7. Military Service and Draft Status: Identify any service in the U.S. Military, including dates of service, branch of service, rank or rate, serial number (if different from social security number) and type of discharge received, and whether you have registered for selective service.

I have not served in the United States military. I registered for the selective service upon turning 18.

8. Honors and Awards: List any scholarships, fellowships, honorary degrees, academic or professional honors, honorary society memberships, military awards, and any other special recognition for outstanding service or achievement.

Rodel Judicial Fellowship (2025 – present)

Cornell University Council (2018 – 2020)

Judge Henry Woods Chapter of the American Inns of Court (2017 – present)

Harvard Journal of Law and Public Policy (2002 – 2005)

New York State Bar Association (2006 – 2011)

Republican National Lawyers Association (2004 – 2019, intermittently)

10. Bar and Court Admission:

a. List the date(s) you were admitted to the bar of any state and any lapses in membership. Please explain the reason for any lapse in membership.

Alaska, 2009

Arkansas, 2015

California (Registered In-House Counsel), 2010

District of Columbia, 2007

Massachusetts (Registered In-House Counsel), 2012

New York, 2006

I terminated my California In-House Counsel registration in 2010 and my Massachusetts In-House Counsel registration in 2012 after my work as campaign counsel in those states concluded. I resigned my Alaska Bar membership in 2020. Although I am still a member of the New York Bar, the New York Bar considers me retired from the practice of law because I am a federal judge. There have been no lapses in membership.

b. List all courts in which you have been admitted to practice, including dates of admission and any lapses in membership. Please explain the reason for any lapse in membership. Give the same information for administrative bodies that require special admission to practice.

Supreme Court of the United States, 2015
United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, 2008
United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, 2009
United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, 2008 (inactive status)
United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit, 2015
United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, 2007
United States District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas, 2015
United States District Court for the Western District of Arkansas, 2015

I believe that sometime in 2010 or 2011 I became inactive in the Second Circuit. Because my practice no longer involved the Second Circuit, I did not renew my admission. There have been no other lapses.

11. Memberships:

a. List all professional, business, fraternal, scholarly, civic, charitable, or other organizations, other than those listed in response to Questions 9 or 10 to which you belong, or to which you have belonged, since graduation from law school. Provide dates of membership or participation, and indicate any office you held. Include clubs, working groups, advisory or editorial boards, panels, committees, conferences, or publications.

Ivy Council (2008 – 2012)

Member of the Board of Directors (2008 – 2012)

National Rifle Association (approximately 2014 – 2019)

b. The American Bar Association's Commentary to its Code of Judicial Conduct states that it is inappropriate for a judge to hold membership in any organization that invidiously discriminates on the basis of race, sex, or religion, or national origin. Indicate whether any of these organizations listed in response to 11a above currently discriminate or formerly discriminated on the basis of race, sex, religion or national origin either through formal membership requirements or the practical implementation of membership policies. If so, describe any action you have taken to change these policies and practices.

The Harvard Masonic Lodge limits its membership to men. Otherwise, to the best of my knowledge, none of the organizations listed above currently discriminates or formerly discriminated on the basis of race, sex, religion or national origin, either through formal membership requirements or the practical implementation of membership policies.

12. Published Writings and Public Statements:

a. List the titles, publishers, and dates of books, articles, reports, letters to the editor, editorial pieces, or other published material you have written or edited, including material published only on the Internet. Supply four (4) copies of all published material to the Committee.

Arkansas Advisory Committee to the United States Commission on Civil Rights, Project Proposal, Apr. 2018. Copy supplied.

I include the 2020 report of the Arkansas Advisory Committee to the United States Commission on Civil Rights only out of an abundance of caution. I was on the District Court for five months (and thus off the Committee for the same amount of time) when this report came out. To the best of my recollection, I did not vote on the findings and recommendations included in the report. However, because I was on the Committee during the Committee's investigative work that led to the report, I include it in this list.

c. Supply four (4) copies of any testimony, official statements or other communications relating, in whole or in part, to matters of public policy or legal interpretation, that you have issued or provided or that others presented on your behalf to public bodies or public officials.

13. Judicial Office: State (chronologically) any judicial offices you have held, including positions as an administrative law judge, whether such position was elected or appointed, and a description of the jurisdiction of each such court.

United States District Judge, Eastern District of Arkansas (2019 – present). I was appointed by President Donald J. Trump and confirmed by the United States Senate. The district's jurisdiction is roughly the eastern half of Arkansas.

a. Approximately how many cases have you presided over that have gone to verdict or judgment?

Thirty-two.

i. Of these, approximately what percent were:

jury trials:	75%
bench trials:	25%
civil proceedings:	56%
criminal proceedings:	44%

b. Provide citations for all opinions you have written, including concurrences and dissents.

See Appendix 13.b.

c. For each of the 10 most significant cases over which you presided, provide: (1) a capsule summary of the nature the case; (2) the outcome of the case; (3) the name and contact information for counsel who had a significant role in the trial of the case; and (3) the citation of the case (if reported) or the docket number and a copy of the opinion or judgment (if not reported).

1) Gray v. Mallory, No. 4:25-CV-01057-LPR, 2025 WL 3252427 (E.D. Ark. Nov. 21, 2025); 2026 WL 1195833 (E.D. Ark. May 1, 2026).

A former Arkansas Department of Health employee sued Arkansas officials after she was terminated for comments she made on Facebook concerning the assassination of Charlie Kirk. Plaintiff alleged that her termination constituted retaliation for protected speech in violation of the First Amendment and analogous provisions of the Arkansas Constitution. She also alleged that Defendants violated her procedural due-process rights by terminating her without the appropriate notice and without a hearing.

I have presided over the case since its filing in October of 2025. In November of 2025, after oral argument, I issued a published order denying preliminary injunctive relief. Among other reasons, I denied preliminary relief because, having already been terminated, Plaintiff was not currently suffering a chill on her speech and was not subject to threatened government conduct. Later, in May of 2026, I granted in part and denied in part Defendants' motion to dismiss. I allowed the federal and state retaliation-for-protected-speech claims to move forward against certain Defendants, but I dismissed the remaining claims. I also gave Plaintiff the opportunity to amend her complaint.

Plaintiff filed an amended complaint. Defendants then filed a renewed motion to dismiss. The case remains pending.

A pharmaceutical manufacturer sued Arkansas officials to prevent the enforcement of Act 630 of 2025. The challenged Act sought to regulate pharmaceutical manufacturers' use of limited drug-distribution networks that do not include Arkansas pharmacies. Plaintiff alleged the Act violated the Dormant Commerce Clause and was preempted by federal law.

I have presided over the case since its filing in June of 2025. In January of 2026, I held an evidentiary hearing on Plaintiff's motion for preliminary injunction and held oral argument on Defendants' motion to dismiss. In May of 2026, I issued a published order granting Plaintiff's motion for preliminary injunction. I concluded that Plaintiff was likely to succeed on its Dormant Commerce Clause claim, and I enjoined the Arkansas Board of Pharmacy from enforcing Act 630 against Plaintiff pending final judgment.

Based on subsequent developments, Defendants have now suggested the case is moot. I stayed consideration of the earlier motion to dismiss pending resolution of the mootness issue. The case remains pending.

A widow, individually and on behalf of her late husband's estate and certain wrongful-death beneficiaries, sued the United States and federal law-enforcement officers. Plaintiff alleged that the officers violated the Fourth Amendment, and committed various state torts, when—in an attempt to serve and execute a search warrant—they entered her home, exchanged gunfire with her husband, fatally shot him, and detained her afterward.

I have presided over the case since 2025. I held oral argument on motions to dismiss filed by the Government and the individual officers. In June of 2026, I granted in part and denied in part the Government's motion to dismiss the tort claims brought under the Federal Tort Claims Act (FTCA). I allowed 8 of the 9 pled FTCA claims to move forward in the litigation. Then, in July of 2026, I issued an order addressing the constitutional claims against the individual officers. I granted the officers' motion to dismiss because the logic of recent Bivens cases from the Supreme Court foreclosed Plaintiff's suit against the officers.

The case remains pending as to the remaining tort claims brought against the Government under the FTCA. A bench trial is scheduled to begin on August 3, 2027.

Two public high school teachers, two public high school students, and a civil-rights organization sued Arkansas officials. Plaintiffs challenged the constitutionality of the anti-indoctrination provision of the LEARNS Act on several grounds. I have presided over the case since its filing in 2024.

On April 30, 2024, I held a hearing on Plaintiffs' motion for preliminary injunction. Subsequently, I granted the motion in part. I explained that I was bound by Eighth Circuit precedent to conclude that the challenged provision violated the students' free-speech rights. But I suggested that the Eighth Circuit should overturn its precedent on this point given the Supreme Court's government speech doctrine. On appeal, the United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit concluded that, in light of the government speech doctrine, it could walk away from its precedent. The Circuit vacated the preliminary injunction and remanded the case.

While the appeal was pending, I held oral argument on Defendants' motion to dismiss, and I partially resolved that motion. I dismissed the facial equal protection claim, and I held the remaining issues in abeyance pending the appellate court's decision and supplemental briefing. Following the appellate court's decision and supplemental briefing, I issued an additional order that dismissed the as-applied equal protection challenge and requested the parties' views on whether the vagueness challenges were justiciable. The case remains pending.

