10. Bar and Court Admission:

a. List the date(s) you were admitted to the bar of any state and any lapses in membership. Please explain the reason for any lapse in membership.

Mississippi, 1995

There have been no lapses in membership.

b. List all courts in which you have been admitted to practice, including dates of admission and any lapses in membership. Please explain the reason for any lapse in membership. Give the same information for administrative bodies that require special admission to practice.

United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, 2002
United States District Court for the Southern District of Mississippi, 1995
United States District Court for the Northern District of Mississippi, 1995

My admission to practice before the Eleventh Circuit expired in approximately 2001. I chose not to renew my membership because I do not practice in that court. There have been no other lapses in admissions.

11. Memberships:

a. List all professional, business, fraternal, scholarly, civic, charitable, or other organizations, other than those listed in response to Questions 9 or 10 to which you belong, or to which you have belonged, since graduation from law school. Young Business Leaders Men's Bible Study (1997 – 2014)

b. The American Bar Association's Commentary to its Code of Judicial Conduct states that it is inappropriate for a judge to hold membership in any organization that invidiously discriminates on the basis of race, sex, or religion, or national origin. Indicate whether any of these organizations listed in response to 11a above currently discriminate or formerly discriminated on the basis of race, sex, religion or national origin either through formal membership requirements or the practical implementation of membership policies. If so, describe any action you have taken to change these policies and practices.

Young Business Leaders is a nondenominational religious organization focused on involving young men in small group Bible studies. I was part of a weekly YBL small-group study for many years, but our small-group has not been active for several years. Jackson Club is a weekly social lunch club that, at least through practical implementation of membership policies, is limited to men. The club hosted women as speakers and guests during some meetings. Otherwise, to the best of my knowledge, none of the organizations listed above either currently discriminates or formerly discriminated on the basis of race, sex, religion or national origin.

12. Published Writings and Public Statements:

a. List the titles, publishers, and dates of books, articles, reports, letters to the editor, editorial pieces, or other published material you have written or edited, including material published only on the Internet. Supply four (4) copies of all published material to the Committee.

WLOX ran a series of stories featuring valedictorians from Gulf Coast High Schools in the Class of 1988. To the best of my recollection, I discussed future plans and goals and the benefits of education.

13. Judicial Office: State (chronologically) any judicial offices you have held, including positions as an administrative law judge, whether such position was elected or appointed, and a description of the jurisdiction of each such court.

In February 2019, I was appointed to the Mississippi Court of Appeals by Governor Phil Bryant to serve the remainder of an unexpired term that will end January 2, 2023. Ten Court of Appeals judges are elected in non-partisan elections from five districts. Court of Appeals judges serve eight-year terms. The Court of Appeals is an error correction court. The Mississippi Supreme Court assigns cases to the Court of Appeals for disposition; the Supreme Court retains cases of first impression, constitutional challenges, and issues of broad public interest. While the Court of Appeals sits in three-judge panels, all ten judges on the Court vote on every opinion handed down.

a. Approximately how many cases have you presided over that have gone to verdict or judgment?

Because I have not served as a trial judge, I have not presided over any cases. As a member of the Mississippi Court of Appeals I have participated in the disposition on appeal of approximately 225 cases through September 24, 2019.

i. Of these, approximately what percent were:

jury trials:	0%
bench trials:	100% [total 100%]
civil proceedings:	68%
(includes postconviction relief and workers' compensation matters) criminal proceedings:	32% [total 100%]

b. Provide citations for all opinions you have written, including concurrences and dissents.

As of September 24, 2019, the Court of Appeals has handed down the following opinions for which I was writing judge for the majority. I have not authored any separate concurring or dissenting opinions.

Anderson v. Salaam, No. 2018-CA-00934-COA, 2019 WL 4632020 (Miss. Ct. App. Sept. 24, 2019).

Gordon v. State, No. 2018-KA-00096-COA, 2019 WL 4439130 (Miss. Ct. App. Sept. 17, 2019).

1. Buckhaults v. Pub. Empls. Ret. Sys. of Miss., No. 2018-SA-01043-COA, 2019 WL 4024684 (Miss. Ct. App. Aug. 27, 2019).

Buckhaults worked as a "Mental Health Direct Care Alternate Supervisor" for a state institution. After being slapped on the right side of her face by a patient at work, Buckhaults filed an application for duty-related disability benefits with the Public Employees' Retirement System of Mississippi (PERS). After going through various administrative steps of review, PERS denied Buckhaults's request for disability retirement benefits. Buckhaults then appealed to the Hinds County Circuit Court, and the circuit court affirmed PERS's decision. On appeal to the Court of Appeals, Buckhaults contended that the PERS Board's decision was not supported by substantial evidence and was arbitrary and capricious. The court disagreed and affirmed. The court found that PERS's decision was supported by substantial credible evidence, and we applied "the law as it is written," which requires disability to occur as a direct result of an on-duty incident in order to qualify for duty-related disability retirement benefits.

