Transition ...

Transition ... (defined) ... "A passing from one condition, form, stage, activity, place, etc. to another." Transition is a day in the life of most of us. Individually we go through a myriad of transitions within a lifetime. Collectively we as families, social groups, and civilizations find ourselves traveling the pathway from one place to another.

Churches go through transitions. Their humble beginnings from brush arbor tabernacles to multi-million dollar complexes are a sure sign of the transitional journeys we engage.

Gail Sheely became a household name among millions for her portrayal of transitions in her book "Passages."

Stephen Covey in his volume "The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People" relates that the total sum of life should "...begin with the end in mind." You can never get to the end of life without a host of transitions. Could I be speaking to someone through this article that needs to be in transition?

Are you reading this page and you have determined that you are one who desperately need to pass into another stage or condition in your life? Maybe you are, as the Bible reveals, "dead" in your trespasses and sin, and you desire to be "alive" to a new and awesome life.

The "transition" from death to life ... the "passage" from death to life ... the "end" of it all when it comes to life from death is found in a relationship with Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ is the ultimate expression of transition. It is He who brings sinful man into the process of being in transition from death to life. It was He who was Himself in transition from heaven to earth that He might bring us to God. It was He who in the transition, saw our need and stepped over every barrier to reach us with His matchless love.

The Central Thought

By Dr. David Drake

The Central Thought ... Our church like every church goes through the process of transition. We experience transition annually as we go through the holidays and summer months. When staff come to serve our church we go through transition. When staff leave to serve other churches and ministries, we go through transition.

My word to you who read ... DON'T FIGHT IT! Enjoy each and every part of the pathway. Transition is the health of a body as it changes and develops. Remember, the Bible says: "Man's going are of the Lord, how can then a man understand his ways?" We are in transition and God is with us every step along the way.

Dr. David L. Drake is the pastor of the Central Baptist Church in Waycross.

Proudly endorsed by Ware County's former United States Congressman J. Roy Rowland

As a legislative assistant to J. Roy Rowland in Washington, D.C., for two years, I learned firsthand about the legislative process. I regularly assisted in writing federal and state laws, researched laws, attended committee hearings and dealt each day with helping Ware County residents solve their problems. I made some terrific contacts in State and Federal Government which I can use as State Representative. ARE YOU DISSATISFIED WITH EXCESSIVE PROPERTY TAX ASSESSMENTS? I AM, AND I HAVE A PLAN TO END THIS PROPERTY TAX PROBLEM IN WARE COUNTY.

I own property in our community that increased in value 30% this year.

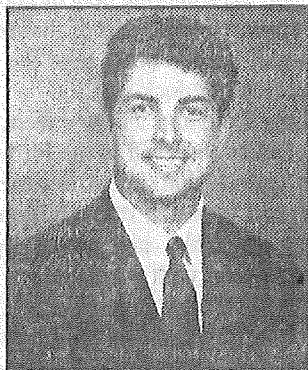

Many of our seniors have their homes paid for but are nearly unable to stay in their home because of outrageous property tax re-evaluations causing increases of 100 – 300% in their property tax values this year alone.

Many Ware County property owners have had their property values re-evaluated several times in the last few years, while others have not been re-evaluated in years.

Many in our business and medical community have seen enormous property tax value increases this year alone of up to 800%.

AS YOUR STATE REPRESENTATIVE I WILL MAKE IT MY FIRST PRIORITY TO FIX THIS PROBLEM.

- I WILL ENACT LEGISLATION TO IMPOSE A PROPERTY TAX FREEZE ON THE AMOUNT OF TAXES WE PAY DUE TO RE-EVALUATIONS.
- HOWEVER, PROPERTY "TAX FREEZE" LAWS APPLY ONLY TO HOMES WE LIVE IN. AS SUCH, THESE LAWS ALONE DON'T ADDRESS FARM PROPERTY OR COMMERCIAL/BUSINESS PROPERTY.
- TO REMEDY THIS PROBLEM, I WILL FIGHT FOR LAWS TO LIMIT OR CAP THE AMOUNT OF PROPERTY TAX VALUE INCREASES PER YEAR.
- I WILL FIGHT FOR LAWS TO LIMIT HOW OFTEN YOUR PROPERTY CAN BE RE-EVALUATED, AND
- IF TAX FREEZE LAWS DON'T WORK, I WILL FIGHT TO INCREASE THE CURRENT HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION.

ARE YOU DISSATISFIED WITH OUR RECENT EXCESSIVE PROPERTY TAX ASSESSMENTS? I AM, AND I HAVE A PLAN TO END THIS OUT OF CONTROL PROPERTY TAX ISSUE IN WARE COUNTY.

I own property in our community and one of my property values went up 30% this year.

I know people who have their homes paid for but are nearly unable to stay in their home because of outrageous property tax re-evaluations causing increases of 100 - 300% in their property tax values this year alone.

I know of many who have had their property values re-evaluated several times in the last few years, while others have not seen their property tax values increase in years.

I know many in our business and medical community who have seen enormous property tax value increases this year alone of up to 800%.

AS YOUR STATE REPRESENTATIVE I WILL MAKE IT MY FIRST PRIORITY TO FIX THIS PROBLEM.

- "The Georgia Supreme Court is determining whether local property tax freeze laws are constitutional, if they find in favor of these laws, I WILL ENACT LEGISLATION TO IMPOSE A FREEZE ON PROPERTY TAXES IN WARE CO.

