Since 2008, my practice has broadened and now includes commercial contract and related business disputes, antitrust, intellectual property, business tort, bankruptcy, civil rights, products liability, First Amendment, bid protests, and corporate governance matters. As lead counsel, I recently have tried a case to conclusion in a bench trial in federal court. The matter has been submitted, and we are awaiting the court's verdict. I have served as lead counsel in two matters that were resolved by an arbitrator after a hearing. I have been counsel of record in approximately 10 matters that were resolved by dispositive motion.

i. What percentage of these trials were:

1. jury: 50%

2. non-jury: 50%

1. Sierra Dev. Corp. v. Chartwell Advisory Grp., No. 3:13-cv-00602 (D. Nev.)

I represent Chartwell Advisory Group, Ltd. (“Chartwell”), which entered into a series of professional services agreements with gaming companies to seek refunds of use taxes improperly collected by the State of Nevada on complimentary meals that the companies provided to employees, patrons, and guests. The gaming industry and the State of Nevada entered into a settlement agreement pursuant to which the gaming companies withdrew their pending refund petitions and the State agreed to a tax moratorium from 2008 through at least 2019 for complimentary meals. Many gaming companies took the position that the settlement did not result in a refund, and they therefore refused to pay Chartwell. I served as lead counsel in a declaratory judgment action that one gaming company filed against Chartwell. I tried the case in a six-day bench trial in May 2017, and the case is under submission. The dates of my representation are 2013 to the present, and the case was heard by United States District Judge Roger Benitez (S.D. Cal., sitting by designation).

2. Cty. of Butler v. Centurylink Commc'ns LLC, 163 A.3d 504 (Pa. Cmwlth. Ct. 2017).

I represent County of Butler, Pennsylvania, in one of a series of cases in which Pennsylvania counties have sued telephone service providers for the way that the telephone companies have collected fees to fund 911 emergency response services. The Court of Common Pleas for Butler County dismissed the case, concluding that Pennsylvania's 911 Act granted exclusive enforcement authority to the Pennsylvania Emergency Management Agency. On appeal, the Pennsylvania Commonwealth Court reversed that decision and held that counties have standing to pursue their claims. On December 26, 2017, the Pennsylvania Supreme Court granted review, and I am briefing that appeal. The dates of my representation are 2015 to the present. The case was decided by Judge Marilyn Horan in the Court of Common Pleas, and by Judges Brobson, McCullough, and Wojcik in the Commonwealth Court.

3. Mendez, et al. v. Mackereth, No. 14-cv-7199 (E.D. Pa.).

I represented the Pennsylvania Department of Human Services in a putative class action seeking to enjoin enforcement of a program called “HealthyPA,” which was intended to be a five-year demonstration project for Pennsylvania to expand its Medicaid program under the Affordable Care Act. The Court ordered us to file a response to the motion for a preliminary injunction approximately 24 hours after we were engaged. We argued that the Court did not have the power to issue a class-wide injunction before certifying a class and that the named plaintiffs could not show individual injury. The day after holding a hearing, the Court issued a ruling agreeing with our argument that it could not issue class-wide relief without certifying a class. The dates of my representation were 2014 through 2015. The case was decided by United States District Judge Paul Diamond.

4. Crissen v. Gupta, 994 F. Supp. 2d 937 (S.D. Ind. 2014).

I represented Banco Popular North America (“BPNA”) in a RICO class action arising out of BPNA’s extension of a line of credit to Vinod Gupta, who used the line of credit to acquire tax liens at auctions in Indiana. When individuals sought to pay their taxes and eliminate their liens, Indiana law permitted Mr. Gupta to charge them certain additional fees. Joshua Crissen sued on behalf of a class of individuals who paid fees to Gupta, alleging that Gupta had inflated the fees. BPNA was named as a defendant because, as Gupta’s lender, it held the tax certificates as collateral and, at times, sent them back to counties after they had been redeemed. We filed a motion to dismiss the claims against BPNA, arguing that BPNA had not engaged in any pattern of racketeering activity but had instead acted only like any financial institution would. The Court granted BPNA’s motion and dismissed the claims against it in January 2014. The dates of my representation were 2013 to 2015. The case was decided by United States District Judge Jane Magnus-Stinson.

