please.

;;;;;; Q Kathy Shin (ph), Phoenix Satellite TV, from Hong Kong. I'd like to know what's your engagement with the civilians in Tikrit. And my second question is, are we going to expect to see another American flag around Saddam's statute in Tikrit?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, let me talk to the first part, and then I'll come back to the second. Our engagement in Tikrit with the population is like it is everywhere else. We very quickly transition from combat operations that are focused and lethal, to interacting with people that want to interact with us.

;;;;;; I'll give you an example. Now, this is not in Tikrit, but just south of Tikrit. As the Marine forces began to advance forward in the town of Samarra, they had two fights. One was with about a platoon- sized element, which was destroyed by the Marine force. They advanced, had contact with another platoon-sized element and destroyed it. Shortly thereafter, the Marines took up temporary positions and some of the townspeople came out with roses and greeted them. They were warmly received, and shortly thereafter, the guards that were holding the prisoners of war came forward and said, "We've got something to show you."

;;;;;; We transition very quickly, because we're a highly disciplined force. We're a very capable force. And so I suspect that our operations in Tikrit and our interactions will continue to be like that. As the people of Tikrit want to interact with us, we'll exchange information, we'll talk to them, and we'll also treat them with respect. If we find there are some regime leaders in there, they'll be taken into our custody. But the people of the city remain treated with respect.

;;;;;; As to your question about the flag, I don't believe you've seen that circumstance yet, you've not seen a flag flown, and so I wouldn't want to speculate as to what would happen, but I think our soldiers and Marines are disciplined. We've talked about that before. And since it hasn't occurred, it's probably not something to speculate on.

;;;;;; I'll take one more question. Let me go over here. Please, Paul.

;;;;;; Q Hi. It's Paul Hunter from Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. When you look back to your expectations 25 days ago, at the outset of this, did you think -- you said you're on plan every single day, but was the plan to be rolling into Tikrit virtually unopposed 25 days later? Did you expect to be almost militarily finished within a month? I mean, are you way ahead of schedule, or behind? How would you characterize where you are in terms of your expectations before you knew what kind of level of resistance you'd -- or not -- that you'd meet throughout?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, we did say continually that we were on plan. We're still on plan. (Laughter.) We are. (Laughter.) What I have to specify is that at the operational level, as General Franks has emphasized a number of times and as I've certainly said and General Renuard said and General Abizaid, when you lay out a plan, it has certain objectives that are to be accomplished, and those objectives are accomplished by certain combinations of action. Sometimes they're sequential. Other times they're done simultaneously.

;;;;;; The dynamics below that, at the tactical level, are subject to the various circumstances that are encountered on the battlefield. Opportunities emerge, they're acted on. Conditions occur and we create new opportunities, and those opportunities are then acted on. The enemy gets a vote that you can't always predict. You may see tactics used that were considered but arrive in a more dense way. There may be fights that occurred in areas where you didn't expect them. There may be some areas where you expected a fight and none occurs.

;;;;;; And so the plan that we refer to at the coalition force headquarters talks about what actions are necessary, what conditions must be set for us to say we've accomplished what we're after. And absolutely we're on plan, and we remain on plan, because part of our plan is also to transition from decisive combat operations into a focus on stability, support, and setting the conditions for the Iraqi people to choose their destiny. That's right on plan. How that will form, what actions we'll see, there will be a number of dynamics that cannot be completely predicted, but they'll be responded to. Some will be consistent with what we anticipated.

;;;;;; You mentioned time. We believed that our decisive operations campaign would be measured in weeks, not months, and we believe we're consistent with that. That was a design from the front. The arrival of additional forces to either reinforce on the battlefield or to relieve forces on the battlefield was part of the plan. It's right on track.

;;;;;; And so I certainly reinforce what my boss has said on a number of occasions: that the plan was sound from the start, the plan is working, and we remain on plan.

;;;;;; Ladies and gentlemen, thanks very much.

END.

;

;

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: GaryM Stern <garym.stern@nara.gov>
Sent: 4/14/2003 9:28:58 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 13:28:58.00
SUBJECT::
TO:GaryM Stern <garym.stern@nara.gov> ( GaryM Stern <garym.stern@nara.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

I am out of office, but can you make sure to FAX copies of the pages over which Reagan reps claimed privilege to Paul Colborn. Thanks.
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brian Reardon/OPD/EOP@EOP [OPD] <Brian Reardon>
Sent: 4/14/2003 5:39:49 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 09:39:49.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Brian Reardon ( CN=Brian Reardon/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Checking in: Anything we need to be doing on debt issuance suspension periods?
```

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Lefkowitz, Jay P.>
Sent: 4/14/2003 9:51:44 AM
Subject: Stuart Taylor on preferences

http://nationaljournal.com/taylor.htm

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP [OPD] <Jay P. Lefkowitz>;David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Noel J. Francisco>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 4/14/2003 5:52:38 AM
Subject: : Stuart Taylor on preferences

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 09:52:38.00
SUBJECT:: Stuart Taylor on preferences
TO:Jay P. Lefkowitz ( CN=Jay P. Lefkowitz/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Noel J. Francisco ( CN=Noel J. Francisco/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales ( CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

http://nationaljournal.com/taylor.htm
```

From: Cato Institute <kbrand@cato.org>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/14/2003 6:31:05 AM
Subject: : Cato Institute Book Forum 4/16/03 - Space: The Free Market Frontier

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Cato Institute <kbrand@cato.org> (Cato Institute <kbrand@cato.org> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 10:31:05.00
SUBJECT:: Cato Institute Book Forum 4/16/03 - Space: The Free Market Frontier
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

The Cato Institute
invites you to a Book Forum

Space: The Free-Market Frontier

featuring

Edward L. Hudgins
The Objectivist Center
Editor, Space: The Free-Market Frontier (Cato Institute 2003)

Buzz Aldrin
SpaceShare
Apollo XI Astronaut

James Muncy
PoliSpace

As questions are raised about the future of the American space program, it may be an opportune time to reconsider the role of the private sector. Just as private entrepreneurs made personal computers and the Internet accessible to everyone, private enterprise should be given the chance to make space accessible for commerce, science, and recreation. Come hear Cato guest speakers discuss the need for Congress to remove barriers to private space efforts; suggest free-market ways for NASA to spend its funds; and lay out a vision for how to make America a space-faring society as outlined in the Cato Institute book, Space: The Free-Market Frontier.

Wednesday, April 16, 2003
12:00 noon
(Luncheon to follow)

Cato Book Forums and luncheons are free of charge.
To register, visit www.cato.org, e-mail Krystal Brand at kbrand@cato.org, fax (202) 371-0841, or call (202) 789-5229 by 12:00 noon, Tuesday, April 15.
News media inquiries only (no registrations), please call (202) 789-5200.
The Cato Institute is located at 1000 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., Washington, D. C.

To unsubscribe, send an email to: unsubscribe-14628@uptilt.com with the address: brett_m._kavanaugh@who.eop.gov in the subject line.

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>
Sent: 4/14/2003 11:19:27 AM
Subject:

Just walked back from NEOB. For future reference, get those clubs in the cars.

From: Snee, Ashley
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/14/2003 11:20:57 AM
Subject: Re: story on Carlos Bea in SF Recorder

As much as I can read on the bberry looks good.
.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Leitch, David G.>
Sent: 4/14/2003 11:36:12 AM
Subject:

i talked to judge. will fill you in.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>
Sent: 4/14/2003 7:36:46 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 11:36:46.00
SUBJECT::
TO:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

i talked to judge. will fill you in.
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Hana F. Brilliant/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Hana F. Brilliant>
CC: paul b. dyck/who/eop@eop [WHO] <paul b. dyck>
Sent: 4/14/2003 7:38:48 AM
Subject: : Re: Usage of website picture

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 11:38:48.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Usage of website picture
TO:Hana F. Brilliant (CN=Hana F. Brilliant/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:paul b. dyck (CN=paul b. dyck/OU=who/O=eop@eop [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

I do not think we should authorize them to use a photo of President with military in a political way such as this at this time. They can use a separate photo of President.

Hana F. Brilliant
04/14/2003 11:33:48 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
bcc:
Subject: Re: Usage of website picture

I work with Noel Francisco on all non-political requests. Noel said that Brett Kavanaugh would handle this one.
Hana

Paul B. Dyck
04/14/2003 11:04:33 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Hana F. Brilliant/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Joseph W. Fricks III/WHO/EOP@EOP
Subject: Usage of website picture

Hana - I believe that you had answered a similar question for me previously, so I hope that you are the correct person or can point me in the right direction to the inquiry below. Is this permissable? Thanks.
Paul

Paul Dyck
Political Affairs
x6-6528

---------- Forwarded by Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP on 04/14/2003 11:02 AM ----------

Joseph W. Fricks III
04/14/2003 10:29:54 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Paul B. Dyck/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Usage of website picture

Dina Psic of the Cherokee County Republican Party in Georgia is requesting permission to use a picture from the website in their newsletter. The newsletter is going to have a support our troops theme. The picture requested is at the link below:

http://www.whitehouse.gov/president/forthosewhoserve/05.html

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/14/2003 11:41:48 AM
Subject: RE:

Saw you fly out of there and wondered.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 11:36 AM
To: Leitch, David G.
Subject:

i talked to judge. will fill you in.

From: CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/14/2003 7:41:30 AM
Subject: : RE:

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 11:41:30.00
SUBJECT:: RE:
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Saw you fly out of there and wondered.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 11:36 AM
To: Leitch, David G.
Subject:

i talked to judge. will fill you in.

From: CN=Nanette Everson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: collister w. johnson/who/eop@eop [WHO] <collister w. johnson>
Sent: 4/14/2003 7:53:41 AM
Subject: : Re: Brett - Landon has asked me to serve on the Board of Trustees for the school

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Nanette Everson (CN=Nanette Everson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 11:53:41.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Brett - Landon has asked me to serve on the Board of Trustees for the school
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:collister w. johnson (CN=collister w. johnson/OU=who/O=eop@eop [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Our one exception to the staff manual command to sever all fiduciary positions falls into the educational non-profit category; we look at these more flexibly and try to find a way to allow you to serve in an officer, director or trustee capacity provided you do not solicit funds for the school and even then, we will consider small school solicitations, such as your grammar school auction committee, etc.

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/11/2003 11:41:00 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Nanette Everson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Collister W. Johnson/WHO/EOP@EOP
Subject: Brett - Landon has asked me to serve on the Board of Trustees for the school

This is in Nanette's bailiwick so I am forwarding to her. thx.

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/11/2003 11:40 AM ----------

Collister W. Johnson
04/11/2003 11:39:47 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Ken Mehlman/WHO/EOP@EOP
Subject: Brett - Landon has asked me to serve on the Board of Trustees for the school

Is this okay?
c

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Ashley Estes/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Estes>
Sent: 4/14/2003 11:59:26 AM
Subject: : RE:

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 15:59:26.00
SUBJECT:: RE:
TO:Ashley Estes (CN=Ashley Estes/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/14/2003 03:59 PM ----------

From: Joel Kaplan/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/14/2003 12:28:03 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE:

Reminder re gum

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 12:21 PM
To: Kaplan, Joel
Subject:

reminder re correspondents dinner tix

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Joel D. Kaplan/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Joel D. Kaplan>
Sent: 4/14/2003 8:21:51 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 12:21:51.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Joel D. Kaplan ( CN=Joel D. Kaplan/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

reminder re correspondents dinner tix
```

From: Litkenhaus, Colleen
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
CC: <Gambatesa, Linda M.>
Sent: 4/14/2003 12:24:56 PM
Subject:
Attachments: Memo to Close the Ellipse1.doc

Do we want to say the "White House" or should we say "EOP Security, Office of Administration." Do you mind reviewing this memo, or should someone else in Counsel's office look at it?

April 14, 2003

Mr. Terry Carlstrom
Regional Director
National Capitol Region
National Park Service
1100 Ohio Drive. S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20024

Dear Mr. Carlstrom:

As you know, the White House will once again host its annual Easter Egg Roll on the White House lawn on Monday, April 21, 2003. To ensure the safety and security of our guests, the White House requests that no public access be granted during this year's Easter Egg Roll from 4:30 am to 3:00 pm on that day. Specifically, the restricted area includes the White House South fence line to Constitution Avenue, Sherman Park, the First Division Memorial, the area known as the Ellipse and its side panels to include the area between State Place, "E' Street and Alexander Hamilton Place to the North; Constitution Avenue to the South; 15th Street N.W. to the East; and 17th Street N.W. to the West. It is our intention to have ticket holders use the aforementioned, as a staging area prior to entering the White House lawn for cleared vendors, caterers and bathrooms.

The Easter Egg Roll is traditionally one of the largest public events at the White House Complex and draws both national and international media coverage. This year the White House judges that additional security measures are warranted because of American Military operations in Iraq and the National Threat Level being at "Orange." Further, custodial debriefings of senior Al-Qaida detainees and other intelligence reporting indicates that the White House Complex remains a priority terrorist target. In light of this unprecedented threat climate, the Easter Egg Roll will not be open to the general public with only 15,000 tickets distributed for this event to U.S. military members and their families.

In order to ensure the safety and well being of our military guests at the Easter Egg Roll, it is imperative that supplementary security measures be implemented to include additional stand-off distance and greater observation ability to identify potential risk. When implemented these measures will significantly reduce and eliminate likely threats.

This request has been coordinated and concurred with by the US Secret Service. Thank you for your continued assistance and cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

JEFFREY G. THOMPSON
Director For Security
Executive Office Of The President

From: CN=Colleen Litkenhaus/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: Linda M. Gambatesa/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Linda M. Gambatesa>
Sent: 4/14/2003 8:24:44 AM
Subject: :
Attachments: P_KPELF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Colleen Litkenhaus ( CN=Colleen Litkenhaus/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 12:24:44.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Linda M. Gambatesa ( CN=Linda M. Gambatesa/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Do we want to say the "White House" or should we say "EOP Security, Office of Administration."; Do you mind reviewing this memo, or should someone else in Counsel's office look at it?
;
;
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_KPELF003_WHO.TXT_1>
```

April 14, 2003

Mr. Terry Carlstrom
Regional Director
National Capitol Region
National Park Service
1100 Ohio Drive. S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20024

Dear Mr. Carlstrom:

As you know, the White House will once again host its annual Easter Egg Roll on the White House lawn on Monday, April 21, 2003. To ensure the safety and security of our guests, the White House requests that no public access be granted during this year's Easter Egg Roll from 4:30 am to 3:00 pm on that day. Specifically, the restricted area includes the White House South fence line to Constitution Avenue, Sherman Park, the First Division Memorial, the area known as the Ellipse and its side panels to include the area between State Place, "E' Street and Alexander Hamilton Place to the North; Constitution Avenue to the South; 15th Street N.W. to the East; and 17th Street N.W. to the West. It is our intention to have ticket holders use the aforementioned, as a staging area prior to entering the White House lawn for cleared vendors, caterers and bathrooms.

The Easter Egg Roll is traditionally one of the largest public events at the White House Complex and draws both national and international media coverage. This year the White House judges that additional security measures are warranted because of American Military operations in Iraq and the National Threat Level being at "Orange." Further, custodial debriefings of senior Al-Qaida detainees and other intelligence reporting indicates that the White House Complex remains a priority terrorist target. In light of this unprecedented threat climate, the Easter Egg Roll will not be open to the general public with only 15,000 tickets distributed for this event to U.S. military members and their families.

In order to ensure the safety and well being of our military guests at the Easter Egg Roll, it is imperative that supplementary security measures be implemented to include additional stand-off distance and greater observation ability to identify potential risk. When implemented these measures will significantly reduce and eliminate likely threats.

This request has been coordinated and concurred with by the US Secret Service. Thank you for your continued assistance and cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

JEFFREY G. THOMPSON
Director For Security
Executive Office Of The President

From: Kaplan, Joel
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/14/2003 12:28:03 PM
Subject: RE:

Reminder re gum

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 12:21 PM
To: Kaplan, Joel
Subject:

reminder re correspondents dinner tix

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov <Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 4/14/2003 8:52:49 AM
Subject: : RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflectrecent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 12:52:49.00
SUBJECT:: RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.
TO:"Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov" <Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov> ("Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov" <Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

thanks, just makes sense to have it updated to reflect latest stats since Senate is on recess now

"Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov" <Sheila.Joy
04/14/2003 12:37:19 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

I can ask - anyones guess as to what they will do

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov [mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 12:29 PM
To: Joy, Sheila
Subject: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov <Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 4/14/2003 8:52:15 AM
Subject: : RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflectrecent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 12:52:15.00
SUBJECT:: RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.
TO:"Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov" <Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov> ("Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov" <Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

thanks

"Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov" <Sheila.Joy
04/14/2003 12:37:19 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

I can ask - anyones guess as to what they will do

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 12:29 PM
To: Joy, Sheila
Subject: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Leitch, David G.>
Sent: 4/14/2003 1:14:53 PM
Subject: any problems with attached
Attachments: cl 4 14 03.doc

<>

April 14, 2003

Mr. Terry Carlstrom
Regional Director
National Capitol Region
National Park Service
1100 Ohio Drive. S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20024

Dear Mr. Carlstrom:

As you know, the White House will once again host its annual Easter Egg Roll on the White House lawn on Monday, April 21, 2003. To ensure the safety and security of our guests, the White House requests that no public access be granted during this year's Easter Egg Roll from 4:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on that day. Specifically, the restricted area includes the White House South fence line to Constitution Avenue, Sherman Park, the First Division Memorial, the area known as the Ellipse and its side panels to include the area between State Place, E Street and Alexander Hamilton Place to the North; Constitution Avenue to the South; 15th Street N.W. to the East; and 17th Street N.W. to the West. It is our intention to have ticket holders use the aforementioned, as a staging area prior to entering the White House lawn for cleared vendors, caterers, and bathrooms.

The Easter Egg Roll is traditionally one of the largest public events at the White House Complex and draws both national and international media coverage. This year, the White House has determined that additional security measures are warranted because of American Military operations in Iraq and the National Threat Level being at "Orange." The White House Complex also remains a priority terrorist target. In light of these extraordinary threats, the Easter Egg Roll will not be open to the general public; there will be 15,000 tickets distributed for this event to U.S. military members and their families.

In order to ensure the safety and well being of our military guests at the Easter Egg Roll, it is imperative that supplementary security measures be implemented to include additional stand-off distance and greater observation ability to identify potential risk. When implemented, these measures will significantly reduce and eliminate likely threats.

We have coordinated with the United States Secret Service in making this request, and they concur in it. Thank you for your continued assistance and cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

JEFFREY G. THOMPSON
Director For Security
Executive Office Of The President

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>
Sent: 4/14/2003 9:15:33 AM
Subject: : any problems with attached
Attachments: P_AEHLF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 13:15:33.00
SUBJECT:: any problems with attached
TO:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_AEHLF003_WHO.TXT_1>
```

April 14, 2003

Mr. Terry Carlstrom
Regional Director
National Capitol Region
National Park Service
1100 Ohio Drive. S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20024

Dear Mr. Carlstrom:

As you know, the White House will once again host its annual Easter Egg Roll on the White House lawn on Monday, April 21, 2003. To ensure the safety and security of our guests, the White House requests that no public access be granted during this year's Easter Egg Roll from 4:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on that day. Specifically, the restricted area includes the White House South fence line to Constitution Avenue, Sherman Park, the First Division Memorial, the area known as the Ellipse and its side panels to include the area between State Place, E Street and Alexander Hamilton Place to the North; Constitution Avenue to the South; 15th Street N.W. to the East; and 17th Street N.W. to the West. It is our intention to have ticket holders use the aforementioned, as a staging area prior to entering the White House lawn for cleared vendors, caterers, and bathrooms.

The Easter Egg Roll is traditionally one of the largest public events at the White House Complex and draws both national and international media coverage. This year, the White House has determined that additional security measures are warranted because of American Military operations in Iraq and the National Threat Level being at "Orange." The White House Complex also remains a priority terrorist target. In light of these extraordinary threats, the Easter Egg Roll will not be open to the general public; there will be 15,000 tickets distributed for this event to U.S. military members and their families.

In order to ensure the safety and well being of our military guests at the Easter Egg Roll, it is imperative that supplementary security measures be implemented to include additional stand-off distance and greater observation ability to identify potential risk. When implemented, these measures will significantly reduce and eliminate likely threats.

We have coordinated with the United States Secret Service in making this request, and they concur in it. Thank you for your continued assistance and cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

JEFFREY G. THOMPSON
Director For Security
Executive Office Of The President

From: Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/14/2003 9:18:30 AM
Subject: : RE: Letter to Sen. Edwards re Terry Boyle

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov" <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> (
"Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov" <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 13:18:30.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Letter to Sen. Edwards re Terry Boyle
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

done

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 12:52 PM
To: Benczkowski, Brian A
Subject: Letter to Sen. Edwards re Terry Boyle

You should make sure Frank Hill gets this.
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: paul.d.clement@usdoj.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <paul.d.clement@usdoj.gov @ inet>
Sent: 4/14/2003 9:24:32 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 13:24:32.00
SUBJECT::
TO:paul.d.clement@usdoj.gov @ inet ( paul.d.clement@usdoj.gov @ inet [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

can you call me re Rich Cordray; I got an inquiry here based on a news story in an Ohio paper that says in headline "Bush taps Cordray to argue before nation's highest court."
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Matthew A. Schlapp/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Matthew A. Schlapp>;Collister W. Johnson/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Collister W. Johnson>;Ken Mehlman/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Ken Mehlman>
Sent: 4/14/2003 9:26:51 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 13:26:51.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Matthew A. Schlapp ( CN=Matthew A. Schlapp/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Collister W. Johnson ( CN=Collister W. Johnson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Ken Mehlman ( CN=Ken Mehlman/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Coddy: I am checking on your inquiry re DOJ retaining an Ohio Dem to argue a case for it.
```

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/14/2003 1:31:41 PM
Subject: RE: any problems with attached
Attachments: cl 4 14 03.doc

Comments reflected in the attached. Call me if you need elaboration.

<>

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 1:15 PM
To: Leitch, David G.
Subject: any problems with attached

<< File: cl 4 14 03.doc >>

April 14, 2003

Mr. Terry Carlstrom
Regional Director
National Capitol Region
National Park Service
1100 Ohio Drive. S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20024

Dear Mr. Carlstrom:

As you know, the White House will once again host its annual Easter Egg Roll on the White House lawn on Monday, April 21, 2003. To ensure the safety and security of our guests, the White House requests that no public access be granted to certain areas during ~~this year's Easter Egg Roll~~ from 4:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on that day. Specifically, the restricted area includes the White House South fence line to Constitution Avenue, Sherman Park, the First Division Memorial, the area known as the Ellipse and its side panels to include the area between State Place, E Street and Alexander Hamilton Place to the North; Constitution Avenue to the South; 15th Street N.W. to the East; and 17th Street N.W. to the West. It is our intention to have ticket holders use the aforementioned area~~,~~ as a staging area prior to entering the White House lawn for cleared vendors, caterers, and bathrooms. [huh?]

The Easter Egg Roll is traditionally one of the largest public events at the White House Complex and draws both national and international media coverage. This year, the White House has determined that additional security measures are warranted because of American Military operations in Iraq and the National Threat Level being at "Orange." ~~The White House Complex also remains a priority terrorist target.~~ In light of these extraordinary ~~threats~~circumstances, the Easter Egg Roll will not be open to the general public; ~~there will be~~ 15,000 tickets will be distributed for this event to U.S. military members and their families.

In order to ensure the safety and well being of our ~~military~~ guests at the Easter Egg Roll, it is imperative that supplementary security measures be implemented to include additional stand-off distance and greater observation ability to identify potential risk. When implemented, these measures will significantly reduce ~~and eliminate~~ likely threats.

We have coordinated with the United States Secret Service in making this request, and they concur in it. Thank you for your continued assistance and cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

JEFFREY G. THOMPSON
Director For Security
Executive Office Of The President

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Litkenhaus, Colleen>
CC: <Gambatesa, Linda M.>
Sent: 4/14/2003 1:37:30 PM
Subject: Re:
Attachments: cl 4 14 03 #2.doc

The attached edited version reflects our thoughts and comments.

<>

April 14, 2003

Mr. Terry Carlstrom
Regional Director
National Capitol Region
National Park Service
1100 Ohio Drive. S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20024

Dear Mr. Carlstrom:

As you know, the White House will once again host its annual Easter Egg Roll on the White House lawn on Monday, April 21, 2003. To ensure the safety and security of our guests, the White House requests that no public access be granted to certain areas from 4:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on that day. Specifically, the restricted area includes the White House South fence line to Constitution Avenue, Sherman Park, the First Division Memorial, the area known as the Ellipse and its side panels to include the area between State Place, E Street and Alexander Hamilton Place to the North; Constitution Avenue to the South; 15th Street N.W. to the East; and 17th Street N.W. to the West. It is our intention to have ticket holders use the aforementioned area as a staging area prior to entering the White House lawn for cleared vendors, caterers, and equipment.

The Easter Egg Roll is traditionally one of the largest public events at the White House Complex and draws both national and international media coverage. This year, the White House has determined that additional security measures are warranted because of American Military operations in Iraq and the National Threat Level being at "Orange." In light of these extraordinary circumstances, the Easter Egg Roll will not be open to the general public; 15,000 tickets will be distributed for this event to U.S. military members and their families.

In order to ensure the safety and well being of our guests at the Easter Egg Roll, it is imperative that supplementary security measures be implemented to include additional stand-off distance and greater observation ability to identify potential risk. When implemented, these measures will significantly reduce likely threats.

We have coordinated with the United States Secret Service in making this request, and they concur in it. Thank you for your continued assistance and cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

JEFFREY G. THOMPSON
Director For Security
Executive Office Of The President

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Colleen Litkenhaus/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Colleen Litkenhaus>
CC: linda m. gambatesa/who/eop@exchange [WHO] <linda m. gambatesa>
Sent: 4/14/2003 9:37:47 AM
Subject: : Re:
Attachments: P_UIILF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 13:37:47.00
SUBJECT:: Re:
TO:Colleen Litkenhaus ( CN=Colleen Litkenhaus/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:linda m. gambatesa ( CN=linda m. gambatesa/OU=who/O=eop@exchange [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

The attached edited version reflects our thoughts and comments.

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_UIILF003_WHO.TXT_1>
```

April 14, 2003

Mr. Terry Carlstrom
Regional Director
National Capitol Region
National Park Service
1100 Ohio Drive. S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20024

Dear Mr. Carlstrom:

As you know, the White House will once again host its annual Easter Egg Roll on the White House lawn on Monday, April 21, 2003. To ensure the safety and security of our guests, the White House requests that no public access be granted to certain areas from 4:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on that day. Specifically, the restricted area includes the White House South fence line to Constitution Avenue, Sherman Park, the First Division Memorial, the area known as the Ellipse and its side panels to include the area between State Place, E Street and Alexander Hamilton Place to the North; Constitution Avenue to the South; 15th Street N.W. to the East; and 17th Street N.W. to the West. It is our intention to have ticket holders use the aforementioned area as a staging area prior to entering the White House lawn for cleared vendors, caterers, and equipment.

The Easter Egg Roll is traditionally one of the largest public events at the White House Complex and draws both national and international media coverage. This year, the White House has determined that additional security measures are warranted because of American Military operations in Iraq and the National Threat Level being at "Orange." In light of these extraordinary circumstances, the Easter Egg Roll will not be open to the general public; 15,000 tickets will be distributed for this event to U.S. military members and their families.

In order to ensure the safety and well being of our guests at the Easter Egg Roll, it is imperative that supplementary security measures be implemented to include additional stand-off distance and greater observation ability to identify potential risk. When implemented, these measures will significantly reduce likely threats.

We have coordinated with the United States Secret Service in making this request, and they concur in it. Thank you for your continued assistance and cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

JEFFREY G. THOMPSON
Director For Security
Executive Office Of The President

From: Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;'CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org' <CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org>
Sent: 4/14/2003 1:54:14 PM
Subject: : RE: Specter letter

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov" <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov> (
"Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov" <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 17:54:14.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Specter letter
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"'CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org'" <CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org> (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested) ( "'CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org'" <CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org> (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested) [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

I think it looks good.

-----Original Message-----
From: CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org [mailto:CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org]
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 5:07 PM
To: Remington, Kristi L; Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
Subject: Specter letter

Attached redraft for your comments.
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Collister W. Johnson/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Collister W. Johnson>
Sent: 4/14/2003 2:40:03 PM
Subject: : Re: Rove fundraiser for Sen. Bunning (R, KY)
Attachments: P_SJ0MF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc; P_SJ0MF003_WHO.TXT_2.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 18:40:03.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Rove fundraiser for Sen. Bunning (R, KY)
TO:Collister W. Johnson (CN=Collister W. Johnson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Is that description the formulation used for Karl on other invites?

Collister W. Johnson
04/11/2003 03:54:15 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP, cspies@rnchq.org @ inet
cc: Ken Mehlman/WHO/EOP@EOP
Subject: Rove fundraiser for Sen. Bunning (R, KY)

Attached are invites for Rove to attend a fundraiser in KY for Bunning - thanks for reviewing!
c

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_SJ0MF003_WHO.TXT_1>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_SJ0MF003_WHO.TXT_2>

R.S.V.P.

_____ Yes, I will be able to attend and am enclosing $_____for _____person(s).

_____ No, I will not be able to attend, but am enclosing a contribution of $_____.

Federal law requires us to use our best efforts to collect and report the name, mailing address, occupation and name of employer of individuals whose contributions exceed $200 per calendar year.

Name _____

Address_____

City _____State_____Zip_____

Occupation_____Employer_____

Home Phone_____Work Phone_____

Please make checks payable to: CITIZENS FOR BUNNING

Corporate contributions are not acceptable-FEC regulations. Contributions to Citizens for Bunning are not deductible as charitable contributions for Federal income tax purposes. Contributions from foreign nationals are prohibited.

Authorized and Paid for by Citizens for Bunning.

Not printed at government expense.

5/15/2003

REV_00114552

You are cordially invited to a reception honoring

Jim Bunning

United States Senator

with special guest

Karl Rove

ALong-time advisor to President George W. Bush@

on

Thursday, May 15, 2003

Marriott Griffin Gate

Lexington, Kentucky

Sponsor Reception ~ $2,000 per couple - 6:00 p.m.

Co-Host Reception ~ $500 per couple - 6:30 p.m.

General Reception ~ $250 per couple - 7:00 p.m.

Please R.S.V.P. by enclosed card or 859/341-6480

Authorized and Paid for by Citizens for Bunning.

Not printed at government expense.

From: Skelly, Layton

To: tcordaro@osophs.dhhs.gov <Gilbert, Alan>;tcordaro@osophs.dhhs.gov <Hall, Philo D.>;paula.stannard@hhs.gov <paula.stannard@hhs.gov>;peter.urbanowicz@hhs.gov <peter.urbanowicz@hhs.gov>;viet.dinh@usdoj.gov <viet.dinh@usdoj.gov>;alex.azar@hhs.gov <alex.azar@hhs.gov>;john.hoff@hhs.gov <john.hoff@hhs.gov>;jennifer.young@hhs.gov <jennifer.young@hhs.gov>;jennifer.young@hhs.gov <Schacht, Diana L.>;jennifer.young@hhs.gov <Jensen, Amy>;jennifer.young@hhs.gov <Loper, Ginger G.>;wendy j. grubbs/who/eop <wendy j. grubbs/who/eop@eop>;wendy j. grubbs/who/eop <Lefkowitz, Jay P.>;wendy j. grubbs/who/eop <Perry, Philip J.>;wendy j. grubbs/who/eop <Silverberg, Kristen>;wendy j. grubbs/who/eop <Deleire, Thomas C.>;wendy j. grubbs/who/eop <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;zurawski-paul@dol.gov <zurawski-paul@dol.gov>;zurawski-paul@dol.gov <Young, Tracy>;zurawski-paul@dol.gov <Besanceney, Brian R.>;marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov <marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov>;marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov <Ackerly, Dana>;marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov <Cowdry, Rex>;hzucker@osophs.dhhs.gov <hzucker@osophs.dhhs.gov>

CC: pamela.roller@hhs.gov <pamela.roller@hhs.gov>;joyce.b-moore@hhs.gov <joyce.b-moore@hhs.gov>;marie.belt@hhs.gov <marie.belt@hhs.gov>;marie.belt@hhs.gov <Winland, Emily>;marie.belt@hhs.gov <Vestewig, Lauren J.>;marie.belt@hhs.gov <Lineberry, Stephen M.>;dana.ceasar@hhs.gov <dana.ceasar@hhs.gov>;india.luckett@hhs.gov <india.luckett@hhs.gov>;scriver-langford-lat@dol.gov <scriver-langford-lat@dol.gov>;heather.mcnaught@usdoj.gov <heather.mcnaught@usdoj.gov>;stephanie.wilson@hhs.gov <stephanie.wilson@hhs.gov>;stephanie.wilson@hhs.gov <Stone, Carla B.>;hrobowski-rosita@dol.gov <hrobowski-rosita@dol.gov>;tcordaro@osophs.dhhs.gov <tcordaro@osophs.dhhs.gov>;tcordaro@osophs.dhhs.gov <Skelly, Layton>

Sent: 4/14/2003 2:48:12 PM

Subject: Weekly Medical Liability Working Group

There will NOT be a medical liability working group call tomorrow, but there will be a meeting next Tuesday (4/22) at 10:00 in room 476 EEOB. I will send a reminder next Monday to find out who will be able to attend. Thank you.

Layton

Layton Skelly

03/31/2003 04:20:32 PM

Record Type: Record

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message

cc: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message

bcc:

Subject: Weekly Medical Liability CC tomorrow at 10:00

This is to remind you that we will be having the weekly Medical Liability Working Group conference call tomorrow at 10:00.

Call in: 395-6392

CODE: 791803

Layton Skelly

03/24/2003 04:54:28 PM

Record Type: Record

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message

cc: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message

bcc:

Subject: Medical Liability meeting tom. will be a Conf. Call

Call in: 395-6392

Code: 557036

Layton Skelly

03/17/2003 04:20:00 PM

Record Type: Record

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message

cc: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message

Subject: weekly Medical Liability meeting

This is a reminder that we are on for the weekly Medical Liability Working Group meeting tomorrow (3/18) at 10:00 in room 211. Thank you.

Layton

456-5085

Message Sent To:

Alan Gilbert/OPD/EOP@EOP

Philo D. Hall/OPD/EOP@EOP

paula.stannard@hhs.gov @ inet

peter.urbanowicz@hhs.gov @ inet

viet.dinh@usdoj.gov @ inet

alex.azar@hhs.gov @ inet

john.hoff@hhs.gov @ inet

jennifer.young@hhs.gov @ inet

Diana L. Schacht/OPD/EOP@EOP

William D. Badger/OPD/EOP@EOP

Amy Jensen/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP

Ginger G. Loper/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP

Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP

Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP

Philip J. Perry/OMB/EOP@EOP

Kristen Silverberg/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP

Thomas C. DeLeire/CEA/EOP@EOP

Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

zurawski-paul@dol.gov @ inet

Tracy Young/WHO/EOP@EOP

Brian R. Besanceney/WHO/EOP@EOP

marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov @ inet

Message Copied To:

Layton Skelly/OPD/EOP@EOP

pamela.roller@hhs.gov

joyce.b-moore@hhs.gov

marie.belt@hhs.gov

Emily Winland/OPD/EOP@EOP

Marty P. Smith/OPD/EOP@EOP

Lauren J. Vestewig/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP

Stephen M. Lineberry/CEA/EOP@EOP

dana.ceasar@hhs.gov

india.luckett@hhs.gov

scriver-langford-lat@dol.gov @ inet

heather.mcnaught@usdoj.gov

Message Sent To:

alan gilbert/opd/eop@eop

philo d. hall/opd/eop@eop

paula.stannard@hhs.gov @ inet

peter.urbanowicz@hhs.gov @ inet

viet.dinh@usdoj.gov @ inet

alex.azar@hhs.gov @ inet

john.hoff@hhs.gov @ inet

jennifer.young@hhs.gov @ inet

diana l. schacht/opd/eop@eop

william d. badger/opd/eop@eop

amy jensen/who/eop@exchange@eop

ginger g. loper/who/eop@exchange@eop

wendy j. grubbs/who/eop@eop

jay p. lefkowitz/opd/eop@exchange@eop

philip j. perry/omb/eop@eop

kristen silverberg/who/eop@exchange@eop

thomas c. deleire/cea/eop@eop

brett m. kavanaugh/who/eop@eop

zurawski-paul@dol.gov @ inet

tracy young/who/eop@eop

brian r. besanceney/who/eop@eop

marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov @ inet

Dana Ackerly/CEA/EOP@EOP

Message Copied To:

pamela.roller@hhs.gov

joyce.b-moore@hhs.gov

marie.belt@hhs.gov

emily winland/opd/eop@eop

marty p. smith/opd/eop@eop

lauren j. vestewig/opd/eop@exchange@eop

stephen m. lineberry/cea/eop@eop

dana.ceasar@hhs.gov

india.luckett@hhs.gov

scriver-langford-lat@dol.gov @ inet

heather.mcnaught@usdoj.gov

stephanie.wilson@hhs.gov

Layton Skelly/OPD/EOP@EOP

Message Sent To:

alan gilbert/opd/eop@eop

philo d. hall/opd/eop@eop

paula.stannard@hhs.gov @ inet

peter.urbanowicz@hhs.gov @ inet

viet.dinh@usdoj.gov @ inet

alex.azar@hhs.gov @ inet

john.hoff@hhs.gov @ inet

jennifer.young@hhs.gov @ inet

diana l. schacht/opd/eop@eop

william d. badger/opd/eop@eop

amy jensen/who/eop@exchange@eop

ginger g. loper/who/eop@exchange@eop

wendy j. grubbs/who/eop@eop

jay p. lefkowitz/opd/eop@exchange@eop

philip j. perry/omb/eop@eop

kristen silverberg/who/eop@exchange@eop

thomas c. deleire/cea/eop@eop

brett m. kavanaugh/who/eop@eop

zurawski-paul@dol.gov @ inet

tracy young/who/eop@eop

brian r. besanceney/who/eop@eop

marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov @ inet

dana ackerly/cea/eop@eop

Message Copied To:

pamela.roller@hhs.gov

joyce.b-moore@hhs.gov

marie.belt@hhs.gov

emily winland/opd/eop@eop

marty p. smith/opd/eop@eop

lauren j. vestewig/opd/eop@exchange@eop

stephen m. lineberry/cea/eop@eop

dana.ceasar@hhs.gov

india.luckett@hhs.gov

scriver-langford-lat@dol.gov @ inet

heather.mcnaught@usdoj.gov

stephanie.wilson@hhs.gov

Carla B. Stone/OMB/EOP@EOP

Layton Skelly/OPD/EOP@EOP

From: CN=Layton Skelly/OU=OPD/O=EOP [OPD]

To: hzucker@osophs.dhhs.gov [UNKNOWN] <hzucker@osophs.dhhs.gov>;dana ackerly/cea /eop@eop [CEA] <dana ackerly>;brian r. besanceney/who/eop@eop [WHO] <brian r. besanceney>;zurawski-paul@dol.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <zurawski-paul@dol.gov @ inet>;thomas c. deleire/cea/eop@eop [CEA] <thomas c. deleire>;philip j. perry/omb/eop@eop [OMB] <philip j. perry>;wendy j. grubbs/who/eop@eop [WHO] <wendy j. grubbs>;amy jensen/who/eop@exchange@eop [WHO] <amy jensen>;jennifer.young@hhs.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <jennifer.young@hhs.gov @ inet>;alex.azar@hhs.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <alex.azar@hhs.gov @ inet>;peter.urbanowicz@hhs.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <peter.urbanowicz@hhs.gov @ inet>;philo d. hall/opd/eop@eop [OPD] <philo d. hall>;Rex Cowdry/OPD/EOP@EOP [OPD] <Rex Cowdry>;marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov @ inet>;tracy young/who/eop@eop [WHO] <tracy young>;brett m. kavanaugh/who/eop@eop [WHO] <brett m. kavanaugh>;kristen silverberg/who /eop@exchange@eop [WHO] <kristen silverberg>;jay p. lefkowitz/opd/eop@exchange@eop [OPD] <jay p. lefkowitz>;ginger g. loper/who/eop@exchange@eop [WHO] <ginger g. loper>;diana l. schacht/opd/eop@eop [OPD] <diana l. schacht>;john.hoff@hhs.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <john.hoff@hhs.gov @ inet>;viet.dinh@usdoj.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <viet.dinh@usdoj.gov @ inet>;paula.stannard@hhs.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <paula.stannard@hhs.gov @ inet>;alan gilbert/opd/eop@eop [OPD] <alan gilbert>

CC: tcordaro@osophs.dhhs.gov [UNKNOWN] <tcordaro@osophs.dhhs.gov>;carla b. stone/omb /eop@eop [OMB] <carla b. stone>;heather.mcnaught@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN] <heather.mcnaught@usdoj.gov>;india.luckett@hhs.gov [UNKNOWN] <india.luckett@hhs.gov>;stephen m. lineberry/cea/eop@eop [CEA] <stephen m. lineberry>;emily winland/opd/eop@eop [OPD] <emily winland>;joyce.b-moore@hhs.gov [UNKNOWN] <joyce.b-moore@hhs.gov>;Layton Skelly/OPD/EOP@EOP [OPD] <Layton Skelly>;hrobowski-rosita@dol.gov [UNKNOWN] <hrobowski-rosita@dol.gov>;stephanie.wilson@hhs.gov [UNKNOWN] <stephanie.wilson@hhs.gov>;scriver-langford-lat@dol.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <scriver-langford-lat@dol.gov @ inet>;dana.ceasar@hhs.gov [UNKNOWN] <dana.ceasar@hhs.gov>;lauren j. vestewig/opd /eop@exchange@eop [OPD] <lauren j. vestewig>;marie.belt@hhs.gov [UNKNOWN] <marie.belt@hhs.gov>;pamela.roller@hhs.gov [UNKNOWN] <pamela.roller@hhs.gov>

Sent: 4/14/2003 10:48:28 AM

Subject: : Weekly Medical Liability Working Group

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Layton Skelly ( CN=Layton Skelly/OU=OPD/O=EOP [ OPD ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 14:48:28.00
SUBJECT:: Weekly Medical Liability Working Group
TO:hzucker@osophs.dhhs.gov ( hzucker@osophs.dhhs.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:dana ackerly ( CN=dana ackerly/OU=cea/O=eop@eop [ CEA ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:brian r. besanceney ( CN=brian r. besanceney/OU=who/O=eop@eop [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:zurawski-paul@dol.gov @ inet ( zurawski-paul@dol.gov @ inet [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:thomas c. deleire ( CN=thomas c. deleire/OU=cea/O=eop@eop [ CEA ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:philip j. perry ( CN=philip j. perry/OU=omb/O=eop@eop [ OMB ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:wendy j. grubbs ( CN=wendy j. grubbs/OU=who/O=eop@eop [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:amy jensen ( CN=amy jensen/OU=who/O=eop@exchange@eop [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:jennifer.young@hhs.gov @ inet ( jennifer.young@hhs.gov @ inet [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:alex.azar@hhs.gov @ inet ( alex.azar@hhs.gov @ inet [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:peter.urbanowicz@hhs.gov @ inet ( peter.urbanowicz@hhs.gov @ inet [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:philo d. hall ( CN=philo d. hall/OU=opd/O=eop@eop [ OPD ] )
```

READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Rex Cowdry (CN=Rex Cowdry/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [OPD])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov @ inet (marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:tracy young (CN=tracy young/OU=who/O=eop@eop [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:brett m. kavanaugh (CN=brett m. kavanaugh/OU=who/O=eop@eop [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:kristen silverberg (CN=kristen silverberg/OU=who/O=eop@exchange@eop [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:jay p. lefkowitz (CN=jay p. lefkowitz/OU=opd/O=eop@exchange@eop [OPD])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:ginger g. loper (CN=ginger g. loper/OU=who/O=eop@exchange@eop [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:diana l. schacht (CN=diana l. schacht/OU=opd/O=eop@eop [OPD])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:john.hoff@hhs.gov @ inet (john.hoff@hhs.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:viet.dinh@usdoj.gov @ inet (viet.dinh@usdoj.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:paula.stannard@hhs.gov @ inet (paula.stannard@hhs.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:alan gilbert (CN=alan gilbert/OU=opd/O=eop@eop [OPD])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:tcordaro@osophs.dhhs.gov (tcordaro@osophs.dhhs.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:carla b. stone (CN=carla b. stone/OU=omb/O=eop@eop [OMB])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:heather.mcnaught@usdoj.gov (heather.mcnaught@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:india.luckett@hhs.gov (india.luckett@hhs.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:stephen m. lineberry (CN=stephen m. lineberry/OU=cea/O=eop@eop [CEA])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:emily winland (CN=emily winland/OU=opd/O=eop@eop [OPD])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:joyce.b-moore@hhs.gov (joyce.b-moore@hhs.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Layton Skelly (CN=Layton Skelly/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [OPD])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:hrobowski-rosita@dol.gov (hrobowski-rosita@dol.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:stephanie.wilson@hhs.gov (stephanie.wilson@hhs.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:scriver-langford-lat@dol.gov @ inet (scriver-langford-lat@dol.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:dana.ceasar@hhs.gov (dana.ceasar@hhs.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:lauren j. vestewig (CN=lauren j. vestewig/OU=opd/O=eop@exchange@eop [OPD])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:marie.belt@hhs.gov (marie.belt@hhs.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:pamela.roller@hhs.gov (pamela.roller@hhs.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

There will NOT be a medical liability working group call tomorrow, but there will be a meeting next Tuesday (4/22) at 10:00 in room 476 EEOB. I will send a reminder next Monday to find out who will be able to attend.
Thank you.

