I have not served as a mediator or arbitrator.

- v. Whether you have held any judicial office, including positions as an administrative law judge, on any U.S. federal, state, tribal, or local court and if so, please provide the name of the court, the jurisdiction of that court, whether the position was appointed or elected, and the dates of your service.

I have not held a judicial office.

b. Describe:

- i. the general character of your law practice and indicate by date when its character has changed over the years.

From October, 1994, to November 1999, I practiced with my father. Thereafter, I was the sole principal of the firm my father and I had established, and I employed one to two other lawyers from the November 1999 until October 2005.

In October 2005, I co-founded Parker Rosen LLC, a law firm that varied in size between six and eleven lawyers. I was, at all times, the co-managing partner. Parker Rosen operated until April 2017.

Beginning in May 2017, until December 2021, I was the Partner in Charge of the Minneapolis office of Kluger Kaplan Silverman Katzen & Levine, a Miami-based litigation firm.

Since December 2021, I have practiced independently, in sole practice.

Throughout my career, my practice was concentrated in the field of commercial litigation, including a substantial amount of litigation in the field of eminent domain, partnership disputes, contract disputes, fraud cases, etc. I represented large companies, small businesses, and individuals.

I have also represented the “relators” in several federal False Claims Act cases. These cases, which have required working closely with the U.S. Attorney’s office, included large-scale Medicare fraud and abuse of the recent COVID-related PPP program.

- ii. your typical clients and the areas at each period of your legal career, if any, in which you have specialized.

I represented individuals, small businesses, large corporations and charitable organizations at all times in my career.

- c. Describe the percentage of your practice that has been in litigation and whether you appeared in court frequently, occasionally, or not at all. If the frequency of your appearances in court varied, describe such variance, providing dates.

- i. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

- 1. federal courts; 70%
 - 2. state courts of record; 30%
 - 3. other courts;
 - 4. administrative agencies

- ii. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

- 1. civil proceedings; 98%
 - 2. criminal proceedings. 2%

My practice has consistently been approximately 80% in the field of litigation. I appeared in court very frequently.

- d. State the number of cases in courts of record, including cases before administrative law judges, you tried to verdict, judgment or final decision (rather than settled), indicating whether you were sole counsel, chief counsel, or associate counsel.
 - i. What percentage of these trials were:
 - 1. jury; 15%
 - 2. non-jury. 85%

I estimate that I have tried approximately 12-15 jury trials to verdicts over my career. In all jury trials, I was either sole counsel or chief counsel. I estimate that I have tried over 100 non-jury trials, all as either sole counsel or chief counsel.

- e. Describe your practice, if any, before the Supreme Court of the United States. Supply four (4) copies of any briefs, amicus or otherwise, and, if applicable, any oral argument transcripts before the Supreme Court in connection with your practice.

I have never practiced before the U.S. Supreme Court.

15. Litigation: Describe the ten (10) most significant litigated matters which you personally handled, whether or not you were the attorney of record. Give the citations, if the cases were reported, and the docket number and date if unreported. Give a capsule summary of the substance of each case. Identify the party or parties whom you represented; describe in detail the nature of your participation in the litigation and the final disposition of the case. Also state as to each case:

- a. the date of representation;
- b. the name of the court and the name of the judge or judges before whom the case was litigated; and
- c. the individual name, addresses, and telephone numbers of co-counsel and of principal counsel for each of the other parties.

- 1. In re: Petters Company, Inc., et al.,
United States Bankruptcy Court, District of Minnesota
Court File No. 08-45257
2010 - Present.

This bankruptcy case (and various companion cases) involved the largest “Ponzi scheme” in U.S. history at the time.

Tom Petters, assisted by others, defrauded and obtained billions of dollars in money and property by inducing investors to provide Petters Company, Inc., (PCI) funds to purchase merchandise that was to be resold to retailers at a profit. However, no such purchases were made. Instead, the defendants and co-conspirators diverted the funds for other purposes, such as making payments to other investors, paying off those who assisted in the fraud scheme, funding businesses owned or controlled by the defendants and financing Tom Petters' lifestyle.

I served as Minnesota counsel for a $650 million creditor, out of the approximately $1.7 billion lost. Among other roles, I was the chief lawyer that handled the mediations and settlement negotiations in dozens of "claw-back" litigations against individuals, companies, and organizations that profited from the Ponzi scheme. There were dozens of lawyers involved in this matter.

