- b. The American Bar Association's Commentary to its Code of Judicial Conduct states that it is inappropriate for a judge to hold membership in any organization that invidiously discriminates on the basis of race, sex, or religion, or national origin. Indicate whether any of these organizations listed in response to 11a above currently discriminate or formerly discriminated on the basis of race, sex, religion or national origin either through formal membership requirements or the practical implementation of membership policies. If so, describe any action you have taken to change these policies and practices.

100 Black Men of South Florida, Inc. and Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc. have no female members, although female members are not specifically prohibited. 100 Black Men of South Florida, Inc. has an affiliated organization (National Coalition of 100 Black Women), which is also dedicated to community service and enhancing educational and economic opportunities for African Americans.

The Brownsville Progressive Masonic Lodge #510 does limit membership to men; however, a women's group, Eastern Star, is available for women members.

Otherwise, to the best of my knowledge, none of the organizations listed above currently discriminates or formerly discriminated on the basis of race, sex, religion, or national origin, either through formal membership requirements or the practical implementation of membership policies.

13. Judicial Office: State (chronologically) any judicial offices you have held, including positions as an administrative law judge, whether such position was elected or appointed, and a description of the jurisdiction of each such court.

In May 2008, I was appointed as a Miami-Dade County Court Judge of the Eleventh Judicial Circuit of Florida by former Florida Governor Charlie Crist. I was retained without opposition in April 2010. The County Court is the second-tier trial court in Florida and is divided into two separate divisions, Criminal and Civil. The Civil Division has jurisdiction over all small claims cases and civil disputes where the amount in controversy is less than $15,000 as well as all landlord tenant and personal injury protection cases. In the Criminal Division, the County Court has jurisdiction over all first and second degree misdemeanors and traffic offenses.

The Florida Supreme Court has exclusive jurisdiction to regulate the admission of persons to practice law and the discipline of persons so admitted. In 2009 and 2013, I was appointed to serve as a referee by my circuit court's chief judge by order of the Florida Supreme Court.

I served in the Criminal Division from 2008 to 2010. I also served in the Civil Division (2010 – 2012). I presided over all first and second degree misdemeanors and traffic cases. While presiding at the South Dade Justice Center branch court (2008 – 2009), the Hialeah branch court (2009 - 2010), the North Dade Justice Center (2010 – 2011) and the Miami Beach branch court (2011 – 2012), I also handled all civil cases where the amount in controversy was less than $15,000, matters involving uncontested divorces, and all civil domestic violence injunctions.

In June 2012, I was appointed as a Circuit Court Judge of the Eleventh Judicial Circuit of Florida by Florida Governor Rick Scott. I was elected in a contested election during the August 26, 2014 primary for a six-year term.

The Circuit Court is the highest level trial court in Florida and has jurisdiction over all juvenile, family and probate proceedings as well as felony criminal cases and civil cases involving disputes where the amount in controversy exceeds $15,000 as well as foreclosure and equitable proceedings. The Circuit Court also has jurisdiction over appeals from County Court as well as certiorari review of administrative decisions.

I served in the Criminal Division from August 2012 to September 2015, where I handled all first, second and third degree felonies. I also serve routinely as an appellate judge for county court and administrative decisions. As such, I sit as a member of a three-judge panel approximately four times per year. I have served in the Civil Division since September 2015. I handle a wide variety of cases including foreclosure, personal injury, eminent domain, commercial disputes, employment discrimination, medical malpractice and wrongful death cases.

- a. Approximately how many cases have you presided over that have gone to verdict or judgment?

I have presided over approximately 700 cases to verdict or judgment.

- i. Of these, approximately what percent were:

jury trials:	11%
bench trials:	89%
civil proceedings:	50%
criminal proceedings:	50%

- b. Provide citations for all opinions you have written, including concurrences and dissents.

As a member of a Circuit Court appellate panel handling appeals from County Court and administrative hearings, I have authored or participated in authoring the following opinions:

Fast Response Marine Towing & Salvage v. Eliyahu, Case No. 14-055, __ Fla. L. Weekly Supp. __ (Fla. 11th Cir. Ct. 2018)

State Farm Mutual Auto. Ins. Co. v. Many Health, Inc., a/a/o Mesa, 25 Fla. L. Weekly Supp. 414a (Fla. 11th Cir. Ct. 2017)

Coconut Grove Playhouse, LLC v. City of Miami, 19 Fla. L. Weekly Supp. 83a (Fla. 11th Cir. Ct. 2011)

In addition to the appellate cases set forth above, I have issued oral rulings and written orders on such issues as motions for summary judgment, stand your ground, motions to dismiss, discovery-related motions, motions to suppress, motions for bond reduction and motions in limine on substantive civil and criminal matters in the Circuit and County Courts of the Eleventh Judicial Circuit of Florida. Circuit court written orders generally are not published. Those trial orders are too voluminous to list, but they are kept in the official court files which are maintained by the Miami-Dade County Clerk of Courts. The orders can be accessed by case number and the parties' name. A search cannot be done based solely on a judge's name.

