EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

"The attack took place on American soil, but it was an attack on the heart and soul of the civilized world. And the world has come together to fight a new and different war, the first, and we hope the only one, of the 21st century. A war against all those who seek to export terror, and a war against those governments that support or shelter them."

-President George W. Bush, 10/11/01

On September 11, terrorists attacked freedom.

The world has responded with an unprecedented coalition against international terrorism. In the first 100 days of the war, President George W. Bush increased America's homeland security and built a worldwide coalition that:

- ◆ Began to destroy al-Qaeda's grip on Afghanistan by driving the Taliban from power.
- ◆ Disrupted al-Qaeda's global operations and terrorist financing networks.
- ◆ Destroyed al-Qaeda terrorist training camps.
- ◆ Helped the innocent people of Afghanistan recover from the Taliban's reign of terror.
- ◆ Helped Afghans put aside long-standing differences to form a new interim government that represents all Afghans - including women.

President Bush is implementing a comprehensive and visionary foreign policy against international terrorism. The President's policy puts the world on notice that any nation that harbors or supports terrorism will be regarded as a hostile regime.

Diplomacy. President Bush has built a worldwide coalition against terrorism. More than 80 countries suffered losses on September 11; 136 countries have offered a diverse range of military assistance; 46 multilateral organizations have declared their support; and with U.S. leadership and international support, Afghans are putting aside long-standing ethnic and political differences to form a new and representative government.

Terrorist Finances. The President fired the first shot in the war on terrorism with the stroke of his pen to seize terrorist financial assets and disrupt their fundraising pipelines. The world financial community is moving to starve the terrorists of their financial support. 196 countries support the financial war on terror; 142 countries have acted to freeze terrorist assets; in the U.S. alone, the assets of 153 known terrorists, terrorist organizations, and terrorist financial centers have been frozen; and major terrorist financial networks have been closed down.

The Military Campaign. Operation Enduring Freedom began on October 7, 2001, and enjoys the support of countries from the United Kingdom to Australia to Japan. The Taliban have been forced to surrender major cities. The military has destroyed 11 terrorist training camps and 39 Taliban command and control sites. And al-Qaeda terrorists have been captured, killed or are on the run.

Law Enforcement. The U.S. has led a global dragnet to help bring terrorists to justice and help prevent future terrorist acts, creating the Foreign Terrorist Tracking Task Force to prevent terrorists from entering the U.S.; arresting and indicting known terrorists; increasing the global sharing of law enforcement information; and implementing tough new anti-terrorism laws.

Humanitarian. As Afghanistan's largest humanitarian donor, the U.S. has increased its aid to the Afghan people by providing $187 million in aid since October alone, including food, shelter, blankets, and medical supplies. The President also launched the America's Fund for Afghan Children that has already raised more than $1.5 million for the children of Afghanistan. As the harsh Afghan winter approaches, the U.S. commitment to the Afghan people is saving lives.

Homeland Security. President Bush has taken steps to help protect America against further terrorist attacks, providing $20 billion for homeland security; strengthening intelligence efforts; creating the Office of Homeland Security and the Homeland Security Council; implementing tough new airline security measures; and taking steps to protect America's mail.

Helping the Survivors of September 11. The American people have responded with overwhelming compassion for the families of the victims of September 11, donating at least $1.3 billion to charities.

Respecting Islam. Almost immediately after the attacks the President took steps to protect Muslim-Americans from hate crimes. The President also held a series of events, including hosting the first-ever White House Iftar and an Eid event at the end of Ramadan; the President visited the Islamic Center; and the President created the "Friendship Through Education" initiative to bring American and Muslim children closer together.

THE TRAGEDY OF SEPTEMBER 11

“Every one of the victims who died on September 11th was the most important person on earth to somebody.”

--President George W. Bush, 12/11/01

On September 11 the terrorists committed an act of war against the innocent. The terrorists killed not only to end lives -- they killed to end our way of life. Recently the terrorists said that we should forget the attacks of September 11. The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision they hope to export to every corner of the world.

The world will never forget the innocent victims, and the brave heroes who died attempting to save them. The world will never forget the survivors, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind:

- ◆ More than 3,000 people died or remain missing following the attacks. They came from more than 80 different nations, from many different races and religions.
- ◆ 343 firefighters and paramedics perished at the World Trade Center.
- ◆ 23 police officers and 37 Port Authority police officers died at the World Trade Center.
- ◆ Approximately 2,000 children lost a parent on September 11, including 146 children who lost a parent in the Pentagon attacks.
- ◆ One business alone lost more than 700 employees, leaving at least 50 pregnant widows.

On December 11, more than 120 countries stood together to remember the three-month anniversary of the terrorist attacks.

THE AL-QAEDA VISION FOR THE WORLD

THE WAR ON TERRORISM - THE FIRST 100 DAYS

"...we calculated in advance the number of casualties from the enemy, who would be killed based on the position of the tower. We calculated that the floors that would be hit would be three or four floors. I was the most optimistic of them all...due to my experience in this field, I was thinking that the fire from the gas in the plane would melt the iron structure of the building and collapse the area where the plane hit and all the floors above it only. This is all that we had hoped for."

--bin Laden

"This new enemy seeks to destroy our freedom and impose its views. We value life; the terrorists ruthlessly destroy it. We value education; the terrorists do not believe women should be educated or should have health care, or should leave their homes. We value the right to speak our minds; for the terrorists, free expression can be grounds for execution. We respect people of all faiths and welcome the free practice of religion; our enemy wants to dictate how to think and how to worship even to their fellow Muslims."

--President George W. Bush, 11/8/01

Al-Qaeda is a movement defined by hatred. They hate progress, and freedom, and choice, and culture, and music, and laughter, and women, and Christians, and Jews, and all Muslims who reject their distorted doctrines. They love and worship only one thing, and that is power -- power they use without mercy to kill the innocent.

In Afghanistan, we have seen al-Qaeda's vision for the world. The leadership of al-Qaeda had great influence in Afghanistan and was supported by the Taliban regime. Afghanistan's people have been brutalized -- many are starving and many have fled. Women were not allowed to attend school. A person could be jailed for owning a television. Religion could be practiced only as their leaders dictated. A man could be jailed in Afghanistan if his beard was not long enough.

The al-Qaeda terrorists believe it is acceptable to steal food meant for starving, innocent families. The al-Qaeda philosophy says it is acceptable to use innocent people as human shields for their military operations. The al-Qaeda philosophy says it is acceptable to oppress women and doom them to a lifetime of poverty.

- ◆ Treatment of Women & Children. First Lady Laura Bush led a worldwide initiative to highlight the Taliban's oppression of women. Before the Taliban, women played a key role in society. Then came al-Qaeda and their destruction of the Afghan family. The al-Qaeda-controlled Taliban regime especially targeted Afghan women and children, taking away their basic freedoms, splintering their families, putting their lives at risk, and relegating them to poverty. For example, the Taliban forbade the schooling for girls over the age of eight; shut down the women's university; banned women from working (stripping a society in desperate need of trained professionals of half its assets); restricted access to medical care for women; brutally enforced a restrictive dress code; forbade women from moving about their communities freely; and beat women for laughing out loud. The First Lady led a worldwide initiative to highlight the Taliban's oppression of women which helped lead to representation of women in the new interim government.
- ◆ Targeting Civilians. Al Qaeda and the Taliban regime have targeted civilians by literally using them as human shields for their military activities. For example, the November 6

Washington Post reports that the Taliban actually placed military assets in mosques and across the street from hospitals and innocent people's homes. Taliban commanders have also hijacked humanitarian aid facilities for military purposes. A senior officer told the Washington Post, "Whole villages are being used as human shields by the Taliban to protect their large stockpiles of ammunition and weapons hidden in nearby caves."

- ◆ Humanitarian Crimes. The al-Qaeda and Taliban contribution to the starving Afghan people has been a deliberate and systematic campaign to disrupt the efforts of international relief agencies to deliver desperately needed food and medical supplies to the Afghan people. For example, the Taliban seized control of two U.N. World Food Program (WFP) warehouses, one in Kabul, and one in Kandahar, containing more than half the World Food Program's wheat supply for Afghanistan. The WFP in Kandahar had been feeding 150,000 Afghans a month before the Taliban seizure. The Taliban are also actually hijacking humanitarian convoys for military purposes. The November 6 Washington Post reports, "A truck in a convoy purportedly on a humanitarian mission to deliver food tipped over, and crates of tank and mortar shells could be seen spilling to the ground underneath a thin layer of flour."
- ◆ Al Qaeda & the Drug Trade. Osama bin Laden and his organization finance many of their terrorist activities through the drug trade. In fact, on October 25, 2001, The Herald (Glasgow) reported, "Osama bin Laden financed the development of a highly-addictive liquid heroin which he named 'The tears of Allah' as part of his multi-pronged terrorist campaign to destabilise western society. . . One source said yesterday: 'It should be called the Devil's Brew rather than Allah's tears. It is a one-way ticket to addiction and death.'" The United Nations has also weighed in on the Taliban and al Qaeda connection to the drug trade. According to a U.N. Committee of Experts report on Resolution 1333 (May 2001), "Funds raised from the production and trading of opium and heroin are used by the Taliban to buy arms and other war materiel, and to finance the training of terrorists and support the operations of extremists in neighbouring countries and beyond."

DIPLOMACY

"The message to every country is, there will be a campaign against terrorist activity, a worldwide campaign. And there is an outpouring of support for such a campaign. Freedom-loving people understand that terrorism knows no borders, that terrorists will strike in order to bring fear, to try to change the behavior of countries that love liberty. And we will not let them do that."

--President George W. Bush, 9/19/01

Since September 11, President Bush and Secretary of State Colin Powell have built a worldwide coalition for the war against terrorism. The coalition is stronger than ever and continues to grow.

- ◆ Since September 11, President Bush has met with leaders from at least 51 different countries to help build support for the war against terrorism.
- ◆ 136 countries have offered a range of military assistance.
- ◆ The U.S. has received 46 multilateral declarations of support from organizations.
- ◆ The U.N. General Assembly and Security Council condemned the attacks on September 12.
- ◆ NATO, OAS and ANZUS (Australia, New Zealand and the U.S.) quickly invoked their treaty obligations to support the United States. Our NATO allies are assisting directly in the defense of American territory.
- ◆ 142 countries have issued orders freezing the assets of suspected terrorists and organizations.
- ◆ 89 countries have granted over-flight authority for U.S. military aircraft.
- ◆ 76 countries have granted landing rights for U.S. military aircraft.
- ◆ 23 countries have agreed to host U.S. forces involved in offensive operations.
- ◆ Through intelligence cooperation with many nations, we are acquiring evidence against those responsible for the attacks of September 11 and we are better able to prevent future attacks.
- ◆ With U.S. leadership and with international support, Afghans have put aside long-standing ethnic and political differences to form a new interim government, naming a president and 29 ministers with portfolio. The new government will also include women, who have been oppressed by the Taliban regime.
- ◆ On December 11, more than 120 nations around the world answered President Bush's call to reject terrorism and commemorate the victims of the September 11 attacks by holding remembrance ceremonies.
- ◆ The United States and several other allies have reopened embassies in Kabul.
- ◆ The President was joined by U.N. Secretary General Kofi Annan on November 11 for a memorial service honoring the citizens of all the countries killed in the World Trade Center.

TERRORIST FINANCES

"We put the world's financial institutions on notice: if you do business with terrorists, if you support them or sponsor them, you will not do business with the United States of America."

--President George W. Bush, 11/7/01

Terrorists need money to carry out their evil deeds. The President's first strike in the war against terror was not with a gun or a missile - the President's first strike was with his pen as he took action to freeze terrorist finances and disrupt their pipelines for raising and moving money in the future.

The world's financial institutions have been put on notice -- if you support, sponsor, or do business with terrorists, you will not do business with the United States. Denying terrorists access to funds is a very real success in the war on terrorism. Since September 11, the United States and its allies in the war on terrorism have been winning the war on the financial front:

- ◆ President Bush launched the first offensive in the war on terrorism on September 23 by signing an Executive Order freezing the U.S.-based assets of those individuals and organizations involved with terrorism.
- ◆ 196 countries and jurisdictions have expressed their support for the financial war on terror.
- ◆ 142 countries have issued orders freezing terrorist assets, and others have requested U.S. help in improving their legal and regulatory systems so they can more effectively block terrorist funds.
- ◆ The assets of at least 153 known terrorists, terrorist organizations, and terrorist financial centers have now been frozen in the U.S. financial system.
- ◆ Since September 11, the U.S. has blocked more than $33 million in assets of terrorist organizations. Other nations have also blocked another $33 million.
- ◆ On November 7, the U.S. and its allies closed down operations of two major financial networks - al-Barakaat and al-Taqwa - both of which were used by al-Qaeda and Osama Bin Laden as sources of income and mechanisms to transfer funds.
- ◆ On December 4, President Bush froze the assets of a U.S.-based foundation - The Holy Land Foundation for Relief and Development -- that has been funneling money to the terrorist organization Hamas.
- ◆ The U.S. government created three new organizations -- the Foreign Terrorist Asset Tracking Center (FTAT), Operation Green Quest and the Terrorist Financing Task Force. These new organizations will help facilitate information sharing between intelligence and law enforcement agencies and encourage other countries to identify, disrupt, and defeat terrorist financing networks.

- ◆ International organizations are key partners in the war on financial terrorism. On September 28, the United Nations Security Council passed resolution 1373 that requires all nations to keep their financial systems free of terrorist funds.
- ◆ The Financial Action Task Force -- a 29-nation group promoting policies to combat money laundering -- adopted strict new standards to deny terrorist access to the world financial system.
- ◆ The G-20 and IMF member countries have agreed to make public the list of terrorists whose assets are subject to freezing, and the amount of assets frozen.

THE MILITARY CAMPAIGN

"I said to the Taliban, turn them over, destroy the camps, free people you're unjustly holding. I said, you've got time to do it. But they didn't listen. They didn't respond, and now they're paying a price. They are learning that anyone who strikes America will hear from our military, and they're not going to like what they hear. In choosing their enemy, the evildoers and those who harbor them have chosen their fate."

--President George W. Bush, 10/17/01

Operation Enduring Freedom, the military phase, began October 7, 2001. Since then, coalition forces have liberated the Afghan people from the repressive and violent Taliban regime. As President Bush and Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld have said, this is a different kind of war against a different kind of enemy. The enemy is not a nation -- the enemy is terrorist networks that threaten the way of life of all peaceful people.

The war against terrorism is the first war of the 21st Century -- and it requires a 21st Century military strategy. Secretary Rumsfeld has worked with our coalition allies and the courageous men and women of the U.S. military to craft a cutting-edge military strategy that minimizes civilian casualties, partners with local forces, and brings destruction to the oppressive Taliban who supported the al-Qaeda terrorist network.

The coalition has achieved broad military success while putting fewer than 3,000 U.S. ground troops on the ground in Afghanistan. And Secretary Rumsfeld and the U.S. military have also shown a lightning quick ability to adapt to a distant, harsh and ever-changing battlefield. In some cases, U.S. troops are conquering terrorists by welding together 21st Century technology with 19th Century tactics. Troops have chased terrorists on horseback while using mobile phones and global positioning systems to pinpoint targets for the Air Force. Bombers today use 21st Century targeting technology, and laser-guided and GPS guided smart bombs to destroy specific targets, including centuries-old caves used as terrorist headquarters.

While we've achieved a great deal of military success, much dangerous and difficult work remains to be done before the war on terrorism is won. A few key military successes thus far in the war on terrorism include:

- ◆ In just weeks the military essentially destroyed al-Qaeda's grip on Afghanistan by driving the Taliban from power.
- ◆ Taliban leaders have surrendered major cities to opposition forces, including Kandahar, Kabul, Kunduz, and Mazar-e-Sharif.
- ◆ The military has destroyed at least 11 terrorist training camps and 39 Taliban command and control sites. The Wall Street Journal reported on December 13 that as many as 50,000 terrorists from more than 50 countries may have received training in al-Qaeda camps in Afghanistan in recent years.
- ◆ About 2.5 million humanitarian rations have been dropped to aid the people of Afghanistan.

- ◆ U.S. Marines have established a military base at Kandahar airport.
- ◆ Routes are being blocked to try to prevent the escape of al-Qaeda and Taliban members.
- ◆ Senior al-Qaeda and Taliban officials have either been captured or killed.
- ◆ The U.S. military rescued two American Christian aid workers who were being held as prisoners by the Taliban.
- ◆ Friendship Bridge between Afghanistan and Uzbekistan was reopened to transport humanitarian aid by land.
- ◆ Minefields and roads are being cleared to ensure delivery of aid and freedom of movement.
- ◆ Leaflet drops and radio broadcasts continue daily to convey our determination, provide truthful information, and encourage the capture of Osama bin Laden.

The military action in Afghanistan represents a global coalition effort. In addition to the United States, military assets are being deployed from many other nations, including the United Kingdom, Australia, Canada, Czech Republic, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, New Zealand, Poland, Russia and Turkey.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

"Terrorists try to operate in the shadows. They try to hide. But we're going to shine the light of justice on them. We list their names, we publicize their pictures, we rob them of their secrecy. Terrorism has a face, and today we expose it for the world to see."

