7. Military Service and Draft Status: Identify any service in the U.S. Military, including dates of service, branch of service, rank or rate, serial number (if different from social security number) and type of discharge received, and whether you have registered for selective service.

I served in the United States Army on active duty from 2006 to 2010. I served as an Infantry and Military Intelligence Officer, including in Iraq during combat operations in the Iraq War, and attained the rank of Captain. I was honorably discharged from active duty in 2010, and my remaining inactive reserve obligation concluded in 2014. I registered with the Selective Service when I turned 18.

8. Honors and Awards: List any scholarships, fellowships, honorary degrees, academic or professional honors, honorary society memberships, military awards, and any other special recognition for outstanding service or achievement.

9. Bar Associations: List all bar associations or legal or judicial-related committees, selection panels or conferences of which you are or have been a member, and give the titles and dates of any offices which you have held in such groups.

Louisiana State Bar Association
Member (2013 – present)

District of Columbia Bar
Member (2015 – present)

10. Bar and Court Admission:

- a. List the date(s) you were admitted to the bar of any state and any lapses in membership. Please explain the reason for any lapse in membership.

Louisiana, 2013
Virginia, 2014
District of Columbia, 2015

I deliberately allowed my Louisiana bar membership to lapse while I was serving in senior positions with the United States Department of Labor and the United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, during which time I did not practice in any state. I reactivated my Louisiana bar membership upon returning to private practice in 2023.

- b. List all courts in which you have been admitted to practice, including dates of admission and any lapses in membership. Please explain the reason for any lapse in membership. Give the same information for administrative bodies that require special admission to practice.

United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit, 2025
United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit, 2018
United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, 2013
United States Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit, 2016
United States District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana, 2025
United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia, 2017
United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims, 2018

My admission to practice before the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit lapsed while I was serving in senior positions with the United States Department of Labor and the United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, during which time I did not practice before the court. Upon returning to private practice in 2023, I renewed my admission to practice before the Fifth Circuit.

11. Memberships:

- a. List all professional, business, fraternal, scholarly, civic, charitable, or other organizations, other than those listed in response to Questions 9 or 10, to which you belong, or to which you have belonged, since graduation from law school. Provide dates of membership or participation, and indicate any office you held. Include clubs, working groups, advisory or editorial boards, panels, committees, conferences, or publications.

Federalist Society for Law and Public Policy (2010 – present)

Labor & Employment Executive Committee (2023 – present)

Law360 Employment Discrimination Editorial Advisory Board (2022 – present)

Leonine Forum, Leonine Fellow (2015 – 2016)

Knights of Columbus (2025 – present)

b. The American Bar Association's Commentary to its Code of Judicial Conduct states that it is inappropriate for a judge to hold membership in any organization that invidiously discriminates on the basis of race, sex, religion, or national origin. Indicate whether any of these organizations listed in response to 11a above currently discriminate or formerly discriminated on the basis of race, sex, religion or national origin either through formal membership requirements or the practical implementation of membership policies. If so, describe any action you have taken to change these policies and practices.

To the best of my knowledge, none of the organizations listed in response to Question 11a currently discriminates, or formerly discriminated, on the basis of race, sex, religion, or national origin, whether through formal membership requirements or the practical implementation of membership policies. The Knights of Columbus is a Catholic fraternal organization whose membership eligibility is limited to Catholic men.

12. Published Writings and Public Statements:

a. List the titles, publishers, and dates of books, articles, reports, letters to the editor, editorial pieces, or other published material you have written or edited, including material published only on the Internet. Supply copies of all published material to the Committee.

Following a thorough search of my records and publicly available sources, and to the best of my recollection, I have identified the following published materials that I authored or substantively edited:

b. Supply copies of any reports, memoranda or policy statements you prepared or contributed to the preparation of on behalf of any bar association, committee, conference, or organization of which you were or are a member. If you do not have a copy of a report, memorandum or policy statement, give the name and address of the organization that issued it, the date of the document, and a summary of its subject matter.

To the best of my knowledge, I have not prepared or contributed to the preparation of any report, memorandum, or policy statement on behalf of any bar association, committee, conference, or organization of which I have been or am currently a member.

c. Supply copies of any testimony, official statements or other communications relating, in whole or in part, to matters of public policy or legal interpretation, that you have issued or provided or that others presented on your behalf to public bodies or public officials.

Presenter, Testimony Before the Subcommittee on Health, Employment, Labor, and Pensions of the United States House Committee on Education and the Workforce, Hearing on “Building an AI-Ready America: Adopting AI at Work” (Feb. 3, 2026). I co-presented with Revana Sharfuddin, Tanya Goldman, and David Walton. Written testimony supplied. A recording of the hearing is available at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Sc45RLmaWUY>.