5) Arkansas State Conf. NAACP v. Arkansas Bd. of Apportionment, 578 F. Supp. 3d 1011 (E.D. Ark. 2022); No. 4:21-CV-01239-LPR, 2022 WL 300917 (E.D. Ark. Jan. 31, 2022); 586 F. Supp. 3d 893 (E.D. Ark. 2022).

Two civic organizations sued the Arkansas Board of Apportionment, the State of Arkansas, and certain Arkansas officials. Plaintiffs challenged the 2021 reapportionment plan for the Arkansas House of Representatives under Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act. Plaintiffs alleged that the plan unlawfully diluted Black voting strength and sought expedited preliminary injunctive relief requiring a new districting plan for the 2022 election.

I presided over the expedited proceedings, ruled on pre-hearing matters, and conducted a preliminary-injunction hearing consisting of four days of testimony and a fifth day of closing arguments and legal presentations. In February of 2022, I denied the motion for preliminary injunction and dismissed the action without prejudice. I concluded that Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act did not expressly or implicitly provide a private right of action. The United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit affirmed the private-right-of-action ruling. But the Circuit modified the judgment from a dismissal without prejudice to a dismissal with prejudice—because the Circuit believed the private-right-of-action issue was a merits issue as opposed to a jurisdictional one. The Circuit subsequently denied a request for panel rehearing and a request for rehearing en banc in January of 2024.

Enviro Tech Chemical Services, Inc. sued Safe Foods Corporation for patent infringement. Enviro Tech claimed Safe Foods was infringing on a patented method of preparing poultry for distribution and sale. Plaintiff alleged that Defendant infringed numerous claims of the patent.

I was assigned the case in July of 2022. I held a claim-construction hearing in October of 2022. In December of 2022, I issued a claim-construction order finding two disputed patent terms indefinite. In June of 2024, after denying Plaintiff's motion to supplement its infringement contentions and after dealing with subsidiary issues in the case, I entered final judgment for Defendant on all claims brought against it. The United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit affirmed that judgment in May of 2026.

Oct. 24, 2024), abrogated by Pennington v. BHP Billiton Petroleum (Fayetteville), LLC, No. 24-3382, 2026 WL 2223863 (8th Cir. Aug. 3, 2026).

Arkansas mineral-interest owners sued a natural-gas producer concerning royalty payments under private oil-and-gas leases. Plaintiffs alleged that Defendant wrongfully deducted post-production costs from the first one-eighth of their royalty payments in violation of their leases and Arkansas law. Defendant countered that the Arkansas law at issue permitted the deductions notwithstanding contrary lease terms. I began presiding over the case when it was transferred to me in December of 2021 (shortly after the original complaint was filed). The case was transferred to me due to its close relation to a group of cases I was then (and still am) presiding over. See Olinger v. Flywheel Energy Prod., LLC, No. 4:20-cv-01146-LPR (E.D. Ark.); Eubanks v. Flywheel Energy Prod., LLC, No. 4:21-CV-00329-LPR (E.D. Ark.); Flowers v. Flywheel Energy Prod., LLC, No. 4:21-CV-00330-LPR (E.D. Ark.); Pennington v. BHP Billiton Petroleum (Fayetteville), LLC, No. 4:20-CV-00178-LPR (E.D. Ark.).

In January of 2023, the parties filed dueling motions for partial summary judgment. Because resolving those motions required interpreting an important Arkansas law in the absence of on-point caselaw from the Arkansas Supreme Court, I issued (in May of 2023) a published order certifying a legal question to the Arkansas Supreme Court. In that order, I explained my tentative view that the statute's plain language authorized the deductions Defendant was seeking. But I also asked the Arkansas Supreme Court for its interpretation of the statutory provision at issue. The Arkansas Supreme Court declined to answer the certified question. So, in July of 2023, I issued a published order based on my interpretation of the plain language of the Arkansas law, which I read to authorize the deductions Defendant wanted to take. I surmised that the Arkansas Supreme Court would allow deductions, and so I granted Defendant's motion for partial summary judgment.

In October of 2024, I issued a published order denying Plaintiffs' motion for reconsideration of the July 2023 partial summary judgment order. I also granted Defendant's motion for summary judgment. Plaintiffs argued that a recent decision by the Arkansas Court of Appeals diverged from my interpretation of the Arkansas law at issue, and that I was bound by (or should be persuaded by) the divergent interpretation. I denied Plaintiffs' motion because the Arkansas Court of Appeals' interpretation of the law was not dispositive of how the Arkansas Supreme Court would interpret the same law. Judgment was entered in Defendant's favor on all claims. In August of 2026, the Eighth Circuit abrogated the October 2024 order sub nomine. The Eighth Circuit concluded that the Arkansas statute was ambiguous and that, among other things, a statutory amendment that was enacted after my decision showed that an earlier Arkansas legislature had intended the law at issue to allow only deductions called for in the leases.

8) Dobbs v. United States, No. 4:20-CV-01192-LPR, 2023 WL 8436063 (E.D. Ark. Dec. 5, 2023).

A retired United States Marine and his wife sued the United States under the Federal Tort Claims Act following the Marine's spinal surgery at the Central Arkansas Veterans Healthcare System. Plaintiffs alleged that the surgeon's treatment of a dural tear, particularly the placement of a drain, fell below the applicable standard of care and caused a cerebrospinal-fluid leak resulting in a serious brain hemorrhage.

I presided over the case from its filing in 2020 through a four-day bench trial in late 2022 and post-trial proceedings. I ruled on evidentiary motions and the Government's motion for judgment on partial findings. In December of 2023, I found that the surgeon breached the applicable standard of care and that the breach proximately caused the brain hemorrhage. I issued findings of fact and conclusions of law, and then I entered judgment for Plaintiffs in the sum of (approximately) $3.1 million. On the Government's motion to alter the judgment, I revised the future-care damages calculation and thus reduced the judgment to (approximately) $2.97 million.

The Government initially appealed, but it later dismissed the appeal. Following remand, I approved the parties' settlement, after which the case was dismissed.

9) Equal Emp. Opportunity Comm'n v. Kroger Ltd. P'ship I, 608 F. Supp. 3d 757 (E.D. Ark. 2022).

The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission sued a national grocery retailer under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Two former employees intervened in the action. The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and the former employees alleged that the retailer discriminated against the former employees when it failed to accommodate the employees' religious objections to wearing a company apron displaying a multicolored heart symbol that the employees believed expressed support for the LGBTQ community. Instead of accommodating the employees, the company terminated them for refusing to comply with the dress code.

I presided over the case from its filing in 2020 through its resolution in 2022. I held oral argument on the parties' cross-motions for summary judgment. Then, I issued an order granting in part and denying in part the retailer's motion and denying the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's motion. I dismissed the retaliation claim. But I concluded that the religious-accommodation claims presented factual issues for trial. Specifically, I concluded that an employee's sincere belief that a certain company rule burdens their religious exercise is not subject to an objective reasonableness test and that a company must show real disruption or real potential for disruption to justify its refusal to accommodate a sincere religious belief. Before trial, the parties resolved the still-live claims through a consent decree, which I approved in October 2022.

10) United States v. Lee, 471 F. Supp. 3d 897 (E.D. Ark. 2020).

This matter involved post-conviction proceedings in a federal capital case. Defendant had been convicted of racketeering offenses and multiple murders in aid of racketeering. He had been sentenced to death.

After the prior presiding judge recused, I was assigned the case on July 6, 2020, approximately one week before Defendant's scheduled execution. Several time-sensitive motions were pending when the case was reassigned to me. I established expedited briefing schedules and ordered supplemental briefing concerning Defendant's challenges to the execution date. On July 10, 2020, I denied Defendant's motions to invalidate or modify the execution date, including his request for relief based on the COVID-19 pandemic. The following day, I issued a published opinion denying Defendant's motion for additional DNA comparison testing under the Innocence Protection Act and the Fifth Amendment.

During the same period, the United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit denied Defendant a stay of execution, a certificate of appealability, and authorization to file a successive § 2255 motion in an appeal from an order entered before the case was reassigned to me. Defendant separately appealed my July 10 order to the Eighth Circuit; following his execution, that appeal was administratively closed.

In this series of cases, Arkansas mineral-interest owners sued a natural-gas producer concerning royalty payments under private oil-and-gas leases. Plaintiffs alleged that Defendants wrongfully deducted post-production costs from the first one-eighth of their royalty payments in violation of their leases and Arkansas law. Defendants countered that the Arkansas law at issue permitted the deductions notwithstanding contrary lease terms. Because the plain language of the statute authorized the deductions that Defendants wanted to take, I surmised that the Arkansas Supreme Court would allow the deductions and granted summary judgment in relevant part. The Eighth Circuit reversed, concluding that the statute was ambiguous and that, among other things, a statutory amendment that was enacted after my decision showed that an earlier Arkansas legislature had intended the law at issue to allow only deductions called for in the leases.

Harris v. WEHCO Video, Inc., No. 2:21-CV-00040-LPR, 2024 WL 4350791 (E.D. Ark.