--President George W. Bush, 10/10/01

The U.S. is leading a global dragnet to help bring terrorists to justice and help prevent future terrorist acts.

Prevention and Investigation:

- ◆ As of December 17, 460 individuals were being detained by the INS. 116 individuals, 77 of whom are in custody, are facing federal criminal charges -- including Zacarias Moussaoui who has been charged with conspiring with Osama bin Laden and al-Qaeda to murder thousands of innocent people in New York, Virginia and Pennsylvania.
- ◆ The Department of Justice (DOJ) created the new 22 "Most Wanted Terrorists" list.
- ◆ The FBI created a national task force to centralize control and information sharing resulting in hundreds of thousands of leads, over 500 searches, thousands of interviews of witnesses, and numerous court-authorized surveillance orders.
- ◆ The U.S. government has offered a reward of up to $25 million for information leading directly to the apprehension or conviction of Osama bin Laden.
- ◆ The Treasury Department and the Department of Justice collaborated to freeze the assets and accounts of 62 individuals and organizations connected with two terrorist-supporting financial networks, the al-Taqua and the al-Barakaat, and one organization funneling money to Hamas.
- ◆ The Department of State strengthened its "Rewards for Justice Program" which authorizes the Secretary of State to offer rewards of more than $5 million for information that prevents acts of international terrorism against the United States. The State Department has also launched a series of Public Service Announcements to educate the American public on the program.
- ◆ Improved information sharing between the law-enforcement and intelligence communities, allowing nationwide search warrants for e-mail and subpoenas for payment information, and to place those who access the Internet through cable companies on the same footing as everyone else.
- ◆ At the Attorney General's request, the State Department designated 39 entities as terrorist organizations.

- ◆ The U.S. has forged new cooperative agreements with Canada to protect our common borders and the economic prosperity they sustain.
- ◆ Created 93 Anti-Terrorism Task Forces -- one in each U.S. Attorney's district -- to integrate the communications and activities of local, state and federal law enforcement.
- ◆ Created the Foreign Terrorist Tracking Task Force to focus on preventing terrorists from entering the country, and to locate and remove those who already have.
- ◆ The Department of Justice crafted a new reorganization plan -- Reorganization and Mobilization of the Nation's Justice and Law Enforcement Resources -- which is DOJ's strategy for fiscal years 2001 to 2006 to help meet the new anti-terrorism mission.
- ◆ Reorganization of the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) to reform the agency's structure by separating its service and enforcement functions. Fulfills President Bush's pledge to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the nation's immigration system.
- ◆ The Department of Justice launched the Responsible Cooperators Program. Justice will provide immigration benefits to non-citizens who furnish information to help apprehend terrorists or to stop terrorist attacks.
- ◆ INS arrested Mazen Al Najjar after he was ordered to be deported for violating his visa, had established ties to terrorist organizations and held leadership positions in the Islamic Concern Project and the World and Islam Studies Enterprise.
- ◆ Zayd Hassan Abd Al-Latif Masud Al Safarini was arrested for his indictment in 1991 for the September 5, 1986, hijacking of Pan American World Airways Flight 73, demonstrating DOJ's commitment to track down terrorists no matter how long it takes.

Civil Rights:

- ◆ The President moved swiftly to protect Muslims from hate crimes and the Department of Justice followed his lead by having their Civil Rights Division sponsor community forums in Chicago, Illinois, and Dearborn, Michigan, on combating ethnically motivated violence as a result of the September 11th terrorist attacks.
- ◆ Attorney General John Ashcroft and AAG for Civil Rights Ralph F. Boyd, Jr. have met with 29 prominent leaders from the Arab and Muslim American and Sikh communities and underscored DOJ's strong commitment to investigate and prosecute violators of federal hate crime laws.
- ◆ The Department of Justice, the U.S. Equal Opportunity Commission and the Department of Labor issued a joint statement against employment discrimination in the aftermath of September 11.
- ◆ Investigating approximately 300 incidents involving violence, or threats of violence against individuals perceived to be of Middle Eastern origin. Federal charges have been brought in 6 cases, coordinating with local prosecutors in at least ten instances where cases are being prosecuted locally.

Victim Relief:

- ◆ Provided approximately $52 million in assistance to victims and their families and $10 million in emergency assistance to the NYPD.

HUMANITARIAN RELIEF

"Ultimately, one of the best weapons, one of the truest weapons that we have against terrorism is to show the world the true strength of character and kindness of the American people. Americans are united in this fight against terrorism. We're also united in our concern for the innocent people of Afghanistan."

President George W. Bush, 10/11/01

The humanitarian situation in Afghanistan remains dire. Millions face the threat of starvation. 70% of the Afghan people and ½ of all Afghan children are malnourished. Only 13% of the Afghan people have access to clean water.

Years of civil war -- compounded by the rule of the Taliban and the worst drought in 30 years -- have made matters worse. The Taliban were clearly more interested in protecting al-Qaeda than feeding the starving, innocent people of Afghanistan. Al-Qaeda and the Taliban have not only failed to provide security, food, and shelter for the Afghan people, but they have also disrupted the efforts of international relief agencies to deliver desperately needed food and medical supplies to the Afghan people. Among other things, the Taliban have seized and looted humanitarian supplies for themselves, and have harassed and beaten Afghan and international aid workers.

The typically harsh Afghan winter is arriving and the U.S., with its international partners, is doing everything it can to help bring hope to the innocent Afghans who have suffered under the brutal and oppressive al-Qaeda and Taliban regime:

- ◆ Even before September 11, the U.S. was the leading humanitarian aid donor for Afghanistan.
- ◆ Last fiscal year the U.S. provided $183 million of humanitarian assistance alone to Afghanistan.
- ◆ Since the beginning of October alone, the U.S. has provided more than $187 million in humanitarian assistance to Afghanistan.
- ◆ On October 10, USAID Administrator Natsios announced a five-point assistance strategy for Afghanistan: reduce death rates; minimize population movements; lower and then stabilize food prices; ensure that aid reaches those it is intended for; and begin developmental relief programs.
- ◆ As of mid-December the international community, led by the U.S., has delivered 127,368 metric tons (MT) of food aid to Afghanistan, using, trucks, boats, barges, aircraft, and thousands of people to overcome numerous logistical and security obstacles. (For context, 52,000 MT of food will feed approximately six million people for one month.)
- ◆ Between October 7 and December 13, the Department of Defense airdropped 2,423,700 Humanitarian Daily Rations (HDRs) to Afghans who could not be reached by relief workers because of ongoing conflict. The entire operation cost approximately $51 million.

- ◆ The President announced the creation of the America's Fund for Afghan Children. The President asked American children to send $1 dollar -- or whatever they can afford -- to the Fund to help buy important humanitarian supplies. America's children have donated more than $1.5 million thus far to the Fund. The first shipment of humanitarian goods purchased from this fund left the U.S. for the Afghan children on Sunday, December 9.
- ◆ The government has provided more than $62 million in grants to support relief activities in Afghanistan. The programs include supporting agriculture, rehabilitating water resources, funding health services, repairing shelters, and providing critical non-food items such as blankets, tents and kitchen sets. Additional grants have funded UN coordination efforts and a radio program to provide humanitarian and security information to Afghans in their home languages.
- ◆ USAID has provided funding for wool blankets and quilts, shelter kits, plastic sheeting and winterized tents. Further, USAID is distributing mattresses, clothes, stoves, cooking sets, firewood, coal, lanterns and water containers.
- ◆ The government has provided medical kits and funds for health centers and mobile clinics in Afghanistan and is sponsoring public health education and programs on hygiene, obstetrics, maternal and childcare, and malnutrition. USAID is employing trained personnel to conduct educational outreach on basic health and nutrition, especially to women. USAID is helping expectant mothers, training local birth attendants and funding the distribution of vitamins and the immunization of young children.
- ◆ The government has provided funds for rehabilitation and reconstruction in the areas of housing, roads and bridges, wells and irrigation systems, agriculture and food security, and initiating "food for work" and "food for cash" initiatives.
- ◆ USAID has funded six airlifts of critical commodities to Afghanistan. The airlifts have provided shelter materials, tents, health supplies and high-energy food items for vulnerable people in Afghanistan.
- ◆ The State Department has provided $32,260,000 to relief agencies to assist Afghan refugees in Pakistan, Iran and other neighboring countries. The grants also provide funds to assist refugees attempting to return to their homes in Afghanistan.
- ◆ The government has sent Disaster Assistance Response Team (DART) personnel to Pakistan, Uzbekistan, Turkmenistan and Tajikistan to ensure that relief efforts are effective and well coordinated.

RESPECTING ISLAM

“The Islam that we know is a faith devoted to the worship of one God, as revealed through The Holy Qu’ran. It teaches the value and importance of charity, mercy, and peace.”

--President George W. Bush, 11/15/01

The United States is a nation of religious freedom, and the President has acted to ensure that the world’s Muslims -- from Dearborn, Michigan to Kabul, Afghanistan -- know that America appreciates and celebrates the rich traditions of Islam:

- ◆ At the national prayer service following the September 11 attacks, the President included religious leaders from many faiths, including an Imam from the Islamic Society of North America. Subsequently the President hosted an interfaith meeting on September 20 with leaders of different religious denominations to pray jointly for the victims of the September 11 tragedies and called for national reconciliation.
- ◆ Soon after the terrorist attacks, the President visited the Islamic Center of Washington to meet with American Muslim leaders and deliver a message of tolerance and solidarity. The President condemned unwarranted attacks on Americans of Muslim faith, and urged Americans to show their support for their Muslim friends.
- ◆ President Bush launched the “Friendship Through Education” initiative, encouraging children in America and children in Muslim nations to connect through email, letter writing, and different friendship and understanding projects. The President wants this initiative to help youths from different societies deepen their understanding of each others’ traditions and outlooks.
- ◆ For Ramadan, on November 19 President Bush hosted the first-ever Iftar -- or breaking-of-the-fast -- dinner at the White House, which included the ambassadors from nations with Muslim populations. The President also issued a warm greeting to Muslims around America and around the world with a special Ramadan message.
- ◆ The State Department asked U.S. embassies in Muslim countries to host Iftar dinners and many members of his administration also held their own celebrations. Secretary of State Colin Powell, Attorney General John Ashcroft, and Deputy Secretary of Defense Paul Wolfowitz all participated in Iftar dinners.
- ◆ On December 17, President Bush hosted Muslim children at the White House in honor of Eid al-Fitr, Islam’s most sacred holiday. He read an Eid book to the children and hosted them for cookies and punch as well as delivering a present to each child in the tradition of Eid. The President also issued a taped Eid message and read an Eid greeting.
- ◆ Secretary of Energy Spencer Abraham recognized Americans for acts of compassion following the September 11th attacks -- he honored, for example, a church that started an escort service for Muslim women who wear the hijab, and a citizen who created a fund to assist low-income Muslim victims of hate-inspired vandalism. Secretary Abraham will also launch a series of public service announcements further promoting tolerance.

HOMELAND SECURITY

---

"We face a united, determined enemy. America is going to be prepared."

--President George W. Bush, 10/8/01

President Bush has taken action to help protect America against terrorist attacks. The government is working around the clock to protect Americans. Among many other steps:

- ◆ The President worked with Congress to provide $20 billion to promote homeland security, including funds to upgrade intelligence and security, provide recovery assistance to disaster sites, help victims' families, increase numbers of law enforcement personnel, provide health care for displaced Americans, and purchase irradiation equipment to sanitize the mail.
- ◆ The President established the Office of Homeland Security -- under the diligent guidance of Governor Tom Ridge -- and the Homeland Security Council to coordinate, and implement the Executive Branch's efforts to detect, prevent, protect against, respond to, and recover from terrorist attacks within the United States.
- ◆ The President moved to implement tough new airline security standards that tighten background checks for airline screeners and workers, dramatically expands the federal air marshal program, creates strict new baggage security requirements, and tightens security in all areas of airports.
- ◆ The President established an advisory committee for cyber security to ensure that America's key infrastructures are protected. The advisory committee is a public/private partnership.
- ◆ The Administration has strengthened coordination between law enforcement agencies of the U.S. and neighboring countries to address common threats while ensuring the free flow of goods and people.
- ◆ The Food and Drug Administration has enhanced the food screening process of imported foods.
- ◆ The Department of Health and Human Services created the Office of Public Health Preparedness, to coordinate the national response to public health emergencies.
- ◆ Public health professionals provided antibiotics to more than 30,000 people to protect against their possible exposure to anthrax.
- ◆ HHS increased the supply of drug caches around the country, added specific use drugs, and began to increase the supply of small pox vaccine to 300 million.
- ◆ The President created a Presidential Task force to help Americans prepare in their homes, neighborhoods, schools, and other public places from the consequences of terrorist attacks.

- ◆ The Centers for Disease Control and the U.S. Postal Service provided guidelines on how to handle mail that had potentially come into contact with anthrax.
- ◆ EPA has worked with water utilities, chemical, pesticide, petroleum and fertilizer manufacturers to increase their vigilance and secure their resources against an attack.

THE SURVIVORS OF SEPTEMBER 11

---

"It is said that adversity introduces us to ourselves. This is true of a nation as well. In this trial, we have been reminded, and the world has seen, that our fellow Americans are generous and kind, resourceful and brave. We see our national character in rescuers working past exhaustion; in long lines of blood donors; in thousands of citizens who have asked to work and serve in any way possible."

--President's Remarks at National Day of Prayer and Remembrance, 9/14/01

Every one of the victims who died on September 11th was the most important person on earth to somebody. The American people have responded to the tragedies of September 11 with an unprecedented outpouring of support for their fellow Americans who lost so much on September 11:

- ◆ While it is impossible to catalog every penny of contributions, at least $1.3 billion has been collected in aid for families of both civilian and uniformed victims of the September 11th terrorist attacks.
- ◆ There are many relief organizations collecting aid to distribute to the families of the thousands of victims from the September 11th terrorist attacks. Examples include the Twin Towers Orphan fund, the Pentagon Assistance Fund, the WTC School Fund, the Washington Redskins Relief Fund, the Dole-Clinton Families of Freedom Scholarship Fund, and funds established by the United Jewish Communities, Catholic Charities, the Burn Center at the Washington Hospital Center, and many, many more.
- ◆ The American Red Cross has raised over $647.4 million and has distributed over $217.7 million to the families of the victims of September 11th.
- ◆ The September 11th United Way Relief Fund has been working thoughtfully and deliberately to distribute $143 million in cash and services to help rebuild the lives of victims' families and affected communities.
- ◆ On September 1, the entertainment industry came together in historic fashion to raise funds and raise the spirits of all who have been touched by the horrific tragedy that has struck America. Over $150 million was pledged through the United Way September 11th Telethon Fund, "America: Tribute to Heroes." By the end of the year, a total of $100 million in cash assistance will have been delivered to victims families through the Telethon Fund by the entertainment industry.
- ◆ New York City's major human service organizations have joined forces under an umbrella group called the 9/11 United Services Group. At the urging of the New York State Attorney General, the group launched a confidential database, which will serve as a central clearinghouse for information on victims, survivors, financial needs, and the amounts of money and services provided by charities. This database enables the different charities to communicate with each other and track both the needs of the families of victims as well as the amount of assistance they are receiving.

- ◆ More than 100 people with ties to the Sept. 11 terror attacks will carry the Olympic torch as it makes its way to Salt Lake City for the Winter Games. The torch will be passed at the Pentagon on Friday, December 21, 2001.
- ◆ The President announced www.libertyunites.org in the Rose Garden on September 18, 2001, and praised Americans for their outpouring of charitable relief support in the wake of September 11th.

"The attack took place on American soil, but it was an attack on the heart and soul of the civilized world. And the world has come together to fight a new and different war, the first, and we hope the only one, of the 21st century. A war against all those who seek to export terror, and a war against those governments that support or shelter them."

-President George W. Bush, 10/11/01

On September 11, terrorists attacked freedom.

The world has responded with an unprecedented coalition against international terrorism. In the first 100 days of the war, President George W. Bush increased America's homeland security and built a worldwide coalition that:

- ◆ Began to destroy al-Qaeda's grip on Afghanistan by driving the Taliban from power.
- ◆ Disrupted al-Qaeda's global operations and terrorist financing networks.
- ◆ Destroyed al-Qaeda terrorist training camps.
- ◆ Helped the innocent people of Afghanistan recover from the Taliban's reign of terror.
- ◆ Helped Afghans put aside long-standing differences to form a new interim government that represents all Afghans - including women.

President Bush is implementing a comprehensive and visionary foreign policy against international terrorism. The President's policy puts the world on notice that any nation that harbors or supports terrorism will be regarded as a hostile regime.

Diplomacy. President Bush has built a worldwide coalition against terrorism. More than 80 countries suffered losses on September 11; 136 countries have offered a diverse range of military assistance; 46 multilateral organizations have declared their support; and with U.S. leadership and international support, Afghans are putting aside long-standing ethnic and political differences to form a new and representative government.