Layton

Layton Skelly

03/31/2003 04:20:32 PM

Record Type: Record

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
cc: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
bcc:
Subject: Weekly Medical Liability CC tomorrow at 10:00

This is to remind you that we will be having the weekly Medical Liability Working Group conference call tomorrow at 10:00.

Call in: 395-6392
CODE: 791803

Layton Skelly

03/24/2003 04:54:28 PM

Record Type: Record

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
cc: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
bcc:
Subject: Medical Liability meeting tom. will be a Conf. Call

Call in: 395-6392
Code: 557036

Layton Skelly

03/17/2003 04:20:00 PM

Record Type: Record

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
cc: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message
Subject: weekly Medical Liability meeting

This is a reminder that we are on for the weekly Medical Liability Working Group meeting tomorrow (3/18) at 10:00 in room 211. Thank you.

Layton
456-5085

Message Sent
To:_____
Alan Gilbert/OPD/EOP@EOP
Philo D. Hall/OPD/EOP@EOP
paula.stannard@hhs.gov @ inet

peter.urbanowicz@hhs.gov @ inet
viet.dinh@usdoj.gov @ inet
alex.azar@hhs.gov @ inet
john.hoff@hhs.gov @ inet
jennifer.young@hhs.gov @ inet
Diana L. Schacht/OPD/EOP@EOP
William D. Badger/OPD/EOP@EOP
Amy Jensen/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP
Ginger G. Loper/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP
Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP
Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP
Philip J. Perry/OMB/EOP@EOP
Kristen Silverberg/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP
Thomas C. DeLeire/CEA/EOP@EOP
Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
zurawski-paul@dol.gov @ inet
Tracy Young/WHO/EOP@EOP
Brian R. Besanceney/WHO/EOP@EOP
marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov @ inet

Message Copied
To:_____
Layton Skelly/OPD/EOP@EOP
pamela.roller@hhs.gov
joyce.b-moore@hhs.gov
marie.belt@hhs.gov
Emily Winland/OPD/EOP@EOP
Marty P. Smith/OPD/EOP@EOP
Lauren J. Vestewig/OPD/EOP@Exchange@EOP
Stephen M. Lineberry/CEA/EOP@EOP
dana.ceasar@hhs.gov
india.luckett@hhs.gov
scriver-langford-lat@dol.gov @ inet
heather.mcnaught@usdoj.gov

Message Sent
To:_____
alan gilbert/opd/eop@eop
philo d. hall/opd/eop@eop
paula.stannard@hhs.gov @ inet
peter.urbanowicz@hhs.gov @ inet
viet.dinh@usdoj.gov @ inet
alex.azar@hhs.gov @ inet
john.hoff@hhs.gov @ inet
jennifer.young@hhs.gov @ inet
diana l. schacht/opd/eop@eop
william d. badger/opd/eop@eop
amy jensen/who/eop@exchange@eop
ginger g. loper/who/eop@exchange@eop
wendy j. grubbs/who/eop@eop
jay p. lefkowitz/opd/eop@exchange@eop
philip j. perry/omb/eop@eop
kristen silverberg/who/eop@exchange@eop
thomas c. deleire/cea/eop@eop
brett m. kavanaugh/who/eop@eop
zurawski-paul@dol.gov @ inet
tracy young/who/eop@eop
brian r. besanceney/who/eop@eop
marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov @ inet
Dana Ackerly/CEA/EOP@EOP

Message Copied
To:_____
pamela.roller@hhs.gov
joyce.b-moore@hhs.gov
marie.belt@hhs.gov
emily winland/opd/eop@eop

marty p. smith/opd/eop@eop
lauren j. vestewig/opd/eop@exchange@eop
stephen m. lineberry/cea/eop@eop
dana.ceasar@hhs.gov
india.luckett@hhs.gov
scriver-langford-lat@dol.gov @ inet
heather.mcnaught@usdoj.gov
stephanie.wilson@hhs.gov
Layton Skelly/OPD/EOP@EOP

Message Sent
To:_____
alan gilbert/opd/eop@eop
philo d. hall/opd/eop@eop
paula.stannard@hhs.gov @ inet
peter.urbanowicz@hhs.gov @ inet
viet.dinh@usdoj.gov @ inet
alex.azar@hhs.gov @ inet
john.hoff@hhs.gov @ inet
jennifer.young@hhs.gov @ inet
diana l. schacht/opd/eop@eop
william d. badger/opd/eop@eop
amy jensen/who/eop@exchange@eop
ginger g. loper/who/eop@exchange@eop
wendy j. grubbs/who/eop@eop
jay p. lefkowitz/opd/eop@exchange@eop
philip j. perry/omb/eop@eop
kristen silverberg/who/eop@exchange@eop
thomas c. deleire/cea/eop@eop
brett m. kavanaugh/who/eop@eop
zurawski-paul@dol.gov @ inet
tracy young/who/eop@eop
brian r. besanceney/who/eop@eop
marc.kesselman@usdoj.gov @ inet
dana ackerly/cea/eop@eop

Message Copied
To:_____
pamela.roller@hhs.gov
joyce.b-moore@hhs.gov
marie.belt@hhs.gov
emily winland/opd/eop@eop
marty p. smith/opd/eop@eop
lauren j. vestewig/opd/eop@exchange@eop
stephen m. lineberry/cea/eop@eop
dana.ceasar@hhs.gov
india.luckett@hhs.gov
scriver-langford-lat@dol.gov @ inet
heather.mcnaught@usdoj.gov
stephanie.wilson@hhs.gov
Carla B. Stone/OMB/EOP@EOP
Layton Skelly/OPD/EOP@EOP

From: CN=Collister W. Johnson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/14/2003 11:40:58 AM
Subject: : Re:

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Collister W. Johnson (CN=Collister W. Johnson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 15:40:58.00
SUBJECT:: Re:
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

thanks man.
also - did you get a chance to look at the email with the invite for Karl fundraise for Sen. Bunning (R, KY)?
c

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/14/2003 01:26:32 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Ken Mehlman/WHO/EOP@EOP, Matthew A. Schlapp/WHO/EOP@EOP, Collister W. Johnson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject:

Coddy: I am checking on your inquiry re DOJ retaining an Ohio Dem to argue a case for it.

From: Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/14/2003 11:51:00 AM
Subject: : RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflectrecent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov" <Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov> ("Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov"
<Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 15:51:00.00
SUBJECT:: RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

website has been updated

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 12:53 PM
To: Joy, Sheila
Subject: RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

thanks, just makes sense to have it updated to reflect latest stats since Senate is on recess now

(Embedded image moved "Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov" <Sheila.Joy
to file: 04/14/2003 12:37:19 PM
pic23825.pcx)

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject: RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

I can ask - anyones guess as to what they will do

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 12:29 PM
To: Joy, Sheila
Subject: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov <Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 4/14/2003 11:51:08 AM
Subject: : RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflectrecent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 15:51:08.00
SUBJECT:: RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.
TO:"Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov" <Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov> ("Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov" <Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

thanks

"Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov" <Sheila.Joy
04/14/2003 03:50:14 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

website has been updated

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 12:53 PM
To: Joy, Sheila
Subject: RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

thanks, just makes sense to have it updated to reflect latest stats since Senate is on recess now

(Embedded
image moved "Sheila.Joy@usdoj.gov" <Sheila.Joy
to file: 04/14/2003 12:37:19 PM
pic23825.pcx)

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject: RE: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

I can ask - anyones guess as to what they will do

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 12:29 PM
To: Joy, Sheila
Subject: can we ask AO to update its web site as of today to reflect recent nominations and confirmations? Thanks.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: adam.charnes@usdoj.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <adam.charnes@usdoj.gov @ inet>;viet.dinh@usdoj.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <viet.dinh@usdoj.gov @ inet>
Sent: 4/14/2003 2:58:39 PM
Subject: : how many votes does it take for "substantial majority" as opposed to "majority" in ABA rating?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 18:58:39.00
SUBJECT:: how many votes does it take for "substantial majority" as opposed to "majority" in ABA rating?
TO:adam.charnes@usdoj.gov @ inet ( adam.charnes@usdoj.gov @ inet [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:viet.dinh@usdoj.gov @ inet ( viet.dinh@usdoj.gov @ inet [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Elizabeth S. Dougherty/OPD/EOP@EOP [OPD] <Elizabeth S. Dougherty>
Sent: 4/14/2003 3:23:36 PM
Subject: : in case you have not seen

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 19:23:36.00
SUBJECT:: in case you have not seen
TO:Elizabeth S. Dougherty ( CN=Elizabeth S. Dougherty/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

http://rpc.senate.gov/releases/2003/tr032703.pdf
```

From: CN=Colleen Litkenhaus/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Linda M. Gambatesa/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Linda M. Gambatesa>
Sent: 4/14/2003 3:27:50 PM
Subject: : Ellipse
Attachments: P_RJ1MF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Colleen Litkenhaus ( CN=Colleen Litkenhaus/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 19:27:50.00
SUBJECT:: Ellipse
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Linda M. Gambatesa ( CN=Linda M. Gambatesa/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

I hate to have to run this by you again, but changes were made.; Do you mind looking at it one more time?
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_RJ1MF003_WHO.TXT_1>
```

April 14, 2003

Mr. Terry Carlstrom
Regional Director
National Capitol Region
National Park Service
1100 Ohio Drive. S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20024

Dear Mr. Carlstrom:

As you know, the White House will once again host its annual Easter Egg Roll on the White House lawn on Monday, April 21, 2003. At this time, a substantial portion of the Ellipse is under permit for various activities associated with the White House Easter Egg Roll. To ensure the safety and security of our guests, the White House requests that additional federal parkland be closed to the general public from 4:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on that day. Specifically, the closed park areas are Sherman Park, the First Division Memorial, the Ellipse and its side panels from E Street to the North; Constitution Avenue to the South; 15th Street N.W. to the East; and 17th Street N.W. to the West. It is our intention to have ticket holders use the Ellipse area as a staging and entertainment area where cleared vendors, caterers, entertainers, and equipment will be located for guests use, prior to entering the White House lawn.

The Easter Egg Roll is traditionally one of the largest public events at the White House Complex and draws both national and international media coverage. This year, the White House has determined that additional security measures are warranted because of American Military operations in Iraq and the National Threat Level being at "Orange." In light of these extraordinary circumstances, the Easter Egg Roll will not be open to the general public; 15,000 tickets will be distributed for this event to U.S. military members and their families.

In order to ensure the safety and well being of our guests at the Easter Egg Roll, it is imperative that supplementary security measures be implemented to include additional stand-off distance, security sweeps, and greater observation ability to identify potential risk. When implemented these measures will significantly reduce likely threats.

Thank you for your continued assistance and cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

JEFFREY G. THOMPSON
Director For Security
Executive Office Of The President

From: Litkenhaus, Colleen
To: <Gambatesa, Linda M.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/14/2003 7:28:05 PM
Subject: Ellipse
Attachments: Ellipse closure final.doc

I hate to have to run this by you again, but changes were made. Do you mind looking at it one more time?

April 14, 2003

Mr. Terry Carlstrom
Regional Director
National Capitol Region
National Park Service
1100 Ohio Drive. S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20024

Dear Mr. Carlstrom:

As you know, the White House will once again host its annual Easter Egg Roll on the White House lawn on Monday, April 21, 2003. At this time, a substantial portion of the Ellipse is under permit for various activities associated with the White House Easter Egg Roll. To ensure the safety and security of our guests, the White House requests that additional federal parkland be closed to the general public from 4:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on that day. Specifically, the closed park areas are Sherman Park, the First Division Memorial, the Ellipse and its side panels from E Street to the North; Constitution Avenue to the South; 15th Street N.W. to the East; and 17th Street N.W. to the West. It is our intention to have ticket holders use the Ellipse area as a staging and entertainment area where cleared vendors, caterers, entertainers, and equipment will be located for guests use, prior to entering the White House lawn.

The Easter Egg Roll is traditionally one of the largest public events at the White House Complex and draws both national and international media coverage. This year, the White House has determined that additional security measures are warranted because of American Military operations in Iraq and the National Threat Level being at "Orange." In light of these extraordinary circumstances, the Easter Egg Roll will not be open to the general public; 15,000 tickets will be distributed for this event to U.S. military members and their families.

In order to ensure the safety and well being of our guests at the Easter Egg Roll, it is imperative that supplementary security measures be implemented to include additional stand-off distance, security sweeps, and greater observation ability to identify potential risk. When implemented these measures will significantly reduce likely threats.

Thank you for your continued assistance and cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

JEFFREY G. THOMPSON
Director For Security
Executive Office Of The President

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Linda M. Gambatesa/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Linda M. Gambatesa>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Colleen Litkenhaus/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Colleen Litkenhaus>
Sent: 4/14/2003 6:06:10 PM
Subject: : Re: Ellipse

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:14-APR-2003 22:06:10.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Ellipse
TO:Linda M. Gambatesa ( CN=Linda M. Gambatesa/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Colleen Litkenhaus ( CN=Colleen Litkenhaus/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Will do first thing in morning.

.

----- Original Message -----
From:Colleen Litkenhaus/WHO/EOP@Exchange
To:Linda M. Gambatesa/WHO/EOP@Exchange,
Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:
Date: 04/14/2003 07:28:05 PM
Subject: Ellipse

I hate to have to run this by you again, but changes were made.; Do you mind looking at it one more time?
```

From: CN=Linda M. Gambatesa/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Colleen Litkenhaus/WHO /EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Colleen Litkenhaus>
Sent: 4/15/2003 2:46:35 AM
Subject: : RE: Ellipse

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Linda M. Gambatesa (CN=Linda M. Gambatesa/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 06:46:35.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Ellipse
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Colleen Litkenhaus (CN=Colleen Litkenhaus/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

There should only be 2 spaces between the last line of the address and the salutation - appear to be 3.
I don't think park land is one word as spelled in line 4.
We may want to include some cc's - to USSS, to me, to Hagin?
;

-----Original Message-----
From: Litkenhaus, Colleen
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 7:28 PM
To: Gambatesa, Linda M.; Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Subject: Ellipse

I hate to have to run this by you again, but changes were made.; Do you mind looking at it one more time?

From: CN=Collister W. Johnson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/15/2003 4:59:06 AM
Subject: : Re: Rove fundraiser for Sen. Bunning (R, KY)
Attachments: P_GHBMF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc; P_GHBMF003_WHO.TXT_2.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Collister W. Johnson (CN=Collister W. Johnson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 08:59:06.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Rove fundraiser for Sen. Bunning (R, KY)
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

ok - thanks man -
c

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/15/2003 08:54:55 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Collister W. Johnson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: Rove fundraiser for Sen. Bunning (R, KY)

This is ok. We prefer just saying "The Honorable Karl Rove" without further description, but this is ok if they want to keep it.

Collister W. Johnson
04/15/2003 08:41:07 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: Rove fundraiser for Sen. Bunning (R, KY)

it is the one that was signed off for Cong. Burr's event on 4/24 -
c

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/14/2003 06:39:45 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Collister W. Johnson/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: Rove fundraiser for Sen. Bunning (R, KY)

Is that description the formulation used for Karl on other invites?

Collister W. Johnson
04/11/2003 03:54:15 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP, cspies@rnchq.org @ inet
cc: Ken Mehlman/WHO/EOP@EOP
Subject: Rove fundraiser for Sen. Bunning (R, KY)

Attached are invites for Rove to attend a fundraiser in KY for Bunning - thanks for reviewing!
c

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_GHBMF003_WHO.TXT_1>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_GHBMF003_WHO.TXT_2>

R.S.V.P.

_____ Yes, I will be able to attend and am enclosing $_____for _____person(s).

_____ No, I will not be able to attend, but am enclosing a contribution of $_____.

Federal law requires us to use our best efforts to collect and report the name, mailing address, occupation and name of employer of individuals whose contributions exceed $200 per calendar year.

Name _____

Address_____

City _____State_____Zip_____

Occupation_____Employer_____

Home Phone_____Work Phone_____

Please make checks payable to: CITIZENS FOR BUNNING

Corporate contributions are not acceptable-FEC regulations. Contributions to Citizens for Bunning are not deductible as charitable contributions for Federal income tax purposes. Contributions from foreign nationals are prohibited.

Authorized and Paid for by Citizens for Bunning.

Not printed at government expense.

5/15/2003

REV_00114612

You are cordially invited to a reception honoring

Jim Bunning

United States Senator

with special guest

Karl Rove

ALong-time advisor to President George W. Bush@

on

Thursday, May 15, 2003

Marriott Griffin Gate

Lexington, Kentucky

Sponsor Reception ~ $2,000 per couple - 6:00 p.m.

Co-Host Reception ~ $500 per couple - 6:30 p.m.

General Reception ~ $250 per couple - 7:00 p.m.

Please R.S.V.P. by enclosed card or 859/341-6480

Authorized and Paid for by Citizens for Bunning.

Not printed at government expense.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Harriet Miers/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Harriet Miers>
Sent: 4/15/2003 5:56:14 AM
Subject: : Law Day

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 09:56:14.00
SUBJECT:: Law Day
TO:Harriet Miers ( CN=Harriet Miers/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Who should I talk to about Law Day Proclamation? We have some ideas and thoughts.
```

From: CN=Lauren J. Vestewig/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange [OPD]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Daryl L. Joseffer/OMB /EOP@EOP [OMB] <Daryl L. Joseffer>;Philip J. Perry/OMB/EOP@EOP [OMB] <Philip J. Perry>;Elizabeth S. Dougherty/OPD/EOP@EOP [OPD] <Elizabeth S. Dougherty>
CC: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange [OPD] <Jay P. Lefkowitz>;Bessie M. Weaver/OMB /EOP@EOP [OMB] <Bessie M. Weaver>;Layton Skelly/OPD/EOP@EOP [OPD] <Layton Skelly>;Carla B. Stone/OMB/EOP@EOP [OMB] <Carla B. Stone>
Sent: 4/15/2003 8:29:46 AM
Subject: : Meeting re. airline competition

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Lauren J. Vestewig ( CN=Lauren J. Vestewig/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange [ OPD ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 12:29:46.00
SUBJECT:: Meeting re. airline competition
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Daryl L. Joseffer ( CN=Daryl L. Joseffer/OU=OMB/O=EOP@EOP [ OMB ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Philip J. Perry ( CN=Philip J. Perry/OU=OMB/O=EOP@EOP [ OMB ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Elizabeth S. Dougherty ( CN=Elizabeth S. Dougherty/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Jay P. Lefkowitz ( CN=Jay P. Lefkowitz/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Bessie M. Weaver ( CN=Bessie M. Weaver/OU=OMB/O=EOP@EOP [ OMB ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Layton Skelly ( CN=Layton Skelly/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Carla B. Stone ( CN=Carla B. Stone/OU=OMB/O=EOP@EOP [ OMB ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

There will be a meeting re. airline competition at 4:30 on Tues, April 22.; Hew Pate and Tim Muris will also be there.; Please let me know if you will attend.; Thanks.
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: alexander.morris@hq.doe.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <alexander.morris@hq.doe.gov @ inet>
Sent: 4/15/2003 4:33:59 AM
Subject: :

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 08:33:59.00
SUBJECT::
TO:alexander.morris@hq.doe.gov @ inet (alexander.morris@hq.doe.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

We understand that you intend to release in a FOIA context a memorandum dated February 18, 1983, from President Reagan to the heads of departments and agencies regarding patent policy. You have not indicated that any FOIA exemption applies, and we have no objection to the release. Thank you.

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Litkenhaus, Colleen>
CC: <Gambatesa, Linda M.>
Sent: 4/15/2003 8:44:50 AM
Subject: Re: Ellipse
Attachments: Ellipse closure final.doc

Some points:

-- Date change to April 15.

-- No period after "Drive" in address

-- Should "Specifically, the closed park areas are" instead be "Specifically, the White House requests that the following park areas be temporarily closed:"

-- missing apostrophe after "guests" at end of para. 1

-- at end of para. 2, does the explanation of why only military personnel are being invited mesh with prior public explanations; in other words, should you just delete the sentence beginning "In light of these extraordinary circumstances"?

From: Colleen Litkenhaus/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/14/2003 07:28:05 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Linda M. Gambatesa/WHO/EOP@Exchange, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: Ellipse

I hate to have to run this by you again, but changes were made. Do you mind looking at it one more time? <>

April 14, 2003

Mr. Terry Carlstrom
Regional Director
National Capitol Region
National Park Service
1100 Ohio Drive. S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20024

Dear Mr. Carlstrom:

As you know, the White House will once again host its annual Easter Egg Roll on the White House lawn on Monday, April 21, 2003. At this time, a substantial portion of the Ellipse is under permit for various activities associated with the White House Easter Egg Roll. To ensure the safety and security of our guests, the White House requests that additional federal parkland be closed to the general public from 4:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on that day. Specifically, the closed park areas are Sherman Park, the First Division Memorial, the Ellipse and its side panels from E Street to the North; Constitution Avenue to the South; 15th Street N.W. to the East; and 17th Street N.W. to the West. It is our intention to have ticket holders use the Ellipse area as a staging and entertainment area where cleared vendors, caterers, entertainers, and equipment will be located for guests use, prior to entering the White House lawn.

The Easter Egg Roll is traditionally one of the largest public events at the White House Complex and draws both national and international media coverage. This year, the White House has determined that additional security measures are warranted because of American Military operations in Iraq and the National Threat Level being at "Orange." In light of these extraordinary circumstances, the Easter Egg Roll will not be open to the general public; 15,000 tickets will be distributed for this event to U.S. military members and their families.

In order to ensure the safety and well being of our guests at the Easter Egg Roll, it is imperative that supplementary security measures be implemented to include additional stand-off distance, security sweeps, and greater observation ability to identify potential risk. When implemented these measures will significantly reduce likely threats.

Thank you for your continued assistance and cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

JEFFREY G. THOMPSON
Director For Security
Executive Office Of The President

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Colleen Litkenhaus/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Colleen Litkenhaus>
CC: linda m. gambatesa/who/eop@exchange [WHO] <linda m. gambatesa>
Sent: 4/15/2003 4:45:10 AM
Subject: : Re: Ellipse
Attachments: P_QY9MF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 08:45:10.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Ellipse
TO:Colleen Litkenhaus (CN=Colleen Litkenhaus/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:linda m. gambatesa (CN=linda m. gambatesa/OU=who/O=eop@exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Some points:
-- Date change to April 15.
-- No period after "Drive" in address
-- Should "Specifically, the closed park areas are" instead be "Specifically, the White House requests that the following park areas be temporarily closed:"
-- missing apostrophe after "guests" at end of para. 1
-- at end of para. 2, does the explanation of why only military personnel are being invited mesh with prior public explanations; in other words, should you just delete the sentence beginning "In light of these extraordinary circumstances"?

From: Colleen Litkenhaus/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/14/2003 07:28:05 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Linda M. Gambatesa/WHO/EOP@Exchange, Brett M.
Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Ellipse

I hate to have to run this by you again, but changes were made.; Do you mind looking at it one more time?

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_QY9MF003_WHO.TXT_1>

April 14, 2003

Mr. Terry Carlstrom
Regional Director
National Capitol Region
National Park Service
1100 Ohio Drive. S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20024

Dear Mr. Carlstrom:

As you know, the White House will once again host its annual Easter Egg Roll on the White House lawn on Monday, April 21, 2003. At this time, a substantial portion of the Ellipse is under permit for various activities associated with the White House Easter Egg Roll. To ensure the safety and security of our guests, the White House requests that additional federal parkland be closed to the general public from 4:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on that day. Specifically, the closed park areas are Sherman Park, the First Division Memorial, the Ellipse and its side panels from E Street to the North; Constitution Avenue to the South; 15th Street N.W. to the East; and 17th Street N.W. to the West. It is our intention to have ticket holders use the Ellipse area as a staging and entertainment area where cleared vendors, caterers, entertainers, and equipment will be located for guests use, prior to entering the White House lawn.

The Easter Egg Roll is traditionally one of the largest public events at the White House Complex and draws both national and international media coverage. This year, the White House has determined that additional security measures are warranted because of American Military operations in Iraq and the National Threat Level being at "Orange." In light of these extraordinary circumstances, the Easter Egg Roll will not be open to the general public; 15,000 tickets will be distributed for this event to U.S. military members and their families.

In order to ensure the safety and well being of our guests at the Easter Egg Roll, it is imperative that supplementary security measures be implemented to include additional stand-off distance, security sweeps, and greater observation ability to identify potential risk. When implemented these measures will significantly reduce likely threats.

Thank you for your continued assistance and cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely,

JEFFREY G. THOMPSON
Director For Security
Executive Office Of The President

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: paul.p.colborn@usdoj.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <paul.p.colborn@usdoj.gov @ inet>
Sent: 4/15/2003 4:47:27 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 08:47:27.00
SUBJECT::
TO:paul.p.colborn@usdoj.gov @ inet ( paul.p.colborn@usdoj.gov @ inet [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Not sure if you have previously reviewed those records; Gary can get you clean set of copies.
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Collister W. Johnson/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Collister W. Johnson>
Sent: 4/15/2003 4:55:14 AM
Subject: : Re: Rove fundraiser for Sen. Bunning (R, KY)
Attachments: P_E1BMF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc; P_E1BMF003_WHO.TXT_2.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 08:55:14.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Rove fundraiser for Sen. Bunning (R, KY)
TO:Collister W. Johnson (CN=Collister W. Johnson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

This is ok. We prefer just saying "The Honorable Karl Rove" without further description, but this is ok if they want to keep it.

Collister W. Johnson
04/15/2003 08:41:07 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: Rove fundraiser for Sen. Bunning (R, KY)

it is the one that was signed off for Cong. Burr's event on 4/24 -
c

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/14/2003 06:39:45 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Collister W. Johnson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: Rove fundraiser for Sen. Bunning (R, KY)

Is that description the formulation used for Karl on other invites?

Collister W. Johnson
04/11/2003 03:54:15 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP, cspies@rnchq.org @ inet
cc: Ken Mehlman/WHO/EOP@EOP

Subject: Rove fundraiser for Sen. Bunning (R, KY)

Attached are invites for Rove to attend a fundraiser in KY for Bunning - thanks for reviewing!
c

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_E1BMF003_WHO.TXT_1>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_E1BMF003_WHO.TXT_2>

R.S.V.P.

_____ Yes, I will be able to attend and am enclosing $_____for _____person(s).

_____ No, I will not be able to attend, but am enclosing a contribution of $_____.

Federal law requires us to use our best efforts to collect and report the name, mailing address, occupation and name of employer of individuals whose contributions exceed $200 per calendar year.

Name _____

Address_____

City _____State_____Zip_____

Occupation_____Employer_____

Home Phone_____Work Phone_____

Please make checks payable to: CITIZENS FOR BUNNING

Corporate contributions are not acceptable-FEC regulations. Contributions to Citizens for Bunning are not deductible as charitable contributions for Federal income tax purposes. Contributions from foreign nationals are prohibited.

Authorized and Paid for by Citizens for Bunning.

Not printed at government expense.

5/15/2003

REV_00114631

You are cordially invited to a reception honoring

Jim Bunning

United States Senator

with special guest

Karl Rove

ALong-time advisor to President George W. Bush@

on

Thursday, May 15, 2003

Marriott Griffin Gate

Lexington, Kentucky

Sponsor Reception ~ $2,000 per couple - 6:00 p.m.

Co-Host Reception ~ $500 per couple - 6:30 p.m.

General Reception ~ $250 per couple - 7:00 p.m.

Please R.S.V.P. by enclosed card or 859/341-6480

Authorized and Paid for by Citizens for Bunning.

Not printed at government expense.

From: Adam.Charnes@usdoj.gov
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/15/2003 5:00:59 AM
Subject: : RE: how many votes does it take for "substantial majority" as opposed to "majority" in ABA rating?

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Adam.Charnes@usdoj.gov" <Adam.Charnes@usdoj.gov> ("Adam.Charnes@usdoj.gov" <Adam.Charnes@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 09:00:59.00
SUBJECT:: RE: how many votes does it take for "substantial majority" as opposed to "majority" in ABA rating?
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

checking with Sheila.

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 6:58 PM
To: Charnes, Adam; Dinh, Viet
Subject: how many votes does it take for "substantial majority" as opposed to "majority" in ABA rating?

From: CN=Tim Goeglein/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/15/2003 5:17:11 AM
Subject: : Daily Update - April 14, 2003

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Tim Goeglein ( CN=Tim Goeglein/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 09:17:11.00
SUBJECT:: Daily Update - April 14, 2003
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

RALLIES SET TO SUPPORT MIGUEL ESTRADA:
Focus on the Family will be holding rallies in key states to help end the filibuster against the nominee.
http://www.family.org/welcome/press/a0025524.cfm
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <H. Christopher Bartolomucci>
Sent: 4/15/2003 5:20:09 AM
Subject: : is waldman's paperwork in?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 09:20:09.00
SUBJECT:: is waldman's paperwork in?
TO:H. Christopher Bartolomucci ( CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Miers, Harriet>
Sent: 4/15/2003 9:55:20 AM
Subject: Law Day

Who should I talk to about Law Day Proclamation? We have some ideas and thoughts.

From: CN=Harriet Miers/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/15/2003 6:07:40 AM
Subject: : RE: Law Day

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Harriet Miers (CN=Harriet Miers/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 10:07:40.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Law Day
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Lana Dickey and Jill Rowley work with various agencies. Justice did the first draft and it is submitted to Lana through OMB. She has a first draft and will send what she received to you and to me. Thanks.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Tuesday, April 15, 2003 9:55 AM
To: Miers, Harriet
Subject: Law Day

Who should I talk to about Law Day Proclamation? We have some ideas and thoughts.

From:	MacEcevic, Lisa J.
To:	<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Warsh, Kevin>;<Schacht, Diana L.>;<Silverberg, Kristen>;<Bloomquist, Lauren E.>;<Boden, James>;<Schwartz, Kenneth L.>
CC:	<Green, Richard E.>;<Jukes, James J.>
Sent:	4/15/2003 10:16:29 AM
Subject:	FYI - Stories on Senate Judiciary Committee approval of class action bill (S. 274)
Attachments:	~~DLNK0.URL; ~~DLNK1.URL

note: The second story ends with a rundown of how the committee members voted on each amendment.

No. 71

Monday April 14, 2003 Page A-9

ISSN 1523-567X

Regulation & Law

Class Actions

Senate Judiciary Committee Completes

Markup of Class Action Fairness Measure

Voting along mostly party lines, the Senate Judiciary Committee April 11 approved the Class Action Fairness Act (S. 274), sending the bill to the Senate where a vote is expected as early as May, according to committee staff.

The class action bill, heavily supported by business groups, would amend current law to expand federal court jurisdiction over class actions filed in state court when at least one plaintiff and one defendant are from different states and the damages claimed total at least $5 million.

Committee Trims Scope of Bill

In a markup session that took up portions of two consecutive days, the committee trimmed the scope of the bill, deleting provisions that also treated so-called private attorney general actions and mass torts as "class actions."

The committee also adopted an amendment proposed by Sen. Dianne Feinstein (D-Calif.) which would allow a class action to remain in state court if more than two-thirds of the plaintiffs and the primary defendant were from the same state. Feinstein's amendment also increased the jurisdictional amount in controversy threshold of class actions covered by the bill to $5 million. The original bill set the monetary threshold at $2 million.

Feinstein and Sen. Herb Kohl (D-Wis.) were the only Democrats voting with committee Republicans to report out the bill, making the committee vote 11-7.

Prospects Uncertain in Senate

Prospects for the bill in the Senate remain uncertain. Even with the shift to Republican control, it is unclear whether supporters can muster the 60 votes needed to overcome an expected Democrat-led filibuster, Hatch said.

However, shortly after the committee vote, one Senate Democrat announced her support for the bill. Sen. Blanche Lincoln (D-Ark.) said, "I believe the legislation adopted by the Judiciary Committee is a balanced approach that will benefit both plaintiffs who have legitimate claims and businesses that are forced to defend themselves against frivolous suits."

The Senate bill also would require increased court scrutiny over class action settlements, particularly those involving "coupons" in lieu of cash settlements. The bill would also require notices sent to class members to be written in "plain English" and prohibit settlements favoring plaintiffs who reside "in closer geographic proximity" to the court than other plaintiffs.

Senators Accuse Bill of 'Overreaching.'

The current bill, as originally introduced, would also have covered suits where the plaintiff purports to act for the general public--known as "private attorney general" actions--and suits where monetary damage claims of 100 or more persons are joined, which frequently include mass tort actions.

Sens. Arlen Specter (R-Pa.) and Feinstein said including those types of suits in the bill was "overreaching."

Committee Chairman Sen. Orrin Hatch (R-Utah) agreed to remove the suits from the bill, but indicated he expected to work out compromise language to address Feinstein's and Specter's concerns at a later date.

A nearly identical bill (H.R. 1115) was introduced in the House March 6, co-sponsored by Reps. Bob Goodlatte (R-Va.) and Rick Boucher (D-Va.). The bill has been referred to the House Judiciary Committee, which has not yet scheduled hearings or markup on the bill.

Bill Opposed by Consumer Groups, Others

The legislation, which mirrors class action bills introduced in the last Congress, is opposed by consumer groups, environmental organizations, and other public interest advocates who say the legislation will create delays in hearing class actions and impose added expense on plaintiffs.

In addition, on March 26 the U.S. Judicial Conference, the federal judiciary's chief policy-making body, expressed its opposition to the pending legislation, saying it would "unduly burden" federal courts and interfere with state control over cases traditionally heard in state court. The conference urged that "sufficient limitations and threshold requirements" be included in any final bill.

Feinstein's amendment was an attempt to address some of the concerns of the bill's opponents. It tightens restrictions on cases allowed to be removed from state to federal court by increasing the amount in controversy threshold from $2 million to $5 million. The amendment would also exclude from the bill any class action where two-thirds or more of the class members reside in the same state, where there are less than 100 members in the class, or where the primary defendant is a state.

Amendment Allows Judge Discretion

In addition, Feinstein's amendment would allow a federal judge discretion to decline jurisdiction over any class action where more than one-third but less than two-thirds of the class members and the primary defendants are citizens of the state where the case was filed.

For those class actions, the amendment lists five factors to be considered by a federal judge in deciding whether to take jurisdiction, including: (1) whether the claims involve matters of national interest, (2) whether the claims are governed by laws other than those of the state where the action was filed, (3) whether the class action is pleaded in a manner that seeks to avoid federal jurisdiction, (4) whether there are substantially more class members in the state where the action was filed, and (5) whether there are one or more class actions asserting similar claims.

The ranking committee Democrat, Sen. Patrick Leahy (D-Vt.) said Feinstein's amendment "touches on only a sliver of the class action cases that S. 274 would affect, and even then, I am afraid that it may do more harm than good."

Also criticizing the bill, Sen. Dick Durbin (D-Ill.) said, "This bill is a double-header win for our gilded committee. First, it locks the courthouse doors, then it relegates the lucky few who make it into court to appear before" conservative federal judges.

By Ralph Lindeman

Copyright © 2003 by The Bureau of National Affairs, Inc., Washington D.C.

CQ COMMITTEE COVERAGE

Senate Judiciary Committee Markup

April 11, 2003

Panel Approves Bill that Could Mean More Class Action Lawsuits in Federal Courts

By Marilee Miller, CQ Staff

The Senate Judiciary Committee approved a measure (S 274) Friday that would send many state class action lawsuits to federal court.

Approved in a 12-7 roll call vote, the measure would require judiciary scrutiny of non-cash settlements, prohibit uneven distribution of settlements among plaintiffs as a result of geographic location and force class action notices to be made available in more easily understood terms.

The bill also would require that the appropriate state and federal officials are notified of pending suits.

Proponents of the bill say that it will rectify abuses present in the class action system, including "forum shopping" by attorneys to ensure larger verdicts.

But opponents fear that the new measure will shift a large number of cases from state to federal jurisdiction. Some, including Supreme Court Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist, have said that this bill would simply put too much stress on the federal courts.

Sen. Dianne Feinstein, D-Calif., introduced an amendment that she said will "narrow the scope [of the bill] and decrease the number of cases automatically sent to federal court." The amendment was adopted, 11-8.

The Feinstein amendment would create three categories of class action suits — each with different criteria for deciding whether removal to federal court is appropriate. In the first category, cases with more than two-thirds of the plaintiffs coming from the same state as the defendant would go to state court. In the second, cases with less than one-third of the plaintiffs coming from the state as the defendant would go to federal court if one of the parties requests removal. The remaining cases would be up to the discretion of a federal judge.

The amendment also would require that at least $5 million be at stake for any class action suit to be eligible for removal to federal court, instead of the $2 million figure included in Iowa Republican Charles E. Grassley's original version of the bill.

Some members feared the Feinstein amendment would further complicate an already complex jurisdictional process. "I think this amendment could actually make things worse in the small amount of cases where it applies," Russell D. Feingold, D-Wis., said in urging members to vote against the amendment. Under this amendment , he said, plaintiffs could be forced to go through years of litigation over which court should hear a case.

Feingold offered a trio of amendments, each rejected 7-11. The first would have deemed the bill's provisions not apply to class action suits brought under state consumer protection law.

The second would have rectified what he called a "merry-go-round of removal and dismissal" included in the bill. His amendment would have allowed cases that were removed to Federal Court but then dismissed because of class considerations, to be heard in state court.

A third Feingold amendment , offered on behalf of Ranking Member Patrick J. Leahy of Vermont, would have prevented the bill's provisions from applying to class action suits involving environmental protection laws.

Several other Democratic amendments were also rejected during the mark up. Democrats Feinstein and Herb Kohl of Wisconsin joined Republicans in voting against each of the Democrat-sponsored amendments that were rejected. Both members were also the only Democrats who voted for the underlying bill.

The committee voted down, 8-11 an amendment offered by Richard J. Durbin, D-Ill., that would have exempted cases involving tobacco products from the bill's provisions.

Two amendments offered by Edward M. Kennedy , D-Mass., were also rejected, 7-11. The first would have released class action suits involving civil rights from the bill's limitations, and the second would have excepted suits filed in response to firearm- and ammunition-related violence.

In other business, the committee approved without objection three resolutions that would designate a week in April as National Cowboy Poetry Week (S Res 108), express the sense of Congress supporting the goals of the National Sexual Awareness and Prevention Month (S J Res 8), and designate April 30 as a day to celebrate young Americans (S Res 111).

10:00 a.m., 226 Dirksen Bldg., April 11, 2003

Committee Votes

Committee Vote Position Key

*	Proxy vote	#	Paired for
P	Voted present	X	Paired against
A	Abstained	+	Announced for
?	Did not vote	-	Announced against

S 274 Class Action Fairness Act/Scope Narrowing Amendment

Amendment that would require that at least $5 million be at stake for any class action case to be eligible for removal to federal court.

Create three categories of class action suits - each with different criteria for deciding whether removal to federal court is appropriate.

In cases with more than two-thirds of the plaintiffs coming from the same state as the defendant, the case would go to state court.

In cases with less than one-third of the plaintiffs coming from the state as the defendant, the case would go to federal court if one of the parties requested removal.

In the rest of the cases, the matter would be up to the discretion of a federal judge.

Adopted 11-8: R 9-1; D 2-7; I 0-0; April 11, 2003.

<>

YEAS (11)

Republicans (9)

Chambliss (Ga.) *

Cornyn (Texas)

Craig (Idaho) *

Graham, L. (S.C.)

Grassley (Iowa)

Hatch (Utah)

Kyl (Ariz.)

Sessions, J. (Ala.)

Specter (Pa.)

Democrats (2)

Feinstein (Calif.)

Kohl (Wis.)

NAYS (8)

Republicans (1)

DeWine (Ohio)

Democrats (7)

Biden (Del.) *

Durbin (Ill.)

Edwards, J. (N.C.) *

Feingold (Wis.)

Kennedy, E. (Mass.)

Leahy (Vt.) *

Schumer (N.Y.) *

S 274 Class Action Fairness Act/Tobacco Lawsuit Exemption

Durbin, D-Ill. - Amendment that would exempt class action suits involving tobacco products from the provisions of the bill.

Rejected 8-11: R 1-9; D 7-2; I 0-0; April 11, 2003.

YEAS (8)

Republicans (1)

DeWine (Ohio)

Democrats (7)

Biden (Del.) *

Durbin (Ill.)

Edwards, J. (N.C.) *

Feingold (Wis.)

Kennedy, E. (Mass.)

Leahy (Vt.) *

Schumer (N.Y.) *

NAYS (11)

Republicans (9)

Chambliss (Ga.) *

Cornyn (Texas) *

Craig (Idaho) *

Graham, L. (S.C.) *

Grassley (Iowa)

Hatch (Utah)

Kyl (Ariz.)

Sessions, J. (Ala.)

Specter (Pa.) *

Democrats (2)

Feinstein (Calif.) *

Kohl (Wis.) *

S 274 Class Action Fairness Act/Civil Rights Amendment

Kennedy, D-Mass. - Amendment that would exempt civil rights violation class action suits from the provisions of the bill.

Rejected 7-11: R 0-9; D 7-2; I 0-0; April 11, 2003.

YEAS (7)

Democrats (7)

Biden (Del.) *

Durbin (Ill.) *

Edwards, J. (N.C.) *

Feingold (Wis.)

Kennedy, E. (Mass.)

Leahy (Vt.) *

Schumer (N.Y.) *

NAYS (11)

Republicans (9)

Chambliss (Ga.) *

Cornyn (Texas)

Craig (Idaho)

DeWine (Ohio)

Graham, L. (S.C.)

Grassley (Iowa)

Hatch (Utah)

Kyl (Ariz.)

Sessions, J. (Ala.)

Democrats (2)

Feinstein (Calif.) *

Kohl (Wis.) *

NOT VOTING (1)

Republicans (1)

Specter (Pa.) P

S 274 Class Action Fairness Act/Firearm Exclusion Amendment

Kennedy, D-Mass. - Amendment that would exempt from the provisions of the bill class action lawsuits that deal with harm by firearms and ammunition.

Rejected 7-11: R 0-9; D 7-2; I 0-0; April 11, 2003.

YEAS (7)

Democrats (7)

Biden (Del.) *

Durbin (Ill.) *

Edwards, J. (N.C.) *

Feingold (Wis.)

Kennedy, E. (Mass.)

Leahy (Vt.) *

Schumer (N.Y.) *

NAYS (11)

Republicans (9)

Chambliss (Ga.) *

Cornyn (Texas)

Craig (Idaho)

DeWine (Ohio)

Graham, L. (S.C.)

Grassley (Iowa)

Hatch (Utah)

Kyl (Ariz.)

Sessions,

J.
(Ala.)

Democrats (2)

Feinstein (Calif.) *

Kohl (Wis.) *

NOT VOTING (1)

Republicans (1)

Specter (Pa.) P

S 274 Class Action Fairness Act/State Court Amendment

Feingold, D-Wis. - Amendment that would allow cases that were removed to federal court but then dismissed because of class considerations, to be heard in state court if the class is eligible there.

Rejected 7-11: R 0-9; D 7-2; I 0-0; April 11, 2003.

YEAS (7)

Democrats (7)

Biden (Del.) *

Durbin (Ill.)

Edwards, J. (N.C.) *

Feingold (Wis.)

Kennedy, E. (Mass.) *

Leahy (Vt.) *

Schumer (N.Y.) *

NAYS (11)

Republicans (9)

Chambliss (Ga.) *

Cornyn (Texas)

Craig (Idaho)

DeWine (Ohio)

Graham, L. (S.C.)

Grassley (Iowa)

Hatch (Utah)

Kyl (Ariz.)

Sessions, J. (Ala.)

Democrats (2)

Feinstein (Calif.) *

Kohl (Wis.) *

NOT VOTING (1)

Republicans (1)

Specter (Pa.) P

S 274 Class Action Fairness Act/Consumer Protection Amendment

Feingold, D-Wis. - Amendment that would exempt lawsuits involving violations of state consumer protection laws from the bill's provisions.

Rejected 7-11: R 0-9; D 7-2; I 0-0; April 11, 2003.

<>

YEAS (7)

Democrats (7)

Biden (Del.) *

Durbin (Ill.)

Edwards, J. (N.C.) *

Feingold (Wis.)

Kennedy, E. (Mass.) *

Leahy
(Vt.) *

Schumer (N.Y.) *

NAYS (11)

Republicans (9)

Chambliss (Ga.) *

Cornyn (Texas)

Craig
(Idaho)

DeWine (Ohio)

Graham, L. (S.C.)

Grassley
(Iowa)

Hatch (Utah)

Kyl (Ariz.)

Sessions,
J.
(Ala.)

Democrats (2)

Feinstein (Calif.) *

Kohl (Wis.) *

NOT VOTING (1)

Republicans (1)

Specter (Pa.) P

S 274 Class Action Fairness Act/Environment Amendment

Leahy, D-Vt. - Amendment that would exempt class action cases filed under state or federal environmental law from the provisions of the bill.

Rejected 7-11: R 0-9; D 7-2; I 0-0; April 11, 2003.

YEAS (7)

Democrats (7)

Biden (Del.) *

Durbin (Ill.)

Edwards, J. (N.C.) *

Feingold (Wis.)

Kennedy, E. (Mass.) *

Leahy (Vt.) *

Schumer (N.Y.) *

NAYS (11)

Republicans (9)

Chambliss (Ga.) *

Cornyn (Texas)

Craig (Idaho)

DeWine (Ohio)

Graham, L. (S.C.)

Grassley

(Iowa)

Hatch (Utah)

Kyl (Ariz.)

Sessions,
J.
(Ala.)

Democrats (2)

Feinstein (Calif.) *

Kohl (Wis.) *

NOT VOTING (1)

Republicans (1)

Specter (Pa.) P

S 274 Class Action Fairness Act/Vote to Report

Require that at least $5 million be at stake for any class action case to be eligible for removal to federal court.

