From 1999 to 2008, I represented a diverse range of clients, including local businesses, publicly traded corporations, and individuals.

From 2008 to 2013, I served as in-house general counsel. My primary client was Mack Energy Corporation and its affiliates, although I continued to take court-appointed appeals on behalf of indigent criminal clients in the Tenth Circuit.

From 2014 to present, I have continued to represent a diverse group of clients. I currently represent local builders, individuals, publicly traded companies, privately held energy producers, local non-profits, estates, trusts and individuals who cannot afford representation.

- c. Describe the percentage of your practice that has been in litigation and whether you appeared in court frequently, occasionally, or not at all. If the frequency of your appearances in court varied, describe such variance, providing dates.

From 1999 to 2008, as an associate and then partner at Hinkle Hensley Shanor & Martin, LLP, I devoted nearly all of my time to litigation. I appeared in state and federal courts occasionally on behalf of clients.

From 2008 to 2013, as in-house general counsel, I devoted approximately 20% of my time to litigation. I supervised outside counsel in several cases and only occasionally appeared in court on behalf of Mack Energy Corporation and its affiliates. I appeared occasionally in the Tenth Circuit on behalf of court-appointed criminal clients under the Criminal Justice Act.

From 2014 to present, as a partner at my firm, I estimate that about 75% or more of my time is dedicated to litigation. Because my practice has focused on complex civil litigation, I have appeared in court occasionally.

i. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

- | | |
|-----------------------------|-----|
| 1. federal courts: | 25% |
| 2. state courts of record: | 65% |
| 3. other courts: | 5% |
| 4. administrative agencies: | 5% |

ii. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

- | | |
|--------------------------|-----|
| 1. civil proceedings: | 85% |
| 2. criminal proceedings: | 15% |

d. State the number of cases in courts of record, including cases before administrative law judges, you tried to verdict, judgment or final decision (rather than settled), indicating whether you were sole counsel, chief counsel, or associate counsel.

Approximately 16. I have acted in the roles of sole, chief, and associate counsel in these cases. Additionally, I was lead counsel or had primary briefing responsibility in more than 20 appeals.

i. What percentage of these trials were:

- | | |
|--------------|-------|
| 1. jury: | 6.5% |
| 2. non-jury: | 93.5% |

e. Describe your practice, if any, before the Supreme Court of the United States. Supply four (4) copies of any briefs, amicus or otherwise, and, if applicable, any oral argument transcripts before the Supreme Court in connection with your practice.

None.

17. Litigation: Describe the ten (10) most significant litigated matters which you personally handled, whether or not you were the attorney of record. Give the citations, if the cases were reported, and the docket number and date if unreported. Give a capsule summary of the substance of each case. Identify the party or parties whom you represented; describe in detail the nature of your participation in the litigation and the final disposition of the case. Also state as to each case:

- a. the date of representation;
- b. the name of the court and the name of the judge or judges before whom the case was litigated; and
- c. the individual name, addresses, and telephone numbers of co-counsel and of principal counsel for each of the other parties:

1. Jepsen v. Vigil-Giron, First Judicial District Court, Santa Fe County Cause No. D-101-CV-2001102177 (2001).

This lawsuit involved the 2001 New Mexico redistricting. Along with co-counsel, I represented the bi-partisan New Mexico Legislature and defended its redistricting plans for the New Mexico House of Representatives and the United States Congress. The controversy regarding the redistricting of the New Mexico State Senate settled prior to trial. I was responsible for one-fourth of the witnesses in these matters which culminated in approximately fourteen trial days. In preparation for trial, each member of our legal team deposed at least one witness per day for a two-week period in preparation for trial. The court adopted redistricting plans substantially similar to those advocated by our team at trial.