Presenter, Roundtable on AI: AI 101, United States House Committee on Education and the Workforce, Washington, D.C. (Jan. 17, 2024). I participated with John Bailey as a presenter in an informal roundtable discussion with Republican members of the Committee concerning the use of artificial intelligence in the workplace and related labor and employment law, regulatory, and policy considerations. Mr. Bailey discussed AI and education policy. Because the roundtable was an informal meeting rather than a formal congressional hearing or proceeding, no transcript or recording was made, and I have no notes from the discussion.

Comments Regarding Senator Cassidy’s White Paper on Artificial Intelligence, Littler’s Workplace Policy Institute (Sept. 28, 2023). I co-authored the comments with James Paretti and Niloy Ray. Comments supplied.

d. Supply copies, transcripts or recordings of all speeches or talks delivered by you including commencement speeches, remarks, lectures, panel discussions, conferences, political speeches, and question-and-answer sessions. Include the date and place where they were delivered, and readily available press reports about the speech or talk. If you do not have a copy of the speech or a transcript or recording of your remarks, give the name and address of the group before whom the speech was given, the date of the speech, and a summary of its subject matter. If you did not speak from a prepared text, furnish a copy of any outline or notes from which you spoke.

Following a thorough search of my records and publicly available sources, and to the best of my recollection, I have identified the following speeches, presentations, lectures, panel discussions, conferences, webinars, and other public remarks that I delivered or in which I participated. For the vast majority of these presentations, my preparation and remarks were based substantially on the same research, analysis, and subject matter reflected in articles that I authored or co-authored and have identified and supplied in response to Question 12a.

May 9, 2025: Moderator, EEOC Charges, Littler 2025 Executive Employer Conference, Phoenix, Arizona. I moderated the panel, which included Alyesha Asghar, Alice Wang, and Andrew Rogers as panelists. The discussion addressed legal and practical issues concerning charges filed with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, including recent developments and considerations for employers in responding to and defending against EEOC charges. I have no notes, transcript, or recording of the presentation. Because Littler's annual Executive Employer Conference is a national event and is not directly affiliated with the firm's Phoenix office, the most appropriate point of contact is Littler's Washington, D.C. office, where I am based. Littler's Washington, D.C. office is located at 815 Connecticut Avenue NW, Suite 400, Washington, D.C. 20006.

May 8, 2025: Co-moderator, EEOC Interview, Littler 2025 Executive Employer Conference, Phoenix, Arizona. I co-moderated the discussion with Barry Hartstein, during which we posed questions to United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission Acting Chair Andrea Lucas regarding the Commission's priorities, recent developments, and other employment discrimination and enforcement issues in a question-and-answer format. Because Littler's annual Executive Employer Conference is a national event and is not directly affiliated with the firm's Phoenix office, the most appropriate point of contact is Littler's Washington, D.C. office, where I am based. I have no notes, transcript, or recording of the presentation. Littler's Washington, D.C. office is located at 815 Connecticut Avenue NW, Suite 400, Washington, D.C. 20006.

May 7, 2025: Panelist, Healthcare Industry Roundtable, Littler 2025 Executive Employer Conference, Phoenix, Arizona. The panel was moderated by Yvette Gatling, and the other panelists were Alka Ramchandani-Raj, Jason Stanevich, and Andrew Rogers. My presentation addressed the impact of recent developments in artificial intelligence relevant to healthcare clients. I have no notes, transcript, or recording of the presentation. Because Littler's annual Executive Employer Conference is a national event and is not directly affiliated with the firm's Phoenix office, the most appropriate point of contact is Littler's Washington, D.C. office, where I am based. Littler's Washington, D.C. office is located at 815 Connecticut Avenue NW, Suite 400, Washington, D.C. 20006.

13. Judicial Office: State (chronologically) any judicial offices you have held, including positions as an administrative law judge, whether such position was elected or appointed, and a description of the jurisdiction of each such court.

I have not held judicial office.

a. Approximately how many cases have you presided over that have gone to verdict or judgment? _____

i. Of these cases, approximately what percent were:

jury trials: _____%

bench trials: _____%

ii. Of these cases, approximately what percent were:

civil proceedings: _____%

b. Provide citations for all opinions you have written, including concurrences and dissents.

c. For each of the 10 most significant cases over which you presided, provide: (1) a capsule summary of the nature of the case; (2) the outcome of the case; (3) the name and contact information for counsel who had a significant role in the trial of the case; and (4) the citation of the case (if reported) or the docket number and a copy of the opinion or judgment (if not reported).

d. For each of the 10 most significant opinions you have written, provide: (1) citations for those decisions that were published; (2) a copy of those decisions that were not published; and (3) the names and contact information for the attorneys who played a significant role in the case.

e. Provide a list of all cases in which certiorari was requested or granted.

f. Provide a brief summary of and citations for all of your opinions where your decisions were reversed by a reviewing court or where your judgment was affirmed with significant criticism of your substantive or procedural rulings. If any of the opinions listed were not officially reported, provide copies of the opinions.

g. Provide a description of the number and percentage of your decisions in which you issued an unpublished opinion and the manner in which those unpublished opinions are filed and/or stored.

h. Provide citations for significant opinions on federal or state constitutional issues, together with the citation to appellate court rulings on such opinions. If any of the opinions listed were not officially reported, provide copies of the opinions.

i. Provide citations to all cases in which you sat by designation on a federal court of appeals, including a brief summary of any opinions you authored, whether majority, dissenting, or concurring, and any dissenting opinions you joined.