As a Miami-Dade County Court Judge, I have authored the below-listed published opinions:

Harding Village, LTD v. Pimentel, 19 Fla. L. Weekly Supp. 844a (Fla. Miami-Dade Cty. Ct. 2012)

1. Barranco & Kircher, P.A. v. Garcia, Case No. 13-25660-CA-01

This was a complicated and acrimonious family law case, which involved numerous legal and factual disputes as to children's issues, equitable distribution and alimony that had been pending for several years while I served in the Criminal Division. Upon assignment to the Civil Division, I was assigned the case. The law firm sued their former client for a significant amount. In addition to the complex dissolution of marital issues that involved over fifty million dollars in assets, there were also issues relating to a retainer agreement and attorney client privilege. I resolved all pre-trial motions and presided over a four-day breach of contract action for legal services rendered to the former husband. The jury awarded over $90,000 in favor of the law firm, Barranco & Kircher, P.A.

2. State v. Alce, Case No. F04-10199, 199 So.3d 1124 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2016).

Following a four-day jury trial, the defendant was convicted and sentenced to life for first-degree murder with a firearm, two counts of burglary with assault or battery while armed, and one count of kidnapping. The defendant was found incompetent to proceed for a period of time in 1998 in a later case. He sought to overturn his convictions on the ground that the trial court erred in denying his pretrial motion to suppress on the ground that he was not competent to knowingly and intelligently waive his Miranda rights prior to confessing to his crimes. Florida's Third District Court of Appeal applied a deferential standard to the historic facts found by the trial judge, that the defendant was not coerced to give either his oral or written statement, and that he had the requisite level of comprehension to waive his Miranda rights.

3. State v. Salomon, Case No. F-12-29393, per curiam aff'd, Case No. 3D16-1836 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2016).

The court presided over a two-day jury trial in a criminal case charged, tried and convicted pursuant to a recently enacted Human Trafficking statute. This case originated during a City of Miami undercover police operation targeting prostitution in the area of Biscayne Boulevard and NE 79th Street. A young girl who solicited two undercover officers for prostitution turned out to have been just 15-years-old. Another officer, acting as an eyeball, noticed defendant Salomon communicating with the young girl by hand signals and cell phone. The defendant appeared to be directing her to potential customers driving by and warning her of police presence. The defendant was arrested and search warrants were secured for both of their cell phones. The forensic examination of the cell phones exposed the full nature of their relationship. Text messages revealed that the defendant was acting as her pimp as she was being commercially sexually exploited on the streets of Miami. Unfortunately, the young victim has been missing since July 2013, and could not be located to testify at the trial. Nonetheless, Salomon was convicted after three hours of deliberation and sentenced to 15 years. Florida's Third District Court of Appeal affirmed the defendant's conviction and sentence.

In this breach of contract action, the trial court granted final summary judgment for the plaintiff against the defendants, a corporate contractor and its president. The defendants breached the contract when they failed to construct a concrete pad on plaintiff's property. The breach caused more than $60,000 in damages, excluding costs, interest, and attorneys' fees. On appeal, the contractor and its president contended that the trial court erred because the property owner did not meet its initial burden to present evidence that they breached the contract; and the property owner was awarded unliquidated damages without an evidentiary hearing. Florida's Third District Court of Appeal affirmed the final judgment.

5. R. and L. Perez v. GEICO Indemnity Company and Guzman, Case No. 14-004053 CA 01 (coverage case)

In this case and the one that follows, the court handled several lengthy pre-trial hearings, discovery motions, an in-camera inspection, motions in limine and presided over two separate trials. The elderly plaintiff suffered injuries when his motorcycle collided with the underinsured motorist's truck. His injuries were extensive, requiring surgery and significant therapy. After the accident, the plaintiffs filed a claim with Geico, his insurer, for the limits of their underinsured policy. After Geico refused to pay, the plaintiffs filed a civil remedy notice. Plaintiff and his wife then sued Geico for their stacked underinsured motorist (UM) benefits. In this first case, the court presided over a three-day UM coverage trial where a jury found that the plaintiff did not orally waive the statutory requirement of a written rejection by knowingly rejecting uninsured motorist coverage.

6. R. and L. Perez v. GEICO Indemnity Company and Guzman, Case No. 14-004053 CA 01 (liability case)

This was the second case to arise out of a motorcycle and truck collision where the court handled several lengthy pre-trial hearings, discovery motions, an in-camera inspection, motions in limine and presided over two separate trials. In this second case, the liability was contested and the case proceeded to a four-day jury trial. Many expert witnesses presented in the areas of accident reconstructions and various medical specialties were presented. The jury found that the underinsured driver involved in the accident was negligent and one hundred percent responsible for the plaintiffs' damages, which the jury determined to be over $1.6 million. The court reserved jurisdiction to determine the plaintiffs' right to amend their complaint to seek and litigate bad faith damages from the defendant as a result of such jury verdict in excess of their policy limits.