HOWEVER-

- Property "tax freeze" laws only apply to "homestead" property, that is, property that you live in. AS SUCH, THESE LAWS ALONE DON'T ADDRESS FARM PROPERTY OR COMMERCIAL PROPERTY.
- I BELIEVE ALL PROPERTY OWNERS IN WARE COUNTY DESERVE TAX RELIEF.

THEREFORE-

- I will to also introduce legislation to LIMIT and CAP the amount of all property tax increases per year to bear an actual relationship to the rate of inflation.
- LET'S END THE DAYS OF UNFAIR PROPERTY TAX VALUE INCREASES.

Man Wounded During Domestic Situation

DOUGLAS — A Mitchell County man who entered the home of a homeville woman and was holding two people at gunpoint was shot and wounded in the chest, said Bill Butler, GBI Agent in Charge at the Douglas (GB) Office.

Dewey Snipes was shot once in the chest by David Ray Cox, said Butler, while Snipes was holding Mrs. Verdie Mae Clifton and two others at gunpoint during what lawmen called a domestic situation.

Snipes is charged with aggravated assault for pointing a gun at the bree. Cox was not charged in the shooting, Butler said.

Snipes will survive the shooting, Butler said. He was taken to Valdosta's South Georgia Medical Center where he remains in serious condition.

The incident occurred between 10 and 11 p.m. Saturday.

The Southeastern Beekeepers Association Inc., will hold a meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 14, at the Ware County Courthouse at 7 p.m.

Robbers Take $280 From Waycross Man

An elderly man was robbed by two men who tricked their way into his home, said Ware County Sheriff Torville McQuay.

A man who lives in the 1400 block of Gilchrist Avenue said that two black men drove up to his house about 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, McQuay said. They approached the elderly man about doing repairs to the house.

The victim invited them into his home to talk, said McQuay. At one point, the two men asked to see the homeowner's Medicaid card. While he had his wallet out, one of the men reached approximately $280 from him. Both robbers ran back to their truck and left the area.

The only other description given on the two suspects was that the man who watched the money wore a blue shirt and blue pants, said McQuay. The victim was unable to get the tag number on their vehicle.

Discrimination Case Takes Complete Turn

HOMERVILLE — An 11th Circuit Court of Appeals judge has reversed a decision involving a former Clinch County High principal's suit alleging sexual discrimination against the Clinch County Board of Education.

As a result of the decision, Dr. Ray Hinson, former principal of Clinch County High School, will probably have his day in court. The decision reversed a previous ruling by U.S. District Court Judge Hugh Lawson.

Observers say the issue will now return to the U.S. District Court, where a jury could hear the case as early as May 2001.

Hinson filed suit against the school board in December 1997.

L. Ron Hubbard Anthology: Better Than Last Year

By JOHN SCOTT COOPER
Staff Writer

I had the privilege of reviewing the "L. Ron Hubbard Presents Writers of the Future, Volume 15," last year, and "Volume 16" this year. While finding both to contain imaginative and pleasing stories, the 2000 edition had an overall greater "fun quotient."

Anthologies of this type, that promote the work of new authors, are wonderful ideas. "Writers of the Future" lays claim to opening the door to the careers of 130 now established writers and illustrators, during the past 16 years.

The book also includes features from well-known and highly regarded writers and illustrators such as L. Ron Hubbard, Judith Holman, Algis Buckley and Michael H. Payne. These segments provide insight into practical matters, such as how new producers stories that sell and how focusing an artist's eye on the seemingly insignificant minutiae of life is a major part of creativity. Features like these clearly illustrate editor Algis Buckley's commitment to educating and inspiring writers.

Three stories found in Volume 16 particularly affected me with their depth of characterization and uniqueness of plot. Gary Murphy's "Pulling Up Roots," a story about a man hiding in a remote colony on the edge of the galaxy and what happened when he was found, was the first quarter winner. A third place story, "Guldkroner," by Dan Dyson, was a marvelous for-see of how the ancient art of blacksmithing could become a valuable resource following a future holocaust. Maybe it's because I live in the (see REVIEW, page 7)

sack time. But we do not live in the mid west. Jody Wesley Hudson once shot a man for shooting, but you cannot do that in Ware County. There's one person who cannot testify today, and that's Otho LeRoy Wells. I submit he intended to kill him. You have seen, through the evidence, how brutal one person can be. Lamon Harris is guilty of malice murder."

Currie said he felt sorry for the family of Otho LeRoy Wells, because he was taken from their bosom. He also expressed sorrow for the family of Lamon Harris.

"They are victims as well. They have been tormented by a violence that permeates society. Lamon Harris should be held accountable for what he did. Only Lamon should be blamed. He was the aggressor. He shot him down like a dog in the court. Wells never had a chance."

Currie also pointed out to the jury that a person's guilt or innocence cannot be judged by their outward appearance.

"Lamon Harris is a nice-looking young man. He's dressed nice and has a good family," Currie said. "But Lamon Harris has to be held accountable for the murder of Otho LeRoy Wells."

At 1:35 p.m., the jury returned to the courtroom for a slower explanation of the two murder charges.

Judge Blount again explained in detail the difference between felony murder and malice murder.

After a little more than an hour, the jury returned to the courtroom at 3:12 p.m. and rendered their verdict.

Judge Blount then pronounced the "mandatory sentence" of life in prison.