14. Recusal: If you are or have been a judge, identify the basis by which you have assessed the necessity or propriety of recusal (If your court employs an “automatic” recusal system by which you may be recused without your knowledge, please include a general description of that system.) Provide a list of any cases, motions or matters that have come before you in which a litigant or party has requested that you recuse yourself due to an asserted conflict of interest or in which you have recused yourself sua sponte. Identify each such case, and for each provide the following information:

I have not held judicial office.

- a. whether your recusal was requested by a motion or other suggestion by a litigant or a party to the proceeding or by any other person or interested party; or if you recused yourself sua sponte;
- b. a brief description of the asserted conflict of interest or other ground for recusal;
- c. the procedure you followed in determining whether or not to recuse yourself;
- d. your reason for recusing or declining to recuse yourself, including any action taken to remove the real, apparent or asserted conflict of interest or to cure any other ground for recusal.

15. Public Office, Political Activities and Affiliations:

- a. List chronologically any public offices you have held, other than judicial offices, including the terms of service and whether such positions were elected or appointed. If appointed, please include the name of the individual who appointed you. - iv. whether you served as a mediator or arbitrator in alternative dispute resolution proceedings and, if so, a description of the 10 most significant matters with which you were involved in that capacity.

I have not served as a mediator or arbitrator in alternative dispute resolution proceedings.

b. Describe:

- i. the general character of your law practice and indicate by date when its character has changed over the years.

From 2013 to 2014, I served as a judicial law clerk to the Honorable Donald E. Walter of the United States District Court for the Western District of Louisiana. In that capacity, I worked extensively on both civil and criminal matters and assisted the court at all stages of federal litigation, including dispositive motions, discovery and evidentiary disputes, jury and bench trials, sentencing proceedings, and post-trial matters. I researched and analyzed complex questions of federal and state law, prepared draft opinions and orders, and assisted Judge Walter in preparing for and conducting trials and other court proceedings.

From 2014 to 2019, I practiced in the private sector, where most of my work involved civil litigation and litigation-related matters. My responsibilities included drafting pleadings and dispositive motions, conducting and managing discovery, preparing witnesses and cases for trial, handling appellate matters, and appearing regularly in federal and state courts and administrative proceedings. My practice increasingly concentrated on labor and employment law, although I also handled commercial and other civil litigation.

From 2019 to 2023, the character of my work shifted from private litigation to federal government service. At the United States Department of Labor and the United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, my responsibilities focused primarily on regulatory, policy, enforcement, and litigation matters. I advised senior agency officials on significant questions of statutory and regulatory interpretation, enforcement policy, litigation, and administrative law. At the EEOC, I was involved in the Commission's amicus program and its adjudication of federal sector employment anti-discrimination cases, and I advised on significant litigation and enforcement matters. I also played a leadership role in the EEOC's Artificial Intelligence and Algorithmic Fairness Initiative, including the agency's engagement with other federal agencies concerning the application of existing civil rights laws to artificial intelligence and emerging workplace technologies.

Since returning to private practice in 2023, most of my practice has again involved civil litigation and litigation-related matters. I represent employers in complex litigation, administrative proceedings, government investigations, and other significant workplace disputes arising under federal and state law. My litigation responsibilities include developing case strategy, drafting pleadings and dispositive motions, managing complex discovery, preparing matters for trial, handling evidentiary issues, briefing and arguing motions, and handling appellate matters. My cases have involved employment discrimination, harassment, retaliation, wage-and-hour law, whistleblower protections, military leave and discrimination under the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act, and other federal and state employment laws. I also regularly represent clients in investigations and enforcement matters involving federal and state agencies, conduct sensitive workplace investigations, and advise employers concerning regulatory compliance and risk management. An increasingly significant component of my practice involves the legal and regulatory implications of artificial intelligence and other emerging workplace technologies.

- ii. your typical clients and the areas at each period of your legal career, if any, in which you have specialized.

During my periods in private practice, my clients have principally been employers, including Fortune 500 companies, government contractors, trade associations, small and midsize businesses, and other private-sector organizations. From 2014 to 2019, my practice included civil and commercial litigation and increasingly concentrated on labor and employment law. I represented businesses and other organizations in federal and state courts and administrative proceedings and advised clients regarding compliance with federal, state, and local employment laws.