2. United States v. Dally, No. 14-2059 (10th Cir. 2016) (sealed & unpublished).

On appeal, I represented Mr. Dally, who was sentenced to life plus ten years after he was convicted of conspiracy to commit murder. Mr. Dally claimed he advised his attorney of his desire to accept a plea, but that the attorney wrongfully advised him that he could not. Mr. Dally contended that his counsel rendered ineffective assistance in giving this advice and requested an evidentiary hearing. The district court denied habeas relief without a hearing. On appeal, Mr. Dally argued that his counsel provided ineffective assistance of counsel by incorrectly advising him of his ability to accept a plea and that the district court should have held an evidentiary hearing to explore the merits of his claim. I prepared all briefing in this matter and argued the case before the Tenth Circuit on a pro bono basis. The Tenth Circuit affirmed in a sealed opinion.

3. Premier Oil & Gas, Inc. v. Alderman, Fifth Judicial District Court, Eddy County Cause No. D-503-PB-2012-36.

This case, in which the district court recently granted a final summary judgment in favor of my client, involves title to valuable oil, gas, and other mineral interests located in Eddy County, New Mexico. The litigation involves complex oil and gas issues relating to the effect of two competing wills and the collateral attack of a subsequent heirship proceeding. The case involves novel and complex issues regarding will interpretation, the probate code, collateral attacks of judgments, bona fide purchasers, and the application of doctrines of laches and estoppel in the context of valuable mineral rights. Along with co-counsel, I participated in all briefing and covered one-half of the full day summary judgment hearing before the district court.

4. United States v. Madrid, 633 F.3d 1222 (10th Cir. 2011).

I represented Mr. Madrid in this appeal where his trial counsel filed his notice of appeal beyond the jurisdictional limitations period. The dispositive issue concerned whether the Court could excuse the late filing. The district court granted Mr. Madrid's motion for a retroactive extension of time. The Tenth Circuit held that the appeal should be dismissed for being filed late. The case also involved an interesting Fourth Amendment issue that arose when officers, who did not witness alleged misdemeanor violations, stopped and detained Mr. Madrid to investigate whether he violated the law. In addition to the procedural issue, I argued that officer's violated Mr. Madrid's Fourth Amendment rights by stopping and detaining him to investigate a completed misdemeanor without first receiving a warrant. The Tenth Circuit did not reach that issue. I fully briefed and argued the case before the Tenth Circuit on a pro bono basis.

Along with co-counsel I represented the Plaintiffs in this derivative action brought by members of a mutual domestic water cooperative on behalf of the cooperative. The case involved allegations of self-dealing and mismanagement among board members of the water cooperative. I had primary briefing responsibility on all pretrial briefing and all legal arguments at trial. In addition, I split the witness examinations with my co-counsel and acted as second chair at trial which lasted for four days. The district court's decision resulted in a partial victory for our client.

6. United States v. Gonzalez-Jaquez, 566 F.3d 1250 (10th Cir. 2009).

I represented Mr. Gonzalez on appeal from a sentence enhancement he received for being previously convicted for a crime of violence in California. The California statute under which Mr. Gonzalez was previously convicted codified crimes, some of which did not constitute crimes of violence for sentence enhancement purposes. The record before the district court did not specify whether Mr. Gonzalez' previous conviction was for a crime enumerated under the statute that involved violence as required to support a sentence enhancement. On behalf of Mr. Gonzalez, I argued that the district court erroneously enhanced his sentence because it had no evidence before it showing that he was actually convicted of a crime of violence. The Tenth Circuit affirmed, holding that the district court properly enhanced Mr. Gonzalez' sentence.

This lawsuit was the final appeal in a long standing case between our client and the United States regarding the condemnation of federal oil and gas lease. The court of claims previously held the government's actions resulted in a compensable taking under the Fifth Amendment of the United States Constitution. In this appeal, for which I had primary briefing responsibility, the Federal Circuit held, based upon recent Supreme Court precedent that the Government's conduct did not result in a compensable taking.

8. Shell Western E&P v. Chavez, 131 N.M. 445 (Ct. App. 2001).

This case involved a tax amnesty program offered by the State of New Mexico and an attempt by our client to participate in that program. The State of New Mexico Taxation and Revenue Department attempted to place limitations on the program that were not set forth in statute. The court of appeals determined that the department did not have the discretion to limit the application of the statute in a way that excluded the taxpayer. The court of appeals thus concluded that the taxpayer could participate in the amnesty program and reversed the district court's decision. I obtained the alternative writ of mandamus for the taxpayer in this case and had primary briefing responsibility on the appeal.

