- b. The American Bar Association's Commentary to its Code of Judicial Conduct states that it is inappropriate for a judge to hold membership in any organization that invidiously discriminates on the basis of race, sex, or religion, or national origin. Indicate whether any of these organizations listed in response to 11a above currently discriminate or formerly discriminated on the basis of race, sex, religion or national origin either through formal membership requirements or the practical implementation of membership policies. If so, describe any action you have taken to change these policies and practices. I have not membership in any organization that invidiously discriminates on the basis of race, sex, religion, or national origin.

To the best of my knowledge, none of the organizations listed above currently discriminates or formerly discriminated on the basis of race, sex, religion, or national origin, either through formal membership requirements or the practical implementation of membership policies.

12. Published Writings and Public Statements:

- a. List the titles, publishers, and dates of books, articles, reports, letters to the editor, editorial pieces, or other published material you have written or edited, including material published only on the Internet. Supply four (4) copies of all published material to the Committee.

I have made best efforts to identify all responsive publications, by searching my personal records and internet sources. It is possible, however, that there are some materials I have been unable to identify.

13. Judicial Office: State (chronologically) any judicial offices you have held, including positions as an administrative law judge, whether such position was elected or appointed, and a description of the jurisdiction of each such court.

Since 2018, I have served as an Associate Justice of the Oregon Supreme Court. I was appointed to that position on January 2, 2018, by Governor Kate Brown and I was elected to a successive six-year term in November 2018. The Oregon Supreme Court is the highest court in the Oregon judicial branch and is primarily a court that reviews decisions in selected Oregon Court of Appeals cases. The Oregon Supreme Court selects cases with significant legal issues calling for interpretation of laws or legal principles. In addition to that discretionary review function, the Oregon Supreme Court hears direct appeals in death penalty, lawyer and judicial discipline, and Oregon Tax Court cases. Further, the Oregon Supreme Court may accept original jurisdiction in mandamus, quo warranto and habeas corpus proceedings. And the Oregon Supreme Court reviews ballot measure titles, prison siting disputes, legislative reapportionments, and legal questions on Oregon law referred to us by federal courts.

From 2006 to 2018, I served as a Circuit Court Judge, Department Four, Position Four sitting in the Multnomah County Courthouse in Portland, Oregon. I was appointed to the Multnomah County Circuit Court on February 17, 2006, by Governor Theodore Kulongoski and I was elected to successive six-year terms in 2006 and 2012. The Multnomah County Circuit Court is a state trial court of general jurisdiction.

- a. Approximately how many cases have you presided over that have gone to verdict or judgment?

1. Hickey v. Scott, __ P.3d __, 370 Or. 97 (Or. 2022)

In an action for forcible entry and detainer, plaintiff landlord sought to evict defendant tenants from a rental unit for nonpayment of rent. Defendants moved to dismiss the forcible entry and detainer action, arguing that the plaintiff's termination notice was invalid under Oregon Revised Statutes 90.394(3) because it stated an amount of rent that was greater than the amount that the trial court had determined defendants owed. The trial court denied the motion to dismiss, entered judgment against defendants, and the Oregon Court of Appeals affirmed. I authored the Oregon Supreme Court decision reversing, in which we held that, under Oregon Revised Statutes 90.394(3), a valid termination notice must specify the amount of rent to be paid in order to cure the nonpayment of rent and that amount must be a precise and accurate amount, not a greater inaccurate amount. A landlord's failure to comply with the requirements under Oregon Revised Statutes 90.394(3) results in an invalid notice, requiring dismissal of the subsequent forcible entry and detainer action. The case was remanded for further proceedings.

2. Robinette v. SAIF, __ P.3d __, 369 Or. 767 (Or. 2022)

The claimant injured her right knee at work and her workers' compensation claim was accepted for a right knee strain. Following her knee surgery, claimant's doctor closed the workers' compensation claim and claimant was awarded whole person impairment for the surgical value associated with the knee surgery. Upon reconsideration of the notice of closure, a medical arbiter found additional loss of use or function of claimant's knee, but attributed those findings entirely to non-work-related causes. Claimant was awarded additional impairment value for chronic condition impairment, but did not receive any value for the reduced range of motion and decreased stability, based on the medical arbiter's findings that those were not related to the compensable injury. The Oregon Workers' Compensation Board upheld that award, but the Oregon Court of Appeals reversed. I authored the decision of the Oregon Supreme Court, holding that, when calculating permanent partial disability awards, each distinct loss of use or function of a body part is considered separately to determine if it qualifies as "impairment" – that is, "loss of use or function of a body part or system due to the compensable industrial injury" – under Oregon Revised Statute 656.214. The decision of the Oregon Court of Appeals was reversed. The order of the Workers' Compensation Board was affirmed.

3. Bank of N.Y. Mellon Tr. Co., Nat'l Ass'n v. Sulejmanagic, 481 P.3d 293 (Or. 2021)

In this case, the Bank of New York Mellon Trust Company had filed a civil action to foreclose a deed of trust on a condominium unit. Defendant Tanglewood Hills Condominium Association had a lien against the same unit for condominium assessments that had not been paid by the owner. After the bank's foreclosure action had been dismissed, Tanglewood gave notice of its lien under Oregon Revised Statute 100.450(7). More than 90 days later, the bank had the foreclosure action reinstated. Tanglewood contended that, under Oregon Revised Statute 100.450(7), its lien took priority over the bank's interest because the bank had not initiated a foreclosure action within 90 days. The trial court rejected Tanglewood's argument and granted summary judgment for the bank. The Oregon Court of Appeals affirmed. I authored the decision of the Oregon Supreme Court, in which we held that a first lienholder's foreclosure action against a condominium unit, previously filed but dismissed, was insufficient to retain priority over a condominium association's lien for unpaid condominium assessments when the condominium association gave otherwise proper notice under Oregon Revised Statute 100.450(7). The decision of the Oregon Court of Appeals was reversed. The judgment of the circuit court was reversed, and the case was remanded for further proceedings.

4. State v. McWoods, No. 16CR78185 (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct.)

dead with broken ribs and methadone and methamphetamine in her system. The prosecutor argued that the toddler drank a Capri Sun laced with drugs while in the defendant's care, and the defendant caused her death through reckless and dangerous parental choices. The prosecutor also alleged that defendant influenced his mother to give misleading and false statements during the investigation. The defendant denied responsibility for the toddler's death and moved to dismiss the case based on lack of evidence. After analyzing the defendant's motions to dismiss based on evidence obtained from the search warrants, I denied the motion and determined that there was sufficient evidence for the charges – murder by abuse, manslaughter in the first degree, criminally negligent homicide, criminal mistreatment in the first degree, and tampering with a witness – to continue. I also denied the defendant's motion to reduce bail, applying the criteria for release in Oregon Revised Statute § 135.230(10). The case was reassigned when I was appointed to the Oregon Supreme Court. Thereafter, the defendant was found guilty of all charges by a jury. On July 13, 2022, the Oregon Court of Appeals reversed the murder conviction based on the removal of Black jurors during jury selection, and remanded the case for retrial to the trial court.