During my federal government service from 2019 to 2023, I did not represent private clients. At the United States Department of Labor and the United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, I served the interests of the United States and the respective agencies and their officials. At the EEOC, I developed particular experience concerning the application of federal employment discrimination laws to artificial intelligence and other emerging technologies.

Since returning to private practice in 2023, I have specialized in labor and employment law, with particular emphasis on complex litigation, appellate matters, government investigations and administrative proceedings, military-leave matters, and the legal and regulatory issues arising from artificial intelligence and other workplace technologies. I represent employers of all sizes.

c. Describe the percentage of your practice that has been in litigation and whether you appeared in court frequently, occasionally, or not at all. If the frequency of your appearances in court varied, describe such variance, providing dates.

Approximately 75% to 80% of my legal practice has involved litigation or litigation-related matters. From 2014 to 2019, while in private practice, a substantial majority of my work involved civil litigation, including drafting pleadings and dispositive motions, managing discovery, preparing cases for trial, handling appellate matters, and appearing often in federal and state courts. From 2019 to 2023, during my service at the United States Department of Labor and the United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, my responsibilities shifted primarily to legal, regulatory, policy, and enforcement matters. Although I did not regularly appear in court during that period, I remained substantially involved in litigation-related work, including advising senior agency officials on significant litigation and enforcement matters and, at the EEOC, matters involving the Commission's amicus program and federal sector adjudications. Since returning to private practice in 2023, a substantial majority of my work has again involved civil litigation and litigation-related matters, and I have appeared regularly in court in connection with those matters.

i. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

- | | | |
|----|--------------------------|-----|
| 1. | federal courts: | 70% |
| 2. | state courts of record: | 5% |
| 3. | other courts: | 0% |
| 4. | administrative agencies: | 25% |

ii. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

- | | | |
|----|-----------------------|-----|
| 1. | civil proceedings: | 99% |
| 2. | criminal proceedings: | 1% |

d. State the number of cases in courts of record, including cases before administrative law judges, you tried to verdict, judgment or final decision (rather than settled), indicating whether you were sole counsel, chief counsel, or associate counsel.

I have not tried any cases to verdict, judgment, or final decision as sole, chief, or associate counsel. During my judicial clerkship with the Honorable Donald E. Walter of the United States District Court for the Western District of Louisiana, however, I assisted the court in numerous civil and criminal jury and bench trials. In that capacity, I gained substantial experience with all stages of federal trial proceedings, including pretrial motions and conferences, evidentiary issues, jury selection, preparation of jury instructions, trial proceedings, post-trial motions, and the preparation of judicial opinions and orders. Although I did not serve as trial counsel in those matters, my clerkship provided substantial firsthand exposure to the conduct and management of both jury and bench trials.

i. What percentage of these trials were:

None.

e. Describe your practice, if any, before the Supreme Court of the United States. Supply copies of any briefs, amicus or otherwise, and, if applicable, any oral argument transcripts before the Supreme Court in connection with your practice.

I assisted in the preparation and filing of an amicus curiae brief on behalf of the International Franchise Association and the American Hotel & Lodging Association in support of the petitioners in Eli Lilly & Co. v. Richards, No. 25-476 (U.S. filed Nov. 17, 2025).

17. Litigation: Describe the ten (10) most significant litigated matters which you personally handled, whether or not you were the attorney of record. Give the citations, if the cases were reported, and the docket number and date if unreported. Give a capsule summary of the substance of each case. Identify the party or parties whom you represented; describe in detail the nature of your participation in the litigation and the final disposition of the case. Also state as to each case:

- a. the date of representation;
- b. the name of the court and the name of the judge or judges before whom the case was litigated; and
- c. the individual name, addresses, and telephone numbers of co-counsel and of principal counsel for each of the other parties.

1. George v. Piedmont Airlines, Inc., 761 F. Supp. 3d 804 (E.D. Pa. 2025) (Goldberg, J.), aff'd, No. 25-1064, 2026 WL 1230343 (3d Cir. May 5, 2026) (Shwartz, Bibas, and Phipps, JJ.). (Representation 2023 – 2026).

I represented Piedmont Airlines, Inc. as lead counsel in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania and as lead appellate counsel before the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit in litigation concerning the interaction between the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act and the Railway Labor Act. The plaintiff asserted claims arising from his employment and military service rights under the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act, and the case presented significant questions concerning the extent to which those claims were subject to the Railway Labor Act's mandatory dispute resolution framework and the preclusive effect of prior proceedings. I had primary responsibility for the defense throughout the litigation, including developing the factual and legal strategy, analyzing the interaction between the two federal statutory schemes, and drafting the motion to dismiss, reply brief, and subsequent appellate briefs. The district court granted Piedmont's motion to dismiss, resulting in dismissal of the plaintiff's claims. On appeal, I continued as lead counsel and defended the judgment before the Third Circuit, which unanimously affirmed the district court's decision. Thereafter, the Third Circuit denied the plaintiff's petition for panel rehearing and subsequently denied rehearing en banc.