This was a wrongful death and medical malpractice action brought by the plaintiff, Gonzalez, as the wife and personal representative of the estate of Gonzalez, against multiple defendants due to complications that arose after her husband's surgery from which he died on May 13, 2014. The court granted the plaintiff's motion to expedite the requested two-week trial because she was elderly. The court handled lengthy pre-trial hearings, including motions in limine to determine whether the alleged agency relationship between the hospital and the named physicians issue should go to the jury. The court granted the hospital's motion for partial summary judgment. The case settled on April 12, 2017.

8. Smiley v. State, Case No. F99-32534, aff'd, 122 So.3d 493 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2013)

The defendant was sentenced to 30 years. He filed a motion asserting that the court erred in not giving him credit for the days he spent in jail. Florida's Third District Court of Appeal affirmed that the trial judge had correctly noted that any credit for the time the defendant served between the date of the sentence and his transfer to the Florida Department of Corrections is calculated by the Florida Department of Corrections. The defendant could file an appropriate administrative or other proceeding in the event that such time was not properly calculated by the Department.

9. State v. Beckman, Case No. F09-14217, aff'd, 230 So.3d 77 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2017). Copy of the Amended Sentencing Order supplied.

This complex case involved the conviction and sentence of first-degree premeditated murder with a firearm, which the court granted the State's motion to have the defendant examined by a psychologist for the State's use at the sentencing hearing. Florida's Third District Court of Appeal held that as a matter of first impression, the State was entitled to have the defendant examined by a psychologist for its own use in the inquiry and limited it to the mitigating factors identified by the defendant's expert. Beckman v. State, 147 So. 3d 584 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2017). This more than two-week media coverage trial involved approximately one hundred fifteen prospective jurors, multiple pretrial motions, evidentiary rulings and a constitutional challenge to Florida's sentencing scheme for juveniles convicted of capital crimes. On April 12, 2009, the seventeen-year-old defendant, who has Asperger's Disorder, shot and killed his father, South

Miami City Commissioner Beckman. The defendant claimed he was entitled to a new trial based on the trial court's erroneous evidentiary rulings and the prosecutor's improper arguments. On September 6, 2017, Florida's Third District Court Appeal found the trial court committed no abuse of discretion as to any of the alleged trial errors and concluded that the defendant's life sentence with the possibility of judicial review after 25 years was constitutional.

10. Lopez as Mayor of the City of Sweetwater v. Sanchez, as Chairman of the Recall Committee and Providing Effective Gov't. for all residents, a political committee, Case No. 17-5123, aff'd, 219 So. 3d 156 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2017).

In this acrimonious election case, a political committee sought to recall Sweetwater's Mayor Orlando Lopez, on the grounds that his absence from commission meetings constituted a neglect of duty. The committee secured nearly 2,000 signatures on petitions that argued the mayor had neglected his duty by missing a handful of commission meetings and workshops. The group sought to force a decision by Sweetwater's voters on whether to recall the mayor. The mayor sought declaratory and injunctive relief to suspend the recall process. The trial court ruled that the committee's claims that the mayor was violating a duty under Sweetwater's charter to attend meetings was misinterpreted; because the plain and unambiguous language in its charter states that the city's mayor, who is also its administrator, "may" attend meetings. The trial court's order concluded that the city charter uses the phrase "may" attend in regards to mayoral attendance at public meetings, making meeting attendance optional, rather than mandatory. Florida's Third District Court Appeal affirmed the trial court's final judgment and concluded that the recall petition against the mayor did not state a valid ground for neglect of duty pursuant to the city's charter.

e. Provide a list of all cases in which certiorari was requested or granted.

It is my understanding that this question only refers to cases in which certiorari was requested or granted by the Supreme Court of the United States. I have had no such cases.

f. Provide a brief summary of and citations for all of your opinions where your decisions were reversed by a reviewing court or where your judgment was affirmed with significant criticism of your substantive or procedural rulings. If any of the opinions listed were not officially reported, provide copies of the opinions.

To the best of my knowledge, the following cases represent a summary of and citations for all my decisions that were reversed by a reviewing court. Conservatively, I have handled approximately 700 cases in County and Circuit Court that have gone to verdict or judgment. Every decision is capable of review by an appellate court and the list below represents approximately 3% of those cases.

Safari Tours, Inc., v. Pasco, et al., 2017 WL 4419157 (Fla. Cir. Ct. July 28, 2017), aff'd in part and rev'd in part, 2018 WL 3999121 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2018). Following a jury verdict in favor of the appellee, the appellate court reversed only the portion of the final judgment that awarded the appellee's damages in storage fees because the appellee's repair estimate failed to substantially comply with section 559.905(1)(n) of the Florida's Motor Vehicle Repair Act.