Sept. 30, 2024), aff'd in part, rev'd in part and remanded sub nom. Harris v. WEHCO Video, No. 24-3217, 2025 WL 2477154 (8th Cir. Aug. 28, 2025).

In this case, Plaintiff Johnny Harris sued his former employer (WEHCO Video) and some of its employees. Mr. Harris principally alleged race discrimination and retaliation in the form of (1) not being given access to an important customer relations management tool for his job, and (2) his placement on probationary status. He also alleged constructive discharge. I granted summary judgment in favor of WEHCO on all claims because I concluded that there was no evidence in the record from which a reasonable jury could conclude that the non-discriminatory reasons WEHCO gave for its conduct were pretext for discrimination.

The Eighth Circuit affirmed my decision with respect to Mr. Harris's placement on probationary status. But the Eighth Circuit concluded that Mr. Harris had done enough to create a genuine issue of material fact as to whether Defendants' explanation of Mr. Harris's lack of access to the customer relations management tool was pretextual. Accordingly, the Circuit reversed as to the claims based on lack of access to the customer relations management tool. The Circuit did not expressly address the constructive discharge portion of my order. The case is currently in settlement negotiations and, if those negotiations fall through, will proceed to trial.

Walls v. Sanders, 733 F. Supp. 3d 721 (E.D. Ark. 2024), vacated and remanded, 144 F.4th 995 (8th Cir. 2025).

In this case, two teachers, two students, and a civic organization sued Arkansas officials, challenging the constitutionality of the anti-indoctrination provision of the LEARNS Act. Generally speaking, the statutory provision at issue prevents teachers from forcing students to adopt or accept certain views. The teachers contended that the provision chilled them from speaking on controversial subjects and the students contended they had a right to hear such speech. Plaintiffs sought a preliminary injunction based on the provision's alleged infringement on the teachers' free speech rights and the students' free speech rights.

I declined to issue a preliminary injunction with respect to the teachers' claim, based in large part on the idea that the classroom speech regulated by the provision was government speech as opposed to the teachers' private speech. I did, however, grant a narrow preliminary injunction based on the students' claim because I concluded that binding Eighth Circuit precedent concerning a student's right-to-receive information required me to do so. I urged the Eighth Circuit to overturn this precedent (and thus my decision) in light of several Supreme Court cases on government speech doctrine. On appeal, the Eighth Circuit concluded that, in light of the government speech doctrine, it could and should walk away from the precedent I encouraged overturning. Accordingly, the Court reversed and remanded, vacating the preliminary injunction.

Garrett v. Payne, No. 4:20-CV-01252-LPR, 2023 WL 7229717 (E.D. Ark. Nov. 2, 2023), rev'd and remanded, 154 F.4th 599 (8th Cir. 2025), as corrected (Oct. 7, 2025).

In this habeas case, I adopted the Proposed Findings and Recommendation of Magistrate Judge Patricia Harris. Specifically, I adopted her view that a motion for belated appeal in Arkansas is part of the direct-review process as opposed to the collateral review process. The import of this question to the case was that Mr. Garrett's habeas petition would only be timely if the motion for belated appeal was considered to be part of the collateral review process. Over a dissent by Judge Stras, the Eighth Circuit concluded that a motion for belated appeal in Arkansas is part of the collateral review process. Therefore, the Circuit concluded that Mr. Garrett's habeas petition was timely and reversed my contrary conclusion. The case was remanded for additional habeas proceedings, but certiorari is presently being sought.

Arkansas State Conf. NAACP v. Arkansas Bd. of Apportionment, 586 F. Supp. 3d 893 (E.D. Ark. 2022), aff'd, 86 F.4th 1204 (8th Cir. 2023).

Two civic organizations sued the Arkansas Board of Apportionment, the State of Arkansas, and certain Arkansas officials. Plaintiffs challenged the 2021 reapportionment plan for the Arkansas House of Representatives under Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act. Plaintiffs alleged that the plan unlawfully diluted Black voting strength and sought expedited preliminary injunctive relief requiring a new districting plan for the 2022 election.

I denied the motion for preliminary injunction and dismissed the action without prejudice. I concluded that Section 2 of the Voting Rights Act did not expressly or implicitly provide a private right of action. Neither party had raised this issue, but my read of an Eighth Circuit case (Cross v. Fox, 23 F.4th 797 (8th Cir. 2022)) suggested the Circuit treated this question as a jurisdictional one. I noted that such treatment seemed potentially out of line with earlier Supreme Court precedent, but I explained that this was a tension for the Eighth Circuit to resolve. Accordingly, and since a court has an obligation to raise jurisdictional issues sua sponte, I asked the parties to brief the private-right-of-action issue and then ruled on that basis.

The Eighth Circuit affirmed my private-right-of-action ruling. But the Circuit read Cross v. Fox differently. The Circuit concluded that, in the run-of-the-mill case, a private-right-of-action-issue is a merits issue as opposed to a jurisdictional one. Accordingly, the Circuit modified the judgment from a dismissal without prejudice to a dismissal with prejudice. The Circuit subsequently denied panel and en banc rehearing in January of 2024.

United States v. Floss, No. 4:20-CR-00222-LPR, ECF 48 (E.D. Ark. Apr. 6, 2021), aff'd and remanded, 42 F.4th 854, 860 (8th Cir. 2022).

Mr. Floss pled guilty to failure to report international travel under the Sex Offender Registration and Notification Act. I sentenced him to 36 months in prison. I also sentenced him to 15 years of supervised release, with up to the first 36 months to be served on home detention.

The Circuit generally affirmed my sentence. As to the prison sentence, the affirmance was absolute. As to the 15 years of supervised release, the Circuit assumed—without deciding—that I had made a mistake in calculating the guidelines range, concluded it was not plain error, and concluded it did not affect Mr. Floss’s substantial rights. So the Circuit affirmed my supervised release sentence. However, because the written judgment said that home detention would be for the first three years and the Court’s oral pronouncement instead said home detention would be for up to the first three years, the Circuit remanded the case with instructions to amend the written judgment to conform it to the Court’s oral pronouncement. A copy of the original judgment is provided.

United States v. Atkins, No. 4:18-CR-00454-LPR, ECF 188 (E.D. Ark. Sept. 20, 2021), aff’d and remanded, 52 F.4th 745 (8th Cir. 2022).

A jury found Mr. Atkins guilty of sex trafficking of a minor. I sentenced him to 120 months of prison and 15 years of supervised release. The conviction and sentence were upheld by the Eighth Circuit. However, the Circuit ordered a limited remand for me to conform two special conditions of supervised release to the language required by two Eighth Circuit cases that issued after Mr. Atkins had been sentenced. The conforming language was necessary, in the Circuit’s view, to remedy what would otherwise have been vague conditions of supervised release. A copy of the original judgment is provided.

g. Provide a description of the number and percentage of your decisions in which you issued an unpublished opinion and the manner in which those unpublished opinions are filed and/or stored.

Since becoming a United States District Judge, I have issued over 4,700 orders/opinions. The unpublished opinions and orders comprise approximately 99% of the opinions and orders I have authored. Most of them are routine, standard form, and text-only orders. They are stored in the Court’s electronic filing system CM/ECF and available through PACER. Many of my unpublished opinions are available on Westlaw and Lexis.

h. Provide citations for significant opinions on federal or state constitutional issues, together with the citation to appellate court rulings on such opinions. If any of the opinions listed were not officially reported, provide copies of the opinions.

i. Provide citations to all cases in which you sat by designation on a federal court of appeals, including a brief summary of any opinions you authored, whether majority, dissenting, or concurring, and any dissenting opinions you joined.

I have never sat by designation on a federal court of appeals.

14. Recusal: If you are or have been a judge, identify the basis by which you have assessed the necessity or propriety of recusal (If your court employs an "automatic" recusal system by which you may be recused without your knowledge, please include a general description of that system.) Provide a list of any cases, motions or matters that have come before you in which a litigant or party has requested that you recuse yourself due to an asserted conflict of interest or in which you have recused yourself sua sponte. Identify each such case, and for each provide the following information:

- a. whether your recusal was requested by a motion or other suggestion by a litigant or a party to the proceeding or by any other person or interested party; or if you recused yourself sua sponte;
- b. a brief description of the asserted conflict of interest or other ground for recusal;
- c. the procedure you followed in determining whether or not to recuse yourself;
- d. your reason for recusing or declining to recuse yourself, including any action taken to remove the real, apparent or asserted conflict of interest or to cure any other ground for recusal.

As a federal district court judge, I have sought to comply with 28 U.S.C. § 455, disqualifying myself in specific circumstances commanded by the statute and in any case where my impartiality might reasonably be questioned. I have done this in two ways. I maintain an automatic recusal list with the Clerk of Court. This list covers all individuals and entities that I believe will always trigger recusal in my courtroom. For example, this list includes—among other individuals and entities—former clerks (for two years from the end of their clerkship), close friends, and companies in which I own stock. After a judge is randomly selected to preside over a case, the Clerk’s Office checks whether that judge’s automatic recusal list is triggered. If it is, the case gets automatically reassigned to another judge. In addition to the foregoing, when a case makes it through the (figurative) door to my chambers, one of the first things I check is whether there is any potential reason to consider recusal. If there is, I either decide that recusal is appropriate or ventilate the issue with the parties to get their thoughts before making a recusal decision. Finally, if a motion for recusal is made, I allow a response from the other side and then consider whether the statutory standard for recusal is met in the circumstances of the case.