Terrorist Finances. The President fired the first shot in the war on terrorism with the stroke of his pen to seize terrorist financial assets and disrupt their fundraising pipelines. The world financial community is moving to starve the terrorists of their financial support. 196 countries support the financial war on terror; 142 countries have acted to freeze terrorist assets; in the U.S. alone, the assets of 153 known terrorists, terrorist organizations, and terrorist financial centers have been frozen; and major terrorist financial networks have been closed down.

The Military Campaign. Operation Enduring Freedom began on October 7, 2001, and enjoys the support of countries from the United Kingdom to Australia to Japan. The Taliban have been forced to surrender major cities. The military has destroyed 11 terrorist training camps and 39 Taliban command and control sites. And al-Qaeda terrorists have been captured, killed or are on the run.

Law Enforcement. The U.S. has led a global dragnet to help bring terrorists to justice and help prevent future terrorist acts, creating the Foreign Terrorist Tracking Task Force to prevent terrorists from entering the U.S.; arresting and indicting known terrorists; increasing the global sharing of law enforcement information; and implementing tough new anti-terrorism laws.

Humanitarian. As Afghanistan's largest humanitarian donor, the U.S. has increased its aid to the Afghan people by providing $187 million in aid since October alone, including food, shelter, blankets, and medical supplies. The President also launched the America's Fund for Afghan Children that has already raised more than $1.5 million for the children of Afghanistan. As the harsh Afghan winter approaches, the U.S. commitment to the Afghan people is saving lives.

Homeland Security. President Bush has taken steps to help protect America against further terrorist attacks, providing $20 billion for homeland security; strengthening intelligence efforts; creating the Office of Homeland Security and the Homeland Security Council; implementing tough new airline security measures; and taking steps to protect America's mail.

Helping the Survivors of September 11. The American people have responded with overwhelming compassion for the families of the victims of September 11, donating at least $1.3 billion to charities.

Respecting Islam. Almost immediately after the attacks the President took steps to protect Muslim-Americans from hate crimes. The President also held a series of events, including hosting the first-ever White House Iftar and an Eid event at the end of Ramadan; the President visited the Islamic Center; and the President created the "Friendship Through Education" initiative to bring American and Muslim children closer together.

“Every one of the victims who died on September 11th was the most important person on earth to somebody.”

--President George W. Bush, 12/11/01

On September 11 the terrorists committed an act of war against the innocent. The terrorists killed not only to end lives -- they killed to end our way of life. Recently the terrorists said that we should forget the attacks of September 11. The terrorists would like nothing more than to silence the world's vocal opposition to their frightening vision they hope to export to every corner of the world.

The world will never forget the innocent victims, and the brave heroes who died attempting to save them. The world will never forget the survivors, the devastated families and the grieving friends they left behind:

- ◆ More than 3,000 people died or remain missing following the attacks. They came from more than 80 different nations, from many different races and religions.
- ◆ 343 firefighters and paramedics perished at the World Trade Center.
- ◆ 23 police officers and 37 Port Authority police officers died at the World Trade Center.
- ◆ Approximately 2,000 children lost a parent on September 11, including 146 children who lost a parent in the Pentagon attacks.
- ◆ One business alone lost more than 700 employees, leaving at least 50 pregnant widows.

On December 11, more than 120 countries stood together to remember the three-month anniversary of the terrorist attacks.

THE WAR ON TERRORISM - THE FIRST 100 DAYS

"...we calculated in advance the number of casualties from the enemy, who would be killed based on the position of the tower. We calculated that the floors that would be hit would be three or four floors. I was the most optimistic of them all...due to my experience in this field, I was thinking that the fire from the gas in the plane would melt the iron structure of the building and collapse the area where the plane hit and all the floors above it only. This is all that we had hoped for."

--bin Laden

"This new enemy seeks to destroy our freedom and impose its views. We value life; the terrorists ruthlessly destroy it. We value education; the terrorists do not believe women should be educated or should have health care, or should leave their homes. We value the right to speak our minds; for the terrorists, free expression can be grounds for execution. We respect people of all faiths and welcome the free practice of religion; our enemy wants to dictate how to think and how to worship even to their fellow Muslims."

--President George W. Bush, 11/8/01

Al-Qaeda is a movement defined by hatred. They hate progress, and freedom, and choice, and culture, and music, and laughter, and women, and Christians, and Jews, and all Muslims who reject their distorted doctrines. They love and worship only one thing, and that is power -- power they use without mercy to kill the innocent.

In Afghanistan, we have seen al-Qaeda's vision for the world. The leadership of al-Qaeda had great influence in Afghanistan and was supported by the Taliban regime. Afghanistan's people have been brutalized -- many are starving and many have fled. Women were not allowed to attend school. A person could be jailed for owning a television. Religion could be practiced only as their leaders dictated. A man could be jailed in Afghanistan if his beard was not long enough.

The al-Qaeda terrorists believe it is acceptable to steal food meant for starving, innocent families. The al-Qaeda philosophy says it is acceptable to use innocent people as human shields for their military operations. The al-Qaeda philosophy says it is acceptable to oppress women and doom them to a lifetime of poverty.

- ◆ Treatment of Women & Children. First Lady Laura Bush led a worldwide initiative to highlight the Taliban's oppression of women. Before the Taliban, women played a key role in society. Then came al-Qaeda and their destruction of the Afghan family. The al-Qaeda-controlled Taliban regime especially targeted Afghan women and children, taking away their basic freedoms, splintering their families, putting their lives at risk, and relegating them to poverty. For example, the Taliban forbade the schooling for girls over the age of eight; shut down the women's university; banned women from working (stripping a society in desperate need of trained professionals of half its assets); restricted access to medical care for women; brutally enforced a restrictive dress code; forbade women from moving about their communities freely; and beat women for laughing out loud. The First Lady led a worldwide initiative to highlight the Taliban's oppression of women which helped lead to representation of women in the new interim government.
- ◆ Targeting Civilians. Al Qaeda and the Taliban regime have targeted civilians by literally using them as human shields for their military activities. For example, the November 6

Washington Post reports that the Taliban actually placed military assets in mosques and across the street from hospitals and innocent people's homes. Taliban commanders have also hijacked humanitarian aid facilities for military purposes. A senior officer told the Washington Post, "Whole villages are being used as human shields by the Taliban to protect their large stockpiles of ammunition and weapons hidden in nearby caves."

- ◆ Humanitarian Crimes. The al-Qaeda and Taliban contribution to the starving Afghan people has been a deliberate and systematic campaign to disrupt the efforts of international relief agencies to deliver desperately needed food and medical supplies to the Afghan people. For example, the Taliban seized control of two U.N. World Food Program (WFP) warehouses, one in Kabul, and one in Kandahar, containing more than half the World Food Program's wheat supply for Afghanistan. The WFP in Kandahar had been feeding 150,000 Afghans a month before the Taliban seizure. The Taliban are also actually hijacking humanitarian convoys for military purposes. The November 6 Washington Post reports, "A truck in a convoy purportedly on a humanitarian mission to deliver food tipped over, and crates of tank and mortar shells could be seen spilling to the ground underneath a thin layer of flour."
- ◆ Al Qaeda & the Drug Trade. Osama bin Laden and his organization finance many of their terrorist activities through the drug trade. In fact, on October 25, 2001, The Herald (Glasgow) reported, "Osama bin Laden financed the development of a highly-addictive liquid heroin which he named 'The tears of Allah' as part of his multi-pronged terrorist campaign to destabilise western society. . . One source said yesterday: 'It should be called the Devil's Brew rather than Allah's tears. It is a one-way ticket to addiction and death.'" The United Nations has also weighed in on the Taliban and al Qaeda connection to the drug trade. According to a U.N. Committee of Experts report on Resolution 1333 (May 2001), "Funds raised from the production and trading of opium and heroin are used by the Taliban to buy arms and other war materiel, and to finance the training of terrorists and support the operations of extremists in neighbouring countries and beyond."

"The message to every country is, there will be a campaign against terrorist activity, a worldwide campaign. And there is an outpouring of support for such a campaign. Freedom-loving people understand that terrorism knows no borders, that terrorists will strike in order to bring fear, to try to change the behavior of countries that love liberty. And we will not let them do that."

--President George W. Bush, 9/19/01

Since September 11, President Bush and Secretary of State Colin Powell have built a worldwide coalition for the war against terrorism. The coalition is stronger than ever and continues to grow.

- ◆ Since September 11, President Bush has met with leaders from at least 51 different countries to help build support for the war against terrorism.
- ◆ 136 countries have offered a range of military assistance.
- ◆ The U.S. has received 46 multilateral declarations of support from organizations.
- ◆ The U.N. General Assembly and Security Council condemned the attacks on September 12.
- ◆ NATO, OAS and ANZUS (Australia, New Zealand and the U.S.) quickly invoked their treaty obligations to support the United States. Our NATO allies are assisting directly in the defense of American territory.
- ◆ 142 countries have issued orders freezing the assets of suspected terrorists and organizations.
- ◆ 89 countries have granted over-flight authority for U.S. military aircraft.
- ◆ 76 countries have granted landing rights for U.S. military aircraft.
- ◆ 23 countries have agreed to host U.S. forces involved in offensive operations.
- ◆ Through intelligence cooperation with many nations, we are acquiring evidence against those responsible for the attacks of September 11 and we are better able to prevent future attacks.
- ◆ With U.S. leadership and with international support, Afghans have put aside long-standing ethnic and political differences to form a new interim government, naming a president and 29 ministers with portfolio. The new government will also include women, who have been oppressed by the Taliban regime.
- ◆ On December 11, more than 120 nations around the world answered President Bush's call to reject terrorism and commemorate the victims of the September 11 attacks by holding remembrance ceremonies.
- ◆ The United States and several other allies have reopened embassies in Kabul.
- ◆ The President was joined by U.N. Secretary General Kofi Annan on November 11 for a memorial service honoring the citizens of all the countries killed in the World Trade Center.

"We put the world's financial institutions on notice: if you do business with terrorists, if you support them or sponsor them, you will not do business with the United States of America."

--President George W. Bush, 11/7/01

Terrorists need money to carry out their evil deeds. The President's first strike in the war against terror was not with a gun or a missile - the President's first strike was with his pen as he took action to freeze terrorist finances and disrupt their pipelines for raising and moving money in the future.

The world's financial institutions have been put on notice -- if you support, sponsor, or do business with terrorists, you will not do business with the United States. Denying terrorists access to funds is a very real success in the war on terrorism. Since September 11, the United States and its allies in the war on terrorism have been winning the war on the financial front:

- ◆ President Bush launched the first offensive in the war on terrorism on September 23 by signing an Executive Order freezing the U.S.-based assets of those individuals and organizations involved with terrorism.
- ◆ 196 countries and jurisdictions have expressed their support for the financial war on terror.
- ◆ 142 countries have issued orders freezing terrorist assets, and others have requested U.S. help in improving their legal and regulatory systems so they can more effectively block terrorist funds.
- ◆ The assets of at least 153 known terrorists, terrorist organizations, and terrorist financial centers have now been frozen in the U.S. financial system.
- ◆ Since September 11, the U.S. has blocked more than $33 million in assets of terrorist organizations. Other nations have also blocked another $33 million.
- ◆ On November 7, the U.S. and its allies closed down operations of two major financial networks - al-Barakaat and al-Taqwa - both of which were used by al-Qaeda and Osama Bin Laden as sources of income and mechanisms to transfer funds.
- ◆ On December 4, President Bush froze the assets of a U.S.-based foundation - The Holy Land Foundation for Relief and Development -- that has been funneling money to the terrorist organization Hamas.
- ◆ The U.S. government created three new organizations -- the Foreign Terrorist Asset Tracking Center (FTAT), Operation Green Quest and the Terrorist Financing Task Force. These new organizations will help facilitate information sharing between intelligence and law enforcement agencies and encourage other countries to identify, disrupt, and defeat terrorist financing networks.

- ◆ International organizations are key partners in the war on financial terrorism. On September 28, the United Nations Security Council passed resolution 1373 that requires all nations to keep their financial systems free of terrorist funds.
- ◆ The Financial Action Task Force -- a 29-nation group promoting policies to combat money laundering -- adopted strict new standards to deny terrorist access to the world financial system.
- ◆ The G-20 and IMF member countries have agreed to make public the list of terrorists whose assets are subject to freezing, and the amount of assets frozen.

"I said to the Taliban, turn them over, destroy the camps, free people you're unjustly holding. I said, you've got time to do it. But they didn't listen. They didn't respond, and now they're paying a price. They are learning that anyone who strikes America will hear from our military, and they're not going to like what they hear. In choosing their enemy, the evildoers and those who harbor them have chosen their fate."

--President George W. Bush, 10/17/01

Operation Enduring Freedom, the military phase, began October 7, 2001. Since then, coalition forces have liberated the Afghan people from the repressive and violent Taliban regime. As President Bush and Secretary of Defense Donald Rumsfeld have said, this is a different kind of war against a different kind of enemy. The enemy is not a nation -- the enemy is terrorist networks that threaten the way of life of all peaceful people.

The war against terrorism is the first war of the 21st Century -- and it requires a 21st Century military strategy. Secretary Rumsfeld has worked with our coalition allies and the courageous men and women of the U.S. military to craft a cutting-edge military strategy that minimizes civilian casualties, partners with local forces, and brings destruction to the oppressive Taliban who supported the al-Qaeda terrorist network.

The coalition has achieved broad military success while putting fewer than 3,000 U.S. ground troops on the ground in Afghanistan. And Secretary Rumsfeld and the U.S. military have also shown a lightning quick ability to adapt to a distant, harsh and ever-changing battlefield. In some cases, U.S. troops are conquering terrorists by welding together 21st Century technology with 19th Century tactics. Troops have chased terrorists on horseback while using mobile phones and global positioning systems to pinpoint targets for the Air Force. Bombers today use 21st Century targeting technology, and laser-guided and GPS guided smart bombs to destroy specific targets, including centuries-old caves used as terrorist headquarters.

While we've achieved a great deal of military success, much dangerous and difficult work remains to be done before the war on terrorism is won. A few key military successes thus far in the war on terrorism include:

- ◆ In just weeks the military essentially destroyed al-Qaeda's grip on Afghanistan by driving the Taliban from power.
- ◆ Taliban leaders have surrendered major cities to opposition forces, including Kandahar, Kabul, Kunduz, and Mazar-e-Sharif.
- ◆ The military has destroyed at least 11 terrorist training camps and 39 Taliban command and control sites. The Wall Street Journal reported on December 13 that as many as 50,000 terrorists from more than 50 countries may have received training in al-Qaeda camps in Afghanistan in recent years.
- ◆ About 2.5 million humanitarian rations have been dropped to aid the people of Afghanistan.

- ◆ U.S. Marines have established a military base at Kandahar airport.
- ◆ Routes are being blocked to try to prevent the escape of al-Qaeda and Taliban members.
- ◆ Senior al-Qaeda and Taliban officials have either been captured or killed.
- ◆ The U.S. military rescued two American Christian aid workers who were being held as prisoners by the Taliban.
- ◆ Friendship Bridge between Afghanistan and Uzbekistan was reopened to transport humanitarian aid by land.
- ◆ Minefields and roads are being cleared to ensure delivery of aid and freedom of movement.
- ◆ Leaflet drops and radio broadcasts continue daily to convey our determination, provide truthful information, and encourage the capture of Osama bin Laden.

The military action in Afghanistan represents a global coalition effort. In addition to the United States, military assets are being deployed from many other nations, including the United Kingdom, Australia, Canada, Czech Republic, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, New Zealand, Poland, Russia and Turkey.

"Terrorists try to operate in the shadows. They try to hide. But we're going to shine the light of justice on them. We list their names, we publicize their pictures, we rob them of their secrecy. Terrorism has a face, and today we expose it for the world to see."

--President George W. Bush, 10/10/01

The U.S. is leading a global dragnet to help bring terrorists to justice and help prevent future terrorist acts.

Prevention and Investigation:

- ◆ As of December 17, 460 individuals were being detained by the INS. 116 individuals, 77 of whom are in custody, are facing federal criminal charges -- including Zacarias Moussaoui who has been charged with conspiring with Osama bin Laden and al-Qaeda to murder thousands of innocent people in New York, Virginia and Pennsylvania.
- ◆ The Department of Justice (DOJ) created the new 22 "Most Wanted Terrorists" list.
- ◆ The FBI created a national task force to centralize control and information sharing resulting in hundreds of thousands of leads, over 500 searches, thousands of interviews of witnesses, and numerous court-authorized surveillance orders.
- ◆ The U.S. government has offered a reward of up to $25 million for information leading directly to the apprehension or conviction of Osama bin Laden.
- ◆ The Treasury Department and the Department of Justice collaborated to freeze the assets and accounts of 62 individuals and organizations connected with two terrorist-supporting financial networks, the al-Taqua and the al-Barakaat, and one organization funneling money to Hamas.
- ◆ The Department of State strengthened its "Rewards for Justice Program" which authorizes the Secretary of State to offer rewards of more than $5 million for information that prevents acts of international terrorism against the United States. The State Department has also launched a series of Public Service Announcements to educate the American public on the program.
- ◆ Improved information sharing between the law-enforcement and intelligence communities, allowing nationwide search warrants for e-mail and subpoenas for payment information, and to place those who access the Internet through cable companies on the same footing as everyone else.
- ◆ At the Attorney General's request, the State Department designated 39 entities as terrorist organizations.

