The Honorable Dianne Feinstein, Ranking Member
Committee on the Judiciary
United States Senate
331 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Chairman Graham and Ranking Member Feinstein:

We are graduates of Notre Dame Law School. Some of us were students of Judge Amy Coney Barrett. We write to urge the United States Senate to confirm Judge Barrett, whom the President has nominated to be the next Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

We arrived at Notre Dame Law School from a diverse array of backgrounds, and upon graduating, we have pursued legal practices as varied as the profession includes. We work in private practice, in public interest positions, and in government service. Some of us have clerked for federal judges or for justices of the Supreme Court of the United States. We represent wide-ranging political views, diverse cultures, and a variety of religious traditions. Despite our many and genuine differences, we are united in our conviction that Judge Barrett would make an exceptional Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Judge Barrett's credentials are impeccable. She attended Rhodes College, where she graduated magna cum laude, and then earned her law degree from Notre Dame, summa cum laude. After law school, Judge Barrett clerked for Judge Laurence H. Silberman of the United States Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit and for the late-Justice Antonin Scalia of the United States Supreme Court. After practicing law in Washington, D.C., Judge Barrett joined the Notre Dame Law School faculty in 2002. Her academic work has been published in leading law journals, and she was appointed by the Chief Justice to the Advisory Committee for the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure, on which she served from 2010 through 2016. In 2017, the President nominated her and the Senate confirmed her as a judge on the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit. Despite the rigor of that new position, she has kept her commitment to future generations of lawyers by continuing to teach at Notre Dame Law School.

We have come to know and love Judge Barrett, however, not for her impressive credentials, but for her presence, enthusiasm, and intellect as a faculty member at Notre Dame Law School. Judge Barrett understands that the students she teaches today will be the lawyers of tomorrow—real-world professionals in whom great trust will be placed. As a result, she is a demanding instructor, expecting her students to think deeply about the law and constantly challenging them to do so. Judge Barrett’s teaching is engaging and unbiased, and her legal thinking is brilliant. Above all, she is fair. Students see that Judge Barrett cares deeply about the rule of law as the foundation of our constitutional system, and through her teaching and mentorship, she has instilled her love of the law in each of us.

Judge Barrett’s role as a teacher has never ended at the classroom door. Outside the classroom, she is a personal and professional mentor to all students, whether she has taught them in class or not. She gives her time generously, leaving students universally grateful for her wise counsel about navigating law school, achieving professional goals, and maintaining personal priorities. Her reputation for kindness is unequalled. We have personally seen that she treats every person she encounters—whether a student, staff member, or faculty member—with equal respect and concern. It is no wonder that the graduating class of Notre Dame Law School has selected her as “Distinguished Professor of the Year” three different times.

We admire Judge Barrett not only for her work on the campus of Notre Dame Law School, but for the example she clearly sets of balancing her work with her personal life. Despite working as a federal judge while continuing to teach, Judge Barrett remains deeply committed to her husband, Jesse, and their seven children. Her example has demonstrated to us that a fulfilling professional career need not come at the expense of home and family. In this way she is a worthy successor to Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg as she is an example of the very gains some of Justice Ginsburg’s work helped to achieve. Judge Barrett is nothing short of an inspiration to us. She exemplifies Notre Dame Law School’s mission to educate “a different kind of lawyer.”

We are convinced that Judge Barrett will bring to the Supreme Court the same intelligence, fairness, decency, generosity, humility, and hard work she has demonstrated at Notre Dame Law School and in her time on the Seventh Circuit. She will continue to treat each litigant with respect and care, conscious of the reality that judicial decisions greatly affect the lives of those before the court. And she will apply the law faithfully and impartially. In short, we have no doubt that Judge Amy Barrett will be a wonderful Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

In conclusion, while some of us may disagree with the timing of Judge Barrett’s nomination, we are unanimous in our belief that she will serve with distinction and honor and that she will rise above the partisanship and rancor of the moment to be a Supreme Court Justice of whom all can be proud. For all the above reasons, we urge the Senate to confirm Judge Barrett as the next Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Sincerely,

Notre Dame Law School Alumni
