- a. List the date(s) you were admitted to the bar of any state and any lapses in membership. Please explain the reason for any lapse in membership.

Alabama State Bar, 1991

Texas State Bar, 2013

My Texas Bar membership went to inactive status in 2023 at my request, when I became a sitting Justice in Alabama. There have been no other lapses in membership.

b. List all courts in which you have been admitted to practice, including dates of admission and any lapses in membership. Please explain the reason for any lapse in membership. Give the same information for administrative bodies that require special admission to practice.

Supreme Court of the United States, 2003
United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, 2005
United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, 2005

United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan, 1999
United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas, 2015
United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas, 2017

To the best of my knowledge, I was still a member of these courts on date that I became a Justice on the Alabama Supreme Court. Some of these courts require renewal fees and, given my position, I have not renewed those memberships.

11. Memberships:

a. List all professional, business, fraternal, scholarly, civic, charitable, or other organizations, other than those listed in response to Questions 9 or 10 to which you belong, or to which you have belonged, since graduation from law school. Provide dates of membership or participation, and indicate any office you held. Include clubs, working groups, advisory or editorial boards, panels, committees, conferences, or publications.

Pine Tree Golf & Country Club, Sports Membership (2007 – 2008, estimated)

b. The American Bar Association’s Commentary to its Code of Judicial Conduct states that it is inappropriate for a judge to hold membership in any organization that invidiously discriminates on the basis of race, sex, or religion, or national origin. Indicate whether any of these organizations listed in response to 11a above currently discriminate or formerly discriminated on the basis of race, sex, religion or national origin either through formal membership requirements or the practical implementation of membership policies. If so, describe any action you have taken to change these policies and practices.

In the past, the Boy Scouts of America (now renamed “Scouts BSA”) limited troop and pack membership to males, although segments of the program, such as Venturing and Exploring, were open to both males and females. The Scouts BSA limitation has since been removed, and all segments of the program are open to both males and females.

A Century of Jewish Life in Dixie: The Birmingham Experience maintains that Pine Tree Golf & Country Club was a club formed by the merger of two country clubs that limited membership to Jews. This membership policy changed in 1991, long before my membership, and I was unaware of the former policy until researching it for this questionnaire. To the best of my knowledge, none of the other organizations listed above currently discriminates or formerly discriminated on the basis of race, sex, religion or national origin, either through formal membership requirements or the practical implementation of membership policies.

12. Published Writings and Public Statements:

a. List the titles, publishers, and dates of books, articles, reports, letters to the editor, editorial pieces, or other published material you have written or edited, including material published only on the Internet. Supply copies of all published material to the Committee.

I am uncertain whether the following article was published but include it here:

The Propriety of Ruling on Summary Judgment Before Reaching the Issue of Class Certification. Copy supplied.

My records show that in August 2008, I wrote an article with R. Bruce Barze, Jr. and Marcus R. Chatterton entitled "Production of Information Contained in Litigation Reserves" for an ABA newsletter, "Business Litigation Committee Newsletter." I have been unable to locate a copy of this article.

b. Supply copies of any reports, memoranda or policy statements you prepared or contributed in the preparation of on behalf of any bar association, committee, conference, or organization of which you were or are a member. If you do not have a copy of a report, memorandum or policy statement, give the name and address of the organization that issued it, the date of the document, and a summary of its subject matter.

I served on the Grievance Committee of the Birmingham Bar Association for one term (three years). In that role, we would investigate bar complaints against lawyers and recommend findings and punishments to the State Bar. I do not have these materials and do not recall specific lawyers. Further, these recommendations are confidential under Alabama law and procedure.

In addition, I served on the Standing Committee on Rules of Civil Procedure for the Alabama Supreme Court for six years (I was not the chair). In that role, our Committee made several recommendations to the Supreme Court to revise certain Rules of Civil Procedure. The Committee Comments for each such rule reflect the report which our Committee provided to the Court. These comments are attached to the individual rules and are dated. Among the rules which I recall the Committee revising (and in which I had a role) were rules 23, 26, 37, 43, 59.1.

I served on a committee formed by the Alabama Law Institute to revise the procedures for notarizing documents. I am aware that proposed legislation was introduced and passed. I believe this work was during 2011 and resulted in Act 2011-295. However, I do not have notes and therefore this is my best recollection.

c. Supply copies of any testimony, official statements or other communications relating, in whole or in part, to matters of public policy or legal interpretation, that you have issued or provided or that others presented on your behalf to public bodies or public officials.

Letter to Hon. Chuck Grassley, Chairman, Hon. Dianne Feinstein, Hon. Mitch McConnell & Hon. Charles Schumer, United States Senate, Supporting the Nomination of Hon. Neil Gorsuch to the United States Supreme Court (Mar. 1, 2017). Copy supplied.