I filed an amicus brief with the New Mexico Supreme Court on behalf of the New Mexico Landman's Association. The plaintiffs sought to declare a 1948 quiet title judgment void for failure to properly serve their predecessor-in-interest. The Supreme Court reached the result urged by my client and clarified that constructive service of process by publication satisfies due process if and only if the names and addresses of the defendants to be served are not "reasonably ascertainable." Quoting from my brief, the court additionally held that quiet title judgments provide the certainty needed to ensure that one is the record owner of property in New Mexico to the exclusion of others.

Lea County, New Mexico. The case also involved questions as to the measure of damages to surface lands leased to the plaintiff by the New Mexico State Land Office. I was responsible for all pretrial discovery in this case and successfully

18. Legal Activities: Describe the most significant legal activities you have pursued, including significant litigation which did not progress to trial or legal matters that did not involve litigation. Describe fully the nature of your participation in these activities. List any client(s) or organization(s) for whom you performed lobbying activities and describe the lobbying activities you performed on behalf of such client(s) or organizations(s). (Note: As to any facts requested in this question, please omit any information protected by the attorney-client privilege.)

Many of the most significant litigation matters in which I have been involved resulted in a settlement because of success in discovery or in pretrial motion practice. My strong approach to pretrial practice has resulted in a number of favorable settlements for my clients. For example, in one recent case, an out-of-state operator sought to oust our client from operating certain oil and gas wells. Through a motion for summary judgment, the court determined that the company opposing our client was not the operator. This partial victory on summary judgment ended the dispute. Similarly, in another case, I was able to settle a case based upon strong deposition practice for a very reasonable sum. The client later sold the interest it acquired in the settlement for twenty-five times the amount of the settlement.

Following the financial downturn of 2008, I assisted a client in taking over a failed investment and settling numerous outstanding debts. Our strategy of proactively settling the outstanding claims allowed my client to take possession of valuable fixed assets and real estate without costly litigation. The result was a win-win as the strategy kept the debtor of bankruptcy and allowed creditors to receive substantial repayment.

I am a member of the New Mexico Judicial Performance Evaluation Commission. The commission reviews statistical data on state court judges in order to evaluate them and help them improve their skills on the bench. In certain years, the Commission's evaluations are used to advise voters on whether or not judges should be retained in office. The Commission meets once per month at different locations across the state and evaluates every metropolitan court, district court, court of appeals, and supreme court judge (or justice).

I formerly served on the New Mexico Bar Board of Editors. This group selected articles for publication in the Bar Bulletin, the weekly publication for the State Bar of New Mexico, and certain other publications. The various members of the Board edited the articles prior to publication.

I participated as lobbyist for Caza Ranches, L.L.C. at the New Mexico legislature in 2014. In that role, I generally followed legislation and informed the client of pending legislation. I also reached out to legislators with comments on various pieces of proposed legislation. I did not correspond with any legislators in writing in this role.

19. Teaching: What courses have you taught? For each course, state the title, the institution at which you taught the course, the years in which you taught the course, and describe briefly the subject matter of the course and the major topics taught. If you have a syllabus of each course, provide four (4) copies to the committee.

From 2000 until 2002, I taught paralegal courses at Eastern New Mexico University – Roswell. Each year, I taught Civil Litigation in the spring and Torts in the fall. The Civil Litigation class was largely practical and focused on application of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure with some discussion of the New Mexico Rules of Civil Procedure. I taught the Torts class using a case-based approach modeled after a typical law school torts class. I did not keep any materials and have not located any materials relating to these classes.

20. Deferred Income/ Future Benefits: List the sources, amounts and dates of all anticipated receipts from deferred income arrangements, stock, options, uncompleted contracts and other future benefits which you expect to derive from previous business relationships, professional services, firm memberships, former employers, clients or customers. Describe the arrangements you have made to be compensated in the future for any financial or business interest.

