Colorado; Oct. 27, 2008; no lapses

Kansas; Apr. 18, 2023; no lapses

- b. List all courts in which you have been admitted to practice, including dates of admission and any lapses in membership. Please explain the reason for any lapse in membership. Give the same information for administrative bodies that require special admission to practice.

U.S. Supreme Court; Oct. 12, 2021; no lapses

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit; Dec. 3, 2012; no lapses

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit; Oct. 12, 2022; no lapses

U.S. Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces; Jan. 25, 2010; no lapses

U.S. District Court for the District of Colorado; Nov. 12, 2020; see note below

U.S. District Court for the District of Kansas; June 21, 2023; no lapses

NOTE: I was provisionally admitted in the District of Colorado on Mar. 7, 2011. However, I was authorized to appear solely as an attorney for the federal government. When I left federal employment in June 2020, that admission automatically terminated. I reapplied and was readmitted in November 2020.

For the following courts, I have electronic filing (ECF) accounts, but I have not filed anything in the court in years. Some of these courts list me as “admitted.” However, I do not recall ever formally applying for admission, and I do not remember paying any admission or renewal fee or receiving a certificate of admission. When I call the clerk’s office for further details, they lack clarity on the circumstances of my admission. I believe I was allowed to appear and file documents under a provisional authorization provided to attorneys representing the federal government (if not by rule, at least by local practice), similar to what I described above with regard to Colorado. Such authorization naturally would have lapsed when I ceased representing the federal government. In each jurisdiction, any appearance would have been on behalf of the Social Security Administration and with the authorization of the local U.S. Attorney’s Office. I do not recall applying to be a member of these courts’ bars, nor have I ever considered myself a member of their bars except in the limited sense that I was subject to the court’s rules and ethics obligations when appearing. I list these courts below to be transparent, and have noted what the court records as my admission/first appearance date insofar as I was able to obtain such information:

U.S. District Court for the District of Montana; no date noted in clerk’s records.

U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Oklahoma; admission status noted as “exempt”

U.S. District Court for the Western District of Oklahoma; Jan. 16, 2014
U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Washington; July 15, 2011
U.S. District Court for the District of Utah; Sept. 12, 2011 (pro hac vice)

11. Memberships:

- a. List all professional, business, fraternal, scholarly, civic, charitable, or other organizations, other than those listed in response to Questions 9 or 10 to which you belong, or to which you have belonged, since graduation from law school. Provide dates of membership or participation, and indicate any office you held. Include clubs, working groups, advisory or editorial boards, panels, committees, conferences, or publications.

Arlington Church of Christ, member, 2009–10
Arvada Baptist Church, member, approx. 2013–present
Federalist Society, member 2008–present (when I remembered to pay my dues)
National Postal Mail Handlers Union, associate member, 2009–20, 2025–present

- b. Indicate whether any of these organizations listed in response to 11 (a) above currently discriminate or formerly discriminated on the basis of race, sex, religion or national origin either through formal membership requirements or the practical implementation of membership policies. If so, describe any action you have taken to change these policies and practices.

To my knowledge, none of these organizations discriminates or formerly discriminated on any such basis, with the caveat that churches, of course, consistent with the Free Exercise Clause and applicable laws, generally expect members to profess belief in and adherence to the church's religious creed. But, subject to such requirement, membership is open to all, regardless of race, sex, previous religion, or national origin.

12. Published Writings and Public Statements:

- a. List the titles, publishers, and dates of books, articles, reports, letters to the editor, editorial pieces, or other published material you have written or edited, including material published only on the Internet. Supply four (4) copies of all published material to the Committee.

I began my legal practice in 2008 as a civil litigator with Levy Morse & Wheeler, primarily doing insurance defense. I clerked for Judge Ryan handling appeals from courts-martial 2009–10, and then returned to civil litigation, this time at the Social Security Administration. In 2014, I switched to criminal prosecution until 2020. At that point I returned to civil litigation, handling mostly cases involving state or federal constitutional rights, 2020–23. As Chief Deputy Attorney General of Kansas, 2023–25, I managed a large office of attorneys covering the full range of matters handled by a state attorney general’s office.