I testified before the Federal Judicial Conference Advisory Committee on Civil Rules on February 7, 2014. The topic of the hearing was proposed amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure to deal with the massive increase in Electronically Stored Information (“ESI”). My testimony centered upon the proposed amendments to Rule 37 dealing with sanctions in connection with ESI discovery. A full copy of the transcript is provided.

Letter of Support for Karon Bowdre’s Nomination to the Northern District of Alabama (approximately 2001). I do not have a copy of this letter.

I recall speaking before an Alabama Legislative Committee meeting relating to workers’ compensation sometime in the 1990s. I do not recall if this was an official committee meeting and I have no clear recollection of the exact topic or committee. To my best recollection, no legislative action resulted.

d. Supply copies, transcripts or recordings of all speeches or talks delivered by you including commencement speeches, remarks, lectures, panel discussions, conferences, political speeches, and question-and-answer sessions. Include the date and place where they were delivered, and readily available press reports about the speech or talk. If you do not have a copy of the speech or a transcript or recording of your remarks, give the name and address of the group before whom the speech was given, the date of the speech, and a summary of its subject matter. If you did not speak from a prepared text, furnish a copy of any outline or notes from which you spoke.

To my recollection and through a review of my calendars and searches of publicly available databases by persons acting on my behalf, I have found the following responsive materials. For speeches where I have provided a recording or the text of the speech, I have not provided press reports. I have also not provided press reports that simply note my presence. Where I have supplied prepared texts or notes, the remarks as delivered often differed from these materials.

In support of my candidacy for the Alabama Supreme Court, I spoke to several county or local Republican Party groups. Most of these speeches were delivered extemporaneously and I did not rely on prepared speeches or notes. Many of these groups do not have a physical mailing address. Where no address is provided, the address for the Alabama Republican Party is appropriate. The address of the Alabama Republican Party is 3505 Lorna Road, Birmingham, Alabama 35216

c. For each of the 10 most significant cases over which you presided, provide: (1) a capsule summary of the nature of the case; (2) the outcome of the case; (3) the name and contact information for counsel who had a significant role in the trial of the case; and (4) the citation of the case (if reported) or the docket number and a copy of the opinion or judgment (if not reported).

As noted above, as a member of the Alabama Supreme Court I have not “presided” over cases. Consistent, however, with the practice of past nominees who have served on courts of appeal, I have provided 10 cases for which I wrote the majority opinion delivering the judgment of the court.

1. Ex parte Ala.-West Fla. Conference of United Methodist Church, Inc., 401 So. 3d 1123 (Ala. 2024).

A local congregation, Harvest Church-Dothan, sued regional and national United Methodist entities seeking a declaration that they had no ownership interest in the church's property. The denominational bodies argued that the case should be dismissed because resolving the dispute would require courts to decide ecclesiastical matters, which are generally beyond the jurisdiction of civil courts.

The Alabama Supreme Court rejected that argument at this stage of the litigation. It held that the dispute appeared to concern property ownership and control—issues that civil courts may resolve using “neutral principles of law” without deciding questions of church doctrine or governance. Accordingly, the court denied the petition for a writ of mandamus and allowed the lawsuit to proceed in the trial court.

2. Sawyer v. Cooper Tire & Rubber Co., 412 So.3d 603 (Ala. 2024).

The personal representative of a Florida decedent’s estate sued Cooper Tire in Alabama after a fatal crash in Mobile County allegedly resulted from a defective tire that experienced tread separation. Cooper Tire argued that Alabama courts lacked specific personal jurisdiction because neither the plaintiff nor the decedent was an Alabama resident and because the tire at issue was not shown to have been sold or distributed by Cooper Tire in Alabama during the years immediately preceding the accident.

The Alabama Supreme Court, relying heavily on the U.S. Supreme Court’s decision in Ford Motor Co. v. Montana, held that Cooper Tire’s extensive activities in Alabama—including selling, distributing, and marketing the same tire model involved in the case—were sufficiently related to the plaintiff’s claims to support specific personal jurisdiction. The court concluded that the lawsuit “related to” Cooper Tire’s Alabama contacts even if the precise tire could not be traced to a recent Alabama sale by the company. Accordingly, the court reversed the trial court’s dismissal and remanded the case for further proceedings on the merits.

3. Ex parte Hous. Auth. of City of Talladega, 413 So.3d 14 (Ala. 2024).

A public-housing tenant sued his landlord after he fell on apartment stairs that lacked handrails, alleging negligence and wantonness. The trial court granted summary judgment to the Housing Authority, reasoning that the missing handrails were an “open and obvious” danger the tenant knew about.

The Alabama Supreme Court held that the lower courts had applied the “open and obvious” doctrine too broadly in the landlord-tenant context. The court explained that a landlord may still owe duties regarding dangerous conditions in areas under the landlord’s control, even when the danger is obvious, consistent with long-standing landlord-liability principles reflected in the Restatement of Torts.

