7. Military Service and Draft Status: Identify any service in the U.S. Military, including dates of service, branch of service, rank or rate, serial number (if different from social security number) and type of discharge received, and whether you have registered for selective service.

I have not served in the United States military. I did not register for the selective service because I was born in 1959, and thus was not required to register for the selective service.

8. Honors and Awards: List any scholarships, fellowships, honorary degrees, academic or professional honors, honorary society memberships, military awards, and any other special recognition for outstanding service or achievement.

American Bar Association, General Counsel Award (2017)
Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar (1982 – 1983, 1984 – 1985)
A.B. awarded with honors (1980)

9. Bar Associations: List all bar associations or legal or judicial-related committees, selection panels or conferences of which you are or have been a member, and give the titles and dates of any offices which you have held in such groups.

Administrative Office of the United States Courts (2009 – present)
Liaison to the Office of the United States Trade Representative

American Bar Association (1986 – 2000, approximate)
Section on International Trade
Section on Antitrust Law

District of Columbia Bar (1986 – present)

Section on International Trade (1986 – 2000, approximate)
Co-Chair (1987 – 1988)
Section on Antitrust Law (1986 – 2000)

New York State Bar (1986 – present)

Supreme Court Bar (2016 – present)

10. Bar and Court Admission:

- a. List the date(s) you were admitted to the bar of any state and any lapses in membership. Please explain the reason for any lapse in membership.

New York, 1986
District of Columbia, 1986

There have been no lapses in membership.

- b. List all courts in which you have been admitted to practice, including dates of admission and any lapses in membership. Please explain the reason for any lapse in membership. Give the same information for administrative bodies that require special admission to practice.

United States Supreme Court, 2016
United States Court of International Trade, 1987

I have not practiced before the United States Court of International Trade since I left the United States International Trade Commission in 1989, so I have not renewed my membership.

11. Memberships:

- a. List all professional, business, fraternal, scholarly, civic, charitable, or other organizations, other than those listed in response to Questions 9 or 10 to which you belong, or to which you have belonged, since graduation from law school. Provide dates of membership or participation, and indicate any office you held. Include clubs, working groups, advisory or editorial boards, panels, committees, conferences, or publications.

Collegiate School for Boys, Class Agent (1977 – present)

Georgetown University Law Center, International Trade Update Advisory Board Member (2004, 2005, 2011, 2012)

Holy Trinity Catholic Church, Parish Council Member (1998 – 2001)

Kids to Kids, Secretary (2000 – present)

Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, Scholars in the Nation's Service Initiative, Advisory Board Member (approximately 2010 – present)

- b. The American Bar Association's Commentary to its Code of Judicial Conduct states that it is inappropriate for a judge to hold membership in any organization that invidiously discriminates on the basis of race, sex, or religion, or national origin. Indicate whether any of these organizations listed in response to 11a above currently discriminate or formerly discriminated on the basis of race, sex, religion or national origin either through formal membership requirements or the practical implementation of membership policies. If so, describe any action you have taken to change these policies and practices.

To the best of my knowledge, none of the organizations listed above currently discriminates or formerly discriminated on the basis of race, sex, religion or national origin, either through formal membership requirements or the practical implementation of membership policies.

12. Published Writings and Public Statements:

- a. List the titles, publishers, and dates of books, articles, reports, letters to the editor, editorial pieces, or other published material you have written or edited, including material published only on the Internet. Supply four (4) copies of all published material to the Committee.

13. Judicial Office: State (chronologically) any judicial offices you have held, including positions as an administrative law judge, whether such position was elected or appointed, and a description of the jurisdiction of each such court.

I have not held judicial office.

- a. Approximately how many cases have you presided over that have gone to verdict or judgement?