5. Closson v. Stapleton, No. 1002-02537 (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct.)

This medical malpractice case involving the drug overdose of Mr. Closson. The core question presented was whether the prescribing doctor negligently failed to inform Mr. Closson of the risks of not taking the prescribed dose as instructed and whether the doses were properly prescribed. I made evidentiary rulings based on objections of counsel regarding witness testimony about the defendant's medicine contract for his use of prescribed medication and evidence found in defendant's home. I allowed some of the evidence, including evidence of how the doctor created his electronic medical records for Mr. Closson, evidence of Mr. Closson's disclosure or nondisclosure of other prescribed medication, evidence of a pain medication contract and Mr. Closson's compliance or noncompliance with it, while other evidence, including evidence of the criminal investigation regarding irregularities and missing pills in the medical examiner's office, was excluded. After a week-long trial, the jury reached a verdict in favor of the defense. An appeal and cross-appeal were initiated but subsequently was dismissed before any briefing occurred on the motion of the appellant and cross-appellants.

6. Freitag v. Legacy Emanuel Hosp. & Health Ctr., No. 0807-09471 (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct.)

This was a medical malpractice case involving the question of whether Ms. Prodan, in her capacity as a registered nurse, placed Ms. Freitag, a quadriplegic, in her hospital bed in a manner that caused the surgical screws in Ms. Freitag's neck to loosen. Ms. Freitag was required to have an additional neck surgery to secure the screws. Ms. Freitag sued Ms. Prodan and Legacy Hospital, her employer.

Before trial, I made evidentiary rulings regarding witness testimony about Ms. Prodan's care and general interactions when Ms. Freitag was recovering in the hospital. I allowed some of the evidence, including Ms. Freitag's additional recovery time for the additional surgery and a simulated video of how Ms. Prodan placed Ms. Freitag in the bed, and denied the admittance of other evidence, including the existence of insurance. After a two-week trial over which I presided, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defense. Ms. Freitag did not appeal.

This was a personal injury case involving the Federal Employer's Liability Act, the Railway Safety Act, and the Safety Appliance Act. Mr. McMackin was a railroad employee of Union Pacific Railroad and injured his shoulder while on the job. Mr. Mackin sued Union Pacific, alleging that Union Pacific was negligent in causing the incident and that the incident caused him to suffer left shoulder and back injuries. Throughout the trial, I made various evidentiary and other rulings. Most notably, Union Pacific brought an expert that wanted to provide testimony about whether the speed and braking of the train was the cause of Mr. McMackin's injuries. I ruled that the expert's testimony could not be given, because a proper foundation was not laid and the expert was not qualified to give the intended testimony. After a two-week trial, a jury reached a verdict in favor of Mr. McMackin in the amount of $1,795,227.00. Union Pacific appealed, and the Court of Appeals affirmed.

8. In the Matter of J. E. Dunn Nw. Inc. v. Salpare Bay, LLC., No. 0710-12536

(Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct.)

This was a construction defect case involving the failed development of luxury condominiums, a boating dock and a marina, and a bank's failure to fund the development. J.E. Dunn Nw. began construction and built the seawall, the foundation, and other structural components of the development when the developer stopped paying the billings for work completed because he could not get additional bank funding. Without payment, J.E. Dunn Nw. could not pay the subcontractors and they sued for payment of services. This case was designated as a complex case by the Presiding Judge of the Multnomah County Circuit Court, and a receiver was appointed to assist with the case. Many of the subcontractors settled their claims before trial. The remaining parties stipulated to a court trial regarding the lien foreclosure issues and who would receive the property. There were motions seeking to limiting the scope of damages due to halt of construction. After consideration of the briefing, declarations, exhibits, and oral argument, I determined that the scope of damages would not be limited. Thereafter, discovery was completed, the parties agreed to a jury waived trial. I ruled in favor of the remaining plaintiffs on the lien foreclosure issues. Before a judgment could be entered, however, the bank was taken over by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), and the FDIC removed the case to federal court in case J.E. Dunn Northwest, Inc. v. Salpare Bay, LLC, Civil Case No. 09-1068-KI (D. Or. Oct. 26, 2009). The federal court then remanded the case to me, and I entered judgment for the remaining plaintiffs.

9. Stephan v. Avamere Health Servs., No. Number 0611-11723 (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct)

This case involved the question of whether the treatment and care of an Alzheimer's patient by a residential facility was negligent. Mrs. Stephan, through her son as personal representative, sued the residential facility for negligence, negligence per se, and breach of contract for not providing care for as promised, failure to follow the Oregon Administrative Rules by not providing trained staff and the required level of care to her, failure to respond to Mrs. Stephan's dementia symptoms of anxiety and confusion, failure to protect Mrs. Stephan's cognitive, emotional, and physical well-being. There were hearings on summary judgment and other motions before the case was assigned to me for trial. Prior to trial, I heard a number of motions and allowed an amended complaint so that the pleadings conformed to my rulings. During the trial, the patient died and her estate was substituted for the personal representative. Throughout the trial, applying Oregon's rules of evidence, I allowed evidence of communications made by the facility informing the family of level of care Mrs. Stephan needed during her time at the residential facility as her health declined, evidence the timeliness of the communications to Mrs. Stephan's family about treatment, evidence of injuries to Mrs. Stephan and whether the injuries were a result of lack of staff training and/or failure to meet the standard of care. I also excluded evidence regarding care of other patients living in the residential facility. After a two-week trial over which I presided, the jury reached a verdict for the plaintiff and awarded the plaintiff $4,200 in economic damages for the cost of one month of housing, $400,000 in noneconomic damages and $500,000 in punitive damages. The defendant did not appeal.

10. State of Oregon v. Deweese, Nos. 0912-35107, 0912-35108, 0912-35109 & 0912-35111 (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct.)

In this case, four defendants were charged with tax evasion and fraud of state benefits for health care, childcare, subsidized housing, and public assistance through the receipt of food stamps. The prosecution alleged that the defendants defrauded the State by receiving benefits for child care and caregiving for a disabled person who was not disabled at the level claimed, and for children who were not supervised by them. Analyzing the evidence, I allowed the evidence regarding the circumstances of the benefits paid and witness testimony based on observations of the level of defendant's disability. I denied defendants' motion for judgment of acquittal, concluding that the State had presented enough evidence for each charge.

After a two-week court trial, I found defendants DeWeese, Gaither, and Stewart guilty of tax evasion and fraud of state benefits for health care, childcare, and public assistance through the receipt of food stamps, and I acquitted defendant Lee based on the evidence. Each of the defendants were placed on a five-year probation sentence.