Accordingly, the court affirmed the Court of Civil Appeals’ decision reversing summary judgment for the Housing Authority and allowed the tenant’s claims to proceed. The decision clarified that Alabama’s earlier opinion in Daniels v. Wiley did not eliminate these traditional exceptions to the open-and-obvious rule in landlord-tenant cases.

4. Ex parte Scarborough, 428 So. 3d 1146 (Ala. 2025).

The administrator of an inmate's estate brought a wrongful-death and medical-malpractice action against healthcare providers who treated the inmate at Limestone Correctional Facility before his suicide. Although the defendants believed venue was proper only in Limestone County under the Alabama Medical Liability Act (AMLA), they litigated the case in Montgomery County for several years before moving to transfer it.

The Alabama Supreme Court held that the defendants had waived any objection to venue by failing to raise it in a timely manner as required by Alabama Rule of Civil Procedure 12(h)(1). The court rejected the argument that the AMLA's venue statute allowed a late venue challenge notwithstanding the ordinary waiver rules, relying on its prior interpretation of that statute.

Accordingly, the court granted Scarborough's petition for a writ of mandamus and directed the trial court to vacate its order transferring the case to Limestone County.

5. Nissan North America, Inc. v. Henderson-Brundidge, 2025 WL 3039769 (Ala. Oct. 31, 2025).

A woman who was permanently blinded in one eye sued Nissan under the Alabama Extended Manufacturer's Liability Doctrine (AEMLD), alleging that the passenger-side airbag in a 1998 Infiniti QX4 was defectively designed and that safer alternative designs were available. A Mobile County jury returned an $8.5 million verdict in her favor, after which Nissan sought judgment as a matter of law, a new trial, or a remittitur.

The Alabama Supreme Court held that the plaintiff had presented substantial evidence supporting her defective-design claim, including evidence of a safer, practical alternative design, and therefore affirmed the trial court's denial of Nissan's motion for judgment as a matter of law. However, the Court concluded that the trial court had mistakenly believed prior Alabama precedent deprived it of discretion to grant a new trial based on jurors' failure to disclose prior lawsuits during voir dire.

Accordingly, the Court affirmed the denial of Nissan's request for judgment as a matter of law but reversed the denial of its motion for a new trial and remanded the case. The result was not an outright new trial; instead, the trial court was directed to exercise its discretion and determine whether the jurors' nondisclosures caused probable prejudice warranting a new trial.

6. Laborde v. Citizens Bank, N.A., 2025 WL 3684583 (Ala. Dec. 29, 2025).

A veteran and his spouse sued their mortgage lender after the bank foreclosed on their home, alleging that they had attempted to reinstate the loan and avoid foreclosure following financial hardship. They asserted claims for breach of contract, wrongful foreclosure, unjust enrichment, and breach of the duty of good faith and fair dealing, contending that the bank failed to comply with requirements governing their VA-guaranteed mortgage.

The Alabama Supreme Court held that Alabama law does not recognize an independent cause of action for breach of the duty of good faith and fair dealing and therefore affirmed dismissal of that claim. However, the Court concluded that the homeowners had sufficiently alleged facts supporting their claims for breach of contract, wrongful foreclosure, and unjust enrichment, including allegations that the bank improperly refused to permit reinstatement of the loan before the foreclosure sale.

Accordingly, the Court affirmed the dismissal of the good-faith claim but reversed the dismissal of the other three claims and remanded the case for further proceedings. The result was that the homeowners were permitted to continue litigating their contract, wrongful foreclosure, and unjust-enrichment claims against the bank.

7. Alabama Plating Tech., LLC v. Georgia Plating Tech., LLC, 411 So. 3d 335 (Ala. 2024).

In this case, the buyer of a brake-plating plant sued the sellers after discovering environmental violations, unpaid accounts payable, and allegedly inoperable equipment following the asset purchase. The buyer claimed that these problems were retained liabilities or breaches of warranties under the asset-purchase agreement and therefore justified setting off its losses against installment payments owed to the sellers. The sellers, in turn, sued the buyer for breach of contract and sought acceleration of the remaining payments.

The Alabama Supreme Court largely sided with the buyer. It held that the buyer was entitled to indemnification for environmental-remediation costs and unpaid accounts payable, and it further concluded that the trial court had erred in denying relief on the buyer's claim relating to inoperable assets. The Court also determined that the buyer was entitled to pursue recovery of attorneys' fees and litigation expenses under the agreement's indemnification provisions.

Accordingly, the Court reversed the portions of the judgment denying relief on the inoperable-assets claim and denying attorneys' fees, affirmed the rulings in the buyer's favor on the environmental and accounts-payable claims, and upheld the denial of the sellers' request to accelerate the remaining installment payments. The case was remanded for further proceedings consistent with those holdings.