Military Practice:

My practice in the military has mostly involved advising civilian or military decisionmakers. The one major exception is my time as a defense counsel, 2011–15, during which I represented Soldiers as the military’s version of a public defender.

ii. Your typical clients and the areas at each period of your legal career, if any, in which you have specialized.

Civilian Practice:

2023–25: State government client. Oversaw other attorneys’ work in consumer protection, criminal prosecutions and appeals, and a wide range of civil litigation and appeals. I also oversaw the office’s general counsel work, attorney general opinions, and relations with other parts of the executive branch and the legislature.

2020–23: Pro bono representation of clients in suits against state and local government. Clients could be individuals, businesses, or nonprofit organizations. Specialized in state constitutional issues, but also handled federal constitutional claims.

2014–20: Federal government client. Specialized in prosecuting economic crimes (mostly government benefit fraud).

2010–14: Federal government client. Specialized in (a) challenges to the agency’s decisions on disability cases in federal district and appellate courts and (b) administrative litigation involving federal employment law.

2009–10: Clerking. No clients.

2008–09: Clients were typically insurance companies or defendants whose legal fees were covered by insurance. Cases were mostly personal injury or coverage disputes.

Military Practice:

2025–present: Broad general counsel services to university/professional school.

2020–23: Provided advice to Army and support to DOJ attorneys in pending litigation. Specialized in environmental litigation and compliance.

2015–20: Advised commanders on various issues of administrative law, contract and fiscal law, ethics, national security law, and military justice.

2011–15: Represented individual Soldiers facing criminal charges or administrative action/separation. Specialized in U.S. Army Reserve administrative separation proceedings.

c. Describe the percentage of your practice that has been in litigation and whether you appeared in court frequently, occasionally, or not at all. If the frequency of your appearances in court varied, describe such variance, providing dates.

My civilian practice has been almost entirely in litigation. I appeared in court only occasionally at first, but beginning in 2010, and especially from 2014–22, I was in court frequently. I have not physically appeared in court since about late 2022.

i. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

- 1. federal courts: 75%
- 2. state courts of record: 20%

3. other courts: 1%
4. administrative agencies: 4%

ii. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

1. civil proceedings: 60%
2. criminal proceedings: 40%

- d. State the number of cases in courts of record, including cases before administrative law judges, you tried to verdict, judgment or final decision (rather than settled), indicating whether you were sole counsel, chief counsel, or associate counsel.

Five, lead counsel in all. (This does not include cases that reached judgement or final decision by way of summary judgment or some other dispositive motion.)

I have also defended or prosecuted approximately seven administrative separation boards in the Army Reserve, which are administrative trials conducted before a panel of three officers plus a non-voting legal advisor, rather than an administrative law judge.

i. What percentage of these trials were:

- | | | |
|--------------|----|---|
| 1. jury: | 92 | % |
| 2. non-jury: | 8 | % |

NOTE: The Army administrative separation boards discussed above are treated as jury trials in these numbers. If those are excluded, the numbers would be 80% jury, 20% non-jury.

- e. Describe your practice, if any, before the Supreme Court of the United States. Supply four (4) copies of any briefs, amicus or otherwise, and, if applicable, any oral argument transcripts before the Supreme Court in connection with your practice.

I have authored one amicus brief in the U.S. Supreme Court, at the certiorari stage in 303 Creative LLC v. Elenis, No. 21-476. The brief is attached.

15. Litigation: Describe the ten (10) most significant litigated matters which you personally handled, whether or not you were the attorney of record. Give the citations, if the cases were reported, and the docket number and date if unreported. Give a capsule summary of the substance of each case. Identify the party or parties whom you represented; describe in detail the nature of your participation in the litigation and the final disposition of the case. Also state as to each case:

- a. the date of representation;
- b. the name of the court and the name of the judge or judges before whom the case was litigated; and

c. the individual name, addresses, and telephone numbers of co-counsel and of principal counsel for each of the other parties.