I am the beneficiary of a defined benefit program from my prior employment with Mack Energy Corporation.

21. Outside Commitments During Court Service: Do you have any plans, commitments, or agreements to pursue outside employment, with or without compensation, during your service with the court? If so, explain.

I have a small farm and cattle herd. I intend to continue farming and raising cattle if I am confirmed.

22. Sources of Income: List sources and amounts of all income received during the calendar year preceding your nomination and for the current calendar year, including all salaries, fees, dividends, interest, gifts, rents, royalties, licensing fees, honoraria, and other items exceeding $500 or more (if you prefer to do so, copies of the financial disclosure report, required by the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, may be substituted here).

Please see attached Financial Disclosure Report.

23. Statement of Net Worth: Please complete the attached financial net worth statement in detail (add schedules as called for).

Please see attached statement of net worth.

24. Potential Conflicts of Interest:

- a. Identify the family members or other persons, parties, categories of litigation, and financial arrangements that are likely to present potential conflicts-of-interest when you first assume the position to which you have been nominated. Explain how you would address any such conflict if it were to arise.

If confirmed, I will recuse in any litigation where I have ever played a role. For a period of time, I anticipate recusing in all cases where my current firm, Carson Ryan LLC or its successor, represents a party. I will evaluate any other real or potential conflict, or relationship that could give rise to appearance of conflict, on a case by case basis and determine appropriate action with the advice of parties and their counsel including recusal where necessary.

- b. Explain how you will resolve any potential conflict of interest, including the procedure you will follow in determining these areas of concern.

If confirmed, I will carefully review and address any real or potential conflicts by reference to 28 U.S.C. § 455, Canon 3 of the Code of Conduct for United States Judges and any and all other laws, rules and practices governing such circumstances.

25. Pro Bono Work: An ethical consideration under Canon 2 of the American Bar Association's Code of Professional Responsibility calls for "every lawyer, regardless of professional prominence or professional workload, to find some time to participate in serving the disadvantaged." Describe what you have done to fulfill these responsibilities, listing specific instances and the amount of time devoted to each.

I routinely engage in pro bono legal work for individuals and non-profit organizations that cannot afford to pay for legal services. During the past fifteen years, I estimate I have represented without payment at least six indigent defendants in appeals before the United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit. I have additionally represented on a pro bono basis an individual in a trial regarding the sale of a vehicle without proper emissions equipment. I also routinely draft wills, real estate agreements and assist clients in limited court proceedings on a pro-bono basis. I estimate in the past three years, I have performed 150-200 hours per year of pro bono legal work. Prior to that time, I performed 50-100 hours per year of pro bono legal work.

26. Selection Process:

- a. Please describe your experience in the entire judicial selection process, from beginning to end (including the circumstances which led to your nomination and the interviews in which you participated). Is there a selection commission in your jurisdiction to recommend candidates for nomination to the federal courts? If so, please include that process in your description, as well as whether the commission recommended your nomination. List the dates of all interviews or communications you had with the White House staff or the Justice Department regarding this nomination. Do not include any contacts with Federal Bureau of Investigation personnel concerning your nomination.

There is no selection commission in New Mexico, but I submitted information to Senator Tom Udall and Congressman Steve Pearce regarding my interest in this position. On April 28, 2017, I informed the Chief of Staff to Congressman Steve Pearce that I wished to be considered for this position. Sometime in May, White House Counsel's Office called, asking if I could come to Washington, D.C., for an interview. On May 22, 2017, I participated in an interview in Washington, D.C. with attorneys from the White House and the Department of Justice.

Since the interview, I have continued to have sporadic communications with the Department of Justice, White House Counsel's Office, Senator Udall's office and Congressman Pearce's office. On December 20, 2017, the President submitted my nomination to the Senate.

- b. Has anyone involved in the process of selecting you as a judicial nominee discussed with you any currently pending or specific case, legal issue or question in a manner that could reasonably be interpreted as seeking any express or implied assurances concerning your position on such case, issue, or question? If so, explain fully.

No.