I represented Waste Management as lead counsel in a complex federal action before the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana involving more than nineteen defendants and an expansive array of claims arising from alleged events spanning several decades and multiple jurisdictions. The plaintiff asserted numerous federal and state law claims involving, among other things, alleged child custody and kidnapping-related misconduct, employment and housing discrimination, civil conspiracy, negligence, defamation, and other tortious conduct. I had primary responsibility for Waste Management's defense throughout the litigation, including investigating and developing the factual record, formulating the litigation strategy, and drafting the answer and counterclaim, motion for judgment on the pleadings under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 12(c), reply brief, and subsequent application for attorneys' fees. I obtained judgment on the pleadings dismissing with prejudice all claims asserted against Waste Management. In the same decision, the court also entered judgment in Waste Management's favor on its breach of contract counterclaim. Waste Management thereafter sought recovery of its attorneys' fees; the magistrate judge recommended an award, and the district court adopted that recommendation and awarded Waste Management its attorneys' fees.

I represented United States Navy veteran Michael D. Pettenger on a pro bono basis as lead appellate counsel before the United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims in his appeal from a Board of Veterans' Appeals decision denying disability compensation for a back condition. The appeal challenged, among other things, the Board's reliance on inadequate United States Department of Veterans Affairs medical examinations and its determination that VA had satisfied its statutory duty to assist. As lead appellate counsel, I had primary responsibility for the appeal, including reviewing and developing the record, identifying and analyzing the dispositive legal and medical issues, developing the appellate strategy, and drafting the appellate briefs. I argued that the medical opinion underlying the Board's decision was inadequate because the examiner attributed Mr. Pettenger's diagnosed rotoscoliosis with degenerative changes to age rather than an in-service injury without providing a reasoned medical explanation, failed adequately to address whether his disability was otherwise related to his military service, and did not address potentially relevant additional diagnoses. The court agreed that the medical examination was inadequate and held that the Board clearly erred in finding that VA had satisfied its duty to assist. The court therefore set aside the Board's February 3, 2017, decision and remanded the matter for a new medical examination and further adjudication, resulting in a successful appeal for Mr. Pettenger.

I represented Booz Allen Hamilton as lead counsel in an action in the United States District Court for the District of Maryland asserting claims under the Americans with Disabilities Act and the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act. I had primary responsibility for Booz Allen's defense, including developing litigation strategy and drafting the motion to dismiss and reply brief. The case presented issues concerning administrative exhaustion and statutory filing deadlines under the Americans with Disabilities Act, equitable tolling, and the scope of protections against discrimination based on military service or status under the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act. We argued that the Americans with Disabilities Act claim was time-barred because the plaintiff failed to file a timely charge with the United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and failed to commence his federal action within 90 days after receiving the agency's right-to-sue notice. The plaintiff relied in part on his pretrial incarceration in related state and federal criminal proceedings as a basis for equitable tolling. I analyzed those proceedings, his access to counsel and a designated power of attorney, and the applicability of the prison-mailbox doctrine, and argued that his incarceration did not excuse his untimely filings. We separately argued that the plaintiff failed to state a cognizable Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act claim because the statute prohibits discrimination based on military service or status, rather than disability, even when the alleged disability is connected to military service. The plaintiff subsequently abandoned his Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act claim, and the court granted Booz Allen's motion, dismissed the action in its entirety with prejudice, and closed the case.

I represented Nationwide Mutual Insurance Company as lead counsel in an action alleging violations of the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act under a joint employer theory. The plaintiff alleged that Nationwide should be held liable as his employer for adverse employment actions allegedly taken because of his military service. I had primary responsibility for Nationwide's defense throughout the litigation, including investigating and developing the factual record, formulating the legal strategy concerning Nationwide's status under the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act and the plaintiff's joint employer theory, drafting the motion to dismiss and reply brief, developing the discovery plan, participating in the pretrial conference before the assigned magistrate judge, and preparing for and presenting oral argument on Nationwide's dispositive motion before Judge Leonie M. Brinkema. I argued that Nationwide could not be liable under the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act because it had no employment relationship with the plaintiff, did not exercise the requisite control over his employment, and did not take any adverse employment action against him based on his military service. Following oral argument, Judge Brinkema granted Nationwide's motion to dismiss all claims against it and terminated Nationwide from the action.