Aranci v. Lower S. Platte Water Conservancy Dist., No. 21CV30049 (Logan Cty. Dist. Ct.)

The Colorado Constitution requires that local governments must have “voter approval in advance for... any... mill levy above that for the prior year.” In 2019, the Lower South Platte Water Conservancy District doubled its mill levy for the subsequent years, without putting the question on the ballot. I represented five individuals who brought a class action against the District and associated county treasurers, who were in charge of collecting the tax. My clients sought invalidation of the tax increase and a refund (plus interest) of the illegally collected revenue. The district court ruled that the mill levy increase had been lawful.

I handled this matter in the district court Nov. 2021–Jan. 2023, withdrawing after filing the notice of appeal, so I could take a new job. Co-counsel carried on with the case and obtained a favorable published opinion from the Colorado Court of Appeals reversing the district court and finding that the mill levy increase had been illegal, 550 P.3d 1146.

Chronos Builders, LLC v. Dep’t of Labor & Empl., 512 P.3d 101 (Colo. 2022)

The Colorado Constitution requires “all taxable net income to be taxed at one rate... with no added tax or surcharge.” In 2020, the state passed a law, via voter initiative, that established a statewide family and medical leave “insurance” program, funded by a “premium,” paid by employers and measured as a percentage of each employee’s wages. That premium was not uniformly applied to all wages or all wage earners. Rather, it was only assessed on the first so many dollars an employee earns. Also, some employers could opt out of the program, some could pass the premium on to their employees, and small employers paid a lower-percentage premium. I represented a small business in Grand Junction, Colorado, that sued arguing the aforementioned premium was an unconstitutional “added tax or surcharge.”

The district court dismissed the case, holding that the premium charges were lawful. My client appealed and obtained certiorari before judgment from the Colorado Supreme Court while the case was still pending in the Court of Appeals. After briefing and oral argument, the state Supreme Court upheld the district court’s decision that the premium charges were constitutional.

I handled the case through all stages, July 2021–Sept. 2022.

Contreras v. Colvin, 583 F. App'x 630 (9th Cir. 2014)

The plaintiff in this case applied for Social Security disability benefits, but her application was rejected by the agency. She filed suit, and a district court remanded the case to the agency to take another look. The plaintiff appealed, arguing that the court should order SSA to pay her benefits without further proceedings. On appeal, the Ninth Circuit agreed with her.

I do not recall if I was involved in the case at the district court. (I was not lead counsel and did not enter an appearance, but I may have assisted in briefing.) However, I was lead counsel for the SSA on appeal (beginning in approximately 2011) and argued the case in the Ninth Circuit.

Foster v. Stanek, 689 F. Supp. 3d 975 (D. Kan. 2023)

In 2019, Kansas agreed to a consent judgment that required the state to change the sex listed on the birth certificates of those who claimed to be transgender and requested such a change. However, in 2023 the legislature passed a law called the Women's Bill of Rights that the Attorney General determined, via official Attorney General Opinion, prohibited listing any sex other than sex at birth on a birth certificate.

I was the state's lead counsel in 2023, litigating a motion under Fed. R. Civ. P. 60 for relief from the previously entered consent judgment. The judge granted the motion and amended the judgment to free the state of the requirement to alter birth certificates.

In re Interrogatory on House Bill 21-1164, 487 P.3d 636 (Colo. 2021)

Colorado law allows the legislature to send questions directly to the Supreme Court. In 2021, it requested that the Court review the constitutionality of a bill the legislature was considering that would have phased out tax credits that had been enacted the year before.

I represented thirty-six dissenting legislators arguing that (a) the court should decline to answer the interrogatory and (b) the proposed bill violated the state constitution. The Court disagreed, and held that the bill was constitutional.

