Stephen Boyd, Letter to the Editor, Adding Context to Sessions' Question, Mobile Press-Register, July 23, 2009. Copy supplied.

For completeness, I note that in my capacities as Chief of Staff for a member of the U.S. House of Representatives and Communications Director for a U.S. Senator, I frequently drafted, reviewed, edited, or revised text for press releases, statements, articles, and written remarks prepared for delivery. These materials were often drafted in collaboration with others, and my contribution varied depending on the circumstances. I have done my best to identify all published materials that I may have directly contributed to, including a review of my limited personal files and searches of publicly available electronic databases. In each instance, these texts were prepared for the sole use, publication, or delivery of my employer. As is typical in a Congressional office, my employer often made final revisions after my last contribution and just prior to publication, and he or she always had final approval. The editorial content of these texts represents the positions of my employer and does not necessarily reflect my own views. Despite my efforts, other materials may exist that I have been unable to locate or identify. I understand that a large volume of such materials was furnished to the Committee in connection with Senator Sessions' nomination to be Attorney General. I have attached a list of all responsive items I was able to locate or identify as Appendix A, and have attached copies of each item.

- b. Supply four (4) copies of any reports, memoranda or policy statements you prepared or contributed in the preparation of on behalf of any bar association, committee, conference, or organization of which you were or are a member. If you do not have a copy of a report, memorandum or policy statement, give the name and address of the organization that issued it, the date of the document, and a summary of its subject matter.

To the best of my knowledge, I have never prepared or contributed any such report, memorandum, or statement.

- c. Supply four (4) copies of any testimony, official statements or other communications relating, in whole or in part, to matters of public policy or legal interpretation, that you have issued or provided or that others presented on your behalf to public bodies or public officials.

To the best of my knowledge, I have never issued or provided any such testimony or statement.

- d. Supply four (4) copies, transcripts or recordings of all speeches or talks delivered by you, including commencement speeches, remarks, lectures, panel discussions, conferences, political speeches, and question-and-answer sessions. Include the date and place where they were delivered, and readily available press reports about the speech or talk. If you do not have a copy of the speech or a transcript or recording of your remarks, give the name and address of the group before whom the speech was given, the date of the speech, and a summary of its subject matter. If you did not speak from a prepared text, furnish a copy of any outline or notes from which you spoke.

July 11, 2011. Panelist: "Living and Working in Washington, DC," The Blackburn Institute, Washington, D.C. I do not have a copy of any speech or talk, nor do I have a transcript or recording of my remarks or any notes from this presentation. This forum discussed public service opportunities in Washington, D.C. for graduating honor students from the University of Alabama. July 2013 (Est.). Panelist: "Living and Working in Washington, DC," The Blackburn Institute, Washington, D.C. I do not have a copy of any speech or talk, nor do I have a transcript or recording of my remarks or any notes from this presentation. In my capacity as Chief of Staff for a member of the U.S House of Representatives, I frequently represented my employer at various events and occasionally provided brief extemporaneous remarks to meeting participants, visitors, stakeholders, or interested persons. I generally provided information about our congressional office and an update on the various legislative issues of the day. I have no record of the specific dates of those remarks. I do not have any notes, transcripts, or recordings.

- e. List all interviews you have given to newspapers, magazines or other publications, or radio or television stations, providing the dates of these interviews and four (4) copies of the clips or transcripts of these interviews where they are available to you.

Inside Congress: Alabama to DC, Public Broadcasting System and Alabama Public Television, 2016. Interviews and filming for this documentary occurred at various times throughout 2016. Video of the final 30-minute documentary can be accessed online at <http://www.pbs.org/video/2365954809/>.

Telephone Interview with Howard Koplowitz, Reporter, al.com, Dec. 28, 2016. A copy of the resulting news article is attached.

For completeness, I note that in my capacities as Chief of Staff for a member of the U.S. House of Representatives and Communications Director for a U.S. Senator, I frequently represented my employer and communicated his or her positions and views to members of the media. I have done my best to identify all published materials that may have resulted from these interactions, including a review of my limited personal files and searches of publicly available electronic databases. The ideas expressed in these comments represent the positions of my employer and do not necessarily reflect my own views. Despite my efforts, other materials may exist that I have been unable to locate or identify. I have attached a list of all responsive items I was able to locate or identify as Appendix B, and have attached copies of each item.

If you have ever held a position or played a role in a political campaign, identify the particulars of the campaign, including the candidate, dates of the campaign, your title and responsibilities.

I have never worked for a political party.

I served as an advisor in my personal capacity to U.S. Representative Martha Roby in her various political activities and during her primary and general campaigns for the 2012, 2014, and 2016 election cycles. I served as an informal advisor in a volunteer capacity to Mrs. Roby in the final weeks of her 2010 general election campaign.

I assisted at various times on a voluntary basis in my personal capacity with then-Senator Jeff Sessions' 2008 general election campaign.

I assisted on a voluntary basis in my personal capacity with Senator Bob Corker's Senate campaign in the final weeks of the 2006 general election.

Since graduating from law school, my professional career has focused on serving in a number of staff capacities in the U.S. House of Representatives and the U.S. Senate. As noted, I have never practiced law.

Since February of 2017, I have served as Chief of Staff for the Office of Legal Policy at the U.S. Department of Justice. In that role, I assist the Acting Assistant Attorney General, manage the office's professional staff, and handle a range of transitional, personnel, and administrative matters. Additionally, I have assisted in the vetting process for potential federal judicial nominees, and I have helped establish a Regulatory Task Force that will evaluate existing Department of Justice regulations to identify those that are outdated, duplicative, or unduly burdensome.

In that position, I served as the senator's spokesperson, directed all aspects of communications activities in the office, and executed various senior staff management responsibilities. (Communications Director, January 2008 – January 2011) During the period in which Senator Sessions was Ranking Member of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary, I remained on Senator Sessions' personal staff but also served as the Communications Director of the minority committee staff. (Minority Staff Communications Director, May 2009 – December 2010) Previously, I served in the role of Press Secretary, where I represented the senator on a day-to-day basis with the media. (Press Secretary, 2007) Prior to handling communications, I served as a legislative and policy aide, where I was assigned tasks typical for congressional staff, including monitoring environmental, energy, and appropriations issues, reviewing outgoing office correspondence, engaging with constituents, tracking legislation, and providing general assistance to the senator. (Legislative Counsel, January 2007 – April 2007; Legislative Assistant, March 2005 – January 2007). My first job in the office was Legislative Correspondent, a junior position that manages constituent correspondence. (Legislative Correspondent, October 2004 – March 2005)