I represented a real estate broker, Metro Commercial Real Estate, Inc. (“Metro”), and its principals in a suit by a real estate developer, Wolfson-Verrichia Group, alleging that Metro had steered retailers that it represented, including Target and Lowe’s, to sites in which Metro’s owner had an interest, rather than more favorable sites in the same market that Wolfson-Verrichia Group was seeking to develop. Wolfson-Verrichia asserted claims under RICO, the Lanham Act, New Jersey’s RICO statute, as well as various common law claims. We filed a motion for summary judgment, arguing among other things that the information the retailers received from Metro did not impact their analysis. United States District Judge Mitchell Goldberg granted our clients’ motion for summary judgment. The dates of my representation were 2008 through 2013.

6. Crown Cork & Seal USA, Inc. v. Wise Alloys LLC, Case No. 14 152 02228 09 (AAA)

I represented Crown Cork & Seal USA, Inc. (“Crown”), a manufacturer of beverage cans, in a contract dispute with Wise Alloys LLC (“Wise”), which supplied Crown with aluminum. Wise issued Crown a notice of default, asserting that Crown had not met its minimum volume threshold. A dispute arose as to whether Crown cured that default. The case was heard in arbitration under the auspices of the American Arbitration Association, and a decision was rendered in August 2011. I served as lead counsel for Crown from 2009 to 2011. The case was heard by arbitrator William Hutchinson.

7. In re Phila. Newspapers LLC, 423 B.R. 98 (E.D. Pa. 2010).

I represented Philadelphia Newspapers, LLC, the owner of the Philadelphia Inquirer and Philadelphia Daily News, in this bankruptcy proceeding. There were, at the time, a substantial number of cases pending against the companies and their reporters. We sought an order from the Bankruptcy Court extending the scope of the automatic stay to include claims against the companies’ employees, and the Bankruptcy Court granted that injunction. One former employee with a pending suit, Alycia Lane, appealed to the District Court, which affirmed the ruling. I served as the lead attorney on that aspect of the bankruptcy proceedings, drafting the relevant pleadings and arguing the issue in both the Bankruptcy Court and the District Court. The dates of my representation were 2009 to 2011. The case was decided by Bankruptcy Judge Jean Fitzsimon and by United States District Judge Eduardo Robreno.

I assisted in representing the National Football League (NFL) in a lawsuit by a college football player who alleged that the NFL’s eligibility rules constituted a boycott in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act. The NFL argued that its conduct was exempt from antitrust scrutiny under the non-statutory labor exemption and that its conduct satisfied the rule of reason and therefore did not violate the antitrust laws. The District Court granted the plaintiff summary judgment. On appeal, the Second Circuit reversed and concluded that the non-statutory labor exemption protected the NFL's conduct. Justices Ginsburg and Stevens denied stay requests. I participated in the case between 2003 and 2004, performing research, contributing to sections of the briefs, and participating in strategy sessions. The case was decided by United States District Judge Shira Scheindlin and by Judges Sack and Sotomayor of the Second Circuit and Judge Kaplan of the Southern District of New York sitting by designation.

9. In re Currency Conversion Fee Antitrust Litig., 265 F. Supp. 2d 385 (S.D.N.Y. 2003).

I was the lead associate in my firm's representation of a bank (originally First USA Bank, which eventually merged with J.P. Morgan Chase Bank) in this multidistrict antitrust litigation. The class-action plaintiffs alleged that Visa, MasterCard, and their largest issuing banks conspired to impose a fee on foreign currency transactions when customers used credit cards abroad. I participated in all aspects of the case, including drafting filings before the MDL panel, motions to dismiss, motions to enforce arbitration agreements, discovery motions, motions for class certification, and contested motions about class notice. I also participated in settlement negotiations. I played a substantial role in the pleadings that resulted in a July 2003 decision holding that when cardholders of one issuing bank sued a bank with which they did not have a relationship, all of the banks could invoke an arbitration clause in the issuing bank's cardholder agreement. My representation extended from 2001 to 2008. United States District Judge William Pauley III presided over the case.