8. CBS Holdings, LLC v. Hexagon US Fed., Inc., 2025 WL 1910167 (Ala. July 11, 2025).

In this case, the dispute arose from an alleged breach of a commercial lease after CBS Holdings purchased property that Hexagon US Federal (HexFed) continued to occupy. After HexFed prevailed in litigation over lease renewal and related breach-of-contract issues, the trial court also awarded HexFed attorney's fees and costs, later setting the amount at about $174,000 based largely on redacted billing records. CBS Holdings appealed, arguing the fee award was inadequately supported and insufficiently explained for appellate review.

The Alabama Supreme Court agreed in part with CBS Holdings. It held that while HexFed was entitled to attorneys' fees under the lease, the trial court's order did not provide enough detail or analysis under the required Peebles factors to allow meaningful appellate review, especially given the heavily redacted invoices. The Court concluded that the fee award lacked adequate explanation of how the court evaluated reasonableness and billing entries.

Accordingly, the Court vacated the attorney-fee award and remanded for the trial court to reconsider the request using appropriate evidentiary support and to enter a more detailed order explaining its reasoning. The underlying judgment in favor of HexFed on the merits of the lease dispute was not disturbed.

9. Brickhouse Cap., LLC v. Coastal Cryo AL, LLC, 393 So. 3d 467 (Ala. 2023).

In this case, a business owner (Santa) sued a financing company after entering into a transaction to acquire and finance a cryotherapy device, ultimately signing multiple electronically delivered documents labeled as lease-related agreements. When Santa later defaulted on payments under the final lease agreement, the lessor sued for breach of contract, and Santa and his company brought a third-party claim against Brickhouse Capital, the financier, alleging fraudulent inducement, arguing they were misled about the nature and terms of the financing arrangement.

The Alabama Supreme Court held that the fraud claim failed as a matter of law because Santa's reliance on any alleged misrepresentations was unreasonable. The Court emphasized Alabama's duty-to-read doctrine, explaining that a party who signs clear contractual documents—especially multiple documents repeatedly identifying the transaction as a lease—cannot avoid the consequences of those terms simply by claiming they did not read them. It also rejected the argument that the use of an electronic signing platform like DocuSign altered the analysis or created any special duty on the part of the other contracting party.

Accordingly, the Court reversed the jury verdict in favor of Santa and Coastal Cryo and rendered judgment in favor of Brickhouse Capital, eliminating the fraudulent-inducement award entirely.

10. Dalton Drug Co., Inc. v. OptumRx, Inc., 424 So. 3d 1254 (Ala. 2025).

OptumRx, a pharmacy benefit manager (PBM), sued independent pharmacies seeking a declaratory judgment to clarify (1) its rights and obligations under an arbitration provision in the parties' contracts and (2) that that provision was binding and enforceable, requiring the parties to arbitrate any future disputes between them.

Eventually, OptumRx moved for a summary judgment in its favor arguing that, if the trial court did not enforce the arbitration provision in the parties' contracts, future litigation between it and the pharmacies would be inevitable because the pharmacies had expressed an intent not to arbitrate the disputes between them. The trial court entered a summary judgment in favor of OptumRx and declared that the parties must arbitrate any future disputes between them pursuant to their contracts. The pharmacies appealed.

The Alabama Supreme Court focused on whether a ripe, justiciable controversy existed between OptumRx and the pharmacies at the time OptumRx filed its declaratory-judgment actions and, thus, whether the trial court's summary judgment in OptumRx's favor was proper. The Court concluded that no ripe, justiciable controversy existed between the parties at the time the declaratory judgment actions were filed. Accordingly, the Court reversed the trial court's judgment and remanded the actions to the trial court with instructions for that court to vacate its judgment and dismiss the actions, without prejudice.

f. Provide a brief summary of and citations for all of your opinions where your decisions were reversed by a reviewing court or where your judgment was affirmed with significant criticism of your substantive or procedural rulings. If any of the opinions listed were not officially reported, provide copies of the opinions.

No majority opinion I authored has been reversed by the Supreme Court of the United States. Nor has the Supreme Court of the United States affirmed a majority opinion I authored with significant criticism of my substantive or procedural rulings.

g. Provide a description of the number and percentage of your decisions in which you issued an unpublished opinion and the manner in which those unpublished opinions are filed and/or stored.

As of July 2, 2026, I have participated in the disposition of 281 cases. Two hundred and twenty-four decisions from those cases (approximately 80%) have been published. Fifty-seven (approximately 20%) decisions have not as of July 2, 2026, been published. Unpublished decisions are stored in the Alabama Supreme Court's case management system. Until January, 2026, unpublished decisions were entirely internal court documents. Since that time, under a pilot program authorized by a court vote, the parties and the trial court receive a copy of the unpublished decision. The results in unpublished decisions are available to the public through the Alabama Appellate Courts Public Portal at <https://publicportal.alappeals.gov/portal/home>.

h. Provide citations for significant opinions on federal or state constitutional issues, together with the citation to appellate court rulings on such opinions. If any of the opinions listed were not officially reported, provide copies of the opinions.

i. Provide citations to all cases in which you sat by designation on a federal court of appeals, including a brief summary of any opinions you authored, whether majority, dissenting, or concurring, and any dissenting opinions you joined.