St. Mary's School of Medicine. Ltd. v. Zabaleta, 2018 WL 3636830 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2018). Since the record on appeal did not establish that there was a factual showing of St. Mary's clear and unequivocal authorization to its attorney to enter into an alleged settlement agreement, the appellate court reversed an order granting Zabaleta's motion to enforce a settlement agreement.

U.S. Bank v. Ramirez, 2018 WL 3553338 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2018). The appellate court reversed an order granting the mortgagor's motion to dismiss for failure to abide by the applicable statute of limitations and remanded with instructions to reinstate the bank's complaint in foreclosure. A copy of my order is supplied.

Italiana v. Yuzwa, 241 So. 3d 938 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2018). The appellate court reversed an order granting general and specific personal jurisdiction over the defendant and held that there were insufficient connections between Florida and the underlying claims. A copy of my order is supplied.

State v. Beckman, 147 So. 3d 584 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2017). This case was a conviction and sentence of first-degree premeditated murder with a firearm, which the court granted the State's motion to have the defendant examined by a psychologist for the State's use at the sentencing hearing. The appellate court held that as a matter of first impression, the State was entitled to have the defendant examined by a psychologist for its own use in the inquiry, but that the State's evaluation must be limited to examination of the mitigating factors identified by the defendant's expert. Although I have attached my opinion regarding other aspects of this case in question 13(c), my ruling regarding the psychologist was only delivered orally in court.

Fettlar, LLC, et. al. v. Suarez, 230 So. 3d 97 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2017). In this wrongful death case, the appellate court reversed an order granting a motion to amend the complaint to add claims for punitive damages. The appellate court held that the plaintiffs did not file their amended complaint containing the claims for punitive damages, until after the trial court granted their motion to amend; and they also failed to make the proffer required to assert punitive damages claims against the corporate defendants. A copy of my order is supplied.

State v. Alce, 199 So. 3d 1124 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2016). The defendant was convicted and sentenced for first-degree murder with a firearm, two counts of burglary with assault or battery while armed, and one count of kidnapping. The appellate court reversed and remanded to vacate only one of the burglary convictions because the defendant's two burglary convictions were based on a single entry into the home. The defendant's presence was not needed for this purpose. A copy of the circuit court judgment is supplied.

United Auto v. Virga, a/a/o Gavaria, 116 So.3d 1288 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2013). Upon the Respondent's confession of error, the appellate court held the circuit court, in its appellate capacity proceedings should have awarded United Auto's motion for appellate attorney's fees under the proposal for settlement statute. A copy of my order is supplied.

Castillo v. State, 2015 WL 13579920 (Fla. Cir. Ct. Apr. 15, 2015), aff'd in part and rev'd in part, 217 So. 3d 1110 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2017). This was a post-conviction appeal challenging a sentence. The appellate court affirmed the defendant's conviction for second-degree murder, but remanded for resentencing without reclassification from a felony of the first-degree to a life felony. A copy of the circuit court judgment is supplied.

Gonzalez and Lea v. Int'l Park Condo. 1 Assoc., Inc., 217 So. 3d 1128 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2017). Following the retirement of the circuit judge who entered that final judgment, another circuit judge entered an order of entitlement to attorney's fees and costs, but did not fix the amount of attorney's fees and costs. As the third circuit judge, the court then conducted an evidentiary hearing on the amount of attorney's fees and costs, and entered a final judgment awarding attorney's fees and costs. The appellate court vacated both the final judgment and entitlement order and held no fee was warranted. A copy of the circuit court judgement is supplied.

U.S. Bank, N.A. v. JAK Mortgage, LLC, 224 So. 3rd 268 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2017). The appellate court reversed an order denying a motion to vacate a second final judgment since the case was dismissed against the parties. A copy of the circuit court judgment is supplied.

Classical and Innovative Designs, Inc. v. Max South Construction, Inc. and BH Developers, LLC, 208 So. 3d 763 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2016). The appellate court reversed an order dismissing a motion for leave to amend to correct the scrivener's error and an order releasing the bond to the contractor. A copy of my order is supplied.

Devers v. State, 186 So. 3d 1126 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2016). Upon the State's confession of error, the case was remanded for the trial court to either hold an evidentiary hearing or to attach portions of the record that conclusively refute the defendant's claims of incompetency. A copy of the judgment is supplied.

Padron v. State, 128 So. 3d 55 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2016). Upon the State's confession of error, the case was remanded for the trial court to either hold an evidentiary hearing or for the attachment of record excerpts, conclusively showing that the defendant waived his right to receive credit for time he served in prison before being placed on probation. A copy of the order is supplied.

Cohen v. State, 171 So. 3d 179 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2015). The appellate court affirmed the trial court's finding of a violation of probation and remanded for the purpose of correcting the revocation order to conform to the court's oral pronouncement. The defendant's presence was not needed for this purpose. A copy of the judgment is supplied.