Defendant Stewart appealed her convictions. The Oregon Court of Appeals affirmed Ms. Stewart's conviction for tax evasion, her conviction for making a false claim for health care payment, her two convictions for unlawfully obtaining a food stamp benefit and three convictions for theft in the first-degree, but reversed her three convictions for making a false claim for health care payment and three convictions for theft in the first-degree, concluding that there was insufficient evidence to support convictions. On remand, those convictions were reversed and remanded for resentencing. At resentencing, her three convictions for making a false claim for health care payment and three convictions for theft in the first-degree were dismissed and Ms. Stewart was sentenced to five-year probation sentence for the convictions that were affirmed.

- f. Provide a brief summary of and citations for all of your opinions where your decisions were reversed by a reviewing court or where your judgment was affirmed with significant criticism of your substantive or procedural rulings. If any of the opinions listed were not officially reported, provide copies of the opinions.

D.O. v. Richey, No. 17SK02618, Dkt. __ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. Dec. 22, 2017) (copy supplied), rev'd, 456 P.3d 348 (Or. App. 2019). I granted the petitioner's stalking protective order. The respondent challenged the sufficiency of the evidence supporting the order. The Oregon Court of Appeals reversed, agreeing that there was insufficient evidence to support the order because the petitioner failed to meet her burden to show expressive and non-expressive contacts by the respondent, as required under the statute.

State v. Eatinger, No. 15CR38602, Dkt. __ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. Nov. 24, 2015) (copy supplied), rev'd, 448 P.3d 636 (Or. App. 2019). A jury found the defendant guilty of driving under the influence of intoxicants. Following his conviction, the defendant appealed two of my rulings, namely, my decision that a police officer could testify about the defendant's performance and my denial of the defendant's motion to strike the officer's testimony because of the lack of an adequate foundation. The Oregon Court of Appeals reversed and remanded, concluding that State failed to present an adequate foundation for the officer's testimony, and that the challenged testimony should have been stricken. On remand, no action was taken because the defendant satisfied all probation conditions and had been early terminated from probation.

Bentley v. Multnomah Cnty. Sheriff's Office, No. 17CV11314, Dkt. __ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. June 2, 2017) (copy supplied), rev'd, 443 P.3d 743 (Or. App. 2019). I denied the petitioner's petition to possess a firearm because he had been previously convicted of robbery. The Oregon Court of Appeal reversed and remanded for entry of judgment granting the petition, concluding that the petitioner had established that he did not now pose a threat to the safety of the public or to himself.

Wingard v. Oregon Family Council, Inc., No. 16CV18238, Dkt. __ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. Oct. 27, 2016) (copy supplied), rev'd, 417 P.3d 545 (Or. App. 2018). The plaintiff, a former congressional candidate, filed suit against his political opponents, alleging common law defamation and violation of statute prohibiting certain false publications concerning a candidate. I denied the political opponents' motion to strike under the anti-Strategic Lawsuits Against Public Participation statute. The Oregon Court of Appeals reversed and remanded holding that the plaintiff failed to carry his burden of showing that the political opponents acted with actual malice in publishing the statement at issue.

Singleton v. FCA US LLC, No. 16CV30491, Dkt. __ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. Feb. 2, 2017) (copy supplied), rev'd, 395 P.3d 873 (Table) (Or. 2017). I denied a motion to change venue. The defendants filed a petition for mandamus, contending that there were not sufficient contacts for the case to proceed in the venue. The Oregon Supreme Court granted an alternative writ of mandamus. On remand, I reversed my decision finding sufficient contacts for the case to proceed in the venue.

State v. Rahmaan, No. 15CR03167, Dkt. ___ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. Oct. 22, 2015) (copy supplied), rev'd, 405 P.3d 200 (Mem) (Or. App. 2017). The defendant appealed a judgment of conviction for two counts of second-degree robbery (Counts 1 and 2), one count of first-degree burglary (Count 3), two counts of forgery (Counts 4 and 5), two counts of identity theft (Counts 6 and 7), and one count of coercion (Count 8) arguing that second-degree robbery convictions should have merged. The State agreed with the defendant that there was error, as to the second-degree robbery. The Oregon Court of Appeal reversed the second-degree burglary counts and remanded for an entry of a judgment of conviction for one count of second-degree robbery. The Court of Appeals otherwise affirmed the judgment and remanded for resentencing.

State v. Garcia, No. 120545265, Dkt. ___ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. Oct. 5, 2012) (copy supplied), rev'd, 377 P.3d 596 (Or. App. 2016), aff'd, 399 P.3d 444 (Or. 2017). The defendant was charged with two counts of interfering with a peace officer and one count of resisting arrest for her actions to prevent officers from arresting her boyfriend at a political march. I denied the defendant's motion to dismiss, which argued that the defendant could not be charged with both interfering with a peace officer and resisting arrest under the statute. The Oregon Court of Appeals reversed, agreeing with defendant that the legislature had intended to preclude double charging. The Oregon Supreme Court then reversed the Court of Appeals affirming my judgment.

Lunsford v. NCH Corp., No. 110912644, Dkt. ___, (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. June 6, 2013) (copy supplied), aff'd, 351 P.3d 804 (Or. App. 2015), vacated and remanded, 381 P.3d 824 (Or. 2016), aff'd, 396 P.3d 288 (Or. App. 2017). Plaintiff's estate brought a wrongful death products liability suit, alleging death of plaintiff due to exposure to benzene-containing products manufactured by the defendant. I granted a dismissal under ORCP 21 A(9) as time-barred by the statute of ultimate repose for product liability claims. Plaintiff appealed and defendant filed a protective cross-appeal raising the same issue. The Oregon Court of Appeals affirmed on appeal and dismissed the cross-appeal as moot, concluding that the statute of ultimate repose for product liability case does not violate the Oregon Constitution's remedy clause or its jury trial clause. The Oregon Supreme Court vacated and remanded the Court of Appeals decision in light of that court's opinion in Horton v. OHSU, 359 Or. 168, 376 P.3d 998 (2016). In light of Horton, the Court of Appeals affirmed and dismissed the cross-appeal as moot.

Hoddenpyl v. Fiskum, No. 14CV11259, Dkt. ___ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. Jan. 30, 2015) (copy supplied), rev'd, 383 P.3d 432 (Or. App. 2016). The plaintiff brought a personal injury case against another motorist in connection with an automobile accident. Following entry of default judgment in favor of plaintiff, I denied the defendant's motion to set aside the judgment. The defendant appealed. The Oregon Court of Appeal reversed, holding that defense counsel's negligence in preparing a letter to plaintiff's counsel containing written notice of counsel's intent to file an appearance constituted excusable neglect, as required for relief from the default judgment.

State v. R-Robinson, No. 140230636, Dkt. ___ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. June 23, 2014) (copy supplied), remanded for resentencing, 369 P.3d 1242 (Or. App. 2016). The defendant was convicted of fourth-degree assault constituting domestic violence, and I sentenced the defendant to five years of probation using his prior Colorado convictions for assault to calculate his criminal history score. The defendant appealed his sentence, arguing that the Colorado statutes did not match the Oregon elements and were insufficient to calculate his criminal history score for sentencing. The State conceded there had been an error, and the Oregon Court of Appeals reversed and remanded for resentencing. At resentencing, I imposed the same probationary period and conditions, but with a different criminal history score. The Oregon Court of Appeals otherwise affirmed my judgment.