I have never sat by designation on a federal court of appeals.

14. Recusal: If you are or have been a judge, identify the basis by which you have assessed the necessity or propriety of recusal (If your court employs an “automatic” recusal system by which you may be recused without your knowledge, please include a general description of that system.) Provide a list of any cases, motions or matters that have come before you in which a litigant or party has requested that you recuse yourself due to an asserted conflict of interest or in which you have recused yourself sua sponte. Identify each such case, and for each provide the following information:

- a. whether your recusal was requested by a motion or other suggestion by a litigant or a party to the proceeding or by any other person or interested party; or if you recused yourself sua sponte;
- b. a brief description of the asserted conflict of interest or other ground for recusal;
- c. the procedure you followed in determining whether or not to recuse yourself;
- d. your reason for recusing or declining to recuse yourself, including any action taken to remove the real, apparent or asserted conflict of interest or to cure any other ground for recusal.

In deciding whether to recuse myself from a case, I apply the standards for disqualification set forth in Canon 3.C of the Alabama Canons of Judicial Ethics and related Alabama Judicial Inquiry Commission Advisory Opinions. That canon provides that “[a] judge should disqualify himself in a proceeding in which his disqualification is required by law or his impartiality might reasonably be questioned, including but not limited to instances” described in the remainder of the canon. The Supreme Court of Alabama utilizes an automatic recusal system. In addition, whenever a case is assigned to my chambers, my senior staff attorney conducts a recusal check to make sure that there is no reason for me to recuse. Per our Court’s policy, a Justice may recuse later in the appellate process if a reason for recusal becomes apparent.

In the following cases, I recused sua sponte because: (1) of personal relationships with the parties, entities, or others; (2) I had preexisting knowledge about the case; (3) I or my spouse had a financial interest in the subject matter in controversy or in a party to the proceeding; or (4) I would be personally impacted by the outcome of the case:

In addition, consistent with the “impartiality” requirements of Canon 2 of the Alabama Canons of Judicial Ethics and Alabama Judicial Inquiry Commission Advisory Opinions 13-920 through 13-923, 18-938, and 22-953, I followed a practice of recusing from cases involving my former law firm for two years following my election to the bench, from cases involving former clients for at least two years following my election to the bench, and from matters that were active at the firm during my association with it or which I otherwise believed could reflect upon my impartiality. iv.whether you served as a mediator or arbitrator in alternative dispute resolution proceedings and, if so, a description of the 10 most significant matters with which you were involved in that capacity.

I have not served as a mediator or arbitrator in alternative dispute resolution proceedings.

b. Describe:

i.The general character of your law practice and indicate by date when its character has changed over the years.

When I left Balch & Bingham for the Alabama Supreme Court, my practice focused almost solely upon commercial litigation with a focus on complex litigation. This included handling over 60 class actions (including MDLs) such as financial services and energy-related actions. I estimate I participated in 1000 matters in multiple state and federal courts (including 15 different states). I have tried jury trials, bench trials and arbitrations.

During the early years of my practice (especially before I became a partner in 1998), I was a general litigator doing matters as assigned. For instance, I handled most of the workers compensation litigation for our firm for several years. In Alabama, such actions are tried as bench trials in circuit court. Because these cases are statutorily limited in their damages, this provided a low-risk opportunity for a young lawyer to learn with minimal supervision. I had the opportunity to negotiate, settle and try these cases—often by myself. These workers’ compensation cases also led to some involvement in the firm’s employment practice, including some workers’ compensation retaliatory discharge litigation. I also handled insurance disputes both for and against insurance carriers and defended an insurance broker. Some of these early cases involved construction disputes, which I tried by jury in both state and federal court.

In the late 1990s, my practice grew more focused on complex, commercial litigation. I assisted in defending several state court class actions. I became my law firm’s expert in class action rules and strategies. As the litigation climate in Alabama changed, I took these skills and relationships and began litigating in federal courts across the country. A significant portion of this time was spent in connection with class actions.

I also spent considerable time during this period representing banks and financial institutions. Some of this time was dealing with everyday routine advice (for instance, disputes over account ownership and written demands over fraudulent wire transfers). Other matters dealt with mortgage and real property disputes, noncompetition or theft of confidential information. As an example, I filed a series of cases for a banking client related to fraud with their credit card processing business line. I helped the bank recover the losses and to work closely with the assigned Assistant United States Attorney, leading to several convictions.

- ii. your typical clients and the areas at each period of your legal career, if any, in which you have specialized.