2. Estate of Johnson v. Kitchens Law Firm, P.A., No. 2018-CA-00260-COA, 2019 WL 4024774 (Miss. Ct. App. Aug. 27, 2019).

After years of litigation handled by his attorneys (appellees here), the decedent was adjudicated to be the now world-renowned bluesman Robert L. Johnson's son. This appeal centered on the interpretation and application of the contingency fee contract between the decedent and his attorneys, which assigned 40% of all royalties and other monies obtained by virtue of his heirship to the law firm. After the decedent's death, his last will and testament was admitted to probate in the Chancery Court of Copiah County, Mississippi. Because the decedent's estate withheld payment of the 40% royalty share, the Kitchens Law Firm P.A. filed a "Motion to Authorize and Direct Executor to Turn Over Monies and Render an Accounting and Order Turn Over of Future Monies" in the probate matter. Decedent's estate opposed the law firm's motion and asserted affirmative defenses. Both parties filed motions for summary judgment. The chancellor granted Kitchens's motion and denied the estate's motion. The estate appealed. Based on the language of the contract, we found no error and affirmed.

3. Pritchard v. Pritchard, No. 2018-CA-00870-COA, 2019 WL 4024817 (Miss. Ct. App. Aug. 27, 2019).

Appellant appealed the chancery court's order denying her motion to set aside a judgment of divorce, entered on May 3, 2018; the order denying her motion to reconsider, entered on May 25, 2018; and, in whole, the final decree of divorce, entered on June 5, 2017. She raised two issues on appeal: (1) whether the chancery court erred by finding it had jurisdiction over the parties and thereafter entering a judgment of divorce and property distribution order; and (2) whether the chancery court erred by denying her motion to set aside judgment of divorce. Because service of process failed to comply with the requirements of Rule 4 of the Mississippi Rules of Civil Procedure, we found that the chancery court lacked jurisdiction at the time it entered the final decree of divorce, rendering the divorce decree void. The chancery court therefore erred by denying Appellant's motion to set aside judgment of divorce. The court of appeals reversed the chancery court's order denying the motion to set aside, vacated the final decree of divorce and the accompanying distribution of marital assets, and remanded for further proceedings.

4. Morales v. State, No. 2018-CP-00737-COA, 2019 WL 3562031 (Miss. Ct. App. Aug. 6, 2019).

Morales was indicted in 2007 on two counts of sexual battery (Counts I & III) and one count of fondling (Count II). At the time of trial, Morales failed to appear. The circuit court found that Morales had willfully, voluntarily, and deliberately avoided trial and therefore would be tried in absentia. The jury returned a guilty verdict on all three counts. In 2012, the United States Marshals Service found Morales in Mexico and returned him to the United States to be placed in custody. In September 2017, Morales filed a petition for post-conviction collateral relief. In May 2018, the circuit court entered an order granting in part, and denying and dismissing in part, Morales's petition. The court granted relief to amend Morales's sentencing order to correctly reflect the sentences relative to the specific counts in the indictment. On appeal, Morales asserted that (1) the circuit court erred by allowing him to be tried in absentia; (2) he was given an illegal sentence; and (3) he received ineffective assistance of counsel. After a thorough review of the record, the court of appeals affirmed the trial court's order.

5. Bishop v. State, No. 2018-KA-00487-COA, 2019 WL 3297038 (Miss. Ct. App. July 23, 2019).

Bishop was convicted of four counts of gratification of lust, two counts of sexual battery, and one count of statutory rape. The charges pertained to two minor females. After Bishop was convicted, he filed an unsuccessful post-trial motion. On appeal, the Defendant raised the following issues: (1) whether the evidence was sufficient for the statutory rape conviction in Count III or whether the verdict was contrary to the overwhelming weight of the evidence; (2) whether Bishop was irreparably prejudiced by an improper limitation of his cross examination of the victim's mother; (3) whether the trial court erred by excluding evidence that one victim had been in the presence of another man suspected of abuse; and (4) whether trial counsel was ineffective for failing to request an alibi instruction. The court of appeals affirmed, finding that the evidence was sufficient to sustain Bishop's conviction and that the verdict was not against the overwhelming weight of the evidence. The court also found no abuse of discretion in the trial court's evidentiary rulings. The court declined to address Bishop's claim for ineffective assistance of counsel on direct appeal, preserving the claim for possible post-conviction relief.

6. Putney v. Sanford, No. 2018-CA-00454-COA, 2019 WL 3297032 (Miss. Ct. App. July 23, 2019).

The Plaintiff (Sanford) filed a petition for declaratory judgment against the Defendants (Putneys) in chancery court, requesting an order declaring that title to two parcels of land be vested solely in his name. The Putneys had conveyed the parcels to a third party, who conveyed the land to Sanford. The chancellor entered a judgment in favor of Sanford, denying the Putneys' motions to dismiss and counter-claims and determining that Sanford should be vested with title to all of the real property requested. Upon denial of their general motion for reconsideration, the Putneys appealed the declaratory judgment and the order denying reconsideration. The Putneys raised the following issues: (1) whether Sanford's claim is barred for lack of privity of contract between Sanford and the Putneys; (2) whether Sanford failed to join a necessary party to the action; (3) whether Sanford's claim is barred by the doctrines of estoppel and/or laches; and (4) whether Sanford's petition for declaratory judgment failed to state a claim upon which relief could be granted. The court of appeals first addressed sua sponte the issue of jurisdiction, following precedent to reach the merits of the appeal. Upon review, the court found that each of the Putneys' assignments of error regarding the deeds and contracts at issue were without merit and affirmed.