2. Bren Road LLC v. Talon OP, LP, et al.
Hennepin County Dist. Ct. File No. 27-CV-19-12830.
Judge Christian Sande
2023-2025.

At the direction of the judge, I was hired to represent the court-appointed receiver in a case in which the judgment debtor had been found liable for fraud in the amount of more than $15 million. There were multiple parties seeking to share in moneys and properties recovered by the receiver and the judgment debtor was continuing a pattern of deceit and evasion. I was asked by the judge to bring the matter to a resolution consistent with the judge's orders. I successfully achieved the court's objectives by working with counsel for all creditors and overcoming the objections of the judgment debtor.

3. Northrup v. Greenberg
Hennepin County Dist. Ct. File No. 27-CV-23-4407
Judge Lois Conroy
2023-2024.

I was hired by a retired judge of district court who had been sued by a party to a case he had mediated and where he had subsequently arbitrated a dispute over the mediated settlement agreement. The plaintiff asserted that the retired judge was liable for having ruled incorrectly as an arbitrator and that he exceeded his powers as a mediator. The case stood for the important principle of immunity of a judicially-appointed or quasi-judicial officer. The court ruled entirely for my client, on our motion for summary judgment.

4. Darkenwald v. Yankoupe, et al., in arbitration
Arbitrator: Ret. Justice James Gilbert
2021-2023.

In this valuable partnership dispute among siblings, I was co-lead counsel for the Defendants. This case involved a dispute within a partnership that owned several blocks of commercial property in suburban Minneapolis. The plaintiff asserted that he was entitled to purchase the interests of my clients at a deeply discounted price. My clients counter-claimed asserting a right to purchase the interest of the plaintiff at a previously offered price. The case was tried to an arbitrator and the arbitrator awarded my clients the relief we requested.

U.S. Dist. Ct. MN 16-cv-1877
Judge Susan Nelson
2016 – 2018

In this civil enforcement matter by the Securities and Exchange Commission (S.E.C.) and in a companion criminal prosecution, I represented an individual accused of being the primary actor in a fraudulent scheme that the government valued at $140 million. I was lead counsel in the civil enforcement and co-counsel in the criminal enforcement. The criminal case resulted in a plea agreement pursuant to which my client was sentenced to prison for 20 years, which was less than half of the time called for under the Sentencing Guidelines. The civil case was resolved by agreement pursuant to which my client accepted a sanction from the S.E.C. and restriction on future S.E.C.-regulated business.

6. Fannie Mae v. Andrew Grossman, et al.
United States District Court, District of Minnesota
Judge Susan Nelson; United States District Court, District of Colorado
Judge Marcia Krieger; Hennepin County District Court, Hennepin County, Minnesota
Judge Thomas Sipkins, multiple jurisdictions
2011 to 2015.

Several years into the dispute, and after several adverse decisions while represented by previous counsel, I was hired and served as lead counsel for Mr. Grossman and one of his entities (Tara Woods Ltd. Partnership) in the District of Colorado and in the 10th Circuit appeal from the Colo. Dist. Court. I was also co-counsel for Mr. Grossman, individually, in Minnesota, in both state and federal courts. I was also the lead counsel in comprehensive settlement negotiations with Fannie Mae. The cases involved disputes over $45 million in loans by Fannie Mae to entities owned by Grossman. The cases involved assertions and defenses under fraudulent transfer laws, trust laws, the boundaries of asset protection mechanisms, a very significant contempt of court litigation, and defenses to the enforcement of limited personal guaranties. While pursuing litigation against Fannie Mae in Colorado, we were required to defend against litigation brought by Fannie Mae in Minnesota. The case involved trials in federal district court in Colorado and in Minnesota state court, as well as considerable motion practice in federal court in Minnesota. The case involved a highly unusual level of strategic complexity and the need to become expert in obscure areas of the law. A comprehensive settlement was reached, the terms of which are the subject of a confidentiality order.