- i. Of these, approximately what percent were:

jury trials: _____ % bench trials: _____ % [total 100%]

civil proceedings: _____ %
criminal proceedings: _____ % [total 100%]

- b. Provide citations for all opinions you have written, including concurrences and dissents.
- c. For each of the 10 most significant cases over which you presided, provide: (1) a capsule summary of the nature of the case; (2) the outcome of the case; (3) the name and contact information for counsel who had a significant role in the trial of the case; and (4) the citation of the case (if reported) or the docket number and a copy of the opinion or judgement (if not reported).
- d. For each of the 10 most significant opinions you have written, provide: (1) citations for those decisions that were published; (2) a copy of those decisions that were not published; and (3) the names and contact information for the attorneys who played a significant role in the case.
- e. Provide a list of all cases in which certiorari was requested or granted.
- f. Provide a brief summary of and citations for all of your opinions where your decisions were reversed by a reviewing court or where your judgement was affirmed with significant criticism of your substantive or procedural rulings. If any of the opinions listed were not officially reported, provide copies of the opinions.
- g. Provide a description of the number and percentage of your decisions in which you issued an unpublished opinion and the manner in which those unpublished opinions are filed and/or stored.

- h. Provide citations for significant opinions on federal or state constitutional issues, together with the citation to appellate court rulings on such opinions. If any of the opinions listed were not officially reported, provide copies of the opinions.

14. Recusal: If you are or have been a judge, identify the basis by which you have assessed the necessity or propriety of recusal (If your court employs an "automatic" recusal system by which you may be recused without your knowledge, please include a general description of that system.) Provide a list of any cases, motions or matters that have come before you in which a litigant or party has requested that you recuse yourself due to an asserted conflict of interest or in which you have recused yourself sua sponte. Identify each such case, and for each provide the following information:

I have not held judicial office.

- a. whether your recusal was requested by a motion or other suggestion by a litigant or a party to the proceeding or by any other person or interested party; or if you recused yourself sua sponte;
- b. a brief description of the asserted conflict of interest or other ground for recusal;
- c. the procedure you followed in determining whether or not to recuse yourself;
- d. your reason for recusing or declining to recuse yourself, including any action taken to remove the real, apparent or asserted conflict of interest or to cure any other ground for recusal.

15. Public Office, Political Activities and Affiliations:

- a. List chronologically any public offices you have held, other than judicial offices, including the terms of service and whether such positions were elected or appointed. If appointed, please include the name of the individual who appointed you. Also, state chronologically any unsuccessful candidacies you have had for elective office or unsuccessful nominations for appointed office.

Senior Advisor to the United States Trade Representative (2017 – present), Office of the United States Trade Representative, appointed by President Donald Trump.

General Counsel (2009 – 2017), Office of the United States Trade Representative, appointed by President Barack Obama.

Trade Counsel (1993 – 1994), Democratic Staff, Committee on Ways and Means, United States House of Representatives, appointed by Congressmen Daniel Rostenkowski and Sam Gibbons.

I have had no unsuccessful campaigns for public office or unsuccessful nominations for public office.

- b. List all memberships and offices held in and services rendered, whether compensated or not, to any political party or election committee. If you have ever held a position or played a role in a political campaign, identify the particulars of the campaign, including the candidate, dates of the campaign, your title and responsibilities.

Volunteer, Edward Kennedy campaign for the Democratic Nomination for President, Pennsylvania, approximately April 1980. Responsibilities included phone canvassing and driving press van for Kennedy motorcade.

Press Secretary, John Lindsay campaign for the Democratic Nomination for United States Senate, approximately Summer 1980. Responsibilities included setting up interviews with press and drafting press releases and other press materials.

Volunteer, United States Representative Rush Holt campaign for reelection to United States House of Representatives, 12th Congressional District of New Jersey, approximately Fall 2000. Responsibilities included driving and accompanying candidate's mother to campaign events, supporting Get Out the Vote efforts, such as door to door and telephone canvassing, and preparing election day materials for other volunteers.

Volunteer, Dan Wofford campaign for United States House of Representatives, Sixth Congressional District of Pennsylvania, approximately Fall 2002. Responsibilities included primarily supporting Get Out the Vote efforts, such as door to door and telephone canvassing, and preparing election day materials for other volunteers.