Create three categories of class action suits - each with different criteria for deciding whether removal to federal court is appropriate:

In cases with more than two-thirds of the plaintiffs coming from the same state as the defendant, the case would go to state court.

In cases with less than one-third of the plaintiffs coming from the state as the defendant, the case would go to federal court if one of the parties requested removal.

In the rest of the cases, the matter would be up to the discretion of a federal judge.

Require judiciary scrutiny of non-cash settlements.

Prohibit giving some members of the class greater settlements because of their geographic location.

Force class action notices to be made available in easily understood terms.

Require that the appropriate state and federal officials are notified of pending suits.

Reported favorably to the full Senate 12-7: R 10-0; D 2-7; I 0-0; April 11, 2003.

YEAS (12)

Republicans (10)

Chambliss (Ga.) *

Cornyn (Texas)

Craig
(Idaho)

DeWine (Ohio)

Graham, L. (S.C.)

Grassley (Iowa)

Hatch (Utah)

Kyl (Ariz.)

Sessions, J. (Ala.)

Specter (Pa.) *

Democrats (2)

Feinstein (Calif.) *

Kohl (Wis.) *

NAYS (7)

Democrats (7)

Biden (Del.) *

Durbin (Ill.) *

Edwards, J. (N.C.) *

Feingold (Wis.) *

Kennedy, E. (Mass.) *

Leahy

(Vt.) *

Schumer (N.Y.) *

S Res 108, S Res 111, S J Res 8 Senate Resolutions En Bloc/Vote to Report

Designate April 21 through April 27, 2003 as National Cowboy Poetry Week.

Designate April 30, 2003 as "Dia de los Ninos: Celebrating Young Americans"

Express the sense of Congress supporting the goals and ideals of National Sexual Assault Awareness and Prevention Month and encouraging prevention of sexual assault in the United States.

Reported favorably to the full Senate without objection; April 11, 2003.

Source: CQ Committee Coverage

Gavel-to-gavel coverage and votes of every markup on Capitol Hill.

© 2003 Congressional Quarterly Inc. All Rights Reserved

[InternetShortcut]
URL=http://www.cq.com/alertretrieve.do?dispatch=printresult&Action=CQview&DlvId=3132950807x1526407315x00000079x#votekey

[InternetShortcut]
URL=http://www.cq.com/alertretrieve.do?dispatch=printresult&Action=CQview&DlvId=3132950807x1526407315x00000079x#votekey

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Lana Dickey/WHO/EOP [WHO] <Lana Dickey>
Sent: 4/15/2003 6:36:03 AM
Subject: RECEIVED: PROCLAMATION FOR - LAW DAY, U.S.A.

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES READ RECEIPT)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 10:36:03.00
SUBJECT:RECEIVED: PROCLAMATION FOR - LAW DAY, U.S.A.
TO:Lana Dickey ( CN=Lana Dickey/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

RETURN RECEIPT

Your Document:
PROCLAMATION FOR - LAW DAY, U.S.A.
was successfully received by:
CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP
at:
04/15/2003 10:35:45 AM
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: peter.d.keisler@usdoj.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <peter.d.keisler@usdoj.gov @ inet>
Sent: 4/15/2003 6:48:21 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 10:48:21.00
SUBJECT::
TO:peter.d.keisler@usdoj.gov @ inet ( peter.d.keisler@usdoj.gov @ inet [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

thanks for your vm; Shannon also filled me in.
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Joel D. Kaplan/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Joel D. Kaplan>
Sent: 4/15/2003 7:17:20 AM
Subject: : I reserved 320 friday

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 11:17:20.00
SUBJECT:: I reserved 320 friday
TO:Joel D. Kaplan ( CN=Joel D. Kaplan/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Joel Kaplan/WHO/EOP@Exchange [UNKNOWN] <Joel Kaplan>
Sent: 4/15/2003 7:49:24 AM
Subject: : RE: I reserved 320 friday

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 11:49:24.00
SUBJECT:: RE: I reserved 320 friday
TO:Joel Kaplan (CN=Joel Kaplan/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

who else should we get? can see Simmons, Martin, Meece, Bartlett, Hobbs as possibilities.

From: Joel Kaplan/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/15/2003 11:25:18 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: I reserved 320 friday

Sweet. I'm in.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Tuesday, April 15, 2003 11:17 AM
To: Kaplan, Joel
Subject: I reserved 320 friday

.

From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/15/2003 11:53:44 AM
Subject: Fitzgerald

Ill. GOP Sen. Fitzgerald Won't Run in '04

By DENNIS CONRAD
ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) - Republican first-term Sen. Peter Fitzgerald, whose Illinois seat is considered key to the GOP's chances to maintain its majority in the Senate in 2004, will not seek re-election, state Republicans said Tuesday.

Fitzgerald called close supporters Monday night to inform them of his decision not to seek a second term, said a source close to Fitzgerald who spoke only on condition of anonymity. The source, who was among those called by Fitzgerald, said the senator was to announce his decision Tuesday.

Neither Fitzgerald nor his aides returned repeated phone calls Tuesday. Aides at his Washington office declined to comment.

State Sen. Dave Syverson, treasurer of the Illinois Republican Party and a member of Fitzgerald's campaign finance committee, said people "very close" to Fitzgerald confirmed he will not seek re-election.

Illinois Treasurer Judy Baar Topinka, who heads the state GOP, said she had not spoken to Fitzgerald but had already contacted Bush administration officials to discuss the race and the implications of Fitzgerald's decision.

"I've talked to the White House this morning and we are going to work together to find the best and strongest candidate available," Topinka said. "That will take a little bit of time. I don't think anybody was prepared for this."

Fitzgerald, who had frequent disputes with House Speaker Dennis Hastert, R-Ill., and other Illinois Republicans, faced a potentially tough race in a state that has increasingly leaned Democratic in recent elections. Political strategists in both parties viewed him as the most vulnerable Senate Republican up for re-election in 2004, and Fitzgerald had been calling himself "the 51st senator" in recognition of how pivotal his re-election could be for preserving the GOP's slim Senate majority. Republicans hold 51 seats to Democrats 48 with one independent.

The Chicago Tribune, citing unnamed sources, reported in Tuesday's editions that Fitzgerald told close associates he had "no fire in the belly" and cited concerns about the personal cost of a re-election campaign.

Fitzgerald, a little-known conservative state senator from Chicago's suburbs and heir to a banking fortune, spent $16 million of his own money in 1998 to unseat - barely - Democrat Carol Moseley Braun, the first black woman elected to the U.S. Senate. A 2004 race was likely to be more expensive.

There had been grumbling within the state Republican party about Fitzgerald's performance on a host of issues, including the maverick's reluctance to fight for funding for Illinois projects that he considered political pork. He was likely to face primary opposition next March.

President Bush's political aides have insisted that Bush supported Fitzgerald.

Chicago-area businessman Andrew J. McKenna Jr. had already indicated he might be a primary challenger.

Democrats began lining up as early as 2002. They include former Chicago school board president Gery Chico, multimillionaire businessman Blair Hull, state Comptroller Dan Hynes, state Sen. Barack Obama, Cook County Treasurer Maria Pappas, businesswoman Joyce Washington and Metamora Mayor Matt O'Shea, a Republican who says he will run as a Democrat.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Ashley Snee>
Sent: 4/15/2003 8:17:19 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 12:17:19.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Ashley Snee ( CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

We should target getting the new and improved Web site up and running wek of April 28. Will work on more text and ideas for film.
```

From:	Vestewig, Lauren J.
To:	<Dougherty, Elizabeth S.>;<Joseffer, Daryl L.>;<Perry, Philip J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
CC:	<Stone, Carla B.>;<Weaver, Bessie M.>;<Skelly, Layton>;<Lefkowitz, Jay P.>
Sent:	4/15/2003 12:28:53 PM
Subject:	Meeting re. airline competition

There will be a meeting re. airline competition at 4:30 on Tues, April 22. Hew Pate and Tim Muris will also be there. Please let me know if you will attend. Thanks.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Lisa J. Macecevic/OMB/EOP [OMB] <Lisa J. Macecevic>
Sent: 4/15/2003 12:28:08 PM
Subject: RECEIVED: DOJ comments on Draft Bill on Federal Deposit Insurance Reform

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES READ RECEIPT)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 16:28:08.00
SUBJECT:RECEIVED: DOJ comments on Draft Bill on Federal Deposit Insurance Reform
TO:Lisa J. Macecevic ( CN=Lisa J. Macecevic/OU=OMB/O=EOP [ OMB ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

RETURN RECEIPT

Your Document:
DOJ comments on Draft Bill on Federal Deposit Insurance Reform
was successfully received by:
CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP
at:
04/15/2003 04:27:49 PM
```

From: CN=Lauren J. Vestewig/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange [OPD]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Daryl L. Joseffer/OMB /EOP@EOP [OMB] <Daryl L. Joseffer>;Philip J. Perry/OMB/EOP@EOP [OMB] <Philip J. Perry>;Elizabeth S. Dougherty/OPD/EOP@EOP [OPD] <Elizabeth S. Dougherty>
CC: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange [OPD] <Jay P. Lefkowitz>;Bessie M. Weaver/OMB /EOP@EOP [OMB] <Bessie M. Weaver>;Layton Skelly/OPD/EOP@EOP [OPD] <Layton Skelly>;Carla B. Stone/OMB/EOP@EOP [OMB] <Carla B. Stone>
Sent: 4/15/2003 8:29:26 AM
Subject: : Meeting re. airline competition

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Lauren J. Vestewig ( CN=Lauren J. Vestewig/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange [ OPD ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 12:29:26.00
SUBJECT:: Meeting re. airline competition
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Daryl L. Joseffer ( CN=Daryl L. Joseffer/OU=OMB/O=EOP@EOP [ OMB ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Philip J. Perry ( CN=Philip J. Perry/OU=OMB/O=EOP@EOP [ OMB ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Elizabeth S. Dougherty ( CN=Elizabeth S. Dougherty/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Jay P. Lefkowitz ( CN=Jay P. Lefkowitz/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Bessie M. Weaver ( CN=Bessie M. Weaver/OU=OMB/O=EOP@EOP [ OMB ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Layton Skelly ( CN=Layton Skelly/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Carla B. Stone ( CN=Carla B. Stone/OU=OMB/O=EOP@EOP [ OMB ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

There will be a meeting re. airline competition at 4:30 on Tues, April 22.; Hew Pate and Tim Muris will also be there.; Please let me know if you will attend.; Thanks.
```

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>
Sent: 4/15/2003 1:24:18 PM
Subject:

With some slight nudging by me, Judge has asked me to alert you two that we may need to have an offsite visit with Dr. Green later this week. Are you available?

From: CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/15/2003 9:26:55 AM
Subject: : Re:

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Ashley Snee ( CN=Ashley Snee/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 13:26:55.00
SUBJECT:: Re:
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Yeah, agreed, I'm on my way back now.; Will be in in the morning.
.
```

From: CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <H. Christopher Bartolomucci>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/15/2003 9:26:27 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 13:26:27.00
SUBJECT::
TO:H. Christopher Bartolomucci ( CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

With some slight nudging by me, Judge has asked me to alert you two that we may need to have an offsite visit with Dr. Green later this week.; Are you available?
```

From: Nelson, Carolyn
To: <Addington, David S.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Bellinger, John B.>;<Brilliant, Hana F.>;<Bumatay, Patrick J.>;<Carroll, James W.>;<Everson, Nanette>;<Farrell, J. Elizabeth>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Ganter, Jonathan F.>;<Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Jucas, Tracy>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<McNally, Edward>;<Montiel, Charlotte L.>;<Brosnahan, Jennifer R.>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>
Sent: 4/15/2003 1:57:58 PM
Subject: Counsel Staff Meeting

Counsel Staff meeting has been cancelled for Friday, April 18 and Monday, April 21.

Thanks!

From: CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/15/2003 2:07:51 PM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 18:07:51.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Nasty letter from Levin and Stabenow on its way to you.;
```

From: CN=Paul Perkins/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/15/2003 2:17:17 PM
Subject: : Manny Miranda

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Paul Perkins ( CN=Paul Perkins/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 18:17:17.00
SUBJECT:: Manny Miranda
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Brett,
Tim Goelgein would like to get Manny Miranda's email address. Do you have it?
Thanks,
Paul Perkins.
```

From: Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary) <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/15/2003 10:17:46 AM
Subject: : Specter and Class Action bill
Attachments: P_BXVMF003_WHO.TXT_1.html

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary)" <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov> ("Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary)" <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 14:17:46.00
SUBJECT:: Specter and Class Action bill
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

I assume you may have heard by now how Specter sandbagged us at the markup on Thursday and screwed up the bill - striking not only the "representative actions" part 9A(i) but also the mass torts section 9A(ii) - can you say MISSISSIPPI????

If you want to know more of what is going on call me. Since I know you are hugely busy with everything else, let me know if there is someone else that I need to loop in. I assume Wendy knows already, but haven't chatted with her yet. We may need WH pressure on Specter.

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTE:

The information contained in this e-mail is legally privileged and confidential information intended only for the use of the individuals or entities named as addressees. If you, the reader of this message, are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution, publication, or copying of this message is strictly prohibited. If you have received this message in error, please forgive the inconvenience, immediately notify the sender, and delete the original message without keeping a copy.

- att1.htm
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_BXVMF003_WHO.TXT_1>

I assume you may have heard by now how Specter sandbagged us at the markup on Thursday and screwed up the bill – striking not only the "representative actions" part 9A(i) but also the mass torts section 9A(ii) – can you say MISSISSIPPI???? < /font>
If you want to know more of what is going on call me. Since I know you are hugely busy with everything else, let me know if there is someone else that I need to loop in. I assume Wendy knows already, but haven 217;t chatted with her yet. We may need WH pressure on Specter.

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTE:

The information contained in this e-mail is legally privileged and confidential information intended only for the use of the individuals or entities named as addressees. If you, the reader of this message, are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution, publication, or copying of this message is strictly prohibited. If you have received this message in error, please forgive the inconvenience, immediately notify the sender, and delete the original message without keeping a copy.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <David G. Leitch>
Sent: 4/15/2003 10:17:14 AM
Subject: : Re:

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 14:17:14.00
SUBJECT:: Re:
TO:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

yes, please

From: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/15/2003 01:24:18 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP, H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject:

With some slight nudging by me, Judge has asked me to alert you two that we may need to have an offsite visit with Dr. Green later this week.; Are you available?

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>
Sent: 4/15/2003 11:36:55 AM
Subject: : Re: Rohan

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 15:36:55.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Rohan
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot (CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Apologies. Painful.

.

----- Original Message -----
From:Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP
To:Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:
Date: 04/15/2003 03:26:22 PM
Subject: Rohan

On the phone with him now. I had been screening all day and just happened to pick up at the wrong time.

Going on 13 minutes now . . . .

From: Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/15/2003 1:22:00 PM
Subject: : RE: Specter letter

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov" <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov> (
"Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov" <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 17:22:00.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Specter letter
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

We have not heard back from her after your comments on the Specter letter.
The Hatch letter is just about correcting the record.

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Tuesday, April 15, 2003 5:14 PM
To: Remington, Kristi L
Subject: Re: Specter letter

This is the one I sent an email about last night, but have not heard back
from her yet. Did you see that email?

(Embedded image moved "Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov" <Kristi.L.Remington
to file: 04/15/2003 05:11:38 PM
pic29526.pcx)

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject: Specter letter

This is the Specter letter

-----Original Message-----
From: CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org [mailto:CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org]
Sent: Monday, April 14, 2003 5:07 PM
To: Remington, Kristi L; Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
Subject: Specter letter

Attached redraft for your comments.

From: CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/15/2003 2:07:51 PM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 18:07:51.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Nasty letter from Levin and Stabenow on its way to you.;
```

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent: 4/15/2003 6:08:08 PM
Subject:

Nasty letter from Levin and Stabenow on its way to you.

From:	CN=Collister W. Johnson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To:	cspies@rnchq.org @ inet [UNKNOWN] <cspies@rnchq.org @ inet>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC:	Katherine M. Walters/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Katherine M. Walters>;kmehlman@georgewbush.com @ inet [WHO] <kmehlman@georgewbush.com @ inet>
Sent:	4/15/2003 2:37:12 PM
Subject:	: Grassroots letter from Ken
Attachments:	P_U3CNF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Collister W. Johnson ( CN=Collister W. Johnson/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 18:37:12.00
SUBJECT:: Grassroots letter from Ken
TO:cspies@rnchq.org @ inet ( cspies@rnchq.org @ inet [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Katherine M. Walters ( CN=Katherine M. Walters/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:kmehlman@georgewbush.com @ inet ( kmehlman@georgewbush.com @ inet [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Brett and Charlie:
The Missouri Republican Party would like for Ken to be able to sign a letter going out to about 5,000 grassroots activists across the state.
The letter encourages the activists to participate in some party building programs this summer - attached is the draft.
Your thoughts?
Thanks very much!
c

- 4.14.03 Mehlman MO Groots Letter.doc

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_U3CNF003_WHO.TXT_1>
```

April 11, 2003

Dear Missouri Republican:

Thank you for your hard work on behalf of Republican candidates last fall. Your efforts were truly historic, giving our Party control of the U.S. Senate, two new seats in the state Senate, and a majority in the state House for the first time in over 50 years. As the President often says in encouragement, "Fine job – keep up the fight!"

Following the President's advice, I urge you to participate this summer in the Missouri Republican Party's new program: Grassroots: Republicans Out to Win (GROW).

GROW is a series of training conferences for grassroots leaders and activists where the latest campaign strategies and plans will be shared. Your active involvement is critical. Enclosed, you'll find this year's GROW conference schedule for Missouri: please be sure to register for the GROW conference nearest you!

You should have already received your registration packet for GROW conferences in the mail. If you have not, please contact the Party headquarters at (573) 636-3146 and sign up today!

The Missouri GOP has set a bold goal of registering 65,000 new Republican voters by the end of this year. The impact of so many new voters on the political landscape will be considerable, and your continued hard work – coupled with your participation in the GROW conferences – will make goals like this possible.

Thank you again for your involvement in Missouri politics: keep up the fight!

Sincerely,

Ken Mehlman
2000 Bush-Cheney National Field Director and Political Advisor to George W. Bush

From: CN=Jeanie S. Mamo/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/15/2003 3:03:56 PM
Subject: : Are you here?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Jeanie S. Mamo ( CN=Jeanie S. Mamo/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 19:03:56.00
SUBJECT:: Are you here?
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

I left you a voicemail re: Boyle.. can you call me? 66237.. thanks..
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Viet.Dinh@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN] <Viet.Dinh@usdoj.gov>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org [UNKNOWN] <CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org>
CC: Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN] <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 4/15/2003 5:04:20 PM
Subject: : Re: Specter letter

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:15-APR-2003 21:04:20.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Specter letter
TO:Viet.Dinh@usdoj.gov (Viet.Dinh@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org (CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov (Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Can we have conf call wed at 1115 am east coast time to discuss and resolve.

.

----- Original Message -----
From:CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org
To:Viet.Dinh@usdoj.gov,
Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov
Date: 04/15/2003 02:44:33 PM
Subject: Re: Specter letter

Here is the attachment. Sorry for the omission from the prior e-mail.
Carolyn

>>> <Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov> 04/14/03 03:08PM >>>
I think it is good but Sanchez-Scott needs some more. Isn't it true that the doctor could have been on the hook for the full amount of the damages she sought and that the pharm company only would have been jointly and severally liable? If so, dismissing the pharm company did not affect p's ability
to obtain full recovery for her damage. Is that right under Cal law and the facts
and law of the case?

(Embedded image moved Judge Carolyn Kuhl <CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org>
to file: 04/14/2003 05:06:50 PM
pic01296.pcx)

Record Type: Record

To: Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject: Specter letter

Attached redraft for your comments.
- att1.htm - Hatch Letter Post Confirmation.doc

From: CN=Holly T. Moore/OU=NSC/O=EOP [NSC]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/16/2003 8:00:40 AM
Subject: : call 6-9111

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: FEDERAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Holly T. Moore ( CN=Holly T. Moore/OU=NSC/O=EOP [ NSC ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:16-APR-2003 12:00:40.00
SUBJECT:: call 6-9111
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Brett --
John is back and wants to talk with you on the dip immunity issue. Please call ASAP. Thanks, htm
```

From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
To: <Ullyot, Theodore W.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Brosnahan, Jennifer R.>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>
Sent: 4/16/2003 8:15:23 AM
Subject: FW: Executive Orders for the Week of April 14 - 18, 2003

FYI -

-----Original Message-----

From: Reed, McGavock D.

Sent: Tuesday, April 15, 2003 7:30 PM

To: Daniels, Mitchell; Smythe, Augustine T.; Perry, Philip J.; Wood, John F.; Aitken, Steven D.; Cleveland, Robin; Peacock, Marcus; Capretta, James C.; McMillin, Stephen S.; Connaughton, James; Bear, Dinah; Addington, David S.; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Wiegmann, John B.; rosemary.hart@usdoj.gov; Miers, Harriet; Saunders, G. Timo; Kalbaugh, David E.; Stolpe, Elizabeth A.

Cc: Altoft, Lois E.; Trinh, Catherine V.

Subject: Executive Orders for the Week of April 14 - 18, 2003

FYI, We are working on the following Executive Orders for this week:

1. "Applying the Federal Physicians Comparability Allowance Amendments of 2000 to Participants in the Foreign Service Retirement and Disability System, the Foreign Service Pension System, and the Central Intelligence Agency Retirement and Disability System" (State and CIA) -- The proposed order updates State's and CIA's retirement systems to so that their physicians who get comparability allowances can receive the same treatment as physicans at other agencies who get comparability allowances. The order was submitted to WH Staff Secretary earlier this evening.

2. "Termination of Emergency with respect to the Actions and Policies of UNITA and Revocation to Related Executive Orders" and a related Message to Congress (NSC) -- The proposed order would terminate the national emergency that was declared in 1993 with respect to the National Union for the Total Independence of Angola ("UNITA") and lift the economic sanctions against them. The Message to Congress fulfills the statutory requirement to report the action to the Congress. The goal is to get the proposed order into the White House Staff Secretary's Office by cob, Friday, April 18, 2003.

3. "Amendments to Executive Order 13045, Protection of Children from Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks" (HHS and EPA) -- The proposed order would extend for two more years the President's Task Force on Environmental Health Risks and Safety Risks ("Task Force"). The Task Force will terminate on Monday, April 21, 2003, unless it is extended. The goal is to get the proposed order into WH Staff Secretary's Office by no later than cob, tomorrow, Wednesday, April 16, 2003.

4. "Amending Executive Order 13212 Concerning Energy-Related Projects" (CEQ) -- The proposed order would create an interagency working group to evaluate Federal permitting requirements for access, excavation, and restoration activities in connection with pipeline repairs. The goal is to get the proposed order into the WH Staff Secretary's Office by cob, Friday, April 18, 2003.

If you have any questions, please call me at 395-3563.

Thank you, Mac

From: Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/16/2003 5:25:06 AM
Subject: : RE: Specter letter

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov" <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov> (
"Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov" <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:16-APR-2003 09:25:06.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Specter letter
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

I can set up a conference if you'd like. I believe Viet has to get on a 11:45 am (EST) flight.

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Tuesday, April 15, 2003 9:04 PM
To: Dinh, Viet; CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org;
Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
Cc: Remington, Kristi L
Subject: Re: Specter letter

Can we have conf call wed at 1115 am east coast time to discuss and resolve.

...

----- Original Message -----
From:CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org
To:Viet.Dinh@usdoj.gov,
Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov
Date: 04/15/2003 02:44:33 PM
Subject: Re: Specter letter

Here is the attachment. Sorry for the omission from the prior e-mail.
Carolyn

>>> <Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov> 04/14/03 03:08PM >>>
I think it is good but Sanchez-Scott needs some more. Isn't it
true that the doctor could have been on the hook for the full amount of the damages she sought and that the pharm company only would have been jointly and severally liable? If so, dismissing the pharm company did not affect p's ability
to obtain full recovery for her damage. Is that right under Cal law and the facts
and law of the case?

(Embedded

image moved Judge Carolyn Kuhl <CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org>
to file: 04/14/2003 05:06:50 PM
pic01296.pcx)

Record Type: Record

To: Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject: Specter letter

Attached redraft for your comments.
- att1.htm - Hatch Letter Post Confirmation.doc

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 4/16/2003 5:46:50 AM
Subject: : RE: Specter letter

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:16-APR-2003 09:46:50.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Specter letter
TO:"Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov" <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov> (
"Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov" <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

sure

"Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov" <Kristi.L.Remington
04/16/2003 09:24:22 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: Specter letter

I can set up a conference if you'd like. I believe Viet has to get on a 11:45 am (EST) flight.

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Tuesday, April 15, 2003 9:04 PM
To: Dinh, Viet; CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org;
Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
Cc: Remington, Kristi L
Subject: Re: Specter letter

Can we have conf call wed at 1115 am east coast time to discuss and resolve.

...

----- Original Message -----
From:CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org
To:Viet.Dinh@usdoj.gov,
Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
Cc:Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov
Date: 04/15/2003 02:44:33 PM
Subject: Re: Specter letter

Here is the attachment. Sorry for the omission from the prior e-mail.
Carolyn

>>> <Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov> 04/14/03 03:08PM >>>
I think it is good but Sanchez-Scott needs some more. Isn't it
true that the doctor could have been on the hook for the full amount of the damages she sought and that the pharm company only would have been jointly and severally liable? If so, dismissing the pharm company did not affect p's ability

to obtain full recovery for her damage. Is that right under Cal law and the facts
and law of the case?

(Embedded
image moved Judge Carolyn Kuhl <CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org>
to file: 04/14/2003 05:06:50 PM
pic01296.pcx)

Record Type: Record

To: Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject: Specter letter

Attached redraft for your comments.
- att1.htm - Hatch Letter Post Confirmation.doc

From: Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;'Carolyn kuhl (E-mail)' <ckuhl@lasuperiorcourt.org>;Viet.Dinh@usdoj.gov <Viet.Dinh@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 4/16/2003 6:21:31 AM
Subject: : FW: conference call

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov" <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov> (
"Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov" <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:16-APR-2003 10:21:31.00
SUBJECT:: FW: conference call
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"'Carolyn kuhl (E-mail)'" <ckuhl@lasuperiorcourt.org> (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested) ( "'Carolyn kuhl (E-mail)'" <ckuhl@lasuperiorcourt.org> (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested) [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Viet.Dinh@usdoj.gov" <Viet.Dinh@usdoj.gov> (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested) ( "Viet.Dinh@usdoj.gov" <Viet.Dinh@usdoj.gov> (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested) [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Conference call for today at 11:15am

Dialin: 202-353-0880
Passcode: 2900
```

From: Guerra, Abel
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
CC: <Viana, Mercedes M.>;<Westine, Lezlee J.>;<Hernandez, Israel>;<Nelson, Carolyn>
Sent: 4/16/2003 10:23:17 AM
Subject: miguel estrada

U.S. Newswire

April 15, 2003 Tuesday

HEADLINE: Outraged Hispanics Gather in Little Rock to Support Miguel Estrada

DATELINE: Colorado Springs, Colo., April 15

BODY:

Hundreds of Hispanics are expected to gather in four major cities over the next two weeks to call for an end to Senate Democrats' stonewalling of Miguel Estrada, a well-qualified Hispanic attorney who President Bush nominated to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. The rallies are part of an effort, led by local leaders and Enfoque a la Familia, Focus on the Family's ministry to the Hispanic community, to call attention to the unjust opposition Estrada has faced.

Estrada's confirmation has been held up in the Senate for many weeks because several liberal Democrats chose to filibuster his nomination, primarily because of Estrada's conservative judicial philosophy.

"Unfortunately, this grueling process reveals what liberals really want from Hispanics -- our votes, but not our leadership," said James Oviedo, Director of Enfoque a la Familia. "The Hispanic community has much to offer, and those who claim to care about minority rights should not reject a qualified candidate simply because they do not agree with Mr. Estrada's views."

Estrada immigrated to the U.S. as a teenager from Honduras, knowing little English. Despite these hurdles, he graduated from Columbia College in New York and Harvard Law School, where he edited the Harvard Law Review. He has argued 15 cases before the U.S. Supreme Court and has won 10 of them.

Yuri Mantilla, Counsel for Hispanic Affairs at Enfoque a la Familia, added:

"Miguel Estrada embodies the American dream that is available to all of us -- not just those who agree with the liberal Democrats' point of view

.. This

unjust treatment sets a very disturbing precedent for conservatives, members of the Hispanic community and all who believe in the democratic process."

From: CN=Charlotte L. Montiel/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/16/2003 6:53:11 AM
Subject: : FW: MESSAGE MEETING REMINDER

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Charlotte L. Montiel (CN=Charlotte L. Montiel/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:16-APR-2003 10:53:11.00
SUBJECT:: FW: MESSAGE MEETING REMINDER
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

;
-----Original Message-----
From: Ritacco, Krista L.
Sent: Wednesday, April 16, 2003 10:07 AM
To: Yunker, Jacob H.; Allgood, Lauren K.; Ball, Andrea G.; Barrales, Ruben S.; Bennett, Melissa S.; Besanceney, Brian R.; Buchan, Claire ; Burkhart, Shannon; Burks, Jonathan W.; Campbell, Anne E.; Christie, Ronald I.; Ciafardini, Andrew D.; Conde, Roberta L.; Cooper, Rory S.; DeFrancis, Suzy; Devenish, Nicolle; Douglas, Penny G.; Duffy, Trent D.; Ellison, Kimberly; Eskew, Tucker A.; Figg, Kara G.; Gerdelman, Sue H.; Gillmor, Eleanor L.; Grant, Britt; Gray, Adrian G.; Gray, Ann ; Healy, Erin E.; Hennessey, Keith; Hernandez, Israel; Hughes, A. Merrill; Hughes, Taylor A.; Ingle, Edward; Jackson, Barry S.; Kaplan, Joel; Kozberg, Lindsey C.; Kyle, Ross M.; Lefkowitz, Jay P.; Lineberry, Stephen M.; Litkenhaus, Colleen; Mallea, Jose; Martin, Catherine J.; McClellan, Scott ; McDonald, Rebekah; McQuade, Vickie A.; Mehlman, Ken; Middlemas, A. Morgan; Millerwise, Jennifer; Montiel, Charlotte L.; Nelson, Carolyn; Nipper, Wendy L.; Parell, Christie; Pelletier, Eric C.; Perez, Anna M.; Ralston, Susan B.; Reese, Shelley; Riecke, January M.; Riepenhoff, Allison L.; Rodriguez, Noelia ; Rogers, Edwina C.; Rust, Kathryn E.; Ryun, Catharine A.; Sforza, Scott N.; Silverberg, Kristen; Smith, Heidi M.; Snee, Ashley; Spagnoli, Deborah A.; Torgerson, Karin B.; Towey, Jim; Vestewig, Lauren J.; Walters, Katherine M.; Wehner, Peter H.; Westine, Lezlee J.; Williams, Mary C.; Wozniak, Natalie S.
Subject: MESSAGE MEETING REMINDER

There will be a message meeting today at noon in;the Roosevelt Room.

From: CN=David S. Addington/OU=OVP/O=EOP [OVP]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/16/2003 7:01:57 AM
Subject: : Re: New Case Alert for Mr. Katsas

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:David S. Addington ( CN=David S. Addington/OU=OVP/O=EOP [ OVP ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:16-APR-2003 11:01:57.00
SUBJECT:: Re: New Case Alert for Mr. Katsas
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Brett -- if it were up to me, you could argue the case.
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Elizabeth S. Dougherty/OPD/EOP@EOP [OPD] <Elizabeth S. Dougherty>
Sent: 4/16/2003 11:00:18 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:16-APR-2003 15:00:18.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Elizabeth S. Dougherty ( CN=Elizabeth S. Dougherty/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [ OPD ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

in case you have not seen Senate RPC

http://rpc.senate.gov/releases/2003/tr032703.pdf
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange [OPD] <Jay P. Lefkowitz>
Sent: 4/16/2003 11:08:19 AM
Subject: : Re: section 411 issue

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:16-APR-2003 15:08:19.00
SUBJECT:: Re: section 411 issue
TO:Jay P. Lefkowitz (CN=Jay P. Lefkowitz/OU=OPD/O=EOP@Exchange [OPD])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

We'll do it. Should Judge be prepared to come to the meeting with the boss on that point? Assume so if he is going to make a formal recommendation.

From: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange on 04/16/2003 02:54:05 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: section 411 issue

Does WHC have a formal recommendation on the deference issue we've been discussing?

From: CN=Jess Sharp/OU=OPD/O=EOP [OPD]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/16/2003 11:49:39 AM
Subject: : bankruptcy

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Jess Sharp ( CN=Jess Sharp/OU=OPD/O=EOP [ OPD ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:16-APR-2003 15:49:39.00
SUBJECT:: bankruptcy
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

I'm digging around for as much info as I can on bankruptcy law as it pertains to airlines. Are you the man to talk to? I know you've been in some of our airline meetings, but I didn't know if your angle was only anti trust. Thanks Brett.

Jess
```

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/16/2003 2:53:22 PM
Subject: : White House Global Messenger - 4/17/03
Attachments: P_POLOF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:16-APR-2003 18:53:22.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger - 4/17/03
TO:Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications (CN=Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 4-17-03 FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Thursday, April 17, 2003

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS IN ST. LOUIS, 4-16-03***

*The world is witnessing historic days in the cause of freedom. Our work is not done and the difficulties have not passed, but the regime of Saddam Hussein has passed into history.

*American and Coalition forces still face serious risks in Iraq. A scattered enemy is still capable of doing harm to our forces and to the innocent. But we will press on until our mission is finished and victory is complete.

*By swift and effective military action, we avoided a massive flow of refugees.
By delivering food and water and medicine to the Iraqi people - even as coalition units engaged the enemy - we have helped to avert a humanitarian crisis.

*Now that Iraq is liberated, the United Nations should lift economic sanctions on that country.

*We're addressing Iraq's urgent medical problems left by a regime that built palaces in a country that needed hospitals. Hundreds of Iraqis are being treated at

U.S. and British military facilities.

*Governments from Europe and the Middle East are moving field hospitals to Iraq.
Coalition

members and the UN are sending medical supplies. The Red Cross is working
to keep water and electricity flowing to hospitals. Soon our Coalition will be making direct emergency payments to

Iraqi doctors and nurses who will be providing desperately needed care to their fellow citizens.

*The journey from a totalitarian, brutal dictatorship to a free society is not easy. It will take time to build the institutions of democracy and the habits of freedom.

Civil order is being restored in communities throughout Iraq, and Iraqis themselves are helping in the effort.

*On Tuesday, an historic gathering occurred in the city of An Nasiriyah, where Iraqis met openly and freely to discuss the future of the country. Many more of these meetings will take place in the weeks and months to come. Out of that meeting came this declaration:

Iraq
must be democratic, and we will help Iraq to build a government of, by, and for the Iraqi people.

*Across the world, terrorists and tyrants are learning that America and our allies will act in our own defense. Instead of drifting toward tragedy, we will protect our security, and we will promote the peace in the world. Having rid Iraq of an oppressive regime, we are committed to helping Iraq build a future of freedom and dignity and peace.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE***
All Times Eastern Daylight. Subject to Change

7:00 am CentCom Operations Update

12:30 pm State Department Briefing

HUMANITARIAN UPDATE***

*USAID has provided an initial $1 million as part of a major 12-month contract to improve Iraq's educational system and provided $7.9 million as part of a major contract to strengthen local-level administration and civic institutions. These two contracts bring USG funding for

Iraq relief and reconstructing to $557 million.

*The Kuwaiti Society for Joint Relief will send 30 trucks containing bottled water to Umm Qasr,

Az Zubayr, Al Faw, and Al Basrah in the coming week. During the week of April 8, they delivered

472,000 bottles of water and 201,000 meals to southern Iraq.

*The UN is standing up a public food distribution system. On April 15, they inspected warehouses and mills in Basra and found all in good condition. One warehouse with 3,000 tons of food was under the protection of coalition forces. All 1,380 food distribution agents are in place and ready to resume distributions.

LIBERATION UPDATE***
The voices of freedom, now heard in many parts of Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at

http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

KEY QUOTE***

"(Selma Dakhel) wants her 10-year-old girl, Nadine, to learn something other than to chant 'I love Saddam' at school, she said. We 'want freedom and a government chosen by the people. We will have democracy in our new time.'"

Chicago Tribune, 4-14-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications
For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****

You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from
the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about
the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere.

- GM 4-17-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_POLOF003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Thursday, April 17, 2003

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

All Times Eastern Daylight. Subject to Change

7:00 am	CentCom Operations Update
12:30 pm	State Department Briefing

HUMANITARIAN UPDATE

- USAID has provided an initial $1 million as part of a major 12-month contract to improve Iraq's educational system and provided $7.9 million as part of a major contract to strengthen local-level administration and civic institutions. These two contracts bring USG funding for Iraq relief and reconstructing to $557 million.
- The Kuwaiti Society for Joint Relief will send 30 trucks containing bottled water to Umm Qasr, Az Zubayr, Al Faw, and Al Basrah in the coming week. During the week of April 8, they delivered 472,000 bottles of water and 201,000 meals to southern Iraq.
- The UN is standing up a public food distribution system. On April 15, they inspected warehouses and mills in Basra and found all in good condition. One warehouse with 3,000 tons of food was under the protection of coalition forces. All 1,380 food distribution agents are in place and ready to resume distributions.

LIBERATION UPDATE

The voices of freedom, now heard across Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at:
http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

***

"(Selma Dakhel) wants her 10-year-old girl, Nadine, to learn something other than to chant 'I love Saddam' at school, she said. We 'want freedom and a government chosen by the people. We will have democracy in our new time.'"
Chicago Tribune, 4-14-03

KEY POINTS FROM THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS IN ST. LOUIS, 4-16-03

- The world is witnessing historic days in the cause of freedom. Our work is not done and the difficulties have not passed, but the regime of Saddam Hussein has passed into history.
- American and Coalition forces still face serious risks in Iraq. A scattered enemy is still capable of doing harm to our forces and to the innocent. But we will press on until our mission is finished and victory is complete.
- By swift and effective military action, we avoided a massive flow of refugees. By delivering food and water and medicine to the Iraqi people - even as coalition units engaged the enemy - we have helped to avert a humanitarian crisis.
- Now that Iraq is liberated, the United Nations should lift economic sanctions on that country.
- We're addressing Iraq's urgent medical problems left by a regime that built palaces in a country that needed hospitals. Hundreds of Iraqis are being treated at U.S. and British military facilities.
- Governments from Europe and the Middle East are moving field hospitals to Iraq. Coalition members and the UN are sending medical supplies. The Red Cross is working to keep water and electricity flowing to hospitals. Soon our Coalition will be making direct emergency payments to Iraqi doctors and nurses who will be providing desperately needed care to their fellow citizens.
- The journey from a totalitarian, brutal dictatorship to a free society is not easy. It will take time to build the institutions of democracy and the habits of freedom. Civil order is being restored in communities throughout Iraq, and Iraqis themselves are helping in the effort.
- On Tuesday, an historic gathering occurred in the city of An Nasiriyah, where Iraqis met openly and freely to discuss the future of the country. Many more of these meetings will take place in the weeks and months to come. Out of that meeting came this declaration: Iraq must be democratic, and we will help Iraq to build a government of, by, and for the Iraqi people.
- Across the world, terrorists and tyrants are learning that America and our allies will act in our own defense. Instead of drifting toward tragedy, we will protect our security, and we will promote the peace in the world. Having rid Iraq of an oppressive regime, we are committed to helping Iraq build a future of freedom and dignity and peace.

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications
For more information log on to www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

From: CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/17/2003 5:58:55 AM
Subject: : Call when you get a sec

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-APR-2003 09:58:55.00
SUBJECT:: Call when you get a sec
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

2 issues:

1. Michigan.

2. FOIA within EOP.
```

From: CN=Paul B. Dyck/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Adrian G. Gray/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Adrian G. Gray>
CC: Joseph W. Fricks III/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Joseph W. Fricks III>;Matthew A. Schlapp/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Matthew A. Schlapp>
Sent: 4/17/2003 6:01:07 AM
Subject: : NTSB request for political targets

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Paul B. Dyck ( CN=Paul B. Dyck/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-APR-2003 10:01:07.00
SUBJECT:: NTSB request for political targets
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Adrian G. Gray ( CN=Adrian G. Gray/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Joseph W. Fricks III ( CN=Joseph W. Fricks III/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Matthew A. Schlapp ( CN=Matthew A. Schlapp/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

David Clark at NTSB called earlier this week and asked if we could provide a list of our political target states for the new administrator over there for her travel and planning purposes. Since it is an independent agency,
I just want to make sure that it is okay for us top provide that. Adrian
- I told him that I would check and forward to the appropriate person. If you want to contact him, his contact info is below. Thanks. pbd

David Clark
202-314-6017
david.clark@ntsb.gov
```

From: Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/17/2003 7:17:52 AM
Subject: : FedSoc on Judicial Noms

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov" <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> (
"Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov" <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-APR-2003 11:17:52.00
SUBJECT:: FedSoc on Judicial Noms
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Brett-

Viet is scheduled to do a Federalist Society/Capitol Hill chapter talk on the judicial confirmation crisis on Monday from noon to 1 pm. He wanted to know whether you would accompany him to the talk, and do it in the same manner as the Hill staff briefing we did in the Mansfield Room a few months ago.

Can you attend?

Brian A. Benczkowski
Staff Director and Senior Counsel
Office of Legal Policy
United States Department of Justice
950 Pennsylvania Ave., NW
Room 4228
Washington, DC 20530
Telephone: (202) 616-2004
Fax: (202) 514-1685
E-mail: Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 4/17/2003 7:18:35 AM
Subject: : Re: FedSoc on Judicial Noms

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-APR-2003 11:18:35.00
SUBJECT:: Re: FedSoc on Judicial Noms
TO:"Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov" <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> (
"Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov" <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

sure, sounds good; assume Leonard L. ok with that?

"Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov" <Brian.A.Benczkowski
04/17/2003 11:17:11 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: FedSoc on Judicial Noms

Brett-

Viet is scheduled to do a Federalist Society/Capitol Hill chapter talk on the judicial confirmation crisis on Monday from noon to 1 pm. He wanted to know whether you would accompany him to the talk, and do it in the same manner as the Hill staff briefing we did in the Mansfield Room a few months ago.

Can you attend?

Brian A. Benczkowski
Staff Director and Senior Counsel
Office of Legal Policy
United States Department of Justice
950 Pennsylvania Ave., NW
Room 4228
Washington, DC 20530
Telephone: (202) 616-2004
Fax: (202) 514-1685
E-mail: Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov

From: Snee, Ashley
To: <Orr, Christopher J.>
CC: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Grubbs, Wendy J.>
Sent: 4/17/2003 11:57:58 AM
Subject: FW: Reuters - In Cyberchat, Bush Aide Says Saddam Likely Dead

I really like the idea of doing a chat with the Judge when Congress reconvenes to talk about our judges. Maybe when we announce it we could also announce/highlight the new section of our website. Do you think it will be all ready to go by then?

Jimmy - how do we move forward? Should I run it up the chain here to get sign off, or how should we proceed?

Next up on "Ask the White House" at www.whitehouse.gov will be Mark Forman, head of the Office of Management and Budget's e-government initiatives. He will be available to answer questions at 7 p.m. EDT (2300 GMT) on Thursday.
On Tuesday, April 22, Earth Day, EPA Administrator Christine Todd Whitman will be in the hot seat.

-----Original Message-----
From: Bravo, Brian
Sent: Thursday, April 17, 2003 10:40 AM
Subject: Reuters - In Cyberchat, Bush Aide Says Saddam Likely Dead

In Cyberchat, Bush Aide Says Saddam Likely Dead

By Patricia Wilson

CRAWFORD, Texas (Reuters) - At least one senior White House official believes Saddam Hussein is dead and was not afraid to say so publicly on Wednesday.

In the first of a series of Web chats, one of President Bush's top aides, chief of staff Andrew Card, told Casey from Quincy, Massachusetts, who wanted to know the whereabouts of the Iraqi leader:

"He is not likely to be in Quincy, Braintree or my hometown of Holbrook. I think he's dead."

A senior U.S. official said later the United States had not reached "any final conclusion at this point" and that he was unaware of any evidence confirming that the deposed Iraqi president was alive or dead.

Bush, who is spending a long Easter holiday break at his ranch near Crawford, has said he does not know whether Saddam is dead or alive.

"But the regime of Saddam Hussein has passed into history," he told employees at a Boeing jet fighter plant in St. Louis, Missouri, en route to Texas.

Although Saddam's fate is uncertain, U.S. officials have started leaning slightly toward the view that he is probably dead.

"The good news is that his regime is no longer a threat to the people of Iraq nor to the U.S. or our allies," Card wrote during the 30-minute online discussion titled "Ask the White House" which allows visitors to the official Web site to quiz Bush aides directly.

While many of the questions were about the Iraq war and its aftermath, Rob of Canada asked about the White House culture and learned that life in the executive mansion was not at all similar to the fictional version depicted in the hit NBC television show "The West Wing."

"The WH staff is not like the TV show -- running and bumping into each other all day," Card wrote. "We do our work, enjoy being around each other and love serving this president."

Next up on "Ask the White House" at www.whitehouse.gov will be Mark Forman, head of the Office of Management and Budget's e-government initiatives. He will be available to answer questions at 7 p.m. EDT (2300 GMT) on Thursday.
On Tuesday, April 22, Earth Day, EPA Administrator Christine Todd Whitman will be in the hot seat.