Cotton v. State, 176 So. 3d 310 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2015). The court was assigned to sentence the defendant following the disqualification of the prior presiding trial court. Since the prior presiding trial court admitted testimony regarding three separate and unrelated prior acts of sexual battery and attempted sexual battery, the appellate court reversed the judgment and sentence and remanded for a new trial on the two counts of lewd or lascivious conduct on a person twelve to sixteen years old. A copy of the order is supplied.

Simmons v. State, 180 So. 3d 244 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2015). This was a post-conviction appeal challenging the imposition of a habitual offender enhancement for the offense of second-degree murder with a firearm. Since the record on appeal did not conclusively establish that the defendant was not entitled to relief, the case was remanded for an evidentiary hearing. A copy of the order is supplied.

Camellon v. State, 178 So. 3d 910 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2015). Upon the State's confession of error, the case was remanded for resentencing under the proper guidelines. The defendant did not challenge his life sentence for first-degree murder, the other charge for which he was convicted. A copy of the order is supplied.

Taylor v. State, 141 So. 3d 748 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2014). The defendant was convicted and sentenced for indecent exposure and assault that occurred in the Dade County Jail. The appellate court reversed only the conviction and sentence for indecent exposure since the evidence was insufficient to demonstrate that the defendant exposed or exhibited his sexual organs in a place intended or designed to be frequented or resorted to by the public. A copy of the order is supplied.

State v. Fernandez, 145 So. 3d 215 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2014). Upon the defendant's partial confession of error, the case was remanded since the defendant could be prosecuted for benefits fraudulently obtained within the three-year period preceding the filing of the information. A copy of the order is supplied.

Robinson v. State, 146 So. 3d 1287 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2014). The defendant was released on bond, failed to appear at trial, and was subsequently arrested on an alias capias. Since the defendant was held without bond, the appellate court remanded for the trial court to determine whether the defendant's failure to appear was willful. A copy of the order is supplied.

Lugones v. State, 147 So. 3d 1081 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2013). The defendant was convicted of aggravated battery and acquitted of attempted manslaughter. Since the State did not meet the burden of proving beyond a reasonable doubt that the error was harmless, where the trial court erred in giving the then-current standard jury instruction on attempted manslaughter, the appellate court reversed and remanded for a new trial. A copy of the order is supplied.

Gonzalez v. State, 111 So. 3d 187 (Fla. 3rd 2013). This was a post-conviction appeal. Since the record on appeal did not conclusively establish that the defendant was not entitled to relief, the case was remanded for the trial court to either hold an evidentiary hearing or to attach portions of the record that conclusively demonstrating no entitlement to relief. A copy of the orders are supplied.

Miller v. State, 103 So. 3d 226 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2012). This was a post-conviction challenge. Since the record on appeal did not conclusively establish that the defendant was not entitled to relief, the case was remanded for an evidentiary hearing. A copy of the order is supplied.

- g. Provide a description of the number and percentage of your decisions in which you issued an unpublished opinion and the manner in which those unpublished opinions are filed and/or stored.

Nearly of all my orders and judgments are unpublished, except for orders and judgments submitted by attorneys for publication. To the best of my knowledge, less than one percent of my orders and judgments have been published in Florida Law Weekly. To the best of my knowledge, nearly one hundred percent of the written opinions issued by the Circuit Court appellate panels on which I have sat were published in Florida Law Weekly. All unpublished orders, judgments, and opinions are on file with the Clerk of Courts.

- h. Provide citations for significant opinions on federal or state constitutional issues, together with the citation to appellate court rulings on such opinions. If any of the opinions listed were not officially reported, provide copies of the opinions.

I have not issued a significant opinion on a federal or state constitutional issue. However, as a judge, I regularly made findings and issued orders relating to search and seizure, due process, and right to counsel issues based on the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, and Fourteenth Amendments of the United States Constitution and the Florida Constitution.

- i. Provide citations to all cases in which you sat by designation on a federal court of appeals, including a brief summary of any opinions you authored, whether majority, dissenting, or concurring, and any dissenting opinions you joined.

I have never sat by designation on a federal court of appeals.

14. Recusal: If you are or have been a judge, identify the basis by which you have assessed the necessity or propriety of recusal (If your court employs an "automatic" recusal system by which you may be recused without your knowledge, please include a general description of that system.) Provide a list of any cases, motions or matters that have come before you in which a litigant or party has requested that you recuse yourself due to an asserted conflict of interest or in which you have recused yourself sua sponte. Identify each such case, and for each provide the following information:

- a. whether your recusal was requested by a motion or other suggestion by a litigant or a party to the proceeding or by any other person or interested party; or if you recused yourself sua sponte;
- b. a brief description of the asserted conflict of interest or other ground for recusal;
- c. the procedure you followed in determining whether or not to recuse yourself;
- d. your reason for recusing or declining to recuse yourself, including any action taken to remove the real, apparent or asserted conflict of interest or to cure any other ground for recusal.