As noted above, my early years were spent as a general litigator handling a wide variety of matters for the firm. Typical clients included employers, insurance carriers, insurance brokers, and businesses. Areas of practice included workers’ compensation litigation, insurance disputes, and state court class actions.

Over time, I developed an increasing focus on complex commercial litigation, particularly class actions. Typical clients included banks, financial institutions, and other commercial entities facing fraud, consumer, and business-related claims. Although I represented the defendant in many of these cases, I sometimes represented plaintiffs, especially in commercial matters, as reflected in my significant matter list below.

- c. Describe the percentage of your practice that has been in litigation and whether you appeared in court frequently, occasionally, or not at all. If the frequency of your appearances in court varied, describe such variance, providing dates.

I estimate that 95% of my practice focused on litigation. I engaged in extensive motion practice and discovery issues. I estimate that I appeared in person before a court or by phone once every few weeks. Over time I delegated routine court appearances to younger lawyers.

i. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

- | | | |
|----|--------------------------|-------|
| 1. | federal courts: | 45% |
| 2. | state courts of record: | 45% |
| 3. | other courts: | 5-10% |
| 4. | administrative agencies: | 1% |

These estimated percentages reflect my entire career averages. I spent the majority of my time in federal court in the last half of my career and I spent the majority of my time in state court in the first half of my career. I have included in "other courts," arbitrations as well as other state courts (such as probate, small claims (district) or traffic court).

ii. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

- | | | |
|----|-----------------------|-----|
| 1. | civil proceedings: | 97% |
| 2. | criminal proceedings: | 3% |

d. State the number of cases in courts of record, including cases before administrative law judges, you tried to verdict, judgment or final decision (rather than settled), indicating whether you were sole counsel, chief counsel, or associate counsel.

I no longer have access to my law firm's files, especially for bench trials from many years ago. This information represents my best recollection of my practice.

I have tried five jury trials to verdict. For four of these trials, I was "first chair." For one trial I served as "second chair." I tried nine bench trials to verdict. For four of these trials, I was "first chair." For five trials I served as "second chair." Finally, I have tried thirteen arbitrations to decision. For one of these arbitrations, I was "first chair." For twelve arbitrations, I served as "second chair."

i. What percentage of these trials were:

- | | | |
|----|-----------|-----|
| 1. | jury: | 40% |
| 2. | non-jury: | 60% |

e. Describe your practice, if any, before the Supreme Court of the United States. Supply copies of any briefs, amicus or otherwise, and, if applicable, any oral argument transcripts before the Supreme Court in connection with your practice.

I have never appeared before the Supreme Court of the United States or been counsel of record.

17. Litigation: Describe the ten (10) most significant litigated matters which you personally handled, whether or not you were the attorney of record. Give the citations, if the cases were reported, and the docket number and date if unreported. Give a capsule summary of the substance of each case. Identify the party or parties whom you represented; describe in detail the nature of your participation in the litigation and the final disposition of the case. Also state as to each case:

- a. the date of representation;
- b. the name of the court and the name of the judge or judges before whom the case was litigated; and
- c. the individual name, addresses, and telephone numbers of co-counsel and of principal counsel for each of the other parties.

I represented a publicly traded commercial REIT in a class action which alleged the company systematically inflated electricity pass-through charges to retail tenants across the malls which the company owned or managed. Plaintiffs advanced claims under federal RICO and state consumer protection statutes, ultimately securing class certification and surviving partial summary judgment. I joined the litigation after this stage, and helped appeal the class certification order, found experts to author reports, prepared for trial, and settled the case. I transitioned to lead counsel and structured, briefed, and argued for the settlement approval. The settlement was heard and approved by the court. I stayed involved to assist in administering the multi-year settlement, subsequent investigations and lawsuits, and bankruptcy related matters that occurred in connection with COVID.

2. Individual Consumers v. Samsung (American Arbitration Association). (Arbitrators: Justice Robert Bernard Harwood, Jr., James Northcutt Walter, Jr., Ian David Rosenthal) (Representation: 2019 – 2021).

I served as a member of the defense team in a consumer electronics product liability mass action alleging that a smartphone had been marketed as water-resistant but was instead systematically flawed. Plaintiffs advanced claims under multiple state deceptive trade practice statutes and asserted that they had approximately 1000 clients with such claims. The parties agreed to litigate approximately fifteen one-day bellwether arbitrations in Alabama, of which I believe eleven were tried. I actively participated in each proceeding.

I do not know the names of these individual cases and no longer have access to my files; however, one of the arbitrations concerned a case for Varden v. Samsung Electronics America, Inc., AAA Case No. 01-19-0004-2898.