State v. Johnson, No. 14CR24944, Dkt ___ (Multnomah County Cir. Ct. Mar. 6, 2015) (copy supplied), rev'd, 406 P.3d 139 (Or. App. 2017). The defendant pled no contest to robbery and other crimes. I initially concurred in the written plea agreement that the defendant could be considered for sentence reductions and certain early release programs under Oregon Revised Statute §137.750(1), but then entered an amended judgment providing that the defendant could not be considered for certain early release programs. The defendant appealed. The Oregon Court of Appeals reversed and remanded because I departed from the written plea agreement. On remand, a supplemental judgment was entered providing that the defendant could be considered for certain release programs.

State v. Bradford, No. 131154171, Dkt. ___ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. Mar. 7, 2014) (copy supplied), rev'd, 352 P.3d 1278 (Or. App. 2015). I instructed the jury on defense of premises in a jury trial for fourth-degree assault and harassment. The defendant appealed. The State conceded that my giving of the instruction was error and not harmless. The Oregon Court of Appeals accordingly was reversed and remanded. On remand, the State reported unable to proceed, and the case was dismissed.

State v. Urbaschak, No. 130242497, Dkt. ___ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. May 31, 2013) (copy supplied), rev'd, 342 P.3d 1108 (Or. App. 2015). The defendant appealed his conviction for second-degree criminal mischief, on the ground that I had admitted evidence in violation of the "best evidence" rule. The Oregon Court of Appeals reversed and remanded the case, concluding that the admission of evidence was erroneous and not harmless. On remand, the State reported unable to proceed, and the case was dismissed.

State v. Richards, No. 110933856, Dkt. __ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. Nov. 12, 2014) (copy supplied), aff'd in part and rev'd in part, 328 P.3d 710 (Or. App. 2014). During a court trial, I excluded the testimony of witness Galvez. The defendant appealed his convictions. The State conceded that I erred in excluding the testimony, but argued that the error was harmless because I did not have the benefit of all of the available evidence relevant to the defendant's claim of self-defense. The Oregon Court of Appeals affirmed the defendant's menacing conviction, but reversed and remanded on attempted murder, assault in the second degree, and unlawful use of a weapon based on evidentiary error and remanded for resentencing.

State v. Hawkins, No. 090130026, Dkt. __ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. Oct. 24, 2014) (copy supplied), aff'd in part and rev'd in part, 323 P.3d 463 (Or. App. 2014), rev. den., 333 P.3d 334 (Or. 2014). Following the denial of the defendant's motion to dismiss for lack of a speedy trial, the defendant was convicted of first-degree robbery with a firearm, unlawful use of a weapon with a firearm, and being a felon in possession of a firearm. The defendant appealed, arguing his speedy trial rights were violated and that his motion for judgment of acquittal should have been granted because there was insufficient evidence for the case to proceed. The Court of Appeals affirmed in part, reversed in part, and remanded for resentencing after holding (1) delay of twenty-two months and six days between defendant's indictment and trial was reasonable under the speedy trial statute; (2) the state did not prove firearm element of aggravated crime of first-degree robbery with a firearm; (3) the error in denying defendant's motion for judgment of acquittal (MJOA) on the count for first-degree robbery with a firearm was not harmless; and (4) a conviction for first degree robbery with a firearm was reversed. On remand, a conviction for first degree robbery was entered.

State v. Stewart, No. 091235109, Dkt. __ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. Aug. 23, 2010) (copy supplied), aff'd in part and rev'd in part, 314 P.3d 966 (Or. App. 2013). After a court trial, the defendant appealed her six convictions for theft in the first degree, four convictions for making a false claim for health care payment, two convictions for unlawfully obtaining a food stamp benefit, and one conviction for tax evasion. The Oregon Court of Appeals largely affirmed, except that it reversed three of the theft in the first-degree convictions based on insufficient evidence.

State v. Holiday, No. 101051182, Dkt. __ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. Jan. 6, 2011) (copy supplied), rev'd, 310 P.3d 1149 (Or. App. 2013). A jury found the defendant guilty of unlawful possession of cocaine, after I denied a motion to suppress to suppress a crack pipe discovered after the opening of the door to a locked restroom. The Oregon Court of Appeals reversed and remanded, concluding that the search had been unlawful. On remand, the State reported unable to proceed, and the case was dismissed.

Wilson v. Tri-Cnty Metro. Trans. Dist. of Or., No. 030100495, Dkt. __ (Multnomah County Cir. Ct. July 28, 2010) (copy supplied), aff'd in part and rev'd in part, 228 P.3d 1225 (Or. App. 2010), rev. den., 237 P.3d 824 (Or. 2010). I granted the plaintiff attorney fees under Oregon Revised Statute §742.061, but limited them under Oregon Revised Civil Procedures (ORCP) 54E. The plaintiff appealed, alleging that I incorrectly determined that the offer of judgment was exclusive of attorney fees, and that attorney fees should not have been limited. The defendant cross appealed, alleging that I erred in determining that the plaintiff was entitled to attorney's fees. The Oregon Court of Appeals ruled that I should have awarded the plaintiff the full amount of attorney fees requested, but otherwise affirmed my ruling.

State v. Fivecoats, No. 090632530, Dkt. ___ (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct. Jan. 11, 2010) (copy supplied), rev'd, 284 P.3d 1225 (Or. App. 2012). During a trial where the primary issue was the identity of a man on a video, the defendant wanted to demonstrate to the jury his gait so it could be compared to the gait of the man in the video. I ruled that the defendant could either exercise his right not to testify or demonstrate his gait to the jury. Thereafter, the defendant was convicted. The defendant appealed. The Oregon Court of Appeals reversed and remanded the case, concluding that I had erred, and the error was not harmless.

Vandevere-Pratt v. Portland Habilitation Ctr, Inc., No. 080506953, Dkt. ___ (Multnomah County Cir. Ct. July 2, 2009) (copy supplied), rev'd, 259 P.3d 9 (Or. App. 2011). In this slip and fall case, the jury decided in favor of the defendants after I refused to give an unreasonably dangerous jury instruction and instead gave a duty to maintain a reasonable lookout jury instruction. The plaintiff appealed, challenging those instructions. The Oregon Court of Appeals reversed and remanded, agreeing that I had erred. On remand, a new trial date was set, but the case settled shortly before trial.