- ◆ The U.S. has forged new cooperative agreements with Canada to protect our common borders and the economic prosperity they sustain.
- ◆ Created 93 Anti-Terrorism Task Forces -- one in each U.S. Attorney's district -- to integrate the communications and activities of local, state and federal law enforcement.
- ◆ Created the Foreign Terrorist Tracking Task Force to focus on preventing terrorists from entering the country, and to locate and remove those who already have.
- ◆ The Department of Justice crafted a new reorganization plan -- Reorganization and Mobilization of the Nation's Justice and Law Enforcement Resources -- which is DOJ's strategy for fiscal years 2001 to 2006 to help meet the new anti-terrorism mission.
- ◆ Reorganization of the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) to reform the agency's structure by separating its service and enforcement functions. Fulfills President Bush's pledge to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the nation's immigration system.
- ◆ The Department of Justice launched the Responsible Cooperators Program. Justice will provide immigration benefits to non-citizens who furnish information to help apprehend terrorists or to stop terrorist attacks.
- ◆ INS arrested Mazen Al Najjar after he was ordered to be deported for violating his visa, had established ties to terrorist organizations and held leadership positions in the Islamic Concern Project and the World and Islam Studies Enterprise.
- ◆ Zayd Hassan Abd Al-Latif Masud Al Safarini was arrested for his indictment in 1991 for the September 5, 1986, hijacking of Pan American World Airways Flight 73, demonstrating DOJ's commitment to track down terrorists no matter how long it takes.

Civil Rights:

- ◆ The President moved swiftly to protect Muslims from hate crimes and the Department of Justice followed his lead by having their Civil Rights Division sponsor community forums in Chicago, Illinois, and Dearborn, Michigan, on combating ethnically motivated violence as a result of the September 11th terrorist attacks.
- ◆ Attorney General John Ashcroft and AAG for Civil Rights Ralph F. Boyd, Jr. have met with 29 prominent leaders from the Arab and Muslim American and Sikh communities and underscored DOJ's strong commitment to investigate and prosecute violators of federal hate crime laws.
- ◆ The Department of Justice, the U.S. Equal Opportunity Commission and the Department of Labor issued a joint statement against employment discrimination in the aftermath of September 11.
- ◆ Investigating approximately 300 incidents involving violence, or threats of violence against individuals perceived to be of Middle Eastern origin. Federal charges have been brought in 6 cases, coordinating with local prosecutors in at least ten instances where cases are being prosecuted locally.

Victim Relief:

- ◆ Provided approximately $52 million in assistance to victims and their families and $10 million in emergency assistance to the NYPD.

"Ultimately, one of the best weapons, one of the truest weapons that we have against terrorism is to show the world the true strength of character and kindness of the American people. Americans are united in this fight against terrorism. We're also united in our concern for the innocent people of Afghanistan."

President George W. Bush, 10/11/01

The humanitarian situation in Afghanistan remains dire. Millions face the threat of starvation. 70% of the Afghan people and ½ of all Afghan children are malnourished. Only 13% of the Afghan people have access to clean water.

Years of civil war -- compounded by the rule of the Taliban and the worst drought in 30 years -- have made matters worse. The Taliban were clearly more interested in protecting al-Qaeda than feeding the starving, innocent people of Afghanistan. Al-Qaeda and the Taliban have not only failed to provide security, food, and shelter for the Afghan people, but they have also disrupted the efforts of international relief agencies to deliver desperately needed food and medical supplies to the Afghan people. Among other things, the Taliban have seized and looted humanitarian supplies for themselves, and have harassed and beaten Afghan and international aid workers.

The typically harsh Afghan winter is arriving and the U.S., with its international partners, is doing everything it can to help bring hope to the innocent Afghans who have suffered under the brutal and oppressive al-Qaeda and Taliban regime:

- ◆ Even before September 11, the U.S. was the leading humanitarian aid donor for Afghanistan.
- ◆ Last fiscal year the U.S. provided $183 million of humanitarian assistance alone to Afghanistan.
- ◆ Since the beginning of October alone, the U.S. has provided more than $187 million in humanitarian assistance to Afghanistan.
- ◆ On October 10, USAID Administrator Natsios announced a five-point assistance strategy for Afghanistan: reduce death rates; minimize population movements; lower and then stabilize food prices; ensure that aid reaches those it is intended for; and begin developmental relief programs.
- ◆ As of mid-December the international community, led by the U.S., has delivered 127,368 metric tons (MT) of food aid to Afghanistan, using, trucks, boats, barges, aircraft, and thousands of people to overcome numerous logistical and security obstacles. (For context, 52,000 MT of food will feed approximately six million people for one month.)
- ◆ Between October 7 and December 13, the Department of Defense airdropped 2,423,700 Humanitarian Daily Rations (HDRs) to Afghans who could not be reached by relief workers because of ongoing conflict. The entire operation cost approximately $51 million.

- ◆ The President announced the creation of the America's Fund for Afghan Children. The President asked American children to send $1 dollar -- or whatever they can afford -- to the Fund to help buy important humanitarian supplies. America's children have donated more than $1.5 million thus far to the Fund. The first shipment of humanitarian goods purchased from this fund left the U.S. for the Afghan children on Sunday, December 9.
- ◆ The government has provided more than $62 million in grants to support relief activities in Afghanistan. The programs include supporting agriculture, rehabilitating water resources, funding health services, repairing shelters, and providing critical non-food items such as blankets, tents and kitchen sets. Additional grants have funded UN coordination efforts and a radio program to provide humanitarian and security information to Afghans in their home languages.
- ◆ USAID has provided funding for wool blankets and quilts, shelter kits, plastic sheeting and winterized tents. Further, USAID is distributing mattresses, clothes, stoves, cooking sets, firewood, coal, lanterns and water containers.
- ◆ The government has provided medical kits and funds for health centers and mobile clinics in Afghanistan and is sponsoring public health education and programs on hygiene, obstetrics, maternal and childcare, and malnutrition. USAID is employing trained personnel to conduct educational outreach on basic health and nutrition, especially to women. USAID is helping expectant mothers, training local birth attendants and funding the distribution of vitamins and the immunization of young children.
- ◆ The government has provided funds for rehabilitation and reconstruction in the areas of housing, roads and bridges, wells and irrigation systems, agriculture and food security, and initiating "food for work" and "food for cash" initiatives.
- ◆ USAID has funded six airlifts of critical commodities to Afghanistan. The airlifts have provided shelter materials, tents, health supplies and high-energy food items for vulnerable people in Afghanistan.
- ◆ The State Department has provided $32,260,000 to relief agencies to assist Afghan refugees in Pakistan, Iran and other neighboring countries. The grants also provide funds to assist refugees attempting to return to their homes in Afghanistan.
- ◆ The government has sent Disaster Assistance Response Team (DART) personnel to Pakistan, Uzbekistan, Turkmenistan and Tajikistan to ensure that relief efforts are effective and well coordinated.

“The Islam that we know is a faith devoted to the worship of one God, as revealed through The Holy Qu’ran. It teaches the value and importance of charity, mercy, and peace.”

--President George W. Bush, 11/15/01

The United States is a nation of religious freedom, and the President has acted to ensure that the world’s Muslims -- from Dearborn, Michigan to Kabul, Afghanistan -- know that America appreciates and celebrates the rich traditions of Islam:

- ◆ At the national prayer service following the September 11 attacks, the President included religious leaders from many faiths, including an Imam from the Islamic Society of North America. Subsequently the President hosted an interfaith meeting on September 20 with leaders of different religious denominations to pray jointly for the victims of the September 11 tragedies and called for national reconciliation.
- ◆ Soon after the terrorist attacks, the President visited the Islamic Center of Washington to meet with American Muslim leaders and deliver a message of tolerance and solidarity. The President condemned unwarranted attacks on Americans of Muslim faith, and urged Americans to show their support for their Muslim friends.
- ◆ President Bush launched the “Friendship Through Education” initiative, encouraging children in America and children in Muslim nations to connect through email, letter writing, and different friendship and understanding projects. The President wants this initiative to help youths from different societies deepen their understanding of each others’ traditions and outlooks.
- ◆ For Ramadan, on November 19 President Bush hosted the first-ever Iftar -- or breaking-of-the-fast -- dinner at the White House, which included the ambassadors from nations with Muslim populations. The President also issued a warm greeting to Muslims around America and around the world with a special Ramadan message.
- ◆ The State Department asked U.S. embassies in Muslim countries to host Iftar dinners and many members of his administration also held their own celebrations. Secretary of State Colin Powell, Attorney General John Ashcroft, and Deputy Secretary of Defense Paul Wolfowitz all participated in Iftar dinners.
- ◆ On December 17, President Bush hosted Muslim children at the White House in honor of Eid al-Fitr, Islam’s most sacred holiday. He read an Eid book to the children and hosted them for cookies and punch as well as delivering a present to each child in the tradition of Eid. The President also issued a taped Eid message and read an Eid greeting.
- ◆ Secretary of Energy Spencer Abraham recognized Americans for acts of compassion following the September 11th attacks -- he honored, for example, a church that started an escort service for Muslim women who wear the hijab, and a citizen who created a fund to assist low-income Muslim victims of hate-inspired vandalism. Secretary Abraham will also launch a series of public service announcements further promoting tolerance.

---

"We face a united, determined enemy. America is going to be prepared."

--President George W. Bush, 10/8/01

President Bush has taken action to help protect America against terrorist attacks. The government is working around the clock to protect Americans. Among many other steps:

- ◆ The President worked with Congress to provide $20 billion to promote homeland security, including funds to upgrade intelligence and security, provide recovery assistance to disaster sites, help victims' families, increase numbers of law enforcement personnel, provide health care for displaced Americans, and purchase irradiation equipment to sanitize the mail.
- ◆ The President established the Office of Homeland Security -- under the diligent guidance of Governor Tom Ridge -- and the Homeland Security Council to coordinate, and implement the Executive Branch's efforts to detect, prevent, protect against, respond to, and recover from terrorist attacks within the United States.
- ◆ The President moved to implement tough new airline security standards that tighten background checks for airline screeners and workers, dramatically expands the federal air marshal program, creates strict new baggage security requirements, and tightens security in all areas of airports.
- ◆ The President established an advisory committee for cyber security to ensure that America's key infrastructures are protected. The advisory committee is a public/private partnership.
- ◆ The Administration has strengthened coordination between law enforcement agencies of the U.S. and neighboring countries to address common threats while ensuring the free flow of goods and people.
- ◆ The Food and Drug Administration has enhanced the food screening process of imported foods.
- ◆ The Department of Health and Human Services created the Office of Public Health Preparedness, to coordinate the national response to public health emergencies.
- ◆ Public health professionals provided antibiotics to more than 30,000 people to protect against their possible exposure to anthrax.
- ◆ HHS increased the supply of drug caches around the country, added specific use drugs, and began to increase the supply of small pox vaccine to 300 million.
- ◆ The President created a Presidential Task force to help Americans prepare in their homes, neighborhoods, schools, and other public places from the consequences of terrorist attacks.

- ◆ The Centers for Disease Control and the U.S. Postal Service provided guidelines on how to handle mail that had potentially come into contact with anthrax.
- ◆ EPA has worked with water utilities, chemical, pesticide, petroleum and fertilizer manufacturers to increase their vigilance and secure their resources against an attack.

---

"It is said that adversity introduces us to ourselves. This is true of a nation as well. In this trial, we have been reminded, and the world has seen, that our fellow Americans are generous and kind, resourceful and brave. We see our national character in rescuers working past exhaustion; in long lines of blood donors; in thousands of citizens who have asked to work and serve in any way possible."

--President's Remarks at National Day of Prayer and Remembrance, 9/14/01

Every one of the victims who died on September 11th was the most important person on earth to somebody. The American people have responded to the tragedies of September 11 with an unprecedented outpouring of support for their fellow Americans who lost so much on September 11:

- ◆ While it is impossible to catalog every penny of contributions, at least $1.3 billion has been collected in aid for families of both civilian and uniformed victims of the September 11th terrorist attacks.
- ◆ There are many relief organizations collecting aid to distribute to the families of the thousands of victims from the September 11th terrorist attacks. Examples include the Twin Towers Orphan fund, the Pentagon Assistance Fund, the WTC School Fund, the Washington Redskins Relief Fund, the Dole-Clinton Families of Freedom Scholarship Fund, and funds established by the United Jewish Communities, Catholic Charities, the Burn Center at the Washington Hospital Center, and many, many more.
- ◆ The American Red Cross has raised over $647.4 million and has distributed over $217.7 million to the families of the victims of September 11th.
- ◆ The September 11th United Way Relief Fund has been working thoughtfully and deliberately to distribute $143 million in cash and services to help rebuild the lives of victims' families and affected communities.
- ◆ On September 1, the entertainment industry came together in historic fashion to raise funds and raise the spirits of all who have been touched by the horrific tragedy that has struck America. Over $150 million was pledged through the United Way September 11th Telethon Fund, "America: Tribute to Heroes." By the end of the year, a total of $100 million in cash assistance will have been delivered to victims families through the Telethon Fund by the entertainment industry.
- ◆ New York City's major human service organizations have joined forces under an umbrella group called the 9/11 United Services Group. At the urging of the New York State Attorney General, the group launched a confidential database, which will serve as a central clearinghouse for information on victims, survivors, financial needs, and the amounts of money and services provided by charities. This database enables the different charities to communicate with each other and track both the needs of the families of victims as well as the amount of assistance they are receiving.

- ◆ More than 100 people with ties to the Sept. 11 terror attacks will carry the Olympic torch as it makes its way to Salt Lake City for the Winter Games. The torch will be passed at the Pentagon on Friday, December 21, 2001.
- ◆ The President announced www.libertyunites.org in the Rose Garden on September 18, 2001, and praised Americans for their outpouring of charitable relief support in the wake of September 11th.

Mr. Kavanaugh,

We continue periodically to receive FOIA requests from the ACLU and People for the American Way regarding documents pertaining to the faith-based audits performed last Summer at DOJ, DOL, DOE, HHS and HUD. So far, the audit reports have satisfied them. We'll let you know if this matter heats up in the future.

Elizabeth,

Thanks for the e-mail and fax. The FOIA request from People for the American Way is similar to the requests received by other departments. At the present time, PFAW appears satisfied with simply obtaining a copy of the report you submitted to the White House. Call the person from PFAW, confirm this understanding, and then provide two copies of your audit report to the OGC FOIA person with a Memo from you regarding your common understanding with PFAW. That should do it (at least this is the way it has worked in the past!). Let me know if I can do anything further.

Jim

I did the last one. Does David Cole want another piece of me?! Just kidding. Sure, DoJ will participate. Whether it's me or another depends on the topic and date. Lori Sharpe Day will coordinate DoJ participation, as she did last time. (Actually, Lori, Jennifer Newstead may be good for this one if the topic fits.)

best,

The Washington Council of Lawyers is having a brownbag forum on responses to terrorism.
The panel will be a sequel to our October 25th forum entitled "Responding to Terrorism: Safeguarding Our Communities and Our Civil Liberties." Attached is a flyer from that event.
In our upcoming panel, we once again seek to provide a variety of perspectives on how to reconcile current efforts to protect our security with the need to guarantee fundamental civil liberties. Our focus for this event will be on some of the policies that have emerged since October 25th, including those concerning military tribunals and the attorney-client privilege. The Washington Council of Lawyers is a voluntary bar association dedicated to promoting public interest and pro bono law. To find out more about the Council, you may visit our website at www.washingtoncounciloflawyers.org. We plan to hold this event on Wed., Jan. 9, or Thurs. Jan. 17, 2002, from 12 noon until 2:00 p.m. at a law firm in downtown Washington, D.C.

Brett,
Many thanks!
As you saw from Dinh's reply, he participated in our last one (to which this is the follow up), and he was great. Another person from DOJ, as he suggests, would be wonderful. I assume I should just follow up with him.
Let me know if you have any more thoughts. Thanks again!

Sharon
P.S. If I don't talk or email with you before then, have a Merry Christmas!

Dear Mr. Dinh,

Many thanks! It was great to have you as a panelist in our Oct. 25th event and everyone appreciated your explanations of the Patriot Act and your insightful comments.

I am glad to learn that DOJ will participate in our follow up event.

were, as you surmised, trying to spread the burdens around a bit -- we will have others to take over David Cole's role! -- so I had asked Brett for his thoughts on who could present the administration policies that have been announced since our Oct. 25th forum.