I served as lead counsel for several Alabama municipalities in a series of class actions concerning their practice of contracting with a private firm to collect traffic fines and other municipal fines, brought under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 and state law. The Ray case was the lead case and concerned the city of Childersburg. We represented other cities in separate actions, including Harpersville, Clanton, Fort Payne, Anniston, Gardendale and Arab. My team was hired after the initial motion practice had been unsuccessful. We worked with these cities to review and suggest revisions of the challenged practices.

After several years of significant discovery and motion practice, we obtained summary judgment. The claims continued against the private probation firms.

I served as a member of the litigation team representing a proposed nationwide class of over 300 commercial purchasers, primarily hotel owners, in a product defect suit regarding air conditioning units. I worked on a significant portion of discovery, motion practice and negotiations, including coordinating discovery among several hotel owners because class certification failed. I served as lead counsel for a vendor that made regular pickups of liquid waste in a series of class-action lawsuits alleging fraud, conspiracy, unjust enrichment, and breach of contract. The plaintiffs alleged that the vendor imposed a fuel surcharge that was not authorized by the contract, and that the surcharge was not intended to recover the vendor's rising fuel costs, but were, instead, profit enhancers. Plaintiffs' counsel filed similar class actions in California and Missouri. See Harrington Enters., Inc. v. Safety-Kleen Sys., Inc., No. 13-00167-CV-W-BP, 2014 WL 12611318 (W.D. Mo. July 11, 2014). Ultimately, we settled the action on a class-wide basis using the Alabama action as the settlement vehicle.

I served as lead counsel for Compass Bank seeking to recover approximately $15 million in losses resulting from a sophisticated fraud scheme involving double-billing of equipment by a Pittsburgh-based beverage bottling company. Our client brought fraud claims against the investment bankers who marketed the loan (a participation agreement) and the equipment vendor that falsified its financial books.

(Representation: 2010 – 2012)

I served as lead counsel for a bank defending in multi-district litigation in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida regarding overdraft fee processing. (Representation: 2001 – 2005).

I served as co-lead counsel for Compass Bank seeking recovery of approximately $10 million in losses caused by a bank executive who accepted bribes to circumvent risk-management policies for credit card processing, including for high-risk telemarketing vendors. This fraudulent conduct led to large customer “chargebacks” and large losses for the bank. My role involved coordinating a multi-year recovery effort across several states and multiple countries, which included initiating civil litigation to recover assets and collaborating with the assigned Assistant U.S. Attorney in each jurisdiction to secure criminal convictions against the bank executive, one of the telemarketers, and the broker. I testified in the federal sentencing of the broker who paid the bank executive the bribes.

18. Legal Activities: Describe the most significant legal activities you have pursued, including significant litigation which did not progress to trial or legal matters that did not involve litigation. Describe fully the nature of your participation in these activities. List any client(s) or organization(s) for whom you performed lobbying activities and describe the lobbying activities you performed on behalf of such client(s) or organizations(s). (Note: As to any facts requested in this question, please omit any information protected by the attorney-client privilege.)

While I was in private practice, I primarily focused on litigation. In addition to the litigation activities described above, I provided advice and counsel to my clients related to such lawsuits (for instance, how to avoid such actions in the future). This was an especially important part of my practice when I was defending large class action litigation. In my role as general counsel of the Alabama Republican Party, I provided the typical legal advice given to small businesses (in addition to providing litigation assistance and advice of specific campaign laws).

As noted above, I served on a committee of the Alabama Law Institute which proposed legislation on a notary act. I also served from 2016 to 2022 on the Alabama Supreme Court's advisory committee on the Rules of Civil Procedure and, as noted above, our committee proposed several changes (as reflected in the published committee comments for those rules). I recall speaking before an Alabama Legislative Committee meeting relating to workers' compensation. I do not recall if this was an official committee meeting and this occurred in the 1990s and I have no clear recollection of the exact topic or committee. To my best recollection, no legislative action resulted.

19. Teaching: What courses have you taught? For each course, state the title, the institution at which you taught the course, the years in which you taught the course, and describe briefly the subject matter of the course and the major topics taught. If you have a syllabus of each course, provide copies to the committee.

In spring semester of 2026, I taught an upper-level course at the University of Alabama Law School, entitled "Alabama Civil Practice & Procedure." The course discussed interpretation and application of the Alabama Rules of Civil Procedure, with particular attention to recent decisions from the Alabama appellate courts affecting civil litigation practice. Syllabus supplied.

20. Deferred Income/ Future Benefits: List the sources, amounts and dates of all anticipated receipts from deferred income arrangements, stock, options, uncompleted contracts and other future benefits which you expect to derive from previous business relationships, professional services, firm memberships, former employers, clients or customers. Describe the arrangements you have made to be compensated in the future for any financial or business interest.

As the author of Alabama Rules of Civil Procedure, Annotated, Fifth Edition, I believe I will continue to receive royalties from the publisher, Thomson Reuters (West Publishing), as long as the book is being sold in its current form.