7. Payne v. State, Cause No.: 2018-KA-00292-COA, 2019 WL 2511477 (Miss. Ct. App. June 18, 2019).

A grand jury indicted Payne for unlawful possession of a firearm by a convicted felon (Count I) and possession of a controlled substance (Count III). After a trial, the jury found Payne guilty on both counts. The trial court sentenced Defendant to serve ten years on Count I and three years on Count III. The trial court denied Payne's motion for a judgment notwithstanding the verdict, or alternatively, for a new trial. Payne appealed, raising two issues: (1) whether Count III of the indictment was defective; and (2) whether Payne received ineffective assistance of counsel. Based on a thorough review of the record, the court of appeals reversed Payne's conviction and sentence on Count III of the indictment and rendered a judgment dismissing that count. The court denied Payne's claim for ineffective assistance of counsel without prejudice to his right to file a separate motion for post-conviction relief.

8. Coast Plaza LLC v. RCH Capital LLC, Cause No.: 2017-CA-01036-COA, 2019 WL 2428751 (Miss. Ct. App. June 11, 2019).

Coast Plaza LLC is a Mississippi limited liability company that was owned equally by two members. One of the members died testate in July 2016. Coast Plaza's sole asset was certain real property in Waveland, Mississippi. Prior to the member's death, Coast Plaza entered into a promissory note secured by a deed of trust on the property and guaranteed by both members as personal guarantors. RCH Capital LLC later purchased the note and became the assignee of the original lender's rights. Coast Plaza defaulted on the note. In November 2016, RCH issued a notice of default to Coast Plaza, and shortly thereafter, RCH's counsel issued a notice of intent to foreclose on the secured property and offer it for sale on December 30, 2016. Prior to the foreclosure date, Coast Plaza filed a complaint to enforce a purported settlement agreement, and for injunctive relief. Coast Plaza alleged that RCH had offered to accept a deed in lieu of foreclosure and that Coast Plaza had accepted the offer, creating a binding agreement. However, because Coast Plaza lacked the applicable statutory authority to agree to dispose of its only asset via a deed in lieu of foreclosure, the chancellor correctly held that "no settlement agreement was reached by . . . the parties." The court of appeals found that the chancellor properly denied Coast Plaza's complaint to enforce the settlement agreement and thus affirmed.

9. Kaiser v. Kaiser, No. 2018-CA-00278-COA, 2019 WL 2428757 (Miss. Ct. App. June 11, 2019).

This appeal arose from disputes over custody and whether the chancery court should modify its prior temporary custody order. During the proceedings, and at Wife's request (which Husband did not oppose) the chancellor appointed a guardian ad litem ("GAL"). The GAL gave a preliminary recommendation that Husband should be awarded "primary physical custody" and that Wife should be awarded visitation. However, the GAL did not make a final recommendation to the court. The chancellor later entered a detailed final judgment that awarded physical custody of the children to Wife and regularly scheduled visitation to Husband. Husband appealed the chancellor's custody award, challenging inter alia, the sufficiency of the evidence in support of the chancellor's ruling, whether the GAL appointment was discretionary or mandatory, and the chancellor's custody analysis. The court of appeals affirmed, holding that the chancellor's findings were supported by substantial evidence and that the chancellor's appointment of the GAL, and disagreement with GAL's preliminary recommendations, were in accordance with law.

Roberts was convicted in 1985 of sexual battery of a child. He was released from prison for good behavior in June 1992. In March 2006, as a result of new legislation, the State notified Roberts that he had to register as a sex offender for his prior conviction. From that time forward, Roberts maintained his registration with the Mississippi Department of Public Safety. In 2017, Roberts filed a petition for relief from the duty to register as a sex offender. The circuit court denied his petition. We affirmed on appeal, applying the clear language of the applicable statute.

e. Provide a list of all cases in which certiorari was requested or granted.

To date, the Mississippi Supreme Court has not granted certiorari in any case for which I served as the writing judge. The Mississippi Supreme Court has granted certiorari in the following case in which I participated (voting with the dissent):

Sheffield v. S.J. Louis Constr. Inc., No. 2018-WC-00385-COA, 2019 WL 1349766 (Miss. Ct. App. Mar. 26, 2019), cert. granted (Sept. 26, 2019).

The United States Supreme Court has not granted certiorari in any case in which I participated.

f. Provide a brief summary of and citations for all of your opinions where your decisions were reversed by a reviewing court or where your judgment was affirmed with significant criticism of your substantive or procedural rulings. If any of the opinions listed were not officially reported, provide copies of the opinions.

To date, the Mississippi Supreme Court has not reversed or criticized any case in which I served as writing judge.

g. Provide a description of the number and percentage of your decisions in which you issued an unpublished opinion and the manner in which those unpublished opinions are filed and/or stored.

All opinions of the Mississippi Court of Appeals are published.

h. Provide citations for significant opinions on federal or state constitutional issues, together with the citation to appellate court rulings on such opinions. If any of the opinions listed were not officially reported, provide copies of the opinions.