Out of the approximately 3,000 cases formally assigned to me in my seven years on the bench, I have recused in 97 cases.

In the 51 cases listed below, I recused because I was, at least nominally, named as a defendant or an otherwise involved person in the case. In each of these cases, I raised and decided the recusal issue sua sponte:

Grays v. Payne, 4:21-CV-00356-BRW

Ashley v. Nash, 4:26-CV-00726-LPR-ERE
Roberts v. Payne, 5:04-CV-00004-JM

In the ten cases listed below, I recused because, at the time of recusal, either a party (or its affiliate) was itself on my recusal list or I determined that the case could have a direct or significant indirect effect on an individual or entity (or its affiliate) on my recusal list. In each of these cases, I raised and decided the recusal issue sua sponte.

Wilson v. Clearwater Paper, 2:22-CV-00060-DPR
Ingram v. C.H. Robinson Co., 2:23-CV-00156-KGB
Gill Custom Application LLC v. RLI Ins. Co., 2:24-CV-00053-BSM
Serna v. Titan Int'l Inc., 2:25-CV-00117-BSM
Pharm. Rsch. and Mfrs. of Am. v. McClain, 4:21-CV-00864-KGB
Gray v. Unum Life Ins., 4:21-CV-01208-KGB
Wooley v. Cato Corp., 4:22-CV-00997-BSM
Eades v. Citizens Fin. Group Inc., 4:23-CV-01099-JM
Wilborn v. Centennial Bank, 4:24-CV-00762-BSM
Gibson v. Nat'l R.R. Passenger Corp., 4:25-CV-00396-KGB

In the five cases listed below, I recused because at least one of the litigants was a close enough friend or colleague that I decided that hearing the matter would either be an actual conflict or present the appearance of a conflict. In all but one of these cases, I raised and decided the recusal issue sua sponte. In the Imber case, I raised the specific reason for which I recused sua sponte, but did so after Plaintiff filed a motion to recuse me on other grounds.

Bunch v. Marshall, 4:21-CV-00431-WMW
Maskell v. Kemp, 4:24-CV-00037-BSM
Noble v. Kemp, 4:24-CV-00812-KGB
Imber v. Flywheel Energy LLC, 4:25-CV-00479-BSM
McClain v. Baker, 4:25-CV-00741-BSM

In the four cases listed below, I concluded that the alleged and/or material facts in those cases touched on issues that were too close to circumstances of my own immediate or extended family for me to fairly sit on the case. In each of these cases, I raised and decided the recusal issue sua sponte.

Doe v. Greenbrier Sch. Dist., 4:21-CV-00987-BRW
Doe v. Vilonia Sch. Dist., 4:23-CV-00696-KGB
Allen v. Hot Springs Sch. Dist., 4:25-CV-00626-DPM
Does v. Conway Sch. Dist., 4:26-CV-00001-BSM

In the four cases listed below, I recused because something a party did or said was so out-of-bounds that it made it difficult for me to fairly adjudicate the case, and I did not believe the party did or said the problematic thing in an intentional attempt to get me off the case. In these four cases, I raised and decided the recusal issue sua sponte.

Mullenix v. City of Jonesboro, 3:21-CV-00232-BSM
United States v. Thomas, 3:23-CR-00020-KGB-1
Hammett v. Portfolio Recovery Assocs. LLC, 4:21-CV-00189-BSM
Thompson v. Conagra Brands Inc., 4:21-CV-01133-BSM

In the four cases listed below, I recused because the Arkansas Attorney General's Office was temporarily on my recusal list. In these four cases, I raised and decided the recusal issue sua sponte. These cases all arose soon after I came to the bench. At that time, the Arkansas Attorney General's Office was on my recusal list because I had worked there as Solicitor General of Arkansas shortly before coming to the bench.

Ferrell v. Kelley, 4:20-CV-00035-KGB
Barber v. Steve, 4:20-CV-00051-BRW
Perry v. McDaniels, 4:20-CV-00052-JM
Aikens v. Green, 4:20-CV-00120-BRW

In the three cases listed below, I recused because I either did or may have worked on, supervised, or known details of the case while litigating at the Arkansas Attorney General's Office. The recusals would have taken place after enough time passed since my employment at the Arkansas Attorney General's Office that I no longer needed to automatically recuse on cases involving the Arkansas Attorney General's Office. In the Green case, I raised and decided the recusal issue sua sponte. In the other two cases, I recused after the Arkansas Attorney General's Office notified me that an initial check of privileged emails indicated that I had some level of participation in matters related to the cases at bar.

Green v. Payne, 4:20-CV-01449-JM
Strawhacker v. Payne, 4:23-CV-00692-BRW
Lewis v. Payne, 4:23-CV-01013-KGB

In the two cases listed below, I recused because the State of Arkansas was temporarily on my recusal list. In each of these cases, I raised and decided the recusal issue sua sponte. These cases all arose soon after I came to the bench. At that time, the State of Arkansas was on my recusal list because the State had been my primary client when I worked as Solicitor General of Arkansas, which was shortly before coming to the bench.

United States v. Neely, 4:19-CR-00405-JM
Burnett v. Payne, 4:19-CV-00890-KGB

In the two cases listed below, I recused because I had a large insurance claim with one of the parties at or around that time. In each of these cases, I raised and decided the recusal issue sua sponte.

Parker v. Allstate Ins. Co., 4:22-CV-00819-BRW
Allstate Prop. and Cas. Ins. Co. v. Blackburn, 4:26-CV-00085-KGB

In the twelve cases listed below, I cannot recall the specific basis for my recusal. But I would not have recused in a case unless I believed the statutory requirements for recusal were met. I am of the opinion that, when the statutory requirements for recusal are not met, a judge has a duty to sit that is as important as the duty to recuse when required.

Williams v. Collard, 3:24-CV-00113-DPM
Towner v. Bold Team LLC, 3:24-CV-00128-DPM
Lewis v. Arkansas State Police, 4:18-CV-00510-JWB
Janet v. Payne, 4:21-CV-00933-JM
Taylor v. Capital One Fin. Corp., 4:23-CV-00581-JM
Federal Nat'l Mtg. Assoc. v. Apex Towne Cnty. LLC, 4:24-CV-00634-JM
Nguyen v. Savage Enters., 4:24-CV-00939-DPM
Ehrenberg v. Cigarette Store LLC, 4:24-CV-00939-DPM
Hill v. Culclager, 4:24-CV-01060-KGB
Guidry v. USA, 4:25-CV-00065-JM
Wilkes v. AmeriSave Mtg. Corp., 4:26-CV-00002-JM
Washington v. Nat'l Credit Union Admin. Bd., 4:26-CV-00083-BSM

I have denied seven motions for recusal:

In Ward v. Copenhaver, 3:22-CV-00250-LPR-BBM, Mr. Ward sought my recusal primarily based on his belief that I was biased against him and was intentionally delaying his case and ruling against him because of that bias. This was not true. And in denying his motion, I noted that nothing in the way the case had been handled came anywhere close to meeting the governing recusal standard. In part to assuage Mr. Ward's incorrect but seemingly sincere concerns, I referred the case to the magistrate judge to make all non-dispositive rulings and to write recommendations to me on all dispositive rulings.

In Robinson v. Payne, 4:20-CV-01187-LPR, Mr. Robinson filed a conclusory motion to recuse me, alleging only that I violated unidentified criminal and civil laws. Mr. Robinson provided no facts that actually supported his legal contention. And his contention was untrue. Because there was no valid basis for recusal, I denied the motion.

In Arkansas State Conference NAACP v. Arkansas Board of Apportionment, 4:21-CV-01239-LPR, Plaintiffs sought my recusal on the grounds of an appearance of impropriety. While acknowledging that I had no actual conflict in the case, Plaintiffs principally argued that I should recuse because Governor Hutchinson and Attorney General Rutledge were official-capacity defendants in the case, and in the past I had made political donations to each of them and had worked for Attorney General Rutledge as Solicitor General of Arkansas. I disagreed for reasons I laid out in a 17-page order. I cannot explain the reasons for my decision, and my overall approach to recusals, any clearer than the way I did in that order.

In Sherman v. Payne, 4:24-CV-00343-LPR and Sherman v. Payne, 4:25-CV-00153-LPR, I denied a total of three motions. They were all completely frivolous motions. Two of the motions primarily accused me and the magistrate judge of trying to falsely imprison and kill Plaintiff. The other motion primarily accused me and the magistrate judges (and all federal court judges in Arkansas) of being biased in favor of the state because the Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 (AEDPA) and the Prison Litigation Reform Act (PLRA) were enacted by Arkansas-born President Clinton. The foregoing are not the only grounds on which recusal was sought, but they are generally representative of the contentions in the recusal motions. I denied the motions because they were frivolous and stated no reason that would trigger the statutory need to recuse.

In Frazier v. City of Alexander, 4:25-CV-00338-LPR, Mr. Frazier sought my recusal in large part because he believed I caused a BOLO alert to be placed on him. That was not true. Similarly untrue was Mr. Frazier's other principal reason for asking for recusal: alleged ex parte communications between me and defense counsel. Because there was no valid basis for recusal, I denied the motion.