From: Miranda, Manuel \(Frist\) <Manuel_Miranda@frist.senate.gov>

To: Delrahim, Makan \(Judiciary\) <Makan_Delrahim@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Comisac, RenaJohnson \(Judiciary\) <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Dahl, Alex \(Judiciary\) <Alex_Dahl@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Ueland, Eric \(Frist\) <Eric_Ueland@frist.senate.gov>;Vogel, Alex \(Frist\) <Alex_Vogel@frist.senate.gov>;Ledeen, Barbara \(Republican-Conf\) <Barbara_Ledeen@src.senate.gov>;Rodgers, Mark \(Republican-Conf\) <Mark_Rodgers@src.senate.gov>;Mark Heilbrun <Mark_Heilbrun@specter.senate.gov>;Frank Brown <IMCEACCMAIL-Frank+20Brown+20at+20SPECTER-DC@routing.senate.gov>;Higgins, Stephen \(Judiciary\) <Stephen_Higgins@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Matal, Joe \(Judiciary\) <Joe_Matal@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Groover, Chad \(Judiciary\) <Chad_Groover@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Ho, James \(Judiciary\) <James_Ho@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Duffield, Steven \(RPC\) <Steven_Duffield@rpc.senate.gov>;Galyean, James \(L. Graham\) <James_Galyean@lgraham.senate.gov>;<Goeglein, Tim>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Grubbs, Wendy J.>;Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov <Kristi.L.Remington@usdoj.gov>;Smith, William \(Judiciary\) <William_Smith@Judiciary.senate.gov>;Wichterman, Bill \(Frist\) <Bill_Wichterman@frist.senate.gov>

Sent: 4/17/2003 12:15:57 PM

Subject: So it begins/ Holmes

* Fort Worth Star-Telegram: No bench for them?
http://www.dfw.com/mld/startelegram/news/editorial/5653950.htm

From: CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: David S. Addington/OVP/EOP@EOP [OVP] <David S. Addington>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 4/17/2003 12:47:54 PM
Subject: :

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-APR-2003 16:47:54.00
SUBJECT::
TO:David S. Addington (CN=David S. Addington/OU=OVP/O=EOP@EOP [OVP])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales (CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Judges Question Bid to Stop Cheney Suit

By PETE YOST
The Associated Press
Thursday, April 17, 2003; 4:33 PM

WASHINGTON - The Bush administration ran into strong opposition in federal appeals court Thursday as government lawyers tried to stop a lawsuit delving into Vice President Dick Cheney's contacts with energy industry executives and lobbyists.

Appeals judges Harry Edwards and David Tatel suggested the White House had no legal basis for asking them to block a lower court judge from letting the case proceed.

"You have no authority" to ask the appeals court to intervene, Edwards told a government attorney during arguments. He added later, "You have no case."

The appeals judges gave no indication when they would issue a ruling. The Bush administration has taken the unusual step of coming to the appeals court in the midst of the case.

Federal agencies have disclosed 39,000 pages of internal documents related to the work of Cheney's energy task force, but the Cheney task force itself has produced nothing, claiming the need for confidential advice to the president from his top advisers.

U.S. District Judge Emmet Sullivan has ruled that the Sierra Club and Judicial Watch may be entitled to a limited amount of information about the meetings that Cheney and his aides had with the energy industry in formulating the White House's energy plan.

The plan, adopted four months after President Bush took office, favored opening up public lands to oil and gas drilling and a wide range of other steps backed by industry.

The task force has acknowledged that one of the executives it met with was former Enron Corp. chairman Kenneth Lay.

Edwards, a Carter-era appointee, and Tatel, an appointee of President Clinton, said the administration has failed to show that it is suffering legal harm at the hands of the lower court.

The third member of the panel, Appeals Judge A. Raymond Randolph, expressed doubt that the Cheney task force is required under the law to disclose information about its inner workings. However, Randolph, an appointee of Bush's father, questioned whether the administration should be seeking appeals court intervention.

Tatel and Edwards pressed the government on why it hadn't sought to narrow the scope of information requests rather than simply trying to block them altogether.

The government's position is that the current record in the case is sufficient.

The Bush administration says it has demonstrated that the makeup of the Cheney task force was limited to government officials. But the groups that are suing allege that participants from industry effectively became members of Cheney's task force in assembling the White House's energy policy.

. 2003 The Associated Press

From: CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/17/2003 10:29:14 AM
Subject: : do you know Jule Thomas of OIC?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:H. Christopher Bartolomucci ( CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-APR-2003 14:29:14.00
SUBJECT:: do you know Jule Thomas of OIC?
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Jess Sharp/OPD/EOP@EOP [OPD] <Jess Sharp>
Sent: 4/17/2003 11:06:38 AM
Subject: : Re: bankruptcy

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-APR-2003 15:06:38.00
SUBJECT:: Re: bankruptcy
TO:Jess Sharp (CN=Jess Sharp/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [OPD])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

I can dig into this. What do you need to know?

Jess Sharp
04/16/2003 03:49:21 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: bankruptcy

I'm digging around for as much info as I can on bankruptcy law as it pertains to airlines. Are you the man to talk to? I know you've been in some of our airline meetings, but I didn't know if your angle was only anti trust. Thanks Brett.

Jess

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Wiley, Ladd (HHS/OS) <Ladd.Wiley@hhs.gov>
Sent: 4/17/2003 11:25:43 AM
Subject: : Re: FW: 60+ Request

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-APR-2003 15:25:43.00
SUBJECT:: Re: FW: 60+ Request
TO:"Wiley, Ladd (HHS/OS)" <Ladd.Wiley@hhs.gov> ("Wiley, Ladd (HHS/OS)" <Ladd.Wiley@hhs.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

quick q: Is the event a fundraiser?

"Wiley, Ladd (HHS/OS)" <Ladd.Wiley@hhs.gov>
04/17/2003 03:17:31 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: FW: 60+ Request

Brett,

The organization 60+ is a 501(c)(4), which has been supportive of administration policies in the past. They would like Secretary Thompson to headline a speech in his official capacity. Normally, we would just approve
it as an official event.

I just wanted to make sure that 501(c)(4) weren't impacted by the McCain
Feingold law. Any ideas or anyone to whom you could refer me?

> -----Original Message-----
> From: Wood, Robert (HHS/OS)
> Sent: Wednesday, April 09, 2003 10:05 AM
> To: Karim, Jafar (HHS/OS); Wiley, Ladd (HHS/OS)
> Subject: RE: 60+ Request
>
> lets discuss.
>
> -----Original Message-----
> From: Karim, Jafar (HHS/OS)
> Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 5:07 PM
> To: Wood, Robert (HHS/OS)
> Cc: Schofield, Regina (HHS/OS)
> Subject: FW: 60+ Request
>
> Bob:
>
> I'm redirecting this inquiry to you per Laura's suggestion. Bob Martin > has called a couple of times to see if TGT could keynote an event > described below. I know this is a way off, but the WH is asking if we > could agree to do this. Bob is hoping for a date ASAP. They have a > number of groups that are going to help sponsor the event, they just need > a headliner. Please let me know if you have any questions about this. I > can run the legal traps. For numerous reasons, I think this is worth > considering as a priority. Feel free to let me know if you'd like to > discuss. Thanks.

>
> - Jaf
>
> -----Original Message-----
> From: Karim, Jafar (HHS/OS)
> Sent: Tuesday, March 25, 2003 2:29 PM
> To: Lawlor, Laura (HHS/OS)
> Cc: Schofield, Regina (HHS/OS)
> Subject: 60+ Request
>
> Laura:
>
> Getting back to you on the request of 60 Plus to have the Secretary as a > keynote speaker for a fundraiser they would like to hold in the coming > months. Jim Martin, the group's executive director, indicated that the > date is not yet certain. Regina advised, however, that we decide > internally whether the the Secretary would make this a priority should
the > dates all work out. I'd be happy to discuss in detail some of the factors
> to consider in determining the importance of this event. Below are some > factors for your consideration.
>
> What: 60 Plus fundraiser; two-tiered event w/
> reception & photo op, then remarks to the group during a dinner
> Where: TBD, but the organization seeks a Hill
> location such as the Washington Court Hotel (on the Senate side)
> Date Options: June 3, 4, 5, 10, 11, 12
>
> Other Facts:
>
> * 60+ organized as a 501(c)4, a not-for-profit association, allowing > it to conduct issue advocacy but not candidate endorsements.
>
> * Fundraiser: never had a fundraiser before; will get House and > Senate members to attend; a member of the Admin was going to do last year,
> but scheduling conflicts prevented that from happening.
>
> * Roger Zion, a 4 term house member from IN and a UW graduate is the > organization's president; according to Jim, he and TGT have met and got > along well.
>
> * The group is keen on promoting the preventive health care message.
>
> * Want TGT to headline; they are seeking Karl Rove as a "special > guest"; reception beforehand.
>
> * The organization has approximately 25,000 members.
>
> Please let mek know if you have any thoughts or questions. Thanks.
>
> - Jafar
>
> Jafar Karim
> Office of White House Liaison
> US Department of Health and Human Services
> 200 Independence Avenue, SW
> Room 610E, Humphrey Building
> Washington, DC 20201
> Phone: 202/690-6625
> Fax: 202/401-1948
> jafar.karim@hhs.gov
>

From: Wiley, Ladd (HHS/OS) <Ladd.Wiley@hhs.gov>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/17/2003 11:27:52 AM
Subject: : RE: FW: 60+ Request

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Wiley, Ladd (HHS/OS)" <Ladd.Wiley@hhs.gov> ("Wiley, Ladd (HHS/OS)" <Ladd.Wiley@hhs.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-APR-2003 15:27:52.00
SUBJECT:: RE: FW: 60+ Request
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Yes it is a fundraiser for the 60+ organization, but not a political fundraiser.

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Thursday, April 17, 2003 3:25 PM
To: Wiley, Ladd (HHS/OS)
Subject: Re: FW: 60+ Request

quick q: Is the event a fundraiser?

(Embedded image moved "Wiley, Ladd (HHS/OS)" <Ladd.Wiley@hhs.gov>
to file: 04/17/2003 03:17:31 PM
pic12062.pcx)

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject: FW: 60+ Request

Brett,

The organization 60+ is a 501(c)(4), which has been supportive of administration policies in the past. They would like Secretary Thompson to headline a speech in his official capacity. Normally, we would just approve
it as an official event.

I just wanted to make sure that 501(c)(4) weren't impacted by the McCain
Feingold law. Any ideas or anyone to whom you could refer me?

> -----Original Message-----
> From: Wood, Robert (HHS/OS)
> Sent: Wednesday, April 09, 2003 10:05 AM

> To: Karim, Jafar (HHS/OS); Wiley, Ladd (HHS/OS)
> Subject: RE: 60+ Request
>
> lets discuss.
>
> -----Original Message-----
> From: Karim, Jafar (HHS/OS)
> Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2003 5:07 PM
> To: Wood, Robert (HHS/OS)
> Cc: Schofield, Regina (HHS/OS)
> Subject: FW: 60+ Request
>
> Bob:
>
> I'm redirecting this inquiry to you per Laura's suggestion. Bob Martin > has called a couple of times to see if TGT could keynote an event > described below. I know this is a way off, but the WH is asking if we > could agree to do this. Bob is hoping for a date ASAP. They have a > number of groups that are going to help sponsor the event, they just need > a headliner. Please let me know if you have any questions about this. I > can run the legal traps. For numerous reasons, I think this is worth > considering as a priority. Feel free to let me know if you'd like to > discuss. Thanks.
>
> - Jaf
>
> -----Original Message-----
> From: Karim, Jafar (HHS/OS)
> Sent: Tuesday, March 25, 2003 2:29 PM
> To: Lawlor, Laura (HHS/OS)
> Cc: Schofield, Regina (HHS/OS)
> Subject: 60+ Request
>
> Laura:
>
> Getting back to you on the request of 60 Plus to have the Secretary as a > keynote speaker for a fundraiser they would like to hold in the coming > months. Jim Martin, the group's executive director, indicated that the > date is not yet certain. Regina advised, however, that we decide > internally whether the the Secretary would make this a priority should
the > dates all work out. I'd be happy to discuss in detail some of the factors
> to consider in determining the importance of this event. Below are some > factors for your consideration.
>
> What: 60 Plus fundraiser; two-tiered event w/
> reception & photo op, then remarks to the group during a dinner
> Where: TBD, but the organization seeks a Hill
> location such as the Washington Court Hotel (on the Senate side)
> Date Options: June 3, 4, 5, 10, 11, 12
>
> Other Facts:
>
> * 60+ organized as a 501(c)4, a not-for-profit association, allowing > it to conduct issue advocacy but not candidate endorsements.
>
> * Fundraiser: never had a fundraiser before; will get House and > Senate members to attend; a member of the Admin was going to do last year,
> but scheduling conflicts prevented that from happening.
>
> * Roger Zion, a 4 term house member from IN and a UW graduate is the > organization's president; according to Jim, he and TGT have met and got > along well.
>
> * The group is keen on promoting the preventive health care message.
>

> * Want TGT to headline; they are seeking Karl Rove as a "special > guest"; reception beforehand.
>
> * The organization has approximately 25,000 members.
>
> Please let mek know if you have any thoughts or questions. Thanks.
>
> - Jafar
>
> Jafar Karim
> Office of White House Liaison
> US Department of Health and Human Services
> 200 Independence Avenue, SW
> Room 610E, Humphrey Building
> Washington, DC 20201
> Phone: 202/690-6625
> Fax: 202/401-1948
> jafar.karim@hhs.gov
>

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Lefkowitz, Jay P.>
Sent: 4/17/2003 3:32:42 PM
Subject: RE: airline issue

Case has been argued in CA10, so not much that can be done for now. They appear to think the legal theory being advanced by DOJ in the appeal is appropriate and legitimate in light of law and facts even if they may have made a different decision at the time of filing suit.

From: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange on 04/15/2003 11:35:44 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: RE: airline issue

Thanks

Not really pushing, but would like to understand better real sentiments over there.

-----Original Message-----

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.

Sent: Tuesday, April 15, 2003 11:34 AM

To: Lefkowitz, Jay P.

Subject: RE: airline issue

On 1, agree. In some ways, that would be helpful in clarifying the law and helping deter excess. On 2, that sentiment was not conveyed to me, but may well be accurate. I will have another conversation on this.

From: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange on 04/15/2003 11:17:15 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: RE: airline issue

Want to bet on the appellate outcome?

I think the prevailing view there is that we wouldn't actually have brought the case in the first place but that we don't want to walk away now. That may be the right answer from a communications perspective, but I just wonder if it's the right policy?

-----Original Message-----

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.

Sent: Tuesday, April 15, 2003 11:10 AM

To: Lefkowitz, Jay P.

Subject: Re: airline issue

yes, I talked to Paul last week and that was my conclusion. I was told that the policy justification was that this was a relatively straight predatory pricing claim where the law and facts supported the claim and DOJ was not inclined to walk away from it in deciding whether to appeal.

From: Jay P. Lefkowitz/OPD/EOP@Exchange on 04/15/2003 10:57:22 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: airline issue

Did we learn anything more about Joel Klein's predatory pricing appeal?

I know Hew thinks it's past the point of no return.

From: CN=Jess Sharp/OU=OPD/O=EOP [OPD]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/17/2003 11:32:44 AM
Subject: : Re: bankruptcy

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Jess Sharp (CN=Jess Sharp/OU=OPD/O=EOP [OPD])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-APR-2003 15:32:44.00
SUBJECT:: Re: bankruptcy
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

We're looking into this as part of our effort to understand possible impediments to the health of the industry. I just need an understanding of how airline collective bargaining contracts are protected under bankruptcy law. My understanding is that pre-1984, labor contracts were the same as any other contract once an airline went into bankruptcy. They could be abrogated or rewritten by the company fairly easily. Since 1984 the labor contracts have been treated differently. Airlines must go to the bankruptcy judge to amend its contracts and 20 years of case law governs the judges ability to approve those amendments.
Does this restriction - that I think is a carve out for airline unions - seem to unnecessarily hamper their ability to cut labor costs in bankruptcy. Are their barriers to liquidation - could a bankruptcy judge force an airline to stay in business because of "public interest" even though its viability is in question? Do airlines emerge too weak because of the interference or rulings of bankruptcy judges? These are very subjective obviously, but could probably be explored if I had a better understanding of where the pressure points are in an airline bankruptcy.

Thanks a lot Brett.

Jess

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/17/2003 03:06:17 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Jess Sharp/OPD/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

I can dig into this. What do you need to know?

Jess Sharp
04/16/2003 03:49:21 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:

Subject: bankruptcy

I'm digging around for as much info as I can on bankruptcy law as it pertains to airlines. Are you the man to talk to? I know you've been in some of our airline meetings, but I didn't know if your angle was only anti trust. Thanks Brett.

Jess

From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
To: <Ullyot, Theodore W.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Brosnahan, Jennifer R.>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>
Sent: 4/17/2003 3:46:44 PM
Subject: FW: Radar Update for Week of April 21
Attachments: Radar Update 4-21.doc

-----Original Message-----

From: Vargas, Veronica

Sent: Thursday, April 17, 2003 3:44 PM

To: Graham, John; Noe, Paul R.; Anderson, David R.; Besanceney, Brian R.; Bumatay, Patrick J.; Burgeson, Christine M.; Clark, Alicia P.; Conda, Cesar; Cooney, Phil; Daniels, Mitchell; DeFrancis, Suzy; Dorn, Nancy; Dove, Stephen W.; Duffy, Trent D.; Goldman, Adam B.; Hennessey, Keith; Ingle, Edward; Joseffer, Daryl L.; Kaplan, Joel; Lawlor, Laura S.; Luczynski, Kimberley S.; Lundberg, Stephanie J.; MacHida, Ado A.; Murphy, Daniel J.; Oxford, John; Parell, Christie; Pelletier, Eric C.; Perry, Philip J.; Rossman, Elizabeth L.; Schlapp, Matthew A.; Silverberg, Kristen; Stolpe, Elizabeth A.; Swagel, Phillip L.; Toth, Michael C.; Troy, Tevi; Waters, James A.; Wood, John F.; Weaver, Bessie M.

Cc: Arbuckle, Donald R.; Allen, Bryon P.

Subject: Radar Update for Week of April 21

<>

Rules Likely to be Cleared, Withdrawn or Returned during the Week of April 21

*USDA-FSA	FINAL RULE. Bioenergy Program; 2002 Farm Bill Regulations
*USDA-FSA	FINAL RULE. Conservation Reserve Program; 2002 Farm Bill Regulations
USDA-APHIS	PROPOSED RULE. Importation of Solid Wood Packing Material
USDA-FNS	PROPOSED RULE. Vehicle and Maximum Excess Shelter Expense Deduction Provisions of the Agriculture, Rural Development, Food & Drug Administration and Related Agencies Appropriations Act of 2001
ED-OSERS	NOTICE. Disability and Rehabilitation Research Projects
ED-OSERS	NOTICE. Improving Information on Disability in Media, Disability and Rehabilitation Research projects Program
ED-OSERS	NOTICE. National Institute on Disability and Rehabilitation Research Projects
ED-OSERS	NOTICE. Rehabilitation Research Training Center
ED-OSERS	NOTICE. Technical Assistance Resource Center on Parenting with a Disability, Disability and Rehabilitation research Projects Program
*HHS-CMS	PROPOSED RULE. Inpatient Rehabilitation Prospective Payment System
*HHS-CMS	PROPOSED RULE. Skilled Nursing Facilities Prospective Payment System
*HHS-FDA	PROPOSED RULE. Establishment and Maintenance of Records Under the Public Health Security and Bioterrorism Preparedness and Response Act of 2002
HHS-ACF	FINAL RULE. Child Support Enforcement Program; State Plan Approval and Grant Procedures, State Plan Requirements, Standards for Program Operations, Federal Financial Participation
HHS-CMS	INTERIM FINAL RULE. State High Risk Pool Grant Program

* Probable Media Interest

*DHS-TSA	INTERIM FINAL RULE. Security Threat Assessment for Individuals Applying for a Hazardous Materials Endorsement for a Commercial Drivers License
*HUD-OH	NOTICE. Non-Proprietary Data Submitted by the Federal National Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae) and the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (Freddie Mac)
HUD-OH	INTERIM FINAL RULE. Distribution of Tax Credit Proceeds
HUD-PIH	INTERIM FINAL RULE. Minimum Funding Under the Indian Housing Block Grant Program
HUD-PIH	NOTICE. Public Housing Assessment System; Introduction to PHA Grading
HUD-PIH	NOTICE. Public Housing Assessment System; Financial Condition Grading Process
HUD-PIH	NOTICE. Public housing Assessment System; Management Operation Grading Process
HUD-PIH	NOTICE. Public Housing Assessment System; Resident Services and Satisfaction Grading Process
HUD-PIH	NOTICE. Public housing Assessment System; Physical Condition Grading Process
DOI-FWS	PROPOSED RULE. Migratory Bird Hunting; Proposed 2003-04 Migratory Game Bird Hunting Regulations with Requests for Indian Tribal Proposals
*DOL-OSHA	INTERIM FINAL RULE. Procedures of handling Discrimination Complaints Under the Corporate and Criminal Fraud Accountability Act, Title VIII of Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002
*DOT-FMCSA	INTERIM FINAL RULE. Limitations on the Issuance of Commercial Driver's Licenses with a Hazardous Materials Endorsement
DOT-FAA	FINAL RULE. Certification of Airports
DOT-FAA	PROPOSED RULE. False and Misleading Statements Regarding Aircraft Products, Parts, and Materials

REV_00114898

DOT-FAA	PROPOSED RULE. Training in the Recognition of hazardous Material
VA	PROPOSED RULE. National Cemetery Administration; State Cemetery Grants Program
*EPA	NOTICE. 6-year Review of Existing National Primary Drinking Water Regulations Standards
OPM	INTERIM FINAL RULE. Excepted Service—Temporary Organizations
*PBGC	PROPOSED RULE. Benefits Payable in Terminate Single-Employer Plans; Limitations on Guaranteed Benefits
SSA	FINAL RULE. Claimant Identification Pilot Projects
SSA	PRERULE. Revised Medical Criteria for Evaluating Immune System Disorders

REV_00114899

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Addington, David S.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/17/2003 4:47:25 PM
Subject:

Judges Question Bid to Stop Cheney Suit

By PETE YOST
The Associated Press
Thursday, April 17, 2003; 4:33 PM

WASHINGTON - The Bush administration ran into strong opposition in federal appeals court Thursday as government lawyers tried to stop a lawsuit delving into Vice President Dick Cheney's contacts with energy industry executives and lobbyists.

Appeals judges Harry Edwards and David Tatel suggested the White House had no legal basis for asking them to block a lower court judge from letting the case proceed.

"You have no authority" to ask the appeals court to intervene, Edwards told a government attorney during arguments. He added later, "You have no case."

The appeals judges gave no indication when they would issue a ruling. The Bush administration has taken the unusual step of coming to the appeals court in the midst of the case.

Federal agencies have disclosed 39,000 pages of internal documents related to the work of Cheney's energy task force, but the Cheney task force itself has produced nothing, claiming the need for confidential advice to the president from his top advisers.

U.S. District Judge Emmet Sullivan has ruled that the Sierra Club and Judicial Watch may be entitled to a limited amount of information about the meetings that Cheney and his aides had with the energy industry in formulating the White House's energy plan.

The plan, adopted four months after President Bush took office, favored opening up public lands to oil and gas drilling and a wide range of other steps backed by industry.

The task force has acknowledged that one of the executives it met with was former Enron Corp. chairman Kenneth Lay.

Edwards, a Carter-era appointee, and Tatel, an appointee of President Clinton, said the administration has failed to show that it is suffering legal harm at the hands of the lower court.

The third member of the panel, Appeals Judge A. Raymond Randolph, expressed doubt that the Cheney task force is required under the law to disclose information about its inner workings. However, Randolph, an appointee of Bush's father, questioned whether the administration should be seeking appeals court intervention.

Tatel and Edwards pressed the government on why it hadn't sought to narrow the scope of information requests rather than simply trying to block them altogether.

The government's position is that the current record in the case is sufficient.

The Bush administration says it has demonstrated that the makeup of the Cheney task force was limited to government officials. But the groups that are suing allege that participants from industry effectively became members of Cheney's task force in assembling the White House's energy policy.

© 2003 The Associated Press

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/17/2003 1:58:07 PM
Subject: : White House Global Messenger - 4/18/03
Attachments: P_XZSPF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-APR-2003 17:58:07.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger - 4/18/03
TO:Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications (CN=Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 4-18-03 FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Friday, April 18, 2003

KEY POINTS***

*The world is witnessing historic days in the cause of freedom. Our work is not done and the difficulties have not passed, but the regime of Saddam Hussein has passed into history.

Military Update

*Coalition forces continue to secure population centers in Iraq and to respond to the needs of the Iraqi people.

*The Coalition is working with local leaders to restore public works and rebuild Iraqi infrastructure.

Humanitarian Update

*The World Food Program continues operations in Iraq, and core staff in Baghdad have returned to work.

*Since March 31, WFP has delivered a total of 3,548 metric tons of wheat flour and 77 metric tons of dried milk to northern Iraq.

*On April 16, a 50 truck convoy carrying over 1,400 tons of food left Amman, Jordan for Baghdad. In the Northern governorates, WFP has provided food to approximately 384,000 people since April 6.

Reconstruction

*We are transitioning to the stabilization and rebuilding of Iraq. Britain and Poland have agreed to command multinational divisions for stabilization in Iraq, and we are working with a number of other countries that have expressed interest in contributing.

*The water supply and electricity are priorities right now in places where service is disrupted. Before the war, many areas did not have a consistent and reliable supply of safe water or electricity, and many areas did not have adequate sanitation.

*Rebuilding is a major task. The neglect and devastation by two decades of rule by Saddam Hussein and his henchmen did far more damage to Iraq than the war.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE***
All Times Eastern Daylight. Subject to Change

7:00am CentCom Operations Update

THIRTEEN POINTS OF FREEDOM***
On Tuesday, April 15, an historic gathering occurred in the city of An Nasiriyah, where Iraqis met openly and freely to discuss the future of their country. Many more of these meetings will take place in the weeks and months to come. Out of that meeting came this 13-point statement:

1.Iraq must be democratic.

2.The future government of Iraq should not be based on communal identity.

3.A future government should be organized as a democratic federal system, but on the basis of countrywide consultation.

4.The rule of law must be paramount.

5.Iraq must be built on respect for diversity, including respect for the role of women.

6.The meeting discussed the role of religion in state and society.

7.The meeting discussed the principle that Iraqis must choose their leaders, not have them imposed from outside.

8.Political violence must be rejected, and Iraqis must immediately organize themselves for the task of reconstruction at both the local and national levels.

9.Iraqis and the Coalition must work together to tackle the immediate issues of restoring security and basic services.

10.The Ba'ath party must be dissolved and its effects on society must be eliminated.

11.There should be an open dialogue with all national political groups to bring them into the process.

12.The meeting condemns the looting that has taken place and the destruction of documents.

13.The Iraqi participation voted that there should be another meeting in ten days, in a location to be determined, with additional Iraqi participants, and to discuss procedures for developing an Iraqi Interim Authority.

LIBERATION UPDATE***
The voices of freedom, now heard across Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom,
visit "Liberation Update" at:
http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

"We need a natural life, a democratic life, like in any other country...when I came into Baghdad, I saw the ruins, but I also saw something else: freedom. We can be free."
Asad Quasi, a militia member, Washington Post, 4-17-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications
For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****

You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere.
- GM 4-18-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_XZSPF003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Friday, April 18, 2003

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

All Times Eastern Daylight. Subject to Change

7:00 am CentCom Operations Update

THIRTEEN POINTS OF FREEDOM

On Tuesday, April 15, an historic gathering occurred in the city of An Nasiriyah, where Iraqis met openly and freely to discuss the future of their country. Many more of these meetings will take place in the weeks and months to come. Out of that meeting came this 13-point statement:

1. Iraq must be democratic.
2. The future government of Iraq should not be based on communal identity.
3. A future government should be organized as a democratic federal system, but on the basis of countrywide consultation.
4. The rule of law must be paramount.
5. Iraq must be built on respect for diversity, including respect for the role of women.
6. The meeting discussed the role of religion in state and society.
7. The meeting discussed the principle that Iraqis must choose their leaders, not have them imposed from outside.
8. Political violence must be rejected, and Iraqis must immediately organize themselves for the task of reconstruction at both the local and national levels.
9. Iraqis and the Coalition must work together to tackle the immediate issues of restoring security and basic services.
10. The Ba'ath party must be dissolved and its effects on society must be eliminated.
11. There should be an open dialogue with all national political groups to bring them into the process.
12. The meeting condemns the looting that has taken place and the destruction of documents.
13. The Iraqi participation voted that there should be another meeting in ten days, in a location to be determined, with additional Iraqi participants, and to discuss procedures for developing an Iraqi Interim Authority.

KEY POINTS

- The world is witnessing historic days in the cause of freedom. Our work is not done and the difficulties have not passed, but the regime of Saddam Hussein has passed into history.

Military Update

- Coalition forces continue to secure population centers in Iraq and to respond to the needs of the Iraqi people.
- The Coalition is working with local leaders to restore public works and rebuild Iraqi infrastructure.

Humanitarian Update

- The World Food Program continues operations in Iraq, and core staff in Baghdad have returned to work.
- Since March 31, WFP has delivered a total of 3,548 metric tons of wheat flour and 77 metric tons of dried milk to northern Iraq to assist approximately 384,000 Iraqis.
- On April 16, a 50 truck convoy carrying over 1,400 tons of food left Amman, Jordan for Baghdad. In the Northern governorates, WFP has provided food to approximately 384,000 people since April 6.

Reconstruction

- We are transitioning to the stabilization and rebuilding of Iraq. Britain and Poland have agreed to command multinational divisions for stabilization in Iraq, and we are working with a number of other countries that have expressed interest in contributing.
- The water supply and electricity are priorities right now in places where service is disrupted. Before the war, many areas did not have a consistent and reliable supply of safe water or electricity, and many areas did not have adequate sanitation.
- Rebuilding is a major task. The neglect and devastation by two decades of rule by Saddam Hussein and his henchmen did far more damage to Iraq than the war.

LIBERATION UPDATE

The voices of freedom, now heard across Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom,
visit "Liberation Update" at:
http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

"We need a natural life, a democratic life, like in any other country…when I came into Baghdad, I saw the ruins, but I also saw something else: freedom. We can be free."
Asad Quasi, a militia member, Washington Post, 4-17-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications

For more information log on to www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

REV_00114920

From: Litkenhaus, Colleen
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/17/2003 7:07:05 PM
Subject: RE: 2 issues

1. We haven't decided how to resolve the Ellipse parking problem. I am still wondering if it is an option to section off some of the Ellipse for WH parkers. Could potentially be 150 parkers.

2. The IRS issue had to do with the Travel Office and the Press. I'll ask Eric Terrell about it again on Monday.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Thursday, April 17, 2003 5:50 PM
To: Litkenhaus, Colleen
Subject: 2 issues

1. Parking: Interior tells me that Anne Bowman Smith has been helping on this and that it is all but resolved. Is that accurate?

2. Greenstone does not think there are any action items now on the IRS issue. (Does this relate to parking and W2's?) If you disagree, let me know.

From: CN=Colleen Litkenhaus/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/17/2003 3:07:32 PM
Subject: : RE: 2 issues

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Colleen Litkenhaus (CN=Colleen Litkenhaus/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:17-APR-2003 19:07:32.00
SUBJECT:: RE: 2 issues
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

1. We haven't decided how to resolve the Ellipse parking problem. I am still wondering if it is an option to section off some of the Ellipse for WH parkers. Could potentially be 150 parkers.

2. The IRS issue had to do with the Travel Office and the Press. I'll ask Eric Terrell about it again on Monday.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Thursday, April 17, 2003 5:50 PM
To: Litkenhaus, Colleen
Subject: 2 issues

1. Parking: Interior tells me that Anne Bowman Smith has been helping on this and that it is all but resolved. Is that accurate?
2. Greenstone does not think there are any action items now on the IRS issue. (Does this relate to parking and W2's?) If you disagree, let me know.

From: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/17/2003 7:10:14 PM
Subject: Re: tort issues

At which mtg?
.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: Lefkowitz, Jay P.
Sent: Thu Apr 17 18:55:15 2003
Subject: tort issues

seems to me that we may need also to discuss fda preemption/better way either at this meeting or at some other time.

From: CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/18/2003 6:00:53 AM
Subject: : US CentCom Briefing 04/18/03

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brian Bravo (CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:18-APR-2003 10:00:53.00
SUBJECT:: US CentCom Briefing 04/18/03
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

UNITED STATES CENTRAL COMMAND DAILY OPERATIONAL UPDATE BRIEFING
BRIEFER: BRIGADIER GENERAL VINCENT BROOKS, CENTCOM DEPUTY DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS

DOHA, QATAR
7:05 A.M. EDT, FRIDAY, APRIL 18, 2003

;

GEN. BROOKS: (In progress) -- by patrolling to maintain presence and security in selected locations along borders, along key routes and in the vicinity of Baghdad. Coalition forces are interdicting free movement by regime members or paramilitary elements. Special operations forces continued their efforts to stabilize northern Iraq and western Iraq, while also conducting direct-action missions when appropriate.

;;;;;; Last night, coalition special operations forces captured another key member of the regime. Samir Abd al-Aziz al-Najim, one of the top- 55 leaders of the regime, was handed over to coalition forces by Iraqi Kurds near Mosul in northern Iraq. He was a Ba'ath Party official, a regional command chairman for the Baghdad district, and is believed to have first-hand knowledge of the Ba'ath Party central structure. The coalition is pursuing other regime leaders.

;;;;;; Coalition maneuver forces adjusted their unit locations outside Baghdad and continued presence patrols in the other cities as well to increase security.

;;;;;; Fourth Infantry Division encountered paramilitary resistance as they continued their move north between Taji and Samarrah, along that route. In the engagement, the coalition destroyed eight technical vehicles and captured over 30 enemy prisoners.

;;;;;; As security improves throughout the country, efforts to restore function to utilities and to accurately assess assistance requirements continue. Routing activities of life were seen in more places, as this recent photo shows. (Audio break.) You can see the presence of fruit stands on the side of the road, something that hadn't been seen for some time.

;;;;;; There are still many challenges ahead. Power remains at the core of many issues confronting the coalition as well as the Iraqi people. Progress is being made daily, however. In Hadithah, near the Hadithah dam, through the efforts of coalition special operations forces and the local population, power has been restored to the surrounding community. In the northern towns of Irbil, Dohuk, Sulimaniyah, there is sufficient fuel on hand to run electric powerplants for over 40 days.

;;;;;; Returning full power to Baghdad will require more electrical managers and technicians to come back to work. Three days ago, Brigadier General Steven Hawkins and members of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, having formed a team to focus on the efforts of power restoration, began assessments of several powerplants in Baghdad. The team met with power board members and technicians, encouraging them to return to work and to restore power to the people of Baghdad. In this photo, they're speaking with the chief engineer of the rehabilitation department at one of the powerplants. As of today, in Baghdad, six diesel-operated plants are online and generating power, and the south Baghdad powerplant has resumed operations.

;;;;;; The coalition remains focused also on assisting medical care in Baghdad as well as in other areas. In some cases, this focus involves redistributing captured medical supplies, as this image shows. In other cases, it involves facilitating the delivery of supplies donated from other countries or from humanitarian organizations. What you see in this image are members of the 30th Medical Brigade meeting with Iraqi physicians to determine what medical supplies are needed at a children's hospital in Baghdad.

;;;;;; Medical supplies will also be delivered to two hospitals in An Nasiriyah, the women and children's hospital on the south side of the city and also the formerly known Saddam Hospital on the north side of the city. And this is the location of Private Jessica Lynch's rescue. And this delivery will occur within the next few days.

;;;;;; I would add that there are site surveys that have been conducted by Jordanian and Saudi Arabian medical teams that have occurred over the last several days, and more humanitarian supplies and medical supplies are flowing in all the time. Qatari positions that I mentioned a few days ago, and their 12 palates of medical supplies have also arrived at the Medical City Hospital in Baghdad. And also initial efforts to restore operations at the 1,000-bed Yarmuk (ph) Hospital, the primary hospital in Baghdad, were successful. Patients there are being treated and the staff is beginning to return in increasing numbers. Hospitals throughout Iraq are also improving in their readiness to provide health care to the Iraqi people.

;;;;;; Coalition teams are also active in discussions with emerging leaders throughout Baghdad and other areas. (Image is shown.) This image shows discussions that occurred recently at a coalition civil- military operations center in Baghdad. The meeting covered a number of topics, including getting some of the former police back to work and even discussions of what uniforms these former policemen might wear to distinguish them as a new police force.

;;;;;; Meetings like these are ongoing daily and they identify interim public-service employees for Baghdad and other cities.

;;;;;; We find that expressions of gratitude and relief from the Iraqi people are commonplace. Beyond the waves that we see and the shouts of thanks and the thumbs-up gestures, there are also sincere expressions of thanks, like this gentleman's response to coalition efforts. (Image is shown.) And the coalition will continue its efforts to rapidly return Iraq to the Iraqi people.

;;;;;; With that, ladies and gentlemen, I'll take your questions.

;;;;;; Yes, please.

;;;;;; Q Tom Worden (sp) from the Sun newspaper in London. Could you tell us what condition the four men in custody from the 55 most wanted list are being kept? The size of the cell, for example, where about they're being kept.

;;;;;; And second, the reports today that Barzan is cooperating with his questioners. Can you tell us what sort of information he's giving you?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: It's really too early for me to talk in specific terms about any information we're gaining. Let me just say this. When we take someone into our custody, we have a responsibility to maintain their safety and their welfare. And that responsibility is taken by whoever their captors are at a given time.

;;;;;; They're not necessarily all moved to the same place. In some cases they're kept in local areas. In some cases they're moved to other coalition facilities. And it's important that we keep those locations not disclosed.

;;;;;; And so that's what's ongoing right now. As to cooperation or not, this is the process of gathering information that will subsequently be acted on, and I'm simply not going to characterize what information we're getting.

;;;;;; From all those that we have access to, we seek information. Some are more cooperative than others. Some provide useful information that leads to the arrest of regime leaders. In some cases we're led to sites that may have suspicious activity. In some cases we're led to where documents and papers can be found that give us yet more information.

;;;;;; So that's really the process. These key leaders from the top 55 are a part of that, and certainly they have a higher focus for us because of the nature of the information that they might possess.

;;;;;; Yes, please.

;;;;;; Q Michael Weiskopf from Time Magazine. The site that was bombed a week ago Monday, where you thought Saddam might be hiding, has that site been excavated? Or can you describe what efforts have been made to discover remains, if any?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: I believe you're referring to the site in the Mansur district. That site was attacked. We've had some initial surveys to go to that location. There's still work that's ongoing. But there's a considerable amount of destruction at that location, and it will take a considerable amount of time to completely clear it and others that are like it that require deeper examination.

;;;;;; That's a process that will take time. But there is time to do that, and it will be done deliberately with the teams that have the right information, the right materials and the right capabilities to do a much further examination. Some of the areas around it have been checked.

;;;;;; There are no initial indications. We don't have any remains that have been identified at this point. But our efforts are ongoing to find all that we can about that, and also to get information from others who may have had knowledge as to what may have happened that night during the strike. Those efforts continue.

;;;;;; In the back, please.

;;;;;; Q General, David Schuster (sp) from NBC News. Yesterday Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld said that Iraqis would be needed to find weapons of mass destruction. I wonder if you can help us and help the Iraqis by telling us what form were the weapons of mass destruction?

;;;;;; What was the intelligence before the war? Were these biological and chemical weapons loaded on missiles already? Were they promised? Were they in a raw form? And given that the war is near the end, I wonder if you might be able to share a little more information about this. Thank you.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Okay. Well, really, we're at the beginning of that part of the campaign. And that's the process of being able to do very deliberate work to find the weapons of mass destruction and to uncover the full scope of the weapons-of-mass-destruction program. We remain convinced that there are weapons of mass destruction inside of Iraq.

;;;;;; We know that there was a deliberate campaign of denial and deception that lasted for a long time, over a decade, to hide these things from public view, to hide them from inspectors that had been sanctioned by the United Nations and put into Iraq to find the weapons of mass destruction in a cooperative way. That cooperation never occurred. This is all history that led to the beginning of this conflict and the use of military force.

;;;;;; At this point in time we know that there are delivery systems that are capable of delivering, and those -- some have been encountered. Some have been destroyed on the battlefield. We know that there are other indicators, like the atropine injectors and combo pins that would be used to protect someone who has been exposed to chemical agents.

;;;;;; We have information about testing programs and development programs. And this is really where we need the assistance of the Iraqi population and regime leaders that might have some knowledge. And as time goes on and we get more access to individuals and more access to information, we get pointed in new directions. Each direction that comes, though, requires detailed examination. And that kind of work is ongoing.

;;;;;; I mentioned yesterday that it's very much like putting together pieces of a puzzle. In this case you also have to find the pieces of the puzzle and then put them into proper relationship with other pieces that are there.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- there before the war started?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: I think there's a pretty well-known history on what the views of the coalition nations were on the types of things that have been developed by Iraq, what types of things were intended to be developed, how there might be a nexus that joined the development of programs with terrorist organizations. We've certainly seen the presence of terrorist organizations here in Iraq since the war began.

;;;;;; I'd really like to leave it like that. Our capitals can go back and give you more details on what caused them to send us here in the first place. But the more important part for the coalition is to continue the efforts that we're really only beginning, to try to find where they might be located and who has information on those things.

;;;;;; Please.

;;;;;; Q I've got two questions. First of all, can you tell us a bit more about this man that was handed over by the Kurds? Who he is? Is he on the list? I didn't quite understand if he was on the top 55. If so, where?

;;;;;; And secondly, we've heard from people in Baghdad that the Marines are kind of moving out and leaving the way a bit for the Army. What's the significance of that for how the campaign stands in Baghdad?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: The man who was captured yesterday and turned over to us by Kurds is, in fact, one of the top 55 leaders. He's been positively identified as such. And he is now in coalition control.

;;;;;; The relocations of forces on the battlefield are more to set the conditions that are necessary to expand the security and stability throughout more and more of the country. We have the arrival of additional forces and we now are able to consolidate some of the forces on the battlefield, like the First Marine Expeditionary Force, and assign them to an area where they can do more detailed work in establishing conditions of security and stability.

;;;;;; Now, the arrival of the Fourth Infantry Division in this case and their movement to the north makes it possible to change some of that set. And so this is also part of the plan for the transition from decisive combat operations into stability operations from the beginning as to who would be located where when we had the adequate force to cover the entire battlefield.

;;;;;; That's what's ongoing right now. It's deliberate work. It will take a number of days to do that. Each one of these is done as what we refer to as a relief in place. And so one unit arrives to take over from one in place, and then it can move to its next destination. And there may be subsequent relief at the location they're going to.

;;;;;; There's no moving off the battlefield unless there's a deliberate reason to consider it cleared and no longer needing a presence of coalition forces. That work is ongoing.

;;;;;; Chas, please.

;;;;;; Q General, Chas Henry, WTOP Radio. Has the Central Command overseen or validated any sort of election process installing municipal leaders in Baghdad? And are the associates of Ahmed Chalabi, who now say they're involved in an interim government in the capital city, part of the process that began a few days ago in Ur?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, I can certainly say that there's been no electoral process that has been overseen by the coalition at this point in time. It's still far too early for that.

;;;;;; There are some local organizing activities that are happening in a variety of places, and these are small towns that are identifying mayors and city councils to begin to get organized internally.

;;;;;; There's been no one designated as the mayor of Baghdad or anything of that nature at this point in time.

;;;;;; Certainly there are a number of leaders that are emerging, and all of them have a voice. They'll be considered. That's why the meeting a few days ago near Ur was so important. It was to begin getting leaders exposed to one another and to get the issues that are at hand for the Iraqi people exposed and discussed.

;;;;;; The coalition and our nations facilitated that process, and we'll facilitate additional meetings as time goes on in the future. But it's far too early to talk about electoral processes; something that will certainly come in due time.

;;;;;; Mimi, please.

;;;;;; Q Thank you, General. Mimi Spilane (ph), CBS News. Two things: Can you tell us more about the responsibilities you think of the capture that you just announced? And the shallow graves -- there's a report of a massive shallow grave by Kirkuk and a few others. Any idea of they're related to this conflict or if they were old? Any information? Thank you.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: We do have some indications that there are some shallow graves that may have been found in the north. Those graves have to be examined before we can tell exactly what the circumstances are, how long they may have been there.

;;;;;; There are concerned that it may be people from the population in that area. And who has responsibility for that can only be determined after we determine who is, in fact, in those grave sites. That work will be done with Iraqis, certainly, to get it done in an appropriate way, and has not occurred at this point in time. It will occur in coming days.

;;;;;; As to the responsibilities you referred to on the capture, I'm not sure what you mean, but we certainly have a responsibility to those we've captured. And we know that there are some who we capture that have responsibilities for the types of deeds that have occurred.

;;;;;; And there may be a relationship in this case between the regime and those grave sites. All this will be determined as we find out what information we can from individuals involved, and, more importantly, when we find out information from the population as to what might have occurred.

;;;;;; Q (Off mike.)

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: Well, we know that he certainly has an insight on how the Ba'ath Party central committee worked. He had the Baghdad district and was certainly an insider on that. There are some indications he might have also been posted to the north to take over in the north for some of the military operations. But we don't have confirmation on that. That will be revealed in due time.

;;;;;; And so we think that we have someone here -- all the members of that list of 55 have useful information about the inner workings, the inside of this regime, and, more importantly, some of its actions and decisions that have been taken over time.

;;;;;; That relates to some of the atrocities committed against the population. That relates to weapons of mass destruction. That relates to links to terrorism. All these things we believe we'll find as we find these additional key regime leaders.

;;;;;; Please, Omar.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- Al Jazeera Channel. The resistance that was encountered by the Fourth Infantry Division, was it an ambush or did the division actually run into these guys and there was some kind of a fire fight? And what does this tell you about the level of resistance, the pattern as you've seen it? Is it increasing or is it just about the same? Who were those guys? Were they Iraqis or Arab volunteers?