I served as lead counsel for Marathon Petroleum Company LP in a disability discrimination litigation arising from Marathon’s decision to rescind the plaintiff’s conditional offer of employment for a commercial driver position following a pre-employment medical examination. The plaintiff alleges that Marathon violated the Americans with Disabilities Act by relying on a medical examiner’s determination that he was not physically qualified for the position because of kidney disease and his use of peritoneal dialysis, notwithstanding his contention that he satisfied applicable federal transportation requirements and could perform the essential functions of the position. The case presents significant questions concerning the interaction between the Americans with Disabilities Act and federal transportation safety regulations governing the medical qualifications of commercial drivers. I had primary responsibility for Marathon’s defense, including case strategy, analysis of the applicable regulatory framework, discovery, and briefing dispositive and related motions. After the court granted Marathon’s motion to dismiss in part, our reconsideration briefing identified an erroneous citation to a nonexistent regulatory provision and related analysis that appeared to derive from a different federal regulatory framework. The court granted the motion for reconsideration in part and corrected that error, although Marathon maintained that the substituted regulation was likewise inapplicable and did not resolve its broader arguments concerning the regulatory framework governing kidney disease and dialysis. The case remains pending.

7. Whidden v. Form Energy, et al., No. 3:24-cv-07497 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 13, 2025) (Thompson, J.). (Representation 2024 – 2025).

I represented Form Energy as co-counsel in a federal employment action brought by a former employee and United States Army Reservist who alleged that the company unlawfully disciplined and terminated him because of his military service and political expression. The plaintiff asserted five causes of action under federal and California law, including claims under the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act, the California Military and Veterans Code, the California Government Code, and the California Labor Code. Among other allegations, the plaintiff contended that his required Army Reserve training was a motivating factor in his termination and that Form Energy discriminated against him based on his military service and veteran status. He separately alleged that Form Energy disciplined and ultimately terminated him because of political views expressed on his personal social media account and unlawfully sought to restrict or control his political activities. The plaintiff sought substantial relief, including reinstatement or front pay, back pay and lost benefits, liquidated damages, compensatory and emotional distress damages, punitive damages, attorneys' fees and costs, and other relief. I was substantially involved in developing and executing Form Energy's defense and, based on my experience with military employment law and workplace political expression issues, had significant responsibility for analyzing the federal and state military discrimination and political activity claims, developing the strategy for responding to those claims, and preparing Form Energy's motion to dismiss the complaint in its entirety. I also played a significant role in developing the company's settlement strategy and negotiating with opposing counsel. After Form Energy moved to dismiss all claims, the parties reached a favorable settlement resolving the dispute, and the plaintiff voluntarily dismissed the action.

After the EEOC discontinued its prosecution of the action, an individual sought to intervene and continue the litigation. I represented Everon, LLC as lead counsel in an action originally filed in Kansas state court that I removed to the United States District Court for the District of Kansas. The plaintiff asserted employment discrimination and failure to accommodate claims under the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Kansas Act Against Discrimination, and the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act, as well as state law claims for negligence, false reporting, and emotional distress arising in part from alleged communications with law enforcement. Although the plaintiff asserted employment-related claims against Everon, he acknowledged that he had never been employed by, nor sought employment with, the company. I had primary responsibility for Everon's defense throughout the litigation, including investigating and developing the factual record, formulating the removal and dispositive motion strategy, and drafting the motion to dismiss, reply brief, and opposition to the plaintiff's subsequent motion for relief from judgment. Our motion argued, among other things, that the plaintiff could not state claims under the federal and state employment anti-discrimination laws because he lacked the requisite employment, applicant, or reemployment relationship with Everon and, with respect to the Americans with Disabilities Act and Kansas Act Against Discrimination claims, had also failed to exhaust his administrative remedies. The court agreed, concluding that the defects in the employment claims could not be cured by amendment and dismissing them with prejudice. The court also dismissed the plaintiff's negligence and false reporting/emotional distress claims, construing the latter in part as a defamation theory. After final judgment was entered, the plaintiff moved for relief under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 60(b) and sought additional relief, including remand to state court, discovery, and sanctions against defense counsel. I successfully opposed the motion, and the court denied relief from judgment, preserving Everon's complete dismissal and concluding the litigation at the district court level.

I represented Sherwin Alumina Company LLC as part of the litigation team in a breach of contract action against Union Pacific Railroad Company arising from a rail transportation agreement. I had significant responsibility for dispositive-motion practice, discovery, case scheduling, and expert witness issues and was the primary drafter of Sherwin Alumina's successful motion to dismiss Union Pacific's counterclaim for declaratory judgment. Union Pacific alleged that a lockout of Sherwin Alumina employees during a labor dispute excused it from certain contractual obligations and sought a declaration to that effect. We argued that the counterclaim improperly repackaged defenses to Sherwin Alumina's breach of contract claims as an affirmative claim under the federal Declaratory Judgment Act. Judge Ramos agreed and dismissed the counterclaim, concluding that it served no useful purpose independent of adjudicating Sherwin Alumina's underlying contract claims and rejecting Union Pacific's reliance on a separate agreement that was not adequately pleaded. In addition to my principal role in briefing the successful dispositive motion, I was substantially involved in developing the scheduling order, managing discovery, and addressing the designation of expert witnesses. The parties subsequently resolved the litigation and stipulated to dismissal of the action with prejudice, and the court entered final judgment dismissing the case with prejudice and without costs to either party.