By law, the Mississippi Supreme Court retains jurisdiction over constitutionality challenges, death penalty cases, certified questions from federal court, cases of first impression, and issues of broad public interest. While the Court of Appeals decides cases involving constitutional issues (as in direct criminal appeals and in petitions for post-conviction relief), to date I have not written any significant opinions on federal or state constitutional issues.

i. Provide citations to all cases in which you sat by designation on a federal court of appeals, including a brief summary of any opinions you authored, whether majority, dissenting, or concurring, and any dissenting opinions you joined.

I have not sat by designation on a federal court of appeals.

14. Recusal: If you are or have been a judge, identify the basis by which you have assessed the necessity or propriety of recusal (If your court employs an "automatic" recusal system by which you may be recused without your knowledge, please include a general description of that system.) Provide a list of any cases, motions or matters that have come before you in which a litigant or party has requested that you recuse yourself due to an asserted conflict of interest or in which you have recused yourself sua sponte. Identify each such case, and for each provide the following information:

- a. whether your recusal was requested by a motion or other suggestion by a litigant or a party to the proceeding or by any other person or interested party; or if you recused yourself sua sponte;
- b. a brief description of the asserted conflict of interest or other ground for recusal;
- c. the procedure you followed in determining whether or not to recuse yourself;
- d. your reason for recusing or declining to recuse yourself, including any action taken to remove the real, apparent or asserted conflict of interest or to cure any other ground for recusal.

In Mississippi, judicial recusals are governed by Article 6, §165 of the Mississippi Constitution of 1890, Miss. Code Ann. §9-1-11, Rule 1.15 of the Mississippi Uniform Rules of Circuit and County Court Practice, and Canon 3(E) of the Mississippi Code of Judicial Conduct.

To date, I have not been requested to recuse myself from any appeal, either by a formal motion of a party to the proceeding or by any other person or interested party. I recused myself sua sponte in the following matters:

Sun South, LLC v. Bayou Vista, LLC, No. 2018-CA-00259-COA. My former law firm and I served as counsel for one of the parties in this matter before I took the bench.

The Saxon Grp. v. S. Miss. Electric Power Ass'n, No. 2017-CA-01482-COA. My former law firm and I served as counsel for one of the parties in this matter before I took the bench.

Butler Snow, LLP v. Estate of Mayfield, No. 2018-CA-00591-COA. My former law firm and I served as counsel for another party in related and underlying trial court litigation before I took the bench.

Baptist Mem. Hospital-North Miss., Inc. v. Slate, No. 2018-WC-01167-COA. One of the partners in my former law firm serves on the corporate board for Baptist, and this matter was pending while I remained of counsel with the firm, such that my impartiality might be questioned by a reasonable person.

Heckenberger v. Livingston Dev't Corp., No. 2018-CA-00069. In November 2018, one of the parties involved in this matter was a named fundraiser host for an event in support of my re-election to the House of Representatives. I also had personal knowledge of facts potentially related to the case, such that my impartiality might be questioned by a reasonable person.

Huey v. Telapex, Inc., No. 2018-CA-00960-COA. In November 2018, one of the parties involved in this matter was a named fundraiser host for an event in support of my re-election to the House of Representatives, such that my impartiality might be questioned by a reasonable person.

Sullivan v. Estate of Maddox, No. 2017-CA-00418-COA. One of the parties on appeal in this case was a lawyer appealing the trial court's assessment of sanctions. The lawyer-party served as opposing counsel in a matter in which my former law firm and I served as counsel, while I remained of counsel with the firm, such that my impartiality might be questioned by a reasonable person.

Jones v. Miss. Baptist Health Sys., Inc., No. 2018-WC-00930-COA. One of the partners in my former law firm serves on the corporate board for Baptist, and this matter was pending while I remained of counsel with the firm, such that my impartiality might be questioned by a reasonable person.

Fulgham v. Morgan & Morgan, LLP, No. 2017-CP-01714-COA. My judicial assistant had personal knowledge and involvement in this matter, such that my impartiality might be questioned by a reasonable person.

Patriot Prod. Grp., LLC v. Livingston Operating Co., LLC, No. 2018-CA-00305-COA. My former law firm served as trial counsel for one of the parties in this matter while I was of counsel with the firm, such that my impartiality might be questioned by a reasonable person.

Hawkins v. Jones, No. 2017-CA-01652-COA. One of the partners in my former law firm serves on the corporate board for Baptist, and this matter was pending while I remained of counsel with the firm, such that my impartiality might be questioned by a reasonable person.

Baker v. Raymond James & Assocs., Inc., No. 2019-CA-00073-COA. One of the named parties on appeal in this case regularly participates with me in a small-group Bible study, such that my impartiality might be questioned by a reasonable person.

Lewis v. Rula, No. 2018-CA-01713-COA. My former law firm and I served as counsel for one of the parties in this matter before I took the bench.

iv. whether you served as a mediator or arbitrator in alternative dispute resolution proceedings and, if so, a description of the 10 most significant matters with which you were involved in that capacity.