;;;;;; And the second question, please, is there was a demonstration today after Friday prayers that was shouting things like "No to Saddam" but "No to America" at the same time. Do you envisage any problems from future demonstrations? Do you think that the Iraqi people might slowly turn against your efforts? Thank you.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: The encounter that occurred from Taji to Samarrah, we believe that there were forces there that may have been remnant forces or that may have moved back in, because Marines had already passed through that area. There were some encounters and some fights that occurred at Samarrah, and it was there at Samarrah also that our seven prisoners of war were turned over.

;;;;;; So what we see, I think, is the battlefield changes as time goes on. And it also indicates to us that there are still some elements out there that choose to fight and that still have some of the means to fight.

;;;;;; But these are localized. They are sporadic in nature. They're not organized underneath some over-arching command. They may be small bands of people who still wish to fight.

;;;;;; I don't have any indications at this point that they may have been something other than Iraqis, paramilitaries. I know, by the types of vehicles, the technical vehicles as we described them, that they were not regular forces. And more information will have to be developed in terms of precisely who we have now taken into our custody. I mentioned we have 30 prisoners of war.

;;;;;; The demonstrations -- we think people will have the right to demonstrate in a free Iraq. And we've seen some of those demonstrations already for a variety of reasons. In some cases there will be chants against Saddam. In some cases they are pro-coalition chants. And there may be some that say, "Get the coalition out of here."

;;;;;; What we are aware of is that, first, our efforts are intended to create the conditions for a free and stable Iraq. We have other work that's also going to be ongoing during that time, like work against regime leaders, work against terrorists and the pursuit against weapons of mass destruction.

;;;;;; But our efforts on the humanitarian side are for the Iraqi people. We want the governance of Iraq to be passed over to the Iraqi people as quickly as we can. And we've made a commitment to not stay any longer than it takes to get those key actions completed.

;;;;;; And so while there will be some that want to see a departure of the coalition, some would like to have that so they can try to return power to the way it was. Others may want to do that just to remind us that this is Iraq for the Iraqi people. And we really don't need a reminder on that. We're quite aware of that and we respect that.

;;;;;; So I think, as time goes on, we'll see a variety of opinions expressed. We'll do what we can to remain supportive of the population and helping them on the right path to development.

;;;;;; Yes, please.

;;;;;; Q This is Craig Horton (sp) from Newsday. As you know, there is a gentleman in Baghdad who's claiming he was elected the mayor of Baghdad or designated the mayor of Baghdad by a council of local tribal elders. You seem to say that there is no such person. Can you sort of square this for us? Is Central Command not recognizing this man as a sort of a duly-elected leader? And have you had any sort of official contact with him in this post that he's now claiming for himself?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: As I mentioned, we meet with a number of people that are in a variety of positions out there. And there will be some who may proclaim themselves at certain levels. But until full processes are in place, and indeed, we have a democratic process for making these types of decisions in elections, particularly in a city the size of Baghdad, then, no, that is not a recognized mayor of Baghdad at this point.

;;;;;; It doesn't mean we won't work with him. He is clearly an emerging leader and deserves some attention and deserves our interest. And that will be ongoing as time goes on.

;;;;;; With the Office of Reconstruction and Humanitarian Assistance, there will be a number of engagements with emerging leaders throughout the country to organize processes for good governance.

;;;;;; And that will be ongoing here. It's already begun, and it will certainly pick up in speed as time goes on.

;;;;;; Yes, please.

;;;;;; Q Thank you. Pam Sampson, Associated Press. Are coalition forces looking into media reports that the former Iraqi information minister, Muhammed Saeed Al Sahaf, committed suicide? And, if so, do you have any evidence that might lead you to believe that these reports are true?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: We've heard the media reports but don't have any confirmed military reporting. We're not exerting any unusual activity to try to confirm that. That's one of many reports that come in to us over time.

;;;;;; Our efforts right now are focused on trying to clear out any remaining pockets of the regime, moving into areas where we've not been, establishing the conditions of security to have a stable and free Iraq, while also delivering as much humanitarian aid and focusing the efforts of other organizations to get the job done as quickly as possible.

;;;;;; I'm sure that we'll find additional information from some of the Iraqi people that may have more knowledge as to whether or not this is true. But right now that is not a focus of our efforts.

;;;;;; Kelly, please.

;;;;;; Q Thanks, General. Kelly O'Donnell from NBC. A couple of points, if you'll indulge me. The Mansur site -- doesn't it suggest that if you don't have a continuing presence there that you may not believe Saddam was ever there or his sons were ever there, to have that site left without constant surveillance? That's question one.

;;;;;; Question two: The reports of some biological materials being stolen, samples of diseases and so forth. Any indication that that was organized, or just random looting?

;;;;;; And thirdly, your Australian counterparts are saying today they had a major discovery of MiGs west of Baghdad at an airfield. Can you tell us any more about that?

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: That's a triple there.

;;;;;; Q (Off mike.) It's my last day here. (Laughter.)

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: All right. Okay. It's been a pleasure. The Mansur site had a considerable amount of destruction. And getting through that site and pulling out things is not an easy task for anyone, coalition or anyone else that might have an interest. And so we believe that we've taken the appropriate measures for being able to observe what's there and do some initial assessments, and then we can do much more deliberate work in due time.

;;;;;; Our decisions on striking it were based on information that we believed credible at the time and suitable for that particular attack, as it has been for all of our precision engagements. And so we believe that we had good reason to attack there, that some of the regime leaders we were looking for might have been present at that moment.

;;;;;; What we can't confirm immediately, though, is whether or not it was successful against those particular individuals. And it will take a number of other things to help to try to confirm that -- information from people, and then subsequent examination of the site to look for any remains, to look for any indications that might confirm or deny it one way or another.

;;;;;; There are indications that there may have been some bio-materials that have been taken. And I don't think we know at this point who may have taken it, where they may have gone with it, or whether it was an organized action. There are indications that some of the looting that has occurred is organized at least to the point where people had knowledge of what was located and went to those sites deliberately, whether it's banks, some things inside of the museum. There are some indications that there's knowledge; there's inside effort that's occurring there.

;;;;;; And your third question -- I wrote a note and lost my note here.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- significant find of MiGs today.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: We've seen efforts throughout this campaign for the Iraqi population to try to hide -- excuse me, the Iraqi regime to try to hide MiGs. We saw some buried. We saw some that were underneath of camouflage that we had not seen at some locations. And as we go to more and more areas, we're going to find additional things.

;;;;;; I mentioned a few days ago that we had observed some MiGs under camouflage at an airfield out in the west. There are some, most likely, that are still out there. This is why it's important that we move into areas that we have not been with physical presence on the ground.

;;;;;; Some things you just need to get your boots on the ground to get a full assessment of. And that effort is ongoing, in addition to other methods that we have to determine what is where. And so I don't have anything specific on that report from the Australians, and I'm sure we'll get more as time goes on.

;;;;;; I think we have time for one more. Yes, please.

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- Agence France Presse. Can you comment on reports that a new team is going -- I think a thousand people are going to Iraq to look for chemical weapons, WMDs, a team that would consist of scientists, military personnel and intelligence agents?

;;;;;; And also a few minutes ago you said that you would recognize Iraqi leaders once they are elected democratically. Does that mean that even though you're letting Iraqis decide what kind of regime they can have, it must be a democratic regime? Thank you.

;;;;;; GEN. BROOKS: We know that there are some former weapons inspectors who have offered their services to come in and assist in the work that's ongoing to find weapons of mass destruction. It's a bit early to decide or to state who will and who will not at this point. We certainly take their offer in due consideration, and we'll make some decisions on them in the coming days.

;;;;;; The processes for determining what a free Iraq will look like in its governance will be a very deliberate processes. We want them to be democratically elected. We want them to be selected by the Iraqi population. We want the Iraqi population to have an opportunity to, in fact, choose them, as opposed to simply having people appointed in place.

;;;;;; We've tried to be very deliberate about that in our own efforts, to not just walk in and put someone in place unless there are temporary measures that need to be exerted at a particular period of time. But for the final standing of different organizations, governance throughout the country, we expect that deliberate process to be undertaken. And that's what the Office of Reconstruction and Humanitarian Assistance will be involved in here over time.

;;;;;; Deliberate actions -- Baghdad is a very important, a very large place, and it has to go well. This is an emerging leader. That's how we're approaching that. There are other emerging leaders as well that deserve due consideration and due time.

;;;;;; Thanks very much, ladies and gentlemen. Have a good day.

END.

;

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Jan E. Williams/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jan E. Williams>;Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>;Katja Bullock/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Katja Bullock>
Sent: 4/18/2003 7:54:47 AM
Subject: : I left substantive vm for Whelan; will keep you posted

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:18-APR-2003 11:54:47.00
SUBJECT:: I left substantive vm for Whelan; will keep you posted
TO:Jan E. Williams ( CN=Jan E. Williams/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Kyle Sampson ( CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Katja Bullock ( CN=Katja Bullock/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Jonathan F. Ganter/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/18/2003 12:32:13 PM
Subject: : Have a good weekend.

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Jonathan F. Ganter ( CN=Jonathan F. Ganter/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:18-APR-2003 16:32:13.00
SUBJECT:: Have a good weekend.
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Brett- The fax to Stern went out. I'm gonna take off now, have a good one. We'll work on the cabinet Monday.

Jon
```

From: Orr, Christopher J.
To: <Snee, Ashley>
CC: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Grubbs, Wendy J.>
Sent: 4/18/2003 1:41:02 PM
Subject: Re: FW: Reuters - In Cyberchat, Bush Aide Says Saddam Likely Dead

Yes, the Judge should do it. The web site should be ready by then. But, we really need to start putting a video together in order to make some news.

From: Ashley Snee/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/17/2003 11:57:58 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Christopher J. Orr/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP, Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@Exchange

Subject: FW: Reuters - In Cyberchat, Bush Aide Says Saddam Likely Dead

I really like the idea of doing a chat with the Judge when Congress reconvenes to talk about our judges. Maybe when we announce it we could also announce/highlight the new section of our website. Do you think it will be all ready to go by then?

Jimmy - how do we move forward? Should I run it up the chain here to get sign off, or how should we proceed?

Next up on "Ask the White House" at www.whitehouse.gov will be Mark Forman, head of the Office of Management and Budget's e-government initiatives. He will be available to answer questions at 7 p.m. EDT (2300 GMT) on Thursday.

On Tuesday, April 22, Earth Day, EPA Administrator Christine Todd Whitman will be in the hot seat.

-----Original Message-----

From: Bravo, Brian

Sent: Thursday, April 17, 2003 10:40 AM

Subject: Reuters - In Cyberchat, Bush Aide Says Saddam Likely Dead

In Cyberchat, Bush Aide Says Saddam Likely Dead

By Patricia Wilson

CRAWFORD, Texas (Reuters) - At least one senior White House official believes Saddam Hussein is dead

and was not afraid to say so publicly on Wednesday.

In the first of a series of Web chats, one of President Bush's top aides, chief of staff Andrew Card, told Casey from Quincy, Massachusetts, who wanted to know the whereabouts of the Iraqi leader:

"He is not likely to be in Quincy, Braintree or my hometown of Holbrook. I think he's dead."

A senior U.S. official said later the United States had not reached "any final conclusion at this point" and that he was unaware of any evidence confirming that the deposed Iraqi president was alive or dead.

Bush, who is spending a long Easter holiday break at his ranch near Crawford, has said he does not know whether Saddam is dead or alive.

"But the regime of Saddam Hussein has passed into history," he told employees at a Boeing jet fighter plant in St. Louis, Missouri, en route to Texas.

Although Saddam's fate is uncertain, U.S. officials have started leaning slightly toward the view that he is probably dead.

"The good news is that his regime is no longer a threat to the people of Iraq nor to the U.S. or our allies," Card wrote during the 30-minute online discussion titled "Ask the White House" which allows visitors to the official Web site to quiz Bush aides directly.

While many of the questions were about the Iraq war and its aftermath, Rob of Canada asked about the White House culture and learned that life in the executive mansion was not at all similar to the fictional version depicted in the hit NBC television show "The West Wing."

"The WH staff is not like the TV show -- running and bumping into each other all day," Card wrote. "We do our work, enjoy being around each other and love serving this president."

Next up on "Ask the White House" at www.whitehouse.gov will be Mark Forman, head of the Office of Management and Budget's e-government initiatives. He will be available to answer questions at 7 p.m. EDT (2300 GMT) on Thursday.

On Tuesday, April 22, Earth Day, EPA Administrator Christine Todd Whitman will be in the hot seat.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: GaryM Stern <garym.stern@nara.gov>
Sent: 4/18/2003 1:55:22 PM
Subject: : notices

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:18-APR-2003 17:55:22.00
SUBJECT:: notices
TO:GaryM Stern <garym.stern@nara.gov> (GaryM Stern <garym.stern@nara.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Can I confirm that there were no p5 in notice 2003-12, 2003-24, and 2003-25, all Bush Presidential records. Thanks. We should be able to clear these and the others Monday.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Craig.Blackwell@usdoj.gov <Craig.Blackwell@usdoj.gov>
CC: shannen.coffin@usdoj.gov <shannen.coffin@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 4/18/2003 2:07:18 PM
Subject: :

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:18-APR-2003 18:07:18.00
SUBJECT::
TO:"Craig.Blackwell@usdoj.gov" <Craig.Blackwell@usdoj.gov> ("Craig.Blackwell@usdoj.gov" <Craig.Blackwell@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:"shannen.coffin@usdoj.gov" <shannen.coffin@usdoj.gov> ("shannen.coffin@usdoj.gov" <shannen.coffin@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Mintz called. He was fine, but he is out of town and wanted us to send a copy of the filing to him. Let's discuss Monday a.m. and get it done Monday. Thanks for patience.

From: James C. Ho <JamesCHo@stanfordalumni.org>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/19/2003 11:04:33 AM
Subject: : Leahy and Bush 60-day proposal

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"James C. Ho" <JamesCHo@stanfordalumni.org> ("James C. Ho" <JamesCHo@stanfordalumni.org> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:19-APR-2003 15:04:33.00
SUBJECT:: Leahy and Bush 60-day proposal
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

We've talked about how Senator Leahy endorsed then-Governor Bush's 60-day proposal for votes on judicial nominees. We also know that Specter and Miller have each introduced actual Senate resolutions to change the judicial confirmation process. Do you know if Senator Leahy ever introduced a resolution? I thought that you might have said that at one point, but I haven't been able to find it yet. Thanks for any info!

James C. Ho
Chief Counsel
Senate Subcommittee on the Constitution, Civil Rights & Property Rights
Chairman, Senator John Cornyn
(202) 224-9614 (direct line) 901 North Wayne Street #302
(202) 224-2934 (general office line) Arlington, VA 22201
(202) 491-8227 (mobile) <James_Ho@judiciary.senate.gov>
(703) 812-8152 (home)
<JamesCHo@stanfordalumni.org>

From: Daniel.L.Koffsky@usdoj.gov
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/19/2003 1:22:38 PM
Subject: : I looked at my last message . . .

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Daniel.L.Koffsky@usdoj.gov" <Daniel.L.Koffsky@usdoj.gov> (
"Daniel.L.Koffsky@usdoj.gov" <Daniel.L.Koffsky@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:19-APR-2003 17:22:38.00
SUBJECT:: I looked at my last message . . .
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

and wanted to make clear that the precedent for use of a 10-day was an instance of practice, not a judicial decision. --Dan
```

From: Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/21/2003 7:15:41 AM
Subject: : RE: FedSoc on Judicial Noms

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov" <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> (
"Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov" <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 11:15:41.00
SUBJECT:: RE: FedSoc on Judicial Noms
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

385 Russell.

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Monday, April 21, 2003 11:03 AM
To: Benczkowski, Brian A
Subject: RE: FedSoc on Judicial Noms

Where is this thing?

(Embedded
image moved "Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov"
to file: <Brian.A.Benczkowski
pic30092.pcx) 04/17/2003 11:23:38 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject: RE: FedSoc on Judicial Noms

Am sure he will be, but will double check.

Any word on Pickering?

-----Original Message-----
From: Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
[mailto:Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Thursday, April 17, 2003 11:18 AM
To: Benczkowski, Brian A
Subject: Re: FedSoc on Judicial Noms

sure, sounds good; assume Leonard L. ok with that?

(Embedded
image moved "Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov"
to file: <Brian.A.Benczkowski
pic21216.pcx) 04/17/2003 11:17:11 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject: FedSoc on Judicial Noms

Brett-

Viet is scheduled to do a Federalist Society/Capitol Hill chapter talk on
the judicial confirmation crisis on Monday from noon to 1 pm. He wanted to know whether you would accompany him to the talk, and do it in the same manner as the
Hill staff briefing we did in the Mansfield Room a few months ago.

Can you attend?

Brian A. Benczkowski
Staff Director and Senior Counsel
Office of Legal Policy
United States Department of Justice
950 Pennsylvania Ave., NW
Room 4228
Washington, DC 20530
Telephone: (202) 616-2004
Fax: (202) 514-1685
E-mail: Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: James C. Ho <JamesCHo@stanfordalumni.org>
Sent: 4/21/2003 4:48:13 AM
Subject: : Re: Leahy and Bush 60-day proposal

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 08:48:13.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Leahy and Bush 60-day proposal
TO:"James C. Ho" <JamesCHo@stanfordalumni.org> ("James C. Ho" <JamesCHo@stanfordalumni.org> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Yes, I know Leahy introduced a bill/resolution in 1998, I believe . . .

"James C. Ho" <JamesCHo@stanfordalumni.org>
04/19/2003 03:04:05 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Leahy and Bush 60-day proposal

We've talked about how Senator Leahy endorsed then-Governor Bush's 60-day proposal for votes on judicial nominees. We also know that Specter and Miller have each introduced actual Senate resolutions to change the judicial confirmation process. Do you know if Senator Leahy ever introduced a resolution? I thought that you might have said that at one point, but I haven't been able to find it yet. Thanks for any info!

James C. Ho
Chief Counsel
Senate Subcommittee on the Constitution, Civil Rights & Property Rights
Chairman, Senator John Cornyn
(202) 224-9614 (direct line) 901 North Wayne Street #302
(202) 224-2934 (general office line) Arlington, VA 22201
(202) 491-8227 (mobile) <James_Ho@judiciary.senate.gov>
(703) 812-8152 (home)
<JamesCHo@stanfordalumni.org>

From: James C. Ho <JamesCHo@stanfordalumni.org>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/21/2003 5:23:50 AM
Subject: : Re: Leahy and Bush 60-day proposal

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"James C. Ho" <JamesCHo@stanfordalumni.org> ("James C. Ho" <JamesCHo@stanfordalumni.org> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 09:23:50.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Leahy and Bush 60-day proposal
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

1998 -- that's why I didn't find it. I was looking in 2000. I did locate this from 1998, which I assume is the Leahy proposal that you're thinking of:

105th CONGRESS

2d Session

S. 1906
To require the Senate to remain in session to act on judicial nominations in certain circumstances.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

April 2, 1998
Mr. LEAHY introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Rules and Administration

---

A BILL
To require the Senate to remain in session to act on judicial nominations in certain circumstances.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the `Judicial Emergency Responsibility Act of 1998'.

SEC. 2. RESPONSIBILITY OF THE SENATE DURING A JUDICIAL EMERGENCY.

Section 46 of title 28, United States Code, is amended by adding at the end the following:

`(e) ACTION BY SENATE REQUIRED- The Senate shall not recess during a session for more than 9 days without first voting on a judicial nomination in any case in which--

`(1) the nomination to fill the judiciary vacancy in the affected circuit court has been pending before the Senate for a period of 60 days or longer; and

`(2) a judicial emergency is declared pursuant to subsection (b) due to vacancies on the affected circuit court.'.

Thanks, Brett!

At 08:47 a.m. 4/21/2003, Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov wrote:
>Yes, I know Leahy introduced a bill/resolution in 1998, I believe . . .
>
>Record Type: Record
>To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
>cc:
>Subject: Leahy and Bush 60-day proposal
>
>We've talked about how Senator Leahy endorsed then-Governor Bush's 60-day >proposal for votes on judicial nominees. We also know that Specter and Miller >have each introduced actual Senate resolutions to change the judicial >confirmation process. Do you know if Senator Leahy ever introduced a >resolution? I thought that you might have said that at one point, but I haven't >been able to find it yet. Thanks for any info!
>
>James C. Ho
>Chief Counsel
>Senate Subcommittee on the Constitution, Civil Rights & Property Rights
>Chairman, Senator John Cornyn
>(202) 224-9614 (direct line) 901 North Wayne Street
#302
>(202) 224-2934 (general office line) Arlington, VA 22201
>(202) 491-8227 (mobile) <James_Ho@judiciary.senate.gov>
>(703) 812-8152 (home)
<JamesCHo@stanfordalumni.org>

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Benjamin A. Powell>;Kyle Sampson/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>;Jennifer G. Newstead/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jennifer G. Newstead>;David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>;Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Theodore W. Ullyot>;Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Noel J. Francisco>;H. Christopher Bartolomucci/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <H. Christopher Bartolomucci>;Jennifer R. Brosnahan/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Jennifer R. Brosnahan>;Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Alberto R. Gonzales>
Sent: 4/21/2003 6:17:38 AM
Subject: :

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 10:17:38.00
SUBJECT::
TO:Benjamin A. Powell ( CN=Benjamin A. Powell/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Kyle Sampson ( CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jennifer G. Newstead ( CN=Jennifer G. Newstead/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Noel J. Francisco ( CN=Noel J. Francisco/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:H. Christopher Bartolomucci ( CN=H. Christopher Bartolomucci/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jennifer R. Brosnahan ( CN=Jennifer R. Brosnahan/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Alberto R. Gonzales ( CN=Alberto R. Gonzales/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Interesting concurrence by Judge Hartz (to his own opinion) in this case.
Hartz is one of the President's appointees to CA10.