Our jurisdiction does not have an automatic recusal system. Florida Rule of Judicial Administration 2.160(e) provides that the motion to recuse must be filed within a reasonable time not to exceed ten days after the discovery of the facts that would require disqualification. The motion must be served upon the judge and the judge must rule within 30 days of service. If the judge does not rule within 30 days, the motion is automatically granted. A judge may not dispute the allegations in a motion to recuse, but must accept the allegations in a motion to recuse as true and then determine whether those acts, if true, would warrant recusal.

I have been able to locate the following cases in which motions to recuse or disqualify me were filed:

ALS Commercial Funding, LLC v. Janet Rodriguez, 2002-22565 CA 01(42).

In this foreclosure action, the pro se litigant filed a motion to disqualify the court. The litigant alleged bias because the court granted a final judgment in favor of the plaintiff. The motion was denied as legally insufficient.

Nationstar Mortgage, LLC v. Oviedo, 12-49822 CA-01

This was a foreclosure case that was initially set on the court's five-minute calendar hearing. The court agreed to reset the matter the following day because the self-represented attorney requested that this matter be specially set for a one-hour hearing. After hearing this specially-set matter, the court entered a final judgment in favor of the plaintiff and against the self-represented attorney. Dissatisfied with the court's ruling, the self-represented attorney filed a motion to disqualify the court. The self-represented attorney alleged that the court was eager to hear the case because the court had found a slot of time to reset the matter the following day. The self-represented attorney also alleged in his motion that the usual time to obtain an hour hearing typically takes about a month or so. The motion was denied as legally insufficient. The self-represented attorney filed a second verified motion for disqualification and/or recusal, which the court denied as untimely and/or legally insufficient.

Wynwood 305 LLC, v. Frievalt LLC, ICS Miami LLC A/K/A Engineering Consulting Serv., 15-29344 CA 34

In this case, the attorney filed a motion claiming that the court had been involved in an improper, ex parte communication with the opposing counsel. Counsel also alleged that the motion was hand-delivered to my chambers. Because I had to accept the allegations as true, I automatically recused.

3050 Aventura Owner, LLC, et al., v. Maxwell Real Estate Group, Inc., et al., 12-44329, petition dismissed, 3D16-1250 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2016).

The Defendant was an attorney who was dissatisfied with the court's ruling. He sought appellate review of the court's decision, and the appellate court dismissed the petition. The court later discovered that the attorney filed a public records request of my judicial application. When the clerk's office released my file, they failed to redact immense amounts of sensitive, personal information such as dates of birth and social security numbers. Effectively, it caused me to become the victim of an identity theft that took hours to resolve. To avoid allegations that I was biased against the litigant because of the problems that his public records request had created for me, I recused sua sponte.

Harborside Suites, LLC, v. Rosen, 12-41555 CA 34

Prior to presiding over an emergency hearing, the court disclosed that he and his wife recently retained Berger Singerman, LLP in an attorney-client relationship on an unrelated insurance claim. Berger Singerman, LLP filed its notice of appearance as co-counsel of record for Defendant/Judgment Debtor Michael Rosen. Plaintiff/Judgment Creditor, Harborside Suites, LLC filed a motion to disqualify the court, which was granted.

Akabari v. Lopez, 14-587 CA-01

This was an auto negligence case, which the court presided over a two-day jury trial. The jury found the defendant negligent and awarded damages in favor of the plaintiff in the amount of $15,922. The plaintiff filed a motion for new trial, but scheduled it approximately 18 months later. Four days prior to the court's ruling on plaintiff's motion for new trial, the plaintiff filed her motion for recusal and disqualification. The motion alleged that the court failed to disclose its prior work as a defense attorney for United Auto; United Auto's creation of a political action committee to support the court's most recent judicial campaign and that a United Auto executive chaired the political action committee. The motion was denied as untimely and legally insufficient.

- iv. whether you served as a mediator or arbitrator in alternative dispute resolution proceedings and, if so, a description of the 10 most significant matters with which you were involved in that capacity.

I have never served as a mediator or arbitrator in alternative dispute resolution proceedings.

b. Describe:

- i. the general character of your law practice and indicate by date when its character has changed over the years.

As an Assistant State Attorney from 1999 to 2003, I have had the invaluable opportunity to serve Miami-Dade County to represent the people of the State of Florida in its Juvenile (Division Chief), County and Circuit Courts (Career Criminal Robbery Prosecutor). As a Juvenile Division Chief, I was responsible for prosecuting serious juvenile felony offenders, supervising a courtroom, along with training and evaluating new prosecutors before they were promoted to the Felony Divisions. As a Career Criminal/Robbery assistant state attorney, I primarily prosecuted prison-released, habitual, and violent felony offenders. I also was responsible for investigating and communicating with the court, opposing counsel, probation officers, law enforcement officers, witnesses, and victims concerning the prosecution of various misdemeanor, traffic, DUI and felony case-related issues.