7. Hennepin County v. Land Partners II LLLP
Hennepin County Dist. Ct. File No. 27-CV-06-19732
Judge Stephen Aldrich
2006 – 2008

This was the largest eminent domain case in Minnesota history. The county acquired the property as the location for a new Minnesota Twins baseball stadium. I was lead counsel for the property owners. In this case, there were two ownership groups (with separate lawyers) that agreed to hire me to be chief trial counsel to represent their combined interests. We tried the matter of just compensation to be paid to my clients for the taking of their land. The matter was tried to a panel of court-appointed commissioners that was chaired by a retired judge of the Minnesota Court of Appeals. Although I had assistance by other counsel at my counsel table over the course of a six-week trial, I was the only lawyer that addressed the court for the property owners, examined every witness and cross-examined every adverse witness, and made the opening and closing statements. The commissioners awarded $23.5 million my clients (more than $10 million more than the county's appraisal) and a dissenting commissioner awarded $33.5 million. The case then settled for $29 million—the largest eminent domain award in Minnesota history.

8. Housing and Redevelopment Authority of City of St. Paul v. ExxonMobil Oil Corporation

Ramsey County District Court (62-C6-04-001291)

Judge Judith Tilson

2003-2009

In this eminent domain action by an agency of the City of St. Paul, the city sought to acquire a 37-acre parcel within the city for the construction of a large, publicly-subsidized housing project. I was chief counsel for ExxonMobil which sought to stop the project as the property had previously been used for petroleum storage, with a history of leaks, and which was the subject of a long-term cleanup effort by ExxonMobil. ExxonMobil asserted that it was unwise to construct a housing project where the cleanup was still underway and the final results could not be known for years. We tried the case to the district court judge who first ruled for ExxonMobil but gave the city the opportunity to provide the opinion of the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency that the proposed project could be made safe. The MPCA opined that if the cleanup was completed, the project would be safe and the court allowed the taking to proceed. We then had litigation over how much money the city would need to pay ExxonMobil for the property. As lead counsel, I tried the case to a court-appointed commission which ruled almost entirely for ExxonMobil, finding (a) that the city must pay ExxonMobil approximately seven times the amount of the city's appraisal and (b) that if the city proceeded, the city must assume environmental liability from ExxonMobil. Because that far exceeded the city's budget, the case then settled with the city agreeing that it will not develop the property. My co-counsel on the case was Mark Kiperstin, current address

Hennepin County District Court (27-CV-CD-000002530)
Judge Cara Lee Neville
1999-2001

This was an eminent domain action by an agency of the city of Minneapolis to acquire an aging office building in the core of Downtown Minneapolis. I was lead counsel for the property owner, Physicians & Surgeons Capital Corporation. The litigation involved the amount to be paid by the city for the acquisition. I tried the case to a panel of court-appointed commissioners. The commissioners awarded nearly four times the amount of the government's appraisal and nearly the full amount my client was requesting. After the commissions' award, the city sought a new trial by jury in the district court, but the case settled before trial for an amount very close to the award of the commissioners.

10. United States ex. Relator Minnesota Association of Nurse Anesthetists v. Allina Health Systems, et al.
276 F.3d 1032 (8th Cir. 2002) and United States District Court for District of Minnesota
Judge Richard Kyle
1994-2003

I represented the Relator in this False Claims Act case in which several Minnesota hospitals and over 60 anesthesiologists practicing at those hospitals were alleged to have committed systematic Medicare fraud by billing for the services of an anesthesiologist when the anesthesiologist was not in the operating room. The district court judge granted summary judgment for the defendants. After a successful appeal to the United States Court of Appeals for the 8th Circuit, in which the appellate court reversed the district court, the case settled shortly before trial with the Defendants paying approximately $12 million.

16. Legal Activities: Describe the most significant legal activities you have pursued, including significant litigation which did not progress to trial or legal matters that did not involve litigation. Describe fully the nature of your participation in these activities. List any client(s) or organization(s) for whom you performed lobbying activities and describe the lobbying activities you performed on behalf of such client(s) or organizations(s). (Note: As to any facts requested in this question, please omit any information protected by the attorney-client privilege.)

All of my career, I have made myself available for legal consultation and representation to Jewish community organizations and to individuals providing services to the Jewish community. As an example, I am the lawyer that is primarily called upon by the organized Orthodox Jewish community of Minneapolis for consultation in connection with community security matters. The need for such consultations has increased in recent years as incidents of antisemitic violence and threats have increased substantially. As further example, I have provided consultation to individuals and families that seek to prevent autopsies on their loved ones where such autopsies are prohibited by Jewish religious tradition. The matter described in the pro bono section below is an example of such service.

I have also been hired by Washinton, DC, based public-interest organizations to provide consultation and representation in Minnesota, including matters seeking to vindicate First Amendment rights, disclosure of publicly held information, and protection of other constitutionally protected rights.