http://pacer.ca10.uscourts.gov/pdf/01-1508.pdf
```

From: GaryM Stern <garym.stern@nara.gov>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/21/2003 7:20:51 AM
Subject: : Re: notices

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:GaryM Stern <garym.stern@nara.gov> ( GaryM Stern <garym.stern@nara.gov> [ UNKNOWN ]
)
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 11:20:51.00
SUBJECT:: Re: notices
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

I assume you are now okay with releasing this memo as currently redacted on the last page only, given the letter you just faxed clearing this entire notice for opening? If you still have a question, please let me know. Thanks.

>>> <Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov> 4/21/03 10:02:36 AM >>>
Question re the 220 pages in 2002-046: the Jan. 14, 1982, memo from Fielding re Adkinson appears to have a lot of (b)(6) that should be redacted.
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Duffield, Steven (RPC) <Steven_Duffield@rpc.senate.gov>
CC: brian benczkowski (e-mail) <brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 4/21/2003 11:49:14 AM
Subject: : Re: 9th Circuit and "God Save this Honorable Court"

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 15:49:14.00
SUBJECT:: Re: 9th Circuit and "God Save this Honorable Court"
TO:"Duffield, Steven (RPC)" <Steven_Duffield@rpc.senate.gov> ("Duffield, Steven (RPC)" <Steven_Duffield@rpc.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:"brian benczkowski (e-mail)" <brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov> ("brian benczkowski (e-mail)" <brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

We would prefer if you took the lead. Thx.

"Duffield, Steven (RPC)" <Steven_Duffield@rpc.senate.gov>
04/21/2003 03:45:57 PM
Record Type: Record

To: "Brian Benczkowski (E-mail)" <Brian.A.Benczkowski@usdoj.gov>, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: 9th Circuit and "God Save this Honorable Court"

I want to make sure we follow up on this and nail it down, but don't want to step on your toes if you're researching it yourself. I'll be happy to take the lead in figuring this out (quietly) if you desire. I think we need a copy of the memo from Judge Schroeder to other judges to be able to do anything with this information.

_____
Steven J. Duffield
Judiciary Policy Analyst & Counsel
Senate Republican Policy Committee
347 Russell Senate Office Building
(202) 224-3463 Fax (202) 224-1235

From: CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/21/2003 12:23:34 PM
Subject: : Judical emergency, emergencies or crisis?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Theodore W. Ullyot ( CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 16:23:34.00
SUBJECT:: Judical emergency, emergencies or crisis?
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Brett: The Judge has made an edit to the letter that would have us refer to the "vacancy crisis in the Sixth Circuit" -- but he asked me to confirm if that's true. Is "crisis" a term that we use, or do we usually say "judicial emergency" (or "emergencies" -- when several seats involved, i.e. one emergency per seat)?
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Judge Carolyn Kuhl <CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org>
Sent: 4/21/2003 9:40:48 AM
Subject: : Re: NY Times Editorial
Attachments: P_YVNRF003_WHO.TXT_1.htm

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 13:40:48.00
SUBJECT:: Re: NY Times Editorial
TO:Judge Carolyn Kuhl <CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org> (Judge Carolyn Kuhl <CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

We will check. Not optimistic with that paper.

Judge Carolyn Kuhl <CKuhl@LASuperiorCourt.org>
04/21/2003 12:11:11 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: NY Times Editorial

Brett -
Charles Fried asked whether the White House press folks could help in getting his response to last week's editorial placed. I forwarded his submission to the NY Times to you last week. Let me know if you want me to forward it again or if Charles should speak to anyone directly. Thanks.
Carolyn

- att1.htm

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_YVNRF003_WHO.TXT_1>

Brett -

Charles Fried asked whether the Whit e House press folks could help in getting his response to last week's editorial placed. I forwarded his submission to the NY Times to you last week. Let me know if you want me to forward it again or if Charles should speak to anyone directly. Thanks.

Carolyn

From: Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary) <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/21/2003 9:55:01 AM
Subject: : FW: RECENT UPDATE

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary)" <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov> ("Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary)" <Rebecca_Seidel@Judiciary.senate.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 13:55:01.00
SUBJECT:: FW: RECENT UPDATE
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

I had RSVP'd to attend, sorry I missed this, was tied up in another meeting. Had no idea you would also present! Would've rearranged my schedule! :)
How'd it go?

CONFIDENTIALITY NOTE:

The information contained in this e-mail is legally privileged and confidential information intended only for the use of the individuals or entities named as addressees.; If you, the reader of this message, are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution, publication, or copying of this message is strictly prohibited.; If you have received this message in error, please forgive the inconvenience, immediately notify the sender, and delete the original message without keeping a copy.

-----Original Message-----

The Honorable Viet Dinh is going to be joined by Associate White House Counsel Brett Kavanaugh to discuss the judicial confirmations battle. The event will take place today from 12:00-1:00 in Room SR-385 and lunch will be served. Please respond to this email if you are interested in attending.

Joel Pardue
Associate Director, Lawyers Division

From: CN=Charlotte L. Montiel/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/21/2003 10:01:15 AM
Subject: : come back! Judge is free for 10 min

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Charlotte L. Montiel ( CN=Charlotte L. Montiel/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 14:01:15.00
SUBJECT:: come back! Judge is free for 10 min
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

;
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Noel J. Francisco/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Noel J. Francisco>
Sent: 4/21/2003 10:17:22 AM
Subject: : Re: final approval to use WH photos in client newsletter

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 14:17:22.00
SUBJECT:: Re: final approval to use WH photos in client newsletter
TO:Noel J. Francisco (CN=Noel J. Francisco/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

let me know any additional thoughts. thx.
---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/21/2003 02:03 PM ----------

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/21/2003 11:39:54 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Kathryn J. Hayes/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: julieanne h. thomas/who/eop@eop
bcc: Records Management@EOP
Subject: Re: final approval to use WH photos in client newsletter

We would not object to web sites that are merely discussing the President's legislative proposal from displaying a picture of him so long as (i) the use of the picture is strictly in connection with discussion of the President's plan and (ii) there is no suggestion of any endorsement by the President of any commercial product or service.

From: Kathryn J. Hayes on 04/21/2003 11:09:32 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: Julieanne H. Thomas/WHO/EOP@EOP
Subject: final approval to use WH photos in client newsletter

Brett,

I believe Julie Thomas spoke with you about this last week, but wanted to make sure that we have sign off. Please let me know if you need more background on the meeting, but this is when we brought in newsletter writers to meet with the President on the growth package - and they are supportive of the plan.

Thanks!
Katy
---------- Forwarded by Kathryn J. Hayes/WHO/EOP on 04/21/2003
11:08 AM ----------

"Townsend, Michael" <Michael.Townsend@schwab.com>
04/21/2003 11:04:53 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Kathryn J. Hayes/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: final approval to use WH photos in client newsletter

Katy -- Sorry to be so formal about this, but Schwab needs formal acknowledgement of our ability to use a photo from the White House meeting in a newsletter that goes to clients. We have a newsletter that goes to Retirement Plan Sponsors and another to Third-Party Administrators. The photo will accompany the Legislative Update section of each newsletter, which will focus on the President's dividend tax-cut proposal -- I'm writing the accompanying article.

What I need is for you to do is just copy the following sentence and paste it in an e-mail back to me, with your name and position at the White House -- that's it: "We approve Schwab Corporate Srvs. using one or both of these photos taken on April 9, 2003, in the Schwab July 2003 client newsletters sent to retirement plan sponsors and Third Party Administrators."

Thanks so much for your help! I'll send over copies of both newsletters once they are printed. If you need to see the text before it is printed, that's no problem -- I can forward it to you once it has been approved internally.

Michael Townsend
Vice President -- Public Policy
Charles Schwab & Co., Inc.
p: 202-638-3755
f: 202-638-3823

-----Original Message-----
From: Kathryn_J._Hayes@who.eop.gov [mailto:Kathryn_J._Hayes@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Thursday, April 10, 2003 12:17 PM
To: Townsend, Michael
Subject: Re: question about photos you sent

Yes, that should be fine. Can you pls send us a copy to review as well?

Thanks so much!
Katy

(Embedded image moved "Townsend, Michael" <Michael.Townsend@schwab.com>
to file: 04/10/2003 12:12:33 PM
pic18478.pcx)

Record Type: Record

To: Kathryn J. Hayes/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject: question about photos you sent

Hi Katy -- Thanks so much for sending along the great photos of yesterday's meeting with the President. It was an extraordinary experience for me, one I will always remember, particularly given the historic nature of the day in terms of the fall of Baghdad.

Quick question -- what are the policies for using one of the photos in internal and external Schwab publications? We'd like to use one in an employee-only newsletter, and we'd also be interested in using one in client newsletters that talk about the dividend tax cut. Please let me know if this is OK.

Thanks again! mike

Michael Townsend
Vice President -- Public Policy
Charles Schwab & Co., Inc.
p: 202-638-3755
f: 202-638-3823

From: Snee, Ashley
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/21/2003 4:11:13 PM
Subject: RE: Can we check with NY Times letters folks to see why they have not published this?

Did he submit it? He should really follow up with them and if they tell him no, I'll raise it here.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, April 21, 2003 2:13 PM
To: Snee, Ashley
Subject: Can we check with NY Times letters folks to see why they have not published this?

To the editor:

Your editorial Filibustering Priscilla Owen [April 17, 2003] was unfair to Judge Carolyn Kuhl and Senator Dianne Feinstein. All you have to say to justify a minority's blocking a vote on her confirmation is that she "was a strong supporter of maintaning the tax-exempt status of Bob Jones University." You omit to mention that that was some twenty years ago, when as a junior Department of Justice staffer fresh out of law school she gave the legal judgement that the Internal Revenue Service did not have the authority to make that kind of judgment; that she has said many times that she thinks that she had been wrong; and more importantly that in nine years as a trial judge she has won praise and support from a broad range of lawyers who have appeared before her--including civil rights and plaintiffs' lawyers. You also reproach Senator Feinstein for having been "silent" on the nomination. In fact at Judge Kuhl's hearing Senator Feinstein spoke at length, reporting that she had received strong expressions of support for Judge Kuhl from a diverse range of lawyers, as well as strong opposition from a number of interest groups. She was not silent; she was candid and fair. She set an example in this rancorous and slanted campaign.

Charles Fried
Beneficial Professor of Law, Harvard Law School
Judge Kuhl served as my Deputy 1985-86, when I was Solicitor General.

Charles Fried
1525 Massachusetts Avenue
Cambridge, MA 02138
(617) 495 4636
fax: (617) 496 4865

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Ashley Estes/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Ashley Estes>
Sent: 4/21/2003 12:44:44 PM
Subject: : RE:

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 16:44:44.00
SUBJECT:: RE:
TO:Ashley Estes (CN=Ashley Estes/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

sort of.

From: Ashley Estes/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/21/2003 04:44:46 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE:

Do you feel ok about it?

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, April 21, 2003 4:41 PM
To: Estes, Ashley
Subject: Re:

i did. it will not be me.

From: Ashley Estes/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/21/2003 08:59:56 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject:

are you going to talk to the judge today?

From: CN=Ashley Estes/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/21/2003 12:44:21 PM
Subject: : RE:

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Ashley Estes (CN=Ashley Estes/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 16:44:21.00
SUBJECT:: RE:
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Do you feel ok about it?

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Monday, April 21, 2003 4:41 PM
To: Estes, Ashley
Subject: Re:

i did. it will not be me.

From: Ashley Estes/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/21/2003 08:59:56 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject:

are you going to talk to the judge today?

From: CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/21/2003 12:44:09 PM
Subject: : Re: Judical emergency, emergencies or crisis?

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Theodore W. Ullyot (CN=Theodore W. Ullyot/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 16:44:09.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Judical emergency, emergencies or crisis?
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Ok, we'll go with "vacancy crisis."

FYI, he wanted to put in some examples or details re judges getting through in the final year of a presidency. I discussed it with him in detail, explaining that 1992, which is the year at issue, is actually full of (34) examples of judges nominated and confirmed in the final year, but that 1996 and 2000 are not as good. He said that he understands, but still does want to put in some detail. So I will mention the 34 figure for 1992.

Also, you will be happy to learn that the Judge said "I don't care one way or the other about how we end the letter -- with an invitation for proposals or not -- so if you want to leave it out I'm OK with that." And I have now changed it to just conclude "Thank you again for your letter."

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/21/2003 04:38:04 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Theodore W. Ullyot/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: Judical emergency, emergencies or crisis?

we use both terms

Theodore W. Ullyot
04/21/2003 04:23:12 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Judical emergency, emergencies or crisis?

Brett: The Judge has made an edit to the letter that would have us refer to the "vacancy crisis in the Sixth Circuit" -- but he asked me to confirm if that's true. Is "crisis" a term that we use, or do we usually say "judicial emergency" (or "emergencies" -- when several seats involved, i.e. one emergency per seat)?

From: CN=Ken Mehlman/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/21/2003 12:50:09 PM
Subject: : Material for Carl Rove Meeting with Rob Walton

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Ken Mehlman (CN=Ken Mehlman/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 16:50:09.00
SUBJECT:: Material for Carl Rove Meeting with Rob Walton
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

You ok with Karl participating in this meeting?
---------- Forwarded by Ken Mehlman/WHO/EOP on 04/21/2003 04:49 PM ----------

"Annett, Alexander" <AAnnett@pattonboggs.com>
04/21/2003 03:53:53 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Ken Mehlman/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: "'kate@georgewbush.com'" <kate@georgewbush.com>
Subject: Material for Carl Rove Meeting with Rob Walton

Ken, thank you for setting up the meeting between Carl Rove and Rob Walton. In addition, Rick Chapman, the Walton Foundation Advisor, and Aubrey Rothrock, a partner at Patton Boggs, will attend. I will coordinate with Kate their security clearance.

The purpose of the meeting is to:

I. Discuss the charitable activities of the Walton Foundation; and

II. Discuss a proposal that would allow private foundations, like the Walton Foundation, to increase the amount of stock it can hold in an active business corporation from 2% to 5%.

These are the only two topics that will be discussed. Below is a brief summary of the issue. If you need any further information give me a call.

Thanks again.

Alex

I. Background:

For nearly three years, we have been working with the Walton Foundation to advance legislative proposals that will increase substantially the flow of funds to charity. The Walton Foundation has a particular focus on supporting national educational opportunities and programs in the Delta region of the country (comprised of portions Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi that are among the poorest in the country). The Walton Foundation is committed to ensuring that for every dollar spent, the absolute maximum benefit to charity results.

In certain instances where a private foundation is founded and managed by the same individuals who started a successful business, current law allows the foundation to hold no more than 2% of the stock of such business. Duke University Law Professor Richard Schmalbeck concluded, after an intensive study of the relevant tax policy issues in 2001, that some liberalization of the 2% limitation would encourage additional gifts of stock to private foundations and lead to a measurable increase in the amount of funds available for active charitable purposes. Accordingly, our proposal would increase the 2% level to 5%, but only subject to a series of conditions to ensure that the new five-percent rule is not abused (including a requirement that the stock held by the foundation be publicly traded and not be controlled by the founding family).

The Senate recently adopted a provision affecting private foundations in its version of the CARE bill. The Senate approach simply extends from 5 to 10 years the period during which a private foundation is permitted to dispose of large gifts of corporate stock (i.e., those in excess of $1 billion). While we are of course appreciative of the Senate's willingness to incorporate a provision in the CARE bill that is intended to assist private foundations manage large gifts of publicly traded stock, we continue to feel that a permanent increase in the permitted holdings of foundations to 5% constitutes better tax policy.

II. Purpose of Personal Meeting

We greatly appreciate the opportunity to (i) make senior policy officials within the Administration aware of the charitable activities of the Walton Foundation and (ii) explain why our proposal will help ensure that such charitable activities continue at the same high level.

This e-mail message contains confidential, privileged information intended solely for the addressee. Please do not read, copy, or disseminate it unless you are the addressee. If you have received it in error, please call us (collect) at (202) 457-6000 and ask to speak with the message sender. Also, we would appreciate your forwarding the message back to us and deleting it from your system. Thank you.

This e-mail and all other electronic (including voice) communications from the sender's firm are for informational purposes only. No such communication is intended by the sender to constitute either an electronic record or an electronic signature, or to constitute any agreement by the sender to conduct a transaction by electronic means. Any such intention or agreement is hereby expressly disclaimed unless otherwise specifically indicated.

To learn more about our firm, please visit our website at http://www.pattonboggs.com.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Ken Mehlman/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Ken Mehlman>
Sent: 4/21/2003 12:52:06 PM
Subject: : Re: Material for Carl Rove Meeting with Rob Walton

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 16:52:06.00
SUBJECT:: Re: Material for Carl Rove Meeting with Rob Walton
TO:Ken Mehlman (CN=Ken Mehlman/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

yes, but would include a DPC/OFB person as well in the meeting.

Ken Mehlman
04/21/2003 04:49:54 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: Material for Carl Rove Meeting with Rob Walton

You ok with Karl participating in this meeting?
---------- Forwarded by Ken Mehlman/WHO/EOP on 04/21/2003 04:49 PM ----------

"Annett, Alexander" <AAnnett@pattonboggs.com>
04/21/2003 03:53:53 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Ken Mehlman/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc: "'kate@georgewbush.com'" <kate@georgewbush.com>
Subject: Material for Carl Rove Meeting with Rob Walton

Ken, thank you for setting up the meeting between Carl Rove and Rob Walton. In addition, Rick Chapman, the Walton Foundation Advisor, and Aubrey Rothrock, a partner at Patton Boggs, will attend. I will coordinate with Kate their security clearance.

The purpose of the meeting is to:

I. Discuss the charitable activities of the Walton Foundation; and

II. Discuss a proposal that would allow private foundations, like the Walton Foundation, to increase the amount of stock it can hold in an active business corporation from 2% to 5%.

These are the only two topics that will be discussed. Below is a brief summary of the issue. If you need any further information give me a call.

Thanks again.

Alex

I. Background:

For nearly three years, we have been working with the Walton Foundation to advance legislative proposals that will increase substantially the flow of funds to charity. The Walton Foundation has a particular focus on supporting national educational opportunities and programs in the Delta region of the country (comprised of portions Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi that are among the poorest in the country). The Walton Foundation is committed to ensuring that for every dollar spent, the absolute maximum benefit to charity results.

In certain instances where a private foundation is founded and managed by the same individuals who started a successful business, current law allows the foundation to hold no more than 2% of the stock of such business. Duke University Law Professor Richard Schmalbeck concluded, after an intensive study of the relevant tax policy issues in 2001, that some liberalization of the 2% limitation would encourage additional gifts of stock to private foundations and lead to a measurable increase in the amount of funds available for active charitable purposes. Accordingly, our proposal would increase the 2% level to 5%, but only subject to a series of conditions to ensure that the new five-percent rule is not abused (including a requirement that the stock held by the foundation be publicly traded and not be controlled by the founding family).

The Senate recently adopted a provision affecting private foundations in its version of the CARE bill. The Senate approach simply extends from 5 to 10 years the period during which a private foundation is permitted to dispose of large gifts of corporate stock (i.e., those in excess of $1 billion). While we are of course appreciative of the Senate's willingness to incorporate a provision in the CARE bill that is intended to assist private foundations manage large gifts of publicly traded stock, we continue to feel that a permanent increase in the permitted holdings of foundations to 5% constitutes better tax policy.

II. Purpose of Personal Meeting

We greatly appreciate the opportunity to (i) make senior policy officials within the Administration aware of the charitable activities of the Walton Foundation and (ii) explain why our proposal will help ensure that such charitable activities continue at the same high level.

This e-mail message contains confidential, privileged information intended solely for the addressee. Please do not read, copy, or disseminate it unless you are the addressee. If you have received it in error, please call us (collect) at (202) 457-6000 and ask to speak with the message sender. Also, we would appreciate your forwarding the message back to us and deleting it from your system. Thank you.

This e-mail and all other electronic (including voice) communications from the sender's firm are for informational purposes only. No such communication is intended by the sender to constitute either an electronic record or an electronic signature, or to constitute any agreement by the sender to conduct a transaction by electronic means. Any such intention or agreement is hereby expressly disclaimed unless otherwise specifically indicated.

To learn more about our firm, please visit our website at http://www.pattonboggs.com.

From: CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/21/2003 12:59:11 PM
Subject: : TRANSCRIPT - Defense Department Briefing 04/21/03

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brian Bravo (CN=Brian Bravo/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 16:59:11.00
SUBJECT:: TRANSCRIPT - Defense Department Briefing 04/21/03
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

DEFENSE DEPARTMENT OPERATIONAL UPDATE BRIEFING
BRIEFER: SECRETARY OF DEFENSE DONALD RUMSFELD; GENERAL RICHARD MYERS, U.S. AIR FORCE, CHAIRMAN OF THE JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF

PENTAGON BRIEFING ROOM, ARLINGTON, VIRGINIA
2:00 P.M. EDT, MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2003

;

SEC. RUMSFELD: Good afternoon.

;;;;;; While the overall situation in Iraq is improving daily, coalition forces do still face resistance from remnants of the death squads and foreign fighters who came to oppose the coalition forces. There are still some number of dead-enders that remain in the country, in Baghdad and elsewhere. And as coalition forces hunt them down, some are continuing to fight.

;;;;;; As the coalition works to remove the remaining elements of the former regime, the Iraqi people are emerging from the shadow of Saddam's tyranny to help coalition forces find death squads, uncover weapons caches, capture regime leaders, recover POWs, and restore order and basic services.

;;;;;; Last week near Mosul, Iraqi Kurds handed over the Ba'ath Party regional command chairman to coalition forces. In Baghdad local civilians led coalition forces to the home of a general in the Special Republican Guards, where they found a trove of documents, computers and various other materials. Over the weekend a reconstituted Iraqi police force in Baghdad arrested Saddam Hussein's former finance minister and handed him over to coalition forces.

;;;;;; Baghdad residents recently led Marines to a yellow trailer parked in a residential neighborhood. Inside they found four 40-foot-long missiles.

;;;;;; In another part of the city, a man quietly approached U.S. soldiers, drew them a map directing them to the home of the internal security operative who used to monitor that particular neighborhood. Still other residents led them to a school, where they found a cache of rocket-propelled grenades and small arms.

;;;;;; This kind of spontaneous cooperation is happening on a daily basis across the country -- a sign of the growing trust between coalition forces and the majority of ordinary Iraqis.

;;;;;; Of course, not all Iraqis support the coalition presence, and we know that. It's to be expected. Certainly those who benefited from the former regime don't support the coalition. In any totalitarian system, there will be a small portion of the population that has profited from the power of the dictatorship. Those with allegiances to figures in Iran or

Syria undoubtedly also do not support coalition forces, while some others may be ordinary citizens who are understandably uncomfortable with the presence of any foreign forces in their country.

;;;;;; A few weeks ago, there were no protests in Iraq. Now Iraqis are speaking out, expressing opinions, discussing and debating the future of their country. They can do so because of the courage and determination of the coalition forces, troops that are performing superbly.

;;;;;; I should add that support for the troops has been outstanding. USO affiliates across the United States have collected and distributed more than 80,000 care packages for deploying troops, and they've distributed more than 100,000 international telephone calling cards so that troops can call home to their families and loved ones. I'm told that a man from North Carolina and a woman from Illinois found foster homes for pets of deploying forces, and between them, they've placed roughly 2,000 dogs, cats, and at least one pot-bellied pig. (Laughter.) There are hundreds of similar stories of generosity and self-sacrifice on the part of ordinary Americans.

;;;;;; Of course our forces have no stronger group of supporters back home than their families. And let me say just a word about military families. It can often be harder to be the one left behind than the one who is leaving, especially when the loved one is leaving for war. In wartime, military families endure extended periods of separation, not knowing where their loved ones are, what they're doing, and whether or not they're safe or in danger, or whether they're going to be coming home. These are burdens that the families of the men and women in uniform have carried during the course of this war; they've carried them for our country, and the country is grateful and proud of their service and sacrifice, as well as that of the men and women in uniform.

;;;;;; General Myers?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Thank you, Mr. Secretary.

;;;;;; Operations continue throughout Iraq. Earlier today, the 26th Marine Expeditionary Unit was engaged in a firefight on the Mosul airfield in the north. One Marine was wounded. The Marines returned fire, but the attackers escaped and we have no idea who they were.

;;;;;; Also in the north, U.S. Special Forces discovered a very large weapons cache south of Kirkuk. This cache is in 40 different bunkers; it contains multiple rocket-launch rockets, artillery rounds, and other munitions, including, significantly, 50 SA-7s, the hand-held surface-to-air missile.

;;;;;; In the humanitarian area, 40 Czech doctors and other medical personnel are en route to Iraq today to set up a field hospital. Also today, U.S. forces assisted with a Saudi Arabian field hospital convoy en route to Baghdad's Red Crescent hospital, and a Jordanian field hospital convoy to Fallujah.

;;;;;; The two convoys combined numbered over 150 vehicles.

;;;;;; Also earlier today, an Iraqi health official led U.S. forces to three warehouses in Baghdad which contained enough medical supplies to keep all of Baghdad's hospitals stocked for the next six to 12 months. Coalition forces will provide security for Iraqi Ministry of Health officials to distribute the supplies to city hospitals.

;;;;;; In the south, British forces began rail services from Umm Qasr to Al Basra, and this can obviously carry much-needed cargo from the port city to Basra.

;;;;;; So I think in sum, there's still a lot of dangerous work to do in terms of continued security and stability, as well as the search for weapons of mass destruction and support to humanitarian operations.

;;;;;; And with that, we'll take your questions.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Yes?

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, you spoke about demonstrations in Iraq now that the country is free. Those demonstrations include both Sunni and Shi'a Muslims, and the Shi'a, of course, didn't profit from Saddam. And many of those demonstrators are calling for an Islamic republic to take over in Iraq. Would the United States support an Islamic republic in Iraq under the tenets that you've mentioned before, the democratic tenets that you expect?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Well, I don't know what the definition of "many" is. Portions of this country have been free for 15 minutes, others for a day or two, or three or a week. Characterizing anything as "many" or implying that there are large numbers that happen to have that view, it seems to me, reflects a much more insightful knowledge of the situation than I think is permitted at the present time.

;;;;;; The principles the president has put forward are clear, and that is that there should be a country that is -- has its territorial integrity protected; a country that is not a threat to its neighbors; a country that is organized and arranged in a way that the people in the country are -- the various ethnic groups and religious groups are able to have a voice in their government in some form; and we hope, a system that will be democratic and have free speech, and free press and freedom of religion.

;;;;;; The -- in the last analysis, the Iraqi people are going to decide what that form is, not the United States, not the coalition and not anyone else.

;;;;;; Yes?

;;;;;; Q Would an Islamic -- excuse me, sir, if I may follow, just very -- an "Islamic republic" connotes the idea of an Iran, a government such as that in Iran. Would that be acceptable to the United States -- a government not only based on the tenets of a religion but ruled by the tenets?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I don't think that I would characterize what's going on in Iran as a democratic system. I don't think I would say that it fits the principles that I've just indicated. I think there are an awful lot of people in Iran who feel that that small group of clerics that determine what takes place in that country is not their idea of how they want to live their lives.

;;;;;; Yeah?

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, in your opening statement you talked about the progress that's being made with Iraqis leading U.S. troops to Ba'ath Party leaders, et cetera. You mentioned this general from the Special Republican Guard, and quite a few, I think, people from the deck of cards have either surrendered or been captured now.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: True.

;;;;;; Q But so far you haven't mentioned that any of them has confirmed the existence of chemical or biological weapons. And General Myers mentioned this huge weapon cache near Kirkuk, but he didn't mention that any chemical or biological weapons were found there. Does that make you uneasy?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: No. I've believed all along we're not likely to stumble over anything, nor did the inspectors stumble over anything. What's going to happen, ultimately, is we'll find people, and the people will decide that they want to look forward instead of back, and they will come to us, as they are, and offer up suggestions as to where one might look and how one might approach it, and testimony on their personal involvements. And we will obviously look with favor on people that do that.

;;;;;; Q And those who've turned themselves in or have been captured so far, I take it, are not offering up that kind of information?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I think it's premature to be making judgments like that.

;;;;;; Q One of the things from the podium you've said repeatedly over the last three months -- that you've warned Iraqi military, if they used chemical or biological weapons, they'd face war crimes -- General Myers, in any of the debriefs of the 8,000 POWs, has anybody said, "We were going to use things, but the U.S. scared us to death, the U.S. scared us; we decided not to"?

;;;;;; And Mr. Secretary, you talked about not stumbling over anything --

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: (Let's ?) do one at a time here.

;;;;;; Q Okay. But -- go ahead.

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: I don't recall specifically about WMD use, but that -- but there were certainly some things that -- where we think our psychological operations had a big impact on them, or we said, "Don't do this, or you're going to bear the responsibility."

;;;;;; Q Are you surprised there's been no tactical weapons found, no 155 Howitzers or rockets, that they were going to use?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: No, it's going to be a long -- it's a long process. You can't assume what -- the previous question, that the premise of that question is right.

;;;;;; The debriefings are ongoing. Let them work. They're going to --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I'm going -- that's two or three already. My impression of this is that there is, understandably, an appetite to know the answers to these things. And we know there are people now beginning to explore sites really for the first time that have been in the area where we have reason to believe there is the greatest likelihood that we'll find their programs.

;;;;;; We also have said that they've done a superb job of hiding things, and we know they have. They have learned to function in an inspection environment, so that meant they had to have things deeply buried, well dispersed, well hidden, with a relatively few number of people who knew where things are.

;;;;;; I am not going to answer questions that say, "Do you have any intelligence on this?" or "Any intelligence on that?" I'm just not going to do it. We've got a good group of people, interagency group -- CIA, FBI, DOD, DIA -- working out there, and they're collecting things, they're looking for things, they're interrogating people. They're finding all kinds of information. I do not spend time every day trying to figure out what they're being told, were they given any clue on this or any clue on that. That's not what I do.

;;;;;; You will be told at that point where a site has been explored and we don't know anything or we didn't find anything. Or you'll be told, as you have been -- we've had embedded reporters milling around these places. You'll be told if we do find something. So, in good time. In good time.

;;;;;; Yes

;;;;;; Q Along the same lines --

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: The only thing I would add to that, that they are ongoing operations, and so anything we would say from here would not -- just not be helpful. I mean there are -- no kidding -- ongoing operations, and we're just better off not commenting on them.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Let me give you an example. When they arrest or capture or get turned over some person or some computer or some documentation, it takes time. They then have to look at that, they have to talk to the person, they have to explore it, they have to examine it, they have to cross-check another place. And these things don't happen in five minutes. They have to translate documents.

;;;;;; The idea that we should be rushing around spewing out fragments of information that come into the hands of people who are in these teams, who are proceeding in an orderly, disciplined way, worrying about chain of control and that type of thing, I think is an expectation that is not going to be fulfilled.

;;;;;; Yes?

;;;;;; Q In the process that you are engaged in now of looking not just at Iraq, but at the region, can you give us your thought process -- frame for us how you want the American footprint to look like, a year or two from now, in the region. There was also a New York Times story saying that the administration was supposedly looking at, long term, four air bases in Iraq.

;;;;;; Is that, in fact, a reflection of your thinking for the future of that country?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Well, I would say that that article probably takes the award for world-class thumbsucker of this year. (Laughter.) It is --

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible.)

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Pardon me?

;;;;;; (Cross talk.)

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Well, it depends -- it says "senior Bush administration officials say." To my knowledge, I don't know what senior is, but I can tell you he wasn't asked (indicating General Myers), I wasn't asked, Torie wasn't asked, Wolfowitz wasn't asked, Pace wasn't asked, and there has been zero discussion among senior Bush administration officials, the way I define senior, on that subject. We literally have not even considered that.

;;;;;; Now, what is going on? There are four bases that the U.S. is using in that country to help bring in humanitarian assistance, to help provide for stability operations. And are they doing that? Sure. But does that have anything to do with the long term footprint? Not a whit.

;;;;;; Q What of the long term --

;;;;;; Q Well, wait a minute. Wait a minute.

;;;;;; Q Yeah! (Laughter.)

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Well, obviously, we're thinking about what we're going to -- how we want to be arranged in the future. And in any instance, it would be a subject for discussion with countries, whether in Europe or Asia or in the Middle East. And those kinds of discussions will take place over an orderly period of time. There haven't been decisions made, there haven't been conclusions reached, and it's just a fact that the implication that, as it says here, that the United States is planning a long-term military relationship with an emerging government of Iraq -- there isn't even an emerging government to plan it with at the present time -- one that would grant the Pentagon access to military bases -- a subject that has not come up with anybody senior -- and "project American influence into the heart of the unsettled" region -- I mean, not so! Not so! And I would say enormously unhelpful.

;;;;;; I mean, let me just get this off my chest. (Laughter.) I have no idea who these people talked to. But I'll tell you, if I were a journalist, I would find -- remember who they are, and I'd write their name down, and I would rank them right at the bottom in terms of reliability, credibility, judgment, knowledge. They are unhelpful.

;;;;;; The impression that's left around the world is that we plan to occupy the country, we plan to use their bases over the long period of time, and it's flat false.

;;;;;; We went in there to change a regime. We went in there to find weapons of mass destruction. We went in there to stop them from threatening their neighbors. And we have said precisely what we're there for, and it is not what that article said.

;;;;;; Q So you --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: So the people peddling that stuff are wrong, and the people writing it should check things out better.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, on that, I don't want that -- my question to -- any of my questions to help my colleague there. My question was just like that theme -- you said weapons of mass destruction are a reason the United States went into Iraq. You said that. I'm not mishearing it from anyone else.

;;;;;; What happens, sir, in the new democracy that one hopes will be in Iraq, if that new administration in Iraq decides it needs weapons of mass destruction to protect itself from its neighbors? What does the United States do at that point?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Well, you know, I could ask 50 hypothetical questions that no one in this room could answer. I mean, why are we even asking those questions? There's all kinds of -- I guess the short answer is Adlai Stevenson's: We'll jump off the bridge when we get to it. It isn't there.

;;;;;; Q Well, I think I asked the question -- I asked the question, sir, because of the implications of the New York Times story which you said was flat false, among other things. But the question does --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I did not say somebody didn't say that to the reporter.

;;;;;; Q No, I realize that. You said what it was portraying --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: The content --

;;;;;; Q The content --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Yes.

;;;;;; Q But what the larger theme is of the --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Depending on how you define "senior."

;;;;;; Q I would define you as senior, sir. And so that's why I'm asking you -- (laughter) -- (inaudible) --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: (Laughs.)

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- your rank, of course.

;;;;;; Q -- how the U.S. hopes to have stability in that part of the world, I think, also is part of that story, and weapons of mass destruction is very unstable tool in the hands of the wrong people, as you've said so many times. So --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I guess we'll have to work our way through all that and see how things play out. And you're right; weapons of mass destruction in a terrorist state's hands are not a stabilizing influence. I would expect that you're going to find a country in Iraq that's not going to be on the terrorist list and is not going to want to have weapons of mass destruction.

;;;;;; Q Wait a minute.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Yeah.

;;;;;; Q I pushed your button, but you didn't answer my question. (Laughter.) I beg your pardon. I was looking for footprint in the region, not necessarily Iraq.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Right. And we'll announce it when we're ready.

;;;;;; I told you we were in discussions, I told you we were talking to countries -- not yet; we plan to -- and that it's an important question. And, obviously, there will have been significant changes.

;;;;;; I would, personally, say that a friendly Iraq that is not led by a Saddam Hussein would be a reason we could have fewer forces in the region, rather than more, I mean just logically. And we're already starting to pull forces out of the CENTCOM AOR, as you must know.

;;;;;; Q But you don't -- so you don't have a philosophical framework --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: No. We'll announce -- we'll announce --

;;;;;; Q -- or a Rumsfeld framework to -- less here, more there?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I have something in my head, but it depends on taking those thoughts, discussing them with other countries, the relevant countries, and listening to them and then coming to some judgments and time-phasings. But it's not something that one divines and then announces in a press briefing without having talked to other countries, obviously. Yeah.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, taking you back to finding things in Iraq, there was a report today that the Mobile Exploitation Team Alpha actually did find a scientist who produced verifiable information about the presence of precursor chemicals, I think it was, as opposed to some theoretical, unvalidated finding. Can you confirm that finding --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: No.

;;;;;; Q -- and explain what those teams are doing in Iraq, these Mobile Exploitation Teams?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I can explain what they're doing. They were formed on an interagency basis, as I said, and they're going out and they're looking at sites that come under our control where the situation is sufficiently secure and stable that they can do that. Some are things we thought we knew before; some are things that are opportunistic, where somebody comes and tells us something. And they, then, have an obligation of analyzing things and doing it in an orderly, disciplined way and not talking about it until such time as they think they've come to some conclusion.

;;;;;; Q In this case there was no --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I have nothing to add to it.

;;;;;; Q Some of those teams have complained of a lack of resources, particularly vehicles, helicopters, and the kinds of resources that they need to do their job well.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I have not heard that.

;;;;;; Q You have not heard that?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: No. But, you know, at any given moment, in any given place, somebody doesn't have something they need, and then the squeaky wheel gets the oil. CENTCOM -- I believe they're under the operational control of CENTCOM, and CENTCOM has been denied nothing, that I can recall, in terms of things they have felt they needed. And if they have things that they don't currently have that they think they need and ask for them, they'll get them, because this is an important project.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary?

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, can you make some comments about the helpfulness of people who are declaring themselves the mayors of this town, that town, and what this means for the future stability of the country?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I don't know that it adds or detracts. It will happen. People are entrepreneurial, and they'll make announcements and say things and aspire. And on the ground it will get sorted out. Things will happen. People will agree or disagree. And over time, we'll see what happens. I just -- I am not surprised that people do that.

;;;;;; Now, there is no question there are a number of groups that are trying to assert influence there, and it's going to take time -- people from inside the country, people from outside the country, people that are being influenced by countries -- neighboring countries, people that are not being influenced by neighboring countries, people who believe they represent some view of a certain group and want that view reflected, that's what a -- some process is going to flourish here, and all of that is going to be expressed in a -- something other than a perfectly orderly and disciplined way.

;;;;;; Yes?

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, what's your latest thinking on Syria? Do you see any positive signs now coming out of Syria?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: The president and the secretary have both spoken on that recently, and that's good enough for me.

;;;;;; Yes?

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, what's the mechanism now for the U.S. to declare an end to the hostilities with Iraq, since it does appear for several days now major combat has indeed ended? What's the mechanism for that? And what is your framework of thinking now about phase four operations; in other words, the need for a particularly sized military force for security and stability?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: That's a subject that General Myers and Pete Pace and CENTCOM and all of us are discussing, and when we have --

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: The U.K. -- the Brits.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: The U.K., coalition forces, exactly. And at some point when we have something -- we are simultaneously going out and bringing other countries into the phase four considerations, and we've had some wonderful luck. To date, there are over 20 countries that have forces on the ground in Iraq or are providing support functions in the theater. Italy has offered 300 Carabinieri for security duties. Albania has provided military forces for a stability operation. Lithuanian cargo handlers are involved already in the country helping with the delivery of humanitarian supplies.

;;;;;; There are any number of international organizations that are now finding portions of the country sufficiently stable that they can come in. We've had a surge in offers of medical support to assist the humanitarian effort. We've been moving quickly to try to integrate these assets into our overall effort. There's a Czech field hospital that started deploying in Iraq last Friday. Spain has a ship in the Gulf with a medical unit on board which is treating Iraqi civilians. Lithuania sent a medical team.

;;;;;; The idea that no other countries are involved in the post-Saddam Hussein activities reminds me of the -- before the war, when it was -- the United States was acting unilaterally and we were, quote, "going it alone." and we ended up with 66 countries involved, 46 of them public.

;;;;;; Q Can you tell us anything --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: And the same thing's true here. We have a large and growing number of countries that are involved in Iraq, doing a good job. And to ignore them and pretend that they're not there and not doing their work, which tends to be the impression that's left frequently, it seems to me it's unfortunate, because these people, with their dollars, are stepping up and offering important humanitarian assistance and stabilization assistance, which is what is exactly what's needed in that country. And the United States never did, from the outset, have any intention of doing it alone or doing the stabilization period alone.

;;;;;; Q Can you tell us anything about the mechanism by which there will be declared a cessation of hostilities, and whether under the Geneva Convention, that would put any additional obligations on the coalition?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: It does.

;;;;;; Q How will this emerge?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: It does. In other words, you -- my understanding -- Dick can calibrate me, but my understanding is that you have a period where you have hostilities. You then can go into a period where you have a move towards a stabilization period in some portions of the country and not the whole country, or you may continue to have hostilities. If you think of where we are in Afghanistan, that's where we are. We have a reasonably stable environment in much of the country and we have something other than that along the Pakistan border.

;;;;;; I suspect that that's what will happen here, that you'll end up with other countries coming in providing stabilization forces in the areas that are stable at some point, and in other areas that are less stable -- and I have no idea -- no one can predict it, how much the non-Iraqis will be fighting over a period of time, how many of these death squad people have melted into the woodwork and will come out in civilian clothes and try to kill somebody.

;;;;;; Q Will you officially declare this -- not you personally, sir -- will the United States at some point officially declare this war is over?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Dick said it, I think. He said what we'll do is we'll sit down with the coalition and make a recommendation to the president at some point as to what portions of the country you can move towards a stabilization effort in at some moment. Ultimately at some point, it will be over. But is it over now? No.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, today, Ahmad Chalabi said that his group is tracking Saddam Hussein and his sons inside Iraq based on credible intelligence, saying, "We have received information about his movements and the movements of his sons." Have you received the same information?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Have not.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I've not seen it, but I might not. I mean, it would go to CENTCOM, so we'll just have to see what happens.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary --

;;;;;; Q Is it now a priority to try to figure out what exactly happened to Saddam Hussein and his sons?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: It's certainly on the list of priorities.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, reports --

;;;;;; Q In an effort to get more than that --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: (Inaudible.) (Laughter.)

;;;;;; Q -- is there (a good deal ?) going on at that site where -- which was bombed, at al Mansour?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Goodness. There've been -- first of all, there have been more than one site where people suspect that he might have been. To what extent any one of those sites has been exploited or examined or investigated -- only very recently have some of those areas fallen under coalition control.

;;;;;; (Aside to Gen. Myers.) Isn't that true?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: That's true, that's true.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, prior to the conflict, human rights groups complained about the use of cluster bombs by the United States. Now that the major combat phase is over, we're seeing the evidence that this, in fact, is a weapon that can continue to kill after the hostilities are over. There've been a small but significant number of people maimed or killed, including some children and some American forces as well. Would you consider limiting the use of cluster bombs in the future, or perhaps even eliminating them from the U.S. arsenal in response to this kind of -- type of criticism?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: I think it gets back to -- well, first of all, cluster bombs are not like mines, completely different subject. Cluster bombs are set to go off when they strike their target or whatever they do, so they're not like a mine that lies there until it's activated.

;;;;;; I have not heard of injuries due to cluster bombs, but we'll look into it. It's possible, of course, but we'll have to look into it. And --

;;;;;; Q Well, we've been seeing pictures of unexploded submunitions in various residential areas --

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: We'll have to find out who's they are, and do all that sort of thing. I just -- I have not seen those pictures, but I'll --

;;;;;; Q There were four injured soldiers just this past weekend when a little girl handed over a canister-sized piece of a cluster bomb, an M-42.

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Yeah, what I -- the story we got on what the little girl handed over -- and it was -- was an improvised explosive device to do harm to the four soldiers. It wasn't trying to return a piece of ordnance, in fact.

;;;;;; Q From a seven-year-old girl?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Exactly. Exactly. Then she tried to run away after she handed it, and it went off.

;;;;;; Q Michael Linington (ph) on the ground said that it was an accident, that she was simply trying to --

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Well, initial reports this morning --

;;;;;; Q -- return a piece of an M-42 --

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Initial reports this morning, that was not the case, but we'll have to look at that, too.

;;;;;; Q That hasn't changed, then?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: All I know is the report we got this morning.

;;;;;; I --

;;;;;; Q Can you expand on that report this morning, please?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: I pretty much gave it to you. It's that they were -- this -- four, I think, Marines -- was it? -- or soldiers were approached by a young girl with some sort of explosive device. They couldn't determine what it was, and before they could, it went off. And it injured, I think, the little girl and four soldiers.

;;;;;; Q General, I don't want to get the wrong impression from the remarks, but --

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Wait a second. We'll call on people.

;;;;;; Q Oh, I'm sorry. It was a follow-up on that, sir. A quick -- are you suggesting that the cluster bombs are less dangerous to civilians than land mines are?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Oh, absolutely.

;;;;;; Q Okay.

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Absolutely. I'm not just suggesting it; I'm -- that's an assertion.

;;;;;; Q Okay.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Back here.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, could someone just take -- this is not a question you could answer now, but could someone from your office get back to us with how many cluster bombs were used in this and what areas they were used in, to counter some of this impression that we're getting that they were actually used in residential areas and had ended up in residential areas?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: And clearly -- well, yeah, we'll have to look --

;;;;;; Q (Off mike) -- whatever you can tell on that?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: You bet. We'll get that to you.

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, it was reported over the weekend that Jay Garner had urged the military to provide security at key facilities in Baghdad before it had fallen -- the antiquities place and some banks. In retrospect, was it a mistake not to put security at those facilities? Considering that -- getting intelligence and that you probably lost documents from some buildings, was it a mistake not to provide that security?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I don't know anything about what Jay may have recommended to someone in CENTCOM on the subject. There were a large number of things that it was desirable to have happen, to be protected, if you will. And the reality is that when forces are at war and they're moving into a city or into a province that's held by enemy, they have a lot of concerns. They have a lot of things they have to do. One is they'd like to prevail in the conflict. Second is, they would like to have as few coalition casualties as is possible. And a third is that they would like to provide for force protection for the coalition forces. Fourth is they'd like to not -- or fifth, they'd like to not kill innocent civilians. So they're careful on that type of thing.

;;;;;; And at some moment their forces increase, and they then start changing that. As the pressure for winning is less and they think they're going to win, and the pressure for protecting their own people is less, they can then begin the process of attempting to think through what other things might be done.

;;;;;; And hospitals are important, places -- getting electricity into a hospital, for example, is important. Protecting headquarters where there might be documentation is important. And a lot of that was done.

;;;;;; Now, everything was not done, nor was everything that ultimately was done done instantaneously. And it strikes me that it's asking an awful lot for a group of people, young men and women in uniform, whose lives are at risk, to expect them to go into an area and protect everything in that area that it would be nice to protect. It just isn't going to happen. I think that expectation is unrealistic.

;;;;;; Pam?

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, I want to close the loop on the Iraq base question. Was your answer intended to say that you are not currently considering -- you haven't considered yet having permanent bases there, or is it that you've ruled it out? Because it seems to me that in places where there are U.S. military bases, there tends to be more stability.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I have never, that I can recall, heard the subject of a permanent base in Iraq discussed in any meeting.

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Correct.

;;;;;; Q So that means it hasn't come up, yet, but you haven't ruled it out? Does it?

;;;;;; (Pause.)

;;;;;; Far be it from me to put words in your mouth, because you're on fire today! (Laughter.)

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Now, now! Now, now! You should me when I'm on fire. (Laughter.)

;;;;;; Q (Off mike.)

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: No, no, not even close. I'm reflective today. (Laughter.)

;;;;;; The likelihood of it seems to me to be so low that it does not surprise me that it's never been discussed in my presence, to my knowledge. Why do I say it's low? Well, we've got all kinds of options and opportunities in that part of the world to locate forces, it's not like we need a new place. We have plenty of friends and plenty of ability to work with them and have locations for things that help to contribute to stability in the region. We --

;;;;;; Q Is there a down side to having them?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I think there is a down side. I think any impression that is left, which that article left, that the United States plans some sort of a permanent presence in that country, I think is a signal to the people of that country that's inaccurate and unfortunate, because we don't plan to function as an occupier, we don't plan to prescribe to any new government how we ought to be arranged in their country.

;;;;;; It's just not something we do. We're not arranged that way.

;;;;;; Q Is the problem, Mr. Secretary, the use of the word "permanent"? Is that the problem? Permanent denotes forever.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Or long-term. How do you like that?

;;;;;; Q Are you okay with long-term?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: You can substitute -- no -- you can substitute long-term for permanent, and my answer's the same. We are using those bases, properly so, to help with stabilization forces and humanitarian assistance. And thank goodness we are, because a great deal is coming in through the port and coming in through those airfields in ways that are helpful to the people.

;;;;;; Q So do you have no interest in a future military-to-military relationship with a new Iraqi government if they want one?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: We haven't gotten to that point. My goodness gracious, we've just gone in and thrown out Saddam Hussein's regime.

;;;;;; Q But wouldn't it be logical?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Why would --

;;;;;; Q You would be thinking about how to continue on the gains you have made --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: It may be logical, but we haven't done it. (Laughter.) We stand indicted of failing to consider permanent bases in Iraq. We apologize profusely. (Laughter.) How have we done?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: In 32 days, we're doing okay.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Yeah! (Laughs.)

;;;;;; Q Mr. Secretary, how long do you plan -- there have been several statements this weekend about the possible duration of military presence of --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: The possible what?

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: Duration.

;;;;;; Q The length of a military presence in Iraq. Mr. Richard Perle mentioned six months; Ahmad Chalabi, two years; you said, if I recall correctly, as long as necessary --

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: And not one day longer.

;;;;;; Q Exactly. How long is that, do you think; in terms of months or years?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: We don't know. I don't know. Maybe everyone else has a view, but I'm without a view. It depends on how this thing ends; it depends on how rapidly this interim government evolves; it depends on how successful external influences are in trying to change what's going on in that country adversely. There's so many variables, it's just not possible. We have no desire to be there for long periods, we simply don't. And that's just a cold, hard fact.

;;;;;; Yes?

;;;;;; Q (Inaudible) -- U.S. troops would be able to successfully deal with the remnants of the regime faster than they've been able to do with the Taliban and al Qaeda in Afghanistan?

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: I would hope so. I would hope so. I think the -- it partly depends on neighbors. The problem in Afghanistan is the border with Iran and with Pakistan. And that opportunity to move back and forth across borders, and to make mischief from the other side of the border and to supply elements within the country makes it more difficult.

;;;;;; If it were an island, it would be, probably, less of a problem. But it's not an island. And I have a feeling that it will partly depend on how Iraq's neighbors behave, to some extent.

;;;;;; But I'm -- I really -- I don't know that I'm smart enough to look out into the future, take all of those variables and grab them and say, "Well, this one is going to come out this way, and that one will come out that way, and then when they all interact, that means it's going to be nine months or nine years." I just can't do that. I just think that anyone who thinks they can probably is just guessing, and I can't get in the business of guessing because you all will beat me up for it. (Scattered laughter.)

;;;;;; Q Could I ask General Myers a question? Last week you were asked about this lessons-learned study that would be done of the war, and you said you didn't want to get into what lessons you thought you could draw already. But I wonder, would you just explain how this exercise works a little bit? What sorts of things get looked at, and what is done with the information? Does it mean that certain weapons systems might get cancelled? Does it mean that units will be reorganized? What's the --

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: First of all, lessons learned can impact a variety of things: your doctrine, how you organize yourself, how you train, how you train your leadership, and maybe even how you pick your leadership, what kind of facilities you need. It can go into material things as well. There may be certain systems that are -- you know, you've decided might be more valuable in the future than others. So it's across that -- that's how it's applied across that whole gamut.

;;;;;; And the way it will be organized is a little bit different than in the past, is that we're going to try to turn these lessons very, very quickly. And so we're taking a series of views. The first view probably ought to inform us on the sorts of things that we have on the table right now in the '04 budget, and so forth. Are there anything extraordinary that might require some adjustment? That budget was built some time ago, as you know. Certainly for the '05 budget and forward, are there things that need to be done there? And then some of these other things that aren't budget-related, that are just either organization or doctrine, that can be fed into the process as we go along. So --

;;;;;; Q Well, to ask a specific question, I think that some critics of the FA-22 would like to draw the lesson, you know, that this air war went so smoothly that that plane isn't needed. Do you think you can draw a lesson from this war for --

;;;;;; GEN. MYERS: The only thing I would say regarding that, that the Afghan conflict taught us some things, some of which we used in Iraq, some of which we didn't use. Iraq is going to teach us a lot of things, but it's not going to be the template for -- you can't just keep laying it over and saying, "Well, that's the template for the future," necessarily. There will be good elements that we'll want to replicate, want to carry forward, want to enhance; there will be other elements that probably we don't want to have in the future. And I'm not going to make any comments on that.

;;;;;; SEC. RUMSFELD: Thank you very much.

END.

;

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>;<Brosnahan, Jennifer R.>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Sampson, Kyle>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Ullyot, Theodore W.>
Sent: 4/21/2003 5:52:02 PM
Subject: Sen. Ensign op-ed in Reno Gazette-Journal

I always feel grateful when I see an individual who has a lucrative career in the private sector but still decides to willingly forfeit the benefits of such a career to serve his community and his country. So it is particularly disheartening when such a person falls victim to the sometimes-nasty political process in Washington. Such is the case of Miguel Estrada, who has been nominated by President Bush for a seat on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

Mr. Estrada embodies much of what is great about our country, having come to America as an immigrant from Honduras, speaking almost no English, graduating magna cum laude from Harvard Law, and ascending to the highest levels of the legal profession. Miguel Estrada was handed nothing and achieved what he did through hard work, perseverance, a commitment to education and a belief that America's opportunities were closed to no one willing to work for them.

Sadly, Mr. Estrada's accomplishments and desire to serve his country have not been enough to protect him from vociferous and partisan attacks with absolutely no foundation in fact. Senate Democrats have gone far beyond their bitter rhetoric and taken the highly unusual step of threatening a filibuster in order to derail Mr. Estrada's nomination.

Mr. Estrada himself is in no way a partisan advocate. He has served in the administrations of Presidents George W. Bush and Bill Clinton. The long list of Hispanic groups backing Miguel Estrada's nomination includes the League of United Latin American Citizens and the U.S. Hispanic Chamber of Commerce, among others.

In Nevada alone, more than a dozen groups have stepped forward to support Mr. Estrada, including Fair Treatment for Immigrants, the Nevada Education Council and the Reno Hispanic Chamber of Commerce.

Some Senate Democrats, however, cannot tolerate a nominee of President Bush no matter his character and qualifications and are willing to try to scuttle his nomination for the sole purpose of denying the president something they see as a political victory. What they fail to understand is that Miguel Estrada's appointment to the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia will be a victory for all of us because our judicial system will undoubtedly be strengthened by the judgment and wisdom that Mr. Estrada will provide.

Democrats complain loudly that Mr. Estrada has not provided enough information about his views on certain issues. However, it is clearly improper for Mr. Estrada or any other judicial nominee to take a stance during the nomination process on issues he or she might have to rule on as a judge.

By orchestrating a filibuster and denying Miguel Estrada an up-or-down vote in the Senate, Democrats are setting a dangerous precedent that could poison the nomination process for years to come and offset the balance of powers in the federal government that our nation's founders intended.

Let us all hope that these shortsighted, mean-spirited and misguided attempts will fail, and that Miguel Estrada, a fine American and fine judicial candidate, will be allowed to serve our country. The swearing in of Judge Estrada will affirm that hard work and a desire to better the American judicial system must prevail over empty rhetoric and petty politics.

John Ensign is a U.S. senator from Nevada.

From: Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov>
To: Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/21/2003 2:11:07 PM
Subject: : White House Global Messenger - 4/22/03
Attachments: P_FJ3SF003_WHO.TXT_1.doc

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> (Office of Global Communications <Global.Messenger@WhiteHouse.Gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:21-APR-2003 18:11:07.00
SUBJECT:: White House Global Messenger - 4/22/03
TO:Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications (CN=Andrew Liggett Office of Global Communications/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

(See attached file: GM 4-22-03 FINAL.doc)

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER
Tuesday, April 22, 2003

KEY POINTS***

*The overall situation in Iraq is improving daily, but Coalition forces still face resistance from remnants of Saddam's death squads and foreign fighters who came to oppose Coalition forces.

*As we work to remove remaining elements of the former regime, the Iraqi people are emerging from the shadow of Saddam's tyranny to help Coalition forces find death squads, uncover weapons caches, capture regime leaders, recover POWs, and restore order and basic services.

*This kind of cooperation is happening on a daily basis, across the county - a sign of the growing trust between Coalition forces and the majority of ordinary Iraqis.

*Of course, not all Iraqis support the Coalition presence. In any totalitarian system, there will be a small portion of the population that profits from the power of the dictatorship, while some others may be ordinary citizens who are understandably uncomfortable with the presence of any foreign forces on their soil.

*A few weeks ago, there were no protests in Iraq. Now, Iraqis are speaking out, expressing opinions, discussing and debating the future of their country. They can do so because of the courage and determination of the Coalition forces.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE***
All Times Eastern Daylight. Subject to Change

7:00am CentCom Operations Update
12:30pm White House Briefing
TBD State Department Briefing
TBD Defense Department Briefing

LIBERATION UPDATE***
The voices of freedom, now heard in many parts of Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at: http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

***
"Iraq has just emerged from a nightmare that lasted 35 years. The problems that Iraq has suffered under the rule of Saddam's regime cannot be eliminated in one or two days. Iraqis must hold several meetings until they agree on what they deem appropriate for the establishment of an interim government representing all Iraqi factions and capable of preparing a permanent constitution top be submitted to the people through a public referendum before the nature of [the next] government could be agreed. This requires a long time."
Muhammad Bahr-al-Ulum, Egyptian Radio,4-16-03

CLIMATE OF FEAR***
Brief accounts of the pain inflicted by Saddam's regime on the people of Iraq

"When asked what kind of torture he went through, Mekhedi gets tears in his eyes and looks away. After collecting himself, he says only that in this section of the prison, the guards doled out electric shock and, if the prisoner resisted, severe beatings. 'Of course, it is very painful for me to come back and remember, but being back also makes me enthusiastic for the future and gives me the desire to survive,' he says, smiling somewhat ruefully."
US News & World Report, 4-28-03

KEY QUOTE***

"[W]hen people are free, they express their opinions. You know, [Iraqis] couldn't express their opinions before we came, now they can. I've always said democracy is going to be hard. It's not easy to go from being enslaved to being free. But it's going to happen, because the basic instinct of mankind is to be free."
President Bush, to reporters, 4-20-03

THE WHITE HOUSE
Office of Global Communications
For more information log on to http://www.whitehouse.gov/ogc

****
You have previously expressed interest in obtaining news and information from the White House.

The White House Office of Global Communications distributes information about the President's messages to the world. This office distributes updates on major international topics such as the global war on terror, the case for regime change in Iraq, and more broadly, the ways in which we can all better communicate the aspirations and interests that Americans share with freedom-loving people everywhere.
- GM 4-22-03 FINAL.doc
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_FJ3SF003_WHO.TXT_1>

THE GLOBAL MESSENGER

Tuesday, April 22, 2003

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

All Times Eastern Daylight. Subject to Change

7:00 am	CentCom Operations Update
12:30 pm	White House Briefing
TBD	State Department Briefing
TBD	Defense Department Briefing

LIBERATION UPDATE

The voices of freedom, now heard in many parts of Iraq

For more reactions to Operation Iraqi Freedom, visit "Liberation Update" at:
http://www.whitehouse.gov/liberation

***

"Iraq has just emerged from a nightmare that lasted 35 years. The problems that Iraq has suffered under the rule of Saddam's regime cannot be eliminated in one or two days. Iraqis must hold several meetings until they agree on what they deem appropriate for the establishment of an interim government representing all Iraqi factions and capable of preparing a permanent constitution top be submitted to the people through a public referendum before the nature of [the next] government could be agreed. This requires a long time."
Muhammad Bahr-al-Ulum, Egyptian Radio, 4-16-03

CLIMATE OF FEAR

Brief accounts of the pain inflicted by Saddam's regime on the people of Iraq

"When asked what kind of torture he went through, Mekhedi gets tears in his eyes and looks away. After collecting himself, he says only that in this section of the prison, the guards doled out electric shock and, if the prisoner resisted, severe beatings. 'Of course, it is very painful for me to come back and remember, but being back also makes me enthusiastic for the future and gives me the desire to survive,' he says, smiling somewhat ruefully."
US News & World Report*, 4-28-03

KEY POINTS

- The overall situation in Iraq is improving daily, but Coalition forces still face resistance from remnants of Saddam's death squads and foreign fighters who came to oppose Coalition forces.
- As we work to remove remaining elements of the former regime, the Iraqi people are emerging from the shadow of Saddam's tyranny to help Coalition forces find death squads, uncover weapons caches, capture regime leaders, recover POWs, and restore order and basic services.
- This kind of cooperation is happening on a daily basis, across the county - a sign of the growing trust between Coalition forces and the majority of ordinary Iraqis.
- Of course, not all Iraqis support the Coalition presence. In any totalitarian system, there will be a small portion of the population that profits from the power of the dictatorship, while some others may be ordinary citizens who are understandably uncomfortable with the presence of any foreign forces on their soil.
- A few weeks ago, there were no protests in Iraq. Now, Iraqis are speaking out, expressing opinions, discussing and debating the future of their country. They can do so because of the courage and determination of the Coalition forces.

KEY QUOTE

"[W]hen people are free, they express their opinions. You know, [Iraqis] couldn't express their opinions before we came, now they can. I've always said democracy is going to be hard. It's not easy to go from being enslaved to being free. But it's going to happen, because the basic instinct of mankind is to be free."
-- President Bush, to reporters, 4-20-03

From: CN=Courtney S. Elwood/OU=OVP/O=EOP [OVP]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/22/2003 7:43:12 AM
Subject: : Re:

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Courtney S. Elwood (CN=Courtney S. Elwood/OU=OVP/O=EOP [OVP])
CREATION DATE/TIME:22-APR-2003 11:43:12.00
SUBJECT:: Re:
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Yeah, I understand. Would you mind, however, if I took a look at the memos that Jay's office prepared during that tort reform exercise?

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/22/2003 11:40:39 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Courtney S. Elwood/OVP/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re:

yes, I have mine and my current files on class action and medical liability, but nothing in there looks like your stuff.

Courtney S. Elwood
04/22/2003 11:37:16 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re:

Thanks. Did you find your tort reform materials by chance? I again looked through Jen's files and didn't find my files. Perhaps I gave them to you (although I have no specific recollection of that) and they were archived -- in which case, I guess they are gone forever.

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/22/2003 11:30:01 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Courtney S. Elwood/OVP/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject:

I went through my file cabinets and did not see anything that looked like your tort reform file.

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/22/2003 10:15:57 AM
Subject: Tea leaves

In USA Today, Joan Biskupic reports here that "Chief Justice William Rehnquist has extended the contract of his administrative assistant, a possible -- but not definitive -- signal that he will stay on the bench another year."

From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/22/2003 10:59:34 AM
Subject: RE:

Is the book by Katharine Tenpas?

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Tuesday, April 22, 2003 10:57 AM
To: Bumatay, Patrick J.
Subject:

I gave Judge a library book a while ago that was entitled something like Presidents and Re-elections. Can you ask him if he has it.

From: CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/22/2003 11:07:21 AM
Subject: : FW:

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:David G. Leitch (CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:22-APR-2003 15:07:21.00
SUBJECT:: FW:
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

FYI
-----Original Message-----
From: Leitch, David G.
Sent: Tuesday, April 22, 2003 3:01 PM
To: Sampson, Kyle
Subject:

I see on my calendar our interview with Kinser scheduled for next week.; I think I should probably not participate in that.;

From: CN=Jess Sharp/OU=OPD/O=EOP [OPD]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/22/2003 7:36:01 AM
Subject: : Re: bankruptcy

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Jess Sharp (CN=Jess Sharp/OU=OPD/O=EOP [OPD])
CREATION DATE/TIME:22-APR-2003 11:36:01.00
SUBJECT:: Re: bankruptcy
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Brett - Thank you so much for looking into this. So from a legal standpoint the '84 change has made it more difficult for airlines to cut its labor costs in bankruptcy. What exactly was the pre-'84 procedure? Did bankruptcy provide total protection to the debtor, allowing it to simply declare a contract void?

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/21/2003 03:04:08 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Jess Sharp/OPD/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

I can talk about your first question when you want.

It certainly appears that the amendment to the Bankruptcy Code in 1984, which undermined the Bildisco decision, has hindered the ability of airlines to reject collective bargaining agreements when in bankruptcy. The statute set forth a 3-part test that courts must apply before allowing a debtor to reject a CBA. (Note that this is not an airline-only carve-out.) Beyond the requirements of the statutory test itself, an added problem is that the standards used by courts in applying this test to assess when and under what circumstances a collective bargaining agreement may be rejected are vague and unpredictable. Indeed, there is a circuit split between the Second and Third Circuits on one key issue (the application of the "necessary" standard), with the Second Circuit granting the debtor more flexibility in modifying or rejecting a collective bargaining agreement.

I cannot describe with certainty the economic ramifications of all of this, but the ability of a debtor to reject collective bargaining agreements was significantly circumscribed by the 1984 statutory amendment; moreover, the standards outlined in the statute have caused great uncertainty in the courts. I am sure the airlines have described this to you in some depth. I would be happy to write this up in any form you wish.

Jess Sharp
04/17/2003 03:32:26 PM

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

We're looking into this as part of our effort to understand possible impediments to the health of the industry. I just need an understanding of how airline collective bargaining contracts are protected under bankruptcy law. My understanding is that pre-1984, labor contracts were the same as any other contract once an airline went into bankruptcy. They could be abrogated or rewritten by the company fairly easily. Since 1984 the labor contracts have been treated differently. Airlines must go to the bankruptcy judge to amend its contracts and 20 years of case law governs the judges ability to approve those amendments.
Does this restriction - that I think is a carve out for airline unions - seem to unnecessarily hamper their ability to cut labor costs in bankruptcy. Are their barriers to liquidation - could a bankruptcy judge force an airline to stay in business because of "public interest" even though its viability is in question? Do airlines emerge too weak because of the interference or rulings of bankruptcy judges? These are very subjective obviously, but could probably be explored if I had a better understanding of where the pressure points are in an airline bankruptcy.

Thanks a lot Brett.

Jess

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/17/2003 03:06:17 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Jess Sharp/OPD/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

I can dig into this. What do you need to know?

Jess Sharp
04/16/2003 03:49:21 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: bankruptcy

I'm digging around for as much info as I can on bankruptcy law as it pertains to airlines. Are you the man to talk to? I know you've been in some of our airline meetings, but I didn't know if your angle was only anti trust. Thanks Brett.

Jess

From: Charles Spies - Legal <CSpies@rnchq.org>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/22/2003 7:56:36 AM
Subject: : FW: 4/25 BCRA-FEC Conference Call
Attachments: P_W2RSF003_WHO.TXT_1.htm

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Charles Spies - Legal <CSpies@rnchq.org> (Charles Spies - Legal <CSpies@rnchq.org> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:22-APR-2003 11:56:36.00
SUBJECT:: FW: 4/25 BCRA-FEC Conference Call
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Brett -

I'm sure you're swamped these days, but if you have time on Friday you may find this conference call interesting. We (Tom and I) will be discussing the FEC's expecting ruling on Thursday regarding a variety of "soft money" solicitation issues regarding Federal candidates and officeholders.

- Charlie

-----Original Message-----
From: Katherine Piper - Legal
Sent: Monday, April 21, 2003 4:48 PM
To: Katherine Piper - Legal
Subject: 4/25 BCRA-FEC Conference Call

After a break last week, we will be resuming our weekly BCRA-FEC Conference Calls this Friday.

Please find below the call-in information for this week's conference call, which will take place on Friday, April 25th, at 4pm EST.

You must RSVP back to me by Wednesday night in order to be on the call. Previous responses will not carry over to this week. You will need to respond to each week's email message.

The subject of this week's call is "FEC Advisory Opinion 2003-03: Federal Officeholder Participation in State and Local Candidate Events". Please email any questions that you would like the attorneys to address by COB on Wednesday.

FEC/BCRA Conference Call
Friday, April 25th 2003, 4 pm EST
Number: 888-566-5776
Leader Name: Tom Josefiak
Passcode: BCRA Five

For security purposes, the leader's name and passcode will be required to join the call. Thank you for your cooperation.

Katie Piper
RNC Counsel's Office
310 First Street, SE
Washington, DC 20003
202.863.8638 (phone)
202.863.8654 (fax)
www.rnc.org

- att1.htm
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_W2RSF003_WHO.TXT_1>

Brett -

I'm sure you're swamped these days, but if you have time on Friday you may find thi s conference call interesting. We (Tom and I) will be discussing the FEC's expecting ruling on Thursday regarding a variety of "soft money" solicitation issues regarding Federal candidates and officeholders.

- Charlie

-----Original Message-----
From: Katherine Piper - Legal
Sent: Monday, April 21, 2003 4:48 PM
To: Katherine Piper - Legal
Subject: 4/25 BCRA-FEC Conference Call

After a break last week, we will be resumin g our weekly BCRA-FEC Conference Calls this Friday.

Please find below the call-in information for this week's conference call, which will take place on Friday, April 25th, at 4pm EST.

You must RSVP back to me by Wednesday night in order to be on the call. Previous responses will not carry over to this week. You will need to respond t o each week's email message.

The subject of this week's call is "FEC Advisory Opinion 2003-03: Federal Officeholder Participation in State and Local Candidate Events". Please email any questions tha t you would like the attorneys to address by COB on Wednesday.

FEC/BCRA Conference Call
Friday, April 25th 2003, 4 pm EST
Number: 888-566-5776
Leader Name: Tom Josefiak
Passcode: BCRA Five

For security purposes, the leader's name an d passcode will be required to join the call. Thank you for your cooperation.

Katie Piper
RNC Counsel's Office
310 First Street, SE
Washington, DC 20003
202.863.8638 (phone)
202.863.8654 (fax)
www.rnc.org

From: CN=Courtney S. Elwood/OU=OVP/O=EOP [OVP]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/22/2003 7:57:12 AM
Subject: : Re:

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Courtney S. Elwood (CN=Courtney S. Elwood/OU=OVP/O=EOP [OVP])
CREATION DATE/TIME:22-APR-2003 11:57:12.00
SUBJECT:: Re:
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Thanks. Just let me know if you want me to come down and grab it.

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/22/2003 11:56:06 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Courtney S. Elwood/OVP/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re:

sure, I will dig out some stuff and have it delivered.

Courtney S. Elwood
04/22/2003 11:42:49 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re:

Yeah, I understand. Would you mind, however, if I took a look at the memos that Jay's office prepared during that tort reform exercise?

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/22/2003 11:40:39 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Courtney S. Elwood/OVP/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re:

yes, I have mine and my current files on class action and medical liability, but nothing in there looks like your stuff.

Courtney S. Elwood
04/22/2003 11:37:16 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re:

Thanks. Did you find your tort reform materials by chance? I again looked through Jen's files and didn't find my files. Perhaps I gave them to you (although I have no specific recollection of that) and they were archived -- in which case, I guess they are gone forever.

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/22/2003 11:30:01 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Courtney S. Elwood/OVP/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject:

I went through my file cabinets and did not see anything that looked like your tort reform file.

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Israel Hernandez/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Israel Hernandez>
Sent: 4/22/2003 9:35:13 AM
Subject: : what kind of info and in what format do you want for possible Law Day event

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:22-APR-2003 13:35:13.00
SUBJECT:: what kind of info and in what format do you want for possible Law Day event
TO:Israel Hernandez ( CN=Israel Hernandez/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Courtney S. Elwood/OVP/EOP@EOP [OVP] <Courtney S. Elwood>
Sent: 4/22/2003 10:19:06 AM
Subject: : Re:

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:22-APR-2003 14:19:06.00
SUBJECT:: Re:
TO:Courtney S. Elwood (CN=Courtney S. Elwood/OU=OVP/O=EOP@EOP [OVP])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

-- political priorities/reality check at the time with a D Senate, as I recall
-- maybe on email; will check

Courtney S. Elwood
04/22/2003 01:46:04 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re:

Thanks for the materials. I see that the Horowitz proposal was one of the proposals that was originally discussed by the tort reform group, but it fell out of the process between the initial meeting of the group (1/8/2002) and the final memo (2/27/2002). Having reviewed your docs, do you recall what happened to that idea? Do you still have the memo/document where the pros and cons of each proposal were listed?

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/22/2003 11:56:06 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Courtney S. Elwood/OVP/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re:

sure, I will dig out some stuff and have it delivered.

Courtney S. Elwood
04/22/2003 11:42:49 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:

bcc:
Subject: Re:

Yeah, I understand. Would you mind, however, if I took a look at the memos that Jay's office prepared during that tort reform exercise?

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/22/2003 11:40:39 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Courtney S. Elwood/OVP/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re:

yes, I have mine and my current files on class action and medical liability, but nothing in there looks like your stuff.

Courtney S. Elwood
04/22/2003 11:37:16 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re:

Thanks. Did you find your tort reform materials by chance? I again looked through Jen's files and didn't find my files. Perhaps I gave them to you (although I have no specific recollection of that) and they were archived -- in which case, I guess they are gone forever.

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/22/2003 11:30:01 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Courtney S. Elwood/OVP/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject:

I went through my file cabinets and did not see anything that looked like your tort reform file.

From: Vestewig, Lauren J.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/22/2003 3:13:39 PM
Subject: RE: are we meeting at 430 on airlines?

yes

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Tuesday, April 22, 2003 3:12 PM
To: Vestewig, Lauren J.
Subject: are we meeting at 430 on airlines?

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Benjamin A. Powell/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Benjamin A. Powell>
Sent: 4/22/2003 3:28:52 PM
Subject: : did we get a Coffey letter?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:22-APR-2003 19:28:52.00
SUBJECT:: did we get a Coffey letter?
TO:Benjamin A. Powell ( CN=Benjamin A. Powell/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Jess Sharp/OPD/EOP@EOP [OPD] <Jess Sharp>
Sent: 4/22/2003 11:50:09 AM
Subject: : Re: bankruptcy

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:22-APR-2003 15:50:09.00
SUBJECT:: Re: bankruptcy
TO:Jess Sharp (CN=Jess Sharp/OU=OPD/O=EOP@EOP [OPD])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

quick question: is there any paper for the 4:30 meeting?

Jess Sharp
04/22/2003 03:47:43 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

Cool. Thanks Brett. Any way to zero in on whether and or why some bankruptcy judges arguably allow an airline out of bankruptcy too soon? What is the standard or test that a debtor must meet to be released? Is there some judgement of feasibility?

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/22/2003 03:44:12 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Jess Sharp/OPD/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

It was a very weak standard that allowed debtors pretty much carte blanche to reject contracts, as the standard was intepreted by the Supreme Court. The day the Supreme Court decision came out offering this interpretation, the unions went nuts and persuaded Congress to quickly pass legislation we now have.

Jess Sharp
04/22/2003 11:35:38 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

Brett - Thank you so much for looking into this. So from a legal standpoint the '84 change has made it more difficult for airlines to cut its labor costs in bankruptcy. What exactly was the pre-'84 procedure? Did bankruptcy provide total protection to the debtor, allowing it to simply declare a contract void?

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/21/2003 03:04:08 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Jess Sharp/OPD/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

I can talk about your first question when you want.

It certainly appears that the amendment to the Bankruptcy Code in 1984, which undermined the Bildisco decision, has hindered the ability of airlines to reject collective bargaining agreements when in bankruptcy. The statute set forth a 3-part test that courts must apply before allowing a debtor to reject a CBA. (Note that this is not an airline-only carve-out.) Beyond the requirements of the statutory test itself, an added problem is that the standards used by courts in applying this test to assess when and under what circumstances a collective bargaining agreement may be rejected are vague and unpredictable. Indeed, there is a circuit split between the Second and Third Circuits on one key issue (the application of the "necessary" standard), with the Second Circuit granting the debtor more flexibility in modifying or rejecting a collective bargaining agreement.

I cannot describe with certainty the economic ramifications of all of this, but the ability of a debtor to reject collective bargaining agreements was significantly circumscribed by the 1984 statutory amendment; moreover, the standards outlined in the statute have caused great uncertainty in the courts. I am sure the airlines have described this to you in some depth. I would be happy to write this up in any form you wish.

Jess Sharp
04/17/2003 03:32:26 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

We're looking into this as part of our effort to understand possible impediments to the health of the industry. I just need an understanding of how airline collective bargaining contracts are protected under bankruptcy law. My understanding is that pre-1984, labor contracts were the same as any other contract once an airline went into bankruptcy. They could be abrogated or rewritten by the company fairly easily. Since 1984 the labor contracts have been treated differently. Airlines must go to the bankruptcy judge to amend its contracts and 20 years of case law governs the judges ability to approve those amendments.
Does this restriction - that I think is a carve out for airline unions - seem to unnecessarily hamper their ability to cut labor costs in bankruptcy. Are their barriers to liquidation - could a bankruptcy judge force an airline to stay in business because of "public interest" even though its viability is in question? Do airlines emerge too weak because of the interference or rulings of bankruptcy judges? These are very subjective obviously, but could probably be explored if I had a better understanding of where the pressure points are in an airline bankruptcy.

Thanks a lot Brett.

Jess

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/17/2003 03:06:17 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Jess Sharp/OPD/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

I can dig into this. What do you need to know?

Jess Sharp
04/16/2003 03:49:21 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: bankruptcy

I'm digging around for as much info as I can on bankruptcy law as it pertains to airlines. Are you the man to talk to? I know you've been in some of our airline meetings, but I didn't know if your angle was only anti trust. Thanks Brett.

Jess

From: CN=Jess Sharp/OU=OPD/O=EOP [OPD]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/22/2003 11:56:31 AM
Subject: : Re: bankruptcy

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Jess Sharp (CN=Jess Sharp/OU=OPD/O=EOP [OPD])
CREATION DATE/TIME:22-APR-2003 15:56:31.00
SUBJECT:: Re: bankruptcy
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Not that I have. I think we're just running through what should go into a paper for Deputies on Friday and Principals on Monday. I think we'll end up discussing how the Administration can speak with one voice on competition issues.

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/22/2003 03:49:48 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Jess Sharp/OPD/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

quick question: is there any paper for the 4:30 meeting?

Jess Sharp
04/22/2003 03:47:43 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

Cool. Thanks Brett. Any way to zero in on whether and or why some bankruptcy judges arguably allow an airline out of bankruptcy too soon? What is the standard or test that a debtor must meet to be released? Is there some judgement of feasibility?

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/22/2003 03:44:12 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Jess Sharp/OPD/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

It was a very weak standard that allowed debtors pretty much carte blanche to reject contracts, as the standard was intepreted by the Supreme Court. The day the Supreme Court decision came out offering this interpretation, the unions went nuts and persuaded Congress to quickly pass legislation we now have.

Jess Sharp
04/22/2003 11:35:38 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

Brett - Thank you so much for looking into this. So from a legal standpoint the '84 change has made it more difficult for airlines to cut its labor costs in bankruptcy. What exactly was the pre-'84 procedure? Did bankruptcy provide total protection to the debtor, allowing it to simply declare a contract void?

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/21/2003 03:04:08 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Jess Sharp/OPD/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

I can talk about your first question when you want.

It certainly appears that the amendment to the Bankruptcy Code in 1984, which undermined the Bildisco decision, has hindered the ability of airlines to reject collective bargaining agreements when in bankruptcy. The statute set forth a 3-part test that courts must apply before allowing a debtor to reject a CBA. (Note that this is not an airline-only carve-out.) Beyond the requirements of the statutory test itself, an added problem is that the standards used by courts in applying this test to assess when and under what circumstances a collective bargaining agreement may be rejected are vague and unpredictable. Indeed, there is a circuit split between the Second and Third Circuits on one key issue (the application of the "necessary" standard), with the Second Circuit granting the debtor more flexibility in modifying or rejecting a collective bargaining agreement.

I cannot describe with certainty the economic ramifications of all of this, but the ability of a debtor to reject collective bargaining agreements was significantly circumscribed by the 1984 statutory amendment; moreover, the standards outlined in the statute have caused great uncertainty in the courts. I am sure the airlines have described this to you in some depth. I would be happy to write this up in any form you wish.

Jess Sharp
04/17/2003 03:32:26 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

We're looking into this as part of our effort to understand possible impediments to the health of the industry. I just need an understanding of how airline collective bargaining contracts are protected under bankruptcy law. My understanding is that pre-1984, labor contracts were the same as any other contract once an airline went into bankruptcy. They could be abrogated or rewritten by the company fairly easily. Since 1984 the labor contracts have been treated differently. Airlines must go to the bankruptcy judge to amend its contracts and 20 years of case law governs the judges ability to approve those amendments.
Does this restriction - that I think is a carve out for airline unions - seem to unnecessarily hamper their ability to cut labor costs in bankruptcy. Are their barriers to liquidation - could a bankruptcy judge force an airline to stay in business because of "public interest" even though its viability is in question? Do airlines emerge too weak because of the interference or rulings of bankruptcy judges? These are very subjective obviously, but could probably be explored if I had a better understanding of where the pressure points are in an airline bankruptcy.

Thanks a lot Brett.

Jess

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/17/2003 03:06:17 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Jess Sharp/OPD/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: bankruptcy

I can dig into this. What do you need to know?

Jess Sharp
04/16/2003 03:49:21 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: bankruptcy

I'm digging around for as much info as I can on bankruptcy law as it pertains to airlines. Are you the man to talk to? I know you've been in some of our airline meetings, but I didn't know if your angle was only anti trust. Thanks Brett.

Jess

From: Bumatay, Patrick J.
To: <Ullyot, Theodore W.>;<Addington, David S.>;<Bartolomucci, H. Christopher>;<Bellinger, John B.>;<Brilliant, Hana F.>;<Brosnahan, Jennifer R.>;<Bumatay, Patrick J.>;<Carroll, James W.>;<Everson, Nanette>;<Farrell, J. Elizabeth>;<Francisco, Noel J.>;<Ganter, Jonathan F.>;<Jucas, Tracy>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<McNally, Edward>;<Montiel, Charlotte L.>;<Nelson, Carolyn>;<Newstead, Jennifer G.>;<Powell, Benjamin A.>;<Sampson, Kyle>
Sent: 4/22/2003 5:38:57 PM
Subject: Samuel Der-Yeghiayan

Samuel Der-Yeghiayan, USDC, Northern District of Illinois, is uanimously rated "Qualified" by the ABA.

From: CN=Ryan L. Cole/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/22/2003 2:20:05 PM
Subject: : Re: CNP

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Ryan L. Cole (CN=Ryan L. Cole/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:22-APR-2003 18:20:05.00
SUBJECT:: Re: CNP
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Brett,

CNP is one of the oldest conservative groups in the country. They are old fashioned Reagan conservatives: not overly friendly to the government. There should be 150 people at the briefing. I hope this helps. If not, I'll have Matt or Tim give you a call.

Thanks,

Ryan

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/22/2003 02:26:11 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Ryan L. Cole/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: CNP

sure; can you give me a little more info about the group; the description is quite vague

Ryan L. Cole
04/22/2003 01:55:50 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: CNP

Brett,

Would you be available to speak to a briefing for CNP that Tim Goeglein and Matt Smith are doing in room 450 on 4/24 at 6:00pm? You would only need to speak for 15 minutes. Would this work for you?

Thanks,

Ryan

"The Center for National Policy (CNP), a non-profit, non-partisan public policy organization, is dedicated to promoting the public interest. Since its founding in 1981, CNP has served as a forum for debate and discussion and has been a significant player in developing policy alternatives that are responsive to and effectively serve the interests of all Americans.

CNP works with policy-makers and policy experts from across the political spectrum to promote the development of a common agenda for democratic governance in the 21st Century"

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Snee, Ashley>;<Orr, Christopher J.>
Sent: 4/22/2003 8:02:57 PM
Subject: May 9 is target date

From: Gonzales, Alberto R.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/22/2003 8:05:46 PM
Subject: Re: event approved for Rose Garden on Friday, May 9

What is the event look like?

From: CN=Gayle S. Worthy/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Tony.Coppolino@usdoj.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <Tony.Coppolino@usdoj.gov @ inet>;Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov @ inet [UNKNOWN] <Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov @ inet>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/23/2003 5:45:30 AM
Subject: : Availability for phone meeting this p.m.

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Gayle S. Worthy ( CN=Gayle S. Worthy/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:23-APR-2003 09:45:30.00
SUBJECT:: Availability for phone meeting this p.m.
TO:Tony.Coppolino@usdoj.gov @ inet ( Tony.Coppolino@usdoj.gov @ inet [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov @ inet ( Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov @ inet [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

All, Ed has asked me to setup a phone meeting for this p.m., pls provide your availability, should take about .15 mins.
thanks
gayle
6-1195
```