As an in-house trial attorney for United Automobile Insurance Company in 2003, I litigated and tried personal injury protection (PIP) claims primarily in the Miami-Dade County Courts.

As an associate with McGrane, Nosich and Ganz, P.A. from 2003 to 2004, I litigated primarily insurance defense claims involving personal injury, medical malpractice, and property damages in the state and federal courts.

Prior to joining the City of Miami Beach, I provided legal representation to Liberty Mutual and its policy holders from 2004 to 2007. This included representation of individuals and corporations in civil litigation matters involving claims for money damages or property damages. I also provided guidance and assistance to junior attorneys. Furthermore, I served as the designated Special Investigation Unit (SIU) attorney in our Miami Legal Office, where I investigated, evaluated, and litigated Personal Injury Protection (PIP) claims.

Prior to my appointments to the Miami-Dade County Court and Circuit Court, I immediately served as a senior assistant city attorney for the City of Miami Beach from 2007 to 2008. On behalf of the City of Miami Beach,

I handled appeals and prosecuted violators of various city codes and ordinances and defended complaints, suits, and controversies involving property, personal injury, and wrongful death in which the City of Miami Beach was a party. I appeared before state and federal courts and administrative agencies, as well as before special masters, mediators, and/or other legally constituted tribunals, boards, commissions or authorities where attorney services were required. I also prepared or reviewed ordinances, resolutions, contracts, and other documents, which concerned the City of Miami Beach.

- ii. your typical clients and the areas at each period of your legal career, if any, in which you have specialized.

During the course of my career, my cases have involved both civil and criminal matters.

While at the Miami-Dade County State Attorney's Office from 1999 – 2003, I represented the people of the State of Florida in Miami-Dade County in prosecution of criminal matters.

While at United Automobile Insurance Company (UAIC) from 2003 – 2003, I represented UAIC and its policyholders in personal injury protection civil litigation.

While at McGrane, Nosich and Ganz, P.A., from 2003 – 2004, my clients were primarily physicians, hospitals, automobile insurance carriers and businesses (amusement parks and fairgrounds in Miami-Dade, Broward and Palm Beach Counties) in state and federal courts.

While at the Law Office of Rebecca W. Ribler, from 2004 – 2007, I provided legal representation to Liberty Mutual and its policyholders. This included representation of individuals and corporations in civil litigation matters involving claims for money damages or property damages.

While at the City of Miami Beach from 2007 – 2008, my office provided service to its clients; namely, the mayor, the commission, the individual commissioners, the city manager, the various city agencies, boards and committees and the administrative staff.

d. State the number of cases in courts of record, including cases before administrative law judges, you tried to verdict, judgment or final decision (rather than settled), indicating whether you were sole counsel, chief counsel, or associate counsel.

1) Dennard v. Allstate Ins. Co., Case No. 02-60698 Civ-Cohn

I was assigned to this case, which had been removed to federal court. At the time this case was tried, I had been with my firm for only four months. My client, Allstate was sued in this complex matter for claims of abuse of process and malicious prosecution that involved damages of at least one million dollars. Because of my efforts in the discovery process, research and preparation of the motion and memorandum of law, and along with understanding the applicable local rules, my client received favorable rulings on various pretrial motions. The jury found the defendant, Allstate, not liable.

2) Chandler-Myers, as Personal Representative of the Estate of Banks, Jr., and as Parent and Natural Guardian of Lee, a Minor, v. City of Miami Beach, Case No. 07-10800 CA 15

This case involved an 18-year-old who made heroic efforts to save his two younger brothers from drowning in the rip currents. The city lifeguards also made heroic efforts to rescue them, but unfortunately, the victims expired three days later at Mount Sinai Hospital. I defended the City from a wrongful death claim, conducting extensive discovery. The case ultimately settled after I was appointed to the Miami-Dade County Court in May 2008.

As a young Assistant State Attorney in county court, this was the first time I had to write an appellate brief and argue an appeal involving the trial court's suppression of evidence and the denial of the state's motion to toll speedy trial of a DUI defendant. I successfully argued it before the appellate court, which issued an opinion that reversed the trial court's rulings.

The defendant had been recently released from prison after serving a fraction of a ten-year sentence for a homicide. The defendant, with unknown co-defendants, robbed three victims of their money and jewelry at gun point at an inner-city

5) State v. Poma, Case No. F02-15560B, aff'd, 894 So.2d 253 (Fla. 3d DCA 2005).