I have not served as a mediator or arbitrator.

b. Describe:

i. the general character of your law practice and indicate by date when its character has changed over the years.

Over the course of my career, I have had a general civil litigation practice, focusing on commercial and business litigation in both state and federal courts. For the first ten years (at my first two firms), my practice was concentrated in matters involving white collar crime and compliance, environmental law, complex contract, business tort and intellectual property claims, and securities litigation. When I joined Bradley Arant in 2001, my practice grew to encompass more responsibility and cases involving corporate fiduciary litigation, antitrust claims, products liability, and mass tort. From 2008 to 2011, my tenure at the Secretary of State's Office entailed significant work in administrative law, public contracts and leases, business transactional, and elections law issues. I also worked closely with the Personnel Director on a variety of employment matters. When I resumed private law practice in 2011, I worked for two boutique law firms, where my practice concentrated in business litigation in state and federal courts, including appellate work. In addition to commercial, business, insurance defense, and construction litigation, my practice grew to include business and nonprofit advisory and transactional work, regulatory compliance, and elections-related litigation. While with Heidelberg Steinberger from 2011 to 2016, I established and managed the Jackson office of the Gulf Coast-based law firm and had decisional responsibility in handling most of the legal matters I handled. That responsibility for managing and sustaining my own practice continued while with Jernigan Copeland from 2016 to 2019.

ii. your typical clients and the areas at each period of your legal career, if any, in which you have specialized.

During my initial years of practice, with larger regional law firms, my clients tended to be larger companies and current or former company officers, directors, and leaders. Many matters involved out-of-state clients who had been sued in Mississippi prior to tort reforms enacted in 2003 and 2004. The cases on which I worked tended also to be complex, "bet-the-farm" type litigation involving large claims and a number of lawyers. Later, with my second two firms, my clients tended to be smaller businesses, local entrepreneurs and companies, and individual clients. Some matters involved complex issues and large claims, but I also handled many smaller matters (with a larger variety of types of cases).

c. Describe the percentage of your practice that has been in litigation and whether you appeared in court frequently, occasionally, or not at all. If the frequency of your appearances in court varied, describe such variance, providing dates.

Litigation has made up about 85% of my practice. In the early years of my practice, I appeared in court occasionally; I have appeared in court more often since 2011, as my responsibilities in handling matters in smaller law firms increased.

i. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

- | | | |
|----|--------------------------|-----|
| 1. | federal courts: | 40% |
| 2. | state courts of record: | 55% |
| 3. | other courts: | 0% |
| 4. | administrative agencies: | 5% |

ii. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

- | | | |
|----|-----------------------|-----|
| 1. | civil proceedings: | 99% |
| 2. | criminal proceedings: | 1% |

d. State the number of cases in courts of record, including cases before administrative law judges, you tried to verdict, judgment or final decision (rather than settled), indicating whether you were sole counsel, chief counsel, or associate counsel.

The vast majority of matters I have handled have been disposed of via final decision (summary judgment, dismissal, or settlement) short of trial. I estimate that I have tried three cases in court (one as associate counsel, one as co-lead counsel, and one as sole counsel), and handled a securities arbitration through final decision as chief counsel.

i. What percentage of these trials were:

- | | | |
|----|-----------|-----|
| 1. | jury: | 25% |
| 2. | non-jury: | 75% |

e. Describe your practice, if any, before the Supreme Court of the United States. Supply four (4) copies of any briefs, amicus or otherwise, and, if applicable, any oral argument transcripts before the Supreme Court in connection with your practice.

I have not appeared before the Supreme Court of the United States.

17. Litigation: Describe the ten (10) most significant litigated matters which you personally handled, whether or not you were the attorney of record. Give the citations, if the cases were reported, and the docket number and date if unreported. Give a capsule summary of the substance of each case. Identify the party or parties whom you represented; describe in detail the nature of your participation in the litigation and the final disposition of the case. Also state as to each case:

- a. the date of representation;
- b. the name of the court and the name of the judge or judges before whom the case was litigated; and
- c. the individual name, addresses, and telephone numbers of co-counsel and of principal counsel for each of the other parties.

1. Mayfield v. Butler Snow LLP, 341 F. Supp. 3d 664 (S.D. Miss. 2018).

This case arises out of the high-profile 2014 Mississippi Republican primary election for United States Senate. During that campaign, several individuals were arrested and charged for their involvement in a conspiracy to enter the room of Senator Thad Cochran's ailing wife, photograph her, and publish those images in an attempt to hurt Senator Cochran's re-election campaign. In the aftermath of this episode, one of the persons implicated committed suicide. The Plaintiffs, his estate and heirs, asserted claims against various actors for, inter alia, infliction of emotional distress, wrongful death, and civil conspiracy. As lead counsel for an individual defendant, I drafted and then successfully argued a Rule 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss all claims asserted against my client. The federal action was preceded by significant state court litigation in two venues targeting my client for discovery; we also successfully quashed the relief sought in those state court actions.