Volunteer, John Kerry campaign for President, Florida, approximately Fall 2004. Responsibilities included primarily supporting Get Out the Vote efforts, such as door to door and telephone canvassing, and preparing election day materials for other volunteers.

Volunteer, Lois Murphy campaign for United States House of Representatives, Sixth Congressional District of Pennsylvania, approximately Fall 2006. Responsibilities included primarily supporting Get Out the Vote efforts, such as door to door and telephone canvassing, and preparing election day materials for other volunteers.

Volunteer, Barack Obama campaign for President, November 4, 2008. Responsibilities were to conduct Get Out the Vote efforts, including door to door and telephone canvassing. Also, I occasionally had informal conversations about aspects of trade policy with an advisor for the Obama campaign from February 2007 to November 2008.

16. Legal Career: Answer each part separately.

- a. Describe chronologically your law practice and legal experience after graduation from law school including:

- i. whether you served as clerk to a judge, and if so, the name of the judge, the court and the dates of the period you were a clerk;

I have never served as a judicial clerk.

- ii. whether you practiced alone, and if so, the addresses and dates;

I have never practiced alone.

- iii. the dates, names and addresses of law firms or offices, companies or governmental agencies with which you have been affiliated, and the nature of your affiliation with each.

- iv. whether you served as a mediator or arbitrator in alternative dispute resolution proceedings and, if so, a description of the 10 most significant matters with which you were involved in that capacity.

I have never served as a mediator or arbitrator.

b. Describe:

- i. the general character of your law practice and indicate by date when its character has changed over the years.

During the first two years after law school (1985 – 1987), my law practice had a varied content, including federal court litigation, international public law counseling (law of the sea), and export controls counseling. Since 1987, my law practice has focused exclusively on international trade and investment agreements.

From 1987 to 1989, my law practice comprised providing counsel on the administration of the statutes within the jurisdiction of the United States International Trade Commission and defending Commission decisions before the United States Court of International Trade.

From 1989 to 1993, and since 2009, my law practice has largely comprised litigating disputes before tribunals formed under international trade agreements and negotiating international trade agreements.

From 1993 to 1994, and 1998 to 2009, my law practice was comprised of advising Members of Congress on legislation, typically falling within Title 19 of the United States Code, and drafting and supporting passage of legislation in connection with trade agreements.

From 1995 to 1998, my law practice at Dewey Ballantine LLP was comprised largely of supporting clients by helping to prepare the Office of the United States Trade Representative for international litigation before the World Trade Organization, development of training programs and materials for use by businesses and governments seeking to understand more fully the content of the World Trade Organization agreements, as well as a representation of the United States subsidiary of a veterinary pharmaceutical business headquartered in Switzerland before the United States Department of Agriculture and the Office of the United States Trade Representative.

- ii. your typical clients and the areas at each period of your legal career, if any, in which you have specialized.

During my first period in private law practice (1985 – 1987), my clients were clients of the law firm, typically large businesses or nonprofit organizations that the law firm represented in litigation or to which the law firm provided counsel. During my second period in private law practice, my clients typically were large businesses seeking counseling or litigation representation related to trade agreements. I also conducted training of foreign governmental officials so that they could understand the agreements of the World Trade Organization.

- c. Describe the percentage of your practice that has been in litigation and whether you appeared in court frequently, occasionally, or not at all. If the frequency of your appearances in court varied, describe such variance, providing dates.

From 1985 to 1987, as a junior associate at Milbank Tweed Hadley & McCloy LLP, approximately 50% of my practice was in litigation, all of it in federal courts. The partner managing the matters appeared in court; I accompanied him, but did not enter an appearance.

From 1987 to 1989, at the United States International Trade Commission, approximately 50% of my practice was in litigation, all of it before the United States Court of International Trade. I appeared before the court approximately five times.