De Bay v. Wild Oats Market, Inc., No. 080406238, Dkt. ___ (Multnomah County Cir. Ct. June 9, 2009) (copy supplied), aff'd in part and rev'd in part, 260 P.3d 700 (Or. App. 2011). I granted the defendants' motions to dismiss the plaintiff's wrongful discharge claim against his former employer, Wild Oats Market, Inc. and two related corporate entities. The defendant appealed, the Oregon Court of Appeals affirmed the dismissal as to two related entities, but reversed and remanded the judgment of dismissal as to Wild Oats Market, Inc.

State v. Romero, No. 070833871, Dkt. ___ (Multnomah County Cir. Ct. Jan. 30, 2008) (copy supplied), rev'd, 237 P.3d 894 (Or. App. 2010). I granted defendant's motion to dismiss the case with prejudice because the State failed to procure a necessary witness. The State appealed, and the Oregon Court of Appeals reversed, concluding that I lacked authority to dismiss the case as a sanction for the State's lack of readiness for trial. On remand, the case was dismissed.

State v. Chambers, No. 060343216, Dkt. ___ (Multnomah County Cir. Ct. Aug. 2, 2006) (copy supplied), rev'd, 203 P.3d 337 (Or. App. 2009). I denied the defendant's motion to suppress evidence that the police obtained after stopping him for community caretaking purposes. Following a conditional plea, the defendant appealed, and the Oregon Court of Appeals reversed, concluding there had been no basis for the search that led to the evidence at issue. On remand, the State reported unable to proceed, and the case was dismissed.

State v. MacDonald, No 08053235, Dkt. ___ (Multnomah County Cir. Ct. July 22, 2008) (copy supplied), rev'd, 222 P.3d 718 (Mem) (Or. App. 2009). I accepted the defendant's guilty plea to five counts of identity theft arising from the defendant's possession of a victim's wallet with various forms of victim's personal identification. The defendant appealed, arguing that the five counts should have been merged into a single conviction. The Oregon Court of Appeals agreed, and reversed and remanded for resentencing.

Marsh v. Am. Fam. Mut. Ins. Co., No. 051213237, Dkt. ___ (Multnomah County Cir. Ct. Mar. 8, 2007) (copy supplied), rev'd, 218 P.3d 573 (Or. App. 2009). The defendant insurer filed a motion for entry of judgment in its favor on the ground that the plaintiff insured's homeowners insurance policy did not provide coverage for dry rot in a bathroom as claimed by the plaintiff. I denied the motion, concluding that while an exclusion barred coverage under the main part of the policy, there was coverage under the policy's supplemental coverage provision, though that the amount of coverage was limited to $5,000. I entered judgment for the plaintiff in the amount of $5,000 plus attorney's fees. The defendant appealed, and the Oregon Court of Appeals reversed, concluding that, although I correctly ruled there was not coverage under the main policy, I erred in ruling there was coverage under the supplemental coverage provision.

Ransom v. Woldridge, No. 06F014061, Dkt. ___ (Multnomah County Cir. Ct. Oct. 3, 2006) (copy supplied), rev'd, 192 P.3d 851 (Or. App. 2008). I granted the plaintiff's Forcible Entry and Detainer (FED) judgments against the defendant's sailboats and entered supplemental judgments for costs and disbursements, concluding that the Residential Landlord and Tenant Act (RLTA) did not apply because, based on how they were used, the sailboats were not dwelling units. The defendant appealed, and the Oregon Court of Appeals reversed, concluding that because of how the sailboats were used, they were considered dwelling units under the RLTA and the length of time for the notice of eviction was insufficient.

State v. Adams, No. 051137002, Dckt. ___ (Multnomah County Cir. Ct. June 7, 2006) (copy supplied), rev'd, 185 P.3d 570 (Or. App. 2008). I denied the defendant's motion to suppress evidence that the police obtained after stopping him. The defendant appealed, and the State conceded that the police lacked reasonable suspicion for the stop, and so the evidence should have been suppressed. The Oregon Court of Appeals accordingly reversed and remanded. On remand, the State reported unable to proceed, and the case was dismissed.

- g. Provide a description of the number and percentage of your decisions in which you issued an unpublished opinion and the manner in which those unpublished opinions are filed and/or stored.

As an Associate Justice of the Oregon Supreme Court, all of my decisions are published. As a Multnomah County Circuit Court Judge, most of my decisions were issued from the bench in open court and recorded in the reporter's transcript or in a minute order, and all of my opinions were unpublished. The Multnomah County Circuit Court does not maintain any readily accessible database of my decisions. Rather, the case files are stored in the Multnomah County Circuit Court's case management system.

- h. Provide citations for significant opinions on federal or state constitutional issues, together with the citation to appellate court rulings on such opinions. If any of the opinions listed were not officially reported, provide copies of the opinions.

- i. Provide citations to all cases in which you sat by designation on a federal court of appeals, including a brief summary of any opinions you authored, whether majority, dissenting, or concurring, and any dissenting opinions you joined.

I have not sat by designation on a federal court of appeals.

- 14. Recusal: If you are or have been a judge, identify the basis by which you have assessed the necessity or propriety of recusal (If your court employs an "automatic" recusal system by which you may be recused without your knowledge, please include a general description of that system.) Provide a list of any cases, motions or matters that have come before you in which a litigant or party has requested that you recuse yourself due to an asserted conflict of interest or in which you have recused yourself sua sponte. Identify each such case, and for each provide the following information:

- a. whether your recusal was requested by a motion or other suggestion by a litigant or a party to the proceeding or by any other person or interested party; or if you recused yourself sua sponte;
- b. a brief description of the asserted conflict of interest or other ground for recusal;
- c. the procedure you followed in determining whether or not to recuse yourself;
- d. your reason for recusing or declining to recuse yourself, including any action taken to remove the real, apparent or asserted conflict of interest or to cure any other ground for recusal.

Oregon Revised Statute (ORS) §14.260 allows for any party or attorney in an action to file a peremptory challenge against a judicial officer. Although the party or attorney must attest that the party or attorney believes that the party or attorney cannot have a fair and impartial trial or hearing before the judge, no specific grounds need be provided, and a copy of the motion is typically not provided to the judge in question. As best I can determine, I received only 15 disqualification motions under §14.260 in the course of my 12-year career as a Multnomah County Circuit Judge, and I have not had any requested recusals as an Oregon Supreme Court justice.

ORS §14.210 also requires a judge to recuse for cause. I never recused myself sua sponte, but I was asked to recuse myself under §14.210 in the following two cases:

Stephen v. Vangelisti Kocher LLP et al., Multnomah County Circuit Court No. 1008-11800 (Multnomah Cty Cir. Ct.). The plaintiff in this case filed a complaint against me with the Oregon Judicial Fitness Commission, alleging that I had conspired with the defendant and their counsel. To my best of my knowledge, the Commission took no action. At our next scheduled court proceeding, I stated on the record that I was aware of the complaint and that I would not recuse myself because I could be fair and impartial. I continued to preside over the case to its conclusion. The plaintiff subsequently filed a federal lawsuit against me, the Oregon Judicial Department, Department employees, the defendant, and their counsel. In Stephens v. Multnomah County et al., No. 3:12-CV-00171-MO, 2012 WL 2921360 (D. Or. July 13, 2012), the United States District Court for the District of Oregon dismissed the lawsuit with prejudice. The plaintiff and her husband appealed. In Stephens v. Multnomah County by and through Judicial Department, 678 F. App'x 517 (9th Cir. 2017), the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit affirmed.