I am happy to coordinate directly with Lori Sharpe Day as you state in your email. Thanks again --

Sharon Bradford Franklin

Executive Director

Washington Council of Lawyers

My impression of the editorial exactly. What was unexpected was the suggestion that a recess appointment would be justified. It's always possible they'll focus on the merits of the individual nominations later - which I think would be good.

Anyway, thank you very much for working with Wittes, I'm sure that it helped and very much appreciate it.

I just read today's Post editorial, which is helpful -- although less than we would like. Seems that the page as a whole decided to take a pass on the substantive merits of the nominations and focus on the procedural issues. Not entirely unexpected.

I share Brett's concerns. The program got off to a great start. Ken's primary goal now should be swift implementation. The statements Brett has highlighted suggest that Ken is focused more on "selling" the program. And in doing so in this manner, he may make things much harder for himself and the department.

American History: Bush, Cheney would limit ability and right to learn it
(HChron)

Editorial

The Houston Chronicle, December 26, 2001

In a column that appeared on the Chronicle's editorial page Dec. 23, George F. Will praised Lynn Cheney for championing the study of American history. But if Cheney's spouse, Vice President Dick Cheney, and his boss, President Bush, had their way, only a limited history of American government would be available to coming generations.

The vice president still refuses to tell Americans which energy company executives he consulted while drafting the Bush administration's national energy policy, or how much the executives contributed to various campaign chests for the privilege. President Bush has issued an order giving both former and sitting presidents the power to deny public access to aging White House documents that belong by law to the American people.

In her recent talk at Princeton University, Lynn Cheney lamented a survey that found only 22 percent of seniors at elite college campuses knew that the words "government of the people, by the people and for the people" were from Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. What is worse, however, is an administration that can quote the Gettysburg Address but declines to be guided by its themes.

In an article on the Chronicle's Dec. 21 Outlook page, White House counsel Alberto R. Gonzales defended President Bush's effort to limit public access to presidential records that are, at minimum, 12 years old. Gonzales argues that unclassified, decades-old White House documents can be too sensitive to be shown to the American people who own them. He misses the point that it is not the documents that endanger national security, but the misguided or shameful executive decisions they might reveal.

The president's lawyer says the release of sensitive Reagan administration papers could deprive President Bush and future presidents of candid advice. That is laughable on its face.

Politicians of both parties fondly allude to the Founding Fathers and their ideals, as Lynn Cheney did at Princeton. Too few are scrupulous enough to act on those ideals, and some appear not to know the difference.

From President's comments in Crawford last week when questioned about recess appointments:

"Thinking about it. I don't know yet. I'm right now focused on the military operations in Afghanistan and giving Tommy a tour of my ranch. But I, at the appropriate time, will take a good, hard look at recess appointments. I'm disappointed that a lot of my appointments were stalled in the United States Senate, weren't given a hearing. This Scalia man got out of committee, but never given a vote on the floor of the Senate. He's a good fellow, he ought to be approved. But I'll take a good, hard look at all the options available to me."

American History: Bush, Cheney would limit ability and right to learn it
(HChron)

Editorial

The Houston Chronicle, December 26, 2001

In a column that appeared on the Chronicle's editorial page Dec. 23, George F. Will praised Lynn Cheney for championing the study of American history. But if Cheney's spouse, Vice President Dick Cheney, and his boss, President Bush, had their way, only a limited history of American government would be available to coming generations.

The vice president still refuses to tell Americans which energy company executives he consulted while drafting the Bush administration's national energy policy, or how much the executives contributed to various campaign chests for the privilege. President Bush has issued an order giving both former and sitting presidents the power to deny public access to aging
White House documents that belong by law to the America people.

In her recent talk at Princeton University, Lynn Cheney lamented a survey that found only 22 percent of seniors at elite college campuses knew that the words "government of the people, by the people and for the people" were from Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. What is worse, however, is an administration that can quote the Gettysburg Address but declines to be guided by its themes.

In an article on the Chronicle's Dec. 21 Outlook page, White House counsel Alberto R. Gonzales defended President Bush's effort to limit public access to presidential records that are, at minimum, 12 years old.

Gonzales argues that unclassified, decades-old White House documents can be too sensitive to be shown to the American people who own them. He misses the point that it is not the documents that endanger national security, but the misguided or shameful executive decisions they might reveal.

The president's lawyer says the release of sensitive Reagan administration papers could deprive President Bush and future presidents of candid advice. That is laughable on its face.

Politicians of both parties fondly allude to the Founding Fathers and their ideals, as Lynn Cheney did at Princeton. Too few are scrupulous enough to act on those ideals, and some appear not to know the difference.

Indeed the Framers did, sir, and the quality of their deliberations was vastly improved by the decision early on in the convention that the proceedings would be secret.

People can grasp intuitively the need for confidentiality to ensure candid communications to achieve important goals in their own lives -- good marriage (spousal privilege), good health care (doctor-patient privilege), a clean soul (priest-penitent privilege) -- but, alas, they often fail to understand why a President needs confidentiality to ensure candid communications to achieve the important goal of wise decisionmaking at the highest levels of government.

I don't particularly care. I reviewed last year's; my sense is that it's probably not a good use of WHCO resources to participate in the development on this annual report, which is really driven by technical questions about existing money laundering law enforcement strategies. Best leave this to the experts and review the finished product. You should check with ARG and Tim, though.

I would be inclined to let them handle this. I presume they have our talking points? Brett, we also need to quickly complete our review of the remaining Reagan documents.

is scheduled to do Presidential records on Thursday. Doug Kmiec and Tom Hungar will appear and will speak in support of the President's order, and two historians will speak against it. If we wanted to present an Administration person, they would welcome that instead of those guys, but I assume we do not. Kmiec and Hungar are both very good.

In discussing ethics training for 2002, Tim suggested that I tell you that he thinks the development of a political component of the training be developed. At some point in the next three months, I will have a dedicated training for commissioned officers on various ethics issues, including financial disclosure requirements. Tim thinks this would be a good time to train on the political activity issues. Additionally, consistent with past practice in other administrations, in addition to internal political activity memos, the WH should prepare an advice memo for political appointees executive branch wide. You may already be on top of these. To the extent you do not have prior political activity memos from the Clinton Administration, I may have some in my files. I'm certain there are a number of such memos in the Boyden Gray binder from the 41 administration.

Elizabeth:

You need to fill out two forms. First is the Travel Authorization form, which you get from your office and must be signed by your supervisor. I have nothing to do with that part of the process, and you don't need to submit that to me.

Second, you need to fill out a Travel Expenses From Outside Sources (TEFOS) form, which you can get off the internal website or from Jason Torchinsky in our office. This must be filled out by you and signed by me prior to your trip (note -- prior approval is legally required in order to accept the payment, so make sure I see it and sign it before you leave).

Per a discussion I had with Moose, we will plan to circulate an updated political activity memo both internally and to departments and agencies. Then, we can brief again internally at the time of the ethics training.

Note that the basic internal procedure we have been using and will continue to use is (i) all political activity is coordinated with Political Affairs and (ii) Political Affairs pre-clears everything with me.

In addition, per a discussion I have had with Mehlman, we will have another briefing for the relevant officials in the departments and agencies.

Subject: 2002 Political Activity Advice

In discussing ethics training for 2002, Tim suggested that I tell you that he thinks the development of a political component of the training be developed. At some point in the next three months, I will have a dedicated training for commissioned officers on various ethics issues, including financial disclosure requirements. Tim thinks this would be a good time to train on the political activity issues. Additionally, consistent with past practice in other administrations, in addition to internal political activity memos, the WH should prepare an advice memo for political appointees executive branch wide. You may already be on top of these. To the extent you do not have prior political activity memos from the Clinton Administration, I may have some in my files. I'm certain there are a number of such memos in the Boyden Gray binder from the 41 administration.

Brett,

I don't think that we have any sort of updated judicial talking points.
I've done a few things that can be drawn from to create overall talking points. Let me know what you're looking for.

No one's really on the list for consideration (unfortunately) -- per Tim's conversation with Sen. Smith, Smith's office is resubmitting names for our consideration. I still don't know whether our previous candidate has been told he's no longer going to be nominated (Sen. Smith wanted to tell him).

"NAIC PRESIDENT EXPECTS MAJORITY OF STATES TO APPROVE TERRORISM EXCLUSION"
(BestWire, 12/27/01)

DES MOINES, Iowa (BestWire) - Commissioners in 47 states approved a recommendation to allow exclusions for terrorism coverage, but whether that translates into those states actually allowing them is another matter, said the president of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners. During a Dec. 20 conference call, only California, New York and Connecticut voted against recommending approval for limited terrorism exclusions in the language of commercial property and commercial liability policies, said Terri Vaughan, Iowa insurance commissioner and NAIC president. Individual state laws will affect the insurance commissioners' ability to approve the exclusions, but the NAIC also recommended that any approval be withdrawn 15 days after the president signs a federal reinsurance program into law. "Our hope is Congress will come back in January and pass a law," Vaughan said. Massachusetts, Colorado, Idaho, South Dakota and Minnesota have said they will approve limited terrorism exclusions, and Vaughan said the "vast majority of states" will approve limited exclusions for terrorism. "The vote was overwhelming," she said.

Commissioners had been receiving a number of exclusion filings for commercial lines, including a filing from the Insurance Services Office in early November, as the industry waited for Congress to pass a federal reinsurance backstop. The industry has been asking Congress for one since the terrorist attacks of Sept. 11 made reinsurance for terrorism all but disappear. The House passed a bill, but the Senate had not, when Congress adjourned Dec. 20. The commissioners held their conference call later that day. The Commissioners approved using ISO's exclusion language after working with ISO to narrow its scope, she said. The exclusion will be invoked if an act of terrorism results in losses of more than $25 million industrywide. "That pales in comparison to the magnitude of the World Trade Center losses, but it does provide limited coverage for small, isolated events," Vaughan said. ISO's original exclusion language was very broad and would have included limited events that had always intended to be covered, she said. For example, because the bombing of an abortion clinic was an exposure that was covered previously, commissioners wanted to find a way to continue it, she said. Along with narrowing the ISO exclusion language, the NAIC also changed its definition of terrorism to include terrorism caused by domestic sources, Vaughan said. When the definition was made public during the NAIC's Winter Meeting in Chicago, it only addressed international sources. An additional exclusion threshold applies to liability coverage only. When 50 or more people are killed or injured by an act of terrorism, the exclusion kicks in, and the policy would not provide coverage for any loss, she said. Terrorist acts involving the use of nuclear or biochemical materials would not be covered, either. On Dec. 21, the NAIC provided states an example of a bulletin that could be used to show they would allow the exclusions. Iowa's insurance department, for example, has posted the bulletin on its Web site indicating it would permit the exclusion, consistent with ISO language. Vaughan said she suspects other states will use the same expedited filing process Iowa is using so the insurance department can act quickly. A company can file a standard exclusion application indicating it's using the ISO endorsement and that it cannot get reinsurance coverage. Commissioners received very few filings for personal lines exclusions until a week ago, when ISO filed for them, Vaughan said. "We'll study that and make recommendations," she added. State insurance commissioners recognize the market issues that would be created if they did not make exclusions an option, Vaughan said. She declined to speculate on how big the potential disruption could be, but noted only renewal policies will need the exclusion, and not everyone is renewing on Jan. 1. They were also hearing that some commercial policies were moving into the surplus market and being written without terrorism coverage. The problem is the surplus or non-admitted market does not provide the policy purchaser with the same protection as the admitted market, which is backed up by a state guaranty fund, Vaughan said. Commissioners were concerned about consumers losing the guaranty fund protection, as well as losing other commercial coverages. "Anecdotal" stories about huge price increases in commercial rates, were being heard by the Commissioners, Vaughan said, and in response, the NAIC formed a task force at the Chicago meeting to gather data from states on rate trends. Commissioners will look at the data to identify any issues that need tackling. "We're in the process of designing what the data request will look like," Vaughan said. Aware of talk about the need for optional federal chartering, particularly since Sept. 11, Vaughan said that with all the discussion that has taken place in Congress since then "It's my sense there is a pretty high level of understanding on this issue of the inability of the industry to manage this potentially catastrophic exposure." The insurance industry's performance following Sept. 11 is a "remarkable" statement on the strength of state regulation. Vaughan said. State regulators have the industry in a position to withstand the significant losses of that day. "It's still standing and still offering coverage," she said. In the past, the federal government has created programs to address major problems, she said, citing the federal riot insurance program in the 1960s and the current federal flood insurance program, as examples. "In neither case was that seen as an argument favoring the need for federal regulation," Vaughan said. "I have a lot of difficulty figuring out how people tie the need for federal regulation with Sept. 11." (By Dennis Kelly, Washington bureau manager, BestWeek: dennis.kelly@ambest.com)

Jipping-----<P> 2002 &nbsp;WorldNetDaily.com</P><P>Senate Democrats running the obstruction campaign against President Bush's judicial nominees must be squirming in their seats as 2002 opens.

<P>There's no doubt such an obstruction campaign exists. Though President Bush started nominating earlier and made more nominations than previous new presidents, the Senate approved just 28 of his 65 nominees a record low confirmation rate. Democrats' pathetic confirmation performance last year was even 40 percent lower than their own average under past Republican presidents.

<P>Now Supreme Court Chief Justice William Rehnquist has taken Senate Democrats to task and exposed why their obstruction campaign is so dangerous for the country. In his 2001 annual report on the judiciary, released on Tuesday, the chief justice warned that in "times such as these, the role of the courts becomes even more important in order to enforce the rule of law. To continue functioning effectively and efficiently, however, the courts must be appropriately staffed. This means that judicial vacancies must be timely filled with well-qualified candidates."

<P>Democrats are squirming because Chief Justice Rehnquist has long been excruciatingly bi-partisan in his criticism of judicial vacancies and they have jumped on his similar vacancy warnings when Republicans ran the Senate. On June 24, 1998, now-Majority Leader Tom Daschle said: "The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, William Rehnquist, calls that 'vacancy crisis' a 'most serious problem.' He warns that 'vacancies cannot remain at such high levels indefinitely without eroding the quality of justice that traditionally has been associated with the federal judiciary.' We cannot wait for the judicial system to collapse before the Senate acts. I call upon Senate Republicans to reject partisan politics and significantly accelerate the pace of scheduled judicial confirmations."

<P>Interesting. Chief Justice Rehnquist's warnings were valid and the judicial system about to collapse with just 72 vacancies back then. Vacancies are 30 percent higher today, yet Sen. Daschle is instead leading the obstruction campaign. Sounds like "partisan politics" to me.

<P>Judiciary Committee Chairman Patrick Leahy is playing the same game. Back on March 2, 1998, he said: "Chief Justice William Rehnquist spoke forcefully on the judicial vacancy crisis that is plaguing the federal courts. He warned: 'Vacancies cannot remain at such high levels indefinitely without eroding the quality of justice that traditionally has been associated with the federal judiciary.' Justice delayed means justice denied, because without judges courts cannot try cases, sentence the guilty or resolve civil disputes. Partisan and narrow ideological efforts to impose political litmus tests on judicial nominees and to shut down the judiciary must stop."

<P>Now that's odd. Chief Justice Rehnquist was worth quoting and justice was being denied with just 82 vacancies back then. Vacancies are 15 percent higher today, yet Senator Leahy's committee is a virtual black hole from which judicial nominees cannot emerge. Sounds like a "narrow ideological effort to shut down the judiciary" to me.

<P>On February 3, 1998, Senator Dianne Feinstein said: "When even a Republican Chief Justice criticizes the Republican Congress for refusing to move more quickly to confirm judges, you know something's wrong. The Chief Justice is deeply concerned about the large number of judicial vacancies on the federal courts. There are too few judges to handle the workload."

<P>Let's check the record. Chief Justice Rehnquist was a sage and there were "too few judges to handle the workload" with just 81 vacancies back then. Vacancies are 16 percent higher today and Senator Feinstein is blocking President Bush's nominees to appeals court positions in her state. To quote her, "you know something's wrong."

<P>In his 1998 State of the Union Address, President Bill Clinton used Chief Justice Rehnquist as authority in urging the Senate to confirm his nominees. He said: "Police, prosecutors, and prevention programs, as good as they are, they can't work if our court system doesn't work. Today there are a large number of vacancies in the federal courts. Here is what the Chief Justice of the United States wrote: 'Judicial vacancies cannot remain at such high levels indefinitely without eroding the quality of justice.' I simply ask the United States Senate to heed this plea, and vote on the highly qualified judicial nominees before you, up or down."

<P>Today, with vacancies nearly 20 percent higher, President Bush should similarly cite Chief Justice Rehnquist in his upcoming State of the Union Address. Perhaps he could quote from President Clinton's speech, since the same point is even more urgent today. Or, though it's slightly less dignified, he might simply quote Senator Leahy from March 1997: "Let us stop the dillydallying."<P><hr noshade size="1" width="16% "><P><A HREF="mailto:tjipping@worldnetdaily.com">Thomas L. # THE WHITE HOUSE

COALITION INFORMATION CENTER

1/3/2002

Today's Schedule

- 12:30p EST State Department daily press briefing with spokesman Richard Boucher.
- 1:30p EST Department of Defense daily press briefing.
- 2:30p EST USAID Administrator Natsios to hold a media briefing at the State Department.