10. Western Res., Inc. v. Union Pac. Corp., No. 00-cv-2043-CM (D. Kan.).

I represented Union Pacific Railroad Company in a suit by Western Resources alleging a breach of contract for the delivery of coal to a power plant in Jeffery, Kansas. The case was tried to a jury in August and September 2002, and the jury returned a verdict for Union Pacific. My role included drafting pleadings—including summary judgment motions and motions to exclude expert witnesses—and participating in all phases of discovery and trial. 18. Legal Activities: Describe the most significant legal activities you have pursued, including significant litigation which did not progress to trial or legal matters that did not involve litigation. Describe fully the nature of your participation in these activities. List any client(s) or organization(s) for whom you performed lobbying activities and describe the lobbying activities you performed on behalf of such client(s) or organizations(s). (Note: As to any facts requested in this question, please omit any information protected by the attorney-client privilege.)

Since 2015, I have represented the Centennial Parkside Community Development Corporation, an entity that seeks to aid the redevelopment of the Centennial Parkside neighborhood in West Philadelphia. We have provided advice on matters relating to corporate formation, real estate transactions, employment issues, and various contracts that the Corporation is or was considering.

I have handled several bid protest matters in the last five years. I have represented protesting parties, intervenors who had been awarded a government contract, and a government agency to which a protest was submitted. Each of these matters has originated in an administrative tribunal, though two have progressed to appellate courts.

I participated in our firm's effort to recover Pennsylvania's original copy of the Bill of Rights, a matter that arose from our firm's long-standing relationship with the National Constitution Center (“NCC”). After some investigation, the NCC located what appeared to be Pennsylvania’s copy of the Bill of Rights in the permanent collection at the New York Public Library. We negotiated with the library on behalf of both the NCC and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania over ownership of and possessory rights in the documents. We negotiated a deal in which the Commonwealth has possession of the document three out of every seven years, and the Commonwealth loans the document to the NCC for display. The deal lasts for 100 years and allows several public institutions to avoid litigation.

I have never provided lobbying services to any client or organization.

19. Teaching: What courses have you taught? For each course, state the title, the institution at which you taught the course, the years in which you taught the course, and describe briefly the subject matter of the course and the major topics taught. If you have a syllabus of each course, provide four (4) copies to the committee.

I have not taught any classes, but in 2017 I served as a guest lecturer in Professor William Laufer’s Legal Studies 101 class at the University of Pennsylvania’s Wharton School.

20. Deferred Income/ Future Benefits: List the sources, amounts and dates of all anticipated receipts from deferred income arrangements, stock, options, uncompleted contracts and other future benefits which you expect to derive from previous business relationships, professional services, firm memberships, former employers, clients or customers. Describe the arrangements you have made to be compensated in the future for any financial or business interest.

I do not have any such arrangements. However, if and when I resign as a partner from Dilworth Paxson LLP, the firm will repay my capital over five years. In addition, the firm has a profit-sharing plan for partners that accrues each year but is not paid until the following September. I would be entitled to such a profit-sharing contribution based on my time at the firm and would expect to collect it in due course.

21. Outside Commitments During Court Service: Do you have any plans, commitments, or agreements to pursue outside employment, with or without compensation, during your service with the court? If so, explain.

Time permitting, I would expect to maintain my memberships on the Board of Directors of Historic Philadelphia and of the Breakthrough Bike Challenge. I do not have any other such plans.

22. Sources of Income: List sources and amounts of all income received during the calendar year preceding your nomination and for the current calendar year, including all salaries, fees, dividends, interest, gifts, rents, royalties, licensing fees, honoraria, and other items exceeding $500 or more (if you prefer to do so, copies of the financial disclosure report, required by the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, may be substituted here).