In this lawsuit, Plaintiffs asserted both individual and derivative claims arising out of Defendants' refusal to repurchase their equity interests in two related companies that owned a third company, which was a start-up that after a meteoric rise in defense contracts and work, declined and ceased operations. I served as counsel for Defendants, including the two principal owners/managers of the entities. Boiled down, Plaintiffs disputed decisions by Defendants regarding whether to repurchase their equity interests in the companies upon their departure as employees and at what valuation to do so. The case involved a complex set of operating and employment agreements, financial records, and fiduciary duties. I successfully moved and argued to compel arbitration, which the trial court ordered and the Court of Appeals affirmed. Thereafter, the parties engaged in discovery, and eventually, I negotiated with Plaintiffs' counsel to settle the matter in advance of arbitration.

This action arose out of an incident at a concert that occurred on the premises of the state fairgrounds in Jackson in May 2008. The Plaintiff was ejected from the concert by my client, who was an off-duty sheriff's deputy working the concert as a security guard. The Plaintiff, who according to the evidence was visibly intoxicated, admitted that he was "irate," "using profanity," and that he fought with my client as he escorted Plaintiff out of the concert. The Plaintiff alleged that he was injured because my client had used excessive force in ejecting him. The Plaintiff asserted personal injury and tort claims against the State Fair Commission, the concert promoters, and my client. The procedural posture of the case was protracted, and legal issues included contract, employment, and state sovereign immunity issues, as well as the elements of Plaintiff's personal injury tort claims. The security guard had not been represented by counsel during substantive discovery, including his own deposition; I was hired after discovery in the case had largely completed. We prepared the matter for trial twice, working with co-defendants' counsel, and then I successfully moved and argued for summary judgment, on the ground that my client was immune from suit as a state employee. The Court of Appeals, after oral argument, reversed, finding that the trial court applied an incorrect standard for summary judgment. The parties eventually negotiated a global settlement of all claims.

4. Ware v. Dupree, Forrest County Circuit Court, Civil Action No. CI13-0152, consolidated for trial with Lamar County Circuit Court Civil Action No. 2013-053H.

This was an election contest of the June 4, 2013 General Municipal Election for Hattiesburg Mayor. I served as co-lead counsel for the Plaintiff Ware, who lost by 37 votes to Defendant DuPree, in an official tally of 4,775 votes for DuPree and 4,738 votes for Ware. I drafted the contest petition and filed it in late June 2013. We tried the case before a panel of jurors from Forrest and Lamar Counties in late July 2013, over approximately six trial days. I assisted in picking the jury, handled witnesses in court, and developed facts and evidentiary proof. That proof substantiated a systematic breakdown in the way absentee ballots were requested, cast, and counted, blatant examples of illegal voting, and other material departures from the requirements of Mississippi election law. After initially reporting a verdict for Ware, the jury deadlocked in open court. The judge thereafter declared a mistrial. In post-trial, the judge threw out the June 2013 election results and granted our request for a new election.

5. Rosamond v. Brown, Madison County Circuit Court, Civil Action No. CI-2013-0162-JE.

This was an election contest of the Democratic Primary Election held in Canton, Mississippi, on May 7, 2013, for the office of Alderman, Ward 1. I served as sole counsel for Plaintiff Rosamond, who lost to Defendant Brown by 4 votes in the primary. I tried the case in mid-July 2013, before the trial judge and the Madison County Board of Election Commissioners, sitting "with the judge as advisors or assistants in the trial and determination of the facts" pursuant to Miss. Code Ann. § 23-15-931. The evidence substantiated serious examples of illegal voting and other material departures from the requirements of Mississippi election law. The trial judge found for the Plaintiff and ordered a new election. And, based on "willful[] and corrupt[]" violations of elections law, the judge referred the matter to the District Attorney's office for presentation to the grand jury.

Plaintiff was injured in an accident involving a forklift manufactured by my client. Seeking treatment for continuing problems, Plaintiff took medication that led to a severe adverse reaction, rendering her blind and in constant pain. Plaintiff filed suit against my client and her medical providers. The case had languished for six years by the time I entered an appearance. It involved complicated fact issues, as well as legal issues including tort, workers compensation, design defect/failure to warn, and medical malpractice. While some defendants employed a posture of delaying any eventual liability, my client and I took a different tack and worked to craft a settlement with Plaintiff, despite meritorious defenses and the possibility of dismissal. We navigated significant practical obstacles and competing interests of numerous codefendants to reach a settlement that provided the Plaintiff with money to make her house more accessible and livable and to improve her level of ongoing care.

Plaintiff was injured in an accident while operating a forklift manufactured by my client at his place of employment. Plaintiff filed a personal injury action, alleging claims for design defect and failure to warn. I served as associate counsel for one of the defendants, and engaged in significant discovery, including depositions of the plaintiff and his expert witness. After discovery was completed, the Defendants moved to exclude the expert witness, under the standard set forth in Daubert, and for summary judgment. I drafted and then argued my client's motion to exclude the Plaintiff's expert witness and the related motion for summary judgment. The trial court granted the motion to exclude the expert witness and held that, as a result, the Plaintiff could not prove the elements of his product liability claims, such that summary judgment was proper.