I served for seven years on the Minnesota Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board (CFB), including two terms as chairman of that board. The CFB regulates campaign finance in Minnesota and enforces Minnesota's campaign-finance laws. The CFB also regulates lobbying in Minnesota and enforces Minnesota's lobbying laws.

I co-founded the Minnesota Eminent Domain Institute (MEDI). MEDI was formed by lawyers that are engaged in eminent domain litigation primarily on the property-owners' side. The organization was founded in order to educate the legal community and the courts on matters relating to eminent domain, from the property-owners' perspective, including the filing of amicus curiae briefs with the appellate courts of Minnesota

From approximately 2013 to 2023, I served as outside general counsel of the Minnesota Association of Nurse Anesthetists, advising the association on the range of issues that affect a health-care trade organization that is constantly buffeted by changing legal, regulatory, and market forces.

17. Teaching: What courses have you taught? For each course, state the title, the institution at which you taught the course, the years in which you taught the course, and describe briefly the subject matter of the course and the major topics taught. If you have a syllabus of each course, provide four (4) copies to the committee.

I have not taught any courses.

18. Deferred Income/ Future Benefits: List the sources, amounts and dates of all anticipated receipts from deferred income arrangements, stock, options, uncompleted contracts and other future benefits which you expect to derive from previous business relationships, professional services, firm memberships, former employers, clients or customers. Describe the arrangements you have made to be compensated in the future for any financial or business interest.

None.

19. Outside Commitments During Service: Do you have any plans, commitments, or agreements to pursue outside employment, with or without compensation, during your service with the court? If so, explain.

None.

20. Sources of Income: List sources and amounts of all income received during the calendar year preceding your nomination and for the current calendar year, including all salaries, fees, dividends, interest, gifts, rents, royalties, licensing fees, honoraria, and other items exceeding $500 or more (if you prefer to do so, copies of the financial disclosure report, required by the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, may be substituted here).

Please see my financial disclosure report submitted to the Office of Government Ethics.

21. Statement of Net Worth: Please complete the attached financial net worth statement in detail (add schedules as called for).

See attached net worth statement.

22. Potential Conflicts of Interest:

- a. Identify the family members or other persons, parties, affiliations, pending and categories of litigation, financial arrangements or other factors that are likely to present potential conflicts-of-interest when you first assume the position to which you have been nominated. Explain how you would address any such conflict if it were to arise.

During the nomination process, I consulted with the Department of Justice's ethics office and Designated Ethics Officer to identify any potential conflicts. If I am confirmed, I will continue to consult with that office and will recuse myself from any matter in which recusal is required.

- b. Explain how you will resolve any potential conflict of interest, including the procedure you will follow in determining these areas of concern.

If I am confirmed, any potential conflict of interest will be resolved in accordance with the terms of an ethics agreement that I have entered with the Department's designated agency ethics official. If confirmed, I will continue to consult with the Department of Justice's ethics office and will recuse myself from any matter in which recusal is required.

23. Pro Bono Work: An ethical consideration under Canon 2 of the American Bar Association's Code of Professional Responsibility calls for "every lawyer, regardless of professional prominence or professional workload, to find some time to participate in serving the disadvantaged." Describe what you have done to fulfill these responsibilities, listing specific instances and the amount of time devoted to each. If you are not an attorney, please use this opportunity to report significant charitable and volunteer work you may have done.

I am the primary lawyer that the organized Orthodox Jewish community in Minneapolis consults with on most legal matters. I devote dozens of hours a year to addressing such issues. I devote dozens of hours each year to addressing the issues raised by individuals who have been referred to me.

In September 2012, a widely publicized, multi-fatality, workplace shooting occurred in Minneapolis. Two of the victims were Jews whose families, in observance of Jewish principles, objected to autopsies on those victims. I undertook, at no charge, to commence an action to enjoin the coroner from performing autopsies on those two bodies. Minnesota did not, at that time, have its current statute that bars autopsies under certain circumstances where there is religious objection. Accordingly, the legal presumption at that time favored autopsies. Moreover, as murders were involved, the coroner's obligation to perform autopsies was heightened. I spent the evening and early hours of the morning preparing the case and, at 3:15 in the morning, obtained a temporary restraining order at the home dining room table of a judge. I then served it on the coroner and then undertook, when business hours were beginning the following morning, to engage the county attorney in discussion to arrive at an arrangement where the coroner received the data he needed, without having to do the dissection that is typically involved in an autopsy.