From 1989 to 1993, approximately 50% of my practice involved practice and appearances before international tribunals of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade and the United States Free Trade Agreement with Canada. I appeared before international tribunals approximately 15 to 20 times.

From 1993 to 1994 and 1998 to 2009, none of my practice at the Committee on Ways and Means of the United States House of Representatives involved litigation.

From 1995 to 1998, approximately 50% of my practice at Dewey Ballantine LLP involved supporting the work of the Office of the United States Trade Representative in litigation before dispute resolution panels of the World Trade Organization. I did not make any appearances.

From 2009 to 2017, as General Counsel in the Office of the United States Trade Representative, approximately 50% of my practice involved litigation before international tribunals of the World Trade Organization and other trade and investment agreements of the United States. I made one appearance during this period, before a tribunal of the Central American Free Trade Agreement.

From 2017 to the present, none of my practice as Senior Advisor to the United States Trade Representative at the Office of the United States Trade Representative has involved litigation.

i. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

- | | |
|-----------------------------|-----|
| 1. federal courts: | 10% |
| 2. state courts of record: | 0% |
| 3. other courts: | 0% |
| 4. administrative agencies: | 0% |

International tribunals formed pursuant to international trade agreements: 90%.

ii. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

- | | |
|--------------------------|------|
| 1. civil proceedings: | 100% |
| 2. criminal proceedings: | 0% |

- d. State the number of cases in courts of record, including cases before administrative law judges, you tried to verdict, judgment or final decision (rather than settled), indicating whether you were sole counsel, chief counsel, or associate counsel.

I have not tried any cases to verdict. I have litigated five cases based upon an administrative record before the United States Court of International Trade, and I have litigated seven cases to final judgment in tribunals formed pursuant to international trade agreements. I was lead counsel in each of these cases. I supervised the litigation of an additional 28 cases under international trade agreements as an attorney for the United States Trade Representative.

i. What percentage of these trials were:

- | | |
|--------------|----|
| 1. jury: | 0% |
| 2. non-jury: | 0% |

- e. Describe your practice, if any, before the Supreme Court of the United States. Supply four (4) copies of any briefs, amicus or otherwise, and, if applicable, any oral argument transcripts before the Supreme Court in connection with your practice.

I have never appeared before the Supreme Court of the United States.

17. Litigation: Describe the ten (10) most significant litigated matters which you personally handled, whether or not you were the attorney of record. Give the citations, if the cases were reported, and the docket number and date if unreported. Give a capsule summary of the substance of each case. Identify the party or parties whom you represented; describe in detail the nature of your participation in the litigation and the final disposition of the case. Also state as to each case:

- a. the date of representation;
- b. the name of the court and the name of the judge or judges before whom the case was litigated; and,
- c. the individual name, addresses, and telephone numbers of co-counsel and of principal counsel for each of the other parties.

1. USX Corp. v. United States, 682 F. Supp. 60 (Ct. Intl. Trade 1988), USX Corp. v. United States, 698 F. Supp. 234 (Ct. Intl. Trade 1988).

From 1987 to 1988, I defended a decision of the United States International Trade Commission, finding that the United States steel industry had not been injured by reason of imports of cold-rolled carbon steel plates and sheets from Argentina. I drafted the briefs and represented the United States at oral argument. In March 1988, the court found that it was not able to discern, based on the Commission's decision, that the analysis of at least two of the Commissioners that comprised the majority had been conducted in accordance with law and provided legally sufficient reasoning. Therefore, the court remanded the case to the Commission for further analysis consistent with the statute and the court's opinion. In September 1988, the court considered the determination of the United States International Trade Commission after the remand and affirmed the Commission's conclusion that an industry in the United States was not materially injured by reason of imports from Argentina. United States Court of International Trade Judge Jane Restani presided over the case.