Salazar v. Pub. Trust Inst., 522 P.3d 242 (Colo. App. 2022)

In 2019, my client filed a complaint with the Colorado Secretary of State arguing that a former state representative appeared to be lobbying without proper registration, and a complaint with the state's Independent Ethics Commission (IEC) arguing that the same legislator appeared to be violating the two-year ban on former legislators becoming lobbyists. Both the Secretary of State and the IEC dismissed the complaints. After those dismissals, the former representative sued my client for malicious prosecution.

I filed a motion to dismiss under Colorado's anti-SLAPP statute, which the district judge denied. On appeal, however, I was successful in getting the claims involving the Secretary of State's Office dismissed.

I handled the case both in the district court and on appeal Oct. 2020–Jan. 2023. I withdrew after the case had been returned to the district court.

State v. McCray, No. 125,798, 2024 Kan. App. Unpub. LEXIS 414 (Kan. Ct. App. Oct. 18, 2024) (per curiam)

The defendant pled guilty to drug and firearm charges. His criminal history included an Illinois conviction for aggravated discharge of a firearm, which the district court judge counted as a "person felony" to increase his criminal history score under the Kansas sentencing guidelines. The defendant argued that it should have been counted as a "non-person felony" and consequently appealed the sentence. The Kansas Court of Appeals upheld the district court's decision. Earlier this year, the Kansas Supreme Court granted certiorari in the case.

I handled the government's defense of the sentence in the Court of Appeals and through the certiorari petition, but left the Attorney General's office before certiorari was granted.

United States v. Glaub, No. 16-cr-00184-RM (D. Colo.)

The defendant in this case, Gunther Glaub, was involved in a scheme to file false claims with the Department of Agriculture. The scheme had been spreading through the sovereign citizen movement and had become widespread in western Colorado. A grand jury indicted Glaub and a handful of others. Two of the defendants—one of whom was Glaub—went to trial. After a three-day trial, the jury convicted him on five counts of filing false claims. The judge sentenced Glaub to five years of probation, a special assessment of $500, and a $500 fine.

I was lead counsel for both the investigation and prosecution of this matter, through sentencing, approx. 2015–May 2017. The appeal led to a published decision upholding Glaub’s convictions, 910 F.3d 1334, but I was not counsel for the appeal.

United States v. Hutson, No. 16-cr-00186-MSK-GPG (D. Colo.)

Rocky Hutson was indicted as part of the same investigation that caught Mr. Glaub (above), but Hutson’s activities also involved something akin to a check kiting scheme. Hutson went to trial. After a seven-day trial, the jury convicted him on all counts: five counts of filing false claims, three counts of bank fraud, and six counts of creating fictitious financial instruments. The judge sentenced him to 70 months in prison followed by 3 years of supervised release, $23,924.28 in restitution, and a $1400 special assessment.

United States v. Van Buskirk, 17-cr-00448-WJM (D. Colo.)

Cathleen Van Buskirk declared bankruptcy but hid a portion of her assets. Some (gold, cash, and jewelry) she gave to a neighbor to hold and did not declare them. Others, she hid by routing compensation earned prior to her bankruptcy declaration through shell companies so that she did not receive it until after she declared bankruptcy (compensation earned post-bankruptcy is not part of the bankruptcy estate and can be taken free and clear of the discharged debts). Van Buskirk eventually pled guilty to one count of bankruptcy fraud and was sentenced to 18 months in prison, 3 years of supervised release, a $50,000 fine, and a $100 special assessment.

I was lead counsel for both the investigation and prosecution of this matter, through sentencing and some minor post-sentencing proceedings in the district court, approx. 2017–May 2019.