15. Public Office, Political Activities and Affiliations:

- a. List chronologically any public offices you have held, other than judicial offices, including the terms of service and whether such positions were elected or appointed. If appointed, please include the name of the individual who appointed you. Also, state chronologically any unsuccessful candidacies you have had for elective office or unsuccessful nominations for appointed office.

Solicitor General of Arkansas (July 2015 – July 2018). I was appointed by Arkansas Attorney General Leslie Rutledge.

Arkansas Advisory Committee to the United States Commission on Civil Rights (November 2016 – November 2019). To the best of my understanding, I was appointed by the Commission.

b. List all memberships and offices held in and services rendered, whether compensated or not, to any political party or election committee. If you have ever held a position or played a role in a political campaign, identify the particulars of the campaign, including the candidate, dates of the campaign, your title and responsibilities.

Member, Arkansas Republican Party (2014 – 2019).

Member, Tusk Club (2016 – 2019).

Fundraiser Host, Leslie Rutledge for Arkansas Attorney General (2018). My wife and I hosted a fundraiser for Leslie Rutledge at our home.

Volunteer Fundraiser, Jeb Bush for President (2016). I solicited donations from friends for Jeb Bush.

Member, Northwest Arkansas Chapter of the Arkansas Young Republicans (2014 – 2015).

Member, Benton County Republican Committee (2014 – 2015).

Volunteer Lawyer, Cotton for Senate (2014). I provided advice to campaign counsel on how to set up and run a volunteer lawyers group during the campaign and on election day. I also fielded legal questions on election day. In addition to my work as a volunteer lawyer, I solicited campaign contributions from friends for Senator Cotton.

Fundraiser Host, Ron DeSantis for Congress (2012). My wife and I hosted a fundraiser for Ron DeSantis at our home.

Deputy General Counsel and Director of Legal Election Day Operations, Mitt Romney for President (February 2012 – December 2012). I coordinated staff lawyers and volunteer lawyers for poll watching activities, litigation support, and potential recount contingencies. I reviewed press statements for legal propriety. I assisted in ensuring fair state primaries, caucuses, and conventions. I also carried out routine in-house counsel responsibilities.

Deputy General Counsel and Acting General Counsel, Steve Poizner for Governor (January 2010 – June 2010). I coordinated volunteer lawyers for poll watching activities, litigation support, and potential recount contingencies. I reviewed press statements and advertisements for legal propriety. I supervised the campaign's financial reporting responsibilities. I also carried out routine in-house counsel responsibilities.

Volunteer Lawyer, McCain for President / Lawyers for McCain (2008). I assisted with ballot access issues during early voting and on election day in Nevada. I also prepared litigation papers for potential filing.

Member, Romney for President Judicial Advisory Council (2008). I was a member of the campaign's judicial advisory council.

President, Harvard Law Republicans (2004 – 2005).

Political Director, Harvard Law Republicans (2003 – 2004).

Member, Harvard Law Republicans (2002 – 2005).

Poll Watcher, George W. Bush for President (2004).

Director of Elections, Cornell Republicans (2001).

Member, Cornell Republicans (1997 – 2002).

Volunteer, Rick Lazio for Senate (2000). As a member of the Cornell Republicans, I volunteered for phone banks and door-to-door campaigning in support of Rick Lazio.

Volunteer, Allan Binder for Suffolk County Legislator (1996). I vaguely recall that, when I was in high school, I volunteered as a leafletter and phone banker for Allan Binder.

16. Legal Career: Answer each part separately.

a. Describe chronologically your law practice and legal experience after graduation from law school including:

i. whether you served as clerk to a judge, and if so, the name of the judge, the court and the dates of the period you were a clerk;

From 2005 to 2006, I served as a law clerk to the Honorable Robert J. Cordy III, Associate Justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court.

From 2006 to 2007, I served as a law clerk to the Honorable Andrew J. Kleinfeld, Circuit Judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.

ii. whether you practiced alone, and if so, the addresses and dates;

I have not practiced law alone.

iii. the dates, names and addresses of law firms or offices, companies or governmental agencies with which you have been affiliated, and the nature of your affiliation with each.

- iv. whether you served as a mediator or arbitrator in alternative dispute resolution proceedings and, if so, a description of the 10 most significant matters with which you were involved in that capacity.

I have not served as a mediator or arbitrator.

b. Describe:

i. the general character of your law practice and indicate by date when its character has changed over the years.

In 2007 – 2009, 2010 – 2011, and 2013 – 2014, I was a civil litigator and appellate attorney at Kirkland & Ellis, LLP. I worked principally on constitutional, administrative, environmental, and complex commercial litigation in the federal district courts and federal courts of appeal. I coordinated significant discovery matters, prepared lay and expert witnesses for court, defended depositions, drafted numerous motions to dismiss and motions for summary judgment in trial courts, and drafted numerous appellate briefs. I also worked closely with in-house counsel to review written and oral presentations to governments and industry trade associations.

In 2009, when my wife began a clerkship in Alaska for the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, I joined a small firm (Borgeson & Burns, P.C.) in Fairbanks. I prepared a memorandum regarding several questions of employment law for a hotel franchise. I also drafted complaints, motions to dismiss, motions for summary judgment, and an appellate brief in areas ranging from trespass law to property disputes to complex commercial transactions. I also counseled a small corporation on its dissolution.

In 2010, I became the Deputy General Counsel to Steve Poizner's 2010 campaign for Governor of California. For several months, my supervisor was on maternity leave, and I served as the Acting General Counsel to the campaign. I ensured the campaign's compliance with relevant campaign finance, election, and employment laws. I reviewed all statements from the campaign prior to their use. I prepared and/or supervised the preparation of election law litigation templates (complaints, affidavits, motion for temporary restraining orders, responses) to use if needed on election day. I coordinated poll watchers and legal advisors.

After Poizner lost the primary in 2010, my wife and I returned to D.C. and I went back to work at Kirkland & Ellis, LLP, where my practice continued as described above until 2012. In 2012, I joined Mitt Romney's presidential campaign as Deputy General Counsel (and later as Director of Legal Election Day Operations as well). I supervised lawyers around the country—some employees, many volunteers—in legal preparations for primaries, caucuses, conventions, and ultimately general election day. I also analyzed the election laws of nearly every state across the country, specifically regarding operations of the primary, caucus, and/or general election. With this information, I advised our political team on how best to comply with and succeed under those laws.

After Romney lost the general election, I returned to Kirkland & Ellis, where my practice continued as described above until 2014. When I moved in-house to Walmart in 2014, my duties included (1) advising our federal and state corporate affairs teams on applicable campaign finance and lobbying laws, (2) reviewing, for legal propriety, potential responses from our corporate communications team to media inquiries across all subject matters, (3) understanding the state of our most sensitive and high-profile litigation in order to provide relevant updates to our corporate communications professionals, (4) reviewing, for legal propriety, numerous portions of Walmart's Annual Global Responsibility Report, and (5) drafting contracts between our Corporate Affairs department and outside vendors.

In 2015, I was appointed Solicitor General of Arkansas by Arkansas Attorney General Leslie Rutledge. During my three-year tenure as Solicitor General, I (1) litigated cases in the state trial court and the federal district court, (2) briefed and/or argued matters in the Arkansas Supreme Court, the Eighth Circuit, and the United States Supreme Court, and (3) reviewed and revised Attorney General Opinions. The matters I handled included a variety of topics, such as the death penalty, murder convictions, proper sentencing, equal protection, due process, sovereign immunity, private rights of action, free speech, free exercise, the establishment clause, separation of powers, and federalism.

In addition to the matters I directly handled, I also reviewed and revised nearly all briefs from our civil and criminal departments before they were filed in the Arkansas Supreme Court or any federal courts of appeal. On novel or sensitive legal matters, I helped those departments plan and supervise legal strategy for trial litigation in both the state and federal courts. I estimate that, as part of this process, I reviewed and revised approximately 500 briefs and trial court motions.

I also created and ran a formal moot court program for the office. Attorneys had to be mooted twice in front of me and other peers before arguing a case in the Arkansas Supreme Court or the federal courts of appeal. This required me to complete a deep dive into the briefs and trial record of almost every case argued by the office. I estimate that I presided over about 70 moot courts.

In 2018, I returned to Walmart as a Senior Director on the Anti-Corruption Compliance Team. For approximately six months, I assisted Walmart's Corporate Secretary and Chief Legal Officer in streamlining policies, processes, and organizational structures in the legal department and the ethics and compliance department. I also served as the global subject matter expert on anti-corruption training. I left Walmart in 2019 to take the District Court seat in the United States Eastern District of Arkansas.

- ii. your typical clients and the areas at each period of your legal career, if any, in which you have specialized.

At Kirkland & Ellis, LLP, my clients were generally Fortune 500 companies and national trade associations. For much of my Kirkland practice, I specialized in environmental law.

At Borgeson & Burns, I had a general practice. I had no "typical" clients. My clients included individuals with property disputes, small companies requiring corporate law services and employment law advice, and a utility company requiring litigation defense work.

As in-house counsel to two political campaigns (and as a volunteer lawyer for other political campaigns), I primarily specialized in campaign finance law, election law, and ballot access issues. I most often counseled the campaigns' political and policy departments.