From: Leitch, David G.
To: <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/23/2003 7:14:44 AM
Subject:

How Appealing provided a link to this article, which commented on the item I sent you this weekend about Republicans tiring of the judicial fights.

http://rushlimbaugh.com/home/daily/site_042103/content/rush_is_right.guest.html

From: CN=Benjamin A. Powell/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/23/2003 7:59:32 AM
Subject: : okl name

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Benjamin A. Powell ( CN=Benjamin A. Powell/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:23-APR-2003 11:59:32.00
SUBJECT:: okl name
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

is being faxed over right now.
```

From: Thomas, Ginni <ginni.thomas@heritage.org>
To: Thomas, Ginni <ginni.thomas@heritage.org>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/23/2003 8:20:32 AM
Subject: : Heritage Update - Recent Publications and Upcoming Events, April 23rd
Attachments: P_IS3UF003_WHO.TXT_1.htm

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Thomas, Ginni" <ginni.thomas@heritage.org> ("Thomas, Ginni" <ginni.thomas@heritage.org> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:23-APR-2003 12:20:32.00
SUBJECT:: Heritage Update - Recent Publications and Upcoming Events, April 23rd
TO:"Thomas, Ginni" <ginni.thomas@heritage.org> ("Thomas, Ginni" <ginni.thomas@heritage.org> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Feel free to attend (and RSVP) for any events. We would welcome any suggestions or ideas too - Thanks, Ginni

<http://www.heritage.org/emails/hidden/heritage_update.gif>
<http://www.heritage.org/> <http://www.heritage.org/research/>
<http://www.heritage.org/press/dailybriefing/>
<http://www.heritage.org/press/events/>

April 23, 2003

Upcoming Events: Click here for <http://www.heritage.org/Press/Events/index.cfm> event details and RSVP

The Role of the U.S.-Japan Alliance in East Asia's Strategic Environment
Featuring: Honorable Fukushiro Nukaga, H.R.-LDP; Takashi Nishioka, President, Mitsubishi Corp; Noboru Hoshuyama, Former Director-General, Defense Facilities Administration Agency; and Larry Wortzel, The Heritage Foundation.
Tuesday, April 29th, 9:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m.

Asia: The View from Capitol Hill
Featuring: Frank Jannuzi, Professional Staff Member Committee on Foreign Relations; Sara Hessenflow, Legislative Assistant Senator Sam Brownback;
Dennis Halpin, Professional Staff Committee on International Relations;
Peter Yeo, Deputy Staff Director, Committee on International Relations; and Dana Dillion, The Heritage Foundation.
Monday, May 5th, 1:30 p.m. - 3:00 p.m.

President Bush's Health Care Plan
Featuring: Doug Badger, Special Assistant to the President for Economic Policy, The White House; Director Kay James, Office of Personnel Management; Ann-Marie Lynch, Deputy Assistant Secretary, Office of Health Policy, Department of Health and Human Services; Bob Moffit and Mike Franc, The Heritage Foundation.
Thursday, May 8th, 12:00 noon - 1:30 p.m.
2226 Rayburn House Office Building. Lunch provided.

Foreign and Defense Policy:

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/MiddleEast/wm261.cfm> Operation Iraqi Freedom: Military Objectives Met
by Baker Spring

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/MiddleEast/wm260.cfm> Saddam Hussein's Violations of the Geneva Convention
by Carrie Satterlee

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/MiddleEast/wm266.cfm> War Crimes Trials
by Paul Rosenzweig

<http://www.heritage.org/Press/Commentary/ed042103.cfm> Syria's Fate by Peter Brookes

<http://www.heritage.org/Press/Commentary/ed041703.cfm> The U.N.'s Strong Suit in Iraq by Peter Brookes

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/MiddleEast/bg1646.cfm> Blueprint for Freedom: Limiting the Role of the United Nations in Post-War Iraq by Nile Gardiner and David Rivkin

<http://www.heritage.org/Press/Commentary/ed041703a.cfm> A Better Way to Chastise France by Dan Mitchell

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/MissileDefense/hl783.cfm> Ten Principles for Combating Nuclear Proliferation
by Baker Spring

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/AsiaandthePacific/hl781.cfm> The Anti-Terrorist Coalition in the Pacifi
<http://www.heritage.org/Research/AsiaandthePacific/hl781.cfm> c by Peter Brookes

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/NationalSecurity/wm256.cfm> Waging War on Terrorism
by Marshall Billingslea

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/HomelandDefense/TST040903.cfm> Securing Freedom And The Nation: Collecting Intelligence Under The Law by Paul Rosenzweig

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/HomelandDefense/wm253.cfm> Facts About WMD Threats Against Washington, D.C.
by Dexter Ingram

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/MiddleEast/wm257.cfm> Women and the Transition to Democracy: Iraq, Afghanistan, Beyond
<http://www.heritage.org/Research/MiddleEast/wm257.cfm> by Paula J. Dobriansky

Domestic Policy:

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/Taxes/em869.cfm> A Modest Proposal: How to Offset More Than Half of the President's Original Tax Cut by Brian M. Riedl

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/Taxes/wm263.cfm> Understanding Pro-Growth Tax Policy by Daniel Mitchell

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/Taxes/bg1644.cfm> CBO Estimates: Spending Weakens the Effects of Pro-Growth Tax Relief by Brian M. Riedl

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/Taxes/wm265.cfm> Most Stocks are Held by Private Investors
<http://www.heritage.org/Research/Taxes/wm265.cfm> by Norbert Michel

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/HealthCare/wm258.cfm> Giving Rural Seniors a Choice of Health Plans: The FEHBP Model for Medicare Reform by

Nina Owcharenko

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/HealthCare/wm259.cfm> Just the Facts:
Health Care Choice and Patient Satisfaction by Derek Hunter

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/HealthCare/wm250.cfm> Comparing Medicare and Private Health Insurance Spending by Joe Antos and Alfredo Goyburu

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/LegalIssues/lm7.cfm> The Over-Criminalization of Social and Economic Conduct
by Paul Rosenzweig

<http://www.heritage.org/Press/Commentary/ed042203.cfm> It's Not Freedom
From Religion - Part 2 by Rebecca Hagelin

Pirates
<http://www.heritage.org/Research/InternetandTechnology/hl785.cfm> and Posses: The Battle over Digital Copyright
by James Gattuso, Bruce Mehlman, Alec French, Gary Shapiro

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/Welfare/wm264.cfm> Abstinence Education Programs: The Only Sex Ed That Actually Works
<http://www.heritage.org/Research/Welfare/wm264.cfm> by Melissa Pardue

<http://www.heritage.org/Research/SmartGrowth/wm255.cfm> Does Sprawl
Breed Violence? A Debate by Ronald Utt

<http://www.heritage.org/Press/Commentary/ed041603.cfm> H
<http://www.heritage.org/Press/Commentary/ed041603.cfm> eritage for the Future by Rebecca Hagelin

Government Relations
<http://www.heritage.org/about/staff/michaelfranc.cfm> Michael Franc
Vice President, Government Relations
Contact: 202-608-6064
Executive Branch Relations
<http://www.heritage.org/about/staff/virginiathomas.cfm> Virginia Thomas
Director, Executive Branch Relations
Contact: 202-608-6240
<http://www.heritage.org/About/Staff/GinaHatheway.cfm> Gina Marie Hatheway
Deputy Director of Government Relations, Foreign Policy and Defense
Contact: 202-608-6065
Meredith Karre (<mailto:%20meredith.karre@heritage.org> email)
Deputy Executive Branch Liaison
Contact: 202-608-6058
<http://www.heritage.org/emails/hidden/pres_prior.gif>
<http://www.heritage.org/Research/MiddleEast/iraq/> War in Iraq
The nexus between terrorists and outlaw regimes striving for or possessing nuclear, chemical weapons of mass destruction is the greatest threat to the United States and our allies. This "Briefing Room" will be constantly updated during the military operation to end Saddam Hussein's brutal and menacing regime in Iraq.
<http://www.heritage.org/research/taxes/taxbriefingroom.cfm> The Economy
The Heritage Foundation's economics team has established this "Briefing Room" to present timely and accurate research on the tax debate and the President's Economic Growth Plan. Implementing the President's Economic Growth Package could create millions of jobs nationally. To find out how the individual states will fare, click here to see the <http://www.heritage.org/research/taxes/taxbriefingroom.cfm>
State-by-State Map On Job Growth.

<http://www.heritage.org/research/healthcare/medicarebriefingroom.cfm>
Health Care
Read The Heritage Foundation's suggestions on how to reform Medicare; increase choices, improve care, and expand coverage to the uninsured.
<http://www.heritage.org/emails/hidden/GR_heritageResources.gif>
<http://www.heritage.org/research/features/agenda.cfm> Agenda 2003:
Shaping America's Future
The issues facing the 108th Congress, from homeland security to health care to tax reform, present lawmakers with the opportunity to improve all Americans' security and prosperity. To request a copy of Heritage's Agenda 2003 or to <http://www.heritage.org/research/features/agenda.cfm> view excerpts, contact Meredith Karre, Deputy Executive Branch Liaison ( <emailto:%20meredith.karre@heritage.org> email).
<http://www.heritage.org/About/Bookstore/policyexperts2003.cfm> Policy
Experts 2003
The essential "who's who" guide to the world of public policy experts and organizations can be ordered by contacting the Heritage Foundation's Publications Department at 1-800-544-4843, by mail at, 214 Massachusetts Avenue NE, Washington, DC 20002, or <http://www.heritage.org/About/Bookstore/policyexperts2003.cfm> click here to order online.
<http://www.heritage.org/about/community/insider/> The Insider
<http://www.heritage.org/research/features/familydatabase/> Family and Society Database
<http://www.heritage.org/About/Staff/experts.cfm> Heritage Experts
<http://www.heritage.org/press/> Press Room
<http://www.heritage.org/press/events/> Heritage Live Events

Meredith Karre
Deputy Executive Branch Liaison
The Heritage Foundation
214 Mass. Ave., NE
Washington, D.C. 20002
(202) 608-6058 and (202) 608-6068 (fax)
meredith.karre@heritage.org
www.heritage.org

- att1.htm
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_IS3UF003_WHO.TXT_1>

Feel free to attend (and RSVP) for any events. We would welcome any suggestions or ideas too - Thanks, Ginni

Meredith Karre
Deputy Executive Branch Liaison
The Heritage Foundation
214 Mass. Ave., NE
Washington, D.C. 20002
(202) 608-6058 and (202) 608-6068 (fax)
meredith.karre@heritage.org
www.heritage.org

April 23, 2003

Upcoming Events: Click here fo r event details and RSVP

The Role of th e U.S.-Japan Alliance in East Asia's Strategic Environment
Featuring: Honorable Fukushiro Nukaga, H.R.-LDP; Takashi Nishioka, President, Mitsubishi Corp; Noboru Hoshuyama, Former Director-General, Defense Facilities Administration Agency; and Larry Wortzel, The Heritage Foundation.
Tuesday, Apri l 29th, 9:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m.

Asia: The View from Capitol Hill
Featuring: Frank Jannuzi, Professional Staff Member Committee on Foreign Relations; Sara Hessenflow, Legislative Assistant Senator Sam Brownback; Dennis Halpin, Professional Staff Committee on International Relations; Peter Yeo, Deputy Staff Director, Committee on International Relations; and Dana Dillion, The Heritage Foundation.
Monday, May 5th, 1:30 p.m. - 3:00 p.m.

President Bush's Health Care Plan
Featuring: Doug Badger, Special Assistant to the President fo r Economic Policy, The White House; Director Kay James, Office of Personnel Management; Ann-Marie Lynch, Deputy Assistant Secretary, Office of Health Policy , Department of Health and Human Services; Bob Moffit and Mike Franc, The Heritage Foundation.
Thursday, May 8th, 12:00 noon - 1:30 p.m.
2226 Rayburn House Office Building. Lunch provided.

Foreig n and Defense Policy:

Operation Iraqi Freedom: Military Objectives Met
by Baker Spring

Saddam Hussein's Violations of the Geneva Convention
by Carrie Satterlee

War Crimes Trials by Paul Rosenzweig

Syria's Fate by Peter Brookes

The U.N.'s Strong Suit in Iraq by Peter Brookes

Blueprint for Freedom: Limiting the Role of the United Nations in Post-War Iraq by Nile Gardiner and David Rivkin

A Better Way to Chastise France by Dan Mitchell

Ten Principles for Combating Nuclear Proliferation
by Baker Spring

The Anti-Terrorist Coalition in the Pacific b y Peter Brookes Waging War on Terrorism
by Marshall Billingslea

Securing Freedom And The Nation: Collecting Intelligence Under The Law by Paul Rosenzweig < FONT face=Arial size=2>Facts About WMD Threats Against Washington, D.C.

by Dexter Ingram
Women and the Transition to Democracy: Iraq , Afghanistan, Beyond by Paula J. Dobriansky

Domestic Policy:

A Modest Proposal: How to Offset More Than Half of the President's Original Tax Cut by Brian M. Riedl

Understanding Pro-Growth Tax Policy by Daniel Mitchell

CBO Estimates: Spending Weakens the Effects of Pro-Growth Tax Relief by Brian M. Riedl
Most Stocks are Held by Private Investors b y Norbert Michel
Giving Rural Seniors a Choice of Health Plans: The FEHBP Model for Medicare Reform by Nina Owcharenko

Just the Facts: Health Care Choice and Patient Satisfaction by Derek Hunter

Government Relations

Michael Franc
Vice President, Government Relations
Contact: 202-608-6064

Executive Branch Relations

Virginia Thomas
Director, Executive Branch Relations
Contact: 202-608-6240

Gina Marie Hatheway
Deputy Director of Government Relations, Foreign Policy and Defense
Contact: 202-608-6065

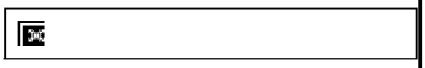
Meredith Karre (email)
Deputy Executive Branch Liaison
Contact: 202-608-6058

War in Iraq
The nexus between terrorists and outlaw regimes striving for or possessing nuclear, chemical weapons of mass destruction is the greatest threat to the United States and our allies. This "Briefing Room" will be constantly updated during the military operation to end Saddam Hussein's brutal and menacing regime in Iraq.

< FONT face=Arial color=#294984>The Economy
The Heritage Foundation's economics team has established this "Briefing Room" to present timely and accurate research on the tax debate and the President's Economic Growth Plan. Implementing the President's Economic Growth Package could create millions of jobs nationally. To find out how the individual states will fare, click here to see the < FONT face=Arial color=#294984>State-by-State Map On Job Growth.

Health Care
Read The Heritage Foundation's

Comparing Medicare and Private Health Insurance Spending by Joe Antos and Alfredo Goyburu
The Over-Criminalization of Social and Economic Conduct
by Paul Rosenzweig



It's Not Freedom From Religion - Part 2 &
nbsp; by Rebecca Hagelin

Pirates and Posses: The Battle over Digital Copyright
by James Gattuso, Bruce Mehlman, Alec French, Gary Shapiro
< /SPAN>
Abstinence Education Programs: The Only Sex Ed That Actually Works by Melissa Pardue

Does Sprawl Breed Violence? A Debate by Ronald Utt

Heritage for the Future by Rebecca Hagelin suggestions on how to reform Medicare; increase choices, improve care, and expand coverag e to the uninsured.

Agenda 2003: Shaping America's Future
The issues facing the 108th Congress, from homeland security to health care to tax reform, present lawmakers with the opportunity to improve all Americans' security and prosperity. To request a copy of Heritage's Agenda 2003 or to view excerpts, contact Meredith Karre, Deputy Executive Branch Liaison (email).

Policy Experts 2003
The essential "who's who" guide to the world of public policy experts and organizations can be ordered by contacting the Heritage Foundation's Publications Department at 1-800-544-4843, by mail at, 214 Massachusetts Avenue NE, Washington, DC 20002, or click here to order online.

The Insider

Family and Society Database

Heritage Experts

Press Room

Heritage Live Events

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>
Sent: 4/23/2003 4:43:13 AM
Subject: : has claude allen's file been cleared?

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:23-APR-2003 08:43:13.00
SUBJECT:: has claude allen's file been cleared?
TO:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######
```

From: GaryM Stern <garym.stern@nara.gov>
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
CC: Nancy Smith <nancy.smith@nara.gov>
Sent: 4/23/2003 9:19:26 AM
Subject: : Re: notices & 74 pages

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:GaryM Stern <garym.stern@nara.gov> (GaryM Stern <garym.stern@nara.gov> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:23-APR-2003 13:19:26.00
SUBJECT:: Re: notices & 74 pages
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:Nancy Smith <nancy.smith@nara.gov> (Nancy Smith <nancy.smith@nara.gov> [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

FYI, we agree with you and have redacted under (b)(6) the additional sentence in the last paragraph of the Jan. 14, 1982, memo.

Also, here is the answer from the Reagan Library to your question on whether the list of the 74 pages differs in any way from what's on the withdrawal sheets:

The only differences between what is listed on withdrawal sheets and on the inventory is in names, which were shortened to save keystrokes. For example:

"Peter J. Wallison to Thomas F. Gibson re talking points on Iran/Contra affairs" became

"Wallison to Gibson re talking points on Iran/Contra affairs"

All descriptions of the topic of the items remained the same.

>>> <Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov> 4/21/03 11:23:11 AM >>>
Not correct. We are not asserting privilege on this, as the letter indicates. But we are asking (by way of these e-mails) that you go back and carefully re-examine the (b)(6) issues. Thanks.

(Embedded
image moved GaryM Stern <garym.stern@nara.gov> to file: 04/21/2003 11:19:52 AM
pic22152.pcx)

Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:
Subject: Re: notices

I assume you are now okay with releasing this memo as currently redacted on the last page only, given the letter you just faxed clearing this entire notice for opening? If you still have a question, please let me know. Thanks.

>>> <Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov> 4/21/03 10:02:36 AM >>>
Question re the 220 pages in 2002-046: the Jan. 14, 1982, memo from

Fielding re Adkinson appears to have a lot of (b)(6) that should be redacted.

From: Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Gayle S. Worthy/WHO /EOP@EOP [WHO] <Gayle S. Worthy>;Tony.Coppolino@usdoj.gov <Tony.Coppolino@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 4/23/2003 5:49:47 AM
Subject: : RE: Availability for phone meeting this p.m.

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov" <Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov> ( "Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov" <Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:23-APR-2003 09:49:47.00
SUBJECT:: RE: Availability for phone meeting this p.m.
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Gayle S. Worthy ( CN=Gayle S. Worthy/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:"Tony.Coppolino@usdoj.gov" <Tony.Coppolino@usdoj.gov> (Receipt Notification Requested) (
"Tony.Coppolino@usdoj.gov" <Tony.Coppolino@usdoj.gov> (Receipt Notification Requested) [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

Gayle, I'm available all day and Brett says he's available at 10:30 (I was on the phone with him when I got your email). I'm in a meeting starting at 10, but can pull away at 10:30 if that's ok with McNally.

-----Original Message-----
From: Gayle_S._Worthy@who.eop.gov [mailto:Gayle_S._Worthy@who.eop.gov]
Sent: Wednesday, April 23, 2003 9:46 AM
To: Coffin, Shannen; Coppolino, Tony; Brett_M._Kavanaugh@who.eop.gov
Subject: Availability for phone meeting this p.m.

All, Ed has asked me to setup a phone meeting for this p.m., pls provide your availability, should take about .15 mins.
thanks
gayle
6-1195
```

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Kyle Sampson/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Kyle Sampson>
CC: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <David G. Leitch>
Sent: 4/23/2003 10:32:20 AM
Subject: : Fern Smith -- ND Cal

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [ WHO ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:23-APR-2003 14:32:20.00
SUBJECT:: Fern Smith -- ND Cal
TO:Kyle Sampson ( CN=Kyle Sampson/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
CC:David G. Leitch ( CN=David G. Leitch/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

She has taken senior status. However, this does NOT create a new vacancy because she had been on Fed Judicial Center and the law authorizing judges to serve in that center creates an additional seat in the relevant district immediately (which has now been filled) and specifies that next vacancy (the Smith vacancy in this case) is not to be filed. So no vacancy.
```

From: Bartolomucci, H. Christopher
To: <Leitch, David G.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>;<Carroll, James W.>
Sent: 4/23/2003 2:52:45 PM
Subject: Waldman

Waldman's secretary says that he is going to execute the name check form and the credit check form today and that they will be faxed back to us by COB today or first thing in the morning.

From:	Comisac, RenaJohnson \(Judiciary\) <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov>
To:	Jamie.E.Brown@usdoj.gov <Jamie.E.Brown@usdoj.gov>;brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov <brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov>;Nancy.Scottfinan@usdoj.gov <Nancy.Scottfinan@usdoj.gov>;Nancy.Scottfinan@usdoj.gov <Grubbs, Wendy J.>;Nancy.Scottfinan@usdoj.gov <Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent:	4/23/2003 3:30:20 PM
Subject:	FW: Notice of Noiminations Hearing and Tentative Witness List: Wed., April 30th at 9:30 a.m.
Attachments:	NotApril302003-noms.wpd; Tentative Agenda - Apr 30 hearing.rtf

-----Original Message-----
From: Butterfield, Jane (Judiciary)
Sent: Wednesday, April 23, 2003 3:28 PM
To: Sebold, Linda (Secretary); Dean, Ken (Secretary); Hauck, David (SAA); Klutts, Chad (Secretary); Miller Reporting (milrepco@millerreporting.com); Miranda, Manuel (Frist); Wikner, Brian (Judiciary); Butterfield, Jane (Judiciary); Carroll, Kurt (Judiciary); Turner, Roslyne (Judiciary); Pomerance, Lilah (Schumer); Carle, David (Leahy); Fleek, Susanne (Leahy); Gordon, Robert (Edwards); Jones, Stephanie (Edwards); Lackey, Miles (Edwards); Payne-Funk, Matt (Leahy); Skocki, Stan (DeWine); Cobb, Susan (Hatch); Janzen, Stormie (Sessions); Knight, Patricia (Hatch); Maier, Elizabeth (Kyl); Nuebel, Kathy (Grassley); Thomas Swanton (thomas_swanton@specter.senate.gov); Frank Brown (frank_brown@specter.senate.gov); Glazewski, Tim (Kyl); Larry Kosten (larry_kosten@specter.senate.gov); Mark Heilbrun (mark_heilbrun@specter.senate.gov); Singh Seema (seema_singh@specter.senate.gov); Sonia Acosta (sonia_acosta@kohl.senate.gov); Morcombe, Cecilia (Judiciary); Marmion, Preble (Judiciary); Mohle, Heinz (Judiciary); Tapia, Margarita (Judiciary); Bradley, Ellen (L. Graham); Cernok, Jill (Kyl); Cricks, Alison; Farr, MaryBeth (Chambliss); Gumerson, Katie (RPC); Hale, Carrie (DeWine); Higgins, Meaghan (Cornyn); Jafari, Beth (Cornyn); Jodi Lindley (jodi_lindley@craig.senate.gov); Montoya, Ruth (Hatch); Shimp, Leah (Grassley); Trevor Miller (trevor_miller@feingold.senate.gov); Anderson, Kathy (Durbin); Arlene Branca (arlene_branca@kohl.senate.gov); Bar, Alexis (Edwards); Dowd, John (Leahy); Hart Hazard (hart_hazard@biden.senate.gov); Hawkins, Julia (Feinstein); Magarik, Tamar (Feinstein); Mary Murphy (mary_murphy@feingold.senate.gov); McDonald, Kevin (Leahy); Molly Buford (molly_buford@biden.senate.gov); Nicholas, Elizabeth (Edwards); Schumer Scheduling (Scheduling@schumer.senate.gov); Tom Wyler (tom_wyler@feingold.senate.gov); Judiciary, Schumer2 (Judiciary); Bauerly, Cynthia (Judiciary); Berman, Jeff (Judiciary); Flood, James (Judiciary); Judiciary, Schumer1 (Judiciary); Terrell, Louisa (Judiciary); Judiciary, Biden1 (Judiciary); Lee, Marcia (Judiciary); MacBride, Neil (Judiciary); Meyer, Jonathan (Judiciary); Robinson, Tonya (Judiciary); Rosen, Eric (Judiciary); Zubrensky, Michael (Judiciary); Kang, Chris (Judiciary); Keam, Mark (Judiciary); Longley, Michael (Judiciary); Zogby, Joseph (Judiciary); White, Kirsten (Judiciary); Busansky, Alex (Judiciary); Judiciary, Feingold1 (Judiciary); Khera, Farhana (Judiciary); Schiff, Bob (Judiciary); Strickland, LaVita (Judiciary); Hantman, David (Judiciary); Hughes, Dempsey (Judiciary); Judiciary, Feinstein1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Feinstein2 (Judiciary); Knapp, Jason (Feinstein); Lamberti, Matthew (Judiciary); Oscherwitz, Tom (Judiciary); Toone, Robert (Judiciary); Flug, James (Judiciary); Johnson, Olati (Judiciary); Judiciary, Kennedy1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Kennedy2 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Kennedy3 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Kennedy4 (Judiciary); Kaguyutan, Janice (Judiciary); Olavarria, Esther (Judiciary); Phillips, Richard (Judiciary); Sessoms, Julia (Judiciary); Schwantes, Jonathan (Judiciary); Arends, Ross (Judiciary); Bloom, Seth (Judiciary); Judiciary, Kohl1 (Judiciary); Miller, Jeffrey (Judiciary); Nonna, Caroline (Judiciary); Reder, Elizabeth (Judiciary); Winski, John (Judiciary); Arfa, Rachel (Judiciary); Berry, Jessica (Judiciary); Cohen, Bruce (Judiciary); Davies, Susan (Judiciary); Demaine, Linda (Judiciary); DeOreo, Mary (Judiciary); Dettelbach, Steven (Judiciary); Eichner, Leesa (Judiciary); Fine, Daniel (Judiciary); Graves, Lisa (Judiciary); Greenfeld, Helaine (Judiciary); Huebner, Ben (Judiciary); Katzman, Julie (Judiciary); Lafayette, Ed (Judiciary); Lucius, Kristine (Judiciary); Lynch, Tim (Judiciary); Magner, Tara (Judiciary); McCormack, Blythe (Judiciary); McKennerney, Christina (Judiciary); Neises, Eric (Judiciary); Pagano, Edward (Judiciary); Parry, Liz (Judiciary); Toomajian, Phil (Judiciary); Smith, William (Judiciary); Barnes, Cindy (Judiciary); Judiciary, Sessions1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Sessions2 (Judiciary); Pai, Ajit (Judiciary); Sander, Andrea (Judiciary); Poindexter, Martha Scott (Chambliss); McLean, Camila (Chambliss); Ho, James (Judiciary); Brooke Roberts; Taylor, Steve (Judiciary); Blackwell, Robin (Judiciary); Fortier, Evelyn (Judiciary); Jones, Bill (Judiciary); Judiciary, DeWine1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, DeWine2 (Judiciary); Judiciary, DeWine3 (Judiciary); Levitas, Peter (Judiciary); Galyean, James (L. Graham); Reed, Matt (Judiciary); Groover, Chad (Judiciary); Judiciary, Grassley1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Grassley2 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Grassley4 (Judiciary); Lari, Rita (Judiciary); Augustine, Rene (Judiciary); Best, David (Judiciary); Bloemendal, Katherine (Judiciary); Bunker, Matt (Judiciary); Caramanica, Jessica (Judiciary); Castle, William (Judiciary); Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary); Dahl, Alex (Judiciary); Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary); Eskelsen, Jon (Judiciary); Friedrich, Dabney (Judiciary); Green, Tanya (Judiciary); Greissing, John (Judiciary); Haywood, Amy (Judiciary); Higginbotham, Ryan (Judiciary); Johnson, Jacob (Judiciary); LeBon, Cherylyn (Judiciary); Lehman, Ted (Judiciary); Lundell, Jason (Judiciary); O'Connor, Reed (Judiciary); O'Scannlain, Kevin (Judiciary); Prior, Swen (Judiciary); Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary); Snell, BethAnn (Judiciary); Soliemanzadeh, Payam (Judiciary); Stahl, Katie (Judiciary); Volkov,

Michael (Judiciary); Wagner, Jennifer (Judiciary); Matal, Joe (Judiciary); Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary); Judiciary, kylintern1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, kylintern2 (Judiciary); Letourneau, Matthew (Judiciary); Judiciary, VictoriaS (Judiciary); Judiciary, AnnaG (Judiciary); Judiciary, JonF (Judiciary); Judiciary, MargueriteM (Judiciary); Judiciary, MattG (Judiciary); Judiciary, SheilaB (Judiciary); Millette, Martin (Judiciary); Artim, Bruce (Judiciary); Campbell, Chris (Judiciary); Carlson, Mark (Judiciary); DeLoatche, Patricia (Judiciary); Kim, Harold (Judiciary); Judiciary, TylerH (Judiciary); Judiciary, BarrH (Judiciary); Judiciary, DanT (Judiciary); Judiciary, EricJ (Judiciary); Judiciary, IsaacH (Judiciary); Judiciary, JeremyJ (Judiciary); Judiciary, JeremyN (Judiciary); Judiciary, KristenW (Judiciary); Judiciary, NicoleO (Judiciary)
Subject: Notice of Noiminations Hearing and Tentative Witness List: Wed., April 30th at 9:30 a.m.

April 23, 2003

NOTICE OF FULL COMMITTEE HEARING

The Senate Committee on the Judiciary will hold a hearing on Wednesday, April 30, 2003 at 9:30 a.m. in Dirksen Room 226, on "Nominations."

Senator Hatch will preside.

By order of the Chairman

90104mytwnine

pnindent72047812Tentative Agenda

Senate Judiciary Committee Hearing on Nominations
Wednesday, April 306647812, 2003, at 9:30 a.m.
Dirksen 226

Panel I

d407278 [senators]

Panel II

John G. Roberts, Jr., to be United States Circuit Judge for the District of Columbia Circuit

phaPanel III

David G. Campbell to be United States District Judge
for the District of Arizona

S. Maurice Hicks, Jr., to be United States District Judge for the Western District of Louisiana

Panel IV

William Emil Moschella to be Assistant Attorney General,
Office of Legislative Affairs, United States Department of Justice

April 23, 2003

NOTICE OF FULL COMMITTEE HEARING

The Senate Committee on the Judiciary will hold a hearing on Wednesday, April 30, 2003 at 9:30 a.m. in Dirksen Room 226, on "Nominations."

Senator Hatch will preside.