2. Hannibal Industries, Inc. v. United States, 710 F. Supp. 332 (Ct. Intl. Trade 1989).

From 1988 to 1989, I defended a decision of the United States International Trade Commission that the United States industry producing welded carbon steel pipes and tubes had not been injured by reason of imports from Taiwan. I was the lead attorney on the case. I drafted the briefs and represented the United States at oral argument. The court found an error in the Commission's decision, and, accordingly, the court remanded to the Commission to make a new determination consistent with United States law and the court's opinion. From 1988 to 1989, I drafted briefs on behalf of the United States International Trade Commission in support of a motion by a United States industry for the United States Court of International Trade to remand to the Commission a decision that the United States industry producing tubeless steel disc wheels had not been threatened with injury by reason of imports from Brazil. I was the lead attorney on the case and drafted the briefs. The court ruled that a remand was appropriate. United States Court of International Trade Judge Gregory Carman presided over the case.

4. Sandvik AB v. United States, 721 F. Supp. 1322 (Ct. Intl. Trade 1989).

From 1988 to 1989, I defended a decision of the United States International Trade Commission that the United States industry producing stainless steel pipes and tubes had been injured by reason of imports from Sweden. I was the lead attorney on the case. I drafted the briefs and represented the United States at oral argument. The court affirmed the determination of the Commission on the grounds that it was reasonable, supported by substantial evidence on the record and otherwise in accordance with law. From 1988 to 1989, I defended a decision of the United States International Trade Commission that the United States industry producing stainless steel pipes and tubes had not been injured by reason of imports from Sweden. I was the lead attorney on the case. I drafted the briefs and represented the United States at oral argument. The court remanded the case on the grounds that the determination of one of the Commissioners was not in accordance with law for not applying the factors set out in the statute, affirming the determinations of two other Commissioners. United States Court of International Trade Judge Gregory Carman presided over the case.

6. German Exchange Rate Scheme for Deutsche Airbus, Dispute Settlement Panel under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), SCM/142 (Mar. 4, 1992).

From 1990 to 1992, I developed and then successfully argued a case for the United States challenging an exchange rate insurance program of the Government of Germany relating to German exports of Airbus products. In particular, I researched and drafted the briefs, consulted with United States stakeholders, led the United States delegation to the first and second hearings of the GATT panel at GATT headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland, and presented the oral argument to the panel. The panel found that the Government of Germany had, in fact, provided an impermissible benefit to its exporters and ruled in favor of the United States. The European Communities blocked adoption of the report. The GATT panel that presided over this case was comprised of Julio Lacarte-Muro (Chair), Pekka Hutaniemi and Peter Hussin.

7. European Economic Community: Payments and Subsidies Paid to Processors and Producers of Oilseeds and Related Animal Feed Proteins, Dispute Settlement Panel under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), L/6627, 37S/86 (Dec. 14, 1989).

From 1989 to 1990, I was co-lead counsel for the United States, developing and arguing a case for the United States challenging subsidy programs of the European Economic Community to support the production and sale of oilseeds to the detriment of United States exports of soybeans and other crops. I researched and drafted the briefs, consulted with United States stakeholders, and co-led the United States delegation to the first and second hearings of the GATT panel at GATT headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland, and co-presented the oral argument to the panel. The panel ruled in favor of the United States on the key counts of the United States' complaint. The GATT panel that presided over this case was comprised of Michael Cartland (Chair), Janos Nyerges and Pierre Pescatore.

Counsel for Defendant-European Communities:

8. Korea: Antidumping Duties on Imports of Polyacetal Resins from the United States, Panel under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), ADP/92 (April 2, 1993).

From 1991 to 1993, I prepared and argued a case for the United States challenging the first antidumping order of the Government of Korea on a chemical-based textile export from the United States. I researched and drafted the briefs, consulted with United States stakeholders, led the United States delegation to the first and second hearings of the GATT panel at GATT headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland, and presented the oral argument to the panel. The panel ruled in favor of the United States. The GATT panel that presided over this case was comprised of Mamoun Abdel-Fattah (Chair), Paul O'Connor and Barbara Schneeberger.