At Walmart, during the time I counseled the Corporate Affairs and Government Relations team, I specialized in campaign finance laws, lobbying rules and media relations. I also helped the company train associates to comply with the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and other applicable anti-corruption laws worldwide.

As Solicitor General of Arkansas, I represented the State of Arkansas, state agencies and state officials. I also provided counsel to the Arkansas Attorney General. I specialized in state and federal constitutional law.

c. Describe the percentage of your practice that has been in litigation and whether you appeared in court frequently, occasionally, or not at all. If the frequency of your appearances in court varied, describe such variance, providing dates.

At Kirkland & Ellis, LLP and Borgeson & Burns P.C., 80% of my practice was in litigation and appeals. I very rarely appeared in court and not as principal counsel.

During my time as in-house counsel for (and as a volunteer lawyer to) political campaigns, 20% of my practice was in litigation and appeals. I did not appear in court.

During my time at Walmart, 5% of my practice was in litigation and appeals. I did not appear in court.

During my time as Solicitor General of Arkansas, 95% of my practice was in litigation and appeals. I appeared in state and federal courts frequently, often multiple times a month.

i. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

- | | | |
|----|--------------------------|-----|
| 1. | federal courts: | 55% |
| 2. | state courts of record: | 40% |
| 3. | other courts: | 0% |
| 4. | administrative agencies: | 5% |

ii. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

- | | | |
|----|-----------------------|-----|
| 1. | civil proceedings: | 65% |
| 2. | criminal proceedings: | 35% |

d. State the number of cases in courts of record, including cases before administrative law judges, you tried to verdict, judgment or final decision (rather than settled), indicating whether you were sole counsel, chief counsel, or associate counsel.

Before taking the bench, I was involved in one full trial, and in numerous cases that were resolved by a court as opposed to being settled by the parties.

I was a member of Kirkland & Ellis's large trial team representing British Petroleum in the Deepwater Horizon multi-district litigation. We tried Phase One of this matter fully, with the Judge issuing Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law. I was an associate counsel. I prepared witnesses for trial, prepared examination questions for lead counsel, assisted in resolving exhibit disputes, and prepared daily summations of testimony and court rulings for the client.

As Solicitor General of Arkansas, I conducted four preliminary injunction or stay of execution hearings that involved multiple fact and expert witnesses. I was the chief counsel in those matters and supervised a team of several lawyers. I litigated a preliminary injunction matter in federal district court that was based primarily on a matter of law. Thus, the preliminary injunction decision amounted to a final judgment. I was chief counsel on this matter.

i. What percentage of these trials were:

- | | | |
|----|-----------|------|
| 1. | jury: | 0% |
| 2. | non-jury: | 100% |

e. Describe your practice, if any, before the Supreme Court of the United States. Supply four (4) copies of any briefs, amicus or otherwise, and, if applicable, any oral argument transcripts before the Supreme Court in connection with your practice.

17. Litigation: Describe the ten (10) most significant litigated matters which you personally handled, whether or not you were the attorney of record. Give the citations, if the cases were reported, and the docket number and date if unreported. Give a capsule summary of the substance of each case. Identify the party or parties whom you represented; describe in detail the nature of your participation in the litigation and the final disposition of the case. Also state as to each case:

- a. the date of representation;
- b. the name of the court and the name of the judge or judges before whom the case was litigated; and
- c. the individual name, addresses, and telephone numbers of co-counsel and of principal counsel for each of the other parties.

1. Haas v. Martin, 60CV-18-752 (Pulaski Cnty. Cir. Ct.) (Gray, J.). Dates of representation: February 2018 – July 2018.

I represented the State Board of Elections and its members against a state constitutional challenge to Arkansas's voter identification system. The state trial court concluded the system contravened Arkansas's constitution and entered a preliminary injunction. The Arkansas Supreme Court stayed the trial court's injunction and ultimately reversed it. Martin v. Haas, 2018 Ark. 283. The Court concluded the voter identification system did not violate the Arkansas Constitution. On remand, Plaintiff dismissed his claims with prejudice.

I supervised this litigation at the state trial court and Arkansas Supreme Court. I heavily revised drafts of our motion to dismiss and preliminary injunction papers. I coordinated discovery. I prepared witnesses for testimony at a preliminary injunction hearing. I assisted lawyers from our office in preparing cross-examination questions. I supervised the preparation of witness affidavits. I directed associate counsel in conducting the preliminary injunction hearing. I argued some evidentiary issues and a question related to the presence or absence of party witnesses in the courtroom. I drafted significant portions of our stay motion to the Arkansas Supreme Court, and I heavily revised the other portions. I left the Solicitor General role before merits briefing and oral argument.

2. Kelley v. Johnson, 2016 Ark. 268 (Brill, C.J. & Danielson, Baker, Goodson, Hart, Wood, Wynne, JJ.). Dates of representation: July 2015 – April 2017.

Nine death row prisoners brought multiple claims alleging that the manner in which Arkansas intended to carry out their death sentences violated the Arkansas Constitution and state law. Johnson v. Kelley, 60CV-15-2921 (Pulaski Cty.). They also requested stays of scheduled executions. I represented the Director of the Arkansas Department of Corrections.

The state trial court entered what it called a preliminary injunction prohibiting the scheduled executions. The Arkansas Supreme Court concluded that the state trial court did not have the authority to enter what amounted to a stay of execution. Nonetheless, the Arkansas Supreme Court entered its own stay of execution. See Wendy Kelley v. the Hon. Wendell Griffen, 2015 Ark. 375. The trial court largely denied Defendant's motion to dismiss. The trial court granted partial summary judgment for Plaintiffs (on a contracts clause claim regarding disclosure of execution drug information) and denied Defendant's motion for summary judgment on all claims. The Arkansas Supreme Court stayed the case. The Court ultimately reversed the trial court on all claims, and ordered the case dismissed. The United States Supreme Court denied certiorari. On remand, the state trial court dismissed the case with prejudice.

I supervised the litigation in the state trial court, including significantly revising our motion to dismiss, motion for summary judgment, and stay opposition papers. I drafted large portions of our stay and merits briefing in the Arkansas Supreme Court, and heavily edited those portions I did not draft. I presented oral argument at the Arkansas Supreme Court. I drafted most portions of the United States Supreme Court papers—oppositions to time extensions, stay applications, and certiorari. Johnson v. Kelley, 137 S. Ct. 1067, Nos. 16A336, 16A986, 16-6496. I reviewed and heavily revised the portions of the United States Supreme Court papers I did not draft. When the case returned to the state trial court, I litigated the case until it was dismissed with prejudice.

3. McGehee v. Hutchinson, No. 4:17-CV-00179-KGB, 2017 WL 1399554, (E.D. Ark.) (Baker, J.). Dates of representation: March 2017 – June 2018.

Three weeks before their scheduled execution, nine death row prisoners challenged, inter alia, Arkansas's lethal injection protocol and Arkansas's execution schedule as a violation of the Eighth Amendment, due process, and/or other constitutional and statutory protections. I represented Arkansas Governor Asa Hutchinson and Wendy Kelley in her official capacity as the Director of the Arkansas Department of Corrections.

The prisoners asked for a preliminary injunction/stays of execution. There was significant expedited discovery, motion to dismiss briefing, preliminary injunction/stay briefing and a four-day hearing at which numerous witnesses (some lay, some expert) testified. I supervised and directed this litigation, with the assistance of several other lawyers from the Attorney General's Office. I significantly revised expedited discovery motions/responses drafted by others. I argued discovery issues in front of Judge Baker. I supervised the discovery process for our side of the litigation. I assisted in the preparation of three witnesses for direct testimony. I conducted cross-examination of two expert witnesses. I conducted the opening/closing arguments. I provided strategic guidance and direction to associate counsel in their questioning of other witnesses. I provided direction for, drafted large parts of, and heavily revised the remainder of our motion to dismiss and preliminary injunction/stay briefing.

The district court granted a preliminary injunction/stay with respect to Plaintiffs' claim that the three-drug midazolam protocol constituted cruel and unusual punishment and thus violated the Eighth Amendment. The Eighth Circuit vacated the injunction/stay. See McGehee v. Hutchinson, 854 F.3d 488 (8th Cir. 2017) (en banc). The United States Supreme Court denied Plaintiffs' stay application and denied certiorari. See McGehee v. Hutchinson, 137 S. Ct. 1275 (2017). I provided direction for, drafted parts of, and revised our Eighth Circuit and United States Supreme Court briefing. After four of the eight scheduled April 2017 executions went forward, I transferred this litigation to another lawyer in our office, though I continued to review briefing and supervise strategy decisions until I left the Solicitor General role in July of 2018.

4. Lewis v. State, 2017 Ark. 211 (Kemp, C.J. & Baker, Goodson, Hart, Wood, Wynne, Womack, JJ.). Dates of representation: January 2017 – August 2017.

Aaron Lewis kidnapped and murdered a real estate agent after posing as a potential home buyer. Lewis appealed his conviction, arguing that numerous different pieces of evidence should have been suppressed. The State filed a cross-appeal, disputing the lower court's decision to exclude some evidence from Lewis's home and car. I represented the State of Arkansas. The Arkansas Supreme Court affirmed Lewis's conviction and dismissed the State's cross-appeal.