16. Legal Activities: Describe the most significant legal activities you have pursued including significant litigation which did not progress to trial or legal matters that did not involve litigation. Describe fully the nature of your participation in these activities. List any client(s) or organization(s) for whom you performed lobbying activities and describe the lobbying activities you performed on behalf of such client(s) or organizations(s). (Note: As to any facts requested in this question, please omit any information protected by the attorney-client privilege.)

See answer to Item 15 above. I do not recall ever performing lobbying activities on behalf of clients.

17. Teaching: What courses have you taught? For each course, state the title, the institution at which you taught the course, the years in which you taught the course, and describe briefly the subject matter of the course and the major topics taught. If you have a syllabus of each course, provide four (4) copies to the committee.

I have not taught any courses.

18. Deferred Income/ Future Benefits: List the sources, amounts and dates of all anticipated receipts from deferred income arrangements, stock, options, uncompleted contracts and other future benefits which you expect to derive from previous business relationships, professional services, firm memberships, former employers, clients or customers. Describe the arrangements you have made to be compensated in the future for any financial or business interest.

I have a cash balance pension plan with the State of Kansas, but the State no longer makes contributions. The State's contributions to that plan are presently unvested because I do not have five years of service with the State.

19. Outside Commitments During Service: Do you have any plans, commitments, or agreements to pursue outside employment, with or without compensation, during your service? If so, explain.

I intend to continue my service in the Army Reserve.

20. Sources of Income: List sources and amounts of all income received during the calendar year preceding your nomination and for the current calendar year, including all salaries, fees, dividends, interest, gifts, rents, royalties, licensing fees, honoraria, and other items exceeding $500 or more (if you prefer to do so, copies of the financial disclosure report, required by the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, may be substituted here).

See OGE Form 278.

21. Statement of Net Worth: Please complete the attached financial net worth statement in detail (add schedules as called for).

See attached statement. Given the uncertainties and fluctuations involved in property valuation, the statement of net worth does not contain precise, to-the-penny values. Nonetheless, I have made a good-faith effort to reasonably and comprehensively estimate my household's assets and liabilities.

22. Potential Conflicts of Interest:

- a. Identify the family members or other persons, parties, affiliations, pending and categories of litigation, financial arrangements or other factors that are likely to present potential conflicts-of-interest when you first assume the position to which you have been nominated. Explain how you would address any such conflict if it were to arise.

I am not aware of any person or situation likely to present a conflict of interest if I were to be confirmed and appointed as an Assistant Attorney General.

- b. Explain how you will resolve any potential conflict of interest, including the procedure you will follow in determining these areas of concern.

If I am confirmed, any potential conflict of interest will be resolved in accordance with the terms of an ethics agreement that I have entered into with the Department's designated agency ethics official. If confirmed, I will continue to consult with the Department of Justice's ethics office and will recuse myself from any matter in which recusal is required.

23. Pro Bono Work: An ethical consideration under Canon 2 of the American Bar Association's Code of Professional Responsibility calls for "every lawyer, regardless of professional prominence or professional work load, to find some time to participate in serving the disadvantaged." Describe what you have done to fulfill these responsibilities, listing specific instances and the amount of time devoted to each. If you are not an attorney, please use this opportunity to report significant charitable and volunteer work you may have done.

Almost the entirety of my career has been in public service. Except for my first year out of law school, I have worked for either the government or a nonprofit organization.

Focusing more specifically on representing the disadvantaged: From June 2020 to January 2023, every case I handled was done without charging any fee to the clients—I was a full-time pro bono litigator for about 2.5 years. During that time, I represented, among others, a disabled woman discriminated against by her school district, numerous citizens challenging illegal taxing or government debt, an activist retaliated against by a politician, landowners who government regulations had deprived of any productive use of their property, and parents of children at a school for the dyslexic that the local school district was trying to close. All such representation was in cases where either the client could not afford private counsel or the economic interests at stake would not have justified hiring such counsel. Also, I was a part-time defense attorney in the Army Reserve for about 4.5 years, providing legal representation without fee to accused Soldiers (essentially, as the Army's version of a public defender).
