Dear Deputy Attorney General Rosenstein and Acting Director McCabe:

According to recent news reports, in June 2014, Daniela Greene, an FBI translator with a top-secret clearance, traveled to Syria and married an ISIS recruiter named Denis Cuspert, a.k.a. Abu Talha al-Almani.¹

Reports state that Greene was a foreign-born FBI contract linguist. She started working for the FBI in 2011, and in January 2014 she was assigned to the Detroit Field office to investigate Cuspert. Cuspert had attracted the attention of counter-terrorism authorities, including the FBI, because of his growing influence as an online recruiter for violent jihadists. Reportedly, Greene alerted Cuspert that he was the subject of an FBI investigation and shared classified information with him.

On June 11, 2014, Greene filled out a Report of Foreign Travel Form,² claiming that she was taking a "Vacation/Personal" trip to Germany to visit her parents. Instead, on June 23, 2014, she flew on a one-way ticket to Istanbul, Turkey, and then traveled to Gaziantep, which is approximately 20 miles from the Syrian border. With assistance from one of Cuspert's associates, she crossed the border into Syria and married him.

Apparently, Greene quickly regretted her decision and somehow returned to the United States where she was arrested upon her arrival on August 8, 2014. She cooperated with authorities and pled guilty in December 2014 to making false statements involving international terrorism. Greene was sentenced to two years in federal prison and was released in August 2016.

The Committee requests additional information about how an FBI contractor, unbeknownst to the FBI, engaged in a romantic relationship with the subject of a counterterrorism investigation and traveled to Syria to marry him. Additionally, the Committee requests information about the Department's decision to offer Greene a plea deal. Please provide the following information and a briefing to Committee staff no later than May 24, 2017.

1. How and when did the FBI become aware that Greene had engaged in a romantic relationship with Cusper? Please explain how this relationship developed without the FBI's knowledge.
2. How and when did the FBI become aware that Greene had traveled to Syria?
3. What information does the Report of Travel form collect? Please explain the review and approval process for these forms.
 - a. Does the FBI take steps to verify the information provided on these forms prior to approving them?
 - b. Does the FBI take steps to verify that the employee or contractor adheres to the travel itinerary provided on the form?
4. What steps has the FBI taken to ensure a similar incident will not happen in the future? Please explain.
5. Did the FBI discipline any employees or contractors as a result of these circumstances? Please explain in detail, why or why not?
6. Please explain the screening and training processes that the FBI requires for its contractors and provide copies of the relevant training materials.
7. Please explain the Department's decision to offer Greene a plea deal and to argue for her to receive a reduced sentence.