State v. Voight, No. 040343287 (Multnomah Cty Cir Ct), I presided over a bench trial in which Mr. Voight was convicted of a number of charges. I then became the probation judge. In August 2016, Mr. Voight asked me to recuse myself during a probation violation hearing on the ground that I had a connection to the victim through prior employment. I initially denied the request, concluding I could be fair and impartial and there was no basis for recusal. Later in the case, I received verified information that Mr. Voight had been following me around in disguise over a period of months to substantiate his mistaken belief that I was connected to the victim and her place of employment. Upon receipt of that information, I recused myself, the case was reassigned to another judge to handle Mr. Voight's probation violation hearing. I continued to the probation judge for the remainder of probation with no other interaction.

15. Public Office, Political Activities and Affiliations:

- a. List chronologically any public offices you have held, other than judicial offices, including the terms of service and whether such positions were elected or appointed. If appointed, please include the name of the individual who appointed you. Also, state chronologically any unsuccessful candidacies you have had for elective office or unsuccessful nominations for appointed office.

I have not held public office other than judicial office, and I have had no unsuccessful candidacies for public office or unsuccessful nominations for appointed office.

- b. List all memberships and offices held in and services rendered, whether compensated or not, to any political party or election committee. If you have ever held a position or played a role in a political campaign, identify the particulars of the campaign, including the candidate, dates of the campaign, your title and responsibilities.

In 2018, I was involved in my own campaign as a candidate for the Oregon Supreme Court. In 2012 and 2006, I was involved in my own campaign as a candidate for the Multnomah County Circuit Court. I have also publicly endorsed the judicial campaigns of Multnomah Circuit Court Judge Cheryl Albrecht, Oregon Supreme Court Justice Richard Baldwin, Oregon Supreme Court Justice Meagan Flynn, Multnomah County Circuit Court Judge Benjamin Souede, Clackamas County Circuit Court Judge Ulanda Watkins, and Linn County Circuit Court Judge Fay Stetz-Waters.

16. Legal Career: Answer each part separately.

- a. Describe chronologically your law practice and legal experience after graduation from law school including:

- i. whether you served as clerk to a judge, and if so, the name of the judge, the court and the dates of the period you were a clerk;

I have not served as a clerk to a judge.

- ii. whether you practiced alone, and if so, the addresses and dates;

In January 2006 to February 2006, I established a solo practice in order to perform my public service contract with Oregon Health Sciences and University. In February 2006, I was appointed to the bench, so I closed the practice without completing the contract. The address for my solo practice was 1631 Northeast Broadway, P.O. Box 452, Portland, Oregon 97232.

- iii. the dates, names and addresses of law firms or offices, companies or governmental agencies with which you have been affiliated, and the nature of your affiliation with each;

- iv. whether you served as a mediator or arbitrator in alternative dispute resolution proceedings and, if so, a description of the 10 most significant matters with which you were involved in that capacity,

As a Coordinator & Senior Attorney for Portland State University Legal and Mediation Services, I served as a mediator in two family law cases in 2005. One case involved the division of property and the other involved the custody and visitation. Otherwise, I have not served as a mediator or arbitrator, except in my capacity as a Multnomah County Circuit Court Judge.

b. Describe:

- i. the general character of your law practice and indicate by date when its character has changed over the years.

From 1996 to 1999, I worked as an Attorney with Multnomah Defenders, Inc. in Portland, Oregon where I represented, from initial appearances to trials, indigent defendants who were charged with state crimes in all manner of criminal cases.

In 1999, I become an associate at Bennett, Hartman, Morris & Kaplan, LLP where I represented individuals, private businesses, and labor unions and gained experience in civil litigation, personnel disputes, employment law matters, commercial cases, family law, arbitrations, and mediations. I regularly appeared in court.

In 2004, I became the Coordinator and Senior Attorney Portland State University Legal and Mediation Services (Oregon's largest public university where I was the equivalent of the managing partner for the law office). In addition, while the Coordinator and Senior Attorney Portland State University Legal and Mediation Services, I had a general law practice, mediated cases, supervised staff, and was responsible for the budget. I occasionally appeared in court.

Since 2006, I have served as a judge, first on the Multnomah County Circuit Court from 2006 to 2018, and since 2018 on the Oregon Supreme Court.

- ii. your typical clients and the areas at each period of your legal career, if any, in which you have specialized.

As a public defender from 1996 to 1999, I represented indigent defendants who were charged with state crimes in all manner of criminal cases. From 1999 to 2004, at Bennett, Hartman, Morris & Kaplan, LLP, I represented individuals, private businesses, and labor unions in civil litigation, personnel disputes, employment law matters, commercial cases, family law, arbitrations, and mediations. As the Coordinator and Senior Attorney for Portland State University Legal and Mediation Services from 2004 to 2006, I represented students in their individual civil and criminal matters in state court and administrative hearings.

- c. Describe the percentage of your practice that has been in litigation and whether you appeared in court frequently, occasionally, or not at all. If the frequency of your appearances in court varied, describe such variance, providing dates.

As an attorney, approximately 70 percent of my practice was in litigation. From 1996 to 1999, I frequently appeared in court as an attorney at Multnomah Defenders, Inc. From 1999 to 2004, I regularly appeared in court as an associate at Bennett, Hartman, Morris & Kaplan, LLP. From 2004 to 2006, I occasionally appeared in court as the Coordinator and Senior Attorney for Portland State University.

- i. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

1. federal courts: 5%
2. state courts of record: 85%
3. other courts: 0%
4. administrative agencies: 10%

ii. Indicate the percentage of your practice in:

1. civil proceedings: 40%
2. criminal proceedings: 60%

- d. State the number of cases in courts of record, including cases before administrative law judges, you tried to verdict, judgment or final decision (rather than settled), indicating whether you were sole counsel, chief counsel, or associate counsel.

As an attorney, I tried more than 40 trials to verdict, judgment, or final decision. Approximately 25 of those cases were jury trials, and approximately 15 involved bench trials. I was sole counsel on all of the trials.

i. What percentage of these trials were:

1. jury: 63%
2. non-jury: 27%

- e. Describe your practice, if any, before the Supreme Court of the United States. Supply four (4) copies of any briefs, amicus or otherwise, and, if applicable, any oral argument transcripts before the Supreme Court in connection with your practice.

I have not practiced before the Supreme Court of the United States.