In Case You Missed It

- "Kabul is doing its best to recover its role as the center of Afghan culture. Today, in the ruins of the Kabul theater, a group of actors staged a small play...About 100 people attended, including musicians and singers who, for six years, had not been able to sing in public. As the first patriotic song was sung, many of the men and women danced in the aisles..." (NPR Morning Edition, 1/2/02)

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- "The [latest bin Laden] tape contains the usual rhetoric we have seen before from a deviant and cowardly criminal. Bin Laden is deluding himself if he believes that his criminal acts are justified by any religion or principle of humanity. There is nothing that justifies terrorism and the murder of thousands of innocent people. These criminal acts have been condemned and rejected by all faiths, including Islam." (Prince bin Sultan, Saudi Ambassador to the U.S.; Embassy news release, 12/27/01)
- "Saudi King Fahd has called for an eradication of terrorism, which he said is prohibited by Islam...Terrorism 'sets out to spread evil over the earth, and our religion bans that,' he said. 'Terrorism has neither homeland, nor religion, nor nationality.'" (AFP, 12/29/01)
- "The Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) on Monday offered total support to the U.S.-led international coalition and the 'anti-terror war'...Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates again condemned the attacks and 'expressed their total readiness to cooperate with the international community..." (AFP, 12/31/01)

Message

Osama bin Laden is a coward who murders innocents, including women and children and Muslims.

We are a long way from finished in Afghanistan. Much difficult and dangerous work is yet to come. Many terrorists are still hiding in heavily fortified bunkers in rugged territory. They are said to be prepared for a long stay underground. But they are in for a sudden change of plans – because one by one, we are going to find them. Piece by piece, we will destroy their network of terror.

The U.S. is leading a global coalition that has made great progress in the war on terrorism:

- Began to destroy al-Qaeda's grip on Afghanistan by driving the Taliban from power.
- Disrupted al-Qaeda's global operations and terrorist financing networks.
- Helped the innocent people of Afghanistan recover from the Taliban's reign of terror.
- Helped Afghans put aside long-standing differences to form a new interim government that represents all Afghans – including women.

Facts of the Day

- In December 2001 alone, the U.N.'s World Food Program has dispatched – with U.S. assistance – an unprecedented 116,000 metric tons of humanitarian food aid into Afghanistan, which is more than it has delivered anywhere in its 40 year history. (U.N. News Service, 1/2/02)
- On January 1, 2002, UNICEF and the World Health Organization initiated a 3-month countrywide measles vaccination program in Afghanistan. The program aims to reach at least 9 million Afghan children in a country where some 35,000 children die from measles each year. (UNICEF, 12/20/01)

THE WHITE HOUSE

COALITION INFORMATION CENTER

1/3/2002

Today's Schedule

- 12:30p EST      State Department daily press briefing with spokesman Richard Boucher.
- 1:30p EST      Department of Defense daily press briefing.
- 2:30p EST      USAID Administrator Natsios to hold a media briefing at the State Department.

In Case You Missed It

- "Kabul is doing its best to recover its role as the center of Afghan culture. Today, in the ruins of the Kabul theater, a group of actors staged a small play...About 100 people attended, including musicians and singers who, for six years, had not been able to sing in public. As the first patriotic song was sung, many of the men and women danced in the aisles..." (NPR Morning Edition, 1/2/02)

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- "The [latest bin Laden] tape contains the usual rhetoric we have seen before from a deviant and cowardly criminal. Bin Laden is deluding himself if he believes that his criminal acts are justified by any religion or principle of humanity. There is nothing that justifies terrorism and the murder of thousands of innocent people. These criminal acts have been condemned and rejected by all faiths, including Islam." (Prince bin Sultan, Saudi Ambassador to the U.S.; Embassy news release, 12/27/01)
- "Saudi King Fahd has called for an eradication of terrorism, which he said is prohibited by Islam...Terrorism 'sets out to spread evil over the earth, and our religion bans that,' he said. 'Terrorism has neither homeland, nor religion, nor nationality.'" (AFP, 12/29/01)
- "The Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) on Monday offered total support to the U.S.-led international coalition and the 'anti-terror war'...Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates again condemned the attacks and 'expressed their total readiness to cooperate with the international community..." (AFP, 12/31/01)

Message

Osama bin Laden is a coward who murders innocents, including women and children and Muslims.

We are a long way from finished in Afghanistan. Much difficult and dangerous work is yet to come. Many terrorists are still hiding in heavily fortified bunkers in rugged territory. They are said to be prepared for a long stay underground. But they are in for a sudden change of plans – because one by one, we are going to find them. Piece by piece, we will destroy their network of terror.

The U.S. is leading a global coalition that has made great progress in the war on terrorism:

- Began to destroy al-Qaeda's grip on Afghanistan by driving the Taliban from power.
- Disrupted al-Qaeda's global operations and terrorist financing networks.
- Helped the innocent people of Afghanistan recover from the Taliban's reign of terror.
- Helped Afghans put aside long-standing differences to form a new interim government that represents all Afghans – including women.

Facts of the Day

- In December 2001 alone, the U.N.'s World Food Program has dispatched – with U.S. assistance – an unprecedented 116,000 metric tons of humanitarian food aid into Afghanistan, which is more than it has delivered anywhere in its 40 year history. (U.N. News Service, 1/2/02)
- On January 1, 2002, UNICEF and the World Health Organization initiated a 3-month countrywide measles vaccination program in Afghanistan. The program aims to reach at least 9 million Afghan children in a country where some 35,000 children die from measles each year. (UNICEF, 12/20/01)

THE WHITE HOUSE

COALITION INFORMATION CENTER

1/3/2002

Today's Schedule

- 12:30p EST State Department daily press briefing with spokesman Richard Boucher.
- 1:30p EST Department of Defense daily press briefing.
- 2:30p EST USAID Administrator Natsios to hold a media briefing at the State Department.

In Case You Missed It

- "Kabul is doing its best to recover its role as the center of Afghan culture. Today, in the ruins of the Kabul theater, a group of actors staged a small play...About 100 people attended, including musicians and singers who, for six years, had not been able to sing in public. As the first patriotic song was sung, many of the men and women danced in the aisles..." (NPR Morning Edition, 1/2/02)

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- "The [latest bin Laden] tape contains the usual rhetoric we have seen before from a deviant and cowardly criminal. Bin Laden is deluding himself if he believes that his criminal acts are justified by any religion or principle of humanity. There is nothing that justifies terrorism and the murder of thousands of innocent people. These criminal acts have been condemned and rejected by all faiths, including Islam." (Prince bin Sultan, Saudi Ambassador to the U.S.; Embassy news release, 12/27/01)
- "Saudi King Fahd has called for an eradication of terrorism, which he said is prohibited by Islam...Terrorism 'sets out to spread evil over the earth, and our religion bans that,' he said. 'Terrorism has neither homeland, nor religion, nor nationality.'" (AFP, 12/29/01)
- "The Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) on Monday offered total support to the U.S.-led international coalition and the 'anti-terror war'...Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates again condemned the attacks and 'expressed their total readiness to cooperate with the international community..." (AFP, 12/31/01)

Message

Osama bin Laden is a coward who murders innocents, including women and children and Muslims.

We are a long way from finished in Afghanistan. Much difficult and dangerous work is yet to come. Many terrorists are still hiding in heavily fortified bunkers in rugged territory. They are said to be prepared for a long stay underground. But they are in for a sudden change of plans – because one by one, we are going to find them. Piece by piece, we will destroy their network of terror.

The U.S. is leading a global coalition that has made great progress in the war on terrorism:

- Began to destroy al-Qaeda's grip on Afghanistan by driving the Taliban from power.
- Disrupted al-Qaeda's global operations and terrorist financing networks.
- Helped the innocent people of Afghanistan recover from the Taliban's reign of terror.
- Helped Afghans put aside long-standing differences to form a new interim government that represents all Afghans – including women.

Facts of the Day

- In December 2001 alone, the U.N.'s World Food Program has dispatched – with U.S. assistance – an unprecedented 116,000 metric tons of humanitarian food aid into Afghanistan, which is more than it has delivered anywhere in its 40 year history. (U.N. News Service, 1/2/02)
- On January 1, 2002, UNICEF and the World Health Organization initiated a 3-month countrywide measles vaccination program in Afghanistan. The program aims to reach at least 9 million Afghan children in a country where some 35,000 children die from measles each year. (UNICEF, 12/20/01)

THE WHITE HOUSE

COALITION INFORMATION CENTER

1/3/2002

Today's Schedule

- 12:30p EST      State Department daily press briefing with spokesman Richard Boucher.
- 1:30p EST      Department of Defense daily press briefing.
- 2:30p EST      USAID Administrator Natsios to hold a media briefing at the State Department.

In Case You Missed It

- "Kabul is doing its best to recover its role as the center of Afghan culture. Today, in the ruins of the Kabul theater, a group of actors staged a small play...About 100 people attended, including musicians and singers who, for six years, had not been able to sing in public. As the first patriotic song was sung, many of the men and women danced in the aisles..." (NPR Morning Edition, 1/2/02)

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- "The [latest bin Laden] tape contains the usual rhetoric we have seen before from a deviant and cowardly criminal. Bin Laden is deluding himself if he believes that his criminal acts are justified by any religion or principle of humanity. There is nothing that justifies terrorism and the murder of thousands of innocent people. These criminal acts have been condemned and rejected by all faiths, including Islam." (Prince bin Sultan, Saudi Ambassador to the U.S.; Embassy news release, 12/27/01)
- "Saudi King Fahd has called for an eradication of terrorism, which he said is prohibited by Islam...Terrorism 'sets out to spread evil over the earth, and our religion bans that,' he said. 'Terrorism has neither homeland, nor religion, nor nationality.'" (AFP, 12/29/01)
- "The Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) on Monday offered total support to the U.S.-led international coalition and the 'anti-terror war'...Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates again condemned the attacks and 'expressed their total readiness to cooperate with the international community..." (AFP, 12/31/01)

Message

Osama bin Laden is a coward who murders innocents, including women and children and Muslims.

We are a long way from finished in Afghanistan. Much difficult and dangerous work is yet to come. Many terrorists are still hiding in heavily fortified bunkers in rugged territory. They are said to be prepared for a long stay underground. But they are in for a sudden change of plans – because one by one, we are going to find them. Piece by piece, we will destroy their network of terror.

The U.S. is leading a global coalition that has made great progress in the war on terrorism:

- Began to destroy al-Qaeda's grip on Afghanistan by driving the Taliban from power.
- Disrupted al-Qaeda's global operations and terrorist financing networks.
- Helped the innocent people of Afghanistan recover from the Taliban's reign of terror.
- Helped Afghans put aside long-standing differences to form a new interim government that represents all Afghans – including women.

Facts of the Day

- In December 2001 alone, the U.N.'s World Food Program has dispatched – with U.S. assistance – an unprecedented 116,000 metric tons of humanitarian food aid into Afghanistan, which is more than it has delivered anywhere in its 40 year history. (U.N. News Service, 1/2/02)
- On January 1, 2002, UNICEF and the World Health Organization initiated a 3-month countrywide measles vaccination program in Afghanistan. The program aims to reach at least 9 million Afghan children in a country where some 35,000 children die from measles each year. (UNICEF, 12/20/01)

THE WHITE HOUSE

COALITION INFORMATION CENTER

1/3/2002

Today's Schedule

- 12:30p EST State Department daily press briefing with spokesman Richard Boucher.
- 1:30p EST Department of Defense daily press briefing.
- 2:30p EST USAID Administrator Natsios to hold a media briefing at the State Department.

In Case You Missed It

- "Kabul is doing its best to recover its role as the center of Afghan culture. Today, in the ruins of the Kabul theater, a group of actors staged a small play...About 100 people attended, including musicians and singers who, for six years, had not been able to sing in public. As the first patriotic song was sung, many of the men and women danced in the aisles..." (NPR Morning Edition, 1/2/02)

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- "The [latest bin Laden] tape contains the usual rhetoric we have seen before from a deviant and cowardly criminal. Bin Laden is deluding himself if he believes that his criminal acts are justified by any religion or principle of humanity. There is nothing that justifies terrorism and the murder of thousands of innocent people. These criminal acts have been condemned and rejected by all faiths, including Islam." (Prince bin Sultan, Saudi Ambassador to the U.S.; Embassy news release, 12/27/01)
- "Saudi King Fahd has called for an eradication of terrorism, which he said is prohibited by Islam...Terrorism 'sets out to spread evil over the earth, and our religion bans that,' he said. 'Terrorism has neither homeland, nor religion, nor nationality.'" (AFP, 12/29/01)
- "The Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) on Monday offered total support to the U.S.-led international coalition and the 'anti-terror war'...Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates again condemned the attacks and 'expressed their total readiness to cooperate with the international community..." (AFP, 12/31/01)

Message

Osama bin Laden is a coward who murders innocents, including women and children and Muslims.

We are a long way from finished in Afghanistan. Much difficult and dangerous work is yet to come. Many terrorists are still hiding in heavily fortified bunkers in rugged territory. They are said to be prepared for a long stay underground. But they are in for a sudden change of plans – because one by one, we are going to find them. Piece by piece, we will destroy their network of terror.

The U.S. is leading a global coalition that has made great progress in the war on terrorism:

- Began to destroy al-Qaeda's grip on Afghanistan by driving the Taliban from power.
- Disrupted al-Qaeda's global operations and terrorist financing networks.
- Helped the innocent people of Afghanistan recover from the Taliban's reign of terror.
- Helped Afghans put aside long-standing differences to form a new interim government that represents all Afghans – including women.

Facts of the Day

- In December 2001 alone, the U.N.'s World Food Program has dispatched – with U.S. assistance – an unprecedented 116,000 metric tons of humanitarian food aid into Afghanistan, which is more than it has delivered anywhere in its 40 year history. (U.N. News Service, 1/2/02)
- On January 1, 2002, UNICEF and the World Health Organization initiated a 3-month countrywide measles vaccination program in Afghanistan. The program aims to reach at least 9 million Afghan children in a country where some 35,000 children die from measles each year. (UNICEF, 12/20/01)

Sure, I'd be glad to. Of the two proposed dates, however, I can only do the later one -- Jan. 17. Please let me know if that works?

Viet, after talking to Sharon I agree that Jennifer would be great. They are trying to get someone from Capitol Hill to serve on the panel as well (there also will be two civil liberties attendees). I made sure she was aware of the fact that it is not DOJ that will be making the policy decisions on the military tribunals; however, I believe they will rely on Jennifer to address the constitutional issues surrounding the tribunals.

Jennifer, will you be available? Thanks

I did the last one. Does David Cole want another piece of me?! Just kidding. Sure, DoJ will participate. Whether it's me or another depends on the topic and date. Lori Sharpe Day will coordinate DoJ participation, as she did last time. (Actually, Lori, Jennifer Newstead may be good for this one if the topic fits.)

best,

VDD

Sharon is a law school classmate and friend. Any interest in participating in this? Please let us know.

The Washington Council of Lawyers is having a brownbag forum on responses to terrorism.
The panel will be a sequel to our October 25th forum entitled "Responding to Terrorism: Safeguarding Our Communities and Our Civil Liberties."
Attached is a flyer from that event.
In our upcoming panel, we once again seek to provide a variety of perspectives on how to reconcile current efforts to protect our security with the need to guarantee fundamental civil liberties. Our focus for this event will be on some of the policies that have emerged since October 25th, including
those concerning military tribunals and the attorney-client privilege.
The Washington Council of Lawyers is a voluntary bar association dedicated to promoting public interest and pro bono law. To find out more about the Council, you may visit our website at www.washingtoncounciloflawyers.org.
We plan to hold this event on Wed., Jan. 9, or Thurs. Jan. 17, 2002, from 12
noon until 2:00 p.m. at a law firm in downtown Washington, D.C.