This case arose out of a sustained bank fraud scheme committed by a small-town bank president as well as wrongdoing committed by the bank's executive secretary and others. I served as associate counsel for the bank, which filed a civil action to recover stolen and missing funds. I did not participate in the trial of the case because I changed law firms shortly before trial, but I engaged in significant discovery, including numerous depositions and analysis of numerous bank documents and other evidence involving sensitive legal and fact issues (civil and criminal). My work involved coordination with Office of the Comptroller of the Currency investigators, bank leadership, and a number of attorneys of record to prepare the matter for trial.

9. DAI Emulsion, Inc. v. Blacklidge Emulsions, Inc., Civil Action No. 1:98cv516BrR (S.D. Miss.)

In this case, I served as associate trial counsel for Plaintiff, a small, Ohio-based company that developed and marketed a proprietary road emulsion product. A dispute arose with Defendant, a Gulf Coast customer of Plaintiff's, over Defendant's use and marketing of the product. My client asserted patent, trade name, and other intellectual property claims against Defendant. I engaged in significant discovery, including depositions and analysis of patent and trade secret documentation, and significant motions practice. I also drafted pretrial motions in limine and portions of the pretrial order. During the pretrial conference, the week before trial was set, the parties reached a favorable settlement mediated by the District and Magistrate Judges.

10. United States ex rel. Trawick v. Sverdrup Tech., Inc., Civil No. 1:94CV68GR (S.D. Miss.)

In my first trial experience, I served as an associate counsel for a global aerospace contractor in this False Claims Act case brought by the Department of Justice on behalf of a qui tam relator. The case arose from alleged mischarging practices in two laboratories operated by Sverdrup at the Stennis Space Center in Hancock County, Mississippi. In both instances, NASA alleged that the company mischarged the United States when it had the technical services contract at the Stennis Space Center in the 1990s. My work involved significant discovery, including depositions of engineers and corporate executives and work with expert witnesses; review and analysis of government contracts, purchasing laws, and hundreds of boxes of records; and witness interviews across the country. After a bench trial, in which I examined witnesses and handled evidentiary exhibits, the court eventually found violations of the False Claims Act but awarded significantly lower damages than initially sought by the government.

18. Legal Activities: Describe the most significant legal activities you have pursued, including significant litigation which did not progress to trial or legal matters that did not involve litigation. Describe fully the nature of your participation in these activities. List any client(s) or organization(s) for whom you performed lobbying activities and describe the lobbying activities you performed on behalf of such client(s) or organizations(s). (Note: As to any facts requested in this question, please omit any information protected by the attorney-client privilege.)

Though I have spent most of my law practice as a litigator handling disputes that already generated litigation, I have also spent significant effort to resolve disputes outside the judicial process, preferably before litigation. I have handled a number of formal mediations and tried one National Association of Securities Dealers securities arbitration claim to decision. In 2018 through 2019, I favorably concluded a protracted negotiation/ mediation of a commercial lease dispute between my client, a commercial lessor, and a multinational corporate tenant, involving a significant amount of unpaid rent and lease contract interpretation issues. Working with counsel opposite, we first negotiated a framework for resolving the dispute, and then negotiated a significant settlement that avoided litigation. Similarly, in 2014, I handled tense negotiations between a closely held small company and a managing member of the LLC that resulted in his withdrawal from the company after allegations of wrongdoing. The underlying facts led to a federal government investigation, in which my client was not a target but fully cooperated. I navigated those issues and successfully kept my client in business and out of litigation. Since 2011, I have handled a number of transactional matters, including complicated contract drafting and negotiations. I have also advised small companies and entrepreneurs on compliance with state laws and agency regulations, business structures, and best practices.

For two clients, The Nature Conservancy and American Treasures, Inc., I registered as a state lobbyist in 2013. I worked on conservation policy and funding issues for The Nature Conservancy, including meeting with legislative and other leaders to raise awareness, but I did not ever lobby for or against government or agency action. For American Treasures, Inc., I tracked legislation of interest during the 2013 Session and suggested proposed amendment language to a bill pertaining to "internet sweepstakes cafes" to clarify the bill's inapplicability to my client's business activities.

19. Teaching: What courses have you taught? For each course, state the title, the institution at which you taught the course, the years in which you taught the course, and describe briefly the subject matter of the course and the major topics taught. If you have a syllabus of each course, provide four (4) copies to the committee.

Legal Writing Small Group, Mississippi College School of Law (1998):

I instructed a small group of first year law students in legal writing and assisted with drafts of memoranda and other writing assignments. I did not have a syllabus for this small group section.

Pretrial Advocacy, Mississippi College School of Law (2013):

I instructed second and third year law students in pretrial practice and law practice management. The course syllabus is supplied.

20. Deferred Income/ Future Benefits: List the sources, amounts and dates of all anticipated receipts from deferred income arrangements, stock, options, uncompleted contracts and other future benefits which you expect to derive from previous business relationships, professional services, firm memberships, former employers, clients or customers. Describe the arrangements you have made to be compensated in the future for any financial or business interest.

Based on my years of service in state government, I am vested in and will receive a government pension through the Mississippi Public Employees' Retirement System (PERS). Based on my years of service in the Mississippi Legislature, I may also receive benefits through the Supplemental Legislative Retirement Plan, though I did not serve long enough to be vested in that Plan.