Counsel for Defendant-Government of Korea:

I do not recall the Korean government counsel who argued the case before the panel; however, the Government of Korea or Korean industry retained Sukhan Kim, to explore settlement with the United States:

9. China – Certain Measures Affecting Electronic Payment Services, T/DS413/R (July 16, 2012).

From 2009 to 2013, as General Counsel for the United States Trade Representative, I directly oversaw the development of the legal and factual arguments, as well as the litigation of the case. I directed the start of case development in 2009, supervised the case through the end of its active litigation phase in 2012, and continued to monitor implementation by the Government of China and consultations with United States stakeholders through the end of my tenure as General Counsel in January 2017. In the case, the United States argued successfully that the Government of China was using a variety of laws and regulations to block or obstruct the ability of United States providers of electronic payments services to sell the service in China, in violation of international trade agreements. The World Trade Organization panel affirmed the United States complaint in most aspects. The panel that presided over this case was comprised of Virachai Plasai (Chairman), Elaine Feldman and Martín Redrado.

10. In the Matter of Guatemala – Issues Relating to the Obligations under Article 16.2.1(a) of the Central American Free Trade Agreement.

From 2010 to 2017, as General Counsel for the United States Trade Representative, I directly oversaw the development of the legal and factual arguments, as well as the litigation of the case. I directed the start of case development in 2010 and supervised the case through the end of my tenure as General Counsel in January 2017. In 2015, I served as the Head of Delegation for the United States for the hearing conducted in Guatemala City, Guatemala, on June 2, 2015. In that capacity, I opened the presentation of the United States affirmative argument. In the case, the United States presented an extensively documented complaint that it maintained demonstrated that Guatemala had failed to effectively enforce three sets of labor laws in a sustained or recurring course of action or inaction in a manner affecting trade between the parties. The panel concluded that the United States had not demonstrated that Guatemala had failed to implement its obligations under Article 16.2.1(a) of the Central American Free Trade Agreement. The panel that presided over this case was comprised of Kevin Banks (Chair), Theodore Posner and Ricardo Ramirez.

18. Legal Activities: Describe the most significant legal activities you have pursued, including significant litigation which did not progress to trial or legal matters that did not involve litigation. Describe fully the nature of your participation in these activities. List any client(s) or organization(s) for whom you performed lobbying activities and describe the lobbying activities you performed on behalf of such client(s) or organizations(s). (Note: As to any facts requested in this question, please omit any information protected by the attorney-client privilege.)

From 2009 to 2017, as General Counsel for the United States Trade Representative, I had responsibility for overseeing the two categories of legal work within the agency: (1) negotiation, legislation and administrative law; and (2) monitoring and enforcement, and litigation, primarily within the World Trade Organization and under other United States trade agreements. In the first category, my responsibilities included supervising and advising on trade negotiations, advising the United States Trade Representative on legislation, representing the agency before Congress, and supervising administrative law matters. In the second category, my responsibilities included monitoring the enforcement of all United States trade agreements, developing strategies to address implementation problems or failures by foreign countries, and supervising the development and execution of litigation.

From 1998 to 2009, I served as Chief Democratic International Trade Counsel for the Committee on Ways and Means. In this capacity, I had responsibility to design and execute legislative strategy for passage of numerous bipartisan trade bills, collaborated with foreign policy/national security committees to address export sanctions and other issues, and led negotiations to resolve executive-congressional issues in United States trade policy.

From 1995 to 1998, I was Special International Trade Counsel with Dewey Ballantine LLP. In this capacity, I participated in the representation of a large corporation before the Office of the United States Trade Representative. I was involved in advising a United States veterinary pharmaceutical company on ways to address a market access matter involving sanitary and phyto-sanitary regulations and actions of the Government of Japan.