17. Litigation: Describe the ten (10) most significant litigated matters which you personally handled, whether or not you were the attorney of record. Give the citations, if the cases were reported, and the docket number and date if unreported. Give a capsule summary of the substance of each case. Identify the party or parties whom you represented; describe in detail the nature of your participation in the litigation and the final disposition of the case. Also state as to each case:

- a. the date of representation;
- b. the name of the court and the name of the judge or judges before whom the case was litigated; and
- c. the individual name, addresses, and telephone numbers of co-counsel and of principal counsel for each of the other parties.

1. Bjelland v. Bjelland, No. 991171145 (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct.) (LaMar, J.) and No.010161061(Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct.) (LaMar, J.)

This case was a dissolution of marriage involving a disabled spouse. The pregnant wife was involved in a car accident and went into premature labor with the couple's son. As a result of the accident, the wife had permanent injuries including brain trauma that affected her quality of life. The issues of custody and child support of the minor child, assets, the medical debts of the marriage, and spousal support were involved. The mother of the wife was significantly involved because she was the wife's caretaker and the wife lived with her. There are two divorce cases because the first case was dismissed because of the time it took to negotiate a settlement. I represented the plaintiff, Mr. Bjelland, from 1999 until 2004. During the pendency of the trial, a stipulated judgment of all issues was reached. Multnomah County Circuit Court Judge Kristena LaMar was involved in the negotiated settlement of the case.

2. Watts v. Watts, No. 020869678 (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct.)

This case was the dissolution of a long-term marriage with income disparities between the couple. At issue were the assets of the marriage and spousal support. I represented the plaintiff, Mr. Watts, from 2002 until 2003. During the pendency of the trial, a divorce decree was entered after multiple settlement sessions with mediator Carol Westendorf. There were no judges before whom the case was litigated.

Opposing Counsel:

3. Ford v. Ford, No. 991171080 (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct.) (Svetkey, J.)

This case was the dissolution of a long-term marriage with minor children where there were income disparities between the couple. The issues of property division, child custody and child support were settled prior to trial. The remaining issue of spousal support was tried to the court. Plaintiff, Mrs. Ford, was ordered to pay three years of transitional support for retraining purposes. I represented the plaintiff, Mrs. Ford, from 1999 until 2003.

4. Clark v. Clark-Duston, No. 020666841 (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct.)

This case was a dissolution of marriage case that began with the parties filing a competition, but they retained counsel due to an inability to reach a private settlement of property division and spousal support issues. I represented the defendant, Ms. Clark-Duston, from 2002 to 2003. During the pendency of the trial, I filed a response asserting the issue of spousal support and an order to show cause hearing for temporary spousal support and her attorney fees. A stipulated judgment and decree of dissolution of marriage was negotiated over a lengthy period of time and entered with the court. There were no judges before whom the case was litigated.

5. McDonald v. Rodriguez, No. 01C33619 (Marion Cty. Cir. Ct.) (Ochoa, J.)

In this case, plaintiffs Mr. McDonald and Mr. Walker filed for custody as the psychological parents of the two minor children of defendants Mr. Rodriguez and Ms. Hayes. Mr. McDonald and Mr. Walker had raised the children from birth and were surrogate parents to Ms. Rodriguez. Following a custody evaluation, Mr. McDonald and Mr. Walker were granted custody of the minor children, and a stipulated judgment was entered in their favor. I served as sole counsel for Mr. McDonald and Mr. Walker. In that capacity, I developed the case strategy, made litigation decisions, appeared in court, and negotiated the stipulated judgment.

6. Nibler v. Nibler, No. 880160323 (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct.) (Souther Wyatt, J.)

This case was the modification of child support, previously ordered under the divorce decree, due to changed circumstances. At the hearing, the Multnomah County Circuit Court Judge Merri Souther Wyatt denied the request for modification of child support. I represented the defendant, Mr. Nibler, from August 2001 to December 2001. The case was appealed and Mr. Nibler's child support was modified because changed circumstances were proven.

7. Hutchison v. Hutchison, No. 0012-73876 (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct.)

This case involved the dissolution of a marriage with a minor child. At issue was the custody and child support of the minor child. I represented the plaintiff, Ms. Hutchison, from 2000 to 2001. During the pendency of the trial, a divorce decree was entered after multiple settlement sessions and a custody evaluation with plaintiff receiving custody of the minor child. There were no judges before whom the case was litigated.

8. Hiner v. Hiner, No. 990969449 (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct.)

This case involved the dissolution of a long-term marriage with minor children where there were income disparities between the couple. The assets acquired during the marriage, child support, and spousal support were at issue. I represented plaintiff, Mr. Hiner, from 1999 until 2001. During the pendency of the trial, a divorce decree was entered after protracted settlement negotiations. There were no judges before whom the case was litigated.

9. Shannon v. Ramos, No. 991272066 (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct.)

This case was a petition filed by the plaintiff, Mr. Shannon, to establish himself as the legal father of the minor child as well as to determine custody and visitation. I represented the defendant, Ms. Ramos, the mother of the minor child, from 2000 to 2001. During the pendency of the trial, I negotiated a stipulated temporary order establishing resolving three issues: (1) child support would be paid to Ms. Ramos; (2) custody would stay with Ms. Ramos; and (3) a visitation schedule for Mr. Shannon with the minor child.

After extensive settlement negotiations, a stipulated judgment and decree establishing paternity, custody, and visitation was reached and entered with the court. There were no judges before whom the case was litigated.

10. Dunnigan v. Curtice, No. 960970270 (Multnomah Cty. Cir. Ct.)

This case involved the issue of custody and visitation of paternal grandparents J. and M. Dunnigan as psychological parents. The biological father of the grandchild was Mr. Dunnigan, the son of J. and M. Dunnigan. The biological mother of the grandchild was the defendant, Ms. Curtice. J. and M. Dunnigan were the primary caretakers for their minor grandchild for six months prior to their filing for custody and visitation as psychological parents. The grandchild lived with J. and M. Dunnigan. I represented the grandparents, J. and M. Dunnigan, from 1999 to 2000. During the pendency of the trial, the parties reached a stipulated judgment regarding custody and visitation that gave legal and physical custody of the minor grandchild to J. and M. Dunnigan with visitation schedule for Ms. Curtice. Mr. Dunnigan was defaulted out of the matter. A detailed memorandum of understanding was made a part of the stipulated judgment because of the nature of the relationship between the parties. There were no judges before whom the case was litigated.

18. Legal Activities: Describe the most significant legal activities you have pursued, including significant litigation which did not progress to trial or legal matters that did not involve litigation. Describe fully the nature of your participation in these activities. List any client(s) or organization(s) for whom you performed lobbying activities and describe the lobbying activities you performed on behalf of such client(s) or organizations(s). (Note: As to any facts requested in this question, please omit any information protected by the attorney-client privilege.)

