FACTUAL STIPULATION

The Defendant, Von Rico Webber, by and through his counsel, Michael J. Stengel, Esq., knowingly and voluntarily agrees with the United States, through the United States Attorney for the Western District of Tennessee, that the following is true and correct, and could be established to a jury beyond a reasonable doubt.

The Defendant had an agreement with Ruben Webber to buy and sell controlled substances. This agreement ran from June 2006 through October 8, 2008. These controlled substances included cocaine and marijuana. Some of the cocaine and marijuana was obtained from Jesus Vara. The Defendant knew that Brian Williams and Eric McWilliams were also dealers of cocaine and marijuana. The Defendant eventually learned that Williams and McWilliams obtained a portion of their cocaine and marijuana from Jesus Vara.

The Defendant agrees that when he met with Jesus Vara at the Wyndham Hotel in Memphis, TN with Ruben Webber on August 23, 2006, the purpose was to pay Vara for drugs he had provided in the past. At that time, the Defendant had an outstanding debt for eight kilograms of cocaine provided by Vara. Specifically, the Defendant and Ruben Webber were paying Vara back for two of the eight kilograms of cocaine they had bought at $17,500 per kilogram, and $8,000 for an amount of marijuana. The Defendant paid Vara $41,515 with money derived from the sale of cocaine and marijuana. Ruben Webber was a knowing participant in this drug conspiracy and the events of August 23, 2006.

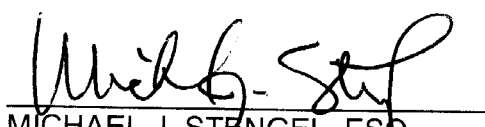

The Defendant has viewed the videotaped recording of this meeting. The words "tree" and "weed" used on the tape refer to marijuana. The word "T-shirts" refers to kilograms of cocaine. When they discuss, "two of those," they are referring to two kilograms of cocaine. When they discuss a person known as "E" who drives a white Infinity truck, the parties are referring to Eric McWilliams. The Defendant and Ruben Webber were intending to notify Vara that McWilliams had recently been charged with a crime and might be cooperating with law enforcement.

The Defendant also agrees that on the videotape Ruben Webber asked Vara to provide even more kilograms of cocaine. When the Defendant asked Vara if he knew that he and Ruben Webber were "the best thing you got going in this ... town," he was bragging about how effective he was at selling the cocaine and marijuana he obtained from Vara.

The Defendant also agrees that the purpose of providing the $41,515 to Vara was to promote the buying and selling of cocaine and marijuana because if he did not pay Vara back he would be unable to get any more cocaine and marijuana from Vara.