21. Outside Commitments During Court Service: Do you have any plans, commitments, or agreements to pursue outside employment, with or without compensation, during your service with the court? If so, explain.

I have no plans, commitments, or agreements to pursue outside employment during my service with the court.

22. Sources of Income: List sources and amounts of all income received during the calendar year preceding your nomination and for the current calendar year, including all salaries, fees, dividends, interest, gifts, rents, royalties, licensing fees, honoraria, and other items exceeding $500 or more (if you prefer to do so, copies of the financial disclosure report, required by the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, may be substituted here).

When my nomination is formally submitted to the Senate, I will file my Financial Disclosure Report and will supplement this Questionnaire with a copy of that Report.

23. Statement of Net Worth: Please complete the attached financial net worth statement in detail (add schedules as called for).

See attached Net Worth Statement.

24. Potential Conflicts of Interest:

a. Identify the family members or other persons, parties, categories of litigation, and financial arrangements that are likely to present potential conflicts-of-interest when you first assume the position to which you have been nominated. Explain how you would address any such conflict if it were to arise.

If confirmed, I will recuse myself in any litigation in which I have ever played a role. I am unaware of any financial arrangements or categories of litigation, or family members or other persons or parties, likely to present potential conflicts of interest if I am confirmed. I will evaluate any real or potential conflict, or relationship that could give rise to an appearance of a conflict, on a case-by-case basis and determine appropriate action, including recusal where necessary.

b. Explain how you will resolve any potential conflict of interest, including the procedure you will follow in determining these areas of concern.

If confirmed, I will carefully evaluate and address any real or potential conflicts by reference to 28 U.S.C. § 455, Canon 3 of the Code of Conduct for United States Judges, and any and all other laws, rules, and practices governing such circumstances.

25. Pro Bono Work: An ethical consideration under Canon 2 of the American Bar Association's Code of Professional Responsibility calls for "every lawyer, regardless of professional prominence or professional workload, to find some time to participate in serving the disadvantaged." Describe what you have done to fulfill these responsibilities, listing specific instances and the amount of time devoted to each.

From my early years of law practice, I have endeavored to handle pro bono matters for disadvantaged people who need legal services. For example, I served as Pro Bono Committee Chair for the Jackson Young Lawyers from 2004 to 2005. As chair, I organized a network of young lawyers willing to handle pro bono matters and helped to connect them with pro bono referral organizations. I also personally handled matters referred by the committee—a divorce for an indigent woman, a birth certificate correction for a man seeking benefits, drug counseling and legal advice for several indigent criminal defendants. During this same time frame, I led the effort to develop and implement my firm's Jackson Office charitable giving plan, which included an endowment for the Bradley Arant Boult Cummings/William Winter Institute for Racial Reconciliation Law School Scholarship at the University of Mississippi, the first of its kind in the nation.

More recently, I have volunteered as my other duties permitted to provide pro bono services. As examples, on May 24, 2012, I prepared wills and other legal documents for law enforcement officers at the Clinton, Mississippi Fire and Police Departments (Wills for Heroes); on June 29, 2018, I participated in the District 11 Chancery Court pro bono legal clinic in Madison, Mississippi, providing legal advice to indigent parties in various chancery matters.

26. Selection Process:

a. Please describe your experience in the entire judicial selection process, from beginning to end (including the circumstances which led to your nomination and the interviews in which you participated). Is there a selection commission in your jurisdiction to recommend candidates for nomination to the federal courts? If so, please include that process in your description, as well as whether the commission recommended your nomination. List the dates of all interviews or communications you had with the White House staff or the Justice Department regarding this nomination. Do not include any contacts with Federal Bureau of Investigation personnel concerning your nomination.

I contacted Senator Cindy Hyde-Smith and Senator Roger Wicker in late May 2018 to express interest in being considered for one of the impending vacancies on the United States District Court for the Southern District of Mississippi. On June 1, 2018, I forwarded Senator Wicker a letter and a resume reiterating my interest. I sent a similar letter to Senator Hyde-Smith on June 4, 2018. In early 2019, after Governor Phil Bryant appointed me to the Mississippi Court of Appeals, I forwarded updated resumes to Senator Wicker's and Senator Hyde-Smith's offices, per their staff's requests. On or about April 24, 2019, while we were both on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, Senator Wicker and I had a conversation about the vacancies on the District Court, and he indicated that he intended to submit my name to the White House for consideration.

On or about May 6, 2019, I was contacted by the Office of White House Counsel to schedule an interview. On May 13, 2019, I interviewed with lawyers from the Office of White House Counsel and the Office of Legal Policy of the Department of Justice. On July 12, 2019, I was notified by the Office of White House Counsel, and by staff from Senator Wicker's office, that I had been selected as the preliminary candidate for one of the vacancies, pending the completion of the requisite background checks.

Since July 12, 2019, I have been in contact with officials from the Office of White House Counsel and the Office of Legal Policy.

b. Has anyone involved in the process of selecting you as a judicial nominee discussed with you any currently pending or specific case, legal issue or question in a manner that could reasonably be interpreted as seeking any express or implied assurances concerning your position on such case, issue, or question? If so, explain fully.

No.