I reviewed and revised the briefing at the Arkansas Supreme Court. I presented oral argument at the Arkansas Supreme Court.

5. McKesson Medical-Surgical Inc. v. Arkansas, 60CV-17-1960 (Pulaski Cnty. Cir. Ct.) (Gray, J.). Dates of representation: April 2017 – April 2018.

A pharmaceutical distributor, McKesson, brought multiple claims against the State of Arkansas, cumulatively alleging that state officials improperly obtained drugs from McKesson that the State planned to use in scheduled lethal injection executions. McKesson asked the state trial court to enter a temporary restraining order/preliminary injunction against use of these drugs in the scheduled executions. I represented the State of Arkansas, the Arkansas Department of Corrections, the Governor and the Director of the Arkansas Department of Corrections.

The first trial judge assigned to the case (Judge Wendell Griffen) entered an ex parte temporary restraining order. McKesson Medical-Surgical Inc. v. Arkansas, 60CV-17-1921 (Pulaski County, Arkansas). Shortly thereafter, McKesson voluntarily dismissed that case and the Arkansas Supreme Court removed Judge Griffen from all cases involving executions or the death penalty. McKesson filed a new complaint, again seeking injunctive relief. The new trial judge (Judge Alice Gray) granted the requested preliminary injunctive relief. After an emergency request from the State and briefing from both parties, the Arkansas Supreme Court vacated the injunction. Arkansas v. McKesson Medical-Surgical Inc., CV-17-317 (Ark. 2017). Eventually, because the drugs were used in executions and the remainder of the drugs expired, the Arkansas Supreme Court dismissed the case as moot at the joint request of both parties. 2018 Ark. 154.

I supervised this litigation. At the state trial court, I drafted significant portions of our motion for change of venue, motion to dismiss, and opposition to a preliminary injunction. I directed and heavily revised the portions I did not draft. I prepared our clients and witnesses for testimony at the preliminary injunction hearing. I argued some legal/evidentiary issues at the hearing. I conducted closing arguments. I drafted and revised cross-examination questions. I supervised associate counsel in questioning witnesses. At the Arkansas Supreme Court, I drafted significant portions of our multiple emergency writ petitions and our multiple stay briefing. I directed and heavily revised the portions I did not draft.

6. Pavan v. Smith, 582 U.S. 563 (2017). Dates of representation: July 2015 – March 2018.

Three same-sex female married couples brought a § 1983 suit against the Director of the Arkansas Department of Health. The couples were seeking declaratory and injunctive relief that would require Arkansas to (1) apply the presumption of paternity to a female spouse of a birth mother, and (2) thus automatically place the female spouse of a birth mother on the original birth certificate of the child without need for adoption or a court order. I represented the Director of the Arkansas Department of Health, who is responsible for issuing birth certificates.

The state trial court granted summary judgment in favor of the couples and ordered the three spouses to be placed on the birth certificates. Pavan v. Smith, 60CV-15-3153 (Pulaski County, Arkansas). The Arkansas Supreme Court stayed the trial court's order and reversed on appeal. Smith v. Pavan, 2016 Ark. 437. The United States Supreme Court granted the couples' petition for a writ of certiorari and summarily reversed the Arkansas Supreme Court. On remand, the Arkansas Supreme Court acknowledged the binding nature of the United States Supreme Court's ruling. But the Court noted that even under this ruling the state trial court went too far by unilaterally rewriting major portions of the state birth certificate statute. So, to that extent, the Arkansas Supreme Court vacated the state trial court's summary judgment ruling and remanded the case for further proceedings. Ultimately, the state trial court issued an order requiring the State to place female spouses of birth mothers on birth certificates on the same terms as the State would place male spouses of birth mothers on birth certificates.

I reviewed and revised the summary judgment papers in the state trial court. I drafted portions of the stay briefing and the merits briefing in the Arkansas Supreme Court. I heavily revised the portions I did not draft. I conducted oral argument in the Arkansas Supreme Court. I reviewed and revised our brief in opposition to certiorari in the United States Supreme Court. On remand to the Arkansas Supreme Court, I drafted our papers concerning actions for that court to take on remand. On remand to the state trial court, I drafted papers (1) concerning how to proceed given the higher court rulings, and (2) with respect to mediation ordered by the state trial court.

7. Planned Parenthood of Arkansas & Eastern Oklahoma v. Gillespie, 867 F.3d 1034 (8th Cir. 2017) (Colloton, Shepherd, & Melloy, JJ.). Dates of representation: September 2015 – December 2017.

This case concerned whether 42 U.S.C. § 1396a(a)(23) affords patients and/or providers a private right of action to challenge a State's decision to terminate a provider from its Medicaid program for (disputed) misconduct. There were additional constitutional claims brought by Plaintiffs, but they were not litigated in the first round of preliminary injunction litigation. I represented the Director of the Arkansas Department of Human Services in both the federal district court and the federal court of appeal.

The district court concluded that the patient Plaintiffs (not the provider) had a private right of action under the statute in question. The district court entered a preliminary injunction requiring the State to continue treating Planned Parenthood as part of the Medicaid program. Planned Parenthood Arkansas & Eastern Oklahoma v. Selig, 2015 WL 13710046. The Eighth Circuit vacated that decision, concluding that 42 USC § 1396a(a)(23) gives neither the provider nor the patients a private right of action. On remand, Plaintiffs requested a preliminary injunction based on their constitutional claims. The district court denied that request.

I supervised this litigation for about two years. I drafted most of our motion to dismiss and temporary restraining order/preliminary injunction papers. The parts drafted by another attorney were heavily and substantively revised by me. I drafted several motions pertaining to expedited discovery. I drafted discovery-related questions and documents addressed to Plaintiffs, and I supervised my client's response to discovery. I supervised potential witnesses in the drafting of affidavits. I argued discovery motions. I argued the motion to dismiss and preliminary injunction issues. I drafted papers related to (and argued) the question of whether a class action should be certified. I drafted the appellate briefs in this case and conducted oral argument at the Eighth Circuit. After the Eighth Circuit vacated the injunction and remanded the case for further proceedings, I transferred the case to my deputy.

8. Protect Fayetteville vs. City of Fayetteville, 2017 Ark. 49 (Kemp, C.J. & Baker, Goodson, Hart, Wood, Wynne, Womack. JJ.). Dates of representation: November 2015 – June 2018.

Private plaintiffs and (as an intervenor) the State of Arkansas claimed that a City's newly adopted anti-discrimination ordinance was preempted by state law. The City of Fayetteville argued that the ordinance was consistent with, and thus not preempted by, state law. The City also claimed that the applicable state law violated the Equal Protection Clause of the United States Constitution. During the case, the existence and scope of legislative and executive privilege also became a significant legal question. I represented the State of Arkansas, a plaintiff-intervenor.

The City prevailed in the trial court. Protect Fayetteville v. City of Fayetteville, No. 72CV-15-1510. The court granted summary judgment for the City, concluding that the ordinance did not conflict with the state law. The state trial court did not reach the City's claim that the state law was unconstitutional. On appeal, the Arkansas Supreme Court concluded (1) that the ordinance was preempted by the state law at issue, and (2) the City had failed to preserve the constitutional issue. The United States Supreme Court reversed and remanded the case.

When the case came back to the state trial court, the trial court did not enter final judgment for Plaintiffs. Instead, the court allowed the City to amend its answer and allowed a new entity to intervene in the case and file a counter-claim alleging the state law at issue was unconstitutional. The court also allowed for discovery that the State argued would violate legislative and executive privilege. The State asked for a preliminary injunction to enjoin the ordinance during the remaining litigation. The trial court denied the motion, and the State appealed. After staying the lower court proceedings, the Arkansas Supreme Court dismissed the entire case. Protect Fayetteville v. City of Fayetteville, 2019 Ark. 28, 2019 Ark. 30.

I supervised and participated in the litigation of this matter in state trial court. A lawyer from our Civil Department drafted the intervention papers and part of the motion to dismiss briefing (which was converted by the Judge to a summary judgment motion). I directed and then reviewed and substantially revised that briefing. I also was the primary drafter of portions of the brief in support and most of the reply brief on our motion to dismiss/motion for summary judgment. I drafted the State's opening and reply briefs to the Arkansas Supreme Court. I also presented oral argument to the Arkansas Supreme Court.

On remand, I reviewed and revised numerous papers. I was the primary drafter of the State's preliminary injunction motion. I provided strategic guidance, direction, and revisions to motions to quash discovery requests from opposing counsel. I supervised my deputy's conduct of a preliminary injunction and discovery hearing. I directed and heavily revised the State's request for the Arkansas Supreme Court to stay the case and accept an immediate appeal. On appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court, I drafted the opening and reply briefs on the preliminary injunction issue. I also provided strategic guidance, direction, and revisions to the briefing on the discovery issues. I left the Solicitor General role prior to oral argument of these issues.

9. Rodgers v. Bryant, 301 F. Supp. 3d 928 (E.D. Ark. Sept. 2017) (Wilson, J.). Dates of representation: August 2017 – June 2018.