From 1987 to 1989, I served as Attorney-Advisor in the Office of the General Counsel, United States International Trade Commission. In this capacity, I advised the Commissioners on the legal issues involved in investigations under the antidumping and countervailing duty provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930, as well as under the intellectual property provisions of section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, and the safeguard provisions of section 201 of the Trade Act of 1974, assisted the Commissioners in the drafting of determinations and opinions, and worked on various other legal issues.

I have never registered or acted as a lobbyist.

19. Teaching: What courses have you taught? For each course, state the title, the institution at which you taught the course, the years in which you taught the course, and describe briefly the subject matter of the course and the major topics taught. If you have a syllabus of each course, provide four (4) copies to the committee.

“Federal Government Lawyering,” Columbia Law School, 2014 – 2018 (annually in the spring semester). The course, offered to Columbia law students spending a semester in Washington, D.C. on externships in federal government offices, provides a survey of the different kinds of functions and offices that lawyers who spend at least a part of their careers in government service may experience. 2018 Syllabus attached.

“American Trade Politics and Policy,” Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, Princeton University, 2017. The course reviewed key elements of United States trade politics and policy with the goal of equipping students to understand and analyze these policy and political elements. I co-taught the class with Professor Christina Davis of the Woodrow Wilson School. Syllabus attached.

“American Trade Policy Toward China,” Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, Princeton University, 2012. The course reviewed various facets of United States trade policy toward China, including bilateral trade agreements, cases between China and the United States in the World Trade Organization, and work with like-minded trade partners. Syllabus attached.

“Task Force on United States Trade Policy and the Politics of Globalization,” Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, Princeton University, 2008. The task force focused on key policy and political issues in the process of globalization, such as negotiation and enforcement of rules to ensure fair trade, minimum standards for intellectual property, and labor and environmental issues. Syllabus attached.

“Dispute Settlement under International Trade and Investment Agreements,” Georgetown Law, 1995 – 2007 (annually in the spring semester). The course covered panel decisions under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, and panel and Appellate Body decisions under the World Trade Organization agreements, including: procedures under the respective systems, the substance of dispute settlement decisions in areas such as national treatment, most-favored-nation provisions, antidumping and countervailing duties, sanitary and phytosanitary standards. I designed and developed the course in 1995. For the 1996 to 1997 academic year, John Kingery joined as co-professor. For the 2001 to 2007 academic years, Grant Aldonas joined as co-professor. 2007 syllabus attached.

“Getting Medicine to Poor People,” Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, Princeton University, 2003. This workshop explored ways in which trade law and policy developed to address two sometimes competing goals – vigorous protection of intellectual property rights, in particular, pharmaceutical patents, and ensuring access to medicines. Viji Rangaswami and Michael Castellano co-taught this workshop with me. Syllabus attached.

20. Deferred Income/ Future Benefits: List the sources, amounts and dates of all anticipated receipts from deferred income arrangements, stock, options, uncompleted contracts and other future benefits which you expect to derive from previous business relationships, professional services, firm memberships, former employers, clients or customers. Describe the arrangements you have made to be compensated in the future for any financial or business interest.

None

21. Outside Commitments During Court Service: Do you have any plans, commitments, or agreements to pursue outside employment, with or without compensation, during your service with the court? If so, explain.

I am currently a Visiting Lecturer with Columbia Law School. Also, approximately every four years, I have accepted an appointment as Visiting Lecturer with the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University. The Princeton courses that I have taught entailed my traveling to Princeton on Monday afternoon, returning late Monday night. I would hope to continue this teaching if it proved feasible, consistent with carrying out fully my responsibilities on the Court of International Trade. If I were to continue teaching, I would comply fully with all applicable judicial rules.

22. Sources of Income: List sources and amounts of all income received during the calendar year preceding your nomination and for the current calendar year, including all salaries, fees, dividends, interest, gifts, rents, royalties, licensing fees, honoraria, and other items exceeding $500 or more (if you prefer to do so, copies of the financial disclosure report, required by the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, may be substituted here).

See attached Financial Disclosure Report.

23. Statement of Net Worth: Please complete the attached financial net worth statement in detail (add schedules as called for).