See attached Financial Disclosure Report.

23. Statement of Net Worth: Please complete the attached financial net worth statement in detail (add schedules as called for).

See attached Net Worth Statement.

24. Potential Conflicts of Interest:

- a. Identify the family members or other persons, parties, categories of litigation, and financial arrangements that are likely to present potential conflicts-of-interest when you first assume the position to which you have been nominated. Explain how you would address any such conflict if it were to arise.

If confirmed, I will recuse myself from any case in which I have previously participated as an attorney and in any case in which my law firm was involved while I was a partner in the firm. I am not aware of any individuals, either relatives or otherwise, who are likely to present a conflict of interest. I will review, on a case-by-case basis, the existence of a potential conflict of interest arising from any personal or former client relationships or financial interests, and I will apply generally applicable principles and rules concerning ethics and conflicts of interests in conducting such an inquiry and assessing whether a recusal is warranted.

- b. Explain how you will resolve any potential conflict of interest, including the procedure you will follow in determining these areas of concern.

If confirmed, I will comply with the requirements of 28 U.S.C. § 455, the Code of Conduct for United States Judges, all applicable policies and procedures of the United States Courts, and other relevant canons and statutory provisions.

25. Pro Bono Work: An ethical consideration under Canon 2 of the American Bar Association's Code of Professional Responsibility calls for "every lawyer, regardless of professional prominence or professional workload, to find some time to participate in serving the disadvantaged." Describe what you have done to fulfill these responsibilities, listing specific instances and the amount of time devoted to each.

Throughout my career, I have committed myself to helping the disadvantaged both through legal services and other community involvement. Although I do not have specific time records for many of these matters, I estimate that I have devoted at least 100 hours per year to these activities. I have also been given an award for my efforts, and one court commended me for my work.

I have represented several individuals in disputes with the government. These matters have included civil rights cases, including one in which I was appointed by the court to represent a prisoner and one for which Covington & Burling awarded me the Charles E. Ruff pro bono attorney of the year; a habeas petition for which the Third Circuit commended me for my work; and representation of a twelve-year-old boy who received a grand jury subpoena in connection with an investigation of a shooting. I have also represented the Centennial Parkside Community Development Corporation, which seeks to assist with the redevelopment of Philadelphia's Centennial Parkside neighborhood.

In addition to these matters, I have volunteered my time to organizations that assist disadvantaged individuals. These include service on the Board of an organization that runs education programs for middle-school students and provides funding assistance to schools that cannot afford the program. It also includes work to make cancer treatments more broadly available.

26. Selection Process:

Please describe your experience in the entire judicial selection process, from beginning to end (including the circumstances which led to your nomination and the interviews in which you participated). If so, please include that process in your description, as well as whether the commission recommended your nomination. List the dates of all interviews or communications you had with the White House staff or the Justice Department regarding this nomination. Do not include any contacts with Federal Bureau of Investigation personnel concerning your nomination.

In February 2017, I spoke with attorneys at the White House Counsel's Office about a judicial vacancy. I also met with Senator Toomey in early March 2017.

On April 7, 2017, I submitted an application to the Judicial Nomination Advisory Panel for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania seeking consideration for a vacancy on that court. On May 22, 2017, I interviewed with panel members in Philadelphia. On October 18, 2017, I met with Senator Toomey and his counsel in his office in Washington, D.C. On January 10, 2018, I met with Senator Casey, his chief of staff, his Chief Counsel, and his Legislative Aide in his office in Washington, D.C. Since March 5, 2018, I have been in contact with officials from the White House Counsel's Office and the Office of Legal Policy at the Department of Justice.

- b. Has anyone involved in the process of selecting you as a judicial nominee discussed with you any currently pending or specific case, legal issue or question in a manner that could reasonably be interpreted as seeking any express or implied assurances concerning your position on such case, issue, or question? If so, explain fully.

No.