18. Legal Activities: Describe the most significant legal activities you have pursued, including significant litigation which did not progress to trial or legal matters that did not involve litigation. Describe fully the nature of your participation in these activities. List any client(s) or organization(s) for whom you performed lobbying activities and describe the lobbying activities you performed on behalf of such client(s) or organization(s). (Note: As to any facts requested in this question, please omit any information protected by the attorney-client privilege.)

My most significant legal activities have involved litigation, appellate advocacy, statutory and regulatory interpretation, administrative law, agency enforcement, and legal counseling in both federal government service and private practice. During my service at the United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and the United States Department of Labor, I was involved with hundreds of legal matters arising under federal labor and employment statutes and regulations. These matters included significant litigation and enforcement matters, appellate and amicus briefs, regulatory and subregulatory guidance, opinion letters, legal opinions and analyses, and other agency initiatives. My responsibilities included analyzing complex and often novel questions of statutory and regulatory interpretation; developing litigation and appellate positions; reviewing and drafting briefs and other legal filings; advising agency leadership regarding enforcement, regulatory, and policy matters; and participating in the development and review of agency guidance and other legal materials.

In private practice, I regularly represent and advise employers in matters involving federal labor and employment agencies, including the United States Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division, Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs, Occupational Safety and Health Administration, and Veterans' Employment and Training Service, as well as the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. My work includes responding to agency charges, complaints, investigations, audits, and other enforcement proceedings; developing factual and legal defenses; preparing written submissions and position statements; communicating and negotiating with agency personnel; counseling clients regarding compliance and potential exposure; and, where appropriate, representing clients in related litigation or administrative proceedings. I have also represented clients in numerous investigations conducted by state attorneys general. In those matters, I have assisted clients in responding to investigative demands and inquiries, developing factual and legal positions, preparing written submissions, interacting with government investigators, and advising clients regarding strategy, compliance, and potential resolution. In addition, my private practice experience includes significant federal litigation and appellate matters involving labor and employment statutes and related issues.

I have not performed lobbying activities on behalf of any client or organization.

19. Teaching: What courses have you taught? For each course, state the title, the institution at which you taught the course, the years in which you taught the course, and describe briefly the subject matter of the course and the major topics taught. If you have a syllabus of each course, provide copies to the committee.

Employment Law Course (Employment Anti-Discrimination Law), The Catholic University of America Columbus School of Law, Fall 2022. I served as an Adjunct Professor of Law and taught a course addressing federal employment anti-discrimination law. Syllabus provided.

20. Deferred Income/Future Benefits: List the sources, amounts and dates of all anticipated receipts from deferred income arrangements, stock, options, uncompleted contracts and other future benefits which you expect to derive from previous business relationships, professional services, firm memberships, former employers, clients or customers. Describe the arrangements you have made to be compensated in the future for any financial or business interest.

I participate in the Thrift Savings Plan (TSP) in connection with my prior federal service. I also participate in my current employer's retirement plan and anticipate receiving employer contributions attributable to the 2026 plan year. I do not anticipate any other receipts from deferred income arrangements, stock options, uncompleted contracts, or other future benefits arising from prior business relationships, professional services, firm memberships, former employers, clients, or customers.

21. Outside Commitments During Court Service: Do you have any plans, commitments, or agreements to pursue outside employment, with or without compensation, during your service with the court? If so, explain.

No. I have no plans, commitments, or agreements to engage in outside employment, whether compensated or uncompensated, during my service with the court.

22. Sources of Income: List sources and amounts of all income received during the calendar year preceding your nomination and for the current calendar year, including all salaries, fees, dividends, interest, gifts, rents, royalties, licensing fees, honoraria, and other items exceeding $500 (if you prefer to do so, copies of the financial disclosure report, required by the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, may be substituted here).

Upon formal submission of my nomination to the United States Senate, I will provide the Committee with a copy of my required Financial Disclosure Report.

23. Statement of Net Worth: Please complete the attached financial net worth statement in detail (add schedules as called for).

See attached Net Worth Statement.

24. Potential Conflicts of Interest:

- a. Identify the family members or other persons, parties, categories of litigation, and financial arrangements that are likely to present potential conflicts-of-interest when you first assume the position to which you have been nominated. Explain how you would address any such conflict if it were to arise.

If confirmed and commissioned, I will recuse myself from any matter in which I have participated personally as an attorney. I will also carefully evaluate any other actual or potential conflict of interest, including any relationship or circumstance that could reasonably call my impartiality into question, on a case-by-case basis. In doing so, I will consider the views of the parties and their counsel as appropriate and will take whatever action is required by applicable law and the governing rules of judicial ethics, including recusal whenever necessary or appropriate.