A NEW YEAR OF HOPE FOR THE PEOPLE OF AFGHANISTAN

While the humanitarian situation in Afghanistan remains critical, the U.S., its allies and other relief organizations have made great strides in their efforts to help the people of Afghanistan recover from the oppressive Taliban regime. In fact, on December 31, 2001, The Washington Post reported that the delivery of unprecedented amounts of wheat to Afghanistan over the past month has helped avert a major famine. According to Catherine Bertini, Executive Director of the U.N. World Food Program, "There will be no famine in Afghanistan this winter." In addition, the Afghanistan Interim Authority, with international assistance, is beginning the longer-term reconstruction of the country. These are just some of the many success stories of the coalition effort to help the Afghan people begin a new life of hope:

- ◆ Providing historic food relief to the Afghan people. In December 2001 alone, the U.N.'s World Food Program (WFP) - with U.S. assistance -- dispatched an unprecedented 116,000 metric tons of food into Afghanistan. This is the most food ever delivered in one month and will help feed millions of Afghans.
- ◆ In the last three months alone, the U.S. government has spent more than $194 million to help the Afghan people. The government has provided vital relief supplies, including 2,440,920 Humanitarian Daily Rations (HDRs) for needy Afghans in remote areas; more than 75,000 blankets; plastic sheeting to help Afghans build shelters to protect their families; 20 metric tons of high energy biscuits; 10 large medical supply shipments; and 10,000 kitchen sets.
- ◆ Preventing disease & death of Afghan children. Recently, UNICEF and the World Health Organization (WHO) initiated a 3-month measles vaccination program across Afghanistan. The goal of the program is to reach at least 9 million Afghan children in a country where an average of 35,000 children die from measles each year.
- ◆ Reconstruction assistance for the Afghan people. The coalition is committed to helping the people of Afghanistan rebuild their homeland. Operations of the Afghanistan Interim Authority are being funded through the $19.5 million it has received in pledges from international governments including Germany, Australia, Canada, Denmark, Finland, France, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, Norway, Russia, Sweden, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States. Later this month a ministerial meeting of donor countries will be held in Tokyo to further discuss the reconstruction of Afghanistan. The U.S. government is also funding the rehabilitation and reconstruction of Afghan homes, roads, bridges, water wells and irrigation systems.
- ◆ America's children respond to help Afghan children. President Bush launched America's Fund for Afghan Children, asking U.S. children to send $1 – or whatever they could afford – to help the children of Afghanistan who have suffered under the Taliban regime. The Fund has raised nearly $2 million and shipments have already been sent to Afghan children – including hats, socks, coats, tents, school supplies and other important humanitarian items.
- ◆ Helping Afghan refugees who fled the Taliban return home. The Taliban's oppressive reign and war on women and children is ending. Many Afghan refugees who fled in fear now wish to return to their homes, and the U.S. is doing everything it can to help these refugees in Pakistan, Iran and other neighboring countries return home. In fact, the U.S. government has already spent more than $32 million this fiscal year (since October 1) to help refugees return to their homes in Afghanistan. The U.K. has given 26 million pounds sterling to Pakistan for their support of Afghan refugees.
- ◆ Communicating directly with the Afghan people. The U.S. government has funded a radio program to provide humanitarian information to Afghans in their local languages. 30,000 radios are being distributed by USAID through the International Organization of Migration (IOM) to inform Afghans of health services such as immunizations for children and distribution points for food.
- ◆ A long history of support for the Afghan people. The U.S. government has for years been the largest donor of humanitarian aid to Afghanistan. Last year (FY 2001) the U.S. contributed more than $183 million for Afghanistan, which included 80 percent of all food aid to WFP for Afghanistan; 56,925 blankets; 4,800 water jugs; 1,100 tents; plastic sheeting to help Afghans make shelter; 9 large medical supply shipments; and grants to relief agencies assisting affected Afghans.

A NEW YEAR OF HOPE FOR THE PEOPLE OF AFGHANISTAN

While the humanitarian situation in Afghanistan remains critical, the U.S., its allies and other relief organizations have made great strides in their efforts to help the people of Afghanistan recover from the oppressive Taliban regime. In fact, on December 31, 2001, The Washington Post reported that the delivery of unprecedented amounts of wheat to Afghanistan over the past month has helped avert a major famine. According to Catherine Bertini, Executive Director of the U.N. World Food Program, "There will be no famine in Afghanistan this winter." In addition, the Afghanistan Interim Authority, with international assistance, is beginning the longer-term reconstruction of the country. These are just some of the many success stories of the coalition effort to help the Afghan people begin a new life of hope:

- ◆ Providing historic food relief to the Afghan people. In December 2001 alone, the U.N.'s World Food Program (WFP) - with U.S. assistance -- dispatched an unprecedented 116,000 metric tons of food into Afghanistan. This is the most food ever delivered in one month and will help feed millions of Afghans.
- ◆ In the last three months alone, the U.S. government has spent more than $194 million to help the Afghan people. The government has provided vital relief supplies, including 2,440,920 Humanitarian Daily Rations (HDRs) for needy Afghans in remote areas; more than 75,000 blankets; plastic sheeting to help Afghans build shelters to protect their families; 20 metric tons of high energy biscuits; 10 large medical supply shipments; and 10,000 kitchen sets.
- ◆ Preventing disease & death of Afghan children. Recently, UNICEF and the World Health Organization (WHO) initiated a 3-month measles vaccination program across Afghanistan. The goal of the program is to reach at least 9 million Afghan children in a country where an average of 35,000 children die from measles each year.
- ◆ Reconstruction assistance for the Afghan people. The coalition is committed to helping the people of Afghanistan rebuild their homeland. Operations of the Afghanistan Interim Authority are being funded through the $19.5 million it has received in pledges from international governments including Germany, Australia, Canada, Denmark, Finland, France, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, Norway, Russia, Sweden, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States. Later this month a ministerial meeting of donor countries will be held in Tokyo to further discuss the reconstruction of Afghanistan. The U.S. government is also funding the rehabilitation and reconstruction of Afghan homes, roads, bridges, water wells and irrigation systems.
- ◆ America's children respond to help Afghan children. President Bush launched America's Fund for Afghan Children, asking U.S. children to send $1 – or whatever they could afford – to help the children of Afghanistan who have suffered under the Taliban regime. The Fund has raised nearly $2 million and shipments have already been sent to Afghan children – including hats, socks, coats, tents, school supplies and other important humanitarian items.
- ◆ Helping Afghan refugees who fled the Taliban return home. The Taliban's oppressive reign and war on women and children is ending. Many Afghan refugees who fled in fear now wish to return to their homes, and the U.S. is doing everything it can to help these refugees in Pakistan, Iran and other neighboring countries return home. In fact, the U.S. government has already spent more than $32 million this fiscal year (since October 1) to help refugees return to their homes in Afghanistan. The U.K. has given 26 million pounds sterling to Pakistan for their support of Afghan refugees.
- ◆ Communicating directly with the Afghan people. The U.S. government has funded a radio program to provide humanitarian information to Afghans in their local languages. 30,000 radios are being distributed by USAID through the International Organization of Migration (IOM) to inform Afghans of health services such as immunizations for children and distribution points for food.
- ◆ A long history of support for the Afghan people. The U.S. government has for years been the largest donor of humanitarian aid to Afghanistan. Last year (FY 2001) the U.S. contributed more than $183 million for Afghanistan, which included 80 percent of all food aid to WFP for Afghanistan; 56,925 blankets; 4,800 water jugs; 1,100 tents; plastic sheeting to help Afghans make shelter; 9 large medical supply shipments; and grants to relief agencies assisting affected Afghans.

A NEW YEAR OF HOPE FOR THE PEOPLE OF AFGHANISTAN

While the humanitarian situation in Afghanistan remains critical, the U.S., its allies and other relief organizations have made great strides in their efforts to help the people of Afghanistan recover from the oppressive Taliban regime. In fact, on December 31, 2001, The Washington Post reported that the delivery of unprecedented amounts of wheat to Afghanistan over the past month has helped avert a major famine. According to Catherine Bertini, Executive Director of the U.N. World Food Program, "There will be no famine in Afghanistan this winter." In addition, the Afghanistan Interim Authority, with international assistance, is beginning the longer-term reconstruction of the country. These are just some of the many success stories of the coalition effort to help the Afghan people begin a new life of hope:

- ◆ Providing historic food relief to the Afghan people. In December 2001 alone, the U.N.'s World Food Program (WFP) - with U.S. assistance -- dispatched an unprecedented 116,000 metric tons of food into Afghanistan. This is the most food ever delivered in one month and will help feed millions of Afghans.
- ◆ In the last three months alone, the U.S. government has spent more than $194 million to help the Afghan people. The government has provided vital relief supplies, including 2,440,920 Humanitarian Daily Rations (HDRs) for needy Afghans in remote areas; more than 75,000 blankets; plastic sheeting to help Afghans build shelters to protect their families; 20 metric tons of high energy biscuits; 10 large medical supply shipments; and 10,000 kitchen sets.
- ◆ Preventing disease & death of Afghan children. Recently, UNICEF and the World Health Organization (WHO) initiated a 3-month measles vaccination program across Afghanistan. The goal of the program is to reach at least 9 million Afghan children in a country where an average of 35,000 children die from measles each year.
- ◆ Reconstruction assistance for the Afghan people. The coalition is committed to helping the people of Afghanistan rebuild their homeland. Operations of the Afghanistan Interim Authority are being funded through the $19.5 million it has received in pledges from international governments including Germany, Australia, Canada, Denmark, Finland, France, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, Norway, Russia, Sweden, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States. Later this month a ministerial meeting of donor countries will be held in Tokyo to further discuss the reconstruction of Afghanistan. The U.S. government is also funding the rehabilitation and reconstruction of Afghan homes, roads, bridges, water wells and irrigation systems.
- ◆ America's children respond to help Afghan children. President Bush launched America's Fund for Afghan Children, asking U.S. children to send $1 – or whatever they could afford – to help the children of Afghanistan who have suffered under the Taliban regime. The Fund has raised nearly $2 million and shipments have already been sent to Afghan children – including hats, socks, coats, tents, school supplies and other important humanitarian items.
- ◆ Helping Afghan refugees who fled the Taliban return home. The Taliban's oppressive reign and war on women and children is ending. Many Afghan refugees who fled in fear now wish to return to their homes, and the U.S. is doing everything it can to help these refugees in Pakistan, Iran and other neighboring countries return home. In fact, the U.S. government has already spent more than $32 million this fiscal year (since October 1) to help refugees return to their homes in Afghanistan. The U.K. has given 26 million pounds sterling to Pakistan for their support of Afghan refugees.
- ◆ Communicating directly with the Afghan people. The U.S. government has funded a radio program to provide humanitarian information to Afghans in their local languages. 30,000 radios are being distributed by USAID through the International Organization of Migration (IOM) to inform Afghans of health services such as immunizations for children and distribution points for food.
- ◆ A long history of support for the Afghan people. The U.S. government has for years been the largest donor of humanitarian aid to Afghanistan. Last year (FY 2001) the U.S. contributed more than $183 million for Afghanistan, which included 80 percent of all food aid to WFP for Afghanistan; 56,925 blankets; 4,800 water jugs; 1,100 tents; plastic sheeting to help Afghans make shelter; 9 large medical supply shipments; and grants to relief agencies assisting affected Afghans.

Sorry for the weird message, my computer freaked out on me....

What I was asking for was the names of a few reliable law professors who could recommend excellent law students who would be interested in interning with our office this summer. If I could get the names (and phone numbers if possible, if not, I can look it up if you give me the university), asap, that would be great.

Thanks.

Viet, after talking to Sharon I agree that Jennifer would be great. They are trying to get someone from Capitol Hill to serve on the panel as well (there also will be two civil liberties attendees). I made sure she was aware of the fact that it is not DOJ that will be making the policy decisions on the military tribunals; however, I believe they will rely on Jennifer to address the constitutional issues surrounding the tribunals.

Jennifer, will you be available? Thanks

I did the last one. Does David Cole want another piece of me?! Just kidding. Sure, DoJ will participate. Whether it's me or another depends on the topic and date. Lori Sharpe Day will coordinate DoJ participation, as she did last time. (Actually, Lori, Jennifer Newstead may be good for this one if the topic fits.)

best,

Sharon is a law school classmate and friend. Any interest in participating in this? Please let us know.

The Washington Council of Lawyers is having a brownbag forum on responses to terrorism.
The panel will be a sequel to our October 25th forum entitled "Responding to Terrorism: Safeguarding Our Communities and Our Civil Liberties." Attached is a flyer from that event.
In our upcoming panel, we once again seek to provide a variety of perspectives on how to reconcile current efforts to protect our security with the need to guarantee fundamental civil liberties. Our focus for this event will be on some of the policies that have emerged since October 25th, including those concerning military tribunals and the attorney-client privilege. The Washington Council of Lawyers is a voluntary bar association dedicated to promoting public interest and pro bono law. To find out more about the Council, you may visit our website at www.washingtoncounciloflawyers.org. We plan to hold this event on Wed., Jan. 9, or Thurs. Jan. 17, 2002, from 12 noon until 2:00 p.m. at a law firm in downtown Washington, D.C.

PREVENTING CIVILIAN CASUALTIES

"There's never been a conflict where there have not been civilian deaths. If one were to take this activity in Afghanistan and rank it as to the number of civilian deaths, and the care and attentiveness that has gone in to try to have the right weapon and the most precise method of doing things, I can't imagine there's been a conflict in history where there has been less collateral damage-less unintended consequences."

-- Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld, 1/3/02

- ☑ The terrorists declared war on civilians, killing more than 3,000 innocent people from more than 80 countries on September 11.
- ☑ The coalition has taken every step possible to protect civilians while the terrorists have targeted civilians by placing their military assets near mosques, hospitals and neighborhoods.
- ☑ The Afghan people themselves are noting the precision of the coalition military campaign.

IN THEIR OWN WORDS...

"Ali Ahmed, a 16-year-old thrill-seeker proficient in English, said that for kicks he would go to every bomb site in the city minutes after the blasts occurred. 'They rarely killed normal people,' Ali said. 'I went to many sites. I never saw a dead normal person.'" (The Washington Post, 12/12/01)

"I found to my surprise that rather than Kandahar being a city that was totally destroyed by bombing, it was a city certainly in disrepair, a poor city that was decaying, but not as a result of the bombing. In fact the bombing appeared to have been incredibly targeted. Just to give you one example, I went to this one street where there were two al-Qaida houses, and you saw a bombed-out house, basically nothing remaining, then a fully standing house that belonged to a family who lived there, and then another bombed-out house that had been an al-Qaida and Taliban safe house. So it was very interesting to see that some of the reports we had heard about the Pentagon doing precision bombing, in fact, had been correct, that to a large extent they had really pinpoint bombed al-Qaida headquarters or al-Qaida offices," said Indira Lakshmanan, Asia correspondent for the Boston Globe. (The NewsHour with Jim Lehrer, 12/26/01)

"Now, with journalists and humanitarian workers gaining access to bombed areas for the first time, a picture is emerging of an aerial campaign remarkable for its pinpoint accuracy." (Source: Chicago Tribune, 11/21/01)

"The capture of Kandahar, perhaps more than any other city in Afghanistan, stands as an example of the new American high-tech war. A visit to about 20 bombing targets in the city showed that relatively few innocent bystanders had been killed, largely because the bombs were accurate." (Source: The New York Times, 12/26/01)

"We were amazed at the accuracy," said Mohammed Alem, a carpenter from the Qasabale-Kargere housing complex near the airport, where the tarmac and surrounding grounds are littered with aircraft fuselages scattered like broken pencils. (Source: The Philadelphia Inquirer, 11/21/01)

"A drive around [Kandahar] seemed to contradict Taliban assertions of wholesale damage and massive civilian casualties; on the contrary, US airstrikes appear to have hit Taliban and Qaeda facilities, not civilian targets. There are few war injuries in Kandahar hospitals, and no evidence of a large civilian death toll." (The Boston Globe, 12/15/01)

"The targeting was exact," said Qiamuddin, 50, a former Afghan army officer and a village elder. (Source: The Guardian [U.K.], 12/01/01)

I think it's fine if he uses those quotes. make sure if he's going to use anything else at all from the meeting, he checks with you - this is not a blanket authorization to use information (whether in quotes or not) from the meeting you had.

PREVENTING CIVILIAN CASUALTIES

"There's never been a conflict where there have not been civilian deaths. If one were to take this activity in Afghanistan and rank it as to the number of civilian deaths, and the care and attentiveness that has gone in to try to have the right weapon and the most precise method of doing things, I can't imagine there's been a conflict in history where there has been less collateral damage-less unintended consequences."

-- Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld, 1/3/02

- ☑ The terrorists declared war on civilians, killing more than 3,000 innocent people from more than 80 countries on September 11.
- ☑ The coalition has taken every step possible to protect civilians while the terrorists have targeted civilians by placing their military assets near mosques, hospitals and neighborhoods.
- ☑ The Afghan people themselves are noting the precision of the coalition military campaign.

IN THEIR OWN WORDS...