Two plaintiffs challenged an Arkansas law prohibiting aggressive or dangerous panhandling. They claimed the law violated the First and Fourteenth Amendments of the United States Constitution. Specifically, they claimed the law prohibited/chilled their speech. I represented Colonel Bryant, Director of the Arkansas State Police. The district court preliminarily enjoined the law. On appeal, the Eighth Circuit affirmed the district court's grant of a statewide preliminary injunction.

I provided direction for, and heavily revised, the motion to dismiss, the opposition to a motion for preliminary injunction, and associated court papers. I helped prepare our witnesses for testimony at the preliminary injunction hearing. I cross-examined the two plaintiffs at the preliminary injunction hearing. I argued several legal issues at the same hearing. I provided direction for and reviewed portions of our Eighth Circuit briefing before I left the Solicitor General role.

10. Ward v. State, 2018 Ark. 59 (Kemp, C.J. & Baker, Goodson, Hart, Wood, Wynne, & Womack, JJ.). Dates of representation: April 2017 – June 2018.

Mr. Ward, a death row inmate, requested that the Arkansas Supreme Court recall the mandate in his case and reexamine his claim that his death sentence was unconstitutional under Ake v. Oklahoma and McWilliams v. Dunn. The underlying Ake violation, according to Mr. Ward, was lack of an independent defense expert on the issue of competency. I represented the State of Arkansas.

The Arkansas Supreme Court stayed Mr. Ward's executions, accepted full briefing and oral argument on the motion, and then denied recall. I directed and revised the briefing on the motion to recall the mandate. I presented oral argument. I drafted several post-decision procedural motions and responses at the Arkansas Supreme Court. After I left the role of Solicitor General, Mr. Ward unsuccessfully sought certiorari in the United States Supreme Court.

18. Legal Activities: Describe the most significant legal activities you have pursued, including significant litigation which did not progress to trial or legal matters that did not involve litigation. Describe fully the nature of your participation in these activities. List any client(s) or organization(s) for whom you performed lobbying activities and describe the lobbying activities you performed on behalf of such client(s) or organizations(s). (Note: As to any facts requested in this question, please omit any information protected by the attorney-client privilege.)

As Solicitor General of Arkansas, I reviewed and revised approximately 500 briefs of attorneys from the Civil Department and the Criminal Department, conducted approximately 70 moot courts to prepare lawyers in the office for oral arguments, and reviewed all Attorney General Opinions prior to their release.

In my role as in-house counsel for political campaigns, I spent the bulk of my time supervising the training and preparation of poll watchers, preparing for potential election period and recount litigation, and ensuring compliance with elections law in various states throughout the country. In my role as in-house counsel for Walmart, aside from providing legal counsel to our lobbyists, I primarily reviewed statements to press for accuracy and legal propriety.

At Kirkland & Ellis, LLP, I prepared expert and lay witnesses for deposition and trial, I prepared examination questions for use at trial, I defended depositions, I assisted in the taking of depositions, I supervised the preparation of expert reports, I significantly participated in discovery and document review, I wrote memoranda on different aspects of response and cleanup activities, and I reviewed and revised draft presentations/statements to governments, the industry, and media.

I have not performed lobbying on behalf of any client in my career. At Walmart, one of my roles as in-house counsel was to counsel our lobbying team on applicable laws and regulations.

19. Teaching: What courses have you taught? For each course, state the title, the institution at which you taught the course, the years in which you taught the course, and describe briefly the subject matter of the course and the major topics taught. If you have a syllabus of each course, provide four (4) copies to the committee.

Constitutional History, University of Arkansas at Little Rock William H. Bowen School of Law (Spring 2026). This course focused in detail on the debates at the Constitutional Convention of 1787. Syllabus supplied.

Creation of the Constitution, University of Arkansas School of Law (Spring 2018). This course focused in detail on the debates at the Constitutional Convention of 1787. Syllabus supplied.

Appellate Advocacy, University of Arkansas School of Law (Fall 2017). This course focused on refining brief-writing skills and oral advocacy. Syllabus supplied.

Federal Courts, University of Arkansas School of Law (Spring 2017). This course focused on difficult issues of federal jurisdiction. Syllabus supplied.

Environmental Law and Regulation, George Mason University Antonin Scalia Law School (Spring 2009). This course focused on major environmental laws, regulations, and Supreme Court cases. I do not have a syllabus.

20. Deferred Income/ Future Benefits: List the sources, amounts and dates of all anticipated receipts from deferred income arrangements, stock, options, uncompleted contracts and other future benefits which you expect to derive from previous business relationships, professional services, firm memberships, former employers, clients or customers. Describe the arrangements you have made to be compensated in the future for any financial or business interest.

None.

21. Outside Commitments During Court Service: Do you have any plans, commitments, or agreements to pursue outside employment, with or without compensation, during your service with the court? If so, explain.

I have no plans, commitments, or agreements to pursue outside employment during my service with the Eighth Circuit. However, I expect I would teach a law school course if and when time permits.

22. Sources of Income: List sources and amounts of all income received during the calendar year preceding your nomination and for the current calendar year, including all salaries, fees, dividends, interest, gifts, rents, royalties, licensing fees, honoraria, and other items exceeding $500 or more (if you prefer to do so, copies of the financial disclosure report, required by the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, may be substituted here).

When my nomination is submitted to the Senate, I will file my mandated Financial Disclosure Report and provide a copy to this Committee.

23. Statement of Net Worth: Please complete the attached financial net worth statement in detail (add schedules as called for).

See attached Net Worth Statement.

24. Potential Conflicts of Interest:

a. Identify the family members or other persons, parties, categories of litigation, and financial arrangements that are likely to present potential conflicts-of-interest when you first assume the position to which you have been nominated. Explain how you would address any such conflict if it were to arise.

If confirmed, I will recuse myself in any litigation where I have ever played a role. I will evaluate any other real or potential conflict, or relationship that could give rise to the appearance of conflict, on a case-by-case basis and determine appropriate action (up to and including recusal) with the advice of parties, their counsel, and the applicable laws, rules, canons, codes, and practices.

b. Explain how you will resolve any potential conflict of interest, including the procedure you will follow in determining these areas of concern.

If confirmed, I will review and address any real or potential conflict of interest pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 455, Canon 3 of the Code of Conduct for United States Judges, and all other laws, rules, canons, codes, and practices governing such circumstances.

25. Pro Bono Work: An ethical consideration under Canon 2 of the American Bar Association's Code of Professional Responsibility calls for "every lawyer, regardless of professional prominence or professional workload, to find some time to participate in serving the disadvantaged." Describe what you have done to fulfill these responsibilities, listing specific instances and the amount of time devoted to each.

From 2016 to 2019, I served as a member and parliamentarian of the Arkansas Advisory Committee to the United State Commission on Civil Rights. I estimate that I spent two hours per month on this.

I have served as a volunteer moot court judge at several appellate and trial advocacy competitions. I estimate that I spent five hours per year on this.

From 2014 to 2019, as a member, board member, and Vice President of Congregation Etz Chaim of Northwest Arkansas, I participated in and helped plan food drives, food packaging days, and charitable activities of this nature. I estimate that I spent five hours per year on this. From 2022 to 2023, I volunteered to teach Hebrew school at the Congregation B'nai Israel. I estimate that I spent three hours a week on this.

From 2016 to 2017, I served as the Co-Chairperson of the Arkansas Bar Commission on Diversity. I estimate that I spent one hour per month on this.

I participated in a diversionary Youth Court as a volunteer advisor in Fall 2009. I estimate that I spent 45 minutes per month on this.

I served as a member of the Board of Directors/Governors of Ivy Council, an association of the student governments of the Ivy League that is dedicated to creating positive change for both students and communities. from 2008 to 2012. I estimate that I spent six hours per year on this.

26. Selection Process:

a. Please describe your experience in the entire judicial selection process, from beginning to end (including the circumstances which led to your nomination and the interviews in which you participated). Is there a selection commission in your jurisdiction to recommend candidates for nomination to the federal courts? If so, please include that process in your description, as well as whether the commission recommended your nomination. List the dates of all interviews or communications you had with the White House staff or the Justice Department regarding this nomination. Do not include any contacts with Federal Bureau of Investigation personnel concerning your nomination.

In the Spring of 2026, I communicated to the White House Counsel's Office that, if a vacancy opened on the Eighth Circuit, I would be interested in being considered for the vacancy.

On or around June 19, 2026, the White House Counsel's Office asked me to interview for an Arkansas seat on the Eighth Circuit in the event of a vacancy. Shortly thereafter, I expressed my interest in the potential position to my home-state Senators. On July 1, 2026, I was interviewed in the Eisenhower Executive Office Building by attorneys from the White House Counsel's Office and from the Department of Justice's Office of Legal Policy.

On or around July 20, 2026, Judge Shepherd formally announced his intention to take senior status upon the confirmation of a successor. On August 12, 2026, the President called me to tell me that he was going to announce his intention to nominate me to the Eighth Circuit. Throughout the process, I have communicated with individuals in the White House Counsel's Office and the Office of Legal Policy.

b. Has anyone involved in the process of selecting you as a judicial nominee discussed with you any currently pending or specific case, legal issue or question in a manner that could reasonably be interpreted as seeking any express or implied assurances concerning your position on such case, issue, or question? If so, explain fully.

No.