This was the first case I had the opportunity to investigate and prosecute as the lead prosecutor after I was promoted to join the Career Criminal Robbery Division. This burglary and robbery with a firearm case was committed by two career criminals in a Miami Beach Hotel. The victims were reluctant to testify after I advised them that they could not testify at trial about their beliefs that the defendants would kill them if the defendants were acquitted. Ethically, I also could not promise the victims that the strength of our case will result in any convictions. During voir dire, it was important to me that the jurors understand the constitutional principles and adhere to rule of law to which I have devoted my career. The jury found the defendant guilty and he was sentenced to a mandatory life term of imprisonment. As a result, the co-defendant changed his plea to guilty after he learned of the defendant's conviction. The case was affirmed on appeal.

6) State v. Yanes, Case No. F01-029698, aff'd, 865 So. 2d 507 (Fla. 3d DCA 2003).

My experience of having investigated and prosecuted violent sexual crimes involving minors when I was a Juvenile Division Chief prepared me to handle this delicate case in the presence of the jury. The defendant sexually and emotionally abused his step-daughter over a period of several years, beginning when she was twelve years old. The victim's mother did not believe that her husband was committing these criminal acts and testified at trial that her daughter was a liar. Furthermore, the State of Florida had no DNA evidence, and the defendant did not testify. On the other hand, the defendant admitted to the police that he had oral sex with this child approximately twenty times. However, he alleged that the police obtained his confession through coercion. After I cross-examined the defendant at the motion to suppress hearing, the trial judge denied the defendant's motion. I admired and appreciated how this delicate issue was handled by all, including the presiding judge, especially in the presence of the jury. The jury found the defendant guilty on all counts. The defendant was sentenced to twenty-five years in prison. The case was affirmed on appeal.

I was new to Liberty Mutual when my former boss, Rebecca W. Ribler asked me to be her co-counsel in this matter. This was my first personal injury jury trial before the Miami-Dade Circuit Court. This case involved a personal injury claim in which the plaintiff sued our client, the Bahama Breeze restaurant, for negligence when she slipped and fell upon exiting the establishment. She broke her hip and underwent a surgical hip replacement. We proceeded to trial and the jury found the plaintiff and defendant each 50% at fault.

8) Gendreau v. Scooter City, Inc., a Florida Corp., and City of Miami Beach, Case No. 07-17325 CA 13

This case involved a young woman who, while operating a motorized scooter at an intersection on Ocean Drive in Miami Beach, accidentally made contact with the base of a street light. As a result, the globe located atop the subject street light fell and struck her in the head, which resulted in a severe brain injury. The medical records and surgical photos were very graphic. This case involved a young man in his mid-twenties who, while intoxicated, dove into the ocean and allegedly struck his head on a rock, which rendered him a quadriplegic. He alleged that a beach restoration project in the 1980s dredged numerous rocks close to the shore that were not removed and that the City of Miami Beach did not warn swimmers of the dangerous conditions. He sued several federal, state and local governmental agencies in state and federal court. The financial exposure was in the millions of dollars. I worked very hard to conduct and review the extensive discovery, expert witnesses, voluminous documents and exhibits, and I successfully obtained summary final judgment in favor of the city. Florida's Third District Court of Appeal affirmed the final summary judgment. In a subsequent federal trial, the district judge found the plaintiff, the city, and the federal agency, each partially at fault; however, because final summary judgment was affirmed in the city's favor, the city was absolved from any liability.

Furthermore, the above three cases had special significance because given that these plaintiffs sustained serious body injury or death, I recognized that it was equally important to balance the zealous representation of the City of Miami Beach with a demonstration of civility, compassion, and respect for the judicial system. I litigated these cases long before the Florida Supreme Court had revised the Oath of Admission to The Florida Bar, to include a pledge of “fairness, integrity, and civility” to opponents, not only in court, but also “in all written and oral communications.”

18. Legal Activities: Describe the most significant legal activities you have pursued, including significant litigation which did not progress to trial or legal matters that did not involve litigation. As a judge, I serve as Chair on the Mediator Qualifications and Discipline Review Board and I have presided over several panels involving a mediator or applicant good moral character and/or allegations of rules violations. These rules apply to all proceedings before investigatory committees and adjudicatory panels of the Review Board involving applications or discipline of currently certified mediators or non-certified mediators designated by the court to mediate a case pursuant to these or other court rules. The purpose of these rules is to provide a means for enforcing all sections of the Florida Rules for Certified and Court-Appointed Mediators.

As the newly appointee Chair on the Supreme Court Committee on Alternative Dispute Resolution Rules and Policy (Committee), the significance of this litigation lay where I was presented with the rare and unique opportunity to argue our Committee's petition before the Florida Supreme Court. Opposing comments were submitted by the ADR Section of The Florida Bar and the Mediation/Arbitration Division of Eleventh Judicial Circuit of Florida. The petition represents several years of hard work by the Committee and the Dispute Resolution Center to redraft Part III (Discipline) of the Mediator Rules. The Florida Supreme Court, per curiam, adopted our proposed amendments, with some modifications.