"Ali Ahmed, a 16-year-old thrill-seeker proficient in English, said that for kicks he would go to every bomb site in the city minutes after the blasts occurred. 'They rarely killed normal people,' Ali said. 'I went to many sites. I never saw a dead normal person.'" (The Washington Post, 12/12/01)

"I found to my surprise that rather than Kandahar being a city that was totally destroyed by bombing, it was a city certainly in disrepair, a poor city that was decaying, but not as a result of the bombing. In fact the bombing appeared to have been incredibly targeted. Just to give you one example, I went to this one street where there were two al-Qaida houses, and you saw a bombed-out house, basically nothing remaining, then a fully standing house that belonged to a family who lived there, and then another bombed-out house that had been an al-Qaida and Taliban safe house. So it was very interesting to see that some of the reports we had heard about the Pentagon doing precision bombing, in fact, had been correct, that to a large extent they had really pinpoint bombed al-Qaida headquarters or al-Qaida offices," said Indira Lakshmanan, Asia correspondent for the Boston Globe. (The NewsHour with Jim Lehrer, 12/26/01)

"Now, with journalists and humanitarian workers gaining access to bombed areas for the first time, a picture is emerging of an aerial campaign remarkable for its pinpoint accuracy." (Source: Chicago Tribune, 11/21/01)

"The capture of Kandahar, perhaps more than any other city in Afghanistan, stands as an example of the new American high-tech war. A visit to about 20 bombing targets in the city showed that relatively few innocent bystanders had been killed, largely because the bombs were accurate." (Source: The New York Times, 12/26/01)

"We were amazed at the accuracy," said Mohammed Alem, a carpenter from the Qasabale-Kargere housing complex near the airport, where the tarmac and surrounding grounds are littered with aircraft fuselages scattered like broken pencils. (Source: The Philadelphia Inquirer, 11/21/01)

"A drive around [Kandahar] seemed to contradict Taliban assertions of wholesale damage and massive civilian casualties; on the contrary, US airstrikes appear to have hit Taliban and Qaeda facilities, not civilian targets. There are few war injuries in Kandahar hospitals, and no evidence of a large civilian death toll." (The Boston Globe, 12/15/01)

"The targeting was exact," said Qiamuddin, 50, a former Afghan army officer and a village elder. (Source: The Guardian [U.K.], 12/01/01)

PREVENTING CIVILIAN CASUALTIES

"There's never been a conflict where there have not been civilian deaths. If one were to take this activity in Afghanistan and rank it as to the number of civilian deaths, and the care and attentiveness that has gone in to try to have the right weapon and the most precise method of doing things, I can't imagine there's been a conflict in history where there has been less collateral damage-less unintended consequences."

-- Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld, 1/3/02

- ☑ The terrorists declared war on civilians, killing more than 3,000 innocent people from more than 80 countries on September 11.
- ☑ The coalition has taken every step possible to protect civilians while the terrorists have targeted civilians by placing their military assets near mosques, hospitals and neighborhoods.
- ☑ The Afghan people themselves are noting the precision of the coalition military campaign.

IN THEIR OWN WORDS...

"Ali Ahmed, a 16-year-old thrill-seeker proficient in English, said that for kicks he would go to every bomb site in the city minutes after the blasts occurred. 'They rarely killed normal people,' Ali said. 'I went to many sites. I never saw a dead normal person.'" (The Washington Post, 12/12/01)

"I found to my surprise that rather than Kandahar being a city that was totally destroyed by bombing, it was a city certainly in disrepair, a poor city that was decaying, but not as a result of the bombing. In fact the bombing appeared to have been incredibly targeted. Just to give you one example, I went to this one street where there were two al-Qaida houses, and you saw a bombed-out house, basically nothing remaining, then a fully standing house that belonged to a family who lived there, and then another bombed-out house that had been an al-Qaida and Taliban safe house. So it was very interesting to see that some of the reports we had heard about the Pentagon doing precision bombing, in fact, had been correct, that to a large extent they had really pinpoint bombed al-Qaida headquarters or al-Qaida offices," said Indira Lakshmanan, Asia correspondent for the Boston Globe. (The NewsHour with Jim Lehrer, 12/26/01)

"Now, with journalists and humanitarian workers gaining access to bombed areas for the first time, a picture is emerging of an aerial campaign remarkable for its pinpoint accuracy." (Source: Chicago Tribune, 11/21/01)

"The capture of Kandahar, perhaps more than any other city in Afghanistan, stands as an example of the new American high-tech war. A visit to about 20 bombing targets in the city showed that relatively few innocent bystanders had been killed, largely because the bombs were accurate." (Source: The New York Times, 12/26/01)

"We were amazed at the accuracy," said Mohammed Alem, a carpenter from the Qasabale-Kargere housing complex near the airport, where the tarmac and surrounding grounds are littered with aircraft fuselages scattered like broken pencils. (Source: The Philadelphia Inquirer, 11/21/01)

"A drive around [Kandahar] seemed to contradict Taliban assertions of wholesale damage and massive civilian casualties; on the contrary, US airstrikes appear to have hit Taliban and Qaeda facilities, not civilian targets. There are few war injuries in Kandahar hospitals, and no evidence of a large civilian death toll." (The Boston Globe, 12/15/01)

"The targeting was exact," said Qiamuddin, 50, a former Afghan army officer and a village elder. (Source: The Guardian [U.K.], 12/01/01)

PREVENTING CIVILIAN CASUALTIES

"There's never been a conflict where there have not been civilian deaths. If one were to take this activity in Afghanistan and rank it as to the number of civilian deaths, and the care and attentiveness that has gone in to try to have the right weapon and the most precise method of doing things, I can't imagine there's been a conflict in history where there has been less collateral damage-less unintended consequences."

-- Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld, 1/3/02

- ☑ The terrorists declared war on civilians, killing more than 3,000 innocent people from more than 80 countries on September 11.
- ☑ The coalition has taken every step possible to protect civilians while the terrorists have targeted civilians by placing their military assets near mosques, hospitals and neighborhoods.
- ☑ The Afghan people themselves are noting the precision of the coalition military campaign.

IN THEIR OWN WORDS...

"Ali Ahmed, a 16-year-old thrill-seeker proficient in English, said that for kicks he would go to every bomb site in the city minutes after the blasts occurred. 'They rarely killed normal people,' Ali said. 'I went to many sites. I never saw a dead normal person.'" (The Washington Post, 12/12/01)

"I found to my surprise that rather than Kandahar being a city that was totally destroyed by bombing, it was a city certainly in disrepair, a poor city that was decaying, but not as a result of the bombing. In fact the bombing appeared to have been incredibly targeted. Just to give you one example, I went to this one street where there were two al-Qaida houses, and you saw a bombed-out house, basically nothing remaining, then a fully standing house that belonged to a family who lived there, and then another bombed-out house that had been an al-Qaida and Taliban safe house. So it was very interesting to see that some of the reports we had heard about the Pentagon doing precision bombing, in fact, had been correct, that to a large extent they had really pinpoint bombed al-Qaida headquarters or al-Qaida offices," said Indira Lakshmanan, Asia correspondent for the Boston Globe. (The NewsHour with Jim Lehrer, 12/26/01)

"Now, with journalists and humanitarian workers gaining access to bombed areas for the first time, a picture is emerging of an aerial campaign remarkable for its pinpoint accuracy." (Source: Chicago Tribune, 11/21/01)

"The capture of Kandahar, perhaps more than any other city in Afghanistan, stands as an example of the new American high-tech war. A visit to about 20 bombing targets in the city showed that relatively few innocent bystanders had been killed, largely because the bombs were accurate." (Source: The New York Times, 12/26/01)

"We were amazed at the accuracy," said Mohammed Alem, a carpenter from the Qasabale-Kargere housing complex near the airport, where the tarmac and surrounding grounds are littered with aircraft fuselages scattered like broken pencils. (Source: The Philadelphia Inquirer, 11/21/01)

"A drive around [Kandahar] seemed to contradict Taliban assertions of wholesale damage and massive civilian casualties; on the contrary, US airstrikes appear to have hit Taliban and Qaeda facilities, not civilian targets. There are few war injuries in Kandahar hospitals, and no evidence of a large civilian death toll." (The Boston Globe, 12/15/01)

"The targeting was exact," said Qiamuddin, 50, a former Afghan army officer and a village elder. (Source: The Guardian [U.K.], 12/01/01)

THE WHITE HOUSE

COALITION INFORMATION CENTER

1/4/2002

Today's Schedule

- 12:30p EST     State Department daily press briefing with spokesman Richard Boucher.
- 1:30p EST     Gen. Franks holds Department of Defense daily press briefing in Tampa.
- 2:45p EST     Department of Defense spokeswoman Torie Clarke briefs reporters at the Foreign Press Center.

In Case You Missed It

- On December 21, 2001, the U.S. Agency for International Development announced a $1.7 million grant to Concern Worldwide. The grant is funding the distribution of seeds and tools, the rehabilitation of agriculture infrastructure and income generation programs throughout Afghanistan.

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- "I believe in God, but not in the ideology of the Taliban any more," said Mohammad, who was captured two years ago in the northern province of Baghlan. "It didn't do any good, torturing people, forcing men to have long beards and women to wear burqas. I joined the Taliban because they captured my area," he said. "If you had been me, you would have done the same. Now I just want to go home and listen to the radio and watch television."
(Reuters, 1/3/02)
- The capture of Kandahar, perhaps more than any other city in Afghanistan, stands as an example of the new American high-tech war. A visit to about 20 bombing targets in the city showed that relatively few innocent bystanders had been killed, largely because the bombs were accurate. (Source: The New York Times, 12/26/01)

Message

Osama bin Laden is a coward who murders innocents, including women and children and Muslims.

We are a long way from finished in Afghanistan. Much difficult and dangerous work is yet to come. Many terrorists are still hiding in heavily fortified bunkers in rugged territory. They are said to be prepared for a long stay underground. But they are in for a sudden change of plans – because one by one, we are going to find them. Piece by piece, we will destroy their network of terror.

The U.S. is leading a global coalition that has made great progress in the war on terrorism:

- Began to destroy al-Qaeda's grip on Afghanistan by driving the Taliban from power.
- Disrupted al-Qaeda's global operations and terrorist financing networks.
- Helped the innocent people of Afghanistan recover from the Taliban's reign of terror.
- Helped Afghans put aside long-standing differences to form a new interim government that represents all Afghans – including women.

Facts of the Day

- The U.S. government is funding a radio program to provide humanitarian information to Afghans in their local languages. USAID, through the International Organization of Migration (IOM) is delivering 30,000 radios to internally displaced persons and other vulnerable groups in Afghanistan to enable better access to timely and relevant humanitarian information.
- So far in FY2002, the U.S. Government has spent $194,723,625 in humanitarian assistance for the people of Afghanistan.

THE WHITE HOUSE

COALITION INFORMATION CENTER

1/4/2002

Today's Schedule

- 12:30p EST State Department daily press briefing with spokesman Richard Boucher.
- 1:30p EST Gen. Franks holds Department of Defense daily press briefing in Tampa.
- 2:45p EST Department of Defense spokeswoman Torie Clarke briefs reporters at the Foreign Press Center.

In Case You Missed It

- On December 21, 2001, the U.S. Agency for International Development announced a $1.7 million grant to Concern Worldwide. The grant is funding the distribution of seeds and tools, the rehabilitation of agriculture infrastructure and income generation programs throughout Afghanistan.

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- "I believe in God, but not in the ideology of the Taliban any more," said Mohammad, who was captured two years ago in the northern province of Baghlan. "It didn't do any good, torturing people, forcing men to have long beards and women to wear burqas. I joined the Taliban because they captured my area," he said. "If you had been me, you would have done the same. Now I just want to go home and listen to the radio and watch television."
(Reuters, 1/3/02)
- The capture of Kandahar, perhaps more than any other city in Afghanistan, stands as an example of the new American high-tech war. A visit to about 20 bombing targets in the city showed that relatively few innocent bystanders had been killed, largely because the bombs were accurate. (Source: The New York Times, 12/26/01)

Message

Osama bin Laden is a coward who murders innocents, including women and children and Muslims.

We are a long way from finished in Afghanistan. Much difficult and dangerous work is yet to come. Many terrorists are still hiding in heavily fortified bunkers in rugged territory. They are said to be prepared for a long stay underground. But they are in for a sudden change of plans – because one by one, we are going to find them. Piece by piece, we will destroy their network of terror.

The U.S. is leading a global coalition that has made great progress in the war on terrorism:

- Began to destroy al-Qaeda's grip on Afghanistan by driving the Taliban from power.
- Disrupted al-Qaeda's global operations and terrorist financing networks.
- Helped the innocent people of Afghanistan recover from the Taliban's reign of terror.
- Helped Afghans put aside long-standing differences to form a new interim government that represents all Afghans – including women.

Facts of the Day

- The U.S. government is funding a radio program to provide humanitarian information to Afghans in their local languages. USAID, through the International Organization of Migration (IOM) is delivering 30,000 radios to internally displaced persons and other vulnerable groups in Afghanistan to enable better access to timely and relevant humanitarian information.
- So far in FY2002, the U.S. Government has spent $194,723,625 in humanitarian assistance for the people of Afghanistan.

THE WHITE HOUSE

COALITION INFORMATION CENTER

1/4/2002

Today's Schedule

- 12:30p EST     State Department daily press briefing with spokesman Richard Boucher.
- 1:30p EST     Gen. Franks holds Department of Defense daily press briefing in Tampa.
- 2:45p EST     Department of Defense spokeswoman Torie Clarke briefs reporters at the Foreign Press Center.

In Case You Missed It

- On December 21, 2001, the U.S. Agency for International Development announced a $1.7 million grant to Concern Worldwide. The grant is funding the distribution of seeds and tools, the rehabilitation of agriculture infrastructure and income generation programs throughout Afghanistan.

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- "I believe in God, but not in the ideology of the Taliban any more," said Mohammad, who was captured two years ago in the northern province of Baghlan. "It didn't do any good, torturing people, forcing men to have long beards and women to wear burqas. I joined the Taliban because they captured my area," he said. "If you had been me, you would have done the same. Now I just want to go home and listen to the radio and watch television."
(Reuters, 1/3/02)
- The capture of Kandahar, perhaps more than any other city in Afghanistan, stands as an example of the new American high-tech war. A visit to about 20 bombing targets in the city showed that relatively few innocent bystanders had been killed, largely because the bombs were accurate. (Source: The New York Times, 12/26/01)

Message

Osama bin Laden is a coward who murders innocents, including women and children and Muslims.

We are a long way from finished in Afghanistan. Much difficult and dangerous work is yet to come. Many terrorists are still hiding in heavily fortified bunkers in rugged territory. They are said to be prepared for a long stay underground. But they are in for a sudden change of plans – because one by one, we are going to find them. Piece by piece, we will destroy their network of terror.

The U.S. is leading a global coalition that has made great progress in the war on terrorism:

- Began to destroy al-Qaeda's grip on Afghanistan by driving the Taliban from power.
- Disrupted al-Qaeda's global operations and terrorist financing networks.
- Helped the innocent people of Afghanistan recover from the Taliban's reign of terror.
- Helped Afghans put aside long-standing differences to form a new interim government that represents all Afghans – including women.

Facts of the Day

- The U.S. government is funding a radio program to provide humanitarian information to Afghans in their local languages. USAID, through the International Organization of Migration (IOM) is delivering 30,000 radios to internally displaced persons and other vulnerable groups in Afghanistan to enable better access to timely and relevant humanitarian information.
- So far in FY2002, the U.S. Government has spent $194,723,625 in humanitarian assistance for the people of Afghanistan.

THE WHITE HOUSE

COALITION INFORMATION CENTER

1/4/2002

Today's Schedule

- 12:30p EST State Department daily press briefing with spokesman Richard Boucher.
- 1:30p EST Gen. Franks holds Department of Defense daily press briefing in Tampa.
- 2:45p EST Department of Defense spokeswoman Torie Clarke briefs reporters at the Foreign Press Center.

In Case You Missed It

- On December 21, 2001, the U.S. Agency for International Development announced a $1.7 million grant to Concern Worldwide. The grant is funding the distribution of seeds and tools, the rehabilitation of agriculture infrastructure and income generation programs throughout Afghanistan.

Recent Key Quotes & Developments

- "I believe in God, but not in the ideology of the Taliban any more," said Mohammad, who was captured two years ago in the northern province of Baghlan. "It didn't do any good, torturing people, forcing men to have long beards and women to wear burqas. I joined the Taliban because they captured my area," he said. "If you had been me, you would have done the same. Now I just want to go home and listen to the radio and watch television."
(Reuters, 1/3/02)
- The capture of Kandahar, perhaps more than any other city in Afghanistan, stands as an example of the new American high-tech war. A visit to about 20 bombing targets in the city showed that relatively few innocent bystanders had been killed, largely because the bombs were accurate. (Source: The New York Times, 12/26/01)

Message

Osama bin Laden is a coward who murders innocents, including women and children and Muslims.

We are a long way from finished in Afghanistan. Much difficult and dangerous work is yet to come. Many terrorists are still hiding in heavily fortified bunkers in rugged territory. They are said to be prepared for a long stay underground. But they are in for a sudden change of plans – because one by one, we are going to find them. Piece by piece, we will destroy their network of terror.

The U.S. is leading a global coalition that has made great progress in the war on terrorism:

- Began to destroy al-Qaeda's grip on Afghanistan by driving the Taliban from power.
- Disrupted al-Qaeda's global operations and terrorist financing networks.
- Helped the innocent people of Afghanistan recover from the Taliban's reign of terror.
- Helped Afghans put aside long-standing differences to form a new interim government that represents all Afghans – including women.

Facts of the Day

- The U.S. government is funding a radio program to provide humanitarian information to Afghans in their local languages. USAID, through the International Organization of Migration (IOM) is delivering 30,000 radios to internally displaced persons and other vulnerable groups in Afghanistan to enable better access to timely and relevant humanitarian information.
- So far in FY2002, the U.S. Government has spent $194,723,625 in humanitarian assistance for the people of Afghanistan.