21. Outside Commitments During Court Service: Do you have any plans, commitments, or agreements to pursue outside employment, with or without compensation, during your service with the court? If so, explain.

For the fall semester of 2026, I am committed to teach the course “Alabama Civil Practice & Procedure,” referenced in response to Question 14. Although I am not committed to teach the course beyond that semester, I anticipate I will do so.

As the author of Alabama Rules of Civil Procedure, Annotated, Fifth Edition, I have regularly provided updates to the book as necessary. I have not yet determined if I will continue this practice if I am confirmed.

22. Sources of Income: List sources and amounts of all income received during the calendar year preceding your nomination and for the current calendar year, including all salaries, fees, dividends, interest, gifts, rents, royalties, licensing fees, honoraria, and other items exceeding $500 or more (if you prefer to do so, copies of the financial disclosure report, required by the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, may be substituted here).

When my nomination is formally submitted to the Senate, I will file my mandated Financial Disclosure Report and supply a copy to this Committee.

23. Statement of Net Worth: Please complete the attached financial net worth statement in detail (add schedules as called for).

See attached Net Worth Statement.

24. Potential Conflicts of Interest:

a. Identify the family members or other persons, parties, categories of litigation, and financial arrangements that are likely to present potential conflicts-of-interest when you first assume the position to which you have been nominated. Explain how you would address any such conflict if it were to arise.

My wife is a Council Member for Vestavia Hills, Alabama and is a member of the Alabama Republican Party Executive Committee. After the completion of a judicial clerkship, my daughter will become an associate with the firm of Maynard Nexsen, Birmingham, Alabama.

If confirmed, I will evaluate any real or potential conflict, or any other relationship that could give rise to the appearance of a conflict, on a case-by-case basis and determine appropriate action with the advice of the parties and their counsel including recusal where necessary.

b. Explain how you will resolve any potential conflict of interest, including the procedure you will follow in determining these areas of concern.

If confirmed, I will carefully review and address any real or potential conflicts by reference to 28 U.S.C. § 455, Canon 3 of the Code of Conduct for United States Judges, and any and all other laws, rules, and practices governing such circumstances.

25. Pro Bono Work: An ethical consideration under Canon 2 of the American Bar Association's Code of Professional Responsibility calls for "every lawyer, regardless of professional prominence or professional workload, to find some time to participate in serving the disadvantaged." Describe what you have done to fulfill these responsibilities, listing specific instances and the amount of time devoted to each.

While in private practice, I served as a volunteer for the Birmingham Volunteer Lawyers Program. Without my files from my former law firm, I cannot be certain of the years of my work or the client names and it would be difficult to reconstruct because often such work did not involve formal client retention letters.

Generally speaking, my service involved advising disadvantaged clients at the clinic, located in the Jefferson County Courthouse. Examples of matters I handled for clients included: 1) defending a tax redemption lawsuit (won on motion practice and eventually settled for a conveyance of the property); 2) assisting a tenant who claimed that their apartment was infested with lice and that the landlord was responsible (convinced the landlord to pay for the problem); 3) assisting a tenant in an eviction dispute (they brought the problem to the clinic too late and I was unable to set aside the default judgment; however, I was able to obtain several additional months of occupancy before they were required to leave).

I also volunteered with the Alabama Bar Volunteer Lawyers Program, and worked on "Wills for Heroes," using a software package to advise first responders in drafting wills, living wills and powers of attorney.

26. Selection Process:

a. Please describe your experience in the entire judicial selection process, from beginning to end (including the circumstances which led to your nomination and the interviews in which you participated). Is there a selection commission in your jurisdiction to recommend candidates for nomination to the federal courts? If so, please include that process in your description, as well as whether the commission recommended your nomination. List the dates of all interviews or communications you had with the White House staff or the Justice Department regarding this nomination. Do not include any contacts with Federal Bureau of Investigation personnel concerning your nomination.

On April 8, 2026, Senator Britt's office called to ask if I would like to be considered for Judge Proctor's empty seat. On April 10, 2026, I spoke by phone with Senator Britt regarding this opportunity. On April 14, 2026, I returned Senator Britt's questionnaire.

On May 5, 2026, I met with Senator Tuberville, in Montgomery, for an interview. On May 12, 2026, Senator Tuberville contacted me to tell me that both Senators would like to forward my name to the White House for this opportunity.

On May 14, 2026, I interviewed with attorneys from the White House Counsel's Office, in Washington, D.C.

On June 29, 2026, President Trump called to inform me that he had selected me for a nomination. Throughout this process I have had contact with members of the White House Counsel's Office and the Justice Department's Office of Legal Policy regarding the nomination and associated paperwork

b. Has anyone involved in the process of selecting you as a judicial nominee discussed with you any currently pending or specific case, legal issue or question in a manner that could reasonably be interpreted as seeking any express or implied assurances concerning your position on such case, issue, or question? If so, explain fully.

No.