Since 2016, I have been involved in the Oregon Supreme Court Council on Inclusion and Fitness, first as a Circuit Court Judge member and now as the Council's Chair. The Council works to ensure that all persons have equal access to Oregon state courts for fair and efficient dispute resolution. From 2008 to 2013, I also served as a member of the Multnomah County Civil Case Management Committee. As part of the Committee, I helped develop and implement Multnomah County's expedited civil trial system, which helped bolster the efficiency and fairness of the Multnomah County Circuit Court.

Additionally, in 2012, I spent five months as the Presiding Judge of the Multnomah County Circuit Court Mental Health Court. To be eligible for the Program, defendants must have a particular type of mental health diagnosis and be charged with certain offenses. Among other things, the Program requires the completion of mental health treatment, drug and alcohol treatment, and medication compliance. As the Presiding Judge, I regularly conducted hearings to determine defendants' compliance and next steps in the Program.

Moreover, from 2009 to 2011, I served on the steering committee for the Oregon State Bar Convocation on Equality. The Committee planned and implemented the Convocation, which celebrated efforts to advance diversity in the Oregon legal community and offered various tools and trainings to help attorneys and employers continue such efforts. Further, from 2006 to 2019, I served as a member of the Multnomah Bar Foundation's Board of Directors. As a member of the Board, I helped the Foundation create a civic education video series that was broadcast to people throughout the State of Oregon.

Finally, as a lawyer in private practice, I regularly advised clients regarding various employment matters that did not involve litigation. For instance, I helped certain clients develop employee handbooks, and advised other clients about establishing a range of personnel policies.

I have not performed any lobbying activities on behalf of any client or organization, and I am not and have never been registered as a lobbyist.

19. Teaching: What courses have you taught? For each course, state the title, the institution at which you taught the course, the years in which you taught the course, and describe briefly the subject matter of the course and the major topics taught. If you have a syllabus of each course, provide four (4) copies to the committee.

From 2002 to 2005, in Winter Semester 2002, Winter Semester 2004 and Fall Semester 2005, I taught "Racism and the Law" at the Northwestern School of Law at Lewis and Clark College. The course discussed various topics involving race and the legal system, including the areas of public facilities, public schools, first amendment rights, housing, employment, voting, and the exercise of First Amendment rights. Fall Semester 2005 syllabus supplied.

20. Deferred Income/ Future Benefits: List the sources, amounts and dates of all anticipated receipts from deferred income arrangements, stock, options, uncompleted contracts and other future benefits which you expect to derive from previous business relationships, professional services, firm memberships, former employers, clients or customers. Describe the arrangements you have made to be compensated in the future for any financial or business interest.

When I am eligible, I expect to receive a pension benefit from the State of Oregon. I have no other anticipated receipts from deferred income arrangements, stock, options, uncompleted contracts, or other future benefits from previous business relationships, professional services, firm memberships, former employers, clients or customers.

21. Outside Commitments During Court Service: Do you have any plans, commitments, or agreements to pursue outside employment, with or without compensation, during your service with the court? If so, explain.

No.

22. Sources of Income: List sources and amounts of all income received during the calendar year preceding your nomination and for the current calendar year, including all salaries, fees, dividends, interest, gifts, rents, royalties, licensing fees, honoraria, and other items exceeding $500 or more (if you prefer to do so, copies of the financial disclosure report, required by the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, may be substituted here).

See attached Financial Disclosure Report.

23. Statement of Net Worth: Please complete the attached financial net worth statement in detail (add schedules as called for).

See attached Net Worth Statement.

24. Potential Conflicts of Interest:

- a. Identify the family members or other persons, parties, categories of litigation, and financial arrangements that are likely to present potential conflicts-of-interest when you first assume the position to which you have been nominated. Explain how you would address any such conflict if it were to arise.

To the best of my knowledge, I have no family members, other persons, parties, litigation, or financial arrangements that are likely to present potential conflicts of interest, when I first assume the position to which I have been nominated. If any potential conflict of interest were to arise, I would address it in the manner instructed by the Code of Conduct for United States Judges, 28 U.S.C. § 455, and any other applicable statutes, canons, and rules.

- b. Explain how you will resolve any potential conflict of interest, including the procedure you will follow in determining these areas of concern.

If confirmed, I would resolve any potential conflict of interest in the manner instructed by the Code of Conduct for United States Judges, 28 U.S.C. § 455, and any other applicable statutes, canons, and rules. I would also utilize the court's automated conflict checking system.

25. Pro Bono Work: An ethical consideration under Canon 2 of the American Bar Association's Code of Professional Responsibility calls for "every lawyer, regardless of professional prominence or professional workload, to find some time to participate in serving the disadvantaged.” Describe what you have done to fulfill these responsibilities, listing specific instances and the amount of time devoted to each.

As a judge, I am unable to take on direct pro bono representations. I have, however, sought to serve the community in other ways. For instance, since 2016, I have volunteered for the Oregon Community Foundation, primarily as a member of the Portland Metropolitan Leadership Council. OCF’s mission is to improve the lives for all Oregonians through the power of philanthropy. I have also served on Boards of Directors for the Oregon Law Foundation (2002 to 2005) and the Multnomah Bar Foundation (2006 to 2010). The Foundations both give grants and other assistance to organization that provide legal services to the disadvantaged. In addition, since 2002, I have served on the Lawyers’ Campaign for Equal Justice Advisory Committee, which seeks to promote access to justice in Oregon, including by supporting various legal aid programs.

Further, when I was an attorney in private practice, I maintained a commitment to pro bono services. For instance, I regularly represented clients on a pro bono basis in family law, employment, and trusts and estates matters. I also provided pro bono legal advice to the Black United Fund of Oregon, beyond my service on the organization’s Board of Directors. Finally, on a few occasions, I did intake interviews for clients seeking legal services at the St. Andrew Legal in Portland, Oregon.

26. Selection Process:

- a. Please describe your experience in the entire judicial selection process, from beginning to end (including the circumstances which led to your nomination and the interviews in which you participated). Is there a selection commission in your jurisdiction to recommend candidates for nomination to the federal courts? If so, please include that process in your description, as well as whether the commission recommended your nomination. List the dates of all interviews or communications you had with the White House staff or the Justice Department regarding this nomination. Do not include any contacts with Federal Bureau of Investigation personnel concerning your nomination.

On March 10, 2021, I interviewed with the judicial selection committee established by Senators Ron Wyden and Jeff Merkley and the Senators’ staffs for the judicial vacancies on the United States District Court for the District of Oregon and the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. On June 30, 2021, I was informed by Senators Wyden and Merkley that my name was being submitted to the White House for further consideration for a position on the District of Oregon. On July 9, 2021, I interviewed with attorneys from the White House Counsel’s Office. Since that date, I have been in contact with officials from the Office of Legal Policy at the United States Department of Justice. On July 14, 2022, my nomination was submitted to the Senate.

- b. Has anyone involved in the process of selecting you as a judicial nominee discussed with you any currently pending or specific case, legal issue or question in a manner that could reasonably be interpreted as seeking any express or implied assurances concerning your position on such case, issue, or question? If so, explain fully.

No.