See attached Net Worth Statement.

24. Potential Conflicts of Interest:

- a. Identify the family members or other persons, parties, categories of litigation, and financial arrangements that are likely to present potential conflicts-of-interest when you first assume the position to which you have been nominated. Explain how you would address any such conflict if it were to arise.

I do not anticipate any conflicts of interest if I am confirmed. However, I will evaluate any real or potential conflict, or relationship that could give rise to appearance of conflict, on a case by case basis and determine appropriate action with the advice of parties and their counsel, including recusal where necessary.

- b. Explain how you will resolve any potential conflict of interest, including the procedure you will follow in determining these areas of concern.

If confirmed, I will carefully review and address any real or potential conflicts by reference to 28 U.S.C. § 455, Canon 3 of the Code of Conduct for United States Judges, and any and all other laws, rules, and practices governing such circumstances.

25. Pro Bono Work: An ethical consideration under Canon 2 of the American Bar Association's Code of Professional Responsibility calls for "every lawyer, regardless of professional prominence or professional workload, to find some time to participate in serving the disadvantaged." Describe what you have done to fulfill these responsibilities, listing specific instances and the amount of time devoted to each.

Howard Law School recruitment program. Since at least 2007, I have actively sought to recruit into the legal profession – and, in particular, the trade and investment law practice – individuals from law schools and backgrounds that have not traditionally been broadly represented. The recruitment program has entailed various activities such as: (1) going to the campus of the Howard University School of Law to conduct informational and recruitment sessions; (2) interviewing candidates; (3) working with Howard Law professors and administrators to create the necessary extern, intern and fellowship parameters and qualifications first for the Committee on Ways and Means and later for the Office of the United States Trade Representative; (4) supervising Howard law interns, externs and fellows at the Committee on Ways and Means and the Office of the United States Trade Representative, including assigning legal projects, supervising their work on those projects and advising them on work- and career-related matters; and (5) assisting the interns, externs, and fellows with career placement opportunities beyond the Office of the United States Trade Representative, consistent with applicable ethical rules. During this time, I estimate that I have spent hundreds of hours on this project.

Samaritan House. From 1996 to approximately 2005, I participated in a monthly meal-preparation and fellowship program for the residents of Samaritan House in Washington, D.C. Samaritan Inns was a program that worked with individuals working to recover from substance abuse. The volunteer program was started in 1996 by an employee at Dewey Ballantine, the law firm at which I was working during that time. During a number of those years, I participated in two monthly programs, one involving the main Samaritan Inns residence for men, and another brownstone that served as a residence for women. Tasks in respect of both included purchasing groceries, cooking and preparing parts of the dinner (such as the main course, salad, dessert), serving the dinner, and spending time with the residents. Over this period of time, I estimate that I spent at least 5 hours per month, approximately 50 to 60 hours per year, and 500 to 600 hours total.

26. Selection Process:

- a. Please describe your experience in the entire judicial selection process, from beginning to end (including the circumstances which led to your nomination and the interviews in which you participated). Is there a selection commission in your jurisdiction to recommend candidates for nomination to the federal courts? If so, please include that process in your description, as well as whether the commission recommended your nomination. List the dates of all interviews or communications you had with the White House staff or the Justice Department regarding this nomination. Do not include any contacts with Federal Bureau of Investigation personnel concerning your nomination.

In Fall 2017, Ambassador Robert E. Lighthizer forwarded my name to the White House for consideration of a judicial appointment to the United States Court of International Trade. On December 1, 2017, I interviewed with members of the White House Counsel's Office. I had follow up communications with the White House Counsel's Office on December 12, 2017, and December 29, 2017. On June 18, 2018, the President submitted my nomination to the Senate.

- b. Has anyone involved in the process of selecting you as a judicial nominee discussed with you any currently pending or specific case, legal issue or question in a manner that could reasonably be interpreted as seeking any express or implied assurances concerning your position on such case, issue, or question? If so, explain fully.