- b. Explain how you will resolve any potential conflict of interest, including the procedure you will follow in determining these areas of concern.

If confirmed, I would carefully review any actual or potential conflict of interest in accordance with 28 U.S.C. § 455, Canon 3 of the Code of Conduct for United States Judges, and all other applicable laws, ethical requirements, and judicial guidance. I would assess the particular facts and circumstances of each matter, including whether my impartiality might reasonably be questioned or another basis for disqualification exists. Where appropriate, I would seek guidance from applicable judicial ethics authorities and consider the views of the parties and counsel to the extent permitted by law and ethical rules. If recusal were required or otherwise appropriate, I would recuse from the matter.

25. Pro Bono Work: An ethical consideration under Canon 2 of the American Bar Association's Code of Professional Responsibility calls for "every lawyer, regardless of professional prominence or professional workload, to find some time to participate in serving the disadvantaged." Describe what you have done to fulfill these responsibilities, listing specific instances and the amount of time devoted to each.

I have devoted substantial pro bono time to representing veterans, service members, and Gold Star families throughout my legal career, including the following matters:

Pettenger v. Wilkie, No. 17-0809, 2018 WL 1569263 (Vet. App. Mar. 30, 2018) (Davis, C.J.). I represented United States Navy veteran Michael D. Pettenger in his appeal before the United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims from a decision of the Board of Veterans' Appeals denying disability compensation for a back condition. I served as lead appellate counsel for Mr. Pettenger and argued, among other things, that the Board improperly relied on inadequate Department of Veterans Affairs medical examinations. The court agreed that the medical examination underlying the Board's decision was inadequate, set aside the Board's decision, and remanded the matter for further adjudication. I devoted approximately 60 hours to this representation.

United States v. 'Isa, Criminal Docket No. 11-819 (E.D.N.Y. filed Nov. 1, 2011): I initially served as an advocate and later as pro bono counsel for five Gold Star families whose loved ones, all members of my combat unit, were killed in a 2009 terrorist attack in Mosul, Iraq, that formed the basis of the federal prosecution. The defendant, Faruq Khalil Muhammed 'Isa, was extradited from Canada to the United States in January 2015 to face federal charges of conspiring to kill Americans abroad and providing material support to a terrorist conspiracy to kill Americans abroad, based on allegations that he helped orchestrate the suicide bombing that killed the five soldiers. Drawing on my personal connection to the unit and the fallen service members, I represented the Gold Star families' interests throughout the criminal proceedings, guided them through the federal criminal justice process, and assisted them in ensuring that the lives and service of their loved ones were meaningfully presented to the court. I prepared the Gold Star families' written and oral victim impact statements and personally appeared before the district court at sentencing to advocate on behalf of the fallen soldiers and their families. The prosecution attracted significant national and international attention because of the gravity of the terrorist attack, its national-security implications, the defendant's extradition from Canada to face federal terrorism charges in the United States, and the involvement of then-Attorney General Eric Holder and then-United States Attorney Loretta Lynch. I devoted more than 200 hours of pro bono legal services to the representation.

In addition to these matters, I have sought throughout my legal career to use my professional experience to provide legal assistance to veterans, service members, military families, and others in need of representation. In 2018, I received a commendation from the Veterans Consortium Pro Bono Program for my extensive pro bono work on behalf of veterans.

26. Selection Process:

a. Please describe your experience in the entire judicial selection process, from beginning to end (including the circumstances which led to your nomination and the interviews in which you participated). Is there a selection commission in your jurisdiction to recommend candidates for nomination to the federal courts? If so, please include that process in your description, as well as whether the commission recommended your nomination. List the dates of all interviews or communications you had with the White House staff or the Justice Department regarding this nomination. Do not include any contacts with Federal Bureau of Investigation personnel concerning your nomination.

There is no judicial selection commission in Louisiana that recommends candidates for nomination to the federal courts. In March 2025, I contacted the office of United States Senator Bill Cassidy to express my interest in being considered for appointment as a United States District Judge for the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana. In April 2025, I interviewed with members of Senator Cassidy's staff regarding my interest and qualifications for the position. On March 4, 2026, I interviewed in Washington, D.C., with attorneys from the White House Counsel's Office and the United States Department of Justice. In June 2026, I interviewed with Senator Cassidy and members of his staff. In July 2026, I interviewed with members of United States Senator John Kennedy's staff. On August 18, 2026, President Trump called to inform me that he intended to nominate me to serve as a United States District Judge for the Eastern District of Louisiana. Throughout this process, I have been in periodic contact with officials from the White House Counsel's Office and the Office of Legal Policy at the Department of Justice.

b. Has anyone involved in the process of selecting you as a judicial nominee discussed with you any currently pending or specific case, legal issue or question in a manner that could reasonably be interpreted as seeking any express or implied assurances concerning your position on such case, issue, or question? If so, explain fully.

No.