By order of the Chairman

From: Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary) <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov>
To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>;brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN] <brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov>;Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>;Nancy.Scottfinan@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN] <Nancy.Scottfinan@usdoj.gov>;Jamie.E.Brown@usdoj.gov [UNKNOWN] <Jamie.E.Brown@usdoj.gov>
Sent: 4/23/2003 11:31:27 AM
Subject: : FW: Notice of Noiminations Hearing and Tentative Witness List: Wed., April 30th at 9:30 a.m.
Attachments: P_1CGUF003_WHO.TXT_1.html; P_1CGUF003_WHO.TXT_2.rtf; P_1CGUF003_WHO.TXT_3.wpd

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary)" <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov> (
"Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary)" <Rena_Johnson_Comisac@Judiciary.senate.gov> [ UNKNOWN ]
)
CREATION DATE/TIME:23-APR-2003 15:31:27.00
SUBJECT:: FW: Notice of Noiminations Hearing and Tentative Witness List: Wed., April 30th at 9:30 a.m.
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs ( CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov ( brian.a.benczkowski@usdoj.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Nancy.Scottfinan@usdoj.gov ( Nancy.Scottfinan@usdoj.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
TO:Jamie.E.Brown@usdoj.gov ( Jamie.E.Brown@usdoj.gov [ UNKNOWN ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

-----Original Message-----
From: Butterfield, Jane (Judiciary)
Sent: Wednesday, April 23, 2003 3:28 PM
To: Sebold, Linda (Secretary); Dean, Ken (Secretary); Hauck, David (SAA); Klutts, Chad (Secretary); Miller Reporting
(milrepco@millerreporting.com); Miranda, Manuel (Frist); Wikner, Brian (Judiciary); Butterfield, Jane (Judiciary); Carroll, Kurt (Judiciary); Turner, Roslyne (Judiciary); Pomerance, Lilah (Schumer); Carle, David (Leahy); Fleek, Susanne (Leahy); Gordon, Robert (Edwards); Jones, Stephanie (Edwards); Lackey, Miles (Edwards); Payne-Funk, Matt (Leahy); Skocki, Stan (DeWine); Cobb, Susan (Hatch); Janzen, Stormie (Sessions);
Knight, Patricia (Hatch); Maier, Elizabeth (Kyl); Nuebel, Kathy (Grassley); Thomas Swanton (thomas_swanton@specter.senate.gov); Frank Brown (frank_brown@specter.senate.gov); Glazewski, Tim (Kyl); Larry Kosten (larry_kosten@specter.senate.gov); Mark Heilbrun
(mark_heilbrun@specter.senate.gov); Singh Seema
(seema_singh@specter.senate.gov); Sonia Acosta
(sonia_acosta@kohl.senate.gov); Morcombe, Cecilia (Judiciary); Marmion, Preble (Judiciary); Mohle, Heinz (Judiciary); Tapia, Margarita
(Judiciary); Bradley, Ellen (L. Graham); Cernok, Jill (Kyl); Cricks, Alison; Farr, MaryBeth (Chambliss); Gumerson, Katie (RPC); Hale, Carrie (DeWine); Higgins, Meaghan (Cornyn); Jafari, Beth (Cornyn); Jodi Lindley
(jodi_lindley@craig.senate.gov); Montoya, Ruth (Hatch); Shimp, Leah (Grassley); Trevor Miller (trevor_miller@feingold.senate.gov); Anderson, Kathy (Durbin); Arlene Branca (arlene_branca@kohl.senate.gov); Bar,
Alexis (Edwards); Dowd, John (Leahy); Hart Hazard
(hart_hazard@biden.senate.gov); Hawkins, Julia (Feinstein); Magarik, Tamar (Feinstein); Mary Murphy (mary_murphy@feingold.senate.gov);
McDonald, Kevin (Leahy); Molly Buford (molly_buford@biden.senate.gov);
Nicholas, Elizabeth (Edwards); Schumer Scheduling
(Scheduling@schumer.senate.gov); Tom Wyler
(tom_wyler@feingold.senate.gov); Judiciary, Schumer2 (Judiciary);
Bauerly, Cynthia (Judiciary); Berman, Jeff (Judiciary); Flood, James
```

(Judiciary); Judiciary, Schumer1 (Judiciary); Terrell, Louisa (Judiciary); Judiciary, Biden1 (Judiciary); Lee, Marcia (Judiciary); MacBride, Neil (Judiciary); Meyer, Jonathan (Judiciary); Robinson, Tonya (Judiciary); Rosen, Eric (Judiciary); Zubrensky, Michael (Judiciary); Kang, Chris (Judiciary); Keam, Mark (Judiciary); Longley, Michael (Judiciary); Zogby, Joseph (Judiciary); White, Kirsten (Judiciary); Busansky, Alex (Judiciary); Judiciary, Feingold1 (Judiciary); Khera, Farhana (Judiciary); Schiff, Bob (Judiciary); Strickland, LaVita (Judiciary); Hantman, David (Judiciary); Hughes, Dempsey (Judiciary); Judiciary, Feinstein1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Feinstein2 (Judiciary); Knapp, Jason (Feinstein); Lamberti, Matthew (Judiciary); Oscherwitz, Tom (Judiciary); Toone, Robert (Judiciary); Flug, James (Judiciary); Johnson, Olati (Judiciary); Judiciary, Kennedy1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Kennedy2 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Kennedy3 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Kennedy4 (Judiciary); Kaguyutan, Janice (Judiciary); Olavarria, Esther (Judiciary); Phillips, Richard (Judiciary); Sessoms, Julia (Judiciary); Schwantes, Jonathan (Judiciary); Arends, Ross (Judiciary); Bloom, Seth (Judiciary); Judiciary, Kohl1 (Judiciary); Miller, Jeffrey (Judiciary); Nonna, Caroline (Judiciary); Reder, Elizabeth (Judiciary); Winski, John (Judiciary); Arfa, Rachel (Judiciary); Berry, Jessica (Judiciary); Cohen, Bruce (Judiciary); Davies, Susan (Judiciary); Demaine, Linda (Judiciary); DeOreo, Mary (Judiciary); Dettelbach, Steven (Judiciary); Eichner, Leesa (Judiciary); Fine, Daniel (Judiciary); Graves, Lisa (Judiciary); Greenfeld, Helaine (Judiciary); Huebner, Ben (Judiciary); Katzman, Julie (Judiciary); Lafayette, Ed (Judiciary); Lucius, Kristine (Judiciary); Lynch, Tim (Judiciary); Magner, Tara (Judiciary); McCormack, Blythe (Judiciary); McKennerney, Christina (Judiciary); Neises, Eric (Judiciary); Pagano, Edward (Judiciary); Parry, Liz (Judiciary); Toomajian, Phil (Judiciary); Smith, William (Judiciary); Barnes, Cindy (Judiciary); Judiciary, Sessions1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Sessions2 (Judiciary); Pai, Ajit (Judiciary); Sander, Andrea (Judiciary); Poindexter, Martha Scott (Chambliss); McLean, Camila (Chambliss); Ho, James (Judiciary); Brooke Roberts; Taylor, Steve (Judiciary); Blackwell, Robin (Judiciary); Fortier, Evelyn (Judiciary); Jones, Bill (Judiciary); Judiciary, DeWine1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, DeWine2 (Judiciary); Judiciary, DeWine3 (Judiciary); Levitas, Peter (Judiciary); Galyean, James (L. Graham); Reed, Matt (Judiciary); Groover, Chad (Judiciary); Judiciary, Grassley1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Grassley2 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Grassley4 (Judiciary); Lari, Rita (Judiciary); Augustine, Rene (Judiciary); Best, David (Judiciary); Bloemendal, Katherine (Judiciary); Bunker, Matt (Judiciary); Caramanica, Jessica (Judiciary); Castle, William (Judiciary); Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary); Dahl, Alex (Judiciary); Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary); Eskelsen, Jon (Judiciary); Friedrich, Dabney (Judiciary); Green, Tanya (Judiciary); Greissing, John (Judiciary); Haywood, Amy (Judiciary); Higginbotham, Ryan (Judiciary); Johnson, Jacob (Judiciary); LeBon, Cherylyn (Judiciary); Lehman, Ted (Judiciary); Lundell, Jason (Judiciary); O'Connor, Reed (Judiciary); O'Scannlain, Kevin (Judiciary); Prior, Swen (Judiciary); Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary); Snell, BethAnn (Judiciary); Soliemanzadeh, Payam (Judiciary); Stahl, Katie (Judiciary); Volkov, Michael (Judiciary); Wagner, Jennifer (Judiciary); Matal, Joe (Judiciary); Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary); Judiciary, kylintern1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, kylintern2 (Judiciary); Letourneau, Matthew (Judiciary); Judiciary, VictoriaS (Judiciary); Judiciary, AnnaG (Judiciary); Judiciary, JonF (Judiciary); Judiciary, MargueriteM (Judiciary); Judiciary, MattG (Judiciary); Judiciary, SheilaB (Judiciary); Millette, Martin (Judiciary); Artim, Bruce (Judiciary); Campbell, Chris (Judiciary); Carlson, Mark (Judiciary); DeLoatche, Patricia (Judiciary); Kim, Harold (Judiciary); Judiciary, TylerH (Judiciary); Judiciary, BarrH (Judiciary); Judiciary, DanT (Judiciary); Judiciary, EricJ (Judiciary); Judiciary, IsaacH (Judiciary); Judiciary, JeremyJ (Judiciary); Judiciary, JeremyN (Judiciary); Judiciary, KristenW (Judiciary); Judiciary, NicoleO (Judiciary)
Subject: Notice of Noiminations Hearing and Tentative Witness List: Wed., April 30th at 9:30 a.m.

April 23, 2003

NOTICE OF FULL COMMITTEE HEARING

The Senate Committee on the Judiciary will hold a hearing on Wednesday, April 30, 2003 at 9:30 a.m. in Dirksen

Room 226, on "Nominations."

Senator Hatch will preside.

By order of the Chairman

- att1.htm - Tentative Agenda - Apr 30 hearing.rtf - NotApril302003-noms.wpd
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_1CGUF003_WHO.TXT_1>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_1CGUF003_WHO.TXT_2>

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_1CGUF003_WHO.TXT_3>

-----Original Message-----
From: Butterfield, Jane (Judiciary)
Sent: Wednesday, April 23, 2003 3:28 PM
To: Sebold, Linda (Secretary); Dean, Ken (Secretary); Hauck, David (SAA); Klutts, Chad (Secretary); Miller Reporting (milrepco@millerreporting.com); Miranda, Manuel (Frist); Wikner, Brian (Judiciary); Butterfield, Jane (Judiciary); Carroll, Kurt (Judiciary); Tu rner, Roslyne (Judiciary); Pomerance, Lilah (Schumer); Carle, David (Leahy); Fleek, Susanne (Leahy); Gordon, Robert (Edwards); Jones, Stephanie (Edwards); Lackey, Miles (Edwards); Payne-Funk, Matt (Leahy); Skocki, Stan (DeWine); Cobb, Susan (Hatch); Janzen, Stormie (Sessions); Knight, Patricia (Hatch); Maier, Elizabeth (Kyl); Nuebel, Kathy (Grassley); Thomas Swanton (thomas_swanton@specter.senate.gov); Frank Brown (frank_brown@specter.senate.gov); Glazewski, Tim (Kyl); Larry Kosten (larry_kosten@specter.senate.gov); Mark Heilbrun (mark_heilbrun@specter.senate.gov); Singh Seema (seema_singh@specter.senate.gov); Sonia Acosta (sonia_acosta@kohl.senate.gov); Morcombe, Cecilia (Judiciary); Marmion, Preble (Judiciary); Mohle, Heinz (Judiciary); Tapia, Margarita (Judiciary); Bradley, Ellen (L. Graham); Cernok, Jill (Kyl); Cricks, Alison; Farr, MaryBeth (Chambliss); Gumerson, Katie (RPC); Hale, Carrie (DeWine); Higgins, Meaghan (Cornyn); Jafari, Beth (Cornyn); Jodi Lindley (jodi_lindley@craig.senate.gov); Montoya, Ruth (Hatch); Shimp, Leah (Grassley); Trevor Miller (trevor_miller@feingold.senate.gov); Anderson, Kathy (Durbin); Arlene Branca (arlene_branca@kohl.senate.gov); Bar, Alexis (Edwards); Dowd, John (Leahy); Hart Hazard (hart_hazard@biden.senate.gov); Hawkins, Julia (Feinstein); Magarik, Tamar (Feinstein); Mary Murphy (mary_murphy@feingold.senate.gov); McDonald, Kevin (Leahy); Molly Buford (molly_buford@biden.senate.gov); Nicholas, Elizabeth (Edwards); Schumer Scheduling (Scheduling@schumer.senate.gov); Tom Wyler (tom_wyler@feingold.senate.gov); Judiciary, Schumer2 (Judiciary); Bauerly, Cynthia (Judiciary); Berman, Jeff (Judiciary); Flood, James (Judiciary); Judiciary, Schumer1 (Judiciary); Terrell, Louisa (Judiciary); Judiciary, Biden1 (Judiciary); Lee, Marcia (Judiciary); MacBride, Neil (Judiciary); Meyer, Jonathan (Judiciary); Robinson, Tonya (Judiciary); Rosen, Eric (Judiciary); Zubrensky, Michael (Judiciary); Kang, Chris (Judiciary); Keam, Mark (Judiciary); Longley, Michael (Judiciary); Zogby, Joseph (Judiciary); White, Kirsten (Judiciary); Busansky, Alex (Judiciary); Judiciary, Feingold1 (Judiciary); Khera, Farhana (Judiciary); Schiff, Bob (Judiciary); Strickland, LaVita (Judiciary); Hantman, David (Judiciary); Hughes, Dempsey (Judiciary); Judiciary, Feinstein1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Feinstein2 (Judiciary); Knapp, Jason (Feinstein); Lamberti, Matthew (Judiciary); Oscherwitz, Tom (Judiciary); Toone, Robert (Judiciary); Flug, James (Judiciary); Johnson, Olati (Judiciary); Judiciary, Kennedy1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Kennedy2 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Kennedy3 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Kennedy4 (Judiciary); Kaguyutan, Janice (Judiciary); Olavarria, Esther (Judiciary); Phillips, Richard (Judiciary); Sessoms, Julia (Judiciary); Schwantes, Jonathan (Judiciary); Arends, Ross (Judiciary); Bloom, Seth (Judiciary); Judiciary, Kohl1 (Judiciary); Miller, Jeffrey (Judiciary); Nonna, Caroline (Judiciary); Reder, Elizabeth (Judiciary); Winski, John (Judiciary); Arfa, Rachel (Judiciary); Berry, Jessica (Judiciary); Cohen, Bruce (Judiciary); Davies, Susan (Judiciary); Demaine, Linda (Judiciary); DeOreo, Mary (Judiciary); Dettelbach, Steven (Judiciary); Eichner, Leesa (Judiciary); Fine, Daniel (Judiciary); Graves, Lisa (Judiciary); Greenfeld, Helaine (Judiciary); Huebner, Ben (Judiciary); Katzman, Julie (Judiciary); Lafayette, Ed (Judiciary); Lucius, Kristine (Judiciary); Lynch, Tim (Judiciary); Magner, Tara (Judiciary); McCormack, Blythe (Judiciary); McKennerney, Christina (Judiciary); Neises, Eric (Judiciary); Pagano, Edward (Judiciary); Parry, Liz (Judiciary); Toomajian, Phil (Judiciary); Smith, William (Judiciary); Barnes, Cindy (Judiciary); Judiciary, Sessions1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Sessions2 (Judiciary); Pai, Ajit (Judiciary); Sander, Andrea (Judiciary); Poindexter, Martha Scott (Chambliss); McLean, Camila (Chambliss); Ho, James (Judiciary); Brooke Roberts; Taylor, Steve (Judiciary); Blackwell, Robin (Judiciary); Fortier, Evelyn (Judiciary); Jones, Bill (Judiciary); Judiciary, DeWine1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, DeWine2 (Judiciary); Judiciary, DeWine3 (Judiciary); Levitas, Peter (Judiciary); Galyean, James (L. Graham); Reed, Matt (Judiciary); Groover, Chad (Judiciary); Judiciary, Grassley1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Grassley2 (Judiciary); Judiciary, Grassley4 (Judiciary); Lari, Rita (Judiciary); Augustine, Rene (Judiciary); Best, David (Judiciary); Bloemendal, Katherine (Judiciary); Bunker, Matt (Judiciary); Caramanica, Jessica (Judiciary); Castle, William (Judiciary); Comisac, RenaJohnson (Judiciary); Dahl, Alex (Judiciary); Delrahim, Makan (Judiciary); Eskelsen, Jon (Judiciary); Friedrich, Dabney (Judiciary); Green, Tanya (Judiciary); Greissing, John (Judiciary); Haywood, Amy (Judiciary); Higginbotham, Ryan (Judiciary); Johnson, Jacob (Judiciary); LeBon, Cherylyn (Judiciary); Lehman, Ted (Judiciary); Lundell, Jason (Judiciary); O'Connor, Reed (Judiciary); O'Scannlain, Kevin (Judiciary); Prior, Swen (Judiciary); Seidel, Rebecca (Judiciary); Snell, BethAnn (Judiciary); Soliemanzadeh, Payam (Judiciary); Stahl, Katie (Judiciary); Volkov, Michael (Judiciary); Wagner, Jennifer (Judiciary); Matal, Joe (Judiciary); Higgins, Stephen (Judiciary); Judiciary, kylintern1 (Judiciary); Judiciary, kylintern2 (Judiciary); Letourneau, Matthew (Judiciary); Judiciary, VictoriaS (Judiciary); Judiciary, AnnaG (Judiciary); Judiciary, JonF (Judiciary); Judiciary, MargueriteM (Judiciary); Judiciary, MattG (Judiciary); Judiciary, SheilaB (Judiciary); Millette, Martin (Judiciary); Artim, Bruce (Judiciary); Campbell, Chris (Judiciary); Carlson, Mark (Judiciary); DeLoatche, Patricia (Judiciary); Kim, Harold (Judiciary); Judiciary, TylerH (Judiciary); Judiciary, BarrH (Judiciary); Judiciary, DanT (Judiciary); Judiciary, EricJ (Judiciary); Judiciary, IsaacH (Judiciary); Judiciary, JeremyJ (Judiciary); Judiciary, JeremyN (Judiciary); Judiciary, KristenW (Judiciary); Judiciary, NicoleO (Judiciary)
Subject: Notice of Noiminations Hearing and Tentative Witness List: Wed., April 30th at 9:30 a.m.

April 23, 2003

NOTICE OF FULL COMMITTEE HEARING

The Senate Committee on the Judiciary will hold a hearing on Wednesday, April 30, 2003 at 9:30 a.m. in Dirksen Room 226, on "Nominations."

Senator Hatch will preside.
By order of the Chairman

lang1033

lesheetpalphadNormal;paddr108ts0rv 4 Normal Table;um Balloon Text;

Formatted

ri08879041090104sid9049471

rsid12804257sid13638824id15467289e Tentative Agendam03l0ytwnineruleot6647812 rment720xta .ec pnindent720nt720nhang tb ( pntxta)sid6647812 rsid6647812Tentative Agenda

Senate Judiciary Committee 613914 Hearing on Nominations

Wednes5844890 day, April 30286647812, 2003,0 at 9:30 a.m.

Dirksen 22612

Panel I47812

d407278 [senators]

Panel I278 I

John G. Roberts, Jr., to be United States Circuit Judge

for the District of Columbia Circuit

phasid11930687Panel III

David G. Campbell3427695 to be United States District Judge

for the District of Arizona

S. Maurice Hicks, Jr., to be United States District Judge for the Westernid10623936 District of Louisiana

Panel IV

William Emil Moschella to be Assistant Attorney General,

Office of Legislative Affairs, United States Department of Justice

insrsid2172887

April 23, 2003

NOTICE OF FULL COMMITTEE HEARING

The Senate Committee on the Judiciary will hold a hearing on Wednesday, April 30, 2003 at 9:30 a.m. in Dirksen Room 226, on "Nominations."

Senator Hatch will preside.

By order of the Chairman

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Ryan L. Cole/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Ryan L. Cole>
Sent: 4/23/2003 3:34:05 PM
Subject: : Re: CNP

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:23-APR-2003 19:34:05.00
SUBJECT:: Re: CNP
TO:Ryan L. Cole (CN=Ryan L. Cole/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

that's difficult; what's latest possible time I can do

Ryan L. Cole
04/23/2003 05:17:08 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: CNP

Brett,

We are trying to move the briefing time up. Any chance you can speak at 4:45?

Thanks,

Ryan

Brett M. Kavanaugh
04/22/2003 02:26:11 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Ryan L. Cole/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
bcc:
Subject: Re: CNP

sure; can you give me a little more info about the group; the description is quite vague

Ryan L. Cole
04/22/2003 01:55:50 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: CNP

Brett,

Would you be available to speak to a briefing for CNP that Tim Goeglein and Matt Smith are doing in room 450 on 4/24 at 6:00pm? You would only need to speak for 15 minutes. Would this work for you?

Thanks,

Ryan

"The Center for National Policy (CNP), a non-profit, non-partisan public policy organization, is dedicated to promoting the public interest. Since its founding in 1981, CNP has served as a forum for debate and discussion and has been a significant player in developing policy alternatives that are responsive to and effectively serve the interests of all Americans.

CNP works with policy-makers and policy experts from across the political spectrum to promote the development of a common agenda for democratic governance in the 21st Century"

From: McNally, Edward
To: <Gonzales, Alberto R.>;<Leitch, David G.>
CC: <Addington, David S.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/24/2003 12:20:05 AM
Subject: DoJ trial atty recommendation in OHS FOIA case (#1 of 2)

As you know, the plaintiff (EPIC) in this FOIA action has offered to stipulate to a dismissal of the case, so long as the govt agrees that such a dismissal would be w/out prejudice. DoJ's expectation is that, if govt declines, then plaintiff wld surely prevail on a motion to dismiss w/out prejudice.

The analysis and recommendation below is the DoJ's trial attorney's recommendation to me, Brett and his boss (Shannen Coffin) that we take the offer. Shannen endorses that recommendation, and I wld say does so strongly.

A related e-mail from Justice follows next.

---------- Forwarded by Edward McNally/WHO/EOP on 04/24/2003 12:20 AM ----------

"Tony.Coppolino@usdoj.gov"

04/23/2003 12:25:29 PM

To: See the distribution list at the bottom of this message

cc: "Jody.Hunt@usdoj.gov" (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested)

Subject: OHS FOIA

To summarize some of the points I made in our call:

I have reviewed the authority under Rule 41(a)(2) and see no grounds to oppose any motion plaintiff would bring to dismiss without prejudice. We would have to show some "plain legal prejudice" other than the prospect of a second lawsuit. According to Wright & Miller, "dismissal has been allowed in order to give the plaintiff an opportunity to secure new evidence after the plaintiff has found, by discovery or otherwise, that the present claim cannot be proven on the basis of information then available." At most, we would have a claim for costs, but our costs were driven by the court's decision. An opposition to a Rule 41(a)(2) motion may not even satisfy Rule 11.

I am happy to ask plaintiff's to dismiss with prejudice, but do not recommend insisting on this if they balk. If OHS becomes ever becomes a FOIA agency, there is no reasonable basis on which to insist that EPIC preclude itself from seeking documents on certain topics.

Hoping for a favorable DCT decision to cite is not a good reason to withhold stipulating to dismissal in the current posture since (i) we may not get it if Ps move under Rule 41; (ii) a favorable DCT decision would not be binding, whether or not the record changes, and would not likely deter an aggressive litigant anyway and (iii) we can fight the fight later when we have to.

This is not a very hard call in my view.

Tony

Message Sent To:

"Elizabeth.Shapiro@usdoj.gov" (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested)

"Shannen.Coffin@usdoj.gov" (Receipt Notification Requested) (IPM Return Requested)

Faisal M. Gill/WHO/EOP@EOP

Edward McNally/WHO/EOP@EOP

Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
To: <Grubbs, Wendy J.>
Sent: 4/24/2003 8:32:44 AM
Subject: NYT editorial against Kuhl
Attachments: c.gif

Where are Specter and Feinstein on this? I am told the markup witll be next Thursday?

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/24/2003 08:32 AM ----------

From: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/24/2003 07:24:33 AM

Record Type: Record

To: Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP

cc:

Subject: NYT editorial against Kuhl

Another Unworthy Judicial Nominee

<> arolyn Kuhl, a nominee to the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, seems to have undergone a classic confirmation conversion. As a lawyer and as a California state court judge, she advocated objectionable positions on civil rights, abortion and privacy. But at her confirmation hearings, she backpedaled furiously. Her testimony may have been tactically shrewd, but it failed to allay serious concerns about how she would perform as a judge. The Senate should not confirm her.

Judge Kuhl started out as a hard-driving conservative lawyer in the Reagan administration. When the I.R.S. denied tax-exempt status to Bob Jones University, which discriminated against blacks, she played a key role in persuading the Justice Department to take Bob Jones's side. In a landmark 1983 decision the Supreme Court rejected her position, 8 to 1. Judge Kuhl also argued forcefully for Roe v. Wade to be overturned. And she was co-author of a brief backing the defendant in a landmark sexual harassment case. The Supreme Court unanimously rejected its conclusion, ruling for the woman who had been harassed.

Under questioning by the Senate Judiciary Committee, Judge Kuhl repeatedly retracted or minimized her positions: supporting Bob Jones was a mistake, she said, but she had been a "very young staffer" and had not understood the issues fully. She had advocated overturning Roe because President Reagan had wanted it. When, as a private attorney, she had later written a brief critical of Roe, it had not been because she shared its views, but because she had wanted to build an appellate practice and "filing briefs in the Supreme Court is a prestigious thing to do." In the sexual harassment case, her difference with the Supreme Court had been over only a "technical" issue.

Judge Kuhl's many shifts are suspect because of their timing. It is also clear, given this administration's track record, that she was chosen precisely because of the actions she now seeks to distance herself from. The White House can tell from her record that she shares its conservative agenda, including opposition to abortion rights and skepticism about civil rights. It is unlikely that when she spoke with the administration she was as quick to renounce her past as she was before the Senate.

It shows how politicized the selection of judges has become that Judge Kuhl received a hearing at all. In the past, the Judiciary Committee often would not consider a nominee who lacked the support of both senators from the person's home state. The Republicans have pushed Judge Kuhl forward even though Senator Barbara Boxer has not endorsed her. They have also trampled on the Senate's traditional courtesies by reporting out Priscilla Owen for a Fifth Circuit judgeship, even though the committee rejected her last year.

The Senate has confirmed a vast majority of the administration's judicial nominees. It recently confirmed Jay Bybee, a conservative legal scholar, for the same court for which Judge Kuhl has been nominated. But senators must oppose candidates with views well outside the ideological mainstream, including Judge Kuhl and Judge Owen. Only by holding firm can they persuade a president who campaigned on a promise to govern from the center to start looking there for his judicial nominees.

c

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Wendy J. Grubbs/WHO/EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO] <Wendy J. Grubbs>
Sent: 4/24/2003 4:33:36 AM
Subject: : NYT editorial against Kuhl
Attachments: P_S11VF003_WHO.TXT_1.gif

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:24-APR-2003 08:33:36.00
SUBJECT:: NYT editorial against Kuhl
TO:Wendy J. Grubbs (CN=Wendy J. Grubbs/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Where are Specter and Feinstein on this? I am told the markup witll be next Thursday?

---------- Forwarded by Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP on 04/24/2003 08:32 AM ----------

From: David G. Leitch/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/24/2003 07:24:33 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Alberto R. Gonzales/WHO/EOP@Exchange, Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: NYT editorial against Kuhl

Another Unworthy Judicial Nominee

arolyn Kuhl, a nominee to the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, seems to have undergone a classic confirmation conversion. As a lawyer and as a California state court judge, she advocated objectionable positions on civil rights, abortion and privacy. But at her confirmation hearings, she backpedaled furiously. Her testimony may have been tactically shrewd, but it failed to allay serious concerns about how she would perform as a judge. The Senate should not confirm her.

Judge Kuhl started out as a hard-driving conservative lawyer in the Reagan administration. When the I.R.S. denied tax-exempt status to Bob Jones University, which discriminated against blacks, she played a key role in persuading the Justice Department to take Bob Jones's side. In a landmark 1983 decision the Supreme Court rejected her position, 8 to 1. Judge Kuhl also argued forcefully for Roe v. Wade to be overturned. And she was co-author of a brief backing the defendant in a landmark sexual harassment case. The Supreme Court unanimously rejected its conclusion, ruling for the woman who had been harassed.

Under questioning by the Senate Judiciary Committee, Judge Kuhl repeatedly retracted or minimized her positions: supporting Bob Jones was a mistake, she said, but she had been a "very young staffer" and had not understood the issues fully. She had advocated overturning Roe because President Reagan had wanted it. When, as a private attorney, she had later written a brief critical of Roe, it had not been because she shared its views, but because she had wanted to build an appellate practice and "filing briefs in the Supreme Court is a prestigious thing to do." In the sexual harassment case, her difference with the Supreme Court had been over only a "technical" issue.

Judge Kuhl's many shifts are suspect because of their timing. It is also clear, given this administration's track record, that she was chosen precisely because of the actions she now seeks to distance herself from. The White House can tell from her record that she shares its conservative agenda, including opposition to abortion rights and skepticism about civil rights. It is unlikely that when she spoke with the administration she was as quick to renounce her past as she was before the Senate.

It shows how politicized the selection of judges has become that Judge Kuhl received a hearing at all. In the past, the Judiciary Committee often would not consider a nominee who lacked the support of both senators from the person's home state. The Republicans have pushed Judge Kuhl forward even though Senator Barbara Boxer has not endorsed her. They have also trampled on the Senate's traditional courtesies by reporting out Priscilla Owen for a Fifth Circuit judgeship, even though the committee rejected her last year.

The Senate has confirmed a vast majority of the administration's judicial nominees. It recently confirmed Jay Bybee, a conservative legal scholar, for the same court for which Judge Kuhl has been nominated. But senators must oppose candidates with views well outside the ideological mainstream, including Judge Kuhl and Judge Owen. Only by holding firm can they persuade a president who campaigned on a promise to govern from the center to start looking there for his judicial nominees.

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_S11VF003_WHO.TXT_1>

c

From: Sean Rushton <SRushton@CommitteeforJustice.org>
To: SRushton@CommitteeforJustice.org [UNKNOWN] <SRushton@CommitteeforJustice.org>
BCC: Brett M. Kavanaugh (Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP [WHO])
Sent: 4/24/2003 5:14:18 AM
Subject: : Kuhl.
Attachments: P_273VF003_WHO.TXT_1.html

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Sean Rushton <SRushton@CommitteeforJustice.org> (Sean Rushton <SRushton@CommitteeforJustice.org> [UNKNOWN])
CREATION DATE/TIME:24-APR-2003 09:14:18.00
SUBJECT:: Kuhl.
TO:SRushton@CommitteeforJustice.org (SRushton@CommitteeforJustice.org [UNKNOWN])
READ:UNKNOWN
BCC:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

NY Times

April 24, 2003

Another Unworthy Judicial Nominee

Carolyn Kuhl, a nominee to the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, seems to have undergone a classic confirmation conversion. As a lawyer and as a California state court judge, she advocated objectionable positions on civil rights, abortion and privacy. But at her confirmation hearings, she backpedaled furiously. Her testimony may have been tactically shrewd, but it failed to allay serious concerns about how she would perform as a judge. The Senate should not confirm her.

Judge Kuhl started out as a hard-driving conservative lawyer in the Reagan administration. When the I.R.S. denied tax-exempt status to Bob Jones University, which discriminated against blacks, she played a key role in persuading the Justice Department to take Bob Jones's side. In a landmark 1983 decision the Supreme Court rejected her position, 8 to 1. Judge Kuhl also argued forcefully for Roe v. Wade to be overturned. And she was co-author of a brief backing the defendant in a landmark sexual harassment case. The Supreme Court unanimously rejected its conclusion, ruling for the woman who had been harassed.

Under questioning by the Senate Judiciary Committee, Judge Kuhl repeatedly retracted or minimized her positions: supporting Bob Jones was a mistake, she said, but she had been a "very young staffer" and had not understood the issues fully. She had advocated overturning Roe because President Reagan had wanted it. When, as a private attorney, she had later written a brief critical of Roe, it had not been because she shared its views, but because she had wanted to build an appellate practice and "filing briefs in the Supreme Court is a prestigious thing to do." In the sexual harassment case, her difference with the Supreme Court had been over only a "technical" issue.

Judge Kuhl's many shifts are suspect because of their timing. It is also clear, given this administration's track record, that she was chosen precisely because of the actions she now seeks to distance herself from. The White House can tell from her record that she shares its conservative agenda, including opposition to abortion rights and skepticism about civil rights. It is unlikely that when she spoke with the administration she was as quick to renounce her past as she was before the Senate.

It shows how politicized the selection of judges has become that Judge Kuhl received a hearing at all. In the past, the Judiciary Committee often would not consider a nominee who lacked the support of both senators from the person's home state. The Republicans have pushed Judge Kuhl forward even though Senator Barbara Boxer has not endorsed her. They have also trampled on the Senate's traditional courtesies by reporting out Priscilla Owen for a Fifth Circuit judgeship, even though the committee rejected her last year.

The Senate has confirmed a vast majority of the administration's judicial nominees. It recently confirmed Jay Bybee, a conservative legal scholar, for the same court for which Judge Kuhl has been nominated. But senators must oppose candidates with views well outside the ideological mainstream, including Judge Kuhl and Judge Owen. Only by holding firm can they persuade a president who campaigned on a promise to govern from the center to start looking there for his judicial nominees.

Sean Rushton

Executive Director

Committee for Justice

1275 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW

Tenth Floor

Washington, DC 20004

202-481-6850 phone

202-487-6439 mobile

www.committeeforjustice.org

- att1.htm
ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_273VF003_WHO.TXT_1>

NY Times
April 24, 2003
Another Unworthy Judicial Nominee

Carolyn Kuhl, a nominee to the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, seems to have undergone a classic confirmation conversion. As a lawyer and as a California state court judge, she advocated objectionable positions on civil rights, abortion and privacy. But at her confirmation hearings, she backpedaled furiously. Her testimony may have been tactically shrewd, but it failed to allay serious concerns about how she would perform as a judge. The Senate should not confirm her.

Judge Kuhl started out as a hard-driving conservative lawyer in the Reagan administration. When the I.R.S. denied tax-exempt status to Bob Jones University , which discriminated against blacks, she played a key role in persuading the Justice Department to take Bob Jones's side. In a landmark 1983 decision the Supreme Court rejected her position, 8 to 1. Judge Kuhl also argued forcefully for Roe v. Wade to be overturned. And she was co-author of a brief backing the defendant in a landmark sexual harassment case. The Supreme Court unanimously rejected its conclusion, ruling for the woman who had been harassed.

Under questioning by the Senate Judiciary Committee, Judge Kuhl repeatedly retracted or minimized her positions: supporting Bob Jones was a mistake, she said, but she had been a "very young staffer" and had not understood the issues fully. She had advocated overturning Roe because President Reagan had wanted it. When, as a private attorney, she had later written a brief critical of Roe, it had not been because she shared its views, but because she had wanted to build an appellate practice and "filing briefs in the Supreme Court is a prestigious thing to do." In the sexual harassment case, her difference with the Supreme Court had been over only a "technical" issue.

Judge Kuhl's many shifts are suspect because of their timing. It is also clear, given this administration's track record, that she was chosen precisely because of the actions she now seeks to distance herself from. The White House can tell from her record that she shares its conservative agenda, including opposition to abortion rights and skepticism about civil rights. It is unlikely that when she spoke with the administration she was as quick to renounce her past as she was before the Senate.

It shows how politicized the selection of judges has become that Judge Kuhl received a hearing at all. In the past, the Judiciary Committee often would not consider a nominee who lacked the support of both senators from the person's home state. The Republicans have pushed Judge Kuhl forward even though Senator Barbara Boxer has not endorsed her. They have also trampled on the Senate's traditional courtesies by reporting out Priscilla Owen for a Fifth Circuit judgeship, even though the committee rejected her last year.

The Senate has confirmed a vast majority of the administration's judicial nominees. It recently confirmed Jay Bybee, a conservative legal scholar, for the same court for which Judge Kuhl has been nominated. But senators must oppose candidates with views well outside the ideological mainstream, including Judge Kuhl and Judge Owen. Only by holding firm can they persuade a president who campaigned on a promise to govern from t he center to start looking there for his judicial nominees.

Sean Rushton
Executive Director
Committee for Justice
1275 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Tenth Floor
Washington, DC< font size=2 face=Arial> 20004
202-481-6850 phone
202-487-6439 mobile
www.committeeforjustice.org

From: Craig.Blackwell@usdoj.gov
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/24/2003 6:16:42 AM
Subject: : RE: current draft letter -- note that this draft references dateof Reagan assertion

```
Begin Original ARMS Header ######
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:"Craig.Blackwell@usdoj.gov" <Craig.Blackwell@usdoj.gov> (
"Craig.Blackwell@usdoj.gov" <Craig.Blackwell@usdoj.gov> [ UNKNOWN ] )
CREATION DATE/TIME:24-APR-2003 10:16:42.00
SUBJECT:: RE: current draft letter -- note that this draft references date of Reagan assertion
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh ( CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [ WHO ] )
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header ######

This message is a Read Receipt Notification

Your Message : RE: current draft letter -- note that this draft references date of Reagan assertion Was Read By : Craig.Blackwell@usdoj.gov
On : Thu, 24 Apr 2003 10:14:49 -0400
```

From: Viet.Dinh@usdoj.gov
To: <Leitch, David G.>;<Kavanaugh, Brett M.>
Sent: 4/24/2003 10:48:39 AM
Subject: FW: Dem Ltr re Supreme Court

-----Original Message-----
From: Comstock, Barbara
Sent: Thursday, April 24, 2003 9:33 AM
To: Olson, Theodore B; Clement, Paul D; Ciongoli, Adam; Dinh, Viet; Bryant, Dan; Taylor, Jeffrey
Subject: Dem Ltr re Supreme Court

McAuliffe letter re Supreme Court

-----Original Message-----
URGENT ACTION ALERT: SUPREME COURT COUNTDOWN

Dear XXXXXXXXX:

At the end of June, the current Supreme Court session will come to a close. When that happens, all signs point to one or more of the current Justices retiring, providing an opportunity for President Bush to nominate an extremist Justice who will put our most cherished American values at risk.

* There hasn't been a retirement in almost nine years, the longest drought in nearly 200 years. [1] * Several Justices are facing serious health issues and have indicated a strong desire to retire soon. [2] * Chief Justice Rehnquist has recently held secret meetings with the White House. [3] * Two weeks ago, President Bush's father hosted a fundraiser at his home to raise money for an ad campaign to push Bush's judicial nominees. [4] * The Republican chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, Orrin Hatch, is pressuring Justices to make their move. [5]

Civil rights. The freedom to choose. Environmental protections. The hard-won rights of workers. If President Bush stacks the Court with right-wing i deologues, all of these cherished values are in peril. You must get involved today to help protect these values.

http://mailer.democrats.org/rdr/002JK04vsv0001D

At the DNC, we're organizing on every level to make sure the voices of average Americans are heard on this issue. And, with your help, I promise you that we can and will defeat this threat to our values.

I'm asking you to do three things:

1. Come to our Supreme Court Action Center and sign the petition to President Bush letting him know you'll fight his attempts to attack our values and stack the Supreme Court with right-wing extremists.

http://mailer.democrats.org/rdr/002JK04vsv0001E

2. Once you've signed the petition, get as many as your friends as possible to sign it.

http://mailer.democrats.org/rdr/002JK04vsv0001F

3. Join our Supreme Court Action Team by signing up to become a Democratic eCaptain today.

http://mailer.democrats.org/rdr/002JK04vsv0001G

Signing this petition and telling your friends is the most important thing I have asked you to do since I've been Chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

http://mailer.democrats.org/rdr/002JK04vsv0001H

I pledge that in the weeks to come, I will personally obtain and deliver to your inbox the support of our top Democratic leaders in this effort.

Sincerely, Terence R. McAuliffe Chairman

Cites: [1] New York Times, 12/27/02 [2] Washington Post, 1/6/03, UPI, 6/30/00 [3] Washington Post, 11/27/02 [4] Washington Post, 4/15/03 [5] New York Times, 12/27/02

****

From: CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO]
To: Harriet Miers/WHO/EOP@Exchange [WHO] <Harriet Miers>
Sent: 4/24/2003 6:48:01 AM
Subject: : Re: FW: Letters for approval - congrats - debbie

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:24-APR-2003 10:48:01.00
SUBJECT:: Re: FW: Letters for approval - congrats - debbie
TO:Harriet Miers (CN=Harriet Miers/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Thank you. Will track this down.

From: Harriet Miers/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/24/2003 10:43:29 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: FW: Letters for approval - congrats - debbie

-----Original Message-----
From: Miers, Harriet
Sent: Thursday, April 24, 2003 10:43 AM
To: Rawson, Kimberly D.
Subject: RE: Letters for approval - congrats - debbie

I don't know what vetting of this occurred but generally we do not endorse organizations and we really are going on the line and saying this organization is wonderful in a difficult industry--one where there are great opportunities for allegations of problems. It needs to be thoroughly checked out that the President should be on record commending this organization setting it up as a model. We also have no familiarity with the award that I know. Is it an award that we recognize year to year?

-----Original Message-----
From: Rawson, Kimberly D.
Sent: Thursday, April 24, 2003 10:36 AM
To: Miers, Harriet
Subject: RE: Letters for approval - congrats - debbie

Good Morning -
Regarding this letter, it is on Mr. Kavanaugh's desk; however, Jon Ganter, in Kavanaugh's office, and I were just curious as to why you had suggested it go through their office - then we will know for future reference.
Thank you very much!
Kimberly

<< File: CONGRATULATIONS.LehighValleyHospital.AwardRecipient.4.16.03.doc >>

From: Harriet Miers/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/21/2003 08:30:22 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Kimberly D. Rawson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: Letters for approval - congrats - debbie

Letter is fine but has to be cleared by counsel if it has not been.

-----Original Message-----
From: Rawson, Kimberly D.
Sent: Friday, April 18, 2003 2:48 PM
To: Miers, Harriet
Subject: Letters for approval - congrats - debbie

Hi Harriet -
Hope you were/are able to get some good R & R time while you are in the great state of Texas!!

I have several letters for your approval - but no rush for today (if you are checking your email), just by Monday noonish - if possible, please Ma'am.

Here is the first of the letters - Thank you very much!!
Kimberly

---------- Forwarded by Kimberly D. Rawson/WHO/EOP on 04/18/2003 02:48 PM ----------

<< OLE Object: Picture (Device Independent Bitmap) >>
Deborah J. Eng
04/16/2003 03:59:22 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Kimberly D. Rawson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: is this letter ok?

<< File: CONGRATULATIONS.LehighValleyHospital.AwardRecipient.4.16.03.doc >>

From: CN=Harriet Miers/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO]
To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP [WHO] <Brett M. Kavanaugh>
Sent: 4/24/2003 6:50:27 AM
Subject: : RE: FW: Letters for approval - congrats - debbie

Begin Original ARMS Header
RECORD TYPE: PRESIDENTIAL (NOTES MAIL)
CREATOR:Harriet Miers (CN=Harriet Miers/OU=WHO/O=EOP@Exchange [WHO])
CREATION DATE/TIME:24-APR-2003 10:50:27.00
SUBJECT:: RE: FW: Letters for approval - congrats - debbie
TO:Brett M. Kavanaugh (CN=Brett M. Kavanaugh/OU=WHO/O=EOP@EOP [WHO])
READ:UNKNOWN
End Original ARMS Header

Thanks, Brett. I appreciate your help as always.

-----Original Message-----
From: Kavanaugh, Brett M.
Sent: Thursday, April 24, 2003 10:48 AM
To: Miers, Harriet
Subject: Re: FW: Letters for approval - congrats - debbie

Thank you. Will track this down.

From: Harriet Miers/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/24/2003 10:43:29 AM
Record Type: Record

To: Brett M. Kavanaugh/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: FW: Letters for approval - congrats - debbie

-----Original Message-----
From: Miers, Harriet
Sent: Thursday, April 24, 2003 10:43 AM
To: Rawson, Kimberly D.
Subject: RE: Letters for approval - congrats - debbie

I don't know what vetting of this occurred but generally we do not endorse organizations and we really are going on the line and saying this organization is wonderful in a difficult industry--one where there are great opportunities for allegations of problems. It needs to be thoroughly checked out that the President should be on record commending this organization setting it up as a model. We also have no familiarity with the award that I know. Is it an award that we recognize year to year?

-----Original Message-----
From: Rawson, Kimberly D.
Sent: Thursday, April 24, 2003 10:36 AM
To: Miers, Harriet
Subject: RE: Letters for approval - congrats - debbie

Good Morning -
Regarding this letter, it is on Mr. Kavanaugh's desk; however, Jon Ganter, in Kavanaugh's office, and I were just curious as to why you had suggested it go through their office - then we will know for future reference.
Thank you very much!
Kimberly

<< File: CONGRATULATIONS.LehighValleyHospital.AwardRecipient.4.16.03.doc
>>

From: Harriet Miers/WHO/EOP@Exchange on 04/21/2003 08:30:22 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Kimberly D. Rawson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: RE: Letters for approval - congrats - debbie

Letter is fine but has to be cleared by counsel if it has not been.

-----Original Message-----
From: Rawson, Kimberly D.
Sent: Friday, April 18, 2003 2:48 PM
To: Miers, Harriet
Subject: Letters for approval - congrats - debbie

Hi Harriet -
Hope you were/are able to get some good R & R time while you are in the great state of Texas!!

I have several letters for your approval - but no rush for today (if you are checking your email), just by Monday noonish - if possible, please Ma'am.

Here is the first of the letters - Thank you very much!!
Kimberly

---------- Forwarded by Kimberly D. Rawson/WHO/EOP on 04/18/2003 02:48 PM ----------

<< OLE Object: Picture (Device Independent Bitmap) >>
Deborah J. Eng
04/16/2003 03:59:22 PM
Record Type: Record

To: Kimberly D. Rawson/WHO/EOP@EOP
cc:
Subject: is this letter ok?
